

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF HISTORY

Northwest Ottawa County

Volume I

People

Wallace K. Ewing, Ph.D.

Copyright 2017 by Wallace K. Ewing, Ph.D. No part of this book may be reproduced without the written consent of the author.

Second digital edition, November 2018.

Third digital edition, November 2019.

Second print edition and fourth digital edition, November 2020.

Fifth digital edition, January 2022.

Sixth digital edition, January 2023.

Title page photograph: Wilford Dake and friends who prospected for gold in Alaska, 1889-1890. Wilford is seated second from the right. Roger Vandermolen

Last page photograph: Nat Brown and the three-wheel automobile that he invented. Author's collection

AUTHOR'S NOTES

This encyclopedia of local history began in 1999 as a series of four directories, modest in size and scope. By making constant corrections and additions, the directories became too large and expensive for retail outlets to stock or for individuals to buy. Fortunately, in 2017 and 2020 generous grants from the Drake Middlemist Fund, administered by the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, made it possible to have copies printed and distributed free of charge to local schools, libraries, and museums, making them available to individuals or organizations wishing to research some aspect of local history or genealogy. The Spring Lake and Grand Haven libraries post the directories on their websites. The two-volume set is titled Northwest Ottawa County Encyclopedia of History. Volume I is an alphabetical listing of people. Volume II contains three directories: building and sites by address, a chronological listing of businesses and industries, and an alphabetical listing of historical topics. For a directory of people with Native American ancestry, see my book Footprints, available at libraries in Grand Haven, Spring Lake, Holland, and Muskegon.

In order to continue making the directories available to the public, updated digital editions are shared each year with the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, Loutit District Library, and Spring Lake District Library for use in their local history departments.

My research on the African American population that settled in the Grand Haven area has been inserted into the directories but can be found also in Slaves Soldiers Citizens. Although some persons with Indian ancestry are included in the People Directory, many more biographical sketches of the Native Americans who once walked this land called West Michigan are included in the book titled Footprints.

References at the end of an entry cite the source for some of the information, and bracketed notes after a name, date, or address are my additions, showing alternate spellings or data. Tribune refers to the Grand Haven Tribune, and Chronicle is a reference to the Muskegon Chronicle. Entries that do not cite sources typically were derived from information generally available to everyone. A bibliography toward the end of the Directory of Historical Topics lists most of my major resources.

Many individuals and organizations helped make the encyclopedia a reality. Among those are the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, the Drake Middlemist Fund of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, Grand Haven Tribune, Muskegon Chronicle, the late Alice Seaver, Joan Humphreys Bergbower, Don Foster, Chuck Rycenga II, and each of the Dusty Dozen, local historians with a deep and abiding interest in local history. I am deeply grateful to my wife Jane. Not only has she inspired me to continue working on the encyclopedia, she also been a perceptive editor of my work.

One of the wonders of the digital age is the opportunity to edit, add text, delete text, and, one hopes, constantly improve the product. I do that on an almost daily basis, which allows me to distribute revised electronic copies annually.

Wallace K. Ewing
January 18, 2023

PEOPLE

An alphabetical listing

Abel [Abba] Abbinga [Abenga] [1879-1963]

Before going into commercial fishing, Abel Abbinga worked for Kilbourn Company in Grand Haven. After the timber business declined, forcing Kilbourn to stop production, Abel in the early 1900s became associated with commercial fisherman Peter Fase. They owned and operated the tugs Alice, Dutch, Neptune, and Sport. After Captain Fase died in 1926, Captain Abbinga started his own fishing business. His average daily catch of trout in the 1920s was 600 pounds. The son of Henry and Henrietta Abbinga of Grand Haven, Abel was born on February 18, 1879, died on December 30, 1963, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He resided with his parents at 8 Clinton Street most of his life.

Henry Abbinga [Abenga] I [1846-1918]

Henry Abbinga, a native of The Netherlands, was born in February 1846. He married Hendrickje “Henrietta” Stap while still in their native country. Prior to immigrating to the United States sometime after 1889, the Abbingas had several children, including Abel [Abba] Abbinga, who was born on February 18, 1879 and went into commercial fishing in Grand Haven; Dora Abbinga, born in 1880; Ettie Abbinga, born in June 1882; Teman [Timothy] Abbinga, who lived from March 1, 1885 to 1931 and also worked as a fisherman with Peter Fase; Nellie Abbinga, born in January 1887; Elsie Abbinga, born on November 9, 1888; and Henry Abbinga, born on March 24, 1890. Another child, Annie [Anna], was born locally in February 1892. Dora married Henry Fase of Grand Haven, and Elsie married John Hammond [1883-1958] in Grand Haven on May 3, 1905, died on February 17, 1959, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Nellis “Nellie,” the wife of Henry Abbinga II, lived from October 25, 1898 to April 17, 1917. In Grand Haven the Abbingas lived at 8 Clinton Street. Henry, who worked as a freight handler, died on January 13, 1918. Henrietta, a native of The Netherlands, lived from October 10, 1850 [1849] to November 27, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other family members.

Charles John Abbott [1854-1932]

Born in London, Canada, on June 25, 1854, Charles Abbott came to Michigan when he was 13. A lumberman by trade, he went to work for White, Friant, & Company Sawmill in 1877 and was foreman by 1882. He married Lillie F. Crane of Greenville in Montcalm County on September 22, 1880. Lillie was born in Michigan on June 6, 1857 and died on June 15, 1886 in Greenville. They had two daughters: Marjory Ethel Abbott, who was born in Montcalm County and lived from 1882 to 1982, and Elizabeth Grace Abbott, who was born in Ipswich, South Dakota, and lived from 1884 to 1965. The year after Lillie’s death, Charles married Ida Wright, a native of Wisconsin, who lived from October 22, 1856 to April 27, 1928. He married Annie Laurie Webb in Traverse City on September 28, 1904. She was born in 1873 and died in 1956. They had a daughter, Barbara Anne, who lived from 1905 to 1988. Charles died in Traverse City on November 20, 1932.

George A. Abbott [1851-1921]

Prior to George Abbott’s marriage, he was in the banking business in Grand Haven, probably with Ferry & Son and its successor, First National, where he was cashier in 1880. On December 24, 1874, he married Ella Adele Conklin, born in 1856 in Auburn, New York, a daughter of Benson Conklin and sister of Mrs. A. E. Bosusch of Detroit and Kate Conklin, a nurse at Harper Hospital, also in Detroit. One of George’s and Ella’s daughter, Florence [Frolenie] Abbott, was born in Grand Haven in 1876 and married Lyman Gates Mason II [1900-1965] of Muskegon. A second daughter, Anne Louise Abbott, was born on December 18, 1881, also in Grand Haven. She married George Alexander Hume [1880-1944] of Muskegon and died on July 28, 1957. Around 1884 the Abbotts moved from Grand Haven to Muskegon, where George became vice president of Hackley Bank. Ella died on January 28, 1906 at Harper Hospital and was buried at Evergreen

Cemetery in Muskegon. On January 4, 1908, George married Elizabeth Robinson in Chicago. A native of Jersey City, New Jersey, she lived from October 1, 1869 to February 20, 1945. She was a teacher in Muskegon Public Schools. George was born in New York in April 1851, passed away in Muskegon on October 3, 1921, and also was buried at Evergreen, as was Irene. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 1906.]

Nondus “Sammy” Abel [1912-2003]

See Earle E. Hill.

Jacob Achterhof I [1901-1983]

Born on March 25, 1901 in Holland, Ottawa County, Jacob was the son of Harry and Gezina “Sena” Wiegerink Achterhof. Jacob moved to Grand Haven in 1923 and was employed by the Story & Clark Piano Company. He also owned Achterhof Variety Stores in Ferrysburg and North Muskegon until 1970, when his son Dick took over the business. He was a member of the Second Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven.

Jacob married Henrietta Bus on March 16, 1921 in Holland. She was born on June 5, 1902 in The Netherlands and died in Grand Haven on October 30, 1994. Their children included Harold J. Achterhof, who was born on February 15, 1922 and died in Grand Haven on May 11, 1997; Kathryn [Kitty] Achterhof, who was born on June 12, 1924 and married Wesley Van Oordt of Spring Lake; Jesena [Gezina] Achterhof, who was born on May 21, 1926 and married Henry Prys of Grand Haven; Joan [Jean] Harriet Achterhof, who was born on February 6, 1929 and died at the age of five; Kenneth P. Achterhof, born on October 16, 1932; Alvin Achterhof, who was born on November 29, 1934 and moved to North Muskegon; and Jacob Achterhof II, born on October 18, 1937 and his twin, Harriet Achterhof; who died at birth. The Achterhofs resided in Spring Lake and later relocated to 1028 Arlington in Grand Haven. Jacob died of “cachia” [cachexia] on December 30, 1983 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 30, 1983 and family history dated November 1982.]

Elmer E. Ackley [1862-1923]

Born in Coopersville on June 1, 1862, Elmer was the son of Hezekiah and Eleanor Ackley. His sister Elizabeth married Sherman Dickinson of Grand Haven. Elmer was a barber in Grand Rapids at Madison Square for more than 25 years. Sometime after 1910 he and his wife Bertha moved to Grand Haven and resided at 129 Elliott. They had several children, including Leona Mae Ackley, born in May 1889; Fern B. Ackley, born in January 1896; and Edith Ackley, who married Edwin W. Thompson of Grand Haven. Elmer died at his home at 720 Fulton Street on February 18, 1923. Bertha, a Michigan native, lived from June 1868 [1869] to 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1923.]

William Wellington Ackley [1842–1911]

Born in Chagrin Falls, Cuyahoga County, Ohio on August 4, 1842 William Ackley served as private in the Civil War with the 14th Independent Battery Ohio Light Artillery from September 10, 1861 to August 9, 1865. He was the son of Uriah W. and Alice Sophia Ackley of Ohio. William arrived in Grand Haven in 1876 and was hired in 1881 as saw filer at Boyden & Akeley’s Mill. He died at his home in Geauga Lake, Ohio on January 26, 1911 from “pleuropneumonia” and was buried at Restland Cemetery in Bainbridge, Ohio. He married Diana [Diane] Jones, who applied for a widow’s Civil War pension on February 24, 1911. Born in Ohio in March 1851, she died from “Bright’s disease” [a kidney ailment] at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Alice and Daniel. McLean of Cleveland, Ohio, on October 17, 1921. Alice Ackley McLean was born about 1872. William and Diana were buried at Bainbridge, Ohio, where they had settled around 1896. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 1911.]

Zenana “Zena” Ackley [1883-1982]

Born on August 18, 1883, Zena Ackley by 1900 was living in her aunt’s house in Adrian, Lenawee County with her widowed mother Emma Neggis Ackley. Zena was a student at Adrian College. Ten years later daughter and mother were in Grand Haven, where Zena taught music at the high school. They were residing at 101 Franklin Street. By 1930 they had moved to 425½ Lafayette Street. She spent the academic year 1937-38 studying at the University of Michigan. By the time of the 1940 Federal Census, they had moved again, this time to 520 Franklin Street [also known as 518 Franklin], in a two-unit apartment owned by Agnes Louise Koster, also a teacher. Zena and Emma remained in this home for a lengthy period. Emma, who was born in 1862, died on November 10, 1959. She had married George L. Ackley in Morenci, Lenawee County, on February 7, 1882. George was born about 1856 in New York State. Zena died on March 1, 1982. She and her mother were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles H. Adams [1855-1942]

Born in Waterbury, Connecticut in July 1855, Charles Adams came to Grand Haven as a young man. He was one of the founders of American Brass Novelty Company, which started in 1896 in the Forrest Brothers Grist Mill building on Second Street. His associates were Samuel Ardis, Rev. James A. Kennedy, James Hallas, and Andrew Thomson I. Charles was employed by American Brass for about five years, and then returned to his former job as a salesman.

On July 2, 1885, Charles married Anna “Annie” Thomson in Grand Haven. Born in Scotland in December 1863 [1861], Anna was the daughter of Andrew and Charlotte Thomson I, early Grand Haven residents, and the sister of Andrew II and Isabel Thomson of Grand Haven. Anna was a teacher in the Grand Haven public schools. The Adams’s’ children were Isabel [Isabella] Adams, who was born in June 1888 and married John D. Bakker [Baker] of Grand Haven; Isabel’s twin, Charlotte Adams, who married Lorimer Dunlevy of Milwaukee; Helen A. Adams, born in January 1894; Frances B. Adams, born in January 1897; and Louise B. Adams, born on October 2, 1899. Helen, Frances, and Louise all moved to Chicago. Louise, who married a Mr. Blair, died on August 1, 1928. The Adams family resided at 533 Lafayette Street. Anna died in Chicago on January 15, 1922. Charles died on April 11, 1942 in Chicago at the home of a daughter, Helen Anderson. Both he and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, January 15, 1922 and April 11, 1942.]

Eli Abner Adams [1841-1862]

Eli, the son of Ephraim and Caroline Allen Adams of Robinson Township, was born in Milan, Ohio on July 16, 1841. He enlisted as private in Company A of the 8th Ohio Infantry on June 20, 1861 and died of disease in Washington, D.C. on December 12, 1862. He was buried at the Military Asylum Hospital in Washington. On June 9, 1880 his mother applied for a survivor’s Civil War pension.

Ephraim Buckley Adams II [1811-1899]

Ephraim, the son of Ephraim and Martha Mason Adams, was born on November 13, 1811 in New York State. Ephraim the son October 4, 1840 in Sandusky, Ohio married Caroline [Carolyn] Allen, who was born in the same state and lived from July 22, 1821 to July 7, 1901. In the 1870s the couple moved from Huron County, Ohio to Robinson Township. Ephraim and Caroline had eight children: Eli A. Adams, born about 1842; Angeline Adams, born about 1844; Hiram W Adams., born about 1848; John G. Adams, born about 1850; Mary G. Adams, born about 1853; Ephraim Adams III, born in 1855; Martha E. Adams, born about 1857; and Ezra W. Adams, who was born in April 1860 and died on August 6, 1891 in a sawmill accident. All the children were born in Ohio. Ephraim II died on August 22 [20], 1899 in Robinson Township.

Hiram Mason Adams [1848-1937]

Hiram Adams was born in Ohio on February 8, 1848, the son of Ephraim and Caroline Allen Adams. On February 17, 1864 Hiram enlisted as private in Company C of the Ohio 123rd Infantry. He was mustered out on June 12, 1865. Hiram came to Spring Lake from Clyde, Ohio in 1867. In 1870 he began work for Cutler & Savidge, where in 1878 he became foreman of the yard at Mill #9. Hiram married Emma Caroline Gibbs, who was born in Ohio around 1850. Among their children were Ella L. Adams, who was born about 1870, and married Gustav Diedrich in Robinson Township on December 26, 1891, and May S Adams., born about 1874. Also living with the family in Spring Lake was Emma's sister, Ellen Gibbs. Ellen, who was born in Ohio about 1856, became a music teacher. By 1910 Hiram and Emma were residing in Home, Newaygo County. At that time they had two more daughters: Marguerite E., born in Spring Lake on September 11, 1889, and Frances T., born about 1892. Marguerite married John W. Bidwell in Home on March 6, 1915. Frances married John L. Hodges in Muskegon on November 11, 1918. Emma died on December 11, 1932, and Hiram passed away on January 12, 1937. Both were buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Muskegon.

Joseph Adams [1794- ?]

Joseph Adams, born in Maryland about 1794, was residing in 1860 in Spring Lake, where he worked as a barber. The census enumerator classified Joseph and the other members of his family as Mulattoes. Joseph's wife Sophia was born in Pennsylvania about 1824. Their children were Helen Adams, born in Delhi, New York about 1848; Frank Adams, born in New York about 1850; Isabella Adams, born in New York about 1852; and Walter Adams, born in Canada about 1858. None of the family members appeared in subsequent censuses for Ottawa County.

Joseph Warren Adams [1834-1912]

Joseph Adams and Ann Dutton were married in Stowe, Vermont on May 8, 1861. They moved to Ottawa County between 1870 and 1880. In 1900 Joseph and Ann were living in Polkton Township, where he worked as a farmer, but by 1908 he and Ann living at 410 Howard Street in Grand Haven, where he was employed by the Challenge Refrigerator Company. Around 1909 the couple moved to 219 South Fourth. Joseph at that time worked as a carpenter. In the 1910 Federal Census, he was classified as a "garment maker" in a Grand Haven factory. He was born in Brookfield, Vermont on March [May] 21, 1834. Ann, six years younger, also was born in Vermont. Joseph passed away in Red Oak, Iowa on May 28, 1912. Ann died the next year and was buried near her husband at Evergreen Cemetery in Red Oak.

Corneil [Cornelius] N. Addison I [1821-1893]

Corneil Addison and his wife moved from New York State to Fremont, Newaygo County, and then to Grand Haven. The 1893 Compendium listed him as a "shoemaker" in Grand Haven. Corneil was born in The Netherlands on March 13, 1821 and died in Grand Haven on May 5, 1893. He married Christina Johanna Fischer in The Netherlands on January 2, 1850. Christina, also a native of The Netherlands, lived from September 12, 1831 [1832] to July 27, 1910. She died in Grand Haven. Among their children were Sophia, who was born on September 15, 1854 in The Netherlands and married Robert [Raymond] Misner in Fremont; Corneil II, who was born in New York on November 1, 1860; Elizabeth "Lissie," born in New York in June 1863; Fredrick Joseph, born in Fremont in April 1866; and Christian, who was born in Fremont on May 20, 1870, married Lillie Post [1874-1955] in Muskegon on December 21, 1899, died on September 13, 1935, and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. Corneil and Christina were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Corneil "Cornelius" N. Addison II [1860-1933]

Born November 1, 1860 near Syracuse, New York, Cornelius was the son of Corneil and Christina Addison. The family moved to Fremont, Newaygo County when Cornelius was a boy. When he was 20, Cornelius worked as a clerk in a Fremont store. He later was employed in the sawmills of Muskegon and then in a grocery store in the same city. In 1887 he started a grocery store in Fruitport that burned down in 1889. He then came to Grand Haven in 1890 and joined John M. Cook as owners and managers of a grocery store, located at 123 North Third. Cornelius sold his half interest to his partner in 1892 and opened a dry goods store at the southeast corner of Washington and Second Streets [Akeley Building, 200 Washington], specializing in "bazaar goods," toys, fancy goods, crockery, and dry goods. The store was known as Addison's Bazaar. In 1893 he was awarded a patent for his invention of an improved broom holder.

On June 14 [18], 1890 in Grand Haven, Cornelius married Alice Hoffman, who was born in The Netherlands in May 1867 and died in Los Angeles on October 23, 1934. They had seven children, all born locally:

Cornelius J., who was born on May 23, 1891; John H., who was born on October 11, 1893 and served in the Navy during WWI; Margaret, who was born about 1897; Howard, who was born on July 11, 1899, worked as bookkeeper at the Addison store, and later moved to Boston; Christina [Cristene] E., who was born in 1902, became a teacher, and married Russell Ray, and Lewis E., who was born in 1908 and died in Mt. Vernon, Ohio on February 16, 1927. A second daughter, Alice J., was born on September 12, 1905 and also became a teacher. She married Paul S. Matheson, who was born in Canada about 1905. They moved to Los Angeles, where Alice later married Elmore Andre of Los Angeles, who lived from August 14, 1908 to September 6, 1984. The Addison family lived at 413 Lafayette in Grand Haven and later built a Dutch Colonial home at 602 Pennoyer Avenue. Before 1930 they moved to Los Angeles. Cornelius died on June 16, 1933 in Los Angeles and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, mother, father, and other family members. [Tribune obituary, June 17, 1933.]

Cornelius John Addison [1891-1956]

Born in Grand Haven on May 23, 1891, Cornelius Addison served as first lieutenant with the Medical Corps in England during WWI and later practiced medicine in Grand Haven. On May 25, 1916 in Ann Arbor, he married Caroline Anna Coon, who was born in Grand Rapids on March 20, 1890. He received his medical degree the same year from the University of Michigan. In 1918 Cornelius and Caroline were living in Marquette, where Addison was working as a physician. Two years later the family was residing in Clinton, Lenawee County, where Addison had opened a medical office. They had at least six children, all born in Michigan: Cornelius Philip, born about 1918; Martha Jane, born about 1920; David Russell, born about 1922; Joseph John, born about 1924; Mary Patricia, born about 1926; and Margaret E., born on November 17, 1927 in Grand Haven. The family resided in Cornelius's childhood home at 413 Lafayette. Cornelius served with the U.S. Army as a medical doctor with the rank of major. He was stationed in Europe. His wife and youngest child returned to Michigan from Italy in 1947. Cornelius's parents were Cornelius and Alice Hoffman Addison of Grand Haven. Caroline died in Orange County, California on January 14, 1985. Cornelius had passed away on December 14, 1956.

Frederick Joseph Addison I [1866-1926]

Fred Addison, who was born in Fremont, Newaygo County on April 28, 1866, married Klazina "Sena" Ver Murlen. The daughter of Cornelius and Catherine Ver Murlen, Sena was born in Grand Haven on November 30, 1869. She and Fred were married in 1889 in Grand Haven. As early as 1893 the Addisons resided in Muskegon, where Fred worked in a factory. By 1908 he and Sena were living at 334 Columbus and Fred was in the printing trade. They had two children: Christina Johanna, who was born on July 10, 1891, died on August 31, 1931, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Fred J. II, born in Muskegon on August 15, 1893. Sena died November 27, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fred, the son of Cornelius and Alice Hoffman Addison of Grand Haven, passed away in 1926.

Frederick Joseph Addison II [1893-1957]

The son of Fred and Sena Ver Murlen Addison, Fred II was born in Muskegon on August 15, 1893 [1894]. On July 9, 1916 in Grand Haven, he married Nellie Ruster, who was born in Michigan on October 7, 1891. They had a son, Robert, who was born on May 7, 1918 and passed away in Kalamazoo on March 20, 1995. Another son, David, was born on February 6, 1926 and died in Kalamazoo on December 7, 2001. By 1917 Fred and his wife had moved to Grand Haven. In Grand Haven, Fred was partner in a furniture business. The Addisons then resided at 230 Clinton. By 1930 the family had moved to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where Fred worked for a plumbing company. Nellie passed away in St. Joseph, Berrien County on March 1, 1982. Fred died on August 14, 1957. He and Nellie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Allan C. Adsit [Allen Adzit] [1837-1912]

Born in Rutland, New York on February 20, 1837, Allan was the son of Stephen and Polly Smiley Allen. Allan attended Fairfield Seminary and studied law at Watertown, New York. In 1859 he was admitted to the New York bar. After teaching for a short time, he began the practice of law in Adams, New York in 1859.

On September 9, 1861 in Albany, New York Allan enlisted as private in Company B of the 44th New York Infantry. Nineteen days later he transferred to Company G. He was promoted to sergeant on December 29, 1862 and to first lieutenant on February 27, 1863. Allan was discharged on August 6 the same year.

A year after the war ended, Allan came to Ottawa County as a grocer and dry goods merchant. He was supervisor of Spring Lake from 1867 to 1873, representative in the State Legislature between 1871 and 1872, and prosecuting attorney for Ottawa County from 1874 to 1877, when he moved to Grand Rapids and became Kent Circuit court judge from 1891 to 1900. When the Village of Spring Lake was incorporated in 1869, he was elected trustee and in April two years later he was elected the third president of the Village. The next year, he became one of the first directors of the new Spring Lake Salt Company, along with Aloys Bilz, Hunter Savidge, and others.

Allan's first wife was Mary Hubble, whom he married in Spring Lake on October 19, 1871. Mary was born about August 25, 1848, died on November 4, 1872, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had a daughter May who died on September 27, 1872, not quite two months old, and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Allan moved to Grand Rapids in 1877, where on February 24, 1886 he married Sarah Kirkpatrick [Kilpatrick]. On May 22, 1899 he applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. He died of "neuralgia of the heart" on January 3, 1912 and was buried at Valley City Cemetery in Kent County. Sarah applied for a widow's Civil War pension the following February 3. She lived from 1853 to 1920 and also was buried at Valley City. [Tribune obituary, January 3, 1912.]

Henry Ahrens [1843-1935]

German-born Henry Ahrens, who lived from February 1843 to 1935, married Augusta Matilda [Mary/Maria/Bruns] Krause. Like her husband she was born in Hanover, Germany and lived from May 1848 to 1924. Their children, all born in the Grand Haven area, were Charles, who died at birth on March 29, 1874; Ida, who lived from 1875 to 1902; Louisa Dortha, who was born on March 5, 1876, married August Van Tol, and died September 17, 1958; Henry Theodore, who was born on April 1, 1878, worked at Story & Clark, and died in July 1962; and John, who was born in April 1881, died in 1959, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. The Ahrens's 120-acre farm was in Section 20 of Crockery Township. Henry, Augusta, and Ida also were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Edward Doud Aiken [1886-1972]

Born on the 123-acre family farm on Potawatomie Bayou on March 26, 1886, Edward was the son of George and Amelia Doud Aiken. Eddie was a steeplejack, painter, window washer, and bellboy at the Cutler House Hotel, and sailed a few trips on the Naomi steamship between Grand Haven and Milwaukee. He helped build the 151-foot chimney for Eagle Ottawa Leather Company in 1925. On November 23, 1923, he married Myrtle Stone. She was born Myrtle Lewis in Gosper County, Nebraska on November 27, 1889, died in Hart on January 23, 1989, and was buried at Eagles Cemetery in New Era, Oceana County. Myrtle was married several times, both before and after her marriage to Eddie. Although no record of their divorce was found, he was living in Holland in 1930, working as a house painter, and listed as divorced. Eddie passed away at Glenwood Christian Nursing Home in Marne on March 30, 1972 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 30, 1972.]

George W. Aiken [1846-1916]

Born in Rumney, New Hampshire in 1846, George Aiken sailed from 1866 to 1870 in the South Pacific Ocean on the whaling vessel, Sappho, commanded by Captain James Handy and owned by a Mr. Seabury. From 1870 to 1874 working as a cook on the bark Chicago Board of Trade, in charge of Captain Fountain and owned by Charles Bradley, he sailed the Great Lakes between Buffalo and Chicago. He settled in the Grand Haven area in 1870 and by 1874 owned a 123-acre homestead on the banks of Grand River a little southeast of Grand Haven [Section 35, then considered part of Spring Lake Township]. Twenty-five acres of the land were devoted to gardening and fruit orchards. In the late 1880s he purchased land from the estate of Townsend Gidley that included a Trotting Park [Trotting Oval] in Section 35. The Aikens named their farm Everlows. One of its features was the large Driving Park.

In 1872 George married Amelia [Emilie] Doud of Port Byron, New York. She was born in February 1845. They had two children: Jessie, who was born March 17, 1874 and married Charles Bridger in Grand Haven on September 1, 1904, and Edward [Edmund] Doud Aiken, who was born on March 26, 1886 and helped on the 123-acre family farm until his mother's death on November 25, 1921. George was a member of the Unitarian Church and the Masons and he was a Republican in politics. He died in December 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Amelia managed the farm after her husband's death. She died on December 21, 1921 and was interred at Lake Forest. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 281-282; Tribune obituary, November 25, 1921; and Lake Forest Cemetery Records.]

Dewitt Ainsworth [1842-1911]

Born July 17, 1842 in New York State Dewitt was the son of Dr. Henry Ainsworth. Dewitt had a brother, Walter, who lived from 1850 to 1931, and two sisters, Delia, who married Charles C. Reed of Stillwater, Minnesota and Mary Campbell of Bellingham, Washington. On August 17, 1864 Dewitt enlisted as private in Company L of the 1st Wisconsin Heavy Artillery and was mustered out on June 26, 1865. He came to Grand Haven from Rome, Wisconsin in 1871 and was an employee of Wait Manufacturing Company. Dewitt moved to Spring Lake and joined the Cutler & Savidge Sawmill in 1877 as foreman of the planing mill.

On October 31, 1869 Dewitt married Frances A. Force, who was born in Rome, Wisconsin on May 8, 1842, died on October 5, 1927, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They resided on Park Street in Spring Lake. Dewitt died on May 4, 1911 at his home and also was buried at Lake Forest. Frances applied for a widow's Civil War pension on May 27, 1911. [Tribune obituaries, May 4, 1911 and October 5, 1927.]

Healy Cady Akeley [1836-1912]

Healy was born in Stowe, Vermont on March 16, 1836, the son of George and Eluta [Electa] Coffin Akeley. His father was a lineal descendant of Hannah Dustin, made famous for her escape from captivity by the Indians in 1698. Healy was instructed in the ancient languages and mathematics at the Academy at Barre, Vermont and studied law with the firm of Dillingham & Durant in Waterbury, Connecticut. He continued his studies at a Poughkeepsie, New York law school. After practicing law in Greensborough, Vermont, in 1858 Healy moved to Grand Haven where he helped develop the lumber and shipping industries. He was one of the major stockholders of the Grand Haven Lumber Company, and he served as justice of the peace and circuit court commissioner for two years. In 1862 he founded the newspaper Grand Haven Union, a voice of the Republican Party, which was edited by Lemoyne M. S. Smith from 1862 until 1872.

Healy enlisted in the 2nd Michigan Cavalry on October 23, 1863. He served primarily in Mississippi and was promoted to first lieutenant and adjutant on November 30, 1864 and to captain the following July 31. He was discharged on August 17, 1865. After the war, Healy bought for $13,000 a considerable amount of land outside the original Grand Haven village limits for building sites. From 1866 to 1880 he was customs collector for the United States Government. In 1872 he shared a law office with a Mr. Stewart. The next year Healy was named a director of the First National Bank of Grand Haven.

In 1871 Healy erected a large two-story frame building at 200-202 Washington, which became known as the Akeley Block. The new structure housed several retail establishments over the years, including Slayton's Dry Goods, Watson's Dry Goods, Addison's, Addison-Baltz, and Steketee's, and now is home to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. In 1872 Healy entered into partnership with Charles Boyden and formed the Boyden and Akeley Shingle Mill, for a time the world's largest. He and Captain Thomas Kirby owned the Kirby & Akeley Shipbuilding Company. Their steam barges, including the H. C. Akeley built in 1881, transported goods to every corner of the Great Lakes. He was also a silent partner in the firm of Harris Brothers, merchants in Grand Haven. Healy was a civic leader, and from 1882 to 1884 served as mayor of Grand Haven. In 1882 he contributed $20,000 to provide the Unitarian Church with its first permanent building on Washington, between Third and Fourth Streets. When the lumber trade along the Grand River began to decline in the late 1880s, Healy and his family left Grand Haven for Minneapolis, where he started the Akeley Lumber Company in partnership with Charles H. Hackley and Thomas Hume of Muskegon.

In 1871, Dr. Stephen Munroe graded the ridge at the junction of Washington and Fifth Streets, put a wall around the property, constructed a barn, and then sold the property to the Akeleys, who built a “beautiful residence.” In 1887, after the Akeleys had moved to Minneapolis, the philanthropist gave $5,000 in cash and their mansion and land on Washington Street, then valued at $47,000, to be used as the main building of the Akeley School for Girls. The home was named Blanche Hall, in memory of Akeley’s daughter. On September 12, 1888, Akeley Institute opened with 11 boarding pupils. Rev. James W. and Mrs. Wilkinson [Abbie] were in charge. The school flourished for years, and then closed in 1926. Healey was a Mason and in politics he was a Republican.

In June 1859, Healy married Anna Murray, who died on April 23, 1868. On August 10, 1869, he married Henrietta “Hettie” [Hattie] E. Smith in Grand Haven. She was born in April 1840 in Ohio. They had two daughters, Alice Blanche, who lived from April 26, 1873 to May 7, 1884 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, and Florence, who was born on November 3, 1878, married James Park Quirk, and died in Los Angeles on September 10, 1956. On August 11, 1905 Healy applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. In Long Beach, California, on October 18, 1911. Healey’s name was inscribed on a monument in Lake Forest Cemetery. Hettie, who died on February 6, 1907, was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Clara died in Los Angeles on November 1, 1947. Healey and Thomas Akeley were brothers. [Guide to the Hume-Hackley Papers; Tribune obituary, December 4, 1899; and Tribune article, “Early Reminiscences,” February 12, 1899.]

Thomas J. Akeley [1834-1899]

On September 23, 1873 in Olive, Thomas Akeley married Martha Welton Keller. In 1880 he owned a “Commission Store” in Grand Haven. The Akeleys resided in the 100 block of Washington with their son, Charles Sumner Akeley, who was born on March 6, 1876 in Holland. Thomas, the son of George and Eluta [Electa] Coffin Akeley, was born in Stowe, Vermont in June 1834. Martha, a native of Williams County, Ohio, was born on March 4, 1850. Thomas died on November 30, 1899 and was buried at Valley City Cemetery in Kent County. In 1900 Charles and his widowed mother were residents of Grand Rapids. Charles, a teamster, died on April 9, 1930 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. On September 26, 1906 Martha married Prentice Hills in Grand Rapids. Prentice, a native of Canada, was two years older than Martha. He died on September 7, 1909 in Grand Rapids. Shortly after Prentice’s death, Martha married Charles Walworth [1850-1927]. She passed away in Jackson, Michigan on July 23, 1920 and was buried at Oakhill. Thomas and Healey Akeley were brothers.

Clark Barton Albee [1811-1874]

Born in Highgate, Vermont on July 10, 1811, Clark was the son of Elkanah A. and Susan Potter Albee. In 1835 Clark took a position with David Carver of Chicago. The two men came to Grand Haven from Chicago in 1836, Clark working as an agent in Carver’s forwarding and commission business. After Carver left the area in 1838, Clark opened a general store at One North Harbor [Lot 10]. He lost a winter’s stock of stores for his general store because the schooner Pocahontas lost its propeller when it struck a sand bar at the mouth of Grand River. Later he ran a boot and shoe store at approximately 122 Franklin [Lot 139], midway between First and Second Streets on the south side of Franklin. He also owned a warehouse built by John F. Stearns on the northwest corner of Washington and Water [Harbor]. The structure later was called “The Stegeman” after its new owner, Albert Stegeman, who bought Albee’s commission business in August 1863. Albee’s slogan was “sell for small profits and get quick returns.” Clark was elected county commissioner in 1842. He donated land on the west side of Third Street between Fulton and Elliott [Lot 254] for construction of the original First Reformed Church from waste lumber. Clark took an active interest in civic affairs from the start, being elected Register of Deeds in 1838. He was originally a Whig, then a Republican. In 1846 he was awarded construction of the county jail, to be erected at the southeast corner of Washington and Fourth Streets at a cost of $100. In 1850 he was commissioner to the Grand Haven and Black River Plank Road Company which laid out a plank road between Grand Haven in Holland. About two years later Clark bought the Washington House [12 Washington] from Henry Middlemist. In 1854 he took over Sheldon's tannery and started his own tannery on the corner of Harbor and Washington Streets. His ship, the schooner Vermont, was destroyed in a wreck off little Pigeon Creek on December 9, 1855, while returning from Chicago with a load of oats, wheat, and lumber camp supplies. The schooner also was used to transport hides for the tannery. Captain Albee was in command of the vessel at the time it went down. All 18 crew members were rescued through the efforts of Richard Connell. [Shipping in the Port of Grand Haven, 1820-1840, pages 9-10.] Clark needed the straw for 150 vats he was installing at the tannery. The tannery burned down in 1865 at a loss of $20,000. It was rebuilt in a different location three years later.

During the Civil War Clark was draft commissioner, allowing him to help heads-of-family secure substitutes when they were drafted into the military. In 1863 he became moderator of the new Grand Haven Union High School and in 1867 he was school commissioner for the Second Ward. He owned the scow Crook and later, with Captain Noyes, built the schooner Vermont.

On June 1, 1840 Clark married Caroline Lucretia Hathaway in Grandville. The daughter of Nehemiah and Lucretia Hathaway, Caroline was born in Ashfield, Massachusetts on March 10, 1822. The couple had two sons, both born in Grand Haven: Harry Clark Albee, born on July 9, 1841, and James Elkanah Albee, born February 28, 1848. The Albees also had a daughter, Caroline Amanda Albee, who was born in Grand Haven on April 7, 1846 and married James Oscar McClellan on October 31, 1868 in Grand Haven. Daughter Caroline died in Washington, D.C. on March 30, 1935. Following the death of Clark's wife Caroline on August 1, 1850, he married Samantha Taylor on November 23, 1851. Samantha, who was born in Vermont about 1833, died in 1857. Their daughter, Mary Samantha ["Minnie"], born in Grand Haven in 1853, married James P. Brayton in 1871 and died in Florida in 1880. After the death of his second wife, Clark married Tryphena Ransom Farnham in Grand Rapids in 1858. She was born on June 1, 1828 and died in Chicago at the home of her daughter, Louisa [Louise] Amelia, on April 14, 1900. Louisa was the wife of Andrew Lytle Cummings, whom she married in Chicago on June 15, 1882. The Albees were members of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, where Clark was one of the first trustees. Clark died on January 30th, 1874 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Albee Street in Grand Haven memorialized his name. [Tribune obituaries, September 1, 1897 and April 16, 1900; article in the Tribune, "The Family Album."]

Harry Clark Albee [1841-1921]

Harry, the son of Clark B. and Caroline Hathaway Albee, was born in Grand Haven on July 9, 1841. On July 26, 1862, a year after the start of the Civil War, Captain Harry Albee recruited men in Grand Haven for Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. Called the "Ottawa Wild Cats," Albee's Regiment was united with a company of sharpshooters. Captain Albee was wounded at the Battle of Stone River, near Murfreesboro, Tennessee, on December 31, 1862, and was discharged for disability on December 20, 1863. He returned to Grand Haven three weeks later, one week after the Wild Cats left for duty. He applied for an invalid's pension on September 16, 1876. By 1910 Harry had moved to Portland, Oregon. There his wife, Nellie A. Russell, applied for a widow's Civil War pension on March 10, 1921, not long after Harry's death. He was buried at Riverview Cemetery in Portland. Nellie was born in Connecticut about 1848. They had at least one child, Harry Russell, who was born in Illinois about 1868.

James Elkanah Albee [1848-1897]

Born in Grand Haven on February 28, 1848, the son of Clark and Caroline Hathaway Albee, James was alderman on the City Council for several terms representing the Fourth Ward [Beech Tree District]. He was a member of Grand Haven Lodge No. 139. James moved to Detroit, where he took a job as railway mail clerk. He graduated from the University of Michigan College of Medicine and had a medical practice in Detroit for about six years. On August 4, 1867 James married Lucy Duncan of Grand Haven. The sister of Benjamin D. Safford's second wife, Mary Belle Duncan, Lucy was born on March 11, 1849. By 1880 James was a postal clerk in Detroit, where he and Lucy lived with his uncle, Charles W. Hathaway. The Albees resided at 488 Third Avenue in Detroit. James died on August 31, 1897 after collapsing on the street in Saginaw. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After his death, Lucy married Charles S. Hathaway in Grand Haven on April 21, 1906. [Tribune obituary, September 1, 1897.]

Frederick Albers [1856-1948]

Frederick was born in Grand Haven on April 21, 1856, the son of Johannes and Lydia Maria Michmirhuizen Albers. In 1880, 24-year-old Frederick owned a grocery store in downtown Grand Haven. Later in that decade and for the next 60 years he worked as a painter and decorator with his two brothers, Johannes Albers II and Henry Albers. In addition to the painting business, Frederick was president of the Grand Haven Basket Company in 1914. Frederick was a member of the First Reformed Church for 68 years and teacher of the Star Adult Bible class for 38 years.

On October 26, 1886 in Grand Haven, Frederick married Adrianna “Anna” Van Tol. Born in Michigan in January 1863 [1860], Anna was the daughter of Adriannus and Johanna Bentley Van Tol. In the 1900 census and in the 1908 and 1914 City Directories, Anna was listed as “Jennie.” Frederick and Anna had five children, all born in Grand Haven: John Maurice, who was born on August 4, 1887, moved to Madison, Wisconsin, became a member of the State Planning Board of Wisconsin, and died in Madison on June 7, 1960; Frances J., who was born in June 1889 and died in 1911; Marie A., who was born on July 21, 1891 and married William Fritz of Grand Haven; Bentley Adrian, who was born on June 22, 1895 and served with the 120th Artillery in France during WWI; and Julia, born in 1902. Bentley, who married Elizabeth Nemire, died in 1967. Elizabeth lived from March 2, 1900 to June 8, 1988.

Frederick built a house at 115 South Third Street in Grand Haven, across from his father’s home, and was living in it by 1900. After his death, the house passed on to his daughter. Frederick died on October 8, 1948 at his home on Third Street, then also occupied by his daughter Julia and her husband, John Joldersman. Frederick was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, April 25, 1936, October 9, 1948, and June 9, 1988.]

Henry Albers [1865-1932]

Henry, the son of Johannes and Lydia Maria Michmirhuizen Albers, was born in Grand Haven on November 3, 1865. After the death of his father, and in partnership with his brothers, Fred and Johannes II, Henry continued in the family painting business until he went out on his own about 1927. Many of the largest public and commercial buildings and some of the finest homes in the city were decorated by the Albers brothers. Among them were the 1894 Court House, several public school buildings, the First Reformed Church, the Bell Telephone building on Washington, the Hunter Robbins home on Spring Lake, and the Nathaniel Robbins home on Fifth Street in Grand Haven. Henry was a member of the First Reformed Church and Grand Haven Bible class.

On October 25, 1892 in Grand Rapids, Henry married Dora Maria [Marie] Vis, who was born on November 17, 1866. She was the daughter of Cornelius and Eliza Vander Velde Vis of Grand Rapids. The Alberses’ children included Harold J., who was born in August 1895, served as scieutenant in Company L of the 126th Infantry in France during WWI and moved to Cleveland after the war; Adelaide Dorothy, who was born January 28, 1896 and married Abram James Fisher; Londrie E., who was born about November 1898; James M., who was born about 1905 and moved to Detroit; Dora M., who was born about 1914; and Mrs. E. M. Alexander. Henry lived at 114 South Third Street for the last 35 years of his life. He died in Grand Haven in January 1932 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dora died on December 15 four years later and was buried next to him. [Tribune Obituary, January 31, 1932.]

Johannes Marinus Albers I [1821-1902]

Born in The Netherlands on May 7, 1821, Johannes Albers came to Grand Haven in December 1855 and became one of Grand Haven’s earliest house painters. Albers operated a paint store next to the family home on Third Street in the early years, and later moved into a large garage in the back of the property. Three sons joined him in the business, and they were noted for quality decorating work. Johannes was a member of the First Reformed Church.

On May 1, 1850 Johannes married Lydia Maria [Maria Alyda] Michmerhuizen, who was born in The Netherlands on September 25, 1823 and died in Grand Haven in 1908. They had six children: Johannes Marinus II, who was born in The Netherlands in 1851; Frederick, who was born in 1856; Sena, who was born on September 4, 1860 and died on October 28, 1910; Mary, who was born in 1863; and Henry, who was born in 1866. All the children except Johannes II were born in Michigan. The Albers's first home was on the north side of Clinton, two houses west of Third Street, and in 1880 they built a larger home at 114 South Third. Lydia Maria Albers died on March 6, 1901 and her husband died at his home on Third Street on April 18, 1902. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 7, 1901, April 18, 1902, and October 29, 1910.]

Johannes Marinus [Morris] Albers II [1851-1929]

Born in The Netherlands in July 1851 [1850], Johannes was the son of Johannes and Lydia Maria Michmirhuizen Albers. The younger Johannes came to Grand Haven in 1854 with his family, and in 1867 he went into the house painting business with his father. The 1908 City Directory listed brothers Fred, Henry, and Johannes Albers as "painters and paper hangers." Their office and residences were on South Third. Johannes built a fine home at 202 South Seventh. He died on June 28, 1929 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Mary Kampt, who was born in The Netherlands and lived from August 10, 1850 to January 6, 1933 and was buried near her husband. In 1880 Mary's brother, Harm, resided with her and her husband in Grand Haven. Harm, who worked in the shingle mill, was born in The Netherlands about 1853.

Maybelle Alderman [1913-1990]

Maybelle Bayliff Johns Alderman was president-secretary of the Dama Tool & Gauge Company when it moved from Warren, Macomb County, to Grand Haven in 1964. It was located at that time at 1634 Marion. Maybelle was born in Columbia City, Indiana on September 17, 1913 and died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1990. She married Dale Alderman on October 28, 1949. He was born on May 18, 1901 and died on August 29, 1965. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Maybelle's first marriage was to Carlton Johns on April 15, 1935.

Mary Kay Bloss Alguire [1943-2021]

Mary Kay Bloss married Thomas F. Alguire in East Lansing on April 9, 1967. She was born in Marlette, Sanilac County, in February 1943. She earned a master degree in Special Education for the Blind at Michigan State University. She and Thomas met on the MSU campus, where he was studying medicine. Mary Kay worked for the Illinois Institute for the Visually Impaired in Chicago while Thomas completed his studies at MSU. Upon receiving his medical degree, Thomas served with the United States Air Force. He and Mary Kay moved to Grand Haven in 1976. Mary Kay continued to teach for nearly 20 years at such places as the Michigan School for the Blind and Grand Haven Area Public Schools. She and Thomas were members of the First United Methodist Church of the Dunes. They had two daughters: Amy Alguire, who married John Ackerman, and Kathryn Alguire, who received an M.D. degree and married Brad Springer. Mary Kay died at home on June 14, 2021. She and Thomas resided at 819 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven.

Agnes Bodine Lowe [Low] Allen [1788-1868]

Born on March 30, 1788 in Northumberland, Pennsylvania, Agnes was the daughter of Cornelius and Catherine McKinney Lowe. On September 7, 1808 in Smithville, Canada, Agnes married Captain Hannibal Montresor Allen of the U.S. Army. Hannibal, born in Burlington, Vermont on November 24, 1787, was the eldest son of Revolutionary War hero Colonel Ethan Allen. It was Colonel Allen, leader of the Green Mountain Boys, who demanded that the British surrender Fort Ticonderoga "in the name of the great Jehovah and the Continental Congress." Agnes's sister Catherine married Benjamin Hopkins. Agnes and Catherine and her family arrived in Eastmanville in 1837. At the time of the Federal Census of 1850, Agnes was living with Rev. William Comfort and his family. William's wife Cornelia was Hannibal's and Catherine's daughter. Ten years later, Agnes, listed as a "Domestic," resided in Eastmanville with Hannibal and Catherine. She resided with them in Eastmanville until her death. Agnes owned 100 acres close to the site of the County Poor Farm [Infirmity], which opened in 1866. She was credited with being the first person named in the tax roll of 1846 for Eastmanville. Hannibal Allen died of Yellow Fever at Fort Nelson, Virginia, on April 18, 1813. His burial site remains unknown. Agnes Allen died on November 8, 1868 and was buried at Eastmanville Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 9, 1899.]

Charles Allen [1830-1893]

Charles Allen married Catherine Donahue. They were early residents of Spring Lake, where they settled in 1850. Their home at 110 West Savidge later became the site of Braak's Bakery. In 1853 they built a house at 341 South Lake and raised fruit on the adjoining land. At the same time Allen built the house across the street at 344 South Lake. The Allens were members of the Roman Catholic Church and held services at their home until a place of worship was erected in 1866. Charles was a partner in the bond business with Hunter Savidge, and he was Spring Lake Township treasurer at one time. He was born in Wexford, Ireland in 1830 and died on February 28, 1893. Catherine died on March 12, 1868 at the age of 40. The couple was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles Mathew Allen I [1859-1940]

Charles Allen was born in Spring Lake on March 29, 1859. On July 2, 1894 in Grand Haven, he married Mary A. Diendorf, who came from Trier, Germany, where she was born on December 21, 1873. Among their children, all born in Michigan, were Mary, born in July 1895; John C., born in April 1896; Catherine P., born in September 1898; Margaret, born in February 1900; Charles II, born on January 19, 1903; Martin J., born about 1909; Martha A. and Dennis P., both born about 1913; Geraldine, who was born on May 3, 1915 and passed away on October 2, 2000; and James Pershing, who lived from September 13, 1918 to May 5, 1997 and practiced medicine. Charles owned a fruit farm in Section 23 of Spring Lake Township. Originally 20 acres in size, the farm by 1912 was reduced to five acres. Charles died on September 6, 1940 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Mary passed away on October 7, 1958 and was buried near her husband.

Charles Mathew Allen II [1903-1995]

Charles was born on January 19, 1903 in Spring Lake Township to Charles and Mary Diendorf Allen. all of whom preceded Charles II in death. Charles retired on May 31, 1967 after 31 years with the Grand Haven Board of Light & Power. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church. On December 6, 1934 in Grand Haven, Allen married Ruth Edna Bosse, who was born in 1907 and died in May 1948. On October 6, 1949 Charles married Mina Verlan Hudson, who was born on May 4, 1907. Charles died on June 15, 1995 in Grand Haven and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Mina died on October 13, 1998 and was buried near her husband. [Tribune article, June 8, 1967 and obituary, June 16, 1995.]

John Allen [1796-1851]

John Allen spent all or most of his adult life in Ann Arbor, a village he co-founded in 1834 with Elisha Rumsey. John was the village's first president, sheriff, coroner, and postmaster from 1824, the date of the town's founding, to 1830, and he was state senator from 1845 to 1848. One theory is that Ann Arbor was named for John's wife, Ann Isabella Barry McCue, whom he married on June 7, 1821. She formerly had been married to William McCue, who died in 1817. John purchased thousands of acres in West Michigan, including some in Ottawa County, for the timber. He partnered with Henry Morgan, another speculator who invested his money in land in and around Grand Haven. John appeared in the 1827, 1830, 1834, and 1835 censuses for Ann Arbor. He was born in Virginia about July 1796. Ann was born January 22, 1797 in Staunton, Virginia and died in Augusta, Virginia on January 27, 1875. John died on March 11, 1851.

Benjamin Allison I [1831-1895]

A native of England, Benjamin Allison became a saloon keeper in Spring Lake, including one located at 226 West Savidge. Charles Begin purchased the saloon. Benjamin was born in 1831, and married Margaret Lewis, who was born in Ohio around 1832. Benjamin died on December 25, 1895 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his wife [no dates]. Their son Frank lived from June 1, 1869 to April 10, 1951 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Another son, Benjamin II, was born in June 1868. The Allison family had a daughter Ida, who was born in Grand Rapids about 1852 and on March 25, 1872 married Robert Clydesdale of Spring Lake.

David G. Alston [1826-1919]

Born in Glasgow, Scotland in October 1826 [1823], David Alston came to the United States in 1841 and to Spring Lake 28 years later. On December 20, 1853 he married Margaret [Marguerite], who was born March 16, 1831, the daughter of Daniel and Margaret Campbell of Scotland. The Alstons had five children: James, who was born in Illinois on September 18, 1854 and died in 1902; Daniel, who also was a native of Illinois and lived from November 1, 1855 to June 6, 1902; Margaret [Marguerite], born in Wisconsin in May 20, 1859; Christina, who lived from June 10, 1869 to December 3, 1893; and a daughter who died in 1863. The family had a 40-acre fruit farm on Spring Lake in Section 10, extending to both sides of West Spring Lake Road [approximately 17700 West Spring Lake Road]. Margaret passed away on May 17, 1904 and David died in 1919. The family was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 22, 1904.]

William Alt [1914-2003]

William Alt founded CoroTech, Inc. in Grand Haven in 1974, after retiring from the Brunswick Corporation in Muskegon. He was born in Chicago on January 16, 1914 to Hugo and Anna Alt. In 1936 William graduated from Illinois Institute of Technology with a degree in mechanical engineering. He married Edith Mae Howell on June 10, 1939 in Chicago. Edith lived from January 26, 1912 to March 2, 1999. While serving as lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy during WWII, William taught aeronautical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and later he was stationed at Seattle, Washington.

As an employee of Brunswick, William and his wife moved to Spring Lake in 1951. Seven years later the Alts and their two daughters, Sandra [Mercurio] and Susan [Jonas], moved to New Jersey, where they stayed for two years before William was transferred back to West Michigan. Their home was at 17863 Oakwood in Spring Lake, built on land that William had bought in 1935 from Edwin and Nora Booth, who just that year had purchased the property, known as Arbutus Banks. William retired from CoroTech in 1993. He was a member of the American Legion, trustee of the Spring Lake Schools Foundation, president of the Spring Lake Rotary Club, and president of Spring Lake Country Club. He received the Paul Harris Award from Rotary. He also helped start the STRIVE mentoring program at Spring Lake High School and coached Odyssey of the Mind teams. He was a member and elder for the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven. In 2001 he was recognized as an outstanding senior volunteer at the "Night of 100 Stars." William died on November 8, 2003. [Tribune obituary, November 10, 2003.]

Jacob Ammeraal [1871-1952]

On June 1, 1905, in Grand Haven, Jacob Ammeraal married Isabella Sarah Hale Deremo, who had been divorced from John Quincy Deremo on August 11, 1904. The Ammeraals owned a 70-acre fruit farm in Section 35 of northern Grand Haven Township. A residential street in that Section, running parallel to the Grand River, was given the family name. Prior to moving to the township, Jacob owned a grocery store on Jackson Street for six years. Isabella, who was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin, lived from July 6, 1858 to October 18, 1931. After her death, Jacob remarried. His second wife, Anna, died on November 7, 1945. Jacob was born in The Netherlands on October 6, 1871 and died in Grand Haven Township on November 2, 1952. He and Isabella were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, October 19, 1931 and November 3, 1952.]

Andrew Anderson [1845-1916]

Andrew Anderson owned a 59-acre farm in Section 10 of Crockery Township by 1893. Born in September 1845 in Denmark, he died on April 20, 1916 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. Apparently he was never married.

Andrew Anderson [1851-1934]

Andrew Anderson and his wife, Mary Nelson, were both born in Sweden in 1851, he in September and she in November. They met on the ship coming to America in 1883. They lived in a house located on the southwest corner of Exchange and Buchanan Streets [105 West Exchange] in Spring Lake, which was torn down in 1968, and the lot later became the site of Barber School. The Andersons raised five children, all born in Michigan: Hannah, born in 1884; Nels [Nelson] August who lived from August 29, 1885 to 1958; Amanda Marie, born in December 1887; Minnie born in 1890; and William, born on May 21, 1893. Andrew, who worked on the railroad, died on February 13, 1934, and Mary died a month later on March 11. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Benjamin Anderson [1862-1934]

Benjamin Anderson, who was born in Sweden in December 1862, came to the United States in 1880 and became a shipping clerk at Challenge Refrigerator in Grand Haven. He and his wife, Ida, lived at the corner of Madison and Elliott. Their son Arthur Walter Anderson was born on May 20, 1890 and worked at Johnston Bros. Their other children were George, born in August 1892; Oscar, born in February 1895; and Edith, born in October 1897. The children were all born locally. Ida, also a native of Sweden, lived from March 1871 to 1927. She arrived in the United States in 1886. Benjamin died in 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. The family resided on Third Street around 1900.

Carl Eric Anderson [1883-1960]

Born in Sweden on February 4, 1883, Carl was the son of Elba Jacobson and C. P. Anderson, a landscape gardener. Carl attended a trade school for nine years in Sweden, specializing in mechanical engineering. In 1909 he came to the United States and settled in Chicago, where in 1911 he became superintendent of the Acorn Brass Works and then served as superintendent of the Reliance Die & Stamping Company. He later was employed as a mechanical engineer by the Western Cartridge Company at Alton Illinois, after which he became a consulting engineer for the S. S. White Dental Manufacturing Company of Staten Island, New York. During World War I he developed the gas masks which were used by the soldiers and also created improvements for making cartridges. On February 22, 1935, in partnership with Baltzar Bolling, he established the Anderson-Bolling Manufacturer Company to manufacture automobile parts and electrical appliances.

Carl was a Republican and a member of Blue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, the Rotary Club, Citizens Historical Association, and the Presbyterian Church. He was also interested in art, especially copperware and charcoal drawings. In 1917 he married Gertrude Bowling of Sweden, daughter of Captain Lars Bowling. Carl died in 1960, and Gertrude passed away the next year. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Andersons had no children. [Citizens Historical Association, Indianapolis, September 27, 1941.]

Chester "Chet" Anderson [1916-1995] and Betty Jane Johnson Anderson [1918-2019]

Born in Chicago, Illinois on January 3, 1916 to Oscar H. and Evelyn Berggren Anderson I, Chester graduated from Michigan State College [MSU] and served as an officer in the Army's 922nd Field Artillery during WWII. Chet and Bob Cernoch formed the Anderson-Cernoch Construction Company in 1952, working as carpenters and building contractors. Anderson helped remodel the 1870 Grand Trunk Depot into the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. Anderson served 18 years on the Grand Haven Zoning Board and was a member of the American Legion.

Chet married Betty Jane Johnson on February 22, 1947 in Lake Odessa, Ionia County. They became members of the Tri-Cities Historical Society and were named Historians of the Year in 1994. Their children included Marcia of New Jersey; Abigail of Grand Haven; Bruce of Milwaukee; Randall of Lake Odessa; and

David, who died in 1975. They lived at 421 Clinton Street. Chet died on December 12, 1995. Betty, who was born in Lake Odessa on November 21, 1918, passed away in Grand Haven on August 15, 2019. She was a long-time active member of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. [Tribune obituaries, December 13, 1995 and August 30, 2019.]

John Anderson [1850-1905]

John Anderson, a ship's carpenter, was born in Norway on May 5, 1850. He came to the United States in 1870. John and his wife, Carrie, lived at 218 Water Street [South Harbor]. Carrie was born in Ohio in February 1859. They had an adopted son, Robert Anderson, who was born in Michigan in January 1889. John died on May 15, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carrie passed away on February 17, 1909 and was buried near her husband. The property went to new owners after Betty's death in 2019. Chet had passed away in 1995.

Joseph Anderson [1802-1882]

The First Congregational Church was organized in Grand Haven in 1858. A year later, on May 31, its first place of worship was dedicated at 134 Washington, and in the afternoon of that day Rev. Joseph Anderson was installed as pastor. Rev. Anderson, who was born in Scotland, also served members of the Spring Lake Congregational Church. In addition he, among others, filled in at the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church during the period between Rev. Ferry's retirement in April 1857 and the arrival of a full-time replacement on October 18, 1859. Joseph replaced Rev. Lucas in 1854 to lead the Presbyterian Church in Spring Lake during its early years. On April 1, 1862 Joseph was given a leave of absence to allow him to be Chaplain to the 3rd Michigan Infantry, then in Virginia under the leadership of General George McClellan. The 3rd Infantry had been organized in Grand Rapids shortly after the Civil War began. Joseph resigned his chaplain's post on March 28, 1863 and entered the U.S. Volunteer Hospital Chaplain Corps. He was mustered out on August 4, 1865. By 1870 he had relocated to South Haven, where he died of "disease of the brain and paralysis" at his home there on April 2, 1882 and was buried at Lakeview Cemetery in South Haven. Joseph's wife, Lucy P. applied for a widow's Civil War pension on August 16, 1884. She was born in Vermont in 1820 and died in South Haven in 1894. Joseph was born in Scotland in 1802.

Leo Godfrey Anderson [1906-1977]

Born in Muskegon on May 16, 1906, Leo Anderson married Minnie Groth, who was three years younger than her husband. Her parents were William G. [1875-1964] and Mary Hartman Groth [1883-1938]. In 1940 Leo and Minnie lived in Spring Lake Township. With them were two children: Jean, born about 1935, and Leonard "Len," born about 1938. The Federal Census of 1940 noted that Leo worked in a "steel factory." For the remainder of the 1940s and into the 1950s, Leo was manager at the Sam Garvin plant, 402 South Harbor Drive. A few years later he became a tool and die maker at Automatic Spring Products at 803 Taylor Avenue in Grand Haven. He and Minnie resided at 113 South First Street in Grand Haven. Leo passed away on May 27, 1977, and Minnie died in 1982. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their son Len, who was born in Grand Haven on May 29, 1937, married Wanda Gringhuis of Grand Haven. Len, who owned an investment firm, and Wanda, an artist, remained in the Tri-Cities area. [Personal correspondence with the family.]

Mary Elizabeth Swanson Anderson [1877-1958]

See Mary Elizabeth Swanson.

Nels [Nelson] August Anderson [1885-1958]

Nels Anderson was born in Spring Lake in August 29, 1885 and died in 1958. He was one of five children of Andrew and Mary Anderson. Nels worked as a ship carpenter for Barrett Boat Works for about 40 years. On October 21, 1905, he married Nellie Vander Vere in Spring Lake. The daughter of Henry and Jantje "Jane" Wierenga Vander Vere, she lived from 1886 to July 31, 1935 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Nels was employed at Barrett Boat Works. The family resided at 305 Liberty, where they raised three sons: Clyde Andrew, Harold Henry, and Norman William. Norman's daughter, Norma Anderson Koopman, resided in the Grand Haven area.

Oscar Henning Anderson I [1884-1959]

Oscar Anderson was born in Sweden on February 23, 1884. He married Evelyn F. Berggren on June 24, 1911. She also was a native of Sweden, where she was born on April 7, 1886. Their children were Oscar II, born in Illinois on July 20, 1914; Chester, born in Chicago on January 3, 1916, and Stuart, born in Michigan about 1921. The Andersons lived at 943 Lake Avenue in the 1920 and into the 1940s. Oscar was a polisher at one of the local factories, and he also had worked in Chicago. He died on July 5, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Evelyn passed away on March 7, 1974 and was buried near her husband.

Oscar Henning Anderson II [1914-1992] and Katherine [1911-1993]

Oscar was born July 20, 1914, in Michigan, the son of Oscar H. and Evelyn Berggren Anderson I. Oscar's wife, Katherine, was born in Evanston, Illinois on November 12, 1911. Oscar and Katherine lived in Grand Haven from 1931 to 1965, when they moved to Virginia. She worked at Reichardt's until 1952, when she opened Anderson's Store for Children at 224 Washington, later the location of Grand Haven Jewelry. After closing the store in 1965 she worked for Leggett Department Store in Lynchburg, Virginia. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, the Red Cross, and Community Chest [United Way], and she was a Grand Haven Public School volunteer. Their children included Kristen A., who married Danny Fox of Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Katherine died in Lynchburg on January 24, 1993 and Oscar died November 24, 1992. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 18, 1993]

Oscar R. Anderson [1901-1984]

Oscar Anderson was born on April 6, 1901 and died on April 13, 1984. He was employed as a sheet metal worker at Bastian Blessing. Oscar married Elnora Hehl on July 1, 1939. He served during WWII with the 389th Bombardment Group and was promoted to second lieutenant in 1945. Their children were Lawrence of Grand Rapids and Blaise and Eugene, both of Nunica. Elnora lived from October 13, 1908 to January 16, 1990.

Theodor Anderson [1873-1941]

See Mary Elizabeth Swanson.

Thomas F. Anderson [1846-1922]

A resident of Grand Haven, Thomas Anderson enlisted as private in Company D of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry on September 10, 1861. He was promoted to sergeant on January 5, 1864 and to sergeant major on April 1 the same year. He then was promoted to first lieutenant of Company M on the last day of December 1864 and to captain on July 1, 1865. He was mustered out on August 17, 1865. Thomas was born on January 19, 1846. On December 22, 1898, while living in Illinois, he applied for a Civil War pension. He passed away in Danville, Illinois on March 13, 1922.

William Andrew Anderson [1893-1966]

William, the son of Andrew and Mary Nelson Anderson, was born on May 21, 1893 and served in the military during WWI. Prior to his military service, William was a woodworker at Challenge Refrigerator. He married Alice De Young of Grand Haven in 1923 and died in 1966. Their home was on Summit Street in Spring Lake. A son, William L., was born in March 1925, and remained a resident of Spring Lake. The elder William was a house painter. He died December 5, 1966 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Pierre [Peter] Charles André [Andree] [1817-1908]

Pierre André owned a warehouse at the "Lower Diggings," now known as Government Pond. It was close to the warehouse that fur trader Louis Campau had Nathan Throop build for him. By 1844, Pierre's structure had tumbled into the river, according to a government map of that year [Lillie, pp. 151-152 and 203.] On October 29, 1839, Pierre and his wife Clarissa purchased from William Kanouse his pre-emption title to about 70 acres in the Fort Village area, on or near Battle Point. The Andrés, in turn, on October 15, 1846 for the sum of $300 transferred 59 acres to the “Fort Village Band of Ottawas.” The Andrés were residents of Detroit and Saginaw. Pierre was born on October 15, 1817 in Detroit and died in Saginaw on November 2, 1908. Clarissa Alina Stark André, a native of New York State, lived from May 15, 1825 to April 30, 1896. She also was buried at Oakwood. They had three children.

John Andreasen [1931-2021]

In 1980, John Andreasen was diagnosed with Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia, a disease he weathered until his death on January 9, 2021 at Grand Pines Assisted Living Center. He was born January 2, 1931 in Grand Rapids to John and Olga Croshaw Andreasen. He graduated in 1949 from South High School in Grand Rapids. After John finished his studies at Western Michigan College [Western Michigan University] he married Rose Marie Lewis on June 19, 1954. They met in 1951 while attending Grand Rapids Junior College [now Grand Rapids Community College]. A month after the wedding, he enlisted in the U.S. Army and served for two years and during that time attended Army Finance School. John returned to Grand Rapids and began his teaching career at Alexander Hamilton Elementary School and earned his Master Degree in Education Administration from Michigan State University. In 1953 he served as Superintendent of Schools for four years at Hopkins Public Schools in Hopkins, Allegan County. Four years later, he moved his family to Grand Haven, where he was appointed Assistant Superintendent of Business for the Grand Haven Public Schools. He retired 25 years later. During retirement, John served on the North Ottawa Council on Aging and the Association of Retired School Personnel. He served on several boards and chaired the Building Committee for St. Patrick’s first Family Center on Fulton Street. He was a Eucharistic Minister, member of the Parish Council and an usher. John and Rose had four children: Jon Andreasen of Ada; Karen Andreasen of Massachusetts; Mary Andreasen who married Brent Lane of Homewood, Illinois; and Eric Andreasen of New York City.

Edward Harry Andres [1864–1944]

Born in Grand Haven on October 1, 1864, Edward was the son of Ernest and Ida Schultz Andres. In Grand Haven he and his brother, William L. managed the New Cutler House when it opened in 1891 after the big fire two years earlier destroyed the original hotel, the Cutler House. After his father’s death in 1882, Edward assumed management of the Andres House, located at the southeast corner of Franklin and Water [Harbor], which he leased in 1891 to Joseph Rue. Edward was one of the incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. The next year 1887 he was chosen second lieutenant of the “Grand Haven Guards.” As its captain in 1898 he led Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry to Tampa, where the group remained during the short Spanish-American War. He was mustered out on October 31, 1898. He was a graduate of the Fort Leavenworth Officer’s School. By 1910 he was residing in Sheridan County, Wyoming. Edward also served in World War I as a lieutenant colonel in the quartermaster’s division at Waco, Texas. After the war he was assigned to Fort Jay on Governor’s Island, New York, where he lived with his wife and son. He retired to a ranch near Tucson, Arizona, where he was residing in 1930 with his wife, Lydiam, and their son, Edward II, who was born about 1911 in Wyoming. Edward died on February 19, 1944 and was buried at Arlington National Cemetery. Lydiann was born in Michigan around 1878 and died on March 3, 1944 and was buried near her husband.

Ernest Andres I [Andrees, Andreis, Andrews] [1832–1882]

A native of Germany, where he was born on October 6, 1832, Ernest Andres and his wife in 1857 moved from Port Huron to Grand Haven, where Clark B. Albee hired him as a clerk. However, he is listed in the 1856 Michigan Gazetteer as manager of the Grand River House, a hotel in Grand Haven. In 1858 he opened the first bakery in Grand Haven, a restaurant, and a hotel, called the Milwaukee House, on the west side of the river [Muir], which at that time was the terminus for the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad. Both buildings burned down in June 1860. He later ran the Washington House in Grand Haven, and in 1863 built a new hotel, which he also called the Milwaukee House, on the northeast corner of Franklin and Harbor Streets.

By 1864 Ernest owned acreage in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, south of Potawatomi Bayou. In 1867 he bought additional acreage from Robert W. Duncan and about that time built a gristmill, which he operated for a while, and then converted to a shingle mill. Located on the Grand River and adjacent to Potawatomi Bayou, the mill was destroyed by fire in 1874. That same year he built the Andres House, later called the River View Hotel, at 100 South Water Street [Harbor Drive]. He was alderman in 1877, 1878, 1879, and 1880, and a member of St. Paul's Evangelical Church.

In 1854 in Buffalo, New York, Ernest married Ida Schultz, who was born in Mecklenburg, Germany on October 24, 1836. Their children were William Louis Andres, who was born in Michigan on September 3, 1859; Edward Andres, who was born in Michigan on October 1, 1864, and made his career in the United States Army, where he achieved the rank of captain; Ida Andres, who was born in 1867 and married Archie Campbell of Grand Haven; and Ernest II Andres, who died on August 11, 1877 at the age of six months. Ernest the father died on October 7, 1882 and was buried at Lake Forest on October 9. His wife died of the "grippe" on February 18, 1913, at the home of her daughter at 225 Franklin Street, which was the family homestead and where she had lived for 17 years. She also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1913.]

Tony Andres [Andrews] [1899- ?]

Tony Andres operated the New York Shoe Shine Parlor, first relocated at 24 Washington and, after 1927, at 9 Washington. He lived at The Frances, a boarding house owned by Frances and Josh Lehman at 112 Franklin. A native of Greece, he was born about 1899.

William Louis Andres [1859-1936]

Born in Grand Haven on September 3, 1859, William was the son of Ernest and Ida Schultz Andres. In Grand Haven he and his brother, Edward, managed the New Cutler House when it opened in 1891 after the Great Fire two years earlier destroyed the original hotel, the Cutler House. He married Sadie Ostell in Coopersville on January 5, 1882. On August 1, 1888 William married Florence, the daughter of Henry and Hannah Trotter Buswell, in Grand Haven. She was born about 1862 in Ohio. The couple moved to Mt. Pleasant. On June 29, 1905 William married Frances "Fannie" Martin Shultz Worden [Warden] in Winnebago, Illinois. Born in Illinois in January 1862, she previously had been married to Theodore G. Worden [Warden]. In 1910, William and Fanny were living on Sullivans Island in South Carolina, where, according to the Federal Census, was serving with the U.S. Lifesaving Service. Also in 1910 William was listed in the Federal Census as being employed by the U.S. Lifesaving Service in Grand Haven. She died in Charleston, South Carolina, but no dates were cited. He passed away in Eastmanville on July 19, 1936. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Daniel W. Andrews [1857-1929]

Born in Michigan in 1857, Daniel Andrews married Anna, daughter of William and Anna Evarts Angel of Grand Haven. Daniel was an insurance agent who worked out of his home at 532 Lafayette, formerly Anna's family home. Anna was one of the founders of the Christian Science movement in Grand Haven. Daniel and Anna had at least four children: Helen, who was born about 1891 and married Stanley B. Oakes of Grand Haven; William A. born about 1892; George, who was born about 1893 and served as lieutenant in the Navy during WWI; Louise, who moved to Elmhurst, Illinois; and Winifred. Louise Andrews in 1916 built "Windy Dune," one of the early North Shore cottages. Daniel died in 1929 and Anna, who was born in Michigan in 1860, died the next year. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Elijah [Eleazur] C. Angel [Angell] [1849-1905]

The son of George A. and Mary Ann Eatiner Angel, Elijah was born in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, on May 13, 1849. On December 21, 1863 he enlisted as private in Company I of the 128th Ohio Veteran Infantry, where his name was entered as Eleazur Anger. He represented himself as being 18 years old. He was mustered out on July 13, 1865 and came to Ottawa County that year to work in the lumbering business, eventually becoming the head sawyer and filer at Olive Center Mills in 1882. In 1870 he was living in Grand Haven with his mother Mary, born about 1866, and Elijah's four siblings: Luella Angel, born about 1852; Sarah Angel, born about 1853; George Angel, born about 1861; and Edgar Angel, born about 1866.

Elijah was married three times. On July 8, 1874, he married Mary Church in Whitehall. She was born about 1854 in New Hampshire. On September 27, 1876 he married Lydia Aarmintha "Minnie" Pocock, who was born in Fulton County, Ohio on March 18, 1856. She died on March 30, 1897 and was buried at Pleasant Hill Cemetery in Luther, Lake County. On May 9, 1899, Elijah married Jenny Bromley in Manistee. She was born on September 22, 1865 in Canada. Elijah died on October 5, 1905 in Detroit. Jenny applied for a widow's Civil War pension on September 14, 1912. She died in Wayne County on April 3, 1944.

George Evarts Angel [Angell] [1864-1952]

George E, the son of William and Anna Evarts Angel, was born locally on April 23, 1864. He moved to Prince Rupert in British Columbia but returned to Grand Haven. On January 19, 1891 in Grand Haven, he married Clara B. Benton [Burton] Mower. She was the widow of Grand Haven resident Samuel C. Mower, who died on April 10, 1885. Clara was born in Illinois in July 1849. By 1900 George and Clara were residing in Detroit, where he operated a confectionary. Living with them was Samuel W. Mower from Clara's son from her earlier marriage. Ten years later Clara was listed as widowed and still living in Detroit, and in the 1940 census George Los Angeles and shown as being a widower. He died on May 22, 1952 in Los Angeles.

William M. Angel [Angell] [1825-1911]

Born in Moores, New York, on December 16, 1825, William was a descendant of Thomas Angel, who was born in England in 1618 and came to America in 1625 with Roger Williams, founder of Rhode Island. William's grandfather, Asa Angel, was born in Rhode Island, and his father was born in Champlain, New York in 1800. William's mother was Mary Keyes, a native of Vermont. William was third in a family that consisted of four sons and two daughters. Starting at the age of ten he and his father spent eight years on a dairy farm in Portage, Ohio. He studied for part of a year at Twinsburg Seminary, and in 1844 [1843] joined his family in Tallmadge Township, Ottawa County, where he chopped wood and cleared forest. When he was about 20, he contracted sciatic rheumatism, which resulted in dislocation of a hip. From 1848 to 1854 he was Register of Deeds for Muskegon County. In 1851, with John and James Barnes as partners, he was editor of Grand Haven's first newspaper, the Grand River Times.

At the expiration of his period of public service, William resumed farming operations for two years in Tallmadge Township. However, because of his lameness, he found it necessary to select a less active vocation and accordingly entered Bryant and Stratton's Business College, where he spent the winter of 1856-57. Upon finishing his commercial studies, he accepted a position as bookkeeper in a country store at Eastmanville. Later he came to Grand Haven and worked as bookkeeper for a merchant and vessel owner. By 1864 he was in the drug and grocery business under the name of Angel & North, and for a time had an extensive dry goods business called Angel & Beaudry. In December 1869, the store burned to the ground, and since there was no insurance, it proved a total loss to the owners. They did, however, pay seventy cents on every dollar of their indebtedness.

In the spring of 1870 William was elected recorder and police justice, holding these positions for two years. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1871, forming a partnership with Lurentus B. Soule, of Ionia and at different times with other prominent lawyers. In 1887 he was elected to the office of City Recorder and was reelected in 1889, 1892, and 1893. He had his own law office by 1892. With Charles Soule he owned the land on the North Shore and sold part of it to the U.S. government on January 22, 1922 as the new site for the Life Saving Station. At one time an Episcopalian, William later converted to Christian Science. He spoke at the laying of the cornerstone for the Court House, built in 1893 near the corner of Fifth and Washington Streets in Grand Haven.

In 1853 William married Anna [Ann] Marie Everts [Evarts]. The daughter of Shadrick [Shadrock] [1802-1892] and Eunice [1797-1879] Evarts, she was born in Niagara County, New York on July 19, 1831 and died on March 14, 1903. Anna and her parents moved to Grand Rapids when she was young. Anna was the first teacher at School, organized in September 1845 in Section 8 of Georgetown Township.

William and Anna had seven sons and one daughter, including a child who died in infancy, and another, Charles Hudson, who was born in Grand Haven in 1870 and died on January 9, 1893. Among the members of the family living in 1893, all born in Michigan, were Anna, who was born about 1860 and married Daniel Andrews of Grand Haven; George E., who was born about 1864 and settled in Prince Rupert, British Columbia; and Harry A., who was born about 1868 and later resided in Indianapolis. The Angels resided at 532 Lafayette, also the home of their daughter Anna, her husband, Daniel Andrews, and their family. William died at his home in Grand Haven on December 24, 1911. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 553-554; Tribune obituary December 27, 1911; and Tribune article by Charles E. Soule, December 26, 1911.]

Donald James Angus [1887-1966]

Donald was the son of John and May Sibly Angus, who became residents of Grand Haven. Donald was born in Plymouth, Wisconsin in June 17, 1887 and died in Indianapolis, Indiana, in October 1966. He was a self-taught engineer-inventor and electrician. Donald didn't finish high school, but he did attend engineering classes at the University of Wisconsin and Michigan State University. He became expert on electrical measuring and recording devices and was granted 47 patents. In 1910 Donald resided with his parents at 1226 Washington Street and worked as an electrician. Ten years later he and his parents had moved to 526 Lafayette. At that time, Donald was a consulting engineer. Donald joined John W. Esterline in 1910 to form the Esterline-Angus engineering firm and became its president. In 1939 he purchased a home at 302 North Buchanan in Spring Lake, which remained in the family into the 21st century. The Annis Water Resources Institute of Grand Valley State University operates a research vessel, the 45-foot D. J. Angus that Donald donated in 1965. The vessel, berthed in Muskegon, is equipped for sampling chemical, biological, and physical parameters and houses on-board laboratories for analyses of the samples. Francis Angus was Donald's brother.

Francis Clark Angus [1889-1971]

Francis, the son of John and May Sibly Angus of Grand Haven, was born in Plymouth, Wisconsin on February 18, 1889 and died on September 22, 1971. From 1907 to 1915 he worked at Challenge Machinery. From 1915 to 1917 he was co-owner of Franklin Press with Henry Arkema II. He held a variety of positions until 1921, when he became a manufacturer of electrical instruments. On January 1, 1932 Francis married Margaret W., the daughter of Charles and Margaret Belle Cotton. Margaret, who was born in Grand Rapids on December 26, 1899, died on May 20, 1993 in Spring Lake. Margaret taught school in Grand Rapids prior to her marriage and in Grand Haven during the 1930s. The Anguses resided at 710 Lake Avenue with their two sons, John, who was born on February 22, 1934, and Charles, who was born on November 3, 1935. In the 1950s, Francis and Margaret moved to 220 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. The Anguses also owned some acreage on Spring Lake in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township. Donald James Angus [1877-1966], Francis's brother, in 1939 bought a house at 302 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. When Donald died in 1966, the house went to Francis, who in turn passed it on to his son Charles. Francis and Margaret were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Donald Angus was Francis's brother.

John James Angus [1859-1932]

Born in Wisconsin on August 7, 1859, John Angus became a resident of Grand Haven sometime after 1905. He married May Benton Sibley in Waldo, Wisconsin on January 15, 1883. In the early 1900s the couple lived at 1226 Washington with their two sons, Donald, born in Plymouth, Wisconsin on June 17, 1887, and Francis, born in the same town on February 18, 1889. By 1917, the family was residing at 526 Lafayette. They also owned a cottage in Highland Park. John died on October 31, 1932. May also from the Badger state, lived from May 12, 1863 to December 13, 1939. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward G. Applegate [1909-1994]

Edward G. Applegate was born in Illinois on June 15, 1909 and died on May 13, 1994. He and his wife, Beverly, lived at 202 South Eighth Street in Grand Haven. On October 27, 1942 in Kalamazoo, Edward enlisted as private in the U.S. Army Air Corps. After the war, he became a design engineer at Bastian Blessing. Beverly lived from January 11, 1921 to October 10, 1999. She died in Grand Haven. They had a son Terrence L.

Frank F. Archer [1845-1903]

Frank Archer, who was born about 1845 in Ohio, became a resident of Lamont, where he lived with his mother, Maria A. Archer. Maria was born on May 18, 1819 in New York and died in Tallmadge Township on January 10, 1885. In 1878 Frank received a five-year license to operate a ferry across the Grand River, but two years later the license was passed to Bradford Velsey. Frank died in Los Angeles, California on October 28, 1903.

Mark B. Ardis [1872-1952]

Vice president of the American Brass Novelty Company, a position he assumed in 1904, Mark Ardis also was associated with the Wiltshire Glove Company in Grand Haven. He was born in Ireland on March 16, 1872. Samuel Ardis was his uncle. On June 5, 1899, Mark married Alta Mae Gilbert in Reed City, Osceola County. They lived at 502 Lafayette in Grand Haven. Alta was president of the first Parent Teachers Club, organized in Grand Haven in 1909. She was born in Burlington, Calhoun County on January 23, 1876, died in East Lansing in April 1957, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery on May 1. Mark died on December 7, 1952 in Los Angeles and also was buried at Lake Forest. The Ardises had one daughter, Margaret, who was born in Lake City on May 1, 1901. Samuel Boyd Ardis was his uncle.

Samuel Boyd Ardis [1855-1950]

In 1902, Samuel Ardis, as company president and with help from the Grand Haven Board of Trade, reorganized the American Brass Novelty Company, which he had assisted in forming seven years earlier, the year he and his wife arrived in Grand Haven. First situated in a three-story frame building at 13 South Second Street, about 1903 the company was moved to a new building on Harbor Drive. In 1950 the business took the name Michigan Brass. Samuel also was associated with the Wiltshire Glove Company, formed in 1905 and situated near the southwest corner of Washington and Second Streets in Grand Haven.

Samuel was born in Ireland on March 10, 1855 [January 1856/1857] and had his first retail job there at the age of 13. Ten years later he came to Michigan, settling first in Evart and then in Lake City, Missaukee County. On March 28, 1884 in Lake City, he married Maymie Thompson, who was born in Ireland in May 1861. They lived at 318 Washington in Grand Haven, but. The Ardises had a son, Everton, who was born in Grand Haven in July 1888 and settled in Detroit; a daughter, Dorothy E., who was born on December 19, 1899 and died five years later; and another daughter, Amy, who lived just nine years. Ardis also had banking and business interests in Ann Arbor and Lake City, California. Maymie died in Cadillac on January 5, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Samuel then married Jeanette "Nettie" Cherry in Grand Haven on February 4, 1913. She was the daughter of James and Mathilda Julia Johnson Cherry of Grand Haven and resided in the family home at 520 Clinton until her marriage. About the time of his marriage to Nettie, Samuel bought 160 acres in Robinson Township. Around 1920 the Ardises moved to California. Nettie, who was born in 1867, died in San Diego, California on May 24, 1935, but was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She taught first grade in the Grand Haven School System for almost 30 years. She also taught a Sunday School class for older girls at the First Presbyterian Church for more than 35 years.

After Nettie's death, Samuel married Susan Miller. Susan was born in 1886 and passed away in Orange County, California on February 10, 1967. Samuel died in Los Angeles on December 18, 1950 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Mark Ardis was his nephew. [Tribune obituaries January 6, 1911 and May 24, 1935, and Industrial Hi-Lites, April 1954.]

John “Andrew” J. [Andrew John] Arentsen [Arentson] [1831 -1913]

Andrew Arentsen, a native of The Netherlands, was born on October 30, 1831. On April 7, 1861, while living in Wisconsin, he enlisted as private in Company G of the First Wisconsin Infantry. He was mustered out in August the same year. Andrew and his family continued to live for a while in Wisconsin, and then came to Ferrysburg in 1864. By late 1867 he owned a store in Ferrysburg near the railroad depot. His motto was “Small profits and quick returns” and “The nimble sixpence is better than the slow shilling.” He carried groceries and other provisions. In 1873 he was operating a billiard hall, located inside or close to the Rideout House at 201 West Savidge. In the 1880 Federal Census Andrew was listed as a hotel keeper, probably at the Rideout House. He married Barbara Hoffman. In an 1883 list of Civil War Pensioners, Andrew was listed as a resident of Spring Lake. He was receiving a pension of $6.00 a month because of a wound to his left thigh. By 1907 Barbara was living in Benton Harbor. Andrew’s and Barbara’s daughter, Lena, married Charles Begin of Spring Lake. Barbara managed the Central House, probably in the early 1900s. She was born in Germany on March 7, 1825, passed away on October 7, 1918, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Among their children were Emma, born on September 25, 1855 in Wisconsin, and John, born about 1861, also in Wisconsin. Andrew died in Sheboygan, Wisconsin on December 24, 1913.

Gerald C. Arkema [1911-1977]

Gerald, the son of Gerrit and Sena Arkema, was born July 7, 1911 in Spring Lake and died on May 6, 1977. He started Citizens Realty Company in 1930 and operated from his home at 422 Franklin Street in Grand Haven, where he resided with his wife, Jean. He also lived in Spring Lake Township, later at 14417 Lakeshore Drive, and finally in Muskegon. Gerald owned large parcels of land, including nearly 300 acres in Section 16 of Grand Haven Township, which he sold around 1960 to W. Bruce Matthews as the site for Grand Haven Golf Club. Jean, who was born on October 25, 1912, died in Muskegon on April 28, 1974. She and Gerald were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Gerrit Arkema [1875-1952]

Gerrit, the son of Henry and Grace Arkema I, was born on May 4, 1875. He became proprietor of the Franklin Press at 401 Fulton in the early 1900s. He married Etta Byl on September 20, 1900 in Grand Haven. They lived at 519 Fulton. Etta, who lived all her life in Grand Haven, was born on December 29, 1880 and died on November 19, 1959. Their sons were Herbert, who lived from 1901 to 1908; Leonard, born about 1906; Gerald C., born on July 11, 1907; Fitzgerald, born about 1912; and Kenneth J., born about 1916. They also a daughter, Dorothy M., who was born about 1912 and may have been Fitz’s twin. Gerrit died on September 19, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 28, 1957, and marriage announcement, March 23, 1996.]

Gerrit John Arkema [1900-1971]

Gerrit Arkema was born in Grand Haven on September 2, 1900 and died there on May 21, 1971. He was the son of John and Sena Holman Arkema and the grandson of Henry Arkema I. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his parents. At the time of his death, he resided in the family home at 517 Madison.

Hendrick “Henry” Arkema I [1842-1921]

Born at Uithuizen, The Netherlands in May 1842, Henry Arkema came to Grand Haven in 1867. He was engaged in the flour and feed business until he retired, but he had an interest in the printing business, too. On June 24, 1867 in Grand Haven, he married Grace [Geeske/Gieski] Kampenga. Also a native of The Netherlands, Grace lived from October 1838 [1839] to 1924. Their children, all of Grand Haven, included John, born in 1868; Dena, who was born in December 1871 and married William Vaxter of Grand Haven; Gerrit I [Gerret], who was born on May 4, 1875 and married Etta Byl in 1900; and Henry II, born in April 1877. The elder Arkema died at the family home and place of business, 517 Fulton Street in Grand Haven, on March 13, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 14, 1921 and April 24, 1930.]

Henry Arkema II [1877-1942]

The son of Henry and Grace Arkema, Henry II resided at 523 Pennoyer with his wife, Della. Della, the daughter of John and Kate Hoeksema of Grand Haven, was born in Michigan on September 9, 1882 and passed away in Grand Haven about June 12, 1962. Henry was born in Grand Haven on April 19, 1877 and died on January 11, 1942. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Henry and Della were married in Grand Haven on September 8, 1910. He worked at the Grand Haven Tribune in the early 1900s and was hired there as fulltime pressman in 1918. In 1912 he started his own print shop, Franklin Printing, at 517 Fulton, which he operated for 30 years.

Henry J. Arkema [1895-1977]

Henry J., the son of John and Sena Holman Arkema was born in Chicago on September 19, 1895 and died on May 14, 1977. He and his wife, Leatha, lived at 949 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Leatha was born on June 24, 1895 and died on February 11, 1976. She was a Grand Haven resident all her life. In 1918 Henry was a tacker at Eagle Ottawa. Henry and Leatha were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Henry Arkema [1868–1955]

Born in Grand Haven on December 7, 1867 [1868], the son of Henry and Grace Arkema, John was first employed by the Boyden Shingle Mill and later worked for Story & Clark, Eagle Ottawa, and other factories, as well as the City of Grand Haven. On December 17, 1888, he married Sena Holman, who was born in March 1868 in The Netherlands and came to the United States in 1881. The wedding took place at the groom's home, 517 Fulton, where he had lived for many years. John and Sena resided at 517 Madison. Among their children were Henry, born in Chicago on September 19, 1895, and Gerrit John, born in Grand Haven on September 2, 1900. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. John died on September 19, 1950, and Sena passed away about June 21, 1955. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Kenneth J. Arkema I [1915-2003]

Kenneth was born on September 4, 1915 to Garrit [Garret] and Etta Byl Arkema. He married Ruth Bomers on April 9, 1941 in Holland, Michigan. Ruth, the daughter of Dewey and Reka Kolenbrander Bomers of Holland, was born on August 6, 1920. Kenneth earned a bronze star while serving with the Army during WWII. In Grand Haven, he was Public Relations manager for Gardner-Denver. Kenneth also was an amateur musician. The Arkemas, who resided at 1230 Slayton, were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church. Their children were Kenneth II and Karen, who married Vern Peters. Kenneth died on September 11, 2003 in Muskegon. Ruth passed away in Grand Haven on November 3, 2004. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, September 13, 2003 and November 4, 2004.]

Henry T. Armstead [1822-1896]

Born in Schroon, New York on October 17, 1822, Henry Armstead moved to Ohio and then became involved in lumbering operations at Wyman, Montcalm County, and relocated to Grand Haven in 1870. While still in Schroon he married Jane A. Wyman in 1858. She was born in New York on March 25, 1822 and died on December 10, 1900. Their children included James P. of Grand Haven, and C. O. and Wyman P. of Aitkin, Minnesota. Wyman was born about 1864 in Ohio. Henry died at his son's home, located on the corner of Fifth and Clinton Streets [120 South Fifth], on July 19, 1896. Henry and Jane were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, July 20, 1896 and December 10, 1900.]

James P. Armstead [1855-1918]

James P. Armstead, the son Henry T. and Jane Wyman Armstead, was born near Cleveland, Ohio in May 1855. Jane was born in England in March 1822. James came to Grand Haven with his family in 1870. He attended high school in Grand Haven and spent one year at Grand Rapids Commercial College. He worked three years for the Crystal City Glass Works in Detroit. He returned to Grand Haven in 1877 as head clerk of the Cutler House. James was named secretary and treasurer of Dake Engine Company when it was organized in 1887, and he became secretary and general manager at a later re-organization. In 1907 he was secretary for the Grand Haven Board of Trade. James was a charter member of the Spring Lake Yacht Club, founded in 1897.

On November 3, 1880 James married Carrie, daughter of Ebenezer and Caroline Barnes and a niece of Dwight Cutler. Carrie, who was born on December 22, 1856, died on January 5, 1882 in Grand Rapids, leaving one child. On December 3, 1901 James married Myrtle "Myrtie" Moody. They built and lived in a home at 120 South Fifth. James died in June 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Myrtie passed away around June 9, 1952 and was buried near her husband. [Dake, The First One Hundred Years, 1887-1987.]

George Armstrong [1845- ?]

In 1867 George Armstrong was arrested at White River for burning down a sawmill at Nortonville in April. A George Armstrong living in White River in 1880 was born in Michigan around 1845, and another George Armstrong, also living in White River, was born in Canada in 1833 and married Lydia Armstrong, an Ottawa Indian.

Charles Lee Arnold [1903-1991]

Born April 12, 1903 in Waupaca, Wisconsin to Leonard and Mary Arnold, Lee earned his teaching certificate from the State Normal and Industrial College in Ellendale, North Dakota, and a bachelor degree from Western Michigan University in 1938. He came to Grand Haven from Ellendale in 1928 to teach general shop and to work with the junior high athletic program. He taught industrial arts for several years and worked later in the Vocational Department of Grand Haven Public Schools. Lee retired in 1968. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Masons, and Grand Haven Historical Society. Lee in 1932 became County Agricultural Agent. He went before the Board of Supervisors and asked for funds to develop a soil stabilization plan within the county. He was granted $75.

Lee married Helen Dunphy, who taught kindergarten in Grand Haven from 1954 to 1962. She was born on September 19, 1903 and died on March 30, 1993. The Lee family resided at 912 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven, and later moved to 18047 North Beach Drive in Spring Lake. Their children included two sons, both became dentists: Charles, who had a practice in Grand Rapids, and William of Parnell, Kent County. Lee died on March 20, 1991 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Helen. William Dunphy Arnold, who was born on September 18, 1939, married Sandra Johnson of Grand Rapids on May 3, 1968. He served as a dentist in the U.S. Navy and later maintained offices in Rockford and Grand Rapids. William died on June 23, 2001. [Tribune obituaries, March 21, 1991 and January 18, 2002.]

William H. Ash [1842-1924]

William Ash, an African American, was living in Grand Haven when he enlisted as private in the 1st Colored Infantry in January 28, 1865 during the Civil War. He was a barber and would do general labor as well. William was mustered out on September 30, 1865. Born in Virginia in October 1842, he died on July 19, 1924 in Grand Traverse County.

Albert Bartlett Ashley [1838-1916]

A native of Massachusetts, where he was born on September 9, 1838, Albert Ashley enlisted in the city of Freetown and was mustered into the United States Navy on May 9, 1861 as an Ordinary Seaman. He served on the USS Ohio and the USS Mississippi. He was discharged from his unit on June 23 the next year, and then became a member of Company A of the Massachusetts 3rd Infantry the following September 23. He left that detachment on June 26, 1863 and was mustered into Company B, Massachusetts 4th Cavalry, which he left on March 12, 1865. He next was commissioned into the Connecticut 21st Infantry and left the military for good on April 25, 1866.

On October 30, 1865 Albert married Jeanette [Janette] Wilhelmina Miller, who was born on June 20, 1839 in Edgartown, Massachusetts. In 1880 they were residing in Kewanee, Illinois, where Albert was superintendent of a coal mining company. The two of them started spending summers in Spring Lake, and in 1892 they built a 30-room hotel, called Ashley Heights, on the west shore of the lake, at the east end of Van Wagoner Road [Section 10, approximately 17800 West Spring Lake Road]. The couple operated the resort until the early 1900s, when they started to spend their summers in a home in Lovell Park, just north of Ashley Heights, which burned down in 1918. Their principal residence remained in Macon, Illinois, where they were living in 1910. By 1904 Edward and Anna Selbmann held title to the property and renamed it Lott Hannah Resort. The property reverted to the Ashleys in 1907 when the Selbmans defaulted on the mortgage. Called "Captain," Albert was active in the Masons and attained the position of deputy grand master of the Illinois Chapter in 1909. He was also active in the Masons locally. Albert died in Chicago on November 2, 1916, while en route to Florida for the winter. Jeanette applied for a widow's Civil War pension about two weeks after his death. She died eight years later; both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Ashleys had a daughter Jennie W., born in August 1867 in South Carolina, and a son Albert II, who was born around 1873 in Illinois.

John Atwell [1829-1906]

The first person to be admitted to the newly established Ottawa County Poor Farm was John Atwell. The county purchased acreage for the farm in Section 4 of Polkton Township in February 1866, and John became a resident there on the following March 21. Like many of his peers, John, a Civil War veteran, had a difficult time adjusting to post-war life. He had volunteered for Company F of the 10th Michigan Infantry in February 1864, while living in Dryden, Lapeer County. His regiment followed General Sherman on his March to the Sea. John, a private, was badly wounded at the Battle of Peach Tree Creek in Georgia and was hospitalized. After being discharged on June 21, 1865, "he was too ill to return home," his obituary said.

John's first wife, Theresa Tuttle, died in November 1867. They were married in Lapeer on November 12, 1854. On May 10, 1868 in Lapeer County, John married Prudence Hatherly. Prudence lived from July 4, 1848 to August 9, 1918.

By the time of the Federal Census of 1870, John was back home in Lapeer County. He applied for an invalid's pension on April 20, 1878, and his wife, Prudence, made application for a widow's pension on April 27, 1907. John was born in Erie County, New York on October 20, 1829. He passed away in Cass City, Tuscola County on August 3, 1906 and was buried with his wife at Silverwood Cemetery in Lapeer County. [Cass City Chronicle, August 17, 1906.]

George Gerhardt Austgen [1903-1982]

George Austgen was born in St. John, Indiana on April 23, 1903. The 1930 census listed him as an aviator, living in Paris Township, Kent County. In 1935 he and his family were living in Indiana, but five years later they were in Grand Rapids, where George was working as a crane operator for a company that manufactured tanks. In 1949 he started Auto Radiator & Welding Service and Welders & Fabricators at 307 Pine Street in Ferrysburg. He also managed the landing field in Ferrysburg for a time. His residence was at 18316 144th Street in Crockery Township. He died on July 28, 1982 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. On January 24, 1934 he married Martha Elizabeth Lund in Valparaiso, Indiana. She was born in Sweden on May 22, 1909, died on November 9, 1993, and also was buried at Nunica Cemetery. They had four children: Michael Austgen, who was born about 1903; George Russell Austgen, who was born about 1933; Joyce Austgen, who was born about 1942; and Mary Austgen, who was born about 1945.

Edward John Avery [1876-1912]

The son of James Colby and Mary Catherine Murray Avery, Edward was born in Grand Haven in December 1876. He became a partner with his father in a jewelry business located at 128 Washington, which he operated until he died in May 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He resided in the family home at 426 Franklin.

Edward Jones Avery [1816-1901]

Born in Groton, Connecticut on May 4, 1816, Edward Avery was engaged in cabinet making while living in the east. On August 8, 1837, in Sherburne, New York, Edward married Eleanor [Honor] Jane Murray, who was born at New Berlin, New York on December 17, 1819 and died in Grand Haven on June 9, 1893. The couple left New York and moved to Grand Haven in the spring of 1845. Edward was listed in the Business Directory of the 1864 Map of the Counties of Ottawa & Muskegon as a house carpenter and undertaker. The Averys had two children, James Colby and Ellen Cornelia. Both children were born in New York, James on December 1, 1842 and Ellen a year earlier, on August 2. Ellen married Robert Leggat of Grand Haven. In the 1880 census the two Leggat children were listed as living in Grand Haven with their grandparents, Edward and Eleanor. The Averys apparently had a second daughter, Margaret, who appears in the 1860 census, residing with Henry and Rachel Griffin and her brother, James C. Avery.

In their early years in Grand Haven, Edward and Eleanor resided on the corner of Second and Columbus Streets, but by 1880 they were at 426 Franklin Street, in a house occupied by their son James and his family after Eleanor's death. Edward lived with his son until his death on September 4, 1901 and was buried with Eleanor at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Evening Tribune obituary, June 2, 1893 and Tribune obituary September 5, 1901.]

James Colby Avery [1842-1903]

Born in Sherburne, New York on December 1, 1842 [1843], the son of Edward Jones and Eleanor Jane Murray Avery, James came to Grand Haven with his parents when he was four years old. In 1860 he was living with Henry and Rachel Griffin, working as an apprentice at Henry's drugstore in downtown Grand Haven. A jeweler and watchmaker by trade, James owned a jewelry store at 128 Washington in partnership with his son, Edward John Avery, who was a jeweler and optician. James later became associated with A. L. Holmes in putting in water supply systems in the west. They put in the first water supply for the City of Denver and did similar work at other places in Colorado. By 1884 he was in the wholesale and retail tobacco trade and a producer of cigars with George E. Hubbard, a Grand Haven hardware merchant.

On May 12 1869 in Grand Haven, James married Mary Catherine Murray, who was born on Prince Edward Island, Canada, in May 1850 [1851] and died on August 31, 1911. They lived on Lafayette Street in 1880. After the death of his mother in 1893, James moved into the family home at 426 Franklin, where they resided with Edward Avery. After her husband's death, Mary remained at the Franklin Street house. James and Mary had two children, both of whom remained in Grand Haven: Eleanor C., who was born in July 1870 [1872] and on February 4, 1900 in Grand Haven married Augustus Eugene Scott, and Edward John Avery, who was born in December 1876. James died from complications of asthma on January 12, 1903. Family members were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 16, 1903 and August 31, 1911.]

Riley "Pete" Avery [1933-1999]

Pete was born on February 19, 1933 in Grand Haven, the son of Riley C. and Lois Hubbell Avery. He was an employee of Michigan Plastics for 30 years, retiring in 1988. During the Korean War Pete served in the U.S. Army, and upon his return to the area he joined the Conklin Post of the American Legion. He had two sons, Ken Schmitt of Fruitport and Dirk Schmitt of Grand Haven. Pete died on December 13, 1999.

Henry Baar [Barr] [1862-1951]

Henry Baar was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. A druggist, he owned a pharmacy at 216 Washington and evidently had a second outlet, called "East End Drug Store," at an unspecified address. Henry, born on April 15, 1862 in Grand Haven, was the son of Simon and Helena Yonker Baar. On February 23, 1886 in Grand Haven, he married Isabelle Johnston, the daughter of John Watt and Ann Baud Johnston of Ferrysburg. Isabelle was born on August 27, 1862 and died in Los Angeles on June 24, 1947. The Baars lived at 515 Clinton in the early 1900s. In 1907 Henry sold his drug business to Van I. Witt but continued to work as a pharmacist. Around 1911 Henry and Isabelle moved to Los Angeles, California, where he was employed as a pharmacist. In 1940 they still lived in Los Angeles, but Henry at that time was retired. The Baars' daughter, Marguerite, was born in Michigan on September 11, 1888. On February 26, 1916 she married Harry Miles in Los Angeles. Marguerite died in Orange County, California on April 2, 1981. Henry passed away in Los Angeles on May 17, 1951. Henry and Jacob Baar were brothers.

Jacob Baar [Barr] [1859-1949]

Jacob was born in Grand Haven in May 16, 1859 [1858] to Simon and Helena Yonker Baar. The third of their four children, Jacob grew up in Grand Haven. He was a clerk in George W. Miller's hardware store for five years, and he was in the employ of George E. Hubbard, Grand Haven hardware dealer, until 1880, when he was elected to the office of Registrar of Deeds of Ottawa County for four years. After leaving the office Jacob embarked in the real estate business. In 1892 he advertised the availability of "Real Estate and Loans" from his office at 136 Washington, and added, "Desirable Property in farms and wild lands for sale or exchange." Jacob was a member of the Reformed Church, for three terms was director in his school district, and he was staunchly Democratic. He was mayor of Grand Haven from 1898 to 1899 and postmaster from 1894 to 1898.

In September 1878 Jacob married Hattie, daughter of Abraham [Abram] and Sarah Slaghuis of Grand Haven. Hattie lived from 1857 to about January 24, 1939. The Baars had four children, all born in Grand Haven, including Helena [Helen/Ella]; also born in 1879; Gertrude [Gertruda] Evans, who was born in Grand Haven on November 19, 1881, and married Clarence Garlick in Grand Haven on April 14, 1904; Seymore, who was born about 1883; and Katherine "Kitty," who was born in 1885 and married Stickney Seymour. The Baar home on Third Street in Grand Haven had a large lawn with huge maple trees and choice shrubbery.

In the 1900 census, Hattie and her children were still in Grand Haven, but Jacob was in Birmingham, Alabama, working as a traveling salesman. Later that year the family relocated to Chicago, where Jacob was appointed American Consul to The Netherlands. He was responsible for The Netherlands exhibit at the World's Fair [Century of Progress] in Chicago in 1932. He was employed by the Davis Scale Company in Chicago. Residing with the Baars were their daughters Gertrude and Katherine, and Gertrude's husband. Jacob and Henry Baar were brothers.

Jacob died in Chicago in April 1949. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife and other family members. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 290-291, Tribune obituary, April 1949, and "Guide To The Hume-Hackley Papers."]

Simon Baar [Barr] [1830-1901]

Born on March 1, 1830 [1829] in Groningen, The Netherlands, Simon Baar in 1851 married Helena "Lena" Yonker while they were still living in their native country. Lena also was born in The Netherlands on March 12, 1829. She died on October 15, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1855 they immigrated to the United States. They first settled in Chicago but moved from there to Kalamazoo and in 1857 came to Grand Haven, where they continued to reside. Simon was classified as "gardener" in the 1880 census. They had five children, including a daughter Altje "Alice," who was born in The Netherlands in 1852 and married Folger Van Zanten of Grand Haven; Johanna "Anna" [Joan], who was born in Illinois in 1854, married Cornelius Glerum, and moved to Kenosha, Wisconsin; Jacob, born in Grand Haven on May 16, 1859; Henry, who was born in Grand Haven in 1853 and apparently died before 1862; and a second Henry, born about 1862 in Grand Haven. Living with the family in 1870 was Jacob's widowed mother, Johanna, who was born in The Netherlands around 1798. Simon died on June 27, 1901 in Grand Haven and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, p. 288, and Tribune obituary, June 27, 1901.]

Edward M. Baas [1911-2003]

In May 1943 Ed Baas left his hometown of Grand Rapids and moved to Grand Haven as owner and proprietor of the well-established Big Store at 100 North Third. Accompanying him were his wife, Margaret, and their son, Gary. Eddie married Ruth Dornbos in Grand Rapids on October 9, 1936. Gary joined his father at the Big Store in 1964 and in 1970 changed the business name to Baas' Store for Men. Ed retired in 1979. He and his wife were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church, where he was Deacon and Sunday school teacher. He was a member of the Kiwanis Club, Spring Lake Country Club, and Chamber of Commerce; he served on the United Way Fund Board and was its fund drive chairman; and he served on the Grand Haven Christian School Board and was a director of Security First Bank [Fifth Third]. Eddie died in Zeeland on May 19, 2003. Margaret lived from June 25, 1913 to February 24, 1992. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Gary L., Sarah, and David W. Ed and Margaret resided at 18141 Holcomb Hills Road in Grand Haven Township.

Albert H. Babcock [1877-1912]

Born in February 1877, Albert Babcock owned a boat repair shop and offered marine fuel at a place on Spring Lake called Babcock's Landing, near the foot of Jackson Street. He also was a watch maker, jeweler, and optician in Spring Lake, and he sold electrical supplies for boats and automobiles. In 1899 he married Celestine L'Huillier, who was born in France in November 1878. In 1900 the couple resided in Chester Township. They had two children: Madeline, who lived from 1901 to 1989, and Louis, who lived from 1907 to 1976. Albert died in 1912 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Celestine passed away in Lane, Oregon on December 12, 1962.

Charles Babcock [1882-1960]

Charles Babcock raised stock and sold farm implements. His 42-acre farm was located in Section 12 of Olive Township. Charles, the son of George and Barbara Walder Babcock, was born on June 16, 1882 and died on September 12, 1960. His wife, Margaret, the daughter of Alfred and Mary Wolder [Walter] Wabbel, was born on January 27, 1883 and died on January 4, 1959. Three of their sons died as infants. Both Babcocks were buried at West Olive Cemetery with other family members.

Earl Hamilton Babcock [1886-1966]

Earl Babcock was born on December 30, 1886 in Britton, Lenawee County. He was the son of Laban Alphonso Babcock [1853-1911], who was born near Sylvania, Ohio, and Addie M. Underwood. Earl's father was a cooper by trade. Earl's grandfather, Henry Babcock, who was born in New York and died in Ohio, also was a cooper. About 1880 the Babcocks moved to Britton, where Laban operated a stave mill and general store. Laban and Addie also had a daughter Myrtle. Myrtle married Warren D. Byrum, a farmer in Leslie. After Laban died in 1911, Addie married Silas S. Main [1867-1954]. She lived from 1867 to 1958.

Earl graduated from Britton High School and from Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti, where he received a Bachelor of Arts in 1922 and a Master of Arts in 1929 from the University of Michigan. In 1939 he was given an honorary Master of Education from Michigan State Normal College. He also attended Columbia University Graduate School. He taught two years in rural schools. From 1909 to 1912 he was principal of Fremont High School, from 1912 to 1915 he was superintendent of Nawaygo Schools, and between 1915 and 1923 he was superintendent of Fremont Schools. In 1923 he became superintendent of Grand Haven Public Schools, a post he held until his retirement in 1951. He was president of the Michigan Education Association in 1938; chairman of the Special Michigan Education Association in 1925; chairman of the 4th District in 1928; Michigan Education Association director at-large from 1929 to 1932; chairman of the Journal Planning Commission in 1933-34; and president of the Michigan Education Association Department of City superintendents in 1934-35. Earl was independent in politics and a member of the Blue Lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons, Scottish Rite Consistory, National Education Association, American Association of School Administrators, Kappa Phi Alpha, Rotary Club, Spring Lake Country Club, Lake Duck Hunt Club, Ottawa County Chapter of Citizens Historical Association, the Grand Haven Stag Club, and the Presbyterian Church.

On July 24, 1912, Earl married Hazel O. Exelby of Britton. She was the daughter of Walter L. Exelby, a farmer, and Jennie Gibson Exelby. The Babcocks had two children. The first was Earl Paul Babcock, born on May 19, 1913. Their other child was Richard Exelby Babcock, who was born August 15, 1916 and studied at the University of Michigan and became a metallurgical engineer. The Babcocks lived at 409 Clinton Street and later at 315 Woodlawn. Earl the father died on December 22, 1966 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Hazel was born on October 6, 1889 and died in Grand Haven on February 15, 1984. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. [Citizens Historical Association Manuscript.]

Earl Paul Babcock [1913-1982]

Earl, born in Fremont, Newaygo County, was the son of Earl and Hazel O. Exelby Babcock. Young Earl was born May 19, 1913 and died in October 1982. He was employed as purchasing agent by the Challenge Machinery Company. He married Helen Clark, and they had one child, Barbara Ann. The Babcocks resided at 414 Duncan Court.

Eugene Frederick Babcock [1923-1985]

Born in Grand Haven on September 13, 1923, Gene was the son of Cecil [1881-1932] and Minnie Lindberg [1886-1995] Babcock. He attended Hope College and graduated from Western Michigan University. Gene served in the U.S. Navy in WWII. He served as the first mayor of Ferrysburg for seven years; was employed at Challenge Machinery Company for 32 years as an industrial engineer; served as volunteer fireman for 20 years; belonged to St. John's Episcopal Church; was a member of the Ferrysburg Planning Commission; and joined the Supervisors Club, Industrial Engineers Society, Masons, Eastern Star, American Legion, Boy Scouts, Red Cross Board, and the Republican Party. Gene married Margaret Belle Clark in Muskegon on July 22, 1950. Margaret, the daughter of Fred L. and Ethel Jupp Clark, was born in Flint on March 19, 1923. The Babcocks had five sons: Gerald of Mackinac Island; James of Ann Arbor; John of Fremont, California; Mark of Bay City; and Robert. The family resided at 16789 Lake View in Spring Lake. Gene died in Grand Haven on May 23, 1985 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Margaret passed away on July 6, 2008. [Tribune obituary, May 24, 1985.]

Harriet Cecilia Babcock [1860-1943]

Harriet Babcock was a long-time teacher in the Grand Haven schools. The daughter of Joseph and Harriet Babcock, Harriet was born in Berlin, Ionia County about July 1860. Soon after she and her parents moved to Grand Haven in 1881, Harriet started teaching. In 1900 Harriet lived with her 78-year-old mother at 329 South Third Street, and ten years later they mother and daughter were residing at 107 South Fourth Street. Harriet the mother died on November 14, 1912. Harriet retired from teaching in 1919 and was among the first teachers in Michigan to receive a pension. Hers amounted to $300 per month. She was working as a maid in the mid-1930s. Harriet died in Grand Haven on May 20, 1943 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of her death, she was living with the Edgar Slater family at 223 Madison Street. Ten years earlier she was lodging with Lawrence Breitels and his family at 331 Elliott Street.

Isaak [Isaac] Gasner Babcock [1883-1948]

The son of Fred and Cecelia [Celia] Babcock, Isaak was born in Spring Lake on September 30, 1883. An employee of Johnston Bros., where he worked as a boilermaker, Isaak resided with his wife, Florence, at 108 East Savidge in the early 1900s. She was born in Canada about 1881. In 1925 they moved to 114 East Savidge. Florence was born in Canada about 1880. The Babcocks had a daughter, Cecilia, who was born in Michigan about 1904. Ike died in 1948 and Florence passed away sometime after 1950.

Joseph Bachunas [1893-1969]

Joseph Bachunas was born in Lithuania on May 24, 1893. He married Maria Kalvoit in Chicago on May 24, 1917. She was born in Lithuania about 1890. The couple settled in Sodus, Berrien County. Joseph bought the Spring Lake resort Prospect Point in 1941. He also operated the Macatawa Hotel near Holland and Tabor Farm near Benton Harbor. In 1953 he sold Prospect Point to Weldon Brummels of Grand Rapids. Joseph died in Berrien County on January 24, 1969.

Donald Badcon [1918-2001]

Donald was born in Ludington on August 19, 1918, the son of Harry J. and Margaret McKenzie Badcon, who moved to Grand Haven in 1919. On August 3, 1956 in Grand Haven, Donald married Winifred, the daughter of John E. and Ella Osterburg Mieras. Donald received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1940 and served with the Army in Europe during WWII. From 1953 to 1983 he was Sports editor for the Grand Haven Tribune, at first covering Grand Haven High School, but eventually adding Spring Lake and Fruitport, as well as girls' sports. Don headed a successful effort to organize the Tri-Cities Kids' Baseball League in 1954. He also was a charter member of the YMCA, assisted in bringing that organization to Grand Haven, and served on its first Board of Directors, organized in 1963. In 1985, Don became a charter board member of the Muskegon Area Sports Hall-of-Fame. He and Winifred resided at 404 Leggat. After retiring from the Tribune, the Badcons moved to Freedom Village in Holland. In 1985 Don became a charter board member of the Muskegon Area Sports Hall of Fame. He died on March 24, 2001. Nine years after his death, Don was named a Hall of Honor Inductee by the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan, in recognition of his extensive sports coverage for 30 years and beyond. One of his awards included the statement, "[Don] loved to see the kids progress and get the credit they deserved." [Tribune obituary, March 26, 2001.]

Harry J. Badcon [1885-1937]

Harry Badcon was chief engineer of the Municipal Power Plant [Grand Haven Board of Power and Light] from 1919 to 1930 and superintendent of the Board of Public Works from 1930 until his death on March 25, 1937. He served in similar positions in Gaylord and Ludington before moving to Grand Haven. Harry was born in Otsego, Allegan County on May 22, 1885. On May 12, 1912 he married Margaret McKenzie in Otsego. Margaret was born in North Dakota about 1884. They had two children: Donald, who was born in Ludington on August 19, 1918, and Betty, who was born in New Jersey about 1925. The family resided at 612 Wallace Street in Grand Haven.

Edmund Root Badger [1812-1871]

Edmund Badger, attorney for the Port Sheldon Land Company, was appointed Port Sheldon's first postmaster on February 13, 1838. He was succeeded by John Fisk Stearns on February 22, 1841. From 1837 to 1841 he also was proprietor of the Marshall House in Philadelphia. On August 10, 1841 Edmund purchased 80 acres in Section 3 of Olive Township. He was elected judge of probate in 1837 at the first meeting of the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners. Edmund married Mary Davis, who lived from 1829 to 1908. By 1850 Edmund had returned to Philadelphia, where he had opened a law office. Born in Pennsylvania on March 7, 1812, he died in Philadelphia on November 28, 1871 and was buried at Philadelphia National Cemetery. He carried the honorary title colonel, although he served in the U.S. Army as private. Mary passed away in Philadelphia on December 4, 1908.

William F. Bading [1850-1916]

About January 1, 1907, William Bading opened a machine repair shop at 628 Washington, where he also resided. Previously he was employed by the Challenge Machinery Company and the American Brass Novelty Company. He also had worked in Chicago, where he was foreman in a bicycle manufacturing plant, and he had formed a partnership to open the Harmony Company in Chicago for the production of guitars, mandolins, drums, and other musical instruments. Also in 1907 William became proprietor of the Riverview House at 10 Franklin. His wife Louise was born in Germany in February 1841 and died on August 27, 1901. They came to the United States in 1877. Their children were Lucy, born in Austria in April 1873; Eva, born in Michigan in March 1892; and Florence, born in Illinois in November 1894. On November 1, 1902 in Grand Haven, William married Fredrika [Frederika] Dronian Stittgen, who was born in Germany about 1860 and died about May 5, 1904. William, born in Austria in November 1850, died on December 15, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Louise and Fredrika.

Henry C. Baehre [Bahre] [1837-1871]

Henry Baehre was born in Germany about June 16 [July 16], 1837 and died on January 26, 1871. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After Henry's death, his wife, Mary [Anna], opened a boarding house at their home, located at 709 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Mary was born in New York on September 6, 1843 and died in Grand Haven on January 31, 1933. She was buried near her husband at Lake Forest. Interred with them was a son, Roland A., who lived from 1867 to January 9, 1891. They also had two daughters, Julia E., born in September 1866 [1865], and Ida, born in Grand Haven in 1868.

Harry Baggott [1891-1955]

Born in Grand Haven on November 19, 1891, Harry was the son of Samuel and Elida Baggott of Grand Haven. After the death of his parents when he was quite young, Harry was adopted by Samuel and Mary Kimball of Grand Haven. Harry was a gas company employee for 33 years, retiring on December 20, 1954. He was a WWI veteran, serving with the Polar Bear unit in Russia and in Calumet on mine strike duty. Harry was past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sgt. Alvin Jonker Post. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church and the Masons. On Sept 27, 1922 Harry married Clara Bouwman. Their children included Glenn, who was in the Army, and Norman, who was killed in a motorcycle accident near Holland in 1949. Harry died at his home at 523 Butler Street in Grand Haven on March 21, 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Clara was born on May 30, 1897 and died in Grand Haven on February 3, 1991. Harry and Clara were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 22, 1955.]

Samuel Baggott [Baggett, Baggatt] [1862-1896]

Samuel Baggott, born in England on August 23, 1862, was listed as a "railroader" in the 1893 Compendium. His wife, Elida, lived from March 7, 1855 to December 28, 1896, and Samuel died on December 21, 1896. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A daughter, Carrie, who was born on March 1, 1885, died on September 23 two years later, and was buried at Lake Forest with her parents. Another daughter, Laone, was born about 1893. They also had two sons, William David born on November 1, 1889, and Harry Joseph, born on November 19, 1891.

Charles Bahr [1856-1936]

Charles and Adeline "Lena" Bahr were married in Germany just prior to immigrating to the United States in 1881. Lena was born in Germany about 1862. Their children were William, born in September 1884, and Catherine, born in 1888. The family resided at 620 North Fifth Street. Charles was listed in the 1900 census as a farmer and in 1920 as a gardener. Lena died about February 26, 1922, and Charles on December 7, 1936. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Catherine married Frederick Fink.

Isaac Edward Bailey [1829-1921]

Isaac Edward Bailey's obituary noted that he resided in Grand Haven. According to the article, which appeared in the Grand Rapids Press around December 26, 1921, the date of Isaac's death, he "broke away from his owner's plantation in Essex County, Virginia, the state in which he was born, and in 1852, when he was about 23 years old, Isaac made his way by the 'underground railway' to Canada." He enlisted in Company A of the 102nd Colored Infantry in Grand Rapids on January 30, 1865. A resident of Ionia at the time of enlistment, he was listed as 36 years old, and his occupation was given as ostler [variant of hostler], someone who looks after guests' horses at an inn. [Isaac's death certificate cited July 4, 1816 as his date of birth, which would have made him 49 at the time of his enlistment.] Isaac was discharged on September 30, 1865. He filed for an invalid's pension on November 4, 1890, and on May 11, 1891, while living in Detroit, he applied again. On May 24, 1867 he married Clarissa Ann Bardley in Grand Haven, with Reverend John B. Fisk of the Congregational Church officiating. Clarissa filed for a widow's pension shortly after her husband's death. Also African American, she was born in Marion, Pennsylvania in 1848 [cited elsewhere as July 4, 1850] and moved with her family first to London, Canada, and then to Grand Haven. Although the name Bardley does not appear in the censuses for Grand Haven, the name Barley does. Included in the Barley household in the 1870 census was Clara [a name also used by Clarissa], born in Pennsylvania about 1847. Other family members in the census were Isaac Barley, born in Virginia about 1826, Marid, born about 1866 in Michigan, and Isaac II, born about February 1870, also in Michigan. There was no explanation for the family using Clarissa's maiden name instead of Isaac's. In the 1880 census Isaac was living in Grand Rapids, working as a laborer. He was shown as 65 years old and married, but his wife was not with him. In 1910 he and Clara were still in Grand Rapids. Isaac, spelled Isac in the census, was listed as 94 years old and still working as a laborer. He then disappeared from view until his death notice in 1921. In a letter dated June 2, 1929, Clarissa referred to her sister, Celess who married a Bennett. A Celeste Bourdley married Virgil Bennett of Grand Haven [see above], and she must be the sister Clarissa refers to. Clarissa in 1930 was still living in Grand Rapids, where she shared a house with her granddaughter's family. Also living in the house was Clarissa's daughter, Minnie Harris, who was born in Michigan about 1865. Minnie married Jerome Harris in Grand Rapids on October 4, 1888. Minnie's presumed birth year matches that of Marid, who appeared in the 1870 census. Isaac the father was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids, but his headstone does not indicate the date of death.

William Thomas Bailey I [1845-1914]

William Bailey owned a sawmill at the north end of today's Beechtree Street in Grand Haven. Positioned on the bank of Grand River, the mill was still in business as late as 1880. By 1895 William had relocated to Duluth, Minnesota. He was born in Baileboro, Canada on September 22, 1845. On June 25, 1873 in Allendale, he married Rebecca Roberts. She was the daughter of Richard and Rebecca Roberts of Allendale. The Baileys had two children: Richard Roberts, who lived from 1875 to 1962, and William Thomas II, who was born in 1877 and died in 1950. Rebecca was born in Allendale on June 16, 1850 and died in Duluth, Minnesota on August 22, 1935. William passed away in Olmstead, Minnesota on March 31, 1914 of prostate cancer and kidney failure.

Warner Baird I [1885-1984]

Born in Chicago on March 25, 1885 Warner was the son of Wyllys Baird who in 1883 married Olivia, daughter of Oliver Bourne Green. Warner was the grandson of Lyman Baird, who owned and managed the Baird & Bradley real estate office located at 90 La Salle Street in Chicago, which was destroyed in the great fire of 1871, but rebuilt afterwards. As a mortgage bank, the firm obtained funds from investors in the East and helped rebuild Chicago after the fire. Warner first came to Spring Lake when he was a college student. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from Cornell University in 1908. After 1965 his residence was in Geneva, Illinois and he summered at his home at Orchard Point Estates on the west shore of Spring Lake [18720 West Spring Lake Road], the former Ferndale Resort. He was associated with his grandfather's real estate firm for 67 years. Warner was president from 1928 to 1963 and chairman of the Board until his death. In 1975 he was designated Realtor Emeritus by the National Association of Realtors.

On January 14, 1913 in Evanston, Illinois, Warner married Julia L. Dole, a graduate of Smith College. She was born in Illinois on March 3, 1887. The couple had four children, all born in Illinois: John Wyllys Baird, who was born about 1916 and succeeded his father as president of Baird & Bradley; Katherine, who was born about 1917 and married Herbert Hansen of Vero Beach, Florida and Cazenovia, New York; Warner G. Baird II, who was born July 4, 1918, became vice president and treasurer, and died in August 1981; and Olive, who was born about 1924 and married Neil McKay of Geneva, Illinois. In 1974 Warner gave Spring Lake $100,000 to finance a library and the Warner Baird Library in Spring Lake was named for him. Warner died on February 8, 1984 and was buried in Geneva, Illinois. Julia passed away the following August 15. [Tribune obituary, February 9, 1984, and Tribune articles, "Family gives $100,000 to SL Twp.," December 10, 1976, and "WB family in Great Chicago fire," April 3, 1978.]

William B. Baird [1812-1886]

William Baird, born in Scotland in 1812, married Ann Jane [Jean] Smith on September 10, 1845. She was born in Scotland about 1833. They immigrated to the United States after their marriage and eventually settled in Grand Haven. On August 26, 1861, William enlisted as private in Company L of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. He was discharged for disability on October 9 the next year and applied for an invalid's Civil War pension on September 5, 1883. In 1870 William managed the Michigan Exchange, a hotel and saloon in Muir, an unincorporated community at the base of Dewey Hill. Muir lost its importance when the railroad moved its depot to the Grand Haven side of the Grand River in 1870. By the time of the 1880 Federal Census William was listed as a sailor. Among the Bairds' children were John, born around 1853 in Scotland, Janet born on December 20, 1855 in Scotland, Hercules, born about 1858, also in Scotland, and William, born about 1865 in Detroit, Michigan. In Grand Haven, the family resided on Fulton Street. William passed away in 1886 and Ann nine years later.

Geraldine I. vanden Berg Bakale [1921-2003] and Paul J. Bakale [1919-2004]

Geraldine, the daughter of Theodore and Edith M. Dreese vanden Berg of Ferrysburg, was born on July 24, 1921. She married Paul J. Bakale on October 18, 1941. Paul was born on March 10, 1919 and raised in Robinson Township. His parents were Ivan and Luba C. Bakale. Paul became Field supervisor for Sta-Rand Enterprises. Geraldine and Paul resided at 15241 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven Township. Their children were Linda, who first married Wallace Schroeder of Grand Haven and, after Wallace's death, Ray Mieras; Larry; and Roger. Geraldine attended the Second Reformed Church. She passed away in Muskegon on January 31, 2003, and Paul died in Grand Haven on May 24, 2004. [Tribune obituary, February 1, 2003.]

Baker

See also Bakker.

Alfred S. Baker [1846-1926]

Alfred Baker was a farmer in Section 12 of Olive Township in the 1890s. He was born in Indiana in June 1846. On March 5, 1864 he enlisted as private in Company F of the 42nd Indiana Infantry and mustered out on July 21 the next year. He married Rebecca A. Bowers about 1870. She was born in Indiana on January 17, 1852. Their children were Georgia Alberta, who was born August 8, 1875 in Indiana and died in Grand Haven as Alberta Miles, a widow, on November 13, 1930; Carrie, born about 1877 in Olive Township; and Emily, born on September 2, 1891 in Olive Township. By 1910 the family was residing at 107 Madison in Grand Haven, where Alfred and Rebecca were still living in 1920. Alfred became post commander of Weatherwax Post, No. 75 of the G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic]. From 1924 to 1925 he was in a Soldiers' Home in Danville, Illinois, with serious medical problems. He died on July 31, 1926 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On September 2, 1926, Rebecca applied for a widow's Civil War pension. She resided at 426 Sixth Street in Grand Haven. She passed away on March 28, 1928.

Austin S. Baker [1861-1930]

Born in Massachusetts on August 17, 1861, Austin Baker came to Grand Haven in 1908 and owned and operated an ice cream parlor on Washington just off Seventh Street and a candy store on the corner of Seventh and Fulton Streets in Grand Haven [105 North Seventh], where they also resided, although later they moved to 607 Sheldon. For nine years prior to his death, he was employed by the Story & Clark Piano Company. Baker was a member of the Maccabees and Odd Fellows. His wife's name was Isabelle. They had two children, Shirley and Clarence. Clarence was born on April 19, 1899 and moved to Muskegon. Austin died at his home at 1000 Pennoyer Avenue on December 11, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Isabelle, who was born in Pennsylvania on August 1, 1871, passed away on February 16, 1951 and was buried near her husband. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1930.]

Bernard William Baker I [1899-1983]

Bernard Baker was born On August 31, 1899 in Cressey, Barry County. He owned Baker Plaza on Getty Street in Muskegon, and also was a sculptor and ceramist who exhibited at Grand Valley State Colleges and at the Grand Haven Community Center. He was a member of Lakeland Painters. In addition, Bernard was active in conservation causes and a member of the Michigan Audubon Society. He donated a 491-acre "wildlife oasis" [Bernard W. Baker Sanctuary] in Convis Township, Calhoun County. He first married Hazel Smith on June 14, 1924 in Kalamazoo. She was born in Cressey on December 24, 1901 and passed away in Lansing on September 28, 1970. On January 14, 1943 in Grand Rapids, he married Emilie Stepanek, who was born about the same year as her husband. His children were David J. of Berkeley, California, Don of Grand Rapids, and Bernard W. II of Lansing. Bernard died on February 2, 1983. [Tribune obituary, February 2, 1983.]

Charles Baker [1920-1991]

Born in Chicago on July 1, 1920, Charles was the son of John and Isabel Bakker [Baker] and brother of John Douglas Baker of Spring Lake. He earned a bachelor degree at Harvard College. In WWII he served in the Navy, mainly assigned to patrols on the North Sea, and was promoted to lieutenant. After the war, Charles became an agent in New York City for Angela Lansbury, Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Eva Marie Saint, and Robert Preston. He died in New York City on March 15, 1991. [Tribune obituary, March 19, 1991.]

Derek Baker et al

See Bakker.

Edwin P. Baker [1829-1915]

Born in 1829 in New York State, Edwin Baker moved to Grand Haven from Ypsilanti in June 1880. He bought the photography studio of Joseph T. Wixon, located over the post office at the southeast corner of Washington and First Streets [100 Washington]. Later he moved his studio to the Cutler Building on the southeast corner of Washington and Third Streets.

By 1863 Edwin was married, living in Ypsilanti, and working as an artist. Seven years later he was a daguerreotypist, still living in Ypsilanti. About 1853 he married Maria Marshall, who was born in New York in March 1833. They had two daughters, Eva S., born about 1857, and Flora, born about April 1870. Edwin was living in Grand Haven by the time of the 1880 Federal Census, rooming with Joseph Wixon and his family. Maria had not yet joined him. In 1900 Edwin and Maria were living in Plymouth, Wayne County, with a granddaughter, Nellie, and Nellie's husband, Chauncy Rauch [Ranch]. Nellie was born about 1876. Edwin continued to work as a photographer. In 1910 Edwin was retired and still living with his daughter's family, but Maria had died in 1908. Edwin passed away in 1915 and was buried with his wife at Riverside Cemetery in Plymouth.

George Baker [1844-1925]

George Baker, a day laborer, and his wife Anjes "Anna" immigrated to the United States from The Netherlands in 1869 when they were in their mid-twenties. George was born on August 11, 1845, and Anna was born on December 22, 1844. A daughter Jennie was born in May 1878 and a son, Tony George, was born on November 28, 1883. The family lived in Spring Lake. Around 1920 Tony owned a store on Savidge Street and resided on Liberty with his widowed father and sister. George died about November 13, 1925, Anna about October 14, 1908, Tony around February 16, 1945, and Jennie about February 24, 1961. All four were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Jan "John" [James] Baker [Bakker] [1834-1914]

John Baker was born in The Netherlands in March 1834. He came to Grand Haven in 1871 and was a commercial fisherman, one of the early industries in- Grand Haven. His wife, Marie [Maria], was born September 14, 1835 [1834]. Their children included William, born in 1862; Tony, born in 1863; Jacob, who was born in 1864, remained in the area as a businessman and later as a grocer in Grand Rapids, and died in May 1923; Johannes, born in 1865; Cornelius, born in December 1866 [1865]; J. Anna, born in January 1867 [1868]; Henry, born in January 1868 [1869]; Adrianna, born in 1869; Johanna, born in 1870; Frank, born on January 17, 1874; Amelia, born on June 10, 1875; Gertrude, who was born on April 16, 1878 and became city clerk for the City of Grand Haven; and Jennie, who was born in 1873, married John Klaassen and moved to Grand Rapids. All the children except the last three were born in The Netherlands. The Bakers resided at 731 Columbus. John died on November 12, 1914. Marie died March 13, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other family members. [Tribune article, January 4, 1900, “Jacob Baker Loses Business to Fire” and Tribune obituary, November 14, 1914.]

John Dickinson “Dick” Baker [1947-2022]

Dick, the son of Douglas and Katharine Hall Baker, was born in Grand Haven on June 16, 1947. He was in Spring Lake High School’s first graduating class and the first Laker to be inducted into the school’s sports hall of fame. He married Cindy Casey on August 28, 1971 in Spring Lake and continued his education at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. Upon his return to Grand Haven, Dick worked in the family business, D. Baker & Son Lumber Company and became president of the company. He and Cindy had four daughters: Melissa Baker, who married Jim Boosamra of Grand Rapids; Alison Baker, who married Mike Anderson of Spring Lake; Nada Baker, who married Ryan Edson of Grand Haven; and Sarah Baker, who married Doug Edgar of Grand Haven. Dick passed away in Grand Haven on January 24., 2022. [Chronicle obituary, January 26, 2022.]

John Douglas Baker [Bakker] II [1918-2008]

Born on July 1, 1918 in Newark, New Jersey, Doug was the son of John and Isabel Adams Bakker [Baker]. In 1941 he graduated from Antioch College at Yellow Springs, Ohio at which time he worked for the Currier Lumber Company in Detroit and wrote for the magazine Wood Construction and Building Materials. In 1943 he graduated from Harvard Business School. In 1946, following four years serving in the Navy as supply officer on the ship Otus during WWII, he joined the family business, D. Baker & Sons, and purchased his brother Charles’s shares in the company. In 1949 he purchased the remaining shares in the company from his aunts, Della Steininger and Harriet Prins, and by January 1, 1950, he was the sole owner of the business.

Doug was a clarinetist and saxophonist who played with the West Shore Symphony Orchestra [West Michigan Symphony]. Doug was instrumental in ushering in the Big Band Era in the Grand Haven area. He was first chair clarinet in Grand Haven High School’s band and orchestra and went on to play saxophone in Don Warner’s band. He became an investor and later vice president of the Bilmar Resort on Treasure Island, Florida, owned by his friend Russ Baltz, and played Dixieland music there on Sunday afternoons.

He married Katherine Hall, also a student at Antioch, on August 31, 1941. They had four children: Rachel Ann Baker, born on May 2, 1944; John Dickinson Baker, who was born on June 16, 1947; Bruce Winship Baker, born on June 28, 1949; and Virginia Baker, born on April 8, 1952. Doug passed away on August 2, 2008. [Tribune articles, “DB Becomes Owner of Lumber Yard” March 11, 1950, and “Baker and Baltz families are close,” June 21, 1989.]

Tony J. Baker [1862–1953]

Tony was born in The Netherlands on November 23, 1862 and came to Grand Haven with his parents, John and Marie Baker, in 1871. Tony and his brother William opened a grocery store on Fulton Street about 1895. Then in 1904 they erected a new structure at 109-111 Seventh Street and opened a dry goods and grocery store called the People’s Mercantile Company, which included Edward Moll’s Shoe Store. Tony was president and in charge of the dry goods.

On November 20, 1901 Tony married Klausina “Sena” Boer in Chicago. They lived at 109 North Seventh. Sena was the daughter of Jan and Lammigye [Lammechien] Jans Van Dam Boer and the sister of John Boer of Grand Haven. She was born in Drenthe, Ottawa County on November 20, 1867, died on March 25, 1963, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Tony passed away on February 12, 1953 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

William Chapman Baker II [1809-1901]

Born on April 27, 1809 in Natchez, Mississippi, William Baker was at one time the oldest living graduate of Princeton, having been one of four to divide second honors at Princeton in 1825. For a time he was engaged in the cotton trade down south and later was associated with his father, William Chapman Baker I, who was a wealthy silk merchant from New York. Their home for many years was in Morristown, New Jersey, where William I shared his wealth. During the Civil War he provided an entire New Jersey regiment with rubber blankets. He established a seminary for young women and was instrumental in giving Morristown its first gas illumination system through his personal efforts and funds.

On June 23, 1842 in Detroit, William II married Kate, the daughter of Robert and Emma Elizabeth Sullivan Stuart. Kate was born in Michilimackinac on July 21, 1820. They had six children, none born in Michigan: Mary Stuart, who was born in New Orleans on April 14, 1843, married William Newton Ladue in Morristown, New Jersey on September 19, 1867, and passed away in Mount Vernon, New York on May 2, 1936; Elizabeth Emma, who was born in New Orleans on November 9, 1845, married her first cousin and step-brother, Robert Stuart Turner, and died in Mount Vernon, New York on July 21, 1923; Sarah Morris, who was born in Chicago on November 24, 1847 and died in Morristown four years later; Eliza Wardell, who was born Skaneateles, New York on August 8, 1849 and died in Minneapolis on July 26, 1928; Looe, who was born in Morristown, New Jersey on July 29, 1851, married Elizabeth Saunders, resided in Chatham County, Georgia with his wife and children, and died near Savannah, Georgia on April 26, 1911; and Kate Stuart, who was born in Morristown on April 26, 1853 and died in Minneapolis on February 21, 1878.

Kate died in Morristown, New Jersey on October 4, 1853. William then married his sister-in-law, Mary Elizabeth Stuart Turner, on April 18, 1856 in Detroit. Mary, the widow of Dr. George Franklin Turner, was born in New York City on June 27, 1814. Robert Stuart Turner, who married Elizabeth Emma Baker, was their son. Mary passed away in Minneapolis on June 4, 1878. William and Mary had one son, William C. III, who was born in Morristown, New Jersey, on January 15, 1858.

In 1872 William II and Mary moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota, where they resided with William III and his family. On June 4, 1878, Mary died in Minneapolis. By 1880 William III, Frederika, Robert S., and the Looe born in 1851 were living in Spring Lake Village. By the late 1800s William II owned a 45-acre fruit farm located on Spring Lake at Point Stuart, just east of today's Spring Lake Yacht Club [Sections 10 and 15 of Spring Lake Township]. In the winters, he joined the Howletts at their home in Grand Rapids, and in the summers the Howletts took up residence at Point Stuart. William was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. Through his father, William became personally acquainted with General Lafayette of France and visited and was entertained by the Marquis on his trips abroad. Also, while in New York City, William became acquainted with Cornelius Vanderbilt, who built a railroad empire. Another acquaintance was Samuel Morse, inventor of the Morse code, whom he met while aboard the ship Sully on its way back to New York from Europe. William was a member of the Episcopal Church in Spring Lake and the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Grand Rapids. He died on February 2, 1901 in Grand Rapids. Bakers interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery were Robert Stuart Baker, who died on April 8, 1915, and his wife, Lulu D., who was born on January 4, 1881 and died on August 17, 1958. [Tribune obituary, February 4, 1901.]

William Chapman Baker III [1858-1887]

The son of William C. and Mary Elizabeth Stuart Turner Baker, William III was born in Morristown, New Jersey, on January 15, 1858. He married Frederika Matilda Schneider in Minneapolis on November 17, 1877. Frederika was born in St. Paul, Minnesota on January 11, 1861. William and Frederika had two sons: Robert, who was born in Michigan on November 17, 1879, and Looe, who was born in Detroit on February 10, 1884, married Margaret Klassy, practiced medicine in Minneapolis, died in Orange County on July 16, 1954, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William died in Spring Lake on August 26, 1887. After his death, Frederika married Nelson Howlett of Grand Haven.

William J. Baker [1862-1933]

Born in The Netherlands in November 1862 [1861], William came to Grand Haven with his parents, John and Marie Baker, in 1871. William and his brother Tony opened a grocery store on Fulton Street about 1895. Then in 1904 they erected a new structure at 109-111 Seventh Street and opened a dry goods and grocery store called the People's Mercantile Company, which also included Edward Moll's Shoe Store. William was secretary and vice president and was in charge of the grocery department.

William was alderman from 1899 to 1901 and served on the Grand Haven City Council during the formation of the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, & Muskegon Interurban. He was a member of a well-known quartet, which sang in the Second Reformed Church for 36 years. In 1893 he married Clara Van Hoef in Grand Haven. Clara, who was born in Michigan in April 1862, had a sister Dirkje "Delia," who married Jurrien Ball, and a brother Andrew, who was a commercial fisherman in Grand Haven. One of the Baker's children, Marion, who was born about 1902, became a teacher in local schools. The family lived at 128 Elliott and later at 515 Clinton Street. Clara died in 1910. William died on March 17, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, March 18, 1933.]

William T. Baker I [1867-1931]

Born February 28, 1867 in The Netherlands, the son of Teunis Baker, William came with his family to Grand Haven when he was three and later worked in a sawmill. In his youth he moved to Muskegon, where for many years he was connected with the W. D. Hardy & Company Department Store. He returned to Grand Haven in 1901 and became associated with Beaudry & Company, then located at 224 Washington. An avid sports enthusiast, he sponsored a baseball team called the Beaudry Boys. About 1920 he sold his interest in Beaudry's and organized his own store, Baker & Baker, selling floor coverings and draperies.

In 1891 William married Dora Vogel, who was born in 1868. Their children were T. Frederic, who was born about 1892 and relocated to Englewood, New Jersey; Barbara Adrian [Ada], who was born about 1893 and married Clarence N. Vyn, originally from Grand Haven and later a dentist in Detroit; Bess, who was born about 1896 and married Charles Robinson; and William T. Baker II, who was born about 1897 and married Helen Van Oorde of Ferrysburg. William and Dora resided at 107 South Seventh Street. Dora died in April 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William I died January 16, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest with other family members. His granddaughter said he was a "fine Christian man and a great trickster." [Tribune obituary, January 16, 1931.]

Derk [Dirk] W. Bakker [Baker] [1842-1925]

Derk, the son of William [Willem] J. and Etje [Ettje] Bakker, was born in The Netherlands in January 1842 [1844]. The family immigrated to the United States in 1846, settled for a while in Saugatuck, and then moved on to Holland. In the censuses of 1850 and 1870 Derk was living with his parents, who operated a farm in Sections 14 and 15 in Olive Township. By the early 1900s the family spelled its name "Baker."

By 1870 Derk was employed at a sawmill. The next year, with his brother Jeltz, he began the Derk Bakker Sawmill at the foot of Third Street, just south of the Boyden & Akeley Shingle Mill. It had a capacity of 40,000 board feet a day. By 1893 the business name was Bakker & Son, although it was listed as D. Baker in an advertisement in the 1908 Directory. After the mill burned down in 1894, Derk rebuilt and started to supply lumber to local builders. About 1912, he and his son John purchased eight lots from Charles and Lizzie Shupe on Pennoyer Street, whose land had been used for raising berries. On that site the Bakkers built D. Bakker & Son Lumber Company at 722 Pennoyer. When Derk's son John died in 1920, he resumed control of his lumber business. He hired Martin Boon as manager. Boon, an employee of the lumber company for more than 50 years, worked with another Bakker son, Doug, and later with Doug's sons, Dick and Bruce. Derk was on the Board of Directors of Peoples Savings Bank of Grand Haven in 1920.

Derk married Sjietsje [Tjetske] "Sarah" ["Jessica"] Vanderkooi on December 9, 1871. She passed away on July 1, 1885 at the age of 33 years and six months and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Derk next married Sena [Lina] Lamann [Lamen] in Grand Haven on April 22, 1886. She was born in Germany on March 12, 1860 and came to America when she was 18. After living in Holland and Fremont, she came to Grand Haven. Derk and Sena had three children: John Douglas, born on March 15, 1887; Della [Dora] who was born in November 1891, married George Steininger, and moved to Brooklyn, New York; and Harriet [Henrietta], who was born in May 1897, married Henry Prins, and moved to Lyon County, Iowa. Derk also had a son, William D., by his earlier marriage to Sjietsse. William was born on October 8, 1874. The Derk Bakker family resided at 208 Franklin Street. Derk died on July 2, 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sena died on August 7, 1941 and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, August 18, 1920, “Expressions of Sympathy,” and “DB Becomes Owner of Lumber Yard.”]

Gerald “Jerry” Bakker [1933-2022]

On June 8, 1957, Gerald Bakker married Barbara Verbridge in Kalamazoo. Jerry was born in Cicero, Illinois on May 16, 1933. He received his bachelor degree from Calvin College and a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana and he took post-doctoral classes at the University of Kansas. He started teaching chemistry at Earlham College in Richmond, Indiana, where he remained for 36 years, retiring in 1995. At Earlham, he was promoted to Associate Academic Dean and Acting Provost. Around 1983, Jerry and Barbara bought a cottage at 12785 Wilderness Trail, in a second-home development along the Lake Michigan shoreline about four miles south of Grand Haven known as the Wilderness. Prior to that, they owned a residence at 306 Orchard Street in Grand Haven that they used as a vacation home. They sold the property and converted their Wilderness cottage to a year-round retirement home. They sold that property in 2017 and moved to a condominium on Grosebeck. The Bakkers had two children: Anne Bakker, who married Tom Davelaar and moved to Holland, and Mark Bakker of Grand Haven. Jerry died in Holland on November 7, 2022. Barbara was born on September 30, 1935.

Jeltz [Jeltze, Jellje, Jeltje] W. Bakker [1839-1872]

An older brother of Derk Bakker, Jeltz helped start his brother’s lumberyard, Derk Bakker [Baker] & Son. He married and had two children. Born in The Netherlands in 1839, Jeltz died of smallpox on August 28, 1872 along with his wife, Antje, and two children. They were buried in the pest house cemetery near Sheldon Road and Taylor Street. Their bodies were discovered at an excavation site when North Ottawa Community Hospital expanded in 1969. [Tribune article, October 11, 1969, “Tragedy Recalled by Bakers.”]

John Douglas Bakker [Baker] I [1887-1920]

Born March 15, 1887, the son of Derk and Sena Lamann Bakker, John was associated with his father as the junior member of the lumber firm of Derk Bakker & Son. On February 14, 1917 in Chicago, he married Isabel G., daughter of Charles Adams of Grand Haven. She was born on June 1, 1888. Their children included John Douglas II, born on July 1, 1918, and Charles, born about 1919. John I died of meningitis on March 15, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Martin Boon, who had been with the company since March 1 that year, took over as general manager. Isabel was a teacher in the Grand Haven Schools. In 1930 she was residing at 209 North Fifth Street with her two sons and her aunt, Isabel Thomson. Charles became an agent for Broadway theater productions in New York City. Doug remained with the family lumber business in Grand Haven. On July 1, 1939, Isabel married Charles Harry Dickinson [1883-1957] in Grand Haven. She died in Grand Haven on November 30, 1977 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 14, 1921 and Tribune article, March 11, 1950, “Doug B. Becomes Owner of Lumber Yard.”]

John Douglas Bakker II [1918-2007]

See John Douglas Baker II.

William D. Bakker [Baker] [1874-1952]

William, the son of Derk Bakker, was born on October 8, 1874. In the early 1900s he worked at the family lumber yard. On October 25, 1895 in Chicago, he married Mattie [Matie] Farnham, the daughter of Byron and Bodelia Farnham and the sister of John Farnham. Mattie was born about 1874. William and Mattie lived at 222 Franklin. By 1910 William and Mattie were residing in Battle Creek, where he continued to work in the lumber business. They had six children: Mary Williene, who lived from 1896 to 1980; Donald W., who lived from 1898 to 1992; James Byron, who lived from 1900 to 1954; Catherine A., born in 1902; Helen Hunt, who lived from 1906 to 1990; and Robert F., also born in 1906. William died in Battle Creek on September 28, 1952.

Willem [William] J. Bakker [1800-1876]

William J. Bakker and his family immigrated to the United States in 1846 and spent four years in Saugatuck. In 1850 William and his wife, Etje, purchased from Abram Pike 80 acres in Section 15 of Olive Township [now Port Sheldon Township], and additional acreage in Section 14. The Bakkers farmed the land, and for eight years they lived in the 29 rooms of the defunct Ottawa House Hotel in Port Sheldon, on the north side of Pigeon Lake. A meeting was held at the Bakker house on April 6, 1857 to organize Olive Township. William was born in The Netherlands on April 3, 1800 and died on August 25, 1876. Etje, who was born on March 27, 1807 in The Netherlands, died on May 15, 1880 and was buried in Lake Forest Cemetery. They had at least six children, all born in The Netherlands, including Detje, who was born on February 27, 1829; Jeltz, who was born in 1839; and Derk, who was born in January 1842. Detje was first married to Piebe J. Klaver and, after Piebe's death in 1861, to Enne E. Kraai. Detje passed away on May 28, 1901 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 29, 1901.]

Donna Marian Gillespie Balavitch [1929-1989] and Peter Paul Balavitch [1925-2001]

Donna Gillespie on July 31, 1948 married Peter Balavitch in Detroit. They settled in Muskegon, where Peter was a driver for the M. Roth & Sons Company, a producer of celery. Peter was born on May 26, 1925 in Weare, Oceana County. Donna was born in Ludington on July 3, 1929. After their move to Muskegon in 1951, she became known as a watercolor artist and won numerous local and state awards for her paintings. She was a member of the Muskegon Fine Arts organization, the Michigan Watercolor Society, the Gallery Upstairs [later Gallery Uptown], and was president of Lakeland Painters [now Lakeland Artists] for at least one term. Donna received a patent for her handpainted ceramic tile design. At some point, the Balavitches moved to Fruitport. They had six children: Justin Balavitch, born on September 19, 1949, and Gary Balavitch, both of whom remained in Fruitport; Suzanne Green Balavitch, who was born about 1950 and married Greg Miller of Muskegon; Paul Balavitch, who was born about 1952 and moved to California; Linda Balavitch Rivers, born about 1955, of California; and Lee Ann Balavitch, who was born in February 1956 and married Jeff Frame of Fruitport. Lee Ann followed her mother's footsteps and became an artist of note. Peter passed away in Muskegon on May 1, 2001, and Donna died in Fruitport on November 29, 1989. Both were buried at Fruitport Cemetery.

Melvin Baldwin [1922-1994]

Melvin, the son of Arthur J. Baldwin of Staples, Minnesota, was one of two hands to survive the sinking of the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba in June 1943. He was a boatswain's mate at the time. Mel was born on October 21, 1922 and died on August 3, 1994.

Phineas Orlando Baldwin I [1817-1882]

Born in Vermont on February 15, 1817, Dr. Phineas Baldwin opened a medical office in Spring Lake in 1863. He helped organize Spring Lake Baptist Church on December 7, 1867, and he served on the Spring Lake School Board. He advertised himself as a "Botanic Physician," one who cured with natural products. He claimed to cure "every description of chronic and private diseases quicker and cheaper than any other physician. (No poisonous medicines used.) Five hundred kinds of Botanic Medicines constantly on hand wholesale and retail. Consultation free." On July 18, 1871 Phineas received patent #117034 for an "Improvement in Cultivators." His wife Lucy was born in New York about 1809. A son, Edwin, was born in New York about 1845, another son, John, was born in the same state about 1850, a daughter, Martha, was born in Pennsylvania about 1841, and another daughter, Idella, was born in Wisconsin around 1860. A third son, Phineas Orlando Baldwin II, was born in New York about 1838. The older Phineas died in Spring Lake on July 18, 1882.

Phineas Orlando Baldwin II [1838-@1890]

The son of Dr. Phineas and Lucy Baldwin, the younger Phineas was born in Arkwright, New York on May 26, 1838. On September 16, 1861, Phineas II enlisted as private with Company E of the 1st Wisconsin Infantry. He was mustered out on April 25, 1862. Phineas married Laura Brown in Kalamazoo on November 17, 1863, although his military draft registration earlier that year noted that he was married and living in Spring Lake, where he worked as a blacksmith. On June 12, 1865, Phineas applied for an invalid's Civil War pension.

Laura was born in Pennsylvania about 1844. [Her name also appeared as Lucy and Louisa.] Phineas and Laura were residing in Spring Lake in 1870, but ten years later, they were in Hamilton, Van Buren County. With them were three children: Louis, who was born and died in Reed City on November 22, 1934; Edgar, who was born on July 30, 1873 in Kent County and died in Grand Traverse County on May 2, 1945; and Myrtle, who was born on October 4, 1878 and died on November 4, 1942 in Toledo, Ohio. Another daughter, Daisy, was born in 1881. On April 1, 1894 in Elbridge Township, Oceana County, Laura married 58-year-old William Green.

Phineas married Marion [Marian] Eloise "Ellie" Mondeau Strong in Kenosha, Wisconsin, on May 3, 1888. Born in Vermont in 1854, she had been married previously. Marion applied for a widow's pension on July 14, 1890 in Illinois, indicating that Phineas had died recently. She passed away in 1838. On August 23, 1890, an unnamed minor applied for a Civil War pension. On May 17, 1917, Laura Guilfoyle applied for the pension as the remarried widow of Phineas Baldwin. It isn't clear if one or both of the widows were successful in their application. On June 10, 1931 Marion applied again for a widow's Civil War pension. At this time her married name was Roberts.

Hendrick "Henry" Balgooyen [Van Balgooyen, Van Balgoezen] [1823-1893]

Henry Balgooyen was born in The Netherlands in 1823. He helped organize Olive Township in 1857 and was one of its first officers. On December 1, 1860, he took title to 130 acres in Section 28 of Olive Township, along the Lake Michigan shoreline. By 1864 he also owned about 80 acres in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township. In 1863 Henry became the first district director of the Rosy Mound School. In 1880 he was listed as a railroad worker. His wife, Julia, was born about 1831 in The Netherlands and died on December 27, 1893. Their daughter, Annie, was born on December 13, 1873 and married James Misner of Grand Haven. The Balgooyens had at least four other children, including Albert. Albert, who was born about 1870 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1889, went on to become a Methodist clergyman in Augusta, Washtenaw County. At some point many family members dropped the "Van" and were listed as "Balgooyen." Henry died on January 22, 1893.

John William Balgooyen [1862–1934]

Born in The Netherlands on February 5, 1862, John Balgooyen for many years was foreman at the Silas Kilbourn barrel factory in Grand Haven. In the early 1900s John began the manufacture of concrete building blocks at the corner of First and Clinton Streets in Grand Haven. His father, William Balgooyen, was born in The Netherlands on January 3, 1814.

About 1884 John married Fredrika, born in Kalamazoo on July 13, 1865, the daughter of Gerrit Vanden Beldt. The Balgooyens' children included Susan W., who was born on May 29, 1886 and married Ralph L. Farnham of Grand Haven; Marion E., who was born in December 1888, married Solon Winter, and moved to Grand Rapids; Janet [Jeanette] A., who was born in July 1890 and married George Vander Weide of Zeeland; William John, who was born January 25, 1894, married Edna Thelma Fors [January 30, 1907–February 5, 1953], attended the U.S. Naval Reserve Officer Training School in Cleveland during WWI, and moved to Muskegon Heights after the war, where he died on February 16, 1958; Gerald [Jerrold] C., who was born on February 25, 1896, moved to Fort Wayne, Indiana, died on December 16, 1935, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Ethelyn, who was born in December 1897; Gertrude M., who was born in December 1899 and married Ernest R. Fett of Grand Haven; and Edwin F., who was born January 28, 1905, married Hazel E. Bottema [1905-1994], and moved to Spring Lake. Fredrika died at her home at 16 South

Sixth Street on January 6, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died at home on June 18, 1934 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, January 6, 1930, June 18, 1934, and January 4, 1994.]

William Balgooyen [1814-1892]

William Balgooyen was born January 3, 1814 in The Netherlands, settled in Grand Haven in 1877, and died on January 29, 1892. He worked in the sawmills. A daughter, Elizabeth, was born in The Netherlands in May 1855 and married Martin Van Doorne of Grand Haven. William's other children, all born in The Netherlands, were Peter, born about 1853; Henrietta, born about 1859; and John, born on February 5, 1862. The family resided on Madison Street. William's wife died before 1880. Living with the family in 1880 was William's unmarried brother Alexander, born in The Netherlands about 1822. Alexander was a dock worker.

Cornelis "Neal" Ball [1881-1957]

After starting in the minor leagues, Neal Ball between 1907 and 1913 played baseball with the New York Highlanders, forerunner of the Yankees, the Cleveland Naps [Indians], and the Boston Red Sox. A right-handed hitter, Neal was best remembered for completing the first unassisted triple play in the American League. That occurred on July 19, 1909, when he was playing shortstop for the Naps. Against Boston in the opening game of a doubleheader, he grabbed a liner hit by Amby McDonnell, doubled Heinie Wagner off second, and tagged Jake Stahl coming into the bag to end the second inning. In the home half of that inning, Ball hit an inside-the-park four-bagger, one of a total of four home runs in his 496-game career. He maintained a .251 batting average for the 496 games of his major league career. Neal returned to the minor leagues in 1914, and he also was manager from time to time until his full retirement from the game in 1922. Neal, who stood five feet seven inches and weighed 145 pounds, was born in Grand Haven on April 22, 1881 and died in Bridgeport, Connecticut on October 15, 1957. He was the son of Cornelius and Minnie Ball, who by 1900 were living in Kalamazoo. Neal, who then lived with his parents, was listed in the 1900 census as a professional ball player. As late as 1940 Neal was listed as a ball player living in Bridgeport, Connecticut. On September 1, 1903 in Grand Haven, he married Maud Smith, who sometimes was referred to as "Este." She was born about 1883 in Michigan.

Cornelius Ball [1849-1899]

Born in The Netherlands in 1849, Cornelius Ball settled in Grand Haven and became a commercial fisherman. He married Wilhelmina "Minnie" Mieras, who was born on June 26, 1851, also in The Netherlands. Cornelius and Minnie had several children, all born in Michigan, including Willemina, born about 1872; Adrianna S., born about 1874; Cornelia, born in Grand Haven on June 20, 1876; Jacob, who lived from 1878 to 1971; and William, who was born on January 6, 1884 in Grand Haven and died on November 12, 1930. Cornelis "Neal" Ball, born on April 22, 1881, was another son. In 1880 Adriana Glerum, a widow, was residing with them. Listed as mother-in-law, Adriana was born in The Netherlands about 1817. The Ball family resided at 116 Howard in Grand Haven, but relocated to Kalamazoo, where Cornelius died on March 9, 1899 and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in Kalamazoo. Minnie passed away on August 2, 1934 and was buried at Riverside, as were Jacob and William.

Gerrit Ball [1861-1929]

On April 17, 1878 brothers Gerrit and Jurien Ball opened a store at 201-203 Washington Street. For many years the building was known as "The Ball Block." Initially the brothers worked together and offered groceries and dry goods. Later Gerrit concentrated on groceries, located on the east side of the building, and Jurien operated the dry goods store on the other side. Gerrit in the 1920s moved his City Grocery to 208 Washington. On August 23, 1888 in Grand Rapids, Gerrit married Dora Belle Robinson. The daughter of Benjamin "Frank" and Addie Griswold Robinson, Dora was born in Robinson Township on 1868. Gerrit and Dora resided at 100 Franklin Street. In 1920, Dora's mother, Addie Robinson, was living with the Balls. Gerrit died on May 15, 1929 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dora continued to live at 100 Franklin after her husband's death. She passed away on March 10, 1956.

John R. Ball [Bol] [1818-1871]

Born on April 17, 1818, John Ball in 1849 immigrated from Groningen, The Netherlands to Holland, Michigan with his wife, Angie [Anje] “Anne” Winter and at least two children. Two years later the family moved to Grand Haven. John and Angie were married on July 31, 1845 in Groningen. In Grand Haven John became proprietor of a grocery store. He was active in founding the First Reformed Church in 1851. Fifteen families braved hardships in their attempt to worship. With two 25-foot canoes bought from the Indians, they picked up logs that were thrown into the river as waste and built their first church on Third Street, a feat that earned it the name “Slab Church.” Rev. Seine Bolks was their pastor. Angie Ball remained a member of the First Reformed Church until her death at the age of 93.

John and Angie had six children: Rijpke [Riepke], who lived from September 14, 1845 to February 9, 1877, married Mary [Maria] Kooiman; Jurrien Jans, who was born in Grand Haven on July 11, 1852; Jan “John,” who was born on August 13, 1855 and died in Grand Haven on December 11, 1943; Peter, who was born on December 18, 1858 and went into the concrete block business; Gerrit, who was born on July 5, 1861; and Rena, who was born January 7, 1863 and married William Balgooyen in 1883. William died before 1900, and Rena and her daughter, Ella H., who was born in February 1884, resided with Angie. Gerrit joined his brother Jurrien in a downtown business, and eventually owned and operated a grocery store at 201-203 Washington. The Balls made their home at 320 Clinton Street. John died on May 21, 1871, Angie was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on June 9, 1822 and died in Grand Haven on January 26, 1917. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune article, November 2, 1984, “Ball came from The Netherlands in 1849.”]

John Ball [1843-1922]

John Ball was born in England on June 28, 1843. He joined the U.S. Army in Grand Haven on August 6, 1862 and was assigned to Company D of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He married Jane Merris, who was born in The Netherlands, on May 6, 1845. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Minnie; born about 1868; Lucy, born on July 8, 1871; Anna, born on November 14, 1873; James, born about 1876; and Cornelius, born on July 6, 1879. James was a fisherman. The family resided on Fulton Street. John died in Grand Rapids on January 25, 1922. Jane passed away on February 13, 1894. She and John were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Jurrien [Jurren, Jurrin] Jans Ball [1852-1941]

Jurrien was born on November 7, 1852 in Grand Haven, the son of John and Angie Winter Ball. When Jurrien was 12 he quit school to make fishnets. Later he went to work making wagons and then he was employed at Challenge Refrigerator Company, where he made $2.25 a day, a substantial sum for a 22-year-old in those days. Jurrien began business in Grand Haven in 1875 as partner with Jurrien [Jerry] and Arie [Orie] Woltman [Waltman] at their store, called Woltman, Ball & Company, built in 1872 at 201-203 Washington Street [Howlett Block]. It was a grocery and dry goods outlet. Their first customer was Grand Haven pharmacist Jacob Vander Veen, who bought a gallon of vinegar for 30 cents on April 17, 1875. On November 1, 1877 the business failed, but Jurrien appealed to his creditors to let him carry on. He and a brother bought out the Woltmans and operated the dry goods and grocery business as the J. Ball Store. Later Jurrien confined himself entirely to dry goods and his brother Gerrit took over the grocery outlet. He retired from business in 1940. He claimed to have three distinctions: at one time he was the oldest native son, the oldest baptized member of the First Reformed Church, and the oldest merchant in the city.

On January 23, 1879 in Grand Haven, Jurrien married Dirkje “Delia” Van Hoef, who had come to Grand Haven when she was two years old. She had one sister, Clara, who married William Baker, and a brother, Andrew. Jurrien and Delia had two daughters: Anna Ball, who was born in February 1881, became a music teacher, and died in October 1959, and Kitty [Cornelia, Clauzine] Ball, who was born in December 1884. Kitty worked as a clerk in the family store and resided in the family home at 215 South Fourth until she fell in 1976 and moved to a nursing home. There she celebrated her 100th birthday on December 8, 1984. Kitty died two years later, on January 11, 1987 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Delia was born in The Netherlands in April 1854 and died on February 3, 1918. Jurrien passed away on December 24, 1941 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 24, 1941, two Tribune articles, August 1, 1934 and November 2, 1984, “Ball came from The Netherlands in 1849,” and a Chronicle article, “Jurrin Ball In Business for Fifty-seven Years,” about April 17, 1932.]

Kitty Ball [1881-1984]

Kitty [Cornelia, Clauzine], the daughter of Jurrien and Delia Van Hoef Ball, was born on December 8, 1884. She worked as a clerk in the family store and resided in the family home at 215 South Fourth until she fell in 1976 and moved to a local nursing home. There she celebrated her 100th birthday on December 8, 1984. Kitty died two years later, on January 11, 1987 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Neal Ball [1881-1957]

See Cornelis “Neal” Ball.

Peter Ball [Boll, Bol] [1858-1944]

Peter Ball’s first job was in a local sawmill. By 1908 he was manufacturing concrete blocks in a plant at 312 South Fourth Street and later across the street at 321 South Fourth. An ad noted that he was a manufacturer “of cement products of all kinds; cement blocks, bricks, etc.” He resided at 310 Clinton in 1915 and at 323 Lafayette ten years later and into the 1940s. Peter, the son of John R. and Angie Winter Ball, was born on December 18, 1858, died on June 26, 1944, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Melkon Arakel Baloyan [1878-1971]

A native of Turkey, Melkon Baloyan was born in Istanbul on December 3, 1878. He was approximately 29 when he married a woman with the last name Minasian. In the mid-1920s Melkon operated a shop at 28 Washington where he sold “Oriental Goods.” Melkon died in Grand Rapids on March 7, 1971.

Mary Helen Connolly Baltz [1922-1999] and Russell Louis Baltz [1922-1993]

Mary Helen Connolly, born in Ishpeming, Marquette County on October 12, 1922, married Russell Baltz. Russell, born on February 23, 1922, was the son of William D. and Ethel Baltz. William in 1928 became part owner of the department store at 200 Washington, subsequently known as Addison-Baltz. Russell graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1939 and soon he and Mary Helen Connolly were married. The two of them in the 1940s managed the “Barn,” a roller-skating and dance pavilion at 215 Harbor. Later they ran Hyland Gardens and the Bil-Mar Restaurant, near Highland Park. In 1957 the couple moved to Florida, where they bought and operated the Bilmar Resort on Treasure Island. Mary Helen was a graduate of Alma College and was a certified registered medical assistant. She also belonged to the Spring Lake Country Club. For a while the Baltz family lived at 522 River Street in Spring Lake. She and Russell had two children, Bill and Margot. By combining those two names the Baltzes arrived at “Bil-Mar” as the name for their enterprises, including the lakefront restaurant in Grand Haven with that name. Russell died in St. Petersburg, Florida on October 3, 1993. Mary Helen passed away in Gulfport, Florida, on September 24, 1999.

William Dominique Baltz [1889-1959]

A native of Attica, Kansas, where he was born on January 22, 1889 [1890], William Baltz came to Grand Haven in 1925 and three years later became part owner of Addison & Company in Grand Haven, a retail outlet. Prior to that he managed the F. N. Arbaugh Department Store in Lansing. The Addison Company, located at 200 Washington, subsequently became known as Addison-Baltz. On July 3, 1916 he married Ethel Cassidy in Lansing. Ethel was born in Michigan on June 30, 1895, died in Grand Haven on December 31, 1962, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Baltzes’ children were Stanley, born about 1918 in Michigan, and Russell, born on February 23, 1922, also in Michigan. Around 1930 the family resided at 532 Lafayette. Later William and Ethel moved to 522 East River in Spring Lake. Around 1950 William sold the department store business, but not the real estate, to Paul F. Oltman. William passed away on July 20, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Ethel.

Kenneth Bandstra [1929-1989]

A native of Chicago, where he was born on January 12, 1929, Kenneth Bandstra married Pearl Lucille Hanstra in his hometown on September 10, 1954. Pearl was born in the same city on March 26, 1931. The Bandstras had one daughter, Tamara, and four sons: Steve, Jeff, Terry, and Randy. Tamara's first husband, Paul Jay Laninga, died in a snowmobile accident near Traverse City in February 1, 1995 at the age of 27. She subsequently married Tom Elhart. Kenneth died in Ann Arbor on January 12, 1989 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In the late 1960s Pearl purchased a home at 1015 Oak Lane in Grand Haven and renovated the interior. Pearl, who died in Grand Haven on May 15, 2012, was at different time secretary to three physicians in Grand Haven, administrator at Northcrest Living Center in North Muskegon from 1985 to 1988, and school secretary at Grand Haven Christian School from 1988 to 1993. She was an active member of the Second Christian Reformed Church, including several mission assignments overseas. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Aaron Allen Barber [1827-1899]

Aaron Barber owned a 160-acre farm in Section 22 of Grand Haven Township. His two-story brick farmhouse, built about 1880, faced west and later was numbered 11250 168th Avenue. On December 27, 1877 in Grand Haven, Aaron married Sophia Maria Schultz [Schulz]. Born in Germany, she had been married previously and had two children, a daughter, Levine Schultz, born in Michigan about 1866, and a son, Fredrick Schultz, born in Michigan about 1868. Aaron was a native of Ohio, where he was born in 1827, and Sophia came from Mecklenberg, Germany, where she was born about 1830. They moved to Polkton Township, where Aaron died on August 4, 1899. He married his first wife, Elizabeth, in Branch County on August 5, 1867.

Jabez Barber [@1810–1856]

Born around 1810 in England, Jabez Barber arrived in Spring Lake subsequent to the 1837 rebellion in Canada. In 1841 he and fellow Canadian Richard Mason hired John Newcomb to construct a sawmill at Mill Point [Spring Lake]. He opened a boarding house, which was managed by Henry Middlemist, and in association with Amos Norton, Jabez built a sawmill about four miles up the Grand River from Grand Haven. The Nortonville sawmill burned down in 1854. The mill was rebuilt in 1856 at Mill Point, with the help of Richard Mason. This mill was destroyed by fire in 1859.

On March 6, 1843, Jabez married Frances Baley in Ottawa County. Frances was born in England about 1827. By 1850 the Barbers lived in Chicago, where Jabez built schooners to carry his company's milled lumber from Spring Lake. Jabez, Frances, and their two daughters, Ann and Mary, were drowned when sailing from Liverpool, England to New York on the steamer Pacific in January 1856. The husband of Jabez Barber's sister Elizabeth was Charles Y. Bell. He ran the business after the shipwreck and named it W. H. Bell & Company for his son, William H. Bell.

Don M. Barbier [1907-1993]

Born on February 13, 1907, Don Barbier started as an apprentice mortician in Detroit at the Henry J. Stahl Funeral Home in 1926 and was licensed as a funeral director in 1928. In 1931 he became a partner in the Robinson-Barbier Funeral Home in Lansing and in 1947 bought the Ringold Funeral Home in Spring Lake. He sold to Kammeraad Funeral Home on December 1, 1966. Don achieved the distinction of reaching 50 years of continuous licensing as a Michigan funeral director in 1978. He worked at Oldberg Mfg. Company for six years and in 1975 joined Medallion Instruments, Inc. of Spring Lake as a janitor and became sub-assembler. He spent 30 years as a volunteer for the Spring Lake Fire Department, served on the Village Council, and was a member of Spring Lake Baptist Church, Eagles, and Rotary Club. He married Edith M. Schofield. They had a son, David, who had four daughters. Don and Edith lived at 213 East River in Spring

Lake. Don died on his birthday in 1993. Edith was born on May 31, 1907 and died in Spring Lake on January 14, 1999. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune articles, “Licensed mortician for 50 years,” May 16, 1978, and “Retirement Job Keeps SL man Young,” February 12, 1987.]

Karl [Charles] Barbrick [1846-1935]

Karl Barbrick and his wife, Christina, farmed 63 acres in Sections 26 and 35 of Crockery Township. He was born on June 24, 1846 and died on December 16, 1935, and Christina lived from June 17, 1857 to March 6, 1921. Both were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. One son, Gustav, who was born on November 20, 1891, married Catherine, widow of William Frietchen I. Karl and Christina arrived in the United States in 1892.

Jack V. Barendse [1922-1987]

Jack Barendse was sales representative for Grand Haven Gasket Company. About 1980 he left that job to open Ac-Cent-Us at 700 Fulton for the production of flags, pennants, and banners. Jack and his wife, Katherine Marie Roozen, resided at 15045 154th Street in Grand Haven Township. He was born on May 12, 1922 and passed away in Ann Arbor on October 10, 1987. Born in Milwaukee, Katherine lived from October 20, 1923 to October 1, 2002.

Eunice Keskey Bareham [1925-2002]

Eunice Evelyn Keskey was born to Finnish parents in Wakefield, Gogebic County on May 23, 1925. During WWII she worked at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. for General Eisenhower. After the war she attended Nursing School at the University of Michigan, where worked as record clerk at the university hospital. It was there she met her husband, Robert Nelson Bareham. They were married in Wakefield on September 3, 1949. Robert lived from October 31, 1922 to January 15, 1971. The couple resided at 530 Grand View in Spring Lake. Eunice served as county commissioner from 1972 to 1978 and was treasurer of Ottawa County from 1979 to 1992, the first woman to serve in that capacity. In 1976 she was a delegate to the Republican Convention. Eunice was a member of the Mackinaw Bridge Authority, Spring Lake School Board, Spring Lake Education Foundation, and the state and national County treasurer’s Associations. She attended St. John’s Episcopal Church in Grand Haven. The Barehams had four children: Robert of Spring Lake [March 14, 1951 to April 12, 2008], his twin brother Bruce of Grand Haven [March 14, 1951 to July 17, 2013], Philip of Lansing, and Elizabeth of Oshawa, Ontario, Canada. Eunice died at her daughter’s home in Oshawa on April 11, 2002 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 17, 2002.]

Adora Barlow [Barlou] [1825-1912]

Adora Barlow was born in Prussia in January 1825. Her husband, Henry Barlow, also a native of Prussia, was born about 1824 and died between 1871 and 1879. After his death, Adora took in laundry. By the early 1890s she was proprietor of The Madison House, located at 301 Madison [approximate number], close to the Chicago & West Michigan Depot [Pere Marquette Station]. Rates were $1.00 a day or $4.00 a week. The Barlows had six children, including Lina [Lena] Sophia, who was born in Prussia on July 8, 1856, died in Grand Haven on January 8, 1878, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Lurissa, who was born in June 1862 in Michigan and married Adelbert Van Wormer of Grand Haven. Adora died in Grand Haven on February 27, 1912.

John W. Barnard [1823-1876]

On June 15, 1857, John Barnard became the first postmaster in Robinson Township and was the Township’s first supervisor. Born on September 7, 1821 in Adams, New York, John by 1850 was settled in Crockery Township, but by 1860 he owned a farm and land in Sections 22, 23, and 24 of Robinson Township. He also was known as a lumberman. He married Jane E. Allen, who was born in Michigan in 1834. John and Jane had four children, all natives of Michigan: Hepsy [Hopey] J., born in 1853; Charles H., born in 1858; Frederick, born in 1859; and Melinda, born in 1867. John passed away in Van Buren County on October 10, 1876.

Cornelius Barnes [1830-1891]

Born in Waterbury, Vermont on February 17, 1830, Cornelius was the son of Jacob and Nancy Winslow Barnes and the brother of Ebenezer, James, and John Barnes. The family moved to Grand Rapids in 1838. On November 26, 1857, in Grand Rapids, Cornelius married Catherine “Kate” Miller, who was 22 at the time. They moved from Plainfield Township, Kent County, to Grand Haven before 1860, the year Cornelius was enumerated in the census for Ottawa County. Their children, all natives of Michigan, were Monroe, born about 1863; Egbert W., born around 1865; Mary, born about 1868; Mabel, born about 1875; and another daughter, born about 1879. From 1872 to 1882 Cornelius was bookkeeper for Boyden & Akeley’s Shingle Mill. In 1882 he became bookkeeper for lumberman Stephen C. Hall in Muskegon. Cornelius died in Minneapolis on September 8, 1891.

Ebenezer Winslow Barnes [1819-1890]

Ebenezer was born in Pomfret, Vermont on July 10, 1812 and arrived in Grand Rapids with his parents, Jacob and Nancy Winslow Ebenezer, in 1838. Cornelius, James, and John were his brothers. Ebenezer was appointed Kent County’s Register of Deeds to fill a vacancy in 1842, and he also filled the post of County treasurer. On August 19, 1852 in Vermont, he married Caroline Fidelia Slayton, the sister of Nathaniel Slayton of Grand Haven. Caroline was born in Vermont on August 2, 1826. The couple moved to Grand Haven in 1853. When Rev. William Ferry gave up his position as Grand Haven postmaster, Ebenezer took over and held the position from May 30, 1853 to April 9, 1861. Ebenezer owned a farm in Section 10 of Olive Township. He returned to Grand Rapids in 1865, where he died on November 20, 1890. Caroline subsequently relocated to Emporia, Kansas. Four of the couple’s five children were born in Grand Haven. One of them, Carrie, married James P. Armstead of Grand Haven. Carrie was born on December 22, 1856. The Barneses’ other children were Hattie, born about 1854; Nancy, born about 1860; and Edward, born about 1864. Caroline, the mother, died on December 22, 1899. She was buried near her husband and other family members at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Jacob Barnes [Barns] [1799-1841]

Although Jacob Barnes never resided in Ottawa County, four of his children were early settlers here: Ebenezer, born in 1819; James and John, twins, born in 1823; and Cornelius, born in 1830. Jacob was born in 1799 in Washington County, Vermont, and died in Grand Rapids on May 14, 1840. His wife, Nancy Winslow, lived from 1801 to April 30, 1844. They moved to Grand Rapids before 1837. Jacob was Register of Deeds for Kent County from 1837 to 1838. Both Jacob and Nancy were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

James Barnes [Barns] [1823-1899]

Born in Stowe, Vermont on April 10, 1823, the son of Jacob and Nancy Winslow Barnes, James moved from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven in 1845 [1846]. In 1851, with his twin brother John and William M. Angel, Barnes helped edit and publish The Grand River Times, the first newspaper in Ottawa and Muskegon Counties. The newspaper office was located in the upstairs rooms of Henry Griffin’s drug store on the northwest corner of First and Washington. Leaning towards the views of the Democratic Party, the first issue came out on July 2, 1851. James and John acquired sole ownership of the paper, which they sold to Galen Eastman in 1857. The new owner moved it to Eastmanville, trusting that the village would become the County seat. When that expectation failed, publication ceased the same year and Barnes repurchased the paper, returned it to Grand Haven, and changed its name to the Grand Haven News, publishing the first issue on December 22, 1858. In 1862 James became a trustee of the new Grand Haven Union High School. Also known as a carpenter, in 1866 he constructed a building at 121 Washington Street as a site for a furniture store. He continued to work there until his death in 1899. James supervised the building of Grand Haven’s second jail, located on the southeast corner of Washington and Fourth Streets. With John W. Cook he built Senator Ferry’s large residence on the northeast corner of First and Columbus Streets, one of the local schoolhouses, and other structures.

James married Pamela Ranney in 1850. She was born in New York about 1832. On May 24, 1865, four years after Pamela died, James married Ellen M. Moss of Eastmanville and Grand Rapids. Ellen, the daughter of Chester [1804-1965] and Phoebe Moss [1806-1857], was born in Youngstown, New York on February 28, 1840. The newlyweds immediately moved from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven. They resided at 226 Franklin and had several children: Bessie [Jessie], who was born in November 1866 and married George Simpson of Detroit; Nellie, who was born on October 30, 1874, married William Stobie Marks of Grand Rapids, and died in April 1962; and Frederick T. Barnes, who was born in November 1879 and moved to Cincinnati, Ohio. Ellen died on March 12, 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband, who died in Grand Haven on January 17, 1899. [Tribune obituary, March 13, 1912.]

James B. Barnes [1857-1909]

Born in Grand Haven in October 1857, James was the son of John and Ruth C. Brough Barnes. James was connected with the Johnston Brothers shops at Ferrysburg for many years, and he was known as one of the best and most efficient mechanics in the area. He was a Mason.

On December 5, 1882 James married Jennie, the daughter of Uzell and Sarah Ames of Ferrysburg. Jennie was born in March 1862 and died on February 17, 1925. James and Jennie had four children, all born locally: Mille E., who was born in October 1883; Allan Uzell, who lived from August 16, 1888 to 1967 and graduated from Michigan Agricultural College [MSU]; Everett J., who lived from December 1893 to 1969 and served in France with the Engineering Corps during WWI; and John M., who lived from May 1900 to 1984. James died at his home in Ferrysburg on May 23, 1909. He and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 24, 1909.]

John W. Barnes [Barns] I [1823-1892]

Born in Stowe, Vermont on April 10, 1823, the son of Jacob and Nancy Winslow Barnes, John moved to Grand Rapids in 1838 [1836]. In 1845, John came to Grand Haven with his twin brother James. In 1851, John, James, and William M. Angel, published the first newspaper in Ottawa or Muskegon Counties, The Grand River Times. Leaning toward the Democratic Party, the first issue came out on July 2, 1851. John and James Barnes acquired sole ownership, and published the paper until December 1856, when they sold it to Galen Eastman, who moved it to Eastmanville. From December 29, 1859 to April 1860, John, with the help of Reuben Fosha, was proprietor of the Grand Haven News. In 1860, James became second partner and in 1865, John became sole owner, publishing it until July 17, 1876 when he became engaged in the furniture business with his brother. The office was destroyed twice by fire, once in 1859 and again in 1866. It was leased for one year to De Long and Mills, then in 1867 it was sold to J. H. Mitchell, and soon afterward it was consolidated with the News Journal of Grand Haven. John was city alderman from 1876 to 1879.

In 1856 John married Ruth [Lucy] C. Brough [Breau] of Ohaze, New York. She was born February 6, 1836 and died February 6, 1899. The Barneses had three sons and three daughters, all born in Michigan: James B., born in 1857; Orpha M., who was born about 1861 and married a Mr. Quayle of Santa Barbara, California; John II, who was born in 1862; Jennie, who was born about 1865 and married Dwight A. Lane of Grand Haven; Bertha, who was born on November 7, 1866, married William Donaldson [1866-1950], and moved to Des Moines, Iowa and Washington, D.C., where she died on March 31, 1938; and Jerry [Jedediah] H., who was born about 1869 and moved to Los Angeles. John I died January 18, 1892 from influenza. He had suffered a severe stroke with resulting paralysis years earlier. John and Ruth were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 18 1892 and February 7, 1899.]

John Winslow Barnes II [1862-1935]

The son of John and Ruth Brough Barnes, John II was born in Grand Haven in 1862. From 1883 to 1890 he worked for Kilbourn Company of Grand Haven, and he then became partner with M. L. Green and John Bryce of the Bryce, Barnes & Green Mfg. Company, located at the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets. The company made interior wood products for residences. In the 1893 Compendium John was listed as a machinist. On November 19, 1884 in Grand Haven, John married Lillie May Stone, who was born in Ohio about 1865. She was the daughter of George W. and Mehitabel Stone of Grand Haven. The Barnes's children, both born in Grand Haven, were Florence, born on October 18, 1885, and Kenneth George, born in Grand Haven on February 8, 1893. Not long after Kenneth's birth, the family moved to Los Angeles, California, where Lillie died in 1927. John passed away in Los Angeles on December 27, 1935.

Alexander Barnett [1840-1910]

Born in Arbroth, Scotland in August 1840 Alexander Barnett immigrated to Detroit in 1862 and moved on to Grand Haven ten years later. He was a ship's carpenter by trade and served his apprenticeship on the River Clyde. During the Civil War, Alexander, John Neil, and John W. Callister were among the expert ship carpenters engaged by the government to build and rebuild the ships for the U.S. Navy at Newport News and Norfolk. Later Alexander was engaged with Thomas Kirby in shipbuilding at the Kirby yards in Grand Haven. He was a Mason and member of the Presbyterian Church.

In 1867 Alexander married Katherine [Catherine] Duff Patterson, who was born in Scotland in May 1840. They had four children, all born in Michigan: William James, born about 1867; Cora Ann Flemley, born in October 1875; Alexander Ford, born in July 1887; and Scott Anderson, who died young. The three surviving children later settled in Kenosha, Wisconsin. Alexander died at his home at 620 Clinton Street on November 10, 1910. His wife lived from 1840 to 1926. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with their son Scott, who died on February 14, 1879 at the age of nine. [Tribune obituary, November 10, 1910 and November 12, 1910.]

Delmar Dalace Barnett [1900-1993]

Delmar Barnett, a native of South Dakota, married Gladys Hippler in Holland on December 1, 1923. Gladys was born in Sparta, Wisconsin on December 7, 1906, and Delmar was born in South Dakota on May 30, 1900. Their daughter, Kathryn Sarah, was born in Michigan about 1927 and married Robert William Cash in Coopersville on May 22, 1946. A second daughter, Mary, was born in Michigan in 1926. By 1930 the family was living in Crockery Township, where Delmar worked in a furniture store as a "sawyer." At the time of the 1940 Federal Census, they were living at 723 Beechtree Street in Grand Haven. Delmar was proprietor of a trucking business. Two sons had been added to the family, both born locally: Duane, born about 1933, and Jerrold, born about 1936. Delmar and Gladys owned and operated Barnett's Motel and Housekeeping Cottages from the mid-1950s to the mid-1970s. In 1979 they had hired William Jenerou as manager. Gladys passed away on December 29, 1991. Delmar died on July 27, 1993.

James Melancthon Barnett [Barnette] [1832-1908]

In 1873 James Barnett joined Edward P. Ferry and others from Grand Haven to form the "Michigan Bunch" in Utah, a group that speculated in the silver mining business. By 1880 he was back in Grand Rapids as a lumber merchant. James was born in New York on September 8, 1832. On December 5, 1865 in Grand Rapids, he married Lucy Foote, who was born in the same state in 1839. James died on September 19, 1908 in Grand Rapids.

Robert P. Barney [1867-1936]

Robert Barney was a Spring Lake barber. His shop was located at approximately 224 West Savidge. He married Clara "Carrie" Lape in Evansville, Indiana on November 24, 1893. She was born on March 15, 1870. They had two daughters, Irene [Irine], born in July 1895, and Inez M., born in January 1897. The family lived at 103 East Exchange. In the early 1900s Robert played cornet with the Spring Lake orchestra. He lived from December 1867 to 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Carrie passed away on June 15, 1951 and was buried near her husband.

Cornelius, Ebenezer, James, and John Barns

See Barnes.

M. G. Barns [? - ?]

M. G. Barns began publication of the Coopersville Observer in November 1850. It was considered independent in its political slant.

Charles Henry Barnum [1845- ?]

Born in Cass County in November 1845, Charles Barnum was located in Spring Lake by 1875. He married Mina “Minnie” Bigelow in Berlin [Marne] on August 11, 1873. At the time of the marriage, Charles was a resident of Ferrysburg. Their daughter Edna was born in Spring Lake on May 9, 1874, and a son George was born in Spring Lake on November 11, 1875. By 1879 the family had moved to Montcalm County, where another daughter was born late that year. Charles was employed as “Shingle Engineer.” Minnie lived from 1857 to 1934.

George Abram Barnum [1875-1947]

George Abram Barnum born in Spring Lake on November 11, 1875. His parents were Charles and Minnie Barnum. George Abram Barnum died in Texas on June 1, 1947. There also was a George Barnum who owned a photographer’s studio in Grand Haven in the late 1880s. His studio was in the Cutler House on Washington Street. George Abram Barnum was born too late to be the photographer.

Joseph Needham Corey Barnum [1832-1920]

Joseph C. Barnum enlisted as private in Company A of the 34th Iowa Infantry on September 6, 1862. He was mustered out on January 1, 1865 and transferred the same day to Company F of the 38th Iowa Infantry. He was mustered out permanently on August 15 that year. He applied for a handicapped pension in 1879. Joseph was a resident of Spring Lake in 1890. That year he also was resident of the Soldiers’ Home in Milwaukee. Ten years later he was in a home for disabled soldiers in Milwaukee. By 1915 he was living in a soldiers’ home in Marshall, Iowa. Born in 1832 in New York, he died in Iowa in 1920.

Lewis [Louis] S. Barnum [1833- ?]

In the 1870s Lewis Barnum sold to Walter Sinclair the boarding house on the northeast corner of Exchange and Division Streets in Spring Lake [Lot 4, Block 14, Bryant’s Addition]. Lewis was born in Danbury, Connecticut in 1833 and was listed in the 1870 Federal Census as a hotel keeper in Spring Lake. His wife Frances, also from Connecticut, was born in March 1836. Their son Harry Brigham Barnum was born in Connecticut in 1863 and died on May 23, 1930, and a daughter Betsy Barnum was born in Michigan about 1870. By 1900 the Barnums were living in Florida. Frances died in 1908 and was buried at Union Cemetery in Stratford, Connecticut.

Robert Milton Barrett [1889-1950]

Robert Milton Barrett, who lived from December 23, 1889 to March 22, 1950, married Sadie Lex Matthews in Spring Lake on September 6, 1923. Sadie was born in 1884. Robert, the son of William and Catherine Patterson Barrett, worked in the family boat business in Spring Lake and, with his sister, Ruby, took over ownership and management of Barrett Boat Works after their mother’s death in late 1943. Robert died in Eau Clair, Wisconsin on March 22, 1950 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Ruby I. Barrett [1880-1960]

The daughter of William and Catherine Patterson Barrett of Spring Lake, Ruby was born on February 1, 1880. In 1901 she attended the School of Music at the University of Michigan, but her health failed, and she returned to Spring Lake to rest. She resumed working with her father in the boat yard office. In 1943 she and her brother Robert became owners of the Barrett Boat Works when her mother died and willed it to her. Ruby ran the business following her brother’s death in 1950. She was organist at the First Presbyterian Church for over 40 years. Ruby died on January 7, 1960 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. She lived at 206 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. [Tribune articles, “Spring Lake Woman Keeps Dream Alive,” May 17, 1953, “Spring Lake’s ‘Miss Ruby’ Keeping Alive The Boat-Building Dreams of her Father,” September 26, 1953, and “Spring Lake Woman Devotes over 50 Years to Boats,” 1955.]

William M. Barrett [1854-1917]

Born in Toledo, Ohio in March 1854 [1856], William Barrett by 1879 was living and working in Spring Lake. His father, Milton Barrett, was born in Sevilla, Ohio in September 1828. On January 11, 1850 Milton married Ruby Doolittle in Maumee, Ohio. They had six children, including William. Milton died in Toledo on August 17, 1862, and Ruby passed away in March 1874. Both were buried at Forest Cemetery in Toledo.

William went to work for the Cutler & Savidge Sawmill as a “tallier” [one who keeps a tally], but he was more interested in shipbuilding. The Spring Lake Clinker Boat Company was organized in 1887; eight years later, William was named vice president and manager. “Clinker” referred to rowboats in which external planks were attached so that the edge of one overlapped the edge of the next one, like clapboard on a house. These boats were sold all over the world. Another local ship builder, Hiram C. Pearson, went out of business in 1872, and Clinker Boat Company subsequently assumed control of his patents. Later William’s firm became known as the Spring Lake Boat Company. William also had the time and expertise in the early 1900s to manufacture three automobiles.

William married Catherine [Katherine] Patterson in Grand Haven on February 19, 1879. The daughter of Scott and Catherine Patterson of Spring Lake, Catherine was born in Canada [Scotland] on December 11, 1856 and came to the United States when she was four. William’s and Catherine’s children, both born locally, were Ruby I., who was born on February 1, 1880, and Robert Milton, who was born on December 23, 1889. He died in Eau Clair, Wisconsin. William died in May 1917 and was given the largest Masonic funeral ever held in Spring Lake. After her husband’s death, Catherine continued running the business until the time of her death on December 24, 1943. It was then taken over by Ruby, while her brother Robert, a marine mechanic, worked mostly in the yard. After Robert’s death, Ruby managed the business. William was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, where Catherine, Ruby, and Robert also were buried. [Tribune article, “Spring Lake Woman Devotes over 50 Years to Boats,” 1955.]

R. M. Barrow [? - ?]

In 1873 Dr. Barrow joined Edward P. Ferry and others to form the so-called “Michigan Bunch” in Utah, a group that speculated in the silver mining business.

Thomas Barry [1845-1895]

Born in 1845 and a resident of Hamburg, Livingston County, Thomas Barry on December 30, 1861 enlisted as private in Company D of the 15th Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out on August 24, 1865 and then moved to Ottawa County. He and his wife, Mary, lived on a 40-acre farm in Section 12 of Olive Township. On July 22 following her husband’s death on October 19, 1895, Mary applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. Later she moved to Grand Haven Township, where she maintained a 35-acre farm. Mary lived from 1868 to 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Barend Preston Bartels [1861-1953]

Berend Bartels owned a 60-acre farm in Section 16 of Olive Township. His wife Lena the daughter of Lucas and Lena Brink Busscher, lived from June 8, 1866 to October 11, 1941. She was born in Germany. Berend was born in The Netherlands in June 1861 and immigrated to the United States in 1882. He died in 1953 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery with his wife and other family members. Their children, all born locally, included Herman B., born on June 25, 1889; Suna, born in July 1891; Lefert, born in June 1892; Johanna, born in December 1898; and Elizabeth, born in November 1899.

Herman B. Bartels [1889-1967]

Herman was born on June 25, 1889, the son of Berend and Lena Busscher Bartels. Herman owned a 40-acre farm in Section 33 of Olive Township, where he raised livestock. His wife, Johanna, was the daughter of Peter and Susan De Barnes De Haan. Johanna was born on November 25, 1888 and died on July 29, 1956. She was buried at Olive Township Cemetery with her husband. He passed away in Holland in April 1967.

James Carroll Bartels [1923-2016]

Born in Muskegon Heights on February 11, 1923, Jim Bartell married Erma Ruth Johannes in Grand Haven on June 18, 1948. The son of Levi and Nettie Workman Bartels, Jim served with the Army from 1944 to 1946. He owned and operated Kinkema Bartels Funeral Home in Grand Haven until it merged with Van Zantwick Funeral Home on January 1, 1978. The combined business became known as Van Zantwick, Bartells, and Kammeraad Funeral Home. Jim and Erma had two sons: Bradley and Scott, both of Grand Haven, and a daughter, Kim, who married Jason Rykse of Dover, Ohio. Jim was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, the local American Legion, and the Rotary Club of Grand Haven. Jim died in Grand Haven on February 26, 2016 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jan "John" Bartels [1866-1939]

The son of Hermanus Bartels, John was born in The Netherlands on January 7, 1866. On October 28, 1892 in Olive Township, he married Klaage "Clara" Troost, also a native of The Netherlands. She lived from November 1873 to 1974. John immigrated to the United States in 1882 and Clara the following year. They owned a 60-acre farm in Section 17 of Olive Township. Their children, all born locally, were Herman John Bartels, who was born in October 1893 and killed in action on August 30, 1918 while serving with the U.S. Army in France during WWI; Klaas Bartels, born in February 1896; and Johannes Bartels, born in May 1898. John died on November 25, 1939. He and his wife were buried at Olive Township Cemetery with other family members.

Arza Bartholomew I [1806-1871]

The son of Ebenezer and Charlotte Pratt Bartholomew, Arza moved with his parents, wife, and children to Crockery Township in 1846. He married Isabel Mumy of New York, who was born on February 28, 1810, died on June 12, 1851, and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. He next married Eliza Hunter, who lived from 1817 to February 18, 1876. By 1864 he and Eliza owned a 40-acre farm in Section 24, supplemented by another 40 acres in Section 25. Among Arza's and Isabel's children were Arza II, who was born in New York about 1842; Amanda, who was born on April 24, 1838 and married John S. Castle of Crockery; William H., who was born about 1842; Lucinda, who was born in January 1844 and first married Almond Landon and then Orange Jubb, both of Crockery Township; Wheeler H., who was born on May 5, 1846, resided in Montcalm County and later in Muskegon County, and died on October 27, 1933; and George Newton, who was born on June 10, 1848 and died on August 4, 1932. Arza I was born on August 1, 1806 and died in Ottawa County on April 28, 1871. Isabel, Eliza, and Arza were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

Arza Bartholomew II [1842-1863]

Born about 1842, Arza was the son of Arza and Isabel Bartholomew. On August 14, 1861, young Arza enlisted in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry as corporal. Around January 1, 1863, he was wounded in a battle near Murfreesboro, Tennessee, died of an unspecified disease in the hospital on May 8 that year, and was buried at nearby Stone River National Cemetery. The G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic] organization in Nunica, founded in 1891, was named Arza Bartholomew Post #136. Arza was buried at Stones River National Cemetery in Murfreesboro.

Ebenezer Bartholomew [1782-1864]

A native of New York State and a veteran of the War of 1812, where he served as Fifer, Ebenezer Bartholomew settled in Sections 24 and 25 of Crockery Township in 1846. He owned 80 acres in each section. On July 19, 1805 he married Charlotte Pratt in Watertown, Jefferson County, New York. Ebenezer was born on December 27, 1782 and died in Crockery Township in 1864. Charlotte, who was born about February 25, 1782, died on September 18, 1850. Both Bartholomews were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery with other members of their family, including their children, Arza I, who was born in 1806, and Daniel, who lived from 1822 to 1848.

William H. Bartholomew [1842-1865]

A resident of Crockery Township, William Bartholomew on August 4, 1862 enlisted in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry as private. He was promoted to sergeant before he returned home on furlough, where he died of wounds on March 1, 1865. He was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery with other Bartholomews, including his parents, Arza and Isabel Mumy Bartholomew. William was born in 1842.

Alson [Alanson] R. Bartlett [1827-1902]

A Methodist-Episcopal preacher in charge of the Grand River circuit, Rev. Alson R. Bartlett was aware of the inadequate condition of the Ottawa Indians living at Battle Point in Crockery Township, about five miles upriver from Grand Haven. Several families of Indians, who made Battle Point their home around 1855, wished to live harmoniously with their White neighbors. That year, Rev. Bartlett established a school that enrolled 20 or more Indian pupils. Martha Maxfield of Eastmanville was the teacher.

In 1850 Rev. Bartlett was included in the census for Lansing, unmarried and working as a “sawyer” in a lumber mill, but by 1870 he was residing in Lapeer County with his wife and their three children, working as a Methodist minister. In 1880 Alson, still working as a member of the clergy, was residing in Birmingham, Oakland County with his wife and children.

Rev. Bartlett was born in Essex County, New York in February 1827. He married Catherine M. Stevenson, who was born in England in May the same year and immigrated to the United States when she was about four years old. Their three known children, all born in Michigan, were Lillie J., [Lelia] who was born about 1858 and died in Marquette, Marquette County on February 17, 1924, and twins Effie and Kate, born in January 1860. Effie died in Highland Park, Wayne County, on April 6, 1937, and Kate, under the name Kitty Thompson, died in Evanston, Illinois on September 12, 1938. By 1870 the Bartlett family was residing in Lapeer County. In 1900 Alson, Catherine, and Effie were living in Detroit. Alson passed away in Detroit on February 21, 1902 and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Charles L. Bastian [1861-1936]

While on a hunting trip in Wisconsin, Charles L. Bastian’s sight suddenly failed him as he was walking across a field. Within a short time, he was totally blind. Because of this handicap, the brass foundry at which he worked in Chicago terminated his services. Bastian was not a man to have idle time on his hands, and almost immediately he made plans to start his own business, persuading a co-worker, Lewis Greene Blessing, and several other young associates to join him. Together in 1908 Charles and Lewis formed the Bastian-Blessing Company in Chicago, and from the very start they were highly successful. Two years later they moved the company to Grand Haven. Charles obtained some 54 patents on inventions for his company after losing his sight. Bastian, who was born in Germany in November 1861, came to the United States in 1880. On February 18, 1888 he married Meta Schroeder. There is no evidence Charles ever resided in the Grand Haven area. He died in Winnetka, Illinois on December 3, 1936.

James Batchellor [Batcheller, Batchelor] [1881-1921]

Born in Grand Haven in 1881, James Batchellor was employed by the Grand Haven Gas Company. He served in the army during WWI and while in the army was said to have suffered a stroke of paralysis which impaired his health. He invented a musical instrument, which he planned to use in a vaudeville skit, and at one time he reportedly was connected with the stage. He drowned in Spring Lake while swimming off a dock in Fruitport on July 11, 1921. [Tribune obituary, July 11, 1921.]

Webster Batchellor [Batcheller, Batchelor, Batchells] [1834-1904]

Webster was born in South Adams, Massachusetts on November 21, 1834, the son of Daniel and Martha Jennison Batchellor. He moved to Chicago where in 1866 he and a man named Slaght started a business. They bought the Hopkins & Ferry Sawmill in Ferrysburg in 1871, adding George Shippey as a third partner, giving it the name Batchellor, Slaght, and Shippey Sawmill. [No details were found regarding Slaght.] Webster’s older sister Sarah Dorah Batchellor married George Shippey in 1848. They lived in Ferrysburg. In 1881, the partners sold the mill to Grand Haven Lumber Company. It was located approximately where the north end of the U.S. 31 bridge later rested. Webster was one of the original shareholders of the Dake Engine Company when it was formed in 1887. His sister Sarah married George Shippey of Ferrysburg. Webster died in Lane Hospital in San Francisco, California on June 2, 1904 and was buried at Glen Falls Cemetery, Glen Falls, New York. His death certificate listed his occupation as “Capitalist.” [Tribune obituary, June 3, 1904.]

James O. Bates [1837-1922]

Born in New York on November 25, 1837, James Bates by 1870 was one of Spring Lake’s physicians. He married Hattie M. Hixon in Eaton County on July 29, 1861. She was born in New York about 1843. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Willie E., born about 1862; Jessie A., who was born in Hubbardston, Ionia County about 1867 and married Benjamin N. Savidge in Spring Lake on October 6, 1886; and Arthur D., born about 1868. In 1871 James was appointed Consulting Physician for the Magnetic and Sulphur Springs Company of Fruitport. For a while he was a partner with Charles Begin as owner of a brick company that in 1889 was sold to Fred Bertschy. James died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1922.

Joseph Bates [1849-1938]

Joseph Bates married Eliza [Elizabeth] Wells in Ottawa, Canada on July 2, 1877. The couple immigrated to the United States the next year. Joseph was born in Canada on October 3, 1849, and Eliza, also a native of Canada, was a year younger. A son, Walter, was born in June 1877 in Canada.

Joseph and Eliza had another son, Thomas, who was born in Spring Lake on June 20, 1888, and died in Muskegon on April 30, 1951. A daughter Effie was born in Spring Lake on February 16, 1879 and married Francis Wilson in Grand Haven on June 15, 1904. A second daughter, Anna, was born about 1892, married Joseph W. Peters in Wexford County on April 22, 1913, and died in Wexford County in March 1987. The Bates family lived on Summit Street in Spring Lake.

Walter J. Bates [1876-1903]

On August 10, 1903, Walter Bates “received a crushing blow on the back of the head” while working in the engine room of the steamer Georgia. Bates was second engineer. The boat, part of the Goodrich Transportation Line, had just left Milwaukee and was on her way to Mackinac Island. Walter was a licensed boiler inspector and lived in Spring Lake. The son of Joseph and Elizabeth Wells Bates, he was born in June 1876 in Canada. [The Inter-Ocean, October 10, 1903.]

Edward [Edwin] Baughn [1852-1934]

Coming to Grand Haven from St. Johns, Clinton County in 1865, Edward Baughn was a lumber inspector [scaler]. He married Henrietta “Nettie” Rud [Reed/Read] in Coopersville on October 6, 1877 and remained in the area into the 1880s. Their surviving children were Francis, who was born in Michigan in 1878 and died in 1949; Bertha, born two years later; George, born in Grand Haven on January 29, 1881; George, born in Grand Haven on January 29, 1882; Edna, who was born in Muskegon on May 3, 1887 and died in 1982; and Lillie, who lived from 1889 to 1931. In Grand Haven, the family resided at 300 Franklin. Edward was born in Michigan about 1852 and died in Shawano, Wisconsin on May 20, 1934. Henrietta was born in Ohio about 1858 and passed away in 1895. George and Gilbert Baughn were Edward’s brothers.

George W. Baughn [1844-1880]

George Baughn was born in St. Johns, Clinton County, on May 9, 1844 and was included in the 1860 census for Bingham, Clinton County. His wife, Susan Eaton, was born in England around 1856. They were married in Ottawa County on January 25, 1873. George served as private with Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry during the Civil War. He stayed with his unit from the time of his enlistment in St. Johns on June 22, 1863 until he received a disability discharge on June 15, 1864. After George died of kidney disease in Grand Haven on February 5, 1880, Susan managed a rooming house on the corner of Franklin and Fourth Streets. She was a member of the Grand Haven First Presbyterian Church and the Order of the Eastern Star. Susan passed away on Grand Haven on February 26, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Susan's brother William Eaton [Heaton] lived in Muskegon. Edward and Gilbert Baughn were George's brothers.

Gilbert Lafayette Baughn [1859-1934]

By 1880 Gilbert Baughn was employed at a Grand Haven sawmill. Like his brother George, Gilbert was included in the 1860 census for Bingham, Clinton County. Edward Baughn of Grand Haven was another brother. On September 1, 1886 he married Celia De Witt in Grand Rapids. Celia was born in Ferrysburg on September 8, 1863. Gilbert and Celia had at least one surviving child, Julia [Lulu], born in Spring Lake on July 8, 1885. Julia was married in Muskegon on June 29, 1905 to George W. Pegg. Gilbert and Celia in 1897 were residing in Muskegon, where Russel Gilbert Baughn was born on December 7, 1899. Gilbert was born in St. John's, Clinton County in 1860. Gilbert passed away in 1934, and Celia died in Detroit on July 14, 1937.

William Chandler Baum [1931-2007] and Nancy L. Baum [1933-2011]

Bill was born on November 3, 1931 in Three Rivers, St. Joseph County. He obtained his doctorate in political theory from the University of Iowa, then taught for 50 years, starting at Creighton University and South East Missouri State College, and ending at Grand Valley State University, where he was on the faculty for 40 years. His studies focused on the Holocaust, the United States Constitution, and George Orwell. His wife Nancy founded Ballet Arts in Grand Haven in 1965 and was named Dance Teacher of the Year by the Michigan Dance Council in 1999. Beginning in 1974 and over several decades, she frequently taught classes as adjunct professor at Grand Valley and other area colleges. William and Nancy established two endowments at Grand Valley: the Nancy H. Baum Endowment in Dance, to support master classes and lectures for Grand Valley dance students, and the William C. Baum Endowment Fund, established in 1998, which sponsored speakers on issues in American law one year and piano recitals the next. He and Nancy lived at 112 Mason Street in Spring Lake and at 17070 Timberdunes Drive in Grand Haven Township. They had a son, Jefferson W. Baum, and a daughter, Kathryn M. Baum, who married Mark Hill of Grand Haven. Jefferson also taught dance at Grand Valley for a brief time. Nancy lived from September 14, 1933 to February 28, 2011. She and William were married about 1959.

Edward John Bauman [1886-1963]

Michigan native Edward Bauman was a motorboat dealer as early as 1926. He previously had been in the restaurant business in Grand Rapids. In Spring Lake, his place of business was at the north end of Alden Street, at the lake's edge [227 Alden]. Ed retired in May 1945. Grand Rapids residents Howard C. Raimier operated the business for ten years. Edward resided nearby, at 401 Lake View Court, with his mother, Carrie. Edward's wife and father had passed away before 1930. Edward was born on February 17, 1886 in Grand Rapids and passed away at his home in Spring Lake on May 2, 1963. Ed never remarried. [Tribune obituary, May 2, 1963.]

Charles Bavry [Barry] [1872-1927]

Charles Bavry served as lighthouse keeper at Grand Haven from 1922 to 1926 and died in 1927. His wife Mabel was born in Michigan about 1888. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Viola C. Bavry, who was born on October 7, 1903 and died in California on September 7, 1988; Louis W. Bavry, born on October 2, 1904; Myrtle [Marion] L. Bavry, who was born on September 6, 1905 and died in California on May 2, 1990; Marian C. Bavry, born about 1906; and Charles Harold Bavry, who was born on July 17, 1907 and died in Florida in 1952. Charles the father was born in Wisconsin in 1872.

Edwin Baxter [1831-1910]

Born in 1831, Edwin Baxter served as lieutenant with Company C of the 1st Michigan Engineers during the Civil War. He was discharged on February 16, 1864. On April 29, 1860, he married Carrie Keyes in Grand Rapids. She died on December 3, 1866 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery. They had two children, Minnie [1864-1950] and Frank. On May 23, 1868, Edwin married Ellen Louis Scagel in Quebec. She was born in Canada on June 26, 1846. Edwin and Ellen had a son, Edwin Childs Baxter, who was born in Grand Haven August 12, 1878 and died in Cleveland, Ohio on April 11, 1962. He was judge of superior court in Grand Rapids before moving to Grand Haven prior to 1880. In Grand Haven he opened a law office and served in Ottawa County as circuit court commissioner. He and his wife Ellen relocated to California shortly after the 1880 Federal Census. Ellen died on February 28, 1895. Edwin was born in Moretown, Vermont on March 9, 1831, died on September 7, 1910 in Los Angeles, and was buried at Angelus Rosedale Cemetery, as was Ellen.

Jacob Bayer [? - ?]

See Jacob Boyer.

William Henry Beach [1851-1933]

Born on April 4, 1851 in Mount Morris, New York, William Beach was a director of the Grand Haven State Bank from 1904 to December 1930. On April 15, 1878 in East Saginaw, he married Myrtle Sawyer. William died of arteriosclerosis on March 23, 1933 in Holland and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. Myrtle lived from April 3, 1851 to June 16, 1927 and also was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. She was born in Cleveland, Ohio. William and Myrtle had two children: Chester Leland Beach [1882-1970] and Myrtle K. Beach [1883-1974].

Christopher Davis [Davies] Beale [1834-1904]

Christopher Beale was born in Cohasset, Massachusetts on October 12, 1834 [1835]. In 1860 he married Helen Mary Amerman, who was born in New York State on March 2, 1838. In 1880 the couple resided in Evanston, Illinois, where Christopher was a coat salesman, possibly associated with the Marshall Field Department Store in Chicago. In 1895 he purchased from Marshall Field a lodge and land on Spring Lake, not far from Hammond's Bayou [approximately 15820 Connelly Avenue]. He opened a resort and named it Prospect Point Manor. In 1900 he was still living with his family in Chicago and working as an agent [salesman] of "cotton spools." Most of the family moved from Chicago to Spring Lake after 1900, where Helen, the mother, became manager of Prospect Manor. Later, ownership passed to her son and daughter-in-law, Warren and Agnes Beale. The Beales had seven children, including Warren A. Beale, who was born in Brooklyn, New York in December 1859 and settled in Spring Lake; Roland Rutherford Beale, who was born in New York on March 30, 1866, married Augusta Hall in Ottawa County, died on October 8, 1899, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Lulu Beale, born in New York about 1870; Evelyn M. Beale, born in New York in July 1871; Helen L. Beale, born in New York in September 1872; William I. A. Beale, who was born in New York in August 1875, became a minister, died in Spring Lake in 1910, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and Louis M. Beale, born in Illinois in January 1880. Augusta Hall Beale, Roland's wife, died on March 26, 1906 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Christopher died in Chicago on June 27, 1904 but was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After Christopher's death, his and Helen's son Warren took over ownership and management of the Manor. Helen, who died in Spring Lake in 1918, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Christopher.

Warren Augustus Beale [1859-1929]

Warren, born in Brooklyn, New York in December 1859, was the son of Christopher and Helen Amerman Beale. The family had moved to the Chicago area by 1880. Warren moved relocated to Spring Lake after his death in 1904 and took over ownership and management of Prospect Point Resort [Section 11 of Spring Lake Township, approximately 15820 Connelly]. He married Agnes Bridgett Linehan in Grand Haven on October 11, 1918. After Warren's death in 1929, Agnes continued management of the property. She was born in Kalamazoo on October 1, 1869 and died in her birthtown on July 5, 1961. She and Warren were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George W. Beamer [1908-1983]

After retiring as a tool and die maker, George W. Beamer started Falcon Corporation at 510 Elm Street in Ferrysburg in 1962 for the manufacture of tools. He was chairman of the Board and his wife, Evelyn R., was president-secretary-treasurer. Their son John was vice president. The Beamers resided at 19447 North Shore Road and later at 313 Terrill Street in Grand Haven. George was born on August 11, 1908 and died in Grand Haven on May 5, 1983. Evelyn lived from February 1, 1911 to January 1990.

Hiram Bean [1802-1877]

In 1856 Hiram Bean managed the Railroad House, a hotel next to the railway depot at the foot of Dewey Hill. [The railway to the Grand Haven terminal was completed in 1858.] On March 10, 1856, he bought acreage in Sections 19 and 30 of Robinson Township. Four years later he was listed in the federal census as a surveyor, although he continued to run the hotel. Hiram was born in Vermont in 1802, and his wife, Caroline Maria Munson, was born in the same state ten years later. They had two daughters, both born in Vermont: Stella, born in Vermont on June 27, 1833, and Edna, born in Chicago on October 16, 1835. In early 1863 Stella appeared in two of the "Tableaux" staged by Mary Ann Hubbard "in behalf of disabled & gallant Soldiers of the Rebellion War." By 1870 the Bean family had moved to Chicago. Hiram died on January 12, 1877 and was buried at Rosehill Cemetery in Chicago. Maria passed away the next year on June 12. Stella in 1881 married William Woodbury [1835-1903]. She died in Chicago on March 28, 1908 and was buried at Rosehill. Edna married Francis Workman in 1869. She died in Chicago on January 29, 1918.

Paul Raymond Beardsley [1869-1947]

Paul Beardsley founded Sealed Power in Muskegon for the manufacture of piston rings. He married Grace Reynolds in Muskegon on October 16, 1895. He and Grace owned a summer home in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 17701 Fruitport Road]. They called their estate Beardsley Point. The Beardsleys' year-round residence was in Muskegon. He was born in Chicago on November 3, 1869 and died in Muskegon on May 31, 1947. Grace, a native of Michigan, was born in December 1873 [1872] and passed away on March 9, 1962. Both were buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Muskegon.

James Henry Beaton I [1911-1989]

Born in Chisholm, Minnesota on August 18, 1911, James Beaton married Eleanor Elizabeth Sproul in Grand Rapids on January 15, 1938. She was born on April 5, 1912. They had at least six children: James Henry Beaton II, who lived from April 15, 1940 to March 25, 1994, and Michael Edward Beaton, who was born in 1942 and died in a car accident on July 29, 1964. Other Beaton children were Elizabeth, Mary Alice, William Wilson, and Robert Bruce, known as Doc Beaton. Mary married Mr Luna and moved to Dallas, Texas.

James and Eleanor owned a cottage in Highland Park named Wind Hurst. Located at 105 Poplar Ridge, the cottage was still in the family until their heirs sold it in 2016. James I was an obstetrician and gynecologist at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids. He died in Palm Desert, California on November 28, 1989. Eleanor passed away in Grand Haven on June 21, 2005. She and James were buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Frank X. Beaubien [Beaubin, Beaubine] [1863-1940]

Frank Beaubien was born in Michigan on January 27, 1863. Frank's parents were Antoine and Julia Akey Beaubien. Frank married Recca [Rica/Rebecca] Gottschalk in Detroit on January 15, 1889. She was born in Michigan on June 24, 1863. As early as 1911 Frank and Recca maintained a fruit farm on 40 acres in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 18500 West Spring Lake Road]. By 1918 they had opened a summer resort named Peaceful Retreat. A daughter, Mercia [Merca], was born on August 1, 1891 in Detroit. She died on April 17, 1944 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. A son, Frank Marvin Beaubien, was born in Detroit on January 16, 1896 and died on December 23, 1953. Frank died in Chicago on April 12, 1940 and Recca passed away on August 1, 1924. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was their son Frank.

Nazarie [Nasaire] I. Beaudry [1841-1915]

Born in Canada in 1841, Nazarie Beaudry in 1866 opened a small mercantile establishment near the docks, under the name of Church & Beaudry. As business grew, he became known as owner of one of Grand Haven's leading dry goods stores. Later the retail establishment was moved farther east to 224 Washington under the name Beaudry & Safford, with Benjamin Delop Safford as his partner from 1871 to 1879. About 1908 Nazarie moved his store next door to the corner of Washington and Third Streets [232-234 Washington] and it became known as Beaudry & Company, which specialized in "gentlemen's furnishings, carpetings, wall paper, etc."

Mary, Nazarie's wife, was born in New York [Ireland] about September 1841, died on January 2, 1906, and was buried at Woodmere Cemetery in Detroit. The couple resided at 219 South Second Street in a house that later was converted to a nursing home. One of their daughters, Louise, born in Grand Haven on March 22, 1868, married Dr. Ernest C. Lee of Detroit on October 31, 1894. She died of pneumonia in Detroit on September 7, 1901 leaving her husband and a son. Another daughter, Mabel, was born about 1871. The third, Marie, was born in 1876, married Lucien [Lucian] Upham of Grand Haven on June 14, 1922 and died in 1936. Nazarie married Marie Elizabeth Root in Grand Haven on April 18, 1907. Marie was born about 1869. He died on May 6, 1915 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Marie later was interred. [Tribune obituaries, September 9, 1901, January 5, 1906, and May 6, 1915.]

James Beaustead [1816-1877]

See James Benstead.

William Beaustead [1812-1880]

See William Benstead.

Thomas St. Gemme de Beauvais [Beauvois] [1846-1931]

Captain Thomas Beauvais replaced Captain John De Young as keeper of the Grand Haven Life Saving Station in 1885. He served until July 19, 1888, when Captain John Lysaght took over. Thomas was born in Quebec, Canada on April 17, 1846. On September 9, 1867 in Muskegon, he married Mary Patnode [Patenade/Patenaude/Patneau], who was born in Canada about 1854 and died in Grand Haven on December 19, 1887 of typhoid. They had at least two sons, William, who was born in Muskegon on March 1, 1877, and Gilbert S., who was born in 1885 in Muskegon and married Christine Jensen in Menominee, Menimnee County on February 12, 1913, where Thomas and Mary had resided since at least 1910. The couple also had a daughter, Elizabeth, who was born in Michigan about 1888. Thomas passed away on October 4, 1931.

John Anson Beaver [1916-1977]

In 1969, John Beaver purchased from Joe Nejem the business and building at 14 Washington Street. John continued operating his predecessor's Wholesale Tobacco and Candy Company. John, who was born in Huntington, Indiana on January 5, 1916, died on August 12, 1977. He married Helen E. Stille, who lived from July 5, 1916 to February 1987. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John and Helen had at least one child, James. The family resided at 1132 Colfax Street.

H. B. Beck [? - ?]

Beck was appointed a director of Dake Engine Company when it was organized in 1887.

Edwin M. Beckwith [1823-1902]

A ship's carpenter, Edwin Beckwith built boats in the Grand Haven area in the 1860s. Among the vessels he constructed were Miranda, a 40-ton tug built for Heber Squier in 1865 [later renamed Lewis Wallace]; J.G. Campbell, a 34-ton propeller, built for Thomas W. Kirby in 1868; and J. Stephens, a 60-ton tug, built for the Stephens family in 1868. He also was credited with building several ships in Holland, Michigan: in 1862, the 105-ton schooner Beloit for a Mr. Hitchcock; in 1865, the 180-ton schooner William Smith for Ryerson & Hills; and two years later, The Josies, a 120-ton schooner. Edwin was born in New York in 1823 and died about August 28, 1894. His wife, Helen, was born in Germany about 1827. Their children included

Frank, born about 1855; Ellen, born about 1859; Angus, born about 1861; Clara S, born about 1863; and Frederick, born about 1867. The first two children were born in Wisconsin, the last three in Michigan.

Elizabeth M. Beckwith [1847-1901]

See Jesse Morris Cross.

Hiram Beckwith [1809-1899]

Hiram Beckwith, a Universalist minister, was born in New Hampshire in 1809 and died on April 30, 1899. He married Hannah Moore. By 1866 they were settled in Spring Lake, where Rev. Hiram eventually retired and raised fruit. Among their children were Elizabeth M., who was born in Shelby, New York on November 25, 1847 and married Jesse Morris Cross of Grand Haven; Ruth M., who was born about 1850 in New Hampshire and first married John B. Hancock of Spring Lake and then Thomas A. Parish of Ferrysburg; and Lucy, who was born in Wisconsin about 1852. The Beckwiths also had a son, Andrew, who was born about 1854 in Wisconsin and moved to Seattle, Washington, where Elizabeth later relocated. Hannah lived from 1815 to December 21, 1902. The Beckwiths were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frederick T. Bectel [Becktel, Bechtel] [1837-1890]

Born in 1837 in Germany, Fred Bectel by the age of 19 owned a butcher shop in Grand Haven. His wife, Josephine, also from Germany, was born the same year as he. Frederick died in Grand Rapids on May 31, 1890 and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery.

Carol Cook Bedient [1957-2014]

Born in Albion, Calhoun County on April 6, 1957 to Paul and Alice Cook, Carol graduated from Albion College followed by a master degree from Michigan State University. She married Paul Bedient on August 30, 1980 in Albion. The couple moved to Grand Haven in 1989. Carol joined the staff of Hospice of North Ottawa when it started in 1991. Nine years later she became program co-coordinator and later director of grants for the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation. At various times she attended the Methodist Church of the Dunes and Christ Community Church. She and Paul had four children: Samantha, who married Ryan McCollum of Grand Rapids; Jessica, who married Dustin Crist of Grand Haven; Kendra, who married Jordan Nyhof of Grand Rapids; and a son, Kyle, who remained in Grand Haven. Carol died in Grand Haven on April 26, 2014. [Tribune obituary, April 29, 2014.]

Albert [Elbert] Beekman [1823-1909]

Albert, the son of Reijer and Aartje Van Den Hoek Beekman, was born in Gelderland, The Netherlands, on January 2, 1823. Albert married Aartje "Alice" Van Den Hoek in Gelderland on October 15, 1869 and they immigrated to the United States two years later with two of their children. Alice, also a native of Gelderland, was born on January 27, 1850. The Beekmans owned a 140-acre farm in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Among their children were Sena [Stijntje], who was born on October 1, 1870 and married John Pellegrom of Grand Haven Township; Reijer, born on November 11, 1870; Albert, born on June 7, 1873; William, born on April 4, 1882; Della [Dirkey], who was born on September 5, 1884 and married Frederick J. Kieft II of Grand Haven; and Ganzen, born in November 1886. The younger children were all born locally. Albert died at home in Grand Haven Township on February 13, 1909, and Alice died, also at home, the following year.

Albert [Elbert] E. Beekman [1873-1962]

Albert was the son of Albert and Aartje Van Den Hoek Beekman. He was born in Grand Haven on June 7, 1873, died in the local hospital on June 7, 1962, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He was a carpenter by trade. On June 1, 1897, at a home on Seventh Street, Albert married Martje [Martha/Myrtle], daughter of Adam and Cornelia Kieft. She was born September 14, 1878, passed away on August 4, 1975, and also was buried at Lake Forest. The Beekmans raised their family at 834 [836] Slayton, but by the mid-1950s were living at 823 Slayton. The Beekmans' daughter, Gertrude, was born on April 28, 1901 in Grand Haven and died at Shore Haven Nursing Home in June 1994. Her husband, Martin Carl Olsen, was a native of Michigan City, Indiana and lived from June 22, 1902 to July 6, 1990. Another daughter, Agnes, was born May 3., 1904 and died in Grand Haven on January 31, 1995. Agnes married John Gunard of Grand Haven on April 30, 1927. Gunard lived from October 1, 1902 to February 18, 1981. The Beekmans' other son, Marvin Edwin, was born in Grand Haven on May 9, 1909.

Elbert William Beekman [1897-1978]

The son of Reijer and Elsie Hoeksema Beekman, Elbert was born in Grand Haven on March 14, 1897 and died in East Lansing in December 1978. He was a resident of Lansing as early as 1918, where he was employed as a bookkeeper. His wife, Anna, was born in Illinois on May 7, 1900 and died in Muskegon on February 3, 1988. Their children were Alfred, who was born on May 13, 1921 and died in Muskegon on March 18, 2000; Stuart, who was born on August 28, 1922 and died at Twin Lakes on November 29, 1998; and Doris M., who was born about 1825.

Marvin Edwin Beekman [1909-1985]

The son of Albert and Martje Kieft Beekman, Marvin was born in Grand Haven on May 9, 1909. He married Pauline Belle Westwood of Flint, who lived from January 14, 1910 to August 19, 1996. Marvin died November 6, 1985 at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. Pauline also died in Lansing.

Reijer [Reyer] Beekman [1870-1952]

The son of Albert and Aartje Van Den Hoek Beekman, Reijer was born in The Netherlands on November 11, 1870 and died in Grand Haven in 1952. In 1895 or 1896 he married Elsie Hoeksema in Ottawa County. Elsie, the daughter of John and Kate Hoeksema of Grand Haven, was born in The Netherlands on January 30, 1878. Elbert W., one of their children, was born on March 24, 1897 and another was Catherine, who was born on May 28, 1900 and married Ralph Sheffield. Both Elbert and Catherine were born in Grand Haven. Reijer worked at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. The Beekmans, who resided at 915 Fulton, were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Elsie died in Grand Rapids on May 28, 1975.

William Beekman [1882-1964]

William, the son of Albert and Aartje "Alice" Van Den Hoek Beekman, was born in Grand Haven on April 24, 1882. He married Margaret Pellegrom on October 21, 1909. She was born in Michigan on February 19, 1890 and died in Grand Haven on February 9, 1976. The Beekmans owned a 30-acre farm in Grand Haven Township. William died in Grand Haven about December 28, 1964. Their children, both born in Grand Haven Township, were Robert, who lived from September 12, 1913 to February 5, 1992, and Harold, who lived from October 16, 1915 to November 1958. Margaret and William were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Ernest Henry Beernink [1894-1970]

Ernest Beernink was born in Muskegon on July 2, 1894. In 1917 he resided in Coopersville, but by 1940 he had moved to Grand Haven and opened a physician's office at 222½ Washington. He received his medical degree from the University of Michigan in 1921. Ernest married Gladys Dunbrook on October 24, 1922. She was born in Grand Rapids on June 14, 1898. The couple resided at 502 Lafayette Street. They had three daughters: Betty, born about 1924; Beverly, born about 1928; and Mary, born about 1932. Their son John was born in December 1929. Ernest died on January 3, 1970 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Gladys passed away on March 11, 1976 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Orville Franklin Beers [1895-1958]

During WWI, Orville Beers served with the U.S. Army Supply Train with the rank of colonel. On July 22, 1920, he married Emma Sorenson in Atlantic, Iowa. By 1928 Orville had opened Beers Motor Company at 12-14 Franklin Street. In April 1933 Beers Motor merged with the Studebaker dealership, located at 9-11 South Second Street and owned by James W. Oakes. The combined operation offered Dodge, Plymouth, Packard, and Rockne automobiles, as well as Studebakers. Orville and Emma resided first at 1129 Pennoyer and later at 1515 Sheldon Road. Orville died in Florida on December 5, 1958 and was buried at Exira Cemetery in Exira, Iowa. Emma lived from January 23, 1897 to July 17, 1968 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Charles Begin I [1857-1907]

In 1889 Charles Begin sold his interest in a Spring Lake brick-making business to Fred J. Bertschy, who reopened it under the name Bertschy Brick & Tile Company. Charles became superintendent of the company. At another time he had a saloon on the southeast corner of Division and Savidge Streets in Spring Lake [226 West Savidge]. He married Lena Arentsen [Auisston/Arnstein/Arentson], in Ottawa County in 1889. Lena was born in Wisconsin on December 18, 1859 and died on July 15, 1931. The Begins' infant son, born in 1894, died on October 8, 1899. They also had a daughter, Florence P., born in February 1890, and a son, Charles H. II, born in December 1897. Charles I was born in Canada on February 2, 1857 and died on October 28, 1907. He and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles [Carl] Behm [1862-1942]

Charles, the son of Friedrich Johannes and Dorothea Maria Behm, was born in Prussia on November 29, 1862 and immigrated to the United States in 1868. The Behms settled in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township, where they lived in a log cabin. Charles and his brother Ferdinand [Fred] owned adjoining farms in Section 26, about a half mile east of U.S. 31 along what is now M-45. In 1897 Charles's 40 acres was on the east and Ferdinand's 40 acres on the west of the dividing line. The farms extended as far south as Winans. Charles also was road commissioner.

On December 4, 1887 in Grand Haven, Charles married Minna "Minnie" Groth, who was born in Germany on June 26, 1867, immigrated to the United States in 1880, died on June 11, 1906, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Their children, all born locally, were William, born in May 1888; Herman, born on February 28, 1893; Emil, born about 1895; Ida, born in September 1896; Otto Henry, born May 18, 1899 and Ewalt [Ewald], born on May 13, 1900. Ewalt worked with the maintenance department at the Brunswick Corporation in Muskegon. Charles died about December 2, 1942 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Charles William Behm [1870-1908]

Born in Grand Haven on May 16, 1870, the son of Captain Frederick and Wilhelmine "Minnie" Behm, Charles graduated in 1892 from the University of Michigan Medical School. He joined the Chicago Health Department as disinfectant chief. He married and lived at 409 Laurence Avenue in Chicago. Charles died of cancer of the liver on May 16, 1908, leaving his wife Jennie and several brothers. He was buried at Rosehill Cemetery and Mausoleum in Chicago. [Tribune obituary, May 18, 1908.]

Dorothy Klemke Behm [1908-1999] and Henry Behm [1904-1969]

Dorothy was born on February 26, 1908 to George and Augusta Anna Post Klemke. She married Henry Behm on June 4, 1927. He was born on July 10, 1904 and died in June 1969. Dorothy Behm was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church and was active with the Ladies Aid and Quilters Group. Their four sons included Richard and Kenneth of Grand Haven; Edwin of Arizona; and Edmond of California. Richard was born on July 3, 1930 and died in Grand Haven on October 15, 2015. He married Corinne Stevenson in Monroe, Monroe County in 1951. After Corinne's death in 1998, Dick married Marguerite Seigert on November 17, 2010. [Tribune obituary, 19, 2015.]

In 1930 Henry was a polisher at Grand Haven Brass Foundry.

Edward Louis Behm [1876-1964]

In 1908 Edward Behm made his living as a sailor. By 1918 he was foreman at the Panhard Motor Company at 1301 Fulton, and by the mid-1920s he owned a Hudson-Essex auto dealership and repair service at 1453 Pennoyer. On June 29, 1899 in Grand Haven, he married Matilda Retzlaff. They resided at 1302 Columbus.

Edward was born in Grand Haven on September 7, 1876. Mathilda was born in August 1877, passed away about May 27, 1965, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They resided at 526 Pennoyer. Edward passed away in Grand Haven in July 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Ernest Behm [1909-1987]

Ernest, the son of Henry and Henrietta Behm, was born on October 31, 1909. Before moving north, he worked for Anderson-Bolling for a number of years. His wife, Myrtle Schnitz, was born November 16, 1895 and died in Presque Isle on June 9, 1978. Ernest passed away while living in Presque Isle on April 14, 1987.

Ernest John Behm [1884-1969]

Ernest was another of several Behms who owned farms in Grand Haven Township. His was a 35-acre farm in Section 15 that had been in the family. Ernest was born in Grand Haven Township on May 12, 1884. He married Maria [Marie] Rosin in Grand Haven on May 5, 1909. They had three children: Frank W., who was born on May 16, 1910 and died on December 8, 1990; Dorothy, who was born on April 28, 1916, married Frank Karwoski [1915-1999], and died on May 17, 2003; and Franklin Louis, who was born on September 24, 1919 and died on May 23, 2007. Ernest passed away on February 2, 1969 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Maria lived from 1887 to 1973.

Ferdinand “Fred” W. Behm [Boehme] [1854-1940]

Born in Prussia on February 20, 1854, the son of Friedrich Johannes and Dorothea Maria Behm, Fred settled in Grand Haven Township with his parents in 1868 and was raised in a log cabin. He and his brother Charles owned adjoining farms in Section 26, about a half-mile east of U.S. 31 along M-45, as well as other acreage in the township. In 1897 Charles’s 40-acre farm was on the east and Ferdinand’s 40 acres was on the west of the dividing line. The farms extended as far south as Winans. Their family was among those that started Immanuel Lutheran Church in West Olive, which was moved to M-45, east of the farms, in the mid-1950s when U.S. 31 was improved. Fred was a Deacon of the church. His first wife, Bertha Emilie Louise Wauk, was born on February 22, 1850 and died in childbirth on October 9, 1897. They had at least three sons: Henry, born on September 1, 1875; Ernest, who was born on May 13, 1884; and Robert, who was born on September 13, 1894 and died on December 8, 1950. By 1900 Fred’s wife was Amelia [Emelie], who was born in Germany on January 27, 1862, immigrated to the United States in 1897, and passed away on June 5, 1939. Fred passed away on November 22, 1940 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery, as were Bertha and Amelia. [Tribune obituary, November 7 and 15, 1921.]

Frederick “Fred” C. W. [Karl Frederick] Behm [1844-1916]

Frederick Behm, who became a ship carpenter in Grand Haven, was born in Stettin, Prussia on June 22, 1844, the son of William and Karoline Hartman Behm. His wife, Wilhelminh “Minnie,” was born in the same country in February 1842. The Behms had four children, all born locally: Charles W., born on May 16, 1870; John W., born in 1871; Louis W., born in 1873; Lena, born on September 4, 1874; and Willi, who was born on April 20, 1877 and died of diphtheria on December 23, 1879. They also had an adopted child, Ella, born in Michigan in August 1897. The family resided at 216 Madison. In 1886 Captain Behm launched a two-masted schooner, named Lena Behm for his daughter. The 59-foot craft carried lumber, fruit, and other products to various Lake Michigan ports. Captain Behm sold the vessel when he retired in 1899. In 1900 he was classified as a lumber dealer and a few years later he was working as a carpenter. Lena passed away on November 11, 1899. Frederick died on April 26, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, daughter, and other family members. Minnie died in 1917.

Frederick W. Behm [1867-1957]

A native of Michigan, Frederick Behm was born on July 22, 1867. His wife, Hedwig “Hattie,” was born in Germany in August 1877 and came to the United States in 1885. The Behms owned a farm in Grand Haven Township. Their children, all born locally, included Fransciska “Francis,” born in July 1897, Margaretha “Greta,” born in July 1898, and Florence, born about 1903. Fred died on July 3, 1957 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Friedrich Johannes “John” Behm [1812-1888]

Friedrich Johannes Behm was born in Prussia on April 18, 1812 and died in Grand Haven Township on April 21, 1888. His wife, Dorothea “Dora” Maria, also a native of Prussia, lived from December 3, 1819 to April 28, 1895. All their children were born in Prussia: Wilhelmina “Mina,” born on February 2, 1842; Johan Fredeick, who was born and died in Prussia; Maria, born on May 5, 1846; Wilhelm, born in November 1848; Caroline “Lena,” who was born on May 17, 1851 and married Henry Luss of Grand Haven; Ferdinand, born on February 20, 1854; Johan “John” C., born in July 1856; Mathilde, born on January 22, 1859; and Carl “Charles,” born on November 29, 1862. The family settled on 160 acres in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township in 1868. Friedrich and Dorothea were buried in Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Johan Frederick Wilhelm “William” Behm [1817-1879]

Born in Stettin, Germany on May 17, 1817 William Behm immigrated to Ottawa County and by 1864 owned approximately 200 acres in Section 21 of Grand Haven Township and an additional 100 acres or so in Section 15. While still in Germany, he married Karoline [Caroline] Wilhelmine Augusta Hartman, who was born in Stettin, Germany in January 1816 [1821]. The Behms had six children, all born in Stettin: Karl Frederick, who was born on June 22, 1844 and settled in Grand Haven Township; Albertina, who was born about 1845, married a Mr. Kuehne in Berlin, and died in Chicago about 1876; Ludwig, who was born about 1846 and resided in Grand Haven; Auguste Wilhelmine Dorothee, who was born on June 17, 1850, married Friedrich Kramer of Grand Haven, died on November 10, 1941, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Amelia [Emelie], who was born in Prussia about 1852 and married Charles Hass of Grand Haven on June 5, 1873; and Louise Augusta Dortha, who was born September 1, 1855 and married Wilhelm “William” Ernst Heinrich Zoerner of Grand Haven. Johan passed away on December 24, 1879 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Karoline died on March 23, 1892.

Johan “John” Behm [Beam] [1819-1907]

Born in 1819 in Prussia [Germany], John Behm was one of the first 23 members of the German Immanuel Church and one of its original elders when the church was organized in 1870 in Grand Haven Township. John and his wife, Minnie, were married in June 1842 in Prussia. She was born about 1823 and died on July 1, 1907. They settled first in Niagara County, New York in 1848. By 1864 the Behms owned a 95-acre farm in Section 16 of Grand Haven Township, at the northeast and northwest corners of Buchanan and Lakeshore Drive. Their children were Johannes, who lived from 1852 to 1917 and whose 50-acre farm was directly across the street from his parents; Ferdinand [Fred], who lived from 1854 to 1910; Helena, who was born in 1864 and married Andrew Van Hoef of Grand Haven; William, who was born about 1865 and moved to Los Angeles, California; Annie, who was born about 1866 and married Henry Steffens of Agnew; John C., who married Hazel Hurinel on November 13, 1914; and Charles and Henry Behm, who moved to St. Paul, Minnesota. The Village of Agnew originally was named Johnsville in honor of Johan Behm. He died at his home on May 1, 1907 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery with Minnie. [Tribune obituaries, March 11, 1907 and July 1, 1907.]

Johannes “John” Behm [1850-1917]

Johannes Behm was born in New York in April 1850. He married Wilhelmina Emilie Augusta Ehrke, also known as Minna or Minnie. She was born in Germany in October 1854, came to the United States in 1868 and died in 1919. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Albert, born on April 24, 1875; Henry, born on September 1, 1877; Bertha, who was born in 1880 and died on January 13, 1899; Anna, born in July 1882; Louis, born in February 1885; and John, born on May 12, 1887. John, Minna, and Bertha were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery;

Johannes “John” C. Behm [1856-1938]

John Behm was born in Germany on July 21, 1856 and came to the United States in 1868. His wife, Mathilda, was born in Michigan in September 1858, passed away in 1919, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Their daughter Emma was born in September 1882, and Clara, who became a telephone operator, was born on September 20, 1890. The Behms also had a son, Ferdinand “Fred,” who was born on March 15, 1880, became a teamster, and on October 30, 1912 in Coopersville married Cleora Olive Ives Walling, the widow of Amos Walling. Another son, Walter, was born in July 1884.

In 1900 the Behms owned a farm in Section 16 of Grand Haven Township. According to the 1908 Directory, Matilda and her daughter Emma ran a millinery shop at 103-105 Washington Street, and John had a draying business and sold windmills and pumps. His business and residence were both located at 202 North Seventh Street. By 1910 the couple was residing in Grand Rapids. John died in Grand Haven on December 16, 1938.

Ludwig Behm [1845-1905]

The son of William and Karoline Hartman Behm, Ludwig was born Stettin, Germany in October 1845 and immigrated to America in 1871. He married Albertine Louise Marie [Mena/Mary] Hartmann, worked as a ship’s carpenter in Grand Haven, and died in St. Louis, Missouri on January 12, 1905.

Richard H. Behm [1930-2015]

In the mid-1940s, when he only 16 years old, Dick Behm started a long career with the U. S. Corps of Engineers, working as cabin boy on the hopper dredge General Mead. He retired 38 years later as captain of another Corps of Engineers’ vessel, Peter Conover Hains. The son of Henry and Dorothy Klemke Behm, Dick was born in Grand Haven on July 3, 1930. He married Corrine Stevenson in Monroe, Monroe County on October 27, 1952. She was born in Monroe on May 15, 1929 and died in Grand Haven on January 10, 1998. After her death, he married Marguerite Selgert on November 17, 2010. Dick received his Pilot’s License after serving as an infantryman with the Third Division during the Korean conflict. After retirement from the Corps of Engineers, he chaired the Harbor Board for 12 years, and he worked on the continuing restoration of Pere Marquette engine #1223 on display at the Coal Tipple. He was a member of the American Legion Post #28 in Grand Haven. [Chronicle obituary, October 19, 2015.]

William Ludwig Behm [1863-1940]

William and Alvirne [Alvine] Behm owned a 180-acre farm in Section 21 of Grand Haven Township. William was born in Michigan in July 1863. Alvirne was the daughter of Wilhelm and Emily Friese. Wilhelm Friese was born in May 1837 and came to Grand Haven Township in 1899. Emilie, a native of Germany, was born in June 1838. William and Alvirne were married in Milwaukee on May 5, 1897. Alvirne had been married before, and had a son, Willi, born in Germany in April 1894. The family of four was residing in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township in 1900. By 1908 they had moved to California. Alvirne was born in Leipzig, Germany on February 23, 1871 and died in Anaheim, California on February 25, 1958. William, a native of Wheatfield, New York, lived from July 2, 1862 to October 16, 1940.

John “Jack” Paul Beihl [1893-1964]

Jack Beihl was born in Grand Haven on January 4, 1893. His father William was born in West Virginia [then part of Virginia] in 1861 and died on February 19, 1928. His mother, Mary Ann Bishop Beihl, was born in England in 1867 and died on December 11, 1941. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Beihls moved to Grand Haven from Wheeling, West Virginia, during the 1880s or early 1890s and early in the next decade made their home at 1202 Franklin, where they remained a number of years. William worked at Story & Clark. Jack had three sisters and four brothers. As a coronet player, he was a member of the Grand Haven Concert Band in its early days, as well as the Jackie Band and the Elk’s Band. In his teens Jack became a member of the Wallace M. Ewing’s Zouave Band for a year, and he gave Henry Kooiman lessons on the saxophone. He earned enough money from his musical talents to cover his tuition fees at Ferris Institute [Ferris State University], where he graduated in 1917 as a pharmacist. He worked for the Van I. Witt Pharmacy in downtown Grand Haven [216 Washington]. About 1922 Jack became a partner with John Boyink and bought Raymond Presley's Square Drug Store on the northwest corner of Seventh and Fulton Streets [635 Fulton]. Two years later, he bought out Boyink and became the sole owner of the store but lost it during the Depression. After the loss, Jack worked as pharmacist at Mulder's Drug Store [136 Washington] and Voss's at 635 Fulton. In 1928 Jack was elected alderman under Mayor Herbert H. Hillman. He served again in 1929.

On March 11, 1919, Jack married Ruth Mae Workman of Spring Lake and they moved into a home on Lake Avenue before building a house at 515 South Seventh Street as early as the 1920s, where they remained into the 1960s. One of their children, Kathleen, was born about 1921 and died in 1997. Jack died on July 4, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ruth was born on May 11, 1896 and died in Grand Haven on October 25, 1974.

Harvey Bekins [1934-2016]

Born on June 30, 1934 in West Olive, Harvey was the son of Joseph and Jennie Kuyers Bekins. Harvey started his own business, Bekins' Appliance, after working for 27 years as an appliance repairman for Cook's Appliance Store. He married Barbara Purcell on March 27, 1954. The daughter of Robert and Ruth Start Purcell, she was born in Sault Ste. Marie on August 15, 1935. Harvey's and Barbara's children were Cheryl, who married Terry Alman; Cindy Kleinheksel; Karen, who married Mike Sterenberg; Kelley, who married David Reenders; and Scott. Some years prior to Harvey's death, Scott assumed management of the family store and expanded it. The store was located at 735 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Harvey died in Grand Haven on April 7, 2016. He was buried at Lakeshore Cemetery in Grand Haven Township. Barbara passed away on March 4, 2021 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, April 11, 2016.]

Charles Hobart "Hoby" Bell [1905-1985]

The brother of Helen Bell, with whom he shared a home at 18168 Terrace Road in Spring Lake, and son of Jacob and Martha Bell, C. Hobart Bell was born on July 23, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on April 28, 1985. He owned and operated Hoby Bell's Sport Shop, first located in the mid-1930s at 118 Washington Street, then at 126 Washington in the 1940s, and finally at 220 North Beacon by 1971. He and Joseph Zeimet I were partners when the Sport Shop was established about 1935. Before he opened the shop on Washington, Hoby was a trimmer at Grand Haven Awning and Auto Trim, located at 409 North Seventh Street. At that time, he and his sister lived with their mother, Martha Bell, at 1411 Washington Street.

Charles Y. Bell [1808-1870]

Charles Bell married Eliza Barber, the sister of Jabez Barber. Eliza was born in England about 1807. After Jabez lost his life in the wreck of the Pacific while returning from England in 1854, Charles took up residence in Spring Lake and ran the business. His wife had inherited the Barber property. Charles was born in 1808 and died on October 26, 1870. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their son Charles eventually took over the mill, which became known as the W. H. Bell Company. Also working at the mill were two other sons, Edward, born in Canada about 1847, and Frederick, also born in Canada, in 1845. Frederick died on September 18, 1870. Henry, a bookkeeper, was another member of the Bell family employed at the mill in 1870. He was born in Canada about 1833.

Edwin George Bell I [1837-1915]

Born in Canada [Clinton County, New York] on April 1, 1837, Edwin Bell came to Grand Haven from Menasha, Wisconsin in July 1878 as bookkeeper for the Wait Manufacturing Company. When the Wait Company was reorganized in 1881, Edwin was named president and general manager. On September 3, 1862 he married Louisa Buttrick [Buttrich] in Appleton, Wisconsin. She was born in New York and lived from 1844 to 1941. Edwin died on August 4, 1915 in Iowa City, Iowa. and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was his wife. They had two children born in Wisconsin: Mattie A., who lived from 1867 to 1935, and Clara C., born in 1869 and married Hubert "Bert" Mansfield of Grand Haven. A son, Edwin G. II, was born in Grand Haven in 1886 and died shortly after birth.

Living with the Bells in Grand Haven in 1880 was Louisa's sister, Flora Buttrick. Flora was born in Menasha, Wisconsin on September 10, 1861. She married Chester W. Richard in Grand Haven on September 23, 1885. Flora died in Coopersville on April 20, 1932.

Helen M. Bell [1898-1968]

Born October 5, 1898 in Salem, Massachusetts, Helen was the sister of C. Hobart Bell of Spring Lake. As a child she moved to Holland with her parents, Jacob and Martha Bell, and graduated from Holland High School and Hope College. Helen did graduate work at Northwestern University and received her master degree from the University of Wisconsin. She taught at Hope College for five years and then came to Grand Haven, where she taught American history at the high school until her retirement in 1964 after 42 years teaching. She was one of the organizers of the League of Women Voters in the 1940s. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church. Helen died at her home, which she shared with her brother, at 18168 Terrace, Spring Lake, on October 10, 1968 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 11, 1968.]

John Bell [1844-1893]

John Bell was listed in the 1893 Compendium as "engineer." He was born in New York about July 2, 1844, died on January 2, 1893, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 4, 1870 in Lisbon, Ottawa County, he married Helen Braisted [Brasted], who was born "at sea" about 1852. They resided at 214 Columbus. John and Helen had a daughter Jennie, who was born locally about July 1879, and a son, William James, who was born locally on October 7, 1873 and married Jennie Cuning in Grand Haven on December 30, 1892. William was a Grand Haven fireman.

William H. Bell [1840-1913]

William Bell joined the firm of Barber & Mason in Spring Lake in 1864 as an engineer. The son of Charles Y. and Eliza Barber Bell, William was born in Canada and lived from February 1840 to June 12, 1913. Eventually the mill took William's name and was called W. H. Bell Company. By 1876 William owned more than 85 acres in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township. In 1900 he continued to work as a lumberman. William was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Salvador [Salvatore] Belsito [1870- ?]

Salvador Belsito and his wife Rose arrived in the United States in 1893, a year after their marriage in Italy. Salvador was born in February 1870, and Rose was born in April 1872. In 1896 they came to Grand Haven, where Salvador opened a fruit market at 126 Washington. He missed his native land, and sold the business to Charlie Spadore in 1907, allowing him and his family to return to Italy. The Belsitos had two children: Tillizena, who was born in Italy about 1893, and Nellie, who was born in June 1900 in Grand Haven.

Albert Earl Bement [1879-1957]

Born in Georgetown Township, Ottawa County, on May 10, 1879 [1878], Albert Bement owned a 40-acre farm in Section 30 of Allendale Township. His parents were Harley C. and Marinda Parker Bement, who were married in Ottawa County on June 14, 1857. On March 30, 1905, in Ottawa Station, Albert married Fern Headly, who lived from 1883 to October 1, 1969 and was buried at Allendale Cemetery with her husband, who passed away in 1957. The Bements had six children. Clemens Bement was Albert's brother.

Clemens Clinton Bement I [1867-1955]

Around 1900 Clemens Bement and Henry Spear owned Spear & Bement, "Manufacturers of Fish, Syrup and Pickle Packages, Flour, Fruit, and all kinds of slack barrels." The company was located in Grand Haven. Clemens was a cooper by trade. The son of Harley C. and Marinda Parker Bement, he was born in Georgetown Township on May 29, 1867. He married Lutie [Leutie] I. Robinson on September 15, 1892 in Robinson Township. Lutie, the daughter of Ira and Marian Juilene Robinson, was born locally on July 19, 1870. They were married about 1892. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Sherman, born in July 1892;

Herold, born in August 1895; and Clemens II, who was born on August 16, 1899 and died in February 1985. The family resided on Washington Street. By 1930 the Bements were residing in Bay City, Saginaw County, where Clemens passed away on November 16, 1955. Lutie died on December 31, 1964 in Gladwin, Gladwin County. Albert Bement was Clemens brother.

Harley Bement I [1795-1882]

On January 19, 1863 Harley Bement I enlisted in Grand Rapids as private with Company F of the 7th Michigan Calvary during the Civil War. He was mustered out a few months later, on May 12, 1863 because of severe "illness," probably a reference to the loss of his left hand. He received $8.00 a month for his service and wound. In 1834 [1818] he married Eliza Wood Briggs, who was born about 1800. Eliza died in June 1856 in a house fire in Croton, Newaygo County. On February 27, 1857 in Ottawa County, he married Annie "Anna" Parker. She was born in New York about 1818. Harley was born in Lenox, Massachusetts about 1795 and served with the Sixth New York Infantry in the War of 1812. A compilation of veterans of that war listed Harley as serving in Dox's and Perry's Company of the 13th Regiment of the United States Army. Harley and Eliza had at least one son, Harley II, who was born in Steuben County, New York on January 3, 1835. The young Harley also served during the Civil War. Harley and Eliza had nine other children. The 1850 census cited Harley I as owning an 80-acre farm in Section 5 of Georgetown Township. The family was located there by 1845. Harley died on March 1 [3], 1882 in Allendale, probably at the home of Harley II. On July 22 his widow applied for a widow's pension.

Harley Bement II [1835-1916]

Harley C. and Marinda Parker Bement were married in Georgetown Township on June 14, 1857. Marinda was his stepmother's sister. Among their children were Clemens Clinton, born in Georgetown Township on May 29, 1867, and Albert Earl, born in Georgetown Township on May 10, 1879. On May 13, 1861 in Grand Rapids, Harley enlisted as corporal and joined Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry about a month later. He received a disability discharge on November 11, 1862 in New York City. According to an 1890 Civil War census of veterans in Ottawa County, Harley's left hand had been shot off in the war, deeming him "crippled, useless." Harley settled in Georgetown Township after the war and moved to Allendale Township about 1881. In Allendale, he was a justice of the peace for 20 years. The son of Harley and Eliza Briggs Bement I, Harley II was born in Steuben County, New York on January 3, 1835 and died on November 5, 1916. He was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. Marinda, who was born about June 1835 in Indiana, passed away in 1915.

George Benedict [? - ?]

George Benedict was born in Brooklyn, New York on August 4, 1888. His father leased a building on the corner of Fulton and Ferry Streets [1003 Fulton], formerly the Maurer Glove Factory, to manufacture baseballs. Organized as a branch of a Brooklyn, New York company, the local business sold baseballs to a number of minor league teams. [Tribune article, "GH Sources New Industry," February 2, 1909.]

George J. Benedict [1888-1955]

George Benedict was born in Crystal Valley, Oceana County on August 4, 1888. He married Ora F. Wellman in Grand Rapids on June 29, 1912. George worked for Challenge Machinery, Story & Clark, Rest Haven Home in Spring Lake, and in other places. He belonged to Grand Haven Gospel Church and started its first Sunday School. The Benedicts had two sons, Homer, born in 1915, and Theodore, who was born about 1919 and remained in Grand Haven. They also had two daughters, Frances, born in 1913, and Theodora, Theodore's twin sister, born in 1919. Frances married John Van Dyke of Grand Haven, and Theodora married Bert Smith and moved to Grand Rapids. George died in Grand Haven on April 29, 1955. Ora lived from August 21, 1887 to April 29, 1967. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [

Homer W. Benedict [1914-1976]

With Lester Kammeraad as his partner, Homer Benedict started Grand Haven Screw Products in 1947. Benedict was born in Grand Haven on July 29, 1914 and died there on January 2, 1976. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Benedict's wife was Christine Dense, whom he married on July 13, 1933. They resided at 519 Terrill in Grand Haven. After Homer's death his son, Robert P. Benedict, became president of the company. Robert's wife Sheryl was vice president. Richard and Sheryl resided at 14879 Cross Lane in Spring Lake Township. Christine passed away on December 12, 2001 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Frank Benes [1922-1998]

Frank Benes married Margaret J., daughter of John and Janet Van Tol Verseput of Grand Haven. Margaret lived from April 23, 1920 to November 22, 1994. Frank, who worked for Construction Aggregates in Ferrysburg, was born on August 12, 1922 and died on September 7, 1998. The Beneses resided at 15705 Robbins Road. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Whitman Stoddard Benham [1826-1880]

Born on February 9, 1826 in Byron, New York, the third son of James and Lucy Mead Benham II, Whitman first taught for a while and then became interested in newspaper publishing. The Benhams left New York and moved to Peru, Indiana, where Whitman was editor of the Republican. From there he became editor and owner of the Bedford, Indiana Independent, and the Newton, Iowa Free Press, before moving to Grand Haven. In June 1877 Whitman bought the Grand Haven Herald from Crinis H. Dubois and published it until his death. Guy Weber bought the business from Benham's estate.

Whitman married Sarah Louise Bates on February 9, 1856. Sarah was born in New York in 1832. They had six children, two of whom survived: George Bates, who was born in Indiana in 1860 and died in 1910, and Grace, who was born in Newton, Iowa on March 11, 1869 and, like her brother, died in 1910. Bates was listed as printer in the 1880 census. Whitman and his wife died in the wreck of the Alpena, which was lost in Lake Michigan on October 15, 1880.

Peter "Perry" Henry Benjamin [1861-1917]

The Wiltshire Glove Company had a factory near the southwest corner of Washington and Second Streets in Grand Haven. In the early 1900s Perry Benjamin was secretary of the company. Perry was born in Zeeland on October 28, 1861. On December 27, 1888, in Hamilton, Allegan County, he married May E. Harvey. May the daughter of John Delia Harvey, was born in Kalamazoo County in 1867. May died in Allegan County on January 22, 1897 and was buried at Zeeland Cemetery. On October 31, 1901, in Grand Haven, Perry married Margaret Ellen Young, who was born in Grand Haven in 1871. She was the daughter of William and Ellen Young and sister of Williamena Young. The Benjamins lived at 308 South Fifth Street. After Perry's death, Margaret and her sister Williamena lived in their parents' home at 406 Lake Avenue. The Benjamins attended the Presbyterian Church. Their daughter, Lois Catherine, was born on December 12, 1909 and died on August 7, 1929. She was buried near her grandparents, William and Ellen Young, at Lake Forest Cemetery. Perry died on May 4, 1917 in Florida and was buried at Zeeland Cemetery. Margaret passed away on December 29, 1958 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Alfred Bennett [Bennet] [1803-1881]

Alfred and Louisa Bennett, apparently the first permanent Black settlers in the Grand Haven area, were living in Spring Lake Township by 1845. They and their descendants remained in the Spring Lake and Grand Haven area for decades. Alfred Bennett was born in Virginia [New York] on August 12, 1803. He married Louisa [Louise] McWilliams, a native of New York, who was born about 1806. The Bennetts appear in the 1850 census for Spring Lake. The next year, on October 4, 1851 the Bennetts purchased from Henry Pennoyer and William Kanouse land just east of Five Mile Hill, the location of today's Grand Haven YMCA [Section 29 of Grand Haven Township]. Not long after paying $100 for the parcel, they purchased additional abutting land. Their combined holdings of 24 acres were known as Bennett's Hollow long before it became Mulligan's Hollow, as it is called today. On October 25, 1856, the Bennetts purchased a parcel of land in Section 8 of Spring Lake Township from Leonard Thompson, their son-in-law. The Bennetts moved their homestead to the Hollow, and they were there at the time of the 1860 census. Another Black family, Leonard and Mary Thompson, lived next door to the Bennetts. The Bennett family was not found in the 1870 enumeration, and by the time of the next census they were residing on Third Street in Grand Haven. John Mulligan purchased the Hollow in the 1870s. The Bennetts' children, all born in New York, were George, born in July 1826; Edward, born about 1831; John E., who was born about 1834 and in 1860 worked as a cook at the Rice Hotel in downtown Grand Haven; Mary J., born on May 30, 1839; Virgil, born about 1841; Rutson [Rudson] M., born about 1844; and Helen, who was born in July 1845 and married Albert Hicks of Grand Haven. Living with Alfred and Louisa in 1880 was their eight-year-old grandson Ivan Bennett. Alfred died in Grand Haven on January 16, 1881. His was one of the bodies moved when the original cemetery was converted to Central Park and Lake Forest became the city's burying ground. [On July 19, 1883 the Grand Haven City Council passed a number of resolutions requiring removal of the bodies, considering the action a "public necessity to safeguard the health of the community." Most of the dead were relocated to the more remote Lake Forest Cemetery]. Louisa, who passed away on March 17, 1885, also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Dennis H. Bennett [1861-1940]

Dennis Bennett partnered with Jesse Woodbury of Allendale Township to start a planing mill. Dennis was born in May 1861 in Michigan. On January 15, 1890 in Allendale, he married Emma Jenkins. She was born in May 1873 in Michigan. They had at least three children: Flossie, born about 1892; Fidelia, born about 1893, and Nellie, born about 1896. Dennis and Emma were married in 1889. By 1930 they had moved to Gaines in Kent County. Dennis died in 1940 and was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. Emma had passed away in 1936 and also was buried at Allendale.

Dick Bennett [@1831- ?]

In 1870 Dick Bennett worked as a laborer residing in Grand Haven. He was born about 1831 in New York. With him in Grand Haven was his wife Ann, who was born in Ohio about 1834. Their children were Ruth, who was born about 1852 and became a dressmaker; Mary, also born about 1852 and also a dressmaker; John, born in New York about 1858; Henry, born in Indiana about 1862; William, born about 1864; Susan, born about 1867; and Phebe, born about 1869. Ruth and Mary were born in Ohio, William, Susan, and Phebe were born in Michigan. Another member of the Bennett household in 1870 was Mary Witter, also a dressmaker, born in Ohio about 1851.

George E. Bennett I [1826-1902]

Alfred and Louisa Bennett's oldest child, George, married Bridget [Britton], a White woman, who was born in Ireland about 1823. George's and Britton's children, listed as Mulattoes in the 1860 census, were Sarah L., born in Michigan about 1856, George E. II, born in Wisconsin about 1858, and Charles, born in Michigan about 1866. George I, born in New York in July 1826, worked as a laborer in Grand Haven, but by the time of the 1880 census he and his family had moved to Walker, Kent County, where he was employed as an expressman [a freight handler]. In 1900 he was a widower and retired and still residing in Walker. He died in Grand Rapids on October 19, 1902. The Bennett family was Black.

Orlie Lewis Bennett

The son of Harry E. [1894-1984] and Carrie Elizabeth Lawton [1899-1969] Bennett, Orlie was born in Allendale on May 31, 1930 and graduated from Coopersville High School in 1948. On June 2, 1955 he married Carol Jean Memler in Woodstock, Michigan. Orlie served as first lieutenant with the United States Army from 1957 to 1959. He then worked as a sound technician in Lansing. He also was an amateur marine historian who wrote several articles on shipyards and ship wrecks in the Grand Haven area. Carol, who was born in 1935 in Kenosha, Wisconsin, died in 1986 and was buried at Deepdale Memorial Park in Eaton County. After her death, Orlie married Marie Marsha Sedlon, a widow who was born in Lansing in 1932.

He died in Lansing on December 18, 1996 and also was buried at Deepdale. Marie passed away in 2013 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Rutson [Rudson, Rutsen] Bennett [1844-1917]

On March 12, 1863 in Detroit, Rutson Bennett enlisted as private in Company E of the 1st Michigan Colored Infantry. The regiment left Detroit on March 28, 1864 and was first attached to the Ninth Army in Annapolis, Maryland, but around the middle of the next month it was sent to Hilton Head, South Carolina, and eventually on to other assignments in the southeast United States. The troops of the 102nd participated in a number of battles, mostly in South Carolina. Rutson, the son of Alfred and Louisa Bennett of Grand Haven, was promoted to corporal on January 1, 1864. He and the rest of the regiment were mustered out in Charleston, South Carolina on September 30, 1865 and released with pay in Detroit two and a half weeks later.

Rutson's wife, Ellen [Ella], was born in Missouri about 1847. They had three sons, including Irwin [Edwin], who was born in Grand Haven on June 7, 1872 and died in Grand Haven on September 7, 1872. Another of their sons, Eugene, was born locally about 1874. A third son, Frederick, died in Grand Haven on December 24, 1877 at the age of one year. In the 1870s Rutson worked as a barber at a shop on Washington Street in downtown Grand Haven. He and Ellen were still in Grand Haven as late as December 24, 1877, the day they lost their three-month old infant boy, Frederick, who was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. By 1880 Rutson and Ellen were residing in Savannah, Georgia, where both worked as hairdressers. Ellen passed away in Savannah on October 30, 1900. In 1910 Rutson was a widower living alone in Oakland, Alameda County, California. In the Alameda Voter Registration for 1912, Rutson was noted as being a Socialist and still working as a hairdresser. His brother Virgil's obituary of November 6, 1915 listed Rutson as a resident of California, and he was listed in the Oakland City Directory of 1916 as being a barber. Soon after that, he moved to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where he died on December 7, 1917. His occupation was listed as Barber. Rutson was born in New York State on May 15, 1844.

Selet Bennett [? - ?]

Selet Bennett appeared as the name of the father in two death records for Ottawa County, but did not show up in any other records. On April 8, 1891, his son Bertel died. Bertel was born in Michigan on January 20, 1874. Selet's daughter Daisy died a little more than a month after her brother, on May 23. She was nine years old. The cause of their deaths was not given. Their mother's name was Elizabeth. Selet and his family were Black.

Virgil C. Bennett [1841-1915]

Virgil, the son of Alfred and Louisa Bennett, in 1880 was working as a tugboat engineer in Grand Haven. He married Celeste Bourdley in Ottawa County on January 27, 1866. She was born in Pennsylvania [Canada] in 1847. As early as 1871 and into the 1880s Celeste owned and operated a laundry at the corner of Fulton and Third Streets, where she, Virgil, and their ten children also resided. The children, all born locally, included Robert C., born about 1866; Nan, born on December 29, 1868; Mary, born about 1869; Cecilia, born in October 1869; Ira W., who was born about 1871 and moved to Cleveland; Virgil Alfred, born on March 10, 1873; Harry M., born on December 18, 1874; Clara L, born on June 6, 1876; Joseph Almer, who was born on January 19, 1878 and died on May 15, 1879, and Alva [Alovy], who was born on March 3, 1879 and died on February 2 two years later. Both Joseph and Alva were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Living next door to Virgil and his family on Third Street were his parents, Alfred and Louisa Bennett. In 1860 Virgil was working as a laborer, as were his father and his brother, Edward. Virgil left town for a number of years, not returning until 1912 or so. None of Virgil's children appears in subsequent censuses for Ottawa County. He passed away at the home of Ulysses Fordham in Ferrysburg on November 6, 1915 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Celeste passed away in 1934 and also was buried at Lake Forest, where her name was listed as May Bennett. On various occasions Virgil's wife's name appears as Celeste, Celestia, Silly, and May. The various names must refer to the same woman, since presumably Virgil had one wife. It was an African American family. [Tribune obituary, November 6, 1915.]

Ward [Warren] William Bennett [1879–1959]

Lieutenant Commander Ward Bennett was Coast Guard District Commander in Grand Haven from 1933 until 1939, when the headquarters were moved. Before that he was a crewman. He was born in Glen Haven, Leelanau County on June 21, 1879 and married Jessica M. Hanchew [Hanshew] in Charlevoix on February 15, 1907. She was born in Indiana in 1887. They had a son, Kentnor Ward., who was born about 1911 and died around December 10, 1938. The family was residing at 17 South Fourth Street in Grand Haven in 1930. Ward died on May 28, 1959 and was buried with his son at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 28, 1959.]

James Benstead [Beaustead] [1816-1877]

The Bensteads were early settlers in the Spring Lake area. James was born in England on January 25, 1816 and died on June 27, 1877. His wife, Mary, was born in England on May 26, 1814 and died on June 18, 1883. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their daughter Ella was born in Michigan in 1858. In 1870 James was a teamster. William Benstead was James's brother.

William Benstead [Beaustead] [1812-1880]

The Bensteads were early settlers in the Spring Lake area. William was born in England on June 19, 1812. His wife, Mary Ann, was born in England on November 30, 1814 and died on June 18, 1906. William was a teamster in 1870. He died on June 21, 1880. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. James and William Benstead were brothers.

Isaac Wilbur [Wren] Berd [1842-1912]

Born into slavery in South Springs, Virginia and sold "on the block" three times, Isaac Berd eventually found his way to Grand Haven. On January 28, 1870 in Grand Haven, he married Anna Smith. The family appeared in the 1880 Federal Census as residents in a house on Second Street in Grand Haven. Isaac was a cook on a boat and Anna was a dressmaker. Living with them was a daughter, 8 years old, and a sister-in-law Alexandra Savina, who worked with Anna as a dressmaker. Each member of the household was listed as Black. By the late 1880s, the Berds were residing in Muskegon.

Isaac held a variety of jobs in Grand Haven, Montague, and Muskegon. Among his other jobs, he was chef at the Rice House in Grand Haven. During the Civil War, he went to the front with his "master," a man named Christian, who was an officer in the Confederate Army. When Christian died of measles, Isaac escaped and joined the federal forces.

Isaac died in Muskegon on July 27, 1912. [Tribune article, "Born in Slavery—Won Success," July 31, 1912.]

Carl Ferdinand Berg [1906-1976]

Carl was born in Grand Haven on March 31, 1906, the son of Ferdinand and Mary Schroeder Berg. Carl married Margaret Julia Wachter, who was born on January 6, 1909 and died on April 9, 1992. The Bergs around 1930 resided at 211 Fulton. Carl, who was an auto mechanic, owned the Grand Haven Pontiac dealership at 9-11 Washington. The building was destroyed by fire on January 18, 1940, but Carl rebuilt and continued operating his business until he sold it to Donald Rosso of Grand Haven about 1958. Carl died on August 19, 1976.

Ferdinand [Fred] Berg [1873-1961]

Ferdinand, the son of William F. and Mary Berg, lived from June 22, 1873 to June 5, 1961, and his wife, Mary, from August 22, 1886 to February 5, 1973. They owned a 110-acre farm in Grand Haven and Robinson Townships.

Frederich Berg [1844-1933]

Frederich [Ferdinand] Berg by 1876 owned an 80-acre farm in Section 13 of Grand Haven Township. The farm by 1912 had expanded to 220 acres, plus additional acreage in Robinson Township. Frederick was born in Prussia in April 1844 [1845] and died in 1933. His wife, Wilhelmina [Wilhelmine], lived from May 1845 to 1914. Both were born in Prussia and immigrated to the United States in 1872. A son, Herman, who was born on March 22, 1888, took title to the property. Their other children were Elizabeth, who was born in Prussia about 1871 and died in Ottawa County on November 27, 1881; Carl, born in Prussia about 1872; Mathilde, who was born about 1874 and died on July 10, 1893; Martha Maria Helene [Mary], who was born on April 26, 1876 and married Henry Saul II of Grand Haven Township; Richart [Richard], who was born on April 3, 1878 and married May Stearns in Grand Haven on October 8, 1905; Wilhelm [William Frederick], born on February 24, 1880; Frederick II, born in November 1882; Edward, born in January 1884; and Herman, born in March 1888. Elizabeth and Carl were born in Prussia, while the other children were born locally. Frederick and Wilhelmina were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Frederick William Berg [1849-1931]

Frederick William [William Ferdinand/Frederich] Berg was born on March 22, 1849 in Ziemkendorf, Germany and died on July 6, 1931. In 1874 he married Mary Priem, also a native of Germany, who lived from December 7, 1849 to May 29, 1935. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William served in the Franco-Prussian War in 1870-71. With his wife and oldest son, William immigrated to the United States in 1883 and settled on a farm in Robinson Township. About 1919 William and Mary moved to 310 North Third in Grand Haven. Among their children were Ferdinand Berg, born in Germany in June 1873; Carl Ferdinand [Charles Fred] Berg, who was born on September 12, 1880; Elizabeth Louise "Lizzie" Berg, who was born on April 10, 1884, married Albert Graska [1879-1950] of Grand Haven, died on December 3, 1946, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; August Berg, born in May 1887; Frederick William Berg II, born on April 3, 1891; William Berg, born on August 19, 1893; Matilda Berg, born in March 1896; and Bertha Berg, who married a Mr. Van Weelden. [Tribune article, "Death Claims William Berg," July 6, 1931.]

Wilfred [Wilfrid] "Wally" Theodore Berg [1908-2002]

Wally Berg is well known for his murals at Hackley Library and the Muskegon Museum of History and Sciece in Muskegon, but he painted and sketched scene of Grand Haven and West Michigan in general, too. While holding various jobs with Muskegon businesses, he took evening classes in sketching at Hackley Manual Training School. His teacher, Frank Almy, was director of the Muskegon Museum of Art from 1930 to 1956. In recognition of Wally's talent, Almy in 1934 recommended that the Works Progress Administration hire him to paint mural for the Children's Department at Hackley Library. Those murals remain in the Children's Department. He also was a watercolor artist and illustrator. Wally was born in Muskegon on May 17, 1908 and died on September 3, 2002. He labeled himself a "self-employed artist."

William Ferdinand Berg [1849-1931]

See Frederick William Berg.

Albert C. Bertch I [1868-1929]

In February 1926, Albert C. and Eda [Edna] Widman Bertch purchased from Robert Ferris 13 acres and a home that were part of a resort known as The Willows. The property was located in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township [18635 Fruitport Road]. Albert was a meat dealer from Grand Rapids. He was born on March 25, 1868 in Erie County, New York. Eda was born on February 19, 1872 in Bay City and died on May 18, 1967 in Grand Rapids. They were married in Bay City on October 27, 1896. A son, John Widman, was born in Maine on May 14, 1900. Another son, Albert C. II, was born in Michigan in 1907. Albert passed away on May 1, 1929. He and Eda were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Frederick J. Bertschy [1868-1932]

In September 1889, Fred Bertschy purchased from Dr. James O. Bates of Muskegon and Charles Begin of Spring Lake the machinery and land of a brickyard located on Spring Lake in Muskegon County, just north of Stahl's Bayou. He named the business Fred J. Bertschy & Company, and later, when C. J. Bertschy of Milwaukee joined the firm in 1891 as president, it became the Bertschy Brick and Tile Company. Fred J.

was secretary/treasurer and Begin was named superintendent. Three years later C. J. sold his interest to Adolph L. Kern of Milwaukee, who then became chief executive officer. By 1880 Bertschy owned a men's clothing store in Spring Lake, which he advertised as the "New Agency for the Star Laundry of Grand Haven," in addition to carrying "Gents' Furnishings & Shoes." He then bought Sam Fall's grocery store at the southwest corner of Jackson and Savidge [200 West Savidge]. In 1915 he sold that business to William Spencer and John Singerland, who opened the S & S Grocery Store. Fred was postmaster of Spring Lake from June 15, 1911 to April 16, 1917, when his wife, Helen J., was appointed to the post and held it until September 13 of the next year.

It was 1878 when Fred, who was born in Wisconsin on March 12, 1868, came to Spring Lake from Milwaukee with his mother after his father died at a young 36. On July 28, 1903 he married Helen "Nellie" V. Shoemaker in Ottawa County. The daughter of pioneer settler Michael Shoemaker, Nellie was born in February 1870 in Spring Lake. The Bertschys' daughter, Esther J., born about 1907, was Spring Lake Township treasurer for 11 years. Her husband was Jack T. Ahern, born about 1904. The Bertschy family resided at 305 East Savidge and was still living there in 1930. Fred's mother, Johanna H. Bertschy, was born about 1820 and died on June 12, 1905. His father's name was Jacob. Fred died in Spring Lake in 1932 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 13, 1905.]

Emil Wilhelm Bethke [1872-1959]

Born on January 11, 1872 in Potrzymowo, Posen, Prussia [Germany], Emil was the son of J. Frederick and Ottilie Fritz Bethke. He immigrated to America with his parents in 1873. On August 30, 1902 in Milwaukee, he married Katharina [Katherine] "Kate" Gross. A native of Galicia, Austria, Kate lived from December 5, 1883 to June 28, 1975. The family homestead was an 80-acre farm in Section 17 of Robinson Township [12134 136th Avenue]. Kate's parents, George and Magdalena [Amelia] Huhlman Gross had an adjacent 40-acre farm.

Emil's and Kate's children all born locally, were Emilie, who was born on August 5, 1903 and on June 20, 1923 in Robinson Township married Julius M. Ott [1900-1977]; George F., who was born on April 14, 1905 married Margaret Crouse [1910-1998] in 1929, and died on August 11, 1972; Charlotte "Lottie" Ottilie, was born on August 29, 1906, married Anthony Ploughman [1900-1986] in 1926, and died on August 28, 1993; Carl John, who was born on December 21, 1908, married Jeanette Wiegierink [1913-1988] in 1937, and died on September 29, 1981; Edward Emil., who was born on March 18, 1911, married Dorothea Schillo [born on December 17, 1918] in 1937, and died on July 8, 1988; Wilhelmina "Minnie" Katharina, who was born on August 19, 1912; married Stewart "Bob" Johnson in 1932, and died on December 29, 2006; and Arnold Adolph, who was born on March 1, 1919, married Garnetta Spegel [1924-2009] in 1946. In their later years, Emile and Kate built a small retirement home on the corner of their farm property at 13467 Buchanan. Emile died on January 11, 1959 and was buried with Kate in Robinson Township Cemetery.

Frederick George Bethke [1877-1965]

Frederick, the son of J. Frederick and Ottilie [Ottile] Fritz Bethke, was born in Peru, Indiana on October 3, 1877. He married Alma Dransfeldt on May 25, 1907 in Robinson Township. Alma, the daughter of Andrew and Christina Handevdt Dransfeldt, was born on August 7, 1888 in Dwight, Illinois. Four children were born on the family's 120-acre farm in Section 17 of Robinson Township: Harold A., who was born on March 8, 1908, married Frances Edna "Betty" Alberda [July 13, 1912 to March 26, 1997] in 1933, and died on April 23, 1996; Stanley B., who was born on June 6, 1912, married Edna Engle [1913-1996] in 1934, and died on July 9, 1989; Irma, who was born on January 31, 1914, married William Melvin [1916-1989] in 1935, and died on August 9, 1994; and Kenneth, who was born on March 21, 1920. The four children played on a Robinson Township baseball team called the Rinky Dinks. They played many of their games on fields at Battle Point in Crockery Township and the Driving Park in Grand Haven Township. About 1925 the family moved to 1126 Slayton Street and Frederick was employed at Bastian-Blessing. Frederick died on February 15, 1965 and Alma passed away on October 3, 1978. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

[Personal correspondence from Marjorie Viveen, February 3, 2008 and from Ruth Horton on January 7, 2010.]

Johann Friedrich [Frederick] “Fred” Bethke [1837-1918]

Frederick Bethke was born on February 6, 1837 [1835/1836] in Bierzglin, Posen, Prussia [Germany]. Prior to immigrating to the United States aboard the G. L. Rhein in 1873, he married Otilie Wilhelmine Heriette Fritz on December 30, 1866 in Schwarzenau, Posen. She was the daughter of Johann and Katie Seeman Fritz and lived from April 25, 1845 to January 20, 1912. At the time of their arrival in America, the Bethkes had three children, all born in Germany: Rinhold, who was born on October 26, 1867; Emma [Lena] who was born on June 23, 1870, married Captain William Rosie of Grand Haven; and Emil Wilhelm, who was born on January 11, 1872. They spent one year in Grand Haven before settling in Peru, Indiana for the next eight years, and returned to Ottawa County permanently in 1882. Frederick purchased a 240-acre farm and raised livestock on the southeast corner of Section 17 in Robinson Township. On December 30, 1866 married Otilie Wilhelmine Henriette Fritz about 1866 in Prussia. A native of Germany and daughter of Johann and Katie Seeman Fritz, she lived from April 1845 to 1912. Their other five children were: Frederick George, born in Indiana on October 3, 1877; Mina “Minnie” Anna, who was born in Peru, Indiana on February 21, 1880, married Alfred E. Kramer [1875-1950] in 1901, and died on December 19, 1940; Natalie “Nettie,” who was born on October 7, 1882 in Grand Haven, married Frederick Klatt [1877-1961] in 1901, resided in Grand Haven, and died on January 5, 1973; John Wilhelm, born in Grand Haven on January 4, 1888; and Rosalie “Rosa/Rose” Sara Adolphine, who was born on October 13, 1891 in Grand Haven, married Fred Sinnhuber [born on April 14, 1892 in Pennsylvania and died in 1958] in 1916 in Cleveland, Ohio; moved to Gross Pointe, Wayne County and died on June 9, 1975. Rinold, Emil, Frederick, and John. remained for the most part on farms near their parents in Section 17 of Robinson Township. Frederick J. died on May 3, 1918 and was buried at Robinson Cemetery with his wife and other family members.

John Wilhelm Bethke [1888-1984]

Born in Robinson Township on January 4, 1888, the son of Frederick and Otilie Fritz Bethke, John was a carpenter and tree farmer. Between 1938 and 1949 the family planted 10,000 red and scotch pine and spruce trees to stabilize the soil and generate return from pulpwood and Christmas tree sales. His 100-acre farm at 136th and Lincoln in Section 17, which had been homesteaded by his father, was certified in 1942. He was one of the founders of the Soil Conservation Service and Christmas Tree Growers Association. On August 9, 1913 he married Celia Emma Rapp, who was born on March 1, 1894 in Bloomingdale, Illinois, the daughter of Henry and Ida Raap. Their children included: Robert Herman, who was born on April 18, 1916; Warren C., who was born on April 14, 1923, married Norma M. Warber [1928-2006] in 1949, and died on September 30, 2004; and Lucille A., who was born on June 13, 1927, married Walter Tejchma [born on June 25, 1920] in 1948, and died on May 1, 2007. John died in Robinson Township on August 14, 1984, and Celia passed away on May 3, 1994. Both were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Robinson Couple Owns 100 Acre Tree Farm,” June 23, 1976.]

Kenneth Bethke [1920-1999]

Kenneth was born in Grand Haven on March 21, 1920, the son of Frederick G. and Anna Dransfeldt Bethke. He married Marian F. “Jane” Spiegel on July 17 1942 while serving with the Army during WWII. She was born on September 7, 1920 and died in Grand Haven on October 16, 1984. Kenneth served in the Army Air Corps during WWII and was a member of the local American Legion post. He was employed by Botbyl’s Garage in Grand Haven. Kenneth and Jane had a daughter, Roxanne, who married Rich Thibault of Hudsonville. Kenneth died on March 4, 1999.

Rinold [Reinold] Bethke [1867-1941]

Rinold Bethke was born in Wygoda, Posen, Prussia [Germany] in October 1867, the son of Frederick J. and Otilie Fritz Bethke. At age six, Rinhold moved to the United States with his parents, lived in Peru, Indiana for eight years, and settled permanently in Robinson Township in 1882. On October 11, 1894 in Grand Haven, Rinold married Fredarika Schroeder, who was born on September 16, 1868 in Rittermannshagen, Mecklenberg, Germany. She was the daughter of Johann and Sophie Roggelin Schroeder. Fredarika was employed as a laundry woman at the Cutler House in downtown Grand Haven. In 1895 the Bethkes built their home on an 80-acre farm in Section 17 of Robinson Township [13160 Lincoln Street]. They cleared the land and operated a general farm where they lived the rest of their lives. Their children were: John Emil, who was born on August 3, 1896, remained single, worked the family farm, and died on July 24, 1971; Frederick R., who was born on January 15, 1898, remained single, and died on November 12, 1923; Rinold F., who was born on October 1, 1901, in 1936 married Marian J. Slaughter [1905-1967], the daughter of Louis and Elizabeth Solms Slaughter of Grand Haven, and died on May 25, 1981; and Herbert H., who was born on September 7, 1906, married Leah alderman White [1904-2003] in 1936, and died on January 18, 1998. Rinold the father died on October 19, 1941, and Fredarika passed away on July 19, 1927. Both Bethkes were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with their sons John, Frederick, Herbert, and Herbert's wife, Leah.

Robert Herman Bethke I [1916-1986]

Badly wounded in the leg while serving in Europe with the U.S. Army during WWII, Robert Bethke returned home to face two years of reconstructive surgery. Despite all efforts, his leg was never again normal. The son of John and Celia Raap Bethke, Robert was born in Grand Haven on April 18, 1916. On April 18, 1941 he married Ella Mary Van Burgel in Benton Harbor. Ella was born on May 26, 1919. The day after the wedding, Robert began his service with the Army. After the war, he became ill after brief stint as a house painter. Not long afterward, Robert met U.S. Representative Gerald R. Ford. Their chat resulted in Robert being hired as a mail carrier, a position he held for 30 years. Making his regular postal deliveries on June 18, 1957, Robert opened a mailbox and discovered a newborn boy stuffed inside. The week-old infant survived and became known around the world as the "Mailbox Baby."

Robert and Ella had three children: Robert II, Bonnie, and Bruce, who was born on September 26, 1953. Robert I died in Grand Haven on July 23, 1986. Ella passed away on September 3, 2000 in Palm Beach Gardens, Florida. She was 81 years old. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Theodore [Theodor] Bethke [1874-1945]

Theodore, the son of William F. and Henrietta Klukas Bethke, was born in Toledo, Ohio, on December 3, 1875. His parents purchased an 80-acre farm in Section 24 of Grand Haven Township in 1883. Around 1898 Theodore married Augusta Johanna Yeske, who was born on January 18, 1870 in Germany. By 1921 Theodore and Augusta had owned 80 acres in Section 25, across the street from his parents 80 acres. The couple's surviving children were Ella M., who was born on April 7, 1899, married Fred C. Holtz in 1921 in Grand Haven, and died in Kalamazoo on September 22, 1958; Emma Augusta Maria, who was born on May 28, 1900, married Joseph W. Wessels [1901-1957] in 1923, and died in Kalamazoo on July 3, 1964; Maria Hulda Lillian, who was born on January 7, 1905, married Russell Van Stratt [1906-1967] in 1929, and died on November 13, 1962 in Muskegon; and Walter Paul, who was born on September 6, 1909, married Dorothy Berry in 1938 and Helen Easterling in 1958; and died in Grand Haven on March 3, 1966.

Claude Beukema [1887-1969]

The son of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema, Claude was born in Grand Haven on June 17, 1887. In 1912 he married Rose Buwalda in Holland. Six years later Claude purchased Gerritt Bottje's hardware store at 203 Washington, where he had been an employee since 1906. He renamed the store Beukema Hardware. He sold the business in 1930 and worked for Bastian Blessing as a sheet metal worker. Claude and Rose were members of the First Christian Reformed Church. They resided at 220 Sherman, and had two daughters, both born in Grand Haven: Janet, who was born on November 18, 1912, and Ruth, who was born on August 20, 1914 and died on June 4, 2004. Claude died on January 1, 1969 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rose was born in Grand Haven in May 1891 and was a teacher before marrying Claude. Her parents were

Charles and Susie Buwalda. Rose died on February 13, 1978 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, June 3, 2004.]

Cornell Dean “Corky” Beukema [1920-2016]

Born in Grand Haven on May 5, 1920, Corky was the son of Fred and Cornelia “Cora” Van Koevering Beukema. Corky married Phyllis Boss in Lansing on March 29, 1945. She was born in Centerville on December 1, 1923. After Corky received his degree in Civil Engineering from Michigan State University, he served with the Army during WWII. At the war’s end, he worked for the Michigan Highway Department of Engineering in Lansing for more than 34 years, first in its office of bridge design and then in the road design office. After retirement on April 1, 1980, he and Phyllis moved to a home on the north side of the Grand River channel [20056 North Shore Road. The roadside park on U.S. 31 near M-45 was named in his honor. Corky was an active of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers. He had a strong interest in dancing, which he taught for more than 33 years. He and Phyllis had four daughters: Marsha Rosenberg of Calumet, Houghton County; Kristi Beukema of Spring Lake; Jan Beukema of Grand Haven; and Leslie, who married Dennis Sotola, also of Calumet. Corky died on December 11, 2016 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Phyllis received a Master Degree in Education from Michigan State University. After graduation, she was appointed Instructor of Adult Enrichment classes for Lansing Public Schools, followed by teaching positions at Lansing and Muskegon Community Colleges. Phyllis died in Grand Haven on April 29, 2018. [Tribune obituaries, December 13, 2016 and May 23, 2018.]

Frederick Beukema [Buikema] [1882-1961]

Fred Beukema was born in Grand Haven on May 22, 1882, the son of Hendrik and Jantje “Jennie” Niewold Beukema. He was a painter by trade. On July 27, 1916 Fred married Cornelia “Cora” Van Koevering [Van Coevering] of Grand Haven. Cora was born on June 19, 1889. Shortly after their marriage the Beukemas moved to 714 Pennoyer, where they lived for the next six years. It was there two of their three children were born: Christian, who was born on July 20, 1917, died in Florida on May 14, 1999 and was buried at Arlington National Cemetery, and Jean, on February 28, 1919. Their third child, Cornell “Corky,” was born at Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital in Grand Haven on May 5, 1920. The family attended the Second Christian Reformed Church. Although Fred and Cora lived in such places as Miami, Orlando, Grand Rapids, and Phoenix, they maintained their church affiliation in Grand Haven. Fred died in Grand Haven on August 12, 1961. Cora passed away in Phoenix, Arizona on February 14, 1970. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [privately printed manuscript “These Are Mine,” 1988, by Cornell Beukema.]

Hendrik “Henry” Beukema [Buikema] [1841-1909]

Hendrik Beukema was born in The Netherlands on May 7, 1841. Although he and Jantje “Jennie” Niewold knew each other in The Netherlands, they evidently came to America separately and were married in Holland, Michigan about 1869. At that time Hendrik was working for the railroad, laying track south of Holland. Jennie was born in Groningen, The Netherlands, in June 1846 [1845]. After the couple moved to Grand Haven around 1879, Henry worked in a local sawmill, and then found employment loading and unloading boats. The Beukemas had ten children, six born in Holland and four in Grand Haven. The children were Pieter “Peter,” who lived from 1870 to 1934; twins John and Hilbrand [Hillebrand], born on March 29, 1872, although Hilbrand lived only a month; Hilbrand “Hilbert,” born on February 1, 1874; Fanny, who was born on May 28, 1876, married John Martin Japinga of Grand Haven, and settled in Holland; Jacob, born on February 7, 1879; Frederick, born on May 22, 1882; on May 11, 1884 another set of twins was born: Jantje “Jennie” and Henry; and Klaas “Claude,” born on June 17, 1887. The family paid $100 for a home at 109 Elliott, which was moved in 1922 to 106 Clinton. Henry died in June 1909, and Jennie passed away on April 8, 1934. At the time of her death, she was living at 121 North Second Street with her daughter Jennie, who was not married. Henry, Jennie, Peter, and Peter’s wife, Reka [Rika], were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [privately printed manuscript “These Are Mine,” 1988, by Cornell Beukema.]

Henry Beukema [1884-1961]

Henry Beukema was born in Grand Haven on May 11, 1884. His parents were Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema, who lived at 109 Elliott. Henry studied accounting at Davenport College in Grand Rapids, and in 1914 was bookkeeper at the Dake Engine Company. By 1920 he was doing the same job at the Thieleman Ford dealership at 12-16 North Third Street. Henry married Etta Eysman in Grand Haven on September 19, 1912. They resided at 627 Fulton before moving to Zeeland sometime around 1930. He retired from his job in Zeeland, returned to Grand Haven, and opened a feed store on North Seventh Street. He and Etta were members of the First Christian Reformed Church. Etta, who was born in Grand Haven on December 6, 1888 and died on February 2, 1961, and Henry passed away the following December 16. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They left two daughters, both born in Grand Haven: Jennie Harriet, who was born on June 28, 1915 and married Jay Rop of Muskegon, and Anje Lois, who was born on March 25, 1922, married John A. De Kruyter and eventually moved to Decatur, Georgia.

Henry John Beukema [1915-2005]

Henry was born in Grand Haven on February 21, 1915 to Hilbrand and Johanna Fisher Beukema. His childhood home was at 127 Fulton Street. Henry graduated from Grand Haven High School, Muskegon College of Business and Technology, Western Michigan University, and the University of Michigan, where he earned a master degree. He taught industrial education courses at Algonac, St. Clair County, and Grand Haven. He retired in 1977 from Western Michigan University where he taught engineering graphics for 35 years. In addition to his academic career, Henry worked in various engineering capacities with the Army Corps of Engineers, Camfield Company, Ingersol Division of Borg-Warner in Kalamazoo, Hapman Conveyor Corp., and Prab, Inc. With Dr. J. W. Giachino he authored more than a dozen high school and college textbooks in engineering graphics and welding technology. He also was a consultant to the Department of Defense in the preparation of instructional materials for the Armed Forces Institute. Henry was a member of Rotary, Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, and Epsilon Pi Tau. He served on the Board of Directors of the Kalamazoo Engineering Society and the Michigan Industrial and Technology Society. He married Helen Rhoads in 1943. Helen, the daughter of Benjamin and Eva Emmons Rhoads, was born on December 15, 1919 and died in Waterford, Wayne County on February 14, 2006. At the age of two, following the death of her mother, Helen was adopted by Hugh and Rose Acker Wilt. The Beukemas' daughter Susan married John Trudeau of Waterford. They also had a son John, whose wife's name was Patricia. Henry died on November 23, 2005. [Tribune obituaries, November 26, 2005 and February 20, 2006.]

Hilbrand [Hilbert] Beukema [1874-1951]

The son of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema, Hilbrand was born in Holland, Michigan on February 1, 1874 and was given the same name as a brother born earlier, who lived only a month. Hilbrand moved to Grand Haven with his parents about 1879. On March 17, 1914 Hilbrand married Johanna, the daughter of Henry Fisher of Grand Haven Township. Not long after the wedding they built a home at 111 North First Street for $1600. That house was moved to the southeast corner of Leggat and Howard Streets [102 Howard] in 1922, when Story & Clark expanded. The family moved again, this time to 127 Fulton Street. Hilbrand became a tinsmith, and worked for Augie Hartel, first at 30 Washington and later in the 100 block of North Third Street. Hilbrand died of skin cancer on May 25, 1951, and Johanna, who was born on September 25, 1884, died on June 1, 1958 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children, both born locally, were Henry John, born on February 21, 1915, and Mary Jane, who was born on April 30, 1919, married Anthony John Kovak [Kovacich], and died on February 13, 2007. The family attended the First Christian Reformed Church. [Tribune obituary, February 16, 2007.]

Jacob Beukema [1879-1959]

Jacob was the first child of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema to be born in Grand Haven. The date was February 7, 1879. Jake married Lillian Shields Web from Petoskey in 1921. He did general labor until taking a job with Construction Aggregates in Ferrysburg. Jake retired in 1949 from that company and died in New York City on December 15, 1959. Lillian died in 1952. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jan “John” Beukema [1872-1931]

John and his twin brother, Hilbrand, were born in Holland, Michigan on March 29, 1872, the sons of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema. Hilbrand died when a little more than a month old, and John moved to Grand Haven with his parents about 1879, where he later worked for the Challenge Refrigerator Company, and later Bastian Blessing. In 1919 he married Cornelia “Cora” Boon of Holland. John died of a heart attack on December 1, 1931. Their home was at 1022 Washington, and they attended the First Reformed Church. John was a sergeant with the Michigan National Guard. Cora was born about 1877, passed away around 1953, and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Klaas Beukema [1887-1969]

See Claude Beukema.

Lambertus Beukema [? - ?]

See Lambertus Boersma.

Pieter “Peter” Beukema [1870-1934]

Peter was born in Holland, Michigan on January 5, 1870, the eldest son of Hendrik and Jantje Neiwold Beukema. His parents moved to Grand Haven, and Peter followed about 1900, moving into a house at 207 Elliott, just a block east of his parents’ home at 109 Elliott. Accompanying him were his wife, Reka [Rika] Alderink of Holland, whom he had married on August 25, 1896, and their first child, Henry Peter Beukema, who was born on May 13, 1897 and on December 23, 1936 married Marian Vanderkolk of Ferrysburg. Marian was the daughter of Roelf “Ralph” and Mina Vanderkolk. Peter worked as a wood finisher at Story & Clark, a job he held for 35 years. He died on May 20, 1934. Reka, a native of The Netherlands, lived from July 2, 1876 to July 30, 1936. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Emily “Emma” Jane Bidgood [1858-1941]

When Loretta Lemke had her kitchen at 608 Clinton Street remodeled in 1986, workers found stuck between the wall studs a collection of themes, miscellaneous writings, and arithmetic worksheets, most of it the work of Emily “Emma” Bidgood. Emma was born in Detroit on December 15, 1858. Her family moved to Grand Haven prior to 1870 and lived on Washington Street. Her mother, Sarah Bidgood, passed away on September 19, 1872, and her father, John, died on February 3, 1879. Immediately after the death of her father, Emma moved in with Joseph Kirkland and his wife Elizabeth, Emma’s older sister. Since at least 1880, the Kirklands had resided at 608 Clinton, the home later occupied by Mrs. Lemke. Around 1890 Emma married Elmer Bryce, son of John J. and Helen Bryce of Grand Haven. Elmer was a machinist. They were divorced by 1900. Emma and Elmer had at least two children, an unnamed daughter who died shortly after birth in 1891, and a son, Lawrence, born in Grand Haven on May 21, 1892. After her divorce Emma worked as a telephone operator before being employed as a clerk at National Bank of Grand Haven [Grand Haven State Bank/Fifth Third]. She retired as bookkeeper at the bank in the early 1920s. Emma was a charter member of the Grand Haven Woman’s Club and she attended the Christian Science Church. In 1930, four years after Joseph’s death, Elizabeth and Emma were again living together in the house on Clinton. Emily signed all her papers “Emma.” She passed away on December 8, 1941, while living with her son Lawrence and his wife Maurine in Long Beach, California. [Tribune obituary, December 9, 1941.]

John Bidgood [1822-1879]

John Bidgood was born in England in 1822. His wife Eliza Sarah, also from England, was born in 1824. Among their children were Elizabeth A., who was born in August 1856 and married Joseph Kirkland of Grand Haven; Walter J., who was born on December 3, 1858, died on November 23, 1910, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Emily “Emma” Jane, who was born in Michigan in December 1861, and married Elmer Bryce, son of John J. and Helen Bryce of Grand Haven; and Frederick, who was born about 1863 in Michigan. John died on February 3, 1879, and Sarah passed away on September 19, 1872. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After the death of their parents, Walter, Emily, and Frederick moved in with Joseph and Elizabeth Kirkland, who as early as 1880 resided at 608 Clinton. In 1930, four years after Joseph's death, Elizabeth and Emily were still living together in the house on Clinton. Emily worked as a telephone operator and bank clerk in Grand Haven in the early 1900s. The Bidgoods moved from Detroit to Grand Haven in 1868. The family was in Detroit as early as 1852. John was a ship's carpenter.

Hendryk [Henry] Bierman [Beerman] [1833-1902]

Born in Mecklenberg, Germany in 1833, Henry [Hendryk] Bierman immigrated to Grand Haven Township and on April 8, 1863 purchased 60 acres in Section 9 from George P. Mulder. Nine years later, Henry took title to a one-acre parcel abutting the southwest corner of his acreage, property that had been designated for a township school, but was never used for that purpose. Henry later added another 40 acres to his farm, north and east of his 61 acres. He died in 1902. Henry married Sophia Smith, who also was born in Germany and lived from August 31, 1845 to October 12, 1923. The Bierman children, all born in Michigan, were Augusta, who was born in 1867 and married Henry Roth of Muskegon, Ludwig, born in 1869; Bertha, who was born in 1870 and married Frank Rymer of Grand Haven; Elisabeth, born in 1874; Carl [Charles Louis], born on March 9, 1875, and Henry II, born on July 21, 1877. After Sophia's death the land passed to Henry [Heinrich] II and Henry's wife, Hannah [Anna]. When the younger Henry died on August 2, 1937, the 61 acres went to his widow and a daughter, Emma Burkhart, and three sons, Walter, Fred, and Henry III. Henry and Sophia were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Henry Grove Bigelow [1841-1936]

Born in Paxton, Massachusetts on October 22, 1841, Henry Bigelow on July 12, 1861 enlisted as private in Company D of the 15th Massachusetts Infantry. He was promoted to full sergeant on December 23 that year and to lieutenant on October 28 the next year. He was mustered out on March 15, 1863, the same day he was commissioned as an officer. He was mustered out of the service again on August 28, 1863. After the war he came to Grand Haven, where he married Amanda Hopkins on October 24, 1869. The daughter of Moses and Lamira Hopkins of Grand Haven, Amanda was born in Ohio in 1843. She died in Grand Haven on July 27, 1870. On October 16, 1872 in Livonia, Henry married Clarissa Tibbets. The 1877 gazetteer and business directory listed Henry as a partner with a Mr Stone in a lumbering manufacturing business. At the time of the 1880 Federal Census for Grand Haven, he was listed as clerk and secretary for "Mb Co." By 1900 he was working as a bookkeeper in Muskegon, where he lived with his wife, listed by census taker as "Eva." Henry died in Muskegon on November 16, 1936 and was buried at Evergreen Cemetery. Clarissa, a native of Michigan, lived from June 19, 1844 to December 11, 1916 and was buried at the same cemetery.

William Francis Biggar [1836-1907]

Born in Canada on July 10, 1836, William Biggar came to Michigan in 1881 and to Grand Haven in 1891. A civil engineer by trade, William surveyed the lines of the Chicago and Grand Trunk and the Michigan Air Line railways. He married Ada Mary Clarke on September 29, 1885 in Jackson. After moving to Grand Haven, Ada became the proprietor of the White Laundry, located at 100 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. Working with her at the laundry were her two children, Eleanor and Ivan F. Ivan was born in Michigan on December 17, 1887, married Akke Postma in Holland on April 18, 1914, and died in Mason, Ingham County in August 1968. Eleanor Lucy was born in Ohio on June 17, 1890, married Karl Friedrich "Fred" Kuehn [1881-1956], and moved to Milwaukee, where she died on March 4, 1968; she and Fred were buried at Wauwatosa Cemetery in Milwaukee County. Another son, Herbert Biggar, listed in the 1908 City Directory as a news agent, lived at the same address. He was born in Canada in April 1884. The family resided at 17 First Street. The laundry remained in operation until at least 1910. William Biggar died on August 20, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ada was born in Canada in February 1858 [1857], died in Milwaukee on August 20, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest with her husband. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 1940.]

Jamies [James] Bignell [1856-1941]

Jamies, the son of Thomas and Mary Bignell, was born in Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County, on December 12, 1856. As a youngster, he lived on the family farm in Muskegon County before moving to Grand Haven Township about 1872. Jamies married Harriette “Hattie” [Kitty] Clark in Grand Haven on January 1, 1881, with the groom’s father officiating. Hattie, born to Charles and Abigail Wall Clark of Robinson Township on June 4, 1858.

By 1897 Jamies and Hattie owned 190 acres in Sections 11 and 14 that were once held by Jamies’ father. Bignell School, near the southwest corner of Ferris and 152nd Streets, was named for this family and Hattie, its first teacher, was there from 1879 to 1883. The land on which the school sat originally may have belonged to the Bignell family. Jamies and Hattie bought 170 acres between Potawatomie and Millhouse Bayous in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, land once owned by Robert and Martha Duncan. Their holdings totaled about 375 acres. Jamies and Hattie were living at 825 Washington Street, Grand Haven, by the time of the 1910 Federal Census. Jamies was working for himself as a cabinet maker and also as a “Dealer in Real Estate.” He was listed as a real estate agent in the 1912 Atlas of Ottawa Countys and as the sole owner of Potawatomie Lake Resort, a subdivision dating to at least 1897 that was intended to attract buyers interested in hunting, fishing, and bathing [swimming]. [Potawatomie was then called a lake.] The lots ranged from 66-feet by 200-feet on Millhouse to 100-feet by 200-feet on Potawatomie. Prices varied from $75 a lot to $350 for five-acre parcels. Jamies and Peter Northouse, a real estate agent, claimed the five and ten acre lots would make “fine poultry and fruit farms.” A 1915 plat map showed Bignell and Peter as co-owners of acreage between Potawatomie and Millhouse Bayous. Riverfront property continued to attract buyers. In 1920 Jamies was listed solely as a real estat agent, and ten years later he was retired. By then the Bignell name had disappeared from the Potawatomie Lake Resort plat. He and Hattie continued to reside at 825 Washington.

Jamies was a member of the Methodist Church and donated to the organization two parcels of land located in Grand Haven Township. The land was used as picnic grounds. Jamies and his wife both taught Sunday school and supported the work of the WCTU [Women’s Christian Temperance Union]. Jamies also gave land to the First Reformed Church, which erected a chapel. The Bignells’ children were: Gayla, who was born in May 1882, married a Mr. Lange, resided at 905 Washington after living in Grand Rapids for a while, and died in 1972; Thomas, born in October 1885; Garnet, who was born in March 1888, married Gerrit Rose and moved to Detroit; and Dora Bignell, who was born on November 22, 1890 and died on January 28, 1991. Dora remained in the Grand Haven area. Jamies died on December 24, 1941 at his home, 825 Washington and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Hattie passed away on May 6, 1955, just a few weeks short of 97, and was interred at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, December 24, 1941.]

Thomas H. Bignell [1820-1900]

Thomas Bignell was born in New York on June 26, 1820, and moved to Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County, then to Muskegon, and finally to Grand Haven Township about 1872. As early as 1876 there was an O. Bignell who owned 20 acres in Section 2 of Grand Haven Township. About the same time Thomas Bignell, a farmer and a minister, held title to three different parcels in Section 11, totaling 230 acres. In 1897 Thomas and his wife, Mary, purchased a 20-acre site, once owned by a M. Munger, which adjoined their son Jamies’ property in Section 11. The Bignells also had a daughter, Ann Jeanette Pearson, who married George L. Pearson and moved to San Jose, California; another daughter, Arlette, who was born in Michigan about 1850; and a son, John W., who was born in Michigan about 1856. Mary was born in England about 1819. The Reverend died at the age of 80 on November 9, 1900, and Mary died nine years later, on January 8, at the age of 90. Thomas was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Aloys Bilz [1841-1934]

Born on July 2, 1841 at Dipplesgreen, Bohemia, Aloys was one of 10 children of Joseph and Margaret Haberkorn Bilz. The three eldest immigrated to America and in 1849 the father, mother, and seven remaining children came to the United States. The mother died in the fall of 1866 and the father in the following spring. Aloys attended private school in Buffalo and St. Vincent’s College in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania, and at the age of 13 learned the trade of tinner in New Hamburg, Ontario. In 1853 he settled in Detroit. Eight years later he enlisted in the only regiment of lancers organized in the State, but the regiment was disbanded, so his service was restricted to recruiting. He next moved to New Baltimore in Macomb County.

In 1866 Aloys came to Spring Lake and started a tin shop and hardware and furniture business with $500. He had intended to open his business in Grand Rapids but decided there would be less competition in Spring Lake. He soon became interested in real estate and handled large amounts of land. Within five years he had increased his worth from the initial $500 to $20,000. In 1871 a disastrous fire destroyed his hardware business, destroying all his assets and leaving him $10,000 in debt. He was saved by Hunter Savidge, who loaned him $10,000 to restart his business.

The year before, in 1870, Aloys formed the Spring Lake Salt Company with Hunter Savidge, Allan C. Adsit, and Robert A. Haire. They bored for salt on the Hopkins Mill site, and at a depth of 200 feet struck water, which turned out to be magnetic. He and the others immediately made plans to build the $70,000, 74-room, four-story Spring Lake House on the site and take advantage of the Magnetic Mineral Springs. The building was destroyed by fire on June 16, 1916.

For two years Aloys published the Spring Lake Republican, a bright, newsy paper representing the Republican point of view. Kedzie & Kedzie purchased the newspaper in 1881 and merged it with the Grand Haven Herald. In 1867 Aloys drew up the first charter for Spring Lake, when the name was changed from Mill Point, and he served 10 years as president of the village. He was supervisor of Spring Lake in 1877-78, County Register in 1878, and as a member of the Board of Education helped advance local education. As an insurance agent he represented Phoenix of Hartford, Continental of New York, and the Fireman's Fund of San Francisco. With his other businesses he combined the local agency of the American Express Company. He was one of the organizers of the Spring Lake State Bank in 1913 and served as president for a number of years. He was for 26 years a trustee of the Presbyterian Church of Spring Lake. Aloys became one of the outstanding civic and political leaders during the growth of the village. For a number of years he was proprietor of the Forest City Press, at Forest City, South Dakota.

On August 17, 1864 Aloys married Mary Alice Thompson in Detroit. She was born May 9, 1839 in St. Clair, St. Clair County, the daughter of Rev. Oren C. Thompson. The Bilzes had eight children, all born locally: Fannie G., who lived from 1867 to 1933 and married John Slingerland of Spring Lake; Margaret J., who was born about 1868 and became a nationally known worker in the Women's Christian Temperance Union [WCTU]; Suzan, born in 1871; Bessie E., who was born about 1872 and married Harry B. Albertus of Los Angeles; Charles, who was born early in 1873 and lived about two weeks; Mamie E., who lived from 1874 to 1930 and married Arthur E. Van Emon of Portland, Oregon; Alice B., who was born in 1877 and married Harlan Stigand Emlaw on June 26, 1901 in Grand Haven; and William Aloys, born on May 15, 1880. Mary Alice passed away on March 25, 1914, and Aloys died on November 28, 1934. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as were Mamie, Fannie, and William. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 513-514, Tribune obituaries, Tribune wedding announcement, June 9, 1904, and article in the Grand Rapids Pres, November 28, 1934, "Spring Lake Loses Aloys Bilz at 93."]

William Preston Bilz [1905-1983]

Born on August 5, 1905 in Spring Lake, Preston was the son of William and Mildred Bilz. He graduated from Western Michigan College [WMU] and was a teacher in the public schools of Decatur, Van Buren County. In 1930 he took over management of Bilz Plumbing and Heating Company in Spring Lake from his father. He was a trustee on the Spring Lake Village Council from 1949 to 1953 and again in 1963. He was a member of the Spring Lake Lodge, De Witt Clinton Consistory of Grand Rapids, Saladin Temple of Grand Rapids, Knight of the York Cross of Honor, Boy Scouts of America for 50 years, from whom he received the honorary rank of Eagle Scout in 1924, Silver Beaver in 1942, and scout master key in 1938, Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity, Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, and the National and Michigan Association of Master Plumbers. He supervised the installation of the plumbing for the Grand Haven Musical Fountain.

On August 31, 1938 Preston married M. Isabel Smith, who taught school in Spring Lake Public Schools for 15 years and was a grade school librarian for 10 years. She retired in 1976. She was a member of the choir at Spring Lake Presbyterian Church for more than 50 years. She also belonged to Eastern Star, White Shrine of Jerusalem, and Greater Muskegon Court of Order of the Amaranth. She served as Corresponding secretary when the Tri-Cities Historical Society was organized in 1959. In addition, she was president of Tri-Cities Garden Club and worked with the Spring Lake Historic Commission. Isabel was born on May 30, 1913, the daughter of Robert A. and Laura Smith. Isabel and Preston had two children, Doris Ann, who married Donald R. McLeod of Portland, Wisconsin, and later moved to Alpena, Alpena County, and Richard Gordon Bilz, who died in 1964. The Bilzes lived in the family home at 107 South Division in Spring Lake. Preston died on April 6, 1983. Isabel passed away on September 14, 2001 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune articles, August 27, 1945, "Scouting District Salutes Preston Bilz," May 8, 1963, "Home Greenhouse Relaxation," January 14, 1977, and Tribune obituaries, April 6, 1983 and September 15, 2001.]

William Aloys Bilz [1880-1940]

The son of Aloys and Mary Bilz, William lived from May 15, 1880 to 1940 and was buried Spring Lake Cemetery with his parents. He founded Bilz Plumbing and Heating Company in Spring Lake. On June 9, 1904 he married Mildred, a daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Bidgood Kirkland. Mildred was born in Grand Haven on December 1, 1880. W. Preston was their son.

Charles B. Binns [1859-1916]

Charles Binns raised livestock on his 100-acre farm in Section 7 of Olive Township. Charles, who was born in Michigan and arrived in the area in 1900, lived from March 3, 1859 to December 13, 1916. On December 6, 1880 in Westmoreland, Kansas, he married Cornelia Bell Row. She was born in Kansas in October 1863. Charles, the son of Thomas and Mary Leslie Binns, was buried at West Olive Cemetery. Among the Binnses' children, both born locally, were Row, born in December 1890, and Fern, born in September 1892.

Isaac W. Bird [Berd] [1839-1912]

On January 28, 1870, Isaac Bird married Anna Elizabeth Smith in Grand Haven. He was born in 1839 in Munroe, Virginia. Isaac was a cook in a Grand Haven hotel in the year of his marriage. Anna, a dressmaker, was born in Ohio in 1832. She and Isaac were African American. They had a daughter Eva, born about 1872. The family in 1880 lived on Second Street. By 1897 the family had moved to Muskegon. On May 21, 1898, Isaac was appointed postmaster of Wabaningo, a resort community on Lake Michigan, not far from Muskegon. He died there on July 27, 1912. Anna passed away on December 3, 1916 in Norton, Muskegon County. Eva died on January 8, 1917. The three were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

Leonard "Red" Bird [1936-2010]

Born in San Diego, California on June 3, 1936, Red was the son of George and Florence Crockett Bird. In 1957 he was one of 900 marines ordered to witness the detonation of a nuclear weapon at Yucca Flats, New Mexico. Exposure to extreme levels of radiation caused the bone cancer that took his life on October 22, 2010. He joined the Marines when he was 18 years old and recorded his experiences in a book titled Folding Paper Cranes, an Atomic Memoir. Red taught English at Concordia College in Morehead, Minnesota and at Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colorado, where he was on the faculty for 31 years. He published two other books: River of Lost Souls and The Scorned Ally. He and his wife, Jane, resided at 1910 Grand Street in Grand Haven. They had two children: David and Maria, who married Clint Thorne. [Tribune obituary, October 25, 2010.]

Gary Joe Bisacky [1942-2015]

The son of Joseph and Edna Farmer Bisacky, Gary was born in Grand Haven on July 17, 1942. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1960 and married Ruth Ann Boyink on October 3, 1964. Gary owned and operated Joe's Auto Parts in Spring Lake for more than 50 years, and he and Ruth also were proprietors of Depot Antiques, across the road from the auto parts business. He was a member of Christ Community Church in Spring Lake. He and Ruth had three sons: Aaron, Zachary, and Caleb, all of Spring Lake. He died on April 3, 2015 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 7, 2015.]

Susan Allene Wismer Bissell [1947-2021]

Born in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin on February 11, 1947, Susan grew up in the Big Rapids area. In her youth, Susan was a dancer and performed with the Grand Rapids Civic Ballet. She married William Bissell at the Little Stone Church on Mackinac Island on September 17, 1995. She and Bill resided at 2024 Jane Street in Grand Haven. She served with numerous non-profit organizations, such as One Hundred Women Who Care and Camp Bluebird Cancer Retreat. At different times, she was president of the West Shore Symphony and the Grand Rapids Ballet. By a previous marriage, Susan had a daughter Alison, who married Matthew Woodward. Susan passed away on April 21, 2021 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

George Louis Bitting I [1876-1949]

George Bitting was born on May 24, 1876 and married Leila Ruth Soule on June 21, 1913. She was born in Grand Haven on September 13, 1881. Their children were George L. Bitting II, born about 1914; Soule Tyron Bitting, born in Grand Rapids on January 7, 1916; and James T. Bitting, born about 1917. Leila passed away on June 21, 1931 and George died on October 2, 1949; they were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Sisters Mary and Julia Soule shared the family home at 527 Lafayette with the Bittings, and when Leila died as a young mother, they raised the Bittings' children. See Soule Bitting's and Julia Soule's entries for more detail.

Soule Tryon "Bill" Bitting [1916-1976]

Bill Bitting was the son of George and Leila Ruth Bitting. In 1930 and 1940 Bill and his mother were living with his mother's sister Julia Soule at 527 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven. Ruth died the next year. The grandson of Judge Charles Edward Soule, Bill was born in Grand Rapids on January 7, 1916 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934. In October 1938 he swam from Fruitport to the foot of Washington Street, an estimated distance of ten or eleven miles. It took him five hours and nine minutes. He received his bachelor degree from Northwestern University, where he was a member of the water polo team.

Bill served with the United States Navy during WWII with the rank of lieutenant. He was awarded the Navy Cross with this citation: "For extraordinary heroism in the line of his profession as Pilot of a torpedo-bomber based on the Carrier, U.S.S. Savo Island, during her action against enemy forces at Leyte Island, Philippine Islands, on 25 October 1944. Lieutenant Bitting led his torpedo division through intense anti-aircraft fire, to register two torpedo hits on an enemy cruiser. His perfect timing and execution caused much damage to the enemy, thereby preventing serious harm to his own forces. His conduct throughout was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service." Bill spent 25 years with the Navy.

Bill married Margaret "Peggy" Lighter in Wollaston, Massachusetts on September 9, 1942. She was born in Fredricksburg, Virginia on May 5, 1919. When Julia died in 1945, Bill inherited Julia's North Shore property [20053 North Shore Drive]. went to Soule "Bill" Tryon Bitting. Thirty-one years later, following Bill's death Peggy the cottage, called Grand Manor, passed to Peggy. Bill died on September 27, 1976 and was buried at St. James the Less Episcopal Chrch Memorial Garden in Northfield, Illinois. Their children were Linda Bitting, who married Fred Strevy; Soule Tryon "Ty" Bitting; and Julia Bitting, who married Robert Fullerton. Peggy married F. William Hutchinson in Grand Rapids on October 22, 1977. He died on July 20, 1999. Peggy passed away on May 1, 2008 in Grand Haven.

William Wiley Blackaby [1885-1951]

William Blackaby was born on December 24, 1885 in Indiana and married Clementine Whitenack on August 2, 1909 in his home state. She was born on July 14, 1888 in Indiana. A daughter Marjorie Blackaby was born in Indiana on November 17, 1910 and died in Ridgeville, Indiana on September 28, 1921. The Blackabys moved to Grand Haven between 1925 and 1930. William continued to be a self-employed barber with a shop at 22 South Beechtree Street. He died in Grand Haven on November 24, 1951. Clementine passed away the next year. They were buried at Reitenour Cemetery in Winchester, Indiana.

Edwin D. Blair [1829-1909]

From 1874 to 1882, Edwin Blair was “Searcher of Records” for Ottawa County, and at about the same time he owned an Abstracts and Real Estate Office in Grand Haven. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as oil inspector. Edwin was born in Lebanon, New York in June 1829, and arrived in Grand Haven in 1865. He married Virginia L. Scott in Grand Haven on August 17, 1867. She was born in Grand Haven around 1849. They had four surviving children, all born in Michigan: Grace, born on March 12, 1867; Edwin, born in 1870; Ada, born on March 23, 1875, and Virginia, born in 1879. By 1916 Virginia was living in Minneapolis with her daughter Virginia. Edwin the father died on July 20, 1909.

Benona Angell Blakeney [1859-1941]

Born on October 7, 1859, Benona Blakeney was Ottawa County treasurer from 1892 to 1893 and a traveling salesman by the early 1900s. On March 13, 1884 in Lamont, he married, Mabel, the daughter of Walter Lynn. The couple lived at 454 Pennoyer [454 Sheldon Terrace] with their two children, Kittie [Katie] and Lou. Kitty was born in Blunt, South Dakota in June 1885 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1904, where she later taught mathematics and German. Kitty and her husband, Ralph Gordon Wilson, eventually occupied 454 Sheldon Terrace [also known as 454 Pennoyer]. Benona served on the Grand Haven School Board in the early 1900s. Another daughter, Lucy, was born in May 1887, also in South Dakota. Mabel was born on December 12, 1861 [1862] and died on January 7, 1941. Benona passed away about May 18, 1941. He and Mabel were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Chauncey Milon Blakeslee [1863-1928]

Born in Grand Rapids [Kalamazoo] on February 13, 1863, Chauncey was the son of William and Mary Wood Blakeslee. He worked with his father in Grand Rapids in the contracting business, where they built many structures, including part of the Michigan Soldiers’ Home. By 1893 he and his wife were living in Spring Lake, but in 1904 he went to Mexico to help with masonry work there. He returned to Spring Lake and in 1914 laid the first half-mile of concrete road in the area, one half mile east from the Village limits. Chauncey was responsible for many miles of paved road after that. Chauncey and his brother-in-law, James Spencer, built in Grand Haven the Armory, the Grand Theater, and the Presbyterian Church that preceded the current structure at the corner of Franklin and Fifth Streets. They also were hired to build the Spring Lake County Club, where Chauncey was an officer when the clubhouse was dedicated on May 31, 1926. In partnership with William Connelly and Samuel Falls, Chauncey developed Long View Resort, situated between Petty’s [Hammond’s] Bayou and Spring Lake. He was one of the organizers of the Spring Lake Yacht Club, promoted and helped organize the Spring Lake Motor Boat Club, and served on the township board.

On March 30, 1886 in Grand Rapids, Chauncey married Mary Wood Spencer, the daughter of David and Elizabeth Spencer of Spring Lake. Mary was born in Ontario on August 10, 1867. In 1893 he and Mary built a cottage on Spring Lake and lived in it for two years. They then built a new home, large enough to take in summer boarders. They added to the home and improved it over the years until they were able to accommodate as many as fifty guests. The resort became known as Arbutus Banks Hotel, which they operated until 1914, when they sold the property to Earl J. and Clarice Blanche Davis of Grand Rapids. They also owned the Oval Inn on Harbor Drive, which in 1926 they sold to Frank and Florence Reghel. Chauncey died on March 24, 1928 in Spring Lake and Mary passed away on September 21, 1944 in Grand Haven. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

William Wallace Blakeslee I [1832-1891]

William Blakeslee was settled in Grand Rapids by the 1870 census. He was born in Ohio on June 20, 1832 and became a building contractor, starting in the Grand Rapids area. He and his son, Chauncey, worked together and constructed such buildings as part of the Michigan Soldiers' Home in Grand Rapids. The Blakeslees later moved to Spring Lake. William married Mary Ann Wood, who was born in England on May 8, 1837. In addition to Chauncey, the Blakeslees had two other sons: Charles Sherman, who lived from July 31, 1857 to 1910, and William W. II, who was born in Michigan in March 1859. Their seven daughters were Verona, born in 1861; Mary, born in 1866; Fanny S., who was born in 1868 and married Joseph Edward Clark; twins Martha and Marcia, who was born in Grand Rapids in August 1872 and married George Doddington of Grand Haven; Lenora, born in 1874; and Cassie, born in 1877. William I died on November 11, 1891 and his wife passed away on August 2, 1904. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

William Wallace Blakeslee II [1859-1933]

William, born in Kalamazoo in March 1859, was the son of William and Mary Wood Blakeslee of Grand Rapids and Spring Lake. William II entered the contracting business as a mason, although in the 1893 Compendium he was listed as a railroad agent. He married Sarah Margaret [Maggie/Marguerite] McIlraith in Grand Rapids on January 1, 1884. She was born in Perth, Ontario in September 21, 1863. Their three sons were: Laurel S., who was born on May 28, 1886 and died in Los Angeles, California, on June 12, 1966; Stanley, who was born in Grand Rapids on October 30, 1888 and died in Merced, California in May 1964; and Earle James, who was born in Spring Lake on February 18, 1893 and died in Los Angeles on September 25, 1964. The family moved to Spring Lake from Grand Rapids. William died on March 22, 1933, when he was residing in Los Angeles, California. Maggie passed away in Los Angeles on August 6, 1948.

Lewis Green Blessing [1873-1964]

Lewis Blessing, an expert in sales and finance, was vice president of the Bastian-Blessing Company in Grand Haven [301 North Hopkins] by 1930 and eventually ran the company until his retirement in 1961. On August 31, 1896, in Chicago, he married Grace Elizabeth Williams. Lewis, a native of Illinois, was born on March 28, 1873 and died in Wilmette, Illinois in December 1964. Apparently he never resided in Grand Haven.

Henry Bloecker [Blocker] [1845-1910]

Born in Schleswig, Germany, on September 6, 1845, Henry was the son of Mark Bloecker, a German soldier. Henry was educated in Germany and learned the trade of machinist, following that profession as a journeyman, and he traveled to many of the principal cities of Germany and France. In 1867 he came to Grand Haven and worked at the Ottawa Iron Works in Ferrysburg. In 1879, in partnership with John Bryce, he formed Bryce & Bloecker to manufacture general marine engines and all kinds of machinery for tugs, steamers, and any vessel using steam. The plant, located at the corner of First and Fulton Streets, suffered a serious fire in 1881 and the company sustained heavy loss. It was reorganized and in 1883 the name changed to Bloecker & Company, and still later to Henry Bloecker & Company. The firm had excellent shipping facilities, and during the busy season it employed thirty to forty men.

A Democrat in politics, Henry served in 1881, 1882, 1883, and 1884 as alderman of the First Ward and was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1893. He was U.S. inspector of boilers from 1894 to 1895, president of the National Dotare Association and German Workingmen's Society, a Royal Arch Mason, a member of the Maccabees, and one of the leading citizens of Grand Haven.

In 1868, Henry married Mary, the daughter of Herman Glazat. Mary, who lived from December 21, 1850 to December 6, 1913, was a native of Prussia and moved to Grand Haven after her father arrived in 1855. The Bloeckers had eight sons and one daughter, all born in Michigan: Hugo, who was born in 1869; Edward, who was born about 1871; Paul, who was born in 1873 and died on October 20, 1935; Fred [Ferdinand] Emil, who was born on March 19, 1875, moved to Marion, Indiana, and died on December 9, 1927; Robert M., who was born in 1878 and became chief engineer of the car ferry City of Grand Haven and died on May 8, 1965; Emma M., who was born February 28, 1882 and died on July 10, 1965; Ernest, who was born in December 1886 and moved to Detroit; and Henry F., who was born on June 8, 1888, worked as a machinist at Dake, and died on May 10, 1957. The family resided at 112 Franklin, where Henry died on February 16,

1910. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, pp. 273-274, and Tribune obituary, February 16, 1910.]

Willard “Bill” Bernard Bloemendal [1901-1995]

Willard Bloemendal opened his medical practice in Grand Haven on June 8, 1928. He was born in Chicago on May 28, 1901. His parents moved to Holland, Michigan, where Bloemendal attended Hope College. Bill subsequently graduated from the University of Wisconsin at Madison and then received his medical degree from Rush College in Chicago. He was Ottawa County Coroner from 1934 to 1942, served on the Grand Haven School Board, and was a director of Security First Bank and Trust [Old Kent/Fifth Third]. He was a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, and he sang as tenor at the inaugural performance of the West Shore Symphony Orchestra [West Michigan Symphony] in Muskegon on November 28, 1939. His office was first 304½ Washington Street, next at 224½ Washington, and sometime after 1940 he moved his office to 300 Franklin.

Bill married Ethel M. Leenhouts on September 17, 1929. In 1944 he and Ethel sold a house on Fourth Street to the Methodist Church for $2,000 to make room for the church to expand. In the late 1920s Bill resided at 312 Franklin, and in the early 1930s he and Ethel lived at 219 Franklin Street and later at 400 Grant Street, but in 1939 they and a daughter moved into a house they built at 411 Woodlawn Avenue. They remained at this location until 1978, when they moved into an apartment at 704 South Beacon Boulevard; from there they moved to another apartment, this one at 515 South De Spelder. The daughter, Mary Margaret, was born about 1936. Ethel, who was born on March 2, 1902, died in Grand Haven on September 9, 1987. When Bill died on March 20, 1995, he was residing in Grand Rapids. He and Ethel were buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Walter Kirkland “Kirk” Bloeser [1922-2014]

In 1950, when local photographer Bill Mosher relocated his studio to 104 Washington Street, Kirk Bloeser was one of his employees. Later that year Kirk took over the business, renamed it Kirk’s Camera Shop, and moved across the street to 105 Washington. Kirk, who was born in Chicago on August 12, 1922, served with the Army during WWII. On October 17, 1947 Kirk married Marian Andros in Grand Haven. Born in Grand Haven, on June 15, 1923, Marian was the only child of Nicholas and Margaret Andros. She owned a hat shop at 104 Washington Street in downtown Grand Haven. Kirk and Marian lived at 89 Poplar Ridge in Highland Park. Kirk and Marian had four children: John, who moved to Kalamazoo with his wife Pamela; Barbara, who married Ted Skendrovic of Spring Lake; Janet, who married Stephen Gullis and moved to Rockford, Kent County; and Marianne, who married Dennis Systma and relocated to Loveland, Colorado. Kirk died on March 10, 2014. Kirk’s mother, Miriam Elizaebth Bloeser, the daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Kirkland of Grand Haven, was born in Chicago on October 22, 1882, married Walter Alfred Bloeser in Chicago on July 7, 1915. They were divorced on July 3, 1943. Miriam died in February 1969 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marian died on October 19, 2019.

Edward John Blotney [1913-1978]

When B & B Metal Products Company was organized in Spring Lake in 1955, Edward Blotney was vice president and Hubert Burnside, president. He resided at 403 Ohio in Grand Haven. Edward was born on March 16, 1913 and died in Palm Beach, Florida on June 13, 1978.

Harvey B. Blunt [Blount] [1840-1917]

After the Civil War, an increasing number of African Americans made their home in Northwest Ottawa County. These early settlers tended to stay longer than their predecessors, although there still were many who showed up only briefly. One of the more permanent ones was Harvey B. Blunt [Blount]. Harvey was born into slavery in Kentucky [Georgia] in May 1840. He was settled in Grand Haven by 1870 with his wife, Anna. She was born in Georgia [Tennessee] about 1841 [1830], died on March 30, 1899, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Harvey was working as a laborer in 1870 and as a janitor in 1880. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium again as a laborer. He is said to have worked for the Ferry family, descendants of Rev. William Ferry who, with Rix Robinson, founded the City of Grand Haven. Living with Harvey and Anna in 1870 was Hannah Blunt, who was born in Virginia in 1814. Although the census enumerator listed her as a Blunt when she passed away about January 12, 1880, she was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with the name Hannah Cox. It's likely that Hannah was Anna's mother. Also in the household in 1870 was Gordon [Gorton] Miller, born in Georgia about 1822, and unemployed at the time of the census. In the 1900 census Harvey was listed as building janitor, and reportedly was custodian for several businesses on Washington Street. By 1910 he was retired and living alone at 512 Adams Street. [Tribune obituary, March 30, 1899.]

In late summer 1912 city health officer Dr. Arthur Turner and city marshal John Welch went to Harvey's house at the request of neighbors, who had complained "of the filth and stench" associated with his home. "All of the dirt and accumulation was burned and the entire place rooted and dug out," the Grand Haven Tribune reported. There also had been rumors of a Blunt fortune hidden there. During their inspection, the authorities found one quarter, an ornament made from a gold dollar, more than 600 yards of unused bolts of cloth, but no treasure. The article did not mention whether Harvey was home at the time of the inspection. On August 12, 1913 Harvey became a self-sufficient inmate at the County Poor Farm in Eastmanville. On July 16 two years later, he was transferred to the State Hospital in Kalamazoo, diagnosed as insane and ill. He died there on February 11, 1917 and was returned to Grand Haven to be buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. There is no record that the Blunts had children. [Tribune article "No Fabulous Fortune Found," August 20, 1912, and Tribune obituaries, March 30, 1899 and February 12, 1917.]

Garrett "Garry" Boelens [1893-1958]

Garry, the son of Klaas and Tryntje "Katie" Klouw Boelens, was born in Spring Lake on June 18, 1893. On September 8, 1920 in Spring Lake, he married Florence I. Cross, the daughter of Ira and Minnie Cross. Florence was born in Spring Lake on April 25, 1901. Garry, an electrician, died on January 30, 1958. Florence passed away in Spring Lake on October 29, 1994, and Garry had died in 1958; both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The family resided at 237 Lake Avenue in Spring Lake. They had at least two sons: Herbert E., who lived from December 19, 1922, and Gordon H., who was born about 1927. Herb married Doris Balgooyen on June 25, 1949 in Grand Haven, after serving in the Army during WW II. Herb died in Grand Haven on January 8, 2014. [Tribune obituary, January 10, 2014.]

Klaas [Klaus] Boelens [1865-1931]

Klaas Boelens and David M. Cline operated a road building business named Cline & Boelens Contracting Company. On July 3, 1890 in Spring Lake, Klaas married Tryntje "Katie" Klouw of Spring Lake. They had at least five sons: Herman, who was born on March 27, 1892 and died on June 10, 1918 while serving with the U.S. Army in Europe; Garrett "Garry" K., born June 18, 1893; John K., born about 1897; Barney, who lived from May 27, 1900 to March 11, 1957; and Henry, who lived from March 3, 1907 to December 30, 1998. In 1920 the family resided on Lake Avenue in Spring Lake, and Klaas worked as a highway contractor. Tryntje lived from 1866 to 1931 and Klaas from 1865 to 1931. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as were other members of the family.

Helen Elizabeth Boer [1904-2002] and Catherine Boer Fisher [1901-1999]

Pair-A-Dice, named Ben-Hur at the time of its building in 1906, was later owned by Skip and Meg De Wall. Long-time owner Helen Boer became acquainted with a cottage called Pair-A-Dice during summer visits to Highland Park with her parents, Rufus and Minnie Wagner Boer of Grand Rapids. Through the years her admiration for the quaint charm of the cottage led to a strong desire to own it. Never giving up her dream, she made an offer on the cottage when the opportunity arose in 1934 and made her dream a reality. Pair-A-Dice was given the address 99 Poplar Ridge Trail. Helen, a teacher in the Grand Rapids school system, wrote Highland Park Yesterday and Today in 1983, preserving the history and memories of the place she adored. Next door to Pair-A-Dice is Ceil Laplage, French for "heaven at the beach." This cottage once was owned by Walter and Catherine Boer Fisher. Catherine and Helen Boer were sisters. Helen was born in Grand Rapids on September 4, 1904, died on March 9, 2002, and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids with her parents. Catherine, who taught in the Grand Rapids schools after her husband's death, lived from October 28, 1901 to October 19, 1999. She, too, was buried at Oakhill, where Walter [1900-1936] was interred.

Henry John "Bub" Boer [1885-1973]

Henry, the son of John J. Boer, in January 1907 went into partnership with James W. Oakes to form the Grand Haven Realty Company. He next opened an insurance office in his father's building at 119 Washington. Later, working with his father, he operated the family furniture and undertaking store under the name of John J. Boer & Son at the same address. Bub, who was born on November 24 [27], 1885, died in February 1973 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of his death, he resided at 215 South Barry in Greenville. His wife, Hannah, was born in Michigan about 1884. They had a daughter, Mary E., who was born about 1920. [Tribune obituary, November 5, 1942.]

John J. Boer [1857-1942]

John was born in Drenthe, Ottawa County on March 10, 1857. He was one of nine children, including Jennie, who was born about 1858 and married John Henry Rysdorp of Grand Haven; Egberdena, who was born in September 1866 and married Peter Klaver of Grand Haven; Sena, who was born in 1868 and married Tony Baker, also of Grand Haven; John L. who moved to Lansing; and Rufus, who moved to Grand Rapids. John's father, John, died before he was 10, so young John came to Grand Haven and worked as an errand boy for Henry Brouwer, who operated a grocery store near the corner of First and Washington Streets. John's mother, Lammigye [Lammechien] "Lucy" Van Dam, was born in Drenthe Province, The Netherlands, on April 14, 1837. Lucy's parents were Jan, born August 23, 1801 in Groningen Province, the son of Roelof and Engerdina Van Dam, and Geesje "Gertje" Jans, born May 14, 1801 in Drenthe, The Netherlands, the daughter of Jan Meinders. Gertje died on October 7, 1875.

John Boer drove a horse-drawn bus for Henry Sprick, worked for George W. Miller in a hardware store, and was an employee at "Little Joe, Clothier King of the World" [101 Washington]. After his marriage he left his job clerking in a clothing store and went to Grand Rapids and then to Muskegon where he worked for the J. Riordan Company for more than six years. In 1877 John opened a grocery store with his future father-in-law, Henry Bolt, near the corner of Seventh and Washington Streets, operating under the name Boer & Bolt. In 1888 he opened a grocery store in the Snook building at Eighth and Washington Streets [800 Washington]. The grocery store was called the Beehive. About 1897 John sold out his share of the grocery business and became a traveling salesman as part of the "Knights of the Grip." After three months he bought a furniture business from James Barnes and named it Boer & Boer. His store, located at 119-121 Washington Street in Grand Haven, carried a complete line of dry goods, groceries, provisions, and general merchandise, and also offered sewing machines and pianos. About 1930 his son Henry joined the business, which became known as "John J. Boer & Son." He was also well established as the leading mortician in the area.

On December 21, 1880 John married Jennie, who was born June 13, 1857, the daughter of Hendrick "Henry" Jan and Cornelia Elfers Bolt. The Boers had four children: Lucy, born in May 1883; Henry John "Bub," who was born on November 27, 1885 and went into business with his father; Cornelia B., who was born on February 26, 1892; and Cathryn Ruth, who was born on February 27, 1897 and married Elmore J. Hoek of Grand Haven. Cornelia married Wayland Bickford in 1927. The Bickfords lived in New Orleans until Wayland's death in 1932. Cornelia next married Cornot R. Wagener; they resided in Spring Lake. John Boer was a member of the Grand Haven Elks. He and his family lived at 1028 Washington Street for many years. John died on November 4, 1942, and Jennie died August 8, 1937. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 5, 1942, and Tribune articles, "Golden Wedding Anniversary," Jan 3, 1931, and other articles on March 10, 1932, August 1 1934, and June 23, 1938.]

Lambertus Boerma [Boersma] [1839-1889]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born in 1839, Lambertus Boerma came to Spring Lake in 1868. He was a civil engineer, and in 1877 he joined the Sisson & Lilley Sawmill. He married Renske Annema [Irene/Irena Anema] in Spring Lake on December 25, 1883. She was born in The Netherlands about 1838. For unknown reasons, Lambertus Boerma also was known as or was confused with Lambertus Beukema. He passed away in Grand Rapids on July 8, 1889.

Chester Boersema [1931-2003]

In 1972 Chester Boersema founded Non-Ferrous Cast Alloys 18750 Trimble Court in Spring Lake Township. In 1998 the company moved to Norton Shores. Chet was born October 31, 1931, the son of Cornelius and Grace Werkema Boersema of Grand Rapids. He married Vivienne Schreiber in Borculo on November 9, 1951. They resided at 15931 Robbins Road and had four children: Kristen Miner, Anita Anderson, and Dale and David Boersema. The family attended Christ Community Church. Chet was a member of Spring Lake Country Club and American Foundryman's Society. He died in Grand Haven on December 15, 2003. [Tribune obituary, December 17, 2003.]

Henry [1925-2018] Boersma and Louise Theodora “Loekie” Betty Bosma [1926-2022] Boersma

Henry Boersma was born in Moline, Allegan County on June 25, 1925. On June 3, 1948, he married Louise “Loekie” Bosma in Grand Rapids. She was born in The Netherlands on August 2, 1926. Both were interested in preserving local history, especially in Tallmadge and Wright Townships. Their compilation of obituaries and other records was put into book form, and they restored Elmwood and other cemeteries. Henry passed away on January 25, 2018 and was buried at Washington Park Memorial Garden in Moline. Loekie died on November 18, 2022.

Richard Boersma [1881-1939]

The son of Fred Boersma, Richard was born in The Netherlands on June 27, 1881 and came to Grand Haven in 1906. He was a commercial fisherman before opening a dry goods business on Seventh Street. He married Jacoba “Nellie” Joldersma, who was born in Grand Haven on August 11, 1872 and died on June 8, 1951. Richard died on December 3, 1939. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Antone [Toney, Anthony] Boet [Boot] [1847-1917]

On February 27, 1864, while in Flint, Antone Boet enlisted as private in Company D of the 8th Michigan Infantry. He was listed in the roster as Anthony Boot. He was mustered out on July 30, 1865. On July 3, 1868 in Grand Haven, he married Pauline [Paulina/Paulena] Moll. They lived at 1203 Washington in Grand Haven. Antone, a carpenter, lived from May 1847 to 1917. Pauline, the daughter of Arie and Adriana Moll of Grand Haven, was born in February 1851 and died in 1932. Both were natives of The Netherlands. Pauline was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their daughter Minnie, born in 1871, married Albert J. Bolt of Grand Haven. Pauline lived with the Bolts after her husband's death.

Rudolf [Rudolph] G. Boettcher II [1907-1983]

Born December 31, 1907 in Grand Haven to Rudolf G. and Anna M. Boettcher I, the young Rudolf was a life-long resident of the community. His father lived from 1875 to 1933 and his mother from 1867 to 1940. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rudolf II was employed as an engineer at Structural Concepts. He was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, Muskegon Heights Eagles, and Muskegon Moose Club. His wife's name was Lorraine. Their children included Janice Raby of Holland; Jacqueline, who married Terry McGowen of Interlochen; Joyce, who married Paul Rich of Spring Lake; Donna, who married Edwin Boeve of Grand Haven; and Colleen, who married Ronald Jones of West Olive. A son, Paul, was born on March 1, 1909, married Mabel Curtis in Muskegon on June 11, 1932, and died on September 29, 1989. Rudolf Boettcher and his family lived at 1704 Pennoyer Street. Rudolph died December 29, 1983 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lorraine, who was born on August 20, 1918, died in Grand Haven on May 28, 1995. [Tribune obituary, December 30, 1983.]

Edgar Gene Boevé [1929-2019] and Ervina Van Dyke Boevé [1924-2006]

Edgar Boevé joined the Calvin College faculty in 1958 and served as the first chair of the Art Department for 14 years. His wife, Ervina, was a professor in the Theater Department at Calvin for 37 years. Edgar was born in Marshalltown, Iowa on September 27, 1929 and was a graduate of the Franklin School of Arts in New York City, Calvin College, and the University of Michigan. He and Ervina were married in 1955. She was born on December 24, 1924 in Holland. Edgar in 1966 wrote a book titled Children's Art and the Christian Teacher. He also was the author of a variety of devotional books. After retiring from teaching in 1991, they lived at 9468 Whispering Sands Drive in Sheldon Dunes. He created some of his enduring paintings while living there. Ervina died on July 1, 2006, and Edgar passed away on March 6, 2019.

Frederick Bol [1893-1968]

Born March 2, 1893 in Grand Haven, Fred Bol was employed by Variety Woodwork on Davis Street in Grand Haven. He married Hattie Bouwman on December 7, 1911. Hattie was born in Michigan in 1896. Their children were Harriet, born about 1913; Cornelia, born about 1915; William, born on December 1, 1916; and John, who lived from October 21, 1919 to March 31, 2005. The Frederick Bol family lived on Wallace Street. Fred died in Grand Haven on April 24, 1968. His parents were Peter and Henrietta Martens Postema Bol. [Tribune obituary, March 31, 2005.]

Hilbrand Bol [1890-1959]

Hilbrand was born March 4 [14], 1890 in Grand Haven. His parents were Peter and Henrietta Martens Postema Bol. In the 1920 census Hilbrand was listed as a manufacturer of cigars and in the mid-1920s he was agent for the Grand Rapids Press, using 516 Washington as his place of business and his residence. He also bought and operated Jobber's Outlet, a grocery store, at 104 North Seventh.

On July 30, 1913 Hilbrand married Margaret [Grietje], the daughter of John and Anna Huizenga Vander Zwaag of Spring Lake. Hilbrand passed away on January 16, 1959. Margaret was born June 17, 1893 and died in Grand Haven on November 22, 1983. Peter, born in Grand Haven on April 17, 1914, was one of their children. A daughter, Annetta [Annette] Helen, was born on August 1, 1915, married Louis Haven Baker, and died on February 13, 1983. Other children were John R., born about 1919; Jane S., born about 1922; and Viola, born about 1928. Martin Bol, born on August 4, 1882, was Hilbrand's brother. A nephew, Peter Bol, was mayor of Grand Haven in 1980 and 1981.

Martin Bol [1882-1957]

Martin Bol's barbershop was at 216 North Seventh in Grand Haven in the early 1900s. He and his wife, Katie, lived at the same address. Later they moved to Holland. Martin, the son of Peter and Henrietta Bol, was born in Grand Haven on August 4, 1882, and Katie was born in The Netherlands around 1881. They were married in Grand Rapids on May 16, 1906. Their children, all born locally, were Peter, who was born about 1909 and became a Chaplain with the U. S. Navy; John, born about 1911; Andrew, born about 1913; and Jacob, born about 1916. The family was located in Holland, Michigan by 1930. Hilbrand Bol was Martin's brother. Martin passed away in 1957.

Peter Hilbrand Bol [Boll] [1914-1986]

The son of Hilbrand and Margaret Vander Zwaag Bol, Peter was born on April 17, 1914 and died on January 18, 1986 in Grand Haven. He and his wife, Josephine, were married on April 16, 1935 in Grand Rapids. She lived from November 5, 1915 to June 1990. They resided at 503 Ohio in Grand Haven. The Bols had at least four children, all born in Grand Haven: Annette Helen, who was born August 1, 1915, married Louis Baker on July 27, 1938, and died in Grand Haven on February 13, 1982; John Robert, born on March 29, 1919; James Edward, born on May 10, 1921 and died in Grand Haven on August 7, 2002; and Viola Ruth, who was born on July 27, 1927. Viola was married three times, first to Ray Hornstra, who died in Grand Haven on October 21, 1982, then to Nolan F. Galdeen, who died in Grand Haven on July 18, 1990, and finally to Joe Heir. Peter was a meat cutter at Charley's Market in Holland.

Peter [Pieter] Jans Bol [Ball] [1855-1937]

Peter Bol married Henrietta [Hendriktje] Martens Postema in Groningen, The Netherlands, on October 26, 1878. They both were born in that country, Peter on July 18, 1855, and Henrietta on June 23, 1851. They settled first in Spring Lake, where they were members of the Christian Reformed Church from 1881 to 1884, and they then moved to a small farm at 941 Pennoyer in Grand Haven [apparently Lot 8, Block 22, Munroe & Harris Addition]. Among their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Martin, born on August 4, 1882; John, who was born in September 1885, worked at Challenge Refrigerator, and died in Grand Haven on October 22, 1918; Hilge, who was born on January 15, 1888 and died on November 25 that year in Grand Haven Township; Hilbrand, born on March 4 [14], 1890; Frederick, born March 2, 1893; Robert [Rip], who was born in April 1895, and died on June 27, 1969; and Pieterka [Nellie], who was born on May 12, 1880 and moved to Grand Rapids. Peter I died in Grand Rapids on October 31, 1937, but was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. Henrietta died on October 15, 1920 in Grand Haven.

William H. Bol I [1916-2006]

The son of Fred and Hattie Bouwman Bol, William was born in Grand Haven on December 1, 1916. William who married Sena Muilenberg on September 29, 1950 in Holland, Michigan, retired from Challenge Machinery in 1980 after 30 years of employment there. He also served with the Army during WWII. He was a member of Second Christian Reformed Church, where he served as deacon, and he volunteered for the Christian School in Grand Haven. He and Sena had two daughters, Barbara Bol of Byron Center; Joan, who married Richard Loeper and resided in Spring Lake; and a son, William H. Bol II, who passed away in 1955. The elder Bill died in Grand Haven on December 7, 2006. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 8, 2006.]

Seine Bolks [1814-1894]

Rev. Seine Bolks in 1848 founded the town of Overisel [Overijsel] in Allegan County. He had studied with Albertus C. Van Raalte in Europe and joined Van Raalte's group in Holland, Michigan in 1847. In 1865 Seine was installed as minister of the First Reformed Church of Zeeland. Prior to that, he was named the first pastor of Grand Haven's First Reformed Church. Seine was born April 13, 1814 in Overijsel, The Netherlands, died on June 16, 1894, and was buried at Orange City, Iowa.

Peter Boll [Ball] [1858-1944]

See Peter Ball.

Baltzar E. Bolling [1890-1969]

Born in Gothenburg, Sweden, on December 20, 1890, Baltzar was the son of Lars Johan, a sea captain who lived from 1845 to 1931, and Selma Emanuella Gronquist Bolling, who died in 1892. Lars owned his own sea-going boat at 17. He became a teacher and later engaged in the plumbing business. Baltzar came to the United States at age 16, settling in Chicago. There he studied mechanical engineering at the Armour Institute of Technology and took courses in factory management and business administration at Northwestern University. He later studied commercial law at Marquette University in Milwaukee. In 1907 he started work for the Chicago Flexible Shaft Company as toolmaker. In 1911 he became a draftsman for the Adams and West Lake Company in Chicago. From 1913 to 1917 he was chief engineer of the J. K. Stewart Manufacturing Company, later becoming superintendent of the Alemite Die Casting and Manufacturing Company. In 1918 he was named general manager of the die casting department of the Hamilton Beach Manufacturing Company in Racine, Wisconsin, but returned to Chicago in 1921. In 1924 he organized the Bolling Manufacturing Company, which was sold in 1927 and later was named the Grand Haven Metal Products Company. In 1928 he established the Lumite Corp. in Grand Haven. In 1929 Stewart Die Casting purchased the business. In 1930 Bolling became assistant manager of the Iowa Manufacturing Company in Spring Lake. On February 22, 1935, in partnership with Eric Anderson, he established the Anderson-Bolling Manufacturing Company, at first leasing a wing of the Challenge Stamping & Porcelain Company at 850 Jackson and using the facilities of Michigan Brass at night. In 1941 a 16,500 sq. ft. building was erected at 701 East Savidge in Spring Lake, which was increased to 57,250 sq. ft. in 1950. Baltzar was a Republican and member of the Blue Lake Free and Accepted Masons; Medina Temple Shrine; Rotary Club; Kiwanis, Spring Lake Country Club; Spring Lake Yacht Club; Citizens Historical Association; and the People's Church of Chicago. He was active in Boy Scout work, received the silver beaver award, and was an honorary citizen of Boys' Town. He owned four sailboats and won many racing trophies.

On August 30, 1920 Baltzar married Esther Olivia Turnquist, daughter of John and Matilda Turnquist of Chicago. Esther was born January 25, 1894, and she died October 27, 1983 in Pompano Beach, Florida. The Bollings had four children: Warren Ellwood, who was born on July 25; Roger Eugene, born May 20, 1926; Vernon Baltzar, born on July 3, 1927; and Donald Winfield, born on December 22, 1929. Baltzar died in Florida in February 1969. The family resided at 18777 Fruitport Road in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township. [Citizens Historical Association, September 20, 1941, Tribune article, August 1948, and Tribune obituary, November 1, 1983.]

Roger Eugene Bolling [1926-2000]

Roger, the son of Baltzar and Esther Olivia Turnquist Bolling, was born in Muskegon on May 20, 1926. He served in the Army during WWII. After the war he graduated from Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois and returned to Spring Lake, where he was employed at his father's company, Anderson-Bolling, eventually becoming its owner and chief executive officer. He served on the Grand Haven School Board and as president of the Spring Lake Country Club. He also was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Grand Haven Rotary, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and Tri-Cities YMCA

On February 7, 1948, Roger married Vivian Dahlman. She was born on November 18, 1927 to Albert and Amanda Dahlman. Vivian graduated from Grand Haven High School and was a volunteer at the Mary Free Bed Guild of North Ottawa Community Hospital. The Bollings lived at 1856 Doris in Grand Haven and later at 16069 Lake Point Drive in Spring Lake. Their five children were Pam Ellison of Fort Lauderdale, Florida; Roger of Lake Worth, Florida; Cindy, who married Bryan Lewis of Royal Palm, Florida; Debby Lintjer of Spring Lake; and Craig of Grand Haven. Vivian passed away on December 23, 1997, and Roger died three years later, on December 1, 2000. Their residence was at 16069 Lake Point Drive [Harbor Point], but they were living in Palm Beach, Florida at the time of their deaths. [Tribune article, "Roger Bolling 'Boss of the Year,'" April 23, 1970.]

Vernon Baltzar Bolling [1927-1978]

Born on July 3, 1927 in Spring Lake, the son of Baltzar E. and Esther Olivia Turnquist Bolling, Vernon graduated from Kalamazoo College, worked in Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Oak Park, Illinois, and then became manager of Research for Steelcase in Grand Rapids. About 1968 Vernon went to work for National Displays at 725 Taylor in Grand Haven, later becoming vice president. Vernon was active in the Boy Scouts and chaired the Sustaining Membership Drive for the Grand Valley Council in 1973. He and his wife, Mobe Brant, had three sons, Mark, Steve, and John. The family resided at 18903 Fruitport Road in Spring Lake Township. Mobe was a real estate agent with the James L. Bolthouse Company of Grand Haven. Vernon died in August 1978. [Tribune article, "Scouting Memberships," November 10, 1973.]

Warren Elwood Bolling [1920-2000]

Born in Chicago, Illinois on July 25, 1921, Warren was the son of Baltzar and Esther Turnquist Bolling, he attended Michigan State College [MSU] and Stanford University. He became Sales manager for the Anderson Bolling Company of Spring Lake. He was a member of the American Legion; Kiwanis Club; Century Club of Muskegon; and Lake Shore Club of Chicago. He married Mary Elaine Aldrich of Grand Rapids. Warren passed away in Naples, Florida on October 16, 2000.

Albert J. Bolt [1871-1938]

In the early 1900s Albert Bolt had a grocery store at 706 Washington. He and his wife, Minnie Boet, lived at 728 Washington and later at 1046 Washington. They were married in Ottawa County on September 29, 1898. Minnie, the daughter of Antone and Pauline Boet of Grand Haven, was born in Michigan in February 1871. Albert also was born in Michigan on May 29 of the same year. The Bolts' two children were Pauline [nee Antonet], born in July 1899, and Willis, born about 1913. Albert died on March 2, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Minnie, who passed away on November 21, 1950, was buried near her husband. Albert's parents were Henry John and Cornelia Elfers Bolt of Grand Haven.

Frederick Cornelius "Ted" Bolt [1897-1976]

Born on July 15, 1897 in Grand Haven, Ted was the son of John J. and Dena Van Zanten Bolt. He graduated from the University of Michigan School of Business Administration and was a WWI veteran. He was employed by the Peoples Bank on November 1, 1917. Ted became president of the bank in 1944 and chairman and Trust officer in 1962. Ted was working at the bank on the day it was robbed, August 17, 1933. He and others stopped the robbery while it was in progress, and Ted shared in a $1,000 reward. From 1921 to 1934 he went into business with his father, John J. Bolt. They offered general insurance at their office located in the Grand Haven State Bank building at 223 Washington. Ted was a member of the Elks; Grand Haven Aviation Club, which initiated the Ted Bolt Annual Award; Chamber of Commerce; Grand Haven Library Board; Grand Haven Gideon Camp; and Spring Lake Country Club. Bolt also headed bond drives for the WWII war effort and raised money for a new Chamber of Commerce building and the Grand Haven High School building on Cutler. In addition, he organized and was trustee for the Hofma Trust, and was secretary of the Grand Haven Salvation Army Advisory Board. Ted organized the Boy Scout troop of the Second Christian Reformed Church. Ted never married and lived in the family home at 826 Washington with his sister Anje, who was born about 1889 and died on February 22, 1974. Ted died of heart disease on May 10, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "Peoples Bank Names Three New Directors," December 7, 1971, and "F. C. Bolt: Dies at 78," May 11, 1976.]

Henry John [Hendrik Jan] Bolt I [1823-1907]

The son of Arend and Jennekje Bouwhuis Bolt, Henry was born in Lockum, The Netherlands on October 30, 1823. He came to Grand Haven in July 1847, where he spent the remainder of his life. By occupation Henry was a farmer. He had no money at the time of his arrival and had to depend upon his own resources to make a livelihood. He started earning money by shoveling sawdust at the Throop Mill for $16 a month. In 1848 he was employed by Clark Albee and stayed with him for six years. He was paid $180 a year, plus board. He was the first coroner in Ottawa County and held a number of inquests. He was street commissioner of Grand Haven for over ten years, beginning about 1870. After a time he began devoting his energies to farming and fruit growing. Nathan White, assisted by Thomas White, started planting maple trees on Franklin Street, and Bolt helped plant many hundreds of trees in the city. He was a charter member of the First Reformed Church, started by 15 families in 1851. He later was a member of the Second Reformed Church. He was Republican in politics.

On May 9, 1852, Henry married Cornelia [Lena/Rena] Elfers. She was born on April 7, 1828, in Goor, The Netherlands, and came to America at age 20. They had eight children: Johannah [Hannah], who was born on July 10, 1853 and on July 30, 1874 married Johannes "John" Kolvoord of Battle Creek; Aaltje "Alice," who was born on April 26, 1855 and died in Battle Creek on June 10, 1918; Jantje "Jennie," who was born June 23, 1857 and married John Boer; Henry, who was born on August 27, 1859 and died 17 months later; Hattie, who was born on June 27, 1862; Cornelia, who died at the age of six months in June 1865; Hendrick "Henry" J. II, who was born on October 22, 1866 and was listed as a teamster in the early 1890s; and Albert J., who was born May 29, 1871. The Bolt family resided at 1036 Washington Avenue. Around 1913 they sold five acres of their land at the southwest corner of Ferry and Pennoyer for $1,600. That land became the site of Ferry School. Cornelia died on April 1, 1892. Henry died at his home on Washington Street on March 26, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. On June 10, 1938, Bolt Park, at Beechtree and Pennoyer, was named in his memory. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan, p. 119, Chronicle article, "Bolt's Observation of City's Early History," June 9, 1938, Tribune article, "Frank Sparks Speaks at Park Dedication," June 9, 1938, Chronicle article, "Hatton, H. J.

Bolt Are Honored at Public Ceremony,” June 9, 1938, Tribune obituaries, April 2, 1892 and March 27, 1907.]

“Henry” Hendrick John Bolt II [1866-1934]

“Henry” Hendrick, the son of Henry J. and Cornelia Elfers Bolt, was born on October 22, 1866 in Grand Haven. He was listed as a teamster in the early 1890s, and occupation he continued to follow in the early 1900s, although in 1920 he was listed as a farmer. On May 22, 1895 he married Rena Hoffman in Grand Haven. Rena, the daughter of John and Roelfa Hoffman, was born in February 1872, The Bolts resided at 1036 Washington. Their children were Henry John III, born about 1901; Grace M., born about 1904; Irene V., born about 1907; and Cornelia Ann, born about 1908. Cornelia married Percy C. Floto of Grand Haven. Rena passed away about March 21, 1947 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Henry was buried on May 5, 1934.

Henry Valentine Bolt I [1878-1960]

Henry V. Bolt, who owned Bolt’s Meat Market at 403 Fulton, was born in Grand Haven on April 25, 1878. On July 17, 1901 in Grand Haven, he married Jennie Mathilde Vander Zalm. The daughter of Toney and Dora Voss Vander Zalm, Jennie was born in Grand Haven on September 5, 1878. They lived at 719 Pennoyer. Henry V. Bolt II was their son. Henry I died on February 1, 1960 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jennie passed away on April 24, 1945 and was buried near her husband.

Henry Valentine Bolt II [1915-1999]

Henry II, the son of Henry V. and Jennie Bolt, was born on May 1, 1915 and died in Grand Haven on December 13, 1999, when he was still residing in the family home at 719 Pennoyer. Henry II graduated from Western State Teachers College [WMU] in 1936 and went into teaching, first at Durand High School in Michigan and later at Grand Haven High School.

Jacob Bolt [1840-1887]

Jacob Bolt, born in The Netherlands on May 31, 1840, became a lumber shaver in Grand Haven, and later was classified as a teamster. He married Johanna Moss, who also was born in The Netherlands about 1842. They had seven surviving children, including: John L., born in 1864; Derk, born about 1866; Mary, who was born about November 1870 and married John Lock of Grand Haven; Jane [Jennie], who was born about 1874 and married Joseph Maurits in Grand Rapids on May 17, 1900; Kate, who was born about 1876 and married Doeke Kniper in Ottawa County on October 24, 1893; Henry, who was born about 1877 and in Grand Haven on July 17, 1901 married Jennie, the daughter of Toney and Dora Voss Vander Zalm; Fanny, born about 1880; Gertrude, who was born about 1883 and married Fred Ensing in Grand Rapids on February 19, 1902; James, who also was born about 1883 and married Nellie Patterson in Muskegon on December 24, 1904. John and Derk were born in The Netherlands, and the rest were born locally. Jacob died on August 27, 1887. After his death, Johanna maintained a dressmaking business in her home at 508 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Living with her in the early 1900s were Florence Bolt, who worked at Challenge Machinery, and Henrietta, the widow of John Bolt, Jacob’s and Johanna’s son, who died on August 26, 1905. Henrietta lived from 1865 to 1928. Johanna passed away in 1908. She and Jacob were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members, including John and Henrietta.

Jacob J. Bolt [1892-1978]

Born on December 30, 1892 in Grand Haven, the son of John and Henrietta Dykema Bolt, Jacob worked at the Grand Haven post office for 48 years. In August 1951 he became assistant postmaster and in 1962 he was named the 15th postmaster of Grand Haven. On June 18, 1918 in Kent County, he married Esther Goodrich. Esther, the daughter of William and Alice Gorman Goodrich, was born in 1895 and about September 23, 1948. The Bolts had two daughters, Mary Alice, who married Robert Storm of Merritt Island, Florida, and Delores, who married Donald Bartels of Grand Haven. The Bolts resided at 904 Pennoyer. In Muskegon he married Agnes E. Sullivan, who lived from September 17, 1897 to June 5, 1983. She was the daughter of James Sullivan. Jacob died on July 3, 1978. Esther, Jacob, and Agnes were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Jake Bolt Named Postmaster Here,” April 3, 1962, and Tribune obituary, June 6, 1983.]

John Bolt [1880-1939] and Etta Koster Bolt [1878-1974]

John Bolt was born in 1880 in Spring Lake. After attending Muskegon Business College, he bought John Koster’s grocery business in Spring Lake, which he sold after a short time to George Rankin. John then bought a concrete and fuel business in Muskegon, operating it under the name of Bolt Cement & Coal Company. On March 30, 1909 in Spring Lake, he married Etta, daughter of the man who owned the grocery store in the Village. John and Etta lived in Muskegon, where the family business was located. He died on January 4, 1939.

Born in Spring Lake on October 11, 1878, Etta was the daughter of John and Gertrude Ekster Koster. Etta worked at Beaudry’s Dry Goods Store in Grand Haven for 11 or 12 years. She recalled that her commute on the Interurban would have cost five cents each way, 60 cents a week, at a time when she was earning $3 a week, so she traveled by horse-drawn bus, instead. When her husband died in early 1939, Etta returned to Spring Lake, where she passed away on June 12, 1974. She lived at 205 North Division. John and Etta were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Bolt [1861–1934]

In partnership with Edward P. Kinkema, John Bolt operated a cold storage and fresh fish market at 1034 Fulton in Grand Haven from 1901 to 1921. He then went into business with his son, Cornelius Frederick. They offered general insurance at their office located in the Grand Haven State Bank building at 223 Washington. John was an original director of Peoples Bank, which opened in 1910 in downtown Grand Haven [300 Washington]. He was born in The Netherlands on February 23, 1861 and came to Grand Haven when he was ten.

On December 21, 1880, John married Wilberdenia “Dena,” daughter of Cornelius Van Zanten I. Dena was born January 13, 1869 and died September 2, 1937. The Bolts lived at 1221 Washington and later at 826 Washington. They had four children: Anje, who was born in March 1888, became a school teacher, and died on February 22, 1974; Cornelius Frederick, who was born in August 1889, served as principal at Muskegon Heights High School principal for many years, and died on December 19, 1954; Arthur J., who was born in March 1891 [1892] and became a Muskegon dentist and state senator; and Frederick Cornelius “Ted,” who lived in Grand Haven and was born on July 15, 1897 [1898/1899]. John died April 10, 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife and other family members. [Tribune article, “F. C. Bolt Dies at 78,” May 11, 1976.]

Richard D. Bolt I [1865-1938]

Richard Bolt, born in The Netherlands on September 21, 1865, operated a meat market at 207 North Seventh Street in Grand Haven and resided in a nearby two-story frame house [219 North Seventh]. In the 1908 Directory he was listed as a cooper, and two years later he was a machinist at Dake Engine Company. He married Margaret Powell, whose father, John Powell, had once owned the meat market. Margaret was born locally on February 12, 1867. Richard took over the meat market following his father’s-in-law death in 1913. By 1928 he was partnered with Henry Swartz, and the name of the store revealed the name of its owners. Among the Bolt children, all born locally, were Joy, born about 1886; John, born about 1888; Josephine Margaret “Josie,” who was born about 1894 and married Paul B. Markhoff of Spring Lake; Katie, born about 1902; and Richard II, who lived from 1904 to 1921. Richard I died on January 24, 1938 and was buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. Margaret passed away on September 22, 1952 and was buried near her husband.

Charles Gerrit Bolthouse [Bulthuis] [1864-1926]

Charles Bolthouse was born in Groningen, the Netherlands on November 12, 1864 under the name Geert Bulthuis. When he immigrated to the United States in 1872, his name was Americanized to Charles Bulthuis/Bolthouse. He married Maria Jelier in Spring Lake on April 5, 1884. She was born in the Netherlands on January 5, 1865. They lived in Ferrysburg, where Charles worked as foreman for Johnston Boiler Company. Charles/Geert died in Grand Haven on November 6, 1926, and Maria passed away in Chicago on February 15, 1940. They had at least one daughter, Maggie, who was born locally about 1884.

Henry “Harry” J. Bolthouse [Bulthuis] [1887-1975]

Henry Bolthouse had a 25-acre farm in Section 9 of Spring Lake Township in the early 1900s. He was born in Michigan on October 22, 1887 and died on October 28, 1975. On May 24, 1911 in Ferrysburg, he married Hilda Katt. The daughter of John and Steentje “Kate” Wierenga Katt of Ferrysburg, Hilda was born on September 2, 1891. Henry’s and Hildz’s children, all born locally, were Selma J., born about 1913; Clarence, born about 1915; Stella J., born about 1918; Kenneth, born about 1920; and Raymond, born about 1922. They also had an adopted son, Robert L. Bolthouse, who was born around 1930. Hilda died in Spring Lake on December 11, 1982. Henry and Hilda were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Paul Bolthouse [1912-2006]

John, the son of Harm and Maggie Dekkinga Bolthouse, was born in Spring Lake on September 4, 1912. He married Thelma M. Vander Ark in Melville, Louisiana on March 2, 1934. She was the daughter of Henry and Margaret Hansma Vander Ark. John owned and operated the Texaco Service Station in Spring Lake for 32 years, including 25 years in partnership with Steve Bottema. He served on the Spring Lake Village Council in 1940, was village clerk for 31 years, and Village manager from the early to mid-1970s. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Spring Lake. The Bolthouses children include John of Grandville, Kent County; Jim of Andalusia, Alabama; and Jerry of Spring Lake. John passed away at home on February 17, 2006 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Thelma lived from November 6, 1908 to December 12, 2001. She also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 20, 2006.]

Richard Bolthouse [Bulthaus, Bulthuis] [1880-1956]

The son of Krein and Soutje “Sarah” Bolthouse, Dick was born in Ferrysburg on June 6, 1880 [1879]. On June 15, 1904 in Spring Lake, he married Jennie Luloffs. She was born in Coopersville on October 20, 1882. Her father, Meindert Luloffs, was born in The Netherlands on April 30, 1856. Meindert married Martha Leuring Luloffs. One of the Bolthouses’ children, Susan Marie, who was born about 1907, married Charles Rouwhorst. Jennie died on October 24, 1941. Dick passed away in Grand Haven on August 8, 1956. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George Bolton [1862-1923]

Born in 1862 in Canada, George Bolton brought his family to Spring Lake in 1905. He owned and operated Bolton’s Shoe Repair Shop, which was located at 213 West Savidge, later the site of the Idle Hour Bowling Lanes. George also repaired clocks, watches, and rings. His wife, Hannah, also a Canadian, was born in 1864. The couple lived at 210 Williams Street. They had five sons, all born in Canada: Adelbert, born about 1887; Stewart W. born about 1890; Harry, born on April 8, 1891; and Ernest, born in 1894. All five sons resided in Spring Lake. George Bolton died at his home in Spring Lake on September 6, 1923 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Hannah died 13 years later and was buried in the family plot. [Tribune obituary, September 7, 1923.]

Harry Bolton [1891-1973]

Born in Canada on April 8, 1891, Harry Bolton in 1905 came to Spring Lake with his parents, George and Hannah Bolton. Harry worked for the Challenge Corn Planter Company for 16 years and later was custodian of the Spring Lake School on Exchange Street for 23 years. On May 13, 1913 he married Gertrude Eckelcamp, who lived from December 10, 1891 to November 26, 1983. She was the daughter of Henry Eckelcamp. The Boltons’ children included Gladys, who was born on August 20, 1914 and married Paul

Lampe of Spring Lake on May 1, 1937; Harold, who was born May 9, 1917, married Winifred Weavers on May 18, 1939, and died October 27, 1991; Russell, who was born about 1920 and whose wife's name was Maxine; Irene, who was born about 1922 and married Darwin Andree of Muskegon; and Albert G., who was born in 1926 and died July 1963. Harry and Gertrude lived at 230 Summit in Spring Lake. He died in February 1973. Harry and Gertrude were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, November 26, 1983 and October 28, 1991.]

Lucius Boltwood I [1792-1872]

Lucius Boltwood I purchased land in Michigan as early as 1836 and by 1864 owned 80 acres in Section 12 of Robinson Township, 80 acres in Section 11, and 80 acres in Section 32 [North] of Grand Haven Township, and additional acreage in Section 21, now part of the City of Grand Haven. On June 12, 1849 he and his wife Fanny conveyed to Dennis Robinson substantial acres of land in Ottawa County. Dennis was Rix Robinson's brother, but did not reside in Ottawa County. Lucius was born in Massachusetts on March 16, 1792 and died on July 10, 1872 in Amherst, Massachusetts. He married Fanny Haskins Shepard on August 20, 1824. She was born on March 23, 1807 in Rhode Island and died on April 26, 1888 in Amherst. Their son, Lucius Manlius Boltwood, was born on June 8, 1825 in Amherst. There is no evidence that the Boltwoods ever lived in Ottawa County.

Lucius Manlius Boltwood II [1825-1905]

Lucius Boltwood was reputed to be 100 years old when he died in Grand Rapids on February 28, 1905, but recent data points to a birth date of June 8, 1825, in Amherst, Massachusetts. His birth date may have been confused with his father's, Lucius I, who was born in 1792 and died in 1852. Lillie recorded that in 1861 Lucius II offered to forgive any balance remaining on land bought from him by a husband or father enlisting in the military, if that soldier failed to survive the Civil War. By 1864 he held title to acreage in Section 32 of Grand Haven Township, near the south border of the City of Grand Haven, and he also had large holdings in Sections 19 and 30 of Allendale Township. Lucius developed Boltwood's Addition to the City of Grand Haven, land that previously had been owned by his father. Located north of Madison Street and west of Seventh Street, the plat included about 90 building lots, most of them 66 feet by 132 feet. On June 6, 1860 Lucius married Clarinda Boardman Williams, who was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on August 31, 1836 and passed away on October 8, 1890. A son, Lucius III, was born in Amherst on July 27, 1862 and married Etta Monique Comstock in Grand Rapids. Lucius III, an attorney, died in Grand Rapids on June 10, 1938.

Thaddeus V. Bomberski [1904-1998]

The son of Vincent Bomberski, Thaddeus worked with his father at the family grocery store, located at 601 Fulton. Thaddeus was born on August 26, 1904 and died in Grand Haven on January 25, 1998.

Vincent Charles Bomberski [1876-1937]

Born on December 20, 1876, the son of Martin and Anna Diskey Bomberski, Vincent was raised in the Detroit area. From 1910 to 1925 he owned and operated a grocery store at 601 Fulton Avenue in Grand Haven. His son Thaddeus worked with him. Vincent died and was buried at Holy Cross Cemetery in Kent County in 1937.

Lewis [Louis] W. Bon [Ban] [1827-1901]

Lewis Bon was born in Ohio on December 10, 1827. When the Civil War began, he was a sailor living in Manitowoc, Wisconsin, where he enlisted in Company C of the Wisconsin 4th Cavalry as a private on June 17, 1864. He was discharged for promotion on September 2, 1864, the same day he received a commission in the USC 15th Infantry. Lewis's enlistment papers specified that he was 5' 7½" with blue eyes and black hair. After the war he became a tugboat captain. When Lewis retired from that duty, he was hired by the government to monitor the pier and lighthouse. He suffered a bad fall on the pier and was taken to the Soldier's Home in Grand Rapids, where he died on July 1, 1901. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lewis was a member of the Weatherwax Post of the Grand Army of the Republic [G.A.R.]. On April 23, 1853, in Spring Lake, he married Euphemia Raymond, who was, born on October 8, 1835 in Michigan, the daughter of Louisa M. Raymond, Curtis Gray's second wife. Lewis and Euphemia had seven children, all born in Michigan or Wisconsin. One of the children, Charlie H., was born on September 27, 1880, died on August 27, 1881, and was buried at Lake Forest. On July 18, 1901, Euphemia applied for a widow's Civil War pension. She died October 18, 1919 in Grand Haven and was buried near her husband.

Baldwin Boomgaard [1899-1954]

Born in Grand Haven on April 10, 1899, Baldwin was the son of Cornelius C. and Jennie Boomgaard. In 1918 he was Walter Lillie's chauffeur. He married Alice Allman, who was born in Illinois about 1899. In 1920 the couple resided in Chicago, where Baldwin was a shipping clerk. By 1930 he was divorced and living in Los Angeles, California, where he died on November 17, 1954. In Los Angeles he was a salesman for a radio tube company.

Boudewijn "Baldwin" Boomgaard [1859-1900]

Boudewijn "Baldwin" Boomgaard was born in The Netherlands on January 6, 1859. He was the son of Cornelius and Wilhelmina Boomgaard. Baldwin became part owner of Boomgaard & Sons Hardware, located at 335 Fulton that was started by his father. Baldwin married Antje "Anna" Veenstra on September 27, 1882 in Grand Haven. The daughter of Luwe and Reina Fisher Veenstra, she was born in Grand Haven on August 31, 1862 and passed away on May 7, 1910. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Cornelius Baldwin, born on April 21, 1883; Louis, who was born in 1884, died in 1913 in Grand Haven, and was buried at Lake Forest; Wilhelmina "Minnie," who was born in 1887 and married Peter Helmers of Grand Haven; Reina, who was born on May 19, 1889, died on September 26, 1891 in Grand Haven, and was buried at Lake Forest; Mattie, who was born in April 1891 died in Grand Haven on August 31, 1895, and was buried at Lake Forest; and Irene, who was born on January 11, 1899, married John Gerrit Dirkse of Grand Haven on April 15, 1926, died on November 24, 1990, and was buried at Lake Forest. Gerrit lived from April 17, 1903 to January 3, 1985, and also was buried at Lake Forest. Baldwin died in Grand Haven on December 3, 1900. He and Anna buried at Lake Forest with other family members. The family resided at 105 North Fourth.

Cornelia Boomgaard [1896-1965]

Cornelia Boomgaard was appointed head of bookkeeping at Challenge Stamping and Porcelain Company in Grand Haven when it was formed in 1929. When Challenge acquired Puffer Hubbard Company in 1940, Cornelia was named secretary/treasurer. In 1930 she was living with her father, Hubert Boomgaard, at 1144 Washington, where she remained after his death in 1942. Her mother, Jacoba, died in 1927. Cornelia was born in Grand Haven on December 22, 1896 and died in April 1965.

Cornelius Boomgaard [1833-1905]

Cornelius, the son of Jacobus and Cornelia Van Noorden Boomgaard, was born in The Netherlands in December 1833. Cornelius started a hardware business called Boomgaard & Sons, located at 335 Fulton. He married Wilhelmina Van Powell in The Netherlands. She lived from November 1835 to June 1, 1924 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Boomgaards' children were Boudewijn "Baldwin," born on January 6, 1859; Marinus, who was born in 1862, and died in Grand Haven on April 4, 1893; Jacobus, who was born in 1864 and died in Grand Haven on May 10, 1879; Dena, who was born in 1868 and died in Grand Haven on September 18, 1902; Cornelius G. [C.], born on May 5, 1870; Katri, born in 1872; Dennis, who was born in 1873 and died in Grand Haven on March 13, 1893; and Herbert, who was born in 1876 and died in Grand Haven on April 28, 1894. The three older children were born in The Netherlands, the rest were born locally.

Cornelius "Nace" Baldwin Boomgaard [Vanden Boomgaard] [1883-1921]

Born on April 21, 1883 in Grand Haven, Cornelius Boomgaard was the son of Boudewijn "Baldwin" and Antje Veenstra Boomgaard of Grand Haven. Nace, [Cornelius's nickname] married Della Westhof on May 23, 1906 in Grand Haven. The daughter of Petrus and Fenna De Groot Westhof, she was born September 29, 1885 in Ferrysburg. Cornelius was the last family member to own the Boomgaard & Sons Hardware at 335 Fulton. After Nace's death in 1921, Della sold the store, located at 335 Fulton, to Hartger Jonker and Peter Robinson. The Boomgaards lived at 317 Clinton, but after Cornelius's mother died in 1910, he moved his family into her home at 105 North Fourth Street. They were members of the First Reformed Church. Their daughter, Frances Irene, was born in Grand Haven on September 21, 1917. She married John Joseph Herbert Hierholzer of Grand Haven in 1935. After Cornelius died of pneumonia on February 21, 1921, Irene lived with her mother at 105 North Fourth until her marriage. Cornelius was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Della, who passed away on April 13, 1978. [Tribune obituary, February 21, 1921.]

Cornelius G. [C.] Boomgaard [Van Den Boomgaard] [1870-1945]

Born in Grand Haven on May 25, 1870, Cornelius was the son of Cornelius and Wilhelmina Van Powell Boomgaard. The younger Cornelius eventually inherited the family hardware store and operated it for many years before Della Boomgaard sold it to Hartger Jonker and Peter Robinson around 1920. On April 17, 1889 in Grand Haven Cornelius married Jeanette [Jennette] "Jennie" Cole. They had at least six children, including Cornelius Jacobus Boomgaard, born on October 7, 1889; Johanna Boomgaard, born in 1891; William Boomgaard, born on September 18, 1892; Nieltje Boomgaard, born in 1898; Baldwin Boomgaard, born on April 10, 1899; James, born in 1901; Jeanette, born in 1908; Irene, born about 1915; and Eugene Boomgaard, born about 1918. James, on April 24, 1921, married Mildred Smith in Grand Haven. Mildred was 17 at the time of her marriage. Cornelius and Jennie were members of the Second Reformed Church and resided at 109 North Fourth, where Cornelius was janitor for ten years. Cornelius died in 1945. Jennie, who was born in 1864, died in 1923. She and her husband were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cornelius Jacobus Boomgaard I [1889-1961]

On December 8, 1928, Cornelius Boomgaard married Vernice Stults in Coopersville. Vernice was born in 1900 and passed away in 1969. They had one child, Cornelius J. "Casey" Boomgaard II, who was born on May 15, 1929 and died in Florida on May 23, 2014. It was Cornelius's second marriage. He married Gertrude Stang Boyink of Grand Haven on June 14, 1916 in Grand Rapids. She was born in Chicago on December 7, 1891 and previously had been married to Albert Boyink, who was born on April 2, 1889 and died on March 14, 1914. Cornelius and Gertrude were divorced on July 1, 1920 in Grand Haven. Gertrude then married John Van Herwynen on August 12, 1920 in Grand Haven. Cornelius I, the son of Cornelius and Jeanette Boomgaard, passed away in 1961 and Vernice died eight years later. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Edward Boomgaard [1885-1967]

Edward Boomgaard, then a clerk, married Effie Zangman in Grand Haven on May 23, 1907. They lived at 618 [606] Elliott in the early 1900s and later moved to Mercury Drive. Edward owned a heating and plumbing business at 335 Elliott Street in 1915, but soon after he became Grand Haven fire chief, a post he held from 1919 to 1937. They then resided at 702 Franklin. He was born on November 20, 1885 and died on August 5, 1967. Effie passed away around January 30, 1912. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hubert Boomgaard [Boomgard] [1870-1942]

Hubert Boomgaard, who was born in The Netherlands in August 1870, became a mechanic in Grand Haven. On October 15, 1890 in Grand Haven, he married Jacoba [Cora] Hoebeke. She was born in Michigan in August 1868 [1869] and died in 1927. Hubert died on December 15, 1942. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They lived at 1005 Washington in Grand Haven, and later at 1144 Washington. Their children, all born locally, were Johanna, born in December 1892; Tracy, who was born August 24, 1894, married Albert Vander Ven of Grand Haven, and died on March 5, 1985; Cornelia, born on December 22, 1896; Anthony, who was born on March 24, 1900 and died August 27, 1995; James, who was born on December 10, 1902; and Marian, born about 1912.

Jacobus Boomgaard [Vanden Boomgaard, Vanden Boomgaard] [1819-1894]

Jacobus Boomgaard, a tinsmith, was born in The Netherlands on September 28, 1819. He married Cornelia Van Noorden, who was born in The Netherlands and died on September 18, 1902 in Grand Haven. Their children, both born in The Netherlands, were Cornelius, who was born in December 1833, and Lougier, who was born in 1836 and died in Grand Haven on April 3, 1900. Jacobus died on July 16, 1894.

James Boomgaard [1902-1983]

James was born in Grand Haven on December 10, 1902, the son of Hubert [Hubrecht] and Jacoba Boomgaard. He resided at 16585 Sleeper Street in Grand Haven Township, worked as a painter and welder at Challenge Porcelain. He died December 29, 1983 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 29, 1983.]

James John “Jay” Boomgaard [1892-1920]

Born in Grand Haven June 1892, Jay was the son of John and Maggie Van Dyke Boomgaard of Grand Haven. About 1917 James married Helen Kraus, who was born in Wisconsin around 1890. The couple resided in Milwaukee, where they had two sons, James, born about 1918, and Clarence, born about 1920. Jay died of tuberculosis in Milwaukee in April 1920. Helen was still a resident of Milwaukee in 1930. [Tribune obituary, April 15, 1920.]

John Boomgaard [Vanden Boomgaard, Boomgaard] [1868- 1946]

John Boomgaard was born in Grand Haven in January 1868. On January 20, 1887 he married Margaretha “Maggie” Van Dijk [Van Dyke], who was born in May 1866. John worked for William Heap & Sons. The family lived at 523 Fulton in the early 1900s. Among their children were a daughter Alice, who was born on March 6, 1891, became a dressmaker, and married George Carpenter in Grand Haven on May 17, 1911; Jay, born in June 1892; Johanna, who was born in April 1894, married, and moved to Detroit; Berdiena “Birdie,” who was born April 20, 1896, married E. M. Walcott, and moved to Los Angeles; Elizabeth, born in April 1897; James John, who was born about 1900; and Chester, who was born May 17, 1905 and moved to Grand Rapids; and Joseph. John, who worked as a tinner, died on December 14, 1946 in Grand Rapids and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William B. Boomgaard [1892-1971]

William Boomgaard, a jeweler and watch maker, was born in Grand Haven on September 18, 1892. He worked at John S. Lowe’s Optical and Jewelry Store, first located first at 115 Washington and later at 220 Washington. Sometime between 1917 and 1919 William married Ida, the daughter of Klass and Lucy Leninga of Grand Haven. Ida was born locally in 1889. In 1920 William and his wife resided with her widowed mother at 216 Elliott. William died in One Thousand Oaks, California on January 31, 1971 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ida passed away around April 7, 1967, and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Marinus Cornelius “George” Boomsluitter [Boomsliter] [1835-1895]

Captain George Boomsluitter was born on February 26, 1835. He was the son of Marinus Cornelius Boomsluitter, born in The Netherlands in 1799, and Janna Van Den Berg Koopman. Janna was a native of Zeeland, The Netherlands, where she was born January 24, 1808. She died in Grand Haven in 1901. On December 6, 1870 George married Sarah Vogel. George and Sarah lived at 519 Madison in Grand Haven. They had at least two sons: George, born in October 1880, and Walter. They also had a daughter, Barbara Lena, who married Elmer Bradway of Grand Haven. George died on January 27, 1895. Sarah, who was born in Alsace Lorraine, Germany, lived from February 26, 1848 [1849] to May 31, 1935. Walter was born in 1883 and died in 1920. Parents and son were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Dirk “Dick” Boon [1894-1979]

Born in The Netherlands on August 13, 1894, Dick Boon became manager of a branch of Grand Haven State Bank [Fifth Third] at the corner of Washington and Seventh Streets. Later he became bookkeeper for the bank. Prior to his banking experience, he worked at Challenge Machinery. On August 24, 1916 in Grand Haven, he married Mary Jacoba Ruster. They resided at 738 Pennoyer. Among their children was Maurice “Moon” Boon, who became a teacher in the Grand Haven school system and married Marjorie De Neut of and Rapids. Dick died on September 11, 1979. Mary, who was born on June 9, 1893, passed away in Grand Haven on March 30, 1986. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dick and Martin Boon were brothers.

Marjorie De Neut Boon [1930-2006] and Maurice “Moon” Boon [1926-2016]

Marge Boon was elected the first woman mayor of Grand Haven in 1981, the first of three two-year terms. Before her election as mayor, she served eight years on the City Council, beginning in 1973. She was born in Grand Rapids on June 28, 1930 to Earl and Marie Romance De Neut. She graduated from Hope College and taught biology in the Grand Haven school system for 15 years. On June 30, 1956, she married Maurice “Moon” Boon in Grand Haven. Moon also taught, first at Mason High School, then in the Grand Haven schools for 37 years. They had three children: Cristine, who married Marvin Hinga of Zeeland; Amy, who married Fred Gadsby of Holland; and Dennis of Grand Haven.

As mayor, Marge was instrumental in the rejuvenation of the industrial waterfront that had fallen into decay along Harbor Drive. Chinook Pier, the Boardwalk, and Lighthouse Connector Park were built under her leadership. She and City manager Larry Deetjen worked closely together to obtain state and federal grants to assist in paying for the redevelopment projects. Marge was named by Counterpart as the Woman of the Year in 1982. In 1984 she was invited to christen the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba III. 1984 also was the year of Grand Haven’s Sesquicentennial Celebration. Marge and Moon were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven, and Marge belonged to the League of Woman Voters, Michigan Municipal League, and served on many boards. Grand Haven Rotary awarded her the Paul Harris Fellowship Award. Marge died on April 1, 2006 in Grand Haven. [Tribune article, “Former GH mayor Marge Boon dead at 75” and obituary, April 3, 2006.]

Moon was born on June 1, 1925 in Grand Haven, the son of Dirk and Mary Ruster Boon. He served with the Navy during WWII, and then received an undergraduate degree in education from Hope College. He was a member of the First Reformed Church and their local American Legion Post. Moon passed away in Grand Haven on December 4, 2016. He and Marge were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Moon’s father, Dirk “Dick” Boon, and Martin Boon were brothers. [Tribune obituary, December 6, 2016].

Martin Boon [1884-1981]

Born on December 16, 1884 in The Netherlands, Martin was the son of Arie Floris [Floris A.] and Adriana Bommel Boon. Arie, an upholsterer by trade, brought his family to Grand Haven in 1911. He lived from 1854 to 1937 and his wife from 1857 to 1934. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had 11 children, Martin being the fifth. At the age of 19 Martin served in The Netherlands’ army as a member of the Queen’s and Dowager Queen Emma’s honor guard. In Grand Haven he worked for the Story & Clark Piano Company for three years and then Bastian Blessing. In 1920 Martin joined the Bakker [Baker] Lumber Company and learned the business from Derk Baker, who returned to the firm after his son John’s premature death that year. Martin stayed with the company for more than fifty years, retiring in 1976. He was a member of the City Council from 1932 to 1935 and again in 1938 and 1939. He was elected mayor of Grand Haven from 1948 to 1951. Martin was a Republican and member of the Chamber of Commerce, Citizens Historical Association, and the First Reformed Church.

In 1913 Martin married Kate, who was born about 1889 in Ferrysburg, the daughter of Henry, a boilermaker, and Kate Dykema Yock. Jean [Jennie] Yock, Kate Boon’s sister, owned a millinery shop in Grand Haven. The Boons had two children: Kathryn Jane, who was born in 1916 and first married Raymond Boot and then Gerald D. Whiting. The Boons’ other child was Harold Marvin, who was born on April 27, 1921 and died in Lansing on March 31, 1991 of throat cancer. The Boons resided at 717 Pennoyer in the 1920s and into the 1940s and later at 805 South De Spelder. Kate Boon died August 2, 1959. Martin's second wife, Gertrude, was born on March 17, 1896 and died on February 28, 1983. Martin died of cardiac arrest on June 30, 1981 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dirk "Dick" Boon was his brother. [Citizens Historical Association, September 20, 1941, Tribune articles, August 1948, "Mayor Boon Was Guard of Dutch Queen," April 14, 1952, and "Happy Birthday Mart!" December 15, 1973.]

Edwin Booth [1889-1958]

Edwin and Nora Boneburg Booth purchased Arbutus Banks Hotel from Clarice Davis in 1935. At that time the land consisted of six and a half acres and had 386' of lake frontage. Also in 1935 the Booths sold a 100-foot parcel to William Alt for a building site on a street that became known as 17863 Oakwood Drive. The Booths, natives of Cleveland, Ohio, operated the resort for nine years. In 1944 the Booths ceased operation of Arbutus Banks Hotel, but they continued to use the property as their residence. In 1954 the boathouse was destroyed in a storm. Edwin was born in 1889 and died in New York on September 3, 1958. Nora was born in Michigan on October 20, 1896 and passed away on January 18, 1964. Both were buried at Georgetown Township Cemetery.

William M. Booth II [1920-2008]

Bill Booth moved to Grand Haven in 1994 and became a self-employed professional engineer with several patents to his credit. Among his community achievements was perfecting the technical details for the Musical Fountain. He served on the Fountain Committee until 2007. Bill was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, where he received the Bishop's Service Cross. He also was a member of the Muskegon Chapter of the Society of Professional Engineers, the Masons, the Saladin Temple, Sons of the American Revolution, American Legion, and the National Rifle Association., and the Optimist Club. During WWII Bill served with the Army's 104th Timberwolf Division and received two Purple Hearts, two oak clusters, two bronze stars, and other decorations and citations.

Bill was born in Terre Haute, Indiana on September 12, 1920, the son of Morris Fenton and Elsa Ahlgren Booth. On March 18, 1944, he married Ruth Anna Friess in New York City. Their children were Carol Ann, who married Larry Edinger of Paw Paw, and William III, also of Paw Paw. William II passed away in Grand Haven on January 6, 2008. [Tribune obituary, January 9, 2008.]

Fred John Borchers [1900-1994]

Fred was born on September 2, 1900 to Henry and Edith Warber Borchers in Nunica. His father, who was born in Hanover, Germany on October 18, 1835, died of pneumonia on May 12, 1908 and was buried in Nunica. Fred was a farmer, fur trapper, and fur buyer for 55 years, and he also worked at Eagle Ottawa for a while and, after he retired from farming, he managed Grand Haven State Park. On February 3, 1923 in Grand Haven, he married Jessie B. Chittenden, the daughter of Emmons and Bernice Friant Chittenden of Crockery Township. Jessie was born on July 16, 1907 and died on December 21, 1986. Their children included Betty J. Borchers, who was born about 1924 and married Richard Johnson; Helen E. Borchers, who was born about 1925 and married Arthur Thomas of Muskegon; Dorothy M. Borchers, who was born on July 10, 1929 and married Wilbur Walker of Grand Haven; and Fred L. Borchers, born in March 1933. Fred the father operated a fox farm and did general farming in Crockery Township. Fred the son opened the Frame and Mat shop at 720 Washington, which now is owned and managed by his son, Dan. By the 1950s Fred and Jessie were residing at 100 Franklin Street. He died on August 5, 1994 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Jessie. [Tribune obituary, August 16, 1994.]

George C. Borck [Bork] [1879-1952]

George Borck, who owned a 50-acre farm in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township, was born in the Grand Haven area on December 1, 1879. He was the adopted son of Charles F. [1836-1907] and Amelia [1843-1906] Borck of Grand Haven. On July 9, 1913 in Grand Haven, George married Hettie [Hattie] Ranker. She lived from July 29, 1879 to April 5, 1935. On February 12, 1923 George applied for an invalid's war pension for his service in Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry, which was activated during the Spanish-American conflict. The Borcks were members of the Second Reformed Church of Grand Haven. George died on April 6, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Hettie.

Adrian Borgman [1907-1993]

Adrian Borgman founded the monument company bearing his name at 616 South Beechtree. It was in operation from the mid-1950s into the late 1990s. Adrian married Lois Schmick. They resided at 1522 Sheldon Road. Adrian was born August 6, 1907 and died in Grand Haven on July 22, 1993. Lois, who was born on March 17, 1910, passed away on November 6, a year after her husband.

Richard Lee Borgman [1942-2003]

Richard L. Borgman owned and operated Forever Tan shops in Grand Haven and Spring Lake, and in 1983 took ownership of Town & Country Laundry and Dry Cleaning at 947 Robbins Road. He was born December 14, 1942 in Grand Rapids, the son of Peter and Ruth Kuiper Borgman. Richard married Claudia Dickson on April 28, 1967 in Grand Rapids. They resided at 15108 160th in Grand Haven Township. He died in Grand Haven on March 9, 2003. [Tribune obituary, March 11, 2003.]

Abigail “Gail” Weldon Harbeck Bos [1883-1960]

Abigail was born October 6, 1883 in Chicago, the daughter of Dr. William Weldon. The Weldons spent summers at Spring Lake. At the age of eight, following her parents’ deaths, Abigail and her sister Ruth were adopted by Herman and Mabel Boynton Harbeck of Grand Haven. Abigail graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1902 as Gail Weldon Harbeck. She became an active member of St. John’s Episcopal Church. She began her work at the Grand Haven Daily Tribune as a society reporter. During the mid-1920s she went into partnership with Jack H. Reichardt, purchasing the Guillard Hat Shop at 218 Washington and expanding it to include women’s apparel. It was called “The Abigail,” and after a year and a half she sold her interest and started working full time as a reporter for the Tribune, eventually becoming Fashion editor. She also was a correspondent for other newspapers, including the Grand Rapids Press, Grand Rapids Herald, Detroit Free Press, Milwaukee Journal, Chicago Tribune, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and St. Louis Globe-Democrat. She retired from her job with the Tribune in 1951. Abigail promoted a wide variety of civic organizations, including Community Chest [United Way], Red Cross, Polio Foundation, Chamber of Commerce, Coast Guard Water Festival, and Lake Michigan Playhouse.

On August 20, 1908 in Grand Haven Abigail married Martin [Mortimer] Bos, who was born on April 10, 1884 and died on June 20, 1951. Martin’s parents were Cornelius and Maria Van Doorne Bos. Martin worked at a local bank as a cashier. At the time of marriage, Abigail was a teacher in Grand Haven, but two years later she was unemployed. She and Martin had two children: Ruth, who was born April 13, 1912, and Mary Fran. Ruth married Milton Burr of Grand Haven when both were about 17 years old. Mary Frances, who was born about 1918, on September 9, 1939 in Grand Haven, married Lawrence Jack of Vancouver, British Columbia. In 1920 Abigail and Martin were residing at 527 Slayton, and ten years later they were located at 518 Franklin. Abigail and Martin were divorced on July 2, 1931. By the time of the 1940 Federal Census, she was then working as City editor at the Grand Haven Tribune and still residing at 518 Franklin. Martin was living with his sister and her husband, William and Marie Poel at 503 Fulton Street. Abigail died on October 13, 1960 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, August 14, 1951, and Tribune obituary, October 13, 1960.]

Carroll G. Bos [1921-2000]

Carroll, the son of Gilbert and Cecilia Zuidema Bos, was born in Grand Rapids on May 14, 1921. He had two sisters, Betty and June and one brother, Lawrence. On September 1, 1941, Carroll married Jeanette A. Gezon in Grand Rapids. She was the daughter of Marcus C. and Louise Gazan. Carroll served with the U.S. Army Air Corps during WWII. He and his wife moved to Spring Lake in 1948, where he and his father-in-law started the Tri-City Dairy. The Dairy Company closed eight years later. Carroll then became statewide representative for Rycenga Homes of Grand Haven, a position he held for 40 years. In partnership with Ray Markle, Carroll started M & B Enterprises and developed Princeton Estates in Grand Rapids, the first housing development in Michigan having all utilities underground. He also owned Home Sales and was a partner in BB & C Builders, both located in Spring Lake. BB & C built the Spring Lake Post Office on Exchange Street, Dogwood Meadows, Baird Pointe Farms, Wildwood Springs, Veit's Landing, and River Run, all in Ferrysburg and Spring Lake Township.

Carroll was president of Spring Lake Businessmen's Association in the 1960s and was elected to the Spring Lake Village Council in the same decade. He was a member of the Tri-Cities Optimist Club, which he served as president in 1954 and as state lieutenant governor the next year. He was president of the Haven Foundation, which founded Haven School, later known as the Ottawa Area Center, a school for mentally impaired adolescents and young adults. As a member of the Spring Lake Christian Reformed Church, Carroll served as Deacon and Sunday School superintendent. He and his wife also were members of the Spring Lake Country Club. Their children were David C., and Janice, who married Douglas Zuidema. Both children resided in Spring Lake. Carroll died at his home on February 2, 2000. Jeanette was born on November 18, 1920 in Milwaukee and passed away on December 31, 2009. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Cornelius J. Bos [1841-1903]

Born on February 3, 1841 [1840] in Jerome, The Netherlands, Cornelius was the son of John and Knelska Deint Hanns Bos, who spent their entire lives in their native country. At the age of 24, the young Bos came to Ottawa County, where he began working in a sawmill on the Grand River. Two years later, in 1867, he opened a meat market, which he sold after 20 years. In 1885, having bought a tract of 22 acres near Fulton Street in Grand Haven, he began raising celery on 13 acres. He washed and marketed from 700 to 1,000 stalks of celery per day and made large shipments to Chicago by boat. Cornelius advertised, "Orders by telephone and telegraph, promptly attended to, and Mail Orders carefully filled. Correspondence Solicited." Another of his celery beds was on Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard]. He became very prosperous and made large investments in real estate and owned a number of residences and other town property. Cornelius was a Republican in politics and was elected alderman of the Third Ward.

On November 12, 1873, Cornelius married Maria, the daughter of Martinus and Maria De Bruyn Van Doorne. The young Maria was born in Grand Island, New York, on January 26, 1852 and lived in Grand Haven Township for about 15 years prior to her marriage. The Bos family lived at the corner of Fulton and Fifth Streets. They were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church of Grand Haven, which Cornelius helped organize. Cornelius and Maria had six children: Cornelia, who was born in October 1874 and married William Ver Duin of Grand Haven; Mary, born in September 1876; Jennie, born in May 1878; Martha, born in July 1880; Henrietta, born in May 1882; Martin [Mortimer] [Martin], who was born in April 1884 and married Abigail Weldon, the adopted daughter of Herman and Mary Harbeck; and Marie, who was born in November 1893 and married William Poel of Grand Haven. Jennie married Gerrit Zaagman of Grand Haven. Cornelius died in Grand Haven on July 24, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest. His wife died April 1, 1945. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, pp. 572-573, and Tribune obituary, July 25, 1903.]

Martin [Mortimer] Bos [1884-1951]

See Abigail Weldon Harbeck Bos.

Harmon Bosch [Busch, Busche] [1833-1912]

Born in The Netherlands in 1833, Harmon Bosch came to America with the Van Raalte colony in 1847. He worked in the lumber business with Henry Rysdorp and John Sprik in their mill at Port Sheldon. In 1863 the mill moved to Grand Haven, with Harmon in partnership with Rysdorp and Sprik, as well as Johannes Vos. In 1867 Harmon was elected alderman on Grand Haven's first City Council. Prior to his death he moved to Bass River and farmed and then retired in Zeeland. Harmon married Martha Baker. Their children were: Gezina "Sena," who lived from 1857 to 1933 and was the wife of Daniel J. Smith [1858-1930] of Zeeland;

Etta, who was born about 1861 and married Dr. Thomas G. Huizenga of Zeeland; Anna, who was born about 1862, married a Mr. Stewart, and moved to Springfield, Missouri; Johanna "Jo," who was born in October 1864 and married Charles J. Den Herder of Zeeland; Minnie, who was born about 1870 and married Jacob Veneklassen of Zeeland; John H., born about 1873; and Henrietta, who was born about September 1879 and married Mr. De Bruyn of Zeeland. Harmon died in Zeeland in March 1912. Martha was born in 1837 and died January 15, 1913. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, 1 April 1912 and January 16, 1913.]

Roelof "Ralph" Bosch [1855-1927]

Roelof Bosch, who was born in 1855, owned a 40-acre farm in Section 8 of Spring Lake Township, where DeWitt School was located. He arrived in the area in 1893. Bosch died in 1927. His wife, Annijen, lived from 1861 to 1937. Both Bosches were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their daughter, Elsie, married Frederick Bramer of Spring Lake Township.

August W. Boseker [1877–1919]

August Boseker was born in Germany on April 12, 1877 and came to Grand Haven in 1893. At first he worked on local farms, drove a stagecoach, and worked for Captain Jack Walker. He also was a carpenter and built many of the cottages in Highland Park. In 1901 August paid Captain Jack $100 for Highland Park Pavilion, where bathing suits and towels could be rented and snacks purchased. Captain Jack had built the place. In the early 1900s August was superintendent of Highland Park. He owned a garage near the Lake Forest Cemetery, approximately where the Chapel was built in 1966, which could store as many as 30 automobiles at a time. Lake Avenue ended there at that time, and Highland Park residents walked from that point to their cottages.

August married Henrietta Podein on October 8, 1901 in Grand Haven. Their home was at 1308 Lake Avenue, later the site of the Lee Memorial Chapel. August also dealt in real estate, and toward the end of his life was manager of the J. W. Oakes Real Estate office. After August's death in 1919, Henrietta ran a real estate office for Highland Park, and she handled rentals of many of the cottages until she was 80. Henrietta was born in a log cabin south of Grand Haven [Section 22] on December 24, 1879. Her parents were Charles and Hanna Podein. She was a member of St. Paul's United Church of Christ. She died on July 28, 1969. The Bosekers' children, all born in Grand Haven, were Edna, who was born February 4, 1904, married Charles L. Plowman of Grand Haven, and passed away on February 5, 1993; Bertha, who was born on April 9, 1905 and married Jacob Fase of Grand Haven; and Clarence, who was born on September 28, 1911 and passed away in Albion, Calhoun County on November 18, 2000. August died on January 21, 1919 at the age of 42 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Henrietta also was buried.

James S. Bosma [1892-1964]

James Bosma became owner of the Difficult Repair Shop located at 9 North Second Street, where he was working as early as 1929. In 1944 he bought the business from John Zalsman and renamed it Jim's Bicycle Shop. On December 2, 1914 he married Barbara Ver Duin in Grand Haven. He and Barbara lived on the second floor. On April 11, 1964, a faulty space heater in his apartment above the bicycle shop "engulfed" Jim in flames. He died the next day. The Tribune noted that although he fixed many bikes, he never learned to ride one. Barbara, a native of Illinois, lived from 1895 to January 19, 1978. Born in Allendale in 1892, James died in April 1964. He and Barbara were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had two daughters and two sons. [Tribune article "James S. Bosma Dies of Burns from Heater Mishap," April 13, 1964.]

Roy Bosma [1891-1974]

In the 1940s partners Jordan and Roy Bosma owned and operated Midway Motors, a used car lot located at 1100 Washington. Roy lived from October 11, 1891 to August 8, 1974. He lived at 15822 Cherry in Spring Lake, where his widow, Ernestine M., continued to reside after his death. She lived from December 25, 1901 to March 21, 1980.

John William Bosman [1881-1948]

On February 17, 1909 Bill Bosman married Mabel Huntley in Holland, Michigan. He was born in Hamilton, Allegan County, on May 11, 1881, and she was born in Michigan on March 23, 1883. In 1913 Bill opened the first dry cleaning business in Grand Haven. His shop was located at 15 Washington Street, where he and Mabel also resided. He later relocated the business to 14 South Second. Bill was born in Hamilton, Allegan County on May 11, 1881. Prior to moving to Grand Haven, the Bosmans resided in Holland. Bill died on November 3, 1948. Mabel passed away in Arizona on February 14, 1976. Both were buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Guy Leo [Leonard] Boswell [1875-1936]

Guy Boswell bought the Helen B., a Spring Lake passenger boat, and in the early 1900s used it for shuttle service between St. Joseph, Berrien County and Spring Lake. Guy also owned the Hazel B. He continued to operate his own boat into the 1930s. Guy, who was born on April 25, 1875, resided in St. Joseph. He married Maud D. Chisholm on August 7, 1895 in St. Joseph. She was born in June the same year as Guy. Both were natives of Michigan. Guy died in St. Joseph, Berrien County on November 21, 1936 and was buried at Riverview Cemetery in that city.

George Bothyl I [Botbel] [1897-1953]

George, the son of John and Floran Botbyl, was born in Grand Haven on August 28, 1897. On November 8, 1919 in Grand Haven, he married Helen Bonga. In 1924 George opened Botbyl Garage at 632 Washington [also known as 9 South Seventh] and operated it until his death on July 24, 1953. Helen died on July 31, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His second wife, Matilda Berg, was born on June 21, 1896 and died in Grand Haven on January 13, 1974. She and George also were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among his children were George R. II. and Gerald.

Gerald Botbyl II [1935-2001]

The son of George and Helen Bonga Botbyl, Gerald was born in Grand Haven on October 15, 1935. After his father's death in 1953, Gerald ran the Botbyl Garage on the corner of Washington and Seventh Streets until it closed. Gerald died at the family home at 1320 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven on February 24, 2001. [Tribune obituary, February 26, 2001.]

Gerry J. Botbyl [1913-1959]

Gerry Botbyl and his partner Ralph J. Built II started Grand Office Supply in Spring Lake in 1945. Gerry married Amelia Hradsky. They resided at 114 Maple Terrace in Spring Lake. They had two surviving children: Joel Frederick Botbyl [1940-2020] and Roger Mark Botbyl [1943-1981]. Gerry was born on August 24, 1913 and died on October 15, 1959. Amelia lived from September 4, 1914 to March 19, 2008. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henry John Botbyl [1883-1918]

Born in Grand Haven on on August 2, 1883 [1882], Henry was the son of John and Flora Botbyl. In the early 1900s Henry and his brother Jacob operated the Botbyl Grocery at 534 Jackson. On November 30, 1905, Henry married Grace Alvina Huizenga in Grand Haven. They resided at 520 Monroe. Grace was born on November 2, 1886 and died on August 27, 1913, three days after giving birth to Gerry Botbyl. Grace was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their daughter, also named Grace Alvina Botbyl, lived from 1908 to 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Henry next married Anna Huizenga. They resided at 415 North Sixth Street. Henry passed away on November 3, 1918 and was buried with other Botbyls at Lake Forest Cemetery. Anna lived from 1890 to 1971. Henry and Anna had a daughter, Adeline Cora Botbyl, who lived from 1917 to 1971.

Jacob J. Botbyl [1885-1919]

In the early 1900s Jacob Botbyl and his brother Henry Botbyl operated the Botbyl Grocery at 534 Jackson. Jacob married Ethel Rosema in Grand Haven on October 5, 1905. They resided at 421 North Sixth Street. Jacob, the son of John and Flora Botbyl of Grand Haven, lived from January 6, 1885 to January 7, 1919. Among their children was Jay Botbyl, who was born on August 2, 1909, married Mildred Schouwenaar, and died in Grand Rapids on June 4, 1971.

John Botbyl [1859-1937]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born in July 1859, John Botbyl immigrated to the United States in 1872. His wife, Flora, also a native of Netherlands, came over in 1880. She was born in December 1863 and passed away in 1912. Their children, all born locally, included Henry, born on September 3, 1883 [1882]; Jacob, born on January 6, 1885; Mary, born in September 1890; Renie, born in November 1892; and George, born in August 1897. Renie married M. Winifred Ambler in Grand Haven on December 31, 1913. Winifred was born in Belleville, Ohio on November 22, 1891 and passed away in Grand Haven on November 21, 1963. John and Flora were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 22, 1963.]

Gerrit Bottema [1902-1984]

Born in December 1899 [May 31, 1902 [December 1899] in Spring Lake Township, Gerrit was the son of John and Johanna Bramer Bottema. He was a contractor and builder for many years, township supervisor for 36 years, chairman of the Spring Lake Township Board, chairman of the Ottawa County Board of supervisors, and member of Christ Community Church. He owned about 12 acres in Section 23 of Spring Lake Township constructed and maintained a group of cottages at Indian Village, near Stickney Ridge south of Grand Haven. On December 18, 1924 he married Johanna Balgooyen in Spring Lake. Their children included Marvin J., Thelma, Gerald L., and June Bottema, all of Spring Lake. Gerrit died March 24, 1984 at his home at 327 South Lake in Spring Lake. Johanna, the daughter of John and Gertrude Walcott Balgooyen, was born in Spring Lake on June 21, 1903 and died there on April 20, 1986. She and Gerrit were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 24, 1984.] [Note: The 1900 census listed Gerrit's birth date as December 1899, but the Social Security Death List and cemetery records cited May 31, 1902.]

John Bottema [Buttuma] [1872-1942]

John, a farmer, was the son of Gerhard Wister and Hermke "Hattie" Debruin Bottema. John was born in Michigan on January 26, 1872 and died on February 22, 1942. He married Johanna Bramer in Spring Lake on February 23, 1898. The daughter of Berend Jan and Fanny Swiftney Bramer, Johanna lived from March 1875 [1876] to 1903. Their son, Gerrit Bottema, was born in May 31, 1902 and married Johanna Balgooyen. John and Johanna were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Anthony [Antoine, Antonie] Bottje I [1825-1907]

Born in Groningen, Netherlands, on November 14, 1825, Anthony Bottje in 1853 came to America on board the South Carolina, went to Chicago, and set sail on the schooner Pioneer, bound for Grand Haven. Gerrit Gringhuis I sailed with him. Anthony opened a dry goods and grocery store at 106 Washington, in a building previously occupied by the Ester Price Clothing Company. Anthony's store sold flour, buttons, boots, thread, and whiskey at $1.25 a gallon—as long as the customer provided his own container. Anthony was a member of the First Reformed Church.

On December 6, 1851 Anthony married Henrietta [Anna] Gringhuis, who was born December 19, 1827 and died on April 18, 1894. Gerrit Gringhuis was her brother. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Gerrit A., who was born on October 1, 1853; Derek [Dick], who was born on December 7, 1856; Henrietta [Henrikje/Hendrika] "Helen," who was born on February 10, 1855 and married John [Jan] Roossien of Grand Haven; Harmon, born on April 7, 1858; John, born on September 25, 1861; Peter, who lived from September 13, 1863 to July 16, 1930; Sena, who was born on June 17, 1866 and died on July 29, 1933; Anna, Sena's twin, who became assistant Register of Deeds for Ottawa County and died on April 25, 1945; Jennie, who lived from July 16, 1869 to January 25, 1940; and Antoine II "Tone," who was born on June 9, 1874, married

Minnie Bell Weer in Grand Haven on July 3, 1912, died on October 15, 1952 in Kenosha, Wisconsin, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter, who had been “crippled” since childhood, after his parents’ death was closely confined to the family home at 115 South Fifth Street, which he shared with three sisters and his nephew, Frank, who was County Register of Deeds. Anthony died in Grand Haven on October 17, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Helen and many of their children. [Tribune obituaries, October 17, 1907 and July 17, 1930.]

Bernard Bottje [1885-1910]

Bernard, born in Grand Haven, January 22, 1885, was the son of Richard and Alice Sterenberg Bottje. He was Register of Probate in the office of Judge Kirby. Bernard died at his home on May 8, 1910 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 9, 1910.]

Derk “Dick” Bottje [1856-1910]

Born in Grand Haven on December 7, 1856, Derk was the son of Anthony [Antoine] Bottje. He was a member of the Yates Light Infantry, Grand Haven’s first military organization. In the spring of 1880 Derk started a meat business in Grand Haven with Ed Hollestelle and dealt with nearly every retail meat dealer in the city. He also was listed as “Dealer in Fat Stock” in the 1893 Compendium. Derk served Grand Haven as Marshal and was also a candidate for sheriff. Bottje was a member of Highland Tent, and K.O.T.M. [Maccabees] of Grand Haven.

Dick married Alice Sterenberg on September 19, 1882. Alice was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on March 14, 1861. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Henrietta, born on July 14, 1881; Bernard, who born on June 23, 1885, died on May 8, 1910, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Anthony [Antonie], born June 24, 1887; Henry, who lived from August 1, 1889 to 1928 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Alice, born about 1892; Jeannette, born about 1896; Mary, born on April 25, 1897; and Richard, who was born April 21, 1899. A son Benjamin died May 8, 1910 of consumption. In the early 1900s the family resided at 618 Sheldon Road. Derk died February 4, 1910 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alice and some of her children continued to live at 618 Sheldon after Derk’s death. She passed away on December 21, 1947 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, February 6, 1910.]

Edward A. Bottje [1882-1964]

Edward Bottje was born in Grand Haven on April 25, 1882 and died about July 6, 1964 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The son of Gerrit and Elizabeth Van Toll Bottje. Edward worked at his father’s hardware store when he was young, but later moved to Milwaukee, where he was Branch manager of the G. J. Johnson Cigar Company. Edward and his wife, Frances W., were divorced by 1930, still residents of Milwaukee, where at that time he was salesman for an electric sign manufacturing company. Frances, who was born in Iowa on December 10, 1879, in 1930 was Practitioner Reader for the Christian Science Church and she rented rooms. Frances died in Los Angeles, California on April 22, 1965. Edward was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frank Bottje [1894-1974]

Frank, the son of John and Alida Kerkhof Bottje, was born in Grand Haven on March 31, 1894. He became Ottawa County Register of Deeds. Frank married Minnie Barbara Hall Irwin in Grand Haven on March 31, 1933. They resided at 21 South Fourth Street. He died in Grand Haven on June 12, 1974 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Minnie lived from November 9, 1895 to October 1, 1979 and also was buried at Lake Forest. She was born in Phillips County, Kansas and previously had been married to a Mr Irwin.

Gerrit A. Bottje [Bottji] [1853-1942]

Gerrit, born on October 1, 1853 in Grand Haven, was the son of Anthony [Antoine] Bottje, a native of Groningen, The Netherlands, who came to Grand Haven the year his son was born. In 1867, at the age of 13, Gerrit entered the dry goods trade working for his father. Fourteen years later, with John Dykstra as his partner, he opened a hardware store at 108 Washington. In 1887 he moved the business to a store recently constructed by Gerrit and John Juistema at 205 Washington. Gerrit's became one of the largest hardware stores in Grand Haven until he retired in 1918 and sold the business to Claude Beukema. Gerrit was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886.

Gerrit married Elizabeth Van Toll in Grand Haven on October 15, 1878. Elizabeth, the daughter of Adriannus and Johanna Bentley Van Toll, was born in Michigan in October 1856 [1855]. The couple lived at 420 Clinton. Elizabeth, who died about February 4, 1949, helped organize the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Reformed Church. Among their children were Henrietta, who was born on June 17, 1879; Edward, who was born on April 25, 1882; A. Harry, who was born April 16, 1887 and worked at the hardware store; George, who was born August 10, 1889 and died in Colorado in June 1974; Clifford, who was born on July 12, 1893, worked at the hardware store in his early years and died in Grand Rapids on November 18, 1982; and Hazel, who was born on July 1, 1895 and married Victor L. Colson. The Colsons lived at 416 Clinton, next door to the Bottje residence. Will Gay Bottje, a Grand Haven Township resident, was Gerrit's grandson. Gerrit died on June 5, 1942 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elizabeth passed away on February 4, 1949 and was buried near her husband. [Tribune obituaries, April 19, 1894 and May 9, 1910.]

Harmon [Harmen, Harman] Bottje [1858–1951]

Harmon, the son of Anthony and Henrietta Bottje, was born on April 7, 1858 in Grand Haven. On July 1, 1884 in Grand Haven, he married Jennie [Jannie] Elizabeth Starling, who was born in Chicago in 1865 and died on August 3, 1922 in Grand Haven. Their children included at least two sons and one daughter: Harmon II, who was born in Grand Haven on December 25, 1884; William, who was born in Grand Haven on September 10, 1887 and died on July 25, 1966; and Betty who died on October 13, 1916, two months old. The Bottjes lived on a 50-acre farm in Section 10 of Grand Haven Township on Lakeshore Drive, just south of Grand Haven. Harmon, who died on March 30, 1951, was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, August 4, 1922.]

Jeanette Bottje [1895-1983]

Jeanette, the daughter of Richard and Alice Sterenberg Bottje, taught history at Grand Haven High School from 1924 to 1955. She lived from October 25, 1895 to January 20, 1983. Jeanette resided in the family home at 618 Sheldon with her sister Mary, who also retired from a career in education. Jeanette was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Bottje [1861–1935]

John, the son of Anthony and Henrietta Gringhuis Bottje, was born on September 25, 1861 and became a carpenter. On August 16, 1892 John married Alida [Ida] Kerkhof in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of Johannes and Elke Kerkhof.

John and Alida had a boy, Frank, who was born on March 31, 1894. Alida, who was born on May 4, 1871, died on July 5, 1895 of "inflammation of the bowels," six days after the birth of a daughter, also named Alida [Aleida]. After his wife's death John resided with his sister and other siblings in the family home at 115 South Fifth, and Alida lived in Grand Haven with her aunt and uncle Harmon and Jennie Bottje. Alida, who taught at Rosy Mound and Stone Schools in Grand Haven Township, died on November 4, 1954.

John died August 22, 1935 and was buried with his wife at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Mary Bottje [1897-1985]

Born in Grand Haven on April 25, 1897, Mary was the daughter of Richard and Alice Sterenberg Bottje. Mary received her Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1934. While there, she was a member of Pi Lambda Theta, a national honorary fraternity in education. She taught freshmen physical education classes for years. She joined the faculty of Western Michigan College [WMU] in 1926 after teaching from 1921 to 1924 at South Haven and a year at Wyandotte. She wrote two books, "Games for Elementary and Rural Schools," and "Songs for Children." She retired in June 1956 and was named Associate Professor Emeritus of Physical Education at Western. She was a member of Pi Lambda Theta honorary sorority, served on the Assembly Committee at Western, sponsored the Women's League and was sponsor for the Women's Physical Education Association. She spent summers at Camp Bryn Afon at Rhinelander, Wisconsin, supervising summer pageants and regattas and editing and writing the camp papers. She lived in the family home at 618 Sheldon with her sister Jeanette, who also taught at Grand Haven High School. Mary died of congestive heart failure on April 13, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, "Western Michigan U. Honors Mary Bottje," May 24, 1957, and Tribune obituary, April 15, 1985.]

Richard E. Bottje [1899-1955]

Richard, the son of Derk "Dick" and Alice Sterenberg Bottje, was born in Grand Haven on April 21, 1899. He married Fern Dumper in Belding, Ionia County, on August 10, 1925. They had at least two sons, James Richard Bottje, who lived from July 28, 1926 to February 28, 1999, and John David Bottje, who was born on July 9, 1928 and died in Lexington, South Carolina on March 5, 1987. After working as a farm laborer for several years, Richard was listed as a "String Butcher" in the Federal Census of 1940 and as a guard in the Grand Haven City Directory of 1945. The family resided at 509 Waverly Road from at least the mid-1920s to James's death in 1999. Richard died on September 15, 1955, and Fern passed away on July 6, 1977. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Sena Bottje [1866-1933]

Born in Grand Haven in 1866, the daughter of Anthony [Antoine] Bottje, Sena as a young girl clerked in her father's store, Bottje & Sons, located at 106 Washington. She was a member of the First Reformed Church. For the last 15 years of her life, she suffered paralysis and lost her ability to talk because of a stroke. She died in July 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 31, 1933.]

Will Gay Bottje [1925-2018]

In 1928 to 1929, Sam Kimerly built a cottage at 12871 Lakeshore Drive in the Wilderness, a second home development a few miles south of Grand Haven. He used it one year, and in 1931 Kimerly sold it to the widow of William H. Gay of Grand Rapids. Around 1934 Mrs Gay hired Ed Hein, a Grand Haven carpenter and mason, to build an addition that included two bedrooms, a sunroom, and a garage, and other improvements. For instance, the roof was raised to provide more headroom and electrical wiring with metal sheathing was installed as a way of keeping mice from chewing at it. Electricity was brought in around 1937, about the same time as the telephone.

In 1980 Joyce and Will Gay Bottje made the Wilderness cottage their year-round retirement home. Born on June 30, 1925 in Grand Rapids, Will was the son of Clifford and Ann Pratt Bottje and the grandson of Gerrit A. Bottje, who owned a hardware store in downtown Grand Haven. In 1948 Will married Joyce Thompson. After studying music in The Netherlands and France, Will received a doctorate in music at Rochester University in New York State. He taught music at the University of Mississippi and Southern Illinois in Carbondale. He became a leader in electronic music and was among the first musicians to obtain a Moog synthesizer in the United States. He was commissioned to compose an opera for the Sesquicentennial anniversary of the State of Illinois, and he wrote Sounds of the West Shore for the West Shore Symphony Orchestra in Muskegon [now West Michigan Symphony].

When Joyce and Will moved to Covenant Village of the Great Lakes in Grand Rapids, their children, Gerrit and Walter Bottje and Marian Bottje Drake used the cottage for vacations. Will died on January 7, 2018.

Arthur P. Bourns [1870-1966]

Arthur Bourns, pastor of Spring Lake Presbyterian Church from 1905 to 1910, was born in Illinois in October 1870. He married Bessie Marion Beach in Austin, Illinois on June 22, 1897. Bessie was born in Wisconsin around 1871. They had two daughters and three sons, who were born between 1898 and 1908. By 1920 they were residing in Union, Indiana. Bessie passed away in 1944. Arthur died in Cleveland, Ohio on July 17, 1966.

Jacob Bouwman [1869-1897]

Jacob Bouwman, who was born in 1869, died in Grand Haven on April 22, 1897. In the early 1900s his widow, Maggie, and their son Claud resided at 606 Elliott Street. By 1910 she was married to Thomas Ruiter, also of Grand Haven. Maggie, the daughter of William and Anje Helder, was born in November 1869 and became a nurse. Claud, who was born in August 1893, worked at American Brass Novelty Company. Jacob was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jacob and Maggie also had a daughter, Anna, who was born in August 1894.

Carl Taylor Bowen [1890-1957]

About 1918 Carl Bowen, a graduate from the University of Iowa, was hired as engineer-manager of the Ottawa County Road Commission, less than ten years after its formation. His salary, $5,200 the first year, was increased only $300 during the next 20 years. Bowen first had worked as City Engineer for Holland and then took a position with the State Highway Department in Lansing before moving to Spring Lake. Carl retired in 1953. A bridge over Petty's Bayou in Spring Lake Township, completed in 1947, was named in honor of Carl's decades of service and in 2000 was designated an Historic Place in the National Register. Carl owned a 39-acre parcel east of Fruitport Road in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township. He and his family had a home on a smaller lot west of Fruitport Road, bordering on Spring Lake. On December 29, 1915 he married Edna Lucille Imhoff, who was born in Iowa on May 3, 1892 and passed away on November 14, 1987. After his death, Edna purchased a house at 110 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. The Bowens had three sons, all born locally and all of whom became engineers: Howard, born about 1917; Paul, born about 1919; and Robert, born about 1924. Carl, who was born in Chariton, Iowa on June 30, 1890, died in San Diego, California, on February 24, 1957 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, where Edna also was buried. He was a member of the Grand Haven Rotary Club, the Grand Haven Stag Club, Masons, Elks, and Spring Lake Presbyterian Church. Willard Bowen of Spring Lake was Carl's brother.

Willard Lincoln Bowen [1905-1952]

An optometrist, Willard Bowen kept an office at 304½ Washington Street in Grand Haven, above the Addison-Pellegrum-Colson furniture store. Willard was born in Chariton, Iowa on June 9, 1905 and died on February 18, 1952. He married Helen Mae Smith on March 5, 1934. She was born on April 16, 1911. They had at least two children, Roger, who was born about 1936 and Bruce, born about 1939. The family resided at 203 East Savidge Street in Spring Lake. After her husband's death, Helen married Robert H. Turner. She and Robert resided in the house on Savidge Street until her death on March 21, 1999. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Carl Bowen of Spring Lake was Willard's brother.

Sherman Hoyt Boyce [1832-1904]

Sherman was born in Dutchess County, New York on February 19, 1832, where his father, John M. Boyce, was born in 1780. John, a farmer, was of English origin. Sherman's mother, Hannah Schofield, was a native of Connecticut and daughter of Jacob Schofield. Sherman was the third of seven children. The only one besides Sherman still living in 1893 was Harvey, who resided in Chenango, New York. Sherman came to Michigan with his sister, Phoebe Divine, when he was 11 years old. He made his home with her in Eurkea, Montcalm County until he was 20. In 1852 he moved to Grand Rapids and helped clear the land where Greenville now stands and resided there until the fall of 1866, when he came to Grand Haven. He became connected with the lumber industry when he joined Carlton L. Storrs, and in 1871 he was named director of the First National Bank of Grand Haven.

In 1872 Sherman became associated with Dr. Munroe, the doctor's nephew, Stephen L. Munroe, and Nelson Howlett in the firm of Munroe, Boyce & Company in Spring Lake. The company milled and sold "Lumber, Lath, and Pickets." Sherman was a director and stockholder in the Grand Haven Furniture Company and the Globe Match Company. He was a member of the Democratic Party. In 1896 and 1897 he was alderman on the Grand Haven City Council. Socially, Sherman was a member of Grand Rapids Lodge No. 34, Free and Accepted Masons, and reached the degree of Knight Templar. He was one of the first incorporators of Highland Park in 1886 and was one of the founders of the Grand Haven Street Railway Company in 1895.

Sherman married Mary P. Holbrook in Grand Haven on April 10, 1881. The daughter of James and Althea Holbrook, she was born in Muskegon on October 16, 1858 and died on February 11, 1941. The Boyces lived at 326 Franklin Street, next door to the George McBride home at 332. Sherman died about October 22, 1904 in Grand Haven. After his death Mary lived at 1035 Washington Street. He and Mary were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa County Michigan and Tribune obituaries, August 6, 1936 and February 12, 1941.]

John Walter [Walter J.] Boyd [1895-1956]

A mechanic by trade, Walter Boyd by 1932 had opened Boyd's Garage at 201 Columbus Street. He was born in Fremont, Newaygo County, on November 8, 1895. Prior to opening his own garage, Walter was employed as a mechanic at Kooiman Auto Company at 217 South Seventh. By the early 1940s he was working at the Grand Haven Sewage Treatment Plant, then located at 509 Adams Street, and by the mid-1950s he was named superintendent of the city streets department. He married Nina Amelia Seelig [Seeley] in Northport, Leelanau County on June 30, 1936. Born in Northport on June 30, 1900, she died in Grand Haven on January 27, 1946. On April 2, 1947 Walter married Amy Harger in Lansing. In 1930 he resided as a boarder at 534 Fulton. After his first marriage, he and Nina lived at 442 Grant Street, where he continued to live after his marriage to Amy until they moved to 500 Marion Street. Walter passed away in Grand Haven on July 30, 1956 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Amy lived from June 24, 1906 to October 20, 1993 and was buried near her husband.

Charles Boyden I [1843-1897]

Born in Onondaga County, New York on August 3, 1843, Charles Boyden began selling Soule's Pills in the rural areas of that state. The pills were manufactured by an uncle of Judge Benjamin Soule of Grand Haven. On August 12, 1862, Charles enlisted in the 3rd New York Cavalry, but no further military records were located. He came to Grand Haven about 1868 and purchased the Hunting Mill property, which subsequently burned down. In 1871, with Healy C. Akeley as his partner, he started the Boyden & Akeley Shingle and Sawmill on the south side of the Grand River channel between Second and Third Streets. It burnt later that year. They rebuilt the mill and it became the world's largest shingle mill and produced the best known and most popular shingle known at that time. However, this plant, too, burned down in June 1882. In 1881 [1880] the Grand Haven Lumber Company was organized with Charles as president. He bought out all the shareholders and until 1890, when it closed, he was sole owner. It included three sawmills, one shingle mill, extensive tracts of pinelands, a logging railroad and lumberyards. He became president and treasurer of the Boyden & Wyman Lumber company at Neelyville, Missouri. He was deeply involved in the Keystone Land & Cattle company in the Dakotas, which owned over 20,000 acres of hardwood timberlands. He served from 1882 to 1883 on the Grand Haven City Council.

On August 22, 1876 Charles married Jerusha "Inkie" Mitchell, who was a teacher and cousin of Senator John Mitchell of Pennsylvania. She was born on August 26, 1845 in Pennsylvania. The Boydens had two sons, John, who was born in Michigan in September 1881 and was scheduled to take over his father's business, and Charles II, who was born in Grand Haven on July 16, 1883. Charles and Inkie also had a daughter, Maud, who married Robert Graham Macfie of Grand Haven. Maud was born in Pennsylvania on August 19, 1868. In 1872 Charles constructed for the Thomas Stewart White family the house on the southwest corner of Lafayette and Fifth Streets in Grand Haven [301 South Fifth]. When the Whites vacated the house, the Boydens moved in. Charles in 1891 built a cottage in Highland Park named Killkare.

Charles I was injured at his mill in Neelyville, Missouri, on Saturday, February 20, 1897 and died two days later. A private train returned him to Grand Haven. The impressive Boyden mausoleum in Lake Forest Cemetery has a cap piece of granite, which probably had to be lifted into position by real horsepower. [Charles was not interred in the mausoleum until August 26, 1901.] Inkie continued to live in the family home at 301 South Fifth until her death of cerebral apoplexy on December 16, 1913. Their son John was still living in Neelyville when his mother died. John passed away in Chicago on October 16, 1957. [Tribune article, "Common Council," March 30, 1897, and Tribune obituaries, February 23, 1897 and August 13, 1913.]

Charles Boyden II [1883-1960]

Charles, the son of Charles and Jerusha Mitchell Boyden, was born in Grand Haven on July 16, 1883. He attended Poughkeepsie Military Academy in New York. In 1902 Charles bought Dwight A. Lane's Bookstore at 129 Washington. Charles constructed a new building at 222 Washington and moved his business there. Before 1910 he sold it to Jack Reichardt. On January 21, 1908 in Kalamazoo, Charles married Kate, daughter of John and Lizzie Wiles of Grand Haven. Kate, who was born in March 1886, died in August 1913. Charles and Kate resided at the family home at 301 South Fifth Street, until they moved to Indianapolis between 1908 and 1910. Charles and Kate had a son, Charles Boyden III, who was born in Indianapolis around 1909. By 1920 Charles II was a mechanical engineer working and residing in Pasadena, California with his second wife, Lestella Fueser [Fusser], whom he married in Indiana on September 29, 1917. Charles III lived with them. Ten years later Charles was divorced and living in Los Angeles. He died in Los Angeles on July 17, 1960 and was buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, California. Lestella lived from 1890 to 1980.

James G. Boyes [Boyce] [1837-1896]

Born in New York City on June 5, 1837, James Boyes learned the blacksmithing trade. On December 4, 1863 he enlisted as private in the New York 7th Heavy Artillery, but there were no further records of his service. By 1870 he had settled in Sections 27 and 33 of Olive Township [later Port Sheldon Township]. James owned 165 acres and engaged in farming and fruit growing. He was married first to Josephine L. Jocelyn on August 2, 1863. Born in New York around 1843, Josephine died May 12, 1877. Their daughter Ann was born in Olive Township about 1871. After Josephine's death, James married Laura A. Calkins [Calkin/Colkins] in Allegan County on November 20, 1877. Laura was born in Pennsylvania on January 13, 1849. James passed away in Pine Plains, Allegan County, on November 11, 1896.

Bernard T. Boyink [1913-1976]

Born in Muskegon on May 19, 1913, Bernard Boyink moved with his parents to 322 Fulton Street in Grand Haven when he was six months old. His parents were Alfred and Gertrude Louise Caroline Stang Boyink. Bernard was the first Grand Haven Community Center director, a position he held for the ten years prior to his death. Bernard also was official scorekeeper for 23 years for all basketball games at Grand Haven High School, and he was the "down marker" at home football games for over 20 years. Bernard was the area representative for West Michigan Sound Company. He was a veteran member of the Buccaneer Banquet Committee. On October 16, 1936 he married Charlotte Amanda Moll. They a son Rick and another son, Brent, who was born March 14, 1940 and died March 26, 1993. The family lived at 511 South Griffin. Bernard died on July 4, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, "Community says 'Thanks to Bernie,'" March 18, 1976.]

Henry Gerrit [Gerrit Henry] Boyink [1868-1941]

Born in Grand Haven on May 26, 1868, Henry was the son of John Albert and Sena Boyink. Henry started as a blacksmith in Spring Lake, but in 1897 moved to Grand Haven, where he opened a blacksmith shop at the corner of Seventh and Fulton Streets. Around 1922 Henry joined Jack Biehl as co-owners of Square Drug Store at 635 Fulton. Henry married Henrietta Boss in Grand Haven on August 20, 1891. They lived above the drugstore from the early 1900s into the late 1920s. Henrietta was born in The Netherlands in December 1872. A daughter, Sena J., was born in February 1892. Henry died on August 7, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Albert Boyink [Bojenk] I [1825-1899]

Born in Gelderland, Netherlands on February 16, 1825, John Boyink came to America about 1856. He was classified as a laborer in the 1870 census. John was a member of the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven. He married Sena Johanna Terbeek. They had three sons: Barnard [Barney], who was born in The Netherlands on May 4 1854 and died on September 1, 1915; Henry [Gerrit], born in Michigan on May 26, 1868 and John II, born in Grand Haven on July 24, 1865. They also had a daughter, Jennie, born about 1875 in Grand Haven. Jennie married Orrie Vander Meiden of Grand Haven. John I died September 10, 1899 at his home in Grand Haven. Sena was born July 25, 1826 in The Netherlands and died on October 5, 1905. Both Boyinks and Barney were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 11, 1899.]

John Albert Boyink II [1865-1910]

Born in Grand Haven on July 24, 1865 the son of John Albert and Sena Johanna Boyink, John II in the early 1900s owned a bottling company located at 13 South First Street in Grand Haven. He also ran the Health Office Saloon at 24 Washington. In 1893 he married Margaret "Maggie" Golden, who was born March 15, 1873 and died December 8, 1927. They had at least five children: Howard, born in July 1897; William Patrick Henry Joseph, who was born on April 10, 1899 and died on February 10, 1972; Albert, who was born October 15, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on December 21, 1993; Margaret, who was born about 1908; and Sena, who was born on March 8, 1904 and married Cottrell Reed. The Boyink family lived at 24 Washington. In the early 1900s the Boyinks resided at 516 Madison., but when John died on April 11, 1910, he was living on Washington Street. John II was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, April 12, 1910.]

Paul John Boyink [1914-1996]

A graduate of Hope College and the University of Michigan, Paul Boyink was born in Grand Haven on September 14, 1914. His parents were Gerrit J. and Ethel Boyink of Grand Haven. Paul was high school principal and coach at Whitehall for four years, taught high school science at Fremont, and taught science and coached at Spring Lake high school for three years before being appointed principal of the Junior High School. On December 20, 1940 he married Dorothy, daughter of Henry and Nana Casemier. She was born in Grand Haven about 1919. The Boyinks had four children: Judy, who married Mike Ferrell of Pittsburgh; Barbara, who married Jim Boelkins of Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania; Doug, who became a physician in Augusta, Maine; and Nanette, who married David Beall of North Leeds, Maine. The Boyink family resided at 159611 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven Township and attended the First Reformed Church in Spring Lake and later Christ Community Church. Paul was a member of the Spring Lake Business and Professional Association, Michigan Education Association, Michigan Secondary School principals' Association, National Secondary School Principals' Association, Tri-Cities Officials' Organization, and Grand Haven Area Community Foundation. He retired in 1976 as assistant superintendent of Ottawa Area Intermediate Schools. Paul died in Grand Haven on September 10, 1996. [Tribune articles, "New Junior High Fulfills Dreams," November 27, 1959, Area Foundation Member Appointed," February 13, 1974, and "Boyinks to Celebrate 50th," December 19, 1990.]

Richard Boyink [1881-1938]

Richard Boyink was born in Grand Haven on April 17, 1881 and became a carpenter and cabinet maker. He married Agnes Bolthouse in 1900. They resided at 1125 Fulton Street. Agnes, who was born in January 1880, died in 1937 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dick died on December 30, 1938 and was buried with his wife.

Charles Augustus Boyle [1907-1959]

Charles Boyle was born in Ferrysburg on August 13, 1907. He moved to Chicago, where on July 6, 1940 he married Helen L. Shaugnessy [1913-1995]. Charles was elected representative to Congress in 1955. On November 4, four years later, he was killed in an automobile accident in Chicago. Charles was buried at All Saints Cemetery in Des Plaines, Illinois.

John S. Boynton [Boynton] [1830-1896] and Catherine Stewart Boynton [1847- ?]

On June 11, 1879, John Boynton married Mabina [Mary] Whishart [Wishart] in Brown, Wisconsin. They had a daughter Marietta Boynton who was born in Wisconsin in March 1882 and married Herbert Cummings of Grand Haven. On December 8, 1890 John married Catherine Stewart in Grand Haven. At the time of their marriage, John was a physician in Spring Lake, which was Catherine's home. Both were born in New York. This was John's second marriage. On May 17, 1886, he married Naomi Haines in Livingston County, Illinois. Naomi, who was born in 1843 in Illinois, died in 1890. John and Naomi had two children: George A. Boynton, who lived from 1876 to 1942, and Myra Adelia Boynton, who was born in 1879 and died in 1947. In 1900 Catherine Boynton was listed as a widow living in Spring Lake Township on a 120-acre farm at the north end of the lake. By 1902 she was living in Grand Rapids. Catherine was born in New York State in December 1847. John was born in New York on June 19, 1830.

Milo Alonzo Boynton [1850-1918]

Milo Boynton, who was born in Hillsdale on June 21, 1850, studied law and by 1877 had joined his father's office in Grand Haven. His parents were Ruel and Mary Pratt Boynton. On August 28, 1879, Milo married Emma Brigham in Grand Haven. She was born about 1858 in Ohio and died in Ottumwa, Iowa on August 2, 1933. At the time of the 1880 Federal Census, Milo continued to practice law, presumably with his father. He and Emma resided with her mother, Maria Brigham, on Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Her father, Nelson, was deceased. Milo passed away in Muskegon on September 1, 1918.

Ruel William Boynton I [1821–1927]

A native of Liberty, Maine, where he was born in December 1821, William Boynton came to Michigan in 1844 and arrived in Grand Haven in 1868 to open a law office, which he operated with his son, Milo, into the 1880s. He died about December 1, 1927 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1846 he married Mary Pratt, who was born in Niagara County, New York. She lived from May 24, 1823 to June 29, 1895 and also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children included Henry, who was born in 1847; Milo, who was born on June 21, 1850 in Hillsdale and died in Muskegon on September 1, 1918; Esther, who was born in 1853 in Allegany County, New York; Ruel II, who was born in the same place in 1855; and Mabel, who was born in December 1858 and married Herman Harbeck of Grand Haven.

Ruel William [William Ruel] Boynton II [1855-1927]

Ruel W. Boynton was a member of the first class to graduate from Grand Haven High School in 1876. He evidently used both names, Ruel W. and William Ruel. Born in Youngstown, New York [Maine] in March 1855, Ruel was the son of William and Mary Pratt Boynton, who moved from New York to Grand Haven. About 1890 Ruel married Iva Rose Reed, who was born in September 1873 in Coopersville. Her parents were Theophilus M. and Rose Adna Roath Reed of Coopersville. Ruel was inspector at Challenge Refrigerator Company. He and Iva resided at 521 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Iva died on August 6, 1916 and Ruel on November 30, 1927. They had three children: Jay; Roselyn "Rose," who was born in March 1891; and Mabel, who was born in April 1893 and died in Grand Haven on July 2, 1932. Ruel, Iva, and Mabel were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Mary Boynton.

Albert P. Braak [1909-1985]

Born in Spring Lake on March 4, 1909, Albert was the son of Jacob and Jennie Braak. He was the owner and operator of Braak's Bakeries since the 1940s. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church and, before that, the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church. He was a member of Gideons, Western Michigan Bakers Association, Tri-Cities Ministries Forum, and the Spring Lake Business and Professional Association. Braak served on the North Ottawa Council on Aging, delivered Meals on Wheels, volunteered for the Red Cross Blood Bank, was involved in Boy Scouting, and belonged to the Chamber of Commerce and YMCA

On June 17, 1931 Albert married Kathryn Ruiter, who was born December 27, 1910 and died in Florida on January 31, 1976. Their children were Joyce, who married Roy Overway; Ronald, whose wife's name was Dorah; and Jack, who, with his wife, Judy, moved to Doylestown, Pennsylvania. On July 17, 1982 Albert married Katherine De Young. He died December 22, 1985 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 23, 1985.]

Arnold Braak [1906-1970] and Louise Ellingen Braak [1912-1999]

Arnold Braak was born in Spring Lake on October 2, 1906. He and his brother, Reynard Braak, ran the family bakery in Spring Lake after their father's death in 1949. They were the sons of Jacob and Jennie Reenders Braak, the founder of the bakery.

In 1934 Arnold married Louise Caroline Augusta, the oldest child of Mary and August Ellingen of Grand Haven. Louise was born in 1912. Arnold and Louise owned and operated Braak's Bakery in Spring Lake for many years, and then managed Christian Haven Nursing Home, where Louise continued to work until retiring in 1978. Arnold died in July 1970, and 15 years later Louise married Raymond Streeting of Muskegon. Raymond died in 1995. Louise was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, where she served as an elder, deacon, Sunday school teacher, and participated in the Women's Association and scouting program. One of her four children, Charles, died in 1997. The others were Richard, of Chico, California, Larry, and Mary Nash. Louise died on January 19, 1999.

Jacob Braak [1882-1950]

Jacob Braak was born in Friesland, The Netherlands, on June 19, 1882, and became a baker's apprentice there. He came to America in 1899. After a brief stay in Grand Rapids, he bought a bakery in Chicago on June 1, 1901, when he was only 18. He returned to The Netherlands to fulfill his military obligation but was excused from service. On his way back to Chicago, he visited a friend from the old country, John Ver Kuyl of Grand Haven. Ver Kuyl, who was born in The Netherlands in 1849, happened to need a baker at the time of Jacob's visit. Jacob sold his Chicago bakery in February 1902 and went to work for his friend. After two unsuccessful starts in Grand Haven, in June 1903 he started the Spring Lake Bakery, located in the Reender's Building at 110 West Savidge. Jacob worked in the bakery by day and at the Holland Honey Cake Company in the city of Holland at night, until he got his bakery business established, rechristened as Braak's Bakery. In 1926 Jacob opened another store, this one in Centertown Grand Haven [707 Washington]. He retired in October 1941 and turned the business over to his sons. They opened a store in downtown Grand Haven [308 Washington] in 1953, started another one in Fruitport in 1958, and opened a store at 940 Robbins Road in 1965. They sold the business in 1990. Jacob originated the secret recipe for his famous "Town Talk" cookies that he preferred to cut by hand. He was active in the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church and in the Boy Scouts.

On March 2, 1904 in Ottawa County, Jacob married Jennie Reenders. Jennie, born in March 1877, was a clerk in Ver Kuyl's shop at the same time her husband worked there. She was the daughter of Reender and Martje Brongersma Reenders of Spring Lake. Jacob and Jennie had eight children, all born in Michigan: Sidney, born in 1904; Arnold R., born in 1906; Martha I., born about 1906; Albert, born in 1909; Christine, born about 1912; Reynard, born in 1914; Ida, who was born October 23, 1915, married Ray Streeting of Muskegon, and died on February 18, 1984; and Lola, who married Elsbert Cummins of Ferrysburg. The Braaks built and lived in the house at 212 Prospect. Jennie died on December 30, 1944. Jacob was married a second time, on January 19, 1949, to Mrs. Leonora Johnson of Ferrysburg. He died on January 25, 1950, five years after his first wife, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune article "Jacob Braak, Bakery Pioneer is Taken," January 26, 1950 and Citizens Historical Association, October 11, 1941.]

Reynard E. "Ray" Braak [1914-1999]

Reynard Braak was born in Spring Lake on July 13, 1914 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934. He and his brother, Arnold, ran the family bakery in Spring Lake after their father's death in 1949. They were the sons of Jacob and Jennie Reenders Braak, the founder of the bakery. Reynard was a member of the Spring Lake Baptist Church, where he served as a deacon and elder. Braak was the first Boy Scout in Spring Lake to receive the Eagle Scout Award with Troop 14. Reynard and his wife, Margaret D. Rank, were married on September 29, 1937. The daughter of August and Elsie Burnhouse Rank, Margaret was born in Grand Haven on February 1, 1916. Their children were a daughter, Daneen Braak, who lived in Three Rivers, St. Joseph County, and a son, James, who moved to Grand Rapids. Reynard died in Spring Lake on February 14, 1999. Margaret died on June 23, 2003. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 2003.]

Elmer Ellis Bradway [1868-1934]

Born in Milwaukee on July 20, 1868, Elmer Bradway worked for more than 30 years as a steward on lake and ocean ships. About 1900 he moved to Grand Haven, where he was employed as a cook. He married, Barbara L. Boomsliuter in Grand Haven on January 12, 1898. They lived at 507 North Fifth Street. Barbara, the daughter of Captain George and Sarah Bloomsliuter, was born in Grand Haven on December 2, 1872 and died there about November 10, 1963. Barbara and Elmer had at least two children, Irving [Erwin], who was born in Milwaukee on October 17, 1898, and Milburn G., who was born in Grand Haven on December 29, 1902. Elmer died on January 12, 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was his wife.

Daniel James Brady II [1929-1996]

Born in Grand Haven on March 9, 1929, Daniel was the son of Daniel T. [1889-1962] and Susan Hiler Brady. Duane Brady, Daniel J.'s older brother, founded Welded Products in 1942 and Kip Equipment in 1959. Daniel J. served in the U.S. Army during the Korean War. He was a millwright for Oldberg Mfg., and he was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and the V.F.W. He married Beverly J. Baars on April 23, 1955 in Spring Lake, and they had a son, Mark. Daniel died on January 10, 1996 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 11, 1996.]

Duane T. Brady [1914-2003]

In 1942, Duane Brady founded Welded Products with James B. Scott as his partner. They sold the company to Krug International in 1969. Duane also started Kip Equipment in Grand Haven in 1959. He was born in Grand Haven on October 3, 1914, to Daniel and Sylvia Hilder Brady. Duane married Mollie I. Murphy on January 20, 1940 in Three Rivers. Duane was a member of the Spring Lake Country Club, Knights of Columbus, and Elks. He attended St. Mary's Catholic Church in Spring Lake. He and Mollie had a daughter, Ruth Ann, who was born on January 16, 1943, died on December 28, 1961 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They also had a son Tom, who lived in Muskegon. Duane died in Muskegon on February 16, 2003 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 18, 2003.]

Thomas Brady [1815-1883] and Bridget Morrisy Brady [1830-1909]

Born in 1815, Thomas Brady came to Ottawa County from Goederich, Ontario, Canada in 1857 and continued farming. In 1845 in Goederich he married Bridget Morrisy, who was born in January 1830 [1823] in Ireland and migrated to Canada at age one. Not long after the Bradys' arrival in Spring Lake, Thomas was hired as foreman to supervise construction of the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad, being extended from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven at that time. At the same time, Bridget managed a boarding house at the northeast corner of Exchange and Division Streets, later known as the Sinclair House and the Rideout House. After completion of the railroad, Thomas was hired as watchman for Hunter Savidge. Eventually the Bradys were able to buy acreage on 144th Avenue in Spring Lake Township, where they built a house and started a farm.

The Bradys were members of the Catholic Church of Spring Lake. They had nine surviving children: Ann, who was born in 1846 and married Michael Shoemaker of Spring Lake; James H. of Spring Lake, who lived from March 1864 [1865] to 1929; Mary, who was born in 1867 and married Anthony Quinton of Crockery Township; Julia, who lived from 1868 to 1942, taught school in Crockery Township, and was principal at

Agnew School when she retired; Michael and Mrs. Duane Campbell, both of Manistee; Thomas, who was born in 1870 and settled in Traverse City; John [Joseph] who in 1882 worked for White, Friant & Company Lumber Mill in Nortonville; and Margaret "Maggie," who was born in August 1874 and married John Walsh of Berlin [Marne]. John apparently died prior to his mother in 1909. Thomas died July 3, 1883, and his wife passed away on July 14, 1909. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 16, 1909.]

William Henry Brady I [1829-1902]

Born in Canada in August 1829, William Brady and his wife, Emma [Alice Emma, Amy], settled in Robinson Township about 1866. Emma, also a native of Canada, was born in May 1840. Their children were William II, born in Canada in July 1859; John A., born in November 1863 in Canada; and a foster son, George A. Hitsman, born on October 1, 1873 in Michigan. George remained in Robinson Township. William I and his son John took over Oliver Whitney's general store in Robinson Village in the 1890s. Around the same time William I owned an 80-acre in Section 14 of Robinson and John had a 40-acre farm in Section 15. John eventually moved to Cheboygan, Cheboygan County. William I died in Robinson Township on March 20, 1902. Emma passed away in Cheboygan on December 18, 1921. She and William were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

William Henry Brady II [1859-1930]

William, the son of William and Emma Brady, was born in Canada in July 1859 and came with his family to the Grand Haven area when he was seven years old. He lived for many years in Robinson Township with his parents and then started out on his own as a farmer on 40 acres in Section 16. Around 1920 he moved to Grand Haven and was employed as a laborer. He resided at 525 Elliott Street. On April 2, 1889 he married Mariah, the daughter of Andrew Logan of Robinson Township. The Bradys' children, all born locally, included Owen, born in February 1892; Lafayette, born in June 1894; Nancy T., who was born in April 1897 and married Henry Borchers of Detroit; and William III, born about 1901. William III and Lafayette moved to Grand Haven. William died around February 20, 1930, when he fell off a city truck and on to the newly laid pavement of Harbor Drive. He was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Mariah was born in Michigan in November 1867 and died in Robinson Township in 1955. [Tribune obituary, February 20, 1930.]

Berend Jan "John" Bramer I [Bremer] [1849-1922]

Born in The Netherlands [Prussia] on July 9, 1849, John was the son of Jan Hendrik and Janna Van Wieren Bramer. On December 27, 1872 John married Fenne "Fanny" Swavink [Zwavink/Swiftney] in Spring Lake. Fanny, also a native of The Netherlands [Prussia], immigrated to the United States in 1872. She was born on December 22, 1846, the daughter of Jan and Ale Nijhof Zwafink [Swavink]. The Bramers owned a 125-acre farm in Section 9 of Spring Lake Township. Their children, all born in Michigan, were John Hendrick, who was born on December 12, 1873 in Ferrysburg and died about six months later; Johanna, who was born about 1875 and married John Bottema of Spring Lake; John Hendrick [Henry John], born in November 1876 and died at the age of five; Albert, born on October 18, 1878 and died at the age of three; Jennie, who was born in 1880, married Jan "John" Miskotten [Miskett] about 1900, and died on January 1, 1946 in Holland; John II, who was born in 1883; Alice, who was born on February 6, 1884, married Marion Daniels, and died in Spring Lake on June 3, 1972; Frederick, who was born on October 7, 1886; and Harry, who was born on February 25, 1890. John passed away in 1922 and Fanny five years later. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Berend Jan "John" Bramer II [1883-1945]

Born in 1883 in Ferrysburg, John II was the son of John and Fanny Swiftney Bramer. On November 6, 1901 John II married Maggie Yonker. Maggie, the daughter of William and Martje "Mary" Yonker, was born in Spring Lake on September 3, 1881 and died in Spring Lake on July 2, 1962. The Bramers had four children: Bernard John, who was born on February 22, 1902, married Dorothy Dietz [May 8, 1901 to July 21, 1967], and died on November 1, 1972 in Ferrysburg; Martha, who was born on May 21, 1904, married Arthur

Vander Linde [September 11, 1903 to January 29, 1973], and died in Little Rock, Arkansas in November 1976; William Frederick, who was born on April 10, 1909, married Amy Edith Kuck [April 19, 1912 to died June 29, 1990]; and Fannie, who was born on August 3, 1911, married Jay K. Teunis, who was born in 1911 and died in Spring Lake on March 15, 1999. John died in Spring Lake in 1945 and Maggie passed away on July 2, 1962, also in Spring Lake.

Frederick Bramer [1886-1936]

Frederick, the son of Berend Jan and Fanny Bramer, was born in Ferrysburg in 1886 and died in Spring Lake on December 15, 1936. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On June 9, 1909 in Grand Haven, he married Elsie Bosch [Bush], who was born in The Netherlands in 1888, the daughter of Roelof and Annijen Bosch. The Bramers owned 180 acres of farmland in Section 8 of Spring Lake Township. Their children were Fannie, who was born in 1910 and married Allie Wilcox, who lived from April 5, 1905 to December 1980; Anna [Ann], who was born in 1912 and married William J. Kieft, who lived from August 25, 1909 to March 8, 1982; Jeannie A., who was born in 1914 and married George Bishop, who lived from May 25, 1912 to May 24, 1989; Bernard John, who was born on May 2, 1915, married Beatrice Barney, and died in Coopersville on April 1, 1975; Ralph, who was born on August 6, 1917, married Eunice Vander Wall, and died in Spring Lake on August 25, 1993; and Elsie, who was born about 1920 and married William Mattison.

Harry Bramer [1890-1960]

Harry, the son of Berend Jan “John” and Fanny Swiftney Bramer, was born on February 25, 1890 in Spring Lake Township. On February 8, 1911 in Spring Lake, he married Alice Ruiter, who was born on October 15, 1890 in Ottawa County and died on June 21, 1964. Harry and Alice owned a 95-acre farm in Section 8 of Spring Lake Township. Their daughter Fanny was born in 1918. She married Russell Bosch, who was born on March 30, 1919 and died in Spring Lake May 26, 1998. The Bramers’ son Lawrence was born on June 20, 1921, married Betty Visser, and died in Spring Lake on January 6, 1984. A second daughter, Sadie R., was born about 1925 and married Donald Jeske, a Spring Lake attorney. Harry passed away on July 21, 1960 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Alice.

John Bramer I [1849-1922]

See Berend Jan “John” Bramer I.

William Frederick Bramer [1909-1990]

Born on April 10, 1909 in Spring Lake, William was the son of John and Maggie Yonker Bramer. William was employed as a sheet metal worker at Bastian-Blessing and retired in 1974. He was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church and former member of the Spring Lake Township Board and township fire department. On December 8, 1938, in Grand Haven, he married Amy Edith Kuck, who was born April 19, 1912. Their children were William of Holland, Gerald of Spring Lake, and Jim of Ferrysburg. In 1928 the older William helped build the North Shore Road for access to the United States Coast Guard Station. William died June 29, 1990 at his home in Ferrysburg and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 30, 1990.]

Carl Edgar Brandon [1883-1961]

Born on June 11, 1883 in Defiance County, Ohio, Carl was the son of Francis Lambert and Mary [Eva May] Lower Brandon, who were married in that county on February 27, 1881. Carl was employed in Kimmell, Indiana by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as a telegraph operator, between 1900 and 1904. He worked in Chicago from 1904 to 1907, then for the Great Northern Railroad for the next two years, and various other railroads until 1917 when he was made telegraph operator for the Grand Trunk Railroad in Grand Haven. Beginning in 1933 he was agent for the company. Carl was a member of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, Elks, Citizens Historical Association, and the Baptist Church. On May 20, 1911 he married Cora Manting, who was born in Holland, Michigan, on January 31, 1888, the daughter of Dr. Albert and Mary [Maria]

Loker Manting. The Brandons had no children. Carl died June 25, 1961. [Citizens Historical Association, September 27, 1941.]

Vivian Myrtle Clark Branyan [1919-2003] and Virgil Harris Branyan [1927-2003]

Vivian Branyan was the author of All God's Children Got Wings, the biography of Spring Lake resident, Cecil "Sinnie" Sinclair, at one time known as the world's oldest flying instructor. The book was published in 1978 by Pippel-Patterson Printing Company of Grand Haven. Vivian was born in Iron River, Iron County, to Hubert and Floy Harrington Clark on March 24, 1919. She graduated from Hackley School of Nursing in Muskegon and worked as a registered nurse in Spring Lake for 20 years. On September 24, 1949 she married Virgil Branyan. Born on September 10, 1927, he died on July 8, 2003 and was buried at Norton Cemetery, Norton Shores. They had four daughters: Maureen, who married Vern Haan; Shannon Thomas, Rebecca, who married Don Daniels, and Melissa, who married Tom Taylor. Shannon was born in Grand Haven on October 9, 1951 and died on January 3, 2015, in Norton Shores. Vivian distributed Christmas presents throughout the State of Michigan in behalf of Child and Family Services, and she served on the organization's Board of Trustees for many years. She was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church and a member of its choir, and she was active in the Early Birds of Aviation, acting as chair of its publication committee in 1985. Vivian, who lived in Muskegon the last four years of her life, died on November 17, 2003 and was buried at Norton Cemetery. [Chronicle obituary, January 26, 2015.]

Ewald C. Braun [1894-1930]

On December 11, 1915 in Grand Haven, Ewald Braun married Frieda [Freda] Pofahl. Frieda was born on October 21, 1896. Ewald and Frieda had several children, all born in Grand Haven, including Carl, born on July 25, 1916; James C., who lived from 1920 to 1922 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, and Frederick, who was born on August 1, 1925, died around August 31, 1943, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ewald was a metal polisher. He was born in 1894, died in 1930, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After Ewald's death, Frieda married Charles Rudershausen, who had been a roomer at the Braun house. She died in Grand Haven on May 24, 1979.

Helen Lucretia Brayton [1839-1898]

See Helen Lucretia Brayton Macalister.

James Pease Brayton [1847-1912] and Emma Sanford Brayton [1849-1935]

James was the son of Jasper [James] Colgrove and Julia Ann Barnard Brayton. Jasper was born in 1814 and died on September 2, 1892. Julia was born about 1816 in New York. Jasper and Julia were married in Monroe County on September 30, 1838. Their son James was born in Aztalan, Wisconsin, on November 23, 1847. His father bought 240 acres in that state between 1840 and 1848 and in Michigan as early as November 1837. Jasper and Julia returned to Michigan when their son was 15 years old and eventually settled in Grand Haven. The father was a civil engineer and surveyor, and for some years he was the surveyor for Ottawa County. One of his charts was reproduced on page 317 of Lillie's Historic Grand Haven. James went to Appalachicola, Florida, in 1877, where he continued in the lumber business he had started in Ludington with T. R. Lyons. James opened an office in Chicago but returned to Grand Haven in 1899. He was a member of the original Grand Haven Concert Band, formed in 1868, and he was a Mason.

On November 15, 1871, James married Mary Samantha "Minnie" Albee in Grand Haven. Born in 1853 in Grand Haven, she was the daughter of Clark and Samantha Taylor Albee. A few months before the wedding, James purchased from Stephen Munroe land near the Lake Michigan shoreline for $495. Access to the lot was made easier in 1873 when Second Street was extended south and west from Clinton Street to the bluff overlooking Lake Michigan. The extension was named Lake Avenue. There in 1873 they built a cottage and named it Khardomah, which, according to legend, either was a Native American word meaning Happy Home or the name of a local Indian chief, although neither story has been verified. The Braytons and their daughters, Louise, born on December 28, 1874, and Mary, born on January 30, 1878, enjoyed their summer residence for many years. Minnie died in Apalachicola, Florida on August 1, 1880. She and James were living with his parent at the time of her death. Louise passed away on July 5, 1953 and joined James and Emma at Oakhill. Mary died on July 5 two years later.

On January 24, 1884, James married Emma Maretta Sanford of Grand Haven. The daughter of Isaac and Mary Stanton Sanford, Emma was born in Akron, Ohio on August 6, 1849. Emma was about 10 when her family moved from Akron to Grand Haven. By 1900 James and Emma had moved to Grand Rapids permanently. He died on January 25, 1912 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids Township. Helen Brayton Macalister was his sister.

Emma in 1907 delivered to the Grand Haven Woman's Club a paper titled "Early Days in Grand Haven," a personal memoir of her youth. She sold the Khardomah cottage for $2,000 on January 10, 1919 to Susan Hill Yerkes, who was head mistress at Akeley Academy for Girls. Emma died on October 28, 1935 in Grand Rapids and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 30, 1935.]

Charles Landon Breckon [Brecken] [1858-1936]

A second area newspaper named Grand Haven News was established by Charles Breckon in November 1894. It appeared weekly until July of the next year, when the Daily News was formed. Both newspapers leaned toward Republican policies. On May 5, 1880 in Muscatine, Iowa, he married Mary Elizabeth Cunningham, who subsequently worked with him. Mary was born in Muscatine about 1859. They had at least three children: Annie M. born in Muscatine, Iowa about 1881, Mabel L, who was born in Chicago on April 11, 1884 and died in Dallas, Texas on August 9, 1947, and Charles Harry, born in Chicago on January 6, 1890. Charles the father had spent 12 years with the Chicago Herald before coming to Grand Haven. He returned to Chicago, and in 1903 was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor of the city, running on the Socialist ticket. The next year Charles was state representative to the Socialist Party Convention. He was born on September 16, 1858 in Illinois, and passed away in Dallas, Texas on February 6, 1936.

Louis [Lutje] Bredehoft [Bredehoeft] II [1840-1928]

Louis Bredehoft was born in Hannover, Germany, on July 15, 1840. His parents were Lutje and Anna Margaretha Ehlers Bredehoft of Hannover. Louis II came to Grand Haven in 1866 [1867] as a mill worker. On November 15, 1869, he and Metha [Metta] "Martha" Lutze were married in Grand Haven. She was born in Germany in October 1845, died in Grand Haven Township on November 17, 1885, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Their children, all born in Grand Haven Township, were Louis III, born in November 1871; Annie, born on May 8, 1872; Hendrick, born on July 18, 1874; Catherine, born on August 24, 1876; Frederick Martin, born on June 14, 1878; John Theodore, who was born on December 17, 1880, married Matilda Pearl Puglsey on November 7, 1906, and died in Coopersville on December 14, 1967; Carl William, born on June 24, 1883; and an unnamed child, who was born on November 17, 1885 and died as an infant. After Martha's death, Louis married Augusta F. Lueke in Ottawa County on December 29, 1887. Augusta, a native of Posen, Germany, was born April 29, 1855. Her parents were Ludwig and Rosalie Lueke. Louis and Augusta had several children: Franklin, born in November 1889; Albert, born in November 1891; Lorenz, born in April 1893; and Charles, born in December 1898.

Between 1876 and 1897 Louis purchased 40 acres of farmland at 13699 Lakeshore Drive, an open, flat, sandy area just south of Rosy Mound in Grand Haven Township. In 1874 Louis took ownership of 90 acres of Lake Michigan frontage in Sections 8 and 17, which he sold in late 1921 to Carlotta Ewing.

Louis and Augusta had four sons, all born in Grand Haven Township: Franklin Louis II, born November 7, 1888, died in Woodland, California on September 6, 1965, and was buried at Inglewood Park Cemetery, Inglewood, California; Albert Theodore, born on November 2, 1890 and died on July 18, 1968; Lawrence Arthur, born April 20, 1893 and died in Missouri in June 1973; and Carl, born December 12, 1897 and died February 28, 1932. Lawrence served in the military during WWI and was injured by gunshot wounds in both legs. Louis died August 15, 1928 and Augusta died in Grand Rapids on November 2, 1945. Both were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Louis Bredehoft III [1888-1965]

The son of Louis and Augusta Lueke Bredehoft, Louis III was born in Grand Haven Township on November 7, 1888. He was farming at 16865 Lincoln Street by 1912 on 40 acres of land, previously owned by one of the Behms. Louis later bought from Henry Bierman an adjacent 40 acres to the north. He married Louise, a daughter of Henry Bierman. One of Louis's sons, Harold, was born on January 16, 1914 and died October 25, 1978. Harold and his family occupied the property on Lincoln Street. The Bredehoft farmhouse on Lincoln Street, with barns and sheds intact, was still occupied in 2002 by Harold's daughter, Mary Jane Bredehoft Pyle. Louis and Louise also had a daughter, Martha, born about 1911.

Lawrence Breitels I [1869-1942]

Lawrence Breitels was born in Chicago on October 20, 1869, died on August 21, 1942, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On December 25, 1895 in Grand Haven, he married Matilda, the daughter of Gustave and Augusta Hubert of Grand Haven. She lived from June 1875 to about December 28, 1933 and also was buried at Lake Forest. With Nels Fisher, Lawrence owned the Grand Haven Coal & Dock Company at 117 South Harbor. It carried coal, fuel oil, and a "COMPLETE LINE OF BUILDERS' SUPPLIES." A son, Arnold, was born on July 29, 1897 and died shortly after birth. Another son, Louis II, was born on May 4, 1899. A third son, Richard A., was born in 1901 and married Pearl R. Swiftney in Grand Haven on May 1, 1919. Richard was organist at the Robin Hood Theater. The family resided at 331 Elliott.

Louis Henry Breitels [Breidels] I [1899-1983]

Louis, the son of Lawrence and Matilda Breitels, was born in Grand Haven on May 4, 1899. As a young man, Louis worked at Keller Tool Company and later he was employed by Nathaniel Robbins. In 1936 with Nelson Fisher as his partner, he took over his father's business, Grand Haven Coal & Dock at 117 South Harbor Drive. Louis served as Grand Haven alderman from 1947 to 1953. On September 15, 1920 in Grand Haven, Louis married Harriet, the daughter of John and Dena Fisher of Grand Haven. Harriet was born on February 8, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on June 10, 1990. A daughter, Gwendolyn, was born about 1922. Another daughter, Sylvia Maxine, was born in Grand Haven on June 8, 1923. She married Leslie Vink on December 10, 1943. He died on May 10, 2003, and Sylvia passed away in Grand Haven on March 23, 2011. They also had a son, Louis F., who was born about 1927 and became assistant manager of the family business. Louis I died in Grand Haven on September 3, 1983. He and Harriet were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Breitels family resided at 214 North Fourth Street and later at 704 Pennoyer. [Tribune obituary, March 28, 2011.]

John Brems [Breems] [1835-1924]

Born in Germany in May 1835, John Brems immigrated to Bloomfield, Illinois in 1852 and then moved to Robinson Township, where by 1900 he owned a farm. By 1918 the farm had grown to 600 acres, with additional acreage in Sections 10, 22, 23, and 26, as well as within the Village of Robinson. On August 15, 1862, John enlisted as private in Company L of the 105th Illinois Infantry. Two years later he was transferred to the 1st U.S. Engineers. His date of discharge was not recorded. His wife, Willamena [Wilhelmine], applied for a widow's Civil War pension on November 13, 1924, not long after her husband's death on June 7 that year. Willamena was born in April 1847, also in Germany, and came to the United States in 1862. Their children, all born in Illinois, were Charles H., born in May 1876; Arthur, born in October 1880; Emma, born in April 1883; and William, born in May 1888.

Deane Rockhold Brengle II [1928-2000]

Deane was born on March 8, 1928, in Highland Park, Wayne County, the son of Deane R. and Hazel McClay Brengle. On February 3, 1951 in Dearborn, Wayne County, he married Irene Winifred Rodgers in Dearborn. She was born in Windsor, Canada, on November 6, 1928. Deane II served in the 43rd Infantry from October 26, 1950 and October 11, 1952, during the Korean War. He moved to the Grand Haven area from Princeton, New Jersey, about 1983. In Grand Haven he was Chairman of the Board of Brengle Companies with an office at 203 Washington Street. He was co-owner of the Dee Lite and Thymes Three Restaurants in Grand Haven, Health Hutts in Grand Haven and Muskegon, and Mail Boxes Etc., also in Grand Haven. He was a member of the Grand Haven Zoning Board of Appeals, the Grand Haven Central Business Downtown Development Association, Ducks Unlimited, and the National Rifle Association. He resided at 23 Sherman Avenue. Deane's children, all residents of Michigan, were Martha Bultema of Lowell; Deane R., of Belding; and Gary of Sand Lake. Deane died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound on September 24, 2000.

Harold [1920-2010] and Bernice Bender Bretschneider [1925-2003]

Harold, the son of Henry and Alice Braun Bretschneider, was born in Grand Haven on January 7, 1920. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1937 and served with the Army during WW II. Harold married Bernice Bender in Belleville on October 5, 1946. Bernice was born on August 7, 1925 in Belleville, Illinois, the daughter of August C. and Mattie E. Detienne Bender. For over 30 years Bernice helped run her husband's business, Bretschneider Photography Studio at 735 Washington. She also was employed for more than years at Pfaff Pharmacy and retired at the age 75. Bernice and Harold's children were Bett, who married Loren Carlson of Grand Haven, and Doug C. Bretschneider. Bernice died in Grand Haven on August 24, 2003 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Harold passed away in Grand Haven on June 22, 2010 and was buried with his wife. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven and the American Legion. He was an active volunteer with the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, and he served on the Ottawa County sheriff Reserve for more than 20 years. [Tribune obituaries, August 25, 2003 and June 23, 2010.]

Charles Van Dusen Brian [aka Charles Brian Van Dusen] [1873-1970]

Charles Brian owned Brian's Novelty Cleaners, a drycleaning business at 13 North Second Street in Grand Haven. He married Helen "Nellie Fose" in Menominee on August 28, 1915. They lived in an apartment above their Grand Haven business. Charles was born in New York on April 17, 1873 [1872] and Nellie on April 2, 1875. They sold the drycleaning business in 1953. Charles died in Grand Haven on September 1, 1970. Nellie passed away in Nunica on January 15, 1963. She previously had been married to Adolf Francis Millar [Miller], who was born in 1859 and died in 1909 in Monroe County. They had a son, Iveaux Francis Millar, who was born in Milwaukee County, Wisconsin on January 15, 1897 and moved to Grand Haven, where he died on September 19, 1965. Charles, Nellie, and Iveaux were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Sentinel obituary, January 16, 1963.]

An unidentified contributor offered this view of Charles's life: "Charles Brian Van Dusen reversed his middlename to escape legal matters. Check the marriage certificate with Helen Fose . . . and it shows the true order of his name. . . . He married Emma Barbara Rose Young (1874-1969) in New York in 1893 and they had two children, Clara Van Dusen (1894- ?) and Earl Lloyd Van Dusen (1897-1993). After his petition for divorce from Emma was denied, he eloped to Canada and married Fanny Maslen, who worked in the restaurant he co-managed to [Niagara Falls] New York. After he and Fanny broke up, he moved to Michigan and married Helen "Nellie" Fose in 1915. Together they operated Brian's Dry Cleaners in [Grand Haven] Michigan. That makes him a polygamist (three wives in two countries.) That's why he changed his name." [Find a Grave, Charles Van Dusen Brian.] Emma had moved to California by 1910, and by 1940 she was living in Los Angeles with her son Earl and his family. Emma died on January 27, 1969 and was buried at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale. By 1901, Fanny Cecelia Maslen had returned to Niagara Falls and was living under her maiden name. She was born in Ontario, Canada on October 15, 1883.

Egbert Leonard Briggs [1856-1933]

Born in Macomb County in December 1856, Egbert L. Briggs was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from about 1886 to 1900. From 1900 on he was an insurance agent. Egbert died in Toledo, Ohio of a thrombosis on May 4, 1933 and was buried at Forest Hill Cemetery in Ann Arbor. On December 23, 1884 in Washtenaw County, Egbert married Nellie E. Holmes. Nellie, who was born in Washtenaw County, lived from November 1861 to July 2, 1950 and was buried at Forest Hill with her husband. They had four daughters, all born in Michigan: Helen C., born in Eaton Rapids in July 1886; Harriet A., born in January 1893; Lucille, born in September 1895; and Dorothy, born about 1902.

Francis W. Briggs [1826-1891]

While a resident of La Porte, Indiana, Francis Briggs on August 16, 1862 enlisted as private in Company B of the 73rd Indiana Infantry. He was mustered out on January 2, 1863 and subsequently relocated to Olive Township, although he was listed as a carpenter in Spring Lake in the 1880 census. His wife, Sarah M., applied for a widow's Civil War pension on January 16, 1893, more than a year after Francis's death on December 23, 1891. He was born in New York on January 6, 1826. Sarah was born on November 26, 1829 in Pennsylvania. Both were buried at Olive Township Cemetery. A daughter, Hattie M., was born about 1866 in Indiana.

Lester C. Brinkert [1905-1997]

Born November 12, 1905, Les was the son of Charles Henry and Eugenia Kramer Brinkert of Grand Haven, who were married on October 23, 1901. Charles was the son of John Henry and Minnie Brinkert and Eugenia was the daughter of Friedrich A. and Augusta Behm Kramer. Les started as a deck hand on the Corps of Engineers' dredge General Meade when he was 16, serving under his uncle, Captain Charles A. Richter of Grand Haven. By 1930 he was serving as third mate on a Corps of Engineers dredge. Les remained with the Corps the remainder of his working life and was the last person to command the General Meade when it was decommissioned in 1947. A sister ship, the General Burton, replaced the General Meade, and it, too, was commanded by Les from 1947 to 1949. Les then took over his third command, this time the General Peter Connover Hains, from 1949 to 1961. Les retired in January 1961. He died in Grand Haven on November 12, 1997 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His residence was at 1132 Harbor Drive.

James A. Brittan [Britton, Brittain] [1821- ?]

A native of Batavia, New York, where he was born about 1821, James in 1834 moved with his parents, Roswell and Sarah H. Brittan, to Grandville. There Roswell operated the Brown & Brittan Sawmill. James's first wife, Jane C., who was born December 22, 1825, died on May 13, 1858, and was buried at Grandville Cemetery. After her death James married Mary E. Perlin in Grand Rapids on March 27, 1861. Mary was 30 at the time of their marriage. She died before 1880. James and Mary arrived in Grand Haven in 1868, and the next year he became foreman at the Emlaw Mill.

Roswell Brittan [Britton, Brittain] [1788-1850]

Roswell Brittan and his wife, Sarah H., moved from Batavia, New York to Grandville in 1834. In Grandville Roswell operated the Brown & Brittan Sawmill. Hiram Jenison [Jennison] was one of his hired hands. Roswell, who was born on July 21, 1788 and died on June 10, 1850, was elected representative from Ottawa County to the first State Legislature in 1837. Sarah lived from May 24, 1800 to May 9, 1847. Both Roswell and Sarah were buried at Grandville Cemetery. In 1868 their son James moved to Grand Haven with his wife, and their daughter Sarah, who was born in Batavia on December 17, 1822. Sarah the daughter married Nathan H. White of Grand Haven. From 1813 to 1814 Roswell served with Churchill's Regiment of the New York Volunteers during the War of 1812.

William Brittan [Britton, Brittain] [1805-1885]

Born in New York on December 3, 1805, William Brittan came to the Spring Lake area from Waukegan, Illinois, between 1850 and 1859. In 1861, he was proprietor of the Ferrysburg and Muskegon State Line and Mail. His wife, Catharine, was born in Connecticut on February 14, 1806 and died March 5, 1874. William died on July 2, 1885 and was buried with his wife at Spring Lake Cemetery. For a while they resided with the Conner family in Ferrysburg. The Brittans had at least three children: Ralph C., born about 1843; Ada A., born about 1847; and Lorinda L., born about 1849. Ralph was born in Pennsylvania, the other two in Illinois.

Howard Andrew Broersma [1917-1995]

Howard Broersma and his brother Robert Broersma started ASP & Manufacturing Company in 1947. Howard was president. On October 18, 1941 he married Ruth Hammond in Flint. They resided at 244 Grand. Howard was born on May 23, 1917 and died in Florida on July 25, 1995. Ruth lived from May 13, 1921 to March 21, 1982. She passed away in Grand Haven. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert J. Broersma [1918-1996]

Robert Broersma and his brother Howard Broersma started ASP & Manufacturing Company in 1947. Robert was vice president. He married Jean Damminga on January 20, 1939. They resided at 18052 Lovell Park in Spring Lake. Robert was born on September 22, 1918 and died in Holland on October 19, 1986. Jean lived from September 21, 1919 to May 30, 2010. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Clarence R. Broman [1905-1969]

Clarence Broman was elected president of Spring Lake Village for three consecutive terms between 1956 and 1958. He was born in Whitehall on November 12, 1905, died on February 21, 1969, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1930 he was a bookkeeper in Muskegon, but by the mid-1940s he was Personnel director at Eagle Ottawa and resided at 321 Lake View Court in Spring Lake with his wife, Blanche, whom he married in May 1937. The daughter of John and Elvira Holtman Berger, Blanche was born in Chicago on June 13, 1907. She was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church and Spring Lake County Club. She passed away in Ocala, Florida on December 12, 2008 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children were Pamela Fair of Ocala and Rodney Broman of Grand Rapids. Ford Broman of Grand Haven was their nephew. [Tribune obituary, December 18, 2008.]

Elizabeth L. Broman [1907-1992]

Born on August 1, 1907, Betty Ford married Lester W. Broman. Lester was born in 1903 and died in 1941. In 1945 Betty became secretary for Home Services with the Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Later she became Executive secretary [assistant secretary] for the North Branch of the Ottawa County Chapter, with an office in Grand Haven. Her annual salary for 1951 was $3,060. She retired from the Red Cross in the 1970s. Betty died in Grand Haven on November 22, 1992 and was buried at Oakhurst Cemetery in Whitehall with Lester. Ford Broman of Grand Haven was her son.

Ford Lee Broman [1932-1996]

Ford, the son of Lester and Betty Broman, was born in Grand Haven on October 19, 1932 and died in that city on October 7, 1996. A graduate of Grand Haven High School, he spent most of his career with Peoples Bank & Trust [BankOne/Chase] in Grand Haven, where he became vice president. His wife, Reva Gail, was born on July 5, 1928. Clarence Broman of Spring Lake was his uncle. Ford was buried in the family plot at Oakhurst Cemetery in Whitehall.

Barbara Brongersma [1862-1938]

In 1898 Barbara Brongersma and Sam Falls opened a dry goods and shoe store at 206 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake. Three years later she sold her share to Sam. Barbara, the daughter of Cornelius and Jantje "Jane" Visser Brongersma, was born locally in February 1862. She married Fred E. Parker in Williamston, Ingham County on October 24, 1905. She died in Williamston in 1938 and was buried at Summit Cemetery.

Cornelius [Kornelia] Brongersma [1818-1898]

Born on May 9, 1818 in The Netherlands, Cornelius Brongersma immigrated to Holland, Michigan in 1853. The next year he moved to Spring Lake and resided at 412 East Exchange Street. After being employed for a short time in a sawmill, he raised fruit. He married Jantje "Jane" Visser on July 30, 1853. The daughter of Martin and Alida Visser, Jane was born in October 1827 in The Netherlands. The Brongersmas had one son, John, born in 1863, and four daughters, all born in locally: Barbara, born in February 1862; Ida, born in April 1866; Lucretia, who was born on May 25, 1869 and married Mordecai McLean of Spring Lake; and Martje, who married Reender Reenders. For 17 years Cornelius was Sexton at Spring Lake Cemetery. He died on December 20, 1898, and Jane passed away in 1912. They both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Cornelius Brongersma [1900-1988]

The son of John Brongersma of Spring Lake, Cornelius was born on September 19, 1900. On August 25, 1923 in Ludington, he married Elizabeth Lee, also of Spring Lake. She was the daughter of Floyd and Ida Trotter Lee. The Brongersmas resided at 2877 Judson Road in Spring Lake Township. Cornelius died on May 17, 1988. Elizabeth, who was born on July 5, 1904, passed away in Las Vegas, Nevada on March 16, 1993.

John B. Brongersma [1863-1955]

The son of Cornelius and Jane Brongersma, John was in the ice and coal business with Tony Ver Plank in the early 1900s. About 1912 he sold the ice business to Ver Plank and became partner with Martin Start in the Brongersma & Start Coal Company. He married Bena Olsen in Ferrysburg on November 2, 1898. She lived from 1864 to 1927 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their daughter Marie was born on December 16, 1902. On August 25, 1923 she married Harold Vander Kolk in Ludington. Harold was born about 1903. Their son Cornelius married Ida Lee. John resided at 313 River Street in Spring Lake, which also was the address for his business. Living with him in 1930 was his daughter Marie and his son-in-law, Harold Vanderkolk. Marie remained there the rest of her life. John lived from 1863 to 1955 and was buried with Bena.

Myrtle Norris Littrell Bronkhorst [1892-1971]

Myrtle Norris was born in Springfield, Illinois on June 17, 1891 [1892], died in Grand Haven on August 18, 1971, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Ed Norris, her brother, married Mae Farley. She married William Littrell, who was born about 1886 in Illinois. William worked as a teamster in Springfield, Illinois and Detroit. By 1930 the couple was settled in Robinson Township, where William owned an automobile service station. Myrtle's widowed mother, Cora D., lived with them at that time. Cora was born in Illinois about 1874. William died on January 10, 1936, after helping push an automobile out of a snowbank, and was buried in Springfield, Illinois. Shortly afterward Myrtle married Harry "Hap" Bronkhorst. Hap was born in Holland on November 7, 1898. He died on February 26, 1946 at his home on Potawatomie Bayou. In the mid-1930s Myrtle and Harry started the Yellow Jacket Inn at 12011 Lake Michigan Drive [M-45] in Section 21 of Robinson Township and ran it until late 1945, when they sold the business. It also served as their residence. In early 1946 they purchased Young's Café at 625 Washington and renamed it Fiesta Café. Myrtle also ran a restaurant in Miami, Florida for 21 years. [Tribune obituaries January 10, 1936, February 26, 1946, and August 18, 1971.]

William Bronsema [Bronsma] [1892-1984]

Born on March 4, 1892, William was the son of Jacob and Emma Bronsema. Jacob, who was born in March 1851, immigrated from The Netherlands to the United States with his wife in 1882 and became a stevedore. Emma was born September 1855. Jacob died in 1922. William opened a storage and moving business at 216 Fulton Avenue in the 1920s; by the 1940s it was located at 216 North Third. He was born on March 4, 1891 and died in Grand Haven on November 26, 1984. On June 13, 1819 in Grand Rapids, he married Lena [Geraldine] Herbst. She lived from September 17, 1899 to October 11, 1976.

Frances Seifert Bronson [1887-1982]

Frances Seifert graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1904 and taught at Rosy Mound School from 1907 to 1909. The daughter of Ignatz and Wilhelmena Seifert of Grand Haven, Frances and her twin sister, Florence, were born on June 9, 1887. On September 14, 1918 in Grand Haven, she married Oscar A. Bronson, who was born in Wisconsin in July 1884. Frances and Oscar moved to Milwaukee, where she died in November 1982.

Esther Ann Broomhead [1917- 1980]

See Esther Ann De Witt.

Herbert Walter Brosseit [1905-1992]

Herb Brosseit owned the Brosseit Paint Store, located first at his home at 1221 Franklin Street and later at 936 Robbins Road. Also an artist, he painted scenes in and around Grand Haven. He was born in Grand Haven on August 18, 1905 and died there on January 25, 1992. Herb married Della Louise Verduin in Muskegon on June 26, 1926. They later moved from Franklin Street to 1520 Barber Court. Their son, Herb Brosseit II, continued the business on Robbins Road as the Home Decorating Center. Herb and Della also had a daughter, Joyce Louise Brosseit, born on April 20, 1932, who was married twice, first to Norman Kline and later to Frank Labuda. She died in Grand Haven on May 11, 1997 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Another daughter, Nancy Brosseit, was born about 1938. Louise lived from November 30, 1906 to July 30, 1996. They were buried at the United Methodist Church of the Dunes Garden of Remembrance.

Herbert Richard Brosseit [1927-2004]

Herbert Brosseit continued the business that his father had started at 936 Robbins Road as the Home Decorating Center. On September 26, 1948, Herb married Sally Mae Graska in Grand Haven. Sally lived from April 29, 1932 to June 3, 2006. Herb was born on April 5, 1927 and died on January 22, 2004.

William Brough I [1828-1907]

William Brough was millwright at the White, Friant & Company Sawmill in 1882 and resided in Spring Lake. He was born in Scotland in 1828 and came to America with his parents when he was three. He arrived in Michigan in 1865. He was married twice, first to Adelina [Adeline] Kelly, who was born in Ontario, Canada about 1834, and died in 1872, and then to Ida [Muda] Farnum Rich on September 8, 1875. Ida, who was born about 1841 in Indiana [1843 in New York], died in 1888. William and Adelina had two sons: William Brough II, who was born in Ontario and lived from 1856 to 1902, and Thomas Brough, who died in 1869 at the age of four. They also had two daughters, Emma Brough, who was born in New York about 1864 and died in 1882, and Maud Brough, who was born in Michigan in July 1869. William moved to Grand Rapids. He died in 1907 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County with his two wives and three of his children.

Charles W. Brouwer [? - ?]

Charles Brouwer, who leased a 40-acre farm in Section 33 of Olive Township, settled in the area in 1889. His wife's name was Nellie. They were still farming in Olive Township in 1918.

Hendrik Henry Brouwer [1815-1888] and Klaas Brouwer [Brower] [1839-1917]

There were two Brouwer brothers and "one could hardly have a picture of one without the other," a friend wrote. Both were born in Overijssel, The Netherlands, Hendrik on March 13, 1825, and Klaas 14 years later, on February 25. Their father, Roelof Brouwer, lived from 1847 to 1917, and their mother, Gertje, was born in 1851 and died in 1925. The brothers, who arrived in Grand Haven in 1856, owned H. Brouwer & Bro., a store at the corner of Washington and First Streets during and after the Civil War. They carried a large inventory of groceries, dry goods, boots, shoes, and clothing needed by the mill workers. They set up a windmill in the backyard of the store and rigged a gristmill to grind feed to sell for family pets and livestock. The brothers also helped organize the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven in November 1871. They built a two-story home on Washington Street in 1876. Henry was the inside man, paler and more delicate looking than Klaas, and he did the bookwork. Klaas was ruddier in appearance, looked stronger and more robust, and he did the more active work.

Henry married Aaltje "Ellen" Bolt on May 30, 1852. They had at least two children, both born in Michigan: Jennie Brouwer, born about 1856, and Christiana Brouwer, who was born on July 5, 1858 and died on December 21, 1860. Ellen was born in The Netherlands on July 9, 1834, died in Grand Rapids on July 2, 1881, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Henry died in Grand Rapids on November 1, 1888.

Klaas's first wife, Maria, was born on September 18, 1844, died on January 17, 1863, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other Brouwers. Klaas then married Jerchje "Jane" Van Dam on November 26, 1863 in Grand Haven. She was born in The Netherlands in 1845 and died about March 23, 1899. Klaas and Jane had at least two children, both born locally: John, born about 1865, and Maria J., born about March 1870. Klaas moved to Chicago, but died in an auto accident in Los Angeles, California on January 14, 1917.

Ruth Brouwer [Brower, Brouer] [1847-1917]

In the 1890s Ruth Brouwer owned a boot and shoe store in Grand Haven. He and his wife Gertrude lived at 408 Lafayette Street. Ruth was born in Louisiana in September 1847 [1848] and died in 1917. After his death, Gertrude and their daughter, Eleanor Brouwer, resided at 318 Fifth Street. Eleanor was born in July 1894. A son, Stephen, was born in September 1876, and a daughter, Gertrude Brouwer, was born in February 1881. The children were all born locally. Gertrude, the mother, a native of The Netherlands, lived from September 1851 to 1925. Both Ruth and Gertrude were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Franklin Brower [1942-2022]

John Brower was born in Chicago on December 5, 1942 but spent his childhood in Grand Rapids. At the age of 17 he returned to his birth town and studied at the University of Illinois and The School of the Art Institute, where he received a Master of Fine Arts degree in painting, drawing, and printmaking. He taught fine and commercial art at the Wright Junior College in Chicago, the University of Kentucky, and Alverno College in Milwaukee. He earned the nickname "Billboard Brower" for his work as creative director with the Patrick Media Outdoor Advertising Company, a Chicago firm, designing billboards. In addition to his employment there, he did freelance work in illustration and graphic design. His works were exhibited in shows in Illinois, Wisconsin, the Fire Barn in Grand Haven, and ArtPrize in Grand Rapids. Some of his pieces are in permanent collections in Chicago and New York City, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He emphasized design and image in many of his works.

Around 2005 John moved from Chicago to 509 Fulton Street in Grand Haven. He was married first to Roberta "Toby" Simkins in 1964, and then to Olga Bunta Moore [1937-2013]. Both women were artists, too. John died in Grand Haven on April 29, 2022 and was buried at Beechwood Cemetery in Leland, Leelanau County.

Archibald Brown [1823–1888]

A native of Ayrshire, Scotland, where he was born on January 26, 1823, Archibald Brown came to America in 1854. In 1866 he left Detroit and moved to Grand Haven, where he opened a blacksmith business. The next year he and Frank Spence started a company known as the Iron Works on the northwest corner of First and Elliott Streets [Lot 85]. They sold the business in 1871 to James Lewis, Otto Gronberg, and John Bryce. Archibald died on December 7, 1888 in Rhineland, Wisconsin, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife Harriet also a native of Ayrshire, was born on September 25, 1819. She died in Grand Haven on February 16, 1886 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Charles B. Brown [1893-1929]

Charles Brown was first mate aboard the Andaste when it went down 14 miles off Holland on September 9, 1929. Born on June 20, 1893 in Grand Haven, Charles joined the 57th Engineers as private and served during WWI. At that time, his home address was in Nunica. On December 6, 1921 in Grand Rapids, he married Sarah "Sadie" Sherwood Swanson. She was born in Michigan in January 1890. On February 6, 1907 in Nunica, Sarah had married Earl L. Flanders, and on September 23, 1908 she married August Swanson, again in Nunica. Charles and Sarah lived at 417 Elliott Street in Grand Haven in the mid-1920s, but after her husband's death she moved to 1121 Columbus. Living with her then were two children, Russell E. Swanson, who was born on April 20, 1911 and died in Crockery Township on September 7, 1985, and August R. Swanson, who was born on September 20, 1913 and died in Muskegon in January 1967. Both children were born locally. Charles was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cyril P. Brown [1844-1917]

Born on November 22, 1844 at Medina, Lenawee County, Cyril was the son of Dr. David and Harriet Peck Brown. The father, a native of Massachusetts and one of Michigan's early physicians, lived from October 9, 1819 to August 22, 1857. Cyril's mother, Harriet, was born on June 24, 1825. She and David were married on April 4, 1843. Of their three sons and one daughter, Cyril was the eldest. Another son was Fred D., a Grand Haven photographer. After Dr. David Brown died, his widow and three of her surviving children moved to Hudson, not far from Medina. Cyril wrote in his memoirs that the first great grief of his young life was the death of this good father and beloved physician. At 16 he entered the freshman class at Hillsdale College. In August 1862, without the consent of his mother, he enlisted as private in Company F, 4th Michigan Infantry, and was assigned to duty with the Army of the Potomac. Two weeks after enlistment in September he reached the front just after the battle of Antietam and, although he was an infantryman, he was detached from his regiment to serve in the field hospital. He stayed with the Medical Department through Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, and Gettysburg, always at the front in the field hospitals. The entry in his diary for July 4, 1863, the day after the close of the Battle of Gettysburg, read, "At the Corps hospital attending the wants of the wounded. Their suffering [is] indescribable. Many have not had their wounds dressed. Rained all the afternoon, many of the wounded were without shelter." About a week after the Battle of Gettysburg he and another young man were given horses in order to catch up with their regiment, part of the Army of the Potomac, which had gone in pursuit of Lee. After riding for three days, they caught up with the regiment to find that it had dwindled down to about 20. He was proud to represent the Blue and Gray on the 50th anniversary of that great battle. He was discharged from the army for disability on January 9, 1864.

In 1865 Cyril resumed his studies at Hillsdale and graduated with honors in June 1868. In October he entered Rush Medical College in Chicago and received his degree of Doctor of Medicine in February 1870. In March of that year, he opened an office in Hudson. He wrote: "I unfurled my banner to the breeze, opening my doors to the public and at least by looks and manners, advertised to the good people to take notice that Dr. C. P. Brown, of Rush, was on deck, but they failed to walk the plank, not knowing a good thing when they saw it." In 1871 he moved to Spring Lake with $2 cash. In July 1872 he received an appointment as medical director from the Spring Lake Mineral Spring Company, which he stated was a godsend, and in 1881 he was named Village Health Officer. The Spring Lake Clinker Boat Company was organized in 1887, with Dr. Brown as president. For six years he was president of the United States Pension Board at Muskegon, and in 1888 he was named delegate to the National Convention which nominated Benjamin Harrison. He was a fellow of the American Medical Association, this honor coming to him around 1910 or 1912. He was also a member of the Ottawa County Medical Society and organized the Grand Haven and Spring Lake Medical Society. He was a Republican and belonged to the Baptist Church and Masons. Of himself he said, "I drive a car, practice medicine, cuss a little, smoke anything from a pipe to a cigarette, and have been known to hit a cold bottle." Brown was one of the first in Spring Lake to buy an automobile, a Sears Roebuck model.

On March 30, 1869 Cyril married Clara J. Ames of Hudson, who was born on January 14, 1852. They resided at 223 East Savidge in a home they had built. Their only son, Dana, was born in 1871. Clara was a fine musician and very interested in young people. She enjoyed working with them and their home was the scene of many social gatherings. Dana, who was involved with the Spring Lake Boat Company, died in 1897. The shock was more than Clara could overcome, and she died on October 26 the next year. On June 11, 1901 Dr. Brown married Jennie, daughter of John Watt and Ann Johnston, of Ferrysburg. Brown died May 4, 1917 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Portraits and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, p. 423.]

Dana Brown [1871-1897]

Born in 1871, Dana was the only child of Dr. Cyril and Clara J. Ames Brown of Spring Lake. He was an energetic and enterprising young man with a bright future before him. The Spring Lake Clinker Boat Company was organized in 1887, with Dana Brown as secretary and treasurer. He also worked as a carpenter. Dana died July 9, 1897 "after a critical operation for a stricture of the intestines" and was buried at Spring

Lake Cemetery. [Portraits and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, page 423, Tribune obituaries, July 10, 1897 and July 14, 1897.]

Elwyn “Win” Barnard Brown [1885-1975]

Born in South Dakota on December 30, 1885, Elwyn was the son of M. Alvanz and Phoebe Barnard Brown of Cooperstown, New York. His father lived from 1836 to 1919, and his mother from 1848 to 1913. Nathaniel Brown, a Grand Haven photographer, was Win’s brother. Win worked as a machinist at Peerless Novelty in Grand Haven. In 1912 he held title to a 24-acre farm in Section 22 of Crockery Township. By 1930 the farm consisted of 21.5 acres. On January 19, 1915 he married Alma Alice Coomer in Grand Rapids. Shortly after their marriage they resided at 22 Washington. Alice was born in Ohio about 1890. They had two children, both born locally, Robert E., born about 1916; Margaret E., born about 1917; Betty J., born about 1919; Dorothy A., born about 1922; Phoebe J., born about 1925; and Frank E., born about 1927. The family later lived at 1127 Franklin and then 1327 Pennoyer. Win died in Grand Haven on January 25, 1975.

Floyd Brown [1914-1952]

Floyd Brown was electrocuted when he accidentally picked up a live 2,400-volt wire at 116 Sherman Street following a storm that struck the Tri-Cities on July 23, 1952. He was a six-year employee of the Grand Haven Board of Power and Light. Floyd was born in Davis Junction, Illinois, on September 6, 1914 and by 1930 was a resident of Coopersville. A twin brother, Lloyd, was principal at Peach Plains School. Floyd’s wife, Ruth, lived from February 16, 1912 to May 28, 1981. She was residing in Coopersville at the time of her death.

Fred David Brown [1856-1931]

Fred, the son of Dr. David and Harriet Peck Brown and a brother of Dr. Cyril P. Brown, was born on June 15, 1856 in Hudson, Lenawee County. An advertisement in the 1893 Compendium advised readers, “Do not let traveling picture agents gull you any longer, but go to Brown’s, Spring Lake, Michigan, for fine photo work of all kinds. Headquarters for copying and enlarging. All work guaranteed.” The next year, with Warren L. Tenny as partner, he opened a photography studio in Grand Haven. On November 6, 1883 in Spring Lake, Fred married Frances, the daughter of Hannibal and Emma Hopkins of Spring Lake. Fanny was born in 1860, died in 1899, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On September 26, 1923 in Hudson, Fred married Jennie M. Dean Loister. He died in 1931 and was buried at Maple Grove Cemetery in Hudson.

[John] Fremont Brown [1856-1922]

Born in Coopersville on October 10, 1856, Fremont was the son of Joseph and Susan Lawton Brown. The Brown family moved to Nunica in November 1883 and operated a gristmill under the name Nunica Roller Mills, Joseph Brown & Son proprietors. He married Della Wright in Crockery Township on September 26, 1880. The daughter of John and Nancy Wright of Crockery Township, she died on November 3, 1888 at the age of 28. Fremont and Della had at least one daughter, Lulu, born in June 1882. On September 25, 1890 in Nunica, Fremont married Emma Jubb. The daughter of Orange and Lucinda Bartholomew Jubb, Emma was born in Michigan in September 1872. Their children were Ray D., born in February 1892; Rollo, born in December 1893; Alden, born in October 1895; Laura, born in June 1898; and another son, born in October 1899. Fremont passed away in 1922. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

John M. H. Brown [1844-1908]

At the age of 21 John Brown came to Grand Haven from New Brunswick, Canada, where he was born on March 4 1847. His wife, Ann [Mary Ann, Anna], also a native of New Brunswick, was born the same year as John. Their daughter Caroline “Carrie” was born in Grand Haven in 1876. In 1880 the family of three was located in Stanton, Montcalm County. John was working as a carpenter. Ann died on December 9, 1894 in Muskegon. Carrie, on April 6, 1897 in Norton Township, married Geroge R. Pitt [Pett]. George died three years later, on July 9, and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon County. On September 1, 1915, Carrie married Charles D. McKenzie in Muskegon Heights. John, on August 12, 1896, married Ida Earl Kinney in Norton Township. He died on October 29, 1908 in Norton Township and also was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. Ida passed away in Des Moines, Iowa on August 4, 1932.

Joseph T. Brown I [1825-1908]

Joseph Brown was born in Massachusetts on August 27, 1825. He arrived in Michigan at the age of 25 and bought land in the Coopersville area. On December 28, 1852, in Polkton Township, Joseph married Susan A. Lawton. Susan, the daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Newton Lawton, came with her parents from Pitcairn, St. Lawrence County, New York, where she was born on February 13, 1837. On May 13, 1861 Joseph went to Grand Rapids to enlist as corporal in Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On August 29, 1862 he was wounded at the Second Battle of Bull Run, where he was shot in the thigh and left for dead. He was discharged as a result of his wound. On August 25 the next year Joseph returned to Coopersville in 1864 and was appointed postmaster three years later. He held that office for ten years, and also was township clerk for 16 years. Joseph moved to Nunica in November 1883, and with his son, Fremont, built a gristmill that operated under the name "Nunica Roller Mills, Joseph Brown & Son proprietors." Fremont, one of seven children, was born on October 10, 1856. Another son, Joseph II, was born August 1876. Joseph I died June 17, 1908 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. Susan passed away on May 5, 1913, in Nunica.

Lloyd E. Brown [1914-1984]

Born on September 6, 1914 in Davis Junction, Illinois, Lloyd Brown moved with his parents to Coopersville before 1930. Eventually, he became principal at Peach Plains School in Grand Haven Township. A twin brother, Floyd Brown, died accidentally in Grand Haven in 1952. Lloyd passed away on January 27, 1984. His wife, Thelma, lived from May 12, 1919 to November 1982. They resided at 934 Woodlawn. After Thelma's death, Lloyd moved to 113 South Fourth Street.

Nathaniel [Nathan] E. Brown [1866-1938]

Born in Oswego, New York on October 6, 1866, Nathaniel was the son of M. Alvanz and Phoebe Brown of Cooperstown. Nat's father, a carpenter, lived from 1836 to 1919, and his mother from 1848 to 1913. Nat was living with them at 1012 Washington Street in 1910. Other members of the family were Frank. S. Brown; Elwyn [Win] Barnard Brown; Mrs. W. H. Babcock of Grand Rapids, and V. A. Brown of Minneapolis. Nathaniel came to Grand Haven about 1905 after being a backwoods guide in Minnesota for some 12 years. [The 1900 Federal Census listed Nat as a paperhanger, living and working in Atkin County, Minnesota.] He was an inventor and a photographer with studios first located at 5 Washington and then at 22 Washington Street, later the site of the Grand Theater. He claimed to be the first to get "bird's eyes views" by attaching his camera to a kite, and he was granted a patent for it. He devised a propeller-powered sled and a propeller-driven motorboat. Many of his early shots were made into postcards, which still are in circulation. He also came up with the idea of putting signatures on film, and he sold "Life Motion Photographs," in which the image moved as the viewer moved his head "to and fro," as the instructions put it. He was a hunter and trapper and devised a toboggan to travel over rough areas for use in the north country. At one time Nat was in contact with Commander Robert E. Byrd to furnish a toboggan for one of the explorer's Arctic trips. Nat also invented a gyroplane and received a patent for it in 1912. In 1916, at a cost of $100, he built and operated a three-wheeled automobile. An announcement said the car could speed up to 50 miles per hour, and that Nat "could turn a corner almost at right angles and can thread any thoroughfare with ease."

Nat's wife Martha died February 1, 1919, and he may have married again in August 1930. In 1920 Nat resided by himself at 22 Franklin, and ten years later he was living alone on Potawatomie Bayou in Section 2 of Grand Haven Township [Potawatomie Lake Resort]. He was accused and convicted of blowing up his former home on the bayou with dynamite in September 1931, as a protest over a real estate deal with Nicholas De Witt that went bad. Nat was released from prison for good behavior on August 27, 1933. He died on December 27, 1938 at the home of his brother, Elwyn Brown, who lived at 1327 Pennoyer Avenue, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His death certificate listed Abby as his wife's name. [Tribune obituary, December 27, 1938.]

Thomas Brown [1834- ?] and Eliza Shelby Brown [1841-1892]

See Daniel Shelby [1812- ?] and Jeanette [Jennett] Shelby [Schelby] [1812-1885].

Peter Brown [De Bruyn] [1885-1944]

Peter Brown and his family resided at 311 North Third Street in Grand Haven from as early as 1914 to his death in 1944. He was born in Michigan on August 4, 1885 and worked as a carpenter for the Grand Trunk Railway and for the Vyn Company. He married Emma De Bruyn, who was born in Michigan on August 2, 1884. They had three children, Harley, who was born in Illinois about 1909 and moved to St. Johns, Clinton County; Roland, who was born in Michigan about 1913 and resided in Spring Lake; and Katherine, who was born in Michigan about 1916 and married Joseph Domanski. Peter died in Grand Haven on November 15, 1944 and was interred at Lake Forest Cemetery. Emma passed away in Grand Haven May 26, 1972.

Friedrich J. Bruhn [1852-1926]

By 1900 Fred Bruhn owned an 80-acre farm in Section 22 of Grand Haven Township [11250 168th Avenue]. He was born in Germany on April 10, 1852 and his wife, Augusta, was born in Germany on June 11, 1858. Their children, all born in Illinois except the last one, included Max Bruhn, born in June 1886; George Bruhn, born in June 1887; Walther Bruhn, born in March 1890; Alma Bruhn, born in September 1891; Emma Bruhn, born in August 1895; and Leonhart [Leonard] Emil Bruhn, born in Grand Haven in December 1899. Friedrich passed away on July 11, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Augusta died on November 9, 1948 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Etienne Brulé [1592-1633]

A Frenchman by birth, Etienne Brulé lived with the Huron Indians on Georgian Bay for many years, learning their language and customs. Etienne traveled through Michigan waters and is credited with being the first European to see what would become the State of Michigan, perhaps as early as 1629, and he may have set foot on the land, although there is no proof of that [Lillie, p. 26]. Etienne lived from 1592 to June 1633.

Weldon George Brumels [Brummels, Brummel] [1926-2012]

Weldon Brumels of Grand Rapids purchased Prospect Point Resort in 1968. He planned to tear it down, but fire destroyed the hotel on June 10, 1971, saving him the task. In the 1980s a condominium complex was built on the site. He next developed Sheldon Dunes Subdivision in Port Sheldon Township. Weldon was born in Grand Rapids on December 1, 1926. Weldon served with the U.S. Air Force during WWII. On May 19, 1949 he married Marilyn Joyce Trapp. Weldon died on April 7, 2012, and Marilyn passed away on April 18, 2016 in Grand Rapids. The couple had three children: Craig, Jack, and Sally, who married Bill Weller.

James Nelson Brummel [1938-2002]

A native of Flint, where he was born on August 5, 1938, Jim Brummel moved to Grand Haven from Muskegon around 1970. His parents were Nelson and Frieda Lindemulder Brummel. Jim married Barbara Masters on December 27, 1958 in Olivet. His real estate businesses in Grand Haven included All American Homes and J. N. Brummel Realty. He was a member the Second Christian Reformed Church, ACLU, AMBUCS, and he was founder and member of the Tri-Cities Realtors Board. He was active in the Republican Party. Jim and Barbara had a daughter, Suzanne Brummel, and four sons: Timothy, Steve, Nelson, and Chris. Jim died in Grand Haven on October 22, 2002. [Tribune obituary, October 23, 2002.]

Weldon George Brummels [Brumels, Brummel] [1926-2012]

See Weldon George Brumels.

Benjamin Bruno [Bruneau] [1835-1900]

Born in Canada [France] on March 1, 1835, Benjamin Bruno came to Grand Haven around 1857, and worked in a sawmill. Benjamin's wife, Mary M. [Madeline], was born in Canada in September 1843 [1844] and died on September 21, 1907. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Louise, who was born about 1872, married Joseph Poisson, and moved to Grand Rapids; Alexander, who lived from August 1873 [1872] to 1920; and Rose, who was born about 1876 and married a Mr. Fisher. Another son, Theodore, was born about 1881. Theodore's wife, Esther, was born in Michigan around 1881. Theodore and Esther lived at 915 Columbus. Benjamin died in Grand Haven on January 3, 1900 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 4, 1900.]

Edgar [Edward] F. Bryce [1858-1919]

Edgar Bryce and his wife, Mary, resided at 3 North Second Street in Grand Haven. The son of John and Helen Ellis Bryce, Edgar was born in Wisconsin in April 1858. Like his father, he became an engineer. Edgar died in Kalamazoo on January 14, 1919. Mary was born in June 1861 in Michigan. A son, Ellis, was born in November 1881.

Emily "Emma" Jane Bidgood Bryce [1858-1941]

See Emily "Emma" Bidgood.

John J. Bryce I [1834-1896]

Born on April 12, 1834 in the Highlands of Scotland, John Bryce in 1871 came to Grand Haven from Wisconsin with his employer Justin B. Wait. His mother, Mary, was born in Scotland about 1801 and resided as a widow in Grand Haven with John and his family around 1880. John took out patent number 131,657 on September 24, 1872 for a tabletop spinning wheel. Several examples of the wheel exist, including one in the collection of the American Textile History Museum in Lowell, Massachusetts and a patent model in the Smithsonian Institute. The wheel was primarily made of cast iron and works on the friction principle. John formed a partnership with James Lewis and Otto Gronberg to buy the Grand Haven Iron Works business from Frank Spence and Archibald Brown, who had started it four years earlier. In 1879 John went into partnership with Henry Bloecker and the two formed Bryce & Bloecker to manufacture marine engines. The plant suffered a fire in 1881 and the owners sustained heavy losses. Bloecker reopened the business in 1883, but John went to work for the Challenge Corn Planter Company. In 1893 he was part owner of a business called Bryce, Barnes, & Green Lumber Company at the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets. John W. Barnes [Barns] and M. L. Green were the other principals. John was an active member of the Knights of Maccabees and was a Republican.

John married Helen M. Ellis of Wisconsin, who was born on July 17, 1837 and died on February 20, 1918. Their children were Edgar F., born in Wisconsin in 1858; Elmer E., who was born in Wisconsin about 1860, became a machinist, married and divorced Emma [Emily] Bidgood of Grand Haven, and died on September 16, 1914; John II, born in Wisconsin in 1868; and Marion A. [Marnie], born in Michigan about 1877. In the early 1900s the Helen resided with her son John at 624 Washington. John I died at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids after bladder surgery on October 26, 1896 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where other family members were interred. [Tribune obituary, October 27, 1896, Tribune article, October 29, 1896.]

John J. Bryce II [1868-1929]

The son of John and Helen M. Ellis Bryce, John II was born in Jefferson, Wisconsin on May 28, 1868. On May 11, 1898 he married Anna Hoffman in Ottawa County. Anna, the daughter of Peter Hoffman, was born in Michigan about 1877. The Bryce children were Francis H., born about 1899, and Margaret H., born about 1905. In the early 1900s the family lived at 624 Washington Street, where they shared their home with John's widowed mother, Helen. By 1920 John and Anna were living at 109 South Fifth Street. John was a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, Elks, and Masons. He was a "nickel plater" at Challenge Refrigerator. He died on July 15, 1929 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Jay Buchanan [1903-1975]

John Buchanan was organist at the Grand Theater on Washington Street when it opened in 1928. Later he was custodian at the theater. He resided at 22 Franklin Street with his mother and stepfather, Ida and Gerge

Douglas [Douglas]. Some years later he moved to 112 Franklin Street. John was born in Pennsylvania on May 12, 1903, died in Grand Haven on March 19, 1975, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ida Leone Buchanan lived from 1865 to 1946 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with another son, James M. Buchanan, who lived from 1899 to 1987.

William H. Buckley [1858-1933]

Born in Illinois in July 1858 William Buckley moved to Spring Lake from Marne [Berlin], Ottawa County, in 1878. In 1888, Dr. Brown performed an appendectomy on William on the kitchen table, said to be the first appendectomy in Michigan. William worked in Henry Cliff's hardware store, and then went into a business partnership with Enno Pruim, sold out to him, and took a job in Charlotte, Eaton County, returning to Spring Lake in 1888. After his hardware store burned down, William borrowed $600 from George Schwab and put up a brick structure at 214 West Savidge. There he operated a profitable hardware and undertaking business.

In 1883 William married Harriet Richardson, a Michigan native, who lived from November 1859 to 1944. She was the daughter of Benjamin F. Richardson, a lumbering pioneer in Traverse City and Spring Lake. Harriet began teaching in a rural Spring Lake school when she was 14 years old. The Buckleys had a son, William Lloyd, who was born on July 13, 1886 and ran the hardware business after his father was injured in a fall while working at the Spring Lake Hotel. Another son, George H., was born in June 1889. In 1891 William bought a house at 108 West Mason. It originally was a one-room home, owned by an Indian family. William enlarged it as a residence for his widowed mother, Mary [Merry], who was born in Ireland in August 1822. He also bought a house located on the north side of Mason Street and moved it to 217 North Buchanan, because its owner was willing to sell the structure but not the lot upon which it sat. In 1953 his granddaughter, Marge, and her husband, James Oakes, bought the property. William died in 1933.

William Lloyd Buckley [1884-1954]

William, the son of William H. [b. 1859] and Harriet Richardson Buckley [1859-1944], was born in Spring Lake on July 13, 1884 [1886]. The younger William ran the family hardware business after his father was injured in a fall while working at the Spring Lake Hotel. He married Elsie Johnson, who was born on November 3, 1888, died on April 30, 1930, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had two daughters, Sarah [Sally], who was born on January 31, married Wilson Bond in Grand Rapids on November 23, 1934, and died on March 7, 1987 in Spring Lake, and Margaret, who lived from June 2, 1918 to August 16, 1997. She married James Oakes of Grand Haven.

Wesley Lorin Buckner [1925-1981]

In the early to mid-1950s, 434 South Beechtree Street was the location of the L & W Drive In. Wesley L. Buckner was president, his wife Lois was secretary-treasurer, and Ida De Witt [1908-1999] was vice president. The drive in closed when U.S. 31 was rerouted, causing a drop in traffic and business. Wesley was born in Detroit on December 25, 1925. On September 7, 1946 he married Lois J. De Witt in Grand Haven. She was born on July 1, 1929. Ida De Witt was her mother. Wesley passed away in Big Rapids on July 7, 1981 and was buried at Lakeshore Cemetery in Grand Haven Township. They had at least three children, all born in Michigan: Diana Buckner, born about 1946; Jacqueline Buckner, born about 1947; and Lorin Wesley Buckner, born in April 1952.

John Budge [1836-1920]

Born in the Orkney Islands, Scotland, in March 1836 [1841], John Budge was a sea captain. After living in Canada for a while, Captain Budge arrived in Grand Haven in the 1860s and sailed the Great Lakes until 1872. In 1867 he went into partnership with Duncan Robertson and Peter Sinclair in the Robertson & Company Shipyard, which built wooden ships in Grand Haven. He also invested in lumbering. John died in Grand Haven on December 1, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 2, 1920.]

Charles K. Bugielski [1912-1996]

Born March 4, 1912 in Newark, New Jersey, Chuck was the son of Zygmunt and Karoline A. Lucek Bugielski. By the mid-1920s the family had moved to Grand Haven. A Tribune article noted on March 9, 1925 that Chuck saw the first robin of the season. After graduating from Grand Haven High School in 1930, he went to work for the McLellan Five and Ten Cent Store in Grand Haven as stockman. He was promoted to assistant manager in 1933 and played a part in the bank robbery of August 18 that year. In 1938 Chuck left his job at McLellan's and opened the M & M Variety Store, located first at 706 Washington and by 1944 at 711 Washington. For the 100th birthday of Grand Haven in 1934 the 22-year-old was asked to help expand the annual Coast Guard picnic. Although meant to be a one-time event, the Coast Guard Festival evolved into an annual community observance. Bugielski managed the festivities with Glenn Eaton and Claude Ver Duin from 1947 to 1981. The back office of his store served as the Coast Guard Festival's office from 1938 to 1981. Chuck worked for the March of Dimes for 20 years, led the Community Chest Fund, and belonged to the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, and Eagles.

In 1936 Chuck married Grace, the daughter of Herman and Ida Teunis. Grace, born on September 1, 1911, became a teacher in the Grand Haven and Spring Lake school systems and retired in the 1970s. The Bugielskis had a daughter and two sons: Nancy Hanavan of Buffalo, Charles of Grand Haven, and Michael of San Diego. Grace died October 18, 1988 at their home at 18837 North Fruitport Road. Chuck died on August 19, 1996, and he and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, October 19, 1988 and August 20, 1996, Tribune article, October 22, 1990.]

Zygmunt [Zigmund] Bugieleski [1886-1973]

Zygmunt Bugielski was born in Krosno, Poland on September 28, 1886. He married Karoline [Carolyn/Caroline] A. Lucek in New Jersey in May 1911. Three years later they left New Jersey and moved to Grand Haven. The family lived first in the 1300 block on Fulton, then at 1326 Franklin. Zygmunt was janitor in one of the churches. Their children, all were born locally except Charles, who was born in New Jersey in 1912. The others were Edward, who was born in 1914 and died in 1974; Marian Lynch, who was born on February 11, 1916, became a nurse; married John W. Lynch in Norman, Oklahoma in 1943, and died in Grand Rapids on July 7, 2010; Joseph, who drowned in 1925 at age six; and William, an aeronautical engineer, who was born about 1921 and died in 1980. The family attended the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Zygmunt died in 1973. Karoline, who was born in Krosno, Poland on October 31, 1890, immigrated to New Jersey in 1904. She died in Grand Haven on October 16, 1993.

Clarence H. Buhl [1865–1926]

Coal yards were a necessity in the early 1900s. Clarence Buhl operated such a yard at the “foot of Monroe” in Grand Haven. He also offered freight service. On October 12, 1895 in Grand Haven, he married Anna L. Stickney, the daughter of Leonard and Charlotte Cook Stickney. She was born in Wisconsin in 1877 was born on October 28, 1865 in Washington, died on January 25, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with the unnamed infant daughter. On December 16, 1950, Anna married John Ennenga of Grand Haven.

Ralph Jay Buit II [1908-1976]

Ralph Buit started Grand Office Supply on Beechtree with Gerry Botbyl in 1945. Ralph was born on January 2, 1908 and died in Spring Lake on December 21, 1976. On February 10, 1940, he married Mary Rufine Kennedy in Williams, Ohio. They resided at 18917 Fruitport Road. Ralph was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. Mary was born on May 1, 1911, died in Grand Rapids on December 24, 2011, and also was buried at Oakwood.

John J. Bunker I [1860-1935]

John Bunker, born in April 1860 in The Netherlands, married Ellis “Ella” R., the daughter of John and Eliza More. Ella was born in June 1859. The Bunkers owned a 55-acre farm in Crockery Township. John, who came to the United States in 1856, died in 1935 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his wife, who who lived from 1860 to 1929. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Albert, born in August 1882; Kate, born in July 1885; Eliza, born in August 1891; Grace, born in November 1893; May born in May 1898; and John II, born in February 1900.

Isaac Burbank [1831-1903]

Born in Kentucky in 1831, Isaac Burbank on May 13, 1861 traveled to Grand Rapids to enlist as private in Company F of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On January 7 the next year Isaac was transferred to Company F of the Michigan 14th Infantry. He was promoted to corporal and on December 7, 1861 to sergeant. He was mustered out on July 18, 1865 and became a member of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic [G.A.R.]. Isaac was a carpenter by trade.

On Christmas Day 1851 in Crockery Township Isaac married Madora [Medora] McMahon [McMann]. The couple came to Ottawa County from Chicago and lived on a farm in Crockery Township in the Patchin area. By 1870 they were residing in Spring Lake Village, where Isaac worked as a carpenter, and by 1887 Madora operated a candy and tobacco store on Savidge Street. The Burbanks had two daughters: Mary, who in 1873 married Loren Beerman of Muskegon and died in that city on April 20, 1906 at the age of 49, and Frances T., who was born about 1877 and on November 20, 1899 in Muskegon married Frank Rockenbach of that city and with whom the Burbanks later lived. Isaac and Madora also had three sons: Charles W., who died August 14, 1869 at the age of 16; Richard E., who died November 6, 1899 at the age of 38; and Fred, was born in Spring Lake on August 28, 1868. Isaac resided at the Grand Rapids Soldiers Home in 1890. He died in Muskegon on December 12, 1903. Madora filed for a widow's Civil War pension on December 28. She was born in New York on June 15, 1836, died on February 6, 1911, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her sons. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1903.]

Matilda A. Young Burch [Bertch, Birch] [1857- ?]

In the 1908 City Directory, Matilda Burch was listed as operating a boarding house at 711 Clinton Street in Grand Haven. She was born in Canada [New York] in September 1857 and immigrated to the United States in 1883. Her husband, William H. Burch, a sailor and engineer, died after 1900. Their son, Raymond, was born in Canada in January 1880, and another son, William C., was born in Grand Haven on January 31, 1881. A daughter, Violet, died of diphtheria on December 22, 1887 in Grand Haven when she was about five years old. In 1900 Matilda and Raymond were living on Third Street in Grand Haven. Matilda at that time was an unemployed widow, and Raymond worked at Challenge Refrigerator Company. On June 24, 1912 in Grand Haven, she married Charles E. Gregg. They were divorced on August 11 the following year. Charles was born about 1838 in New York State. In 1914 Matilda was working as "matron" at the Marne [now Berlin] Hospital, where she also lived.

Phillip Glenn Burch [1934-2008]

Born in Big Rapids on September 2, 1934, Phillip Burch's passion for drawing manifested itself when he was a boy. After graduating from high school, he took a "Draw Me" mail course, a hunt for talent that had been run by Art Instruction Schools, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minnesota since 1914. The company featured some of his work in their monthly magazine, along with the art of Charles Schultz, creator of the Peanuts comic strip. Phillip earned a certificate from Draw Me and then enrolled for two years at the Kendall School of Design in Grand Rapids. On June 10, 1956, he married Cora Lee Sharpe in Big Rapids. She was born in Big Rapids on October 12, 1934. Not long after the wedding, Phillip took a job as advertising illustrator for Wurzburg's Department Store in Grand Rapids. His art career was interrupted when he was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1958. After his military service, he worked for West Michigan Tag and Label Company in Grand Rapids and as a commercial artist with Spartan Graphics of Sparta, Michigan.

One work of Phillip's work is titled "Grand Trunk Depot." A slice of Dewey Hill is in the background behind the box car standing in back of the train station. The painting was donated to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum in 2018, but Burch may have done it prior to 1979 when rail service into Grand Haven was still active.

Cora passed away on January 27, 1989 and was buried at Rosedale Memorial Park in Tallmadge Township. Phillip died on October 15, 2008 in Grand Rapids.

Harriette Smallman Burland [1869-1938]

On February 29, 1892 Harriette Smallman married Arthur Putnam Burland at the Norris Hotel in Grand Haven. He was 34 years old. Harriette, the daughter of Joshua and Agnes Smallman of Grand Haven, was born in La Porte, Indiana on October 9, 1869. When her mother died in 1912, Harriette, who then resided in Chicago with Arthur, took over ownership and management of the Pines Resort on Spring Lake. Harriette passed away at the home of a daughter in Utica, New York, about August 15, 1938 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Daniel Hubert Burnside [1933-2012]

Daniel Burnside was president of Burnside Manufacturing Company in Spring Lake until his retirement in 2000. The son of Hubert and Anna Liss Burnside, Daniel was born on July 4, 1933. After graduating from Arizona State University, Daniel joined the Army and was discharged in 1956. He then married Donna Mae, the daughter of Jacob and Bertha Boseker Fase. She was born on April 13, 1935. Daniel joined the family business as sales manager and vice president, and Donna was named secretary. The Burnsides lived at 16209 Woodcrest in Spring Lake. They had four children: Bruce Jacob, David Hubert, Brian Daniel, and Darcy Lynn. Darcy married Robert Snippe of Spring Lake. Dan was a member of Spring Lake Rotary and Elks. Donna died in Grand Haven on May 16, 1990, and Daniel passed away on February 29, 2012. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 2, 2012.]

Hubert Donald Burnside [1898-1964]

Hubert Burnside started the Atlas Crank Company in Detroit in 1935. Three years later he moved the company to Spring Lake and occupied the former Ottawa Manufacturing building at 510 West Liberty. When the business was incorporated as Burnside Manufacturing in January 1948, Hubert Burnside was president, and his son, Robert, was vice president. Another son, Daniel H., later became vice president and Sales manager and eventually owner. Robert was born on March 27, 1924 and Daniel was born on July 4, 1933. Hubert was born on March 5, 1898 and died on March 12, 1964. He married Anna Marie Liss, who was born in Germany on September 4, 1899 and passed away on July 21, 1971. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The company moved to Norton Shores in 1996.

Frances Burnside, Hubert's sister, was born in Michigan on March 7, 1898. She worked as a librarian and starting in the 1940s to about 1952, she was assistant librarian at Grand Haven's Carnegie Library. She left Grand Haven to take a position at the Jackson library. Frances died in Rochester Hills, Oakland County, on January 8, 1992.

Robert D. Burnside [1924-1994]

Robert, the son of Hubert and Anna Liss Burnside, was born on March 27, 1924, died in Spring Lake on January 21, 1994, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. When the Burnside Manufacturing Company of Spring Lake was incorporated in January 1948, Robert was vice president. He resided at 310 North Park, next at 203 Maple Terrace, and later at 16160 Highland Drive, all in the Spring Lake area.

Clarence E. Burr [1884-1935]

Clarence Burr was born in Benton Harbor on February 18, 1884. He married Clover Blossom Swan in St. Joseph on August 24, 1906. Clover, who was born in 1889, died in Benton Harbor on October 22, 1918. Clarence and Clover had one child, Milton C., who was born on July 26, 1912. On March 8, 1919 Clarence married Ethel Eberhardt in Benton Harbor. In 1928 Clarence, Ethel, and Milton were living at 322 Grand Avenue. At that time Clarence worked for Ottawa County as rodman for a surveying crew. Two years later he and his family were residing at 534 Grant Street in Grand Haven, and Clarence was a judge and justice of the peace at that time. Ethel was born in Illinois about 1885. Clarence died in St. Joseph on July 4, 1935.

Milton C. Burr I [1912-1988]

Milton, the son of Clarence and Ethel Eberhardt Burr, was born on July 26, 1912. At the age of 16 he married Ruth A., the daughter of Martin and Abigail Bos of Grand Haven. They resided first with Ruth's parents at 518 Franklin Street and later at 1509 Sheldon Road. Their daughter, Mary Abigail, was born on January 27, 1929, married William Stearns, and died on June 27, 2014. A son, also named Milton, was born in 1939. The elder Milton was manager of a "Letter Shop" [possibly a stationery store]. Ruth was born on April 13, 1912 and died in Grand Haven on November 30, 1985. Milton died on March 28 three years later.

Ezra M. Burton [1891-1960]

As early as 1930 Ezra Burton, a chiropractic physician, maintained an office at 304 Washington. Ezra was born in Muskegon on December 7, 1891. In 1917 he was a draftsman residing with his wife, Mary, in Rock Island, Illinois. Three years later they were living in Norton Township with their brother-in-law, Frank Padelt. Mary, also a native of Michigan, was born January 3, 1893 and died in Grand Haven on December 8, 1976. They were married about 1917. Their two children were Phyllis Mary, born about 1919, and Paul D., who lived from August 19, 1928 to March 30, 1972. The family resided at 108 Eighth Street where Mary also rented rooms. Ezra died on May 22, 1960 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

John B. Buss [1874-1946]

Born in McHenry, Illinois on April 28, 1874, John Buss owned a saloon called Jack's on the southeast corner of Division and Savidge Streets [226 West Savidge] in Spring Lake. He married Elizabeth Becker in Chicago on November 28, 1904. They had at least four children., all born in Michigan: John, born in 1907; twins Gertrude and Marie, born in 1909; and Frances, born in 1910. Elizabeth was born about 1874 in Wisconsin. Jack returned to his hometown of Chicago between 1920 and 1930. He died in Chicago on April 8, 1946.

Lewis Mortimer Bussey [1878-1957]

From his office at 315 Washington in Grand Haven, Lewis Bussey in the early 1900s operated a real estate and insurance business with his father, William H. Bussey, under the name Bussey & Son. Lewis was the Realtor for Bussey & Steen, developers of the Highlands, a subdivision on Spring Lake. On June 13, 1904 Lewis married Maud [Lillian Maude] Bevens in Woodbury, Iowa. In Grand Haven they lived above the Lewis's office. Lewis, who was born on July 30, 1878 in Oak Park, Illinois, passed away in Sonoma, California on March 26, 1957. Maud was born in 1877 in Nebraska. Lewis's father, William Bussey, was listed in the 1908 Grand Haven City Directory as residing in Evanston, Illinois. William, who was born about 1854, died about June 13, 1912. [Tribune obituary, June 13, 1912.]

Henry William Buswell I [1830-1897]

Born in Essex County, New York on August 27 [8], 1830, Henry was the son of Jacob and Almina Everest Buswell of New York. Jacob, originally from Massachusetts, was a carpenter and joiner by occupation. Henry was the eldest son of his mother's second marriage. After his father's death, Henry and his mother moved to Ohio, where she died in 1865. Henry then moved to Ottawa County. In 1864 he formed a partnership with Charles E. Wyman and bought the Ferry Mill at the foot of Columbus Street in Grand Haven, renamed it Wyman & Buswell Sawmill, and began the production of pine lumber. In 1878 Averill Cairns joined the firm as another partner. In 1884 the mill suffered a damaging fire and Henry retired from business. However, by the following year he was part owner and president of the Grand Haven Broom Company. He was a director of the National Bank for several years, stockholder and director of Dake Mfg. Company of Grand Haven, and president of the Grand Haven Match Company. Formerly a Whig, he became a Republican. He was member of Corinthian Chapter of the Grand Haven Masons. He belonged to the Unitarian Church.

On January 28, 1860 Henry married Hannah L. Trotter in her hometown of Summit, Ohio. They had two children, Forrest E., who lived from 1860 to 1917, and Florence E., who was born about 1862 in Ohio and married William Andres of Grand Haven on August 1, 1888. Hannah, who was born December 9, 1839, died on August 10, 1876, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On March 3, ten years after his first wife's death, Henry married Ellen J. Cavanaugh of Grand Haven. They had one child, Henry W. II, who was born in 1887 and relocated to Chicago. The elder Buswell died on September 8, 1897 at his home at 312 Franklin Street from heart disease. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, page 555, and Tribune obituary, September 12, 1897.]

Edwin C. [Edward E.] Butts [1834-1916]

The son of a farmer, Edwin Butts was born in December 1834 in Vermont and came to Grand Haven in 1873. He took charge of the Cutler House Livery on Third Street in 1875, and six years later he bought the business and operated it for himself. His wife, Angeline, was born in Vermont about 1841. They had a son, Frederick E. Butts, who was born in Vermont about 1866 and drowned near Grand Haven on August 29, 1876. Another son, Charles, was born about 1864, also in Vermont. By 1910 Edwin and Angeline were living in Meyers Falls, Washington. He died around February 6, 1916 in Spokane, Washington.

William Butts [1810- ?]

William Butts, originally from Canada, was born about 1810. In 1835 he built a steam-operated sawmill in Grand Haven with William Hathaway as a partner. Located near the site of the later Grand Trunk Railroad Depot, it was the first sawmill in the county. The mill was soon sold to Nathan Throop and William Ferry. On September 1, 1838 William Butts, again with William Hathaway as partner, purchased approximately 234 acres in Sections 6 and 17 of Robinson Township. Hiram Hathaway also was part of the transaction. On May 1 the following year, William bought 80 acres in Section 12 of Grand Haven Township.

William Charles Buwalda I [1856-1925]

Born in The Netherlands in May 1856 [1855], William Buwalda came to the United States in 1888. He was an employee of the Challenge Refrigerator Company in the early 1900s. Prior to that he worked at the tannery. He and his wife, Susie, lived at 1214 Fulton. Their children included William II, born on December 24, 1879; Lawrence, born in January 1883; Reka, born in February 1885; Rose, who was born in May 1891 and married Claude Beukema of Grand Haven; Jacob, born in February 1887; and Barney, born in September 1889. The three oldest children were born in The Netherlands, the rest locally. William I died in 1925. Susie, who was born in The Netherlands in September 1858 [1860], passed away two years after her husband. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven.

Robin Douglas Bye [1957-2014]

Robin Bye was born in Rogers City, Presque Isle County on December 17, 1957. He passed away in Grand Haven on April 12, 2014. Robin earned a Bachelor of Science in Education degree at Central Michigan University and a master degree at Western Michigan University. In 1982, he married Kathleen, who was born on November 25, 1957 and also had studied at Central Michigan, in Grand Rapids. In 1980, Robin started teaching art at elementary and middle schools of Grand Haven Area Public Schools. He was named Director of Athletics. Robin was a creative artist, participating in art shows throughout Michigan. He and Kathy had a son, Erik Bye, and a daughter, Alicia Bye. The Westra Bye Memorial Art Foundation was funded in memory of Robin and his artist friend, Donna Westra, to provide financial support for Grand Haven Area Public School students who are pursuing visual arts education.

William Byl I [1876-1942]

Born in Grand Haven on April 10, 1876, William Byl married Elizabeth, the daughter of Gerrit and Anna Ammaal Kamphuis. Elizabeth was born in Michigan in 1878, died in 1927, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In the early 1900s the Byls resided at 406 Jackson, and by 1918 they were located at 1003 Fulton. Their children, all born locally, were Elizabeth, who was born February 24, 1901 and died in Grand Haven on February 17, 1987; Margaret, born about 1903; Leonard W., who was born April 24, 1907 and died in Grand Haven on September 17, 1985; Gerrit E., who was born April 13, 1912, married Mae Boyink, and died in Grand Haven on November 14, 1995; and William II, born about 1917. In 1918 William I worked at Central Clothing House located at 224 Washington. By 1920 he owned a retail clothing store in Grand Haven. His parents were Leonard and Cornelia Byl, both born in The Netherlands, he in August 1835 and she in December 1850. Leonard was a carpenter. William I passed away on March 9, 1942.

William Byl II [1917-2008]

William II, the son of William and Elizabeth Kamphuis, was born in Grand Haven on February 9, 1917. On October 16, 1941 Bill married Albertine “Abby,” the daughter of Henry and Tien Vander Laan. Abby was born in Muskegon on April 9, 1915, but her parents by the late 1920s resided in Grand Haven. Bill served with the Army during WWII. After the war he worked for a while as inspector at Shaw Crane and later at Manning-Maxwell & Moore Company in Muskegon. He continued to work for that company as a draftsman and later was employed by Dresser Industries in the same capacity. The Byls resided for a while at 1003 Fulton Avenue before building their own home at 526 Grand Avenue, with Bill doing much of the construction himself over a five-year period. Albertine died on February 2., 2005. Bill passed away on May 27, 2008. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had three children: Susan, Bill III, and Dan.

Sandra Johnson Byl [1941-2010] and William Byl III [1937-2021]

Sandra Johnson, the daughter of Howard Johnson, on February 16, 1958 married William Byl III in Spring Lake. Sandy was born on February 13, 1941 in Grand Haven, and Bill was born on November 18, 1937. He served with the U.S. Army during WWII. Sandy worked at Meijer for 20 years and operated an antique/collectible shop at the corner of Washington and Seventh Streets for a time. She and Bill had four children: Ronald W. Byl, who was born on September 23, 1957 and died in a car accident in Muskegon on August 19, 1974; Beth Byl, who married John Harbeck of Grand Haven; Lisa Byl, who married Scott Wagasky of Grand Haven; and Michelle Byl, who married John Benson and moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota. Sandy died in Grand Haven on August 15, 2010. Bill passed away on March 29, 2021. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was their son Ron.

Barney Bymhold [1880-1969]

Barney, the son of Henry and Styntje Bymhold, was born in Grand Haven on June 5, 1880 and died in Grand Haven in May 1969. He married Gertrude Knoll Mulder in Zeeland on August 24, 1918. She was the widow of Harry Mulder, who died in 1915 at the age of 29. Barney and Gertrude lived at 112 Elliott Street and later at 322 Fulton Street. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. The Bymholds raised at least two sons, Bernard Bymhold and Dean Clarence Bymhold, both of whom remained in Grand Haven. Barney in 1915 was employed at the Story & Piano Factory, and ten years later he was a leather inspector at Eagle Ottawa. Gertrude, who was born in Grand Haven, lived from July 21, 1884 to January 5, 1953. Barney and Gertrude were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Bernard Bymhold [1919-2002]

Bernie, the son of Barney and Gertrude Knoll Mulder Bymhold, was born in Grand Haven on June 14, 1919. He married Kathryn Meeusen on June 17, 1943 in Grand Haven. Kathryn was born on November 19, 1916 and died on December 8, 1988. Bernie was an employee of Ottawa County and retired as Maintenance Supervisor in 1988 after 34 years. He was a member of the First Reformed Church, where he was Sunday school superintendent, and served as church custodian for four years. Bernie and Kathryn had a daughter, Dawn Vink. Bernie died in Grand Haven on August 15, 2002, as a result of injuries from an automobile accident. [Tribune obituary, August 17, 2002.]

Henry Emes Bymhold [Bejmholt, Bimholdt] [1822-1904]

Henry Bymhold was a gardener in Grand Haven. He married Margaretha [Margaret] Jans Mulder, who was born in Rotterdam, The Netherlands on May 3, 1818 and died in Grand Haven on August 17, 1878. They had four children: Johanna W. Bymhold [1852-1926]; Sarah Bymhold [1854-1927]; Henry Bymhold [1857-1937]; and Margaret Bymhold [1861-1940]. Henry married his second wife, Styntje Deetma, in 1879. She lived from 1839 to 1917, and had been previously married to Teunis [Tennis] Zoet. Henry was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on June 11, 1822 and died on August 22, 1904. He, Margaret, and Styntje were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Henry's and Styntje's son Barney Bymhold was born in Grand Haven on June 5, 1880.

David J. Cable [1843–1930]

Born in Redford, Wayne County in November 1843 [1842], David Cable moved to Grand Haven in 1868. He had a small farm in Section 32 of Grand Haven Township, just south of the city, but prior to his retirement in 1920 he worked at Dake Engine Company. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church for 30 years. David also was an amateur poet. In 1915 he published a book title Poems on Various Subjects, including one titled "Rosy Mound." In 1874 David married Cynthia Wilcox in Muskegon on July 5, 1874. Born in October 1851 [1854], she died on December 28, 1916. By the early 1900s the family was located at 601 Sheldon. The Cables had four children, all born in Michigan: Archie, who was born about 1875; Arthur, who was born April 16, 1875, moved to Kokomo, Indiana, and died in June 1965; Grace Barney, who was born in June 1879 and died March 28, 1928; Herbert, who was born on May 11, 1880 and moved to Van Nuys, California, where he died in September 1969; Sanford, who was born about 1881; George, who was born on September 22, 1882 and died in Muskegon on July 14, 1972; and Bert, born in June 1886. On June 17, 1922 in Grand Haven, David married Susie M. Wright. They resided at 428 North Seventh Street. Susie died on October 16, 1930. David died passed away on November 11, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Cynthia and Susie. [Tribune obituary, November 12, 1930.]

Averille Thomas Cairns [1846–1912]

Born in 1846, Averille Thomas Cairns, a Canadian, came to Grand Haven in 1868 as a lumber inspector. He generally went by the name Thomas rather than Averille. In 1878 he was one of the principals in the Wyman & Cairns Lumber Company, dealing in logs, lumber, and shingles. When Dake Engine Company was formed in 1887, Thomas was named its first vice president. He was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. He died about June 12, 1912. He married Flora Delcina Darling in Grand Rapids on May 23, 1868. Flora, a native of New York, lived from October 1845 to 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their daughter Cora was born in May 1869 and married James H. Safford of Grand Haven. Other children were Ada Prudence Cairns, who was born on January 1, 1871 and married George Willim Lilley, a Grand Haven optician; Pearly I. Cairns, born on January 4, 1882; Flora Cairns, born on May 8, 1883; Florence E. Cairns, born on December 1, 1885; and Robert Louis Cairns, born on February 14, 1887. All the children were born locally. The family home was located at 512 Franklin Street.

Robert Louis Cairns [1887-1905]

Robert Cairns, better known as Louis Cairns, was the son of Averille and Flora Darling Cairns. Louis was born in Grand Haven on February 14, 1887. He died from diabetes on December 3, 1905, the same year he graduated from Grand Haven High School and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His obituary in the Tribune the day following his death emphasized his interest in music: "In music this young man was particualry talented and he gave great promise of a fine future if he had been spared to live. In company with Peter Wilds, he had been engaged upon this work for some time and some songs and a two step are now in publishers hands." One of the songs was "My Southern Lillies," which he and Peter composed. The tune was published in 1905 by N.A. Goebel.

Edward Byron Caldwell [1859-1949]

Shortly before 1910 Robert Ferris sold thirty acres of his Willows Resort property in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township to Edward B. Caldwell. Edward married Ada May Fisher in Jackson on March 14, 1882. Edward was born in Three Rivers, St. Joseph County on July 16, 1859. She was born in Michigan on December 8 four years later. They built a home on the Spring Lake site. Their daughter Elizabeth was born about 1885 and resided with them. By 1920 Edward and Ada were residing in Tulare County, California and ten years later they were living in Beverly Hills, California. He passed away in Los Angeles on November 1, 1949, and Ada died in the same city on August 22, 1953. Edward and William Caldwell were brothers.

William John Caldwell [1851-1938]

William J. Caldwell and Esther Hazard Brooks were married in Jackson on January 24, 1884. Not long after 1900 the couple left Jackson and purchased a 120-acre farm in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township. The couple named their country estate Oakhurst. In the 1910 census William was listed as a farmer running a farm resort. Shortly after 1912 the Caldwells sold some of their acreage to Paul F. and Ida Markoff and another parcel to the Welch family, but retained the two-story frame home, barn, and other outbuildings that stood near the shores of Spring Lake. By 1918 the Caldwell estate had diminished to 20 acres. William was born in Burr Oak, St. Joseph County on January 18, 1851 in Burr Oakes, St. Joseph County. Esther was born in New York on November 30, 1848 and died in Spring Lake on December 17, 1928. In 1930 William, a widower, was still residing at Oakhurst. He passed away in Spring Lake on January 15, 1938 and was buried at Mount Evergreen Cemetery in Jackson, where Esther also was interred. William and Edward Caldwell were brothers.

Charles “Wint” H. Calkins [1853-1935]

Charles Calkins and his wife, Emma J., resided at 100 South Sixth Street in 1930, but at another time they also lived at 1422 Pennoyer. On January 24, 1929 the Grand Haven Tribune reported that Charles owned and played a Stradivarius violin, an instrument that had been in his family for three generations. In 1930 Charles was employed at a Grand Haven candy store. The Calkins’s daughter, Mabel, who lived from June 1880 to 1921, married Peter De Boe of Grand Haven. Peter owned a confectionery in downtown Grand Haven. Charles lived from April 1853 to 1935 and Emma from June 1857 [1855] to 1935. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John W. Callister [Calister, Collister] [1831–1897]

John Callister was born on the Isle of Man, England on May 9, 1831. He immigrated to Cleveland in 1849, where he lived for several years before moving to Detroit. During the Civil War, he worked for the U.S. Government as a ship’s carpenter, a trade he had followed since 1847. John came to Grand Haven from Detroit in 1866 and became part owner and foreman of the Kirby Shipyard. By the early 1870s he had his own ship building business. He built several vessels for Thomas Kirby, John Zietlow, Michigan Barge Company, and other local businessmen. [See Directory of Businesses for a listing of Callister’s ships.]

In 1859 John married Eliza [Elizabeth] Shimmin, who was born about 1841 in England. The couple was residing in Detroit in 1860. John and Eliza had two children, William [Walter] H. Callister, who was born in Michigan in July 1862, married Lucy Luikens in Grand Haven on May 12, 1882, and moved to Cleveland, where he died on January 9, 1932; and Eliza E. Callister, who was born about 1899, married Robert Christian Quay [1855-1903], and died in Cleveland, Ohio on October 8, 1899. Lucy, the daughter of John and Sarah vanden Berg Luikens of Grand Haven, was born on December 26, 1868. After William’s death, she returned to Grand Haven, and joined her brother-in-law Charles Reghel as co-owner of the KarmelKorn shop and restaurant at 110 Washington. Lucy died in Grand Haven on March 2, 1944. Eliza, the mother, died in 1864, and John then married Anne Cannell of Warrensville, Ohio, in December 1873. She was born on the Isle of Man about 1833 and died December 28, 1902. The Callisters were members of St. John’s Episcopal Church in Grand Haven and lived at 626 Clinton. John was a Mason and a member of the Royal Arcanum. He died on September 2, 1897. [Tribune obituary, September 4, 1897.]

William [Walter] H. Callister [Collister] [1862-1932]

William, the son of John and Eliza [Elizabeth] Shimmin Callister, was born in July 1862. He married Lucy Luikens in Grand Haven on May 12, 1882. Lucy, the daughter of John and Sarah vanden Berg Luikens of Grand Haven, was born on December 26, 1868. After William’s parents died, he and Lucy moved into the family home on Clinton before relocating to Cleveland, Ohio, where he died on January 9, 1932. William was a ship’s carpenter. After William’s death, Lucy returned to Grand Haven, where she died on March 2, 1944. Lucy’s sister Nettie was residing with them in Cleveland when she died on January 6, 1902.

James Dunning Cameron [1841-1921]

James, the son of John and Ann Cameron, was born in Canada in 1841. Soon after arriving in this area in 1878, James purchased an 80-acre farm in Section 14 of Robinson Township, where he raised livestock. The Camerons were still residing on their farm in 1918. His wife, Marian [Mary] died before 1920. James died on August 12, 1921 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Russell Walton Camfield [1900-1947]

Russell Camfield, who founded Camfield Manufacturing in Grand Haven in 1937, died on August 9, 1947 at the age of 46 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He was born in Springfield, Illinois on October 12, 1900. When he was 16, he joined the United States Navy and served in England, where he became adept at communications. After the war he was assigned to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station near Chicago. Later he became chief engineer for E. T. Cunningham, Inc., in Illinois. Russell was in his second year as president of the Spring Lake Country Club when he fell and fractured a kneecap. That injury led to a blood clot that ended his life. Camfield Manufacturing was well known for its toasters and other products for the home. After Russell's death his wife, Marie [Marion], continued to reside in the family home at 216 North Buchanan in Spring Lake. They had at least one son, Stephen Camfield. Marie passed away on October 7, 1952 and was buried near her husband.

Louis Campau [Campeau] [1791-1871]

Born in Detroit on August 11, 1791, Louis Campau, a fur trader who spoke French and English, was with the American militia in Detroit under General William Hull, who on August 16, 1812 surrendered to the British. After the war, Louis became best known for establishing the first trading post at what is now Saginaw and for being the first permanent settler in Grand Rapids. Louis arrived in the Grand River Valley in the spring of 1826. He earned the Indian name "Wagushe" ["Fox"] because of his skill in trading with the Indians and for his shrewd transactions with the Native Americans. Antoine Campau, his brother, also was an early settler in Grand Rapids.

Louis's first wife died in Saginaw, and he married Sophie de Marsac in Detroit on August 9, 1825. Sophie was born in Detroit on September 25, 1807 and died on July 31, 1869, only two years before Louis's death. Louis's brother, Toussaint, had a trading post in Grand Haven at the "Lower Diggings," the present Government Pond, which Louis bought in July 1834, for $350. Louis had Nathan Throop of Grand Haven build a warehouse for him on the same site. Toussaint married Emily Marsac, Sophie's sister, in Grand Rapids on November 27, 1834, which according to Lydens was the first Catholic wedding ceremony in the area. Another brother, Antoine, was an early settler in the Grand Rapids area. Louis died April 13, 1871.

Archibald Campbell I [1860-1936]

Born in Markham, Ontario on February 12, 1860, Archibald Campbell came to the Grand Haven area at age 19 with five other men. He was a foundry man and in the early 1890s with Edward Gillen he established a foundry to fabricate parts for Dake Engine Company. The company, called Gillen & Campbell, was located at the corner of Seventh and Monroe. Dake Engine owed Campbell's firm some money. In early 1900 Johnston Boiler of Ferrysburg bought out all the stockholders of the Dake Engine Company except James P. Armstead. In 1905 when Dake Engine and Archie's company were merged, Thomas B. Johnston became president, his son John F. Johnston was treasurer, and Campbell was vice president. Armstead was named secretary and general manager. Archie, a staunch Democrat, was mayor of Grand Haven from 1909 to 1911. He became president of Dake Engine Company from 1924 to 1936. He was a Mason, the Order of Eastern Star, Spring Lake Country Club, Stag Club, and Elks.

On October 11, 1887 Archie married Ida L. Andres, who was born on July 7, 1867 and died on March 11, 1951. Ida was the daughter of Ernest and Ida Andres of Grand Haven. For years the Campbells lived at 225 Franklin Street in Grand Haven, in a place that became known as the "Campbell House." Their children were Agnes L. Campbell, born in April 1895; Esther M. Campbell, who was born in October 1897 and taught at Social Studies at Grand Haven High School from 1923 to 1963; Archibald Andres Campbell, who was born in Grand Haven on November 5 1904 and became general manager of Dake Engine Company; and Kenneth Campbell, born about 1908. Archie II and Kenneth, like their father, worked for Dake Engine Company. Archie I died in Grand Haven from a heart attack on December 4, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 5, 1936.]

Benjamin R. Campbell I [1833-1908]

Benjamin R. Campbell I made shoes and boots at a shop near the Grand Trunk Depot in Spring Lake, not far from his home. The railway depot was located near the northwest corner of Savidge and Cutler Streets, and Benjamin's shop likely was on Savidge Street, or State Street, as it was then known. Benjamin was born in Canada in August 1833. While in Canada, he married Emily Hill [Emilie/Emma] about 1853. She was born in Haiti in January 1835. Emily was three when she immigrated to the United States. She and Benjamin came to the United States in 1865, settling in Spring Lake. They were charter members of the Spring Lake Baptist Church, founded on December 7, 1867. The couple's children, listed in the 1870 census were Charles Campbell, born in March 1856 [1857]; Mary J. Campbell, born in June 1858; Emily Campbell, born about 1862; Annie [Anna] E. Campbell, born about 1866; and Benjamin Campbell II, who was born on April 28, 1867 and died of peritonitis in Spring Lake on February 8, 1883. Later arrivals were Thomas Campbell, who died on September 12, 1871 as a six-month old infant; and William Edward Campbell, who died on August 25, 1873, a little over a year old. Charles, Mary, and Emily were born in Canada, the others were born locally. Benjamin II was one of six members of the first class to graduate from a fully graded school [1 through 8] in Spring Lake in 1881. Benjamin II, Thomas, and William were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1870 Benjamin was doing well enough to afford hiring a domestic servant. In 1880 Benjamin's mother, Jane, was living with the family, but son Charles had disappeared. Jane was born in Virginia about 1810. In 1877 Benjamin I was included in R. L. Polk's Michigan Business Directory as a shoemaker in Spring Lake, and ten years later he was listed in R. G. Dun & Co., Registry Mercantile Reference Book for 1887, again as a shoemaker and still in Spring Lake. [Kitchel, p. 96.] However, Benjamin is not included in the 1893 Business Compendium, making it likely that he had left Spring Lake by then. A newspaper article reported, "The [Campbell] family moved to Detroit thirty years ago and have all passed away except the oldest daughter, Mary . . . Mr. Campbell died 12 years ago and Mrs. Campbell three years previously. Miss Mary, who never visited here during those thirty years, motored from Detroit, accompanied by Benj. F. Campbell, No. 3, and a niece, and was greatly delighted in meeting childhood acquaintances here on Monday." [Kitchel, p. 185.] The article, apparently taken from the Grand Haven Tribune, is not dated, but appears to have been written about 1920. The same article noted that Dwight Cutler, one of Grand Haven's leaders, continued buying his boots from Benjamin, even after the boot maker had moved to Detroit and "long after shoes came in vogue." Records show he died in Detroit in 1908 and was buried at Woodmere Cemetery.

Benjamin I continued in the shoe making business after his move to Detroit, but the date and place of his death was not determined. The Benjamin III referred to in the newspaper article was born on December 29, 1892 in Detroit. He was the son of Charles and Julia Campbell. On November 14, 1889 in Wayne County Charles married Julia A. Bush [Bresch]. The Campbells in 1900 remained in Detroit, where Charles worked as a barber. The 1900 census showed Charles and Julia had three children, all born in Detroit: Nellie A., born in October 1891; Benjamin, who was born on December 29, 1892; and Charles H., who was born on November 7, 1895. The census taker that year spelled the family name Campell and Benjamin as Bengaman. This "Bengaman" is referred to as Benjamin No. 3 in the undated newspaper article. In 1910 he was living in Detroit with his widowed mother Julia and his brother Charles. Julia at the time of the census was working as a hairdresser and 50 years old. On June 21, 1920 in Detroit, Benjamin III married Alice Jones. Mary J. Campbell was unmarried and still residing in Detroit in 1930. No more information about the Campbells was found after 1930, except that Benjamin III died in Detroit in March 1980. The Campbells were an African American family.

Esther Campbell [1897-1967]

Among their other children, Archie and Ida Andres Campbell had a daughter Esther Campbell. She was born on October 11, 1897 and died on November 11, 1967 in Grand Haven. She taught history, Spanish, and English at Grand Haven High School from 1923 to 1963.

Leon Joel Campbell [1884-1965]

Born on September 12, 1884 in Eagle, Wyoming County, New York, Leon was the son of William A. and Cora B. Austin Campbell. William was born in New York State in 1861 and married Cora Austin in July 4, 1882. Also a native of New York, Cora was born on April 18, 1862. The family moved to Big Rapids in 1886 and later relocated to Muskegon.

Leon graduated from high school in Paris, Kent County and worked for Eckerman Drug Store in Muskegon for four years. On April 5, 1906 he married Margaret Hoffman, born on December 15, 1884 in Muskegon. She joined her husband in Spring Lake in 1907, a year after they were married. She was the daughter of Jacob and Maartje Hoffman, both natives of The Netherlands. In 1906 Leon started work in a drugstore at 208 West Savidge, owned by Felix Perl. Leon purchased the bankrupt business about 1908 with E. L. Reinecke as his partner. Reinecke moved to Port Huron and Campbell became sole owner, operating under the name Campbell Pharmacy. In 1923 Leon paid Julia Falls, Andrew's widow, $3,500 for the property at 200 West Savidge, at that time the site of Spencer's Grocery, and moved his business there. He sold the business in 1948 to Clarence Eshleman.

The Campbells had two children, Dana A. Campbell, who was born January 30, 1916 and married Rena Vandersys, and William Arthur Campbell, born on January 13, 1926. Leon served for eight years on the Spring Lake Village Council and belonged to a number of organizations, including Blue Lodge, Free & Accepted Masons, Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce, the Spring Lake Country Club, the Rotary Club, and the Yacht Club. He passed away in Spring Lake on November 19, 1965 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Margaret died on November 30, 1970 and was buried near her husband.

Elmer Campbell [1908-1979] and Marie Viebrock Campbell [1915-1999]

Born in Ferrysburg on September 23, 1915, Marie was the daughter of Martin and Anna De Witt Viebrock. She married Elmer Campbell in 1931. He was born on January 31, 1908, died in Spring Lake on November 24, 1979, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Marie was a seamstress for the Kiddie Kover Company in Grand Haven, which operated from 1929 to 1953. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Spring Lake. She and her husband had one daughter, Betty Ann, who married Harry Silvers of Spring Lake. Marie passed away on January 7, 1999 and was buried near her husband.

Leland E. Cannon [1918-2001]

Leland was born in Kalamazoo on November 4, 1918, the son of Percy G. and Gertrude Hensley Cannon. On August 2, 1940, he married Ethel Victoria Masselink. Cannon was an advertising sales representative for the Muskegon Chronicle. In 1947 the Cannons bought the Hatton home at 482 Sheldon Terrace, which they owned for the next 53 years. In 1995 Cannon and his wife drove to Rolla, Missouri, where he was to undergo treatment for colon cancer. His son-in-law was the surgeon. While in Missouri, Ethel contracted shingles and died on January 16, 1997, after more than a year in the hospital. Because of his health problems, Lee was unable to return to Grand Haven and remained with his daughter Vicki in Rolla. In the summer of 2000 he decided to sell the home to Scott Bekins and auction off its contents. He died in Rolla on February 1, 2001. The Cannons had been married more than 55 years.

Coppins Carew [Carewe] [1907-1989]

According to an article in the Tribune, Coppins Carew started the Chicken Inn, but more likely it was his parents, Robert and Gertrude Carew. Coppins's wife, Adelaide [Adelaise] Marie Fox, born in St. Paul, Minnesota on July 12, 1911 [1912], married Coppins when she was 16. They lived at 819 Washington Street in Grand Haven in 1930. The next year their residence was located at 821 Bignell Court in Grand Haven Township. Living with them was a son, Coppins St. John Carew II, who was born in Minnesota about 1928, and a daughter, Juanita Carew, born in Michigan about February 1930. They had two other children: Gertrude Carew [1932-2013] and Joaquin Carew [1939-2013]. In 1930 Coppins was a waiter at the Ferry Hotel in downtown Grand Haven. Coppins's brother Ben was a member of an orchestra that played at the Ferry Hotel. Coppins's and Adelaide's son, Coppins St. John Carew, was killed in a sledding accident in Grand Rapids on January 10, 1941. The boy was 12 years old. The older Coppins passed away in Grand Rapids on September 26, 1989. Adelaide died in Grand Rapids on November 12, 2006. [Tribune obituaries, January 5, 1935 and January 10, 1941 and Grand Rapids Press obituary, November 16, 2006.]

Robert Abraham Carew [1869-1934]

In 1928 Robert and Gertrude Stewart Carew owned and operated the Grand Haven Chicken Inn at 22 South Beechtree Street in Grand Haven. Robert was born in Prattville, Alabama on December 7, 1869, and Gertrude in the same state about seven years later. Among their children, all born in Alabama, were Helen, born about 1894; Ruth, born about 1897; Samuel, born about 1900; Gertrude Carew Jr. [sic], who was born on August 16, 1902 and died of pneumonia in Norton Township on January 4, 1935; Rosseveltdt [sic] Carew, born about 1906; Coppins Carew, born on February 13, 1907; Theresa Carew, born about 1910, and Benjamin [sic] Carew, born about 1913. The Carew family was living in Jefferson County, Alabama in 1910. Robert was working as a preacher at that time. They moved to Iowa about 1914 and later to Minneapolis. By 1930 they had moved their local restaurant business to a vacant building at 10 Franklin Street. The name of the family business continued to be the Grand Haven Chicken Inn., with Robert and Gertrude as managers. Rosseveltdt was the buyer for the new restaurant, Theresa was the second chef, and Benjamin was a waiter. Helen was unemployed. The family resided in Muskegon in 1928, but by 1930 it was included in the Federal Census for Grand Haven and living at 12 Franklin, now the site of Tip A Few Tavern. By 1932 the Carews had relocated to Norton Township in Muskegon County, where they operated another restaurant, also called Chicken Inn. Robert died in Muskegon in 1934. In 1940, Gertrude and her daughter Helen were residents of Keene, Ionia County. The Carew family sold the Grand Haven business about 1941 to Kathryn Fons. Gertrude the mother died on November 20, 1951 and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Alfred X. Carey [Cary] [1811-1882]

Alfred was born in Kent, Rhode Island, on March 28, 1811, the son of Dr. Joseph and Ruby Ann Carey. In 1833 he married Sarah Musdirk. In Michigan Alfred Carey was captain of the 127-foot Algoma, which operated between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven beginning in 1848. He was listed as one of the Catholic families in the Grand Rapids City Directory for 1859. That year he was proprietor of a flour and produce company in the same city. Alfred died on August 6, 1882. Sarah lived from 1812 to 1890. They both were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

James Henry Carey [1851-1940]

Born in Hillsdale County on July 22, 1851, James Carey arrived in Olive Township in 1861. There he later operated a sawmill and became sole owner of a large sawmill at Olive Center, where he also was town clerk. On May 26, 1875 in Ottawa County, he married Cora Lyon, who was born in Medina County, Ohio, on August 11, 1857. They had one child, Herbert W. Carey, born March 6, 1877. By 1876 James owned a 40-acre farm in Section 8 of Olive Township. He died in Lowell, Kent County in 1940 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. Cora lived from 1857 to 1939 and was buried at the same cemetery.

John Ward Carey [1925-1991]

Born May 11, 1925 in Lansing to Glen and Pearl Carey, John served in the Navy during WWII. He was employed as president and CEO of the Credit Bureau of North Ottawa County from 1955 to 1975. He served as a systems analyst, worked for Coastal Real Estate for two years, and managed Spring Lake Yacht Club for several years. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Masons, Elks and V.F.W. On November 27, 1946 he married Joyce E. King in Lapeer, Lapeer County. Joyce was born on April 6, 1926 and died in Grand Haven on February 25, 1993. Their children were Nancy Carey, who married Gary Sudy of Grand Haven; Patricia Carey, who married Dwayne Avery of Ravenna; Randolph Carey, who moved to Hawaii; and Timothy Carey. John died January 30, 1991. [Tribune obituary, January 31, 1991.]

Carl Fredrik Carlson [Karl Fredrik Karlsson] [1869-1935]

A touch of New England Cape Cod style was reflected in the bungalow-style home built at 1010 Sheldon Road around 1923 by Carl Carlson. Carlson, a native of Sweden, immigrated to the United States when he was two years old and came to Grand Haven in the early 1920s. It was then he bought the vacant lot at 1010 Sheldon. He first built the garage, where he lived while constructing the house, warmed by a pot belly stove. When the house was completed, his wife, a midwife, joined him at their new home. Called the Sheldon Road Maternity Home, the Carlson house was used as a birthing place, an alternate to the maternity ward at the Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital, 114 South Fifth Street. In anticipation of his wife's profession, Carl included an 8-foot x 12-foot birthing room with a fireplace, one of two in the home, that kept the mothers and their infants warm. In 1930 the Carlsons' son, Carl Torbjörn Carlson, his wife Josephine, and their new-born son, named Carl Fredrick Carlson, were living in the house on Sheldon with the Carl and Maria. Carl worked as a cabinet maker with the Basian Blessing Company. Karl T. Carlson lived from March 8, 1901 to January 31, 1958. Josephine lived from 1907 to 1985. [The home at 1010 Sheldon Road was substantially remodeled in 2019.]

Carl, a native of Sweden, was born on March 3, 1869 and died in Grand Haven on January 3, 1935. He married Maria Katrina Bengtsstön on September 7, 1890 in Sweden. She was born in Sweden on July 3, 1872. The Carlsons immigrated to the United States on 1902. Maria died in Grand Haven on March 13, 1966 and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carl T. and Josephine were buried in the same plot.

Carl Fredrick Carlson [1930-2007]

Born in Grand Haven on March 24, 1930, Carl Carlson was the son of Carl T. and Josephine Rozneck Carlson and the grandson of Carl Fredrik and Maria Bengtsson Carlson. Carl F. served in the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War. He had worked at Option Care for six years. Carl also was a self-employed contractor and built many houses in the Grand Haven area. In addition, he was well known for the antique cars he created out of wood. The doors could be opened and the steering wheel turned, but the wheels were fixed in place so the piece would not be mistaken for a toy. Carl married Jacqueline Lea Giant in Grand Haven on July 14, 1955. Carl died on February 13, 2007 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had three children.

Carl [Karl] Torbjörn Carlson [1901-1958]

Carl, the son of Carl Fredrik and Maria Bengtsson Carlson, was born in Sweden on March 8, 1901. He was two years old when he immigrated to the United States with his parents and siblings. On May 2, 1922, he married Christian Sadlier [1905-1927] in Detroit. They were divorced on December 7 that year. He then married Viola Eva Aspenwall [1887-1954] in Port Clinton, Ohio. They had one daughter, Leona V. Carlson, who was born on July 6, 1928. Twelve days after Carl and Viola were divorced on November 5, 1928, he married Josephine Anna Rozneck in Detroit. By 1930, he and Josephine were living with his parents at 1010 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven. Their first son, Carl Fredrik Carlson, was born in Grand Haven on March 24, 1930. Two more sons followed: Roger John Carlson, born in Grand Haven on August 20, 1936, and Joseph Allen Carlson, born in Grand Haven on June 7, 1940. Carl and Josephine were divorced in Grand Haven on October 3, 1949. Carl died on February 4, 1958 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Josephine passed away in 1985 and was buried at the same cemetery.

John Charles Carlyle [1938-2018]

John Carlyle practiced law in Grand Haven for 40 years, first with the Scholten Fant law firm, then independently, and finally with the local Varnum law office, which he opened. He also served on several boards of directors of Grand Haven area companies, and he owned M & S Companies in Grand Haven and Wright Coating Company in Kalamazoo.

John was born in Plainwell, Allegan County, on September 20, 1938. He received a bachelor degree from Albion College in 1960 and a degree in law from Duke University Law School four years later. He and Nancy Sessions were married on August 26, 1961. They lived for a while in Chicago, where John became a Certified Public Accountant. They moved to Grand Haven in 1968. Their children were Megan, who married Tim Dadson, and Amy, who married Kyle Williams.

John was a member of Lion's Club, Grand Haven Area Jaycees, and United Way. He helped start the YMCA and was a contributing member Hospice of North Ottawa Community Hospital and the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation. He died on April 22, 2018.

Jon Carlson [1946-2017]

Jon Carlson was born in Grand Haven on March 24, 1946. Following his service with the U.S. Navy for four years during the Vietnam War, Jon attended Pratt Institute in New York. He remained in New York for ten years, specializing in the film industry before returning to Grand Haven, where in 1984 he established Jon Carlson Commercial Arts. Jon and his wife Linda resided in his childhood home at 620 North Fifth Street, which also served as his business office and studio. He died on November 26, 2017, the day after he was rescued from a fire that destroyed his home. Linda was born on March 29, 1953.

Anthony "Gus" Carowitz [1918-1983]

Born in Grand Rapids on March 27, 1918, Gus Carowitz moved to the Grand Haven area after serving in the Army during WWII. He was owner of Turk's Restaurant in Nunica for 30 years. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, American Legion, Elks, V.F.W., Disabled Veterans, Sacred Heart Society in Grand Rapids, St. Isidore's Benevolent Society in Grand Rapids, and the Spring Lake Vets Club. Gus married Della Kulik, who was born on May 10, 1916 and died in April 1966. He then married Dorothy Ringgold. His children included Susan, who married Joseph Stalec of Spring Lake; Kay of Houston, Texas; a stepdaughter, Judy Hoopfer, who lived at 112 Lake Street in Spring Lake; and a stepson, Jay Howard De Jonge II of Zeeland, who lived from January 21, 1930 to March 26, 1994. Gus died on April 20, 1983. Dorothy, who was born on February 6, 1921, died in Grand Rapids on January 28, 1987. [Tribune obituary, April 21, 1983.]

Michael C. Carpenter [1829-1909]

Born in Ireland on November 1, 1829, Michael Carpenter was one of Nunica's earliest settlers in 1855 [1858]. He had a farm in Section 15 of Crockery Township, on the south boundary of Nunica, where he also ran a boarding house and sold groceries and other items. In 1881 he took over management of the National Hotel on the southeast corner of Columbus and Water [Harbor] Streets in Grand Haven but maintained his farm. After Michael died on March 22, 1909, his son William held title to the 76-acre farm. Michael's wife, Ann Cavanaugh, was born in Ireland in 1835 and died April 22, 1908 at her home in Nunica. Their five children were all born in Michigan, including a son, William, who was born in February 1868 and died in 1931. Another son, Owen Patrick Carpenter, lived from 1864 to 1952.

Frederick M. Carr [1874-1898]

Frederick Carr, a Coopersville resident, died on September 1, 1898 at Fort McPherson, Georgia of typhoid fever. He was one of several members of Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry, out of Grand Haven, who came down with typhoid. They were in training for the Spanish-American War. He was born in 1874. He was buried at Coopersville Cemetery.

Fred M. Carter [? - ?]

Fred Carter was treasurer of the Milliman Manufacturing Company, which started operations in 1907 at the corner of Howard and Water Street [Harbor Drive], in the same building as American Brass Novelty. He lived in Chicago. The company offered millwork and interior finishes.

David Carver [1803-1849]

In April 1835 David Carver opened a warehouse in Chicago. A newspaper advertisement advised readers that "he was "ready to receive consignment of any goods, or cargoes of goods, to be forwarded to any section of the country, or sold on commission." The next year, he came to Grand Haven, bringing Clark

Albee with him. In Grand Haven, David opened another forwarding and commission business. He loaned $2,000 to William Butts and William Hathaway, both Canadians, allowing them in 1836 to complete the Butts & Hathaway Sawmill, the area's first functioning sawmill at the foot of Columbus Street in Grand Haven. Clark Albee was clerk at David's warehouse and dock on Harbor Drive. He and Dr. Sydney Williams shared a residence at 225 Franklin [Lot 222] in Grand Haven, and Carver also was credited with building a home at 108 South First Street. David and Alonzo L. White were proprietors of the Town of Charleston, Ottawa County, platted in 1836. When the forwarding business went bankrupt in the financial depression of 1836 to 1837, David left the area. According to Franklin Everett [Memorials of the Grand River Valley], David died of exposure in Rocky Mountains about January 22, 1849 while part of John Fremont's fourth expedition. David was born in Gloucester County, New Jersey in 1803. He married Emeline Weyant, but they left no descendants. She lived from 1812 to 1889. ["David Carver," Debra Lynn Carver Bruns, "Chicago Genealogical," Spring 2011.]

Abel Casemier [CazmierCazemier] [1855-1905]

Abel Casemier was listed in the 1893 Compendium as a gardener [under Able Cazermier] and in the 1900 census as a farmer. A native of The Netherlands, he was born in Groningen Province The Netherlands, on May 17, 1855 and died on December 17, 1905. On May 14, 1881 in Groningen Province he married Johanna Olthoff, also born in The Netherlands. She lived from August 1851[1853] to 1932. They immigrated to the United States in 1882. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among their children, all born in Michigan, were Jennie, born in July 1883; Mary, who was born on December 29, 1883, married Robert Muller in Grand Rapids on May 17, 1911, died on March 16, 1974, and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids; Martin, who was born on January 10, 1886, died in 1938, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Sena, who was born on April 26, 1888 and married Edward Poel; Henry I, born on October 24, 1890; Ida, born in May 1893; and John, born on September 8, 1896. The family resided at 1121 Fulton.

Henry Casemier [Cazmier] I [1890-1974]

Henry, the son of Abel and Johanna Casemier, was born in Grand Haven on October 24, 1890. His first job was driving a wagon to deliver groceries, but in 1921 he purchased Henry Ringelberg's Meat Market at 708 Washington. Later Henry broadened the business and renamed it the Henry Casemier Super Market.

Henry married Johanna [Nana/Nora] Boomgart [Boomgard] in Grand Haven on June 25, 1913. She was born in Michigan about 1891. Their children included Marjorie A., born about 1915; Donald C., born who was born on August 31, 1915, moved to San Diego, California, and died there on June 12, 1986; Dorothy, who was born on April 7, 1918, married Paul Boyink of Grand Haven, and died on March 26, 2012 in Jenison; Jane Lois, who was born on September 11, 1919, married Peter Klaassen on August 1, 1940 in Grand Haven, and died on December 10, 2010; Ruth, who was born on February 6, 1921 and married Eugene Rothi of Grand Haven; Betty I., who was born on September 1, 1934, married Harry Bosscher in Grand Haven on September 27, 1946, and died on August 14, 2013; Henry II, who was born May 27, 1926, took over management of the stores, and died in Spring Lake on November 4, 1995; Priscilla, who was born on October 29, 1927, married Alfred Charles Pedersen in Grand Haven on September 1, 1949, and died on December 27, 2012 in Mishawka, Indiana; and Marvin J., who was born on September 27, 1931, became a partner in the family grocery business, and died in Grand Haven on April 24, 2016. The Casemier residence was located at 1027 Washington in 1920, at 618 Fulton around 1930, later at 1121 Fulton, and then at 1825 Waverly. Nana passed away about February 23, 1952 and buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In March 1953 Henry married Bertha Kraai, the widow of Mennow Smith. Bertha was born on June 8, 1889. Henry I died on August 2, 1974 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune article, "Boyinks To Celebrate 50th," December 19, 1990.]

Jay Richard Casemier [1934-2004]

In 1961 Jay Casemier, a pharmacist at Steiner's Drugstore at 136 Washington, purchased Presley's Drugstore at 700 Washington. Two years later he moved his pharmacy business to the Meijer complex at 430 North

Beacon, where he operated under the name Casemier Pharmacy until the chain store bought the business in 1975. He next purchased and operated Bunte's Pharmacy in downtown Holland until 1989. He then joined the D & W grocery store chain and was manager at the Grand Haven D & W until he transferred to the Norton Shores store. Jay, the son of John and Jessie Ver Duin Casemier, was born in Grand Haven on April 27, 1934. He married Carolyn Ferguson in Kalamazoo on May 7, 1960. She was born on June 14, 1938. Jay, who had a real estate license, served with the North Ottawa Board of Realtors, and he was a member of Christ Community Church, the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, the Spring Lake Country Club, and the West Michigan Pharmacists Association, where he once served as president. Jay died in Spring Lake on January 14, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He and Carolyn had three daughters: Cyndi, who married Robert Johnson of Berlin, Vermont; Cammie, who married David Heatherington of Spring Lake; and Christi, who married Tom Lindow of Westerville, Ohio. The family resided at 13668 Lakeshore Drive. About 2010 Carolyn married widower Lloyd Rotz, a former Grand Haven physician. [Tribune obituary, January 15, 2004.]

John Casemier [1896-1971]

In 1927 John Casemier owned Casemier Sanitary Market at 1322 Washington, in a building later occupied by the Fred Strahsburg Market. Casemier moved his store to 1123 Washington and then to 1117-1119 Washington. He also had a store at 222 North Fifth around 1940 and later at 401 South Beechtree. In 1946 his sons Robert J. and Abel L. took over management of the business. At various time John had stores in Grand Haven, Spring Lake, Ferrysburg and Coopersville, and he operated a summer store at Highland Park. The family resided at 945 Washington Street in the 1920s and later at 1143 Waverly. On May 3, 1925 he married Jessena "Jessie" Ver Duin, who was born on August 12, 1894, died in Crockery Township on February 2, 1988, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John, the son of Abel and Johanna Casemier, was born in Grand Haven on September 8, 1896 and died in Bradenton, Florida on January 28, 1971. He was buried at Lake Forest. Among their children were Jay Casemier, born on April 27, 1934; Abel Louis, who lived from July 19, 1925 to November 16, 2007; Robert James, born about 1928; and Beverly Joan, who was born on September 20, 1936, married Byford Goldman on May 6, 1960 in Grand Haven, and died on February 22, 2014.

William Cass [1827-1905]

William Cass was an early Grand Haven photographer in partnership with J. P. Hughes. William was born in New York in 1827. He married Adelia [Adela/Delia] Meeks, who was born about 1837 in the same state. They were residents of Grand Haven as early as 1865, when the photography studio opened and he continued it until at least 1880, although J.P. Hughes disappeared from the area after 1868. The studio's address was given as 72 Washington, a number that was invalidated when the numbering system was changed. [Number 72 probably was on the north side of Washington in what is now the 100 block.] It may have been burned down in the fire of February 21, 1866, when many of the businesses on Washington Street between Water [Harbor] and First Street were destroyed. He and Adela resided on Second Street. By 1900 they were located in Chicago, where William was proprietor of a candy store. He died in Chicago on July 25, 1905 and was interred at Forest Home Cemetery.

Ferris K. Cassis [1922-2000]

Ferris Cassis, the son of Syrian parents, was born in Toledo, Ohio on November 16, 1922, died on October 5, 2000 in Elmore, Idaho, and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids. During the 1940s and 1950s Ferris leased a building at 12 Washington from Joe Nejem and ran the Harbor Inn. He resided on Ferris Street in the mid-1950s. He and his wife Dorothy Ellis had at least one child, Leslie Cassis, who was born in Grand Rapids on November 4, 1952 and married Paul Withun of Grand Haven.

Leslie Cassis [1952-2020]

See Leslie Withun.

Heamon [Heman] Castle [1862-1930]

Heamon Castle was born in Eastmanville on July 16, 1862. His parents were Truman S. and Mary M. Cross Castle. Heamon worked in local sawmills and owned a farm in Section 8 of Polkton Township before joining the U.S. Life Saving Service in 1896, where he spent the remainder of his working career until he retired in 1926 as a boatswain's mate, first class. On April 9, 1883 he married Mary L. Quigley in Crockery Township, but two years later the family was in Frankfort, evidently for a short time. Mary lived from May 1863 [1864] to 1915. By the early 1900s the family had moved to Grand Haven and resided at 501 Lake Avenue. Heamon died on October 21 [24], 1930. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery. John Franklin Castle, born on August 23, 1885, was their son. Other children were Eunice Mary, born in April 1893, Flora A., and Lewis Heamon Castle.

John Franklin Castle I [1885-1953]

Early in his life, John F. Castle worked for the Life Saving Service in Grand Haven. In the 1930s he and Henry Arkema operated Castle Gardens in Spring Lake, specializing in gladiolas. The Castle property was located at 17802 Fruitport Road. John, the son of Heamon and Mary Quigley Castle, was born in Frankfort on August 23, 1885. He married Clara Frieda Reichel on December 4, 1907. They had five children, including John F. II, who was born on December 17, 1921 and died on March 28, 1990. Clara passed away around June 14, 1955 and was buried near her husband at Spring Lake Cemetery. John II also was buried there.

John S. Castle [1830-1916]

When John Castle enlisted as private in Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry on May 11, 1863, he was a resident of Polkton Township. On November 7, 1865 he was transferred to Company D of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. John was discharged with the rank of sergeant on May 11, 1866 and then settled in Nunica. In 1892 he became proprietor of the Rideout House in Spring Lake, but by 1900 he was unemployed and living with his wife in Crockery Township.

John married Amanda Bartholomew in Ottawa County on October 14, 1858. The daughter of Arza and Isabel Mumy Bartholomew of Crockery Township, Amanda lived from April 24, 1838 to May 3, 1923. The Castles had at least two children: Newton, who was born about 1862, and Nettie, who was born about 1874. Amanda was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery with her husband, who died on October 28, 1916. John was born in Vermont on March 24, 1830.

Claude E. Catron [1913-1987]

Claude Catron a native of Tennessee, was born on November 30, 1913 and passed away in Grand Haven on February 17, 1987, shortly after his retirement. He and Margaret Murie were married in Grand Haven on May 22, 1940. She was a cashier at Erickson's Super Market on Franklin Street. They had two children: Mary, who married William Heiles, a music professor at the University of Illinois and concert pianist, and John, who was corporal in the United States Marines. Claude was a projectionist at the Grand Theatre from 1937 to 1946, and his electrical interests also led him into sound engineering. He took care of the speaker system at the Grand and Robinhood Theaters, besides running the movie projectors. In 1946, Claude went to work at Continental Motors, Muskegon, as a special lathe and press operator. He started repairing watches in his basement shop a year later and for five years handled two jobs. He built his first shop, Catron Watch Repair, behind his home at 311 Franklin in 1954 and operated the business at that address for 11 years. As the need for more space became apparent, he moved to 109 South Fifth Street to live, and built an addition to house his business. The old building later became the site of Dick's Barber Shop. Margaret was born in Whitehall on March 20, 1916, died in Grand Haven on November 19, 2005, and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John F. Cavanaugh [1868-1936]

John Cavanaugh, a sea captain, was born on December 23, 1868 in Michigan City, Indiana, the descendant of sailor ancestors. At 13 he obtained a job with a tugboat as captain and soon became known to the seamen as Captain "Jack." He shipped on a lumber barge when he was 16, and in 1884 he experienced his first shipwreck. He received First Officer papers in 1888 and came to Grand Haven as mate of the Frank Woods. In 1903 he received master's papers. In 1904 he joined the Crosby Transportation Company, and later that year he had a master's berth on the Petoskey and then the steamer Nyack. He bought the Conestoga and commanded the Kansas that stood by for rescue operations when the Naomi burned in mid-lake on May 21, 1907. His last command was the City of Milwaukee.

On January 15, 1901 John married Ann Hanrahan. The Cavanaughs lived at 309 South Second Street. They had two children, Katherine, born on June 13, 1902, and Mary, who was born about 1904 and moved to Battle Creek with her husband Dr. Emory Morris, one-time president of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. They were married in Grand Haven on March 17, 1934.

John died in Milwaukee on April 23, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ann passed away on December 10, 1942 and was buried near her husband. The family attended St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, April 24, 1936.]

Katherine Cavanaugh [1902-1978]

Katherine, born in Grand Haven on June 13, 1902, was the daughter of John and Ann Hanrahan Cavanaugh. On September 19, 1903 Katherine was celebrated in the local newspapers for winning first prize at the West Michigan Fair baby show. She resided in the family home at 309 South Second and worked for 44 years at the Peoples Bank and Trust [Bank One/Chase]. She died in Grand Haven on December 23, 1978 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frank Cech [1863-1943]

Frank Cech and his wife Josephine owned an 80-acre farm in Section 22 of Grand Haven Township. Frank was born in Lybach, Austria [Yugoslavia] on August 13, 1863. Josephine Stepanek was born in the same country on March 19, 1866. They were married in their home country about 1888 and immigrated to America after 1897. Among their children were Mary, who was born in 1889 and married Joseph Zenko of Grand Haven Township; Josephine, who was born on December 27, 1896, married John Paterek in Grand Haven on September 11, 1916, and died on October 18, 1990; Louis J., who was born in Illinois on April 14, 1904 and died in Grand Haven on December 19, 1989; and Joseph, who was born in Illinois about 1906. Louis's wife, Ruth V., lived from August 8, 1907 to September 9, 1972. Frank died on January 6, 1943 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Cemetery. Josephine passed away four years later on January 23 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Robert Donald Cernoch [1921-2005]

Bob, the son of Frank and Mary Barta Cernoch, was born in Antigo, Wisconsin on December 15, 1921. He served as sergeant with the Army during WWII and became a self-employed master carpenter after his discharge, a trade he followed for nearly 60 years. He helped write the Ferrysburg City Charter when the community became a city in 1963, and he served three terms on the Ferrysburg City Council. He also served on the City's Board of Review, the Zoning Board, and the Ottawa County Board of supervisors. He was re-elected to a four-year term to the City Council in 1991. Bob was recognized by the North Ottawa County Council on Aging as the "Older American of the Year" in 2003. He was a volunteer for the Tri-Cities Historical Museum and helped in many remodeling and exhibition projects at the Depot site and at the Akeley site. On September 21, 1946, Bob married Emma Marie Wildey. Marie, the daughter of Clifford and Florence Crom Wildey of Spring Lake, was born on January 20, 1926. Bob and Marie had two daughters: Sue, who married Larry Bichelmeyer and relocated to Idaho; and Sheela, who married Rob Schlorer of Washington. The Cernochs resided at 17620 Thornapple in Ferrysburg. Marie died on March 1, 2005, and Bob passed away on December 8, 2005. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 9, 2005.]

Louis-Joseph Chabollier [Chaboiller] [1741- ?] and brothers

Louis-Joseph Chabollier, born on October 24, 1741, was licensed by the French Government on June 4, 1778 to trade for furs along “la Riviere Grande” with two canoes. His brothers, Pierre-Louis [born on February 1, 1744/45], Augustin [born on July 26, 1739], and Francois-Hypolite [born on October 8, 1751], also were fur traders. The four brothers were sons of Charles Chabollier, an early and prominent resident of Mackinac. Charles in 1735 married Marie Anne, a daughter of the Chevalier family. Besides their four sons, Charles and Marie Anne had a daughter, Marie-Anne-Marthe, who was born May 7, 1746. Pierre maintained a residence on the Grand River, but also was listed as one of many proprietors of the general store at Michilimackinac. All but Hypolite were included in the Michigan census of 1778. According to Lillie, Pierre was proprietor of a general store on Mackinac Island and had a residence at the mouth of the Grand River.

Henry Lathrop Chamberlain [1852-1909]

In 1880 Henry Chamberlain was a clerk on a steamboat. Later he became a partner with C. B. Winslow in a coal, lime, and cement business eventually purchased by Nat Robbins. Henry was born in Cederberg, Wisconsin in 1852. He married Eliza Jane Anthony in Spring Lake on August 10, 1879. She was born in Lyon, New York about 1853. By 1900, they were living in Buffalo, New York. Henry died in Buffalo on September 13, 1909 and was buried at Forest Lawn Cemetery in that city. Eliza continued to reside in Buffalo after his death.

L. C. Chamberlain [? - ?]

Chamberlain became president of the Wait Manufacturing Company when its founder, Justin B. Wait, left for Nebraska in 1879. Chamberlain held the position for two years.

Samuel McMasters Chambers [1864-1941]

Born on October 16, 1864 in New York [Holland, Michigan], Samuel Chambers was 18 years old when he came to Grand Haven in 1882. He ran “the leading tonsorial parlors in the city and made a specialty of ladies’ and children’s hair cutting and shampooing, employing the very latest electrical shampooing device.” His shop was at 132 Washington. On July 6, 1890 in Grand Haven, he married Clara Mary Esler. Born in May 1869, she died in childbirth in Grand Haven on July 14, 1890. On May 5, 1898, still in Grand Haven, Samuel married Myrtle, daughter of Horrace and Sophie Nichols. Myrtle was born in October 1875. and. Samuel and Myrtle lived at 25 Franklin with their children, Madge, born on August 3, 1899, and Horace J., born in 1900. Madge married Lawrence Michele of Grand Haven. By 1920 Samuel, Maud, and Horace were residing in Seattle, Washington, and Madge was living with her Nichols’ grandparents at 600 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Samuel and Maud later moved to Los Angeles. Samuel died on February 23, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune, November 2, 1984.]

Agustus Chandler [1852-1942]

Agustus [sic] Chandler, an African American, was working on a farm in Allegan County in 1880. He was then single. Born in Indiana on April 7, 1852, Agustus on May 16, 1888 in Allegan married C. S. Artis, also listed as Cordelia S. Arney. The couple was included in the 1900 census for Robinson Township, where her name was given as Savannah. Also Black, she was born in Indiana in September 1845. Agustus worked as a huckster on a farm. By 1910 they were located in Osceola County, where Agustus continued to farm. Agustus died in Battle Creek on April 11, 1942 and was buried at Harmon Halladay Cemetery.

Charles Chandler II [1838-1905]

Charles Chandler II was born in Clinton, Lenawee County, in 1838 and studied at the University of Michigan. He became a teacher, and later was superintendent of schools in Hastings and then in Grand Haven from 1863 to 1865. On Christmas Day 1865 he married Louisa Harwood White, daughter of Thomas and Caroline White, formerly of Grand Haven, but at that time residing in Grand Rapids. She was born in Grand Haven on February 11, 1838. In 1870 and 1880 the couple was living in Grand Rapids with Louisa’s parents. Charles ended his educational career in Grand Rapids in 1877 to pursue a law degree. Louisa was born in Grand Haven in 1838. Charles, an attorney, died of a heart attack while examining a witness during a trial at the Ottawa County Court House on January 9, 1905. His residence at the time of death was listed as 7 Washington Street. Louisa passed away March 24 1913. She and Charles were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Frank Amigh Chapel [Chappel] [1862-1922]

The son of Joseph and Mary E. Brown Chapel, Frank was born in Berrien County on February 25, 1862. On December 23, 1880, he married Lillie E, the daughter of Joel and Maria Eastway Fellows of West Olive. Lillie was born about 1860. By 1907 Frank had a 38-acre farm in Allendale Township. They had a son, Sylvester, who was born on November 4, 1881. Frank died on November 11, 1922.

George E. Chapel [1837-1927]

Born in New York on July 26, 1837, George Chaepl and his family had settled in Allendale Township by 1870, where he was a farmer. He served during the Civil War as second lieutenant with Company C the Ninth New York Hard Artillery. George married Amelia Moston, who lived from 1841 to 1902. The Chapels were in Eaton County in 1880 and in Grand Rapids in 1920. They had at least one child, Carrie, who was born in Ohio about 1858. Amelia was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with her husband and other family members. George died in Allendale on October 12, 1927. There were no dates on George's headstone.

Joseph Chapel [Chappel] [1815-1899]

Born in Onondaga County, New York on June 22, 1815, Joseph Chapel relocated to Berrien County and then to Robinson Township in 1872. Four years later Joseph opened a general store. His first wife, Mary E. Brown, was born in Pennsylvania on September 16, 1831 and died February 6, 1878. Their children included Ella, who was born in Onondaga in 1850, married Abram Foster, also of Onondaga, and died January 30, 1943; Henry M., born in 1856, also in Onondaga County; Frank Amigh, born in 1862; and Charles Henry, who was born in Berrien on November 14, 1864, married Olive Elizabeth Gardiner in Grand Haven on June 24 1885, and died in Grand Rapids on March 9, 1953. After Mary's death on February 6, 1878, Joseph remarried, this time to Mary K. Garrod on March 6, 1879. The second Mary was born in 1817 in Michigan and died on January 21, 1897. Joseph died on January 30, 1899 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with his two wives and other family members.

David Chapman [1830-1897]

David and Jacob Chapman founded the Chapman Bros. Company in 1859 for the manufacture of brick. Three years later they purchased 12 acres in Section 36 of Fruitport Township, Muskegon County, at the "head of the Bayou" [Spring Lake], where a Mr. Cooley had a brick-making operation. David was born in England in 1830. In 1855 he settled on a fourteen-acre farm in Section 31 of Fruitport Township on which he raised grain, vegetables, and fruit. He also owned acreage in Section 6 of Crockery Township. His wife, Margaret, was born about 1836 in Ireland. They had three children, all born in Michigan. David died on July 9, 1897 in Fruitport.

Jacob Chapman [1818-1897]

Jacob and David Chapman founded the Chapman Bros. Company in 1859 for the manufacture of brick. Three years later they purchased 12 acres in Section 36 of Fruitport Township [Muskegon County,] at the "head of the Bayou" [Spring Lake], where a Mr. Cooley had a brick-making operation. Jacob, born in New York about 1818, was reported to be the first permanent settler in Fruitport Village, and was its first postmaster, appointed on April 8, 1869. His wife Annie also was born in New York, about 1828. Their three children were all born in Michigan. Jacob died about the same date as his brother, July 1897.

Zachariah F. Chase [1836-1915]

Born in Bath, Maine on March 13, 1836, Zachariah Chase operated a livery stable at approximately 15 Franklin Street during the 1870s. He died in Los Angeles, California on April 28, 1915 and was buried at Downey District Cemetery. He married Lydia Jordon in Brighton, Maine on June 9, 1859. She lived from 1837 to 1918 and was buried at the same cemetery as Zachariah.

Dwight H. Cheeseman [1874-1965]

Dwight Cheeseman, who was born in Michigan on June 1, 1874, married Marie Scott on March 10, 1897. Dwight's parents were John Cheeseman, born in Michigan in 1851, and Ellen Cheeseman, born in Michigan in 1855. John and Ellen were settled in Olive Township by 1880. Dwight and Marie owned a 40-acre farm in Robinson Township in the early 1900s. Around 1910 the family relocated to Imperial Valley, California, where Dwight died on November 25, 1965. Among their children were Glen [Glenn] Harris, who was born in Robinson Township on October 1, 1898, married Clara Lenore Ellis in Phoenix, Arizona on June 21, 1930, and died in Los Angeles on January 27, 1959; Cecil George, who was born in Robinson Township on May 23, 1900 and died in San Diego, California on March 14, 1951; Maxwell Dwight, who was born on July 6, 1902 and died in San Diego, California on October 16, 1958; and Beulah.

Howard R. Chellis [1841-1880]

Born on in New York on February 11, 1841, Howard Chellis owned an 80-farm in Section 35 of Grand Haven Township. He also was known as a lumberman. Howard arrived in the Grand Haven area in 1868. He married Caroline Wright in Ottawa County. She died about April 25, 1887 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Howard died on January 21, 1880 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Harold Edwin Cherry [1875–1937]

Harold was born on July 29, in Grand Haven, the son of James and Mathilda Johnson Cherry. By 1910 he and his wife Blanche had moved to San Francisco, California. There, in 1920, he was president of a hardware company. Ten year later he was listed as a hardware salesman, still in San Francisco. Blanche was born in Canada about 1877 and came to the United States in 1900. Harold died in San Mateo County, California on December 8, 1937. Blanche was listed as Lulu on Harold's 1918 WWI draft registration and in the 1920 Federal Census. In the 1930 census, her name was once again given as Blanche. However, the name on her headstone is Lavanche Cherry. She died on September 12, 1943. They had a daughter Mildred, who was born on May 16, 1902 and died on November 15, 1995 in San Diego California, and a son Dan, who was born about 1907 and died in San Mateo on October 6, 1955. Both children were born in Illinois. Harold, Lavanche/Blanche/Lulu, and Dan were buried at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park in San Mateo County.

Herbert Johnson Cherry [1877–1965]

Born in Grand Haven on November 2, 1877, Herbert was the son of James and Mathilda Johnson Cherry. A graduate of Northwestern University School of Medicine, Herbert practiced obstetrics in Grand Haven and Culver City, California. From 1902 to 1913 he was chief physician and surgeon for the Davis Coal and Coke Company in Elkins, West Virginia. While in Grand Haven, he helped organize the first hospital in 1919, and he was appointed Public Health physician about the same time. He and his wife, Alice Josephine Davidson, attended the First Presbyterian Church, where he served several years as Sunday School superintendent. Their residence was at 502 Lafayette. Herbert left the area in 1927 to locate in Culver City, and in 1950 he and his wife moved to Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Alice died in 1959. Their daughter, Isabel M., was born on April 25, 1905 and died in July 19, 1974. She married Maurice J. Warnock, who was born on December 28, 1902 and died on January 25, 2003. They resided in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Herbert and Alice had another daughter, Sue, who was born about October 1918. Herbert died around July 20, 1965.

James H. Cherry [1833-1916]

A carpenter by trade, James Cherry and his wife, Mathilda J., lived at 520 Clinton Street in Grand Haven. Their children were Jeanette "Nettie," who was born in New York in December 1867, became a Grand Haven teacher and married Samuel B. Ardis; Myrtle, who was born in June 1870 and also became a teacher in Grand Haven; Kate [Katheryn], who was born about 1873 and married Royal B. Way, who was born in Michigan the same year, and moved to Beloit, Wisconsin; Harold, who was born in November 1877 and moved to California; Herbert, who was born about 1878 and practiced medicine in Grand Haven and later in California; and Mary, who was born in September 1880 and became a private school teacher near Los Angeles. All the children except Jeanette were born locally. James, who was born in England, lived from February 1833 to 1916, and Mathilda lived from February 1845 to 1917. She was from Canada. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jeanette Cherry [1867-1935]

See Samuel B. Ardis.

Myrtle Emma Cherry [1870–1945]

Myrtle, born in 1870, was the daughter of James and Mathilda Johnson Cherry. She taught for many years in the lower grades in Grand Haven and in 1914 was a “Critic Teacher” at Ottawa County Normal School. She also was a teacher and principal at the junior high school for a number of years. Myrtle served over 30 years and thousands of local children passed through her hands during their schooling. She died in Los Angeles on March 6, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 7, 1945.]

Arthur Llewelyn Chittenden [1877-1960]

Arthur Llewelyn, the son of William and Julia Chittenden, was born January 5, 1877. A carpenter by trade, he married Emma M., the daughter of Hiram and Emily Deremo Martin, on March 3, 1926 in Spring Lake, where he died January 29, 1960. Emma, who was born September 12, 1889, died February 20, 1970 in Spring Lake. Their son Llewelyn was born in February 1929.

Benjamin Franklin Chittenden [Chittendon] [1818-1899]

Born in Geauga County, Ohio on November 5, 1818, Benjamin Chittenden came to the Grand Haven area in 1856 and in the early 1860s went to Wisconsin for a year. He returned to Crockery, and in 1866 he purchased a farm and also worked at the Spoonville sawmill. He married Abigail T. Woodruff, who was born April 24, 1832 in Pennsylvania and died in Nortonville on January 5, 1898. The Chittendens had eight children, including William Benjamin, who was born in 1850; Agnes Sarah, who was born in New York in 1853 and on March 13, 1870 in Crockery Township married Warren Sanders; Emma Sonora, who was born in Spoonville, Ottawa County, on September 1, 1858 and married Eugene Reed of Spring Lake; Cora A., who was born about 1861 and married Thomas Hammond; and Eugene Amos, who was born in July 1863 in Wisconsin and married Katherine M. Wells, born in Michigan in May 1870. Benjamin Chittenden, with his brother Eugene, operated a threshing machine in Crockery Township, which was in constant demand during the season. Benjamin died on August 28, 1899. The Chittenden farm was in Section 30 of Crockery Township.

Dewey Chittenden [1897-1990]

Dewey, the son of William and Julia Chittenden, was born December 19, 1897. He married Hazel A. Fisher on July 26, 1919 in Spring Lake. She was born in Grand Haven on October 26, 1896 and died on July 30, 1992. The couple resided in Crockery Township, where Dewey was a farmer. Their children were Virginia I., born about 1922; David L., born around November 1927; and Earl R., born about December 1929. Dewey died on October 12, 1990.

Emmons C. Chittenden [1879-1962]

Emmons C., the son of William and Julia Chittenden, was born on January 27, 1879. He married Bernice Friant at the Spring Lake Baptist Church on December 25, 1903. The couple owned a 71-acre farm in Sections 19 and 30 of Crockery Township. Emmons died January 16, 1962 in Grand Haven. Bernice lived from June 27, 1885 to August 27, 1980. A daughter, Jessie, was born in Spring Lake in 1906 and married Fred Borchers in Grand Haven on February 3, 1923.

Floyd Chittenden [1885-1922]

Floyd, the son of William and Julia Chittenden, was born May 5, 1885 in Crockery Township and died July 3, 1922 in Canada. His wife was Tillie Hawgood.

George DeMary Chittenden [1894-1979]

George DeMary, the son of William and Julia Chittenden, was born May 6, 1894, and died August 6, 1979 in Grand Haven. He married Gladys Mae Viebrock on May 10, 1917, in Spring Lake. She was born on May 31, 1894 in Spoonville and died in Muskegon on February 15, 1964. They owned a 37-acre farm in Crockery Township and had at least six children.

Manley Eugene Chittenden [1883-1979]

Manley, the son of William and Julia Chittenden, was born February 19, 1883. He married Mabel Mae Robinson in Muskegon on November 17, 1919 and died March 27, 1979 in Grand Haven. Mabel was born April 23, 1901 in Lake City, Missaukee County, and died in Ottawa County on May 16, 1970. The couple resided on a farm in Crockery Township. Manley and Mabel had five children.

William Benjamin Chittenden I [1850-1929]

William, born in Watkins Glen, New York on November 7, 1850, was the son of Benjamin Franklin and Abigail Woodruff Chittenden. He arrived in the area with his parents in 1856. He married Julia Katulah Hale in Spring Lake on September 3, 1876. Julia, the daughter of Andrew Jackson and Emily De Mary Hale of Spring Lake, was born May 3, 1856, in Kenosha, Wisconsin, and died on July 3, 1933 in Crockery. William was a farmer and berry grower who owned 60 acres in Section 30 of Crockery Township. The couple had nine children, including two sons, Alta [Alton], who lived from December 1, 1886 to September 28, 1888, and William II, who was born March 5, 1881 and died on May 5, 1904. These two children were buried in Nunica Cemetery. Benjamin and Julia's other children, all born in Crockery Township, were Arthur Llewellyn, born on January 5, 1877; Emmons [Emonds] C., born on January 27, 1879; Manley Eugene, born on February 19, 1883; Floyd, born in May 1885; Emma Salina, born in February 1891; George DeMary, born May 6, 1894; and Dewey, born in December 1897. William I died in Crockery Township on April 28, 1929. Julia died after 1930.

J. C. "Chris" Christensen [? - ?]

Chris Christensen started a chair factory in Nunica in 1871. It went into bankruptcy two years later and never recovered.

Lambert "Bert" Christenson [Christianson] [1882-1942]

The son of Lauritz and Wilhelmina Henderson Christenson, Lambert was born in Spring Lake Township on September 1 [26], 1882. He had two sisters, Mabel and Edith, and a brother, William. Bert died in Muskegon on October 1, 1942.

George Seagrove Christman [1883-1965]

The son of George W. and Aggie Seagrove Christman, George S. in 1911 became the youngest Spring Lake village president and was elected again in 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, and 1932. His first job was with Marshall Field & Company in Chicago, followed by a position as railroad detective with the Seagrove Detective Agency. After several years in Illinois, he returned to Spring Lake and joined his father in running the family's lumber business in Spring Lake.

George was born in Spring Lake on September 10, 1883 and died there on July 28, 1965. He was president of the Spring Lake State Bank and a director of the Peoples Bank and Trust. His wife, Adrienne, was born in Grand Haven on January 2, 1891, the daughter of Jacob Glerum, and died April 12, 1980. George and Adrienne were married June 16, 1917. They had three sons: George Glerum, James Douglas, and Normand J. The sons took over the family lumber business in the early 1950s. George G. was born at Hatton Memorial Hospital in Grand Haven on July 6, 1920. Like his brothers, George worked for the family lumber business. He married Jean Mills on March 9, 1946, in Indianapolis. James was born in Grand Haven on May 19, 1925 and married Lois Austin of Grand Haven in September 1947. He also worked in the family lumber business and was president of Industrial Lumber and Packaging when the company was formed in the 1970s. James and Lois resided at 430 Buena Vista in Spring Lake. Normand died in 1994. George and Adrienne were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George W. Christman [1850-1934]

George W. Christman, born in Turbotville, Pennsylvania, on February 11, 1850, was brought to the Spring Lake area by Hunter Savidge about 1870 to work for him in his lumberyard. On October 10, 1879 George married Agnes "Aggie" E. Seagrove, who was born in Grand Haven on September 20, 1857 and died in 1908. For the three years after his marriage, George worked with a John Gauger, a former employee of Cutler & Savidge, in Ogallah, Kansas. When the Christmans returned to Spring Lake, they lived for a while in one of the homes owned by the Spring Lake Hotel. When Cutler & Savidge moved their business to Canada, George acquired their planing mill and formed the Christman Lumber Company in 1895. George W. was a member of the Spring Lake Board of Education for 15 years, and he was a vice president of the Spring Lake State Bank when it was organized in 1914.

The Christmans had three children, all born in Spring Lake: Priscilla [Estella], who was born on April 9, 1881; George S., who was born on September 10, 1883; and Mildred A., who was born on February 2, 1887 and died on May 4, 1909. The family lived at 524 East River Street. Young George took over the family business in 1925, and his sons, who took over in the early 1950s, ran the business until 1967, when they converted to manufacturing pallets. George W. died July 14, 1934 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Aggie, George S., and Mildred.

James Douglas Christman [1925-2006]

James, the son of George and Adrienne Glerum Christman, was born in Grand Haven on May 19, 1925. On September 6, 1947, in Grand Haven, he married Lois M. Austin. James and his brothers owned and operated Christman Lumber Company, a business started by their grandfather, George W. Christman, in 1895. James served on the Spring Lake Village Council for more than twenty years, beginning when he was 24 years old, and he was president of the village from 1983 to 1987. He and his family attended Spring Lake Presbyterian Church. James also was a member of the Spring Lake Yacht Club, where he served on the Board of Directors, and he was a director of the Grand Rapids Reserve Supply Company. During WWII, James was a member of the Army and saw action at the Battle of the Bulge.

James and Lois had a son, James A. Christman of Oak Brook, Illinois, and another son, Douglas K. of Clive, Iowa. James passed away at his home on May 15, 2006. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 17, 2006.]

Normand J. Christman [1930-1994]

Normand, the son of George S. and Adrienne Glerum Christman, was born December 6, 1930, died March 29, 1994, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Normand worked for the family lumber business and was vice president/secretary of Industrial Lumber and Packaging, when that business was formed in the 1970s. Normand and his wife, Lucia C. Crane, whom he married on August 22, 1953 in Pontiac, lived at 536 East River Street in their early married years and later at 17887 Fruitport Road.

Priscilla Christman [1881-1902]

Born in Grand Haven on April 9, 1881 the oldest child of George W. Christman, Priscilla attended Kalamazoo College, where she graduated in 1901 with honors. She accepted a position to teach in the high school, but due to fatigue asked Etta Lee of Grand Rapids to fill her position temporarily while she gained her strength. She died on September 30, 1902 from a broken blood vessel incurred during a coughing spell. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 4, 1902.]

Caroline Searle Christmas [1847–1945] and Charles Christmas [1843–1912]

Born in England on July 6, 1847, Caroline Searle Christmas arrived in Grand Haven in 1872 with her husband Charles. Caroline was one of this area's first naturalized citizens and one of the founders of the Maccabees of Michigan. Her husband Charles was office clerk around 1880 and a janitor at the Court House in the early 1900s. He was born in England on August 15, 1843 and died on May 2, 1912. The couple lived at 602 Clinton. Caroline lived her last years at 400 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven, where George S. Christmas, her son, lived. George was born on January 9, 1876. Their other children were Bessie, who was born in 1874 and married Asa McCay of Grand Haven; Robert H., born in 1882; Charles II, who was born in 1883 and served as secretary of the Grand Haven Furniture Company between 1890 and 1895; and Frank C., born in June 1884. All the children were born in Grand Haven. Caroline died on July 8, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

George Haydn Searl Christmas [1876–1964]

Born in Grand Haven on January 9, 1876, George, the son of Charles and Caroline Searle Christmas, became a cooper at the Kilbourn barrel factory. Later he worked for the Crosby Transportation Lines. George married Cora Streng on October 12, 1898 in Grand Rapids. She was born in New Hampshire in August 1873 and died approximately February 10, 1968. Cora had been married previously to John Streng [1870-1894] and had two daughters, both born locally: Emily [Emma] Streng, born on December 3, 1891, and Sarah [Sadie] Streng, born on June 18, 1893. George passed away around April 18, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Christmases lived at 400 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. In 1917 George and Cora bought an old railroad depot that had been moved from Harbor Island down the channel to North Shore. They converted it to a cottage and named it Christmas Lodge [approximately 20060 North Shore Road].

Felix Marshall Church [1891-1963]

Born in Detroit on December 2, 1891, Felix Church married Eleanor Baker in Saginaw on May 25, 1918. They were divorced in Saginaw on April 30, 1937. In 1927 Felix and Almon McCall purchased the Grand Haven Tribune. Felix became its secretary and treasurer. In Grand Haven, Felix and Eleanor resided at 316 South Fifth Street. Felix passed away on October 22, 1963 in St. Louis, Gratiot County and was buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in that community.

Nathan B. Church [1840-1926]

Nathan, born November 22, 1840 in Lyons, Ionia County, was the son of Lafayette and Sophronia Benjamin Church. Lafayette lived from 1816 to 1907, and Sophronia was born in 1823. On August 12, 1861, while living in Gratiot County, Nathan enlisted in Company C of the 26th Michigan Infantry. He was discharged for disability on January 17, 1862, but on September 15 that year he was commissioned in Company D of the 26th Michigan. He was Aide-de-Camp to Brigadier General John B. Slough from January 15 to April 1, 1863. Nathan was promoted to major on January 12, 1864 and to captain the following April 15. He was mustered out on October 30, 1865. In June 1872 he bought the Grand Haven Union newspaper from Lemoyne M. S. Smith and ran it as the local voice of the Democratic party until the election of 1872 and the defeat of his candidate. The newspaper then discontinued publication. Nathan and his wife Mary H. may have returned to Ionia County, where on October 1, 1877, he bought a 40-acre parcel. Nathan died in Ithaca, Gratiot County on December 26, 1926. When Mary applied for a widow's Civil War pension on January 8, 1927, she was living in New York State.

Thomas Brownell Church [1813-1890]

A Grand Rapids attorney and noted orator, Thomas Church was born in Bristol County, Massachusetts on September 13, 1813. In 1843 he started practicing law in Grand Rapids, a year after he had participated in litigation between William M. Ferry and Clark B. Albee in Grand Haven. Charles Whipple was the presiding judge. In 1855 Thomas was the prosecuting attorney in the murder trial of Jordan Turpin. Church also was a representative to the State Constitutional Convention in 1850, and in 1851 he was elected representative to the State Legislature. The next year he was elected mayor of Grand Rapids. Thomas in 1841 [1842] married Mary E. Stuart [Steward] of Marshall, Calhoun County. He died in Grand Rapids on July 30, 1890.

Frederick Churchill [1859-1921]

Fred Churchill and James Edward [Edwards] owned the Edward & Churchill Company in Agnew. The firm manufactured crates for celery, berries, peaches, and grapes, and also offered "Custom Sawing, Planing and Matching. Custom Feed Grinding During Season." Fred owned a 40-acre farm in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township. The son of Lorenzo and Triphena Ball Churchill, he was born in Paw Paw, Van Buren County in September 1859 and married Ada L. Harris in Agnew on July 2, 1891. Ada, the daughter of George Harris of Grand Haven Township, was born in September 1871. Fred and Ada had two daughters: Ida, born in May 1892, and Francis, born in April 1897. Fred died in 1921 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery. His wife died in 1948 and was buried under the name Ada Churchill Thorpe at the same cemetery.

Ithiel "Verl" [Vrl, Verle] Cilley [1888-1954]

The grandson of James Golden Cilley and the son of Ithiel John and Georgia E. Cilley of Grand Rapids, Verl was born November 8 [10] 1888. Ithiel John and Georgia were married in Grand Haven on January 15, 1881 but moved to Grand Rapids. Verl on October 4, 1912 married Viola Elizabeth Cousin in Kanabec, Minnesota. Viola, about five years younger than her husband, was born in Michigan [Wisconsin/Nova Scotia]. In November 1920 Verl and his father were granted a patent for a "Direction-Indicator." The next year Verl was given a patent for a vehicle taillight. In 1930 Verl was manager of Multi-Selecto Phonograph in Grand Rapids, and he was treasurer and manager of an oil company in Grand Rapids. Their daughter, Viola G. [Geraldine], was born in Grand Rapids around October 1919. Verl died in Grand Rapids on January 28, 1954, and Viola the mother passed away on March 27, 1966 in Kent County. Both were buried at Greenwood Cemetery.

Verl and Viola, residents of Grand Rapids, in 1928 built a second home at 200 Prospect Street, atop Five Mile Hill. It soon became known as the Castle, because of its intended resemblance to a 15th Century Spanish castle. The brick on both the inside and outside of the structure was imported from Italy.

James Golden Cilley [1827-1912]

Born in St. Lawrence County, New York on October 8, 1827, James Cilley arrived in Grand Haven in 1855, but was listed in the Coopersville census for 1860, where he opened a law office. On February 15, 1865 he enlisted in Company C of the Michigan 10th Cavalry. By the following November 11 James was mustered out of the service, having recently been promoted to Hospital Steward. After the war he re-opened his law office in Coopersville. In 1870 the family was residing in Polkton Township, and ten years later they had moved to Tallmadge Township. James was again residing in Coopersville in 1910. In partnership with Marvin H. Creager, James in the spring of 1881 built a planing mill near the Pere Marquette train depot on Madison [Jackson] Street in Grand Haven. On November 19, 1890 he applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. He married Mariam [Marian/Miriam] Monroe, who was born on December 31, 1828 in New York and died on April 10, 1906. They had four children, including Ithiel John, who became a Grand Rapids patent attorney and lived from 1846 to 1926; Maria August who lived from 1853 to 1936; Adella "Delia" M. who was born in October 1858; and Earl Oscar, who was born in March 1865 and passed away in 1943. Ithiel married Georgia Thurston in Grand Haven on January 15, 1881, and they had a son, Vrl. Delia married Elbert Lynn of Grand Haven. James died on October 14, 1912 in Coopersville and was buried at Maplewood Cemetery in Lamont with his wife. Verl [Vrl] Ithiel Cilley, who built "The Castle" on Five Mile Hill was his grandson.

Vrl [Verl] Ithiel Cilley [1888-1954]

See Ithiel Verl [Verle] Cilley.

Adeline "Addie" M. Clark [1868-1949]

Born in Grand Haven on January 15, 1868, Addie was the daughter of Sidney and Adeline Clark. Addie began her 28-year career teaching fifth grade when she was 17. Her starting salary was $32 a month; 28 years later she was making $48 a month. Her sister, Clara A. Clark, also a teacher, lived with Addie. Clara's death about February 27, 1904 at the age of 43 “was one of the great sorrows” of Addie’s life. Addie served three and a half years as the Robinson Township correspondent for the Tribune. She started teaching in 1886 and retired in 1913, returning to a farm in Robinson Township, where her parents had relocated. [She taught two additional years at Robinson Elementary School in order to qualify for a pension.] She was at different times president, secretary, and treasurer of the Robinson extension group, and she was a member of the Presbyterian Church. She lived during her last years at 220½ South Seventh Street. Addie about November 7, 1949 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 15, 1943, and Tribune articles, May 25, 1913 and January 15, 1943.]

Charles Henry Clark [1835-1901]

Charles H. Clark, who was born in Augusta, Maine on February 8, 1835, came to Michigan in 1853 to work in a lumber camp in Robinson Township. He was hired to help construct a “horse railroad,” which transported cut timber from today’s intersection of Lincoln and 144th Streets to Stearns Bayou. There the logs were rolled into the water and floated to the various sawmills in Spring Lake and Grand Haven. In 1855 he returned to Maine to marry Abigail Hartwell Wall, and in early November that year they settled on a farm in Robinson Township. In 1865 they purchased 142 acres in Section 6 of Robinson Township, eventually extending their holdings into Section 31.

Among the Clarks’ nine surviving children were Frederick, born in Michigan in September 1856; Harriet Abigail “Hattie,” also born in Michigan and who lived from 1858 to 1955 was the wife of James Bignell; Phebe Augusta, who was born in Augusta, Maine on July 2 1860; Hannah Wall, who was born in Michigan in 1863, married Benjamin Barton, and died in October 1953 in Marion, Indiana; and Walter H., who was born in Robinson on December 3, 1866. Charles’s wife, Abigail Hartwell Wall, was born about July 26, 1833, died on July 1, 1873, and was buried at Robinson Cemetery. After Abigail’s death, Charles married her sister, Augusta Ballard Wall, who died in 1888 at the age of 53. Charles passed away on February 23, 1901. [Tribune obituary, October 12, 1955, Tribune article, November 2, 1984, and letter from Helen F. Clark to Maurice Wilson, Director of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, June 22, 1977.]

Chauncey [Chancy] Robert Clark I [1890-1957]

Born in Grand Haven on June 17, 1890, Chauncey was the son of Joseph and Fanny Clark. Joseph was a mason and building contractor. Chauncey was listed as a student in the 1908 City Directory, but a year later he was secretary for the Getsmall Roach Trap Company, formed in Grand Haven in 1909. Marvin Klaver recalled that Chauncey brought his 16-year-old bride to their home at 417 Lafayette [approximate number] after their wedding in Muskegon on December 31, 1912. The bride, Dorothy “Dora” Mathilda Ward, the daughter of Andrew Jackson and Lucy Harrington Ward, was born in Grand Haven in 1896. In 1915 Chauncey and Dora lived at 398 Howard Street. Two years later, Chauncey noted on his military draft registration that he was a self-employed brick layer, residing with his wife and children at 640 Lake Avenue. However, there has never been an address 640 Lake Avenue, and Chauncey may have been referring to the house at 634 Lake Avenue, where he and his family were living in 1920. Sharing the house at that time were Chauncey, Dora, their three children, and Dora’s widowed mother, Lucy Ward. The children, all born locally, were Chauncey II, born about 1914; Dora E., born about 1916; and Patricia A., born about July 1919. Chauncey followed his father’s career path and became a building contractor. By 1930 Chauncey and Dora had moved to Miami, Florida, where Chauncey’s parents were located. He and Dora were divorced in Florida in 1952. Chauncey died in Dade County, Florida, in 1957.

Helen F. Clark [1896-1978]

Helen Clark taught at Clark School in Robinson Township from 1933 to 1958, the year the school closed permanently. She then transferred to the new Robinson School on 120th Avenue, where she taught second grade until her retirement in 1962. Helen lived from November 1, 1896 to June 20, 1978. Her parents were Walter and Edna Chappel Clark, residents of Robinson Township. Helen’s aunt Phebe Clark taught at the same school from 1885 to 1933.

Joseph Edward Clark I [1868-1950]

Born on January 23, 1868 in Spring Lake, Joseph was the son of Robert and Susanna Doddington Clark. Joseph's wife, Fannie, was born in Michigan in October 1869. They had five sons: Chauncey Robert, born in Grand Haven on June 17, 1890; Stewart E., born in 1895; Harold B., born in 1905; Joseph E. II, born in 1906; and Walter D., born in 1909. Joseph II was born in Illinois, the rest in Michigan. Joseph I became a mason and building contractor. One of the sons joined his father in the contracting business, which was operating as J. E. Clark & Son in 1922 but was gone by 1928. In the early 1900s the Clark home was at 520 Pennoyer, west of the railroad tracks. By 1920 they had moved to 214 Franklin Street. By 1930 Joseph and Fannie had moved to Miama, Florida. Joseph I died in 1950 and was interred at a cemetery in Miami, Florida.

Lewis Lee Clark [1899-1988] and Rose [Rosa] Sonrel Clark [1907-2005]

Lewis, the son of Walter and Edna Clark of Robinson Township, was born in Marne on August 31, 1899. He owned 35 acres at 14315 Lakeshore Drive, where his wife, Rose Sonrel, lived until her death on August 21, 2005. The property had been part of Rose's parents' farm. He and Rose were married in Grand Haven on June 7, 1940. She was born in Grand Haven on August 18, 1907. Rose was the daughter of Francis and Rosa Zwuygart Sonrel, who owned other property nearby, and the sister of Francis and Robert Sonrel. She attended Northern State and Ferris Universities, received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Western State University, and later was awarded a Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan. Rose started teaching at Rosy Mound School in 1931 and left her teaching post after five years to join the faculty at Ferry School, where she remained until 1961. Lewis, who attended Hope College and the University of Michigan, became a surveyor. He also worked at the General Motors plant in Grand Rapids. A large school bell that once called Rosy Mound students to class was fitted onto the Clarks' windmill. Lewis died in Grand Haven on October 5, 1988. He and Rose were buried at Grand Haven Township Historic Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 24, 2005.]

Phebe Clark [1860-1895]

Phebe Augusta Clark, born in Augusta, Maine on July 2, 1860, was a teacher for 52 years, including 48 years at Clark School in Robinson Township. She died October 11, 1955. Her parents were Charles and Abigail Wall Clark of Robinson Township. Phebe's niece, Helen Clark, taught at the same school from 1933 to 1958.

Robert Clark [1830-1908]

Robert was born on January 22, 1830 in New York. His wife, Susanna [Susannah/Susan] Doddington, was born in England on February 16, 1846. Mark Doddington of Spring Lake was her brother. Robert served as private with Company G of the 25th Iowa Infantry from September 1862 to June 1865. He filed for an invalid's pension on October 3, 1856, and his wife applied for a widow's pension on November 20, 1908. Robert and Susanna were married in 1866. In 1870 Robert, Susanna, their son Joseph, and Susanna's mother, Alice [Alvire] Doddington, were living on a farm in Crockery Township. By 1880 the family was residing in Spring Lake, where it remained. Among their children were Joseph Edward Clark, who was born in Spring Lake on January 23, 1868, Verona [Veronia], who was born in Spring Lake on December 21, 1889, and Spencer, who lived from February 9, 1887 to July 6, 1925. Spencer was buried at Marne Cemetery. Robert died on October 20, 1908 in Spring Lake. Susanna died in Spring Lake on February 15, 1917. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Rose [Rosa] Sonrel Clark [1907-2005]

See Lewis Lee Clark [and Rose [Rosa] Sonrel Clark

Verona [Veronia] Clark [1889-1960]

See Verona [Veronia] Clark Merryman.

Sherman Boyce Clark I [1878-1962]

A mail carrier in Grand Haven, Sherman, the son of Sidney and Adeline Prentice Clark, was born on January 4, 1878. He married Henrietta Bos in 1901. They were living at 119 South Fifth Street shortly after their marriage. Living with them in the early 1900s were his sister Addie Clark, and Carrie Hamilton, a nurse. By 1930 Sherman and his family was living in Walker, Kent County. At the time of Sherman's death in December 1962 the family lived at 515 Slayton. A son, Sherman II, was born on April 16, 1914, resided in Spring Lake, and died in Lowell, Kent County, in May 1984.

Sidney Clark [1839-1911]

The brother of Charles H. Clark, Sidney was born in Augusta, Maine in April 1839 [1840] and came to Robinson Township in 1856 by way of covered wagon and the Erie Canal. He held considerable acreage in Sections 33 and 34, along the south side of the Grand River. In 1860 Sidney married Adeline, daughter of Alonzo and Dorliska Prentice of Robinson Township. Adeline was born in February 1844 and died on May 18, 1911. Sidney died on May 18, 1911. Sidney and Adeline came to the area around 1850, probably from Maine and New York, by way of covered wagon and the Erie Canal. The family lived in Grand Haven for several years, initially on First Street and then at 219 South Fifth. For a while, Sidney worked with the Ferry Lumber Company in Grand Haven and in 1867 started a livery there, which he operated for about 29 years. After the family residence on First Street was destroyed by fire, Sidney built a house in 1873 at Lafayette and Fifth Streets [219 South Fifth], which was the family home for 22 years. At that time Sidney retired to a farm in Robinson Township known as the Clark House, where he remained until his death in 1911.

Among the Clarks' children were Clara A., who was born in November 1861, became a teacher, lived with her sister, Adeline "Addie," and died on February 27, 1904; Charles A., who was born in August 1864, became a rural mail carrier in Grand Haven, and died on March 22, 1944; Adeline, born on January 15, 1868 [1869]; Horace, born in February 1874; Mintie, born in 1877; Sherman, born on January 4, 1878; and Sydney Helen, an invalid, was born on April 5, 1884, lived as an invalid with Addie in the family home in Robinson Township, and died on June 28, 1945. Clara, Charles, and Addie were born in New York, and Mintie, Horace, and Sherman were born locally.

Walter Henry Clark I [1866-1960]

Walter, the son of Charles Henry and Abigail H. Wall Clark, was born on December 3, 1866 in Robinson Township, where his parents had settled on a farm in November eleven years earlier. They originally were from Augusta, Maine. Charles, who was born about 1835, had come to Michigan in 1853 to work in a lumber camp in Robinson. He was hired to help construct a "horse railroad," which ran from today's intersection of Lincoln and 144th Streets to the head of Stearns Bayou. There his load of logs was rolled into the water and floated to the various sawmills in Spring Lake and Grand Haven. The farm he bought two years later was on the banks of the Grand River.

Walter became a lumberman and farmer. As a youth he was employed in lumber camps and learned the work of river crews: how to drive logs, float them, and "boom" them. From 1907 to 1911 he was county treasurer with an office at the County Building, and from 1911 to 1915 he represented his district in the State Legislature. On June 27, 1895 he married Edna Ophelia Chappell, daughter of Richard and Ellen Gill Chappell. Edna was born in Berlin, Ottawa County, on October 28, 1873. The Clarks lived on River Road, "six miles east of the city" [Robinson Township]. Their surviving children were Helen F. Clark [1896-1978]; Lewis [Louis] Lee Clark [1899-1988]; Dorothy Edna Clark [1904-1918]; Charles Richard Clark [1905-1993]; Phoebe Alice Clark [1909-1997]; Florence Eleanor Clark [1912-1973]; and Walter Henry Clark II [1914-1998]. Edna died in an auto accident in Benton Harbor on May 30, 1940. Walter, who held various public offices in Robinson Township, including supervisor from 1901 to 1907, died on February 29, 1960 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, pp. 464-465 and a letter from Helen F. Clark to Maurice Wilson, Director of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, June 22, 1977.]

Ada Mary Clarke [1858-1940]

See William Francis Biggar.

Ethan Ray Clarke [1818-1895]

Rev. Ethan Clarke, born in Warwick, Rhode Island on January 14, 1818, became a resident of Spring Lake Township. His parents were Ray [1782-1847] and Celia Green Clarke [January 10, 1786-August 10, 1829]. In 1840 Ethan Clarke married Mary Elizabeth Millard [Millerd], a Rhode Island native, who lived from October 31, 1817 to October 17, 1918. Ethan served with two units during the Civil War. On February 5, 1863, he enlisted as Chaplain with the 1st Rhode Island Cavalry. He was discharged from that group on January 1, 1865 and the following February 20 he became Chaplain for the 25th New York Cavalry. He was mustered out on June 27, 1865. Ethan was Agent of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. He died December 7, 1895. Both he and his wife and other family members were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their grandson, William J. Rose, bought an ice cream store at 14 South Second Street in Grand Haven in 1905.

Lizzie H. Cleary [Clary] [1870-1891]

Lizzie Cleary was a skillful and faithful printer in the office of the Grand Haven Herald. Born in 1870 in Spring Lake, Lizzie died of consumption on November 12, 1891 at her mother's home on Third Street in Grand Haven. Her mother, Helen [Ellen] McSweeney Cleary, was born in Ireland in 1839 and was widowed by the time of her daughter's death. Lizzie's father James, also from Ireland, was born about 1833. In 1860 he was single and working as a laborer. He then resided at the Western Hotel, located in the railroad village at the foot of Dewey Hill. Lizzie was a member of St. Patrick's Church. She had two sisters, Nellie [Ellen/Mary Ellen], who was born in Canada on October 19, 1858 and died on November 3, 1933, and Bridget, who was born in Grand Haven in 1868 and died in Grand Haven on February 29, 1960. Helen and James also had a son Patrick, born in 1865, also in Grand Haven, where he died on December 4, 1890. In 1930 Nellie and Bridget were residing at 324 Fulton Street. Helen was retired and Bridget was an inspector at the glove factory. Helen died in Grand Haven on April 2, 1914 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Lizzie. Bridget, Nellie, and Patrick. [Tribune obituary, November 13, 1891.]

Bruce E. Cleveland I [1911-1971]

In 1963 Bruce Cleveland I purchased the former Crescent movie theater at 1101-1103 Washington. At the time, Prins Heating Company was located in the building. Bruce, who resided in Spring Lake Township, lived from May 21, 1911 to January 25, 1971. His son, Bruce II, was vice president of Consumer Loans at Security First Bank & Trust in Grand Haven [Old Kent/Fifth Third].

Henry Warren Cleveland [1835- 1889]

Henry was born in Rutland, Jefferson County, New York, on June 17, 1835, the son of Henry and Phebe Reed Cleveland. Young Henry married Phebe Maria Perham, also of Rutland, on February 16, 1852 [1853]. She was born on February 16, 1838. John and Loren Perham of Spring Lake were Phebe's brothers. Henry and Phebe moved to Ottawa, Illinois the following May and then settled in Spring Lake in 1856. Henry worked as a millwright and constructed at Hopkins Mill the first steam cant hoister in the area. He also made and repaired boots and shoes. He learned the drugstore business and owned and operated a store at 208 West Savidge with Ormond Messinger as his partner. Eventually Messinger bought out Henry's interest. Henry moved to Nunica in 1874 and opened a drugstore. In Nunica, Henry was appointed postmaster, and he was elected township supervisor in 1878 and 1880 and township clerk in 1879. Henry and Phebe [Phoebe] had two sons, both born in Michigan: George E., born about 1863, and Guy L., born in November 1870. Henry passed away on September 27, 1889. Phebe and George ran the drugstore after Henry's death. Phebe had moved to Grand Haven by 1900 and died on August 14, 1907.

"Barney" Menno [Minno] Cleveringa II [1868-1900]

Barney, the son of Menno and Fokeltje Hilje Elema Cleveringa, was born in Grand Haven on February 17, 1868 and died on August 17, 1900. Barney worked with the United States Life Saving Service in the 1890s.

He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, Minnie, and other family members. Minnie was born in Germany in February 1872. Their children were Frederick V., born in February 1889, and Florence B., born in March 1894. After Barney's death, Minnie married John Bienz of Grand Haven.

Dick Cleveringa [1871-1944]

Born in The Netherlands in October 1871, Dick Cleveringa immigrated to the United States in 1882. He married Hendrika "Reka" Gringhuis in Grand Haven in 1896. Reka, the daughter of Gerrit and Jennie "Jane" Nordhuis Gringhus, was born in April 1875 in Grand Haven, where she died in 1934. Dick was a teamster. The family lived at 908 Fulton Street. The family belonged to the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Dick died on March 1, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Menno [Meno] Cleveringa [1873-1945]

John Cleveringa was employed as a millwright at Challenge Machinery. He and his wife, Blanche, resided at 322 North Seventh Street. Their children, all born locally, were Menno Mark, who was born on June 25, 1899 and became a molder at Dake Engine Company; Avice, who was born on June 13, 1904 and died in Muskegon on May 26, 1974; Berdena, born about 1915; George R., born about 1917; and David R., born about 1921. John passed away on December 22, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Blanche died about October 17, 1956 and was buried near her husband.

Menno [Menne, Mino] Cleveringa I [1837-1914]

Menno, the son of Trientje Derks Cleveringa, was a Grand Haven carpenter. He was born in Eenrum, The Netherlands, on March 8, 1837 and died in Grand Haven on March 16, 1914. He married Fokeltje Hilje [Florence Viola] Elema in The Netherlands on July 17, 1865. She lived from April 1845 to 1909. In the early 1900s the family resided at 500 North Seventh. A son, Menno "Barney" II was born on February 17, 1868. They also had two daughters: Gertrude, who lived from 1866 to 1907 and married John Nienhuis, and Katherine, born in April 1888. The Cleveringas were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henry Cliff [1850-1934]

Henry Cliff was born on January 26, 1850 in England. By 1870 he was a resident of Spring Lake, living with his mother, Elizabeth, and running a hardware store. Elizabeth was born about 1805 in England. In 1875 Henry served one term as president of Spring Lake Village. Two years later he purchased the furniture inventory of Ormond Messinger, which Henry added to his hardware and undertaking business. He also sold wagons and buggies. An invoice, dated 1882, noted that he sold "Hardware, Tinware, Furniture, Building Material, and Farming Implements." Henry died in Grand Rapids on November 17, 1934.

David McClellan Cline [1863-1954]

Born in Martins Ferry, Ohio on September 17, 1863, David was the son of William H. and Nancy A. Norman Patton McClellan. David's father was born in Pennsylvania about 1818 and died when David was a boy. His mother then married William Cline, who was a shoemaker and native of Ohio, where he was born about 1816. Nancy was born about 1818, also in Ohio. William adopted the young David, who took the name Cline. David moved to Muskegon on March 29, 1882. He worked in the sawmills until 1887, when he went into the fruit packaging business with his brother-in-law, Rushton B. Cobb, in Eastmanville. In October 1889, the business moved to Spring Lake and became the Spring Lake Basket Factory. David bought a one-third interest in the business, which was destroyed by fire on June 28, 1898 and then shut down. David next went into sales, offering farm implements, windmills, bicycles, and photographic supplies. His store was on the north side of Savidge in the 200 block [approximately 209 West Savidge]. He later went into road construction with Klaus Boelens, and the business was called Cline & Boelens Contracting Company. David was a member of the Village Council, Council treasurer, and village president for 13 terms, 1902 through 1907 and 1925 through 1931. He represented Spring Lake on the Ottawa County Board of supervisors in 1913 and 1914.

David married Anna “Annie” Cobb of Muskegon County on August 20, 1884. Born about 1867, she was the adopted daughter of George and Helen Cobb and Rushton Cobb’s sister. The Clines had one child, George Ray, who was born on October 10, 1887, at Eastmanville. Anna died in 1888. In 1900 Cline married Celia Vos, daughter of Warner and Anne Pruim Vos of Spring Lake. As newlyweds, the Clines lived at 231 East Savidge Street in Spring Lake, in a home built by George Dixon in 1875. During the years David was a widower, he allowed school children to borrow his wife’s “old fashioned” clothing for school plays. David and Celia had no surviving children. He died November 3, 1954 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Harold Francis Cloutier [1917-1994]

Harold Cloutier married Irene Ralya in Grand Haven on August 1, 1941. Harold had started the Busy Bee Shoe Repair Shop at 111 Washington about 1939, and Irene joined him in the business. They later moved their shop to 103 Washington. Harold, who was born in Grand Rapids on July 24, 1917 and had lived in Muskegon. He died in Grand Haven on July 1, 1994, while Irene lived from August 19, 1919 to May 14, 1993. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He and Irene resided at 1313 Washington. They had four children: Harold II, born about 1946; James, born about 1951; Linda, born about 1954; and Steven, born about 1969.

Florence Bailey Clover [1907-2001]

Florence’s parents, Oran and Flora Bailey Clover, lived in Mancelona when she was born on April 8, 1907. On May 28, 1925 she married George E. Clover I, who was born on August 31, 1903. Florence worked for Stokely-Van Camp Cannery in Hart and for Eagle Ottawa in Grand Haven. She and George lived in Crockery Township, where they had a dairy farm, and also raised chickens and vegetables. They maintained a roadside vegetable stand in the Nunica area. They had a daughter, Doris, who married Eugene Taylor of Grand Haven, another daughter, Beverly, and two sons, Thomas and George II. George II was born on February 2, 1926 and died in Grand Haven on April 18, 1993. George I died on December 18, 1976 in Arizona. Florence then married Thomas G. Watson, who was born on June 16, 1901 and died December 25, 1982. Florence died in Grand Haven on August 17, 2001.

Henry Stephen Clubb [1827-1921]

Henry Clubb, born on June 1, 1827 in Colchester, England, immigrated to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in 1853. He next moved to Kansas, where he established a Vegetarian Settlement Company [Vegetarian Kansas Emigration Company] in Neosho County. One evening, while on business in Ft. Scott, Kansas, Henry was threatened by a crowd opposed to his abolitionist views. Henry “looked them in the eye” and told them, “Well, gentleman, your numbers are sufficient to put any threat into execution, and I am among you alone and unprotected. If you require me to leave, I must, under the circumstances, do so, but it is rather late, being after sundown, and if tomorrow morning would suit you as well, it will be a good deal better, as I intend to leave then.” He was allowed to go. [New York Daily Tribune, July 1, 1856.] The next year he settled in Grand Haven, where he published and edited the Ottawa Clarion, which first appeared in March that year. The Clarion was strongly supportive of the Republican Party, and it was issued until the fall of 1862, when Henry joined the United States Volunteer Service as captain and assistant quartermaster. He was wounded at Corinth, Mississippi on October 13, 1862 [not cited in his service record] and was discharged from the service on April 7, 1866. In 1867 he became alderman for the Fourth Ward of Grand Haven’s first City Council and a school commissioner. In the years 1873 to 1874 he served in the Michigan Senate, and in 1873 he was secretary to the Michigan Constitutional Convention. In August 1869 Henry began publication of the Grand Haven Herald, which also leaned toward the Republican party. It was a daily publication from its inception until December 7, 1872, when he sold it to Charles N. Dickinson. In 1876 Henry was called to be pastor of the Bible Christian Church in Philadelphia. In Philadelphia Henry, by then a noted vegetarian, became editor of a magazine titled Food, Home, and Garden. On November 15, 1855 in Allegan County, he married Anne B., the daughter of James and Isabella Campbell Henderson of that county and originally from Scotland, where Anne was born in May 1833. She immigrated to the United States with her parents when she was one year old. Henry and Anne had at least four children, all born locally: Anne, born about 1862; Naomi, born in June 1865; Rose Elizabeth [or Elizabeth Rose], born in August 1868; and Martha W., born in May 1871. The family moved to Philadelphia in 1876, where Henry died in 1921. Anne passed away between 1910 and 1920.

James [John] Clydesdale [Clydesdell] [1786-1859]

James Clydesdale arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 with his wife, Jane, seven children, and very few assets. He was a successful businessman, however, and eventually was able to buy Timothy Eastman's house on Lot 89 on the southeast corner of Elliott and First Streets. The family later moved to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. Richard, Robert, and William were their sons. James, who was born in 1786, died in 1859 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. James also was known as John Clydesdale.

Richard Clydesdale [Clidesdell, Clydesdell] [1828-1879]

Richard and his brothers, Robert and William, arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 with their parents, James and Jane Clydesdale. The family shortly afterward moved to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. The brothers sailed together on Lake Michigan, Robert as captain and Richard as mate. Richard owned the Sinclair House, a hotel on the northeast corner of Division and State [Savidge] Streets in Spring Lake from 1859 and into the 1870s. He also was a lumberman. Richard, who was born in Canada on June 3, 1828, was killed by a falling tree on February 8, 1879. His wife, Jane Torrans, a native of Ireland, lived from 1833 to October 7, 1909 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband. Their daughters, both born in Michigan, were Mary, born about 1854, and Jennie, born around 1859. Mary became a teacher and Jennie married Blair Hileman, born about 1857 in Michigan and a resident of Spring Lake.

Robert Clydesdale I [Clidesdell, Clydesdell] [1820-1899]

Robert arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 with his parents, James and Jane Clydesdale, and his brothers, Richard and William. Shortly afterward the family relocated to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. Robert, who was born in Canada [Ireland] about 1820, was captain of the schooner Lizzie Throop and Richard was mate. He and his wife Esther Maria had at least two children: Robert Clydesdale II, who was born in New York [Grand Haven] in 1851, and Jennie, who was born in New York around 1855. Esther Maria was a native of Ohio, where she was born in 1822. The family was residing in Chicago at the time of the 1870 Federal Census, and in the next census the family was still in Chicago, but Robert and Esther Maria were living with their daughter Jennie and son-in-law, Leonard Kipp. Also in the household was their daughter Emma Clydesdale, a 24-year-old native of Michigan, who died in 1901 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Esther Maria passed away on December 10, 1883 in Chicago. Robert died in Chicago on September 24, 1899. He was buried at Rose Hill Cemetery with his wife. [Ireland was listed as country of birth on his death certificate, which also noted that he was a lake captain.]

Robert Clydesdale II [1851-1930]

Robert, the son of Robert Clydesdale, was born in New York [Grand Haven] in 1851. On March 25, 1872 in Spring Lake, he married Ida Allison. The daughter of Benjamin and Margaret Lewis Allison of Spring Lake, Ida was born in Michigan in 1851, lived until October 27, 1913, and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. Edith J., the Clydesdales' daughter, married Fred J. Brown in Muskegon on July 29, 1896, when Edith was 19 years old and the groom was a year older. Robert died on September 19, 1930 and was buried at Oakwood with his wife. They had lived in Muskegon since at least 1887. [Tribune obituary, October 29, 1913.]

William Clydesdale [Clidesdell, Clydesdell] [1823-1886]

On May 10, 1864, Spring Lake resident William Clydesdale married Harriet Huggard in Grand Rapids. William. The son of James and Jane Clydesdale [Clydesdell], William was born in County Cavan, Ireland in 1823 [1822]. He came to the area by way of Canada and Oswego, New York, arriving in Grand Haven in 1836 with his parents and brothers, Richard and Robert. By the time of his marriage William owned a farm in Section 12 of Crockery Township, amounting to approximately 60 acres. By 1882 he had settled on 40 acres in Section 31 of Fruitport Township in Muskegon County. He was born in Ireland in 1823 [1822] and died in 1886. Harriet lived from 1834 to 1915. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Saunders Coates [1811- 1883]

Saunders, the son of John Reynell and Sarah Morton Coates, was born in Philadelphia on April 26, 1811. They were a family of Quakers. Saunders married Rebecca Harvey Bell in Yonkers, New York on October 23, 1845. Rebecca, the daughter of Abraham and Mary Christy Bell, was born on January 22, 1813. Saunders became general superintendent of the Port Sheldon Company, which tried to develop a resort community at Little Pigeon Lake in Olive Township. Saunders was elected to the first Ottawa County Board of Commissioners in 1838. He left the area when the Port Sheldon Company failed in the late 1830s but was counted in the Ottawa County census for that year. Reportedly, Saunders returned East and in New York City built the first gas works in the country. His occupation as listed in the 1860 Federal Census for Yonkers, New York, was "Gentleman." He died in Florida on April 30, 1883. Rebecca passed away on January 26, 1894. Both were buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York.

David Carlton Coats [1927-2017]

In 1953, David Coats and his father, Byron David Coats [1882-1975], purchased Prospect Point Resort on Spring Lake. The next year, Byron sold his interest in the property to Max Zuber. Partners Max and David owned and managed the resort for the next eight years and then sold it to Andrew Forester of Gross Point. David was born in Grand Rapids on February 26, 1927. In 1945, David and his parents were living in Spring Lake. He married Mary Grace Bigford in Grand Rapids on April 2, 1949. They had three children: Janet Coats, James Coats, and Mark Coats. Mary was born about 1929 and died on November 25, 2020. David had passed away on December 30, 2017.

Josiah Cobb [1802-1888]

While living in Essex, Clinton County, Josiah Cobb on April 22, 1863 enlisted as private in the federal army. He gave his age as 44. On June 12 that year he was assigned to Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry. He was mustered out on October 3, 1863. According to Ottawa County death records, he was born in New York in April 1802. His wife, Charlotte, was born in the same state about 1809. Their son Lyman was born in Michigan about 1848. Josiah and his wife were still living in Essex in 1870 and 1880. Although there is no evidence Josiah and Charlotte ever resided in Robinson Township, Josiah died in the township on May 21, 1888 and was buried at the township cemetery. Possibly Josiah was living with his son, Lyman, at the time of his death. He was 88 years old.

Lyman [Lymon] Cobb [1848-1939]

A resident of Robinson Township, Lyman Cobb ran a ferry across the Grand River to Spoonville. The dock was at the end of Spoonville Road [120th Avenue]. Like many others, this ferry was operated by a crank and chain mechanism. The ferry was discontinued about 1920. Lyman, a Michigan native, lived from August 1848 [1849] to 1939 and his wife, Anna Elizabeth Dowd., from September 1856 [1855] to 1932. Their 40-acre farm was in Section 34 in Robinson Township, near the south bank of the Grand River. A daughter, Nellie M., was born in September 1886 and a son Charlie was born on May 14, 1898 and was employed at American Brass Novelty Company. Lyman was the son of Josiah [1807-1891] and Charlotte Whitman [1809-1881] Cobb. Lyman and Anna were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Rushton "Rush" Bensom Cobb [1851-1900]

Born near Ripon, Wisconsin on July 1, 1851, Rushton was the son of George N. and Helen Tabor Cobb and the stepbrother of Anna Cobb, who married David Cline. Rush came to Muskegon County with his parents in 1869, and in 1887 went into the fruit packaging business with his brother-in-law, David Cline. In October 1889 the business moved to Spring Lake and became the Spring Lake Basket Factory. It burned down on June 28, 1898. Rush took command of the steamer Fanny M. Rose, built for him by the Grand Haven Shipbuilding Company in 1893 and made as many as four trips a day between Grand Haven and Fruitport.

On September 4, 1896, he took Vice President Adlai Ewing Stevenson, his wife Letitia, and their daughter for a ride on the Fanny Rose out to Lake Michigan. The Adlai Stevensons were in Spring Lake at the invitation of Adlai T. Ewing, a cousin, who had a home on Spring Lake called “Glenewing-on-Spring-Lake.” On September 20, 1882 in Muskegon, Rush married Alice Gay of that town. Alice was born in Eastmanville in November 1859. In 1891 the Cobbs moved to Grand Haven. Rush died of consumption on April 20, 1900, in Florida. His father George Cobb, born in Connecticut in 1814, died the previous year on October 18. Rush’s mother Helen lived from 1824 to 1912. [Tribune obituary, April 23, 1900.]

Silas Tower Cobb [1838-1867]

Although never a resident of Northwest Ottawa County, Silas Cobb was visiting Grand Haven on November 9, 1867. While crossing the Grand River, in a small boat, he and three others were drowned when their craft capsized. With Silas at the time of the accident were Edgar L. Fletcher and James H. and Sarah Marcy and their young child. Sarah, survived. Silas’s death caught national attention because of the part he played in the aftermath of Abraham Lincoln’s assassination on April 14, 1865. On the night of the assassination, he was on duty as sergeant with the Company F of the 3rd Massachusetts Heavy Artillery. His orders were to prevent anyone from crossing a bridge that spanned the Potomac River in Washington, D.C. The curfew was in effect from nine p.m. to sunrise. Sometime after ten p.m. a man who identified himself as John Wilkes Booth told Silas a credible story about why he should be allowed to cross into Maryland. Not long afterward, Silas allowed David Herold, another conspirator in the plot to kill Lincoln, to cross the bridge. Silas did not learn until later that Lincoln had been shot and that all guards in the Washington area should “look out for the killer.”

Silas and Edgar Fletcher were from the same hometown, Holliston, Massachusetts, and both were bootmakers. They may have been in Grand Haven to meet with other craftsman in the same trade. Silas was born in Holliston on August 13, 1838. He married Sophia Hilton Treen in Medway, Massachusetts on May 1, 1863. She was about five years younger than Silas. He enlisted as corporal with the Massachusetts regiment on July 13 the same year and was mustered out on September 18, 1865 with the rank of sergeant.

Cornelius “Corie” Coburn [1878-1942]

In the early 1900s Corie Coburn was prosecuting attorney for Ottawa County with an office in the Court House. Corie was born in Zeeland on April 15, 1878. On June 17, 1919 in Holland, he married Lillian O’Hara. In 1918 Corie was working as an attorney in Grand Rapids, but 12 years later he and his wife, Lillian, were residing in Highland Park, Wayne County, where he was a real estate attorney. Corie and Lillian lived at 312 Franklin in Grand Haven. Lillian was born in Michigan about 1888. She and Corie were divorced on June 17, 1919. Corie died in Detroit on November 27, 1942.

Thomas Coffee [1838-1873]

On September 25, 1873 the schooner W.J Whaling, carrying 3,000 barrels of salt, was stranded on a sandbar off Grand Haven harbor. Thomas Coffee lost his life when the lifeboat he was in capsized during an attempt to rescue the crew of the Whaling. Thomas, who was 35 years old at the time, was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Also killed in the wreck was Michael Whalen, the ship’s cook.

Gustave “Gus” Victor Cohrs [1892-1985]

Gus Cohrs was athletic director at Grand Haven High School for many years, leading the basketball team to seven championships in 11 seasons during the 1920s and 1930s. He joined the school system in 1922 and retired in 1958. On November 26, 1915 Gus married Johannah “Hannah” Anderson in Muskegon. She was born on March 5, 1891 and died of a “ruptured abdominal aorta” on June 4, 1977. Gus, who was born in Illinois on November 27, 1892, died of pneumonia on August 15, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They lived at 535 Waverly and at 205 Fifth Street. Their daughter Joyce Helen Cohrs was born in Grand Haven on June 8, 1924. She married Paul Charles Nelson in Muskegon on April 6, 1950, died on February 8, 1970, and was buried at Lake Forest. Paul was born on November 21, 1916 in Muskegon and died in 1964. He, too, was buried at Lake Forest. [He also was known as Paul Charles Franzen.]

William M. Colby [1836-1920]

William Colby, a resident of Spring Lake, organized a group of 12 to 15 people to start a Methodist Episcopal Church. William was a church Elder and its first pastor. He was born on September 27, 1836 in New York. By 1880 he and his wife, Charlotte, had moved to Branch County, where William continued as minister. Charlotte, the same age as her husband, was a native of Maine. Their two children, Eva, born about 1865, and Jessie, born about 1872, were born in Michigan. William died in Owosso, Shiawassee County on October 13, 1920 and was buried at Chapel Cemetery.

Andrew M. Cole [1824-1900]

From Wilson, New York, where he was born on October 13, 1824 [1830], Andrew Cole moved to Lockport, New York. On October 11, 1861 in Albany, he enlisted in Battery M of the 1st New York Light Artillery. He was discharged for disability on January 19, 1865. After the war he moved to Battle Creek, where he went into the dry goods business, and then came to Grand Haven in 1876. He married Mary A. Culver of Royalton, New York. In 1880 they were residing on a fruit farm in Section 35 of Grand Haven Township. Andrew died on April 9, 1900.

Edward C. Cole [1827-1899]

The date of Blendon Lumber Company's founding is uncertain, but it was in full operation by 1854, when Frederick B. Leonard, Thomas C. Brinsmade, and Jonathan E. Whipple, all residents of Troy, New York, owned it. They had hired John Ball, a well-known figure in Grand Rapids, to invest their money in profitable mills, and Blendon was one that he selected. The trio sold the company to Edward Cole in September 1866, even though the mill had burned down two years earlier. In 1867, with Robert Haire as his partner, Edward bought Frederick Ranney's sawmill on Grand River in Nortonville, giving it the name Haire & Cole Company. Haire and Cole also owned a mill at the foot of Division Street in Spring Lake. In 1871 Edward sold his share to William D. Tolford of Grand Rapids, and the sawmill took the name of its two principals, Haire & Tolford. An 1876 plat map for Georgetown Township revealed Edward owned 6.54 acres in Section 31, adjacent to Blendon Landing.

Edward was born in 1827, the year he was baptized, in Devon, England. He immigrated to the United States in 1859. In 1870 Edward was residing in Blendon Township with William Lowing and his family and employees. Six years later, according to the Illustrated Historical Atlas of Ottawa & Kent Counties, he owned land in Section 21 of Olive Township and had owned the land since 1863; he was listed as a "Lumber Manufacturer." In 1880 Edward lived on a farm in Olive Township, sharing his home with a sister, Jane, who was 12 years younger than Edward, and also born in England. He was listed as a lumberman. For seven years in the 1880s he employed Harley Bement to farm the land for him and to haul "logs and lumber from the woods to the sawmill." By 1886 brother and sister had moved to Pierce County, Washington, where Edward became a dairy farmer. He died in 1899 and was buried at Tacoma Cemetery. Jane passed away in the same area in 1921. [The Edward Cole buried at West Olive Cemetery, with no headstone or dates, is not the Edward Cole associated with the Blendon Company. [Thanks to Jeffrey Seaver for supplying some of the vital statistics for this entry.]

Edward Nicholas Cole [1909-1977]

After Edward Cole retired from General Motors in 1974, he became chairman and CEO of Checker Motors Corporation and chairman of International Husky, an air-freight company. In 1977, the Rifle River Scout Canoe Base was renamed the Edward N. Cole Canoe Base to honor Cole's dedication to the Boy Scouts in the Detroit area. Edward was inducted into the Automotive Hall of Fame the same year, 1977. Edward, the son of Franklin and Lucy Blasen Cole, was born on a farm near Marne on September 17, 1909.

Ed attended Grand Rapids Junior College from 1927 to 1929 and then attended General Motors Technical Institute, where he received a bachelor of science degree. An engineer-salesman, Ed joined GM in 1930. In 1952 he came up with the new engine in just four months. Four years later he was president of GM's Chevrolet Division. Earlier, Ed was in charge of tank design operations for GM during World War II. He was named GM president at the age of 58 in 1967.

On October 17, 1933, Ed married Esther Helene Engman in Grand Rapids. After he and Esther were divorced, Edward remarried in 1964. He brought two children to the marriage, and he and his second wife, Dollie Ann, had a son. Ed died in 1977 at the age of 67 in a crash during a storm, while he was piloting his private twin-engine plane near Kalamazoo. Ed was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Esther lived from December 4, 1906 to April 9, 1980 and also was buried at Greenwood. [Tribune article, "Marne farm boy at top in GM," December 3, 1973.]

H. Cole [? - ?]

In 1950 H. Cole painted a large, bird's-eye view of downtown Grand Haven, looking west from the corner of Washington and Third Streets. Cole adapted his view from an etching that originally appeared in the 1876 Atlas of Kent and Ottawa Counties. The watercolor was donated to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum.

Russell Jarvis Collins [1828-1903]

A physician and surgeon, Russell Collins came to Spring Lake in 1854 and stayed at the Middlemist Hotel. In a short time he had an office at Lemoyne M. S. Smith's Drug Store, where he remained for two years and then was replaced by Dr. Abram Van Dusen of Grand Haven. He next moved to Grand Rapids and by 1860 he was residing in Mulberry Grove, Illinois. Russell was born in Warner, New Hampshire on December 15, 1828. In 1855 he married Mary M. Davis, a native of Canada. They had four children: William Russell, born about 1858, Edward Mordecai, born about February 1860, Phillip M., and a daughter who died as an infant. While in Illinois, Russell on August 6, 1862 was appointed First assistant Surgeon for the 22nd Regiment of the Illinois Volunteers. He died in Colorado on July 17, 1903 and was buried at Fairmount Cemetery in Denver, Colorado.

Abraham J. Colman [1889-1952]

Abe Colman was born on March 27, 1889 [1891] in Romeo, Macomb County. He and Arthur T. Colten started the Kiddie Kover Company in Detroit in 1918. The firm made children's clothing, including such items as bib overalls. Eleven years later the business was moved to Grand Haven and located at 702 Sixth Street. Abraham married Bertha Weisblum on May 21, 1916. Bertha was born in Michigan around 1898. They lived at 244 Grand Avenue in Grand Haven. The Colman had two sons, Arthur Colman [1917-2013], and Robert Colman [1923-2017]. Abe died on August 17, 1952. Kiddie Kover closed in April the next year. Martha was born on March 2, 1897 and passed away on June 27, 1969. She and Abe were buried at Beth El Memorial Park in Livonia, Wayne County.

Charles Alexander Colson [1883-1948]

Charles Colson was born in Grand Haven on November 1, 1883. After attending local schools, he was employed by the Story & Clark Piano Company and became assistant superintendent. He also worked for the American Brass Novelty Company and the Pellegrom and Kinkema Furniture Store located at 204 and later at 304 Washington. Charles married Elsie Cairns of Grand Haven on August 21, 1907. She was born in Grand Haven on August 21, 1878, attended local schools, Akeley Institute, and the University of Michigan. She was a member of the Tuesday Musicale and the First Presbyterian Church. The couple lived at 512 Franklin Street. Charles died on July 12, 1948 and his wife passed away on July 31, less than three weeks later. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Victor [Viktor] Lionell Colson [1895-1953]

Victor Colson was born on February 17, 1895 in Grand Haven. On November 17, 1917 he married Hazel, the daughter of Gerrit and Elizabeth Van Toll Bottje. Victor and Hazel resided at 416 Clinton, next door to Gerrit and Elizabeth. Hazel was born July 1, 1895 and died in Grand Haven on December 27, 1983. While serving as first lieutenant with the U.S. Army during WWI, he suffered shell shock from which he never recovered. In 1940 he was manager of a state-owned liquor store, and he served as lieutenant colonel with Company F of the National Guard. He died on October 27, 1953 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where Hazel also was buried.

Arthur T. Colten [Colton] [1891–1937]

Arthur Colten and Abraham J. Colman started the Kiddie Kover Company in Detroit in 1918. Eleven years later the business moved to 702 Sixth Street in Grand Haven. Arthur was born in Detroit on May 11, 1891. On August 5, 1917 he married Judith Ginsburg, who was born in Michigan about 1895. They had four children: Mary, born about 1921; Tom, born about 1923; Jerry, born about 1926; and Richard, born about 1932. After Judith's death about 1930, Arthur married Ethel Crane Mills on October 5, 1934. Arthur and Ethel resided on Barber Street in Spring Lake. Ethel had two children by a prior marriage: Beverly, born about 1915, and Virginia, born about 1917. Two years after his second marriage, Arthur died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound and was buried in Detroit. Kiddie Kover closed in April 1953, several months after Abraham Colman's death. [Interview with La Mar Van Haaften, January 15, 1999.]

William Cooper Comfort [1821-1865]

A resident of Eastmanville and a minister by profession, William Comfort was instrumental in organizing many of the early Methodist Churches in the area. He was included in the 1850 census for Polkton Township. In 1851 nine Allendale residents formed the first Methodist class with Rev. Comfort as pastor. He married Cornelia A. Hopkins in Ottawa County on October 2, 1845, apparently his second wife. Cornelia, the daughter of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born in New York about 1815. Emma Comfort, William's sister, was born about 1825 and married Benjamin Hopkins of Spring Lake in 1851. In 1847 William was named postmaster of Eastmanville, a position he held until March 8, 1856, when Timothy Eastman took the position for the second time. William was born in New York on June 17, 1821 and died in Hillsdale County [Branch County] in 1865. Cornelia, following William's death, relocated to Detroit and lived with Silas but at the time of her death on July 3, 1883, she was residing in Kalamazoo. William and Cornelia had one son, Silas Hopkins Comfort, who lived from 1846 to May 29, 1898. During the Civil War, he served with Company L of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. At the time of his enlistment, he was living in Branch County. They also had a daughter, Catherine, who was born about March 1850.

E. B. Comstock [? - ?]

An architect and engineer, E. B. Comstock lived in Steele's Landing [Lamont] in the mid-1850s but was in Ottawa County as early as 1833.

George Truman Conant I [1878-1955]

The son of Reuben Hess and Alveretta "Etta" Conant, George was born in Robinson Township on May 25, 1878. On May 15, 1899 he married 19-year-old Etta Jane Hall. She was born in Coopersville on April 6, 1880 and died in Robinson Township on March 8, 1907. On April 28, 1909, George married Nellie Speelman. Nellie, the daughter of Peter and Anna Sleutel Speelman, was born in Grand Haven on July 7, 1891. After her mother passed away in 1926, Nellie and George bought the house at 431 Elliott Street, her childhood home. George worked at Story & Clark Piano Company, and Nellie was employed at Grand Haven Community Hospital [North Ottawa Community Hospital]. George died on May 12, 1955. Nellie continued to live at the Elliott Street house, sharing it with her widowed sister Minnie, who was seven years older than she. Nellie passed away on August 4, 1977. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among their surviving children were: Frances Gertrude Conant [1911-2002]; Margaret Geraldine Conant [1913-1997]; Georgia Conant [1916-1996]; Thelma Alvaretta Conant [1918-2006]; Gordon Russel Conant [1920-1996]; Wilma Eileen Conant [1922-2012]; Doris R. Conant [1924-1998]; Doreen Conant [b. 1926]; George Truman Conant II [1928-2019]; and Nancy Lou Conant [1930-2018]. The children were all born in Grand Haven.

Robert James Conant I [1895-1944]

By the late 1920s Robert Conant owned Conant's Restaurant at 19 Washington. The son of John and Maud Conant, he was born in Robinson Township on July 5, 1895. Before going into the restaurant business, he was a farmer in Robinson Township. He died on December 5, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Robert married Nina Rittenburgh, who was born in Allendale on January 24, 1893. The family resided above their business until moving to 901 Pennoyer. Nina, also a Michigan native, was born in January 1893 and assisted her husband at the restaurant. Robert and Nina had at least three children: Ethel, born about 1915; Lois, born about 1921; and Robert J. II, who was born on January 18, 1933 and died in Muskegon on November 30, 1988. Nina passed away on June 17, 1973 in Grand Haven. Bob II died on November 30, 1988 in Muskegon.

Reuben Hess Conant [1839-1913]

As a youngster, Reuben Conant lived with his parents, a brother, and three sisters in Savannah, New York. The family migrated to Robinson Township, where they purchased 40 acres of government land in Section 25 before 1876. Reuben's sister Mary and her husband Ed Wilson, a brother James, and Reuben built three log homes near one another. Reuben traveled to Tomah, Wisconsin, where he married a second cousin, Alveretta [Alfretta] "Etta" Vandalia Conant, on November 10, 1873. The couple settled on family land in Robinson Township and in 1896 replaced the original log home with a frame house. They lived there until 1908, when they moved to 127½ Washington Street, above the American Express Office. The next year they moved again, this time to 1113 Grant Street in Grand Haven. By 1915 they were living at 203 Columbus Street. Reuben was born in New York in 1839 and died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1913. His brother James lived from 1844 to 1911 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery, as was Reuben. Etta was born in Wisconsin on May 31, 1854 and died on January 3, 1921. She was buried near her husband. One of their children, George Truman Conant, was born on May 25, 1878 in Robinson Township. Their other children, all born in Robinson Township, were: Ernest Conant [1881-1927]; Nelson Conant [1874-1942]; Cora Conant [1876-1925]; Urarda [Wanda] Melissa Conant [1891-1971]; and Lulu Gertrude Conant [1886-1997]; and Wanda Melissa Conant [1891-1971].

Charles Eugene Conger [1848–1927]

Charles Conger learned the printer's trade working for Henry S. Clubb, a newspaper publisher who started the Grand Haven Herald in 1869. Charles was associated with the Grand Haven newspaper Venture from 1887 to 1891. The newspaper eventually was renamed the Grand Haven Daily Tribune. He also was a partner with Hiram Potts in a printing business. It was Potts and Conger Publishing that distributed the Historical and Business Compendium of Ottawa County in 1893. In the late 1890s Charles became chief clerk in charge of supplies for District superintendent of the U.S. Life Saving Service in Grand Haven. He applied for a Civil War pension, but details of his service were not found. He retired from the Coast Guard in 1924, which was formed from the Life Saving Service in 1915. Charles was born in Sheboygan, Wisconsin on October 30, 1848. He arrived in this area in 1858 with his parents, David B. and Clarissa Conger, who settled on a fruit farm in the Peach Plains section of Grand Haven Township. On August 22, 1875 in Grand Haven, Charles married Emily "Emma" Louise Howe. They lived at 321 Franklin. Emma was born in Indiana in November 1847 and died on June 23, 1928. Charles passed away the next year on August 17, 1927. A daughter, Clara A., was born in Grand Haven on December 3, 1879 and on December 31, 1902 married Murray M. Fuller in Grand Haven.

David Beaman Conger I [1814-1882]

David Conger was born in January 1814 in Columbia County, New York. About 1841 [1838/1839] he married Clarissa "Clara" Decker. Clara also was a native of Columbia County, where she was born on October 16, 1818, the daughter of Peter and Hannah Snooks Decker. The couple moved to Greenbush, Sheboygan County, Wisconsin and later to Prairie du Sac in Sauk County. David enlisted as captain in Company B of the 8th Wisconsin Infantry on June 1, 1861. He resigned a year later on June 23. David was educated for the law, visited Australia and other countries, and was senator in the Wisconsin legislature for three terms prior to his move to the Grand Haven, where he was residing at the time of the 1870 Federal Census. A resident of Section 35 of the Peach Plains area in Grand Haven Township, David raised peaches and other fruit on his 20-acre farm. He and Clarissa had least three sons and a daughter, all born in Wisconsin: David II, born about 1842; Charles, born in 1848; Aileen [Adelaide], born about 1852; and Byron F., born about 1856. David I died September 22, 1882 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Clara died on June 14, 1890 and was buried near her husband.

Charles A. Conklin [1895–1918]

Charles Conklin was born in Grand Haven in 1895, the son of Anna C. and Andrew Jackson Conklin. His father, born on September 15, 1865, died on June 14, 1932 and his mother passed away about March 3, 1959. When the United States entered World War I in 1917, Charles happened to be in Ohio and went out with an Ohio National Guard unit, which became part of the Rainbow, or 42nd Division. Charles's detachment was Machine Gun Company C of the 166th Infantry. He died from wounds received while fighting in France when the American troops went into action against the Germans. Because he was the first soldier from Grand Haven to fall, the American Legion Post in Grand Haven was named in his honor. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 23, 1921.]

Oscar F. Conklin [1837-1933]

The town of Conklin in Chester Township was named for Oscar, who was born on May 6, 1837. As an agent for the Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, and Muskegon Railway Company, Oscar bought the right-of-way from Grand Rapids to Muskegon that was needed for the Interurban. A dry goods merchant in Conklin, Oscar died in Jacksonville, Illinois in 1933. On June 6, 1875, he married Esther Price, who was born about 1842 in Pennsylvania and died in 1905. Their daughter Grace was born in Michigan on October 11, 1875, in Ravenna. A second daughter, Herma, was born on December 20, 1882 in Polkton Township. Two years after Esther's death, Oscar married Alice Hackman in Riverside, California. She lived from 1873 to 1942.

Charles James Connell [1886-1975]

Charles was born in White Lake, Muskegon County, on May 19, 1886. His parents were Charles T. and Florence Hiler Connell of Grand Haven. On December 27, 1911 in Grand Rapids, Charles married Dora Mable Willsie. The daughter of Tom and Madora Gardner Wilsie, Florence was born in Ionia in 1891 and passed away in Detroit in 1930. In 1900, after the death of both his parents, Charles resided with his grandparents, George and Amanda Hiler, at 835 Elliot Street. In 1909 Charles worked with Grand Rapids resident Hugo Thum, who also was a summer home on, Spring Lake in taking natural color pictures using "Hummer's autochromes." The process required 18 different chemicals. Charles worked with Harry La Barge at a photography studio on Second Street in Grand Haven. Toward the end of December 1909, Charles purchased the studio from Harry, who moved to Grand Rapids because of poor health. In March 1910 Charles sold the studio to Guy T. Perkins. Charles then went to Lafayette, Indiana, where he worked with Donald Angus, formerly of Grand Haven, in a large machine shop. Charles died on December 27, 1975 in Muskegon. He and Dora were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles T. Connell [1860-1894]

Charles, the son of Richard and Margaret Sarah Gibbs Connell, was born in Grand Haven in 1860. In the 1880 census he was classified as an engineer. On April 6, 1881 he married Florence Lillian Hiler, who was born on November 3, 1866 in Plainfield, New York. They had three children: Sadie, who was born in April 1885; Charles J., who was born on May 19, 1886; and Frederick H., who lived from 1888 to 1923. Lillian died on March 20, 1892 in Kensington, Illinois, and her husband died two years later on July 12 in South Haven. Charles died of injuries incurred when the steamer Myrtie M. Ross caught fire. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. In 1900 Sadie and Charles were living at 835 Elliott Street with their grandparents, George and Amanda Hiler.

Daniel O. Connell [O'Connell] [1826-1891]

Daniel Connell, his wife Ellen, and son John are listed in the 1860 census as residents of Olive Township. By 1864 Daniel owned a 60-acre parcel in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. By 1876 he owned at least two parcels in Grand Haven Township: 80 acres in Section 23 and 180 acres in Section 33. He was born in Ireland on August 14, 1826 and died on August 24, 1891. Ellen also was born in Ireland. After Daniel's death, both pieces of land were in the name of his sisters, Abbie A. and Katherine [Catherine] J. Connell. The sisters were born in Michigan, Abigail in April 1862, and Katherine in September 1865. The 1912 Atlas of Ottawa County listed Katherine Connell as owner of 200 acres in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Abigail had sole title to the Connell property in Section 33 in 1930.

John O. Connell [O'Connell] [1822-1899]

John Connell was born in Ireland on May 24, 1822. By 1864 he owned approximately 80 acres in Sections 4 and 9 of Olive Township, along the Lake Michigan shoreline. His wife Margaret was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Haley of Ireland, where she was born about May 25, 1833. She died on May 29, 1873 and was buried at West Olive Cemetery. When John died on May 16, 1899, he was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Among their children was a son, Dennis, who was just under 22 years of age when he died on February 26, 1873. He was buried at West Olive, but in 1899 his body and Margaret's were moved to Spring Lake Cemetery to be interred with John. Also buried there were William, who lived from 1860 to 1930, and William's sister, Abigail, who was born in 1861 and died in 1930. They all were buried as O'Connells. Connell School in Olive Township was named for this family.

Mary Malone Connell [O'Connell] [1808-1880]

Around 1825 Mary Malone married James A. Connell [O'Connell] in Ireland, where he was born in 1810. Mary was born in December 1808, also in Ireland. James was a builder. The couple and their children immigrated to Quebec in 1842, and subsequently relocated to New York City. They then moved to Oswego, New York, where he died in 1847, leaving his wife with six of their 14 children. When Mary moved to Ottawa County, she married Edward McCue, who had a farm in Polkton Township that abutted Charles T. Gibbs's property. She died in Ottawa County on April 9, 1880 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Among James's and Mary's children were Margaret, who was born in County Meath, Ireland on September 25, 1834, died in Muskegon on September 17, 1899, and was buried at St. Mary's Cemetery in Muskegon; Richard J., who was born in County Meath on November 2, 1835 and married Margaret Sarah, daughter of Charles T. Gibbs; and Mary, who was born in 1847 in Canada and died in Ottawa County on March 26, 1889. Margaret lived in Grand Haven from 1855 to 1885, when she moved to Muskegon. She was married twice, first to James K. Fallon and then to Joseph Cowan.

Richard J. Connell [1835-1923]

Richard was born in County Meath, Ireland on November 2, 1835, the son of James and Mary Malone Connell [OConnell]. In December 1855 Richard was first mate on the schooner Vermont, owned by Clark B Albee, when it wrecked on a sand bar off Port Sheldon during a terrible storm. Richard swam ashore from the foundering ship, was pulled from the surf by four Indians, assisted to safety by local resident Philip Dushane, and returned to rig the breeches buoy that allowed all 18 [17] of the crew to be saved, including Captain Robert Gettie.

Captain William R. Loutit organized the first volunteer life-saving operation in 1871, with Captain Richard Connell in charge. He remained in that position until 1879. One of Richard's early lifesaving endeavors happened when the ship Ironsides sank in a storm off Grand Haven harbor on September 15, 1873, the day after it left Milwaukee with a load of wheat, flour, pork, and other items. The newly formed volunteer crew of lifesavers, led by Richard, managed to maneuver their lifeboats through the towering waves and save about 20 passengers and crew. The Captain, Harry Sweetman, and approximately 20 others lost their lives.

Richard's busiest day was November 1, 1878 when a series of westerly gales pushed five vessels to shore within sight of Grand Haven. The most unfortunate of the five was the L. C. Woodruff of Cleveland, which went to pieces off White Lake and three of the 10 crewmen were lost.

Richard was married twice, first in 1856 to Margaret Sarah, daughter of Charles T. Gibbs. Margaret was born in Michigan on November 16, 1841 and died November 25, 1872. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with three of her four children who died as infants. The Connells had nine children in all, including a son Charles who was born in 1860. After Margaret died, Richard married Julia Walsh on June 30, 1873 in Muskegon. The daughter of Thomas and Mary Golden Walsh, she was born in Pennsylvania on November 16, 1859 and died August 9, 1922 in Milwaukee. Julia previously had been married to William Barnum. Richard and Julia had seven children. Richard's brother, Patrick J. Connell, settled in Grand Haven around 1862, after serving with the military in the Civil War. Patrick, a building contractor, moved to Muskegon about 1870, but died in Tucson, Arizona on December 24, 1917. Richard died of pneumonia in Milwaukee on January 30, 1923. He was buried at Holy Cross Cemetery in Milwaukee with Julia.

William Martin Connelly [Connolly] [1878-1965]

William Connelly and his wife moved to Spring Lake from Chicago, where in 1910 he was an electrical engineer. In Spring Lake he purchased 11 acres in the township. With Chauncey Blakeslee and Samuel Falls William developed Long View Resort, situated between Petty's Bayou and Spring Lake. He was an employee of the Ottawa County Road Commission, beginning in 1915. In the 1918 Directory he was listed as a manufacturer. In the 1920 census he was listed as a truck manufacturer, and ten years later he was a real estate agent living in Spring Lake Village. William was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1920. As a member of the Grand Haven Board of Trade, he helped bring Keller Tool Company to the area in 1917. William was born in West Virginia on January 15, 1878. He married Sonoma "Nona" M. McJilton in West Virginia in 1900. Also from West Virginia, she was two years younger than her husband. William died in San Mateo, California on March 19, 1965.

Jared Conner [Connor] [1800-1852]

Jared Conner, an early settler in Robinson Township, owned land abutting Grand River in Section 33 and gave the bayou the name it is known by today, Connor Bayou. Jared sold his 240 acres in 1849 to William M. Ferry. He married Caroline McCord in Goshen, New York on February 7, 1824. She was born in New York in 1803 and died in Easton, Ionia County in 1883. Jared and Caroline had moved from New York to Oakland County by 1830, and four years later they relocated to Easton, Ionia County, where he built a sawmill in 1836. They were in Robinson Township before the end of the decade, but only for a short time. The couple had at least one son, William J. Conner, who was born in Orange County, New York on August 22, 1830 and died in Easton on March 13, 1913. Caroline died in Easton on July 3, 1883. Jared passed away in Grand Haven on March 3, 1852. [Some sources claim he died in Easton on that date.] His brother, Thomas Harrison Conner, also an early settler in Robinson Township, relocated to Easton in Ionia County. Connor Bayou and the area surrounding it are now a 142-acre park managed by the Ottawa County Parks Department. [Ionia Daily Sentinel, July 5, 1883.]

Thomas Harrison Conner [Connor] [1813-1886]

The younger brother of Jared Conner, Harrison, as he was called, was born in New York in 1813. He married Mary Ann Hunt on February 11, 1838. He followed a pattern similar to Jared's, relocating to Oakland County and then to Easton, Ionia County. In 1838 he and Mary were living in Robinson Township, where they purchased land, and 12 years later they were located in that part of Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township] that became Robinson Township, probably on what is known today as Connor Bayou, now an Ottawa County Park. They had a daughter, Mary Melissa, who was born in Grand Haven on September 11, 1848 and died in Big Rapids on January 29, 1933. Harrison passed away in Easton on October 17, 1885 [1886].

John Conrath [1852-1914]

A farmer with 40 acres in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, John Conrath arrived in the area from Chicago in 1910. He was still the owner of record in 1912. John, the son of Joseph and Anna Marie Contrath, was born in Germany on January 9, 1852. He arrived in the United States in 1868. On July 14, 1873 in Chicago, John married Mary Litterscheid. They were still living there in 1900 and 1910. John passed away in Chicago on June 27, 1914. Mary was born in Illinois in 1854 and died in Grand Haven on November 27, 1940. Both were buried at Saint Boniface Cemetery in Chicago. Their seven children were: Joseph, who lived from 1877 to 1951; Bernard, 1880 to 1967; Mary, 1885 to 1923; J. Peter, 1886 to 1946; John, 1890 to 1961; Gertrude, 1894 to 1929; and Frank, 1896 to 1983. By 1920 Mary had returned to Chicago.

Louise “Lisette” Constant [1812-1907]

See Louise “Lisette” Constant Lasley.

Pierre Constant [? –1828]

Franklin Everett quoted a sketch by Rev. Ferry stating that the first fur trader in the area was Frenchman Pierre Constant, who in 1810 established a trading post for the British Fur Company on the south side of the Grand River, about two miles west of Lamont, another a short distance from the mouth of the Grand River, and a third on Muskegon Lake. However, we know that Pierre had trading posts near the mouth of the Grand as early as 1790, the year voyageur Hugh Heward paddled down the river and recorded meeting the fur trader. After Pierre’s death in 1828 the business was taken over by his oldest child, Lisette [Louise], who was born in Muskegon on August 15, 1812 and who had been acting as his clerk since she was 12. Lisette carried on the fur trading business for six more years but switched from British Fur to the American Fur Company, owned by John Jacob Astor and headquartered at Mackinac Island. She worked at least for a while with Rix Robinson and is on his roster for 1830. Her husband was William Lasley of Muskegon, who established a trading post in 1846 at the east end of Muskegon Lake. Their son, Henry Lasley, became a prominent merchant in Muskegon County. After her husband’s death, Lisette moved to Oshkosh, Wisconsin. She passed away there on September 13, 1907.

Pierre Constant and his Indian wife, Popamansaouekoue, had five other children.

See also Louise “Lisette” Constant Lasley.

George W. Cook [1824-1910]

A prominent Unitarian pastor in Grand Haven, George Cook arrived to lead his congregation in February 1876, a year after the members first gathered for worship. George was born in 1824 and died on August 14, 1910.

Jacob Cook [1893-1970]

The founder of Cook’s Hardware and Plumbing, Jacob Cook was born in Grand Haven on April 24, 1893. His parents were Adolph and Jenna Wierenga Koch [Cook]. In 1918 Jacob opened a grocery store at 1118 Washington Street, and eight years later switched to hardware and plumbing. He built a new store at 1116 Washington in 1954 with sons Ed and Al as partners. Jacob retired in 1955. On May 7, 1914 in Muskegon, he married Fannie Schoonveld, who died on March 11, 1961. In 1961 Jacob married Winifred De Witt Van Zantwick, who was widowed in 1944 when Govert Van Zantwick died. Jacob and Winifred lived at 1408 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven. Jacob died on January 4, 1970 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Winifred, who was born on October 25, 1893, died in Grand Haven on February 27, 1982. She and Jacob were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Johannes “John” M. Cook [1860–1922]

Moving from Grand Rapids to Holland and then to Grand Haven, John Cook in 1890 became partner with Corneil Addison in a grocery business at the corner of Fulton and Third Streets [123 Third Street]. Two years later, he bought his partner and added other lines of merchandise. In the 1893 Compendium he advertised his “Dry Goods, Groceries, Provisions” store [701 Washington], where he offered “All Kinds of Staple and Fancy Groceries, Headquarters for Bulk Oysters and Fruit.” And customers could purchase “Farm Produce, Choice Butter And Eggs.” John later became secretary and treasurer of the Grand Haven Basket Company, located on Sixth Street between Madison and Elliott. By 1912 he had his own real estate office in Grand Haven. On January 4, 1888 in Grand Haven, John married Grietje “Maggie” Kieft, who was born in Michigan on October 31, 1865 and died on November 24, 1923. Her father was Derk Kieft of Grand Haven. The Cook family resided on Third Street around 1900, but soon moved to 601 Lake Avenue, and by 1920 were residing at 631 Lake. Their children were Henrietta M., who was born on December 30, 1882, became a teacher in the Grand Haven schools, and married Corneil Van Zanten II of Grand Haven; Anna “Annie,” born in July 1887; Richard L., born in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1884; Katie, born in January 1886; Gerald, born in June 1891; Albertus J., born in June 1895; and Bernard, born about 1902. Richard bought his father’s grocery and dry goods business in 1903 and with Cornelius Donker as his partner, operated the Cook Mercantile Company at 216-222 North Third Street. John, who was born in The Netherlands on February 25, 1860, died on January 29, 1922 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He arrived in the United States in 1880.

John W. Cook [1810-1882]

John Cook was a builder in partnership with James Barnes in the third quarter of the 19th century. They built Senator Ferry’s large residence on the northeast corner of First and Columbus Streets, one of the local schoolhouses, and other structures. John’s wife Julia A., who was born on September 24, 1817 in Warwick, New York, died in Grand Rapids on May 15, 1900. In Grand Haven they resided at 418 Franklin Street in a house later owned by Samuel and Mary Eames. John was born on October 22, 1810 in Harley, New York, and died on May 31, 1882 in Grand Haven. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 17, 1900.]

Katherine Cook [1883-1916]

See Peter Kieft.

Pieter “Peter” Cook [1851-1911]

Peter Cook was one of the first uniformed policemen in Grand Haven. [John Klaver was the other uniformed policeman of that era.] Peter was born in March 1851 [1852] in a log cabin on a farm three miles north of Zeeland. He married Martje “Marjorie” Sluiter, who was born in The Netherlands in January 1854 and died in 1912. The Cooks moved to Grand Haven after their marriage and resided at 401 North Fifth Street. Before becoming a policeman, Peter worked for seven years with Jan “John” Klaver as leader of the freight handling crew at the Grand Trunk Railroad Warehouse. Peter’s daughter Katherine was born on July 4, 1883 [1882] and married Peter Kieft of Grand Haven. Another daughter, Maud, was born in July 1889.

Richard L. Cook [1884-1966]

Born in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1884, Richard came to Grand Haven as a young boy with his parents, John M. and Maggie Cook. Richard graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1902. He attended the University of Michigan for a brief time, then went to a business college in Grand Rapids. He bought his father’s business in 1903 and operated the Cook Mercantile Company with Cornelius Donker from that date until 1917. It was located at 216 to 222 North Third Street in Grand Haven. During World War I he served with the Red Cross on the Italian Front and returned home in 1919 to continue business at the Grand Haven Co-Op as general manager and director for six years. He then became a wholesale importer and for a year ran a store in Holland, retiring in 1935, the same year he was elected mayor of Grand Haven. He served six consecutive terms in that post, ending in 1941, when he was appointed to the Ottawa County Board of supervisors and served until 1965. He was vice chair of the board from 1963 to his retirement. He also served 18 years with the local Selective Service Board. During Richard’s time as mayor, the police, fire station, and Municipal Hospital were built. He married Martha J. Mansfield of Chicago on March 23, 1908. They resided at 226 Franklin Street. Martha, the daughter of Frederick A. and Mary Mansfield of Grand Haven, was born on May 10, 1883. Martha died on December 20, 1965. Richard died on October 25, 1966 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jesse Hopkins Cooley [Cooley] I [1820-1905]

Jesse Cooley in 1825 at the age of five moved with his family to Detroit from his birthplace in New York State. In 1843 Jesse arrived in Mill Point [Spring Lake] and worked for the Barber & Mason Sawmill. In 1848 he married Theresa [Lina] "Teressie" Campbell in Ottawa County. Theresa was born in Michigan in June 1832 [1835]. In a Tribune article dated December 17, 1896, Jesse was quoted as saying that "Muskegon" was a Chippewa word meaning "cranberry." He went on to say, "30 negroes lived on the Big Bayou, now called Spring Lake. They earned a living by shaving shingles. One day the schooner C. Walker, owned by Capt. Brooks sailed into Spring Lake, all the negroes boarding her and going to Chicago." By 1870 Jesse, Theresa, and their four children were residing in Fruitport Township, Muskegon County, where evidently he spent his last years. They were still there as late as 1900. At that time their son Jesse II and his wife, Emma, were living next door. Jesse's and Theresa's children were: Levina, born about 1851; Jessias, born about 1853; Jesse II, who was born in April 1855 and died in Fruitport on; January 1, 1934; and Royal, born about 1860. Jesse I was the first farmer to raise apples in the Fruitport area. He died on August 28, 1905 and was buried at Fruitport Cemetery, as were Theresa, who died on May 3, 1904, and Jesse II.

Joseph H. Coon [1907–1985]

Joseph Coon, who was born on November 20, 1907, moved to Grand Haven in 1948 and was employed by Bastian-Blessing. Prior to that he was with the Coast Guard. He retired from the military with the rank of Ensign after 19 years of service, and he once was a member of the Escanaba. He died in Grand Haven on May 21, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Emelia, passed away on June 6, 2003 and was buried near her husband.

Benjamin F. Cooper [1801-1864]

Born in Utica, New York in 1801, Benjamin Cooper bought 640 acres in the area that became known as Coopersville. In 1829 he married Mary A. Brantly, who was born in New York about 1801. Benjamin was the founder of the community, starting in 1845. For several years the land remained mostly unpopulated. In 1858 Benjamin offered to donate to the railroad all the land it needed, if the station were named after him. Timothy Eastman wanted to name the town Polkton, in honor of then President James Polk, but Benjamin prevailed. On January 22, 1859, the name Coopersville became official. It was incorporated as a village in 1871 and became a city in 1967. Benjamin and his two sons built a sawmill and a dry goods store in Coopersville. Benjamin died in 1864.

Clayton J. Cooper [1900-1983]

Born in Muskegon on September 19, 1900, Clayton Cooper was founder of Cooper Machine and Welding, which he operated for 41 years, retiring in 1978 as its president and treasurer. On May 21, 1921 he married Laura M. Viebrock. Laura lived from April 10, 1895 to August 20, 1990. Their children included Alva E. Cooper, who was born on June 2, 1926, resided in Spring Lake, and died October 2, 1999; Eileen, who married Curtis Amundson of Grand Rapids; Shirley, who married Harold Van Etten of Muskegon; and Charles Cooper of New Port Richey, Florida. Clayton died in Muskegon in April 1983. [Tribune obituary, April 14, 1983.]

David Mack Cooper [1827-1908]

Reverend David Cooper succeeded William Ferry as pastor at Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. Rev. Ferry officially retired in April 1857, but David Cooper appears to have been in Grand Haven as early as 1856. He was born in Detroit on April 18, 1827. On May 6, 1851 he married Arabella M. Baldwin in Washtenaw County. A native of Vermont [New York], she was born about 1828. Their children were Mary L., born in Michigan about 1854, and David L., born in Michigan about 1858. Rev. Cooper left Grand Haven because of poor health in 1863. By 1870 the Coopers were residing in Albion, Calhoun County. Arabella died in Detroit on October 5, 1881. On October 29, 1883, he married Carrie Skinner in Battle Creek. David passed away on August 28, 1908 in Detroit.

Jacob Cooper [1896-1918]

Jacob Cooper was born August 25, 1896. His mother was Dowina [Delia] Cooper of Ferrysburg. She was born May 12, 1869 and died on December 4, 1933. Jacob's father, Hemmo, lived from December 15 1869 to December 31, 1910. A few days before the Armistice ended World War I, Jacob was mortally wounded in France and died on November 7, 1918. He was a member of Company L of the 128th Infantry, 32nd Division. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with other family members.

John William Cooper [1879-1954]

John Cooper started out as a claims adjuster for the railroad. In 1914 he purchased from John Buss the building at 226 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Buss had a saloon at this site called Jack's, which apparently remained in business for a few years before Cooper opened a variety store. In 1924 he added a coal and trucking business, concentrating primarily on the local delivery of fruits from this area, and gradually phased out the store. He sold the coal business to Eli West in 1945. It was located west of Liberty Street on the north side of the railroad tracks. John married Kathryn [Cathryn] Eckelcamp. The daughter of Henry John and Reintje Vos Eckelcamp, Kathryn lived from April 1, 1888 to August 15, 1968. They resided on Buchanan Street in Spring Lake and later at 107 West Exchange. John was born on October 17, 1879 and died on October 16, 1954. He and Kathryn were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children were Mildred, Dorothy, Rose, and Ruth. Ruth married John J. Holtrop of Spring Lake.

Nelson Cooper [1842-1910]

See Nelson Neels.

Earl Cope [1915-2001]

By the mid-1950s Earl Cope owned Cope's Hardware Store at 820 East Savidge in Spring Lake. In the late 1970s the store passed into the hands of Wilbur Hughes, who changed the name of the business to Village Hardware. Earl married Helen McMinney in Grand Haven on October 4, 1939 and divorced in Ottawa County on December 22, 1941. They may have been married and divorced twice, since they also are recorded as being married in Bryan, Ohio on April 4, 1942 and divorced in Ottawa County on December 2, 1950. Helen was born about 1917 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1935. Later he and his second wife, Wilma A. [1910-1994], resided at 812 East Savidge. Earl was born in Benton, Kentucky on September 7, 1915 and passed away in Spring Lake on July 24, 2001. Wilma, who was born on July 6, 1910, died in Florida on December 11, 1994. He and Wilma were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Alfred Joseph Cordes [1898-1949]

Alfred, the adopted son of Allen and Julia Kellar Cordes of Robinson Township, was a welder at Johnston Brothers in Ferrysburg as early as 1928. Born in Chicago, Illinois on June 30, 1898, Alfred married Ula Beatrice Little in Ionia on September 28, 1920. She was born in Palo, Ionia County on September 29, 1902. They had four children, all born in Michigan: Alfred M., born about 1922; Beatrice L., born about 1923; Colleen J., born about 1925; and Don J., born about 1929. In 1930 the family lived on Exchange Street in Spring Lake. In the 1940s they resided at 523 East River in Spring Lake. He passed away on March 2, 1949 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ula married Frank P. Minier in July 1971. He died six years later, and Ula passed away in 1982. She was then residing at 939 Franklin Street.

Allen Relyer Cordes [1880-1962]

Allen, the son of Michael and Mary Cordes, was born in Grand Rapids on June 20, 1880. By 1900 Allen was residing in Chicago with his brother and working as a musician. He was listed as a single man. The 1910 census noted he was married to Julia Ada Kellar and still working as a musician. Living with them was a ten-year-old son, Alfonso, but at some point they adopted a boy who became known as Alfred, and Alfonso disappeared. Allen married Adelphia J. Kellar in Detroit on August 3, 1916. He was continuing his work as a musician. Apparently Adelphia J. Kellar and Julia Ada Kellar are the same person. Julia was born in Illinois about 1880. On his WWI draft registration form Allen noted that he was “lame in one leg” and apparently was not called to service. At the time of registration, he was working as a farmer in Ottawa County and still listed his wife as Adelphia, but in the 1920 census she appears again as Julia. Living with Allen and Julia in 1920 at 119 Hopkins Street in Grand Haven was their son Alfred J., who was born in Chicago on June 30, 1897 [1898] and died in Grand Haven on March 2, 1949. Allen was then working as a welder at Challenge Refrigerator. In the 1920s Allen and Julia purchased a 40-acre farm in Section 1 of Robinson Township [approximately 10367 North Cedar Drive], where they constructed a barn in 1928. Three years later they converted the barn to a restaurant and dance hall named Jac Jungle. The initials of his wife’s name, Julia A. Cordes, supplied the word “Jac.” In 1943 Allen sold his business to John Freitchen of Robinson Township. Allen died in Palm Beach, Florida on April 22, 1962, and Julia had passed away on 1942. Both were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

John Corey [1863-1954]

Born in Syria October 15, 1863, John Corey in 1900 owned a pool hall at 12 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. In 1914 John was working at Eagle Ottawa and residing with his family at 1037 Washington. By 1930 he was retired and resided at 1433 Washington with his family. John’s wife, Husan [Osen/Oren], also was born in Syria on May 15, 1880. Their son, Charles J. Corey, was born in Michigan about 1914. John passed away on September 23, 1954, and Husan died on July 6, 1955. They were buried at Resurrection Cemetery in Wyoming, Kent County.

John Franklin Corl [1865-1926]

In the early 1900s John Corl was employed as secretary/superintendent at the Story & Clark Piano Company. He subsequently opened his own business, Western Piano Supply Company, which operated at 702 North Sixth Street from July 1903 to 1910, and he operated the John F. Corl Piano Company at the same address. Western Supply manufactured piano cases for shipping. Around 1900 John and his wife, Lucinda Anne, purchased the Enoch Cummings residence at 482 Sheldon Terrace, which they later sold to Nelson Howlett. By 1908 the Corls resided in a house on Pennoyer, west of the railroad tracks. John was mayor of Grand Haven in 1906 and 1907. The Corls later moved to Battle Creek, where John started Corl Piano Company and then to East Cleveland, Ohio, where he managed an auto and truck sales company. John was born in Albany, New York on April 29, 1865 and died in East Cleveland, Ohio on March 25, 1926. Lucinda was born in Kingston, New York on December 12, 1866 and passed away in East Cleveland on April 1, 1941.

Ulysses Stewart Cornell [1868-1967]

Ulysses Cornell was born in Door County, Wisconsin, on January 14, 1868. On July 2, 1889 in Sheboygan, Wisconsin, he married Clara Clausen, who was born in Milwaukee on December 22, 1867. They had three children, all born in Wisconsin: William Cornell [1893-1978]; Elmer Theodore Cornell [1890-1966]; and Viola Dorothy Cornell [1903-1980]. In the Federal Census of 1900 for Sheboygan, Ulysses was listed as “Light House Keeper.” In 1910, still in Sheboygan, his occupation was listed as “Captain” in the “Fisherman” industry. By 1914, he and Clara were living on South Water Street in Grand Haven. The City Directory for that year noted he was “in charge of fishing” for N. [Nathaniel] Robbins. Clara passed away in Grand Haven on May 22, 1927 and was buried at Wildwood Cemetery in Sheboygan. In 1928 Ulysses and his daughter Viola were living at 314 Wallace Street. Ulysses married Bertha Sheets in Grand Rapids on September 20, 1929. By 1938 he was working for Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. In 1940, he and Bertha resided at 615 Fulton Street. Born in Ohio, she lived from 1879 to 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ulysses died on November 2, 1967 and also was buried at Lake Forest. The abbreviation for “Captain” was engraved on his headstone. At the time of his death, Ulysses lived at 905 Madison Street.

John Mott Cornelius [1830-1906]

John Cornelius was a farmer and fruit grower in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township, where by 1880 he owned 600 acres that surrounded the bayou later given his name [later named Jerusalem Bayou]. John's daughter, Mary Bertha Cornelius [1863-1947], bought 25 acres in the same area. John was one of the organizers of the Ottawa County Fruit & Vegetable Association, established in 1896, and he was a justice of the peace and councilman for Spring Lake Township. A native of New York, he lived from June 18, 1830 to April 7, 1906 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County. On June 15, 1856 in Southfield, Oakland County he married Anna Tuthill Russell. She was born in Hampton New York on March 3, 1833 and died in San Francisco on February 21, 1921. She also was buried at Oakhill. They had six surviving children.

Joseph Ewing Correll [1880-1920]

Joseph Correll had a dairy farm at 810 Madison in Grand Haven, where he sold his products and lived with his wife and children. Joseph married Gertrude Fant Westerhof in Grand Haven on September 20, 1906. They had at least five children, including Marjorie Louise Correll, who was born in La Porte, Indiana on July 28, 1917 and married Howard De Heer of Grand Haven. Joseph, who was born in Indiana, lived from August 1880 to September 8, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Gertrude, the daughter of Egbert and Gertrude Fant Westerhof, passed away on July 19, 1944 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Joseph was the son of Samuel A. and Mary Jane Adair Correll. Prentice Correll was his brother.

Prentice Correll [1850-1927]

Prentice Correll was born in Noble County, Indiana on March 3, 1850. His parents, Samuel A. and Mary Jane Adair Correll, moved to Grand Haven Township. Samuel was born in Pennsylvania in 1822 and died in Pikes Peak, Colorado on January 23, 1864, while Mary lived from May 11, 1825 to September 11, 1909 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. She was the daughter of Joseph Ewing and Eliza Winders Adair. Prentice was a farmer and auctioneer, whose 40-acre farm was located in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township. Prentice died July 29, 1927. Joseph Ewing Correll was his brother.

Augustus Marion Cosgrove [1855-1938]

Born in Ashland, Ohio on February 15, 1855, Augustus was the son of Stephen C. of New Jersey and Hannah Hiler Cosgrove of New York. Stephen, a broom-maker by trade and later a farmer, died on February 17, 1877, in Crawford, Ohio at the age of 71. Hannah died in September 1891, also in Crawford. Augustus's paternal grandfather was William Cosgrove. Augustus secured employment in the steam engine works at Bucyrus, Ohio. In 1878 he moved to Adrian, Lenawee County. He worked at the Adrian Water Works and acquired knowledge of the details of the business. After eight years he went to Richmond and was employed by a prominent firm there for about one year. In 1885 he came to Grand Haven and was appointed superintendent of the Grand Haven [Wiley] Water Works, then located on South Harbor. By the 1920s he owned a plumbing business at 16 North Seventh.

On November 28, 1878, Augustus married Sarah Ann, the daughter of Frank J. Smith of Jasper, Lenawee County. She was born in New York in October 1853 and died on September 28, 1918. Augustus and Sarah had two children: a daughter, Caroline Ethel Cosgrove, who was born in Jasper on October 14, 1879 and died on June 24, 1902, and a son, Frederick Monroe Cosgrove, who died on November 12, 1899 at the age of 13. Both children died from heart disease, preceded by inflammatory rheumatism. After Sarah Ann's death, Augustus on June 19, 1920 married Margaret "Nellie" Verhoeks Meyer in Spring Lake. She was born in Ohio on January 19, 1869. Her former husband, Henry Meyer, lived from 1866 to 1904. The Cosgrove family resided at 711 Columbus in Grand Haven. Augustus was a member of the Order of the Maccabees. He died on November 15, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Sarah Ann. Nellie passed away on June 28, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, pp. 465-466, and Tribune obituary, June 24, 1902.]

Benjamin N. Coster [1914-1994]

A native of Spring Lake, where he was born on May 19, 1914, Benjamin Coster married Doris Louise, daughter of Hugh and Florence Oviatt Deremo of Crockery Township. The Costers lived at 522 Fleser Court in Spring Lake. Doris was born on June 20, 1908 and died in Grand Haven on June 4, 1997. Benjamin died on March 14, 1994.

Charles W. Cotton [1871-1925]

Born January 10, 1871 in Saranac, Ionia County, Charles Cotton became a printer and for a time was employed in the Government Printing Office at Washington, D.C. He graduated from Northwestern University School of Dentistry and opened his practice in Grand Haven on the second floor of 222 Washington. He served as alderman from 1910 to 1912. He was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1912 and 1913, and he was alderman again from 1916 until May 1918 when he entered the military during WWI. Charles returned to be mayor again in 1923 and 1924. He was a Mason, Worthy Patron of Grand Haven Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, an Elk, an Eagle, and an original member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. He was a member of the Christian Science Church.

In the early 1900s Charles and his wife Margaret Belle resided at 519 Clinton. Later they lived at 415 Clinton. They had two children: Margaret, who was born on December 16, 1899, taught in Grand Rapids, and married Francis Angus of Grand Haven; and Laura, who was born about 1903 and taught in Grand Haven. Charles died October 12, 1925 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Margaret died on December 28, 1943. [Tribune obituary, October 12, 1925.]

John Wilson Cracroft [1880-1914]

John Cracroft tended bar at the Hotel Gildner in downtown Grand Haven in the early 1900s. He and his wife Martha lived at 209 Clinton. He also served as headwaiter aboard the Naomi, a steamer that caught fire in mid-lake on May 21, 1907 with the loss of five lives. John was born on April 15, 1880 and died on January 7, 1914. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On February 24, 1916 Martha married Frederick Lycurgus Palmer. She lived from January 13, 1888 to February 20, 1975 and was buried at Fairplains Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Fred was born in Grand Rapids on January 5, 1882. He died on April 1, 1961 and also was buried at Fairplains.

Eben [Eber] B. Crandle [Crandall] [1840-1899]

Eben B. Crandle served with Company E of the 14th Michigan Infantry during the Civil War. He was born in 1840 and died in 1899. His wife Ellen lived from 1852 to 1917. He owned a 117-acre farm in Section 6 of Robinson Township as early as 1876. Eben and Ellen were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Edward Livingston Craw I [1832-1912]

On August 28, 1862, while living in Lyons, Ionia County, Edward Craw journeyed to Grand Rapids, where he enlisted as first lieutenant with Company E of the Sixth Michigan Cavalry. On May 9 the next year, he was promoted to captain, and on November 12, 1863 he was discharged for disability. In the spring of 1866 Edward, a fruit farmer, purchased considerable acreage in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township and Fruitport Township and a smaller plot in Section 2 for his orchard. In 1868 he platted the Village of Crawsville, later changed to Fruitport. He was a developer and promoter of the Pomona House in Fruitport. A portion of his holdings in Spring Lake Township became the site of the Willows Resort.

Edward was born in Wayne County, New York on June 7, 1832. On November 10, 1858, in Chagrin Falls, Ohio, Edward married Julia Annah Soule, who was from Dover Plains [Dutchess County], New York, where she was born on October 16, 1836. Julia was the daughter of Ambrose and Ruth Patten Brown Soule of Spring Lake. The Craws children were: Lillian Inez, who was born in Illinois on July 29, 1859 and died on June 28, one day short of her 20th birthday; Edward S., who was born in Onandaga, New York on March 3, 1862 and died in 1919 in Grand Rapids; Sarah Annette, who was born in Grand Haven on January 5, 1868 and died in 1919 in Grand Rapids; Mary Cordelia, who was born in Grand Haven on August 11, 1869 and died on February 26, 1963 in Grand Rapids; Florence Laura, who was born in Grand Haven on November

7, 1870 and died on September 10, 1877; Claribel, who was born on November 19, 1872 and died on July 11, 1879; Viola, who was born on March 4, 1874 in Ottawa County and died in Grand Rapids on October 3, 1958; and Evelyn Noble, who was born on March 12, 1879 in Grand Haven.

In the 1870 census Edward was listed as a “Realestate merchant.” In the spring of 1869 Edward and Julia sold 85 acres in Section 11 to David and Alice Waters, leaving the Crows with two parcels totaling approximately 80 acres. In 1887 they sold 64 acres to Jacob and Anna Ferris, property that later became known as the Willows Resort. About the same time they sold Sunny Slope Farms in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township to Marshall Field & Company of Chicago for use as a campsite for its executives.

By 1880 Edward and his family were residing in Grand Haven, where he continued in the real estate business. He was still in Grand Haven in 1890, but by 1910 he was living in Grand Rapids with his wife and three of their children. Julia died on February 16, 1912. Edward passed away on June 19 the same year and was buried with Julia, Edward S., and Sarah at Valley City Cemetery in Kent County.

Arthur R. Crawford [1909-1981] and Mary Elizabeth “Libby” Crawford [1913-2005]

The first permanent home in the Holcomb Hills subdivision was built in 1972 by Arthur and Libby Crawford at 18255 Holcomb Hills. Arthur was born on March 4, 1909, died on October 25, 1981, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Libby was born on February 3, 1913, the daughter of John N. and Winnifred Linderman Forshar. Arthur and Libby were married in Port Huron on June 23, 1934. Libby graduated from Alma College in 1932, and 52 years later received the college’s Distinguished Alumni Award. She was an active member of Calvin Presbyterian Church in Detroit, and during the 1940s and 1950 she sang with and composed music and lyrics for the Rosedale Progressive Club’s Choralairs, a women’s chorus. Her song, “For Christ is Born,” was recorded by Columbia and performed by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. In the 1990s the West Shore Symphony Orchestra performed Christmas carols Libby had composed. An accomplished weaver, she hosted weaving workshops in the United States and Canada. After moving to Grand Haven in 1971, she joined that community’s Presbyterian Church and choir, served as artist-in-residence in several Grand Haven elementary schools. Libby died in Holland, Michigan, on February 26, 2005 and was buried with her husband. The Crawfords’ children included Linda Crawford of Southold, New York; Jill Crawford Kartalia of Westminster, Maryland; Richard Crawford, of Ann Arbor; and Jeffrey Crawford of Cedarville, Ohio. [Tribune obituary, March 2, 2005.]

Marvin Henry Creager I [1836-1898]

Born in Geauga County, Ohio, on March 1, 1836, Marvin Creager moved to Berlin [Marne], Ottawa County, in 1856. On April 30, 1861 he enlisted as first sergeant in Company F of the 2nd Michigan Cavalry. He was promoted to second lieutenant and then captain. After he was mustered out on August 15, 1865, Marvin moved to Chester Township, where he took up the lumbering business. After his business burned down in 1871, he spent a year teaching and in 1876 he was elected county treasurer and moved to Grand Haven. In 1881 he was appointed collector of internal revenue for Grand Haven. In partnership with James C. Cilley, Marvin in the spring of 1881 built a planing mill near the Pere Marquette train depot on Jackson Street in Grand Haven. Marvin was secretary of the Republican County Committee in 1866-67, and later became chairman of that group. Marvin operated the Grand Haven Herald in behalf of the Whitman Benham estate from October 1880 until the firm of Kedzie & Kedzie purchased it a few months later. Marvin and his family moved to Kansas in 1883. He died there on April 20, 1898 and was buried at Forest Hill Cemetery in his birthtown. On November 8, 1866, he married Alma [Alva] Edward [Eldred] in Huron, Ohio. She was born about 1874 in Ashland, Ohio. On August 29, 1868 in Chester Township a son, Phillip Sheridan Creager, was born; he died in 1906. A daughter, Mattie [Hattie] Estelle Creager, died at the age of seven years on February 5, 1875 and was buried at Lake Forest. A third child, Sidney Henry Creager, lived from 1873 to 1969. A daughter, Clementine Viola Creager, lived from 1877 to 1954. On December 31, 1874, in Grand Rapids, Marvin married May [Mary] Paine, who was born in Sweden about 1845. Their son, Marvin Henry Creager II, was born in Grand Haven on February 4, 1882; he passed away in Milwaukee on December 4, 1954.

William M. Creason [1922-2014]

Bill Creason was born in Dishman, Washington in 1922. His parents, Walter and Hattie, bought a farm near Fennville, Allegan County, and resided there. They were killed in a car accident in 1950. After attending Western Michigan University, Bill obtained his dental degree from the University of Michigan. He served in the Navy and in the Army between 1943 and 1953, including service in Germany. In 1945 he married Mary Rawlinson, who was born on November 20, 1945. The couple subsequently moved to Grand Haven, where Bill practiced dentistry for 47 years. He served on the City Council from 1955 to 1956 and again in 1961 and 1962, and he was mayor from 1957 to 1958 and again from 1963 to 1968. The Musical Fountain was his idea, based on something similar he had seen during his military stay in Germany. While mayor, he and cooperating businesses experimented with a downtown mall. He was a member of the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. He belonged to and helped foster the work of the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, Grand Haven Rotary Club, the Tri-Cities YMCA, the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, and the Stag Club. Bill and Mary, who resided at 824 Lake Avenue, had four children: Kennard, Yvonne, Steve, and Paul. Bill passed away at home on September 21, 2014. [Tribune obituary, September 24, 2014.]

Mary, who flew a plane solo for the first time in 1943, received her commercial rating three years later and went on to teach hundreds of students how to fly. She flew fast and low and placed in many air races across the U.S., Mexico, Canada, and Hawaii. She had a presidential appointment to the Women's Advisory Committee to the FAA between 1969 and 1974. After selling her business in 1978, she worked in Lansing for the Michigan Department of Aeronautics for 12 years, where she was the first female pilot and worked in administration on safety and education. She was chairwoman of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission 1991-92. In 1992, she and other pilots founded the Michigan Aviation Education Foundation, which grants scholarships to students interested in a career in aviation. In 1966, she earned an Airline Transport Rating, and her ultimate dream was to become the first woman pilot for a U.S. airline. By 1984, however, when the first woman was promoted to captain, she was too old. We believe that after that, whenever she was flying commercially on an airline and a female pilot announced the flight crew, she would smile, and know that she had a part in their success. She was also very involved in introducing aviation to young people, and she did this with ACE camps at Grand Haven Airport, which many local kids attended over the years, Boyne Mountain Air Academy, and her work at Michigan Aeronautics. She was born on November 20, 1924 and died on March 26, 2021.

Cresswell [? - ?]

A man with the last name of Cresswell opened what some considered the first photography studio in Grand Haven, although no date was cited.

Thomas Henry Cron [1924-2005]

The son of Charles and Mary Beiersdorfer Cron, Thomas was born in Celina, Ohio, on September 6, 1924. He married Evelyn Louise Reichard on May 29, 1948 in Dayton, Ohio. Thomas served with the U.S. Army during WWII, earned a bachelor degree from the University of Dayton in 1948, and a Doctor of Optometry degree from the Illinois College of Optometry in Chicago in 1953. He practiced optometry in Muskegon and Grand Rapids. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Spring Lake, and he was a member of the Ferrysburg City Council. Thomas and Evelyn had two daughters and five sons: Barbara, who married Doug Nastally and moved to Brownsburg, Indiana; Susan, who married Michael McDermott and moved to Bloomfield Hills, Oakland County; Michael, who moved to Canadian Lakes; Steven, of Grand Rapids; Kenneth of Vicksburg; Ron, of Muskegon; and Joseph of Federal Way, Washington. The family resided at 17377 West Spring Lake Road. Thomas died in Spring Lake on December 19, 2005 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 21, 2005.]

Edward Gifford Crosby [1842-1912]

Born in New York on February 18, 1842, Edward Crosby on August 15, 1861 enlisted as private in Company E of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. He was mustered out on September 3, 1864. Edward came to Muskegon about

1866 and developed an interest in ships. He obtained a tiny tug and picked up logs that had gone adrift until he was able to buy the steamer Nyack. He then moved to Milwaukee, where he founded and managed Crosby Transportation Company. He maintained an office in Grand Haven. Among his other ships were the E. G. Crosby, Conestoga, and May Graham. On April 18, 1868 he married Catherine Elizabeth Halstead. Catherine and their daughter Harriette often accompanied Edward on ship. The three of them were aboard the ill-fated steamer Titanic when it left England on its maiden voyage in April 1912. Edward lost his life when the big ship struck an iceberg just before midnight on April 14. He was reported to have said to his wife and daughter as he put them into a lifeboat, "I will stay here: you go: if it be my fortune to get out of this alive I will see you again, if not, good-bye." Catherine was born in Waterloo, New York on October 26, 1847 and died on July 29, 1920 in Milwaukee. Both Crosbys were interred at Fairview Mausoleum in Milwaukee. Harriette lived from October 8, 1872 to February 11, 1941. The Crosbys' son, Frederick, was born in Michigan about 1881. [Pamphlet in Loutit District Library, "In Memory of Capt. Edward G. Crosby."]

George Herbert Cross [1866-1964]

The son of James and Sarah Tenny Cross, George was born on May 4, 1866 in Monroe County, New York. He moved with his family to Michigan and eventually to Spring Lake around 1870. Like his brothers, Ira and Lewis, he attended Valpariso College in Indiana. In 1889 George and his brother Lewis made a long trip in a sailboat they made down the coast of Lake Michigan to the Illinois River and then to the Mississippi and eventually into the Gulf of Mexico. In Pensacola, Florida they sold the boat and returned home by train. George kept a journal of their trip; a copy of that journal, titled "Down the Mississippi, or the Cruise of the Mockingbird," is in the Tri-Cities Historical Museum's archives. On September 2, 1903 in Coldwater, St. Joseph County, he married Jessie Freemyre Stiles, who was born about 1877. They had at least two daughters, Ruth, born about 1905, and Margaret, born three years later. George became an attorney and assistant prosecutor in Muskegon., where he and his family also resided. George died in October 1964.

Ira H. Cross [1868–1948]

Ira Cross was born in Michigan, probably in Spring Lake, on December 30, 1868, not long after his parents, James A. and Sarah Cross, had moved there. On November 15, 1893 Ira married Minnie, the daughter of Hance and Catherine Wilson. Minnie, who was born in Canada on October 21, 1875, came to Spring Lake from Canada with her parents when she was five. Ira attended Valparaiso College in Indiana and returned to Spring Lake to teach at Patchin School. Not long after their marriage, Ira and Minnie lived on the Cross family farm bordering the Grand River in Section 31 of Crockery Township, close to both their families. They had at least two daughters: Hazel, born in August 1898, and Florence I., born on April 25, 1901. Ira died on March 30, 1948 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. About that time Minnie sold the farm and moved into the Village of Spring Lake. She passed away on August 5, 1972 and was buried near her husband.

James Arthur Cross [1836-1914]

James Cross, a New York native, lived from August 1836 to March 29, 1914. His wife, Sarah A., lived from 1835 to January 16, 1895. Both were natives of New York. Around 1868 the Crosses moved to Crockery Township, where James grew fruit in Section 31 along the Grand River. Their children were Charles B., who was born about 1862 in Michigan and became a municipal judge in Muskegon, Lewis, who was born in June 1864 in Davison, Genesee County; George H., who was born about 1866 in New York and became assistant prosecutor in Muskegon; and Ira S, who was born on December 30, 1868 in Michigan. By 1893 James and Sarah resided in Spring Lake Village. After his first wife's death in 1895, James married Sarah Bigelow Rymer, the widow of John Rymer. They were married in Nunica on December 6, 1900. This Sarah was born in 1863 in New York, died on April 8, 1948 in Fruitport, and was buried at Fruitport Cemetery. James and his first wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Jesse Morris Cross I [1828-1901]

Born in Grantham, New Hampshire, on February 24, 1828, Jesse Morris Cross studied for the law and then entered the ministry, serving in New Hampshire, Urbana, Ohio, and Grand Haven. On April 12, 1860 he married Lucinda C. Noyes of Essex County, Massachusetts, where she was born on March 9, 1839. Jesse and his family arrived in Grand Haven on October 6, 1869, when he started serving as pastor of the Presbyterian Church for two years. Between 1872 and 1882 he practiced law in Grand Haven with Stephen L. Lowing. Lucinda died on November 30, 1872. Five years later, on November 21, 1877, Jesse married Elizabeth M. Beckwith. She was the daughter of Hiram and Hannah Moore Beckwith, who raised fruit in Spring Lake Township. Elizabeth was born in Shelby, New York, on November 25, 1847. She became a teacher and was principal of Grand Haven High School, and from 1876 to 1877 she was superintendent of Schools in Grand Haven. She earned a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Worcester University. Jesse's children were Helen, born in 1862 in Ohio; Harry, who was born in 1863 in Ohio and died in Grand Haven in December 1894; Albert M., born in 1872 in Ohio; and Jessie M., born in 1873 in Michigan. Daughter Jessie apparently was Elizabeth's only child. After Jesse died on November 11, 1901, Elizabeth moved to Seattle, Washington, where she studied educational methodology at the University of Washington and received another degree when she was 60. She spent the next ten years teaching English at Snohomish High School. In 1930 she was retired and residing in Seattle with her widowed brother, Andrew Beckwith. [Tribune obituary, December 28, 1894.]

Lewis Cross [1864-1951]

Born on January 10, 1864 near Davison, Genesee County, Lewis in 1868 came to Ottawa County with his parents, James A. and Sarah Cross. Lewis never married. He made his living as a farmer, fruit grower, hunter, and fisherman, as well as a taxidermist and artist. He loved to paint and dabble in art. 500 to 600 of his paintings sold at auction after his death. Someone from Chicago bought many, including nine large ones Lewis had stored and displayed in his home. Those nine paintings were rolled back-to-back into a drum that he created for storage. Lewis would pull them down and display them on a whim. Two of them came into the collection of the Grand Rapids Art Museum. Lewis did two to three dozen paintings of passenger pigeons, all in the same earth tones. The Tri-Cities Historical Museum was given a very large one with several figures of children, and another smaller, somewhat stylized painting that was perhaps unfinished or possibly just an early work. Being a nature lover, Lewis had a special feeling for the pigeons and what was happening to them. He began the paintings so "no one would forget." In his portraits the subjects looked quite refined. Another of Lewis's painting held by the Museum depicted the 1883 logjam on the Grand River. That painting also represented a blending of art and historical event.

In 1889 Lewis and his brother George made a long sailing trip down the east coast of Lake Michigan to the Illinois River and then to the Mississippi and eventually the Gulf of Mexico. George, who was born on May 4, 1866 in New York, kept a journal of their trip; a copy of that journal is in the Tri-Cities Historical Museum's archives. Lewis's homestead was at the end of Boom Road on the Grand River in Crockery Township. Known as "The Castle," it was built entirely by Lewis between 1910 and 1914. The three-story home was made out of concrete block that he manufactured, and it had concrete floors on all levels. He died on April 4, 1951 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Martin Crow [1837-1900]

John Crow was born in Perry, Ohio on November 8, 1837. While in Iowa he enlisted as private in Company E of the 22nd Iowa Infantry on August 7, 1862. John was mustered out on July 25, 1865 and eventually located in Grand Haven Township, where he had a 40-acre farm in Section 28. On July 16, 1857 in Carroll, Missouri, he married Rebecca [Rebecka] Harris. She applied for a widow's Civil War pension on June 22, 1900, not long after Elmer died on May 3 that year. She was born in Mississippi, lived from November 7, 1841 to June 10, 1910, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery with her husband and other family members. The Crows had seven children, including Mabel, who was born in 1875 and on November 12, 1892 in Grand Haven married Elmer Suits.

Barbara Jean Crozier [1945-2017]

John and Barbara Crozier were the original owners of the home at 12989 Wilderness Trail, high atop a wooded dune in an area called the Wilderness, a few miles south of Grand Haven. Barbara, the daughter of Bert and Lillian Vanderwest, was born in Muskegon on September 5, 1945. A graduate of Michigan State University and Cooley Law School, Barbara was hired as an adoption case worker. Later she was employed by the Kent County Prosecutor's office and finally went into private practice. She and John were married about 1966. John was principal of Ferry and Griffin Elementary Schools in the Grand Haven Public School District and later became a fire fighter. He was born in Holland on October 9, 1942.

Barbara formed a friendship with Carol Irons, a Grand Rapids District Court Judge. Together they purchased from Sidney Kleinman of Chicago a few acres in the Wilderness. On October 19, 1988, Judge Irons was murdered by her ex-husband, Clarence Ratliff, an officer with the Grand Rapids Police Department. Following Carol's death, Barbara took ownership of the Wilderness property, selling portions of it and building the house at 12989 Wilderness Trail. Clarence died in prison in 2011. In September 1993, the Croziers sold their Wilderness home to Frank and Wendy Fernandes of West Chicago, Illinois and moved to 18270 North Shore Estates Road in Spring Lake Township. They had three daughters and two sons. One of the sons, John Bryant Crozier, died in Grand Rapids on February 19, 1966, not quite 45 years old.

Barbara passed away at her home in Spring Lake on January 18, 2017. [Tribune obituary, January 20, 2017.]

Edward Page Cummings [1871-1916]

Edward was born in Grand Haven on June 28, 1871, the son of Enoch and Juliet Dailey Cummings. Edward graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1889 and in 1893 from the literary department at the University of Michigan. He was superintendent of Lansing City Schools for ten years, in charge of the Spring Lake Schools from 1895 to 1899, principal of Grand Haven High School in 1899, and superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1900 to April 1, 1907. His salary the first year was $700. Cummings was president of the State Teachers Association and was regarded as one of the foremost men in education. On July 2, 1901 he married Louise R. Kay, daughter of Charles M. and Elizabeth Scott Kay of Spring Lake. Louise was born in Spring Lake on May 2, 1876. Edward and Louise had three children: Frank Edward, who was born on June 22, 1903, Elizabeth, and Jean. Edward died on March 31, 1916 in Chicago of self-inflicted gunshot wounds to the temple and chest on the same day his brother Herbert passed away in Grand Haven. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. After his father's death, Frank lived with his aunt, Nettie Kay Hargraves, in Chicago. [Tribune articles, "Brothers Die the Same Day," 1916, and wedding announcement July 1 and 3, 1901.]

Enoch Page Cummings [1837-1901]

Enoch was born in Grafton County, New Hampshire on November 30, 1837, the son of Edward Taylor and Mary McGrath Cummings. Enoch came to Grand Haven in 1867 and was reported to be the first to open a dentistry practice in the city. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan and was one of the first dentists in the country to make a cleft palate plate. When he retired in 1897, his son Herbert took over the practice, with offices at 202 Washington. Enoch in 1892 built the large home at 482 Sheldon Terrace. He died on February 20, 1901 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Juliet Walker Dailey, was born in Boston on May 8, 1835. They were married in Lebanon, Grafton County, New Hampshire on October 31, 1864. The Cummings family reportedly also had lived at 401 Sheldon Road. Another son, Edward Page Cummings, was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools in the early 1900s. Juliette passed away on January 23, 1917 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Herbert Thurston Cummings [1874-1916]

Born in Grand Haven on November 10, 1874, the son of Enoch and Juliet Dailey Cummings, Herbert, who studied in Chicago and at the University of Michigan, took over his father's dentistry practice in 1897. The office was on the second floor of 202 Washington. The 1908 Directory noted that he also roomed at the same address. Herbert was widely recognized in dentistry for fine workmanship, but "an unfortunate craving for liquor ruined his life." Herbert died in Grand Haven, at the age of 42, from a "heavy dose" of arsenic and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On the same day, March 31, 1916, his brother Edward, then living in Chicago, killed himself. Herbert married Marietta Boynton, who was born in Wisconsin in March 1882. The couple was divorced in Ottawa County on August 5, 1905. On May 3, 1911, Marietta married Charles S. Clapton in Seattle, Washington. He was born about 1880 in Texas. By 1920, they were living in Berkeley, California. Marietta died in Chicago on June 4, 1926. [Tribune article, "Brothers Die the Same Day, 1916."]

Robert Lane Currier I [1924-1999]

Robert was born in Grosse Pointe, Wayne County on January 24, 1924, the son of Osceola and Viola Sommers Currier. Robert served in the Navy during WWII as a Hellcat pilot with Fighter Squadron 34 on the USS Saratoga and USS Monterey. He attended Choate Academy in Connecticut and Williams College in Massachusetts, and he graduated from the University of Michigan. His first wife, Patricia Hefferan, was born on September 20, 1922 and died in Ottawa County on February 11, 1972. Robert then married Joan Sweeney Owen.

Joan was born in Brooklyn New York, on April 6, 1926. Her parents were Charles Anthony and Muriel Rutan Sweeney. She married Robert E. Owen on August 12, 1950. He died in 1973. Joan then married Robert M. Edison in January 1976. He died two years later. She then married Robert Currier on October 12, 1982.

Robert founded and operated Mackinaw Engineering and he co-founded Shape Corporation of Grand Haven in 1974. Later he also helped establish Light Corporation, Finish Corporation, and Track Corporation, all in Grand Haven. Robert was a member of the Lost Tree Club of North Palm Beach, Florida, Kent Country Club in Grand Rapids, and the Spring Lake Country Club. He belonged to the Spring Lake Yacht Club and similar organizations elsewhere. He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Grand Haven. He and Joan resided at 12945 Lakeshore Drive, located in a lakeshore development south of Grand Haven called the Wilderness. Robert died on December 24, 1999, and Joan passed away on September 3, 2004. The Curriers brought six children to their marriage: Robert Currier II of Grand Rapids; Thomas Currier of Grand Haven; Lawrence R. Owen of Indiana; Mary H. Currier of New Mexico Mary Louise Owen Bradley Davis of Grand Haven; and Barbara Owen Edgerle of Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, September 7, 2004.]

John W. Curtis [1837-1897]

John Curtis was listed as a fruit grower in the Federal Census of 1870. His 32-acre farm was in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township. John was born in New York in 1837. His wife Frank, also a native of the Empire State, was born about 1844. Their son Harry was born in Michigan about 1868. The Curtises remained in Section 1 until at least 1876. John died in San Francisco, California, on August 20, 1897 and was buried at San Francisco Columbarian.

Benjamin Franklin Curtiss [1820-1880]

Born in Cuyahoga County, Ohio in 1820, Benjamin Curtiss was admitted to the bar in Trumbull County of that state in 1844. In May eleven years later, he arrived in Grand Haven and was prosecuting attorney from 1866 to 1867. For a short time, he practiced law with William H. Parks, who moved to Holland. Benjamin worked alone from that point on. His wife Lucy was born in Ohio about 1834. Their son Edward D. was born in Ohio around 1855. Edward worked at a planing mill in 1880. The family resided in the 100 block of Washington Street. Benjamin and Lucy lost their lives in the wreck of the Alpena on October 15, 1880.

Charles Wesley Cushman [1834-1877]

Charles Cushman was principal of Grand Haven Union High School [Clinton School] from 1860 to 1863. He was born in New Hampshire on May 11, [November 5] 1834, the son of Ebenezer and Abigail Emery Cushman. On August 30, 1858 in Bath, New Hampshire, he married Sarah Stevens. He and his Sarah were residents of Grand Haven as late as July 1, 1863. Charles died in Iowa on February 17, 1877.

John W. Cusick [1869-1956]

John Cusick was a clerk in Andy Falls Grocery Store in the early 1900s. He delivered groceries for the store by wagon and boat. In the 1910 census he was listed as a carpenter. In 1915 he was hired as the first superintendent of the Spring Lake Water Works, as well as marshal, janitor, and street commissioner, at a salary of $780 a year. Two years later his salary was increased to $900. John, who was born in New York on August 24, 1869, retired in 1947, and passed away on August 31, 1956. On May 20, 1903 in Grand Haven he married Catherine D. "Katie" Donahue. She was born in Ireland in 1868 and died in 1921. After her death, John married Elizabeth T., the daughter of Michael and Ann Brady Shoemaker. She was born on April 27, 1881 and died on September 1, 1973. Catherine, Elizabeth, and John were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Edward Cuson [1875-1957]

John Cuson continued the boat-building business started by his father, Mitchell Cuson, at the southwest corner of Lake and Savidge Streets [534 East Savidge]. John and his wife resided on the property. John was born in Chicago, Illinois on June 10, 1875. On April 11, 1899 in Grand Haven, he married Caroline Marie Steinbach. She was born in Spring Lake on January 6, 1879. The boat shop, located on the lot behind the house, was later converted to a residence. John also was a cabinet maker, and in 1918 he was employed by the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. Caroline passed away on July 14, 1945. John died on October 29, 1957. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Mitchell Cuson [1825-1904]

Mitchell Cuson, a native of Canada, owned a boat building business in Spring Lake. His wife, Mary D., lived from 1833 to 1907 and he lived from March 1825 [1827] to 1904. Mary was born in New York. A son, John, was born in Chicago, Illinois on June 10, 1875 and continued his father's boat building business. Mitchell and Mary were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles Cutler [1826-1881]

Charles Cutler, who was born on July 22, 1826 in Amherst, Massachusetts, died on September 16, 1881, when the gas plant at the Cutler Hotel exploded. Joseph Spires, the hotel manager, was injured. Charles, the son of Isaac and Nancy Hastings Cutler, was Dwight Cutler's older brother. On April 4, 1850 he married Harriet Ann Coolidge, who was born in May 1832 in Westminster, Massachusetts. Charles Cutler was their son. In the 1880 census Charles was listed as "Furniture Dealer."

Charles Lyon Cutler [1862-1892]

Charles Cutler, who was born in Grand Haven [Massachusetts] on April 19, 1862, died on May 10, 1892. The son of Charles and Harriet Coolidge Cutler, young Charles worked as a carpenter. On September 23, 1889 in Grand Haven, he married Julia A. Robinson, who was born in Robinson Township in 1875. On June 2, 1915, Julia married George A. Ford [1873-1954] in Grand Rapids. She was the daughter of Benjamin Franklin "Frank" and Ada Robinson. Julia died in 1945 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery, as was George. [Tribune obituary, January 4, 1913.]

Dwight Cutler I [1830-1901]

Dwight Cutler was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on November 18, 1830. He was one of eight children of Isaac Garnsey and Nancy Hastings Cutler. Isaac was born in Greenwich, Connecticut, on November 18, 1782. Nancy, the daughter of Elisha and Jerusha Billings Hastings, was born at Amherst, Massachusetts and baptized on October 14, 1798. She and Isaac were married on December 24, 1807. Isaac graduated from Williams College in the class of 1801, studied medicine and practiced in Amherst until his death on November 29, 1834. Nancy died on January 28, 1849. Dwight's grandfather was born in Amherst, and his great-grandfather was a native of Wales.

Dwight was educated at Williston Seminary in East Hampton, Massachusetts and came to Grand Haven in 1847. He went to work for Gilbert & Company, forwarding and commission merchants with a warehouse and store on the northwest corner of Franklin and Water [Harbor] Streets. In 1853 Henry Martin of Grand Rapids purchased the Gilbert business and put Dwight in charge. After three years Cutler was able to buy out his employer and went into business for himself. During that time, he bought a number of vessels, both sail and steam. The Gilbert name remained for a while, although the business eventually became known as Cutler, Warts, & Stegeman and later as Cutler & Warts [Wartz]. In 1870 Dwight went into partnership with Hunter Savidge and together they bought the Hopkins Mill on Spring Lake. By 1874 Cutler and Savidge had half a million dollars capital to organize the lumber company bearing their names, which became the largest in West Michigan. They had lumberyards in Michigan City, Indianapolis, South Bend, and Detroit and employed over 500 men. When Savidge died in 1881, Dwight became president of the business, and his two sons, along with the two Savidge sons, operated the business until it moved to Canada.

In 1871 Dwight erected the Cutler House, a five-story hotel on the southwest corner of Third and Washington Streets, opposite Sheldon's resort, built in the Second Empire style at a cost of $200,000. After it was destroyed in the fire of 1889, Dwight built another, smaller hotel on the same site and called it the New Cutler House. Around 1893 Dwight bought the former World's Sanitarium and Magnetic Mineral Springs and Laboratory, which previously was owned by his brother-in-law, Willard C. Sheldon. Across the street from the Cutler House, the resort had been converted to a hotel shortly after the 1889 fire and renamed The Norris. It now earned another new name, the Cutler Annex.

Dwight served as mayor of Grand Haven in 1869, 1870, 1890, and 1891. From 1871 until 1891 he served as the first president of the new First National Bank of Grand Haven, a bank he helped organize to replace the Ferry & Son bank. In 1886 he was one of 50 men to develop the Highland Park Association. In 1887 Dwight became a shareholder and director of the newly formed Dake Engine Company. He was an Independent in politics and a member of the Unitarian Church. He also served as trustee of Akeley Institute, he was a principal stockholder and director of Challenge Corn Planter, and he was a director of the Grand Rapids Fire Insurance Company.

On February 10 [16], 1858, in Grand Haven, Dwight married Frances E. Slayton, who was born October 12, 1831 at Stowe, Vermont. Frances was the sister of Caroline Fidelia, who married Ebenezer W. Barnes, one-time postmaster of Grand Haven. Another sister, Mary Malvina, married Willard C. Sheldon of Grand Haven. Frances's brothers were Decatur Slayton of Stowe, Vermont, and Osman Slayton, originally of Stowe and then of California. Her mother, Millison Slayton, who lived from 1802 to 1874, resided in Grand Haven in her later years. Frances died on March 4, 1892 and was interred in the Cutler mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery.

The Cutlers had six children, all born in Grand Haven: Millison [Millicent] Slayton Cutler, who was born on April 8, 1859, married Isaac Lambert, and died in Detroit on August 17, 1950; Esther Pomeroy Cutler, who was born on December 13, 1860, married 25-year-old John Newbury Bagley [1860-1929] of Detroit on March 11, 1884, and passed away in Grosse Pointe on April 22, 1952; Dwight Cutler II, who was born on December 2, 1862; Frances "Fanny" Cutler, who was born on June 6, 1868 and died in San Diego on January 2, 1941; and Mary Cutler, who was born on June 11, 1874, married Edward Lawyer Hardy [1874-1961] in Grand Haven on June 28, 1898, and died in Imperial, California on March 22, 1968.

The Cutlers had a stately residence at the southeast corner of Washington and Third Streets [300 Washington], which burned down in the extensive fire of 1889. In 1899 Dwight built a cottage in Highland Park that he named Grey Gables. Dwight died of complications from diabetes on August 26, 1901 and was buried in the family mausoleum at Lake Forest. Cutler Street in Grand Haven was named in his memory. His niece, Mary Ann Cutler, married William Hubbard, who lived in Grand Rapids, moved to Grand Haven, and then back to Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, March 4, 1892, Tribune article, "Memories of GH 60 Years Ago," July 11, 1957, and American Biographical History.]

Dwight Cutler II [1862-1946]

The son of Dwight and Frances Slayton Cutler, Dwight Cutler II was born in Grand Haven on December 2, 1862. On January 15, 1895 he married Adelaide S. Bowen in Detroit. He died on August 17, 1946 in Detroit and was buried at Woodmere Cemetery in that city.

Isaac Daane [1889-1955]

Born in The Netherlands, Isaac Daane and his wife Gladys owned a celery farm at 1607 South Beacon Boulevard [then called Wallace Street]. Isaac and Gladys Volker were married in Muskegon on August 27, 1921. In 1942 they sold their Wallace Street property to Ralph and Minnie De Young. The Daane's home was located at 1206 Slayton Street. Their children were: Helene, born about 1924; Robert, born on June 8, 1926; Leslie, born about 1930; and Marilyn, born about 1932. Isaac, who was born in The Netherlands on April 20, 1889, died on June 16, 1955. Gladys was born on April 7, 1896 and died on September 21, 1977. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John H. Dabelstein [1902-1975]

Started August 1954 by John H. Dabelstein, Elmer C. Dvorak, and N. M. Carndell, Sterling Manufacturing employed four people. Located at 206 South Jackson in Spring Lake, it manufactured lighting accessories for fluorescent fixtures. John was born on August 16, 1902, died in Grand Haven on September 17, 1975, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Lucille R., was born on May 3, 1907, passed away in Kalamazoo County on November 13, 1986, and also buried at Lake Forest. They resided at 14823 Lakeshore Drive in Grand Haven Township.

Olaf "Olie" Dahlman [1851-1925]

Olaf Dahlman was born in Stockholm, Sweden in November 1851 and arrived in the United States in 1880. Olaf had a son, Arthur, who was born in Michigan in January 1883. Apparently Olaf's first wife died, and on December 18, 1889 Olaf married Johanna Christina Larson in Fruitport. Also a native of Sweden, Johanna was born on May 22, 1872 and immigrated to the United States in 1882. Among Olaf's and Johanna's children were Roy Luz, who was born on April 22, 1892; married Angie, the daughter of Nicholas and Jennie Stuveling Vyn of Grand Haven, on June 12, 1920 moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota Carl O., who was born on November 9, 1893, married Albertina Nitz in Sioux City, Iowa on August 16, 1927, and died in Spring Lake on December 20, 1967; Eric Albert, who was born on March 15, 1895, died on December 30, 1895, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Hilma, born in February 1900; and Ernest L., who was born on January 7, 1911 and died in Muskegon in November 1980. By 1912 the Dahlmans owned a 135-acre fruit farm on the west shore of Spring Lake [Section 10], property which later became known as Lovell Park. Eventually Olaf took up general farming. He died in Spring Lake in 1925. Johanna died on September 18, 1946 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

David Edward "Ed" Dahlstrom [1913-1999]

Ed was born in Whitehall on May 1, 1913, the son of Fred and Selma Anderson Dahlstrom. After graduating from Whitehall High School in 1932 and then Muskegon Junior College, he joined the accounting department of Eagle Ottawa Leather Company in Whitehall.

Ed married Kathleen Matusek on Christmas Day, 1939 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Grand Haven. She was born February 2, 1917, the daughter of Victor and Elsie Metzler Matusek. Kathleen graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934, attended Howell's Business School in Muskegon, and then worked in the personnel office of the Eagle Ottawa Company in Grand Haven. For the next 11 years the Dahlstroms lived in Whitehall before moving to Grand Rapids, where Ed worked for Grand Rapids Metalcraft for two years. In 1952 he and his family moved to Grand Haven, where he joined the accounting department of Challenge Machinery. The family resided at 1206 Hillcrest. Ed remained with the company until his retirement as vice president and treasurer in 1978. He was active on the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army, and in 1998 he was named a Life Member of the Board. He was instrumental in the completion of the new Salvation Army building on De Spelder Street in 1976 and the addition of an education wing two years later.

The Dahlstroms were members of St. John's Lutheran Church, where Ed was treasurer, Elder, and Sunday School superintendent. He joined the Grand Haven Rotary Club in 1966 and served as its president for one year. He also was a founding member of the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, serving as trustee from 1971 to 1977, and he was chair of the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign in 1966. Ed spent many years as an advisor to Junior Achievement and he delivered Meals on Wheels. The Dahlstroms had two sons, David of Grand Haven and Donald of Goodrich, Marquette County, and a daughter, Anne, who lived in Wellington, Florida, with her husband, Martin Riepma. Ed died at his home at 1512 Klempel Farm Road in Grand Haven on December 18, 1999. Kathleen died on January 2, 2000. [Tribune obituaries, December 20, 1999 and January 3, 2000.]

Johann “John” Leonhard Daib [Dail] [1830-1894]

A native of Germany, where he was born on July 13, 1830, John Daib came to America at the age of 19, studied for the ministry, and settled in Grand Rapids. He became the first pastor of St. John’s Evangelical Lutheran Church, organized in Grand Haven on April 8, 1866. Services were in German. He married Susan [Susanna] Eliza Daub in Grand Rapids about 1869. A daughter, Matilda, was born in Grand Rapids the next year on October 10. John died in Indiana on December 31, 1894. Among their 11 children was Herman, who also became a Lutheran minister.

Charles William Dake I [1868–1946]

Born in May 1868 in St. Clair, St. Clair County to Henry F. and Caroline Faulker Dake, Charles studied Mechanical Engineering at the University of Michigan and later was associated with his brother, William F. Dake, at the Dake Engine Company. Early in his career, Charles became a designer of mechanical products and machinery for Challenge Corn Planter of Grand Haven, Grand Rapids Cycle Company, and the Michigan Iron Works of Manistee. In 1889 he designed his first steam turbine, which led in 1902 to the organization of the Dake American Steam Turbine Company of Grand Rapids. In 1909 he sold his interest in the company and became chief engineer and designer of the Pyle National Electric Headlight Company until 1931, when he returned to Grand Haven and took charge of the patent business of the Campbell, Wyant and Cannon Foundry Company of Muskegon. In 1939 he established a firm of patent attorneys and designing engineers in Grand Haven called Dake & Dake. Charles Dake was granted more than 400 patents, including those for operating mechanisms for locomotive lighting. He was a Republican and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Muskegon Heights Board of Trade, Blue Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, Shrine, Elks. Spring Lake Country Club, Citizens Historical Association, and the Presbyterian Church.

On June 25, 1890 Charles married Grand Haven native Johanna C. Vander Noot, the daughter of Cornelius and Caroline Vander Noot. She was born on November 15, 1873. Their children included Caroline Dean Dake, who was born in Grand Haven on June 4, 1891; Henry F. Dake, born about 1894; Francis H. Dake, who was general manager of the Charles Heyer Company of St. Louis and resided in that city with his wife and child; and Charles W. Dake II, who was in business with his father. The Dake family resided at 602 Pennoyer. Charles I died on June 23, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Johanna passed away on November 28, 1953 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

On June 25, 1912 in Grand Rapids, Caroline married Roswell Dean Grant [1889-1946]. They had five children: Charles Dake, Mary E. Dake; Roswell Dake; Gayle Dake; and Ann Dake. The Grants lived in Chicago. [Biographical Sketch, Citizens Historical Association, September 20, 1941.]

Edward Benjamin Dake [1863-1933]

Edward B., the son of Henry F. and Caroline Faulker Drake, was born in St. Clair, St. Clair County on January 24, 1863. On April 23, 1890 in Grand Haven, he married Marion “Mamie/May” [Maude] Frances Hubbard, the daughter of George and Christiana Landreth Hubbard of Grand Haven. She was born on January 1, 1861. The couple resided in Muskegon. Mamie was born in 1861 and died in June 1919. Edward passed away on December 25, 1933 in Muskegon and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marion died on January 17, 1943 and also was buried at Lake Forest. A son, George Edward., was born on September 8, 1896.

Edward C. Dake [1878-1905]

Edward, the son of William F. and Maria Foss Dake of Grand Haven, was born on January 21, 1878. He married Clara M. Vos in Grand Haven on November 29, 1904. She was born on September 6, 1879 and died on November 5, 1917. Edward died on August 6, 1905. Clara resided at 215 North Seventh after his death. Edward and Clara were buried in the Vos family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henry F. Dake [1827-1900]

Born in Hanover, Germany on June 7, 1827, Henry Dake at the age of 10 moved to the West Indies with his parents, who were in the sugar business. On September 4, 1864, in St. Clair, St. Clair County, Henry enlisted as private with Company I of the 4th Michigan Infantry. About a month later he was promoted to sergeant. He was mustered out sometime after he was reported ill in Detroit on September 12, 1865. Henry came to Grand Haven about 1872 and was employed by various mills as an engineer and mechanic. However, he and his family were living in Ludington at the time of the 1880 census. Henry was a member of the Grand Haven Weatherwax Post of the G.A.R. [Grand Army of the Republic] and the Congregational Church.

About 1851 Henry married Caroline L. Faulker, born in Hanover, Germany on October 12, 1826. She also had moved to the West Indies at the age of 10, where her parents were involved in the sugar business. The family was living in St. Clair County around 1870, but soon moved to Grand Haven and resided at 226 Columbus Street. Henry and Caroline had seven children including William F., who was born in Jamaica in 1850 and invented the Dake Engine; Mary E., who was born in St. Clair on October 10, 1857, became a dressmaker, lived in the family home on Columbus, died in Saugatuck on February 15, 1949, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Edward B., who was born in 1863 in St. Clair; and Charles William, born in Michigan in May 1868. The elder Dake died "of a disease of the kidneys" in Grand Haven on March 9, 1900. Caroline died on December 7, 1904. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other Dake family members. [Tribune obituaries, March 9 and 10, 1900 and December 7, 1904.]

Wilford "Ford" W. Dake [1873-1913]

Born in Ferrysburg on April 7, 1873 [1872], the son of William F. and Maria Foss Dake, Ford became active in bicycle riding and racing and was considered one of the fastest track and road riders from the Grand Haven area. As a young man he went to Alaska with Peter and Fred vanden Berg and a half dozen others to prospect for gold in the Copper River country. Apparently they came home empty handed. After his return, Wilford opened a bicycle retail and repair shop at 213 Washington in Grand Haven. He also offered automobile and phonograph repair. Ford was a machinist and, like his father, an inventor.

On November 26, 1902 Ford married Alice [Allie/Ella], the daughter of Lambertus J. and Elizabeth Van Woerven Mulder, in Grand Haven. Alice, born on January 17, 1874 in Michigan, was a clerk at the Ball Dry Goods Store before marrying Wilford. The Dakes lived at 118 South Third Street in Grand Haven, where they raised a daughter, Elizabeth Laurretta [Loretta]. Laurretta was born in Grand Haven on April 3, 1910 and married Barney Vander Molen of Nunica. Ford died in Grand Haven at the home of his in-laws on June 5, 1913 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His widow and daughter subsequently resided with Alice's parents at 612 Columbus. Alice married Martin Sprick on April 20, 1927. She died on September 26, 1944 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 5, 1913.]

William Charles Dake [1889-1943]

William C., who was born in Grand Haven on October 20, 1889, married Jeanette McLeod in Grand Rapids on October 26, 1912. William was the son of William F. and Maria Foss Dake. Jeanette, the daughter of William and Margaret MacLeod [McCloud] of Grand Haven, was born on September 10, 1890 and died in Muskegon on August 3, 1977. In 1910 William was living with his mother at 219 Fourth Street and working as a machinist. By 1918 he was employed as a pattern maker at an iron foundry in Muskegon, where the family also resided. By 1930 he was a manager at the foundry. In Grand Haven, the Dakes lived at 1149 Sheldon Road. Jeanette was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven and the Eastern Star.

Their daughter, Wilda, married Francis E. Marquard of Muskegon. William was born in October 1889, died about February 19, 1943, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jeanette passed away in Muskegon on August 3, 1977 and was buried near her husband.

William F. Dake [1850-1892]

Born in Jamaica, West Indies on July 21, 1850, William was the son of Henry F. and Caroline Faulker Dake. William worked in St. Clair, St. Clair County for five years before coming to the Grand Haven area in 1872. A draftsman, he worked for eight years at Ottawa Iron Works making and drawing patterns. In November 1880, he joined Bryce & Bloecker. Dake was one of the directors of Dake Engine at its organization in 1887. The company produced the Dake double reciprocating square piston engine, which gained a worldwide reputation in the marine industry. William had long been a member of the Spring Lake Masonic Lodge. "He rests from his labor, but his works will live long years after him."

William married Maria [Marie/Mira] Foss, also from Jamaica. In 1870 she was working as a "domestic" for a family in St. Clair. Two years later she and William were married and moved to Ferrysburg. Maria was born on October 12, 1851. They had six children, all born locally, including Wilford W., who was born on April 7, 1873 [1872]; Maria [Mary], who was born on October 14, 1876; Edward C., who was born on January 21, 1878; Thurza, who was born November 1, 1881 and died of consumption on February 27, 1905; and William "Willie," who was born on October 20, 1889.

William died in Chicago on October 6, 1892 at the age of 42. He had been ill for four years. He had gone to Chicago with his brother some two months previously for treatment at the Lincoln Park Sanatorium and to undergo surgery. His widow sold William's patents to the Dake Company and used the money to purchase a house at the corner of Fourth and Elliott [219 North Fourth]. Maria died on May 8, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest with her husband. [Tribune obituaries, October 7, 8, 10, 1892.]

James R. Dalton II [1828-1885]

In 1857 James Dalton was captain of the propeller-driven Ottawa, owned by William M. Ferry I. It provided service on Lake Michigan between Grand Haven and Chicago. James helped David Realey of Eastmanville harvest the area's first crop of wheat in 1838. In 1859 and 1860 he was an Ottawa County representative to the State Legislature. Born on November 15, 1828, his parents were James and Emily Burrows Dalton, who settled first in St. Joseph, Berrien County in 1834, moved to the Grand Rapids area in 1838, and then moved permanently to White Lake. He and Emily were married in 1861. James died in Montague on March 23, 1885. Emily lived from 1840 to 1937. She was buried near her husband at Oak Grove Cemetery in Montague.

William Alfred Dalton [1867-1933]

Born in Stanley, Ontario, on February 23, 1867 William Dalton was the brother of Maude, Frank, Thomas, and Daniel Dalton, all of St. Thomas, Ontario, and Agnes Brockleband of Windsor. Dalton sailed the Great Lakes with his father, who was master of many sailing vessels. When William was 14, he apprenticed himself to the molders and mechanics trade, which proved beneficial in his trade of railroading. He began work for the Grand Trunk Railroad at Niagara Falls in April 1891, went to Port Huron and Pontiac, and came to Grand Haven in 1901, where he retired after 33 years of service. In 1914 he and his wife, Gertrude, lived at 628 Washington Street. At that time, he was foreman of the roundhouse, located near the Piano Factory. He was an active Mason, former member of the Odd Fellows of Niagara Falls, and member of the Methodist Church in Grand Haven. He and his wife, Gertrude, had two children, Alice Edith and Arthur T., both of Detroit. William died at his home at 21 South Fourth Street on December 10, 1933 and was buried at Windsor, Ontario. [Tribune obituary, December 11, 1933.]

Benjamin John Danhof [1896-1960]

Benjamin Danhof was pastor at the First Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven around 1927, after serving at churches in Zeeland in 1924 and Hull, Iowa from 1925 to 1927. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Calvin College and Seminary in Grand Rapids. He and his family resided at 407

Columbus, the same address as the church. Benjamin was born in Chicago on December 14, 1896, and died in Dallas, Texas on June 6, 1960. He married Lois Dena van den Berg on July 31, 1919 in Kalamazoo. She was born in the Netherlands on May 30, 1898 and passed away in June 1983 in Dallas, Texas. They were married around 1920 and had four children. The Danhofs resided in Grand Rapids before coming to Grand Haven.

Jacobus Danhof [1826- ?]

Between 1865 and 1870 Jacobus Danhof, his wife Jacoba, and their daughter Maggie emigrated from The Netherlands to Grand Haven. Jacobus worked as a laborer on the docks. Jacoba was born about 1833 and Maggie around 1859. The family resided on Madison Street in 1880.

James John Danhof [1858-1933]

Born in Grand Haven on February 17, 1858, James Danhof was the son of Rosa and John J. Danhof I, a pioneer merchant tailor who came to this country from The Netherlands. James attended local schools and later learned the tailoring trade from his father. He graduated from Hope College with a master degree and from the University of Michigan Law School in 1893. He opened law offices in Grand Rapids with George Hefferan, who later became secretary of the Michigan Trust Company. Before completing his law education, he was appointed deputy collector of Customs by Healy C. Akeley in 1877. He held that office for about six years. During that time he formed a life-long association with Akeley, a lumber king of that day, who lived in Grand Haven for many years before moving to Minneapolis, and for a while was his personal secretary. Judge Danhof was also secretary of the Roscommon Lumber company, a half million-dollar corporation operating in Roscommon County with offices in Grand Haven. Herman F. Harbeck appointed him city attorney, an office he held for about four years. He was a staunch Republican and attended county and state conventions for many years. He was elected Judge of probate in 1914 and stayed in that post for 16 years. He was a candidate for reelection at the primaries in September 1930, when he was defeated by the incumbent, Judge Cora Vande Water. For many years he was associated with the Second Reformed Church and was active in the Men's Club and other church organizations. He was a charter member of the Ottawa County Bar Association. A brother recalled that James never had a case carried to the Supreme Court and few cases that ever were appealed to the Circuit Court. During the last two years of his term as probate judge he took a voluntary reduction in salary, which was used for welfare. His benefactions were known intimately by his close friends and many relatives, and on several occasions he made generous donations to public charities.

On November 23, 1898 in Grand Haven, James married Gertrude Pellegrom, a teacher in the local schools and a woman who was prominent in the city for many years. Born on May 26, 1870 in Michigan, she was the daughter of Mathias and Jane Pellegrom, pioneers of the area. The Danhofs lived on Slayton Street and later at 603 Lafayette. Gertrude died on August 18, 1931. James died on March 9, 1933. He and Gertrude were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, August 18, 1931 and March 9, 1933.]

Jan "John" Jans Danhof I [1827-1895]

Born December 31, 1827 in Warffum, Groningen, The Netherlands, John Danhof came to Grand Haven in 1854 with his brother Pieter [Peter] and their two wives. He was a tailor by trade and for many years the leading clothier of Grand Haven. On May 24, 1851, at Uithuizen, Netherlands, he married Renske "Rosa" Hindricks Jonker [Yonker], born in Winsum The Netherlands, on March 12, 1829. She was the daughter of Henry [Hendrik] Klaassen and Janna Kaspers van Dam Jonker. Henry owned several vessels plying the canals of Holland and the North Sea. Renske's siblings included Helen Baar and Klaas Jonker [Yonker] of Grand Haven. The Danhofs helped form the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven in December 1871. They had nine children, all born in Grand Haven, five of whom survived: James J., born on February 17, 1858; John J. II, born on October 24, 1859; Peter J., born on December 1, 1864; Mary J., who married Walter Fitzroy Mercer of Grand Rapids on October 6, 1884; and Henry J., who was born on January 13, 1868, became manager of the Furniture Commercial Agency Company of Grand Rapids, died on July 19, 1943, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Walter Mercer was born in 1856 and died on May 12, 1935, and Mary lived from 1861 to November 13, 1931; both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died on October 2, 1895. His wife passed away on January 23, 1908. The Danhofs were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, September 30, 1895, September 25, 1908, and February 24, 1930.]

John J. Danhof II [1859-1930]

Born in Grand Haven on October 24, 1859, the son of John J. and Renske Jonker Danhof, young John attended Hope College. When he returned home, Danhof became secretary to the Grand Haven Gas Company and Grand Haven Lumber Company. He was supervisor for several terms and alderman for two terms. John opened an insurance office on January 1, 1885 and became the oldest fire insurance agent in the state with more than 45 years of service by the time of his death. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church. He became a leading Detroit attorney and served as high school principal early in the 1900s. He was chief counsel for the New York Central Railroad.

On March 28, 1883 in Holland, Michigan, John married Anna [Johanna] Miedema [Medema], who was born on September 6, 1857 and died on May 26, 1931. The couple raised their family at 221 South Seventh Street. One of their children was John James Danhof III, who was born July 15, 1884, became a teacher, married Erma Mueller, and moved to Detroit, where he died on August 24, 1973. John and Erma had three children: Annabel, who was born in 1924 and married Samuel Hess, born in 1921; Rosemary, who lived from 1914 to 2001 and married George Hammerschmidt [1910-1973]; and John J. IV, who lived from 1921 to 1990 and married Denise Hochstadt. Anna Erma was born in Wisconsin around 1885 and died in 1986. John and Anna also had a daughter Rosina [Rosen] "Rose" M., a music teacher, who was born on November 14, 1886 and in Grand Haven, attended Akeley Institute for Girls, and on October 23, 1912 married Robert A. Fisher in Muskegon. By 1930, Rose was divorced and using her maiden name. She died on January 7, 1972. John and Anna's other children were Edith, who was born on September 19 [22], 1888 and died in Grand Haven on July 18, 1982; and Alice Emelia, who was born on January 20, 1897 and married Merle A. Storr, who was born in Olivet, Eaton County on May 20, 1894. In 1916 Merle was a mathematics teacher at Grand Haven High School, but by 1930 he and Alice had moved to Grand Rapids, where he continued teaching until his death about April 3, 1955. Alice died in Grand Haven on August 25, 1979 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. She was residing at 221 South Seventh at the time of her death. John II died of a cerebral hemorrhage on February 23, 1930 in Grand Haven. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, September 25, 1908 and February 24, 1930.]

Pieter "Peter" Jans Danhof I [1825-1885]

Born May 28, 1825 in Warffum, The Netherlands, Pieter Danhof came to Grand Haven in 1873, 19 years after his brother Jan. Like his brother, Peter was a tailor. On May 15, 1851 in Hoogezand, The Netherlands, Peter married Roelfje [Roelfien] Brons. The daughter of Derk and Janna Weges Brons, Roelfje was born in The Netherlands on September 1, 1828. Peter died in Grand Haven on March 1, 1885 and Roelfje passed away in Grand Rapids on April 18, 1898. Both Peter and Roelfje were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among their nine children, all born in The Netherlands, were Derk "Dick," who was born about 1853, moved to Kenosha, Wisconsin, and passed away around November 6, 1919; Janna "Jennie," who was born in 1861, married Lambertus Vandenberg in 1882. And moved to Grand Rapids; Pieter [Peter] II, born about 1862; Cornelius, who was born about 1863, married Jannetje "Jane" Vanden Bosch on March 28, 1884, and died in 1910; Froena, born about 1867; and Berends P. "Bennie," who was born in 1870, moved to Grand Rapids, died in 1921, and was buried at Valley City Cemetery [later known as Oakhill Cemetery] in Kent County.

Pieter "Peter" P. Danhof [1856-1904]

Peter was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on November 15, 1856. He immigrated to the United States in 1873 with his parents, Pieter and Roelfje Brons Danhof. In Muskegon on December 28, 1882, he married Johanna "Anna" Yonker [Jonker], who was born in Grand Haven on August 5, 1863 and died on October 3, 1929. Among their children, both born in Grand Haven, were Loiza [Louisa] Johanna, born in 1884, and Gertruitta [Gertrude] Bertha, born on March 11, 1886. On March 25, 1908 in Zeeland, Loiza "Louise" married E. Lambert "Bert" Geerlings; they moved to Marshall County, Minnesota. Gertrude married Edward Floyd Seaver. On May 7, 1900, Anna divorced Peter on grounds of desertion. She married Martin T. Ver Hage of Zeeland on October 29 the same year. Martin, a widower with two small children, was born in Michigan around 1863 and passed away in 1929. Anna was buried at Vriesland Cemetery. Peter died on March 30, 1904 at the Peoria, Illinois Poor Farm and was buried at the cemetery there.

Pieter "Peter" Jans Danhof [1864-1944]

Born in Grand Haven on December 1, 1864, Peter was the son of Jan Jans and Renske "Rosa" Hindricks Jonker Danhof. Young Peter graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1888 and was for a time associated with George W. McBride's law practice in Grand Haven. Peter was an unsuccessful candidate for state senator in 1892. He was the county's prosecuting attorney for one term and from 1905 to 1908 was Grand Haven's city attorney. In 1915 he was appointed judge for the Superior Court of Michigan but served only a few weeks before being defeated for election by major L. Dunham of Grand Rapids. Z. Z. Lydens recorded the episode: "Judge Danhof was loath to part with his honor still so new. When Judge Dunham sought to take the bench, Judge Danhof ruled he could not take the oath of office until he had filed a campaign expense account. The swearing-in ceremony had to be delayed until afternoon." Peter also had a law office in Grand Rapids.

On September 4, 1888 in Grand Haven, Peter married Emile Walkley, who was born in 1867. She was the daughter of Dr. Wyllys Walkley and Ida Skinner, originally of Muskegon County and then of Grand Haven. The Danhofs lived at 537 Lafayette. One of Peter and Emile Danhof's daughters was Ida Olive, born in Grand Haven on August 27, 1889. On August 18, 1917 in Ann Arbor, she married Hessel Edward Yntema of Grand Haven. Hessel was born on January 17, 1891 and died in Ann Arbor in February 1966. Ida passed away in Ann Arbor on February 26, 1965. Another daughter, Marie Walkley, was born June 22, 1898, graduated from Hope College and the University of Michigan, and did graduate work at Northwestern University. A teacher in Grand Rapids for 45 years, she married Jay L. Everts [Everetts] on March 27, 1926. Jay, who was born in Michigan about 1896, was a construction foreman. Marie and Jay were divorced in the 1930s. Marie died of cardiac arrest in Grand Rapids on January 29, 1987 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the Danhof plot. Peter died in Grand Haven on January 3, 1944. Emile died on November 18, 1951 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. [Biographies of the 1896 City Council and Tribune obituaries, April 20, 1898 and February 11, 1987.]

Asa G. Darbee [Darby] [1836-1922]

A native of Erie County, New York, where he was born on November 22, 1836, Asa was the son of Nathan Niles and Harriet Minor Beardsley Darbee. On May 24, 1861, while in Aledo, Illinois, Asa enlisted as private in Company D of the 13th Illinois Infantry. He was mustered out on June 22, 1864. He later settled on a 120-acre farm in Section 14 of Robinson Township. He married Sarah B. Anderson of New York. She lived from April 1852 to 1924. A son, William A., was born in April 1868 in New York State and died in Robinson Township in 1933. Their other children were Hattie, born about 1870 in New York, and Harris "Harry," who was born in New York in June 1878. Asa, who settled in the Grand Haven area sometime after 1880, died in 1922 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with his wife and son William. Sarah applied for a widow's Civil War pension on February 25, 1923.

Charles Jacob Darbee [1867-1941]

Charles Darby was an employee of Grand Haven Brass Foundry in the early 1900s. In 1886 he married Cora May Suits, a native of Ionia, who lived from April 1, 1869 to August 16, 1933 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The family resided at 417 Elliott with their children: Harvey [Henry], who was born on October 30, 1887 and also worked at the Brass Foundry; Nora, who was born in Grand Haven in December 1891 and died on March 17, 1955; Josephine, born in March 1894; Bertha, who was born on January 8, 1898 and died on February 24, 1985; Laverne, born in 1889; Paul, born in 1899; and Leola, born about September 20 1911 in Milwaukee. Charles, who was born in New York [Ionia] on June 5, 1867, passed away in Grand Haven on November 27, 1941 and was buried with his wife.

Gordon Asa Darbee [1908-1968]

Gordon, the son of Harris and Margaret Kieft Darbee, was born on March 17, 1908. On March 25, 1938, he married Aneta Lorraine Eckelcamp in Spring Lake. Born on July 30, 1917, she was the daughter of Joseph and Bessie Nehmer Eckelcamp of Spring Lake. After Gordon passed away on June 7, 1968, Aneta married Charles Houts two years later on August 1. Aneta died in Spring Lake on February 24, 2012. Charles was born on April 16, 1916, died on August 20, 1993, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Harris “Harry” Lloyd Darbee [Darby] [1878-1940]

Born in New York on June 30, 1878, Harry married Margaret Kieft in Grand Haven on June 29, 1905. Margaret, the daughter of Fred and Anna Van Zanten Kieft, was born on May 3, 1883. The Darbees resided at 432 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Harry, an assembler at a local engine factory, died on June 18, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Harry and Margaret had a son, Gordon Asa Darbee, who was born on March 17, 1908. Margaret died on July 4, 1970 and also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert Darbee [Darby] [1813- ?]

Born in Michigan about 1813, Robert Darbee in 1850 was living in Spring Lake Township. With him were his 35-year-old wife Mary and their two daughters, Magdalene, born about 1848, and Mary, born in late 1849. Each family member was listed as Indian [“R” in the federal census of that year]. Robert was a fur trapper. No information was discovered about the family after 1850.

M. W. Darling [? - ?]

Darling was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1870 to 1871.

Harold A. Daugherty [1911-1997]

In 1954 Harold Daugherty purchased Boer’s furniture store at 117-119 Washington. He came from Grand Rapids, where he worked for the VandenBerg Furniture Company. Harold named his business Daugherty’s House of Furniture.” He was born on July 19, 1911 and died in Muskegon on December 16, 1997. His wife, Jean C., had passed away the month before, on November 14. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward P. Davidson [1839-1907]

On June 10, 1864 Edward Davidson traveled to Muskegon to enlist as private in Company I of the Michigan 3rd Infantry. Eight days later he transferred to Company I of the 5th Michigan Infantry, still as private. He was wounded at Chancellorsville, Virginia, on May 3, 1863 and at Gettysburg on July 2, 1863. On October 27, 1864 he was wounded and taken prisoner at Boydton Plank Road, southwest of Petersburg, Virginia. Edward was discharged on June 19, 1865. On May 11, 1907 his wife, Matilda, applied for a widow’s Civil War pension. A monument was erected with his name at Nunica Cemetery. In 1880 Edward was foreman at the William Thompson farm in Crockery Township. Edward was born in Pennsylvania on April 22, 1839 [1840] and passed away on March 22, 1907. Matilda lived from 1860 to 1947. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Tobias Emanuel Davidson [1822-1911]

Emanuel [Manuel] Davidson was lighthouse keeper in Washington, Wisconsin before to Grand Haven in 1883. He immigrated to the United States in 1847 In Grand Haven he held the keeper’s position until his retirement on April 1, 1900. His assistant of 15 years, Frank Fraga, succeeded him. Emanuel was born in Norway October 23, 1822 and died in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin on March 28, 1911. Emanuel’s wife, Christine, was born in Norway in 1837 and died in Door County, Wisconsin on January 7, 1922.

Charles Llewellyn Davis [1878-1950]

Charles Davis was part-owner of the Vaudette Theater, located at 16 Washington Street. His partner was Cornelius Jelier. In 1908 Charles boarded at the Gldner Hotel. That year, 1908, he and V. Harrington published in Grand Haven sheet music titled "The Debutante March Two Step." It was written by Harrington. On January 4, 1909 in La Porte, Indiana, Charles married Elsie Anstiss. By 1930 he and Elsie were residing at 210 Fifth Street. Elsie, also a Michigan native, was born about 1887. In 1930 Charles worked as a movie projectionist at one of the local theaters. A son, Owen, was born about 1911. Charles was born in Grand Haven on May 22, 1878, died around October 28, 1950, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elsie had died on October 16 the previous year and also was interred at Lake Forest. Charles was the son of John T. and Margaret Grace Owen Davis of Grand Haven.

Earl J. Davis [1880-1932]

In 1914 Earl J. and Clarice Oslund Davis of Grand Rapids purchased Arbutus Banks Resort from Chauncey M. and Mary S. Blakeslee. The Davises ran the hotel for 21 years until Clarice sold the property to Edwin and Nora Booth in 1935. Earl was born in White, Hillsdale County on September 3, 1882. Clarice was born in Vermont [New York] on January 15, 1872 [1878]. In 1910 Earl and Clarice were residing in Grand Rapids, where he was a produce merchant. Ten years later Clarice's mother, Lora E. Oslund, was residing at Arbutus Banks with them. Lora was born in New York about 1842. Earl died on October 30, 1932 in Chicago. Clarice passed away in Spring Lake on July 7, 1942 and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Grand Rapids with Earl.

Hiram Junius "June" Davis [1840-1925]

Born in Delaware County, New York, on December 7, 1840, Hiram Davis settled on 75 acres in Section 34 of Olive Township in 1859. In Allegan County on July 3, 1864 he married Margaret Salinda, who was born in Jefferson County, New York on July 1, 1847, the daughter of Soloman Ingalls and Nancy E. Bush Adams. The Davises had three children, all born in Olive Township: George W., born on June 4, 1865; Maria J., born on December 7, 1866, and Frank J., born on December 7, 1870. By 1908 the Davis farm had grown to 117 acres, and they remained on the property as late as 1920. Hiram died on March 30, 1925 in Port Sheldon and Margaret passed away in 1938. They were buried at Ventura Cemetery, Ottawa County.

John T. Davis [1821-1893]

Born in Carmarthen, Wales on August 1, 1821, John Davis immigrated to America in 1842, lived for a while in Ohio, relocated to Grand Rapids for a short time, and arrived in Grand Haven in 1846 and became a successful merchant and real estate dealer. He married his first wife, "Miss Evans," in Ohio in 1847. In March 1874 he married Margaret Grace, the daughter of Richard R. Owens of Allendale. She was born on January 28, 1844 at Anglesey, Wales and came to Waukesha, Wisconsin in 1868 where she had a millinery business until her marriage. The Davis's home at 315 Washington, which also served as John's office, was lost in the fire of 1889. John was known for planting fruit orchards on Washington Street in the area later called "Hancock's Place" [probably the 900-1000 block of Washington Street]. The couple had six children: John R., who was born in June 1875 [1874] and also became an insurance agent; Thomas L., born in July 1877; Charles Llewellyn, born on May 22, 1878; Esther, who was born in February 1880 and married J. Charles Ross of Grand Rapids; Margaret G., born in June 1883; and Edward L., who moved to Tacoma, Washington. Margaret was a life member of the Women's Presbyterian Board of Missions. She died of heart failure and dropsy in Grand Haven on December 15, 1903. John died on August 28, 1893, leaving a large estate, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Business Compendium, published the year of his death, listed John as a "retired capitalist." [Tribune obituary, December 16, 1903.]

Joseph Milton "Pop" Davis I [1879-1953]

Born in North Manchester, Indiana, March 12, 1879, for 20 years Joseph "Pop" Davis operated a Buick auto agency and garage at Pekin, Illinois before coming to Grand Haven in 1927. He and his wife started a skating rink at Highland Park Pavilion and then bought the Barn roller skating rink and dance pavilion at 215 Harbor Drive from Nat Robbins. They operated the barn for 12 years before it burned down in April 1946. He and his wife also ran a small restaurant and ice cream shop at the Interurban Station at Highland Park [Bil-Mar]. The Barn offered dancing, roller skating, and other recreational activities until it was destroyed by fire. After the fire the family operated rinks outside at the former Barn site and at Hyland Gardens, near Highland Park. Joseph was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Elks, Shriners, Masons, Rotary, and the Chamber of Commerce.

On May 11, 1907 Joseph married Mabel Dean. They had a son, Joseph M. Davis II of Grand Rapids, born on July 14, 1911, and a daughter, Evelyn, born about 1919. The older Davis died in Orlando, Florida, on December 12, 1953 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Mabel, who died on February 21, 1977. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1953.]

Joseph Milton Davis II [1911-1985]

The son of Joseph and Mabel Dean Davis, Joseph was born in Clare, Clare County, on July 14, 1911. With his father, Joseph managed the Barn at 215 South Harbor. He married Evelyn Fisher on June 4, 1938. She was born about 1919. The couple was divorced on November 18, 1940. He died in Palm Beach, Florida in July 1985.

Frank Jamison Day [1889-1925] and Ethel [Ethyl] Sarah Lehman Day [1888-1978]

Ethel Lehman, the daughter of Josh and Minnie Thompson Lehman of Grand Haven, was born on September 14, 1888. On October 31, 1908 she married Rev. Frank J. Day in Jackson. He was born in Webster City, Iowa, lived from May 30, 1889 to June 25, 1925, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1920 he, Ethel, and their children were living in Chicago, where he was pastor of a church. After his death in 1925, Ethel ran a rooming house at 112 Franklin Street into the 1950s. She died on November 1, 1978 in Wright, Minnesota, but was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She left three daughters: Phyllis Day, who was born in Michigan in 1909 and died in 1976; Olive Miriam Day, who was born in Missouri in 1912 and passed away in 2002, and June Maureen Day, who lived from 1922 to 1965. A son, Frank E. Day, was born in Iowa and lived from 1919 to 1979.

D. John Deboe [De Boe] [1864-1910]

Born in Grand Haven on August 25, 1864, John was the son of Jacob and Maria L. Quintus Deboe. John entered the pharmaceutical business when he went to work at Joseph W. Hutty's drugstore [135 Washington]. In 1882 John moved to Grand Rapids and later to Detroit. He married Caroline Wagner. They had one son, Norman W., who was born about 1893, lived with his mother in Grand Rapids in 1910, and returned to Detroit. John died of tuberculosis in Detroit on October 21, 1910 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Caroline was from Ohio, where she was born about 1870. She returned to Grand Rapids after her husband's death. [Tribune obituary, October 24, 1910.]

Jacob Deboe II [1838-1880]

Jacob, born in The Netherlands on April 7, 1838, was the son of Jacob and Cornelia Van Loo Deboe I. Cornelia was born in 1810 and died in 1876. The family immigrated to the United States in 1847 and settled in Zeeland, Ottawa County. Jacob attended school for a total of three months. At the age of 14 he went to work as a bricklayer. In 1860 he moved to Holland to learn the tanning business. On September 23, 1861 Jacob enlisted in Company D of the 8th Michigan Infantry as private. He was promoted to sergeant on November 15, 1862. Jacob served for the first two months of 1864 with the 20th Michigan Infantry, and then returned to his original unit before being mustered out on September 22, 1864. After the war, Jacob settled in Grand Haven, and became deputy clerk, a post he held for 12 years. When Grand Haven became a city in 1867, Jacob was chosen its first treasurer. In 1877 he was elected Register of Deeds for the county.

Jacob married Maria [Mary] Quintus of Grand Rapids on May 6, 1856. On September 4, 1880 Jacob's body was found floating in the Grand River, a suicide. On July 9, 1890, Maria applied for a widow's Civil War pension. One of their three children was D. John Deboe, who lived from 1864 to 1910. Maria, who was born in The Netherlands on December 8, 1835, died on February 8, 1921. She and her husband were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. Prior to her death Mary resided at 614 Fulton.

Peter Gilbert Deboe [1876-1959]

Peter Deboe was born in Holland, Michigan on June 7, 1876. His father was Captain John [Johannes] Deboe. His mother, Jane, lived from 1838 to 1910. John's and Jane's other children were George of Grand Rapids; William of Chicago; James J., who was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and who ended his life on October 15, 1921 at the age of 43; and John of Holland. As Peter grew up he was able to watch candy being made in a factory across the street from his home. About 1899 he bought an existing candy store from A. L. Jackson at 120-122 Washington in Grand Haven, where he began making his own excellent chocolate confections. In 1902 he rented space at the same address in a building erected that year by Horrace Nichols. He stayed there he stayed for two years before moving to 108 Washington. Peter was in business for over 58 years at different sites in the 100 block of Washington, as well as at 635 Fulton [Square Drug Store]. On May 19, 1902, Peter received a silver-plated soda fountain made by James Tufts of Boston. In 1907 Peter moved his shop to 108 Washington. In his later years Peter gave up his candy store but occupied a corner of Hostetter's in the 1940s and 1950s, where he sold his chocolates until he died. He was an active member of the Methodist Church, Maccabees, Masons, and Chamber of Commerce, and he was the first treasurer of the Rotary Club.

Peter married Mabel W. Calkins on June 7, 1899 in Grand Haven. Born in June 1880, she was the daughter of Charles H. and Emma J. Potts Calkins of Grand Haven. The Deboes' children included Charles, who was born in June 1900, and Evelyn. The family lived at 106 North Sixth Street in the early 1900s. Mabel died on March 4, 1921 from burns incurred when her clothing caught fire from a heater in the bathroom. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On November 16, 1921 Peter married Mary E. Dill, who was born in Monmouth, Illinois on September 4 1, 1875. Mary had a son, Le Dale McDill, born about 1906. Mary died December 3, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Peter passed away around February 23, 1959 and also was buried at Lake Forest. At the time of his death he lived at 214 Franklin. [Tribune obituaries, December 22, 1910, October 18, 1921, and March 5, 1921 and Tribune article, "Pete is Serving Fourth Generation," December 10, 1951.]

Cornelius "Corky" J. Deboer [De Boer] [1922-1991]

Born October 6, 1922 in Ferrysburg to John and Grace Deboer, Corky during WWII served as a forward observer for B Battery, 420th Armored Field Artillery Battalion and was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for evacuating 15 wounded comrades south of Bastogne on December 22, 1943. A year after leaving the military he was stricken with polio and spent five years in bed battling the paralysis which confined him to a wheelchair. He founded an insurance business in Spring Lake after completing an insurance institute at Michigan State University, and he took correspondence courses through the University of Michigan for business training. He operated the insurance business for 20 years from his home at 427 East Exchange and constructed a building at 105 West Exchange Street in 1971, later the site of Barber Street School. He was a member of the Spring Lake Christian Reformed Church, Harbor Transit Committee, and Christian School Board.

Corky and his wife, Kathryn, had eight children: Neal, who was killed in a collision at a rural intersection in Borculo in 1970; Ruth, a well-known singer in Spring Lake; Vernon, an industrial engineer who lived on State Road in Spring Lake Township and whose wife's name was Amy; Kathy, who married Phillip McHenry of Muskegon; Mary, who married David Ramos, also of Muskegon; James; Nancy, who married James Tomczyk, an employee of NBD Bank in Grand Rapids; Mark whose wife's name was Marianne; and Janien. Corky died July 25, 1991 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune article, "Focus on People," and obituary, July 26, 1991.]

John De Bruin [De Bruyn] [1900-1991]

Born December 4, 1900 in Grand Haven to Cornelius and Augusta De Bruin, John worked for the Grand Trunk Railroad for 44 years. Cornelius was born in The Netherlands about 1859, and Augusta lived from 1869 to 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. For many years John managed the Country Store at Stickney Ridge in Grand Haven Township. He was a member of the Methodist Church of the Dunes and of the Eagles. John married Ruth Ione Modders in 1922. She was born in 1909 and died June 21, 1939. He then married Loella Rummery on July 3, 1943 in Durand, Shiawassee County. She was born December 9, 1911 and died July 30, 1979 in Spring Lake. His children included Esther, who married Clifford Miles of Midland, Virginia; Rosemary, who married John Austin Lilley of Spring Lake; and Henry W. of Arnold, Maryland. John died January 22, 1991 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 23, 1991.]

Orrie [Arrie] De Bruyn [1890-1971]

Orrie De Bruyn of Grand Haven was born March 1, 1890 and died in Grand Haven on February 20, 1971. His wife Susie was the daughter of Claus Vander Wall and the sister of William Vander Wall of Spring Lake. Claus was born in The Netherlands about 1848, and Susie was born in Michigan around 1893. The De Bruyns had at least five children: Cornelius, born about 1913; Claude, born about 1915; Arnold, born about 1920; Agnes F., born about 1923; and Donald, born about 1924. The family lived at 601 Sheldon Road.

Roland J. De Bruyn [Debruyn] [1912-1985]

Roland was born on November 4, 1912 in Grand Haven to Peter and Emma De Bruyn. His father died on November 15, 1944 and his mother about May 28, 1972. Roland studied design with Meier Booth of Chicago and won several design awards. He was a commercial artist and proprietor of De Bruyn Signs at 921 West Savidge in Spring Lake. He taught art in the adult education programs of local schools; sponsored poster contests for high school students; served on the committee responsible for the Musical Fountain and nativity scene; was involved with Girl and Boy Scouts; was active in West Shore Symphony; and did an award-winning cover design for a local Chamber of Commerce booklet. He was a charter member of Lakeland Painters and the Grand Valley Artists Group, and he belonged to the First Presbyterian Church of Spring Lake, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and American Legion, and he was on the Board of Directors of Sunny Shores Park in Cortez, Florida. In 1981 Roland won first place in watercolor and the Francis Mordecai memorial Award for Outstanding Work at the Longboat Key Art Center in Florida. On October 10, 1938 he married Elizabeth Warber, who was born on April 11, 1913 to Emil and Ruth Wills Warber. Elizabeth was office manager of the family sign painting business from 1962 to 1982 and also painted portraits. The De Bruyns lived at 17765 North Shore Estates, Spring Lake. They had a daughter Deborah, who was born on July 1, 1950 and married Andrew M. Soria and moved to Freeport, Illinois. Roland died of cancer at Holland Hospital on November 7, 1985. Elizabeth passed away on January 10, 2006.

Archer "Archie" Charles Decker [1906-1985]

Archie Decker was born April 19, 1906 in Chicago. His father, Archer Roscoe Decker, was born in Chicago on January 7, 1883 and died on January 9, 1952. Archie's mother, Veronica Magdalene Josaitis Decker, was born in 1888 and died on April 21, 1959. Archie had two brothers: Frank, who was born on April 16, 1905 and died on September 15, 1950, and Joseph [Jack], who was born on December 13, 1912 and died on April 5, 1985. Archie moved to Grand Haven in 1947. A former trucker and brewery worker, he owned a grocery store, restaurant, and the Maple Grove Driving Range, later called the D & B Sports Center.

On December 24, 1928 Archie married Mina E. Giesler, who was born on May 12, 1904 and died of hepatic failure on November 7, 1982 in St. Joseph. One of their children, Diane, married Milford A. Morse of Lowell. Milford was born on February 9, 1925 and died in Grand Haven on December 7, 1993. The Deckers also had a son, Marvin, who moved to Rochester, New York. Marvin was born in 1935 and died on February 21, 1987. Archie died on April 20, 1985 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 22, 1985.]

Edward Wallace Decker [1909-1979]

Born in Cadillac on October 5, 1909, Edward Decker by 1930 had moved with his parents to Grand Haven. At that time, he was a sailor on one of the lake steamers. On November 12, 1936 he married Ada Huls in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of John and Jessie Dokter Huls, who moved to Grand Haven after Ada's birth. In 1940 Edward and Ada were residing at 944 Washington Street, and Edward was working as a machinist at the Brass Foundry. They had a daughter Lois, then two years old. A year or two after the end of WWII, Edward started Decker Bus Lines, which served schools in the Grand Haven area. The office and garage for the business were located at 216 Fulton Street. Ada was born on September 11, 1915 in Blue Island, Illinois, and died in Grand Haven on September 18, 1995 Edward had passed away 16 years earlier, on March 12. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Eugene Deephouse [Diephouse] [1916-1973]

Eugene Deephouse was born in Michigan on July 12, 1916. He married Helen Eleanor Dekker in Muskegon on February 24, 1939. She was born in Muskegon on October 19, 1919. They had two sons, William, born about 1942, and Robert Eugene Deephouse, born in Grand Haven on January 31, 1945. The family resided at 219 Buchanan Street in Spring Lake. Eugene was a machinist for an auto parts company. He and Helen were divorced. Eugene passed away on May 31, 1973 in Grant, Newaygo County. Helen died in Houghton County on February 25, 2016 as the wife of Adrian Martin Bolthouse [1918-1989] and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Robert Eugene Deephouse [1945-1998]

Robert Eugene Deephouse, the son of Eugene and Helen Dekker Deephouse of Grand Haven, was born on January 31, 1945. He worked for Ac-centus in Spring Lake, making silkscreen designs for fabrics. He later was an employee of Marushka. Robert also worked for the Grand Haven Public Schools in the Instructional Media Services Department as a graphic artist, a position funded by the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act, also known as CETA. Robert contributed 34 full-page line drawing to the book The Beginnings of Grand Haven, and numerous thumbnail sketches. Written by Ingrid McCracken and edited by Burton Brooks, the book was published in 1976. He passed away on December 24, 1998.

Cornelius De Fouw [1869-1920]

Cornelius De Fouw, born in Michigan in December 1869 [1868], by the early 1900s owned a 50-acre [40-acre] farm in Section 34 of Olive Township and raised livestock. His wife, Anna [Hanna], was born in Michigan in March 1872. They had two children, Nellie, born in October 1893, and Gertrude, born in July 1897. The De Fouws remained on the farm as late as 1918. Cornelius died in 1920 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Robert John "Jack" Defraga [1906-1950]

See Robert John Fraga.

Donald De Gloppe [1914-1990]

Born in Grand Haven on October 28, 1914, Donald was the son of Jacob and Ida M. Schwontek De Gloppe. Jacob, a Grand Haven blacksmith, was born in 1871 and died on September 26, 1955, while Ida lived from 1876 to October 19, 1919. Donald was the grandson of Martinus and Maria De Gloppe and the brother of Louise De Gloppe. Donald was employed as Traffic manager at the Muskegon Paper Mill for more than 43 years. He earned the Silver Beaver Award in 1954 from the Boy Scouts of America, was president of the Board of North Ottawa County Council On Aging and a member of the Grand Haven Board of Education, United Way Board, Community Action Advisory Agency, and the First Reformed Church.

On April 2, 1946 Donald married Florence Adeline Leavitt. The daughter of Rodney and Dota Riggs Leavitt, she was born in Irons, Manistee County on February 12, 1923. The De Gloppe's had three children: Donald Rodney, who was born on October 13, 1947, married Cindy Kay Ashcraft of Grand Haven, had three children, graduated from the University of Michigan and Western Theological Seminary in Holland in 1974, and was pastor of Central Reformed Church in Oskaloosa, Iowa; Caryn Ann, who was born April 2, 1950, married Thomas Edward Van Arkel of Grand Haven, had three daughters, and worked for the public schools in Grand Haven; and Sara Louise, who was born March 2, 1959, married Charles Randall Watson, had a son, and worked for a law firm in Macon, Georgia. The De Gloppers resided at 509 South Ferry. Donald died on May 11, 1990 at the age of 75 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "De Glopper Receives One of Scouts Highest Awards," May 9, 1952, "Named To School Board," January 10, 1992, and "De Glopper Earns Masters of Divinity," May 18, 1974.]

Henry De Glopper [1875-1937]

The son of Martinus and Maria De Glopper, Henry was born in Grand Haven on July 21, 1875. He married Rosina Streng, who died on August 30, 1954. Their children were Selma, Catherine, and Martin. De Glopper was a wagon maker. The family lived at 309 Fulton and later at 316 Columbus Street. They attended the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Henry died on May 23, 1937 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Jacob F. De Glopper [1871-1955]

Jacob, the son of Martinus and Maria De Glopper, was born in Grand Haven on December 3, 1871 and died September 26, 1955. He married Ida M. Schwontek, who lived from 1876 to 1919 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Donald and Louise were their children. Jacob was a blacksmith. The De Gloppers were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven and resided at 233 Franklin Street.

Martinus De Glopper I [1844-1929]

Martinus De Glopper, who was born in The Netherlands on November 18, 1844, immigrated to the United States with his parents. His father, Jacob, lived from 1807 to 1881, and his mother, Anna Brieve, from 1820 to 1902. The family came from their native Netherlands aboard the Rose Standish, which arrived in New York on September 13, 1849, when Martinus was four years old. Their other children at that time were Johanna, age seven, and Pieter, a year and a half. Jacob and Anna later had three more children, John, Leonard, and Jacob, all born in New York. Johanna married Adrian O'Beck, a Grand Haven fisherman. Martinus became a blacksmith in Grand Haven.

On May 15, 1867, in Muskegon, Martinus married Metje "Maria" VanderVere [VanderVeere], who was born July 2, 1845 in The Netherlands. She arrived in the area with her parents, Henry and Nellie Young Vander Vere, in 1850 and lived in Grand Haven for 84 years, a fact recognized in Grand Haven's Centennial Observation of 1834. The De Glopper family belonged to the First Reformed Church, and Maria was a member of the Senior Ladies Aid and Ladies Missionary Society of that church. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, included Anna "Annie" Barbara, who was born October 24, 1868 and died in Grand Haven on September 25, 1902; Pieterella "Nellie," who was born February 18, 1870 and married Edwin T. Pennoyer; Jacob, who was born on December 3, 1871; Henry, who was born on July 1, 1875; John Leonard, who was born October 17, 1877, married Fannie Louise, daughter of Neil and Mary Johnston McMillan of Grand Haven, and died in Kent County on June 17, 1961; Cornelius "Neil," who lived from May 18, 1880 to December 28, 1955; May who lived from 1883 to 1978 and married Clyde McNutt [1876-1961] of Fennville, Allegan County; Kathryn, who was born February 19, 1885 and died January 26, 1969; and Martin II, who was born on December 14, 1887, became a civil engineer with the State of Michigan Highway Department, and resided in Detroit and Alpena with his wife, Margaret Coates, who died in 1982. The De Gloppers lived at 107 North Second Street before buying a house at 122 Franklin Street in 1908. Martinus died August 20, 1929, in Grand Haven, and Maria passed away on August 17, 1934 at her home on Franklin Street, just as the Centennial Celebration came to its conclusion. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 17, 1934.]

Nellie C. De Glopper [1879-1920]

See Edwin Pennoyer.

Arthur Albert De Gram [1917-1974]

Art De Gram was born in Sanborn, Iowa, on July 8, 1917 and when a young boy moved with his parents to Grand Haven. He served with the Army during WWII. On May 3, 1947 in Muskegon, Art married B. Ruth Johnson. He worked for the Grand Haven Water Treatment Plant and became assistant superintendent in charge of operations. The De Grams lived at 500 Marion Street. Art died in Grand Haven on February 6, 1974 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ruth was born on September 26, 1925 and died in Grand Haven on September 1, 2009. [Tribune article, "Alone at work for 23 years," December 13, 1973.]

Alje De Haan [1852-1936]

Alje De Haan was born in Tilburg, The Netherlands, on July 2, 1852. He immigrated to the United States in 1887. By 1900 he was residing in Holland. For a short time, around 1910 to 1915, he owned a 160-acre farm in Section 34 of Robinson Township. In 1920 he was living in Grand Rapids, and then years later he was in Passaic, New Jersey, residing with a nephew and his family. Alje died in 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Howard C. De Heer [1913-1997]

Howard De Heer worked for the Four Square Company in Grand Rapids. On May 14, 1941 in Grand Haven he married Marjorie Louise, the daughter of Joseph and Gertrude Correll. Marjorie was born in La Porte, Indiana on July 28, 1917 and passed away in Tucson, Arizona on July 5, 1988. She graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934 and later worked as a bookkeeper at the Big Store on Third Street. The couple in the late 1960s resided at 1116 Franklin Street. They had at least two children, David and Trude De Heer. Howard was born on October 13, 1913 and died in Grand Haven on October 24, 1997. The couple was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter De Heer [1857-1915]

Peter De Heer, who was born in The Netherlands in September 1857 [1854], became a commercial fisherman in Grand Haven. He married Elizabeth, the daughter of Frank and Jane Fisher of Grand Haven. The De Heers lived at 13 South Fourth Street. Peter died in 1915. Elizabeth, also a native of The Netherlands, lived from October 1853 to 1914 and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. A daughter, Sabra De Heer, was born in June 1887. Their son, Abraham Frank De Heer, who lived from April 2, 1891 to 1935, was a dentist.

Julia C. "Judy" Simonsen De Jonge [1925-2002]

Judy was born in Holland, Michigan, to Robert and Jennie Knoll Simonsen, on September 12, 1925. She married Donald R. De Jonge on October 28, 1950 in Gary, Indiana. At one time Judy owned and operated a Grand Haven restaurant called Judy's Lunch. With her husband, Donald, she also owned Redi-Wood Manufacturing Company, located at 1350 Kooiman Street. They resided at 16303 Taft in Spring Lake Township. Their children were Carla, who married Gary Slezak of Fruitport, and Don W. of Spring Lake. Judy passed away in Spring Lake on May 14, 2002 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 15, 2002.]

John [Jacobus, Jacob, James] Dekiep I [1846–1920]

Born on April 20, 1846 in The Netherlands, James Dekiep married Clara Mollag, who was born about 1851, also in The Netherlands. She was the sister of Harm Mollag of Fillmore, Allegan County, Etta, who married John Ruster of Kenosha, Wisconsin, and another sister who married Henry Vanden Berg, also of Kenosha. In Grand Haven James worked at a sawmill. The Dekieps' children included two sons: John II, who was born on July 27, 1876, and Henry Orrie [Arie], who was born about 1883. The Dekieps' daughters, all born in Grand Haven, were Anna, born about 1877; Margaret, who was born October 18, 1880 and died April 26, 1972; Clara, who was born on May 9, 1885 and died on July 20, 1963; and Ettye [Etta], who was born June 16, 1889 and died on December 20, 1962; Clara, James's wife, died at the family residence at 315 North Fifth Street on April 15, 1920. James died on May 7, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Margaret, Orrie, Clara, and Ettye continued living in the family home after the loss of their parents. Margaret resided there until her death around April 28, 1972. She also was buried at Lake Forest. The Dekieps were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, April 15, 1920.]

John Dekiep II [1876-1963]

John, the son of James and Clara Mollag Dekiep, was born on July 27, 1876 and died on July 1, 1963. John and his wife, Nellie, who was born July 8, 1881 and died on February 11, 1978, were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John was foreman at the Challenge Machine Shop. The Dekieps resided at 535 Elliott Street.

Egbert Dekkenga [Dekkinga] [1838-1906]

Egbert Dekkenga and his wife, Liefke, resided at 310 Visser Street in Spring Lake. Their daughter Johanna married Onno Charles Voss. Egbert lived from 1838 to 1906 and his wife from 1838 to 1914. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

William De Kleine [1877-1957]

William De Kleine was born on a farm in Jamestown Township, Ottawa County, in 1877. At the age of 16 he entered Hope College, where he received his bachelor's degree in 1902. He then graduated from the medical school of Northwestern University in 1906. He married Lottie Marie Hoyt in Holland on June 28, 1906. In July of that year, he started his medical practice by opening an office in Grand Haven. His office was on the second floor of 202 Washington. William and Lottie resided at 526 Clinton, where they remained until at least 1910. William served as secretary-treasurer of the Ottawa County Medical Society from 1911 to 1913. In 1920 they were in Flint, where William was city health officer. Ten years later they were in Washington, D.C. and remained there until at least 1940. William died in New York on September 20, 1957 and was buried at Forest Grove Cemetery. Lottie lived from April 8, 1881 to July 23, 1962. She, too, was buried at Forest Grove.

James De Kraker [1891-1966]

Born on February 1, 1891 in Michigan, James De Kraker became owner of a furnace cleaning and repair business in Grand Haven. He worked out of his home, located at 1340 Franklin. He married Christine Meeusen, who lived from April 7, 1897 to April 17, 1978. She died in Spring Lake and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. James died in Grand Haven on June 15, 1966 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Paul Henry de Kruif [1890-1971]

Paul de Kruif, born on March 2, 1890 in Zeeland, was an American microbiologist and author. He is most noted for his 1926 book Microbe Hunters, published in 1926. The book continues to be an inspiration for aspiring physicians and scientists. On December 16, 1922 he married Rhea Barbarin in Saginaw. She was born on April 22, 1897 in Saginaw and died in Chicago on July 9, 1957. The couple was living in Port Sheldon Township in 1930. Paul died on February 28, 1971 and was buried at Zeeland Cemetery with Rhea.

Perry De Lille [1924-2014]

Perry De Lille in 1960 opened an accounting office at 902 South De Spelder Street, where he also lived. On May 8, 1951, Perry married Teresa Mary Dionise in Muskegon. Perry, the son of Verner and Grace De Lille, was born in Wisconsin, but moved to Grand Haven with his parents when young. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1941 and was an early member of the West Shore Symphony Orchestra [West Michigan Symphony], founded in 1939. Perry retired from the National Guard in 1978. He named his business De Lille Accounting. Carol Peirson worked with him as an accountant for a time. Perry died in Grand Haven on September 1, 2014.

Basnett Dell [1860-1940]

Basnett Dell married Emily Jane Gibbs on February 28, 1880. He was born in Canada on February 28, 1860 and died on September 15, 1940, while Emily lived from September 29, 1861 to April 12, 1934. In 1880 Bas and Emily were living in Muskegon Township, Muskegon County. Later Bas owned a grocery store in Coopersville and a 94-acre farm in Section 18 of Polkton Township. The acreage had been the property of his father-in-law, Charles T. Gibbs. Bas and Emily were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with other Dells. Bas and Samuel Dell were brothers, and Emily and Anna, Samuel's wife, were sisters.

Samuel Dell [1852-1935]

On September 5, 1875, in Ottawa County, Samuel Dell married Anna M., the daughter of Charles T. and Hannah Gibbs of Crockery Township. The couple was residing in Muskegon Township, Muskegon County, in 1880. Anna was born in Polkton Township in 1853 and died in 1939. Before she married Samuel, she taught at Connell School in Olive Township. Samuel was born in Canada on December 24, 1852 and died in Crockery Township on April 3, 1935. The Dells' eight-acre farm was in Section 12 of Crockery Township. By 1930 they were residing in Crockery Township with their daughter, Emma, and son-in-law, John D. Borchers. Both Emma and John were born around 1881. The Dells' son, Samuel Burton Dell, was born in 1876 in Michigan, died in 1933, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his parents. The elder Samuel and Basnett Dell were brothers, and their wives were sisters.

Harry Elmer De Marse [Demarse] [1889-1939]

Born on May 27, 1889 in Brunswick, Newaygo County, Harry De Marse married Mary Louise La Plante [Lapoint] in Muskegon on October 22, 1911. They lived at Rothbury, Oceana County at the time of the wedding. In 1917, Harry was station agent at the Pere Marquette Depot in Brunswick, but by the mid-1920s he had been named agent for the Pere Marquette Railway Company at its depot near the corner of Jackson and Fourth Streets in Grand Haven, a position he still held in 1936. He and Mary resided at 112 South Eighth Street. They had four children: Antoinette De Marse, who was born in Rothbury in 1913, married Robert Louis Keefer [1912-1969], and died on November 12, 1969; Carl Odette De Marse, who was born on March 4, 1919 and died on June 19, 1972; Robert Edward De Marse, who lived was born in Allegan on May 13, 1921, died in Grand Haven on August 29, 1982, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife Irene [1924-2018]; and Gladys Delores De Marse, who was born in Grand Haven on December 20, 1924, married Gerald Gale Elwell [1921-2014], and passed away on April 25, 2001. Harry died in Grand Haven on March 16, 1939 and was buried at Norton Cemetery in Norton Shores. Mary lived from 1889 [1892] to 1970 and was also buried at Norton Cemetery as were Antoinette and her husband, Carl and his wife, Theresa Conan De Marse [1910-2002], and Gladys and her husband.

Robert J. Denning [1916-2001]

Robert, born in Grand Haven on May 4, 1916, was the son of Thomas and Mary Catherine Cunningham Denning. On June 27, 1942, he married Jane Laczynski in St. Patrick's Catholic Church. During WWII, Robert served as a technical sergeant in the 3522nd Ordinance Motor Auto Maintenance Company and was on active duty in Germany and Central Europe. He was awarded the EAME [European, Asian, and Middle Eastern] Theater Ribbon with two bronze service stars, a Good Conduct Medal, and World War II Victory Medal. Robert was a lifelong member of St. Patrick's, where he served as minister of the Eucharist and assisted at funerals for 25 years. He was employed by Grand Haven Stamped Products and Teledyne Continental Motors in Muskegon as a tool maker. Robert was a member of the American Legion, the Elks of Englewood, Florida, and Moose Lodge 491 in Muskegon. He died in Florida on January 24, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 2001.]

Francis Edward Dennis [1873-1956]

Francis, the son of Francis M. and Helen N. Chapman Dennis, was born in Grand Haven on December 6, 1873. He worked for the Goodrich & Morton Steamship lines and later with Michigan Bell Telephone. They moved to Kalamazoo before 1917. Francis was a lifetime member of the Masons and a charter member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. His wife Stella [Stilla/Estella] lived from August 10, 1880 to January 1973 and died in Grand Rapids. Dennis passed away in 1956 and was buried at Hart Cemetery in Hart, Oceana County, as was Stella.

Francis Mogg Dennis [1825-1911]

Francis Dennis immigrated to the United States in 1861 and married Helen Naomi Chapman in Jackson on October 3, 1870. They moved to Grand Haven, where, by the early 1900s, Helen was running a boarding house at 322 Columbus, which also was their residence. Francis was listed as “Baggage master” in the 1893 Compendium and was retired by the time of the 1900 Federal Census. He was born in England on October 7, 1825 and died on December 12, 1911. Helen, a Michigan native, was born in August 1845. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Francis E. Dennis, born on December 6, 1873; George Dennis, born on August 2, 1876; and Janet Ann Dennis, who was born on May 8, 1879 and married Fred W. Godfrey in Grand Haven on November 20, 1907. Helen passed away in 1916.

Isiah [Asaiah, Isaiah] Dennis [1862-1946]

African American Isiah [Asaiah] Dennis, born in Ontario, Canada on June 10, 1862, immigrated to the United States in 1900. When he married Viola Gowens in Grand Rapids on August 13, 1915 he was working as a laborer. Viola, born in Decatur, Indiana, was 28 years old at the time of the marriage. In 1920 the couple was living on a farm in Nawaygo County and had a child, Paul, who was born about 1918. Isiah and Viola were divorced in Kent County on January 4, 1930. At the time of the Federal Census of that year, Isiah was living in Polkton Township, divorced and unemployed. In the same census, Viola was found living in Grand Rapids with her son Paul, a daughter Rebecca, who was born about 1921, and Lillian Henry. Lillian, Viola’s daughter from a previous marriage, was born in Michigan about 1907. Viola was working in the kitchen of a local restaurant. On May 30, 1931 in Grand Rapids, Viola married William Jackson [1886-1965]. Their marriage certificate listed them both as Indian. They were divorced before 1950. Isiah died on February 1, 1946 in Kalamazoo and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Viola, who was born on June 9, 1890, passed away in March 1967. She, too, was buried at Greenwood, as was William Jackson.

Thomas D. Dennison [Denison] [1828–1894]

Born in New York State on April 1, 1828, Thomas Dennison came to Spring Lake from Grand Rapids in 1850, where he worked in the lumber mills and did blacksmithing. In 1869 he became engineer at the Monroe, Boyce, & Company Sawmill. In 1872 Thomas, Aloys Bilz, and Warner Vos formed the Alden Fruit Preserving Company on Spring Lake at the foot of Alden Street. In 1881 Thomas was elected president of Spring Lake Village. His sister, Sarah, married Henry Millard of Spring Lake. His wife, Eva V., a native of The Netherlands, lived from 1835 to 1887 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They were early members of the Spring Lake Methodist Church. Their two-story frame home was near the confluence of the Grand River and Spring Lake Channel, approximately the location of the later Holiday Inn. Thomas died October 19, 1894 in Grand Rapids, a suicide, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his wife and a daughter who died in infancy. [Tribune obituaries, October 20 and 22, 1894.]

Edward Dense [1917-1993]

Edward was born in Grand Haven on December 15, 1917 to William F. and Bertha Schuetter Dense. Edward became general manager of Meridian Corporation. In 1937 he married Rose Anita Cooper in Spring Lake. Their children included Rose; Anita; Karen, who married John Bolthouse of Grandville; and James E., who lived in Grand Rapids with his wife, Judith. The Denses were members of the Spring Lake Baptist Church. Edward died on May 3, 1993 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 4, 1993.]

John W. Denton [1814-1885]

In February 1856 John Denton opened the Denton House [Denton’s Hotel] in Eastmanville. The tavern was a large building for those days, two and one-half stories high, and laid out in an L-shape. John, who was born in Pennsylvania [Canada] on March 12, 1814, continued as proprietor of the hotel into the 1860s. On April 21, 1839 he married Minerva Bartholomew, who was born in New York around 1818. The Dentons had six children, all born in Michigan. By 1870 the family was located in Keene, Ionia County, where John worked on a farm. In 1880, they were still farming in Keene, where Minerva died on February 20, 1907 at the age of 89 and was buried at Marble Cemetery [Keene Township, Ionia County] with other family members. John had died on December 27, 1885, in Eagle River, Wisconsin.

Ronald Harvey Denton [1930-1997]

Ronald Denton in the mid-1960s owned and operated Denton's Restaurant & Bar at 201 Pine Street in Ferrysburg. He and his wife Ada Marie Brooks Denton lived next door at 409 Pine. She was born on April 29, 1926 and previously had been married to Joe Russo [1923-1977]. Ronald was born in Grand Rapids on November 20, 1930. He served as Staff Sergeant with the U.S. Marine Corps in the mid-1950s. He died on July 29, 1997 in Henderson, Nevada. He was buried at Southern Nevada Veterans Memorial Cemetery in Boulder City, Nevada. Ada passed away on December 3, 2006 and was buried at the same cemetery as Ronald.

John L. De Persia [1909-1989]

John L. De Persia developed an automatic boat bailer and began production at his home at 518 Friant in 1957. His company was called De Persia Automatic Bailer, Inc. The bailer, in assorted sizes, sold for $4.95 in 1965. John was born on December 2, 1909 and died in Grand Haven on April 25, 1989. His wife, Eileen A., lived from July 1, 1913 to April 22, 1987. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Before he started his business, John was a mail carrier. The De Persia Company moved to 17338 Hayes, and John and Eileen relocated to 17876 Brucker.

Clark Deremo [1853-1931]

See Joseph Clark Deremo.

Doris Louise Deremo

The daughter of Hugh and Florence Oviatt Deremo, Doris Louise was born in Spring Lake Township on June 20, 1908. She was married three times: first to Steven Dykema on November 19, 1927; then on April 16, 1938 to Layton Richard Counselor; and finally, on October 12, 1946, to Benjamin N. Coster of Spring Lake. Her marriage to Steven ended in divorce on January 3, 1935; he lived from March 12, 1908 to May 31, 1955. Layton was born in Missouri in 1916 and died when the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba was sunk in the North Atlantic on June 13, 1943. Ben lived from 1906 to 1994. Doris passed away on June 4, 1997 in Grand Haven and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was her first husband. Doris and Steven had one son, Steven Dykema, who was born about 1932 and moved to Kentwood, Kent County.

Dorothy Helena Deremo [1904-1997]

With guidance from soil conservation experts at Michigan State University, Dorothy Deremo in 1947 planted quantities of Christmas trees in her sandy back yard at 15232 Mercury Drive [Section 35 (North) Grand Haven Township]. Three years later she formed Twin Oaks Christmas Tree Farm with Cliff Lyons and Howard De Gram as partners. She also was employed at Challenge Machinery from 1950 to 1972. Eventually Twin Oaks owned 600 to 700 acres in Ottawa, Muskegon, and Oceana Counties and sold about 20,000 trees each year. Prior to the Christmas tree business, Dorothy and her father ran Deremo Dairy from 1916 to 1946, and during WWII she worked at Continental Motors in Muskegon. The daughter of Harry and Annie Austin Deremo of Grand Haven Township, she was born on January 15, 1904 and died on April 17, 1997. She was buried at Lake Shore Cemetery with other members of the family. Dorothy was a member of the St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Earl F. Deremo I [1817-1893]

Earl was born in St. Lawrence County, New York in 1817, the son of Joseph and Rebecca Riggs Deremo. Both were from Connecticut, but later became residents of New York State. Joseph was born about 1770 and died around 1860, while Rebecca was born about 1780. In 1835 Earl married Permilia [Permelia] Curtis, a native of New York State, who lived from 1817 to 1890. Earl and Permilia settled first in Van Buren County, where Earl appeared in the 1860 and 1880 censuses, but they were in Spring Lake not long after 1880. Among their children, all born in New York, were James, born in 1835; Theodore, born about 1840; Earl II, born about 1841; Amelia Ann, who was born in September 1845, married Edwin R. Niles, and resided in Paw Paw, Van Buren County; Samuel, born about 1846; Mary J., born about 1847; Hannah J., born about 1849; Emily, who was born September 12, 1851 and married Hiram Martin of Spring Lake; and John Quincy, born March 10, 1856. On July 27, 1892 in Fruitport, Earl married Elizabeth Waldron, who was born about 1820. Earl I died in 1893. He and Permilia were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Earl F. Deremo II [1841-1911]

Earl, the son of Earl and Permilia Curtis Deremo, was born in New York State on June 14, 1841. He was living in Paw Paw, Van Buren County when he enlisted on August 26, 1862 as private in Battery B of the 1st Michigan Light Artillery. He was mustered out on June 14, 1865. On August 6, 1865 he married Alvira [Arvilla] Ellsworth in Van Buren County. Alvira was born about 1843 [1839]. Their first child, Eliza Ann, who was born in 1866, married Joseph Payne. Alvira died on July 29, 1871. Earl II then married Eliza Lucetta Farr in Spring Lake Township on July 25, 1872. Eliza, the daughter of Henry F. and Jane Clark Farr, was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin in 1855 and died in Muskegon County in 1936. Earl and Eliza moved to Fruitport, where a son, Earl III, was born on September 15, 1886. Earl III married Pearl Yeoman in Muskegon County on May 24, 1907 and died on December 20, 1966. Earl II and Eliza also had a daughter, Jennie Frances, who first married Horace Alger on December 25, 1889 in Grand Rapids. Jennie next married a Mr. Nienhouse in 1911 and a Mr. Norlin in 1936. Jennie was born on May 7, 1876 and died on September 2, 1963. The Deremos also had a daughter Eliza Ann, who was born in Fruitport about 1866 and married Joseph Payne in 1881. Eliza and Joseph had a son, Joseph William Payne, who was born in Fruitport on May 2, 1882 and died in Grand Haven on August 2, 1929. Earl died on February 17, 1911. Eliza applied for a widow's Civil War pension on March 13, 1911.

Frank Deremo [1882-1968]

The son of Joseph Clark and Lucy Deremo, Frank was born in Grand Haven on February 4, 1882. In the early 1900s he was a farmer on 10 acres in Section 25 of Spring Lake Township. He died in April 1968.

Gurben [Gerben] Deremo [1885-1972]

Gurben, the son of Joseph and Lucy Deremo, was born on January 2, 1885 and died in Grand Haven on December 23, 1972. He lived at 321 Clinton with his parents, but later moved to 1020 Grant Street. He was a commercial fisherman. On July 9, 1932 he married Elsie Insley in Muskegon. She lived from 1893 to 1947. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Harry Leonard [Louis] Deremo [1880-1947]

Harry was born in Nortonville in Spring Lake Township on June 27, 1880, the son of John Quincy and Isabella Sarah Hale Deremo. In his early years, Harry fished for clams in the Grand River, but by 1916 had become a fruit farmer and dairyman in Section 35 [North] Grand Haven Township, where he owned 39 acres. By 1912 his holdings had grown to 133 acres. He married Anna "Annie" Alt Austin in Ottawa County on November 20, 1903. The daughter of W. and Lizzie Beinbauer Alt, she was born on January 16, 1883, died on December 3, 1970, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had one child, Dorothy, who was born on January 15, 1904 and worked with her father in the dairy business. After his death on January 23, 1947, she inherited the farm and started a Christmas tree business. By 1970 a large part of the farm had been platted as Deremo Subdivision. Harry was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hugh W. Deremo [1878-1908]

Born in Crockery Township [Wisconsin] in October 1878, Hugh Deremo graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1899. He worked as a landscape gardener. He married Florence L. Oviatt of Detroit. She was born in Detroit on July 12, 1885 and died in Spring Lake on April 3, 1956. Their daughter Doris Louise Deremo was born in Spring Lake Township on June 20, 1908. She was married three times: first to Stephen Dykema; next to Layton Richard Counselor; and finally to Benjamin N. Coster of Spring Lake. Hugh died on December 11, 1908 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On January 18, 1917 Florence married James

John Quincy Deremo [1856-1928]

Born in New York State on March 10, 1856, John Quincy was the son Earl and Permilia Curtis Deremo. On August 15, 1878, in Ottawa County, John married Isabella Sarah, the daughter of Andrew Jackson and Emily Hale of Spring Lake Township. Isabella was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin on July 6, 1858. John took over Joseph L. Deremo's 160-acre farm in Section 30. The Deremo children, all born locally, were George Quincy, who was born May 12, 1879 and died two years later; Harry Louis, born on June 27, 1880; Mabel Gertrude, who was born on January 27, 1882 and married John F. Kieft of Grand Haven; Letty Adello, who was born in Crockery Township on November 3, 1884, married her cousin, James William Payne of Grand Haven Township, and subsequently was married to John Goldberg and Lewis McCune [Orren] L., born July 22, 1886; and Ethel Permilia, born in Grand Haven on May 26, 1895. On May 17, 1917, Ethel married Leslie Alonzo Mitchell in Holland. John and Isabella John were divorced on August 11, 1904. John then married Esabell Stocking and Isabella married Jacob Ammeraal. John died in Grand Haven Township on August 25, 1928 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Joseph Clark Deremo [1853-1931]

Joseph Clark Deremo, born in Michigan in December 1853 [1852] married Lucy Veenstra, died in 1931, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lucy also was a native of Michigan. Clark, a marine engineer, worked with John Walsh in breaking the great logjam of 1883. Later he was captain of a fishing craft named Theresa D. He and Lucy lived at 321 [319] Clinton Street in Grand Haven. Their children were Gurben [Gerben], born in January 1884; Irene "Rena," born in October 1890; Stella, born in December 1891; Mabel, born in August 1895; Teresa [Tressa] M., born in September 1897; Frank; Louis; and Lucinda. Lucy was born on October 25, 1853 and died on October 28, 1938. She and Joseph were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Joseph often was referred to by his middle name, Clark.

Joseph Louis Deremo [Dermo, Derimore, Deremore, DeRemo] II [1806-1885]

Born in Connecticut [St. Lawrence County, New York] about 1806, Joseph II was the son of Joseph and Rebecca Riggs Deremo, both from Connecticut, but later residents of New York State. Earl Deremo I and Joseph Deremo II were brothers. Joseph II arrived in Crockery Township no later than 1852 and settled on 160 acres in Section 30. The land surrounded the bayou that bore the family name. His son Nelson was born in 1831 and died in the Civil War. In Grand Haven, Joseph on April 25, 1867 married Lucinda Eastman Smith, the widow of William T. Smith. She was born on June 30, 1817 in New York or New Jersey, died on April 23, 1873, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On August 14, 1873 he married Emeline Noreus [Norcus/Norris] in Spring Lake. She was born in 1821.

The name of Joseph's first wife may have been Lucinda Downing. His children were Clarissa Ann Deremo [1825-1869] Nelson Louis Deremo [1835-1862]; Arvilla Deremo [1838-1912]; Lucinda Deremo [1843-1917]; Francis M. Deremo [1852-1909], Joseph Clark Deremo [1853-1931], and Emily Deremo [1857-1969]. Joseph moved to Salem, Missouri, where he married Sarah Ann Snelson [1844-1937] on April 16, 1880. They had one son, Joseph Louis Deremo, who was born in Salem on November 27, 1884 and died on November 7, 1957 in Missouri. Joseph died in Salem in 1885. [Note: There is considerable ambiguity in Joseph's background, including his birth year, which ranges from 1801 to 1816, his marriages, and the year of his death.]

Louis Deremo [1877-1917]

Louis, the son of Joseph Clark and Lucy Deremo, was born on July 21, 1877 in Grand Haven. Louis was classified as a laborer. He married Edith Elizabeth Johnston on October 14, 1897. One of their daughters, Florence Emma, was born in Grand Haven on April 16, 1898. Their other children were James Clark, who lived from September 19, 1899 to May 6, 1943, and Russell, who lived from July 6, 1905 to June 1973.

Edith was born in 1881 and died in 1907. After her death, Louis married Clara Herbstreith in Grand Rapids on May 12, 1909. Clara was born on January 13, 1889, the daughter of Charles and Louise Schmeck Herbstreith. The Deremos' daughter Geraldine was born on January 8, 1917 and died on February 8, 1997. They had another child, Clara Louise. Louis died in 1917. He and Edith were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other Deremo family members.

Nelson L. Deremo [Deraino] [1835-1862]

The son of Joseph L. Deremo, Nelson on April 30, 1861 enlisted as private in Company C of the 70th New York Infantry. His place of enlistment was Paw Paw, Van Buren County. He was promoted to corporal and then reduced back to private. On June 25, 1862 Nelson was killed in action at Fair Oaks, Virginia. The following January 24 his father applied for a survivor's pension. On November 25, 1855 in Polkton Township, he married Eleanor Gibbs, daughter of Charles and Hannah Walsh Gibbs of Crockery. She was born in 1840 and died in 1857 while giving birth to Nelly. By 1860 Nelson had remarried. He, his wife, Mary, and Nelly were living in Grand Haven then. Nelson was born on June 13, 1835.

Orren [Orrin] L. Deremo [1886-1962]

Orren, the son of John Quincy and Isabella Sarah Hale Deremo, was born in Spring Lake Township on July 22, 1886. Orren owned a 20-acre farm in Section 26 of northern Grand Haven Township. By 1912 he possessed 100 acres along the Grand River. He worked as a mason during the warm months and trapped muskrats and mink on his property along the Grand River during the winter. Orren married Effie M. Wells on November 15, 1905 in Ottawa County. Effie was born in Spring Lake Township on August 30, 1884, died in Spring Lake Township on March 31, 1939, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On November 4, 1943 Orren married Pearl Grimes of Yuma, Arizona. Orren and Effie had six children: Howard, who was born September 9, 1913, married Ida Ruster of Coopersville, died on May 6, 1981, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Willis E., born April 4, 1915 in Grand Haven Township and died October 19, 1982 in Spring Lake; Walter, born January 22, 1917; Ester, who married Gerald Peters; Elizabeth, who was born on March 16, 1908, married Andrew MacIlhan, and was buried near her husband at Spring Lake Cemetery; and an unnamed infant, who was born and died in 1910. Orren died on May 18, 1962 in Grand Haven Township and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Walter O. Deremo [1917-1982]

Walter, the son of Orren and Effie May Wells Deremo, was born on January 22, 1917 and died in Grand Haven on December 9, 1982. His wife, Ruth Snoek, lived from January 2, 1922 to January 26, 1985. They lived at 16105 Comstock in Grand Haven Township.

Willis "Bill" E. Deremo [1915-1982]

Bill, the son of Orren and Effie May Wells Deremo, was born on April 4, 1915 in Grand Haven Township and died in Spring Lake on October 19, 1982. He married Nellie Priscilla Grevel on May 29, 1936 in Spring Lake. Nellie was born in Grand Haven on April 30, 1915, the daughter of Louis and Fannie Gruno Grevel. She was an employee of Gardner Denver and a member of the Spring Lake Christian Reformed Church. Bill worked for the Shell Oil Company as a mechanic. He also was responsible for maintaining the tanker truck that used the storage tanks at the north end of Third Street in Grand Haven. Later he owned and operated the Shell Service Station on the northeast corner of Beacon Boulevard and Washington. The Deremos' two children were Edwin J., who married Charlyn Sue De Young and moved to Lexington, South Carolina, and Diane Fay, who married Dale Bates of Muskegon. The Deremos lived at 16670 De Witt Lane in Spring Lake. Nellie Deremo died on January 14, 1999. She and her husband were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Jacob J. De Spelder [1860-1897]

Born in Grand Haven on June 7, 1860, Jacob was the son of Jacobus and Jannetje De Spelder. Young De Spelder had a grocery business on Washington Street and at another time on Seventh. He took an active interest in local affairs and represented the Fourth Ward on the City Council from 1887 to 1889. He left the retail grocery field and went into in business in Evanston, Illinois and later was associated with the wholesale grocery house of Misner, Hamlen & Company of Muskegon. John was a member of the Second Reformed Church.

On October 15, 1884 in Grand Haven, John married Elizabeth Evarts [Everts]. She was born January 11, 1863 in Grand Haven, the daughter of pioneer settlers. Elizabeth was a teacher for 50 years, 36 of them in local schools. She was a member of the Second Reformed church and taught Sunday School. She died in Ann Arbor Hospital on December 19, 1932. The De Spelders had two children: Nellie Jeanette, who died of spinal meningitis on February 7, 1892 at the age of four, and a son James E., born in Illinois on July 10, 1892. The older De Spelder died at his home at 913 Elliott Street on January 1, 1897 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 2, 1897, and December 20 and 21, 1932.]

Jacobus De Spelder [1816-1901]

Jacobus De Spelder and his wife arrived from The Netherlands in New York City aboard the Wilhelm Von Wolgast on June 18, 1847. He came to the Grand Haven area the same year. In the earliest days of the Dutch colony, he was engaged in bringing supplies and building material from Grand Haven to Holland. It was his privilege to convey from Grand Haven to Holland the town's first city charter. On April 1, 1850, Jacobus bought 80 acres in Section 36 of Blendon Township. Four years later, on October 5, he purchased 80 acres in Section 4 of Grand Haven Township and 160 acres in Section 9. Finally, on March 1, 1857, he took possession of another 120 acres in Sections 1 and 3. De Spelder Street in Grand Haven was named for his family.

Jacobus's wife, Jannetje "Jennie," was born in The Netherlands on March 9, 1835 and died in Grand Haven on May 3, 1910. A son John was born on September 14, 1835. Two other sons were Peter, born about 1839, and Jacob, born on June 7, 1860. The family lived at 913 Elliott. Jacobus, born on January 10, 1816, died on March 9, 1910. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

James Everts De Spelder I [1892-1975]

James was the son of Jacob and Elizabeth Evarts De Spelder of Grand Haven. Prior to WWI he was an insurance agent. During the war he served with the Ordnance Department at Camp Hancock, Georgia. James, a native of Illinois, lived from July 10, 1892 to July 28, 1975 and resided at 114 Lafayette in Grand Haven at the time of his death. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His son James II assumed ownership of the home and used it as his residence.

Peter De Spelder [1840-1916]

Although a resident of Grand Haven, Peter De Spelder was in Eagle Harbor, Keweenaw County, when he joined Company F of the 16th Michigan Infantry as corporal on October 3, 1861, about six months after the start of the Civil War. On February 28, 1862 he transferred to Company I. Peter was promoted to first lieutenant on May 8, 1865, earned the rank of first sergeant a week later, became second lieutenant the following July 7, and was mustered out the next day with the rank of first lieutenant. Peter, born on April 11, 1840, was the son of Jacobus and Jannetje De Spelder of Grand Haven. In 1880 he was listed as a laborer in Cleveland, Ohio. Peter, who applied for an invalid's Civil War pension on May 8, 1886, relocated to Sandusky, Ohio. He passed away on January 11, 1916 in Erie County, Ohio.

Cornelius De Vlieger I [1840-1913]

Born in The Netherlands in 1840, Cornelius De Vlieger immigrated to New York with his parents when he was seven and to Grand Rapids at age 13. In 1864 he came to Grand Haven from Grand Rapids and entered the dairy and fruit growing business. He was still advertising his dairy business in 1893. He owned a farm on Sheldon Road just beyond Athletic Park [Section 29, Grand Haven Township, near today's North Ottawa Community Hospital], later owned by the Ahrens family of Chicago. He also owned a planing mill, which he sold to Justin Wait in 1873. In 1901 he opened a bazaar in Grand Rapids known as the Bee Hive, a store on Bridge Street NE, and then a store on Division Avenue SE, which he conducted until his death. His children included Bartel of Kalamazoo, Cornelius II of Denver, and Mrs. L. Fisher of Lamont. Cornelius was stricken with paralysis and died May 14, 1913. [Tribune obituary, May 16, 1913.]

Adrian A. Devos [1913-1991]

Adrian was born in Grand Rapids February 18, 1913 to Francis and Martha Devos. After serving overseas in WWII, he started Electrical Assemblies in Grand Haven in 1946. Later he became the first president of the Citizens Mental Health Council of North Ottawa. He was a member of the Second Christian Reformed Church, the Chamber of Commerce, the Optimist Club, Operation Fresh Start, the Spring Lake Yacht Club and Spring Lake Country Club. On July 1, 1938 he married Jennie Leenstra, who was born on May 2, 1912 and died of cancer on May 15, 1979. They had two children, Sharon P., who married James Galligan of Grand Rapids and Richard W., who moved from Grand Haven to Redford, Wayne County. Richard was born May 7, 1937 and died in Redford on June 8, 1972. Adrian and Jennie resided at 532 Woodlawn in Grand Haven. Adrian died of heart disease on July 27, 1991 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune article, "Devos Heads New Mental Health Group," July 26, 1958, and Tribune obituary, July 29, 1991.]

Michael De Vos [Devos] [1860-1940]

Born in The Netherlands on August 13, 1860, Michael De Vos lived most of his life in Grand Haven. He was a member of the Coast Guard, worked for 18 years on fishing tugs, was employed for 22 years at Grand Haven Brass Foundry, and for another seven years he was janitor at Central School. On January 9, 1889 he married Jennie, the daughter of John H. De Vries of Grand Haven. She died about March 21, 1941. The De Voses lived at 521 Grant. Michael died on December 10, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Jennie.

Abraham F. De Vries [1875-1902]

Abraham De Vries, born in January 1875 [1876], worked in his father's meat market at 215 West Exchange in Spring Lake, along with his brothers Edward and Peter. His parents were Edward and Caroline De Vries. Abraham died on November 30, 1902.

Edward G. De Vries [1865-1924]

Edward De Vries and his brothers, Abraham and Peter, ran the De Vries City Meat Market at 215 West Exchange Street in Spring Lake, started by their father Edward. In 1905 Edward sold his interest in the business to Peter. Edward's parents were Evert and Caroline De Vries. After the 1893 fire Edward moved to 415 East Savidge. He and his wife Sarah moved to a different location and his brother Peter occupied the house. Sarah, the daughter of Klaas and Delia Pruim, was born in September 1878. Edward lived from 1865 to 1924 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Evert [Egbert] "Edward" De Vries [1834-1894]

In 1865 Henry Millard purchased Noah Perkins's building at 215 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake and opened a meat market. In 1877 Henry went into partnership with Edward De Vries and the business continued under the name of De Vries & Company. Edward was born in The Netherlands on October 28, 1834. Around 1864 he married Caroline "Carrie," who was born in May 1845 [1846] in Germany and came to Grand Haven at the age of 18. The couple first lived in Eastmanville, but about 1878 they moved to Spring Lake. They had at least nine children, all born in Michigan: Mary, born about 1861; Christopher, born about 1865; Edward, born in March 1866; Peter, born in Eastmanville on September 4, 1867; Rudolph, born about 1868; Henry, born in 1869; Anna, born about 1871; Sammet, born about 1873; Abraham, born in January 1876; Ida [Minnie], born in September 1877; Carrie E., born in July 1883; and Ernest B., born in January 1884. Edward died on March 25, 1894 and Carrie died at her home in Spring Lake on October 8, 1910. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 9, 1910.]

John H. De Vries [1830-1904]

Born in The Netherlands on July 22, 1830, John De Vries immigrated to the United States and settled in Grand Haven. His daughter, Jennie, married Michael De Vos of the same city. In the 1890s John owned a second-hand store in Grand Haven. He died on March 7, 1904 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter E. De Vries [1867–1924]

Peter De Vries and his brothers, Edward and Abraham, ran the De Vries City Meat Market at 215 West Exchange Street in Spring Lake. In 1905 Peter bought his brother Edward's interest in the business and focused on wholesale meat sales. His parents were Evert "Edward" and Caroline De Vries. Peter married and had several children. After Edward married and moved to a different location, Peter occupied the home at 415 East Savidge. He was born on September 4, 1867 in Eastmanville, died on May 25, 1924, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Peter Joseph De Vries [1918-2001]

Born on July 11, 1918 in New Era, Oceana County, the son of Reverend Joseph P. and Emma De Vries, Peter came to this area in 1929 when his father was named minister of the Christian Reformed Church in Spring Lake. Joseph was born on October 6, 1884 in The Netherlands and Emma lived from 1887-1932. Joseph was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Peter graduated from Grand Haven Christian School, Grand Haven High School, and in 1943 from the University of Michigan Medical School. He served two years as a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy, completed a surgical residency, and came to Grand Haven about 1951, opening his medical office at 321 Washington in 1958 and retiring in 1980.

On May 16, 1944 Peter married Muriel Ash. She was born in Flushing, New York on February 28, 1920. Peter and Muriel had four children: Susan, who was born in 1939, married John Barwis of Houston, Texas; Peter, who was born in 1941 and graduated from Annapolis Naval Academy to become a flight instructor; Nancy, who was born on February 10, 1949, became a teacher, died on August 10, 1999; and Dirk, a graduate of Calvin Seminary, was born in 1947. The De Vrieses resided at various addresses: 1827 Pine Court in Grand Haven, 16917 Landing Lane in Spring Lake, and 16895 Timberdunes in Grand Haven Township. In his retirement, Peter also learned the art of painting. He passed away on August 15, 2001. Muriel died on December 27, 2003 in Muskegon. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "Know Your Doctor," November 7, 1953, and "Serves Patients for 27 Years," November 1, 1980.]

Ate "Otto" De Witt [1829-1900]

Born in The Netherlands in 1829, Otto De Witt arrived in Spring Lake in 1853. For many years he was a carpenter and millwright. In 1878 he started an undertaking business and also opened a wagon and carriage factory, trades he was still following in 1893. Shortly afterward he married Egberta [Egbertje] "Abbey" Pruim of Spring Lake. They had a son, Peter, who was born in 1865 and became deputy revenue collector, another son, Berent, and a daughter, Anna, who was born about 1866 in Michigan. Otto was one of the group that broke from the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven and organized the Dutch Reformed Church in Spring Lake. Otto died May 8, 1900 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 8, 1900.]

Ate "Otto" De Witt [1862-1928]

Otto, the son of Herman [1812-1891] and Auke "Agnes" [1818-1908] Kruizenga De Witt, in on April 15, 1885 married Martja "Mary" ["Martha"] Mersman in Spring Lake. By 1897 Otto and Mary owned a 60-acre farm in Section 5 and another 60 acres across the road in Section 8. In 1891 the family donated an acre of the land in Section 8 as a site for a new elementary school, which would be named De Witt School. Otto and his brother Charles also owned 120 acres in Section 8. They had several children: Marie, who died at age one; Harry, who was born in May 1886 and died at age 23; Ben, who was born April 25, 1891 and stayed on the homestead; and Emma, who was born about July 1, 1893. Otto was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on May 3, 1862 [1861]. Mary, also from Groningen, was born on September 1, 1866 and became a naturalized citizen of the United States in 1875. Otto passed away on November 7, 1928, and Mary died on March 1 the next year. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Berend [Berent] “Ben” De Witt [1891-1968]

Born in Ferrysburg on April 25, 1891, Ben was the son of Ate “Otto” and Egberta De Witt and grandson of Herman De Witt, who died about November 22, 1917. Ben went to work at Johnston Bros. Boiler Works in Ferrysburg in 1937 and his son, Bob, took over the farm. Ben retired in 1960 to help his daughter-in-law operate a horse-boarding stable after his son died suddenly. The older De Witt was a member of Lake Shore Baptist Church. In 1913 Ben married Katherine Hostege from Zeeland. Katherine died in 1954 leaving three sons: George, who lived on 144th Avenue in Spring Lake Township; James whose home was on Hickory Road in Spring Lake Township; and Robert, whose family remained on the front part of the farm on Taft Road and operated a horse boarding stable. Ben died in 1968 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune article, “Home Still Serving Well After 100 Years,” May 3, 1962.]

Charles Alden De Witt [1928-2003]

Charles De Witt was City Engineer for Grand Haven from 1967 until his retirement in 1989. Before that he worked for the Ottawa County Road Commission. Charles was born in Spring Lake on April 13, 1928, the son of Peter and Stena Kruizenga De Witt. He married Ruth Joyce Walthouse in Muskegon on November 21, 1952. They were members of the Second Reformed Church and lived at 1405 South Ferry. Their children were Gail Miller, Bruce, and Nancy. Charles died in Grand Haven on December 2, 2003. [Tribune obituary, December 3, 2003.]

Esther Ann De Witt [1917-1980]

At the end of Grand Haven’s Centennial Festival in early August 1934, Esther Ann De Witt was crowned “Miss Grand Haven” by Mayor Lionel Heap. She was born on March 20, 1917, married William Tillinghast Broomhead, and moved to West Barrington, Rhode Island, where she died on December 9, 1980. William was born in Providence, Rhode Island on May 20, 1913 and died on January 9, 1971. They were buried at Princes Hill Burial Ground in Barrington.

Herman Pieters De Witt [1812-1891]

Born in Groningen, The Netherlands in 1812, Herman De Witt married Auke “Agnes” Kruizenga on April 4, 1842 in The Netherlands. She lived from May 15, 1818 to June 21, 1908. They came to Ferrysburg in 1855, where Herman worked in the sawmills and took up farming. He built a home for his family on a knoll off West Taft Road, about a mile north of Ferrysburg, on a quarter-section [160 acres] in Section 5 of Spring Lake Township. They had 13 children, eight born in The Netherlands and five in Spring Lake. Nine children lived to adulthood: Charles, born about 1856; Jacob, born about 1857; Carlos of Spring Lake and Norton Townships, born about 1860; Otto, who was born about 1862 and remained on the family farm; Peter; John of Chicago; Derk; Mary; Reka; and Edward. Herman died in 1891 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 24, 1908 and Tribune article, “Home Still Serving Well After 100 Years,” May 3, 1962.]

LaVerne Harvey De Witt [1909-1966]

LaVerne De Witt operated a barber shop at 211 North Seventh Street from the early 1930s to the mid-1940s. La Verne married Elayne [Elaine] Shelley. They first resided in Spring Lake Township, but by 1941 were located at 718 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Elayne was born in Michigan on May 6, 1914. They had two children: Roger De Witt, born about 1937, and Wayne De Witt, born about 1938. In 1945 LaVerne was listed as a barber working from his residence. Laverne was born in Spring Lake in 1909. He died in 1966 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Lawrence De Witt [1890-1983]

Born in Grand Rapids on February 10, 1890, the son of John and Margaret De Witt, Lawrence came to Grand Haven in 1917 as a member of the sheriff's Department under Cornelius J. Dornbos of Holland. He later served in the army during World War I and returned and joined the police force in 1920. He was named chief of police of the City of Grand Haven in 1932. He retired February 28, 1955 after 34 years of service, 23 years of them as chief. In 1956 he became justice of the peace in Grand Haven Township. He was active in police associations; helped found Ottawa County Civil Defense; and was a member of the Second Reformed Church. On December 3, 1921 he married Frances "Fanny" Salisbury, and they had two children: Lois, who married Jack Van Hall, and Margaret, who married Aubrey Goldman. The De Witts lived at 17634 Robbins Road. Frances, who was born on February 12, 1898, died October 29, 1977, and Lawrence passed away on May 5, 1983. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "Police Chief De Witt to Retire March 1," January 11, 1955, "Chief De Witt is Township Justice," October 15, 1956, and Tribune obituary, May 6, 1983.]

Nicholas De Witt [1895-1977]

Nicholas De Witt, born on March 6 [February 10], 1895, was part owner of the Elman & De Witt Chevrolet dealership. The business was located at 101 Washington Street from the mid-1920s to 1940, when he sold it to Frank E. Miller I. In the later 1920s and into the 1940s Nicholas and his wife, Katherine [Kathryn], lived at 1317 Pennoyer Avenue. Later they resided at 1708 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven. Katherine also was born in 1895 and died on April 11, 1975. Among their children were Stuart, born about 1924 and Henry [Kenneth], born about 1929. Around 1930 Nicholas had a conflict with Grand Haven photographer Nat Brown over an exchange of real estate. Brown felt he was cheated and dynamited his former home on Potawatomie Bayou, then owned by the De Witt family. Nicholas died on March 11, 1977 in Grand Haven.

Otto De Witt [1862-1928]

See Atte "Otto" De Witt.

Peter A. De Witt [1861-1917]

Born in Spring Lake in March 1861, Peter was the son of Ate "Otto" and Egberta Pruij De Witt. Peter was employed for four years in Loren O. Perham's Drug Store and then for eight years in Ormond W. Messinger's drug store. From 1885 to 1889 he was postmaster of Spring Lake, but continued his work in the drug store, which also served as the post office. He continued work in the drug store business with Sylvester S. Rideout, starting in 1897. In 1892 he sold out and became manager and principal stockholder of the Spring Lake Basket Manufacturing Company, which produced containers for the fruit trade. When the plant burned down in 1898, he became field deputy collector of Internal Revenue for the Fourth Michigan District. Peter owned 43 acres in Section 23 of Spring Lake Township, which lay between South Lake Avenue and Lloyd's Bayou. There he raised grapes that had been planted by Martin Walsh not long after the end of the Civil War. Peter was a Democrat.

In 1883 Peter married Peterka [Anna], daughter of Bernardus and Grietje Stark of Spring Lake. Peterka was born in Crockery Township in April 1862. She and Peter had 12 children, including three sons, each of whom became medical doctors: Chester D., who was born in 1886 and moved to Silver Lake, Wisconsin; Leslie [Lesley], who was born in February 1887 and moved to Kalamazoo; Stuart, who was born January 1, 1889; Emaretta [Amaratta], born in August 1894; and Esther, who was born in October 1899 and died the next year. Peterka owned a millinery store at 211 West Savidge. Peter and she lived upstairs. Later they resided at 302 East Savidge. Peter died in 1917 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Peterka died two years later and was buried near her husband.

[Geert] Simon De Witt [1830-1911]

Listed as a "Farmer and Stockraiser," Simon De Witt started with 39 acres in Section 9 of Olive Township and eventually added another 26 acres. He was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on April 10, 1830 and came to the United States aboard the Katherine Jackson, landing in New York on May 17, 1848. He settled first in Zeeland Township and moved to Olive Township in 1897. He married Maria Meyaard on April 10, 1853. Maria, also a native of The Netherlands, lived from March 30, 1833 to January 7, 1892. After her death Simon married Carrie Coleman [Colman]. He died in Grand Rapids on October 12, 1911.

Stuart De Witt [1923-1987]

Born in Grand Haven on August 26, 1923, Stuart was the son of Nicholas and Katherine De Witt and brother of Henry De Witt. Stuart was the founder and owner of Sealtex Company, 5906 Grand Haven Road, and he was a public accountant. He was a WWII veteran and member of the Central Reformed Church of Muskegon, the American Legion, and the Masons. He and his wife, Maryellen, had several children, including James of Ferrysburg, who was a business associate and whose wife's name was Sharon, and Kathleen, who married Charles McKinney of Livonia. Stuart died of colon cancer on January 5, 1987 in Muskegon and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 5, 1987.]

Stuart Lloyd De Witt I [1889-1944]

Born in Spring Lake on January 1, 1889, the son of Peter and Anna Stark De Witt, Stuart was one of three brothers who became physicians. The others were Leslie and Chester. Stuart graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1911 and two years later opened a practice in Spring Lake. He was a member of the Spring Lake Board of Education, Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, Ottawa County Medical Association, Michigan State Medical Association, American Medical Association, the Rotary, and the Presbyterian Church.

On June 8, 1914 Stuart married Ida W. Broomhead, born in Fall River, Massachusetts on June 8, 1890. Ida was the daughter of William Broomhead and sister of George of Fall River and Fred of West Barrington, Rhode Island. Ida was a graduate of Tilton Seminary in Providence and the Rhode Island Training School for Nurses. The De Witts had six children: Esther Ann, who was born on March 27, 1917 and at the end of Grand Haven's Centennial Festival, held in early August 1934, was crowned "Miss Grand Haven" by Mayor Lionel Heap; William Stuart, who born in 1919 and became a resident of Ann Arbor; Peter B., who was born in 1921 and served in the Navy Medical Corps in New River, North Carolina; Margaret E., who was born in 1922, graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1952, and married Gordon J. Van Wylen of Holland; Stuart Lloyd II, born in 1924 and a resident of Emory, Virginia; and Nancy, who was born in 1925. Ida died September 4, 1933. On August 12, 1937 Stuart married Mary E. Williams of Providence, Rhode Island. She was born on August 5, 1890 and passed away in Spring Lake on September 26, 1971. Stuart died on March 29, 1944 in Grand Haven and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, September 5, 1933 and March 20, 1944.]

Walter H. De Witt [1911-1980]

The son of Peter De Witt, Walter was born in Ferrysburg on August 22, 1911. He graduated from the School of Engineering in Milwaukee in 1929, trained to build and repair radios. After working for Story & Clark for a brief time, he joined Henry Wierenga at Grand Haven Maytag in 1933. The Maytag store, later called the Appliance Center, located first at 11 North Second Street, moved in 1933 to 131-133 Washington. Walter retired as Service manager after 44 years. He married Gertrude A. Kieft of Grand Haven in 1933 and built his own home at 537 Pine Street in Ferrysburg. Gertrude, the daughter of Menke and Allie Kieft, was born in August 1910. The De Witts' children included Charles, who was on the maintenance staff at Florida Christian College in Pensacola; Alan, who was Advertising manager for the Grand Haven Tribune; Glenn, a Grand Haven businessman; and Jerry, who was born in 1942 and became Controller for a firm that handled hospital laundry in West Michigan. Walter died on March 10, 1980 in Ferrysburg. [Tribune article, "Retirement is not just for birds," May 14, 1977.]

Wesley Dexterhouse I [1901-1953]

Wesley Dexterhouse, originally of Muskegon, married Emily Kooi in Muskegon on October 5, 1922. A few years after their wedding, Wesley and Emily moved to Grand Haven, where he opened the Sanitary Barber Shop at 109 Washington Street. The couple lived across the street at 110½. Emily worked as a clerk at the A&P Grocery Store. Although they continued to reside in Grand Haven, their son, Wesley Robert Dexterhouse, was born in Muskegon on May 2, 1934 and died there on February 17, 2007. By 1940 the couple lived at 19 Lafayette Street; the younger Wesley was not listed with them in the Federal Census of that year. Wesley the father was born on October 24, 1901 and died in Muskegon on January 16, 1953 and was buried at Oaklawn Cemetery in that city. Emily, who was born on June 17, 1904, had passed away on August 11 four years earlier.

Donn Paul De Young I [1928-2006]

After graduating from Grand Haven High School in 1946, Donn De Young took his bachelor degree from the University of Michigan School of Business four years later. In 1960 he became general manager at Dake Corporation, where he had been employed for seven years. He married Angenieta Margaret, the daughter of Paul and Margaret Van Tol. The De Youngs had three sons: Donn II, Derk, and David. The family lived at 300 Terrill and later at 1912 Hillcrest. Donn was born on March 20, 1928 and died in Grand Haven on March 27, 2006. His widow resided at 535 Leggat Street. [Tribune article, "Dake Names Donn De Young general manager."]

Ella Wolters De Young [1913-1998]

See Frederick De Young.

Frederick W. De Young [1908-1987]

Frederick was born August 3, 1908, in Fremont, the son of Teunis and Johanna De Young. He graduated from Fremont High School and Newaygo County Normal after which he taught elementary school for five years. He then received his bachelor's degree from Calvin College in Grand Rapids and in 1938 his M. D. from Marquette University School of Medicine. He interned at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids.

On June 14, 1935 Frederick married Ella Wolters. Born July 2, 1913 in Fremont, Newaygo County to Joseph and Hattie Watsing Wolters, Ella taught school in the Spring Lake system. She was a member of the Spring Lake Country Club, the Mary Free Bed Guild, and the Medical Auxiliary of Grand Haven. The De Youngs had two children: Charlyn, who married Edwin Deremo of Lexington, South Carolina, and Fred, who moved to Loveland, Colorado. The De Youngs resided at 107 Barber Court in Spring Lake. In 1983 they purchased the house at 212 North Buchanan.

Frederick took over Dr. Mulder's practice in Spring Lake in 1939. During WWII he served in England and North Africa in 1942, followed by service as a flight surgeon until 1945. He retired from the medical profession on August 1, 1971. Frederick was a member of American Medical Association, Michigan State Medical Society, Ottawa County Medical Society, Spring Lake Businessmen's Association, and Christ Community Church of Spring Lake.

Frederick died on August 24, 1987. Ella passed away on July 4, 1998. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "Know Your Doctor," November 14, 1958, and "SL Physician Announces Retirement," July 24, 1971, Tribune obituary, August 25, 1987.]

George De Young [1873-1974]

With Robert De Bruyn and Clifford Pfaff as partners, George De Young started the Grand Haven Baking Company at 214 Washington about 1901. He and Clifford bought out Robert De Bruyn's interest in 1905. George managed the baking. On August 23, 1897 in Nortonville, George married Jennie M. Gardner. The daughter of Frank and Eana Martin Gardner, Jennie was born in Crockery Township in May 1880. She died of tuberculosis on September 18, 1901. The De Youngs two sons, Francis and Frederick, died as infants in 1901. Mother and sons were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other De Youngs. They also had a daughter, Margaret, who was born in June 1898. George next married Gertrude H. Sprick. The daughter of Henry and Johanna Sprick of Grand Haven, Gertrude was born in 1869. She and George resided at 315 Fulton. Their daughter, Julia Martha, was born in Grand Haven on September 15, 1905. Julia, who became a librarian and worked in numerous school and public libraries around the country, died in Grand Rapids on January 19, 2005 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They also had a son, Albert, born about 1908. George was born in The Netherlands on September 8, 1873 and died in Grand Haven on January 26, 1974. [Tribune obituaries, September 19, 1901 and January 20, 2005.]

Helen De Young [1894-1997]

Born in Grand Haven on July 30, 1894, Helen was the daughter of Captain John and Trientje Meyer De Young. The family lived at 333 Columbus. Helen graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1912, attended business college, began work at Carnegie Library in 1914, and became the second librarian in 1924 when Isabel Thomson [Thompson] retired. Helen held the position until 1959. She continued to reside in the family home at 333 Columbus until she moved to 608 Lafayette. From 1984 to 1996 she resided at Christian Haven Home. She was a member of the First Reformed Church where she was church organist for many years. Helen died on August 31, 1997 while a resident at Brick Manor in Ferrysburg and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, "City Librarian to Retire after 46 Years," October 31, 1959, and Tribune obituary, September 2, 1997.]

Jay De Young [1915-1987]

Born on August 13, 1915, Jay De Young was an application engineer for Gardner-Denver Company and superintendent at Michigan Brass. He patented a sink strainer unit that was assigned to Michigan Brass, where he was then employed. An engineering designer for nearly 40 years, Jay also was a partner with two brothers in an engineering and design firm. On January 21, 1975 he patented a "Boat Handler," which was a pole that could be attached to the rail or hook of a small boat and assist in moving it into a berth. He and his wife Ruth lived at 16383 Mercury Drive. Jay passed away on March 18, 1987 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ruth died on March 15, 1996 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune articles, "Local man Receives Patent on Sink Strainer Unit," July 12, 1969, and "GH Man Awarded Patent for 'Boat Handler,'" March 4 and June 14, 1975.]

Johan "Joe" De Young [1908-1983]

Born in Grand Haven on January 26, 1908, Joe was the son of Hendrik Jans and Janna "Anna" Bosma De Jong. He was the brother of Hans and Louis De Young, both of Spring Lake and John, Ralph, and Alice, who predeceased him. He was a toolmaker at Gardner Denver Company, a job from which he retired in 1971. On nights and weekends Joe and his brother Ralph De Young constructed a small machine shop at 601 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake. They sold the shop to Miller & Smith Plating Company, which opened in 1946. He was a member of the Spring Lake Christian Reformed church, the Christian Haven Home, West Michigan Christian High School, and the Men's Federation. He married Anne "Annie" Wierenga on April 18, 1929 in Grand Haven. Annie, the daughter of Harry and Etta Helder Wierenga, was born in Nunica on August 18, 1909. She was an employee of the Braak Bakery in Spring Lake for 10 years. The De Youngs' children were Margaret, who married Al Diephouse of Grand Rapids; Jean, who married Donald Van Oordt of Grand Haven; and Edna Jo, who married George Suchecki of Allendale. Joe died on November 8, 1983 at his home at 153rd Avenue in Spring Lake and was buried at the Spring Lake Cemetery. Annie died in Spring Lake on December 9, 1999. [Tribune obituary, November 8, 1983.]

John De Young I [1842-1912]

Born in Noord-Holland, The Netherlands on May 27, 1842, John De Young in 1866 immigrated to Grand Haven and was keeper of the Grand Haven Life Saving Station from 1880 to 1885. Before that he was Surfman with the Life Saving Service and participated in several rescues, including three on November 1, 1878: America, Elvina and Montpelier. John took a crew out on October 22, 1880, to search for bodies from the sunken Alpena, which had gone down off Holland a week earlier. Later he sailed the commercial fishing tug J. W. Callister and was a partner in the venture.

On February 21, 1871 he married Trientje “Kate” Meyer, a native of The Netherlands, who lived from January 9, 1849 [1850] to May 18, 1903. They had 12 children, all born locally, including Anne [Annie], who was born in December 1871 and married Martin Sprick of Grand Haven; Jane [Jennie], who was born on March 1, 1873 and died on March 19, 1945; William, a sailor who was born about 1875, commanded the Ludington lifesaving station, fished commercially, and married Nellie Van Benschoten in Ludington on December 8, 1901; Hannah [Anna], who was born on February 20, 1876 and married John Walsma; Grietje [“Gertie”/“Maggie”], who was born on November 27, 1879 and died on December 23, 1952; John II, born on November 20, 1881; Mary, born in August 1893; Albert Meyer, who was born on December 18, 1891, became a marine engineer, married Frances Bushman in Grand Haven on May 19, 1917, and died in Ludington on May 23, 1928; and Helen, who was born on July 30, 1894 and became librarian at Carnegie Library in Grand Haven. The family resided at 333 Columbus in a home built by John around 1900. Sisters Jenny, Maggie, Mary, and Helen were still living there in the 1930s. Before that the family lived on Fourth Street. John died November 22, 1912 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. John’s handcarved boats were donated to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. [Tribune obituaries, May 19, 1903 and April 12, 1920, and Tribune article, “City Librarian to Retire after 46 Years,” October 31, 1959.]

John De Young II [1881-1911]

Born in Grand Haven on November 20, 1881, John was the son of Captain John and Trientje Meyer De Young. Young John married Hilda Scheel on January 25, 1904. They had two children, John Edward and Louise. John the father died of pneumonia at his home on Lake Avenue on February 18, 1911. [Tribune obituary, February 18, 1911.]

Ralph [1906-1976] and Minnie Vander Zwaag De Young [1908-1998]

In 1942 Ralph and Minnie De Young purchased the James Daane celery farm at 1617 Wallace Street [now South Beacon Boulevard]. In 1961 Ralph and his son Hank, a father and son team, built a two-story addition to the family home at this address and opened the Tarry-Ho Motel, which was in business until the mid-1970s. The De Youngs sold the motel to Henry and Nellie Wagenmaker. Minnie had worked for the Homel Shirt Company and Kiddie Kover, both in Grand Haven. She was born on May 19, 1908 in Spring Lake, the daughter of John Lambert. and Anna Y. Huizenga Vander Zwaag. Minnie and Ralph were married in Spring Lake on June 30, 1927. Born in Grand Haven on June 10, 1906, Ralph was the son of Hendrik Jans and Janna “Anna” Bosma De Jong. Ralph’s and Minnie’s first home, located at 109 Park Street in Spring Lake, was built prior to their marriage for $4500. Ralph died on September 10, 1976 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The couple’s sons were Ralph Henry “Hank” and John Louis De Young. Hank built residences, and John operated the De Young Oil Company at 1705 South Beacon, where he also sold used cars. Minnie died October 4, 1998 in Grand Haven and was buried near her husband.

Ralph started work at Grand Haven Brass Factory when he was 14, gradually working his way up to shipping clerk. In 30 years of employment, he never missed a day of work. On nights and weekends Ralph and his brother Johan “Joe” De Young constructed a small machine shop at 601 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake. They sold the shop to Miller & Smith Plating Company, which opened in 1946. In 1943 Ralph left his job at the Brass Company and bought Isaac Daane’s celery farm at 1617 Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard]. He also purchased Henry Tripp’s celery farm at 1000 Wallace and the Ver Berkmoes celery farm, also on Wallace. In 1945 Ralph and his son Hank built a brick home for the family at 1612 Wallace Street. Ralph raised celery for the Chicago market, and also raised and sold cut flowers. In 1947 Ralph and his two sons started the R. De Young & Sons Construction Company, specializing in building homes on speculation. About ten years later the trio started the De Young Oil Company, located in a small building behind the residence on Wallace. In 1959 they built the De Young Sinclair Service Station at 2001 Beacon Boulevard, where they also moved the oil business. In 1961 Ralph and Hank built a two-story addition to the family home, which became the Tarry-Ho Motel. After operating it for a few years the De Youngs sold the motel to Henry Wagenmaker. In 1978 Hank started working on remodeling jobs and smaller building projects, while John L. operated the gas station and oil business. Hank erected a steel building behind the gas station and rented it to Russ Berg Truck Palace. Later, Hank built a smaller concrete structure as headquarters for his construction business. He rented part of the building to Howard De Hare, who used it for a small machine shop. The gas station eventually was sold to Gordon and Bud Knoll. Son Hank married Arlene May the daughter of Albert and Angie Roossien Neitring.

Austin Pomeroy Dibble [1841-1917]

Austin Dibble was born in Pennsylvania on September 14 [18], 1841. He was the son of James and Mary Jane Pickle Dibble. While residing in Barry County, Austin on May 13, 1861 enlisted as private in Company K of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On July 17 the next year he was discharged for a disability [sunstroke] at Harrison's Landing, Virginia. On May 19, 1863 he enlisted again, this time in Company M of the 9th Michigan Cavalry. The next day he transferred to Battery L of the Michigan Light Artillery. On June 1 he was promoted to corporal and to sergeant on May 27, 1865. He mustered out on August 22 that year. In Calhoun County [Grand Rapids] the following September 24 he married Allie Brown. They moved to Grand Haven, where Austin became a "lather," someone who installs lath in homes with plaster walls. He and Allie resided at 1314 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Allie offered dressmaking services. They moved to Kent County, where Austin died on July 31, 1917 and was buried at Alaska Cemetery in Caledonia Township. On October 26, 1914, Austin applied for an invalid's Civil War pension.

Elmer Chase "E.C." Dicey I [1831-1897]

On August 11, 1862 Elmer Dicey enlisted as second lieutenant in Company F of the 5th Michigan Cavalry. Noah Ferry, son of Rev. William and Amanda White Ferry, was captain. Although a Grand Haven resident at the time, Elmer enlisted in White River [Whitehall], Muskegon County. He resigned from that post on December 20, 1862, and on March 31 the following year he was promoted to captain and recruited men for Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters, also called the Ottawa Wild Cats. Many of his recruits came from Grand Haven, including Nathan White and several Native Americans, such as William "Chid" Duvernay and Chid's half-brother, John Kedgnal [also known as John Duvernay]. On July 30, 1864, Elmer was taken prisoner at the Battle of the Crater during the Siege of Petersburg. He was discharged from the service on May 6, 1865.

Elmer on September 30, 1858 married Amy [Emma] Brown in Ottawa County. Amy was born in New York State in 1833. They had two surviving children: Edgar [1853-1929], and Elmer Dicey II [1862-1882]. After Amy's death in 1869, Elmer married Mary J. Turner on December 7 that year in Madison, Wisconsin. By 1880 the couple was living in Chicago, where Elmer worked as a machinist. Mary was born in Wisconsin in 1846. At the time of the 1880 census, they had three children living with them. Elmer was born in Bath, New York in 1831. He died in Chicago on November 18, 1897 and was buried at Rosehill Cemetery. Mary passed away on September 22, 1920 in Los Angeles, California.

A. M. Dickee [Dickey] [? - ?]

In partnership with Nathan White, A. M. Dickee operated a hardware store at the northeast corner of Washington and Second Streets [201 Washington] as early as 1871. An Albert Dickey, listed in the 1850 and 1860 censuses for Polkton Township, was born in Ohio in 1826. He owned a farm in Section 34, and he held title to another large parcel in Section 3. Albert's wife, Caroline, was born in Pennsylvania in 1829. However, an Alexander Dickey, born in Scotland in 1848, resided in Robinson Township in 1880 and worked as a farm laborer. Either of these could have been the A.M. Dickee who partnered with Nathan White. Dickee was not included in the 1873 Michigan State Gazetteer for Grand Haven.

Henry Dickerson [Dickenson] [1884-1961]

Adelia, the daughter of Ephraim Molson of Grand Haven, was residing at 621 Monroe Street in 1928. She had a boarder, Henry Dickerson [Dickenson], who also was African American. Henry, who was working as a cook for a railroad company, was born in Lawtonville, Georgia on July 22, 1884 [September 1887]. By 1930 they had moved to 126 Elliott Street. She and Henry were married in West Olive on November 4, 1933.

The newly married couple returned to Grand Haven soon after the wedding. Five years later they were still living in the house on Elliott, and Henry was pastor at Peoples Church. Adelia served as president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. She died in Grand Haven on January 14, 1949. Henry at the time of his wife's death had moved to 315 Madison, site of the House of Israel Church, where he was pastor. He also worked as cook for the Grand Trunk section hands. Henry remained in the house on Madison until the mid-1950s, at least. He died on September 29, 1961. Henry and Adelia were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, February 26, 1923 and January 15, 1949.]

Charles Nathan Dickinson [Dickenson] [1841-1931]

Born in New York on April 9, 1841, Charles was one of eight children of Monroe and Matilda Canfield Dickinson. In 1862 Charles enlisted as sergeant in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry [where he was listed as Charles W. Dickinson], and became a member of the local Weatherwax Post of the G.A.R. following the war. In the mid-1880s he was one of the owners of the Grand Haven Broom Company, and in 1908 he was an agent for Prudential Insurance Company. Charles was justice of the peace for 14 years and deputy in the county offices. In 1913 and 1914 he was on the Board of Superintendents of the County Poor Farm. He was deputy postmaster under Thomas Parish, who was postmaster from 1894 to 1898. Charles was a member of the Masons, Order of the Eastern Star, Blue Lodge, Corinthian Chapter, and the Presbyterian Church, but after his second marriage attended the Methodist Church. He acquired the Grand Haven Herald from Henry S. Clubb, in December 1872. and sold it to Sylvester L. Morris in March 1873. Charles was County treasurer in the late 1870s and in 1882 he was treasurer of the Herald Publishing Company.

On April 24, 1866 Charles married Marietta Cook. They lived in Coopersville before moving to Grand Haven about 1867. Marietta, who was born in New York on September 8, 1842, died on December 23, 1916. On July 18, 1901, Charles applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. He died January 5, 1931. They had two daughters, Fanny Dickinson and Florence Marietta Dickinson. Fanny, who lived from September 1, 1869 [1870] to April 2, 1924, was a clerk at the County Register's Office. Florence, who was born on December 25, 1879, became a teacher, and died on June 19, 1944. In 1908 the Dickinsons and their two daughters resided at 108 Franklin Street. The next year they purchased property at 307 South Fourth Street from Robert Duncan. There they built a concrete-block house for their permanent residence. On December 10, 1919, Charles married Cornelia E. Harrington Hutchins in St. Johns, Clinton County. She was born in May 1845 in Oakland County, widowed by 1900, died in 1934, and was buried at Maple Grove Cemetery in Ovid, Clinton County.

In 1910 Florence took title to the house and lived there with her father and his second wife, Cornelia. They remained there until Florence's death in 1944, when the house was sold to Edward and Dorothy Roberts. The four Dickinsons were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 6, 1931.]

Martha Jane "Mattie" Rice Dickinson [1862-1940]

Mattie Rice taught elementary school in Grand Haven as early as 1882 and later in Duluth, Minnesota. The daughter of James and Margaret Vincent Rice, she was born in Grand Haven on September 2, 1862. As a child, she went to Wisconsin with her parents, two sisters, and six brothers. One of the sisters, Mary K. Rice, married Frederick Mansfield of Wisconsin and later of Grand Haven. A niece, Martha J. Mansfield, married Richard Cook of Grand Haven. Mattie and her sister Mary were the first managers of Highland Park Hotel, which opened on July 4, 1890. On September 19, 1895 Mattie married Otis Bowman Dickinson [Dickenson] in Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin. By 1900 the Dickinsons had moved to Kansas City, Missouri. In Grand Haven Otis worked for Hutty & Dickinson drug store. He was born in Michigan on August 18, 1855 and died on November 21, 1937 in Kansas City. Mattie passed away in Kansas City on August 16, 1940. They were buried at Mt. Washington Forever Cemetery in Independence, Missouri. The Dickinsons had one child, John A., who was born in 1901. [Tribune, September 17, 1895.]

Nathan Dickinson [1799-1861]

The son of Ezekiel and Perley Gunn Dickinson and brother of Sherman Dickinson, Nathan was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on March 21, 1799 and moved to New York State before settling in Michigan in the mid-1830s. His wife, Mary Ann of Westfield, Massachusetts, whom he married in 1828, was born about 1806. They resided in Macomb County, where they raised at least five children. Nathan purchased hundreds of acres of land, primarily in the eastern part of the state, but he also took ownership of large parcels in Ottawa County, including Robinson Township, where he bought 131 acres in Section 1 on November 6, 1835; 160 acres in Section 2 on the same date; 628 acres [nearly a full section] in Section 4 on November 5, 1835; 320 acres in Section 9 on November 6, 1835; and 320 acres in Section 12 on the same date. Two years later, on May 1, 1839, he bought two more parcels in Robinson Township, totaling 130 acres in Section 1, as well as 628 acres in Section 4, 160 acres in Section 2, 320 acres in Section 9, 320 acres in Section 12. The same day Nathan acquired 322 acres in Section 19, 321 acres in Section 3, 111 acres in Section 29, 83 acres in Section 32, 111 acres in Section 2, and 101 acres in Section 35 of Tallmadge Township, plus an additional 160 acres in Section 18 of Allendale Township. Despite his real estate interests in the area, no evidence was found that Nathan or Mary ever resided in Ottawa County, although they were living in Macomb County around 1860. Nathan died in 1861.

Sherman Samuel Dickinson [Dickenson] [1854-1919]

Sherman, one of eight children of Monroe [born 1816] and Mathilda M. Canfield Dickinson, was born in Wright Township on July 26, 1854 [1853]. In the 1880 census he was listed as a tinsmith in Coopersville. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as a “turner” and in the 1908 Directory as a tinsmith. For several years, at least, he was employed by the Challenge Corn Planter Company. During the Spanish American War in 1898 he served as first lieutenant with Company F of 32nd Michigan Infantry. On August 7, 1899 he was made captain of Company F, 126th Michigan Infantry, and helped reorganize the group. Sherman served as captain until September 1899. On November 10, 1878, in Lamont, he married Elizabeth “Libbie” Ackley, who was born in September 1858 [1857], died in 1942, and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elizabeth’s parents were Hezekiah and Eleanor Ackley of Wright Township. The Dickinsons lived at 15 South Seventh Street. Their daughter, Kathryn, who was born on March 18, 1886, married George Olsen. Sherman died on January 15, 1919. On February 26 that year Elizabeth filed for a widow’s army pension. Their other children were Grace, born about 1880; Charles, born in November 1883; and Annie, born in March 1889. The children were all born locally.

Samuel Dickman [1872-1936]

Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Samuel Dickman owned 72 acres in Section 8 of Crockery Township. He was born in Russia on October 18, 1872 and came to the area with his wife and oldest child in 1908. His wife, Annie, was born in England on November 9, 1879 [1881/1882]. They had at least five children: Gertrude, born in England about 1905; Lyman, born in Illinois about 1908; Leon, born about 1909; Fannie, born about 1912; and Esther, born about 1913. The three younger children were born in Michigan. In 1918 Samuel was living in Chicago, where he worked as a carpenter for a railroad company. His family remained in Crockery, where he had returned by 1920. Ten years later he, Annie, and their children were back in Chicago, where Samuel worked in house construction. Samuel died on March 20, 1936 in Chicago. Annie remained in Chicago, where she passed away on October 26, 1947.

John D. Dickson [1826 -1908]

See John D. Dixon.

Gerrit John Diekema [1859–1930]

Born in Holland, Michigan on March 27, 1859, Gerrit was the son of Gerrit Wiekpe and Hendrikje Stegman Diekema. The younger Gerrit graduated from Hope College and practiced law with the firm of Dykema, Cross & Ten Cate in Grand Haven and Holland after graduating from the University of Michigan Law School in 1883. He was admitted to the bar the same year. Two years later, on October 27, he married Mary Alcott in Holland. Gerrit was one of the organizers of the Grand Haven State Bank in 1902 and was vice president and chairman of the board, although he maintained his residence in Holland. He was representative to the United States Congress from 1907 to 1911 and in 1929 and 1930 represented the United States at The Hague as minister to The Netherlands. Gerrit died in The Hague, The Netherlands on December 20, 1930 following surgery and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland. [Tribune obituary, December 22, 1930.]

Clarence M. Diephouse [1906-1988]

An educator, Clarence Diephouse was born on April 25, 1906 and died in Grand Haven on March 12, 1988. In the mid-1940s he was principal at Grand Haven Christian School and was in charge when a new building was constructed at 1102 Grant Street in the early 1950s.

Henry J. Diephouse [1886-1955]

Born in Spring Lake on September 13, 1886, Henry Diephouse was employed at the Challenge Stamping and Porcelain Company for 29 years and previously worked for the William Heap Company and Story & Clark Piano. On April 10, 1913 he married May Van Doorne in Grand Haven. Their children included James and Erma. Henry died on March 14, 1955. [Tribune obituary, March 14, 1955.]

Jacob D. Diephouse [Diephuis] [1864-1933]

Jacob Diephouse was born in The Netherlands in November 1864 and died in Grand Haven in 1933. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Susan Vink, who was born in The Netherlands in September 1867. Susan immigrated to America in 1869 and settled in Spring Lake with her parents, Hermanus and Trientje Vink. Jacob came to the United States in 1872. Jacob and Susan were married in Spring Lake on September 10, 1884. The family resided at 821 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Among their children were Henry, born in February 1885; Herman, born in September 1886; Ellen, born in November 1888; Kate, born in July 1892; Maggie, born in February 1895; Jennie, born in January 1898; Anna, born in April 1899; and Cornelia, born about 1908. Cornelia married John Berryman, who was born the same year. Jacob, an employee of the Piano Factory, was listed as polisher in the 1908 Directory. By 1930 he worked as a splitter at Eagle Ottawa.

John W. Diephouse [Diephuis] [1900-1966]

John Diephouse was born on March 4, 1900 in Grand Haven. He was the son of Jacob H. and Susan Diephouse of Grand Haven. When still a young man John became proprietor of a grocery store at 115 South Fourth Street in Grand Haven, alternately called Model Grocery Store and Fourth Street Market. John erected a new brick building at the corner site in 1930 and lived upstairs. Prior to that he and his wife, Ruth, resided at 819 Washington. They were married about 1928. Ruth was born in Michigan on October 9, 1898 and died in Crocker on December 10, 1990. John died in August 1966. He and Ruth were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

“Doc” Dillard [? - ?]

Doc Dillard, an African American, made a brief appearance in Grand Haven in April 1897, but he was present long enough to have an impact on the Graves family. Doc arrived in the community claiming to be a Mr. Kay, administrator of a large estate in Southern California. Grand Haven resident Isabella Graves, he said, was the sole heir of the estate. Upon hearing the news Isabella's husband, Fred, quit his job as yardman at the Cutler House. The couple, accompanied by Mr. Kay, boarded the train for Detroit, where they would get on a connecting train headed for San Diego, California. They withdrew their life savings of $276 to make the journey. A Grand Haven resident, suspicious of the arrangement, contacted the conductor of the train bound for Detroit “to find out if all was as it should be.” It appeared Doc Dillard already had $150 of the Graves's money, and he was arrested upon the group's arrival in Detroit. In addition, Dillard was suspected of a similar scam in Grand Rapids. No follow-up articles were uncovered regarding the outcome of his arrest, aside from a quotation in the Grand Haven newspaper: “Dillard had stated that he intended to remain here [Grand Rapids] until July at least, but found it convenient to leave earlier. Yesterday Dillard was very sick and had to have the services of a physician. The reception he received from the Grand Haven people last Friday completely upset his nerves.” [Tribune articles April 10 and 12, 1897 and October 19, 1897.] A Holland newspaper referred to him as “the meerscham pipe man” and “card sharper.” At a Grand Haven store he paid for a cigar with a $1 bill made to look like a $5 bill by pasting “5” over the “1” and simply crossing out the word “One.” [Holland City News, July 31, 1897.]

Patrick V. Dillinger [1934-2001]

Patrick Dillinger owned and operated “Dillinger [Dillenger] Business Equipment” at 517 Fulton. The business, also known as Consumers Electronics, specialized in cash register sales and repair. He and his wife, Delores, had four children and lived at 615 Washington. Patrick was a candidate for several elected offices, including congressman in 1970, Michigan senator in 1972, governor in 1974, and representative for the 95th District in 1984. Patrick was born on March 12, 1934 and died in Louisville, Kentucky on March 1, 2001. His parents were Roy and Beatrice Dillinger of Grand Haven.

Roy A. Dillinger [Dillenger] [1898–1972]

Roy Dillinger came to Grand Haven from Macomb, Ohio, about 1943. However, from 1939 to 1940 he represented the 28th District in the Illinois House of Representatives. In Grand Haven, Roy resided in the Edward Payson Ferry home at 514 Lafayette. Born on October 25, 1898, Roy worked for the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company and later for Continental Motors in Muskegon. On June 7, 1924 in Grand Haven, he married Beatrice Bell. Beatrice was born on June 13, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on May 27, 1981. Three of the four Dillinger children remained in Grand Haven: Betty Lucinda Dillinger, who was born on March 6, 1926 and married Lester Wildey; Eletha Dillinger, who was born on October 12, 1927, married Eugene Darling in Tacoma, Washington, on November 17, 1950, taught at Grand Haven Junior High School, and died on October 23, 1984; and Patrick V. Dillinger, who was born in March 12, 1934. The family attended the Second Reformed Church. At the time of Roy’s death on February 15, 1972 he and Beatrice were still residing at 514 Lafayette. Beatrice later moved to 404½ Franklin.

Derk “Dick” J. Dirkse [Dirkse] [1876-1966]

Derk Dirkse born in The Netherlands on November 14, 1876, came with his parents to Grand Haven in 1881. His father, Johannes [Johannis] Dirkse, was born in The Netherlands in 1854. Johannes married Wilhelmina Katte in The Netherlands on June 1, 1876. She died about two years later and Johannes next married Minnie Kaalz, who lived from 1859 to July 2, 1899. Johannes died in 1883, probably in Grand Haven. Derk was then raised by his Uncle Pieter Dirkse. Pieter was born in 1852 in The Netherlands and resided in Grand Haven with his wife, Adriana Kallemijn, and their six children. Pieter and his family later moved away.

Derk, who worked at the tannery, married Gertrude Bolhuis on April 23, 1902 in Grand Haven. They lived at 1047 Washington until his death on May 5, 1966. The Dirkses had five children: John Gerrit, born April 17, 1903 and died January 3, 1985; Evan R., born May 1, 1906 and died in Moore County, North Carolina on March 10, 1985; April Grace, born April 14, 1907; Paul Richard, born March 3, 1908; and Annette, born June 23, 1909.

Carol Louise Marks Dirkse [1936-2007]

Carol Marks, who married Howard Dirkse, was born on January 21, 1937, died on April 11, 2004, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. She was the daughter of Weldon [1904-1975] and Cora Vandenberg [1906-1977] Marks. A registered nurse and a nurse practitioner, Carol joined the Muskegon Department of Health as part of the Family Planning Department. She was the first practitioner in the Grand Haven/Muskegon region. The Dirkses resided at 14748 Lakeshore Drive and later at 17601 North Shore Estates Road.

Jan “John” Cornelius Dirkse I [1878-1940]

The oldest son of Pieter and Adriana Kallemijn Dirkse, who emigrated from The Netherlands to Holland, Michigan, John was born on July 9, 1878. His mother and father were married in The Netherlands on August 19, 1875. Adriana passed away on April 15, 1909, and Pieter, who then married Hendrkje Rozenberg, died on October 22, 1922. John, one of Pieter's and Adriana's seven children, moved to Grand Haven as a young man. In the early 1900s he worked at Challenge Machinery. Later he became a house builder.

On September 4, 1901, John married Grietje "Gertrude" Vanden Bosch. Gertrude, the daughter of Hendrik and Johanna Smit Vanden Bosch of Grand Haven, was born in Ottawa County on May 20, 1875. The Dirkses lived at 622 Elliott. John was an outstanding baseball player and could have become a professional, except for his unwillingness to play on Sundays. He died of a heart attack on December 7, 1940, and Gertrude died in Grand Haven on July 30, 1948. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Dirkses' children were John Cornelius II, born on February 18, 1906; Henry Peter, born on October 31, 1907; Florence Joan, who was born on July 2, 1910 and married Henry Van Hees I; James Willis, who was born on November 18, 1911 and died in Grand Haven on June 19, 1990; Mary Francis, born on March 13, 1912; Wesley Edward, who was born on December 12, 1913 and died on October 9, 1996 in Grand Haven; and Charles Gilbert, who was born on May 13, 1916 and died in California on October 23, 1984.

John Cornelius Dirkse II [1906-1976]

John, the son of John and Gertrude Vanden Bosch Dirkse, was an electrical contractor. His office and residence were located at 1027 Franklin Street around 1940 and into the 1970s. On August 6, 1929, John married Bertha J. Honholt in Grand Haven. She lived from April 20, 1907 to May 13, 1987. John was born on February 18, 1906 and died in Grand Haven on December 10, 1976. They had at least four children: Yvonne, born about 1932; Mary, born about 1935; Howard, born on July 7, 1936; and Lois, born on November 5, 1939. John II and Bertha were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Julius Dirkse [1917-2007]

On October 25, 1947, Julius Dirkse married Estelle Biehl. Julius, the son of John and Cornelia Dirkse, was born on December 8, 1917. Estelle was born in Grand Haven on September 4, 1924 and died at Grand Haven's Municipal Hospital on July 26, 1961 after an extended illness. She was the daughter of William and Irene Barney Beihl. Julius passed away on August 13, 2007. Both Dirkses were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

George W. Dixon [1828-1907]

Born in Ireland [Liverpool, England] in January 1828, George was the son of William Dixon, who opened a steam laundry in Muskegon. George learned the machinist trade. He moved to Oswego, New York, then to Cleveland, Ohio, on to Lafayette and Fort Wayne, Indiana, and in 1860 to Mill Point [Spring Lake], where he became foreman of the Ottawa Iron Works at Ferrysburg. He took out three patents on improved steam pumps, two of them manufactured on royalties by Ottawa Iron works.

In 1843 George married Mary Shannessy in Oswego. Mary was born in February 1829 in Ireland and came to Oswego at the age of 15. On August 14, 1861, George enlisted as private in Company H of the 1st Michigan Cavalry. He was discharged on August 22, 1864. In 1880, the Dixons moved to Muskegon. They had five children: Mary, who was born in Illinois about 1848 and married Captain John Miller of Spring Lake and later of Montague, Muskegon County; William, who was born about 1855 in New York and settled in Muskegon; Frederick, who was born about 1860 and moved to Arkansas; Eliza, born in Indiana about 1862; Josephine, who was born in Indiana about 1864 and married Martin Walsh of Spring Lake; and Sena, born in Indiana about 1868. George and Mary lived at 231 East Savidge in Spring Lake before moving to Muskegon. In November 1890 George applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. Mary died on February 9, 1903 at the age of 76 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. George died in February 1907 in Muskegon. [Tribune obituary, February 11, 1907.]

John D. Dixon [Dickson] [1826-1908]

Coming to Michigan from New York State, John Dixon settled in Spring Lake in 1856. He was born in New Jersey on July 27, 1826. In Spring Lake, he worked in the lumber mills and in 1874 became saw filer at the Sisson & Lilley Mill. Walter Sinclair, who was foreman at the Sisson & Lilley Sawmill, sold to John the Sinclair House, a hotel he had bought in 1870. Dixon apparently owned the lodging house for a short time before selling it to Sylvester Rideout in March 1879. John's wife, Caroline, was the daughter of Hiram A. Reed of Spring Lake. She was born about 1842 in New York. The Dixons had seven surviving children: Hiram, born in 1863; Harry, born in 1869; Nellie, born in 1872; William, who was born on March 1, 1874 and died in Seattle, Washington on September 9, 1939; Jennie, born in 1877; Mamie, born in 1879; and John, who was born in Spring Lake on January 21, 1882. Another son, Herbert, died in Spring Lake on May 5, 1873 at the age of 14. John died on October 27, 1908 in Grand Rapids. Caroline had passed away two years earlier.

Ludwig Dobberowsky [1815-1898]

A native of Mecklenburg, Germany, where he was born in 1815, Ludwig Dobberowsky and his wife, Fredereka, were early settlers in Spring Lake. Their daughter, Caroline, married Charles Warber. Ludwig died in 1898. Fredereka lived from 1816 to 1888. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Elizabeth "Betty" Davison Kammeraad Dobbie [1932-2012]

Elizabeth Louise Davison was born in St. Louis, Gratiot County, on July 27, 1932. She was the only child of Lawrence and Margaret Holmes Davison. Betty and her parents moved to Spring Lake when Betty was a youngster. Her love of horses began in Spring Lake, a passion she pursued the rest of her life. She graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1950, married Kenneth Kammeraad of Grand Haven in early 1952, and raised two children, Lisa and Joel. Lisa married a Mr. Jacobs and became a resident of Morley, Mecosta County. Joel and his wife Judi moved to Columbus, Ohio.

In the late 1950s Betty and others formed Lakeland Painters. In 1970 Betty and Ken and two other area men incorporated a business known as the Guild of Shaker Crafts, Inc. The company, located at 401 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake, reproduced and sold Shaker furniture that dated from the early years of America's independence to the Civil War. Betty managed the shop, which operated for 18 years. An active member of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, Betty was its director between 1992 and 2001. She was adept at spinning wool, weaving, sewing, painting, and photography. She was the official photographer for a number of years for the Coast Guard Festival. She co-authored the book Then & Now, Grand Haven, with her friend Wally Ewing. In May 2007 Betty married John Dobbie of Portage, Kalamazoo County. Betty died at her home at 322 Clinton Street on April 19, 2012 and was buried at Grand Haven Township Cemetery. John's first wife, Janice Elaine Holmes, was born on October 20, 1928 and died on August 23, 2005 in Portage. John lived from December 27, 1926 to August 7, 2013. [Tribune obituary, April 24, 2012.]

John H. Docking [1879-1954]

The son of Robert and Mary Blades Docking, John was born in Laketown Township, Allegan County on August 24, 1879. His wife's name was Helen. In 1920 he was living with his parents in Oceana County. By 1928 John was a shoe repairman living in his family home at 919 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. He died on October 10, 1954 of carbon monoxide poisoning in his mobile home in Spring Lake. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert Docking [1838-1923]

Robert Docking, who was born in England in 1838, died on December 19, 1923, three years after moving to the Ottawa County area from Ferry, Oceana County, where he had been a farmer. Prior to that he lived on a 40-acre farm in northern Allegan County [Laketown Township], which he purchased on August 2, 1889. On August 11, 1862, while living in Washtenaw County, he enlisted in Company K of the 20th Michigan Infantry as private and served until May 30, 1865.

On January 13, 1866 in Jackson Robert married Mary Ann Blades. Mary also was from England, where she was born on January 15, 1845. The Dockings' children were: Ella, who was born on June 28, 1867 and married Ernest Filley of Grand Haven; Josephine, who was born on August 21, 1869, married James Edward Slater, moved to Oceana County, died in 1940, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; William, who was born on August 1, 1872 and died on April 18, 1881; Lilly Mae, who was born on June 1, 1876, married William Barriger [Barrager], died in Grand Haven on October 1, 1959, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and John H., who was born on August 24, 1879. All the children except one were born in Laketown Township; Lilly was born in the City of Holland. After moving to Grand Haven around 1920 Robert lived at 919 Elliott Street. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary died on March 11, 1927 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Their son, John resided in the house on Elliott Street after his parents' death. Eventually John moved to Spring Lake. [Tribune obituaries, December 19, 1923 and March 12, 1927.]

Arthur B. Doddington [Doddington] [1906-1991]

Born in Grand Haven on June 1, 1906, Arthur was the son of George Doddington II and brother of George III. He and his wife, Elna, lived at 1404 Franklin. Arthur died on December 16, 1991 in Marion, Florida. Elna was born on July 24, 1899 and died in Florida on March 22, 1994. Arthur and Elna were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

George A. Doddington I [1868–1937]

Born in Grand Haven on October 25, 1868, George was the son of Mark and Loretta Comstock Doddington. George worked at the Story & Clark Piano Factory for 20 years. He fell while attempting to replace a slipped belt on a piece of machinery and was so badly injured he was unable to work. He died two years later, on February 10, 1937, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On January 26, 1895 in Grand Rapids, he married Marcia Blakeslee, who was born in Grand Rapids in August 1872. She was the daughter of William Wallace and Mary Wood Blakeslee. George and Marcia had at least five children: Ernest, born in December 1896; George II, who lived from March 26, 1898 to December 27, 1909; William, born about 1903; Marian, born about 1911; and Harold E., born about 1914. The family lived at 1404 Franklin.

Mark Doddington [1839-1913]

Born in England in March 1839 Mark Doddington settled in Geneva, New York in 1851. He enlisted as sergeant in Company H of the 33rd New York Infantry on May 22, 1861 but was mustered out on October 31 of the same year for unspecified reasons. The next day, Mark enlisted, again as sergeant, in Company D of the Pennsylvania 11th Cavalry and was mustered out August 13, 1865. He was held as a prisoner of war from September 15, 1864 until May 8, 1865. Shortly after mustering out, Mark came to Michigan and lived in Spring Lake for a number of years. Accompanying him were his mother, Avire, and a sister, Susanna [Susannah]. Avire [Alice] was born in England about 1814 and died on November 23, 1895. Mark's brother, William D., lived from 1785 to January 12, 1850.

Mark moved to Grand Haven where he was a sign painter and home decorator. In 1893 he advertised his business as offering "Carriage, Ornamental, and House Painting." Later he became foreman of the paint shop at Challenge Refrigerator Company. He was a Mason.

Mark married Loretta Comstock on February 26, 1860 in New York State. In Grand Haven their home was at 507 North Seventh. Their children were William, born about 1861; Orrin [Oren], born in September 1866; George, who was born in Grand Haven on October 25, 1868; Abby E., who was born on August 21, 1870 and died in 1878; Eva [Avie] May who was born December 10, 1875 in Grand Haven; Blanche, who was born about 1878 and married John Cleveringa in 1895; Mark Edward, born February 10, 1878; Charles Northrup, who was born February 16, 1881 and lived in Kenosha, Wisconsin, Flint, and Detroit; David Reginald, who born August 22, 1882 and married Maude Helena Hatch in Grand Haven on November 29, 1906; and Wallace, who was born in February 1885 and settled in Crockery Township. Mark on September 9, 1886 filed for an invalid's Civil War pension. He died at his home on Seventh Street on September 26, 1913 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his wife, Loretta, and other Doddingtons. On October 30, 1913, Loretta applied for a Civil War widow's pension. Born in New York, she lived from October 1845 [1846] to 1913. [Tribune obituary, September 26, 1913.]

Orrin [Oren, Orin, Owen] Joy Doddington I [1866-1935]

Orrin Doddington, a painter and contractor, arrived in Grand Haven in 1879. He was born in Rome, New York in September 1866, the son of Mark and Loretta Doddington. On August 1, 1888 in Grand Rapids, Orrin married Mary Mitchell, who was born in Canada about 1868. They had at least one son, Orrin [Oren] J. II, who was born on June 8, 1892 and died in California on December 13, 1941. Two other children also moved to California: Velma Amelia, who lived from September 15, 1893 to May 31, 1891, and Ross M., who was born on May 17, 1907 and died on March 29, 1989. Another child, Gladys, was born in June 1898. Orrin and his family lived at 630 Monroe in the early 1900s. He died in Porterville, California in October 1935 and was buried at Home of Peace Cemetery.

Alvin [Alvan] Dodge I [1831-1897]

Born in New York on January 9, 1831, Alvin Dodge at an early age spent several years on sailing ships on the Atlantic Ocean. He came to the Great Lakes in the early 1850s and was mate and captain of a several sail and steam vessels until he was appointed U.S. inspector of hulls in Grand Haven. He was mate of the propeller Fintry that blew up on Lake Erie off Port Stanley in the 1850s. He also sailed as mate on the side-wheel passenger steamers Atlantic, Ocean, Buckeye State, and Western World. He was for several years captain of the propeller Mary Stewart, plying between Detroit and Buffalo. In 1867 he came to Grand Haven and was master of the New Era, and out of Detroit he was captain of the propeller Java in the 1870s. He also had an interest in the Van Raalte. He was a Mason. In Wayne County on July 23, 1855, he married Esther Gee, who was born in Michigan about 1837. Their children included Clara A., born about 1859; Jennie, born about 1863; and Alvin II, born about 1876. All three children were born in Michigan and resided in Detroit. In Grand Haven, the Dodges lived at the corner of First and Columbus Streets. Alvin was married twice. His wife's name at the time of his death was Belle, who was born in Canada in August 1849. He died on February 19, 1897 and was buried in Detroit. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1897.]

Hugh Dodge [1930-2018]

Hugh Dodge earned a hospitality degree from Michigan State University and worked in hotel management at the Palmer House in Chicago and Hotel del Coronado in San Diego, California. When he returned to his hometown of Grand Rapids to care for his widowed mother, he was hired by the Klingman Furniture Store as an interior designer. After a number of years at Klingman's, in 1985 he started working with A. Reenders Interior Design at 950 Taylor Avenue in 1985. He designed for residential and commercial clients. He next opened Dodge Interior Design, which he sold to Cath McGlynn. She renamed the business McGlynn Design and relocated to West Olive. In 1976 Hugh organized the West Michigan Chapter of Interior Design Society. It was dissolved four years later.

Hugh retired from the interior design business in 1998 and moved from Grand Rapids to Grand Haven, where he taught himself how to paint. He lived at 1544 Beechtree Commons and later with the Scott Reenders family at 1010 Oak Lane, but he also spent winters in Gulfport, Florida. Hugh continued his art work in both locations. He won several awards in Florida and Michigan for his watercolors.

Born on May 23, 1930, Hugh served with the U.S. Navy during the Korean War. He entertained the troops with his trumpet while aboard the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt. He died on January 17, 2018, about three months after being diagnosed with glioblastoma. He was buried at Rosedale Cemetery, where his parents were interred.

Gustav Herrmann Doege [1852-1911]

Herman Doege, a Grand Haven tailor, was born in Posen, Germany on March 8, 1852. In 1893 he advertised, "Cleaning, Repairing, and Dyeing" at his shop in Grand Haven. Herman married Charlotte Emiliy "Amelia" Schiewe in Posen on March 8, 1879 and arrived in the United States three years later. She was born in Germany in February 1852. Herman was still working as a tailor in Grand Haven in 1900. He died about April 26, 1911. Their surviving children were Lizzie, born in December 1879; Albert, born in November 1881; Annie, born in March 1884; and Bertha born in February 1890. The two older children were born in Germany, the other two locally. Amelia passed away in 1908. [Tribune obituary, April 26, 1911.]

William Doherty [Doharty] [1843-1929]

Born in Ireland on April 15, 1843, William Doherty immigrated to the United States in 1860. He married Johanna [Hannah] B. Coffey [Coffee] in 1872. She was born in that state on July 19, 1852. By 1880 the couple was residing in Spring Lake, where William worked as a laborer. By 1900 he was employed as a porter for a railroad company, and ten years later he was listed in the census as a "bridge tender" for the Grand Trunk Railway. In 1920 he was a custodian for the Spring Lake schools. William and Johanna had seven children: William, who was born on July 19, 1873 and died on September 20 the next year; John H., who was born on February 1, 1875 and died on April 18, 1881 of diphtheria; James, who was born on October 13, 1876 and drowned on March 2, 1890; Catherine "Katie," who was born on December 4, 1878 and died on November 13, 1894 of diabetes; Mary Agnes, who was born on October 21, 1880, moved to Detroit, died on September 11, 1950, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Thomas Michael, who was born on September 15, 1882, also moved to Detroit, and died about 1940; and William Francis, who was born on September 8, 1884, worked and lived in Spring Lake for a while before moving to Detroit, died on October 11, 1942, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Johanna died on January 19, 1924 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was William, who died on September 27, 1929.

Arthur J. Dondineau [1885-1968]

Arthur Dondineau was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1916 to 1920. Later he served in the same capacity for the Detroit schools. He married Marguerite Bilton on August 8, 1916, and they resided at 219 Franklin. Arthur was born in Michigan on November 5, 1885 and died in Detroit in November 1968. Marguerite was born in Ontario Canada on March 30, 1891 and passed away in Detroit the same year as her husband. The Dondineaus had two daughters, Elaine, born on February 28, 1919, and Elizabeth.

Cornelius Donker [1882-1920]

Cornelius Donker was born in Grand Haven on March 7, 1882. He started a grocery business with Richard Cook in 1902 under the name of Cook Mercantile Company. He sold his interest in the business in 1918 and it became known as Grand Haven Merchandise. On August 16, 1905 in Ferrysburg, Cornelius married Mary Bolthuis [Bolthouse], who was born in Ferrysburg on May 27, 1886 and died in Grand Haven on January 20, 1938. They had three children: Katherine, Helen, and Charles. Cornelius died at the age of 38 on February 23, 1920 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Mary. The Donkers resided at Elliott Street and at 406 Howard Street, but after her husband's death, Mary moved to 428 Clinton. [Tribune obituary, February 23, 1920.]

Henry J. Donker [1861-1944]

In 1900 Henry Donker was listed as a bartender. By 1920 he was employed at Eagle Ottawa. Henry was born in The Netherlands on October 28, 1861. He married Anna Kieft, who was a native of the same country, where she was born in January 5, 1864. They both immigrated to the United States as children, he in 1865 and Anna two years later. They had at least three children, all born locally: Arthur C., who was born in July 1893, Agnes, who was born in October 1894; and Cornelius, who was born about 1903. They resided at 1250 Washington in a house they had built in 1894. Henry died on December 21, 1944. Anna passed away on December 10, 1952. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Donker I [1812-1900]

By 1854 John Donker was a resident of Grand Haven and by 1880 he was proprietor of a saloon. He was born in The Netherlands on December 6, 1812 and died on March 6, 1900. On October 2, 1876 in Grand Haven, he married Gracie Dykema, who was born in The Netherlands in October 1836. They resided at 321 Fulton. One of their children was John Donker II, born on July 7, 1877. Listed as a stepson in the 1900 census was Arie Donker, born locally in December 1855.

John Henry Donker II [1877-1937]

John, the son of John and Gracie Donker I, was born in Grand Haven on July 7, 1877. An employee of the William Heap Company in Grand Haven, he resided with his mother at 321 Fulton. On December 2, 1923 he married Kate Dykema Steketee in Muskegon. Kate was one of two servants working in the Jay Smith household in Spring Lake in 1900. On November 5, 1903 she married James Steketee in Muskegon, who was four years older than Kate. They had three children: Henry, who was born on October 2, 1904, married Goldie Harvey, resided in Grand Rapids, and died in that city on April 26, 1989; Clara, who was born in 1907, married John Neitering, died in 1996, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and Emma, who was born on September 8, 1910, married Robert Rosema, and died in February 1981. James died on April 2, 1921 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. John Donker died on April 21, 1937 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1940 Kate was a widow, still living at 321 Fulton Street. Born in Muskegon, she lived from June 30, 1880 to August 15, 1953 and also was interred at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John “Johnnie” Donker [Donkers] [1860–1913]

John was born in Holland, Michigan, the son of Arie Donker, an early settler in Holland. The family moved to Grand Haven in 1854. John was a peddler of notions in the Borculo area and reportedly was a saloonkeeper. He also worked at the Piano Supply Company in Grand Haven. He was known as “Black Johnnie” because of his coal black hair. Relatives found John dead in his bed on November 14, 1913. Born on June 20, 1860, he resided at 317 Fulton in Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, November 17, 1913.]

James Donnelly [Donally] [? - ?]

In 1868 James Donnelly managed the new Ottawa House, located at 105 Fulton [Lot 92] in Grand Haven. In 1867, in Grand Haven’s first election, James was elected justice of the peace. In 1863 he was foreman of the “Rix Robinson Engine Co.,” newly formed as a volunteer fire-fighting outfit.

Alphons [Alphonso] Donner [1862-1950]

Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Alphons Donner owned a 50-acre farm in Section 18 of Crockery Township. Alphons was born in Alsace-Lorraine [France] on October 11, 1862, came to the area in 1901, and was still farming his land in 1918. His wife, Sophia, also was born in Alsace-Lorraine on March 1, 1851. They were married on February 28, 1889 in France. Their children were Mary C., born about 1892 in her parents’ home country, and Jos, who was born in Illinois around 1894. Alphons passed away on March 17, 1950, and Sophia died on October 7, 1947. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George P. Donner II [1918-2002]

Born in Muskegon on July 2, 1918, George Donner II moved to Spring Lake with his family when he was four years old. He was the son of George P. and Sophia Donner I, born in 1890 and 1892 respectively. The younger George attended Spring Lake and Grand Haven schools, and George was one of the first five men from Ottawa County to volunteer for the military at the start of WWII. He served with the Army as first lieutenant and spent two and a half years in the South Pacific. After the war, he worked for a short time at Michigan Plastics and then became a clerk at the Spring Lake Post Office and was postmaster from 1965 until his retirement ten years later. Donner served as village president from 1978 to 1983. He returned as a member of the Village Council from 1987 to 1995. He helped start the Silent Observer program and served on its board. George was active with the Tri-Cities Historical Museum, the Coast Guard Festival Board, Spring Lake Heritage League, and the Barber School restoration project. He was a member of the American Legion and attended St. Mary’s Catholic Church. He married Rose Marie McMenemy. They had five children: Jeanne Le Fevre, who lived in Escanaba, Delta County; Rita Braun, of Spring Lake; Teresa Dault, of Norton Shores; Richard of Seattle, Washington; and Steve, of Jackson. Rose was born on June 24, 1919 and passed away on June 21, 2002. George died in Spring Lake on March 8, 2002. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Cornelius Donselar [Donseler] [1861-1949]

Cornelius Donselar was born in The Netherlands on August 16, 1861. He and his wife, Grace [Greitje], arrived in the United States in 1891. Grace, also a native of The Netherlands, was born on May 8, 1866. They had at least two children, both born locally: John, born about 1905, and Catherine, born about 1907. Cornelius operated a radio repair service from his residence at 418 North Sixth Street. Cornelius died on June 19, 1949 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Grace, who died on September 28, 1942.

Helyn G. Rosema Donselar [1926-1998]

Helyn was born on June 2, 1926 in Nunica, the daughter of Harm and Dena Poll Rosema. She married Leslie Donselar on June 2, 1950, in Grand Haven. Helyn was a real estate agent most of her professional life. She was a member of Trinity Reformed Church, where she sang in the choir, played the organ and piano, and belonged to the Church Women's Group. She and her husband Leslie had two daughters: Denise, who married William Casemier, and Dorothie, who married Stephen Shelley. Both daughters remained in Grand Haven. The Donselars' two sons were Mark and Matthew. Leslie, the son of Hio and Ethel Barthel Donselar, was born in Grand Haven on September 5, 1916. He served with the U.S. Army during WWII and was awarded two purple hearts. Upon returning to Grand Haven, Leslie was a machinist at Gardner Denver and later drove cars for Gage Motor Mall. He was a member of Trinity Reformed Church, the Charles Conklin Post of the American Legion, and the Sgt. Alvin Jonker Post of the VFW. Helyn died December 13, 1998 and Leslie passed away on January 17, 2002. [Tribune obituary, January 18, 2002.]

Derk Doornbos I [1885-1965]

Derk Doornbos resided at 16623 136th Street in Nunica. He was born July 19, 1885 and died in November 1965. His son, also named Derk, lived at the same address.

Ervan S. Dornbos [1921-1977]

Born in Grand Haven on December 30, 1921, Ervan was the son of Isaac and Mary Meeuwssen Dornbos. Isaac died about February 14, 1866 and his wife died on August 7 five years later. Ervan attended Calvin College for one year and then attended the University of Michigan. He was in the military service from 1943 to 1945. Ervan received his officer's commission in meteorology and was transferred to the Air Traffic Control Board. He was with State Mutual Life Insurance Company and lived in Worcester, Massachusetts, then joined Franklin Life Insurance Company of Springfield, Illinois. He taught college math at Simpson College in Indianola, Iowa, and then returned to Grand Haven and in 1954 joined his father in the real estate business, called Iaasc Dornbos Real Estate and located at 1113 Washington Street. In 1971 Ervan was elected president of the North Ottawa Board of Realtors.

In 1949 Ervan married Marilyn Haight of Springfield, Illinois. They had one daughter. The family resided at 528 Terrill in Grand Haven. Ervan died on April 13, 1977 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Biographical sketch presented at Kiwanis, on file in Loutit District Library's Tribune collection.]

Gerrit Lewis Dornbos [1877-1955]

Gerrit Dornbos was born in Grand Haven on May 2, 1877. He started a fishing business, H. J. Dornbos & Brother, located at 614 Monroe, on May 2, 1889, with his brother, Henry Dornbos. After Henry's death in 1944, Gerrit and his son Harold J. Dornbos owned and operated the business. In February 1949 Gerrit purchased the H. C. Fisher & Sons Company of 2140 South Second Street in Milwaukee to operate in addition to the Grand Haven business. Gerrit retired in 1951, selling his interest in the firm to Harold. He also was on the Board of Directors of Peoples Savings Bank when it was organized in 1909.

Gerrit married Pieterella "Nellie" Meeuwssen, who was born in Zeeland on April 23, 1880 and died in Grand Haven on April 9, 1968. She was the daughter of Jan and Janna Van Loo Meeuwssen and the sister of Mary, who married Isaac Dornbos. Gerrit and Nellie lived at 1039 Washington and had four children: Lester, whose death on August 13, 1933 resulted from an auto accident when he was almost 29 years old; Harold Jay Dornbos; Margaret, who married Edward Baas of Grand Haven; and Janet, who was born on July 24, 1907 married Neil [Neal] Bierens [March 10, 1904-July 10, 1958], a native of The Netherlands, and died in

Grand Rapids on January 27, 1995. Gerrit died July 2, 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "Buys Milwaukee Firm," February 26, 1949 and "Buys Father's Interest in Firm," January 19, 1951.]

Harold Jay Dornbos [1914-1969]

Born September 4, 1914 in Grand Haven, the son of Gerrit and Nellie Dornbos, Harold became a partner in H. J. Dornbos & Bros. for 16 years. In January 1951 he purchased his father's interest in the firm and became sole owner. The commercial fishing firm operated 18 ovens and employed 35 men and women. In the Milwaukee plant there were 12 employees. In 1963 an outbreak of botulism in Nashville, Tennessee forced new food processing standards which made it impossible for Harold to continue the out-of-state smoked fish business. The fishery was not found to be at fault and H. J. Dornbos Company, with the help of Grand Haven attorney Harvey Scholten, filed a $500,000 suit for damages against Kroger, Rooks Transfer, Adkins Transfer, Adkins Cargo Express, and Tennessee Cartage, charging negligence in handling the firm's smoked fish chubs in connection with the botulism blamed for several deaths. After the botulism scare there was a marked decrease in the smoked fish business and the firm attempted to sell boned perch. The fish supply dwindled, and the operation was curtailed in 1965-66. Harold was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and the Elks.

In July 19, 1933 Harold married Beverly Mills, who was born in East Orange, New Jersey on December 22, 1916. She was the daughter of Elsworth "The Coronal" and Mary Ethel "Molly" Crane Mills. Elsworth worked in management at the Bastian Blessing plant in Chicago. Beverly's sister, Virginia, married Ralph Trieschman of Chicago. Harold and Beverly lived at 218 North Buchanan Street in Spring Lake and had two children, Virginia, who taught in London, England and married David Rolstone of Wales, and La Mar Ethyl, who married Lee Van Haaften of Grand Haven. Lee was the son of Cornelius and Marion Wilcox Van Haaften. Beverly worked for Bastian Blessing and later was secretary at the Dornbos Fisheries. She started and ran the hot lunch program and summer school activity program in Spring Lake Schools. She began the gift shop at Grand Haven Hospital and was active in the PTA, the Presbyterian Church, the League of Women Voters, and the Woman's Club. Beverly had master points in duplicate bridge and sailed in racing regattas. In 1962 she lent Betty Ellis some hand-carved camels from Egypt to use as models for the camels for the Musical Fountain Nativity Scene. Harold died on June 26, 1969 and Beverly died on January 4, 1994. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "Buys Father's Interest In Firm," January 19, 1951, and "Plumbing Firm Takes Over Dornbos," February 25, 1967, Tribune obituary, January 4, 1994, and interview with La Mar Dornbos Van Haaften, October 1998.]

Henry J. Dornbos [Doornbos] [1870-1944]

Born in The Netherlands, March 20, 1870, Henry was the son of Louis and Martha Perdok Dornbos. Henry attended school in The Netherlands, and after coming to America began working in factories when only 12 years old. He worked at Silas Kilbourn's mill as a youth and lost an eye when a barrel stave flew back and hit him. It forced him to change his vocation and on May 2, 1889 he established a fish business in Grand Haven in association with his brother, Gerrit L. Dornbos, under the name, H. J. Dornbos and Brother. At first he smoked the fish in his backyard. Later he sold the products in a basket from house to house and eventually became the largest wholesale fish dealer in the world, with products being shipped throughout the country. At its peak, the company handled approximately a million and a half pounds of fish annually, mostly smoked fish. After 1940 the company handled more than 300,000 pounds of Alaskan salmon, shipped frozen by boat from Alaska to the Pacific Coast and then by train to Grand Haven. During the company's process of smoking, the natural color of the fish was retained. The business was destroyed by a botulism epidemic in 1963 that eventually led to its closing.

In 1909 the Dornbos brothers helped organized the Peoples Savings Bank in Grand Haven, with Henry as vice president and Gerrit L. as first vice president. In 1936 Henry became president and chairman of the board. He was a Republican, member of Chamber of Commerce, Citizens History Association. and Second Christian Reformed Church. His favorite recreation was travel and he toured throughout the United States, Canada, and Europe. He spent his winter months in California and Florida.

On June 27, 1894, Henry married Mary Bouwens, who was born in September 1871 and died about June 14, 1959. She was the daughter of John and Anna Barbara Van Harn Bouwens, who were born in The Netherlands, and later immigrated to Zeeland. John Bouwens was a merchant and farmer who died in 1918. His wife, Anna, died in 1891. Henry and Mary had two children: Lawrence, who was born January 18, 1896 and was associated as partner with his father in the family business, and Anna B., who was born in May 1898. Henry died at his home at 608 Washington on November 16, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Citizens Historical Association, September 13, 1941 and Tribune obituaries, November 16, 1944 and Dec 31, 1960.]

Hio Dornbos [1887-1959]

Hio, the son of Luitje “Louis” and Maatje “Martha” Perdok Dornbos, was born on June 24, 1887. On August 12, 1908 in Grand Haven, he married Johanna Hoebeck. The daughter of Henry and Cornelia Vander Boomgaard, Johanna was born on December 27, 1886. The couple resided at 427 Washington and later at 524 Columbus. Johanna was born in Michigan about 1888 and married Hio around 1898. Hio was a machinist at Dake Engine Company. Their two children were Louis, born about 1910, and Helen, born about 1916. Hio was killed in a car accident on February 18, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, with Johanna, who had died on April 29, 1955.

Howard F. Dornbos [1912-1989]

Howard Dornbos was born on February 29, 1912 and died October 4, 1989. On September 9, 1939 he married Beverly Morrison. The daughter of John and Edith Johnson Morrison of Whitehall, Beverly was born on September 16, 1916 and died February 14, 1989 at North Ottawa Community Hospital. The Dornboses lived at 1306 Sheldon Road in Grand Haven. Beverly was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Ladies’ Circle, the Free Bed Guild, and the Grand Haven Garden Club. A daughter, Mary Lynne, married John J. Hattenbach of Greenville. They also had a son, David, who remained in Grand Haven.

Isaac Dornbos [1883-1966]

Isaac Dornbos, a Grand Haven native, lived from May 2, 1883 to February 14, 1966. On May 18, 1910 he married Maria [Mary], daughter of Jan and Janna Van Loo Meeuwssen. Maria was born in Zeeland on October 10, 1883 and died in Grand Haven in 1971. Her sister Nellie married Gerrit Dornbos. Among Ike’s and Mary’s children were Marjorie Lois, who was born about 1915, and Ervan, born December 30, 1921. The family resided at 1002 Washington, where Ike also operated Isaac Dornbos Real Estate, which he started in 1926. His son Ervan joined him in the business in 1954. Prior to entering the insurance business, Isaac was co-owner of the Van Dyk & Dornbos Shoe Store at 704 Washington. John Van Dyke was his partner. They sold to brothers John and Henry Poel in 1923. Ike’s earliest business was selling washing machines from his garage. He also rolled cigars at his brother Peter’s store at 101 Washington. [Tribune article, “Ike Dornbos in 40th Year Here Selling Real Estate,” May 2, 1963.]

Jacob Lewis Dornbos [1881-1958]

Jacob Dornbos was Cashier at the National Bank in the early 1900s, later at Peoples Savings Bank in Grand Haven, and by 1918 he was treasurer for the Hackett Motor Car Company in Grand Rapids. Jacob married Fanny Kieft in 1902. She was born on June 28, 1881. In 1912 they built a home at 642 Pennoyer. [The 1920 census gives their address as 630 Pennoyer.] Before moving to the house on Pennoyer, they had lived at 511 Elliott. By 1930 they had moved to Spring Lake, where they resided on the northwest corner of Barber and Park Streets. At that time Jacob was bookkeeper for H. J. Dornbos Fish Company. Jacob was the son of Louis and Martha Perdok Dornbos, who immigrated to Grand Haven in 1882. Jacob and Fanny had at least three children: Seymour, who was born in 1905 and died in 1981; Jacob was born in The Netherlands on March 5, 1881 and passed away in Grand Haven around September 24, 1958. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fanny died on August 11, 1972 and was buried near her husband.

Lawrence Henry John Dornbos I [1896-1971]

Lawrence was born in Grand Haven on January 18, 1896, the son of Henry and Mary Bouwens Dornbos. During WWI Lawrence attended the Naval Training School at Annapolis, Maryland. In 1918 he was employed as a machinist at the Curtis Agro Plant company in Buffalo, New York. On September 14, 1922 he married Gertrude Van Woerkom, who was born November 9, 1896 and died February 11, 1962. They had three children: Lawrence J. II, born on December 9, 1924; Robert Henry, born about May 1929; and Nancy, who was born on October 1, 1930, first married Richard Cuti of Grand Haven, then on December 25, 1972, married Richard Rhem, pastor of Christ Community Church in Spring Lake, and died on May 12, 2022. Lawrence and his family lived at 622 Lake Avenue. Lawrence was employed at the family business, Dornbos Fisheries, and became manager of the firm. He died in Grand Haven on May 16, 1971.

Lawrence J. Dornbos II [1924-2001]

The son of Lawrence and Gertrude Van Woerkom Dornbos, Larry was born on December 9, 1924. He attended Grand Haven schools and served overseas as an army engineer during WWII. In the 1950s he and his father worked together at the Dornbos Insurance Company at 208 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. After his father's death in 1971, the younger Dornbos merged with William Crimmins and James Oakes and opened the Oakes, Dornbos, & Crimmins office at 234 Washington. Both Dornbos and Crimmins left the business in 1983. Lawrence and his wife, Donna Zerlaut of Oceana County, were married in Fremont, Newaygo County on September 14, 1951 and soon after bought a log cabin on Potawatomie Bayou at 15141 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven Township. Eventually they razed the original structure and built a new home that they resided in the remainder of their married lives. Lawrence died May 18, 2001.

Lester John Dornbos [1904-1933]

Born in Grand Haven on October 4, 1904, Lester was the son of Gerrit and Nellie Meeuwssen Dornbos. He was killed in an automobile accident in Grand Haven on August 13, 1933.

Lewis H. Dornbos [1909-1971]

During the 1940s Lewis Dornbos owned and operated the Standard Oil Service Station at 20 North Third Street in Grand Haven. He was born on June 10, 1909 and died in Grand Haven on June 13, 1971. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lewis resided at 302 Wallace Street.

Luitje "Louis" Dornbos [1838-1928]

Louis Dornbos, born in The Netherlands in July 1838, married Maatje "Martha" Perdok. Louis and Martha brought their family to the United States in 1882 and located in Grand Haven. They were the parents of eleven children, including Henry, born on March 20, 1870; Gerrit, born on May 2, 1877; Jacob, born on March 5, 1881; Isaac, born on May 2, 1883; Hio, born on June 24, 1887; and six more sons. Louis operated a shoemaking business at 220 North Third, and he and Martha resided at 638 Jackson. He died February 1, 1928. Martha was born in 1846 and died on April 4, 1892. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Peter Dornbos [1875-1951]

In the early 1900s Peter Dornbos was a manufacturer of cigars, including the "single bender." His place of business was 111 Washington and on Fulton Street in Grand Rapids. He and his wife, Bouwine [Bouwena] Ronda, resided at 15 North Sixth Street and later at 423 Jackson Street but were residents of Grand Rapids in 1930. Bouwine lived from June 1875 [1876] to 1939 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Peter, who was born on April 30, 1875, died about January 14, 1951. Both Peter and Bouwine were natives of The Netherlands.

Mary Dort [@1839- ?]

In 1860 Mary and Theodore Dort resided in Ferrysburg. Mary was classified as Indian, born in Michigan about 1839, and Theodore was born in The Netherlands the same year. In the 1860 census, Theodore was a fisherman. No other record of the couple was found.

Henry Elias Dosker [1855-1926]

Henry Dosker was pastor at Grand Haven's First Reformed Church between 1882 and 1886. He was born in The Netherlands on February 5, 1855, died on December 23, 1926 in Louisville, Kentucky, and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Henry married Lyda Doornink. Born on August 9, 1856, she died on May 31, 1880 and also was buried at Oakhill. On February 21, 1882 he married Wilhelmine "Minnie" Doornink in Grand Rapids. She was born about 1862 in Milwaukee and died in Louisville on March 11, 1923. Henry also was on the faculty of Western Theological Seminary in Holland.

Christopher [Christofer] Douck [1827-1899]

Chris Douck owned a 39-acre farm in Section 22 of Crockery Township by 1876. He was born in Mecklenburg, Germany on October 15, 1827, died on December 4, 1899, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. His wife, Fredericketa, was born in August 1832 [1831] in Prussia [Germany]. They were married about 1860. Their children were: John C., born in New York State in February 1862 [1863]; Louise, who was born in 1864, died on June 30, 1886, and was buried at Nunica; Mary, born in 1865; Gusta, born in 1867; Charles, who was born in 1870, married Anna Maud Spencer [1877-1931], and died in Coopersville in 1911; Paulina, born in 1872; Anna M., who was born in 1874, died on March 24, 1890, and also was buried at Nunica. Christopher and Frederick were brothers.

Frederick Douck I [1832-1910]

Frederick Douck, who was born in Mecklenburg, Germany on October 10, 1832 [1833] and came to the United States in 1861. He enlisted in Company F of the 17th Michigan Infantry as private on August 14, 1862. Frederick was promoted to corporal on May 1, 1865 and discharged on June 3. He owned an 80-acre farm in Section 14 of Crockery Township. The Doucks had five children, all born in Michigan: Frank, born in June 1868 [1867]; Carline, born about 1870; William, born in 1873; Emma, born in 1875; and Frederick II [Fred John], who was born on December 10, 1878 and became postmaster in Nunica. Frederick I died on March 16, 1910 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. On April 30, 1910, his wife, Caroline L. "Carrie," applied for a widow's Civil War pension. She was born in Prussia and lived from May 1850 to 1930 and also was buried at Nunica. Frederick and Christopher were brothers.

John C. Douck [1862-1931]

The son of Christopher and Fredericketa Douck, John was born in New York on February 24, 1863. His wife, Minnie, a native of Michigan, was born in November 1872. Their children, all born locally, included Permillia, born in September 1892; Ora, born in October 1894; and Roy, born in March 1900. The Doucks owned an 80-acre farm in Section 22 of Crockery Township. John died on April 12, 1931 in Nunica.

Frank Hudson Doud [Dowd] [1835-1899]

Born in New York in 1835, Frank Doud came to Michigan from Wayne County, New York in 1857, settling first in South Haven. He was located in Spring Lake by 1870 and moved to Grand Haven the next year, continuing in the carpentry business. He died from apoplexy on December 10, 1899 at his home in Hart and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife Elizabeth was born in New York on August 30, 1837 and died on May 26, 1899. She also was buried at Lake Forest. They had no children. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1899.]

Joseph Douglass [Douglas] II [1844-1912]

Joseph was born in Stowe, Vermont on October 6, 1844, the son of Joseph Douglass. The younger Joseph on June 23, 1862 enlisted in Company H of the 9th Vermont Infantry. He was discharged for disability on April 10, 1863. Joseph came to Grand Haven in 1880 and worked for Brouwer and Vos as an engineer at their mill. In 1895 he entered the government lighthouse service and was stationed at the harbor's mouth for 14 years until illness forced his resignation. He and his wife, Amanda, who lived from September 1853 to 1933, resided at 529 Madison in Grand Haven. Their children included Frank, born in March 1885; Flossie, born in April 1890; George, born in September 1892; Joseph III, born in September 1896; and Gladys of Grand Haven. Joseph died March 5, 1912 at the Soldiers' Home hospital. On the following March 15 Amanda applied for a widow's Civil War pension. Joseph and Amanda were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 6, 1912.]

Abraham Dowlyn [Dowlin, Dowlyne] [1823-1901]

Born on April 23, 1823, Abraham Dowlyn worked in a local sawmill. He was born in The Netherlands, arrived in the United States in 1855, and subsequently settled in Spring Lake with his wife, Maria Adriance. Abraham and Maria had at least one child born in The Netherlands: John, who was born on September 23, 1851 and died in Muskegon Heights on January 13, 1927. Their other children, all born in Michigan, were Paul, born about 1857; Appollos, born about 1858; and Catherine, born in June 1860. At the time of the 1860 Federal Census, Abraham, Maria, and their children were living in "Muskegon Village." Following Maria's death not long after the census, Abraham married Maria "Mary" Louis Pruim, whose husband, Peter Pruim, also had died recently. Abraham's and Mary's children were Dora, born about 1862; Isaac, who was born on August 4, 1864 and died on March 6, 1926; Nellie, born about 1866; Fred, born about 1868; and Mary, born in July 1870. The Dowlyns also had two children from Mary's first marriage: John Pruim, born about 1857, and Elizabeth "Betsy" Pruim, born on November 17, 1859. Mary was born in The Netherlands on October 5, 1835 and came to the United States in 1854. Abraham and his family appeared in the 1870 Federal Census for both Spring Lake and Crockery Townships. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Spring Lake. Their daughter Elizabeth married Edward Hofma of Grand Haven. By 1900 Abraham and Mary lived on Summit Street in Spring Lake Village. Abraham died in Spring Lake on March 17, 1901 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Edward Gideon Downs [1879-1949]

Edward G. Downs, who was born on September 4, 1879 in Michigan, became a farmer in Section 28 of Polkton Township. His wife, Florence, also a native of Michigan, lived from 1884 to 1964. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Ruth A., born about 1909; Chester, born about 1911; and Leonard, born about February 1915. In the 1910 census was Edward listed as Black, and his wife and children as White. On his WWI draft registration form he is noted as White, as are he and his parents, wife, and children. Edward's father, John W. Downs, on September 20, 1861 enlisted as private in Company F of the 60th New York Infantry and served until July 7, 1865, covering almost the complete span of the Civil War. On January 11, 1866 John married Hortense Carr of Edwards, New York. She was born in November 1844, died in 1932, and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. John, also a native of New York, lived from February 11, 1835 to March 22, 1907. He, too, was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. Edward died of a self-inflicted head wound on December 9, 1949. He and Florence were buried at Coopersville Cemetery.

Walter J. Draeger I [1907-1986]

In 1946 Walter Draeger and George O. Brown of Muskegon bought Haven Laundry [Haven Modern Laundry] from Jessie Olsen. The laundry, then located at 201 Columbus, was subsequently moved to 1447 Washington. George Brown was Walter's wife's brother. After his retirement, Walter's son, Walter II, took over management of the business, which remained at 1447 Washington until its permanent closing around 1999. Walter I was born on December 31, 1907 and died in Grand Haven on April 26, 1986. He was the son of Emil and Emma Draeger, who in 1908 resided at 1240 Fulton Avenue. Emil, who worked at Story & Clark, was born in Michigan about 1877 and died in 1944, and his wife was born in Germany around 1880 and passed away in 1940. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Walter married Elizabeth Burns, who was born in Michigan on July 1, 1915 and passed away in Missouri City, Texas on April 7, 2006. Elizabeth's sister, Roberta, married Robert Stobbelaar of Grand Haven. The Draegers' son Louis opened Draeger Motor Sales at 15001 Cleveland in Spring Lake.

William Henry Drake [1836-1905]

Born in Halifax, Yorkshire on February 15, 1836, William Henry Drake in 1857 arrived in Spring Lake, taking a room at the Middle-Mist Hotel. He enlisted as corporal with Company A of the 3rd Michigan Infantry on May 13, 1861. He was listed as missing at the Battle of Fair Oaks, Virginia on May 31, 1862 and was discharged for disability on the following January 13. On November 8, 1865 he married Sarah Middlemist of Spring Lake. She was born in Grand Haven on July 4, 1840 to Henry and Dorothy Dods Middlemist, owners of the Middlemist Hotel. After teaching at the Spring Lake school, in 1862 Sarah Middlemist became assistant to Charles W. Cushman, principal of the Grand Haven Union High School. The year after their marriage the couple moved to Chicago, where William was employed as an architect. Sarah died there on April 9, 1898, seven years before her husband's death in the same city on January 19, 1905. The Drakes had four children, all born in Illinois. One of their descendants, William Depue Drake of Ann Arbor, purchased the property at 322 Clinton Street in Grand Haven in 2001. After his death on June 13, 2003, he left a legacy in the form of a Perpetual Endowment for the benefit of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum.

William Depue Drake [1936-2003]

In 2001 Bill Drake became co-owner with Betty Kammeraad [Dobbie] of the home at 322 Clinton Street in Grand Haven. Bill was a descendant of the Drake and Middlemist families that once resided in Grand Haven and Spring Lake. Professor of Resource Planning and Conservation at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Bill made frequent trips to the Grand Haven area as he traced his family genealogy. He was born on April 13, 1936 and died in Ann Arbor on June 13, 2003. His will stipulated that $100,000 of his estate go to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum to establish the Drake Middlemist Heritage Fund. The fund is managed by the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation and administered by the Museum.

Thomas A. Drelis [1900-1943]

For a few years in the mid-1920s, Thomas Drelis was proprietor of the Harbor Café at 13 Washington Street in Grand Haven. He was born around 1896 in Greece. He immigrated to the United States in 1914. On October 27, 1924 he married Martha May Miller in Detroit. She was born in New Paris, Ohio on June 1, 1905. By 1930 the couple was residing in Muskegon, where he was proprietor of another cafe. Thomas died in Sault Ste. Marie on January 23, 1943. Martha passed away in Ann Arbor on April 11, 1931. She was buried at Spring Lawn Cemetery in New Paris.

Walter Drinkwater [1865-1938]

Listed as a "Farmer and Stockraiser," Walter Drinkwater owned acreage in Section 33 of Olive Township. Born in May 1865, he came to the area from England with his parents in 1876. His father, Robert, lived from 1831 to 1910 and his mother, Margaret, lived from 1828 to 1913. All were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Paul Edward Droppers [1919-1988]

Paul Droppers started B & B Design in 1948. He merged with ASP & Manufacturing Company when that firm moved to the former Stanco building on Savidge in Spring Lake. Howard Broersma was president, his brother Robert was vice president, and Paul was named secretary-treasurer after the merger. Paul and his wife, Janet, resided in Muskegon. He was born on September 24, 1921 and died in St. Petersburg, Florida on January 25, 1988. Janet, who was born on November 15, 1917, passed away in St. Petersburg on March 29, 1994.

Henry William Dubee [1861-1945] and Marian Dubee [1870-1973]

Born in Brunswick, Germany in 1861 and educated there, Henry Dubee was proficient in languages and music. Unwilling to serve in the military in Germany, he came to the United States in 1880. He was a professor at Olivet College and at Ripon College in Wisconsin. Henry graduated from Harvard with a doctor's [Ph.D.] degree. During much of the time while he was studying and teaching, Henry's wife and children lived at her parents' home at 508 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Henry also taught at Radcliff for a time and eventually moved his family to Ann Arbor, where he taught at the University of Michigan until 1908, when he moved his family to Beloit College in Beloit, Wisconsin. In 1911 Dr. Dubee spent his sabbatical in Europe and his family again moved in with the Vander Veens.

On August 26, 1891 in Grand Haven, Henry married Marian. She was born on July 12, 1870, the daughter of Dr. Arend and Kate Howard Vander Veen of Grand Haven. The family resided at 508 Washington Street. The Dubees had two sons. One, Stuart W., was born on July 9, 1894, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1911, served in the U.S. Army's Ordnance Department at Camp Hancock, Georgia, during WWI, graduated in engineering from the University of Michigan, and retired from the Michigan State Highway Department. He passed away in Spring Lake on July 14, 1974. The other son, Arend, was born in April 1892, graduated from the University of Michigan School of Law, resided in Grand Rapids, and died in December 1964. Henry died in Grand Rapids on December 7, 1945 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After her husband's death Marian continued to reside at her childhood home, 508 Washington, until her death on September 3, 1973 at the age of 103. [Tribune articles, "Happy 100th Mrs. Dubee," July 18, 1970, and "Manages own affairs at Age of 100," July 17, 1970, and Tribune obituary, September 4, 1973.]

Crinis [Crines] H. Du Bois [1847-1918]

In August 1874 Crinis Du Bois purchased a half-interest in the Grand Haven Daily Herald from Sylvester L. Morris. By 1875 Crinis had full control. Five years later he and his family were residing in Minneapolis, where he was editor and publisher of the Minneapolis Spectator. Crinis was born in High Falls, New York in 1847, the son of Albert and Sarah Ann Dubois. He married Mary Bigelow Hall [Hale] on February 17, 1873 in Ann Arbor. Mary was born on March 9, 1846, also in New York, and apparently passed away around 1891. Their three sons, all born in Michigan, were Charles H., born in 1876; Israel, born about 1879; and Eugene, born about 1880. By 1880 Crinis was living in Minneapolis, and by 1910 he was living in Los Angeles, California with his second wife, Grace Warren, and their four children. Their son, Frank Ellsworth Du Bois, was born in Chicago on August 12, 1893. In 1910, Crinis was still in the newspaper business. He died on February 13, 1918 and was buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, California. Grace was born in Florida on January 31, 1875 and passed away in California on November 14, 1945. She, too, was buried at Forest Lawn.

Daryl Du Bridge [1939-1999]

Daryl Du Bridge was killed on November 17, 1999, while bicycling home from the store he owned and managed. His shop, located in the D & W Plaza, was known as "Just For You" and carried cards and gifts. He was born in Grand Rapids on May 31, 1939, to Flinton and Nora Haywood Du Bridge. In Grand Haven, he was an active member of the Association of Commerce and Industry and its president for many years. He and Gail Le Blanc were married on November 26, 1960. She was born on July 1, 1941.

Doris Hardy Ducey [1932-2018]

The daughter of Harry and Helen Hardy, Doris was born in Chicago on May 15, 1932. She married Walter J. Ducey in Chicago on July 13, 1951. Doris received a master degree in education from the University of Illinois and taught first grade and special education in Chicago public schools. After retirement in 1993, she moved to Spring Lake. Doris and Walter had a son, Richard Ducey of Waukesha, Wisconsin. Walter was born on May 3, 1925 in Jackson, died in Spring Lake on August 1, 1998, and was buried at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Chicago. He was the grandson of Michael Henry Ducey, who owned property Spring Lake as early as 1902. Doris passed away in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin on December 3, 2018 and also was buried at Mt. Hope Cemetery. Her long-time friend, Gerrard "Sam" Harring had died the previous July.

Michael Henry Ducey [1862–1923]

In 1902 Michael Ducey purchased the house at 535 Buena Vista in Spring Lake Village, along with seven and a half acres of land on Spring Lake. The land bordered the west side of Lake Street and extended from Spring Lake south to State Street [Savidge]. Michael was a partner in the Grand Rapids Piano Case Company, and he purchased the Spring Lake property as a summer residence for his wife and their 13 children. During their months on the cool shores of Spring Lake, Michael commuted to work on the Interurban.

Michael was born in Michigan on June 10, 1862. His father, William Anthony Ducey, was born about 1820 in Ireland. In 1847 in New York City, William married Mary Burbage, who died in Grand Rapids about 1868. On June 7, 1892 Michael married Agnes McMullen. Agnes was born in Chicago on January 1, 1873. Michael and Agnes had 13 children, all born in Michigan: Michael Joseph, born on March 11, 1893; Walter J., born on June 23, 1894; Mary A., born about 1896; William Michael, born on February 3, 1897; Brian J., born on June 17, 1898; Agnes, born on November 21, 1899; Edward Francis, who was born on September 28, 1902 and passed away in California on August 12, 1985; Lawrence, born about 1905; Vincent P., who was born on September 11, 1906 and died in California on July 27, 1956; Bernard, who was born on May 13, 1908 and died in California on May 21, 1990; John, who was born on April 10, 1910 and died in California on January 5, 2004; Joseph, born about 1913; and Thomas Robert, who was born on December 15, 1915 and passed away in California on January 29, 1994.

As early as 1912 nine lakeside lots on the Ducey property were platted and called Buena Vista Subdivision. After Michael died in 1923, Agnes sold the lots throughout the 1920s and 1930s. Michael J. Ducey, the couple's oldest son, purchased the house and 108 feet of lake frontage in 1932. Having sold the Grand Rapids business and home, Agnes returned to Chicago, where she died on August 24, 1963. Young Michael Ducey had died suddenly in 1938, and his widow, Loyolla C., rented the Spring Lake house to friends from time to time. During the 1960s she began again to spend summers in the home. Loyolla was born on August 24, 1894 and died in Jackson on January 8, 1977. After her death, her three children, Patricia, Walter, and Frank, inherited the property and winterized the house. Patricia and her husband, James C. MacDonald, took ownership and continued to use the site as a summer residence and for family gatherings. Her brother Walter died on August 1, 1998 and her brother Frank died in 2002.

Charles Du Chien [1793-1889]

See Charles Dushane.

George Dudley [@1826-1864]

Residing in Grand Haven at the time, George A. Dudley was 37 when he enlisted in Company G of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry on December 28, 1863. He worked as a barber and as a cook. Born in New Orleans, Louisiana, George died in a military hospital in Beaufort, South Carolina on July 5, 1864 and was buried at Beaufort National Cemetery.

William J. Duga [1908-2004]

Born on July 23, 1908, William Duga moved to Grand Haven from Grand Rapids during the Depression, after he had married Helen Mary Zysk. She was born in New Jersey about 1911, died on April 19, 1977, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William's parents were Jerome and Mary Newhouse Duga of Grand Rapids.

William opened an insurance office in Grand Haven after WWII, and later added real estate. He was a charter member of the Board of Realtors and started the first multiple listing service for Board members. His office was at 102 Washington in downtown Grand Haven, but he moved to 107 Washington. He and Helen lived in the second floor apartment. In addition to serving as president of the Young Democrats of North Ottawa County, William was active in the local Veterans of Foreign Wars and the March of Dimes. In 1950, as V.F.W. commander, he initiated the idea of bringing a carnival to town as part of the annual Coast Guard Festival.

William, who served in the Navy Construction Battalion [Sea Bees] during World War II, died on November 14, 2004 in Spring Lake. In 1956 he married Doris Garnett Johnson, who was born on December 31, 1914 and died on July 16, 2000. William and Doris were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, July 12, 2000 and November 15, 2004.]

Father Pierre du Jaunay [1704-1780]

Father du Jaunay arrived in what was then the French colony of Michigan in 1734. He ministered to the Native Americans for 30 years and traveled throughout the area, working from the Catholic Mission in Michilimackinac, and performed the earliest baptisms on record, mostly along the east coast of Lake Michigan, including a few on the Grand River and some inland. In 1765 the Michilimackinac Mission was closed, and he was recalled to Quebec, where he died on July 17, 1780. He was born in Vannes, France on August 11, 1704/August 10, 1705 [unsubstantiated].

Henry “Harry” C. Dunbar [1867-1936]

Harry Dunbar was an electrical contractor with an office at 131 Washington. He was born in August 1867 in New York. In Grand Haven he resided at 9 South Sixth Street. Harry died in 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Martha McKee Huntington Duncan [1845-1918] and Robert William Duncan [1824-1903]

Born in West Rutland, Vermont on February 24, 1824, Robert Duncan and his parents came to the Grand Haven area in June 1851 and opened his law practice with an office over Henry Griffin’s store, on the northwest corner of First and Washington. Robert was representative to the Michigan Legislature in 1855; presided over the Board of County supervisors in 1856; was prosecuting attorney and circuit court commissioner in 1867; was mayor of Grand Haven in 1868 and 1869; and was Grand Haven’s first city attorney. Robert was one of the negotiators who helped bring the railroad to the south side of the river in 1870. He was a Democrat.

Martha, the daughter of James and Eleanor McKee Huntington, was born on March 22, 1845 in Mount Tabor, Vermont, but by 1850 Martha, her parents, and her siblings were residing in Rome, New York. The Federal Census placed her birth in New York. In 1870 Martha was a teacher living in Grand Rapids with the Hoyt Post family. Hoyt was from Tinmouth, Vermont. Tinmouth, Mount Tabor, and West Rutland are all in Rutland County. This census placed her birth in Vermont. On November 13, 1872 in Grand Rapids, she and Robert Duncan were married. Pope Catlin Huntington, Martha’s half-brother, and his wife Jane lived with the Duncans in Grand Haven before moving to Chicago. Pope earned a reputation as author of the book titled The True History Regarding Alleged Connection of the Order of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons with the Abduction of William Morgan in Western New York in 1826.

According to the 1880 Federal Census, Martha was born in New York. In 1900 she and Robert occupied a two-story frame home at 21 North First Street [approximate number], where Story & Clark built their original plant. His law office was across the street at 12 North First. After Robert’s death, Martha built two houses across from Duncan Park at the bend on Lake Avenue where the street turns to the west. She lived in one of the houses and enjoyed looking onto the park while working in the kitchen. Both the 1900 and 1910 census placed her birth in New York. In 1910 she was living in Ann Arbor.

Robert died on May 17, 1903. Although he and Martha had no children, they were dedicated to Grand Haven’s growth and improvement. On October 22, 1913, Martha deeded to the City of Grand Haven 50 forested acres. The acreage later was named Duncan Park, and carried the restriction that it remain in its natural state for the benefit of the community. In the late 1920s two sets of stone pillars were erected, one at the Sheldon Road entrance and the other at the Lake Avenue entrance. The road through the park was paved in 1940. The Duncans also owned 550 acres on Potawatomie Bayou, which Martha sold after her husband’s death, and she sold another piece of land, called Duncan Grove, at the corner of Fulton and Beechtree Streets, to Eagle Ottawa. Martha died on August 5, 1918, leaving the bulk of her estate to the City of Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, May 18, 1903, and Tribune article, “Keep Duncan Woods--Natural Forest,” October 23, 1984.]

William Oscar [Oscar William] Duncan [1833- ?]

One-time principal at Grand Haven Union School on Clinton Street, William Duncan became a teacher at Spring Lake Union School in 1861. The year before he was living with the Moses Hopkins family in Grand Haven. In the Federal Census of that year, 1860, he was listed as working as a teacher. He was born in Northport, Maine in 1833.

Solomon [Samuel] Rollman Dunkelberger [1843-1896]

Born in Pennsylvania on December 26, 1843, Solomon Dunkelberger married Elmira Sharman [Scharman], who was christened in Berks County, Pennsylvania on November 22, 1846. On February 1, 1864 Solomon enlisted as sergeant in Battery D of a Pennsylvania Light Artillery Company. He was mustered out on June 19, 1865. Elmira passed away on August 11, 1876. A shoemaker by trade, Solomon migrated to Michigan in 1882 and arrived in Nunica a short time later and opened a shop in Nunica. Apparently he didn't stay long. On April 9, 1891 Solomon applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. He died on April 5, 1896 and was buried with his wife at Sinking Spring Cemetery in Berks County, Pennsylvania. They had one child, Adam, who died in infancy.

Hulbert "Halb" Dunlevy [Dunleavy] [1866-1918]

By 1900 Halb Dunlevy owned a large fruit farm in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 18400 West Spring Lake Road]. He was born in Ohio in January 1866, and his wife, Mary Ladine, was a native of New York, where she was born in September 1869. They had at least three children, all born in Illinois: Loomis H. [Lorimere H.], born in July 1891; Sarah, born in December 1893; and Edith H., born in November 1895. Halb died on January 5, 1918 and Mary Ladine passed away on January 17, 1929. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Joseph D. Dupont [1917-2000]

Joseph Dupont was born on July 18, 1917. In 1943 he married Kathlyn, the daughter of Julius and Helen Oros Vig of Bridgman, Berrien County. Kathlyn was born on March 26, 1923 and died in Spring Lake on February 3, 2003. Joseph and Kathlyn were members of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Spring Lake and resided at 2450 East Fruitport Road and later at 2450 East Vig Drive, both in Fruitport Township. Joseph died on August 26, 2000 in Spring Lake. Their children were Steven, Daniel, Michael and James Dupont and Veronica Adame, Connie Johnson, Mary Sly, and Ilona, who married Dale Levandowski.

George M. Duram [1844-1935]

George Duram married Bianca Smith in Grand Haven on February 24, 1867. In 1880 George was an insurance agent in Montague, Muskegon County, and Bianca was a milliner. They moved back to Grand Haven in May 1893 and opened a shop at or near 28 Washington to sell Farrand & Votey organs, pianos, sewing machines, and supplies. At the same time, Bianca offered classes in oil painting, portrait and landscape, and sold her own work. George apparently resided in Chicago for a while, but by 1900 Bianca was living in Saugatuck, working as a baker with her daughter Carrie. At that time, George was working as a servant in Fruitland Township, Muskegon County, where he was still living in 1910. In 1910 Bianca was residing in Bangor Township, Van Buren County, and in 1930 she was widowed and again living with her daughter, Carrie, and son-in-law, Charles R. Bill, in Kalamazoo. Carrie was born in Michigan in 1877. Arthur, a son, was born about 1872, and Edson, another son, was born in Montague on March 17, 1873. George was born in Seneca County, New York on April 8, 1844 and died on October 11, 1935 in Sparta, Kent County and was buried at Greenwood Cemetery. Bianca was born in Ionia, Ionia County on January 25, 1850, died in Bangor, Van Buren County on November 5, 1942, and was buried at Arlington Hill Cemetery.

Millard F. Durham [1856-1939]

In 1900 Millard Durham was a grain merchant in Coopersville. A few years later he became Cashier at the Coopersville State Bank. He chaired the first Ottawa County Road Commission, formed in 1911. On January 8, 1880 in Lamont, he married Sarah Catherine Pierce, who lived from August 1860 to April 1948. They had at least two children, both born locally: Eloise, born in June 1882, and Grace May who was born on May 9, 1885 and died in Jackson on July 10, 1866. On November 6, 1919 in Jackson, Grace married Milo R. Hulliberger, a plumber. He was born in Ionia County on December 27, 1887 and died in Jackson on January 15, 1942. Millard lived from July 25, 1856 to March 1939 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery, as was Sarah.

Richard Cornell Duryea [1830-1902]

Richard Duryea was classified as “U.S. harbor inspector” in the 1893 Compendium, a position he assumed in 1882 and held until his death. An 1853 graduate of West Point, Richard served as colonel with the First U.S. Artillery during the Civil War and later transferred to the 7th New York Heavy Artillery. He was cited several times for meritorious service and mustered out on December 15, 1870. Richard was born in New York on September 9, 1830 and died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1902. He married Alice Hull, also a native of the Empire State, where she was born on June 28, 1862. Alice previously had been married to a Mr. Sherborne. A daughter, Nina, was born to the Duryeas in Brooklyn, New York in July 1880. On August 4, 1902 in Grand Haven, Nina married Jesse H. Newell. Richard was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alice died in Toledo, Ohio on September 3, 1932 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Doede Johannus Du Saar [1870-1934]

Doede J. Du Saar was a partner with John Mulder when the two men purchased the Square Drug store at Seventh and Fulton [635 Fulton] in 1916. The next year Mulder bought out his partner’s interest. Doede was from Huron, Wayne County, where he married Cora M. Tarry on December 24, 1895. They had at least one child, Beulah, who was born locally in June 1899. Doede was born in The Netherlands in February 26, 1870, immigrated to the United States in 1899, and died in Holland on December 6, 1934. He and Cora were residents of Holland, Michigan in 1930. Cora lived from December 23, 1874 to August 1972. She was living in Sioux Falls, South Dakota when she died.

Charles Dushane [Du Chien, Duchine] I [1793-1889]

Charles Dushane, born in 1793, settled in Grand Rapids, where he and his wife had a son, Charles Peter Dushane, born in May 1844. The family moved to Ottawa Township [later renamed Grand Haven Township], where Charles on July 1, 1857 bought approximately 65 acres in Section 28 and later 59 acres in Section 33. The Section 28 acreage passed on to his son Peter. Charles’s wife was born about 1810. Charles died in 1889 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Charles Gastinon Dushane II [1813-1889]

Charles Dushane II was born in Detroit on April 12, 1813. He married Therese Carmel of Kent County. By the time of the 1840 census, Charles and Therese were living in Kent County a son, who was under five years old. Therese may have died, because in September 1850 in Grand Haven, he married Cornelia [Cornelies] Fries. She was born about 1827 in The Netherlands. At the time of the 1860 Federal Census, Charles Dushane was living on a farm in Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township]. Living on the farm with Charles and Cornelia were three children, all born locally: Lewis P., born about 1842; Charles III, born about 1842 and Mary J., born about 1851. Mary probably was Charles’s and Cornelia’s daughter. Their neighbors in 1860 were the families of Isadore Naughty [Nontoit], William Cobmoosa, Jacob Poel, and George Robinson I. Charles, Cornelia, and daughter Mary were listed in the censuses of 1870 and 1880, still in Grand Haven Township. By 1880, Mary was known as Mary Laver and had a son, Robert, who was born about November 1879. Charles II died in Grand Haven on April 22, 1889.

Charles E. Dushane [1868-1937]

Charles E., the son of Charles and Mary Alice King Dushane, was born in Grand Haven Township on January 17, 1868. He married Laudina [Claudia] Meyers, who was born in November 1874. They had a 91-acre farm. Their children were Robert, born in September 1895; Frank, born in June 1897; and Clara, born in December 1899. Charles died in an auto accident on U.S. 16 near Marne on October 30, 1937, and Laudina passed away about March 9, 1953. Both were buried at Grand Haven Township Historic Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 4, 1937.]

Charles Peter Dushane [Dushain, Du Chien] [1844-1916]

See Peter Dushane.

Lewis [Louis] Philip Dushane [1842-1892]

Lewis [Louis] Phillip Dushane on September 8, 1860 married Magdalena [Madeline/Nellie] Snay in Grand Haven. The daughter of February and Harriet Snay, Magdalena was of Indian descent through her mother. Magdalena was born about 1842. Lewis, the son Charles and Cornelia [Cornelis] Dushane, was born in 1842. Magdalena may have died young, because on September 27, 1866 Lewis married Mary Ellen Ellis in Grand Haven. Mary was born about 1849. Lewis and Mary had at least one child, William L. Dushane, who lived from 1871 to 1957. Lewis, his parents, and his siblings were enumerated in the Federal Census of 1860 for Grand Haven Township. Lewis died in Lagrange, Indiana on November 21, 1892.

Marion E. Dushane [1911-1988]

Born on July 30, 1911 in Agnew, the son of Charles and Claudia Dushane, Marion worked for Grand Haven Board of Light and Power until he retired in 1971. His first wife, Lillian Carskadon, lived from 1912 to 1933. They had a daughter, Mary Alice Dushane, who was born on June 8, 1931 and married August Garbrecht of West Olive. On September 16, 1935, Marion married Lena K. Diedrich in Grand Haven. She was born on May 15, 1908 in Robinson Township. By 1950, Marion and Lena were living at 725½ Columbus Street. Marion then was employed at the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power. He died on January 22, 1988 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Lena passed away on December 25, 2014 and also was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery, as was Lillian.

Matilda Dushane [Du Chien] [1872-1872]

Matilda, the daughter of Peter and Mary Alice King Dushane, died of cholera on August 9, 1872, when she was eleven days old. The infant was buried near the eastern boundary of the family property in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Lakeshore Drive, which had followed what became Hiawatha Street to the southeast, was extended due south in 1930. The new route took the road over Matilda's gravesite. Lorraine Orsinger, a Dushane descendant, protested its planned removal and prevailed. The fenced-in grave still can be seen near the east shoulder of the road, slightly south of Hiawatha.

Peter [Charles Peter] Dushane [Dushain, Du Chien, Duchene] [1844-1916]

Peter, the son of Charles Dushane, was born May 10, 1844 in Grand Rapids. Evidently his full name was Charles Peter, although he usually was referred to as Peter. On August 14, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. On December 31, 1862, he was listed as a prisoner of war at Stones River, Tennessee. Peter was exchanged on April 15, 1863 but was listed as a deserter on June 10 that year. [In his service records, Peter's last name was spelled "Duchaine" and "Duchanine."] He settled on the family property in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township in 1871, which his father owned by 1864. The 59 acres included what later became a portion of Lakeshore Drive near Hiawatha Street. After his father's death Peter also acquired 64 acres in Section 28, just to the north.

On October 17, 1867 in Grand Haven, Peter married Mary Alice [Minnie/Minne] King, who was born in Milwaukee on September 15, 1849 and died in Grand Rapids about January 17, 1920. She was the daughter of Peter [1790-1877] and Mary Agnes [1805-1872] King, both of whom were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Dushanes' a infant daughter Matilda died of cholera on August 9, 1872 and was buried on the family property. Another child, Theodore, died at age 23 of consumption and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, and a son, Robert Sheridan, who was born on December 21, 1873, died on May 30, 1894 and was interred at Lake Forest. The other Dushane children, all born in Grand Haven Township, were Charles E., who was born on January 17, 1868; Alvira Agnes, born October 12, 1870, married Fred Kreiling, and died on May 2, 1947 in Phillips, Wisconsin; Franklin Alonzo, born on February 11, 1876, married Kitty Pearl

Johnson [August 17, 1879-September 7, 1971] on July 14, 1899, and died in Grand Rapids on November 2, 1950; Phillip Sherman, who was born on April 2, 1887, married Lulu Smith in Robinson Township on July 1, 1906, and died in LaSalle County, Illinois, on March 16, 1919; Peter Leroy, born on April 22, 1889, married Lena Clara Dornan, and died February 1, 1944, in Grand Rapids; and Ellen Elizabeth “Louise,” born May 28, 1892, married Fred C. Orsinger [1892-1953], and died in 1965 in Grand Rapids.

On April 1, 1891 Peter applied for an invalid’s Civil War pension. He died on November 16, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Minnie died in Grand Rapids at the home of her son, Adolphus, on January 17, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest under the name Mary Alice Dushane. It’s possible that listing Minne’s last name as Van Zee in the Durant Roll was an error. She died as Minnie Dushane and no record was found that she married a Van Zee nor was she included in a Federal Census under that name. [Tribune obituaries, November 18, 1916; November 19, 1920; and November 4, 1937, and Grand Rapids Press obituary, January 17, 1920.]

Minne was included in the 1868 Annuity Roll, with her last name spelled Duchene. She was living alone. Her allotment amounted to $15.85. With the family name spelled Duchesne, Minne appeared in the 1870 Annuity Roll among a group of Indians that were at least part-time residents of the Grand Haven area. They were members of Chief Penayse’s band of Ottawas. She lived alone and received $15.30. Her name was not found in any other annuity rolls or censuses, except in the 1908 Durant Roll, where she was listed as Mrs. Minnie Van Zee, born Duchesne. She then resided in Grand Rapids. Her entry included the note that she could not be located. She was a member of the Grand River Bands of Indians.

Peter’s and Mary’s daughter Matilda died of cholera on August 9, 1872, when she was eleven days old. The infant was buried near the eastern boundary of the family property in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. Lakeshore Drive, which had followed what became Hiawatha Street to the southeast, was extended due south in 1930. The new route took the road over Matilda’s gravesite. Lorraine Orsinger, a Dushane descendant, protested its planned removal and prevailed. The fenced-in grave can be seen near the east shoulder of the road, slightly south of Hiawatha Street.

Richard Lee “Rick” DuShane [Dushane] [1944-2023]

Richard DuShane was born on January 24, 1944 in Grand Haven. He graduated from the University of Michigan with a Bachelor of Education degree and from Michigan State University with a Master of Counseling degree. He returned to Grand Haven to teach in the public schools and soon was hired as school counselor, a position he held for more than 40 years. Rick introduced soccer to Grand Haven and stayed with the program until he retired in the early 2000s. He married Jeanene Doll in Muskegon on December 20, 1969. She was born on June 15, 1946. They had three children: Melissa DuShane, Krista DuShane, who married Miguel Quintanilla, and Lily DuShane. Rick died on January 8, 2023.

Dreewes [Drewis] J. Duursema [1826-1892]

Born in Groningen, The Netherlands, on December 26, 1826, Dreewes Duursema came to Grand Haven in 1855. He was a member of the First Reformed Church. On July 8, 1857 in Grand Haven, he married Lentje “Lucy” Rosendal Mieras, who was born in The Netherlands on January 6, 1819 and was the widow of Jan “John” Mieras. Lucy’s son from her first marriage, Jan Mieras II, lived with her and Dreewes. She and Jan had at least one other son, William Mieras, who was born in The Netherlands in 1852. Lucy and Dreewes had two children: Jennie, who was born in 1859 and died in 1871, and John D., who was born about 1862. Dreewes died from the “grippe” at his home on Franklin Street on February 12, 1892. Lucy died on April 2, 1903. Both Duursemas were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with their daughter Jennie. [Tribune obituaries, February 13, 1892 and April 3, 1903.]

John [Jonathan] D. Duursema [1862-1947]

John, the son of Dreewes and Lucy Duursema, ran the Star Bakery near the corner of Washington and Second Streets [136 Washington], in partnership with William Mieras, his half brother. His advertisement in the 1893 Directory said that he was “Baker and Confectioner.” John also was vice president of Grand Haven Furniture, which manufactured bedroom suites between 1890 and 1895. He and his wife Elizabeth lived at 219 South Fifth. Their children, all born locally, were Lucy C., born in January 1888; Christine J., born in October 1891; Chester D., born in January 1894; and Jeanette C., born in April 1899. Elizabeth was the sister of Cornelius Addison, who owned the Addison Dry Goods Store in downtown Grand Haven [200 Washington]. John, who was born in Michigan in May 1862, died about July 1, 1947. Elizabeth was born in New York in June 1863 and passed away around November 10, 1941. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles Duvernay [Diverney] [1820-1880]

Charles, born in 1820, was Pierre and Julia Minedemoyea Duvernay’s oldest son. Along with other members of the Duvernay family that arrived at the mouth of Grand River with Rev. William Ferry and his entourage on November 2, 1834, Charles was a charter member of the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. He married Eliza Lawrence, who was about two years younger than he. Charles, Eliza, and their 14-year-old son John appeared in the 1860 census for Grand Haven. In the household at that time also was a Duvernay daughter, Louisa Maria, born in Grand Haven about 1848 and William Parrisien [Parigian], five years old at the time. John served with the federal forces during the Civil War under the name Kedgnal or Kedgnot. [See John Henry Duvernay for more detail.]

Charles appeared in the 1859 Annuity Roll for Grand River Ottawas as a member of Chief Payshawsegay’s band. Charles’s family name was spelled Devereaux; he received $6.85. In the Roll taken two years later, under the same chief, his annuity amounted to $23.10. In the 1864 Annuity Roll for Grand River Ottawa Indians, he received $10.26 as a member of the same band. His annuity the next year amounted to $14.70. Three years later, still with the same band, he was given $47.55. In the 1870 Indian Census and Annuity Roll Charles was awarded $30.60 and remained a member of Payshawsegay’s band.

In the 1860 Federal Census, Charles and his family were living in Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township]. Living with Charles and Eliza were three young people: John Duvernay, 14 years old; Louisa Duvernay, 12; and William Parriagon [Parrisien]. All were classified as White. Charles worked as a sailor. Ten years later, Charles and Eliza Devernay were residents of Elbridge, Oceana County. Charles was a farmer, and both were Indian.

Their daughter Louisa on March 29, 1868 in Oceana County had married Louis Genereaux II. Charles passed away in Grand Haven in 1880. Eliza died in Petoskey on February 28, 1902.

Charles Duvernay [1881-1947]

See Charles Parrisien.

Chid Duvernay [1851-1892]

See William Martin “Chid” Duvernay.

Eli David Duvernay [1835-1871]

In the 1860 Federal Census, Eli Duvernay was one of the few remaining residents of Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township] with Indian ancestry. Eli, the son of Pierre and Julia Minedemoeyah Duvernay was born in Grand Haven in 1835. He enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry on September 3, 1862 and was mustered out on June 6, 1865. Charles Peter Dushane was in the same unit. Eli’s wife, Julia, was born in Michigan about 1834. They had at least one daughter, Dixie.

Eli received $31.70 in the 1868 Annuity Roll of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians of Michigan. He was a member of Chief Penayse’s band. Two years later his annuity amounted to $30.60. By the time of the Federal Census of 1870 Eli had moved to the City of Grand Haven and was working as a sailor. With him was his wife, Julia, his mother, also named Julia, his sister Mary Duvernay, 27 years old, Mary’s husband, William Vanderberg, their daughter Nellie, and another sister, Julia Larraway, who was 32.

Eli died of pneumonia in Elbridge Township, Oceana County, on December 1, 1871 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Isaac Duvernay [1831-1865]

Isaac was one of three Duvernays from Grand Haven to serve in the Civil War. Isaac traveled to Grand Rapids on August 22, 1862 to enlist in Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On June 20, 1864 he was transferred to Company I of the 5th Michigan Infantry. A year later he was wounded at the Battle of Boydton Plank Road in Virginia, taken prisoner, and sent to Salisbury Prison in Salisbury, North Carolina. He died in that prison on February 18, 1865. Isaac was born at Lac du Flambeau, Wisconsin, in 1831 [1833], the son of Pierre and Julia Minedemoeyah Duvernay. Like the other Duvernays, he had lived in Grand Haven since the family arrived there with Rev. William Ferry and his family in November 1834. Isaac was included in the 1836 Mixed Blood Census at the age of three and a half as one-half Chippewa, and his name appeared in the 1861 Annuity Roll, when he was awarded $4.62. At that time Isaac was a member of Chief Payshawsegay's band of Ottawa Indians.

Jacob Duvernay [1876-1953]

See Jacob Parrisien.

John Henry Duvernay [Kedgnal, Kedgnoll, Kedgnot, Kadgnal] [1844-1926]

According to Raymond Herek, John Kedgnal [cited as Kedgnot in his book] was the half-brother of William "Chid" Duvernay of Grand Haven, although it's more likely they were cousins. [These Men Have Seen Hard Service, 21.] John was 18 years old when he enlisted as private on December 1, 1862 in the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters and was assigned to Company B. Chid Duvernay was in the same unit. John was Indian and was a resident of Grand Haven at the time of his enlistment. He deserted his unit in May 1863, was found and returned to duty the following January. On August 26, 1864 he was captured at the Second Battle of Reams Station, Virginia, and sent to a Confederate prison in Salisbury, North Carolina, where he remained for the duration of the war. He was mustered out on May 31, 1865. On February 28, 1880, under the name John Kedgnal, he filed for an invalid's Civil War pension.

John was born in Grand Haven on April 18, 1844 [1842]. He appeared in the 1860 census for Grand Haven as the 14-year-old son of Charles Duvernay, age 40, and his wife, Eliza, age 38. In the household also was a Duvernay daughter, Louisa, born on September 1, 1847. John, the Duvernays' son, possibly adopted, used his assumed name, John Kedgnal, during his military service. If he was their son, he and Chid were cousins.

John reverted to Duvernay after the war, and appeared in the Federal Census of 1870 for Elbridge Township, Oceana County, under the name John Devernay. He separated from his first wife, Angeline, the daughter of John Wahbuscum, who was a member of a Traverse Band of Ottawas. She married Simon Peter Pesney [Peters] in Emmet County on October 30, 1882.

Living with John in 1870 were his second wife Lucy, born in Petoskey about 1859, and their daughter Eliza, six months old. Lucy, also known as Rosina, was the daughter of John Baptiste Trotocho [Trotochaud, Trotchaud, Trocho, Frosho], chief of a Traverse Band of Ottawa Indians. Charles was listed as a farmer, and the three members of the family were classified as Indian. Joseph and Eunice Elliott, also Indian, lived nearby. Listed under the name Duverney, John was included in the 1870 Annuity Roll as a member of Chief Maishcaw's band of Grand River Ottawa Indians and received $45.90

The 1908 Durant Roll listed John and Lucy and three of their children: John, age 22, Ida, 18, and James, 11. The family resided in Petoskey. John was a member of a Grand River Band of Indians. They had another daughter, Rose, who was born about 1877, married James Tollay [Tolley], a White man, and moved to Pawhuska, Oklahoma, where she was living at the time of the 1908 Durant Roll. The couple had a daughter, Stella May 4 years old.

John and Lucy Duvernay appeared in the 1910 Indian Census as Chippewas [Ojibwas] residing in Petoskey. With them were two grandsons, John Elmer Duvernay, age 24, and James, age 11. Lucy was mistakenly listed as John's sister-in-law. John Elmer was shown to be a graduate of Mt. Pleasant Indian Industrial Boarding School. Living nearby was Louisa Duvernay Genereaux, age 64, the widow of Louis Genereaux III. Ten years later John and his family remained in Petoskey and still classified as Indian. At that time John was a commercial fisherman. John and Lucy lived on the same street as Levi and Elizabeth McClellan, also Indian.

John died in Petoskey on April 2, 1926, four years after his wife, Lucy, had died on July 14, 1922. His and Lucy's son, John Elmer Duvernay, lived from April 18, 1886 [1884] to August 27, 1955. John the father was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Petoskey, as was John Elmer.

Loiza [Louesa, Louisa, Louise] Maria Duvernay [1824-1855]

On May 15, 1844, Loiza [Louisa], the daughter of Pierre Duvernay and his Indian wife, Julia Minedemoeyah, married Martin Ryerson, a White man, in Grand Haven. In 1850 the couple was living in Muskegon, and the census taker that year classified Loiza as White. She was born on July 14, 1824, died on March 14, 1855, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Martin had been married previously to a full-blooded Ojibwa, who died giving birth, but the child, named Mary, apparently survived.

Born to a farming family in Paterson, New Jersey on January 6, 1818, Martin Ryerson became a wealthy lumberman in Grand Haven and Muskegon. He came to Detroit in 1834, worked in the fur trade, and moved, along with Richard Godfroy, to Grand Rapids. There he worked for Godfroy until May 1836, when he moved to Muskegon and worked for three years with Joseph Troutier, an early settler in that community. In 1845 Martin, in partnership with J. H. Knickerbocker, bought a sawmill from Theodore Newell in Muskegon, where he had worked as a paid employee since 1841. The next year he cut a road to Ravenna from Muskegon to connect with Grand Rapids. In 1848 he became a permanent resident of Chicago.

In 1855, the year Loiza died, Martin was married again, this time to Mary Ann Campau in Grand Rapids. Mary Ann, the daughter of Antoine Campau and the niece of Louis Campau of Grand Rapids, was born about 1822 in Michigan. She died on January 8, 1907 in Los Angeles, California. They had a son, Martin Antoine, who was born in Grand Rapids on October 26, 1856. In the 1860 Federal Census, Martin, his wife, and their children were residents of Chicago. There he was classified as a lumberman, and merchant. He died in Chicago on September 6, 1887.

In 1901 the younger Martin, who had become a successful Chicago attorney, donated $150,000 to Grand Rapids for the construction of a new library building, to be named for his family. The library remains in use today. He also was one of the founding trustees of the Art Institute of Chicago and a benefactor of the Muskegon Art Museum, among other legacies. Martin II married Caroline "Carrie" Hutchinson in Chicago on October 26, 1881. She was born in Gloversville, New York on June 19, 1859. Martin II died on August 10, 1932 and was buried at Graceland Cemetery in Chicago. Carrie passed away on September 5, 1937 and was buried near her husband. [Tribune, July 31, 1904.]

Pierre Crevier Duvernay [Duverney, Deverney, Diverney] [1800-1873]

The daughter of an Ojibwa chief and an unidentified Indian woman, Julia Minedemoeyah was born at Lac Du Flambeau [Torch Lake], Wisconsin in 1800 [1799]. On July 23, 1830 [August 25, 1826], in Michilimackinac, she married Pierre Crevier Duvernay, a French-Canadian voyageur and fur trapper, born near Montreal, Canada on July 6, 1790. He was included in the 1825 census for Michilimackinac under the name Pierre Deverna. On August 1 that year, he received his license to trade furs in the Chippewa River region of Vilas County, Wisconsin. Pierre was listed in the 1830 and 1834 censuses for Pokagon Township, Michilimackinac County, under the name Duvernay. His license was continued the next year for the same area.

In 1834 Pierre accompanied Rev. Ferry on a long canoe trip across Michigan's Lower Peninsula from Detroit to Grand Haven, a few months before Ferry's troupe of family and friends, including the Duvernays, landed at the mouth of Grand River on November 2, 1834 and settled there. Pierre also worked as Rix Robinson's clerk. Julia and Peter and their family were charter members of the Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven.

In 1835 the Duvernays built a house on Lot 55 on the south side of Franklin Street [30 Franklin], midway between Harbor and First Streets, where, starting in 1837, Pierre sold Indian blankets, fabric, salt, whitefish, cranberries, and maple syrup products.

Two Duvernay children were named in the 1836 Mixed Blood Census as members of a Grand River band: Isaac, 3½ years old and one-half Chippewa [Ojibwa], whose claim was rejected because he was "of Lac du Flambeau [Torch Lake, Wisconsin] origin;" and David, 2 years old and one-half Ottawa, who received $1812.50 as the "child of his [Pierre Duverney] and an Ottawa woman."

Four other Duvernays were included in the 1836 Roll, but none of them seemed to be related to the Grand Haven family: Joseph, 25 years old and one-half Pawnee; Mary, his wife, one-half Ottawa and 20 years old; and their children: Francis, 4 years old and one-fourth Ottawa, and Louis, 2 years old and one-quarter Ottawa. Joseph's claim was rejected because he was "descended from Lac du Flambeau Indians," and Mary received no money because she was Joseph's wife. The two children, classified as members of the Grand River Bands of Ottawa Indians, each received $95.14. Mary was the sister of Louis Boureseau, also included in the 1836 Roll, 24 years old, one-half Ottawa, a member of one of the Mackinac Bands of Ottawa Indians, and the son of Louis Boureseau I.

Pierre and Julia had 14 children. Among them were Antoine [Antwine], who was born in 1819; Charles, born in 1820; Francis, who was born in 1822 and died in 1838; Peter [Pierre II], born in 1825 [1823]; Isaac, who was born in 1831; David, who was born about 1834; Eli David, who was born in Grand Haven in 1835; Nathan, who was born in Grand Haven in 1838; Julia, who was born in Grand Haven on November 6, 1841 and married Wallace Larraway of Grand Haven; Mary Sophia, who was born about 1843 [1839, 1850] and married William Vandenberg [Vanderberg] of Grand Haven; and William B. [William Martin] "Chid," who lived from 1850 [1849] to 1893. Another daughter, Louise [Loiza] Maria, was born in 1824 and became the first wife of Martin Ryerson of Muskegon.

Listed under the name Diverney, the family was included in the 1840 Federal Census for Ottawa Township [now Grand Haven Township], with Peter [Pierre] as the head. Listed with him were his wife, eight sons, and two daughters. [The 1840 census did not list the names of family members other than the head.]

Pierre, Julia, and eight of their children appeared in the 1850 Federal Census for Ottawa Township, which included the future city of Grand Haven. Shown as Peter Du Varnay, Pierre, 60 years old, was listed as [fur] trader. Julia was 50, Antoni, 30, Jozeph, 21, Izaak, 18, Ely 14, Julia the daughter, 9, Sophia, 7, Edward, 4, and John, 1. Julia and the children were classified as R, Red. Listed as John Baptist, Jean Baptiste Parrisien lived nearby.

The family was included the next federal census, still residing in Ottawa Township. Peter, an "Indian Trader," was 70; Julia, 60; Julia [their daughter], 20; Mary, 16; and William, 10. Also in the household was the younger Julia's husband, Wallace Laraway [Larraway], 21, a sailor.

Antoine and other Duvernays, such as his brothers Charles and Pierre II, attended church services at Old Wing Mission near Holland, and occasionally Antoine served as interpreter at the services.

In the 1861 Annuity Roll, Julia received a payment of $18.48 as one of Chief Payshawsegay's band members. She received $47.55 in the 1868 Annuity Roll. She and Eli were members of Chief Penayse's Grand River band of Ottawas.

In the Federal Census of 1870, five Duvernays were enumerated as residents of Grand Haven: Julia, the mother, age 72; Eli, 34; Julia, 30; Mary, 27; and William, 21. Also in the household were Julia Larraway, age 32, William Vandenberg, 34, and Nellie Vandenberg, 4. Mary could have been listed as a Vandenberg, since she and William were married in Grand Haven on November 30, 1865. Nellie was their daughter. Eli was working as a sailor at the time of the census. All household members were categorized as Indian, except for William Vandenberg.

Pierre I died on August 22, 1862 in Grand Haven. Julia passed away on August 7, 1873. She and Pierre were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. ["Memorial Discourse for Mrs. Duvernay," by Rev. Henry T. Rose, August 10, 1873.]

Three of the Duvernays' sons served in the military during the Civil War: Eli, who enlisted as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry on September 3, 1862 and was mustered out on June 6, 1865; Isaac, who served with Company I of the 5th Michigan Infantry and Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry and lost his life in Salisbury, North Carolina on February 18, 1865; and William B. "Chid," who enlisted in Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters on December 4, 1862 as a drummer boy, and was mustered out on July 28, 1865. On May 4, 1865, Julia applied for a Civil War pension, based on Isaac's service.

Pierre [Peter] Duvernay II [@1823- 1857]

Peter was born about 1823 [1825] on the Chippewa River, Vilas County, Wisconsin. He moved to Grand Haven with his parents, Pierre and Julia Minedemoeyah Duvernay in November 1834. Peter Duveny [Duvernay] married Josette [Jozetta] "Josephine" Derosier [De Rosier, Rocier, Recier] in Grand Haven on December 24, 1847, when he was 21 and she was 18. Other sources indicated Josette was born in 1819 at Lac du Flambeau, Vilas County. Jean Baptiste Parrisien of Grand Haven was her brother. They arrived in Grand Haven in 1835 with their mother.

In the 1850 Federal Census, Peter and Josette were living with Martin and Loiza Ryerson in Muskegon. Loiza was Peter's sister. At that time they had a daughter, Sophia [Swaney], who was two years old. A son, Frank, was born in 1851. According to a family tree, Frank remained single and died in 1877.

Peter was reported to have frozen to death sometime between Frank's birth and Josette's marriage to David M. Moon [Moan] on May 22, 1858 in Grand Haven. [A Duvernay family tree put his death year at 1857.] Sophia married Eli Parr of Elbridge Township.

For more on Josette, see Josette Derosier Duvernay Moon Robinson.

William Duvernay [1858-1917]

See William Parrisien.

William Martin "Chid" Duvernay [1851-1893]

William B. [William Martin] "Chid" was born in Grand Haven in 1851 [1849, 1850] to French voyageur Pierre Duvernay and his wife, Julia Minedemoeyah Duvernay, an Ojibwa. Claiming to be 13 years old, Chid enlisted in Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters on December 4, 1862. Julia signed a "Consent in Case of a Minor" on the day of Chid's enlistment. [The minimum age for enlistment was 14, but it's evident that the rule was bent from time to time.] At the time of enlistment Chid was 4' 10½" tall. He was "Detailed as Musician" and eventually became a drummer boy. Toward the end of July 1864, Chid's commanding officer, Colonel DeLand, assigned him to duty as a hospital attendant. Known as "Grand Haven's Drummer Boy," Chid was mustered out on July 28, 1865.

In March 1869 Chid injured the second and third fingers of his left hand while working in a water well. The 1870 census showed him living in Grand Haven with his mother, Julia, and other family members, all listed as Indian. He apparently was unemployed at that time. Ten years later Chid was a farm laborer, living in Hart, Oceana County. The census of that year listed him as White. In 1882 he was admitted to Northwestern National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. On July 10, 1890 he applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. He died at the home on August 25, 1893. At Chid's request his body was returned to Michigan and he was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [His military service records cited Greenwood Cemetery in Petoskey as his burial place.] [Tribune obituaries, August 9, 1899 and August 10, 1899.]

Elmer Charles Dvorak [1910-1986]

Elmer C. Dvorak, N. M. Carndell, and John H. Dabelstein started Sterling Manufacturing in August 1954. The company was gone from the area by 1969. Located at 206 South Jackson in Spring Lake, Sterling manufactured lighting accessories for fluorescent fixtures. Elmer and his wife, Thelma B., resided at 116 West Tolford in Spring Lake. Born in Ohio, Elmer lived from July 1, 1910 to April 24, 1986 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Thelma was born May 10, 1914 and died in Spring Lake on September 9, 1984.

Albert Olferts Dykema [Dykman] [1849-1931]

Albert, the son of Olvert and Trientje Dykema, was born in Groningen, The Netherlands in 1849. On March 1, 1873 in Grand Haven, he married Hieltje “Jennie” Kruizinga. They had eleven children, including Etta, born in 1874; Grace, born in 1876; Alfred born in 1877; Gerrit, born in 1878; Charles born in 1879; and twins Cleveland, who lived from November 9, 1884 to February 9, 1885, and Hendricks, who was born on November 9, 1884 and died on February 7, 1895. Etta married John A. Vyn in Grand Haven on April 2, 1896. In the 1880 census Albert was listed as Raftsmen. The Dykema family resided at 201 South Fourth Street, in a home built by Olvert Dykema in 1853. Albert was an employee of Story & Clark for many years. Jenny, a native of Groningen, The Netherlands, lived from August 3, 1852 to September 1, 1905. Albert died in 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Olvert Dykema [Dykman] [1824-1916]

Olvert Dykema was born in The Netherlands about January 17, 1824. His wife, Tytje Dykema, also born in The Netherlands, lived from June 7, 1826 to October 16, 1877. They had six children, including Albert, born in 1849. After Tytje’s death, Olvert married Tryntje Huizenga, who was born in 1836 and died in 1901. Olvert built a house at 201 South Fourth Street in Grand Haven, later occupied by his son Albert. Olvert died March 26, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Tytje, Tryntje, and other family members.

Teunis “Tony” Dykema [1843–1915]

On December 4, 1868 Tony Dykema married Saartje “Sarah” Huizenga in Spring Lake. She was born in The Netherlands on December 4, 1848 and died March 18, 1920. They had ten children including John, who was born about 1872, and married Elizabeth R., born in Michigan around 1876; Dick, who was born about 1878, and married Olive, born around 1883 in Michigan; Hattie, who was born on January 26, 1887, married Nicholas Grevel on June 30, 1910, and died in Muskegon on February 20, 1981; Henry, whose children were Jacob, Peter, and Gerrit; and another daughter, who married Cornelius Verplank, a masonry contractor in Chesterton, Indiana. Both John and Dick and their families remained in the Spring Lake area. Tony, who worked in a sawmill, was born in Groningen, The Netherlands on June 2, 1843 and died in Spring Lake on November 22, 1915. [Tribune obituaries, July 1, 1901 and March 18, 1920.]

Donald M. Dykhouse [1916-2001]

With his brother William, Donald Dykhouse in 1957 founded Midwest Concrete Pipe Company, located at 525 North Ferry Street in Grand Haven. They also operated an excavating business at 445 Ferry. Donald and his wife, Estelle M., lived at 548 Colfax and later at 515 Ottawa. The son of Duke and Dena Norr Dykhouse, Don was born on June 23, 1916 and died in Grand Haven on January 19, 2001. Estelle, the daughter of Harry and Mary Brojeski Martyniek, was born on May 6, 1918 in La Van Mine, Ontario, Canada. She passed away on January 29, 2003. Estelle and Donald were married in Detroit on January 31, 1942. They had a daughter, Debra Lynn Haas. Don and Estelle were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 30, 2003.]

Henry Dykhouse [1887-1973]

Henry Dykhouse served with the Army during WWI. After the war he became a house painter in Grand Haven. Henry, a teamster before the war, was born on July 25, 1887 and passed away on May 21, 1973 in Grand Haven. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. His parents were Menke and Henrietta Van Zanten Dykhouse. Henry and his sister Kate continued to live in the family house at 406

Fulton Street after their parents' death and into the 1930s. On April 12, 1958 in Grand Haven, Henry married Lily Strong, and they lived at 623 Fulton Street. Lily was born on September 6, 1886 and passed away on July 2, 1960. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Menke [Minke] “Mike” Dykhous [Dykhuis] [1840-1926]

Menke Dykhous and his wife Henrietta [Henretta] Van Zanten lived at 406 Fulton. Menke had a transfer line at 52 Fulton and a feed barn at 414 Fulton. His sons Duke and Claus worked with him. Duke was born on March 7, 1884 and died on April 1, 1936. Other children were Kate, who was born on June 5, 1867 and died in Grand Rapids on September 2, 1946; Katherine, who was born August 21, 1871, married William Smith of Grand Haven on March 15, 1893, and died on January 10, 1894; Jennie, who was born on July 28, 1877, married Arie Kooiman, and died in 1964; Della, who was born in August 1881 and passed away in 1964; and Henry, a house painter, who was born July 25, 1887 and died in Grand Haven on May 21, 1973. Menke was born in The Netherlands on February 20, 1840 and died in 1926, while Henrietta was born in The Netherlands on July 1, 1846 and died in 1915. Duke and his parents were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Menke [Minke, Mink] Dykhous [1898-1972]

Mink Dykhous on January 25, 1932 married Esther Hery in Grand Haven. Esther, the daughter of Baldwin and Laura Saul, was born in Grand Haven Township on May 3, 1913. Mink and Esther were divorced on January 4, 1940. Esther then married Jacob “Jack” Witteveen, and Mink married Lena Mae Jackman in Grand Rapids on January 17, 1945. They resided at 414 Fulton Street. Mink was born on December 7, 1898, died in Grand Haven on August 27, 1972, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His parents were Claus [Klaus, Klaas] and Maggie Wierenga Dykhous. Mink served with the Army during WWII and in civilian life was in the trucking business. He died on August 27, 1972 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lena was born September 22, 1907 in Kentucky and passed away in Grand Haven on April 1, 1991. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest.

William Dykhous I [1919-2010]

William the son of Duke and Dena Norr Dykhous, was born in Grand Haven on December 22, 1919. He married Pearl Strong in 1940. They had five children: William II, Warren, Jalaine, who married Bob Hutchinson, Marlene, who married Tim Wierenga, and Judy, who married Anthony Gutierrez. With his brother Donald, Bill in 1957 founded Midwest Concrete Company, located at 425 North Ferry Street in Grand Haven. They also operated an excavating business at 445 Ferry. Bill had a pilot's license. He was a member of Gospel Chapel. Pearl, who was born on May 18, 1920, died on August 16, 2002. She and Bill were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 26, 2010.]

Arend Dykhuis [Dykhous, Duyhuis] [1842-1923]

Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Arend Dykhuis owned 95 acres in Section 28 of Olive Township. He was born in The Netherlands in November 1842 and came to the Grand Haven area in 1870. He married Jantje “Jennie” Kamphuis in Grand Haven on June 23, 1869. Jennie, also a native of The Netherlands, was born in December 1842 and passed away in Holland in 1923. They were still local residents as late as 1908, but by 1920 were living in Zeeland Township. They had at least two children, both born in Michigan: Lizzie, born in December 1880, and Jurries, born in May 1883. Arend and Jennie were buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland.

Hans Dykhuis [1878-1964]

Born in Montague on August 8, 1878, Hans Dykhuis on June 7, 1904 married Lida Fant in Grand Haven. Lida's parents were John and Cornelia Lievense Fant of Grand Haven. Hans worked as a guard for Grand Trunk Railway, as an operator at the Grand Haven Water Filtration Plant, and as watchman for Russell Camfield's company on Seventh Street. From 1913 to 1916 Hans served as Ottawa County sheriff, a position also held by his father, Henry Dykhuis, between 1901 and 1904, and Hans was a private with Company E of the 32nd Infantry during the Spanish American War. Hans and Lida had one child, Florence, who was born in Grand Haven on October 2, 1910 and lived until March 29, 1989. The family lived at 106 South Seventh Street and at 1100 Pennoyer Street before moving to 219 North Fourth Street, where they lived from at least 1928 until 1964, when Hans died on December 4 that year. Lida was born on June 18, 1880 and died in Grand Haven on October 31, 1961. The couple was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Florence.

Henry Dykhuis [1850-1939]

Henry, the son of Jurrien and Johanna Zuidema Dykhuis, was born in The Netherlands on February 25, 1850 and died in Holland, Michigan, on March 31, 1939. In 1871 in Grand Haven, he married Grietje, the daughter of Hans Meyer. Grietje, who was born in Grand Haven on May 5, 1853, died in Holland on December 9, 1943. Their son Hans was born in Montague on August 8, 1878. A daughter, Henrika [Hendrika], born in Grand Haven on December 19, 1871, married Hielke Sikkenga in Holland on January 18, 1890. The couple moved to Muskegon, where Hendrika died on April 2, 1937. Hielke was born in The Netherlands on April 3, 1867 and died in Muskegon on December 13, 1957. Henry served as sheriff of Ottawa County from 1901 to 1904. His son, Hans, served in the same post from 1913 to 1916.

Jurrien Dykhuis [1819-1899]

Jurrien Dykhuis was born in The Netherlands on August 1, 1819, died in Grand Haven on November 29, 1899, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1846 he married Johanna Zuidema, who was born in The Netherlands in August 1827, died in Grand Haven on December 23, 1904, and also was buried at Lake Forest. One of their children, Henry, was born in The Netherlands on February 25, 1850. A daughter, Johanna “Jennie,” was born in 1863 and married Lambert Vyn of Grand Haven. Another daughter, Anna “Annie” B., was born on April 19, 1849 and married David P. Sanford of Grand Haven. Jurrien was a laborer. [Tribune obituaries, December 1, 1899 and December 23, 1904.]

Benjamin Franklin Eames [1819-1891]

Benjamin Eames was born in Mendon, New York on November 21, 1819 and moved to Milwaukee in October 1844. On December 5, 1849 he went into business with John W. Luscomb in the manufacture of woodenware, locating first in Grand Rapids and then moving to Ottawa Point [Ferrysburg], beginning business on April 10, 1850. Luscomb withdrew from the business around 1855, and Eames then constructed a new mill that utilized steam power. Benjamin and his family were listed in the 1850 and 1860 censuses as residents of Spring Lake Township. In 1861 he sold to Willard and Bolles, who manufactured wooden pails. The next year Benjamin bought 23 acres in Section 15 of Spring Lake Township, on the west shore of Spring Lake, where he planted 1,000 peach trees, 600 apple trees, and other fruit. Benjamin sold this land to Charles Soule in 1867 and bought 30 acres in Section 9, Spring Lake Township, also for the purpose of growing fruit. He and his wife, Charlotte, had a daughter Nora, who in 1876 married Thomas Johnston of the Johnston Boiler family. Charlotte lived from December 11, 1833 to March 20, 1886. Benjamin died on January 25, 1891. A son, Frederick A., died accidentally on April 22, 1861 at the age of 13. Other children were Kate, born in 1861; Viola, born in 1863; and Frank, born in 1871. All the children were born in Michigan. The family was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Industrial Hi-Lites, January 1951.]

Floyd S. Eames [1930-1998]

See Floyd Rymal.

Samuel Otis Eames [1825-1905]

Samuel Eames, who was born on April 5, 1825, enlisted on October 18, 1861 as sergeant in Company G of the 42nd Illinois Infantry. At that time, he was a resident of Chicago. He was discharged for disability on February 20, 1862. Samuel was a tailor by trade. He married Mary Jane Moss. The daughter of Chester [1804-1965] and Phoebe Moss [1806-1857], Mary was born in Youngstown, New York on March 5, 1842. Samuel died on August 25, 1905 and the following October 18 Mary applied for a widow's Civil War pension. Mary was born in New York in March 1845. The family resided at 418 Franklin in Grand Haven.

Mary continued living there with their daughter Calla after Samuel's death. Calla, born in July 1882, became a music teacher. Another daughter, Mary M., was born about 1874 in Michigan. Samuel's monument at Lake Forest Cemetery was undated. Mary died on February 9, 1918 and also was buried at Lake Forest. She was living at 418 Franklin Street at the time of her death.

Uzell Bond Eames [1828-1909]

Born in New York State in November 1828, Uzell arrived in Ferrysburg with his parents the year in 1848. Uzell was enumerated in the 1860 census as a resident of Spring Lake Township, where he later kept a farm in Section 8. He was employed as a millwright at the Batchellor Mill from 1873 to 1881, and he then went to work for Cutler & Savidge at Mill #3. On August 20, 1859 a post office was established at Ferrysburg and he was named its first postmaster as well as school inspector. The post office closed on May 6, 1863. Uzell was elected supervisor of Mill Point [Spring Lake] from 1862 to 1865. His first wife, Julia A., died on March 5, 1855 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His second wife, Sarah J., was born in 1830 and died on February 28, 1898 of bronchial consumption. Uzell had three daughters, all born locally, including Jennie, who lived from 1862 to 1925 and married James Barnes of Ferrysburg; Mamie, born about 1868; and Mary B., who was born in September 1873, married George Smith, and after 1900 moved to Washington. George was born in Scotland in December 1873. George and Mary had a son, Donald, born in September 1895. Uzell died at Jennie's home on February 12, 1909. [Tribune obituaries, March 1, 1898 and February 12, 1909.]

Jacob Hayes Easterly [1831-1903]

The son of John and Delila Hayes Easterly and a native of Herkimer County, New York, where he was born on May 7 1831, Jacob moved to Jefferson County in that state when he was seven and then came to Crockery Township in 1865 and settled on approximately 20 acres in Section 21. He married Louisa Taylor of Jefferson County in 1854. She was born on September 6, 1829 in New York State and died on August 8, 1861 in Jefferson County. They had at least one daughter, Gusta, born in New York in October 1854. After Louisa's death, Jacob married Sarah Ann Williams, a native of St. Lawrence County, New York, on January 1, 1862. Sarah was born on June 12, 1837. Her sister, Julia, married Medad Spencer of Crockery Township. Jacob's and Sarah's first two children were born in Jefferson County: Martin James on October 13, 1862 and Samuel McCleave on October 2, 1864. Both boys settled in Crockery Township with their parents. Jacob and Sarah Ann had another son, William Riley, who was born in Ottawa County on March 6, 1866. He was followed by a third son, Green, who was born on December 9, 1867. A daughter, Phoebe Delmitia "Della," was born December 26, 1869 in Crockery. They also had two adopted children, Elizabeth, born in 1881, and Ora, born in 1892.

Jacob's father, John, was born in Herkimer, New York, on May 9, 1801 and died November 22, 1884. Jacob's mother, Adelia Clotilda "Delila," was born on August 5, 1809 in Herkimer and died on November 1, 1872. Both John and Delila were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Sarah Ann passed away on August 5, 1900 and Jacob on March 21, 1913. Jacob, Sarah, and other family members were buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Martin James Easterly [1863-1943]

Born in Pillar Point, Jefferson County, New York on October 13, 1863, Martin moved to Michigan with his parents, Jacob and Sarah Ann Williams Easterly. By 1912 Martin owned at least three large parcels in Sections 21, 28 and 29 of Crockery Township, totaling 260 acres. He married Deaette Martin in Nunica on June 20, 1888. She was born in Spring Lake on July 18, 1869 and died in Nunica on December 1, 1952. Martin died in Nunica on December 16, 1943 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. The Easterlys had 12 children, all born in Crockery Township.

Samuel McCleave Easterly [1864-1939]

Samuel was born in Bruno, Jefferson County, New York, on October 2, 1864, the son of Jacob and Sarah Williams Easterly. He moved with his parents to Crockery Township when he was six-months old. On January 9, 1895 Samuel married Augusta Polsen in Nunica. They owned a 60-acre farm in Section 28 of Crockery. Samuel was treasurer of Spoonville School for 26 years. Augusta was born in Germany on October 15, 1856 and died August 7, 1937 in Crockery. Samuel died on July 27, 1939. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery with other family members. A son, Forest [Forrest], was born in May 1899.

William R. Easterly [1866-1924]

Born on March 6, 1866 in Crockery Township, William Easterly owned 80 acres in Section 24. The son of Jacob and Sarah Ann Williams Easterly, he married Cora [Cornelia] Clay on October 23, 1894 in Nunica. Cora was born in Michigan in April 1873. William died on July 24, 1924 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery.

Galen Eastman [1829–1899]

Galen was the son of Dr. Timothy and Mary Jane Barker [Parker] Eastman. He was born in Canaan, Maine on July 8, 1829 [1828]. Dr. Eastman and his family settled in Grand Haven in 1835, where he held the seat of county judge for a long time. Galen had two brothers, George and Mason. Galen was a man of influence and was at the head of several large lumbering and mercantile institutions in Ottawa County for several years. He owned a sawmill in Grand Haven and was the originator of what afterwards became the Michigan Barge Company, whose boats carried off a large share of the lumber from the once extensive tracts of timbered land. Galen was credited for building in 1850 in Eastmanville a steam-driven boat called New Era. It was used to tow barges to Chicago. During his later years he was in the hardware business in San Francisco.

In 1855 Galen and his brother Mason, with their father's help, platted the Village of Eastmanville. In December 1856 Galen bought the Grand River Times from brothers James and James Barnes and brought it to Eastmanville from Grand Haven, with the idea that his community would become the county seat. When that expectation failed, publication ceased the same year it began and the Barnes brothers repurchased the paper from Galen, returned it to Grand Haven, and changed its name to the Grand Haven News, publishing the first issue on December 22, 1858. In 1860 Galen was in the lumbering business at Eastmanville. He owned land in the Grand Haven area, and in 1872 sold a large section to the City of Grand Haven for $1,000 as a site for Lake Forest Cemetery. Galen was a surveyor, judge, and representative to the legislature in 1850, and he was postmaster of Eastmanville from October 20, 1864 to April 7, 1868.

On December 14, 1858 in Grand Haven, Galen married Mary Lucina Ferry, twin of Edward P. Ferry and youngest daughter of Rev. William and Amanda White Ferry. The couple had 13 children, five of whom died as infants. One of the survivors, Edward Eastman, was born in Grand Haven on January 15, 1863 and died in California on October 5, 1948. The Eastmans' daughter, Mary Amanda Eastman, became principal of Michigan Seminary. About 1877 the family moved to the "Four Corners" in the West, where Galen was appointed agent at the Navajo Indian Reservation for the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Another of their surviving children, Mary Amanda Eastman, was born in Grand Haven on March 9, 1860. On April 12, 1883, she married Pomercy B. Johnson [1848-1884] against her parents' wishes and the couple moved to Texas. They had a child, Kate White Johnson. Six months later the father and daughter died. Mary rejoined her parents, now in San Francisco, where in 1855 Galen had opened a hardware store on Mission Street. On January 17, 1889, Mary Amanda remarried, this time to Willard Carlton Fairchild [1834-1899]. She died on February 10, 1929.

Galen died on January 18, 1899 in San Francisco and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary was born on April 16, 1832 [1837/1838], died on June 2, 1903 and also was buried at Lake Forest. She was credited with organizing the first infants' Sunday School at the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven and was secretary of the Women's Social Society. [Tribune obituary, January 19, 1899 and Tribune articles, January 23 and 27, 1899.]

George Eastman I [1828-1896]

George, the son of Timothy and May Jane Barker Eastman, was born in Maine on May 29, 1828 [1825]. On April 25, 1850 in Polkton Township he married Aphia Parry, born in New York State in 1824. In the 1850s they resided in Niagara County, New York. The family moved to Michigan, where they owned land in Polkton Township and purchased 160 acres in Section 22 of Allendale Township. George owned a steam-powered sawmill near Eastmanville. George and his family moved to Robinson Township, where he farmed as much as 800 acres. George died on June 6, 1896 and his wife died December 22, 1895. Both were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Their daughter Nellie, born in Niagara County on January 3, 1855, married William C. Harper of Robinson Township. Their other children, all born in Michigan, were George II, born on August 20, 1857; Etta, born in 1859; and Jennie, born in 1865. Two other daughters died in infancy.

Mason Eastman I [1826-1860]

In 1855 Mason Eastman and his brother Galen, sons of Dr. Timothy Eastman, platted the Village of Eastmanville. Mason was born in Canaan, Maine on August 2, 1826. He was a surveyor and drew the plat map for Mill Point in April 1849. On April 30, 1852 he married Emily Amelia Kent in Eastmanville. She was born in Dorset, Vermont on March 19, 1831. They were married in Chicago on August 30, 1852 and had a son, Mason II, who was born in Eastmanville on December 18, 1859 and died the following July. Their children were twins, who were born on October 14, 1854 and died the same day; Walter born on July 14, 1855; and Frederic, born on April 29, 1857. Mason the father died in the town bearing his family name on March 7, 1860. On January 1, 1865, Emily married Thomas Hefferan in Lamont.

Timothy Eastman II [1798-1868]

Born in East Kingston, New Hampshire on January 17, 1798, Timothy Eastman in 1835 moved with his wife and children from Maine to Grand Haven, coming via the Erie Canal, lake boat, stagecoach, and canoe. Timothy's parents were Timothy and Abigail Gale Eastman of East Kingston, New Hampshire. In Grand Haven Timothy built a house on Lot 89 [southeast corner of Elliott and First Streets], and a frame building about halfway between First and Water [Harbor] Streets on the south side of Washington. Trained in medicine in Boston, he was the county's first physician, with an office on Water Street [Harbor Drive] near Franklin Street. In 1848 Timothy sold to the city a house on Lot 70 [121 South First] in Grand Haven. The residence was remodeled and used as a school between 1851 and 1860, replacing the frame building on Second Street [Lot 186], which continued to be used for other purposes. Between 1837 and 1854 Timothy purchased hundreds of acres in six surrounding townships: Polkton, Crockery, Grand Haven, Robinson, and Allendale. The land undoubtedly contained significant stands of pine.

In 1842 Timothy relocated to the village of Scranton, where Dr. George Scranton had arrived as the first permanent settler in 1835 and was its postmaster from 1838 to 1842. In 1845 Timothy organized the town of Polkton, named for President James K. Polk, and was appointed the new town's postmaster on May 28, 1846. Timothy held that position for a bit more than a year. He and his sons, Galen and Mason, surveyed and platted the Village of Polkton on November 4, 1855, and renamed it Eastmanville. The next year the Polkton Post Office started using the name Eastmanville. Timothy's residence in Eastmanville was built by Nathan Throop of Grand Haven.

In 1838 Timothy was elected county clerk, and he was an associate judge at the first session of the Circuit Court, held on May 28, 1839. In 1845 he became township supervisor. Timothy was a representative to the State Constitutional Convention in 1850, and he was elected to the County Board of supervisors in 1852. In 1856 Timothy became a charter member and secretary of the Ottawa County Agricultural Society. He owned a sawmill at Eastmanville and later lived in Robinson Township.

On October 18, 1825, Timothy married May [Mary] Jane Barker, who was born on July 8, 1809. Timothy died in Chicago on February 28, 1868. The Eastmans had nine children, including Mason born on August 2, 1826; George, born May 29, 1828; Galen, born on July 8, 1829; Sarah Jane [May], who was born on February

22, 1831, married Walter Lull of Chicago, and died in 1858; Abbie, who was born on September 29, 1833 and married Jesse B. Thomas of Chicago; Newton, born on October 22, 1842; Mary Sophia, born on April 28, 1844; Octavia Elizabeth, born on February 2, 1846; and Timothy, born on September 9, 1848. May passed away in 1858. [Grand River Packet, April May and June 1986.]

Egbert Charles Eastway [1843-1912]

Egbert, the son of James and Patty Dale Eastway, was born February 22, 1843 in Erie County, New York. James and Patty owned a farm in Olive Township. On September 29, 1864, while a resident of Robinson Township, Egbert enlisted as private in Company G of the 14th Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out on July 18, 1865. He married Angeline Esiabel Rogers. By 1910 Egbert and Angeline were living in Muskegon. He died in Grand Rapids on July 5, 1912. On September 22, 1912 Angeline applied for a widow's Civil War pension. She was born about 1850 in Michigan. Egbert's and Angeline's children were Edgar, born about 1867; Emma, born in 1870; and Herbert, born on March 14, 1875 in Olive Township.

James Bates Eastway [1793-1886]

James was born in England in 1793, the son of Elias [born in 1755] and Mary Bates Eastway. James married Patty Dale, who was born in 1802 and died in 1871 in Olive Township. Their first son, Elias, was born on the Isle of Guernsey, England, in 1829. These three, plus a daughter, Margaret C., born in London on March 30, 1826, immigrated to Erie County, New York about 1833, where James was an engineer. Around 1851 James and Patty and their growing family, moved to Hillsdale County, where several of their children married and remained. The rest of the family moved on to Olive Township, where they settled in 1856. The next year James became one of the first Justices in the township and he also was among the first officers elected when Olive Township was formed in 1857. By 1860 the Eastways resided in the southeast one-quarter [160 acres] of Section 35 in Robinson Township, where a son later farmed. James died in 1886 and was buried with his wife at Olive Cemetery.

The Eastways' daughter Margaret married Joel Fellows of Olive Township. Their eldest son, Elias, married Rowena "Rena" Tubbs, died on March 11, 1911, and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery. Another daughter, Martha, born in 1832, married Samuel Purchase of Olive Township. A third daughter, Ellen [Hellen], was born on August 28, 1840 and married Ozias Tubbs, also of Olive Township. Egbert, another son, was born on February 22, 1843 in Erie County, New York and served in the Civil War.

Charles W. Eaton [1840–1902]

One of the early pioneer residents of Grand Rapids and an early printer West Michigan, Charles Eaton learned typesetting in 1852 after school in the office of the Grand River Times, the first newspaper published in Grand Haven. Charles composed a column of "funagraphs" for that paper each week. The son of Harry and Cynthia Eaton, Charles was born on April 14, 1840. On August 8, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company B of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was promoted to sergeant in December that year, then to quartermaster, to lieutenant, and finally to captain on August 26, 1864. He was mustered out on June 8 the following year. Charles, who lived in Grand Rapids most of his life, died on March 21, 1902. He and his parents were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, March 22, 1902.]

Glenn Eaton II [1914-1996]

Born February 19, 1914 in Sykesville, Pennsylvania to Glenn W. and Orrell Phillippi Eaton, Glenn earned a bachelor's degree in forestry from Pennsylvania State University in 1935 and came to Grand Haven in 1939 as assistant superintendent of the Civilian Conservation Corps camp, situated in Mulligan's Hollow. After World War II Glenn worked for the Anderson-Bolling Company in Spring Lake; served from 1956 to 1960 on the Grand Haven City Council; and was elected mayor in 1961 and 1962. He was on the Board of Light and Power and was active with the Tri-Cities Historical Society. Glenn, Chuck Bugielski, and Claude Ver Duin headed the management team of the Coast Guard Festival from 1946 to 1981.

Glenn married Kathryn Kruser on April 8, 1939 in Cleveland, Ohio. They had a daughter, Pamela, who married George Beswick of Grand Haven, and a son, Glenn III of Whitehall, whose wife's name was Meg. Glenn died January 14, 1996. The city named a street serving an industrial park east of Beechtree in his memory. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Harry Eaton [1802-1859]

Harry Eaton lived was born in Vermont in 1802. His wife, Cynthia, lived from 1808 to March 22, 1892. In 1850 he and his family were living in Grand Rapids. He opened the William Tell Hotel in downtown Grand Haven in 1859. Harry and Cynthia had at least one son, Charles who was born in 1839. Harry died in Grand Rapids on June 12, 1859 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery.

Joseph Warren Eaton [1875-1963]

In 1920 Joseph Eaton was Purchasing Agent at the Story & Clark Piano Factory. Ten years later he was general manager. Joseph was born in Missouri in June 1875. On April 4, 1910 he married Edvena [Edwina] Erickson, a native of Illinois, who was born on September 8, 1875 and died in Grand Haven in May 1969. The couple lived at 313 South Second Street [Lake Avenue], where they continued to reside as late as 1940. Joseph passed away around July 2, 1963. He and Edvena were buried at Graceland Cemetery in Chicago.

William Edward Ebel [1918-2005]

William Ebel on December 6, 1946 married Cornelia Grace. Fredricks in Holland. The son of William and Gertrude Styx Ebel, young William was born on May 2, 1918. During WWI he served with the U.S. Army from June 25, 1941 to October 23, 1945. He died on June 11, 2005 and was buried at Restlawn Memorial Gardens Cemetery in Holland. Cornelia lived from August 24, 1919 to April 1, 2004. William the father, an expert wood carver, donated several of his works to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum.

William Michael Ebel [1948-1968]

William, the son of William Edward and Cornelia Fredricks Ebel, was born on May 23, 1948 in West Olive. He was drafted into the military and arrived in Vietnam on February 13, 1968 as a member of Company A 5th battalion, 7th Cavalry Regiment, 1st Cavalry Division. He reached the rank of Grade Specialist 4 E-4 on June 4, 1968 and was promoted posthumously to Sergeant E-5. He received numerous awards, such as the Air Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Ribbon, Combat Infantryman Badge, The Bronze Star, Good Conduct Medal, and Purple Heart Medal. William was killed in action in Tay Ninh, Vietnam on November 26, 1968 when his medivac helicopter was shot down. He was buried at Restlawn Memorial Gardens Cemetery in Holland.

William Johan Ernst Ebel [1882-1966]

William Ebel, the son of Charles "Carl" [1842-1916] and Augusta Ewald [1852-1930] Ebel, was born on May 22, 1882 in Grand Haven. On November 11, 1916 he married Gertrude Emelia Styx in Chicago. She was born in Chicago on March 20, 1898. They owned a farm in West Olive and had five surviving children: William Edward Ebel [1918-2005]; Anton George Abel [1920-2014]; Gertrude Emma Ebel [1927-2015]; Edward George Ebel [1931-2021]; and Betty Jane Ebel [b. 1939]. William passed away in West Olive on March 9, 1966, and Gertie died on April 11, 1969. His son William was a wood carver.

Jacob Ebels [Ebel] [1858-1944]

Listed as a "Farmer and Stockraiser" in the 1912 Atlas, Jacob Ebels owned a 60-acre farm in Section 33 and another 80 acres in Section 17 of Olive Township. He was born in Michigan on June 30, 1858 and came to the Grand Haven area from Zeeland Township before 1880. By 1930 he had accumulated 160 acres. He married Prina [Priena/Pearl/Dena] Meeuwssen in Holland, Michigan on October 23, 1879. She was born in Michigan in November 1860. A son, John, born in June 1879, was residing with them in 1930. Other children were Cristina, born in October 1882; Dena, born in December 1886; Altje, born in May 1892; and Daniel, born in July 1896. The children were all born locally. Jacob passed away in Allegan County on April 22, 1944 and was buried at North Holland Cemetery.

Henry John Eckelcamp [1856-1942]

Born in The Netherlands on March 1, 1856, Henry Eckelcamp came to the Northwest Ottawa County area about 1879 and lived at Hilbrant Start's Boarding House, 410 River Street in Spring Lake. He worked at the Johnston Boiler factory. On November 19, 1885, he married Reintje Vos, who lived from May 28, 1861 to November 11, 1951. Also born in The Netherlands, Reintje arrived in Spring Lake about the same time as Henry and resided at Start's Boarding House. Reintje was the daughter of Anthony Vos. The Eckelcamps' children, all born locally, included John, born in May 1886; Kathryn [Cathryn] "Katy," who was born on April 1, 1888 and married John William Cooper of Spring Lake; Toney, born in March 1890; Gertrude, who was born on December 10, 1891 and married Harry Bolton of Spring Lake; Joe, born on September 17, 1893, and Mary, born in November 1895. Henry died on October 28, 1942. He and Reintje were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Joseph Eckelcamp [1893-1976]

Joe, born September 17, 1893 in Spring Lake, was the son of Henry and Reintje Bos Eckelcamp. Joe's first job was with Challenge Refrigerator in Grand Haven in 1908. He got to his job by foot, Interurban, or bicycle. Later he went to work for Johnston Boiler, then Pace and La Fleur Seating Company, which manufactured toilet seats. After a brief return to Challenge, Joe started working for the Village in 1934, and became Spring Lake superintendent of Public Works on April 7, 1947. On November 20, 1915 in Spring Lake, he married Bessie, daughter of Fred Nehmer. She was born April 17, 1893 in Crockery Township and was a teacher. Joe and Bessie lived in the Eckelcamp family home at 227 East River. They had at least one child, Aneta Lorraine Eckelcamp, who was born on July 30, 1917 and married Gordon Asa Darbee. Bessie died on May 20, 1964. Joe retired in 1960, passed away on June 16, 1976, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his wife.

Adolph Edward Eckert [1874-1955]

Born October 31, 1874 [1873] in Schwerin, Germany, Adolph Eckert came to the United States in 1892. He was appointed superintendent of the Liquid Carbonic Company in Chicago and held similar positions with Russ Soda Fountain in Cleveland before moving to the Tri-Cities in 1928. He served as Works manager for Bastian Blessing Company until his retirement in 1952. Even after retirement he spent some time designing new products. He was a member of Rotary, Elks, and Grand Haven Stag Club. On October 31, 1896 he married Marie Pauline Runge in Chicago. She died on October 14, 1952. Their only child, George, born about 1904, moved to Chula Vista, California. Adolph died on March 26, 1955 in Chula Vista following a heart attack while visiting his son. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 28, 1955.]

John Eckhoff I [1835-1915]

John Eckhoff was born in Hanover, Germany on December 20, 1835. On August 31, 1865, in Crockery Township he married Margrette Sims. She also was a native of Germany, where she was born in December 1846. Both immigrated to the United States in 1857. Not long after their marriage, John and Margrette bought 40 acres in Section 20 and an abutting 40 acres in Section 17 of Crockery Township [16684 130th Avenue]. Their children were John H. II, born about 1862; Frederick William, who was born about 1869 and died in 1958; Andreas E., who was born in December 1871 and died in 1958; Mary M., who born about 1874 and died in 1941; Charles H., born about January 1876; Henrettie, born in March 1878; Anna, born in January 1880; Lewis A., who was born in February 1883 and died in 1959; Willhelmina, who was born in July 1885 and died in 1915; Jessy [Jessie], who was born on May 12, 1888 and married Darius Harden Sampson Rymer of Spring Lake Township; and Archibald, who was born in January 1892 and died in 1979. On August 11, 1862, John volunteered for Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was wounded in the left arm and taken prisoner prior to his discharge on July 5, 1865. John was a Crockery Township Highway commissioner and Constable. He belonged to the Masons and was a member of the G.A.R. John passed away in 1915 and Margrette in 1920. Both were buried at Nunica Cemetery, as were many of their children.

Charles Constantino Economou [1929-1988]

In 1979 Charles Economou owned and operated the Harbor Inn at 12 Washington Street. He was born in Weirton, West Virginia on January 1, 1929 and on July 1, 1950 married Lois Ann Hood in Detroit. She lived from January 14, 1931 to January 1, 2004. Charles passed away on April 14, 1988 in Novi, Oakland County.

Malcom Harry Edenborough [1866-1918]

Harry Edenborough and his wife Nellie were proprietors of the Rockaway Oyster Bar at 26-28 Washington in the early 1900s. They lived on the second floor. Harry was born in England on July 29, 1866. Nellie, also a native of England, was born in November 1871. He immigrated to America in 1883, she ten years earlier. Prior to coming to Grand Haven, the couple lived in Chicago, where Harry was State Game Warden for Illinois. They were married in 1899 and were included in the 1900 Federal Census for Chicago. Harry became a naturalized citizen of the United States on November 23, 1903. He died in California on December 4, 1918 and was buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale. Nellie continued to reside in Los Angeles until at least 1921.

Cora Edge [1888-1971]

Cora Edge taught art at Grand Haven High School from 1934 to 1953. In 1938 she was residing with the Van Witt family at 614 Lafayette. Cora was born on June 19, 1888 and died in Grand Rapids on September 17, 1971. She was buried at Fairplains Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Chase Edgerly [1811-1854]

Chase Edgerly was an early arrival in West Michigan. His sister Eliza married Hiram Osgood, and they settled in Grandville. Their son George became a partner with Chase, and they comprised the "Edgerly & Osgood" Lillie referred to as proprietors of the Washington House in Grand Haven [12 Washington] in 1851. The next year the partners sold the business to Clark Albee. Chase, who was born on December 18, 1811 in Epping, New Hampshire, returned to the Grand Rapids area, where he died on December 9, 1854. His parents were Jonathan and Hannah Osgood Edgerly. Chase's wife was Sarah Ann Brown, who was born in Salisbury, Massachusetts on November 28, 1821. They were married in Grandville on April 7, 1842. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Eliza, born about 1843; Harriet, born about 1845; Charles, born about 1847; and Francis, born about February 1850.

Charles M. Edmonds [1870-1902]

On June 24, 1896 in Petoskey, Charles Edmonds married Shirley [Shurly] Irene Vander Hoef. Born in Grand Haven on January 17, 1875, she was the daughter of Orson and Mary Vander Hoef of Grand Haven. Charles was born in Valparaiso, Indiana on July 23, 1870. The couple was living in California in 1898, when their first child was born. The Edmonds resided in Kalamazoo in 1900. After her husband's death on February 6, 1902, Shirley moved in with her father at 318 South Second Street in Grand Haven. She continued living there until her death on May 20, 1959. Charles and Shirley had three children: Caroline Ruth, who was born in California on May 30 [31], 1898, died on October 28, 1974, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Dorothy A., who was born in Kalamazoo on October 6, 1900, married Norman James Stiner, and died on March 13, 1977; and Charles O., born in Michigan on October 23, 1902. At the time of Caroline Edmonds's death on October 29, 1974, she was residing in the family home on Second Street. Charles died in Illinois and was buried at Mountain Home Cemetery in Otsego, Allegan County.

Francis "Frank" Edward [1838- ?]

A resident of Ferrysburg in the 1860 Federal Census, Francis Edward was listed as a fisherman. Coincidentally, a fishing tug in Grand Haven was named Frank Edward, but according to records it was named for brother Frank and Edward Zietlow. Francis was born in Vermont about 1838. His wife Frances, a native of New York, was born three years later.

James Duff Edward [Edwards] [1856-1924]

Born in Aberdeen, Scotland in September 1856, the son of George Edward, a native of Scotland, James was the youngest of a family of eight, including George, Jennie, Tibbie, John, Joseph, Alexander, and Mary. His three brothers came to America before his parents and Tibbie arrived in 1892. John and Mary remained in Scotland. Jennie died and George immigrated to Australia. James's parents were members of the Scotch Free Church.

At the age of 20 James set sail for America, arriving in 1876 at Johnsville [Agnew]. There he was employed in a sawmill and manufactured fruit crates and baskets. By the early 1890s he and Fred Churchill owned the Edward & Churchill Company in Agnew. The firm manufactured crates for celery, berries, peaches, and grapes and also offered "Custom Sawing, Planing and Matching. Custom Feed Grinding During Season." James also owned a 40-acre farm in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township.

James became president and general manager of the Grand Haven Basket Company, which was founded in 1897 and located in Grand Haven on Sixth Street between Madison and Elliott. James served as county grain commissioner. He was a Republican and was not connected with any denomination, although he preferred the Unitarian Church. On October 18, 1879, in Van Buren County, he married Cynthia I. Munger, who was born in Michigan and lived from February 1858 [1859] to about April 30, 1930. They had four children, all born locally: Tibbie [Tibbee/Tibitha], born in July 1883; George C., born in August 1886; Rheba, who was born in April 1891 and married Arthur J. Bolt of Muskegon; and Nicola, who lived from March 1893 to 1914. The Edward family resided at 425 Lafayette Street. Donna Meeusen, life-long resident of Grand Haven, was his granddaughter. Mary passed away around August 12, 1922, and James died in late August 1924. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Portraits and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, pp. 508- 509, Tribune obituary, December 14, 1900.]

Joseph Edward [Edwards] [1847-1900]

Born in Aberdeen, Scotland on June 11, 1847, Joseph was the son of George Edward. His sister, Isabella, who was born in Scotland about 1843 and married Abercrombie G. Boyd of Agnew, later moved to Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County. James Edward, president of the Grand Haven Basket Factory, was his brother. Joseph was a policeman in Scotland and came to Agnew in 1871, where he had a 40-acre farm in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township. He held various offices and was justice of the peace in Grand Haven Township. He and his wife Ellen had eight children. Ellen was born in Indiana in October 1855. Joseph was found dead in the river under the trestle works, near Kilbourn's factory on December 13, 1900. He apparently fell from the trestle, struck his head on the ice, and then drowned. He was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 14, 1900.]

Archie L. "Roy" Edwards [1918-2001]

Roy Edwards was director of the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power from 1963 to 1975. Prior to that assignment he had been director of Public Works at Niles. Project Engineer for power plant expansion and water problems in Holland, and superintendent of the power plant in Columbia, Missouri. Roy served in the army during WWII. He received a bachelor's degree from the University of Missouri and Columbia. He retired from Consumers Power in 1984 as Senior Engineer for the fossil fuel division. His wife's name was Louise. They had three children and lived at 209 Grandview in Grand Haven. Roy, who was born on November 8, 1918, died on February 16, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Chronicle obituary, February 22, 2001.]

Henry W. Eelman [Elman, Elmann] [1888-1954]

Listed in the 1912 Atlas as a "Farmer, Stockraiser and Dairyman," Henry W. Eelman owned 80 acres in Section 18 of Olive Township. The son of William and Hendricka Eelman, Henry was born on February 9, 1888. His father was a farmer in Olive Township also and owned 320 acres. On February 7, 1911 Henry married Neeltje “Nellie” Vanderpool in Billings, Montana. He resumed farming and he and Nellie remained in Montana the rest of their lives. She was born on August 6, 1892 in The Netherlands and died in Great Falls, Montana on December 2, 1975. Henry passed away in Great Falls on March 6, 1954. Both were buried at Highland Cemetery in that town.

Miles Luther Egelston [Eggelston, Eggelstan] [1858-1934]

Born in Muskegon County on March 15, 1858, Miles married Mary L. Parker Piper on May 8, 1888 in Muskegon. Born in New York on December 10, 1840, she died in Muskegon on May 16, 1909 and was buried at Egelston Township Cemetery. Miles married Edith Kemp in Grand Rapids on September 10, 1913. They were divorced on February 2 less than six months later. He next married Anna Sleutel Speelman, who husband, Peter Speelman, passed away in 1916. Anna and Miles occupied the house at 431 Elliott Street that she and Peter had lived in until she died in 1926. Miles died on September 2, 1934 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. Decades later, Anna’s and Peter’s great-grandson, Charles Fuller, purchased the home as a residence for him and his wife Kim.

Nyle Almond Eggert [1906-1966]

In June 1944 Nyle Eggert moved his company, National Products, from Muskegon to Grand Haven. The firm produced display racks and store fixtures. On January 2, 1966 Nyle, his son Dick, and the son’s fiancé, Jeri Petretti, died in a plane crash. They were coming back to Grand Haven after spending the holidays at Fort Lauderdale, Florida and had planned to arrive by mid-Sunday afternoon at Grand Haven Airport. After the accident, Nyle’s other son, Paul, took over management of the firm, then located at 725 Taylor. Nyle, who was born on March 11, 1906, married Viola Mathews on September 14, 1929 in White Cloud, Newaygo County. They resided on Judson Road in Spring Lake Township. In the mid-1970s Paul and his wife Valerie moved from 2010 Vista Place in Grand Haven to a large home they constructed in the Wilderness, about four miles south of Grand Haven [12525 Lakeshore Drive]. Paul was born in 1935, Valerie in 1938. Nyle was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife Viola, who lived from April 30, 1909 to December 6, 1990. [Tribune obituary, January 3, 1966.]

Paul M. Eich II [1922-2002]

The son of Paul M. and Emma Eich, Paul II was born in Cicero, Illinois on June 7, 1922. After serving with the Navy during WWII, he married Elizabeth Headley on June 26, 1945. Elizabeth was born in 1926. In Grand Haven, he worked as a machinist for Cooper Industries until his retirement in 1981. Paul also operated Pleasant Acres Blueberry Farm, located at 14711 Lake Michigan Drive in Grand Haven Township. The Eichs were members of the United Lutheran Church of Agnew, where Paul served as Congregational chairman. He also was a member and honor guard of the Charles Conklin American Legion Post 28 and a Boy Scout leader for more than 34 years. Paul and Elizabeth had a son, Robert, who resided in Grand Haven with his wife, Lois. At the time of his death on April 2, 2002, Paul’s home was located at 1007 Orchard in Grand Haven. He and Elizabeth were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Michael Eicher [1888-1964]

About June 26, 1929, Michael Eicher rowed across Lake Michigan from Milwaukee to Grand Haven. It took him 27 hours in his 14-foot skiff. He was born in Belgium on December 20, 1888 and died in Wisconsin in May 1964.

Stephen T. Eilander [1851-1933]

Listed in the 1912 Atlas as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Stephen Eilander owned an 80-acre farm in Section 29 of Olive Township. Born in The Netherlands on March 2, 1851, he came to the area in 1888. He married Tientje “Tonia” Slagh. She was born in Olive Township on December 8, 1862. Stephen died on January 17, 1933 in Olive Township, and Tonia passed away on December 23, 1949. They were buried at North Holland Cemetery.

Anthony “Tony” Ekkens [1886-1966]

The son of Wiebbe [Webbe] and Katerina [Catherine] “Kate” Van Lopik Ekkens, Tony was born in Grand Haven on November 26, 1886. In 1900 Tony was living with his older brother Gerrit and his family. On September 11, 1917 Tony married Henrietta Tietz in Muskegon. Born on June 7, 1891, she died on May 16, the year after their wedding. Like his brother, Gerrit Ekkens, Tony entered the grocery business, working at the Ekkens store at 206 Washington and operating a small grocery at Boseker’s Pavilion [later the Bil-Mar] near Highland Park. In 1910 he worked at Story & Clark Piana Company, in 1920 he was an insurance agent, and ten years later the Federal Census of 1930 listed him as a truck driver. He died in March 1966. Tony and Henrietta were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other members of the Ekkens family.

Gerrit [Garret] Ekkens [1878-1962]

Gerrit was born on August 20, 1878 in Grand Haven, the son of Wiebbe [Webbe] and Katerina [Catherine] “Kate” Van Lopik Ekkens. Gerrit started working for his grandfather, Gerrit, when he was 11 years old. He quit school the next year and worked full time in the store. His grandfather owned a grocery store starting in 1880 in the building which later became the site of the Hostetter News Agency [135 Washington]. In 1885 Van Lopik moved his store to 209 Washington and ten years later across the street to 206, where it remained for decades. Starting in the 1920s, Gerrit Ekkens operated a small store for about 15 years on Lake Avenue for the summer residents in Highland Park. After a brief partnership with Arie Van Toll, Gerrit became sole owner of the downtown grocery store in 1913 and retired in 1956. Part of his business was making and curing cheese, and he continued to deliver cheeses to customers on a regular route on foot even after retirement. He shipped cheeses to customers throughout the United States. He became known locally as the “Cheese King.” Gerrit was a life member of the First Reformed Church.

On September 22, 1904, Gerrit married Marguerite Jacoba “Cora” Pippel, who was born on February 5, 1882. They lived most of their married life at 531 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Their daughter Katherine C. was born about 1906. Gerrit died on February 20, 1962 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marguerite died in Grand Haven on October 9, 1970 and was buried near her husband. [Tribune obituary, February 21, 1963, and Tribune article, “Development of Resort Life,” November 2, 1984.]

Wiebbe [Webbe] Ekkens [1849-1878]

Wiebbe Ekkens, who was born in The Netherlands on August 7, 1849, died on April 12, 1887. He was a sailor. He and his wife, Kate [Katerina/Catherine], resided at 525 Lake in Grand Haven. Kate, the daughter of Gerrit Peter and Elizabeth Van Lett Van Lopik, was born October 18, 1856 and died on May 9, 1936. By 1920 Kate was sharing her house at 525 Lake Avenue with her widowed son Tony. Both Wiebbe and Kate were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. Their other children, all born in Grand Haven, were Roelof, who lived from September 30, 1876 to July 29, 1879; Gerrit, who was born on August 20, 1878; Ralph, who lived from December 14, 1880 to August 17, 1894; Elizabeth “Lizzie,” who lived from October 6, 1882 to December 3, 1904; John, who lived from October 23, 1884 to May 3, 1909, and Anthony “Tony,” who was born on November 28, 1886.

Eilke Ekster [Exter] [1816-1903]

A native of The Netherlands, Eilke Ekster married Grietje “Maggie” Smit, also from The Netherlands. Their daughter Gertrude [Geertruida] married Jan “John” Koster of Spring Lake. Eilke began work at the age of 14. By 1870 the Eksters had moved from Detroit to the Spring Lake area, where Eilke worked in a sawmill. Ten years later they were living on a farm in Crockery Township. Eilke lived from 1816 to 1903 and Grietje from 1810 to 1906. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Peter Ekster [1855-1918]

In 1880 Paul was a student in Grand Rapids. In July 1883, he became the first minister of the Christian Reformed Church in Spring Lake, where he was paid $600 a year, plus housing. By 1889 Rev. Ekster had joined the Holland Christian Reformed Church in Grand Rapids. He lived from 1855 to July 17, 1918 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Fannie Louise Eldred [1841-1880]

In early 1863, Fannie Eldred appeared in a “Tableaux” staged by Mary Ann Hubbard “in behalf of disabled & gallant Soldiers of the Rebellion War.” Born in Hector, New York on May 4, 1841, she died of typhoid fever on March 30, 1880 in Grand Haven. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Harriet Eldred Hopkins, wife of John W. Hopkins, was Fannie’s sister.

Isaac P. Elenbaas [1884-1957]

Listed in the 1912 Atlas as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” Isaac Elenbaas owned 60 acres in Section 13 of Olive Township. Born on August 26, 1884, he came to the area in 1906 and died on August 3, 1957 in Borculo. He married Alice H. Guerink, who was born on July 26, 1884 and died in Georgetown Township on June 7, 1971. Isaac’s parents were Peter Joshua and Geertje “Jane” Elenbaas, who were married in Ottawa County on November 17, 1874.

John C. Elenbaas [1889-1965]

Listed in the 1912 Atlas as a “Farmer and Stockraiser,” John Elenbaas owned 40 acres in Section 10 of Olive Township. He was born in April 9, 1889 and died in Zeeland on March 29, 1985. His father, Cornelius, was born about 1859, and his wife, Jennie, also was born in 1889 and died in 1969. All three were natives of Michigan. John and Jennie were buried at Zeeland Cemetery.

Marvin J. Elenbaas [1906-1973]

A native of Zeeland Marvin Elenbaas was born on July 15, 1906 and died in Grand Haven on February 15, 1973. In the late 1920s he owned Marv’s Tire Shop at 107 North Seventh. On October 15, 1936 he married Frances Weavers in Grand Haven. Frances lived from March 7, 1905 to November 19, 1998.

Harry [Henry] Noel Elkington [1840-1920]

A native of London, England, where he was born in 1840, Harry Elkington came to America in 1861 and to Grand Haven around 1870. In 1868, the year of his marriage, Harry was a merchant in St. Joseph, Berrien County. From 1870 to 1879 he was employed by the Goodrich Transportation Company. In 1875 he became Cashier and Bookkeeper for the Stearns Manufacturing Company in Grand Haven. On May 7, 1868 in St. Joseph he married Sarah Amenias Plumb. She was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut on June 26, 1848, the daughter of Marcus and Maria Plumb. She died in Chicago on October 11, 1899 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Harry was residing in Waukesha, Wisconsin in 1920, the year he died. He also was buried at Lake Forest. The Elkingtons had seven children, including Ruth, who died of cancer on April 9, 1975. Other children, all born in Michigan, were Charles, born in 1869; Grace, born in 1872; and Adelaide, born in 1876. [Tribune obituary, October 16, 1899.]

Henry [Harris] “Harry” Ellicot [1806-1884]

See Henry Elliott.

Louis Burton Ellingson II [1902-1967]

Louis Ellingson II married Marie Hanson in her family’s home at 732 Franklin Street on October 4, 1923. Marie was the daughter of Burton and Ruth Mae Watkins Hanson. Louis worked at Challenge Machinery, but also was deeply involved in his model train hobby. At one time he laid out a miniature replica of the City of Grand Haven and its railroads in the basement of his home at 415 Lake Avenue. For many years Marie was secretary for Leo Lilly, a Grand Haven attorney, and later she was employed by Julian Hatton I at Eagle Ottawa. Marie, with the assistance of Chriss Sprott and Louise Roloff, helped obtain the house at 315 Franklin, which became headquarters for the local Girl Scout troop. Marie was a Troop Leader and she helped establish the Girl Scout summer camp near Fruitport. She joined the Eastern Star in 1925 and remained a loyal member until her death. Marie worked for the Ration Board during WWII. She and Louis were early supporters of the Christian Science Church in Grand Haven.

The Ellingson's children were Patricia, Wesley Jay Crane, nephew of Wesley Lee; Cordelia "Dilly," who died at Ocean Shores, Washington on November 16, 1997; Harriette; and Louis III. The family moved from a house they built at 1220 Slayton to 415 Lake Avenue. In 1951 they moved to Claremont, California. Louis was born October 2, 1902 and died in Upland, California on October 29, 1967. Marie was born on June 1, 1904 and died in Ocean Shores, Washington on August 19, 1997.

Louis's and Marie's daughter Harriette, who was born in Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, on April 21, 1933, married Roger Norgren in Los Angeles on June 21, 1958. They were divorced in San Bernadino, California in June 1967. She next married Norman Haugness in Los Angeles, California on July 6, 1970. Then, on October 30, 1989, she married Darrell A. Moore in Gray's Harbor, Washington. On October 16, 1997 she married James K. Hodgson in Ocean Shores. Harriette served as mayor of that community around the year 2000.

Arthur Ward Elliott [Elliot] [1876-1947]

Arthur Elliott served a total of 21 years as president of the Grand Haven School Board. His daughter, Martha Frances, at about the age of 14, in 1916 won a contest to name the Robinhood Theater. She was given year's worth of passes to the movie house for her success. In 1913 Arthur and his brother, Barton Elliott, with a few other local businessmen, took over the Peerless Glove Company at 13 South Second. In 1922 the firm moved into a newly constructed three-story building on the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets. They sold the business to Pioneer Rubber Company of Willard, Ohio in June 1945. The company closed permanently in 1952. Arthur was born on a farm near New Castle, Henry County, Indiana on April 26, 1876 and died on December 5, 1947. On January 9, 1902 in Henry County, he married Alice C. Loer. Alice, who was born in Henry County around 1884, passed away about December 23, 1963. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among their children were Myron L., born in Indiana about 1910; John R., born in Illinois about 1911; J. Pierson, born about 1913 in Michigan; and Charles R., born about 1918 in Michigan. In 1930 the family resided at 630 Fulton and later they were located at 421 Leggat.

Barton Warren Elliott [Elliot] [1877-1965]

In the summer of 1913 Barton Elliott arrived in Grand Haven from Chicago to buy out Perry Benjamin's share of the Peerless Glove Company. Before long he and his brother, Arthur Elliott, owned the entire business. In 1922 the firm moved into a newly constructed three-story building on the corner of Seventh and Elliott Streets. They sold the business to Pioneer Rubber Company of Willard, Ohio in June 1945. The company closed permanently in 1952. Barton served as mayor of Grand Haven in 1922 and 1923. He also served as chair of the Board of Appeals, as a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and he was an active volunteer with the Boy Scouts. Barton belonged to the Spring Lake County Club, Elks, and Knights Templar. He married Mabel Brothers of Cincinnati on September 23, 1908. He and Mabel resided at 316 South Fifth Street, and then before 1930 moved to 621 Lafayette Street, where they remained until their deaths. After the Grand Haven Congregational Church closed, he and Mabel joined the Presbyterian Church. Mabel was born in Ohio around 1884 and died in Grand Haven in 1952. After her death Barton married Rose Lauderman, a lifelong friend from his hometown of New Castle. Barton was born on a farm near New Castle, Henry County, Indiana on September 4, 1877. He passed away in Grand Haven around July 31, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, 1965.]

Henry [Harris] "Harry" Elliot [Elliott, Eliot, Ellicott] [@1806-1884]

Harris "Harry" [Henry/Harvey] Ellicot [Elliott/Elliot] and his family joined the growing number of Blacks who settled in the Spring Lake area before 1850. Harry, a laborer, was born in Maysville, Kentucky [Missouri] about 1806 [1810]. He and his wife, Jozet [Joselt], had one child, Elie, born in Michigan about September 1849. Jozet, born in Michigan about 1810 [1820], was classified as Indian. Another household member in the 1850 census was Sophia Tillis, born in 1843, enumerated as Black and a Michigan native. By 1860 Harry and Jozet were living in Grand Haven. On December 28, 1863, in Grand Haven, Harry enlisted and served with Company H of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. He was discharged on January 18, 1866 with a disability. Harry was not located in the 1870 census, but on June 6, 1877, Kathleen Sanford, listed as his guardian, applied for an invalid's Civil War pension in his behalf. In 1880 he was residing on Madison Street in Grand Haven. In the same household in 1880 were John H. Elliot, born in Michigan about 1873, Catharine Hendricks, a White woman, born about 1840 in Ireland, and John Dewyer, also White, born in Canada around 1850. Harry and John Dewyer were classified as dock workers. The 1880 census showed that John Elliot's mother was born in Ireland, so Catharine may be Harry's wife and the children's' mother. However, in the census she was listed as housekeeper and boarder, and their relationship was not specified.

The Grand Haven Tribune, long after the incident, reported this anecdote about Harry: "Few of us remember Henry Elliott, but we all remember him as Nigger Harry. Amid the booming of cannon and the Grand Haven band playing patriotic airs, Nigger Harry led the large Democratic procession, astride a mule, with a large banner inscribed on both sides, 'I dun got de mule, war's de forty acres.'" The article reported that the Republican Party had promised voters "40 acres of land and a mule" if Ulysses Grant were elected in 1868. The Civil War hero did defeat his Democratic opponent, but the transfer of land did not occur. Apparently Harry's display in the parade upset some people, "the opposition party, especially . . . the colored people," the article continued. Later that night "[Harry's] hut was surrounded, he was taken to the river and thrown in. His friends came to the rescue, and after a copious draft of Kentucky mountain dew, he was escorted home richer by ten dollars. After that, Nigger Harry considered himself a hero." [Tribune article, "Reminiscences of Early Settlers," March 30, 1899.] Harry was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery on April 3, 1884.

Edmund K. Ellis [1899-1992], Kathleen Hatton Ellis [1901-1947], and Betty Hatch Ellis [1900-1998]

In 1940 Edmund Ellis and Julian Hatton I started the Hatton Leather Company at 743 Park Street, and two years later they bought Eagle Ottawa and combined operations. Edmund became a sales executive with Eagle Ottawa after the two businesses were combined. He was a colonel in the Army during WWII. In 1964 he represented Michigan at the Republican National Convention.

On December 29, 1928 Edmund married Kathleen, daughter of William and Elizabeth Hatton. Born in Bay Shore, Long Island, New York on July 27, 1901, Kathleen graduated from Akeley Hall and in 1923 from the University of Michigan. Kathleen was seriously injured in July 1927, when she fell into a manhole opening on Howard Street, left open by a city employee. She was a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She attended St. John's Episcopal Church, and was a member of the Girl Scout Council, Grand Haven Women's Club, St. Elizabeth's Guild, Tuesday Musicale, D.A.R., Red Cross, Central Parent Teachers Association, and Women's Golf Association at the Spring Lake Country Club. The Ellises' children were Julia, who was born about October 1929, and Kathleen Virginia. The family lived at 420 Howard Street. Kathleen died unexpectedly at her home on August 17, 1947 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

In 1948 Edmund married Elizabeth "Betty" B. Hatch, former wife of Clarence Hatch II of Detroit. Elizabeth and Clarence had two sons, Terry and John Hatch. Terry, who was born on April 16, 1929, lived briefly in Grand Haven, and relocated to Wheaton, Illinois, where he died on April 26, 2021. John was born on April 29, 1934 and resided in Minneapolis. Betty was an artist. She studied costume design and illustration at Columbia University. In 1962 she designed the layout and figures for the nativity scene that is displayed at the Musical Fountain each Christmas season. Beverly Mills Dornbos lent Betty some hand-carved camels from Egypt to use as models. The Ellises continued to reside at the home on Howard Street. Edmund was born in Washington, D.C. on September 29, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on June 29, 1992. Betty lived from March 19, 1900 to July 10, 1998. Ellis and Kathleen were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, August 18, 1947 and July 13, 1998.]

Norman Tanner Ellis [1900-1983]

Born September 27, 1900 in Grand Rapids, Norman Ellis worked with the Tropical Paint & Oil Company in Cleveland, Ohio. He went to night school and was promoted to chemist. In 1923 he was employed at the Grand Rapids Filtration plant until he came to Grand Haven. He was a graduate of Michigan State University and the University of Michigan. Norman was the City Chemist for Grand Haven and tested the water for 9,400 days, from May 18, 1929 to October 1, 1965. He was a member of the Methodist Church of the Dunes and belonged to the Rotary Club, Masons, the Low 12 Club, and Command of Muskegon.

On June 1, 1929 Norman married Lois Frye, and they resided at 632 Clinton. Lois passed away on December 19, 1968, and Ellis died on February 19, 1983. They had a son Ralph and a daughter Lois, who married John Henderson of Spring Lake. Another daughter, Marian, was born about 1930. [Tribune article, "Norman T. Ellis Tests City Water," October 12, 1965, and Tribune obituary, February 19, 1983.]

Edward S. Emert [Emmert] [1859-1922]

Listed in the 1912 Atlas as a "Farmer and Stockraiser," Edward Emert owned a 40-acre farm in Section 11 of Blendon Township. Born in Indiana in 1859, he came to the area in 1886. He married Mary Schlich in Grand Rapids on April 23, 1907. Edward passed away in 1922 and was buried at Blendon Township Cemetery. She was born in Michigan on January 10, 1870. According to the 1930 Federal Census, Edward and Mary were divorced. In 1930, Mary continued to operate the family farm in Blendon Township. Three children living with her were Coletta, 21 years old; Louis, 19; and Frank, 14. Mary passed away on November 17, 1937 and was buried at Blendon Township Cemetery.

Ello Elwin Emery I [1856-1944]

In the 1880 census Ello Emery was classified as a landscape artist. He was born in Manchester, New Hampshire on November 27, 1856. On March 12, 1890 in Ann Arbor, he married Christine [Tennie] McLillian. She was born in Canada and lived from April 29, 1867 to January 14, 1943. Ello died a few months later, around April 20, 1944. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ello Emery II, their son, was born on November 10, 1895, and Iola, a daughter, was born around 1898 and died on June 9, 1976. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. The Emerys' children were born in Illinois. The family resided at 1423 Washington in 1910, 1203 Washington in 1920, 1014 Sheldon Road around 1930 and again at 1203 Washington in the early 1940s.

Ello Elwin Emery II [1895-1983]

Born in Chicago on November 10, 1895, Ello Emery II graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1915 and served with the Engineering Corps in France during WWI. He was the son of Ello and Christine Emery I. Ello II attended the University of Michigan and was superintendent of Construction for the City of Grand Haven for 26 years. Prior to that he was a partner with Hartger Jonker in the Jonker & Emery Construction Company, which specialized in masonry and concrete. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church, United Church of Sun City, Oakmont Lawn Bowling Club, Fairway Lawn Bowling Club, Square Club of Sun City, WWI Barracks, and the Masons.

On September 15, 1920 Ello married Marie, daughter of Fred and Ann Verhoeks Jonker. Marie was born on November 4, 1896 and died in Tempe, Arizona on May 14, 1994. In 1943 the Emery family was living at 435 Columbus. The Emerys' children included Marjorie Highfield of Grand Rapids and Jacquelyn Groff of Sun City, Arizona. Ello died in Tempe on March 24, 1983. [Tribune obituary, April 1, 1983.]

James Emery [1832-1899]

Born in Bedfordshire, England, on January 25, 1832, James Emery came to America in 1859, living for a short time in Cincinnati, where his uncle, Thomas Emery, owned some valuable property, including the Emery and Palace Hotels. James soon moved to Milwaukee, and in 1870 settled in Spring Lake. Originally a house painter, he later entered the insurance business. His advertisement in the 1893 Directory asked, "What Will Our Friends Say When We Are Gone: Will Not Their First Inquiry Be . . . WAS HE WELL INSURED?" In England, James married Lucy Adams, who was born in 1831 and died on September 3,

1893. The Emerys attended the Baptist Church of Spring Lake. In 1890 James built a house at 114 East Savidge in Spring Lake. It was destroyed in the 1893 fire, and he then rebuilt on the same site. The couple had four children: Annie, who was born in England about 1855 and married George Perry of Spring Lake; Eva, who was born about 1857 in Wisconsin, married Orlin O. Fletcher, and moved to South Carolina and New York; Florence, who was born in Wisconsin around 1859 and married Hiram Potts, originally of Grand Haven and later of Detroit; and Joseph Emery, who was born about 1860 and later moved to Detroit. After Lucy's death, James married Ellen McLean [McLain] of Fruitport, who died on April 10, 1899. James died on January 1 [2], 1899 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Lucy. [Tribune obituaries, September 4, 1893, January 3, 1899, and April 11, 1899.]

William Jershoran Emery [1855-1934]

A farmer, William Emery in 1918 owned 133 acres in Section 30 of Robinson Township. He was born in Adrian, Lenawee County, on February 2, 1855 and arrived in the Grand Haven area in 1879. He was listed in the 1912 Atlas as "Stockraiser." In the early 1890s he was located in Section 10 of Olive Township. He married Catherine Jane Goodwin in Olive Township on March 13, 1881. She was born in Fenwick, Canada and died in Nunica on July 29, 1955. William passed away at his home in Robinson Township on May 26, 1934. Their children were Roseanna E. who was born on January 26, 1882, married Edward Smalley, and died on January 10, 1968; Bertha M., who was born on August 31, 1883, married Adelbert [Burton] Crary, and died on October 10, 1974; Etta J., who was born on January 10, 1885, married John Hill, and died on January 30, 1966; Amy Lydia, who was born on September 28, 1886, married Jay Burton Smalley, and died on February 25, 1968; Ethel, William's twin, who was born on February 28, 1890; died on May 2, 1904, and was buried at Grand Haven Historic Cemetery; William J. II, Ethel's twin, who was born on February 28, 1890 and died the same day; Chester W., who was born October 4, 1891, married Birdie Mae Tuttle, died October 11 1966, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Nina Lowika, who was born on June 27, 1901 married Rubel Barnett, and died on January 13, 1989. All except Roseanna were born in Olive Township.

Andrew Jackson Emlaw [1829-1914]

Born in Alburgh Springs, Vermont on February 5, 1829, Andrew was the son of Michael and Wealthy Maxfield Emlaw, both natives of New York. Wealthy lived from 1794 to 1873 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her son and his family. Wealthy was the daughter of Isaac Maxfield of Scottish origin. Michael, born at Lake Champlain in 1800, was a cooper by trade. Michael and Wealthy had eight children, Andrew being number six. In 1849 Andrew came to Grand Haven, working as a millwright and in the construction of sawmills. By 1863 he owned a sawmill in Muskegon. Five years after he formed a partnership with Carlton L. Storrs & Company of Grand Haven in 1866, Andrew changed the company name to Reynolds & Emlaw. The sawmill, erected in 1867 north of the South Channel on the Grand River, burned down eight years later. About 1880 the Grand Haven Lumber Company was organized with Charles Boyden as president and Andrew as vice president. Andrew teamed up with George W. Miller in 1891 to provide the area's first source of electricity, operating from a building on the southwest corner of Water Street [Harbor Drive] and Clinton. The 1893 Compendium listed Andrew as a "Gas Manufacturer" and as president of the Grand Haven Gas Light Company. He was a Republican.

On October 31, 1872 in Grand Rapids. Andrew married Louisa Bentham of Grand Haven. They had two children, including Harlan Stigand Emlaw, who was born on August 8, 1873 in Grand Haven and Martha Louise, who was born March 12, 1879. Martha graduated from Akeley Institute in 1897 and entered the University of Michigan as a special student. After graduation in 1902, Martha taught in Spring Lake schools, but had to resign because of ill health. She died September 19, 1903. In the 1908 City Directory Andrew was listed as "retired" and living at 404 Franklin with his wife. He suffered his third major stroke and died on June 16, 1914. Louisa, who was born in England in November 1837, came to the United States in 1858. She died one year after her husband and was buried near him and other Emlaw family members at Lake

Forest Cemetery. [Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, p. 132, and Tribune obituary, September 19, 1903.]

Harlan Stigand Emlaw [1873-1953]

Harlan, the son of Andrew and Louisa Bentham Emlaw, was born on August 8, 1873 in Grand Haven and died on February 5, 1953 in York, South Carolina. On June 26, 1901 in Spring Lake, he married Alice [Alice Lucy], the daughter of Aloys and Mary Alice Thompson Bilz of Spring Lake. Alice was born in Utah on August 14, 1877. Harlan and his wife and their daughter Alice Louise resided in the family home at 404 Franklin in 1920, before moving to Massachusetts, where Harlan was a mining engineer. Daughter Alice was born in Salt Lake City, Utah on April 15, 1909 and passed away on February 27, 2003 in Hilton Head, South Carolina. Alice the mother died on January 1, 1943. She and Harlan were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Isaac [Isaak, Izaak] Emlaw [1825-1913]

Born in Vermont [Franklin County, New York] in 1825, Isaac Emlaw came to Grand Haven in 1844 and worked in the lumber mills. Three years later, on March 25, 1847, he married Sarah Jane Baxter, who was born around 1824 in New York. They became residents of Spring Lake Township. On October 2, 1863 he enlisted as private in Company C of the 10th Michigan Cavalry. He was mustered out on March 16, 1865 with the rank of corporal. On November 24, 1871 Isaac applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. Beginning in 1877 he was associated with Andrew Emlaw's sawmill at Grand Haven. By 1880 Isaac and Sarah were residing in Tallmadge Township. They had at least two children: George M., who was born in Michigan about 1849, and Clara L., who was born about 1857 and died on August 5, 1873 in Grand Haven. George became a lumber inspector in Muskegon. On September 7, 1894, in Ionia County, Isaac married Calista Murray Cusser. He moved to Montgomery County, Ohio, where he was included in the 1910 census as a resident at the National Military Home. At that time, he was a widower. He died on February 28, 1913 and was buried at Dayton National Cemetery in Ohio.

Miner [Minor] J. Emlaw [1838-1910]

Born in New York in July 1838 [1842], Miner Emlaw was enumerated in the 1860 census as a resident of Spring Lake Township. He served in two outfits during the Civil War. On October 2, 1863 he enlisted in Company H of the 3rd Michigan Infantry and on July 23, 1863 he transferred to the 137th Company, 2nd Battalion, Veteran Reserve Corps. He was wounded and lost an arm at the Battle of Fair Oaks, Virginia, on May 31, 1862 and was discharged for wounds on June 8, 1865. Miner was listed as a lumber scaler in the 1880 census, as lumber inspector in the 1889-1890 Muskegon Directory, and as "tallyman" in the 1893 Compendium.

Miner married Elizabeth "Lizzie" Van Uithoven in Ottawa County about 1886. She was born in The Netherlands on September 16, 1863 and came to Grand Haven when she was three years old. Miner passed away on May 20, 1922 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On June 4, 1910 she applied for a widow's Civil War pension. The Emlaws, who lived in Spring Lake Township, had two children: Frank J., who was born in March 1884 and moved to Muskegon, and Jane [Jennie] L., who was born on March 30, 1885 and married George Swart of Grand Haven. When Elizabeth died on September 10, 1951, she was residing at 111 Eighth Street. She was buried at Lake Forest.

Nels Engberg [1884-1966]

Nels Engberg was the last person to serve as lighthouse keeper in Grand Haven. He took over from Charles Bavry in 1926 and served until 1939. Living with him in the keeper's apartment at 900 South Harbor was his wife, Anna M., who was a native of Michigan, where she was born August 6, 1894. The Engbergs had three sons, all born in Michigan: Myron, who was born August 21, 1915 and died in Palos Heights, Illinois on June 10, 2002; Floyd J., who was born on December 13, 1917 and died in San Leandro, California on July 10, 1995; and Millard, born about 1922. Nels was born in Sweden on August 9, 1884 and died in Rapid River, Delta County, in May 1966. Anna passed away in Belding, Ionia County, on November 26, 1992.

Michael Engelmann [Engelman, Engleman] [1832-1888]

Around 1869 Michael [Nathaniel] Engelmann bought the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad and organized Englemann Transportation Company, with headquarters in Milwaukee. His ships, including Ironsides, sailed Lake Michigan, primarily between Milwaukee, Manistee, and Grand Haven. Around 1871 George Stickney was the company's agent in Grand Haven. By 1873 the Grand Haven office was headed by Seymour Humphrey. In 1875 Michael sold his business to Northwestern Transportation, also of Milwaukee. [Northwestern was absorbed by Goodrich Transportation Company in 1881.] In 1876 he owned 81 acres along the shores of Spring Lake, just east of the Village, where Spring Lake Beach later was located. Michael was born in Bavaria [Germany] in 1832. He later entered the lumbering business in Manistee, where he, his wife, Sophia, and their children resided in 1880. Michael passed away on January 29, 1888. Sophia died two years later, on January 29. Both died in Manistee.

Jan "John" Ennenga [1872-1952]

John Ennenga on December 16, 1950, married Anna Stickney Buhl in Grand Haven. Anna's first husband, Clarence Buhl, had died on January 25, 1926. John worked at Challenge Machinery Company. He and his first wife, Jennie, resided at 529 Columbus. Jennie lived from August 15, 1874 to December 26, 1948. Anna was born in Plainfield, Wisconsin in 1877. She died on January 8, 1960 under the name Ennenga. and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John lived from June 6, 1872 to August 25, 1952. He and Jennie also were buried at Lake Forest.

Alfred [Albert] W. Enouy [1860-1945]

Alfred Enouy on March 10, 1888 married Lena Luss in Muskegon. The two of them operated an establishment at the "Foot of Washington Street" that offered "Boats, Fishing, Tackle, Minnows, and Restaurant." By 1908 Alfred was foreman at the Crosby Dock. Alfred was born in Canada in February and came to Grand Haven from Stratford, Ontario in 1884. He died in 1945. The Enouys' home was at 212 Water [Harbor]. Lena evidently inherited the restaurant and boat livery from her first husband, Henry Luss of Grand Haven, who died in 1883. Lena, the daughter of Frederick Johannes and Dorothea Behm, was born in Germany in May 1855 and died in 1920. The Enouys' son, George F., was born on January 2, 1891 and died in 1919. Mother and son were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frederick Ensing [1858-1935]

Frederick Ensing, who was born in The Netherlands and lived from November 1858 [1859] to 1935, owned a Harness & Shoe Store at 212 West Savidge in Spring Lake in the early part of the 20th century. He also offered repair work. He arrived in the United States in 1871. Before moving to Spring Lake, Frederick sold shoes and boots from his home on Plainfield Avenue in Grand Rapids as early as 1890. His wife, Anna, was born in The Netherlands in March 1861, came to the United States in 1868, and died in 1932. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had a daughter, Anna, born in March 1884, and a son, John H., born in August 1886. Both were born in Michigan. The family residence was in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township, near the Fruitport Township line.

Alyce Rudeen Erickson [1906-1999]

Alyce was born in Minot, North Dakota on October 26, 1906, the daughter of Alfred and Eugenia Rudeen. She graduated from Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minnesota in 1929 with a degree in mathematics and physics. She was appointed to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics at Langley, Virginia, to be a research mathematician. Alyce was with the organization ten years and met such people as Orville Wright, Charles Lindbergh, and other noted pioneers in aviation. In 1940 she married E. Vincent "Vyn" Erickson. Their children included Martha A. Erickson of Boston and John V. of San Francisco. The Ericksons resided at 345 Woodlawn in Grand Haven. Vyn died on February 13, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alyce died January 24, 1999. [Tribune obituaries, February 14, 1985 and January 25, 1999.]

Carl F. Erickson I [1905-1975]

Carl “Swede” Erickson started the Tri-City Oil Company in 1936, in partnership with Gerald Tinholt, who owned a Conoco Service Station at the junction of Pine and Ridge Streets in Ferrysburg. The station initially offered D-X gasoline [now Sunoco], but before long the owners changed to Cities Service [now Citgo] gasoline. Erickson delivered the company’s petroleum products with a pickup truck, carrying 315 gallons at a time and delivering gas or fuel oil to customers in five-gallon cans. Carl II came into his father’s business in 1959 and eventually took it over. In 1999 the company continued to operate the service station in Ferrysburg, and also owned a Citgo outlet at 5 North Beacon in Grand Haven. Jerry Swiftney bought that business and leased the property, starting in October 1981. Young Carl’s wife, Mary, and their son Brian ran another Citgo, at 411 Savidge in Spring Lake, which closed around 2009. A second son, Jeff, also entered the business. In 1988 the owners constructed an office building at 524 Third Street in Ferrysburg.

Carl I, who was born on February 20, 1905, on August 18, 1928 in Grand Haven married Albertha H. Bouwman. She lived from January 31, 1908 to February 13, 1989. Carl died in Grand Haven on March 30, 1980. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Ellworth Vincent “Vyn” Erickson [1906-1985]

Born in Muskegon on January 5, 1906, Vyn was the son of John and Ida Erickson. In 1929 he graduated from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York as a mechanical engineer and taught in the engineering department for a year. He was manager of the New York export office of Carrier Corp. from 1935 to 1939, when he moved to Grand Haven and joined Keller Tool Company in 1940. He was president of Keller Tool from 1952 to 1955. When the company merged, he became director and senior vice president of Gardner-Denver Company until his retirement in 1961. He was a member of the Grand Haven Planning Commission, First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, Rotary, Spring Lake Country Club, Detroit Economic Club, Otsego Ski Club, Peninsular Club of Grand Rapids, and Grand Haven School Board from 1945 to 1952. In 1971, he was one of a dozen local businessmen who each contributed $100 to start the Grand Haven Area Community Foundation, and he was elected its first president. Vyn also was on the Committee for Economic Development and served as trustee of Alma College from 1954 to 1975. He was director the Michigan Highway Department from 1971 to 1975, a founding director of JSJ Corporation, director of Security First Bank & Trust Company [Old Kent Bank], chairman of Wolverine World Wide, Inc. of Rockford from 1967 to 1970, director of Walworth Company, AGM Industries, Besser Company, and Michigan Plastic Products Company, and advisor and trustee of the Loutit Foundation from 1955 to 1977. In 1962 he was granted an honorary Doctor of Law degree from Grand Valley State College.

In 1940 Vyn married Alyce Rudeen of Minot, North Dakota. Their children included Martha A. Erickson of Boston, and John V. of San Francisco. The Ericksons resided at 345 Woodlawn in Grand Haven. Vyn died on February 13, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alyce died January 24, 1999 and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, February 14, 1985 and January 25, 1999.]

Martin Andrew Erickson [1902-1986]

Born in Boyne Falls, Charlevoix County, on March 9, 1902, Martin was the son of Andrew and Maria Erickson. He came to Grand Haven in 1924 to manage the Grand Haven A&P Stores [Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company], located at 5 North 7th, 127 Washington, and 1116 Washington Streets. He also had worked at least briefly in Grand Rapids for an unspecified grocery store chain, probably A&P. He was manager for A&P stores in Grand Haven and Muskegon. He later owned and operated Erickson’s Super Market, formerly Sheffield Brothers, at 416 Franklin Street. His grand opening ad for Saturday, July 7, 1934 said in part, “We would like to have a chance to earn your confidence and patronage by a trial order on opening day.” He retired from the grocery business in 1972. Martin was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, and the Grand Haven Stag Club. Martin also was on the Board of Directors for Spartan stores and he was a board member of the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power.

On September 15, 1924 Martin married Zeta A. Emerson in Muskegon. She was born on June 25, 1902 and died on June 7, 1983, just short of 81. Their children included Kenneth, who was born about 1928 and moved to Perrysburg, Ohio; Shirley, who married Donald Swifney of Grand Haven; and Robert of Lansing. The Ericksons first resided at 108 Franklin Street, but eventually bought a house at 1400 Sheldon Road. Martin was last located at 1822 Pine Court. Martin died on November 8, 1986 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, November 9, 1986.]

Aubrey Ernst [1905-1984]

Born in Ferry, Oceana County on July 30, 1905 to Phillip and Lettie Ernst, Aubrey moved to Grand Haven in 1924 to work for the Thieleman Auto Company at 33 Franklin. In 1926 the dealership moved to 12-16 North Third Street. He became manager of Thieleman's in 1940. He and Arnold Redeker purchased the business in 1952, when Gust Thieleman retired. Aubrey sold the business to Arnie Redeker in 1966. Aubrey was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, American Legion, Grand Haven Rotary, Spring Lake Country Club, Grand Haven Stag Club, and Grand Haven Library Board. On June 23, 1937 he married Margaret Kleet in Whitehall. Born on March 12, 1908, she died in Florida on August 13, 1982. Their children were William of Muskegon, Daniel of Holt, and James of Novi. The Ernst family resided at 414 Howard Street, Grand Haven. Aubrey died April 2, 1984 at Hackley Hospital in Muskegon and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, April 4, 1984.]

Bernath "Bub" Ernst [1912-1991]

Born on February 27, 1912 in Nunica to William and Anna Ernst, Bernath graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1930 and attended Michigan State College [Michigan State University]. He was a veteran of WWII. Nunica's postmaster for 37 years, Bub retired in 1976. He was a real estate agent and operator of Ernst Dairy. He was a member of the American Legion, Masonic Lodge, and elected to the Nunica School Board. He was actively involved with the Boy Scouts. In Spring Lake on October 14, 1939 Bub married Mary Frazer, who lived from 1908 to August 21, 1988. Their children included Valerie, who married James Porenta of Grand Haven, and Michael Ernst. Bub died on July 17, 1991 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, July 17, 1991.]

Casper [Casper] Ernst [1829-1879]

A resident of Nunica, Casper Ernst on September 23, 1861, enlisted as first lieutenant with Company F of the 14th Michigan Infantry. He was promoted to captain of Company E on July 27, 1863 and to major on February 23, 1865. He was mustered out on July 18, 1865. He applied for an invalid's Civil War pension on February 20, 1879. Casper was born in Germany in 1829. In 1860 he was living in Albion, Calhoun County, where he was employed as superintendent of a railroad company. Casper and his wife Helen had at least one daughter, Eva Margaret, who was born about 1870 and died in Polkton Township on June 3, 1902. Helen died in 1878 when she was 34, and Casper passed away the following year. All three were buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Assumption, Illinois.

Henry Ernst [1834-1925]

Henry Ernst purchased 56 acres in Section 14 of Crockery Township in 1858. He built a small house on the site soon after his purchase, and by 1870 he had constructed a more substantial home. He was still farming the land in 1918. Henry was credited with platting the Village of Nunica in 1865. He was born in Germany on June 28, 1834 and came to the United States in 1837. His wife Sarah Jane was born in Ireland or Scotland on December 26, 1836 and arrived in the United States at the age of five. Their children were Eva, born in 1857; William H., who was born on April 26, 1862, died on May 24, 1943, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; Louis C., who was born in December 1863, died on September 23, 1875, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; and Lena, born in 1869. Henry passed away on December 29, 1925 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. Sarah Jane passed away on July 3, 1910 and also was buried at Nunica Cemetery.

Marvin G. Ernst [1928-1996]

Born October 6, 1928 in Ferry, Oceana County to Burl and Agnes Chrisman Ernst, Marvin was the brother of Melvin, Marjorie, and Elaine. He owned and operated Ernst Manufacturing, which later became ERMANCO. After selling that business he bought the Cabinet Shop, which he owned until 1979, when he retired and moved to Florida. In Florida he started Kitchen Interiors in Bradenton and owned that until 1984. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven and the Kirkwood Presbyterian Church in Florida. He served on the Committee for Economic Development of Grand Haven.

Marvin married Jane C. Bewalda on June 20, 1953 in Grand Haven. Their children included Susan, who married Michael Wright of Lakeland, Florida, and Eric of Tampa, whose wife's name was Lynn. Marvin died August 12, 1996 at his home in Bradenton and was buried at Pine Ridge Memorial Gardens in Florida. [Tribune obituary, August 14, 1996.]

Clarence W. "Doc" Eshleman [1901-1975]

In 1930 Clarence Eshleman started his pharmaceutical career by working for Leon Campbell at his drugstore in Spring Lake, which in June 1923 was moved from 208 to 200 West Savidge. Clarence replaced Claude Voss, who had been with Campbell four years, but was named postmaster in 1930. In 1948 Clarence purchased the business from Campbell. Sixteen years later his son, Jon, joined his father, and in 1970 Clarence sold his remaining interest in the drugstore to William Ruhl. Clarence, the son of Simon Eshleman, was born in Yale, St. Clair County on April 23, 1901 and died in Spring Lake on June 24, 1975. He married Ruth Vink in Spring Lake on September 18, 1936. In addition to Jon, the Eshlemans had a second son, Lee B., who lived in Grand Rapids. The Eshleman residence was 512 East Exchange. After her husband's death, Ruth was located at 514 East Exchange. She was born on June 14, 1916 and died in Spring Lake on September 26, 1996.

Charles Knight Esler [1859-1921]

Born in Clinton, Lenawee County on September 13, 1859, Charles Esler and Joseph Esler purchased the Grand Haven Evening Venture from Edward Northrup around 1887. Charles and Joseph sold their interests in the newspaper to Horrace Nichols in 1891 for $1,500. On November 10, 1879 Charles married de Ette [De Ella/De Ette] Patterson in Reed, Osceola County. She was born in Clinton on March 3, 1862. Their first child, Lee, was born in Cadillac, Wexford County on October 9, 1880. Two other children, Daniel, born on June 22, 1882, and Dora, born in 1883, were natives of Grand Haven, as was Jay, who was born on March 20, 1888; apparently, Jay also went by the name Charles. A son Dana died in Grand Haven about October 25 that year and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Another child, Harry K., was born in Lansing on September 6, 1892. Harry was followed by Arthur K., born on November 7, 1893, Bertha Knight, born on December 25, 1896, and Zera, born about 1901. Both Arthur and Bertha were born in Lansing. The Eslers came to Grand Haven from Clare, Clare County. They settled in Lansing after leaving Grand Haven, where Charles became a druggist. He died in Lansing on November 2, 1921 and was buried at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Lansing. De Ette passed away on September 13, 1926 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Harold J. Essebagggers [1907-1999]

In 1945 Harold Essebagggers bought Franklin Press at 517 Fulton. In 1960 he moved the business to the industrial park at 1619 Marion. From 1968 to 1977 Harold Falenbrack owned Franklin Press. In 1978 Harold Essebagggers' son Jim bought back the business. Harold Essebagggers and his wife, Catherine H., resided at 527 James Street in Spring Lake. Harold was born on July 11, 1907 and died in Spring Lake on May 17, 1999.

John B. Estelle [1839-1910]

John Estelle was born in Ohio on January 21, 1839. On October 14, 1861 he enlisted as private in Company G of the 2nd Ohio Cavalry and was discharged on June 20 the next year for disability. Then, on December 7, 1863, while in Hillsdale, Hillsdale County, he enlisted in Company E of the 5th Michigan Cavalry, again with the rank of private, and was discharged on July 5, 1865. John was listed twice as missing in action, first on March 1, 1864 near Richmond, Virginia, and then on June 11, 1864, at Trevillian Station, Virginia. After the war he settled on a farm in Olive Township, where he died on June 6, 1910. John was buried at Olive Cemetery with his mother, Rebecka A. Estelle, who lived from 1814 to 1896. His wife, Emily M., was born in October 1843 in New York. On July 5, 1910 she applied for a widow's Civil War pension. Harry, born about 1867, and Walter, born about 1882, both of Olive Township, were John's and Rebecca's sons.

Walter G. Estelle [1882-1970]

Walter Estelle, who was listed in the 1912 Atlas as a "Farmer and Stockraiser," owned land in Sections 10 and 11 of Olive Township. He was born in Indiana on November 18, 1882 and arrived in Olive Township in 1890 with his parents, John B. and Emily M. Estelle. On April 20, 1905 in Ottawa County, Walter married Flora [Laura] Hunt, who was born in Michigan about 1879. Their children, all born locally, were Paul, born about 1907, and Marcia, born about 1909. In 1910 Walter's brother, Harry, was residing with him, as was Harry's wife, Esther. Harry was born in Indiana about 1867. Esther was a native of Sweden, where she was born about 1882. Walter's and Harry's father, John B. Estelle, also was residing at Walter's house in 1910. By 1920 Walter and his family were residing in Calhoun County. He died in Knoxville, Tennessee in September 1970.

Charles M. Ettinger [1896-1980]

Born in Indiana on February 26, 1896, Charles Ettinger worked for Security First Savings Bank [Old Kent/Fifth Third] in Grand Haven. In 1923 he married Marie Adolphia, the daughter of Edward and Mary Vesta Doan Garnsey of Grand Haven. In 1930 the Ettingers resided in Saginaw, where Charles sold bonds. After Adolphia's mother died in 1967, she and Charles moved to the Garnsey summer home at 11837 Lakeshore Drive in Section 20, Grand Haven Township. Adolphia donated flower holders and other items to the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. Charles died in Grand Haven on December 27, 1980. Adolphia was born in Illinois on January 22, 1896 and died in Grand Haven on February 21, 1990.

Daniel Henry Evans [1838-1927]

Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven from 1866 to 1869, Rev. Daniel Evans delivered a eulogy at the funeral of Rev. William M. Ferry on Thursday, January 2, 1868. Daniel was born on April 16, 1838 in Ripley, Ohio. He graduated from Miami University [Ohio] in 1859 and began his theological studies at Western Theological Society in Allegheny, Pennsylvania, but finished his education at Andover, Massachusetts in 1862. He was ordained in 1863 and settled in Grand Haven as pastor in 1866. He held several more pastorates until moving to Miami, Florida, where he served several years on the Board of Trustees for Miami University. He died in West Palm Beach, Florida on April 3, 1927 and was buried at Allegheny Cemetery in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Daniel married Sarah Jane Livingston in January 1863. She was born on January 28, 1840 in Pittsburgh and passed away in Youngstown, Ohio on October 1, 1886. She also was buried at Allegheny Cemetery. Two of their eight children were born in Grand Haven: Sarah Jane in 1866 and Alice Robinson on April 24, 1868. Alice went on to become a physician and earned the distinction of serving in three wars: Spanish American, WW I, and WW II. She died in Florida in 1955.

Thomas Alfred Evans [1882-1949]

A native of Ridge, Maryland, where he was born on April 15, 1882, Thomas Evans was hired as an engineer for the U.S. Government and worked on the steamer Mead. He and his wife Deane resided at 207 South Seventh. The couple was located in Grand Haven as early as 1920, when they lived at 307 Clinton Street and Thomas was a steamboat engineer. Thomas, a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, passed away in Grand Rapids on August 4, 1949 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Deane, who was born in Michigan in June 1894, died about July 14, 1970, and was buried near her husband.

Charles Everest [1885-1967]

Charles Everest was the first Highland Park manager and served in that capacity from 1936 to 1953 during the summer months. He supervised the park and looked after rentals. In 1937 owners in Highland Park erected a small building across the street from the Bil-Mar Restaurant to serve as the Park manager's office. About the same time Charles owned Baldpate Inn at 20 Crescent Hill in Highland Park. He was born on August 25, 1885 and died in Grand Rapids in August 1967.

Moses Everett [1818-1902]

Moses Everett was school inspector for Grand Haven Union High School in 1862. He was included in the Grand Haven census of 1860, where he was listed as a grocer. Moses was born in Worthington, Massachusetts on June 14, 1818. His parents were Andrew and Betsey Everett. Moses had two wives: Eunice Birdsall, whom he married on August 15, 1839 in Newburgh, New York, and Hannah Birdsall, whom he married in November 1852, also in Newburgh, New York. Hannah was born in New York about 1828. Moses's children were Julia, born around 1845 in New York, Harriet, born about 1848, also in New York, Herbert, born around 1856 in Massachusetts; Irving, born about 1860 in Michigan; and Alma, born about 1863, also in Michigan. In 1860 Moses was a grocer in Grand Haven, where he resided with his family. By 1870 Moses and his family were living in Grand Rapids, where he was a store clerk. Ten years later he owned a farm in Plainfield, Kent County, and by 1900 he was back in Grand Rapids. Moses and Phineas Everett were brothers. Moses died in Grand Rapids on February 27, 1902.

Phineas Franklin Everett [1812-1894]

For six months in 1852 Franklin Everett and his wife were in charge of the school on First Street that the city had purchased from Timothy Eastman the previous year. The school opened in 1851 and was supervised that year by Mary A. White. Phineas Franklin Everett was born in Worthington, Massachusetts on January 26, 1812. His parents were Andrew and Betsey Everett. A graduate of Colby College in Maine in 1838, Franklin moved to Grand Rapids in 1846, where he became principal of the Grand River Academy, a post he held for the next 28 years, except for an occasional interval, such as his brief stay in Grand Haven. Franklin was the author of Memorials of the Grand River Valley. He married Thirza Cudworth on May 23, 1839. She was born September 21, 1816 in Chesterfield, Massachusetts, and preceded Franklin in death by seven years, dying on July 3, 1887. Her parents were Joe Clapp and Chloe Curtis Cudworth. The Everetts had three children: Cadette, who was born in Vermont on February 17, 1840 and died on January 12, 1927; Delle E., who was born on January 12, 1853 and died on March 4, 1881; and Linden W., who lived from June 12, 1860 to March 10, 1861 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery, as was Delle. Franklin died blind and in poor health, on February 1, 1894 in Grand Rapids. Franklin and Thirza were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids Township. Phineas and Moses Everett were brothers.

Edward William Ewald [1886-1938]

Edward Ewald of Muskegon in late December 1926 purchased Van I. Witt's Drug Store at 216 Washington. Edward sold the business to Amo and Arthur Wheeler in 1946. On May 23, 1923 he married Maude Swanson, who was born in Michigan about 1895. The couple resided at 515 Woodlawn. Edward was born near Ludington on December 24, 1886 [1882]. He was the son of Gottlieb and Minnie Smith Ewald of Grand Haven and later of Ludington. Edward died in Grand Haven on November 18, 1938 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

Wilhelmina "Minnie" Elsie C. A. Smith Ewald [1848-1925]

When the forerunner of Rosy Mound School opened in 1861 at the corner of Ferris Street and Lakeshore Drive in Section 9 of Grand Haven Township, Minnie Smith was the first teacher. She would have been only slightly older than her students. Minnie was paid $56 her first year. She married Gottlieb Heinrich F. Ewald in Grand Haven on December 1, 1868 and subsequently moved to Ludington. He served with Company D of the 29th Michigan Infantry from August 17, 1864 to September 6, 1865. He applied for a soldier's pension on May 4, 1889 and again on August 8, 1894. Minnie died on April 7, 1925. Gottlieb was born in 1845 and passed away on November 25, 1903. Both were buried at Lakeview Cemetery in Mason County. Arnold and Edward Smith of Grand Haven were Minnie's brothers.

Adlai [Adley] Thomas Ewing [1846-1920]

Hailing from Chicago, Adlai T. Ewing, an attorney, purchased property in Sections 2 and 3 of Spring Lake Township, areas later known as Belle Point and Windy Point. Around 1894 he built a summer home that he called Chestnut Hill, located at or near 18600 West Spring Lake Road, later the site of St. Lazare Retreat, in the Belle Point neighborhood on the northwest corner of Spring Lake, between Cornelius and Stahl Bayous. Approximately 10 years later Adlai sold that property and built another summer place he named Glenewing. The poet Edgar Lee Masters was among the guests who visited the cottage. On September 4, 1896, Adlai's cousin, Adlai Ewing Stevenson [1835-1914], Adlai Stevenson's wife, Letitia Green, and their daughter arrived for a visit. Adlai Stevenson, an attorney, was then vice president of the United States. The group boarded the Fanny M. Rose, under the command of Rushton Cobb, and was taken for a boat trip on Spring Lake, down the Grand, and into Lake Michigan.

Adlai was an early director on the board of the Spring Lake Country Club. On December 4, 1879 he married Kate [Hattie] Hyde, who was born on January 11, 1851 in Buffalo, New York and died about May 12, 1899. They had at least three daughters, all born in Illinois: Annette, born on November 3, 1882, Marjorie, born around 1883 and Lucy, born around 1885. Annette and Lucy were residing with their widowed father in Chicago in 1910, and Lucy was still with him in 1920. Annette married Jervis R. Harbeck, who owned a summer home near Belle Point. Adlai, who was born in Bloomington, Illinois on February 5, 1846, passed away in Chicago on November 2, 1920. [Tribune obituary, May 12, 1899.]

Albert O. Ewing [1843-1936]

Albert Ewing, who was born in Wisconsin on August 13, 1843, served as private in Company A of the 10th Wisconsin Infantry from September 13, 1861 to November 3, 1864. He and his wife were settled in the Grand Haven area by the time of the 1870 Federal Census. He planted peach trees and had a vineyard in Peach Plains on his 82-acre farm in Sections 27 and 34 of northern Grand Haven Township. He married Anna [Annabel] Stoner, who was born in Washington, Pennsylvania about 1846 [1844]. One son, Frank, was born in Grand Haven on August 18, 1870, and another son, Frederick, was born on April 26, 1874. Both were born locally. Anna on September 24, 1889 in Grand Haven married Wilson Gebhart [1846-1924]. She sold her Grand Haven property to Walter R. Phillips and moved with Wilson to Hart, Oceana County. Anna died in Hart in 1896. Albert was residing in Topeka, Kansas when he died on July 12, 1936. He was buried at Mount Hope Cemetery in that city.

Burke McKendree Ewing I [1894-1974]

Over his lifetime, Burke Ewing spent summers in the Grand Haven area and made his home in the area from time to time. The son of Alvin E. and Carlotta Walkley Bailey Ewing, Burke was born in Grand Rapids on July 30, 1894. After serving as Radioman with the Navy during WWI, he married Marjorie Elizabeth Kelley on June 14, 1919 in Windham, Connecticut. Marjorie was born on March 19, 1897 in New Haven, Connecticut to Halsey W. and Myra Johnson Kelley. Burke worked for Leonard Refrigerator in Spring Lake around 1920, and subsequently was employed as a draftsman and architectural engineer at the Sheldon Corporation in Muskegon and Brunswick Corporation in Muskegon, Chicago, and Marion, Virginia. He retired from Brunswick in 1959. In 1946 Marjorie and Burke purchased a farmhouse on 64 acres at 17217 Lincoln Street. The acreage abutted Burke's mother's property that extended west to the lakeshore. Burke and Marjorie sold the house and land over a period of years. In the year of his retirement, Burke constructed a one-bedroom summer home at the southeast corner [17007 Lincoln] of their original purchase. In the 1960s he and his brother, Walkley, and sister, Doris, subdivided a part of the Ewing land along Lakeshore Drive and Lincoln Street, and a new street running east from Lakeshore called Burkshire. The developers named the subdivision Ewingwood, and it became the site of several dozen residences.

After Marjorie's death in Florida on February 1, 1964, Burke married Beatrice Bowman, a long-time family friend, in Leland, Leelenau County on October 7 the same year. Bea was born in Chapin, Saginaw County on December 25, 1901 and died in Grand Haven on January 8, 1992. Burke passed away in Grand Haven on June 22, 1974. Marjorie, Bea, and Burke were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Burke and Marjorie had four children: Ann Elizabeth Ewing, who was born in Grand Rapids on March 11, 1921 and died on July 24, 2010 in Washington D.C.; Nancy Hank Ewing, who was born in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma on July 9, 1922 and died in Del Mar, California on November 10, 1987; Burke McKendree Ewing II, who was born in Chicago, Illinois, on May 29, 1925 and passed away in Los Angeles, California on June 3, 2017; and Wallace Kelley Ewing, born in Grand Rapids on September 11, 1932. Ann, Nancy, and Burke II attended Rosy Mound School during the 1931-1932 school year. Wallace attended schools in Grand Haven and Ferrysburg, and in 1983 moved into his parents' home at 17007 Lincoln with his wife, Nancy. After Nancy's death on June 8, 2005, Wallace on August 26 the next year married Betty Jane Pickel Livingston, formerly of Norton Shores. Jane was a graduate of Muskegon High School, Western Michigan University, and Wright State University, where she received a master degree in art therapy. Wally and Jane in 2013 moved from Lincoln Street to 29 Sherman Avenue in Grand Haven, site of the Sandpiper Condominiums.

Carlotta Parthenia Walkley Bailey Ewing [1870-1971] and Alvin Enoch "AE" Ewing [1864-1945]

Carlotta was born on November 11, 1870 in Muskegon County, the daughter of Wyllys S. Walkley. He graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1879 and became assistant marine surgeon and physician with offices in Spring Lake and Grand Haven from 1879 to his death in Grand Haven in 1917. Carlotta was born on November 11, 1870 in Bailey, Muskegon County. She was the daughter of Wyllys S. Walkley, who was a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1879, and later a physician with offices in Spring Lake and Grand Haven from 1879 to his death in Grand Haven in 1917. Carlotta, whose mother died when she was two years old, was raised by Freeborn F. Bailey of East Paris, near Grand Rapids. She attended Hillsdale Academy, and in 1886 she was the first woman to receive the Dickerson Medal for gymnastics ability. Carlotta graduated valedictorian from Hillsdale College in 1892. After marriage, she earned some fame as an elocutionist and reader of dramatic and humorous literature, including such novels as Les Miserables and Tillie, The Mennonite Maid. Carlotta earned a master degree from the University of Michigan in 1916 and subsequently worked for Child and Family Services, traveling the state to visit children in their foster or adopted homes.

On April 5, 1893 in Grand Rapids, she married Alvin Enoch "AE" Ewing. He was born in Jackson, Ohio on November 10, 1864, studied at Hillsdale College, and was elected to the Michigan House of Representatives for the 1892 to 1893 term. AE later received his law degree from the University of Michigan and practiced his profession in Grand Rapids. The Ewings had three children, all born in Grand Rapids: Burke McKendree I, who was born on July 30, 1894; Doris, who was born on April 28, 1898, served with the Red Cross in India during WWII, retired in 1963 as recreation director at Biggs Air Force Base in Texas, and passed away in Grand Haven on March 8, 1998; and Walkley Bailey, who was born on June 14, 1901, married Harriet Elizabeth Edwards in Grand Haven on July 31, 1920, and died on September 4, 1993. Walkley was founder and president of the Sunscreen Company in Fajardo, Puerto Rico, where he manufactured "Sunscreen," a specially designed screening he invented that blocked the sun's heat but let in light. It was used extensively on commercial buildings before central air became common.

In 1910 Carlotta and AE bought 60 acres of lakefront just south of Rosy Mound, where they built a cottage. Ten years later they sold a portion of the Rosy Mound property and bought 199 acres about two miles south of that spot, an area they called the "Wilderness." The natural wooded beauty of the dunes and the expansive beach made the Wilderness attractive to others, and it became a second home to many Grand Rapids residents. Alvin retired in 1940 and died on January 18, 1945 in Grand Haven. A few years later Carlotta moved to El Paso, Texas with her daughter until Doris retired in 1963. They then returned to Grand Haven, eventually buying a house at 1408 Sheldon Road. Carlotta died March 18, 1971, a few months after her 100th birthday, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Doris passed away on March 6, 1998, a few weeks short of her 100th birthday. [Tribune article, “Celebrates 100th,” November 9, 1970, and Tribune obituary, March 18, 1971.]

Edgar Gill Ewing [1879-1949]

In the early 1930s Edgar Ewing was inspector of boilers with the U. S. Steamboat Inspection Service in Grand Haven. Edgar was born in Springfield, Tennessee on October 7, 1879 [November 7, 1881]. On July 18, 1918 in El Paso County, Texas, he married Florence Chambers. She was born in Saginaw in 1880. In Grand Haven the couple resided at 518 Washington and 205 South Fifth Streets. Between 1930 and 1940 the couple moved to Marquette and then to New Orleans. In New Orleans, Edgar worked with the Coast Guard as marine inspector. He died in New Orleans on November 28, 1949. Florence had passed away in March 1944.

Frederick Ewing [c.1859- ?]

In the 1920s Frederick Ewing owned a shoe shop in Spring Lake. He was born about 1859 in The Netherlands. His wife Anna was born approximately two years later.

Frederick Orman Ewing [1874-1935]

Fred Ewing was born on April 26, 1874 and died on October 2, 1935. He married Cora Mae Reed in Saginaw on July 31, 1897. In 1918 Fred and Cora were living in Saginaw, where he was employed as a millwright. Fred was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the same plot as William H. Ewing, who lived from 1886 to about April 30, 1931, and may have been Fred’s brother. Fred’s parents were Albert and Anna Stoner Ewing of Grand Haven. Fred and Cora had a son, Harry Melvin Ewing, who was born in Saginaw on May 2, 1900, died in Lewiston, Montmorency County on February 12, 1963, and was buried at Albert Township Cemetery. Harry was a corporal in the U.S. Army during WWI.

Harry S. Ewing [1883-1964]

Harry Ewing’s mobile popcorn stand was a feature for many years in downtown Grand Haven. For another source of income, in the 1920s he worked at the Piano Factory. In 1930 he was listed as proprietor of a lunch counter, probably a reference to his popcorn stand. Harry was born on December 15, 1883. He married Carrie Graves in Chicago on March 28, 1907. Carrie was born in June 1886. Both were natives of Michigan. Carrie was the daughter of George M. and Amelia Graves, who lived in Muskegon in 1900. Harry, the nephew of Frances Sanford, wife of George D. Sanford of Grand Haven, was residing with the Sanford family at 620 Washington in 1900, and he was still living there in 1920 with his wife and son, Douglas. Douglas was born in Illinois in 1909 and died in 1976. Harry, Carrie, and Carrie’s parents were residing at 424 Slayton in 1930, but a few years later the two Ewings were in a home near Potawatomie Bayou. By 1940 the couple was residing in Adrian, Lenawee County. Carrie passed away in Painesville, Ohio on April 23, 1955. Harry died nine years later in Florida.

Elihu Burritt Fairfield [1848-1896]

In 1870 Elihu Fairfield was a student at Michigan Agricultural College [MSU]. By 1880 he was superintendent of schools in Howell, Livingston County, and a few years later he became superintendent of Grand Haven Public Schools. Elihu was born in New Hampshire in 1848. On January 1, 1872 in Lansing, he married Mary L. Jones. Mary was born about 1851 in Michigan. They had son Herbert, who was born about 1876 and died in 1965, and another son, Arthur Malcom Fairfield, who was born in Grand Haven on April 4, 1882. Elihu died in 1896 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. By 1901 Mary was living in Los Angeles, California. Nine year later she was residing in Cook County, Illinois with her son Herbert.

Andrew Falls [1861-1913]

Born in Ireland in November 1861, Andrew Falls immigrated with his parents to Canada and then on to the United States. Samuel Falls was his brother. After working out west for a time, Andrew arrived in Spring Lake in 1878. In 1880 he was an employee at one of the local sawmills. Andrew had two Spring Lake grocery stores at different times and delivered groceries to his customers by boat and by wagon. The first store was situated on the southwest corner of Jackson and Savidge Streets, where Eshleman's Drug Store later stood [200 West Savidge], which he sold to Fred J. Bertschy. In association with Charles Wilde, Andrew also operated a livery stable on the northwest corner of Division and Savidge Streets, which he sold to Henry Sprick in 1915. Andrew ran an advertisement in 1912, which read, "Flour, Feed, Hay and Grain. Crockery and Glassware. Coal and Wood." He also offered, "Livery, Team Work, Draying and Moving. Agent for Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railway." His brother Samuel worked with him until opening his own business in 1898.

On January 10, 1885 Andrew married Mary Clark, who was born in Ireland in February 1861 and died December 17, 1903. Their children, all born locally, included Margaret, who was born about September 1887 and married Stewart T., the son of Bert and Anna Hauley Stone of Spring Lake; Frances, born in August 1888; William A., who was born in November 1891 and lived in Detroit with his wife, Ethel; Hazel, born in December 1894; Clark, born in November 1898; and Bernice, born in April 1899. After Mary's death, Andrew married her sister, Julia Clark, on February 28, 1911, who was born in Michigan in November 1871. Andrew died at his home in Spring Lake on October 20, 1913. He and his first wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, December 18, 1903 and October 23, 1913.]

Samuel Falls [1872-1943]

Born in Canada in March 1872 [1869], Samuel Falls came to Spring Lake in 1883. His first job was with the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company, and then he became an employee of Sisson & Lilley at their mill in White Cloud. Two years later he returned to Spring Lake and worked with his brother Andrew in the livery and grocery businesses. In 1898 he started a dry goods and shoe store in partnership with Barbara Brongersma of Spring Lake, and three years later he bought out her share. Samuel ran the business himself until his retirement in 1931. His store was first located at 206 West Savidge. He then erected a new structure [Falls Block] near the southeast corner of Savidge and Jackson [120 West Savidge]. The post office was moved to the site just east of the new store. Samuel was postmaster of Spring Lake from 1901 to 1911, and he was in the real estate business, as well. Samuel developed Long View Resort with Chauncey Blakeslee and William M. Connelly. On October 23, 1901 he married Ada Henderson in Ontario, Canada. Ada was born in Armada, Macomb County in 1877, died on August 18, 1945, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Samuel died in 1943 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had no children.

Benjamin Fanner [1825-1899]

Sometime prior to 1866 Benjamin Fanner was auctioned off to the lowest bidder at a public meeting. Homeless and estranged from his family, Ben was unable to support himself. His mind was never clear, but Ben was nonetheless capable and trusted to do countless small jobs. To provide for his room and board, the city auctioned Ben to the lowest bidder willing to meet his basic physical needs. The city would pay the bidder for Ben's care, and Ben worked for his keep. That changed when on January 22, 1867 Ben Fanner was one of the first Blacks to be admitted to the newly established Ottawa County Poor farm with the ledger notation "foolish and here for life." Born in 1825 in Michigan, Ben died on the farm in 1899 and was buried at the cemetery there. During the restoration of the cemetery in 2010, his burial site was given a plaque bearing his name. [Written by Marjorie Viveen.]

Burt [Bert] Fant [1887-1940]

In the early 1900s Burt Fant was a machine operator at Kilbourn's kit factory, but by the mid-1920s he operated a barbershop at 200 Washington. He married Ella Louise Bretschnieder in Grand Haven on July 16, 1909. They resided at 110 Williams Street in Grand Haven. The Fants had a daughter, June born locally about 1915. The son of John T. and Cornelia Lievense Fant, Burt was born on October 18, 1887 and died on December 27, 1939. Ella was born on March 11, 1887 and died on September 6, 1958. Burt and Ella were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William Fant was his brother.

Howard Wesley Fant [1911-1993]

Born in Grand Haven on May 24, 1911 to William and Theresa Norcross Fant, Howard attended Western Michigan and the University of Michigan, where he earned his law degree in 1934. He returned to Grand Haven to work for Attorney Leo C. Lillie and in 1941 began his own general practice. He formed a partnership, called Scholten and Fant, with Harvey L. Scholten on August 1, 1957. Howard retired in 1974, following a triple heart bypass operation the year before. He served as Grand Haven city attorney from 1937 to 1940 and again from 1954 to 1972. Howard acted as legal counsel to several area townships. He served on the County Board of supervisors from 1937 to 1940 and again from 1954 to 1968. From 1941 to 1948 he was County Prosecutor, except during his service in the U.S. Navy from 1943 to 1945, where he rose to lieutenant senior grade. His law office was at 228½ Washington. He was active in the State Bar of Michigan, American Bar Association, First Presbyterian Church, Rotary Club, Spring Lake Country Club, Kiwanis Club, and Chamber of Commerce, and he had been a partner in the Tom Johnston Gravel Company.

On October 10, 1937 Howard married Jean Aileen Johnston. Jean, the daughter of Thomas J. and Grace R. Henning Johnston, lived from March 3, 1911 to September 1, 1996. The Fants' home was at 100 Sherman in Grand Haven. Their children included Mary E., who married Mike Sebastian of Grand Rapids; Martha A., who married Larry Schneider of Rockford; and Nick of Grand Haven, whose wife's name was Cindy. Howard died in Grand Haven on July 19, 1993 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 19, 1993.]

John T. Fant [1853-1915]

In the 1893 Compendium John Fant was listed as a "hostler," someone who tends to guests' horses at inns and hotels. John was born in England and lived from April 1853 [1855] to 1915. His wife, Cornelia, born in Holland, Michigan, was the daughter of William and Gertrude Brewer Lievense. She lived from June 1856 [1858] to 1927. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William, who was born in September 1882 [1883], and Burt [Burtus], born in October 1887 [1888], were their sons. Both sons were born locally. The Fants also had two daughters: Gertrude, who first married Egbert Westerhof of Grand Haven and then, after his death, married Joseph Correll, also of Grand Haven. The second daughter, Lida, was born on June 18, 1880 and married Hans Dykhuis of Grand Haven. The Fant family resided at 812 Elliott Street.

William Fant [1882-1955]

Born in Grand Haven, September 7, 1882, William was the son of John T. and Cornelia Lievense Fant. Burt Fant was William's brother. The 1908 City Directory listed William Fant and Stuart [Stewart/Steward] Stone as proprietors of the Ideal Poolroom at 102 Washington. In 1909 William took over the Grand Haven Monument Works, located on the northeast corner of Third and Fulton Streets in Grand Haven, and renamed it William Fant Monument Works. He built several of the mausoleums in Lake Forest Cemetery, using Rock of Ages granite from Vermont. He was chairman of the Cemetery Board and member of the Spring Lake Country Club, Grand Haven Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, Eagles, Odd Fellows, Chamber of Commerce, and Citizens Historical Association.

On February 5, 1908 William married Theresa Etheline Norcross, who was born in Grand Haven on October 12, 1886. She was the daughter of Silas and Ida Dunbar Norcross of Grand Haven. Theresa died on May 22, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Fants, who lived first at 520 Pennoyer and later at 634 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven, had two sons, Howard Wesley, born on May 24, 1911, and William John, born on March 31, 1915. William worked in the research department of the Bendix Corp. in South Bend, Indiana. He died on June 22, 1955 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Citizens Historical Association, October 11, 1941, and Tribune obituary, September 3, 1996.]

James E. Farley [Fazekas] [1913-1993] and Doretta Yvonne Farley [1924-2011]

Following WWII, James Farley purchased from Harold Warm several cabins of the Cabana Colony Club complex, moved them from the North Shore to Fruitport Road on the east shore of Spring Lake and started business under the name Spring Lake Cabanas [17500 Fruitport Road]. Jim was born on June 13, 1913. James, also known as James Fazekas, married Doretta Yvonne Young on June 30, 1956. His father, Joseph Fazekas, was born in Hungary on March 21, 1879, died on October 11, 1973, and was buried at St. Patrick's Cemetery in Danville, Illinois. James's mother, Thresa Steger Fazekas, passed away in 1959. Jim died on August 17, 1993 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Yvonne, who was born in Catonsville, Maryland, lived from September 9, 1924 to June 18, 2011 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 12, 1973.]

John Truman Farnham [1855-1930]

On December 19 [18], 1883 John Farnham married Catherine A. Furlong at St. Patrick's Church in Grand Haven. She was born in Grand Haven on November 21, 1861, the daughter of John Furlong. John started sailing out of Grand Haven in 1870, and over the years was engineer on such vessels as St. Mary, Shepard, Jerome, Claude, Minnie Sutton, Centennial, and Pentland, all out of Grand Haven. In 1880 John was classified as a steamboat engineer. In 1895 he moved to Chicago to work as chief engineer with Armour Elevator, but he and Catherine continued to visit Grand Haven in the summers. Their daughter Rose, born in Grand Haven on October 25, 1891, married John Epp on September 122, 1917. Other children, all born in Grand Haven, were Mary Delia, born on April 2, 1885; John, born in 1889; and W. Vincent, born in 1893. John, who was born in Fulton, Oswego County, New York in 1855, was the son of Byron and Bodelia Hunt Farnham, who later moved to Grand Haven. John died November 9, 1930, and Catherine died ten years later, on November 30, 1940. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with John's parents.

L. Byron Farnham [1834-1919]

About 1869 Byron Farnham moved to Grand Haven with his wife, Bodelia "Delia" Hunt Farnham, and their son, John T., who was born on December 19 [18], 1855, in Fulton, Oswego County, New York. A daughter, Mattie [Matie], was born in Grand Haven about 1874 and married William D. Bakker of that city. Byron worked on a dredge in Grand Haven, and eventually owned his own tug. He was born in New York in 1834, and Delia was born in Ireland in 1838 and passed away in Grand Haven on February 7, 1884. On July 3, 1886 in Grand Haven, Byron married Anna "Annie" Van Dot, who was born in The Netherlands about 1861. In 1900 Byron, Anna, and a son, Ralph Louis, resided at 442 Slayton. Ralph was born on December 22, 1887. Byron died on January 15, 1919. Both he and Delia were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Ralph Louis Farnham [1887-1945]

Ralph, the son of L. Byron and Delia Farnham, was born in Grand Haven on December 22, 1887. He married Susan Balgooyen, who was born in Michigan on May 29, 1886. She died on December 2, 1956 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Ralph and Sue had a daughter, Lois A., who was born on May 19, 1915 and married George Seymour Verduin. The family resided at 442 Slayton, which was Ralph's family home. Ralph was sales manager at Fountain Specialty. Ralph died in Grand Haven on June 25, 1945.

George Alexander Farr I [1842-1914]

Born on July 27, 1842 in Tonawanda, New York, George Farr moved to Monroe, Monroe County with his parents in 1851. On May 1, 1861, in Lenawee County, he enlisted as private in Company K of the 1st Michigan Infantry. He was mustered out the following August 7. George graduated from Michigan Agricultural College [Michigan State University] in 1870, and in 1873 was admitted to the bar and joined the office of Healy C. Akeley. In 1876 he opened his own law office in Grand Haven. He was city attorney; member of the Board of Education; trustee of the Northern Michigan Insane Asylum; state senator from 1879 to 1882; vice president of the National Bank of Grand Haven; regent of the University of Michigan; collector of customs for the Port of Grand Haven for nine years; and agent for the American Surety Company.

He was Republican in politics and in 1880 he represented his party at the Republican National Convention. George also belonged to the Blue Lodge, F. & A. M., and Knights Templar.

On September 24, 1879 George married Susan Cornelia Slayton, who was principal at Grand Haven High School in the 1870s. Susan, the daughter of Thomas Orlando and Susan Harris Slayton, was born on August 3, 1853 in Stowe, Vermont. The Farris lived at 420 Howard in Grand Haven. Their children were Frances I, who was born on October 9, 1880 and in Grand Haven on June 2, 1903 married Daniel F. Zimmerman of Grand Rapids; George Alexander II, who was born on July 9, 1882 and shared law offices at 228 Washington with his father; Natalie Sarah, who was born August 8, 1887 and married H. B. Cornell of Freda, Houghton County. Millison Cutler, who was born May 12, 1889 and married Leroy W. Ranney of Greenville, Montcalm County; Leslie Susan [Susan Leslie], who was born on September 10, 1891 and died on May 15, 1947; and Caroline "Carrie" Eleanor, who was born February 6, 1893. George I died at his home on August 4, 1914 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Susan, the mother, died on January 13, 1928 in San Diego and was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, August 5, 1914.]

George Alexander Farr II [1882–1929]

Born on July 9, 1882, George Farr graduated from the University of Michigan Law School and was in practice with his father, George A. Farr I, who was one of the earliest and best-known attorneys in continuous practice in Ottawa County. Susan Cornelia Slayton Farr was young George's mother. George II was secretary/treasurer of Western Piano Supply Company, which was owned by John Corl and operated in Grand Haven between 1903 and 1910. George II died December 13, 1929 in San Diego, California and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, "Friends Want George A. Farr, Jr.," September 20, 1902, and Tribune obituary, December 19, 1929.]

William Farr [1834-1922]

Born in Birmingham, Warwickshire, England on July 1, 1834, William Farr came to Oswego County, New York in 1855 and later went on to Canada. In 1880 he was a resident of Ionia County. He arrived in Peach Plains in 1882 and took up farming. In 1892 he moved to Fruitport. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and a director of the District School. On December 25, 1859 he married Frances Marie Long, who was born in 1839 in Canada. The Farris had nine children, including a son who was killed by lightning; Addie C., who was born in Canada about 1863, married John Shire of Robinson Township, and was widowed by 1930; Walter Bruce, who was born on February 18, 1878 and died on July 6, 1953; and Herbert, born about 1893. Herbert and Walter lived in Fruitport. William died at his home on March 7, 1922, and Frances passed away in 1924. Both were buried at Fruitport Cemetery [Tribune obituary, March 9, 1922.]

Hendrick Fase [1851-1925]

Born May 26, 1851 in Zeeland, The Netherlands, Hendrick Fase married Lena Cornelia Van Portvliet. She lived from 1850 to 1900. They were married in 187and immigrated to American in 1881. Their children were Peter Jacob, who was born on February 10, 1877 in The Netherlands; Dena, who was born on February 22, 1884 and married Peter Van Zylén of Grand Haven; Kate, who was born in September 1883; Hendrika "Henrietta," who was born in December 1886 and married Edward Kieft of Grand Haven; Isaac, who was born in January 1888; Adriana J., who was born in 1892 and on April 27, 1917 married Joe Swartz in Grand Haven; and Jennie, who was born in 1893. All the children except Peter Jacob were born locally. Hendrick was a commercial fisherman.

Herbert A. "Corky" Fase [1901-1952]

The son of Peter Jacob and Dora Abbinga Fase, Herbert was born in Grand Haven on July 30, 1901. On August 14, 1928, he married Emma A. Clark, who lived from 1911 to 1964. Like his father, Herbert was a commercial fisherman until he went to work for a local engineering firm as a fireman. Before his marriage, Herbert resided with his mother in the house his Peter had built at 26 Howard Street. By 1930 Herbert and Emma and their children were living at 21 Lafayette Street. A daughter, Diana, was born on March 5, 1929 and married Earl La Fave of Grand Haven. Her brother, Peter Jacob Fase, was born on September 25, 1933, died on April 10, 2017, and was buried at Fort Logan National Cemetery in Denver. He served in the U.S. Air Force from 1950 to 1954. Corky and Emma were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other members of the family.

Henry [Hinz, Hendrik] Fase [1829-1910]

Henry Fase was an early commercial fisherman in the Grand Haven area. He was born in The Netherlands on March 7, 1829 and came to America in 1867. He married Jacoba [Cora] Pages, who was born January 28, 1834 in The Netherlands. In 1882 John Ver Hoeks married the Fases's daughter Janna "Jennie," who was born in The Netherlands in January 1864. The next year Henry helped finance John's general store at 222 North Seventh Street. Henry was a working partner in the store. The Fases's had another child, Jacob, who was born on August 11, 1875; Jacoba died on December 15, 1904. Henry died on March 12, 1910 and was buried with his wife and other family members at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henry J. Fase [1899-1941]

Henry Fase, like his father Peter, became a commercial fisherman operating out of Grand Haven. He was born in Grand Haven on July 15, 1899. His mother, Dora, was the daughter of Henry and Henrietta Abbinga. Henry started working with his father when he was eight. When the United States entered World War I, Fase quit school to enlist in the army, but was sent to the Mexico border with the U.S. Cavalry rather than to Europe. After returning to the fishing business following the war, Henry took command of the tug Sport. He married Adeline, who was born in Chicago on March 20, 1904, the daughter of Richard and Kate De Vries Bonga. Their children included Dorothy C., born around March 1926; Catherine H., born about February 1928; and Richard P., who was born on May 27, 1932. Henry died in Grand Haven on December 22, 1941. The family resided at 414 Leggat Street. Adeline married Frank Fisher of Grand Haven on August 26, 1944. Adeline passed away in Grand Haven on March 24, 1975.

Jacob Peter Fase [1906-1949]

Jacob, the son of Peter and Dora Abbinga Fase, was born on January 9, 1906. He married Bertha Marie Boseker, daughter of August and Henrietta Podein Boseker, well known around Highland Park. Jacob died in Grand Haven on January 11, 1949. Bertha was born on April 9, 1905 in Grand Haven. She earned a bachelor degree in education from Western Michigan University in 1953 and taught fifth grade at Central School for 26 years. She also had taught at Saugatuck for two years and at the Lansing State School for three years. Bertha belonged to St. Paul's United Church of Christ, where she became the first woman to serve as an elder and deacon. She also was the first person to participate in the Tri-City Ministries. She was president of Grand Haven Woman's Club, and she served on the Central Elementary School PTA. She was a lifetime member of Grand Haven Elks, and she also belonged to American Legion Post 26 in Grand Haven. The Fases' children were Donna Mae Fase and Jacob P. Fase. Donna was born on April 13, 1935 and married Hubert Donald Burnside. Berth died in 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 17, 2004.]

Jacob Peter Fase [1875-1940]

Jacob, the son of Henry Fase of Grand Haven, was born on August 11, 1875. His sisters were Dena, who was born February 22, 1884 and married Peter Van Zylén, and Henrietta, who was born about 1886 and married Edward Kieft of Grand Haven. For most of his life, Jacob worked for steel companies in the Chicago area. Jacob married a Ms Wright in Indiana on April 29, 1900. He died in 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter Jacob Fase [1877-1926]

Born in The Netherlands on February 10, 1877, Peter was the son of Hendrick P. and Cornelia Lena Van Portvleit Fase. Both parents were native to The Netherlands. Hendrick lived from 1851 to 1925 and Cornelia from 1850 to 1900. Peter immigrated to the United States in 1867 and settled in Grand Haven, where he was a commercial fisherman and operated the fishing tug H. J. Dornbos. Peter also worked with Abel Abbinga, and together they owned and operated the tugs Alice, Dutch, Neptune, and Sport.

On December 21, 1898 in Grand Haven, Peter married Dora, the daughter of Henry and Henrietta Abbinga of Grand Haven and sister of Abel Abbinga. Dora was born in The Netherlands on July 11, 1880, came to the United States in 1880, and died in Grand Haven on July 2, 1960. Peter and Dora had three sons: Henry, who was born on July 15, 1899; Herbert, who was born on July 30, 1901; and Jacob, who lived from 1906 to 1949. Peter served with Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry during the Spanish-American War of 1898.

Peter built a home at 26 Howard Street, where he and Dora lived until his death on September 10, 1926. Dora continued to reside in the home until her death in 1960. She was buried with Peter at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Richard P. Fase [1932-1999]

Richard, the son of Henry J. and Adeline Bonga Fase, was born on May 27, 1932 in Grand Haven. On March 22, 1958, he married Lila May the twin daughter of George and Mabelle Stewart Johnson of Grand Haven. Lila died on December 9, 1977 at the age of 38. Richard and Lila had four children: Lorraine May who married a McMillan; Henry George, who remained in Grand Haven; Brian Richard, who moved to Holland; and Catherine Lynn. On January 27, 1979 Richard married Nancy Spray, who was born about 1936. They had a daughter, Cynthia, who married Leon Oostendorp of Grand Rapids. Richard served with the Air Force during the Korean War and at one time was commander of the local American Legion post. He worked for 15 years as a field agent for the Internal Revenue Service before opening his own accounting and tax service in Grand Haven. He ran the office from his home at 15952 152nd Avenue in Grand Haven Township. Richard died in Grand Haven on November 15, 1999 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Lila.

Ada Walker Fast [1885-1960]

As early as 1910 and into the 1920s Ada and her husband, Emra [Emery] Velear Fast, lived in Robinson Township. Emra, a farmer, was born in Ohio on June 18, 1880. He married Ada Walker in Richland, Ohio on August 14, 1902. She was born in the same state as Emra on November 12, 1885. By the late 1920s the couple was divorced. As a single woman, Ada owned and operated Haven Restaurant at 10 Washington and rented rooms at 8½ Washington. Emra remained on the Robinson Township farm. He and Ada had at least three children: Lester E. Fast, who was born on December 6, 1902 in Ohio, died on Mrch 28, 1978, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Floyd Orlo Fast, who was born July 27, 1904 in Ohio, died on August 21, 1951, and also was buried at Lake Forest; and Laura I. Fast, who was born locally around 1906, and married John Burns in Grand Haven on May 12, 1924. On March 26, 1941 in Grand Haven, Ada married Henry Osby, who lived from 1880 to 1956. Emra died on September 16, 1946 in Grand Haven, and Ada passed away on November 12, 1960. She and Henry were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Emra was buried at Ontario Community Cemetery in Richland County, Ohio.

Lester E. Fast [1902-1978] and Wylda Morritt Fast [1898-1997]

Lester Fast and his wife, Wylda Mae, resided at 25 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. The son of Emra and Ada Walker Fast, Lester was born in Ohio on December 26, 1902 and died on March 28, 1978. In the late 1920s and early 1930s he was listed as a waiter at the Haven Restaurant at 10 Washington. Wylda was a clerk at the A&P Grocery Sore in Grand Haven. On October 6, 1941 he married Wylda McLelland. She previously had married John Morritt [Morrett] in Canada on November 4, 1914. On September 30, 1924 the couple immigrated to the United States to take up residence in Spring Lake, where John was a teacher. They were divorced in Ottawa County on January 23, 1939. Lester rented furnished rooms at the property across the street, 29 Franklin, another house he owned. Wylda was born in Ontario, Canada on February 19, 1898 and passed away in Grand Haven on February 25, 1997. After her death, the house at 25 Franklin was razed to add space to the municipal parking lot in that block. Both Lester and Wylda were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Wylda had a sister, Frances McLelland, who was buried at Lake Forest in the same plot. She lived from 1879 to March 2, 1961.

James E. Fazekas [1913-1993]

See James E. Farley [Fazekas] and D. Yvonne Farley

Louis Feidler [Fiddler] [1858-1893]

The son of John and Margaret Erhardt Feidler, Louis was born in Germany on September 29, 1858. He was a saloonkeeper in Spring Lake. His wife, Augusta, in the early 1900s operated an ice cream parlor and confectionary in Spring Lake. A daughter, Mary M., was born in October 1886. Louis died on June 3, 1893 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Augusta was born August 1, 1861 in New York and died on January 23, 1936. She was buried near her husband at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John G. Feidler [Fiedler, Fiddler] [1831-1903]

John Feidler and his wife, Margaret Erhardt, immigrated to Ottawa County from Germany and settled in Section 29 of Crockery Township. Their son Louis [Lewis] was born in Wisconsin on September 29, 1858 and died on June 3, 1893. Louis's wife, Augusta, lived from August 1, 1861 to January 23, 1936. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. John and Margaret also had a daughter Clara, who was born in 1852 in Bavaria and married William Wachter of Spring Lake. Margaret ran a confectionery shop in the vicinity of 224 West Savidge in the early 1900s. John, who was born in March 1831 in Bavaria, died about June 22, 1903. Margaret, also from Bavaria, was born around 1826 and passed away before 1900.

Edwin D. Fellows [1850-1932]

The son of Joel and Maria Fellows, Edwin D., was born in Odisco Center, New York, on August 26, 1850 and died on September 19, 1932. He married Mary M. Blackford on July 4, 1874 in a double ceremony with his brother Eugene. Mary was born in Ohio on December 21, 1848, died in Olive Township on December 18, 1926, and was buried at Olive Cemetery with her husband and other family members. The Fellowses owned a 180-acre farm in Sections 2 and 11. In 1908 Edwin was drain commissioner for Ottawa County.

Eugene D. Fellows I [1853-1932]

A son of Joel and Maria Fellows, Eugene was born on June 3, 1853. After his first wife, Mary, died, Eugene married Sarah Vanderbeck on July 4, 1874 in a double ceremony with his brother Edwin. Sarah was born in New York State on February 8, 1853. Eugene was a carpenter and joiner in Olive Township, and he owned 72 acres in Olive and 80 acres in Section 35 of Robinson Townships. They had six children, all born in Michigan: Ina Belle, who was born April 15, 1876, married James W. Nichols [1865-1945], and died April 2, 1898; Esther, born about 1877; Maria, born in October 1878; James, born April 28, 1881; Eugene II, born about October 1883, and Laura, born January 14, 1892 and died February 25, 1897. Sarah died on October 30, 1909 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery. Eugene died on November 28, 1932 and was buried with his wife.

Joel Madison [Matt] Fellows [1827-1909]

Born in Onondaga County, New York, on December 27, 1827, Joel Fellows settled in Hillsdale County in 1853. Two years later he moved to Olive Township, where he worked at farming and shoemaking. He was Olive Township's first clerk, justice of the peace, treasurer, and postmaster at Ottawa Station. On August 15, 1847 he married Margaret [Maria] C., the daughter of James and Patty Dale Eastway. Margaret was born in London, England, on March 30, 1826. She died about July 20, 1900 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Fellows owned a 38-acre farm in Section 2 of Olive Township. Among their children were Emma, who was born in October 1848 and married Hiram B. Knowlton of Allendale Township; Edwin D., born in New York on August 26, 1850; Lillie, who was born around 1860 and married Frank A. Chapel of Allendale Township; and Levi, who was born in Olive Township on December 16, 1861. Joel died on April 28, 1909 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery.

Levi J. Fellows [1861-1941]

Levi was born in Olive Township on December 16, 1861, the son of Joel M. and Margaret Ann Eastway Fellows. Listed as a "Farmer and Stockraiser" in the 1912 Atlas, Levi owned a total of 180 acres in Section 2 of Olive Township and Section 34 of Robinson. On October 7, 1890, Levi married H. Elnora "Nora" Pratt at St. Luke's Church in Muskegon. Nora was born in Saranac, Ionia County, on February 25, 1859. A daughter, Bessie, was born in November 1892 and a son, Leon, was born in 1895. Levi died on September 5, 1941. Nora died two years later, on February 23.

Katie Feringa [Ferenga] [1894-1960]

Grand Haven resident Katie Feringa was one of two beneficiaries of the Edward and Elizabeth Hofma Trust. Some time before 1920 the Hofmas brought Katie into their home and raised her like a daughter. The other beneficiary was Mary Dowlyn, Elizabeth Hofma's stepsister and a semi-invalid. Born on March 3, 1894 in Michigan, Katie died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1960. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Her mother, Aaltje "Alice" Vastin Feringa, a Grand Rapids resident, lived from 1868 to August 18, 1955. Katie had five sisters and six brothers. Her father, Johannes "John" Feringa, was born on April 10, 1864 and died on June 29, 1910. Alice and John, native of The Netherlands, were married in Grand Rapids on September 3, 1889. They, along with some of their children, were buried at Fairplains Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

William Paul Ferm [1917-1979]

William P. Ferm was one of the founders of Supreme Machined Products, started in Spring Lake in 1948. Other founders were Wallace H. Olson, George V. Yedinak, and Michael and Bruno Grzyb. William had retired by 1979. He married Mary Louise Casler in Houghton, Keweenaw County on February 23, 1939. The couple resided at 17879 168th Avenue in Ferrysburg. William was born on October 17, 1917 and died in Indian River, Florida on December 1, 1979. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary was born March 5, 1918 in Lima, Ohio, and passed away in Muskegon on August 14, 2007.

Jacob Ferris [1822-1889] and Anna Simons York Ferris [1840-1914]

Born in Glens Falls, New York on February 10, 1822 [1821], Jacob Ferris arrived in Michigan in 1857. While living in Ionia County, he enlisted as captain in Company D of the Michigan 21st Infantry on July 26, 1862 and was discharged with a disability on April 15, 1863. He applied for an invalid's Civil War pension on August 20 the next year. Jacob, an attorney with an office in Grand Rapids, was named representative to the Michigan Constitutional Convention of 1867. Around 1840 he married Lovica [Lovisa, Louisa] Tripp, born on December 19, 1821 in Wayne County, New York. Jacob and Lovica had a daughter, Almira, born about 1846 in New York, who married Melvin Smith in Greenville, Montcalm County on October 12, 1888. In 1850 Jacob, Lovica, and their children were still in Wayne County, New York, where he had a law practice. Five years later, Jacob, Lovica, and their six children were living in Buffalo, New York. Jacob still worked as a lawyer.

At the time of the 1860 Federal Census, Jacob, still a lawyer, was living in Sidney, Montcalm County. The census-taker entered Lovica's name as Louisa. With them were eight children. Their youngest child, Zachariah, was born in Michigan in 1859. The others were born in New York, Connecticut, and Ohio.

On January 20, 1865 in Grand Rapids Jacob married Anna [Ann] R. Bigelow, who was born in New York about 1824. Living with them in Grand Rapids at the time of the 1870 Federal Census was Isadora Bigelow, who was born about 1852 in New York and was Anna's daughter from her marriage to James Bigelow. He was born in New York about 1822 and died on July 31, 1863 at the Battle of Elk River, Tennessee during the Civil War. Ten years later, still in Grand Rapids, an adopted daughter named Annetta B. was in the Ferris household. Born in Grand Rapids on October 27, 1867, Annetta married William P. Cook, who was born in Michigan around 1866. Annetta was residing in Chicago in 1930 and was listed as a widow. She died on May 25, 1938 in Chicago.

On December 24, 1874 in Grand Rapids, Jacob married Anna M. Sumison [Simons] York. She was born in 1840 in Pennsylvania.

Jacob passed away in Spring Lake on June 23, 1889 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On the following November 19 Anna applied for a widow's Civil War pension and listed an Ann R. Ferris as a surviving minor child. Anna applied for a widow's Civil War pension again on November 22, 1897. In 1887 Jacob and Anna opened the Willows Resort on a 64-acre fruit farm they purchased from Edward and Julia Crow. The resort was located in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township [18635 Fruitport Road].

Anna died on January 4, 1914. Robert J. Ferris, born on November 28, 1861, was Anna's son by a previous marriage. Robert, Robert's wife Emma, and Anna continued to run the Willows after Jacob's death. After his mother's death, Robert managed the resort until 1926, when he sold the property to Albert and Edna Bertch. Anna was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was her son, Robert, and his wife.

Robert J. Ferris [1861-1930]

Robert, Anna Ferris's son by an earlier marriage, adopted his stepfather's surname. Robert was born in Canada on November 28, 1861. In 1900 he, his wife, and his mother were Spring Lake residents, and Robert was listed as proprietor of a "summer hotel," undoubtedly the Willows, a Spring Lake resort at 18635 Fruitport Road [Section 2, Spring Lake Township]. When his mother died in 1914, Robert took over ownership of the Willows, which he sold in 1926 to Samuel Falls and Albert Bertch. [In the 1900 census Robert's mother was listed as Emma M. Ferris, born in October 1829 in Canada.] Robert in the late 1880s and early 1890s resided in Grand Rapids, where he was a "traveling agent" for the Universal Tripod Company. In early 1930 he resided on Lake Avenue in Spring Lake and was still working as a salesman on the road. He died on June 22, 1930 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with his parents. In 1884 he married Emilda [Emma] Whipple, who was born in Michigan in August 1860 and died on November 22, 1942. Emilda was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Jacob and Anna Ferris.

Amanda Harwood Ferry [1828-1917]

The daughter of William and Amanda White Ferry, Amanda was born on Mackinac Island on September 20, 1828. She wrote in her memoirs, "I came to my grandparents' grandparents [in Ashfield, Massachusetts] when I was 2½ years old, returning with my aunt Hannah White, after her visit to Mackinac—and until my nineteenth year, when they both died [1848] when she moved to Grand Haven." Amanda returned to Ashfield some years later. She married Henry Clay Hall [1828-1873] in New York on June 20, 1855. Amanda died in 1917. [Letter in 'Ferry File' at Loutit District Library, written by Elizabeth von Oettingen.]

Edward Payson Ferry [1837-1917]

Born in Grand Haven on April 16, 1837, Edward was the son of William Montague and Amanda White Ferry and was Mary's twin brother. He engaged in lumbering, acquiring timberlands, and operating sawmills. For a time he and his brother Noah were associates. Edward was among the charter members of the Grand Haven Lodge F. and A.M., started locally in 1863. With one brother in Congress and two in the military, Edward was the only son in Grand Haven to be able to assist his father during the Civil War. Upon his father's death in 1867, he was named executor of the estate. Edward helped establish the First National Bank of Grand Haven, which was organized in 1870 to take over the banking business of Ferry & Son, and he was the first president of the new bank. He was on the board of directors of the Michigan & Ohio Railroad, which was to run from Grand Haven to Toledo, Ohio, but failed after thousands of dollars had been invested.

Edward married Clara Virginia White, a second cousin, on June 1, 1870, and they acquired the home located at 514 Lafayette in Grand Haven. Clara, the daughter of Nathan and Sarah Brittain White, who was born in 1844, served as a tutor at the White home on Franklin Street. Edward's and Clara's four surviving children, all born in Grand Haven, were twins William Montague and Edward Stewart, who were born on March 12, 1871; Miriam, who was born in Grand Haven around 1875, and Edith, who was born in Park City on August 22, 1880 and married Dana True Merrill [October 15, 1876-August 3, 1957] in Grand Haven on October 21, 1903. Miriam on February 12, 1896 in Grand Haven married Maurice, son of Captain Thomas and Mary Ellen O'Brien Kirby of Grand Haven. Maurice died in 1925, and Miriam later married a Mr. Reynolds. Dana Merrill achieved the rank of brigadier general in the U.S. Army. He was born in Auburn, Maine, where he and Edith were buried [Mt. Auburn Cemetery].

In 1878 Edward joined a group that included Muskegon attorneys David C. McLaughlin and Frederick A. Nims and another area man, J. W. Mason. The group purchased a silver mine in Flagstaff, Utah, naming their business the Marsac Silver Mining Company. Edward's brother, William Ferry, later joined the group, known locally as the "Michigan Bunch." Edward's family moved to Park City, Utah in 1878, never to live again in Grand Haven. Although the first mine was not especially productive, the name Ferry became prominent in the silver mining business in and around Salt Lake City. Edward died in Los Angeles on March 11, 1917. He had become mentally incompetent. Clara died in an accident in Park City, Utah on October 20, 1881. She and Edward were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward Stewart Ferry [1871-1913]

Born in Grand Haven on March 12, 1871, Edward was the son of Edward Payson and Clara Ferry and twin brother of William Montague Ferry III. He graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1896, moved to Salt Lake City, and became part of the law firm of Richards, Richards, Ferry & Hamer, representing the Utah Savings and Trust Company. On October 19, 1898 he married Mabel, daughter of Dr. Eddy of Grand Rapids. On July 10, 1913, Edward committed suicide by a gunshot to the temple, at his home at 737 East South Temple Street in Salt Lake City. He reportedly had been suffering from insomnia for about six months but chose not to take any medication to ease the problem. He represented his father in litigation regarding the estate of Reverend Ferry, who had died on December 30, 1867. It is reported that he had worried greatly over a family lawsuit in which, after a ten-year case, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled against the interests of Edward's father and in favor of the contesting siblings. The estate of William M. Ferry was to be administered by Edward P. Ferry, who later was determined to be mentally incompetent. Consequently, the management of the estate went to Edward P.'s sons, Montague and Edward S. The mining ventures in which the estate had interest were successful, and the family was well rewarded. Litigation began when the other heirs demanded an accounting. [Obituary in the Salt Lake City News, June 11, 1913.]

Hannah Elizabeth Ferry [1834-1913]

Born on Mackinac Island on April 16, 1834 to Rev. William M. and Amanda White Ferry, Hannah came to Grand Haven on the schooner Supply on November 2, 1834 at the age of six months. She was educated at Grand Haven and at Rockford Female Seminary, Rockford, Illinois, "the Mt. Holyoke of the West," under the care of her aunt, Mary A. White. Hannah taught first grade in Grand Haven for a while, and she was active in the Presbyterian Church. In the winter of 1872, she married Rev. Henry W. Jones of Ipswich, Massachusetts. Jones was in charge of the Congregational Church at Swampscott, Massachusetts. Three years later he was called to St. Johnsbury, Vermont and from there he and Hannah moved to Southern California, where he began work at Pomona College in Claremont, California. Henry died in 1904. In her declining years, Hannah was cared for by her niece, Mary Amanda Eastman Fairchild, daughter of Galen and Mary Lucinda Ferry Eastman, and Mary Amanda's daughters. Hannah died at Claremont, on July 4, 1913 and was buried there. [Tribune obituary, July 1913.]

James Henry Ferry [1823-1859]

James Ferry was one of the first officers to serve the Grand Haven Lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows [IOOF], formed in 1850. That also was the year he was enumerated in the census for Ottawa County and was classified as a clerk. He was born on January 24, 1823 in New York. His wife, Mary Ann., was born in the same state in August 1822. James died in Chicago of typhoid fever on November 30, 1859. A son, James William Ferry, was born in Grand Haven in 1852 and died in Chicago on March 21, 1897. Their daughter Ellen [Ellie] Ferry was born in Chicago on September 12, 1857. Mary passed away in Chicago on August 22, 1905 and was buried at Graceland Cemetery, where James and their two children also was buried.

Mary Lucina [Lucinda] Ferry [1837-1903]

See Galen Eastman.

Noah Henry Ferry [1831-1863]

Born on Mackinac Island on April 30, 1831, the fourth child of Rev. William and Amanda Ferry, Noah arrived in Grand Haven in 1834 with the rest of his family. He attended Bell's Commercial College in Chicago and taught at the school for a time after graduating. He and his brother Edward Payson Ferry went into business at White River. Noah dredged White Lake to enable the shipment of pine logs by boat, and he laid out the village of Montague, named after his father's mother's family. His successful business was interrupted by outbreak of the Civil War. Appointed captain of a cavalry unit, on August 14, 1862, Noah recruited a company of men in White River Township, Muskegon County that was called the "White River Guard." He soon was promoted to major in Company F of the Fifth Michigan Cavalry. Noah was killed at the Battle of Gettysburg on July 3, 1863. Buried at first by a tree near the site he was killed, his body was brought back to Grand Haven by his father and brother Edward. He was then buried in the city cemetery in Central Park on July 17, 1863 with full military honors. On March 22, 1865 a monument was erected in his memory and now stands at Lake Forest Cemetery, where his body was again reburied. Ferry Memorial Church of Montague, at the corner of Old Channel Trail and Knudsen, was built in 1874 by Edward P. Ferry as a memorial to his brother. It was called First Presbyterian Church of Montague until 1942 when it became a Reformed Church. [Tribune articles, "A Portrait of Noah Ferry," May 26, 1930, and "100 Years Celebrated," June 1, 1974.]

Thomas White Ferry [1826-1896]

Born June 1, 1826 on Mackinac Island, the third child of Rev. William and Amanda White Ferry, Thomas was eight years old when he arrived in Grand Haven with his parents in 1834. For most of his life he went by the name "White Ferry." He spoke Ottawa, Chippewa [Ojibwa], and French. He and his brother William platted the Village of Ferrysburg on January 26, 1857. At the age of 21 he was elected clerk of Ottawa County. Three years later he was elected to the legislature, where he served from 1851 to 1852. In 1852 he was appointed deputy collector of customs for the Port of Grand Haven, and in 1856 he was elected state senator, serving from 1857 to 1858 and again from 1865 to 1883. In 1862 Thomas became a director of the new Grand Haven Union High School and was superintendent for ten years. He went into the lumbering business with his brother, Edward Payson Ferry. Before the Civil War he served on the Republican State Central Committee for eight years and was delegate-at-large and one of the vice presidents of the national convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln. In 1864 he was elected to the 39th Congress and first and forty-second assemblies. Upon President Lincoln's death, he was appointed by the U.S. Senate to a committee that accompanied Lincoln's body to Springfield. In January 1871 he was elected by the Michigan Legislature to the U.S. Senate [the legal procedure at that time] and was elected president of the Senate pro tempore during the Hayes-Tilden electoral count dispute of 1876-77. That conflict was settled on March 2 by a Congressionally appointed committee, which eventually gave the Electoral College vote to Hayes by a majority of one, even though Tilden had the larger number of popular votes. When Vice President Henry Wilson died in November the senator became acting vice president. Because Hayes's inauguration would have fallen on a Sunday in 1877, it was delayed a day, allowing Thomas, as acting vice president, to carry the weight of the office between Grant's term expiring on Saturday and Hayes's swearing-in on Monday. For that reason, Thomas was called "President for a day" [Sunday, March 4, 1877]. Hayes was sworn in publicly on Monday, March 5. Another theory claimed that since Thomas was never sworn in, he couldn't have been president, and yet a third view was that Hayes was sworn in secretly right after the favorable vote on Saturday, and that his inauguration on Monday was a mere formality. In 1883 Thomas was defeated for a third term as senator by Thomas W. Palmer of Detroit. Governor Rich, of Michigan, appointed him president of the Mackinac Park Commission and it was through Thomas's endeavors that the beauties of the island were preserved.

Thomas never married, but for many years he shared his home with his aunt, Mary Amanda White. Thomas died of “cerebral apoplexy” on October 14, 1896 at his home on the corner of First and Columbus Streets [Lot 96], which had been built in 1859 for his uncle, Thomas S. White. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His epitaph read, “I have done what I could to extend our commerce over the world for the security of life and property along our seacoast, upon our great inland seas. T.W.F. The Sailors’ and Soldiers’ Friend. For 62 years a citizen of Grand Haven, Mich.” [Biographical Directory of the American Congress, 1774-1949, page 1143, Encyclopedia of American Biography of the Nineteenth Century, page 357, Twentieth Century Biographical Dictionary of Notable Americans: Vol. IV, page 72, Portrait and Biographical Record of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties Michigan, Tribune obituary, October 14, 1896, and Muskegon Chronicle article “GH Honors Memory of Thomas Ferry,” June 22, 1929.]

William Montague Ferry I [1796-1867] and Amanda White Ferry [1797–1870]

Born on September 8, 1796 in Granby, Massachusetts, the son of Noah and Hannah Montague Ferry, William was the farming couple’s eighth or ninth child in a family of ten. William graduated from Union College in Brunswick, New Jersey in 1821, and he was ordained as a minister of the Presbyterian Church in 1822. On June 11, 1823 in Ashfield, he married Amanda White. The eldest daughter of Thomas and Hannah Harwood White of Ashfield, Massachusetts, Amanda was born on August 20, 1797. A few months after their wedding, William and Amanda moved to Mackinac Island. The United Foreign Mission Society of New York sponsored William, newly licensed and ordained, to establish a school for Indians. The Ferrys lived on the Island and carried out their work there for nearly a dozen years.

Rev. Ferry visited the mouth of Grand River in the summer of 1832, the same year he journeyed to Ashfield, where he encouraged citizens to make the long trip to Michigan and settle in the Grand River Valley. In the summer of 1834, he and Pierre Duvernay reached the mouth of Grand River by paddling across the peninsula from Detroit and going westward down the Grand. With the financial backing of Robert Stuart, an agent for John Jacob Astor’s American Fur Company, William came to Grand Haven to seek his fortune in lumbering. He drew a plat of the City of Grand Haven, showing Fourth Street as the eastern boundary, hoping to name the community Stuart in honor of his financial supporter. Rix Robinson preceded him, however, and gave Grand Haven its name. Rev. Ferry’s original plat was placed in the archives of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. The Indians named William “Makadaquanea” [Black Coated Man], and called Amanda “Makadaquaneasqua” [Black Coated Man’s Wife].

When the Ferrys arrived in Grand Haven aboard the schooner Supply on Sunday, November 2, 1834, they had a family of four, including a daughter, Amanda Harwood, who was born on Mackinac Island on September 30, 1828, but at the age of two and a half returned to Ashfield, Massachusetts to reside with her grandparents. Other Ferry children born on Mackinac Island were William Montague Ferry II, born July 8, 1824; Thomas White Ferry, born June 1, 1826; Noah Henry Ferry, born April 30, 1831; and Hannah Elizabeth, born April 16, 1834. In Grand Haven William and Amanda had two more children, twins Mary Lucina [Lucinda] and Edward Payson, both born on April 16, 1837. Mary was said to be the first white girl born in Grand Haven. Ferry had the Supply built on Mackinac Island, replacing an earlier vessel named Aurora.

Rev. Ferry established the area’s first church and built the first permanent home, a log cabin on the southeast corner of Washington Street and Harbor Avenue, where Kirby Grill later was located. This cabin burned down in a disastrous fire of 1866. William engaged in the lumber business at Grand Haven and became a wealthy man. In 1841 he was a member of the commission that laid out the road between Muskegon and Grand Haven. He was appointed postmaster of Stuart, the name he wished to give to the community, on May 2, 1835. On August 12 that year he officially became postmaster of Grand Haven. He held the post until 1853. He retired as minister of the Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven in April 1857.

In August 1839 Rev. Ferry met another Indian missionary, Peter Dougherty. Dougherty established two missions in northern Michigan. After the two men met, the visiting missionary wrote that Ferry had “lost the tenets of his faith and thereby took more interest in amassing profits,” and that he was “almost entirely engrossed in the pursuits of secular business of making money.” [Holmes, p. 4.]

Ferry was considered the Father of Grand Haven as well as its spiritual and moral leader for nearly 35 years. The Michigan cities of Ferrysburg, Ferry, Whitehall and Montague were named for him or members of his family. He died December 30, 1867, leaving an estate of $120,000. He was buried in the Ferry Lot in Lake Forest Cemetery. The inscription on his headstone read, “First toil, then rest; First grace, then glory.” Ferry Street and Ferry School are named in his family’s honor. Amanda died on December 30, 1870. [American Biographical Notes, p. 138, Encyclopedia of American Biography of the Nineteenth Century, p. 357, and Twentieth Century Biographical Dictionary of Notable Americans, Vol. IV, p. 72.]

William Montague Ferry II [1824-1905]

Born on Mackinac Island on July 8, 1824, William was the first child of William and Amanda Ferry. He was credited, along with his brother, Thomas White Ferry, with platting Ferrysburg. The plat was recorded on January 26, 1857. He said, “The lumbering business was my principal employment, but eventually I acquired the machinist and engineer’s trade in Grand Rapids. In 1850 I built the Ottawa Iron Works at Ferrysburg and engaged in the manufacture of stationary and marine steam engines and sawmill machinery, which was my principal occupation until 1861.” In addition to being elected to the Michigan legislature in 1857, William was supervisor in Spring Lake in 1849, again from 1854 to 1859, and finally from 1860 to 1861. William was a charter member and director of the Ottawa County Agricultural Society and regent of the University of Michigan in 1856, and school inspector for the Mill Point educational system in 1859. On November 24, 1861, he enlisted as first lieutenant in the quartermaster of Department of Company B of the 14th Michigan Infantry Regiment in Ypsilanti. William became captain on June 30, 1862, as well as “Commissary of Subsistence,” and was brevetted major and lieutenant colonel on March 13, 1865. He was mustered out on April 24, 1865. In 1872 he was a candidate for governor of Michigan and secretary of the Democratic National Convention at Louisville. In 1873 he became a member of the Constitutional Convention, and he was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1876. He was referred to as “Colonel.”

In 1851, in Ferrysburg, William married Jeannette A. Hollister. The daughter of John Bentley Hollister, Jeanette was born in Romeo, Macomb County, on August 31, 1828. John Hollister died in 1856 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the Ferry plot. Jeanette was well educated. she taught French, understood German, and read the New Testament in the original Greek. In 1878 William joined his brother, Edward Payson Ferry, in the silver mining business in Park City, Utah. William and Jeanette resided at 525 West Highland Avenue in Park City.

William and Jeanette had six children, two of whom survived: Mary Montague Ferry, who was born in Ferrysburg on February 27, 1853, married Eugene C. Allen on October 1, 1879 in Grand Haven, moved to Redlands, California, died in 1933, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Kate Harwood Ferry, who married George R. Hancock of Salt Lake City on August 21, 1882 and died in March 1900. Kate was born in Ferrysburg on July 11, 1856, and George Hancock was born around 1857 in Ludington. William II died in Park City on January 2, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He gave 22 acres of land in Salt Lake City for the site of Westminster College, and his wife provided funds for a girl’s dormitory named “Ferry Hall.” She died in Redlands, California in November 1917 and was brought to Grand Haven for burial at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, March 27, 1900, January 4, 6, 7 and 9, 1905 and November 4, 1917, and Tribune article “Makers of Michigan History,” September 2, 1937.]

William Montague “Mont” Ferry III [1871-1938]

Born in Grand Haven on March 12, 1871, the son of Edward Payson and Clara V. White Ferry, Mont graduated from Olivet College in 1891, and he joined his father in the silver mining business in Park City, Utah two years later. He was elected mayor of Salt Lake City and state senator. He was managing director of the Silver King Coalition Mine, and also president of the American Silver Producers’ Association. He returned to Michigan to marry Ednah Truman on June 3, 1896 in Nashville. They had twin sons, William

Montague IV and Sanford Truman, born on October 4, 1898 in Salt Lake City. Sanford, whose wife was Irene Afton Knowlton, died on November 19, 1949. Mont died of heart disease in Park City on January 11, 1938, and Ednah died on May 24, 1964 at the age of 90 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune article, "Sudden Death of Utah Man," January 20, 1938.]

Aaron D. Fessenden [1810 -1876]

Aaron and Benjamin Fessenden moved the B. & A. D. [Anson Darwin] Fessenden Company from Townsend, Massachusetts to Grand Haven in 1881, when they bought out the Glover & Tate Tub Factory. Aaron was born in Groton, Massachusetts on October 8, 1810 and later moved to Townsend. Benjamin, evidently Aaron's brother, was born around 1806, also in Townsend. In 1882 Silas Kilbourn bought out the Fessendens, who then returned to Townsend. Aaron died on May 8, 1876 in Townsend.

Gustave A. Fett [Fette] [1884-1939]

Born in August 1884 in Germany, Gustave Fett moved to the Grand Haven area and opened a grocery and meat market. Later he owned and operated Fett's Shoe Store at 213 Washington. Gust was still in the shoe business in the mid-1930s. On May 31, 1906 in Grand Haven, he married Jannie [Jennie]. The daughter of Gerrit and Katie Ammaal Kamphuis, Jannie was born in August 1881 in Grand Haven. In 1908 the Fetts resided at 510 Madison, in 1920 they were living at 508 Fulton, and by 1930 they were at 1032 Franklin. A son, Paul James, was born in Michigan about 1920. Gustave's parents, both natives of Germany, were August who was born in March 1854 and died in 1930, and Wilhelmina "Minnie," who lived from February 1859 to 1903. The Fett family immigrated to the United States in 1885. Gustave died in 1939 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Paul Fett was his brother.

Paul Fett [1893-1918]

Grand Haven native Paul Fett enlisted in Company F of the State Militia in Grand Haven on December 9, 1914 and was promoted to sergeant. He saw service during the Copper County disturbances in the Upper Peninsula and along the Mexican border in 1916. When Company F worked with Company L of the 126th Infantry during WWI, Paul was considered the senior member. He was gassed during the Chateau Thierry offensive on August 6, 1918 and was killed on August 28 in the Allied Oise-Aisne offensive. He was born in Grand Haven in July 1893 [1892], the son of August and Wilhelmina Fett and the brother of Gustave Fett. August a laborer, lived from 1853 to 1930 and Wilhelmina from 1859 to 1903. The three Fetts were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Christopher Fetz [1874-1913]

On September 7, 1907 Christopher Fetz married Cornelia O'Beck, who lived from 1868 to 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Cornelia was the daughter of Adrian and Johanna De Glopper O'Beck of Grand Haven. Christopher, who was born in 1874 and died in 1913, also was buried at Lake Forest. In 1920 Cornelia married Alexander Kaatz of Grand Haven.

Mary Field [1808-1892]

Little is known about Mary Field, except that she died in Grand Haven on April 21, 1892 at the age of 84 and was buried in Block 16 of Lake Forest Cemetery. Hers was one of three ornate monuments in Block 16 made by F. O. Gross Company at 341 Wabash Avenue in Chicago. She was a native of New York State.

Edward Finch [1845- 1915]

A Spring Lake resident and son of Thomas and Mary Ann Finch, Edward on August 13, 1864 enlisted as a substitute in Company F of the 6th Michigan Cavalry. He was discharged on July 27 the next year and returned to Spring Lake. According to Dr. Mary Kitchel, Edward used the money he received as substitute, usually $300, to buy a farm for his parents. In 1880 Edward was classified as an engineer. He was born in Sutton, England on November 23, 1845. On September 23, 1870 in Spring Lake he married Alice Eggleston, who was born in Wisconsin in August 1851. Their children were Frank L. Finch, who was born in Wisconsin on September 10, 1874 and died February 3, 1912; Bessie Finch, who was born in 1878, married Michael Laven [1878-1952], and died in Grandville on January 15, 1972; Roy Edward Finch, who was born in Wisconsin in June 7, 1882 and died in December 1958; Edward D. Finch, who was born in Wisconsin on November 27, 1884 and died in Spring Lake on December 2, 1943; and Hazel M. Finch, born in Michigan in March 1890, on May 29, 1916 married William H. Fisher in Spring Lake. On January 22, 1889 he applied for an invalid's Civil War pension, and by 1890 he was in a Soldier's Home in Grand Rapids. He died in Grand Rapids on February 23, 1915. Alice applied for a widow's Civil War pension on March 12, 1915. Alice passed away on June 28, 1920.

Frances Minerva Hinckley [Hinkley] Finch [1851-1934]

Born in Fairfield, Huron County, Ohio on March 31, 1851, Frances in 1856 moved to Robinson Township with her parents, Corydon and Eliza Allen Hinckley. On September 6 1871, in Saranac, Ionia County, she married Norman S. Finch, who was born on April 26, 1850. Norman died around 1880, and Frances returned to her parents' home. On December 3, 1903 she married Delos W. Eckler [1865-1927] in Grand Haven. They settled in Allendale, but after Delos's death, Frances moved to Grand Rapids. She died there on February 28, 1934 and was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery with Delos.

John Finch [1837-1864]

Spring Lake resident John Finch was 24 years old when he went to Grand Rapids on May 13, 1861 to enlist as private in Company I of the 3rd Michigan Infantry. On May 23, 1864 he died from wounds received on May 12 at the Battle of Spotsylvania Court House, Virginia.

Joseph Finch [1817-1891]

Born in Cambridgeshire, England in 1817, Joseph was a brother of Robert Finch and emigrated from England to Spring Lake, arriving on the brig Enterprise, commanded by Captain Harry Miller, on November 6, 1848. He was listed as a laborer.

Joseph married Lucy Webster, who lived from December 1818 to 1912. Born in England, Lucy came to the United States with her husband and children, all born in England: Robert, born in 1841; Sarah, who was born on January 17, 1844, became a teacher in Spring Lake, and married John Loosemore II of Spring Lake; Edward, born in November 1846; Marianne, born about 1846; and Alice, born about 1848. [Edward was not included in the 1850 census.] Their other children included Mary A., who was born in June 1856 and taught in the Spring Lake schools for many years; Allie, who moved to California; and Robert. Their home was on the southeast corner of Park and Mason Streets in Spring Lake [218 North Park]. Living with them in 1850 was Lucy's brother, John Webster, born in England about 1826. Joseph died on April 3, 1891, and both he and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Norman S. Finch [1850-1880]

Norman Finch was born on April 2, 1850. On September 6, 1871, he married Frances Minerva Hinckley [Hinckley] in Saranac, Ionia County. Born in Ohio in 1851, she was the daughter of Corydon [1823-1892] and Eliza Allen [1830-1893] Hinckley of Robinson Township. Norman evidently was deceased by 1880, when Frances was living with her parents. She married Hugh McDonald in Robinson Township on November 22, 1884. On December 3, 1903 in Grand Haven, she married Delos W. Eckler.

Robert Finch [1841-1924]

Born in Cambridgeshire, England in 1841, Robert came to Spring Lake with his parents, Joseph and Lucy Finch, when he was seven. In 1856 he learned the printing business in the offices of the Grand River Times. On March 21, 1863 he enlisted in Company B of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters. On May 12, 1864 he was wounded at the Battle of Spotsylvania Court House, Virginia. Less than two weeks later he was wounded again, this time at the Battle of North Anna River, and lost his right eye. He was discharged the following October 3. He later worked for the contracting firm of Squier & White as superintendent. In 1880 he was a bookkeeper. On March 20, 1885 he was awarded a contract to dredge the Grand River in Grand Rapids to improve it for navigation. Robert was listed as “engineer” in the 1893 Compendium. He married Frances Louise [Louisa] Albee at Hope Church in Holland, Michigan on May 2, 1869. Frances, the daughter of Nathan King and Eveline Hopkins Albee, was born in Otsego, New York on December 25, 1843. She filed for a widow’s Civil War pension in 1914, although Robert didn’t die until 1924. He was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. The Finch children, all born in Michigan, were Alice L., born about 1870; Herbert L. [Franklin] who was born on December 20, 1873, married Jennie Loosemore in Spring Lake on March 29, 1900, and moved to Grand Rapids; Josephine, who was born on October 4, 1877 and on February 3, 1903 in Grand Rapids married Peter M. Lowerse; and Frederick R., who was born on December 22, 1880 and married Bessie E. Wright Graffan in Grand Rapids on December 2, 1919. Louisa died around November 1, 1879 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Sarah Finch [1844-1937]

See John Loosemore II.

Thomas Finch I [1823-1902]

Thomas Finch married Mary Ann Williamson in Spring Lake on July 3, 1880. Thomas arrived in Spring Lake about 1849, a year after his brother Joseph had made the same trip, emigrating from Cambridgeshire, England. Thomas and Mary owned a 40-acre farm in Section 24 of Spring Lake Township. They had nine children, all born in Michigan, including Edward, who lived from 1845 to 1915; Jane, who was born in April 1848 and married Enno Pruim of Spring Lake; Thomas Finch II, who was born in Michigan in May 1855, became a mason in Spring Lake, and died in 1917; Susie, who was born in 1861 and died in 1882; and Emma, who was born in 1865, married Marshall McCluer of Spring Lake, and died on March 19, 1887. Thomas, born in September 1823 [1825], died on February 13, 1902 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Mary died before 1880. [Tribune obituary, February 14, 1902.]

Frances Finley [1874-1961]

See William Levi Phillips.

Herman R. Firchau 1912-1999] and Walter R. Firchau [1924-1996]

In the mid-1970s Herman and Walter Firchau owned the Village Inn restaurant, located at 209 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Walter was born on May 12, 1924 and died in Saginaw on March 27, 1996. His wife, Lorna, was born in 1921. The couple relocated to Midland, Mi. Herman was born on June 21, 1912, and his wife, Maxine, was born on May 7, 1916 and died in Livonia, Wayne County on November 12, 1999. Herman and Maxine moved to Plymouth, Wayne County. Herman passed away in Livonia on September 17, 1999.

John Fish [1866-1948]

John Fish, who settled on 79 acres in Section 36 in Robinson Township in 1889, was a farmer and raised livestock. John was born in The Netherlands on May 14, 1866. He married Nellie Houseman, who was born on December 25 the same year, also in The Netherlands. By 1930 the Fishes had moved to Georgetown Township. John died on January 14, 1948 in Grand Rapids, and Nellie passed away in Zeeland on January 9, 1961. Both were buried at Georgetown Township Cemetery.

Kaidann [Kategan] Fishback [Fischbeck, Frohbeck] [1837-1882]

Kaidann [Kagetan] married Ulrika Haack Stubman Fishback in Grand Haven on March 21, 1878. Kaidann, of German birth, lived from 1843 to September 29, 1883, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had a son, Louis, who was born in February 1880, but went by the name Stubman. On August 4, 1884 in Grand Haven, Ulrika married Herman Luhm of Grand Haven. She was born in Germany in June 1845 and immigrated to the United States in 1871. In the Federal Census of 1880, Kaidann was listed as Cain Frohbeck. He, Ulrika, and baby Louis were residing in a home on Madison Street. Louis was a saloon keeper. Ulrika’s first marriage was to Louis Stubman. He was born in Germany in 1832, died in Grand Haven on January 10, 1878, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Louis Fishback [Fishbeck, Fischbeck, Stubman] [1880–1910]

Louis Fishback, born in February 1880, owned the Pere Marquette Saloon at 332 Madison [Jackson] in Grand Haven in the early 1900s. It also served as his residence. He died on May 15, 1910 in Arizona and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His parents were Kaidann [Kagetan] and Ulrika Haack Stubman Fishback. Louis used the family name Stubman but was buried as Louis Fischbeck.

Abraham [Abram] Fisher [Visser] [1832-1909]

Born on January 25, 1832 in The Netherlands, the son of Johannes and Anna Fisher, Abraham and two brothers, Leonard and Frank, left their native home in their fishing boat and in 1853 sailed for 90 days to reach America. After living in Buffalo, New York for a while, Abraham and other Fishers in 1856 brought their families to Grand Haven. Abraham established one of the first commercial fishing business in this area, called Fisher & Sons, which operated on the north side of the Grand River, across from Franklin Street, and adjacent to the later Musical Fountain site. Among his tugs was the Charles H. Augur, built by Robertson Ship Yard in 1888. Abraham sailed to Milwaukee and stayed there for two years to fish out of that port. Relatives continued to come to America, and there were 43 Fishers in Grand Haven in 1860 living in seven homes, all built near each other in the Franklin and Fourth Street neighborhood. They were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church.

Abraham's wife, Johanna Erkes of Buffalo, New York, was born on August 31, 1831 and died on January 7, 1899. Their children included Ida, born in 1855; Henry, who was born on July 23, 1857; married Mary Bolt, and died on November 11, 1924. Walter A., who lived from June 23, 1860 [1859/1861] to January 2, 1935; Francina "Sena," who married Edward F. Moll of Grand Haven; and John, born on February 23, 1868. Abraham died on April 30, 1909 and was buried with his wife at Lake Forest Cemetery under the name Visser. [Tribune obituary, November 12, 1924, and Tribune article, "Fishers, Albers come in 1853-54," 1984.]

Abram James Fisher [1897-1978]

The son of John and Jennie Hoffman Fisher, Abram was born in Grand Haven on February 24, 1897. On May 20, 1920 he married Adelaide Dorothy, the daughter of Henry and Dora Maria Vis Albers of Grand Haven. The ceremony took place in the bride's home at 114 South Third Street, where the Fishers subsequently resided. Adelaide lived from January 28, 1896 to September 27, 1972. Abram died in Grand Haven on January 7, 1978 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. Harold S. Fisher, their son, was born in Grand Haven on January 22, 1924.

Adriannus [Adriaan] Fisher [1825-1899]

Born on February 22, 1825 in Zerkee, The Netherlands, Adriannus was the son of Johannes Fisher. He came to Grand Haven with his parents and brothers about 1856 by way of Buffalo, New York. He was one of the earliest commercial fishermen of Michigan. In his early years he was a member of the life saving service of The Netherlands. He married Mary [Maria] Van Schelven, who was born in The Netherlands on March 12, 1826, died on September 30, 1896, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children, most of them born locally, included Johannes, who was born on October 11, 1851 in The Netherlands and died on September 20, 1943; William, who was born in Wisconsin around 1854; Jane, who was born in Wisconsin about 1855 and married William Slaughter of Grand Haven, who was born the same year as Jane; Ann, who was born about 1861; Cornelius, who was born on December 31, 1863 and died on August 30, 1938; Walter, born about 1868; George, who was born on November 17, 1870; Frank Abram, who died about April 1, 1938; and Henrica. Adriannus died in Grand Haven on April 2, 1899 and was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, September 30, 1896 and April 3, 1899.]

Andrew Fisher [1892-1975]

A native of Grand Haven, where he was born on March 11, 1892, Andrew Fisher started his career with the U.S. Life Saving Service and retired from the Coast Guard on November 1, 1939 as chief boatswain's mate.

He served a total of 30 years. His father, John Fisher, was a commercial fisherman in Grand Haven. Andrew's mother's name was Dena. In the early 1900s Andrew lived at 103 Howard. He died on June 30, 1975.

Arthur Fisher [1893-1983]

Born on April 25, 1893 in The Netherlands, Arthur was the son of Abram and Adelaine [Adeline] Fisher. The other children in the family were Garrett of Grand Haven; Abe William of Spring Lake; Jean, who married August Thompson of Muskegon, and three brothers and one sister who predeceased him. Arthur came to Grand Haven in 1910 and was employed as foreman at the Dake Corporation until his retirement. He was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, where he was the church organist, and he was choir member and Sunday school superintendent for 25 years. In 1917 he married Ella Behm, who died of a myocardial infarction on June 9, 1983 at age 85. Arthur also died of a myocardial infarction at his home, 216 Jackson, on January 5, 1983 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 6, 1983.]

Charles Fisher [1882-1937]

Charles Fisher became part owner of a general store at 222 North Seventh that John W. Ver Hoeks opened in 1882. Purchasing Ver Hoek's store with Fisher was his partner Corneil Van Zanten. They bought the business about 1905 and carried primarily groceries, but also patent medicines, fabrics, and other items. By 1930 he owned a granary store. Charles married Hendrika "Reka" Ruiter in Grand Haven on May 5, 1908. They resided at 207 Clinton. Reka was born in Michigan about 1883. Their children, all born in Grand Haven, included Jeanette, born about 1909; Winifred, who was born in Grand Haven on May 24, 1912 and died in Chelsea, Washenaw County on March 3, 2006; Ruth, born about 1915; and Helen, born about 1924. Charles lived from January 11, 1882 to 1937 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His parents were Otto and Maggie Helmers Fisher. [Tribune obituary, March 14, 2006.]

Elmer P. Fisher [1917-1976]

While serving in the Philippines with the U.S. Army during WWII, Elmer Fisher was severely wounded and confined to a wheelchair for the remainder of his life. While recuperating from his wound at Percy Jones Hospital in Battle Creek, Elmer met Helen Hidden. A native of Bay City, she had enlisted in the Woman's Army Corps on February 8, 1945 and served with the medical detachment and assisted in Elmer's rehabilitation. The ensuing romance culminated in their marriage in Grand Haven on July 6, 1946. They resided at 14535 Mercury Drive in Grand Haven Township. A news photo of the couple, dated December 16, 1951, showed Helen pushing Elmer in his wheelchair through the woods on a hunting expedition. Elmer, the son of Henry Fisher of West Olive, was born on December 25, 1917, and Helen was born on June 29, 1915. Elmer passed away in Grand Haven on September 7, 1976 and Helen died five years later on August 28. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Everett "Abe" W. Fisher [1902-1987]

Born on December 16, 1902, Abe Fisher retired as superintendent of the pressroom at Bastian Blessing after 32 years with the firm. He married Mary "Lizzie" Bolthouse on June 12, 1929. They had five children, including Donna, who married William Gelderman; Jack, whose wife's name was Mary; Joyce, who married Alfred Rodrigues; Nancy, who married Roland Bartels of Holland; and Carol of Spring Lake. The Fishers resided at 314 Visser Street in Spring Lake. Abe died in Spring Lake on December 4, 1987. [Tribune articles, "Surprise Quilt Honors Parents" February 25, 1977, and "Time to Travel Arrives," December 16, 1988.]

Frank Fisher [1901-1984]

Frank, the son of John and Dena Fisher of Grand Haven, was born on October 26, 1901 and died on April 8, 1984. An employee of the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power, Frank retired in 1958. He married Adeline C. Bonga, the widow of Henry Fase, on August 26, 1944. Their children were Dorothy, who married William Swier of Grand Haven; Catherine, who married Robert Howting of Holland; Richard of Grand Haven; and Minnie, who married Josiah [Joseph] S. Van Loo of Grand Haven. Adeline was born on March 20, 1904 and died in Grand Haven on May 24, 1975.

Frank J. Fisher I [1823-1900]

Born in Zeeland, The Netherlands in 1823, Frank was the son of Johannes and Anna Fisher. While a young man in The Netherlands, he assisted in the rescue of the crew of a large French ship during a terrible storm on the Dutch coast. The French government gave him a silver medal for his heroism. He and his two brothers, Abraham and Leonard, left The Netherlands and sailed to America in their own fishing vessel and settled first in Buffalo, New York, and then continued on to Grand Haven in 1856. Frank's wife, Jane, also was a native of The Netherlands, where she was born about 1822. The Fishers had six children: John, who was born in The Netherlands around 1850; Hannah, who was born in New York around 1852, married John Boet of Grand Rapids and Grand Haven, and died before 1920; Elizabeth "Lizzie," who was born in New York in 1853 and married Peter De Heer of Grand Haven; George, who was born about 1855 in Wisconsin and became a successful commercial fisherman in Grand Haven; Martin, born about 1858 in Michigan; Nellie, who was born in Grand Haven in early 1860 and married Cornelius Van Dam of Grand Rapids; and Frank II, born in September 1873. George and his wife, Agnes, and their children resided at 19 South Fourth Street in Grand Haven. Frank's wife, who was born in 1821, died on January 18, 1894 from the effects of a stroke. Frank's residence at 103 Howard was called "Poplar Home" and overlooked the channel. He lived there for 51 years. Frank I died on April 25, 1900 at the home of his daughter, Elizabeth De Heer, at 13 South Fourth Street. [Tribune obituaries, January 19, 1884 and April 25, 1900.]

Frank J. Fisher II [1873-1961]

Born in Grand Haven on September 30, 1873, Frank was the son of Frank and Anna Fisher. Frank followed in his father's footsteps by going to the docks at age 10, where he packed fishing nets for $12 a month. At 21 he started sailing, which became his life work except for one year in the life saving service and three years at the Coast Guard Station. Occasionally he took temporary employment at Story & Clark. He and his wife, Kate, raised their family at 840 Water Street [Harbor Avenue], not far from Frank's childhood residence called "Poplar Home" at 103 Howard. Kate was born in Michigan in May 1874. Among their children were James, born in March 1897, and Marguerite, born in February 1899. Frank died on June 11, 1961 and was buried at Lake Forest. Born in Missouri on January 23, 1885, Eldrie passed away on July 11, 1974 and was buried at St. Mary's Cemetery in Muskegon. [Tribune articles, "The Variety Pool," December 6, 1956, and "Open House to Fete Fisherman," September 6, 1963.]

Franklin Parker Fisher [1889-1971]

Born in Louisville, Kentucky on April 10, 1889, Frank Fisher traveled the world with his wife Eldrie "Fannie," who starred in amateur programs at age three and a half and was the youngest of eight children in her family in St. Louis. Frank married Fannie Miller on May 27, 1914. They were a comedy team and were good enough to make a billing at the Palace Theatre in New York. When Vaudeville went out of fashion, they settled in Grand Haven at 808 Sheldon and ran the Haven Beauty Salon at 215 Washington until Frank became manager of the Grand Theatre in 1954. On September 28, 1971 he retired from managing the Grand, but Jack Loeks Theaters kept him on as a consultant. He died the following December 29. [Tribune article, "Frank Retires Again at 82," September 29, 1971.]

George D. Fisher [1870-1948]

George Fisher, the son of Adriannus and Mary [Maria] Van Schelven Fisher, was born in Grand Haven on November 17, 1870. On May 18, 1893 he married Agnes Johnston [Johnson], who was born in Robinson Township on September 19, 1868. George and Agnes had two children, George II, born on January 25, 1896, and Mary, who was born in April 1895. George and Agnes were divorced on January 18, 1908. George, a commercial fisherman, died on May 24, 1948 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Agnes passed away on April 22, 1957.

George James Fisher [1896-1964]

George Fisher, a railroad clerk for the Grand Trunk Railway, resided at 127 Clinton Street in Grand Haven around 1930. The son of George and Agnes Johnston [Johnson] Fisher, he was born in Grand Haven on January 25, 1896. In 1910 he lived at 19 South Fourth Street with his mother, Agnes Fisher, and his sister, Mary. Mary was a year older than George. George married Carrie Vanderwaal [Vanderwall] on May 14, 1914 in Grand Rapids. She was born on February 17, 1894 in Grandville. Both natives of Michigan, they were. Their daughter, Marjorie [Margaret], was born around 1917. By 1920 the family resided at 127 Clinton. Living with them in 1930 was George's mother, Agnes, who at that time was divorced from George I. Agnes was born around 1874. Carrie passed away on March 27, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. George died on April 7, 1964 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

Harold Stuart Fisher [1924-2000]

Harold, the son of Abram and Adelaide Albers Fisher, was born in Grand Haven on January 22, 1924. He married Joyce McFall on January 29, 1949. After she died on December 12, 1998, Harold married Ethel Lovejoy on April 14, 1999, in Bradenton, Florida. Harold earned his bachelor's degree from Hope College in 1949 and a master's degree from the University of Michigan seven years later. He served as a pilot in the Air Force during World War II. For nineteen and a half years Harold worked for the Muskegon Area Intermediate School District as vocational director, director of Special Projects, and director of personnel. He was a business consultant for Northern Michigan University for three years, and he worked for Grand Haven Public Schools as a math teacher and coordinator of business education. For three years Harold was employed by the University of Michigan as an adjunct instructor of vocational education. He was elected to the Grand Haven City Council in 1959, served as a trustee on the Board of Education for Marquette Township Schools, was president of the Grand Haven Teacher's Club, and he also acted as treasurer of the Michigan Vocational Coordinators Association. Harold also was a member and one-time president of the Salvation Army Advisory Board. He served two years as chair of the Schools Division Fund Drive for the Muskegon County United Appeal, two years as president of the Muskegon County Geriatrics Council and was a member of various state and federal associations. Harold belonged to the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven. He and his first wife had two sons, David of Fruitport, and Richard of Grand Haven. Harold died in Jacksonville, Florida, on December 6, 2000 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, where his first wife also was interred. [Tribune obituary, December 11, 2000.]

Henry Fisher [1862-1942]

Like many of his family, Henry grew up to be a commercial fisherman, although he spent five years working for Story & Clark. He was born in Michigan on July 14, 1862, the son of John and Henrietta Fisher. Both parents were born in The Netherlands. Henry worked on such tugs as C. J. Bos, Calister, and Annie. Henry and his wife Barbara "Lizzie," resided at 318 Lafayette. Lizzie was born in Michigan in August 1863. Their children were Hattie, who was born in June 1884 and married Almon Ward of Muskegon; John, born in April 1886; Jennie, who was born in November 1880 and married a Mr. O'Brien of Grand Haven; and Francis, born in July 1892. The family attended the First Reformed Church. The family resided on Howard Street. Henry passed away on May 3, 1942, and seven years after Lizzie died.

Homer Powell Fisher [1897-1968]

The son of Leonard and Tanzy Fisher, Homer was born in Grand Haven on February 10, 1897. In 1930 he worked as inspector at a printing machine company, but from 1936 to 1962 he served as Grand Haven postmaster. He and his wife, Ethel, resided at 430 Grand in their later years, but at one time lived in his parents' home at 1031 Washington. Ethel was born in Indiana on March 4, 1900 and passed away in Bradenton, Florida on June 1984. Their daughter Dolores M. was born about 1924. Homer died in Battle Creek on December 15, 1968.

Jay Leonard Fisher [1891-1995]

Born in Grand Haven on October 13, 1891, Jay was the son of Leonard and Tanzy Fisher. He was an oiler aboard the S.S. Eastland that tipped over and burned in Chicago harbor on July 24, 1915. He escaped by crawling through a porthole. Jay was injured while serving overseas with the U.S. Naval Railway Batteries during WWI. In 1918 he worked as a mechanic at Challenge Machinery. In 1922, for one term, Jay was Grand Haven City treasurer. He joined the Postal Department June 22, 1925 and retired April 1, 1955 after serving Grand Haven Rural Routes 1 and 2 for 28 years and West Olive for two years. By 1928 he was secretary-treasurer of the Addison-Pellegrum-Colson Furniture Store at 302 Washington. The family resided at 943 Pennoyer and later at 501 South Seventh Street. He was a member of the American Legion, Masons, and Presbyterian Church. His wife, Bertha, was born in Iowa about 1899. Their children, all born locally, included Yvonne, born about 1924; Beverly, born about 1926; and Joan, born about 1929. On February 14, 1942 Jay married Gertrude Ray of New Era. She was born on July 17, 1893 and passed away on July 28, 1983 in Grand Haven. Jay died on April 10, 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 11, 1955.]

John A. Fisher [1868-1942]

The son of Abraham and Johanna Erkes Fisher, John was born on February 23, 1868 in Grand Haven. He married Jennie Hoffman, who was born in Reitsun, The Netherlands on November 5, 1869. Her parents were Jan "John" and Grietje Annema Hoffman, both of whom immigrated from Reitsun to Grand Haven. John died February 3, 1942 and Jennie passed away on January 18, 1955 in Grand Haven. Abram James, born on February 24, 1897, and Nelson Hoffman, born on October 11, 1906, were their sons. The Fishers resided at 715 Fulton.

John J. Fisher I [1857-1935]

Born in Buffalo, New York [Michigan] in September 1857, John Fisher came to Grand Haven in 1861. He was a fisherman all of his life. His wife Dena, the daughter of Peter and Maria Walters, was born on August 6, 1865 in Grand Haven. The Fisher children, all born in Grand Haven, included John II, born on February 29, 1884; Peter, born in December 1885; William, who was born in March 1888 and became the officer in charge of the Coast Guard station at South Haven; Henry "Harry," who was born in February 1890; Andrew, who was born on March 11, 1892; Marie [Mary], who was born in May 1894 and married Reyer Nagtzaam of Grand Haven; Abram, who was born in November 1896; Andrew, born in March 1898; Henrietta [Harriet], who was born on February 8, 1899 and married Louis Breitels; and Frank, who was born on October 26, 1901 and married Adeline Bonga Fase. John passed away on March 21, 1935 in Grand Haven, and Dena died on January 30, 1946, also in Grand Haven.

John J. Fisher II [1884-1930]

Born in Grand Haven on February 29, 1884, the son of John and Dena Fisher, young John followed the lakes all his life and worked on the tugs of the fishing fleet since early boyhood. John II married but had no children. He died at his home on Madison Street from pneumonia and pleurisy on November 8, 1930. [Tribune obituary, November 8, 1930.]

Johannes Fisher [Visser] I [1801-1895]

Born in The Netherlands, July 22, 1801, Johannes Fisher and his father and several brothers for many years manned the life saving station on the banks of the North Sea. For their bravery they were awarded medals from the English, French, and Dutch governments. In all they saved 63 lives. The wrecks were upon sandbars, usually 15 miles out in the sea, which rendered the rescue work extremely hazardous. He had a vivid recollection of Napoleon Bonaparte. Johannes arrived in Grand Haven in 1856 [1858] with his wife, Anna, and eight children, all born in The Netherlands, including Frank, born in 1823; Adriannus, born in 1825; Abraham, born in 1832; Johannes II; and Walter. The family lived in a home at 17 South Fourth Street, which was later owned by their son Frank. Anna died before 1880. Johannes died at home, on October 17, 1895 at the age of 94 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He was blind for the last 25 years of his life. [Tribune article, "Four Score and Ten," July 23, 1891, and Tribune obituary, October 17, 1895.]

Leonard Fisher [1862-1922]

Born in March 1862, Leonard was the son of Abram and Johanna Fisher, pioneer residents of Grand Haven. His father came from The Netherlands and was a member of the commercial fishing colony here. Leonard worked with his father for years and later went into the fishing business for himself. He also was engaged in the meat market business for a number of years. He and his wife, Tanzy [Tan], had several children, all born in Grand Haven, including Abram, born in June 1888; Jay, who was born on October 13, 1891; John, born in October 1892; Josie, who was born in August 1895 and married Howard Pellegrom of Grand Haven; Homer Powell, who was born in Grand Haven on February 5, 1897; Walter, born in May 1889; and Robert, who moved to Detroit. In the early 1900s the Fisher family lived at 905 Franklin and later at 1031 Washington. When Leonard died on September 28, 1922, he was residing at 1031 Washington. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, who lived from August 1865 to 1935. Tanzy was born in The Netherlands [Tribune obituary, September 28, 1922.]

Lew Fisher [? - ?]

Lew Fisher was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886.

Nelson Hoffman Fisher [1906-1979] and Anne Glerum Fisher [1906-2002]

Born in Grand Haven on October 11, 1906, Nelson was the son of John A. and Jennie Hoffman Fisher. Jennie was daughter of Jan and Greitje Hoffman. Nelson's father was a commercial fisherman in Grand Haven. D. Baker & Son, dealers in lumber and coal, employed Nelson for nine years, after which he served as manager of the Grand Haven Coal & Dock Company. In 1936, in association with Louis Breitels II, he purchased the company and dealt in fuel and building materials. He was a director of Sportster Trailer, Inc., as well as a member of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Chamber of Commerce, Citizens Historical Association, and the First Reformed Church.

On March 8, 1930 Nelson married Anne, the daughter of William [Will] and Mabel A. Scott Glerum. Will, a shoe repairman, was born in Grand Haven in 1877. Anne was born on March 5, 1906. She was a member of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven, Dorcas Guild, Christian Haven Ladies Auxiliary, Kilbourne Group, Free Bed Guild of North Ottawa Community Hospital, Girl Scout Council, Community Chest [United Way], the American Red Cross, and the Grand Haven Historical Society. She was a clerk and buyer for the Reichardt store from 1927 to 1931. Anne died in Grand Haven on May 2, 2002 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Nelson and Anne had two children: Annette F., who was born on March 2, 1931, and married Robert P. Whitney, and Jean Mabel, who was born on October 9, 1939 and married Garry L. Messler. Both daughters and their families remained in Grand Haven. Nelson died on February 27, 1979 of cancer and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Citizens Historical Association, September 20, 1941 and Tribune obituary, May 3, 2002.]

Walter A. Fisher I [1860-1935]

The son of Abraham and Johanna Erkes Fisher, Walter was born in Grand Haven on June 23, 1860 [1859/1861]. Like many of his family members, Walter became a commercial fisherman, working for Captain Martin O'Beck of Grand Haven. At various times Walter was captain of the fishing tugs C.A. Meister, Anna, E.C. Oggel, and A. Fisher. He and his wife, Anna, had a son, Walter II, born about 1912, and a daughter, Louise, who married a Mr. Zimmerman. Walter and Anna were married about 1909. They resided at 500 Elliott. Captain Fisher passed away in Muskegon on January 2, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Anna, who had been married previously, was born in Michigan about 1886. She had a daughter, Augusta Marie Hall, who was born around 1905.

John B. Fiske [Fisk] [1828-1907]

About 1863 Rev. John B. Fisk [Fiske] replaced Joseph Anderson as pastor of the Congregational Church on Washington Street in downtown Grand Haven. His starting date is not known, but he remained more than three years. John is on record as having performed a marriage ceremony at the church on May 24, 1867. In November of that year, he was called to the First Congregational Church in Manistee, where he remained until May 1872. John was born in New York in 1828 and died in Manistee County on March 15, 1907. His wife, Mary, was a year younger and was born in the same state. They had a son, Harold, born in Michigan about 1860.

Thomas C. Fitzgibbon [Fitzgibbons, Fitzgibben, Fitzgibbens, Fitz Gibbon] [1836-1865]

Around 1860 Thomas Fitzgibbons was mail and ticket agent at the Detroit and Milwaukee Depot in Muir, the railroad terminus at the foot of Dewey Hill. On September 19, 1861, while living in Detroit, he enlisted as captain of Company B of the 14th Michigan Infantry. He was promoted to major on March 25, 1864 and mustered out on February 13, 1865. Born in Ireland in 1836, Thomas died in Springfield, Massachusetts on June 4, 1865 from wounds received during the war. He married Sarah Gorman, also a native of Ireland, where she was born in November 1835 and immigrated to the United States in 1849. As early as 1864 Sarah was residing in Springfield with her three children: Ella, born in Michigan in 1861; Thomas W., born in Michigan in 1862; and William Sherman, born in Massachusetts in 1864. Another son, Charles, was born about November 1859. In 1860 Thomas, Sarah, and Charles were living in Detroit, where Thomas worked as an editor. Sarah died in 1920 in Springfield.

Craig Flahive [1942-2010]

Born in Montague on December 20, 1942, Craig Flahive became band and orchestra director for the Grand Haven schools, a position he held for 26 years. A trombonist with the Montague High School Band, Craig was awarded a four-year scholarship at Michigan State University. After receiving a master degree, Craig taught four years at Montague before coming to Grand Haven. After retiring from teaching in 1996, he directed the West Michigan Banjo Club. He and his wife Karen had a son Scott, who became a police officer and was shot and killed in Grand Haven on December 13, 1994. Their other children were Christine Merryweather of Shelbyville, Allegan County and Kennard Van Bemmelen of Colorado. Craig passed away on May 9, 2010. [M-Live, May 11, 2010.]

Scott Flahive [1966–1994]

Scott, the son of Craig and Karen Flahive, was born in Grand Haven on September 28, 1966. An officer with the City Department of Public Safety, Scott was shot and killed by Keith Harbin of Covert, Van Buren County on the night of December 13, 1994. Harbin and others had made a violent escape from the Ottawa County Jail, then located near downtown Grand Haven, and were making a rapid exit from the city when Officer Flahive intercepted their car on Beacon Boulevard. Harbin was caught, convicted of the crime, and sentenced to life. Scott was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A permanent memorial on Beacon Boulevard marks the spot where he was killed.

Frederick Lewis Flanders [1887-1961]

In 1929 Fred and Hazel Flanders purchased the Willows Resort property in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township and built a summer home on a portion of the site. They called their estate the Willows. Fred, a Muskegon industrialist, was born in Champion, New York on May 9, 1887. He married Louise Paradis in Highland Park, Wayne County on January 14, 1918. She was born in Michigan around 1892. The couple was residing in Muskegon in 1920. On December 16, 1921 in Muskegon, Fred married Hazel Herrnedun. She was born in Michigan on June 18, 1896 and passed away in Muskegon on July 19, 1975. Fred and Hazel sold the Spring Lake property around 1940 and moved to Dade County, Florida. Fred passed away in 1961.

Milan C. Flanders [1851-1930]

Born in Lockport, New York on March 15, 1851, Milan Flanders moved with his parents to Two Rivers, Wisconsin, and then in 1860 came to Ferrysburg. As a youth he began sailing and obtained one of the first licenses from the local office of the U.S. Steamboat Inspectors. He became one of the best-known marine men of this region. For sixty years he sailed the Great Lakes and was also engineer in some of the old sawmills in the region. He served on board the steamer Merchant, the Lizzie Walsh, the Deer, and the Fanny

M. Rose. He married Emma Axfröd, who, was born in Illinois about 1859. Their daughter Ethel, born about 1877 in Michigan, married Robert S. Burke. Milan died on July 3, 1930 at his home on Pine Street in Ferrysburg and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 5, 1930.]

William M. Flanders [1838- ?]

On April 11, 1870, William Flanders married Hattie Merrill in Spring Lake. Hattie, the daughter of Thomas and Jane Teeple Merrill, was born in 1849. In 1870 William managed the Ferrysburg Hotel, owned by his father-in-law, before moving to Muskegon to work in Thomas's livery. William's and Hattie's son Thomas was born in Ferrysburg on April 28, 1871. A second son, William II, was born in Ferrysburg in February 1873. Another son, Frank, was born in Muskegon on January 12, 1878 and died in Muskegon on October 22, 1896. Hattie passed away in Muskegon on December 21, 1882. William was born in Ohio in 1838; the year of his death was not found, but he was repairing cars in Muskegon as late as 1909.

Hiel Alfred Fletcher [1827-1907]

Heil Fletcher was born in Lincoln, Ontario, Canada on December 23, 1827. According to his great-great-granddaughter Jane Bardwell-Olejniczak "[The brothers] walked by blazed trail from Canada to Michigan. All they brought with them was a dry wood box, two frying pans and two large soup kettles. They cut blocks of wood for chairs. They slept in the loft of another pioneer's cabin the first winter of 1855. In 1855, carpenters by trade, they helped build Michigan's first capital building. To register for the Civil War draft he walked an additional 36 miles to Grand Rapids. Hiel and James were among the first pioneers in Ottawa Station in the Pigeon River Area. Hiel paid $75.00 for 80 acres of land in Ottawa county on December 1, 1860 at the Ionia Land Office. Pigeon Creek crossed Hiel's homestead. [Facebook posting, October 22, 2021, slightly edited.] Hiel married Catherine Amanda Cox in 1859 in Ottawa County. She lived from 1839 to 1907. They had 12 children. Hiel died in Olive on September 21, 1907. He and Catherine were buried at Olive Township Cemetery.

James Fletcher [1824-1899]

Hiel Fletcher's brother James Fletcher was born in Lincoln, Ontario, Canada on June 2, 1824. He married Rebecca Jane Ostrosser, who lived from November 28, 1831 to March 4, 1910. They had eight children: Sarah Fletcher [1850-1901]; Hiel J. Fletcher [1854-1913]; Rebecca Fletcher [1857-1898]; William Fletcher [1859-1913]; John Fletcher [1862-1937]; Hiram Fletcher [1865-1932]; Ferdinand Fletcher [1870-1952]; and Wellington Fletcher [1873-1935]. Sarah was born in Canada, the others in Michigan. James passed away in Olive Township on December 22, 1899. [See also Hiel Alfred Fletcher.]

Timothy Fletcher [1804–1879]

In 1854 Henry Pennoyer and Timothy Fletcher contracted with the U.S. Post Office to carry the mail between Grand Haven and Manistee. Two years later Timothy was county clerk and register of deeds for Ottawa County. On December 15, 1855 he bought 40 acres in Wright Township, and he also had land holdings in Muskegon County. In the 1860 and 1870 censuses he was listed as sawyer. In 1877, with David E. Rose as his partner, Timothy owned and operated the Rose & Fletcher Planing Mill in Grand Haven.

On November 8, 1856, in Franklin County, Massachusetts, Timothy married Catherine "Kate" C. Saxton, who was born on August 8, 1822 and died on January 25 [February 28], 1881. Timothy was born in 1804, died on February 13, 1879, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frederick R. Fletemeyer [1894-1976]

In 1967 the Medallion firm, with Frederick R. Fletemeyer, president, opened at 917 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Frederick was born on March 2, 1894 in Lafayette, Indiana and died in Grand Haven on April 5, 1976. On November 28, 1918 he married Hulda M. Irmischer in Allen County, Indiana. She was born on March 20, 1896 and passed away in Detroit in May 1969. In Grand Haven Fred resided at 1119 South De Spelder and then at 1206 South Beacon in the Williamsburg Apartments.

Angus “Andy” Floto [1865-1930]

Born in Port Elgin, Canada in 1865 [1864], Angus Floto came to Grand Rapids when he was 17 years old. In Grand Haven he became proprietor of the River View Hotel, located at the corner of Franklin Street and Harbor Drive. He was a member of the Eagles and Moose. On March 17, 1897 in Grand Rapids, Andy married Elizabeth Van Dorple of that city. Elizabeth was born about 1873 in The Netherlands. The Flotos lived at the hotel and had a son, Percy, born on March 21, 1903, and a daughter, Mamie, who was found dead in her bed one morning without any indication of illness. She lived from 1898 to 1917. Andy never completely recovered from the shock. Sometime after 1910 he sold his interest in the hotel and moved to a farm in Spring Lake Township. Andy died from angina pectoris in a field near his farm on October 15, 1930. He and Mamie were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 15, 1930.]

Percy C. Floto [1903-1976]

The son of Angus and Elizabeth Floto of Grand Haven, Percy was born on March 21, 1903. Percy married Cornelia Ann Bolt, the daughter of Henry J. and Rena Hoffman Bolt of Grand Haven. Cornelia, who was born about 1908, graduated from the Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing in 1931, and served as a nurse at that hospital for several years before joining Hatton Hospital in Grand Haven. Early in his career, Percy worked for the railroad. He and Cornelia bought an appliance store at 123 Washington on November 1, 1946. Three years later they bought out partners Nelson Fisher and Louis Breitels II and changed the store from a home appliance center to a gift shop. Percy died on July 1, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Flotos resided at 1036 Washington. Their children were Mary Joyce, who married Thomas Ellingboe; Elizabeth Ann, who married Richard Peel; and Peter C., who moved to Washington, D.C. with his wife, Mary Ann. Cornelia died in Grand Haven on October 16, 2004. [Tribune obituary, October 18, 2004.]

Joseph Flynn [1866-1939]

Joseph Flynn was proprietor of a saloon located at 332 Madison in 1910. Working with him as bartender was Nathaniel P. Phelps. Joseph was born in Michigan on September 10, 1866. Joseph and Nathaniel lived on the premises. Both were single men in 1910. By 1920 Joseph was a farmer in Barry County. He died in Barry County on February 28, 1939 and was buried at Mt. Calvary Cemetery in Hastings. On July 15, 1920 in Barry County, he married Ella Burns, who lived from 1869 to 1947 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Edward Lynn Fochtman I [1929-1983]

Born in Petoskey on September 3, 1929, Edward Fochtman attended Muskegon Community College and earned a master's degree from Highland University in Las Vegas. A resident of Grand Haven, Edward was Personnel manager for Sealed Power in Muskegon. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Grand Haven and the Knights of Columbus. On September 3, 1950 he married Beatrice Padila in Las Vegas. Their children included Gloria, who married Steven Martin of Coopersville; Karen, who married James Indger of Kentwood; Edward II of Spring Lake; and David of Yuma, Arizona. The Fochtmans lived at 1430 Sheldon. Edward died in March 1983. [Tribune obituary, September 3, 1983.]

Isadore Fogelin [1878-1932]

Isadore and Marie Fogelin were born in Sweden, he on October 8, 1878 and she about 1877. They were married about 1904 and resided at 311 Franklin in Grand Haven. They owned and operated Fogelin's Cloak Store at 130 Washington. Prior to coming to Grand Haven, they resided in Washington, Ohio. Isadore passed away in Springfield, Ohio on May 2, 1932.

David Lloyd Folkert [1948-2010]

Born on January 14, 1948 in Holland, David, a graduate of Valparaiso University School of Law, was admitted to the Michigan bar in 1973 and joined a law firm in Holland. On June 12, 1970, he married Carol Rycenga, the daughter of Louis and Betty Groneveld Rycenga. She was born in Grand Haven on April 20, 1948. From 1985 until his death, David was the owner of Harbor Steel and Supply Corporation. Eleven years before his death at age 62, David started Bold Furniture Manufacturing Company in Spring Lake. In 2006 Bold merged with Competitive Edge Wood Specialty Products, a Muskegon Company. The production of office furniture continued at both locations after the merger. David died on September 23, 2010 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Carol was a docent at the Muskegon Museum of Art [MMA] and received several awards: Docent of the Year, MMA Volunteer of the Year [twice], and the MMA Star Honor in 2018. Carol passed away on August 30, 2020, three years after being diagnosed with cancer. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. David and Carol had two children: Cindy, who married Brad Haverkamp of Grand Rapids, and Todd.

James Henry Follen [1881-1958]

James Follen started Follen Tool Company in Grand Haven on May 1, 1941. He was born in Wisconsin on July 27, 1881, died about April 22, 1958, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He married Amanda Newuman, who came from Freeport, Illinois, where she was born on March 24, 1900. They were married on February 14, 1918 in Freeport. Amanda passed away on January 8, 1970 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Follens resided at 216 Alden in Spring Lake. They had a son Maurice Follen, who was born on September 18, 1919 in Grinnell, Iowa, died on December 25, 1980, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They also had a daughter Virginia Marie Follen, who was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin on June 5, 1923, married William Gunckel [1920-1970] in Spring Lake on November 19, 1941, and died on May 24, 1985 in Grand Rapids.

Maurice James Follen I [1919-1980]

Maurice Follen was one of three local businessmen who took over Follen Tool Company in 1959. The company was started by Maurice's father, James Follen, in 1941. Maurice married Jane Mary Villar. She was born in Grand Haven on July 9, 1924. The couple resided at 1539 Slayton and later moved to 104 South Ferry. They had a son, James J. Follen. Jane worked at Follen Tool with her husband. Maurice was born on September 18, 1919 in Grinnell, Iowa, died on December 25, 1980, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jane passed away on November 15, 2022.

Oliver Fonger [1840-1916]

Oliver Fonger, who was born on Christmas Day, 1840 in Ontario, Canada, settled in Crockery Township before 1880. He and his wife Sarah lived on a 40-acre farm in Section 36. Sarah was born in Canada in October 1841. Their children, all born in Canada, were Charles, born about 1865; Robert, born about 1870; and Mary, born about 1872. Oliver died December 28, 1916 and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery with other family members.

Edward Fons [1872-1948]

Around 1900 Ed Fons owned a saloon at 217 West Savidge Street in Spring Lake. By 1920 he was a hotel keeper, probably at the Central House located at 201 West Savidge. He was born on July 26, 1872 in Grand Rapids. On May 4, 1892 in Grand Rapids, he married Nellie Meyer. Nellie, also a native of Michigan, was born around 1875. They had at least one son, Isaac L., who was born on February 28, 1901 and died on March 22, 1956, and three daughters: Catherine, who was born on August 15, 1892, died about June 15, 1975, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Lizzie, born on February 8, 1899; and Edna, born about 1910. Isaac, Catherine, and Lizzie were born in Grand Rapids. Edna married Francis H. Lange. Nellie died on December 18, 1924. Edward passed away on June 15, 1948 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as were the other deceased family members.

Aart Henry "Orie" [Arie] Foppen II [1881-1921]

Orie Foppen was born in Michigan on June 30, 1881. His widow, Adrianna [Adrienne], continued to reside at 519 Wallace Street in Grand Haven after his death on March 12, 1921. Orie worked aboard the tug H.J. Dornbos, which was 25 miles out in Lake Michigan when he was swept overboard during a gale. His body was never found. Orie was the son of Aart and Magdalena Foppen of Grand Haven. Adrianna, a native of

The Netherlands and the daughter of Arie and Adrianna Boon of Grand Haven, was born about 1878. The Boon family immigrated to the United States in 1911. Orië and Adrianna were married in Grand Haven on July 16, 1914. They had two daughters, both born locally: Magdalena, who was born about 1916, and Katherine, who was born in 1919 and died in 1993. In 1918 Orië was employed at Eagle Ottawa. Adrianna, who was born in The Netherlands on March 23, 1879, died on November 10, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband's parents. [Muskegon Chronicle article, "Early Fishing Days," April 26, 1930.]

Joseph Chandler Ford I [1850-1912]

Joseph Ford joined the Spring Lake Iron Company in 1896 and became secretary and later general manager of the firm. He stayed with the company until it closed in 1912. Joseph was born on April 28, 1850 in New York. His wife, Alice, also from New York, lived from August 5, 1853 to August 20, 1896. Joseph and Mary, lived in the Village of Fruitport with their two children, Harry Pickands Ford [1882-1902] and Joseph Chandler Ford II [1885-1966]. Harry died of "accidental drowning." Joseph started his career as a bookkeeper. He died on March 5, 1912. He, Alice, and Harry were buried at Fruitport Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 1896.]

Adrian Louis "Tom" Foreman [1914-1996]

Adrian Foreman in 1955 founded Foreman Manufacturing, first located on Warner Street in Grand Haven Township and later at 403 Davis Street in Grand Haven. He was born in Harrison, Indiana on October 4, 1914 and died in Grand Haven on November 14, 1996. On July 1, 1939, he married Helen Frances Schooler. She was born on March 11, 1921 and died on December 28, 2010. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He resided at 16159 Mercury Drive.

George Forrest [Forest] [1842-1920]

Owner of the City Flour Mills [Forrest Bros. Grist Mill], George Forrest arrived in Grand Haven in 1879 when he purchased a flour business and established the firm of Forrest Bros., located at 13 South Second Street. The business may date as far back as 1868. John G. Forrest was the brother who joined him in the business. George was born in Scotland on November 20, 1842 and spent some time in Canada before coming to Grand Haven. His wife Elizabeth was born in Ontario on April 4, 1842. They were married in 1864 and immigrated to the United States in 1880. Their children, as enumerated in the 1880 census, were born in Canada: John G., born about 1865; Elizabeth Jane, born about 1867; Maggie, born about 1869; Georgina, born about 1872; Agnes, born in 1875; William, born in 1878; and John G. Agnes and William died in Grand Haven in December 1880 from croup. The family resided on Howard Street. By 1892 the business and the family had left Grand Haven, and in 1900 the Forrests were living in Flint, where George was a dealer in produce. He died in Flint on October 1, 1920 and was buried at Gracelawn Cemetery with Elizabeth, who died two years earlier on April 13.

Louis Fortino [1878-1957]

Louis Fortino was born in Saint Ippolito, Italy, on March 28, 1878. In 1899 he married Chiara "Clara Mary" Quinterri, who was from the same village. Unable to obtain the necessary papers to enter the United States, in 1900 Louis went alone to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he worked as a cowboy. Three years later Joseph Fabiano, a friend who had immigrated to Holland, Michigan and started a fruit business, was able to find work for Louis, allowing him to enter the United States. He started with the Veneklasen Brick Yard in Zeeland and then from 1903 to 1907 he was employed by Donnelly & Kelly Glassworks [Donnelly Corporation] in Holland.

In 1907 Louis bought a small fruit and cigar shop in Muskegon for $25. By 1911 he had saved enough money to send for Clara Mary and their son, Frank, who was born in Italy in 1900. At the same time, Louis sold his business in Muskegon and bought Charlie Spadafore's fruit and vegetable store at 126 Washington in Grand Haven. [The Muskegon City Directory for 1912 listed Louis as a confectioner, located at 187 West Western, and at 145 West Western the next year.] Louis named his shop Grand Haven Fruit Company and sold both retail and wholesale. In 1923 Louis had a new building erected at 114 Washington. He rented the commercial space and resided with his family in an apartment upstairs. When the building at 126 Washington was destroyed by fire in 1930, Louis moved his business to the new building, where it remains today. Eventually offering groceries, deli items, candy, and beverages, Fortino's store became the oldest retail business in Grand Haven to be owned by the same family throughout its existence.

Mary died around June 12, 1943. Louis passed away on November 29, 14 years later, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. Their son Frank on November 25, 1915 enlisted with the Grand Haven-based 126th Infantry and was wounded at the Battle of Chateau Thierry on August 1, 1918. By 1930 he was living in Portland, Oregon with his wife, Rose and their son, Louis. Ten years later he was still living in Portland but had begun work with the United States Post Office. He died on April 28, 1974. Another son, Paul Francis, was born on April 16, 1913 and took over management of the store. A third son, Mike, was born on August 16, 1916 and passed away in Grand Haven on January 18, 2006. A daughter, Mary, married Tony P. Pontarelli; and a fourth son, Alphonso, died in 1937 at the age of 17 from an injury sustained while playing football for Grand Haven High School. [Tribune obituaries, June 8, 9, and 14, 1943, November 30, 1957, and January 19, 2006.]

Paul Francis Fortino [1913-1999]

Paul, born in Grand Haven on April 16, 1913, was the first child of Louis and Chiara Fortino to be born in America. As a boy Paul raised rabbits behind the family store at 114 Washington, and he worked for Al Miller at Miller's Sanitary Dairy on Fulton Street. Paul graduated cum laude with a degree in Chemical Engineering from the University of Notre Dame.

Paul went to work for Seagram's Distillery in Lawrenceburg, Indiana, where he met and married Mary Jane Knue on April 23, 1941. Jane was born in Lawrenceburg, Indiana to Joseph and Elizabeth Powell Knue on August 31, 1916. Later in 1941 Paul and Mary relocated to Grand Haven, where they purchased the family business begun by Paul's father in 1907, first in Muskegon and then at 114 Washington Street. During World War II Paul served for five years with the Army Corps of Engineers. While he was away Jane ran the store with the help of her father-in-law. Not long after the war ended Paul and Jane decided to change from a wholesale and retail outlet to a "gourmet" store. It turned out to be a wise move. In 1977 they sold the store to their daughter and her husband, Margaret and Ken Michlitsch, who continued to operate the business into the 21st century. Jane also ran the Gift Shop at 116 Washington.

Paul was a board member of the North Ottawa Community Hospital, the Harbor Commission, and the Highway Commission. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce and director of Security First/Pacesetter Bank [Old Kent/Fifth Third]. He was a charter member of the Elks, Eagles, and Knights of Columbus, and he was a parishioner at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Jane retired from the store in 1979. She was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church for 58 years. Besides Margaret, the Fortino children included Mary Theresa Kohler of San Francisco, California; Paul of Portland, Oregon; Rita, who married John Brook of Grand Haven; and John of Spring Lake. The Fortino family lived at 535 Clinton Street in a house once owned by the Thomas Kiel family. Jane passed away on March 15, 1999 and five months later, on August 13, Paul died in Grand Haven. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Delbert E. Fortney [1889-1954]

Born in Ottawa County [Muskegon/Calhoun County] on April 19, 1889, Delbert by 1917 was chief of the Grand Haven Police Department and in the early 1920s he was sheriff of Ottawa County. He married Lizzie Anthony in Grand Rapids on November 7, 1908. Lizzie was born in Indiana about 1889. By 1910 they were separated, and Lizzie was living with her parents in Croton, Newaygo County, while Delbert remained in Grand Haven. He married Lucy [Lexey] V. Gulliver in Grand Haven on December 27, 1917. She was born in Michigan in March 1896. They resided in Delbert's mother's house at 335 De Spelder. His mother, Irena [Irene] Leutz Fortney, was born in Ohio about 1856. Delbert died on June 22, 1954.

Reuben [Reubin] C. Fosha [1833-1871]

Born in New York in 1833, Reuben Fosha helped publish the first issue of the Grand Haven News, distributed on December 22, 1858. He married Amanda McNeal in Ionia on July 3, 1861. She was born in Canada about 1839. The Foshas had a daughter Ellen, who was born around 1864 in Ionia. Other children were Lillian, born in 1863; Minnie, born in Ionia on November 26, 1868, and James M., born in Ionia in 1870. The family was still residing in Ionia in 1880. Reuben stayed in the printing business. He died on September 1, 1871 in Ionia.

Anton Fosheim [1882-1941]

When Challenge Stamping and Porcelain Company was organized in Grand Haven in 1929, Anton Fosheim was appointed head of the metal department. Anton, a native of Norway, was born on July 9, 1882. He married Iva Hanson in Detroit on December 31, 1917. Iva was born in Michigan around 1892. They had four children, all born locally: Ivan, born on December 21, 1918; Jack, born about 1923; and twins, Edward and Evelyn, born about 1928. The family resided at 507 North Sixth Street. Anton died on January 27, 1941 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Iva passed away around December 12, 1960 and was buried near her husband.

Ivan V. Fosheim I [1918-2008]

In 1949 Ivan Fosheim was named Plant superintendent of Challenge Stamping. The son of Anton and Iva Hanson Fosheim, Ivan was born on December 21, 1918 and died in Saline, Washtenaw County on July 5, 2008. He married Barbara C. Piper, who was born in Lewis, Iowa on August 20, 1919. Barbra died in Ann Arbor on July 21, 2010. The Fosheims had at least one son, Ivan II, who lived from December 13, 1943 to May 27, 2006. Their daughters were Susan, who married Irwin Schwarts of Schaumburg, Illinois; Ellen, who married Rick Brengle of South Lyon, Ionia County; and Robin, who married Dan Hoag of Saline. The family resided at 306 Ottawa Avenue and later at 18193 Holcomb Road in Grand Haven Township. [Tribune obituary, August 2, 2010.]

Edmund [Edward] A. Fosler [1863-1937]

Edmund Fosler raised fruit on 36 acres in Section 23 of Spring Lake Township, where he settled in 1907. Before that he was located in Section 24 of Robinson Township. Edmund was born in Michigan in 1863 and died in 1937. His wife, Edith E., was approximately a year older and a native of Canada. She passed away on January 20, 1945 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband.

Abraham [Abram] Dayton Foster [1849-1925]

Abraham Foster was a farmer and stockman in Section 13 of Robinson Township as early as 1864 and was still there in 1910. He was born in Alexandria, New York on October 2, 1849 [1850]. On May 25, 1870 in Grand Haven, he married Ella Josepha Chapel, who was born in Syracuse, New York on August 5, 1850. The Fosters had a daughter, Josie M., who was born in Michigan around 1874, and two sons: George C., who was born in Bass River in December 1879 and on July 18, 1903 married Daisy Vos in Grand Haven, and Leon, born in February 1884. The family was still in Robinson Township in 1900. Abraham died on September 17, 1925 in Flint. Ella passed away in Flint on January 30, 1943.

Leonard Foster [1842-1866]

While living in Port Austin, Huron County, Leonard Foster on February 23, 1864 enlisted as private in Company H of the 3rd Michigan Cavalry. He was mustered out on February 12, 1866, died on December 8 that year, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with his parents and other family members. Leonard was the son of Edmond [1814-1898] and Mahala McCue Foster [1824-1884]. William P. Foster was Leonard's brother.

William P. Foster [1856-1929]

Born in Jefferson County, New York in January 1856, William was the son of Edmond [Edward] and Mahala McCue Foster. Edmond was born in England in 1814 and passed away in Robinson Township on April 9, 1898. William moved to the Grand Haven area in the 1870s and became postmaster at the Village of Robinson. He was proprietor of a general store there, where he also owned a house. Foster's store, located at 104th Avenue and Buchanan, was also known as Gleaners Hall. The building was used as a school when Maplewood School burned down. On January 19, 1877 in Robinson Township William married Emma Robinson. The daughter of Alfred and Julia King Robinson, she was born in March 1858 in Robinson Township. The Fosters had a son, Thomas, born in March 1889. Emma passed away in 1911. William married Abbie Westerhof Robinson in Grand Haven on January 15, 1916. She was born in The Netherlands in 1860. William died in 1929. He and Emma were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery, as was William's father and his mother, Mahala, who lived from 1824 to May 2, 1884, and Abbie, who died in 1939.

Anselm [Austin, Anton] Fox [Fuchs] [1864-1930]

In 1900 Anselm Fox was a finisher in a Grand Haven factory. A few years later he owned a saloon at 13 North Second. He resided with his family at 310 North Third. Anselm's wife, Mary Rinehart [Rhinehart/Remhardt], lived from 1862 to 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Both Anselm and Mary were natives of Germany, where he was born in 1864. Their children were Philip, who was born in Sturgis Michigan in 1883; Frank, who lived from December 24, 1886 to March 7, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; William, who was born in Grand Haven on May 25, 1888, married Bertha Van Den Boscsch in Grand Haven on June 24, 1909, worked for the Story & Clark Piano Company, and died in Grand Haven on June 26, 1973; Clarence, who was born on July 7, 1890, worked at Challenge Machinery, died in Grand Haven on November 6, 1972, and was buried at Lake Forest; Cora L., born in September 1893; Leo, who was born in Sturgis, St. Joseph County on March 7, 1895, died about February 20, 1922, and was buried at Lake Forest; and Allie [Ollie]. Allie was buried at Lake Forest with other family members. On April 20, 1908, Anselm [cited as Austin] married Anna Fitzpatrick, who was born in Michigan in 1880. Anselm died in Grand Rapids on January 17, 1930.

Frank [Franklin] Fox [1847-1934]

Born in Pennsylvania in August 1847, Frank Fox moved to Michigan about 1867 and then to Spring Lake 15 years later. He worked for the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company, and about 1897 he opened an ice and coal business at 213 Barber Street, cutting the ice from Spring Lake. For five years he was town Marshal. He sold his ice business to Tony Verplank in 1912 and died in 1934. His wife Mary was born in November 1853 in Michigan.

Frank J. Fox I [1849-1903]

Born in Portland, Ionia County on May 3, 1849, Frank Fox came to Grand Haven with his mother in 1850. His mother, Mathilda Gardner Fox, was born in England around 1821. She married Giles Woodbury of Allendale after her first husband's death. Frank began lumbering and in 1881 to 1882 he put up a sawmill in Section 31 of Grand Haven Township. In the first few years he cut over a million feet of lumber annually. He boomed his logs down the Grand River, beginning at Bass River. He filled many public offices, including school director of Allendale for 11 years. Elected to the Board of Supervisors, he also was a justice of the peace, and in 1900 he became county treasurer. He owned a farm on the Grand River opposite Eastmanville, where he engaged in general farming and made a specialty of raising fruit and Percheron horses.

On April 25, 1891 in Allendale, Frank married Jeanette [Jeannette], daughter of William Alexander of Georgetown Township. Jeanette was born in Canada about 1859. Frank died at his home at 614 Washington Street from "cancer of the bowels" on April 24, 1903 and was buried in Allendale. Sometime after 1908, Jeanette and her son moved to Ann Arbor, where she bought a house and ran a boarding facility for college girls. By 1930 Jeanette was living alone in Grand Rapids. She died in December that year. Their son, Frank II, died about a year prior to his mother. [Tribune obituaries, April 24, 1903 and December 10, 1930.]

George H. Fox [1813-1899]

In the 1893 Compendium George Fox was classified as “carpenter” in Grand Haven. He was born in 1813 and died on April 7, 1899. [Tribune obituary, April 8, 1899.]

Joseph Charles Fox II [1922-2005]

The son of Joseph Charles and Delia Cafferty Fox, Joseph II was born in Newark, New Jersey on August 7, 1922. He served with the Navy during WWII. He also served in the Merchant Marines and the Coast Guard. From 1961 to 1963 he commanded Woodbine, when it was stationed in Grand Haven. Douglas A. Fox of Wilmington, North Carolina was his son. Captain Fox passed away in Mount Pleasant, South Carolina on October 11, 2005. [Tribune obituary, October 20, 2005.]

Phillip Fox [Fuchs] [1882-1966]

Phillip Fox was foreman at a machine shop in the early 1900s. His parents were Anselm and Mary Rinehart Fox [Fuchs]. On June 6, 1907 in Grand Haven, Phillip married Emma W. Draeger, a native of Michigan. Emma lived from 1884 to about September 2, 1923. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with their son, Stuart A., who was born on June 6, 1908 and died about October 22, 1929. They also had a daughter, Louise, who was born about 1911. Phillip was born in Sturgis, St. Joseph County on November 18, 1882, passed away around February 23, 1966, and also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Phillip and his family resided at 619 Columbus in the early 1900s and later at 510 Madison.

Raymond Leshar Fox [1880-1965]

Born on October 14, 1880 in Clinton County, Ray Fox came to Spring Lake in 1916, from Mancelona in Kalkaska County. He began working with his father in carpentry about 1897, but in Spring Lake he was a machinist for ten years and a mail carrier for four. Ray also operated an auto repair garage. In 1926 he had an evergreen nursery that was located on the corner of M-104 and Fruitport Road, east of Spring Lake, and he was Maintenance superintendent for the Ottawa County Highway Department for 20 years until his retirement in 1941. He built a fine telescope, grinding the lens himself, and he constructed the family home almost entirely unaided. During his lifetime he planted thousands of trees, usually clumps of blue spruce. On June 28, 1905 in Antrim, Antrim County, he married Clara M. Baier. They were avid “rockhounds” and charter members of the Grand Rapids Mineral society. Clara was born in Michigan about 1884. The Foxes had three daughters, all born in Michigan, including Kathleen, born about 1906; Marie G., born about 1908; and Arlene R., born about 1920. The family resided at 15661 Central Avenue in Spring Lake Township. Ray died in April 1965. [Tribune articles “Will Retire From,” March 22, 1941, “Ray Fox Builds Own House, at 74,” June 23, 1955, and “Foxes of SL Rockhounds at Heart,” October 26, 1959.]

Stuart A. Fox [Fuchs] [1908-1929]

Born in Grand Haven on June 6, 1908, Stuart was the son of Phillip and Emma Fox [Fuchs]. Stuart was a member of St. John’s German Lutheran Church. He served aboard ship as a porter and was a victim of the car ferry Milwaukee disaster in November 1929. Stuart’s body was recovered near the Getz Farm north of Holland on November 12. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his parents. [Tribune obituary, November 13, 1929.]

Frank Fraga [Frega] [1839-1911]

Frank Fraga served as assistant to Captain Emanuel Davidson, who was lighthouse keeper in Grand Haven from 1883 until his retirement on April 1, 1900. Frank was then assigned the post and held it until his death on September 17, 1911 at age 72. He was born in Portugal on January 5, 1839 and arrived in Grand Haven in 1868. Prior to 1883 he was a saltwater sailor, serving on whaling boats. He rounded Cape Horn [the south tip of Africa] four times, and he was with Commodore Perry aboard the first foreign ship to enter a Japanese port. An American locomotive was among the articles the Commodore dropped off in Japan. In 1868 Frank married Christine [Gesine/Geziena/Sena] Streng in Grand Haven. She was born on August 28, 1838 in Utrecht, The Netherlands and passed away on July 21, 1898. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Their son John Fraga was born on April 30, 1870. [Tribune article “Keeper of the Light Passes,” September 18, 1911.]

John Fraga [de Fraga] [1870-1921]

John Fraga, who lived from April 30, 1870 to June 10, 1921, was the son of Frank and Christine Streng Fraga of Grand Haven. John married Louise Trotter in Grand Haven on June 27, 1899. They had a daughter Helen Lablame Fraga, who was born in Grand Haven on November 20, 1901, and a son Robert John “Jack” de Fraga, born on June 27, 1906, also in Grand Haven. Helen married James M. Spencer [1888-1961] in Grandville on October 26, 1921. She died in May 1984. Louise lived from September 19, 1875 to April 19, 1946. John and Louise were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert John “Jack” Fraga [Defraga, de Fraga] [1906-1950]

Jack, the son of John and Louise Estelle Trotter Fraga, was born in Grand Haven on January 7, 1906. His father, John Fraga, the son of Frank and Christine Fraga of Grand Haven, married Estelle Trotter in Grand Haven on June 27, 1899. Frank was lighthouse keeper in Grand Haven from 1900 to 1911. The family name wavered between “Fraga” and “de Fraga.” Jack preferred the latter. After his father’s death on June 10, 1921, Jack, his sister Helen, and their mother moved to Grand Rapids. In 1930 he was living with his mother in Grand Rapids and working as a secretary with an advertising agency. Ten years later he was self-employed and living in Montague with the Joseph Sadony family. Jack, an avid sailor and artist, worked as an instructor for the White Lake Yacht Club’s sailing school, became friends with Club members, and was invited frequently to crew with the Joseph Sadony family on their boat, the Nemesis. Sadony, a philosopher and psychic of note, owned 80 acres in Montague, where he built a home called “Valley of the Pines” and established Educational Research Laboratories. Jack included Valley of the Pines in the upper left corner of his 1934 map of White Lake.

Jack created the masthead for the White Lake Yacht Club newsletter. His other works of art included a commissioned piece for the Governor of Michigan in 1940. He also created a limited-edition collection of one hundred distinctive, elegant pen and ink prints of White Lake featuring some of the lake’s yachts, local restaurants and resorts, sailors, and other items of interest. The prints were similar, except each one was dedicated to a different skipper on the lake.

Erwin “Ike” Uihlein, president of the Schlitz Brewing Company of Milwaukee, in the early 1930s, purchased a 120-foot, steel-hulled, three-masted schooner named the Atlantic. Uihlein frequently sailed across Lake Michigan to White Lake and eventually joined the White Lake Yacht Club. He invited Jack, known to be an expert sailor, to join the crew of the Atlantic, and later he was her skipper.

During World War II, the schooner was assigned to the so-called “Hooligan” Navy, made up of about 4,000 vessels that were on the lookout for German U-boats. On December 11, 1942, Jack enlisted in the U.S. Coast Guard and served as Chief Boatswain’s Mate on the Atlantic, now named the Blanco, later referred to by the Coast Guard as a cutter. The vessel, stationed most of the time at New Orleans, logged about 66,000 sea miles and was credited with sinking two U-boats. Jack remained with the Coast Guard until November 19, 1945. After he was discharged, Jack returned to White Lake as yachtsman and harbor master and was instrumental in forming the White Lake Coast Guard Auxiliary in 1947, the year the Coast Guard station moved from its present location to a site near the old White River channel.

Jack made at least two interpretive maps, in addition to his map of Michigan: one of Spring Lake in 1931 and another of White Lake in 1934. His silhouette of Dewey Hill appeared on the front page of the Grand Haven Tribune in the early 1940s. Other of his drawings were printed in the Centennial edition of the Tribune on August 1, 1934. In 1934 he drafted a similar map of White Lake and six years later he was commissioned by Luren Dickinson, Michigan’s governor, to draw a poster/map of the state to attract tourists.

Jack died in Grand Rapids on September 3, 1950 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in Grand Haven.

William France [1889-1969]

Bill France was born in Lancashire, England on June 4, 1889 and arrived in the United States in 1912. By 1920 he and his family were living in Crockery Township. He was one of the early founders of the Tri-Cities Historical Society and helped raise funds for remodeling the Grand Trunk Depot in the early 1970s. Bill married Ella [Ellen] Emma Louise Miller in Summit, Ohio on April 22, 1915. They and their six children resided at 12223 Apple Drive in Nunica. Bill was listed as a sawyer at a cabinet shop in the 1930 census. Ella was born on September 23, 1889 in Ohio. They had five children, including William Asher France, who lived was born on June 15, 1915 and passed away on January 15, 1977, and Annabelle M. France. Bill died on January 15, 1969 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Ella passed away on June 27 four years later and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was their son, William.

Ernest William Franks [Frank] [1898-1987]

Born in Grand Haven on November 16, 1898, Ernest was the son of James and Shirley Franks. Ernest started working in his father's shop, Franks Flower Shop and Greenhouse, at the age of 13. His large garden at his home at 835 Washington extended from Columbus Street east to De Spelder. As a boy Ernie started delivering flowers with a sled, then with a horse-drawn delivery wagon, and finally by truck. At the age of 58 he sold the floral business to his two sons. Later one of the sons, William, who was born in 1928, took over the business, which he sold in 1980 to Dan Nash. Dan enlarged the business, which then was located at 915 Washington and renamed it Lakeshore Floral and Gifts and Greenhouses.

On March 24, 1917, Ernie married Jeanette Koning in Grand Haven. Besides their son William, the Franks had another son, James, who was born in Coopersville on November 30, 1918, and they had two daughters, Irene G., born on August 8, 1921, and Evelyn R., born in 1924. Irene married Warren Warber on December 13, 1946 and passed away in Twin Lake, Muskegon County on January 2, 2008. Ernie died at his home at 828 Columbus on February 17, 1987 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jennie was born on July 3, 1893 and passed away in Grand Haven on August 5, 1984, and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, February 17, 1987 and January 4, 2008.]

James Alfred Franks [Frank] [1862-1941]

Born in Allegan on September 23, 1862, James Franks arrived in Grand Haven about 1887 and worked for George Hancock, one of the city's early horticulturists, and founder of Hancock & Sons Wholesale Florists. Jim later worked with James Hancock, son of the founder. Jim purchased the Hancock interest and opened his own floral business, Franks Greenhouse. He was a member of the Methodist Church. He and Sarah A. Matthews were married in Allegan County on September 20, 1887. In Grand Haven they lived at the site of the business, 1215 Washington Street. Sarah was born in Michigan in August 1867 and died about 1969. A son Ernest, who continued his father's business, was born on November 16, 1898. On May 14, 1941, James died from complications following an automobile accident. His sister Belle Franks married James G. Hancock of Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, May 14, 1941.]

James Edward Franks I [1918-2001]

James E. Franks was born in Coopersville on November 30, 1918. The son of Ernest and Jennie Koning Franks, James was named for his grandfather, James Alfred Franks. Jim left Franks Greenhouse, the floral business his grandfather had founded, to join World Vision International, where he worked for 28 years as Midwest Director. During his tenure there, Jim led the Korean Children's Choir on four tours, procured pharmaceutical supplies for developing countries, helped find a cure for leprosy, and sent hygiene and medical kits to Vietnam. In 1980 he and his family returned to Grand Haven, where James and others organized International Aid, headquartered in Spring Lake Township. Ten years later, Jim started Concern International. His office was located next to his home at 253 Dee Road in Muskegon. Jim spent two years in the military during World War II.

On November 10, 1942 in Grand Rapids, Jim married Shirley Anne Stark. Upon their return to Grand Haven in 1980, they moved into the house at 1215 Washington Street, where Jim had lived as a child. The Frankses remained there until their move to Muskegon. Jim and Shirley parented nine children: James E. Franks II of

Grand Haven; Thomas Leslie Franks of Portage, Kalamazoo County; May Lou Ceton of Grand Haven; Nancy Emmerich of Portage; Joyce Israels of Grand Haven; Sue Patrick Van Duinen of East Grand Rapids; Insoon Wayne Redick of Dayton, Tennessee; Busan Hirl Ariga of Moses Lake, Washington; Keum Ja Seong of Covina, California. James died on September 12, 2001. Shirley, who was born in Grand Rapids on October 7, 1924, passed away on November 5, 2019. Jim III and his wife Onolee in 1981 moved into the family home at 1215 Washington Street and were still living there in 2021. [Tribune obituary, September 14, 2001.]

James Frazier [Frazer] [1827-1896]

James Frazier settled in Spring Lake Township around 1863, the year he and his wife came to the United States. They owned a 26-acre farm in Section 15 of Spring Lake Township and owned another 30 acres in adjoining Section 10. Their land was just west of the later Spring Lake Yacht Club. James was born in 1827 in Ireland and died on November 6, 1895. His wife, Mary, was born in June 1836 in Ireland. They had six children, including Julius, who was born in Michigan in July 1865.

Andrew Buchanan Frear [Freer] [1814-1895]

A farmer, Andrew Frear was born in Oakridge, New York on March 18, 1814. On October 17, 1850 he married Elizabeth Nauman in Oakridge. She was born in Pennsylvania on August 14, 1831. Elizabeth died in Spring Lake on December 26, 1924, almost 30 years after her husband's death in Kansas on January 19, 1895, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Among their children were Kate, born about 1853, Myron, born about 1856, and Alfred, born about 1859.

Maurice Harvey Fredricks [1911-1998]

Maurice Fredricks was born in Muskegon on September 2, 1911 and died in Grand Haven on June 21, 1998. He started as a draftsman at Great Lakes Design, but eventually opened his own industrial design and engineering firm, Fredrick's Design, located at 201 Washington Street. On September 7, 1933 in Grand Haven, he married Alyce, the daughter of Benjamin A. and Nellie Kellogg Chamberlain. Alyce was born in Muncie, Indiana on May 11, 1911 and died in Grand Haven on March 2, 2001. Their children were Gar M. of Muskegon; Herman of Pine Island, Florida; Marlyice M. Harte of Cape Coral, Florida; Renee A., who married Larry Galombeck of Grand Haven; and Sally S. Gould of Gainesville, Florida.

Jeduthan [Jonathan] Freeman [@1815-@1851]

On November 1, 1852, Jeduthan Freeman bought a little more than 23 acres in Section 15 of Spring Lake Township. On April 20, 1852, Jeduthan sold to Leonard Thompson, an African American, 160 acres in Section 8 of Spring Lake Township. Prior to his arrival in Spring Lake Township in 1850, Jeduthan lived in Albion, Calhoun County. Born in New York State about 1815, David and his wife Lucinda in 1850 were residing in Spring Lake Township with their two daughters, Mary Freeman and Corianne "Cora" Freeman. Lucinda, also born in New York, was a year younger than her husband. Mary and "Cora" were 8 and 5 years old respectively in 1850. Apparently Jeduthan died not long after the 1850 census, because on September 2, 1855, Lucinda married William T. Smith. Lucinda's daughter Cora died in Ferrysburg on September 11, 1930 under her married name, Cora Hayden.

Andrew Buchanan Freer [1814-1895]

See Andrew Buchanan Frear.

Henry John Freeze [1919-1987]

On May 1, 1956 Henry Freeze left Camfields in Muskegon and formed a partnership with Jerry Maring to purchase the building and equipment of Fred King's business, Metal Stamping Products, located at 530 Elm Street in Ferrysburg. Jerry was president and Henry was secretary-treasurer of the firm. Henry was born in Muskegon on October 26, 1919 and died in Ferrysburg in March 1987. Henry and his wife, Stella J., resided at 17700 Navaho Drive in Ferrysburg. Stella, born on August 2, 1917, was a bookkeeper for Peoples Bank & Trust [Bank One]. She passed away in Grand Haven on December 9, 1999 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Henry.

Ivar R. Fri [1912-1987]

In 1962 Ivar Fri started Fruitport Metal Finishing, a firm that specialized in polishing and buffing, located at 28 North Third Avenue in Fruitport. Ivar was born in Michigan on April 20, 1912 and died in Crockery Township on September 25, 1987. He resided at 51 Circle Drive in Fruitport at the time he started his business. Ivar married Dorothy Margaret Ferris, who was born in Shelby, Oceana County on February 18, 1916 and died in Fruitport on April 12, 1982. Ivar and Dorothy were buried at Fruitport Cemetery.

George Washington Friant [Fryant] [1828-1895]

Born in Lyons, New York, on May 16, 1828, George was the son of Cornelius and Huldah Hatch Morrison Friant, the twin brother of Thomas, and the brother of Caroline, who married James Norris of Grand Haven. Cornelius Vanderbilt Friant, a native of New York State, was an early Michigan pioneer who built the first water-powered sawmills on the Rouge River and was settled in Kent County by 1837. He and Huldah were married in Wayne County, New York in 1827. After starting as a teacher at age 16, George moved to Ottawa County and went to work with John Hopkins when he was 18. Two years later he was working for Galen Eastman. George operated the first lumber and shingle company in the Grand Haven area in the 1850s. The Friant mill, later known as the Beech Tree Mill, was his property and considered one of the best on the river.

On December 24, 1856 George married Cynthia Lucina Pease in Lowell. They had several children, all born in Michigan, including a son, George Morris Friant, who was born in Grand Haven on December 27, 1869 and died in Sparta, Kent County on August 1, 1938. Young George became president of the Retail Clerks Association in Muskegon and was employed at the Jackson Clothing Company in that city. He and his wife, Adda L., were residing in Grand Rapids in 1930. The Friants' other children included Agnes May who was born in Grand Haven in 1860 and on April 10, 1889 married Stillwell Matthews of Muskegon; Dwight P., who was born May 14, 1862, married Bertha L. Williams, and died in Grand Rapids on April 11, 1941; Morrison [Maurice], who was born about 1870, resided in Chicago, and died in a fire in Muskegon on December 21, 1913 along with his 14-year-old son, Stillman; and Arthur, born about 1872. Cynthia passed away about March 15, 1880. George died "of creeping paralysis" on December 11, 1895 in Muskegon and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, December 11, 1895, and Tribune article, "Boy Gives Life To Save Home," December 22, 1913.]

Thomas Jefferson Friant [Fryant] [1840-1927]

Born February 22 [16], 1840, in Plainfield, Kent County, Thomas was the son of Cornelius and Huldah Hatch Friant, the brother of George Friant, and the brother of Caroline Friant, who married James Norris of Grand Haven. Cornelius Friant, a native of New York State, was an early Michigan pioneer who built the first water-powered sawmills on the Rouge River and was settled in Kent County by 1837. He and Huldah were married in Wayne County, New York in 1827. At the age of 18 Thomas moved to Ottawa County and went to work at the Hopkins & Friant Sawmill in Grand Haven Township, where his brother George already was employed. Two years later he was put in charge of Galen Eastman's business. Between 1862 and 1867 Thomas was a druggist and he also became a justice of the peace and town clerk. In 1869 Thomas became partner with Thomas Stewart White. He later worked for the Ottawa County Booming Company to deliver logs down the Grand River to Grand Rapids, Spring Lake, and Grand Haven. In 1877 he and Thomas organized White, Friant, & Company Sawmill in Nortonville, at the site of Colonel Norton's mill of 1837. By 1925 Thomas operated his business from the Michigan Trust Building in Grand Rapids.

Thomas was married twice, first to Harriet "Hattie" E. Wells of Muskegon. They were wed in Muskegon on February 22, 1862. She lived from 1824 to 1918. In 1880 they resided on Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Before the Friants were divorced, they had a son Claude. He was born in 1865 and died in Grand Haven on November 19, 1874. On September 30, 1888 in Marcellus, Cass County, Thomas married Gladys Mildred [Mildred Gladys] Arnold. She was born on February 21, 1864 in Marcellus and died in Grand Rapids on January 23, 1928. Thomas and Gladys resided at 601 Cherry SE in Grand Rapids. Thomas maintained a residence at 244 Morris Avenue SE, in Grand Rapids, but in later life he spent summers in Mt. Kineo, Maine and winters in California. Thomas died on October 30, 1927 at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. He and Gladys were interred in the Friant Mausoleum at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, November 2, 1927.]

Antonino [Anthony] Fricano [1897-1949]

Antonino Fricano was born in Bagheria, Italy on May 12, 1897, died on February 13, 1949, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On November 24, 1918 in Grand Haven, he married Philipena [Phyllis] Capitini. She lived from December 1, 1898 to April 15, 1981. Their sons, Gus and Tom, in 1949 borrowed money from Uncle Cosimo Fricano to purchase Ottawa Tavern at 1400 Fulton. It became known as Fricano's Pizza Tavern. Cosimo, Ignazio, and Mariano Fricano were Antonino's brothers. Antonino's and Philipena's children were Joseph, born about 190; Genevieve, born about 1922; Cosimo "Gus," born in Chicago on September 12, 1925; Thomas, born about 1928; and Pauline, born about 1931. The Fricano family resided at 1426 Columbus. Antonino was a finisher at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company, where Philipena also worked before she and Antonino were married. Antonino and Philipena were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cosimo Fricano [1895-1969]

Cosimo Fricano, who was in Sicily born January 25, 1895, died in Chicago about April 27, 1969 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Vicepina Gentils. Cosimo in 1949 loaned $2,800 to his nephews Gus and Tom Fricano to buy Ottawa Tavern at 1400 Fulton Street, which became known as Fricano's Pizza Tavern. Ignazio and Antonino Fricano were his brothers. Cosimo served with the American Army during WWI and was wounded. Cosimo resided in Grand Haven Township.

Cosimo "Gus" Fricano [1925-1984]

Gus, the son of Antonino and Philipena Fricano, was born in Chicago on September 12, 1925. He married Alex Zack in Grand Haven on February 6, 1954. They had seven children: Marie, who married Bill Laning of Grand Haven; Jeanne, who married John Meyer of Grand Haven; Carol, who married Scott Hunt of Spring Lake; Linda; Philip, who moved to Kalamazoo; and Douglas and Ted, both of whom remained in Grand Haven. The Fricanos lived at 15081 168th Street in Grand Haven Township.

Gus and his brother Tom Fricano owned and managed Fricano's Pizza Tavern at 1400 Fulton Street in Grand Haven, with branches at the time of his death in Holland and Kalamazoo. He served with the armed forces during WWII, was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Grand Haven, the Knights of Columbus, Elks Club, Eagles, the local VFW, and the American Legion. Gus died in Grand Haven on August 11, 1984 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 13, 1984.]

Ignazio Fricano [1903-1973]

Born March 9, 1903 in Bagheria, Sicily, Ignazio Fricano came to Grand Haven in 1922. His brothers Cosimo and Antonino preceded him in death. His other siblings were Mariano of Grand Haven, and Michael, Rose, and Sam, all of Sicily. Ignazio was a veteran of the U.S. Army during WWII. He was a shoemaker by trade but retired from Story & Clark in 1965. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, the American Legion, Eagles, and Knights of Columbus. Ignazio died January 4, 1973 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 5, 1973.]

Joseph Fricano [1929-1930]

Joseph Fricano, who was born on May 20, 1929, died on December 17, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He was the son of Mariano and Vincenza Arnone Fricano.

Mariano Fricano [1900-1976]

Born in Bagheria, Sicily on May 15, 1900 Mariano was the brother of Antonino, Ignazio, and Cosimo Fricano. He retired as a leather finisher from Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. He was a member of St.

Patrick's Catholic Church. On September 13, 1925 he married Jennie Arnone, who was born on November 13, 1905 and died on March 29, 1985. They lived at 1414 Franklin. Their children included Vinci, who married Joseph Domanchuk of Fruitport, and Joseph, of Rolling Meadows, Illinois. Mariano died on December 28, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 29, 1976.]

Albert Fridrich [Frydrich, Friedrich] [1844-1915]

Albert Fridrich and his wife Lena in 1901 purchased from James Jocelyn 200 acres in Section 14 and an abutting 20 acres in Section 11 in Olive Township. The property later was given the address 10030 152nd Avenue. They constructed a 21-room hotel and a two-story house and opened a small zoo as part of a resort they named Fridrich's [Frydrich's] Point Hotel. Albert was born in 1844 in Germany and immigrated to the United States in 1850. Lena, also from Germany, was born about 1876 and came to America in 1892. The couple was married about 1900. In 1910 the Fridriches were residing in Waukegan, Illinois, where Albert owned and managed Hotel Fridrich. In 1920, five years after her husband's death, Lena sold the Olive Township property to William and Lena Styx. In 1998 Ottawa County purchased the site and converted the house and land to a park called Pine Bend.

Fred W. Frietchen [1868-1949]

Fred Frietchen, a farmer and stockman with 80 acres in Section 13 of Robinson Township, settled in the area in 1908 and was still there in 1930. His wife, Mina [Elmina/Myna] Fast, was born in Ohio in 1878, died on March 26, 1937, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Fred, also a native of the Buckeye state, was born in Kent, Ohio on May 19, 1868, died on August 19, 1949, and was buried with his wife. They were married around 1897 and had at least two children: William, who was born in Ohio on August 9, 1895, and John D., who was born locally on May 3, 1906.

John D. Frietchen [Fritchen] [1906-1986]

The son of Fred and Mina Fast Frietchen, John was born in Michigan on May 3, 1906 and died on March 17, 1986. On August 7, 1925 in Grand Haven, he married Margaret H. Clausen, a native of Wisconsin. Margaret lived from November 11, 1902 to September 1993. In 1930 the couple was residing on Exchange Street in Spring Lake. John was a grainer at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company.

William Frederick Frietchen I [Fritchen] [1895-1952]

Spring Lake resident William Frietchen was born in Ohio on August 9, 1895. He was the son of Red and Mina Fast Frietchen. In 1920 William was a riveter at Johnston Boiler. On April 8, 1918 he married Elsie Makin, who was then 16 years old. That marriage ended in divorce. William and Elsie had one son. On November 19, 1921 William married Catherine Margaret Albright in Grand Haven. After William's death on December 4, 1952, Catherine continued to live at 233 Meridian in Spring Lake Village, a home that remained in the family into the 21st century. On June 4, 1959 she married Gustav Barbrick, who lived from November 20, 1891 to December 1969. Gustav was the son of Karl and Christina Barbrick. Catherine was born on May 22, 1905 and died on August 20, 1987.

William Frederick Frietchen II [1918-1993]

Born on May 18, 1918, William II the son of William Frietchen, was a resident of Spring Lake. He was employed at Eagle Ottawa as a boiler maintenance man. He died on March 19, 1993 in the Village and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He and his wife, Ruth Rae Swanson, resided at 739 Fall Street in Spring Lake. A son, Larry William., who was born on November 20, 1953, died from accidental injuries on May 14, 2002 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On June 14, 1985 Larry married Lynn Corder in Spring Lake. [Tribune obituary, May 15, 2002.]

Eli De Lancey Frink [1833-1899]

By 1880 Eli Frink owned a fruit farm in Section 22 of Spring Lake Township. Eli was born in Solon, New York on March 16, 1833. He married Lois [Louise], Norton, who came from Ohio, where she was born in 1845. Eli and Lois had at least one surviving child, Edith L., who was born locally in 1882. Four other children died in infancy. Eli died on December 28, 1899, four years after Lois. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Stanley K. Frisbie [1909-1984]

For a short time in the late 1920s Stanley Frisbie managed Federal Dry Cleaning at 17 Washington. Born on June 6, 1909 in Cleveland, Ohio, Stanley moved to Fruitport as a boy and died there on May 9, 1984.

David Lee Fritz I [1927-2010]

David Fritz was born on November 9, 1927. His parents were William and Marie Albers Fritz of Grand Haven. On May 26, 1948 David married Joyce Ver Berkmoes in Grand Haven. The daughter of Krein and Marie Nichols Ver Berkmoes, Joyce was born on May 2, 1930 and passed away on July 23, 2010. David died on August 26, 2010. Their surviving children were Cynthia, who moved to Battle Creek; William; Michael; David II; Craig; Teresa, who married Kevin Swaitoski and moved to Kalamazoo; and Teresa. Michael and David remained in Grand Haven as co-owners of Fritz Auto Body at 1320 Kooiman.

Herman Fritz [1862-1931]

Herman, the son of Johann and Katie Seeman Fritz, was born in Germany in September 1862 and came to the United States in 1881. On November 19, 1891, in Grand Haven, he married Hulda Greger [Grager]. She also was born in Germany, approximately ten years later than her husband, and immigrated to America in 1889. Their children were William, born on January 12, 1893; Edward, born in January 1899; Louis [Lewis], born about 1901; Helen, born about 1904; and Ella, born about 1907. The family resided at 312 Elliott in the early 1900s and had relocated to 204 Columbus by 1920. Herman, classified as a day laborer, died on February 22, 1931. Hulda passed away around March 6, 1954 and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Johann “John” Gottfried Fritz [1819-1897]

Johann Fritz was born in Potrzymowo, Posen, Prussia [Germany] on November 9, 1819. On April 23, 1843 in Posen, he married “Katie” Charlotte Wilhelmina Seeman, who was born in Gnesen, Posen on November 8, 1822. She died in Posen on November 4, 1873. John and his son Gottlieb and Gottlieb’s wife-to-be, Caroline Braun, immigrated to the United States on December 19, 1882. They settled on 400 acres in Section 18 of Robinson Townshp. Their home at 13924 Lincoln previously was owned by Sidney Clark. John resided there with his son and daughter-in-law and their 12 children until his death on June 8, 1897. He was removing stumps on his farm at the time and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. His iron grave marker is one of the most unusual in the cemetery. It was designed and made by Bethke and Fritz family members who were working at Goddard & Goddard Tool Company in Detroit.

John and Katie had 18 children, all born in Potrzymowo, Posen, Germany. Seven of their children immigrated to the United States at different times and settled in the Grand Haven area. The children who immigrated were Johann William “Bill,” who was born on April 16, 1844, Otilie, who was born on April 25, 1845 and married Johann Friedrich Bethke of Robinson Township; Heinrich “Henry,” born on December 15, 1847, immigrated to the United States with his older brother Bill in 1869, married Mina “Minnie” Mueller [October 7, 1853-December 23, 1939], in Peru, Indiana on February 20, 1873, moved to the Grand Haven area around 1881, died on August 27, 1923, and was buried at Lake Forest with his wife; Gottlieb Emil, who was born on May 1, 1852; immigrated to the United States in 1882 with his father and fiancée, Caroline Braun [November 14, 1862-April 19, 1944], married Caroline, passed away on December 2, 1918, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery with Caroline; Emil H., who was born on September 23, 1853, immigrated to the United States in 1872, on October 22, 1877 in Grand Haven married Alvina “Lena” Caroline Kalska [born about 1858 in Germany], died on April 3, 1911 in Grand Haven, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Natalie, born in 1858; and Albert Herman, who was born on September 19, 1862, came to the United States in 1881, married Hulda Grager [September 14, 1872-February 28, 1954] in Grand Haven on November 19, 1891, died on February 22, 1931, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Hulda.

Johann William “Bill” Fritz [1844-1915]

Johann William “Bill” Fritz, who was born on April 16, 1844, served in the German Army during the Franco-Prussian War, immigrated to the United States with his younger brother Henry on May 26, 1869 aboard the Everhard Deliu. He married Johanna Christine Kastorff in Milwaukee on January 15, 1872. She had immigrated from Germany in 1872 and lived from December 12, 1853 to January 24, 1940. Bill was listed in 1877 business directory for Grand Haven as the owner of a restaurant on Washington Street. By 1880 he was a baker at Star Bakery in Grand Haven and later joined Grand Haven Bakery. Bill and Johanna had at least eight children, all born locally: Amelia, born about 1863; Emma, born about 1865; Clara, born about 1867; Henry, born in February 1880; John, born in October 1882; Sophia, born in October 1887; William, born in February 1890; Ester, born in January, 1895; and Walter, born in August 1897. He died on June 26, 1915, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Johanna.

William H. Fritz [1893-1972]

On June 21, 1916 in Grand Haven William Fritz married Marie A., the daughter of Frederick and Adrianna Van Toll Albers. William, the son of Herman and Hulda Greger Fritz, was born on January 12, 1893, died in Grand Haven on April 6, 1972, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marie, who lived from July 21, 1891 to April 5, 1983, was buried near her husband. Their children were Charles, who was born about 1926 and moved to Muncie, Indiana; David, who was born on November 9, 1927 and remained in Grand Haven; and Betty, who was born about 1927 and married Earl Lutke of Grand Haven. In 1930 William worked as a mechanic at a local factory.

Kaidann [Cain] Frohbeck [1837-1882]

See Kaidann [Kategan] Fishback [Fischbeck, Frohbeck].

Anselm Fuchs [1865- ?]

See Anselm Fox.

Stuart Fuchs [1908-1929]

See Stuart Fox.

John Fuite I [1816-1906]

By 1864 John Fuite was a lumber inspector and also treasurer of Grand Haven Township. He was included in the 1860 census for Ottawa County and had a 77-acre farm in Section 28. John was born in The Netherlands May 27, 1816 [1815], came to the United States in 1848 and died on January 25, 1907. He married Antje Vos, sister of Frederick Vos of Grand Haven. Antje lived from May 13, 1836 to January 16, 1914. Their children, all born locally, included Nicolus [Nicholas], who was born on April 16, 1869 and died on July 30, 1949; John II, born about 1871; Bonna, born in 1872; Henry, who was born on August 11, 1874 and died on May 12, 1939; Anna, who was born on October 30, 1875 and died on April 10, 1948; James, born in January 1877; and Henrietta, born about 1879. James’s wife, Isabella, was born in 1882. John, Antje, Nicolus, and Henry were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Lester Fuite [1908-1986]

Lester Fuite purchased Pigeon Creek School from the Grand Haven School Board in 1961, the year the school closed, and moved it to another location on Pierce Street. Lester, who was born on October 25, 1908, died in April 1986. His wife Helen lived from September 14, 1911 to September 25, 2001. They resided at 16916 Pierce in Port Sheldon Township.

Edna Lucille Fullager [Fulliger] [1909-1923]

The daughter of Glenn James and Rose [Rosa/Rosie] Smith Rhineberger, Edna was born in Olena, Ohio on February 25, 1909. Rose and Glenn were divorced on April 28, 1908 in Ohio. Although Edna was born after the divorce, she was considered Glenn's child. On September 24, 1914, Rose married Arthur Wilbur Fullager in Richland County, Ohio. Edna and her sister, Elizabeth Rhineberger, assumed the Fullager family name. Edna died on October 30, 1923 in an automobile accident in which Harry B. Proctor, a Grand Haven Realtor, also lost his life. At the time of the accident Edna and her mother resided at 831 Pennoyer. Rose was born about 1891 in Ohio. Arthur was born in England on February 4, 1871 and passed away in Huron County, Ohio on October 23, 1971. Apparently Arthur never resided in Grand Haven. Rose married Frank Mattis Mattison on December 24, 1923, two weeks after her daughter's body was raised from the Grand River. Frank grew up in Holland, Michigan, but as an adult he also lived in Colorado. In 1926 Frank married Rhodanna Brower of Holland and evidently at that time Rose resumed use of her Fullager name and returned to Ohio where she later married George Shultz on April 25, 1925 and then Glenn Stahl. Edna reportedly was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, but her cemetery records were not found. Rose, who was born in Huron County, Ohio on November 15, 1887, died on October 23, 1971 in her birth county.

Edwin L. Fuller [1819–1866]

Edwin Fuller, a lumberman born in Middlesex County, New Jersey on May 16, 1819, was a resident of Ottawa County by the mid-1850s. In the 1856 Michigan Gazetteer he listed as being a dealer in lumber and staves. In addition to his lumbering interest, Edwin had a banking and exchange business located halfway between Franklin and Clinton Streets on the west side of Water Street [Harbor Drive]. He died on August 1, 1866 and originally was interred at the Washington Street Cemetery [Central Park], before the burial ground was moved to Lake Forest. His body was moved to the new cemetery in 1899 and placed in a vault of Gothic design. The vault was vandalized in 1948, and the bodies then were reburied nearby.

Jason P. Fuller [1890-1985]

Born in Sand Lake, Kent County on September 25, 1890 to Oscar and Emma Fuller, Jason came to the area in 1937 and retired from Bastian Blessing as a cabinetmaker. On July 5, 1913 in Hancock County, Ohio, he married Eva G. Beltz. Eva lived from May 11, 1895 to February 7, 1983. Their children included Doris, who married Ralph Scott; Rose, who married Harry Clark of Grand Rapids; Roy; and Donna, who married Robert Kane of Grand Haven. Jason died from myocardial infarction on July 19, 1985 at his home, 1221 Pennoyer, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Eva. [Tribune obituary, July 20, 1985.]

Richard Keith Fuller I [1928-2021]

On September 6, 1947, Richard Fuller married Nancy Conant in Grand Haven. Dick was born in Ionia on November 17, 1928. Nancy, the daughter of George and Nellie Speelman Conant, was born in Grand Haven on October 12, 1930. Dick worked at Michigan Brass Company, and Nancy was an employee of Eagle Ottawa. In the mid-1950s, the family resided at 215 Fulton Street, but by 1960 their home was at 206 North Fifth Street. A son, Richard K. Fuller II, was born on May 6, 1953. Another son, Charles B. Fuller, was born about 1958. Nancy passed away on December 16, 2018 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dick died on October 9, 2021 and was buried with Nancy.

Robert Andrew Fuller [1916-1986]

Born on November 2, 1916 in Whitehall, Robert Fuller in 1956 founded Star Industries [Star Machine] and was its president until he sold the company to Herman Miller, Inc., in 1976. Herman Miller renamed it Integrated Metals Technology. Robert was a member of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, Spring Lake Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and Spring Lake Country Club. He served in the U.S. Coast Guard during WWII. On April 12, 1944 he married Gertrude H. Bolema in Muskegon. She was born in Muskegon on October 10, 1920. They resided at 17754 West Spring Lake Road. Their children were Timothy Fuller, who was born about 1946, and Steven Fuller, who was born in June 1950 and moved to Southfield. Robert died on March 22, 1986 in Naples, Florida and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Gertrude passed away on November 6, 2010, also in Naples. [Tribune obituary, March 24, 1986.]

John Furlong I [Furling] [1834–1883]

Originally from Ireland, where he was born in 1834, John Furlong came to Grand Haven in 1859 by way of Chicago. He was a ship's captain, became a partner with Captain Thomas Kirby, and owned a large fleet of lumbering vessels. The two of them started Kirby-Furlong Barge Company, forerunner of Michigan Barge Company. On May 19, 1859 John married Mary Walsh. Born in 1838, she was the daughter of David and Alice Darmody Walsh, who came from Kilkenny, Ireland to Chicago in 1842. Shortly after the marriage, Mary and her husband moved to Grand Haven. They lived first at 30 South First Street, then at 225 Franklin, and in 1883 they moved into the Ferry house at 514 Lafayette Street. They had seven children, including Mary, born in Michigan about 1860; Kriddy, born in Michigan about 1862; John II, born about 1864 in Illinois; Vincent, who was born in Michigan about 1865, died on April 1, 1883 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Edward, born about 1866 in Michigan; George, who was born in Michigan about 1868 and died in Chicago on February 24, 1910; and Catherine, who married John Farnham in 1883. John I died on September 16, 1883 in Chicago, and Mary passed away on July 25, 1895. [Tribune obituary, February 26, 1910.]

Albert “Bert” Edward Gale I [1884-1974]

Born in Grand Haven on October 25, 1884, the son of Daniel and Minnie Weston Gale, Albert was an employee of the Grand Haven State Bank. He worked as a clerk in his father's grocery and chinaware store at 214 Washington. Albert began his banking career in 1910 as teller with the Peoples Savings Bank of Grand Haven. He accepted employment with Eagle Ottawa Leather in October 1917 and then went back to banking. Albert became vice president of Grand Haven State Bank on January 1, 1922, following his resignation from the Michigan State Banking Department. He retired in 1956 as vice president and cashier of the Grand Haven State Bank. He had been with the bank for 34 years. After retirement he worked part time as vice president and trust officer until November 1957. He was a member of the Spring Lake Country Club, the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Elks, and Masons, and he was president of the Michigan Bank Examiners Association.

On February 8, 1915, Albert married Willette Meyer, born in Grand Haven on October 8, 1894 to Henry and Nettie Meyer. The Gales had a son Albert E. “Jack” Gale II, who lived from January 14, 1916 to December 30, 1994, and was employed many years by Bastian Blessing. The Gales lived at 401 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. During WWII Willette supervised the local USO. Albert died in May 1974, and Willette died on December 24, 1983. [Tribune obituaries, December 26, 1983 and January 2, 1995, and Tribune articles, August 1948 and “AE Gale Concluding 36 Years,” November 15, 1957.]

Daniel Gale I [1848-1934]

Born in Brookfield, Vermont on May 23, 1848, Daniel was the son of Presson R. and Lucy Mary [Maria] Adams Gale. Lucy was born in Vermont in February 1817 and died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1900. Daniel's brother, Sawin, lived in Grand Haven and his two sisters married Pfaff brothers: Emma to John A. Pfaff and Clara to Frederick Pfaff. Daniel came to Grand Haven in 1866. He attended a business college in Grand Rapids and in 1872 entered into partnership with his brother-in-law, John Pfaff, at 114 Washington in Grand Haven. The store offered groceries and “Queen's Ware,” a brand of glass and earthenware made in England. About 1884 Daniel bought out his partner and later dropped the grocery line in order to concentrate on crockery until the store closed in 1921. He was city treasurer for eight years, beginning in 1892, a Mason for over 40 years, and he was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. Daniel also was the first clerk of the Cutler House that opened in downtown Grand Haven in 1872.

On October 18, 1876 Daniel married Minnie A. Weston in Grand Rapids. Minnie was born in Massachusetts on October 8, 1858. Her brother, Will Weston, was born in Grand Rapids and moved to Grand Haven. Daniel and Minnie lived at 418 Lafayette Street. They had four children, all born locally: Charles Weston Gale, who was born on March 8, 1878 and died in Grand Haven on April 27, 1901; Millie May Gale, who was born on May 1, 1882 and married James T. Pett; Albert E. Gale I, who was born in October 1884 and became vice president of Grand Haven State Bank; Daniel Gale II, born on September 11, 1887; Grace A. Gale, born on August 7, 1890; and Wilmer Gale, who was born January 22, 1896, married Cecile Murphy in Lansing on November 20, 1920, and died in Lansing on November 14, 1975. Daniel died on February 16, 1934 at his home on Lafayette Street. Minnie died on July 3, 1942. She, Daniel, and their son Charles were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 17, 1934.]

Sawin [Sevon, Sewon, Solomon] Willard Gale [1842-1887]

Born in Brookfield, Vermont on December 25, 1842, Sawin was the son of Presson R. and Lucy Mary Adams Gale and the brother of Daniel Gale. Lucy was born in Vermont on February 14, 1817 and died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1900. Presson lived from 1807-1884. Sawin was a resident of Grand Haven as early as 1863, and he was a charter member of the Grand Haven Concert Band, organized in 1868. On October 1, 1866, he married Esther Emma Anderson. A native of Canada, she lived from January 25, 1842 to June 5, 1883. She died in Chicago.

In 1870, under the name Solomon Gale, Sawin was listed as a druggist in Grand Haven. In the household with were his wife, listed as Hatty, daughters Rose and Florence, and Emma Gale, probably Sawin's sister, born about 1855 in Vermont. Rose was born on July 31, 1867, and Forence was born on June 30, 1869. A third daughter, Daisy, was born in 1872. All three were born in Grand Haven. In 1871 and 1872 Sawin was treasurer for the City of Grand Haven. In 1873, he was listed as a druggist at the Cutler Hotel. By 1880 Sawin was still married but living alone in Minneapolis, Minnesota, employed as a traveling salesman. He died there on December 23, 1887.

Owen Domic Gallagher [1872-1959]

Born in Charlevoix on August 4, 1872, Captain Owen Gallagher in 1921 moved to Grand Haven from Ludington, where he worked for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. For more than 20 years, he piloted the Grand Haven, a car ferry operated by the Grand Trunk Railroad, primarily between Grand Haven and Milwaukee. On June 7, 1905 in Charlevoix County, he married Sarah J. Gibson, who was born on September 4, 1885. Their daughter Virginia Frances Gallagher married Clyde Peel of Grand Haven. The Gallagher family resided at 807 Washington Street. Owen died on May 31, 1959, and Sarah passed away on September 18, 1967. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Christian Gallmeyer [1850-1932]

Born in 1850 in Adams County, Indiana, Christian Gallmeyer came to Grand Haven in 1878 to work at the Ottawa Iron Works. His brother, Conrad G. Gallmeyer [1863-1915], worked with him. The next year Christian joined Bryce & Bloecker, and in May 1881 he became a partner. At that time the name of the firm was changed to Bryce, Bloecker, & Gallmeyer. They owned the Grand Haven Iron Works. From 1885 to 1888 Christian was a Grand Haven City alderman. In 1889 he moved to Grand Rapids to continue in the foundry business. Later he became part of the Gallmeyer & Livingston Company. Christian was elected alderman and during World War I mayor of Grand Rapids.

Christian married Lisetta [Lisette] Hilsman of Fort Wayne, Indiana, in 1879. She was born in Indiana in 1854. They had five children: Charles, who was born in Grand Haven on February 20, 1880 and died in 1948; William, also a Grand Haven native, who was born on June 30, 1883 and died in 1959; Arthur, who was born in Grand Haven in 1887 and died in 1918; Louella [Luella], who lived from February 9, 1892 to 1975; and Evelyn, born in October 1894. Christian died on December 2, 1932. Lisetta passed away on January 1, 1923. Their descendants remained in the Grand Rapids area. In 1951 Christian's and Lisetta's grandson William Gallmeyer [1917-2007] purchased a summer home in the Wilderness, a lakefront development south of Grand Haven, which two of William's sons, William and Dan Gallmeyer, still own.

Jesse Ganoe [Gano] [1819-1888]

With a Mr. Parks as his partner, Jesse Ganoë of Grand Rapids as early as 1855 operated several steamboats on Lake Michigan and on the Grand River between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids, including the L. G. Mason, Daniel Ball, Truesdell, Ottawa, and W. H. Barrett. By 1874 Mr Parks was gone and Jesse and his son were owners of the Grand River Transportation Company, also called J. Ganoë & Son. Jesse was born in Broome County, New York on January 5, 1819, and his wife, Beulah Parks, was born in the same state two years earlier and died in 1900. They were married in Grand Rapids in January 1845. Jesse died on April 2, 1888 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids, as was Beulah. Their son, William H. Ganoë, lived from 1852 to 1888 and was buried in the family plot at Oakhill. Jesse and Beulah also had a daughter, Lucy Ganoë, who married Harrison [Horace] Barrett on February 25, 1873 in Grand Rapids. She lived from 1847 [1840] to 1929 and he from 1840 to 1922. Lucy and Harrison were buried at Casnovia Cemetery in Muskegon County.

Carl [Charles] Ludwig Gottlieb Garbrecht II [1843-1920]

The son of Carl and Henrietta Betthoff Garbrecht, Carl II was born on September 8, 1843. He married Augusta Louise Marie Wille. They settled on 200 acres in Sections 11 and 12 of Olive Township. Augusta was born on September 5, 1845 in Germany and died in West Olive on September 14, 1938. Her husband passed away on February 18, 1920. Both were buried at West Olive Cemetery with other family members. A son, William, was born about 1877, and a daughter, Maria, was born three years later.

Frank G. Garbrecht [1882-1963]

Frank Garbrecht owned 40 acres in Section 12 of Port Sheldon Township, adjacent to his parents' land. The West Ottawa Soil Conservation District was set up on Garbrecht's property in 1939, and he supervised it for more than 20 years. The son of Carl [Charles] and Augusta Garbrecht of Olive Township, Frank was born April 1, 1882 and died on November 18, 1963 in Holland. On December 17, 1905 in Chicago, he married Christine Meierdirk. She was born in Illinois on December 19, 1882 and died April 28, 1958. Her father was Dietrich Meierdirk. The Garbrechts were buried at West Olive Cemetery with other family members. Julius, Ernest, August and Carl were their sons. They also had four daughters: Clara Lyons, Christine Stone, Louise Van Kampen and Frances Dykman. [Whispering Sands, p. 25]

Julius C. Garbrecht [1908-2002]

Julius was the son of Frank and Christine Meirdink Garbrecht. He was born in West Olive on July 14, 1908. Julius was listed as a farm laborer in the 1930 census. In 1935 he married Helen Veldhuis, who died in 1957. On September 27, 1958 in Grand Haven, he married Thelma Grant Van Bemelen [Van Bemlen/Van Bemmelen], the widow of Clyde Van Bemelen. Julius retired from Grand Haven Brass in 1968. He was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church and Harlem Reformed Church. Julius died at his home in West Olive on June 11, 2002. [Tribune obituary, June 12, 2002.]

Eugene Gardner [1844-1926]

Born in Steuben County, New York, on May 4, 1844, Eugene Gardner was only 18 when he volunteered for military service during the Civil War. He served in two Wisconsin regiments. On January 1, 1862 he enlisted in Company K of the 1st Wisconsin Cavalry and was discharged on October 6 the next year. Then, on February 3, 1865, he joined Company C of the 37th Wisconsin Infantry and served until July 27 that year. After the war he settled near Grand Haven and became River Boss for the Ottawa County Booming Company at the height of the logging era. His wife made it a family affair by cooking for the workers. Gardner was on the job during the horrific log jam of 1883. Heavy summer rains had created a huge accumulation of logs stacked behind railway and road bridges in Grand Rapids and created a nightmare of confused timbers seven miles long and thirty feet high. The Grand River was flooded and furious. When the bridges gave way, the logs were propelled down river like torpedoes, ready to destroy whatever was in their way. The stalwart work of John Walsh, a one-armed pile driver, and his aide, Clark Deremo, worked with Gardner and others in diverting the avalanche of logs at the last minute, saving jobs and profit. Boom Road was so named because of the log boom that was located there during the lumbering era.

Eugene's wife was Jennie Isabelle Lane, whom he married in Spring Lake on August 10, 1868. Jennie was born on May 28, 1850 in Hamilton Center, New York, and died in Spring Lake on March 9, 1926. Eugene died on January 6 of the same year. They were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Gardners lived on a 70-acre farm in Section 25 of Spring Lake Township. Howard Gardner, born in Spring Lake on February 26, 1877, was their son. They also had two daughters, both born in Michigan: Mabel, born about 1870, and Eva, born in Spring Lake on February 10, 1874.

Howard Addison Gardner [1877-1940]

The son of Eugene and Jennie Isabelle Lane Gardner, Howard was born in Spring Lake on February 26, 1877. On March 2, 1898 in Spring Lake, he married Emma Rachel, the daughter of Rev. David and Elizabeth Frink Spencer of Spring Lake. Emma was born in Canada in February 1875 and came to the United States in 1879. A daughter, Marian, was born in Michigan in January 1899. Howard was a farmer and a mason. The couple resided on a 70-acre farm in Spring Lake Township, located at the confluence of Deremo Bayou the Grand River. The farm once belonged to Howard's father, Eugene Gardner, and had been his boyhood home. Howard died in 1940.

John W. Gardner [1840-1888]

Born in Pomfret, New York, on December 27, 1840, John Gardner on August 5, 1862 enlisted as private with Company B of the 112th New York Infantry, part of the 24th Army Corps under General Alfred H. Terry. He was mustered out on June 13, 1865 and two years later came to Muskegon. Before moving to Grand Haven in 1881, he and his family lived in Montague and Holton, where they were located in the 1880 census. At that time, he was employed at a Holton sawmill. In Grand Haven he worked for the Fessenden Barrel Company as foreman. He married Emeline "Emma" Kingsley in St. Clair County on March 28, 1868. Emma was born in Canada in 1852. They had at least one daughter, Gertrude, born in Michigan about 1876. John died in Muskegon on April 15, 1888 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. Emma applied for a widow's Civil War pension on June 21, 1890. She passed away on February 28, 1902 and also was buried at Oakwood.

Howard Garett [Greenbaum] [1930-2021]

Born the Bronx, New York, on May 14, 1930, Howard Garett served in the U. S. Army during the Korean War. While serving overseas he created a series of cartoons about two G.I.s. After moving to Detroit in his 30s, he worked for Motor City Electric and went on to become Branch Manager of Hatzel & Buehler Electric's Detroit office. He participated in several projects, including the construction of the Hyatt Hotel in Dearborn and the Renaissance Center. He next took a position with E.C. Ernst in New York City, followed by a move to Libertyville, Illinois in 1987 and back to Michigan three years later. Following his retirement in 1994 he was able to devote himself to painting, which had been a hobby during his working years. It was about this time that he and Barbara moved to Grand Haven. They resided at 13384 Ravine Drive. Howard exhibited his works in numerous art shows in Florida and Michigan, including the Gallery Uptown, sold his paintings and prints and won several awards. Howard's and Barbara's children were David Garett, Kathy Garett, Amy Armand Garett, who married Henry Dryovage, Jerry Garett, and Jennifer Garett, who married Alan Manna. Born on May 14, 1930, Howard died on February 9, 2021 and was buried at .

Edith Garlick [1890-1917]

See Edith Garlick Lehman.

Mina "Minnie" [Mary Ann] Garlick [1882-1955]

See Mina "Minnie" [Mary Ann] Garlick Alexander.

Daniel Green Garnsey [1838-1896]

Daniel Garnsey was Teller at the Ferry & Son Bank on Water Street [Harbor Drive] in the 1860s. At that time, he owned acreage along the Lake Michigan shoreline in Sections 20 and 21 of Grand Haven Township. A pier was added along the waterfront, probably for shipping to Chicago fruit and other produce grown on nearby farms. In 1877 Daniel and Charles R. Wyman had an insurance office in the Cutler House in downtown Grand Haven. Daniel registered for the Civil War draft in 1863, while a resident of Grand Haven. There is no record that he served in the military.

Daniel, the son of Charles Alexander and Laura Kimball Garnsey, was born in Rock Island, Illinois on May 25, 1838. On October 16, 1861 in Chicago, he married Emeline [Emma] Brooks. Emeline was born in Mayville, New York in August 1841. A son, Daniel Brooks Garnsey, was born in Grand Haven on September 21, 1860 and died in Rutland, Massachusetts of tuberculosis on February 2, 1917. In 1889 and 1890 the elder Daniel was listed in the Grand Rapids City Directory as an "Expert Accountant and Adjuster." Emeline Garnsey, possibly a daughter, was listed in the Grand Rapids City Directory as a music teacher and resided at the same address as Daniel, as did Laura and Charles. Another daughter, Sarah, was born in Ottawa County on April 27, 1874. On December 21, 1892 Daniel married Amelia W. Barnard in Chicago. She was born in Ohio in May 1837 [1838]. Emeline passed away in Grand Rapids on August 29, 1885 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Daniel died on August 6, 1896 in Muskegon. He also was buried at Lake Forest.

Edward Grant Garnsey I [1869-1917] and Mary Vesta Doan Garnsey [1874-1967]

Born in Union City, Branch County on September 17, 1869, Edward was the son of Judson and Olive Loucks Garnsey. By 1890 Judson and his family were living in Grand Rapids, where he worked as a carpenter and Edward was a clerk at the H. Leonard & Sons Company, a crockery and glassware wholesale business that later became known for its refrigerators. After working for Burley & Company in Chicago, Edward in 1895 became buyer and head of the Interior Decorating Department at Marshall Field & Company on Wabash Avenue in Chicago. By 1906 he had copyrighted the name "japana" for a line of china that Marshall Field handled and owned Japana Specialty Company. His daughter thought the name japana might have been suggested to him by his travels in Japan and his desire to emulate the way the Japanese arranged flowers. He also conceived an idea for a flower holder, today called a "frog," and patented it about 1908, listing Spring Lake as his residence. [Edward, however, was not the inventor of the glass frog.] He contracted with a glass company in Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania to make the frogs.

On April 3, 1893, Edward married Mary Doan in Grand Rapids. Mary Vesta Doan was born in Parsons, Kansas [Sand Lake (Kent County), La Grange, Illinois] on December 10, 1874. Her marriage registration listed her as the daughter of Samuel and Elvira Edson Doan of Grand Rapids, but they were not located in any census. Mary before her marriage lived with an aunt and uncle in Grand Rapids, so both her parents may have died. At the time of the 1910 Federal Census Edward and Mary were living in La Grange, Illinois with their four surviving children. Edward was classified as a salesman of "wholesale dry goods." On August 15, 1913 she sailed out of Southampton, England, aboard the President Lincoln and arrived in New York City ten days later. She was traveling alone. The next year Mary and Edward took title to approximately 27 acres of farmland five miles south of Grand Haven [Sections 20 and 21, Grand Haven Township], the same land Daniel G. Garnsey had owned since the mid-1860s. The purchase included a five-bedroom farmhouse on Lakeshore Drive. They moved the house by horse a bit west to the shoreline and used it as a summer residence. The house was later given the address 11837 Lakeshore Drive. Shortly after Edward's death, Mary, Maria, and Gwendolyn resided on East Savidge Street in Spring Lake. By 1935 Mary was living in Ventura, California, where she remained until at least 1940.

Around 1920 Mary was a "glass jobber," that is she sold glassware wholesale. A year or two later, she opened a "Japana Gift Shop" on the southwest corner of First and Washington Streets, before the Grand Theater was built a few doors to the west. Japana included such items as molded glass vases, flower holders, and statuettes, probably bought from her husband's factory. Working with others, she organized the Lake Shore Improvement Association, with the intent of fostering the improvement of roads and utilities along Lakeshore Drive [then known as Sheldon Road] and maintaining the natural beauty of Rosy Mound. She was one of the first women to join the local Chamber of Commerce, and she was instrumental in organizing the Triangle Business and Professional Women's Association. Mary was a member of Tuesday Musicale and Woman's Club. She left Grand Haven in 1924.

Mary had a lifelong interest in literature and writing. She reached her literary peak in 1941, when she was made an honorary member of the Mark Twain Society. The Eugene Field Society also honored her for her “contribution to literature.” In 1962 she published a book of poems, Gods in Modeling Clay. She was the first woman member of the local Chamber of Commerce, and she was active in the Woman’s Club and the Tuesday Musicales Club. She organized the Professional and Businesswomen’s Club. All of the Garnseys were Theosophists, including Gwendolyn.

The Garnsey’s children were Sergia Gertrude, who died in 1901 at age seven; Marie Adolphia [Adolphia Maria], who was born on January 22, 1896, married Charles Ettinger of Grand Haven, and died on February 21, 1990 in Grand Haven; Edward Grant II, who was born in May 1897; and Gwendolyn Doan, who was born on July 22, 1906 and died in Ojai, Ventura County, California in December 1986. Gwendolyn also lived in Seattle, Washington. In 1920 Mary, Adolphia, and Gwendolyn were living on Savidge Street in Spring Lake. Edward died on August 30, 1917 in Chicago, and Mary passed away 50 years later, on October 29, 1967. [Tribune articles, “Life of Service—Passing on Gift of Poetry,” April 5, 1962, and “Local Woman Writer Dies at Age 92,” October 30, 1967.]

Edward Grant Garnsey II [1897-1918]

Edward, the son of Edward and Mary Vesta Doan Garnsey, entered the military in May 1917, near the start of America’s involvement in World War I, and was commissioned first lieutenant in the Signal Air Corps. He was a member of Eddie Rickenbacker’s Squadron and was credited with shooting down two German planes, before he was shot down by German Fokker fighter planes while flying over Exermont, France at 4,000 feet altitude. [An alternate source noted that Edward was accidentally brought down by Allied anti-aircraft guns.] He was buried near Exermont, France on October 29, 1918, the day he was killed and two weeks before the Armistice was signed. He was born in Chicago on October 20, 1897.

William S. Garrow [1907-1979]

Born on December 14, 1907, William Garrow passed away on December 26, 1979. He and his wife Hazel M. were members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Grand Haven. In 1955 they donated land for a new church school on M-104 in Spring Lake Township. Their home was located at 13428 Cleveland in Nunica. Later they moved to Grand Haven and resided at 1320 Franklin. Hazel lived from August 18, 1907 to April 1, 1998.

Samuel Suffrin Garvin [1870-1941]

An Irish immigrant who came to America in 1884, Sam Garvin founded Garvin Industries in Chicago in 1899. In 1925 he opened a metal stamping operation in Grand Haven, a business that endured until 2002. Samuel was born in Londonderry, Ireland on March 2, 1870. On January 28, 1896 in Milwaukee, he married Mary A. M. “Minnie” Gibson. She was born in Ireland in November 1865 and arrived in the United States in 1890. She and Sam had two children, both born in Illinois: George A., born around 1897, and Marguerite [Margaret], born about 1900. In 1940 the family resided at 2 Howard Street. Samuel died in Maywood, Illinois, on February 13, 1941.

Susan Swanson Gaskins [@1858-1911] and Robert Gaskins [@1851- ?]

In the early 1900s the Grand Haven Tribune related this story on page one: “A few weeks ago, while Jesse Williams was unloading a car at the Grand Trunk yards in this city, he found a few cotton seeds. He gave them to Mrs. Susan Gaskins on Seventh Street and she planted them in her garden. They came up in due time and she says it looks as well as the cotton would in the fields in Tennessee where she used to work years ago. Mrs. Gaskins was a slave on a Tennessee plantation, but the war brought her freedom when a young girl.” Susan Swanson married Robert Gaskins in Chicago on August 12, 1901. In Grand Haven they resided at 411 North Seventh Street. He worked as a laborer at the loading docks. Susan was born about 1858 in Tennessee, and Robert came from Virginia, where he was born about 1851. By 1910 the couple was living in Muskegon. They were married about 1901. Susan died in Muskegon on February 21, 1911 and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. [Tribune, June 27, 1907.]

Edward James Gatfield I [1823-1901]

In 1864 Edward Gatfield and his wife Anne Poole moved to Grand Haven from Racine, Wisconsin, where they were living by 1850. Anne was born in England around 1828. They were married at the First Presbyterian Church in Albany, New York, on March 2, 1857. They were Methodists and started a “Colony” by meeting in their home with other members of the same denomination. Edward was born in London, England on September 25, 1823 and died in Grand Haven on May 3, 1901. In 1880 he worked at a sawmill, and by then he and Anne were divorced. The Gatfields had four children, including a daughter, Emma, born in Wisconsin about 1861, who moved to Ludington, and two sons, Edward II, born in 1862 in Racine, who also relocated to Ludington, and John, who was born in July 1867 and remained in Grand Haven. In Ludington, Edward II married Anglina Shappee on August 31, 1910.

John Edward Gatfield [1867-1946]

John, the son of Edward and Anne Poole Gatfield of Grand Haven, was born on July 14, 1867. His wife Mary was born in Iowa in December 1869. John and Mary, who resided on Lafayette Street, had at least two children: Genevieve, born in February 1890, and Floyd, born in March 1891. John was manager of the Western Union office in Grand Haven at 122 Washington. He and his family by 1908 were located at 128 Columbus. By 1920 they were living in Detroit. John died in Los Angeles, California on November 1, 1946.

Emil O. Gaul [1895-1982]

With Paul A. Johnson I, Bernath P. Sherwood I, Alvin E. Jacobson I, and Abram [Abraham] T. Kieft as partners, Emil Gaul took over the Bolling Manufacturing Company at 201 South Harbor in 1927 and renamed it Grand Haven Stamped Products. Emil was plant superintendent. He married Alvina Achenbach, who was born on July 12, 1895 in Michigan. They were married on March 21, 1918. Their daughter Luella Mae was born on February 1, 1932 [October 4, 1931], married Peter James Bouwman in Grand Haven on September 13, 1952, and died on December 9, 1964. By 1930 the Gauls were residing at 1326 Pennoyer, where they remained until at least the mid-1950s. Emil, who was born on July 3, 1895, later resided at 2020 Jane Court in Grand Haven. He died on March 17, 1982. Alvina passed away on October 16, 1968. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Luella Bouwman.

Marcus C. Gazan [1890-1978]

In 1948 Marcus Gazan and his son-in-law Carroll Bos started the Tri-City Dairy, which lasted eight years. Marcus was born in The Netherlands on April 12, 1890 and passed away in Spring Lake on March 19, 1978. On June 11, 1914 in Grand Rapids, he married Edna Cornell. She was born in Grand Rapids in 1893. His second wife, Louise, lived from November 8, 1894 to April 23, 1893. They resided at 217 Barber in the 1950s and later at 209 Williams.

Robert Henry Gebott [1855-1919]

By 1882 Robert Gebott was saw filer at the White, Friant, & Company Sawmill. He was born in Caistor, Canada in 1855, married Orvilla Horn on January 17, 1881, and moved to Grand Haven from Ludington that year. Orvilla, also from Caistor, was born on September 15, 1854. By 1900 they were again residing in Mason County. Robert died in Clatsop, Oregon on November 10, 1919, and Orvilla passed away in Warrenton, Oregon on November 21, 1926.

Hendrik “Henry” Geertman [1856-1924]

A farmer, Henry Geertman also raised livestock on 140 acres in Section 11 of Olive Township. He was born in The Netherlands on October 6, 1856 and he and his wife arrived in the area in 1882. On August 5, 1882 in Holland, he married Johanna Dunin “Dena” Boorman. She was born in The Netherlands in March 1861. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Marinus, born in June 1885; Aaltje, born in February 1887;

Effie, born in May 1890; Hendrick, born on November 12, 1892; and Albert, born in August 1895. Albert's wife, Margaret M., was also a native of Michigan, where she was born about 1900. Henry passed away on November 10, 1924. Listed as a widow in the Federal Census of 1930, Dena was living with Albert and his wife in Olive Township.

Clarence Daniel Gelakoska [1945-2015]

The son of Clarence [1900-1986] and Nona Vermurlen [1911-1972] Gelakoska, Clarence Daniel was born on August 12, 1945 in Grand Haven. After graduating from Grand Haven High School, he attended the Kendall School of Design and for a short time was a designer for the Herman Miller Company in Zeeland. In 1971 he moved to Denver, Colorado. On September 30, 1989, Daniel married Darlene Mae Steber in Denver. Concentrating primarily on silkscreen and serigraph prints, his art often featured brightly colored geometric shapes. Daniel died in Denver in 2015. He and Darlene had one child, Ruby Gelakoska.

Claude J. Gelderloos [1902-1980]

One of the area's earliest recorded airplane crash occurred on May 26, 1931. On that day George Gelderloos was a passenger in a small plane piloted by George Ferris. They flew a green and yellow Waco biplane from Muskegon Airport to Grand Haven, where they "buzzed" the house at 8 Clinton Street, the neighbor of fellow pilot Ray "Ducky" Swartz. Ducky lived across the street at 9 Clinton Street in a home owned by his parents, Nicholas [1861-1942] and Hannah [1867-1943] Johnson Swartz. Among the people residing at 8 Clinton were the owners, Henry and Henrietta Abbinga and their son, Abel. The family joined a small crowd of spectators who were watching the plane as it circled overhead and then, at 6:30 p.m., crashed through the roof of the Abbinga home. The pilot said engine problems caused the accident. Fortunately pilot and passenger walked out the front door of the house, uninjured. Mrs Abbinga, who was 80 years old, needed a sedative to calm her shaken nerves. The plane was salvaged, restored, and took to the skies again.

Claude was born in Muskegon on January 8, 1902. He married Ann Regeczi on March 19, 1943. At that time, Claude was serving as a private with the U.S. Army. He was discharged on April 4 the same year. Claude and Ann were divorced on May 14, 1948 in Ottawa County and remarried on April 16, 1949 in North Muskegon. Ann was born about 1915 in Ohio. They were divorced for the second and apparently final time on January 5, 1950. Claude lived at various times in Muskegon, Grand Haven, and Spring Lake. He died in Grand Haven on October 13, 1980 and was buried at Restlawn Cemetery in Muskegon.

Bernard James Gellick [1875-1945]

Bernard Gellick was born in Lafargeville, New York on January 10, 1875, and on September 15, 1897 in Charlevoix he married Alma Augusta Hinkley. In 1910 the couple resided in Manistee. Eight years later they were living in Grand Rapids, where he was employed by the Crosby Transportation Company as a boat pilot. In 1920 he was Inspector of Hulls with the Grand Haven office of the U. S. Steamboat Inspection Service, a post he held until at least 1932. Bernard and his family resided at 21 North Sixth Street and later at 216 South Fifth. Bernard and Alma had two children, both born in Charlevoix: Robert Bernard, born on March 12, 1901, and Isabel, on April 26, 1908. Alma was born in Evart, Osceola County, on May 10, 1875, died on February 27, 1927 in El Paso, Texas, and was buried at Forest Hill Cemetery in Evart, Osceola County. On April 21, 1924 Bernard married Barbara Brown Grosse in Grand Haven. She was born in Illinois on September 17, 1889, died in Saline, Washtenaw County on July 22, 1977, and was buried at Bethlehem Cemetery in Ann Arbor. Bernard passed away in Chicago on February 14, 1945 and was buried at Acacia Park Cemetery and Mausoleum in that city.

Sara "Sammi" Martin Corcoran Becher George [1937-2021]

Sammi Becher married Samuel George on August 5, 1979 in Franklin County, Ohio. It was his second marriage and her third. Sam, born on October 25, 1924, passed away on September 8, 2017. Sammi was born in Monogh, West Virginia on May 27, 1937. She and her first husband, Robert Corcoran, had at least two children: Judy Diane Corcoran, who was born on July 3, 1956, married Robert Porath on November 14, 2007, and died in Grand Haven on January 31, 2020, and Phillip Corcoran, who was born on July 16, 1960 and died in Collin, Texas on December 4, 1985; Judy and Phillip were born in Mount Vernon, Ohio. Sammi next married William Winfield Becher. They had at least one child, Aaron William Becher, who was born on July 10, 1968 and remained in Grand Haven.

By 2001 Sammi and Sam were living in Grand Haven Township at 17128 Lincoln Street. Sammi had a variety of interests, including art. She kept a studio in her home and painted a variety of subjects. She also created imaginative note cards that were sold at the Tri-Cities Historical Museum and other places in Grand Haven. Sam was born in Okemah, Oklahoma on October 25, 1924 and passed away in Grand Haven on September 8, 2017. He was a consulting engineer. He had two sons by a previous marriage: Bruce George of Wyoming and Charles George of Nevada. Sammi died on November 27, 2021.

Helen Madeline Stender Michener Gerber [1877-1952]

Born in Germany on February 22, 1877, Helen Stender married Albert Warren Michener on February 26, 1895 in Chicago. [Their marriage record lists her name as Helen Westphal.] Albert was born in Boston, Massachusetts on November 25, 1872. In 1910 the couple resided in Chicago with one daughter. Ten years later Helen and Albert and their three daughters resided at 1339 Pennoyer Avenue. He worked as advertising manager for Challenge Machinery Company. Their oldest daughter, Mildred, was born about 1896. They also had a daughter Marguerite, who lived from 1900 to 1964. Two other daughters, Helene and Warrenne [Wariene], were born about 1916 and probably were twins. Helene, on September 21, 1934 married Wilbur Olm in Grand Haven. The couple moved to Grand Haven, and by the early 1930s she was a clerk at Jacob Cook's dry goods store at 1122 Washington Street. She also offered hemstitching. Albert died in Grand Haven on April 8, 1929. On December 21, 1933 in Grand Haven, Helen married John Gerber II, a farmer. By 1940, the couple was residing on a celery farm at 1620 South Wallace Street. Helen passed away in Grand Haven on December 22, 1952. She and Albert were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John Gerber, who was born in Grand Haven on June 19, 1870, died February 21, 1947, also was buried at Lake Forest. He previously had been married to Jennie Vogel [1867-1930]. Albert and Jennie had at least one child, Cornelius, who lived from 1893 to 1931.

Robert Chester Gesiakowski [1936-2003]

Robert Gesiakowski served as chief of the Ferrysburg Police Department from 1973 to 1981. Prior to holding that post, he was a member of the Montague Police Department. He also served with the Marine Corps. Robert was born in Chicago, Illinois on August 9, 1936, the son of Chester and Frances Zurek Gesiakowski. He married Mary Ann Kaskey in Chicago on August 14, 1959. After moving to Spring Lake, the couple attended St. Mary's Catholic Church in Spring Lake. Robert and Mary Ann resided at 17349 Lane Avenue in Ferrysburg. Their children were a daughter Stacey and four sons: Edward, Robert, Richard, and Blake. Robert died in Muskegon on December 2, 2003 as the result of an automobile accident. Mary Ann was born on May 18, 1936 in Chicago and died on July 22, 2020. [Tribune obituary, December 4, 2003.]

George Getz [Goetz] [c.1830-1886]

Buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, George Getz served as private with Company I of the 34th New Jersey Infantry during the Civil War. Born about 1830, he died on March 9, 1886. He did not appear in any census for the Grand Haven area.

George Fulmer Getz I [1863-1938]

On September 9, 1929 the freighter Andaste sank with the loss of all lives. Wreckage began to drift ashore along the Lake Michigan beaches from Grand Haven to Castle Park, south of Holland. George Getz, owner of the 250-acre Getz Farm and Zoo in Park Township, north of Holland, discovered an oar and other items from the wreck. The first body was recovered at Castle Park. Other bodies washed ashore as far north as Grand Haven. Beginning in 1910 with a purchase of 71 acres, he eventually accumulated 250 acres of Lake Michigan shoreline a few miles north of Holland. A few years later he opened the Getz Farm Zoo, with free admission until 1931. In 1929 a portion of the Getz Farm became Ottawa County's first park, still known as Tunnel Park. George, who resided in Chicago, was born on December 26, 1863 in Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania and died on February 11, 1938 in Henderson, Kentucky. On December 4, 1904 he married Susan Rankin, who was born in Henderson and lived from August 30, 1878 to September 25, 1910. They had two sons, both born in Chicago: George F. Getz II, who was born on January 4, 1908 and died in Arizona on November 9, 1992, and James Rankin Getz, who lived from August 18, 1910 to February 15, 1986. George made his fortune as a coal merchant. After his death, the farm was platted into dozens of building sites and sold.

Herschel [Hurchell] Frankin Giant [1911-1987]

On December 7, 1935, Herschel Giant married Moneth Hess in St. Joseph, Indiana. Around the mid-1940s, the couple bought the house at 216 Elliott Street in Grand Haven for $8,000. When they moved to Florida in 1985 their granddaughter, Barbara Carlson, purchased the property. Herschel was born as Hurchell Giant in Fort Wayne, Indiana, on May 9, 1911 and died in Lake County, Florida on December 26, 1987. Moneth, who was born on October 8, 1913 in Hartford City, Indiana, died on February 4, 1993 in Dade County, Florida.

Charles Tomlinson Gibbs [1815-1889]

Charles T. Gibbs, who was born in Connecticut on June 19, 1815, moved with his family to New York City in 1820, headed west in a covered wagon in 1836, and arrived in Grand Haven the next year. He purchased his first farm in Polkton Township in 1841 and settled in Crockery Township in 1844. The next year he, Richard Mason, and Richard Hathaway were elected first highway commissioners for the township. During their tenure a road was opened from Spring Lake, through Nunica, to the eastern boundary of Crockery Township.

Charles was the son of Robert and Eleanor Huff Gibbs, originally of England. As a youngster in New York State, Charles drove horses that pulled the barges on the Erie Canal. Everett recorded that in Ottawa County, Charles cut firewood near the Grand River, hauled it to the riverbank, loaded it on a raft, poled his way to Grand Haven, and sold it for a dollar a cord. [Memorials, page 510]. By 1865 he owned 40 acres in Section 18 of Polkton Township, which later passed to his son-in-law, Basnett Dell.

Charles married Hannah Walsh [Welsh/Welch] on January 31, 1839 in Muskegon, with Dr. Timothy Eastman performing the ceremony. Hannah, who was born in County Limerick, Ireland, lived from December 17, 1824 to October 22, 1884 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Her father had died when she was a child, and she and her mother immigrated to Canada and then settled in Chicago before arriving in the Grand Haven area about a year before her marriage to Charles. The Gibbses' daughter, Margaret Sarah, born on November 16, 1841, was the first wife of Richard J. Connell of Grand Haven. Another daughter, Eleanor, lived from 1840 to 1857 and married Nelson L. Deremo. The Gibbses other children, all born in Michigan, were Robert, who was born on March 14, 1844, died on May 26, 1862, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; Mary, who was born in 1846 and married Frank Jones of Coopersville; Thomas W., born in 1848; Joseph L., born in 1851; Anna, who was born in 1853 and married Samuel Dell of Crockery Township; Jeremiah, who was born on June 20, 1855 [1856], died on May 25, 1862, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; William E., who was born on May 7, 1857, died of smallpox on May 9, 1872, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; James Alexander, who was born on September 24, 1859 and died on October 4, 1936 in Albion; Emily Jane, who was born September 29, 1861, married Basnett Dell, died on April 12, 1934, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; and Stephen Monroe, who was born on April 29, 1865, died on May 5 [4], 1872 of smallpox, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The outbreak of smallpox on the Gibbs property during the spring of 1872 caused the Spring Lake Village Council to ban any member of the family from entering the town until the danger was over. [Kitchel, page 75.]

A year after Hannah's death on October 22, 1884, Charles married Martha Kearse. Two years later, on December 14, he was wed to Martha Jones in Ottawa County. She was born about 1815 in New York State.

Charles died on September 16, 1889. Both Charles and Hannah were buried in the family plot at Spring Lake Cemetery. Charles's younger brother, Alexander H. Gibbs, died in Spring Lake on January 26, 1859 at the age of 38 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Joseph Gibbs of Crockery Township was another brother.

Edward P. Gibbs [1846–1896]

Born in Athol, Massachusetts in 1846 [1845], Edward Gibbs came to Grand Haven in the 1880s to assume the pastorate of the Unitarian Church. He was county treasurer from the fall of 1886 to 1893, when he was appointed to the Auditor General's office in Lansing and moved there. Edward enlisted on May 13, 1864 as private in Company L of the 3rd Massachusetts Heavy Artillery and held the rank of sergeant when he was mustered out on September 18, 1865. On July 14, 1879 he applied for an invalid's Civil War pension. Edward was a member of the Masons, Maccabees, and Highland Tent. He was a Republican and noted orator. Edward died on June 11, 1896 in Lansing but was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife Jennie L. applied for a widow's Civil War pension on the following July 10. Jennie next married Cornelius Pond of Lansing. Jennie was born in Massachusetts in May 1850, passed away in 1930, and was buried near her first husband. One of their children, Wilfred S., was born in Massachusetts about 1870 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1889. Albert became a lawyer in Detroit. [Tribune obituary, June 12, 1896.]

Joseph Gibbs [1826-1909]

Joseph, born on May 31, 1826 in New York State, was the son of Robert and Eleanor Huff Gibbs, originally of England. On September 6, 1855 in New York, Joseph married Mary Pennoyer, who was born in New York on June 8, 1836 and passed away on September 26, 1925. By the mid-1860s Joseph owned 200 acres of farmland in Section 12 of Crockery and Section 18 of Polkton Townships. Joseph died on February 24, 1909. Their children were Eugene Gibbs [1854-1930]; Alice Gibbs [1855-1919]; Hannah Gibbs [1860-1941]; Rebecca Gibbs [1863-1936]; Margaret Gibbs [1866-1951]; Gershom Gibbs [1868-1956]; George Gibbs [1872-1961]; Orange [1874-1934]; and Clayton Cuthbert Gibbs [1880-1972]. Eugene, Alice, and Hannah were born in New York State, the others in Ottawa County. Joseph and Mary were buried at Nunica Cemetery. Gershom married Sarah Hamilton on July 14, 1891 in Grand Haven.

Townsend E. Gidley [1805–1888]

A native of Poughkeepsie, New York, where he was born on July 8, 1805 and ran a mercantile business, Townsend Gidley settled on 1500 acres in Jackson County in 1833. He planted 300 acres of wheat. On October 1, 1835 he purchased 80 acres in Section 32 of Sandstone Township in Jackson County. There he became a successful and prosperous fruit grower and farmer. He was elected a member of the convention to form a state constitution in 1834, and he was elected a member of the first legislature, where he held seats in both houses for a number of years. He once ran for governor. In the spring of 1868, he purchased and settled on about one-third of Robert Stuart's estate, a total of approximately 2,000 acres, in Grand Haven Township. Townsend paid about $15 per acre. Because of the fruit it produced, the area came to be known as Peach Plains. He eventually cultivated 70 acres of orchard with 10,000 trees, mostly peach, with apple, plum, and cherry, as well.

In the fourth quarter of the 1800s "driving parks" became popular places for people to gather and witness trotting races. One such park was built on land in Section 35 of Grand Haven Township. Access from Grand Haven was by way of River Road [Mercury Drive], but spectators could come from Grand Rapids and other places by boat or train. The one-mile track was laid on a flat, marl surface that provided firm and fast racing. The park opened on August 14, 1874 and continued operation into the 1890s.

On September 27, 1830 Townsend married Emily Power in Poughkeepsie, New York. She was born in New York about 1807, died on February 25, 1856, and was buried at Parma Cemetery in Jackson County. Their only son, Sands, was born in New York about 1831 and died on November 3, 1892 in Saginaw. He married Josephine [last name unknown] in Jackson County on January 23, 1862. Townsend and Emily also had two daughters, both born in New York: Sarah, born about 1831, and Isabella, born about 1832. Isabella married Horatio G. Snyder on November 1, 1855 and remained in Jackson County. Horatio lived from 1831 to 1887. She married Joseph Gunn in Jackson County on December 15, 1864. He lived from 1826 to 1909. Sands, Josephine, Isabella, and Joseph also were buried at Parma Cemetery.

Townsend married Mary Blanche Henderson in Grand Haven on January 23, 1879. She was born in Dayton, Ohio and lived from August 25, 1845 to July 26, 1925. Townsend passed away on October 8, 1888 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After his death, Mary previously married William H. Roberts on June 2, 1892 in Grand Haven. Mary also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune article, November 16, 1892.]

Esther I. Gier [1902-1981]

With her husband Earl as partner, Esther Gier owned and operated Keefer's Restaurant at 15 Washington. They purchased the restaurant from Peter A. and Edith Keefer, sometime after 1938, keeping its original name. The Giers lived above the restaurant. Esther was born in Michigan on September 9, 1902 and died in Grand Haven on September 2, 1981. Earl was born in Central Lake, Antrim County on January 21, 1902 and passed away in Alma on May 2, 1992. They were married in Grand Rapids on November 11, 1922.

Phyllis "Pixi" Yvonne Johnson Gifford [1922-2000]

Phyllis Johnson was born on March 6, 1922 in New Era, Oceana County. In Grand Haven, she resided at 6080 Harbor Point Drive in Ferrysburg and later at 38 Crescent Hill Road in Highland Park. Around 1970 she ran "Interiors by Pixi" from her Spring Lake home. For a short time, she co-managed Mariushka with owner Dick Sweet. On June 2, 1945, Pixi married George James Smith in Pima, Arizona. He was born in Muskegon on April 29, 1921, married Marilyn Baldwin on March 28, 1959 in Orange, California, and passed away on September 1, 2021. Randy Scott Smith, a resident of Grand Haven and later owner of Mariushka, was their son. He was born on July 12, 1953. Pixi and George had two other children: Tari Smith, born about 1946, and Christi-Lynn Smith-Heinz, born about 1951. Pixi died on October 4, 2000.

Francis Baker [Backus] Gilbert [1818-1885]

Born in Greenfield, Massachusetts on May 25, 1818, the son of General Thomas D. and Harriet A. Ames Gilbert of Greenfield, Francis arrived in Grand Haven in 1837, two years after his brother, Thomas. He moved between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven several times and was president of the Grand Rapids Gas Light Company for more than 25 years. On October 7, 1850 he married Caroline Elizabeth Throop in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of early Grand Haven settlers Nathan and Mary Mushaw Throop. Francis and Caroline had five surviving children, all born in Grand Rapids: William D. Gilbert [1853-1890]; Mary Elizabeth Gilbert [1855-1872]; Edward Ashley Gilbert [1857-1925]; Henrietta Isabella Gilbert [1858-1890], who married Philo Fuller [1857-1931]; and Kate Huntington Gilbert [1860-1949], who married John Holt [1856-1942]. Caroline was born in Canada in 1831 and died on June 29, 1869. Francis died in Grand Rapids on May 25, 1885. Both were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Thomas Dwight Gilbert was Francis's brother.

Thomas Dwight Gilbert II [1815-1894]

Born on December 13, 1815 in Greenfield, Massachusetts, the son of General Thomas D. and Harriet A. Ames Gilbert of Greenfield, Thomas arrived in Grand Haven on June 10, 1835, with his friend, Mary A. White, and her three brothers. With Rix Robinson and others, Thomas was one of the founders and clerk of the second Grand Haven Company [Robinson, White & Williams], a business which included a warehouse, a shipbuilding enterprise, and land development. His brother, Francis Baker [Backus] Gilbert, was secretary. Later Thomas and Francis started their own mercantile and warehousing business in Grand Haven. After that they reentered the lumbering trade and developed a lake shipping operation, as well. Thomas was sheriff of Ottawa County from 1841 to 1843. In 1850 he was appointed to a commission to lay out plank roads and buildings between Grand Haven and Holland.

In 1853 Thomas and his brother sold their warehouse to Henry Martin of Grand Rapids, who hired Dwight Cutler to manage it. Thomas was able to retire after that sale and traveled for two years in Europe before he and his brother moved to Grand Rapids in 1855. In 1860 he served in the State Legislature, and he was regent of the University of Michigan for twelve years. In 1865 he was president of the City National Bank of Grand Rapids.

In November 1871 Thomas married Mary Angelina “Angie,” the daughter of Reverend Abel Bingham, a missionary at Sault Ste. Marie. Angie was born in Michigan on March 21, 1830 and died in Grand Rapids on November 8, 1910. She was reputed to be fluent in Chippewa and spoke with Jean Baptiste Parrisien in that language. Thomas died in Grand Rapids on November 18, 1894. Thomas and Angie were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, November 19, 1894.]

Henry Gildner [1849-1927]

Henry Gildner was born in Germany in May 1849 and emigrated from Canada to this area with his wife, Eva, in 1895. It was that year he bought and remodeled the Kirby Hotel at 2 Washington. Henry changed the establishment’s name to the Gildner Hotel. He and Eva remained residents of Grand Rapids, where Henry died about February 25, 1927. Eva was born in Canada in April 1852. They had at least two children, both born in Canada: George, born in February 1872, and Minetta, born in July 1884.

Edward Gillen [Gillan] [1865-1935]

In the early 1890s Edward Gillen and Archie Campbell started the Gillen & Campbell Foundry in Grand Haven. The plant manufactured iron and brass castings. Edward, the son of Hugh and Elizabeth Fair Gillen, was born in Grand Haven in September 1865. Hugh Gillen was born around 1834 in Ohio and died in Grand Haven on July 1, 1903. Edward’s mother, Elizabeth, came from Ireland, where she was born about 1837. In the 1893 Compendium Hugh was listed as Pier Inspector, and Edward was a machinist. By 1900 Edward was living in Milwaukee with his two brothers, William and Frederick, and working as a pile driver. Ten years later he was in Chicago with his wife, Mary. She was born in Wisconsin about 1870. William and Mary had moved to Windom, Minnesota by 1920. In 1930 he was again living with his brother William in Milwaukee and was retired. Edward died in Milwaukee on June 28, 1935 and was buried at Forest Home Cemetery.

Winthrop Watson Gilman [1808-1885]

On May 1, 1839, Winthrop Gilman purchased two quarter-sections in Section 34 of Ottawa Township (now Grand Haven Township). A year earlier, he bought two large parcels in what was then Ottawa Township and later was part of the City of Grand Haven: a quarter section in Section 29 and an eighth of a section in Section 28. These purchases were dated September 9, 1838. He also bought acreage in Allendale and Park Townships, four parcels in each purchase, on the same date.

Winthrop was born in Maine in 1808 and died in Sullivan County, New York, in December 1885, leaving a fortune of around two million dollars. He was buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York. There is no evidence he ever resided in Ottawa County. His wife, Deborah, predeceased him by four years. They had five children. [New York Times article, “A Millionaire’s Lonely Death, the Eccentricities and Lonely Life of Winthrop W. Gilman,” December 8, 1885.]

Ernest Davis Ginter [1912-1962]

E. Davis Ginter came to Grand Haven to work for the Peerless Glove Company about 1945. Four years later he purchased all of the company’s outstanding capital stock. In 1952 he sold the company to Pioneer Rubber, which subsequently closed the plant. Davis and his wife, Marion, resided at 628 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. He was born in Illinois on June 13, 1912 and died in Minnesota on January 16, 1962. Marion lived from September 5, 1916 to August 22, 1991. She passed away in Strongsville, Ohio.

Lorenz [Laurance, Lawrence] Girnhuber [Gernhube] [1858-1945]

Lorenz and Berthe Girnhuber immigrated to the United States in 1893, settling in Chicago. Lorenz was born in Bavaria, Germany, on August 9, 1858, and Berthe was a native of Switzerland, where she was born on February 13, 1852. She died in Chicago on September 7, 1927. In the 1910 Federal Census Lorenz's was listed as an osteopath, and ten years later he was listed as Massager [masseur] at a bath house. Ten years after that he was the owner/proprietor of the bath house. From about 1910 to at least 1930 he owned a parcel of approximately five acres on Lloyd's Bayou in Section 23 of Spring Lake Township. Lorenz died on March 18, 1945 in Chicago, where he had been located since at least 1940. His wife's name in the 1940 Federal Census was Ernestine. Nine years younger than Lorenz, she also was born in Germany.

Andrea Johnson Glafcke [1914-2003]

The daughter of George W. and Ida Belle McNeal Johnson, Andrea was born in Robinson Township on September 7, 1914. She and Frank L. Glafcke I were married in Chicago, Illinois, on November 24, 1935. He was born on January 11, 1914 and died in Spring Lake on September 27, 2001. The two of them helped organize the Muskegon Bowman's Archery Club. Andrea was a realtor. Their son, Frank L. Glafcke II, died on June 30, 1966. They had another son, Richard, and two daughters, Kathryn Neumann and Carol Higginbotham. The family resided at 16009 Leonard Road. Andrea, who was a member of the Christian Science Church, passed away in Spring Lake on July 6, 2003. [Tribune obituary, July 10, 2003.]

Herman Glazat [Glazet] [1820-1895]

Born in East Prussia on August 15, 1820, Herman Glazat came to Grand Haven about 1855. He brought his family to the area nine years later. For many years he was foreman of the rafting department of the Grand River Booming Company, after which he opened a meat market in Ferrysburg. He was listed as a saloonkeeper in the 1880 census. Herman was a member of the St. John's Lutheran church and of the German Workingmen's Society. His wife, Caroline Renata Dodge, also a native of Prussia, lived from February 10, 1825 to September 3, 1890. Their children included Mary, who was born in Prussia on December 21, 1850 and married Henry Bloecker; Augusta, who was born about 1856 in Prussia; Charles Fredericks; and Maximillian, who was born on January 21, 1867. Herman died at the home of his daughter Mary on December 29, 1895. Both Caroline and Herman were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 30, 1895.]

Maxmillian Glazat [1867-1936]

In the early 1900s Max Glazat, a machinist, was foreman at Dake Engine Company, where he was employed for 45 years. He married Sarah Ladewig in Grand Haven on January 23, 1890. Sarah, born in Michigan in September 1869, was the daughter of Carl and Wilhelmenia Ladewig of Grand Haven Township. The Glazats raised their family at 209 Elliott. Max was born on January 21, 1867 in Grand Haven to Herman and Caroline Renata Dodge Glazat. Max died on August 14, 1936 and his wife died on November 15, 1954. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Glazats had seven children, all born locally: Viola, born in June 1890; Maxwell, who lived from 1892 to 1893; Carl, born in March 1894; William H., who was born April 2, 1896 and died in Grand Haven, September 2, 1971; Wilminia, born on February 28, 1900; George, born about 1901; and Theora, who was born on June 9, 1909. Both George and Theora moved to Washington, D.C. Theora returned to Grand Haven and resided in the family home at 209 Elliott. She died in Grand Haven on March 11, 2008. William H., born on April 2, 1896, also lived in the home until he died on September 2, 1971. [Tribune obituary, March 13, 2008.]

Glenn Ardis Gleason [1906-1994]

Glenn Gleason was a sheetmetal worker at the Soda Fountain factory [Bastian Blessing]. On December 31, 1928, he married Adrianna Klop in Spring Lake. She was born in The Netherlands on May 11, 1907. The family resided at 433 Jackson. Glenn was born on January 10, 1906 and passed away in Grand Haven on July 12, 1994. Adrianna died on September 30, 1989. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had at least one child, William A. Gleason, who lived from 1929 to 2003.

Sherman P. Gleason [1896-1989]

Long-time Nunica resident Sherm Gleason was born on January 11, 1896 and died in Grand Haven on September 28, 1989. From 1922 to 1926, in partnership with Joe Crouse, Sherm owned an automobile garage and sales agency. The company sold 28 Chevrolets in 1923. Sherm's father, Andrew E., who was born in Canada in 1853, had settled in Crockery Township by 1870 with his parents. Sherm had at least four sisters, all born locally: Mabel, who was born in 1877 and died in 1945; Amy, who lived from 1878 to 1968 and on October 16, 1895 married Herman Dumas in Ottawa Center; Edith, who was born on November 1, 1885 and on November 24, 1906 married George Edwards in Coopersville; and Cora M., who was born in March 1891 and on April 16, 1913 married Marvin Peterson in Grand Haven. Sherm's mother, Rosina May Fonger Gleason, was born in Canada on September 15, 1854. Andrew died in 1920 and Rosina passed away on September 29, 1907. They were married in Spring Lake on February 9, 1876. Andrew, Rosina, Amy, and Mabel were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

Sherm married Edna Bell Bond of Nunica on May 31, 1919. Their children were Vera M., born about 1921; Marjorie B., born about 1922; Quinn R., born about 1924; and Donald L., born in August 1925. By 1930 Sherm was a sheet metal worker at Bastian-Blessing Company in Grand Haven. The family resided on 40 acres in Section 16 of Crockery Township.

William Joseph Gleason [1846-1926]

Foreman of the freight sheds for the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railroad, William Gleason came to Grand Haven from Detroit in 1846 when he was about a year old. He was born in Ireland. William married Johanna Hayes in 1869. She was born in Michigan about 1846. William's second wife's name was Mary. Among William's offspring were Nellie, who was born about 1873; Maggie, born about 1875; and William, born about 1878. Nellie, and Willy [William] died young and were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The family resided on Lafayette Street. In 1880 William was a dock worker. By 1910 he and Johanna were living in Ludington. William died there on June 9, 1926.

Olive May Wilhelms Gleave [1916-2002]

Olive Gleave and Ruth Bethke Horton co-authored the book Robinson Remembrances, a history of Robinson Township. Olive, the daughter of Frederick and Hortense Carlborg Wilhelms, was born in Chicago, Illinois, on April 13, 1916, and started spending summers with her family at a cottage on Stearns Bayou when she was three. Around December 15, 1938 she married Winston Gleave [1915-1990] in Chicago. Olive was one of the first residents of Freedom Village in Holland, Michigan. Her children were James W., Frederick W., Margaret Bales, and Mary Parks. Olive died in Holland on November 4, 2002. [Tribune obituary, November 5, 2002.]

Cornelius Glerum [1853-1932]

Cornelius Glerum was born on April 23, 1853 in Michigan and arrived in Grand Haven in 1866, where in 1878 he became a partner with William Moozen in the contracting and building business. By 1893 Cornelius had been a partner in the firm of Stuveling & Glerum for more than 20 years, but no mention was made of Moozen in the Compendium for that year. Arend Stuveling and his sons, Simon and Arend II, were all local builders. Cornelius married Johanna "Joan" [Anna] Baar in Grand Haven on April 19, 1876. The couple moved to Kenosha, Wisconsin sometime between 1893 and 1900, where Cornelius continued working as a carpenter. Many Glerums resided in Kenosha, including several born in Grand Haven. Joan, the daughter of Simon and Helena Yonker Baar of Grand Haven, was born in Illinois in October 1854. Cornelius died in December 1932.

Jacob [Jakoab] Glerum [1866–1948]

Jacob, born on December 11, 1866 in The Netherlands, was the son of John and Adriana Mieras Glerum. He was their fourth child, but the first to survive infancy. Jacob arrived in Ottawa County with his parents in 1868. He was city clerk for Grand Haven between 1900 and 1904 and again from 1908 to 1910, Jacob first had an office in the city hall, then on the southwest corner of Fifth and Washington Streets. On March 18, 1909 Jacob was in Lansing attending a sale of state lands. He had been instructed by city officials to bid on the property across the Grand River. His bid was successful and the property, generally known as Dewey Hill, was incorporated into the city at a cost of $136, $2 for each of its 68 acres.

On September 29, 1886 in Grand Haven, Jacob married Maria [Mary] Ruster. The couple resided at 222 Howard. He died on May 28, 1948 at a sanatorium in Grand Rapids and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary lived from July 28, 1866 [1867] to June 30, 1926 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Their children included John, born on April 16, 1887; Simon [Sam], who lived from March 1889 [1888] to 1960; Adrienne [Adriana] "Trix," January 1891 to 1980; Cornelia [Katie] "Kay," November 1892 to 1984; William, November 1894 to 1990; James M., February 1896 to 1982; Maatje [Marguerite] "Maida," October 1897 to 1990; and Nellie Marie "Babe," 1902 to 1954. Trix married George S. Christman.

John [Jan] Glerum [1841-1913]

John Glerum was born in Yerseke, Zeeland, The Netherlands on February 14, 1841. His father, Jacob, lived from 1796 to 1855 and his mother, Cornelia Kole, from 1801 to 1870. Although the Glerums were considered Dutch, the family originated in Norway [Glaerum] and immigrated to The Netherlands in the early 1500s. In Grand Haven, young Glerum was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church.

John married Adriana Mieras in The Netherlands on February 12, 1863. She was born on August 22, 1841 and died on July 14, 1885. In 1868 they immigrated to America with their young family, including Mary [Maka/Make], who lived from 1866 to 1926 and married a Mr. Theleine of Omaha, Nebraska, and Jacob, born on December 11, 1866. Their twelve children also included Maggie, who was born about 1869, married Harke Holman, and moved to Kenosha, Wisconsin; Jannetje "Jennie," who was born February 23, 1875 and married John Van Lopik in 1895; William "Will," born on September 22, 1877; and Katie, who married Evan O. Jones.

After his arrival in Northwest Ottawa County, John worked for Dornbos Fisheries and in the shingle mills, and he also mended fishing nets. For many years he was in charge of the Cornelius Bos celery farms and later was in the carpenter trade. Jan and Adriana bought land in Spring Lake in 1872 [Block 6, Haire, Tolford, and Hancock Addition]. Adriana died 24 years prior to her husband, leaving him with six children to rear, including William, born in September 1877. John, on January 7, 1889, married Roelvina [Roelfa], the widow of John Hoffman of Grand Haven. Roelvina was born in The Netherlands on January 23, 1843 and died on November 17, 1927. John passed away on March 10, 1913 at his home at 735 Franklin Street and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Adriana and their daughter Mary. [Tribune obituary, March 10, 1913.]

John Glerum [1887-1981]

John, born in Grand Haven on April 16, 1887, was the son of Jacob and Maria Ruster Glerum. Beginning on August 1, 1906, he became one of Grand Haven's first three mail carriers. [The other two were Sherm Clark and George Swart.] He married Amanda Stahmer, a native of Germany, who was born on April 2, 1890 and immigrated to America with her parents when she was one year old. John and Amanda were married in Grand Haven on June 14, 1913. They moved to Maywood, Illinois in 1922, where Amanda died in December 1970. John passed away in La Jolla, California on October 3, 1981.

William "Will" Glerum [1877-1975]

Will, the son of John [Jan] and Adriana Mieras Glerum, was born in Grand Haven on September 22, 1877. He was employed at Story & Clark. On May 4, 1905 in Grand Rapids, he married Mabel A. Scott. They first lived at 118 Eighth Street. One of their children, Anne, married Nelson Fisher. They had another daughter, Pauline G., who was born on May 22, 1910, married Walter Alfred Nilsson, and died in Santa Clara, California on December 6, 1998. Walter, who lived from December 31, 1907 to October 28, 1991, passed away in San Mateo, California. The Glerums also had a son Neele, who died about February 16, 1923. Will was a shoe repairman and later became a contractor. He constructed the house at 226 Howard for his daughter Anne and her husband. Mabel passed away about April 2, 1947, and Will died on February 3, 1975. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was their son, Neele. At the time of his death, Will was residing at 538 Leggat Street.

Samuel C. Glover [1841-1910]

Born in Ohio on September 11, 1841, Samuel Glover enlisted as sergeant in Company A of the 39th Ohio Infantry on July 16, 1861. Three years later, on February 24, he was transferred to Company D. He was discharged for promotion on April 19, 1864, and then entered Company I of the Ohio 73rd Infantry as first lieutenant. The same year, on July 28, he was given the rank of captain. The date of his discharge was not recorded. On September 5, 1866 in Butler, Ohio, Samuel married Fanny Howell. She was born in Ohio around 1846. Samuel came to Grand Haven in 1870 [1871] to join the White, Glover, & Company lumber firm, with John White as his partner. A fire on July 4, 1877 destroyed the mill, located in Ferrysburg on the banks of Spring Lake. Samuel then leased a neighboring mill and was immediately back in the lumber business. He served as postmaster of Grand Haven from 1885 to 1889. On January 7, 1891 he deeded to the city a portion of the land that became the north end of Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1910 he died at his home, 6538 Stewart Avenue in Chicago and was buried at Oxford, Ohio. Fanny applied in Illinois for a widow's Civil War pension on the following November 10. Samuel's and Fanny's children were Ellie H., born about 1869 in Ohio; Mary Raymond, born in 1872 in Grand Haven; and Benjamin Howell, born in 1874, also in Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, September 24, 1910.]

Otto Gustave Glueck [1872-1934]

In 1916 Otto Glueck bought the abandoned Beech Tree School and moved it a short distance to 1514 Pennoyer to be used as his residence. Prior to that he owned a 56-acre farm in Grand Haven Township, between Mercury Drive and the Grand River. He retained 10 acres of land at that site after his move to Pennoyer. In 1920 he was working at a foundry, but by 1930 he was the owner of Glueck's Market at 21 South Beechtree. Otto was born in Germany on April 16, 1872. He came to the United States in 1885 and married Emma Blies in Grand Haven on June 2, 1897. Emma was born in Chicago on January 1, 1875. Otto died on August 29, 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the Blies family plot. The Gluecks' children, all natives of Michigan, were Frederick, born in March 1899; Walter O., who was born on July 3, 1908 and died in November 1971; and Elsie E., born on May 13, 1914, married Robert C. Scheil II [1911-1996], and died on March 5, 1996. Emma passed away on May 23, 1954 and was buried near her husband and other family members.

George Godfrey [1838- ?]

On December 28, 1863, while living in Grand Haven, George Godfrey, an African American, enlisted with Company H of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. Born in Scott City, Missouri, George was 25 at the time of his enlistment. His occupation then was seaman. George's military papers noted that he was born a slave and freed on or before April 19, 1861.

George E. Godfrey [1838- ?]

George Godfrey was mustered into Company G of the 5th Michigan Cavalry on August 28, 1862 as private. He was a resident of Olive Township. He was taken as a prisoner of war, imprisoned on October 19, 1863 at Buckland's Mill, Virginia, and later paroled. He was mustered out with the rank of corporal on June 27, 1865 in Annapolis, Maryland. He was born in Ohio about 1838 and moved to Battle Creek after the war. He died before July 25, 1894, when his wife applied for a widow's Civil War pension

Joseph Godhardt [Godhart] [1846-1920]

Born in Bohemia [Hungary] in December 1846, Joseph Godhardt was the son of a shoemaker who came to Canada in 1853 and to the United States the following year. Joseph's father died, and as a boy of seven he was left to care for his mother and five-year-old brother. "A cold settled in his eyes" and he became blind. A few years later he came to Michigan and attended the School for the Blind in Flint, leaving there in 1862.

In late 1864 in partnership with Herrick Kamhout, also blind, he started a broom factory in Grand Haven. An advertisement dated January 4, 1865 that appeared in the Grand Haven News read: "BROOMS! BROOMS! We, the undersigned, have just established a Broom Manufactory in Grand Haven, on Third street, near Dr. McNett's residence. We are unfortunately BLIND, and desirous of earning at least a living by honest, patient industry. Therefore we earnestly solicit the patronage and kind regard of our mercantile dealers and citizens generally. Our Brooms are made in a neat, substantial manner and of the best materials. Prices low--singly, by the dozen or wholesale. Remember the unfortunate." High prices for raw materials made it an unprofitable adventure and they gave it up.

Joseph later became prosperous in the junk business in the Grand Haven area. He married Matilda Gertrude Fryer in 1878. Gertrude, as she was called, was born in Michigan in September 1858. The Godhardts had several children, all born locally, including Hattie, who was born in May 1879, married Harm Koenes of Grand Haven, and died in 1937; Frank, who was born in March 1881 and whose wife's name was Myrtie; Leena, born in August 1883; Edith Bell "Mattie," who was born in August 1885, married John Bell, and died in 1931; Gertrude, born in August 1890; Helen, who was born in 1893, married William G. Vick, and died in 1937; and Clarence J., born in March 1894. Joseph died at his home, 211 Fulton Street, on August 10, 1920. Gertrude passed away in 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her three daughters, Hattie, Edith, and Helen. [Tribune obituary, August 10, 1920.]

Franklin Paul Goettman [1920-1994]

In the 1960s Franklin Goettman was general manager of the Standard Sand Company, which mined sand from Rosy Mound. Franklin married Monica M. Williams. They lived at 1722 Gladys in Grand Haven, but at the time of his death Franklin resided in Spring Lake. He was born on March 31, 1920 in Pottsville, Pennsylvania, died on September 25, 1994, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Monica was born on January 24, 1918 and died in Roanoke, North Carolina on January 31, 2014. She, too, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Gustav "Gust" Anton Goldbach [1872-1958]

Gustav Goldbach was born on December 28, 1872. In 1906 he settled on an 80-acre farm in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township. Gustave married Marie Sophie Louise Reinhard on October 9, 1898 in Bensenville, Illinois. She was born on October 11, 1880 and died in Du Page County, Illinois, on March 17, 1904. They had four children, all born in Illinois. Gustav next married Anna Berg, who lived from 1875 to 1958. She previously had been married to Martin Kartheus [1870-1913] of Agnew. Gustav died about February 24, 1958.

Harry F. Goldberg [1897-1964]

Harry, the son of John and Musa Gardner Goldberg, was born in Grand Haven Township on August 3, 1897. On August 6, 1920 in Grand Haven, Harry married Jobena C. Geber. They resided at 1004 Griffin in Grand Haven in the 1950s. Harry worked at Fountain Specialty [Bastian Blessing]. The family resided at 719 Wallace Street. A daughter, Josephine [Joan] Goldberg, was born in October 1928. Jobena lived from October 20, 1903 to January 28, 1975. Harry died on December 12, 1964. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Johannes Goldberg [Gouberg] [1820-1890]

Around 1860 Johannes Goldberg owned a 40-acre farm in Section 26 of northern Grand Haven Township [Peach Plains], not far from the Grand River. Both he and his wife were born in The Netherlands, Johannes on August 6, 1820 and Catharine [Catryna] on May 20, 1820. They had three daughters, Janna Goldberg, born about 1855; Anna Goldberg, born about 1856; and Cornelia Goldberg, born about 1861. The first two were born in The Netherlands, and Cornelia was born locally. The Goldberg property was sold to Cornelius Van Zanten on November 5, 1891 for $1,200. Johannes died on July 19, 1890. Catharine passed away on January 3, 1893 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Johannes Goldberg [Goudberg] [1828-1903]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born on June 19, 1828, Johannes Goudberg came to Grand Haven in 1853. He worked for a short time at White & Norton's lumber mill, and in 1854 settled on approximately 40 acres in Section 27 of Grand Haven Township [Peach Plains] to raise fruit. His name appeared as Goldberg in the 1860 census for Ottawa County. He died on November 7, 1903 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1853 Johannes married Elizabeth "Betty" Kemble, also from The Netherlands. They had two children, including John Goldberg, born about 1875, and Mary Goldberg, born in July 1886. Elizabeth died on February 13, 1897.

John D. Goldberg [1874-1937]

John Goldberg, the son of Johannes and Elizabeth Kemble Goudberg, owned 40 acres in Section 26 of Grand Haven Township, where he manufactured concrete blocks in the early 1900s. John was a truck farmer before starting his manufacturing firm. He married Musa D. Gardner in Ottawa County in 1896. She was the daughter of Frank and Emma Martin Gardner and was born on April 18, 1874. The Goldbergs' son, Harry Goldberg, was born in Grand Haven Township on August 3, 1897. Their other children were Belle E. Goldberg, born in May 1899; Rose E. Goldberg, born about 1901; Charlie J. Goldberg, born about 1902; Maria, born about 1905; William F. Goldberg, born about 1908; Frederich D. Goldberg, born about January 1909; and John R. Goldberg, born around 1913. All the children were born in Michigan. John, the father, was born in April 1874 in Michigan and died in Grand Haven about April 4, 1937. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles Emery Gomery [1923-1987]

Gomery Motor Sales, owned by Charles Gomery, offered De Sotos and Plymouths at 220 South Beechtree Street from the mid-1950s to the late 1960s. Charles lived at 407 Ohio. He was born in Muskegon on September 24, 1923. On April 17, 1948, Charles married Evelyn Waltz in Muskegon. A year later, he and his wife, then using the name Beverly Gomery, were residing in Muskegon, where he worked at the Occidental Hotel as assistant manager of the cocktail bar. By 1954 Charles had established a business of his own, Gomery's Home Development Service, still in Muskegon. During their time in Grand Haven, the couple resided at 407 Ohio Street. Charles died in Lansing on June 5, 1987 and was buried at Mona View Cemetery in Muskegon Heights. Beverly, also a native of Muskegon, lived from March 16, 1924 to April 16, 2010 and was buried near her husband.

Albert Edgar Goodrich [1826-1885]

Albert Edgar Goodrich founded the Goodrich Steamboat Line in 1856 at the age of 30. He had worked for the Ward Line and became a ship's captain. In 1856 he and his friend, George C. Drew, formed a partnership and leased from the Ward Line the side-wheel steamboat Huron and started carrying passengers between Chicago, Grand Haven, and Muskegon. The Huron was 165 feet long and used cordwood as fuel. Knowledge of the ship captain's reliability spread, and business continued to grow. Goodrich bought out his partner in 1861 and became sole owner. On November 30, 1864, in Milwaukee, Goodrich married Rosamond Franc Whaling, who was born about 1840. They had a son, Albert W., who was born on November 24, 1868 in Chicago. The elder Goodrich was born New Buffalo, Berrien County, on February 11, 1826 and died in 1885. Albert W. continued the business until 1920, when he sold the line for $1,000,000 dollars to H. W. Thorp. The Goodriches did not reside in the Grand Haven area.

John Van Buren Goodrich [Goodrick] [1839-1906]

Born in Dryden, New York on October 10, 1839, John Goodrich was educated at Homer Academy in his home state. In 1859 he came to Michigan and was admitted to the bar, living first in Hillsdale County. On September 17, 1861, while living in Hudson, Lenawee County, he enlisted as private in Company A of the 4th Michigan Infantry. On July 1, 1862 he was badly wounded at the Battle of Malvern Hill, near Richmond, Virginia, and took a year to recuperate. On July 2, 1864 he was attached to Company F of the 1st Michigan

Infantry, and then on June 6, 1865, transferred back to the 4th Michigan as part of Company K. John was discharged for disability on July 21, 1865.

After living in California for a while, where he worked as a carpenter, John returned to Michigan ten years after the end of the Civil War and made his home in Coopersville. He was a member of the state legislature for two terms, the second term as chair of the Judiciary Committee. John was in the lumber business in Coopersville with his son, Byron O., under the name Goodrich & Son.

John was mayor of Coopersville, and in 1892 he was elected Judge of probate for Ottawa County, a post he held until his retirement in 1901, when Edward Percival Kirby replaced him. In 1897 John was elected mayor of Grand Haven. John was a member of the committee that helped beautify Central Park, which formally opened on July 17, 1901. He returned permanently to California on December 8 that year. John died on February 25, 1906 in San Pedro, California.

John was married three times, first to Caroline “Carrie” M. Thatcher [Britton/Britten], whom he married in Grand Haven on July 7, 1869. John, Carrie, and four of their children were living in Coopersville in 1880. John, at that time an attorney, also had lumber interests. was born about 1838 in Michigan and died on December 19, 1881. John next married Alice B. Houston Cloud on June 29, 1882 in Grand Rapids. She died on August 24, 1884 at the age of 36. On April 28, 1885 in Dexter, Lenawee County, John married Anna “Annie” Phelps, who was born in Michigan in December 1855. At the time of the Federal Census of 1900, John and Anna were living on Franklin Street in Grand Haven. On February 11, 1907 she applied for a widow’s Civil War pension.

John had at least children in addition to Byron: John H., born in 1859; Hermon [Herman] A., who was born about 1867 and died in Coopersville on February 12, 1882; Miner, who was born about 1876 and moved to Omaha, Nebraska; and Austria, born about 1878. Byron was born in New York, the rest in Michigan. John and many of the Goodrich family members were buried at the Coopersville Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 28, 1906.]

Willard E. Gordon [Gorden] [1852-1919]

In 1881 Willard Gordon, a tinsmith by trade, purchased a hardware business in Nunica from John J. Wiseman. Willard sold a half interest in his business to Arza E. Landon in 1882 and in January of the next year, he sold his remaining interest to Landon. Willard, the son of Oliver and Cornelia Breau Gordon of Tallmadge Township and later Crockery Township, was born in Clinton County, New York in 1852. On September 25, 1878 in Kalamazoo, he married Mary A. Lawrence. She was born in Michigan around 1857. By 1900 they were residing in Muskegon, where Willard was superintendent of the County Poor Farm. Willard and Mary had at least one son, Lawrence, who was born in Michigan about 1881. By 1937 Mary was widowed, still living in Muskegon. Willard was born in Clinton County, New York, on May 20, 1852. He passed away in Muskegon on August 20, 1919.

George W. Gorham [1836-1899]

George Gorham, who was born on October 1 [20], 1836 in Albany, New York, came to Grand Haven about 1885. In 1867 he married Arlintha [Arlinda] A. Shepard, born near Buffalo, New York, on December 20, 1843. They had a son, Lewis A. Gorham, born in Canada in May 1879. George died on August 17, 1899, and his wife died from a paralytic stroke at her home at 726 Franklin on June 1, 1921. She was buried in Northville, Wayne County, where she had lived as a child. [Tribune obituary, June 1, 1921.]

Lewis A. Gorham [1879-1971]

Lewis was born on May 13, 1879 and arrived in Grand Haven with his parents, George and Arlintha Shepard Gorham, when he was six. He graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1897. Lewis was on the first high school baseball and football teams when they were formed in 1895. He and his wife, Edith, lived at 726 Franklin Street, formerly his parents’ home. Their daughter, Eda Arlintha, was born on May 13, 1910, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1927, married Louis Frickman, and died in Grand Haven on January 23, 1997. Lewis owned a grocery at 1322 Washington in the early 1900s. He died on January 6, 1971. Edith lived from August 7, 1880 to March 21, 1982. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was their daughter.

Robert Charles Gould [1921-2004]

Robert Gould served with the Coast Guard from 1942 to 1945 and received his basic training at the Grand Haven camp. He was awarded several campaign ribbons as Senior Signalman on the vessel Eastwind. His ship commandeered a German vessel, the Externsteine, and towed it to Boston. He also was part of a group that captured German soldiers and their base on Little Koldeway Island, Greenland.

Robert was born in Flint on July 22, 1921, the son of Leslie and Thelma Spees Gould. He was working at the AC Sparkplug company in his hometown when WWII began. After the war he returned to Grand Haven with his wife, Alice Elaine Lee, whom he had married on March 25, 1944. Alice, the daughter of James Wesley and Hilma E. Swanty of Grand Haven, was born on August 28, 1919 and passed away in Spring Lake on November 29, 1981. After the war, Robert joined Challenge Machinery, which the Lee family had founded and continued to operate. In 1951 Robert was made director of the company, in 1958 he was named vice president, and four years later he became president of the firm, a position he retained until the early 1970s. Robert was active with the United Fund [United Way], and was a member of the American Legion and Grand Haven Rotary, and he was on the board of the West Shore Symphony. He also was a delegate-at-large for the Grand Valley Boy Scout Council. He also was a Division chairman for the YMCA Building Fund.

The Goulds resided at 630 Pennoyer. Their six children were James of Elgin, Illinois; Robb, of Spring Lake; John, of Bath, New York; Sara, who married Rick Surpin and resided in Brooklyn, New York; Liz, who married Carol Matthews and moved to Madison, Wisconsin; and Criss, who married Dan Marshall of Saratoga, California.

On July 31, 1976, Robert married Shirley Mansfield, who had three children by a previous marriage: Jeff Mansfield, of Portland, Oregon; Steve Mansfield, who lived in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; and Caryl, who married Bob Altman and resided in Tucson, Arizona. Robert died on November 20, 2004 in Tucson and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, November 23, 2004.]

Frederick “Doc” Graves [Greaves] I [1835-1921]

Frederick Graves was born into slavery in Orange County, Virginia on October 16, 1835 [1840]. On December 25, 1857, when they were slaves on the same plantation in adjacent Madison County, Fred and Isabella Washington were married. She was born in March 1840 [1834]. Fred escaped his bondage and made his way north, where in 1862 “he allied himself with the Union Forces” during the Civil War, after working as a servant in a Confederate army unit. Apparently Fred did not enlist, but he stated that he was at the first Battle of Bull Run on the Confederate side and joined the Union side in time to witness the second Battle of Bull Run. He also was with General Burnside at Fredericksburg and with Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley. Fred, Isabella, and their one child came to Spring Lake in December 1866, not long after his return to Virginia at the end of the war. The one child, Lena, was born in Virginia in May 1866. Their other children were Edward F., who was born in Spring Lake on June 13, 1869 and died on March 6, 1881; Frederick II, born in Spring Lake on January 13, 1872 [1866/1870/1871]; Hannah Hector, who was born in Spring Lake on August 15, 1873 and died a month later; William Jackson, who was born in Spring Lake on August 14, 1874, died two months later, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Robert, born in Spring Lake on October 9, 1875; Eva, who was born in Spring Lake on December 18, 1879; Edwin, born in Spring Lake on February 1, 1880; Etta, who was born about 1880, died in 1881, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Charles, who was born about 1882, died in 1883, and was buried at Lake Forest; and Ruford B., born in Spring Lake on June 30, 1882. Lena married Jessie [Jesse] Williams, also African American, in Grand Haven on November 30, 1899. Jessie, born in January 1868 in Virginia, was from Chicago, where he had been a wagon maker. After their marriage, the couple relocated to Chicago and Jessie worked as a “day laborer.”

On October 12, 1903 Jessie was a witness to the marriage in Grand Haven of his sister-in-law, Eva Graves, to William H. Pulley. William, also African American, was born in New York about 1882. There is no evidence that William and Eva remained in Ottawa County.

The Frederick Graves family was not located in the census of 1870, but the next year they were still residing in Spring Lake. The 1880 census listed Fred as a resident of Spring Lake and working as a laborer. Sometime after that census he and Isabella moved to Grand Haven and both worked at the Sheldon Mineral Springs [233 Washington Street], giving massages and helping guests with mineral baths. Fred also was reported to be a gardener, or yardman, at the resort. His work at the resort earned him the nickname Doc. Living with the Graveses in 1880 was Frederick's mother, Frances, who was born in Virginia about 1780, according to the census. However, when she died on January 9, 1885 her age was reported as 112, although Ottawa County death records cited it as 105.

Frederick and his family lived at 627 Madison Street in Grand Haven between 1890 and 1930. In 1910 Frederick's niece, Rebecca Thomas, was living in the family home on Madison Street. Rebecca was born in Pennsylvania about 1891 and had no occupation at the time of the census. Residing in the same household in 1920 were Frederick, Isabella, Frederick II, and William McKinley Graves, the Graves's grandson. Frederick I died on June 29, 1921. Isabella, her son Frederick, and a woman named Alice Burns were living in the family homestead in 1930. Alice was born in Tennessee about 1868 and worked for a Grand Haven family as a servant. Isabella said that her mother and four children, including Isabella, became the slaves of Tom Aler, who owned a plantation in Virginia. Her father, Lawson Washington, was said to be a slave on George Washington's Virginia plantation. Isabella's family were taken from their home on the Island of Madagascar.

Isabella, who was said to enjoy smoking a corn cob pipe, passed away in Muskegon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. L. Thompson, on April 30, 1932. Alice, Fred, Frances, Hannah, William, Etta, and Charles were buried in Potter's Field at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, June 29 and June 30, 1921 and May 2, 1932; Tribune article "Fifty Years Ago in Old Virginia," December 24, 1907.]

Fred was known as something of an orator. In January 1898, as the main speaker at a meeting of the Woman's Club in Grand Haven, Fred narrated the story of his life as a slave and freeman. He recounted an occasion when 500 slaves were advertised for sale. Chained to one another, they were taken to a slave market where Fred and his mother were sold for $1,200. It was then, undoubtedly, when he was taken to the plantation in Madison County. He escaped from his owner in 1860, when he was about 25, but was found and returned. Two years later he and several companions escaped again, this time by hiding in a haystack for five days. He eventually joined the federal forces at Warrenton Junction, Virginia. There he was attached to the commissary department of the 1st Rhode Island Cavalry. Later he became a bodyguard for General Phillip Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley. At war's end he returned home to find two of his children had died. He and Isabella lived in Washington, D.C. before relocating to Grand Haven. [Tribune article, January 11, 1898.]

Frederick R. [William] Graves II [1870-1940]

Frederick R. Graves II on February 27, 1896 in Grand Haven married Cora N. Williams. In the Ottawa County Marriage Registry, she was listed as both Cora N. Williams and Cora N. Burrill [Burrell/Berrel, and she also went by the name Nellie. Cora was born about 1868 in Springfield, Ohio, but had moved to Kalamazoo by the time she married John Williams, her first husband, on August 15, 1888. Her father's name James or Robert Burrill, and her mother was Mary Grayson, according to the 1896 marriage license. [Apparently Mary's mother had remarried.] John was born in Chillicothe, Ohio about 1850 [1853] and worked as a cook at the Cutler House in downtown Grand Haven. At a meeting at his house in Grand Haven, John Williams was one of several local Blacks elected as delegates to the Equal Rights convention held in Grand Rapids in 1894. He died of pneumonia on August 31 that year, leaving Cora with an 18-month-old child. James and Robert Burrill were the same person.

At the time Fred Graves II and Cora were married in 1896, he was a farmer in Grand Haven Township. Cora's name at that time was given as Nellie Thompson. Fred had a son, Fred [William] McKinley, who was born in Grand Haven on October 26, 1896. Presumably, Cora was the mother. In 1908 Fred II was living with his parents at 627 Madison Street, apparently without Cora, and working as a laborer at the Nat Robbins warehouse and dock at the foot of Washington Street. Fred in the 1910 census was divorced and still a laborer, but in the Federal Census of 1920 he was said to be widowed and working at Eagle Ottawa. He remained with his mother and father in the family home on Madison Street until at least 1930, when he was working as a servant for a Grand Haven family. The Grand Haven Tribune reported that Frederick William Graves passed away on April 15, 1940. The article said that for nearly 50 years, Fred W. Graves worked for the Savidge and Robbins families in Spring Lake and Grand Haven, which conflicts with the occupations cited for him in various censuses. Fred W., the obituary continued, was born in Spring Lake on January 13, 1870 and moved to Grand Haven with his family eleven years later. Fred II died at his home in Muskegon, the article continued, and had no surviving children. At the time of the 1920 Federal Census, Nellie was married to Richard Thompson, living in Muskegon, and working as a "nurse baby," possibly a wet nurse. On McKinley Graves's birth registration, the mother was listed as unknown. Fred was the son of Frederick and Isabella Graves I. He was buried at Lakeside Cemetery in Muskegon.

Robert R. B. H. Graves [1875-1921]

Robert, the son of Frederick and Isabella Graves I, in early 1900 was working as a servant for and living with the Lester Tripp family in Spring Lake Township. Around 1905 he became an employee of the Dake Engine Company, where he was employed for the last fifteen years of his life. On December 25, 1900 in Grand Haven, he married Fanny Molson. Fanny, the daughter of Ephraim and Adelia Molson, was born in Grandville in 1881. Robert and Fanny resided at 411 North Seventh Street in Grand Haven. In the summer of 1907 Robert was convicted of simple assault and battery, committed against Alvirda Ragland. Alvirda was employed as a domestic for a St. Louis couple by the name of Marks, who owned a cottage in Highland Park. Three years later Robert was working at a Grand Haven foundry. Living with him and Fanny on Seventh Street that year were John and Mable Swanson, both Mulattoes. John Swanson, who also worked at the foundry, was born in Tennessee about 1889. Mable was born in Michigan about 1881. The Swansons do not reappear in any Ottawa County censuses. In the 1920 census Fanny's husband's name was given as Frederick, but that may have been an alternate name Robert used. He died of tuberculosis on December 12, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1921; Tribune articles July 15, July 20, August 7, August 15, and August 16, 1907.]

William McKinley "Doc" Graves [Greaves] [1896-1935]

William Graves, usually known by his middle name McKinley, was the son of Frederick and [probably] Cora Graves of Grand Haven. His name at birth was Fred McKinley Graves. His name at birth was Frederick Graves. It is likely that "Fred" was changed to "William" and the "McKinley" added when President William McKinley was assassinated in September 1901. Born in Grand Haven on October 26, 1896, McKinley was the sole African American attending Grand Haven High School when he graduated in 1917. McKinley played on the high school football team from 1913 to 1915. He also took part in the 1915 junior play and was elected mayor of the Student Council. McKinley went by the nickname "Doc," as did his grandfather, Frederick Graves I. In 1910 and 1920 McKinley was living with his grandparents at 627 Madison Street. In 1918 he was working for the Pere Marquette Railroad in Grand Rapids but residing with his parents in Grand Haven. Two years later he was still working for the railroad and living with his parents. On December 25, 1921 in Grand Rapids, McKinley married Helena J. Ebba. Helena, an African American, was born in Lansing in 1904. Her parents were Emory and Ella Robison Ebba. In Grand Rapids, at the time of his wedding, McKinley was working for an insurance company. McKinley died in Muskegon on April 26, 1935 and was buried at Lakeside Cemetery in that city. [Tribune obituary, December 12, 1921.]

Almira J. Gray [1830-1919]

A native of Connecticut, Almira Gray arrived in Grand Haven in 1872. She taught Sunday School at the Presbyterian Church until her retirement in 1906. She was born in 1830, died in 1919, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Curtis W. Gray [Grey] [1802-1893]

Born near Brookfield, Connecticut on December 15, 1802, Curtis Gray at the age of 16 learned the tanner's trade. He was listed in the 1840 Federal Census for Calhoun County. In 1850 he and his family were residing in Grand Rapids. They came to Grand Haven in 1852, when Curtis went to work at Clark B. Albee's tannery for the next three years. From 1855 to 1863 he was county sheriff and later deputy United States Marshall. By 1870 he was once again a tanner. Curtis also was county coroner for more than 20 years. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Pioneer Association of the Grand River Valley. Living with him in Grand Rapids in 1850 were Emily Gray, who was born in Massachusetts about 1820; Edgar L. Gray, who was born about 1832 and became a prominent attorney in Newaygo; and Jane Esther Gray, who was born in October 1834 and married William Wallace of Grand Haven. Edgar and Jane were born in New York. On January 4, 1860, in Kent County, Curtis married Louisa Mary Girard Raymond, a widow and native of Montreal, Canada [New York]. Louisa lived from 1815 to November 19, 1894. In 1870 and 1880 she was a milliner and dress maker in Grand Haven. Louisa had several children by an earlier marriage: Euphemia Raymond, who was born on October 8, 1835, married Lewis Bon of Grand Haven, and died in 1919; Mary Raymond, who was born about 1837 and married Edward Lesperance [1828-1911] of Muskegon; Mrs. Roberts of Denver; and Benjamin F. Raymond, who was born about 1846 and lived in Grand Rapids. Curtis died in Grand Haven on March 8, 1893 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Louisa.

Jedidiah [Jededish] Gray [1801-1876]

In 1860, Jedidiah Gray was lighthouse keeper at Grand Haven. He was born in Sandgate, Vermont on May 7, 1801. On January 22, 1825, he married Patience Shepard, who was born on April 9, 1805 and died in December 1845. They had nine children. After Patience's death, Jedidiah married Rhoda Shepard. By 1860 Jedidiah had a third wife, Mary Barber, who was born in New York in 1822. Jedidiah died in Grand Rapids on February 5, 1876. [Obituary, Grand Rapids Eagle, June 16, 1876.]

William Richard Gray [1879-1945]

One of ten children of Matthew Nelson and Phebe Ann Jubb Gray, William was born in Crockery Township February 26, 1879. His parents were married in Quincy, Branch County in 1864. William's first marriage was to Emma Rollenhagen on July 16, 1906 in Nunica. Following her death sometime after 1918, he married Anna E. Wintermeyer of Chicago. William's brother Mark died in the Grand Haven Infirmary in 1897. William, who worked as a butcher in Nunica, died in 1945 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery with Anna.

Archibald Veryl Green [1922-1973]

In the early 1950 Archie and Mildred Green resided at 1139 Slayton Street. Archie was employed by Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. He was born in Texas on February 2, 1922 and married Mildred Neitring in Grand Haven on November 15, 1941. Mildred, the daughter of Albert John and Angie Roossien Neitring II, was born in Grand Haven on November 6, 1922. After their divorce in the mid-1950s, Archie married Viola Grace Matzke, who had previously been married to Marvin Frederick Guy [1919-2002]. She lived from September 22, 1928 to August 12, 1975. In the mid-1960s Archie bought the Beechtree Inn from Paul Lampe, who had operated it since the early 1940s. Archie changed its name to the East Side Tavern. It was located at 207 South Beechtree. John Jerovsek was a later owner. Archie died in Grand Rapids on April 14, 1973, and Mildred passed away on July 22, 1991. Archie and Viola were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mildred was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Arthur Frederick Green [1899-1981]

Arthur Green owned acreage at 1316 Beechtree in Grand Haven Township. He was born on February 4, 1899 in East Tawas, Iosco County and died in Grand Haven on October 12, 1981. He married Mildred M.

Pittman in Holland, Michigan on October 25, 1919. Mildred, also a native of Michigan, was born on March 13, 1897 and died in Grand Haven on March 31, 1976. Arthur was a draftsman at Dake's. Their children, all born locally, were Raymond Jack Green, born on August 9, 1920; Loretta Green, born about 1929; and Dorothea Green, born on May 12, 1922. Raymond died in Livonia, Wayne County, on October 23, 2008, and Dorothea passed away in Muskegon on October 2, 2009. Loretta married Jack Hoebeke [1927-2012].

Francis M. Green [1836-1914]

Born in Ohio on February 22, 1835 [September 28, 1836], Francis Green on February 22, 1865 enlisted as private in Company D of the 195th Ohio Infantry. He was mustered out on December 15 the same year. He applied for an invalid's Civil War pension on January 17, 1887. Francis was a resident of Crockery Township. Francis married Elizabeth Piekel [Bickel] in Ottawa, Ohio on December 31, 1860. She died on March 20, 1900 at the age of 54. Their children, all born in Ohio except the last one, included Earl C., born about 1865; Ulysses G. who was born about 1868, died in 1910, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; Elizabeth Ella, born in July 1874; Vernon P., who was born in July 1876, died in 1911, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery; and Amy B., born in Michigan in January 1881. On September 24, 1901 in Nunica, Francis married Helen Smith Cathcart. He died in Nunica on October 28, 1914 and was buried at Nunica Cemetery.

George Allen Green [1854-1934]

George Allen owned and operated a 40-acre potato farm in Section 6 of Polkton Township. His property and residence abutted the Crockery Township line. He was born on April 16, 1854 in Lake County, Indiana. He married Hannah Gibbs, who was born on November 10, 1860 in Batavia, New York. Her parents were Joseph and Mary Pennoyer Gibbs of Crockery and Polkton Townships. George died on September 10, 1934, and Hannah passed away in Ravenna on January 29, 1941. As late as 1940, she was still living on the family property in Polkton Township. She and George were buried at Coopersville Cemetery. They had one child, Max Green, who lived from 1897 to 1949.

Joseph Green [1824-1869]

Born on July 19, 1824 in Ohio, Joseph Green died in Crockery Township on July 11, 1869. On April 4, 1853, he married Hannah Elvira Maxwell, who was born in New York on April 13, 1837. Joseph and Hannah had at least one child, James Wilson Green, who was born in Hobart, Indiana on February 10, 1860 and died in Grand Rapids on February 11, 1942. Joseph died in Crockery Township on July 11, 1869. After his death, Hannah on May 6, 1883 married Perley Lawton, a widower. Hannah was born on August 17, 1828.

Loveless [Loveliest] Green [1820-1881]

Frederick "Loveless [Loveliest]" Green was born about 1820 [1824/1834] in Virginia. In Grand Haven in 1870 he was a servant in Galen Eastman's home on Franklin Street. Jennie, Loveless's wife at that time, was born in Virginia about 1825 and, like her husband, was African American. In the 1880 census Loveless was listed as 46 years old, which would put his birth year at 1834. In that census his wife's name was listed as Elizabeth. Born about 1839 [1834] in New York, Elizabeth was White. Loveless and Elizabeth resided on Franklin Street in Grand Haven. They were murdered on August 15, 1881 and buried in Potter's Field, Lake Forest Cemetery. John Alguire, Elizabeth's son by a previous marriage, confessed he killed his stepfather, but, he claimed, he did it after Loveless had murdered his mother. A jury acquitted John of the murder, letting him go "Scott free," as the Tribune phrased it. At the time of the murder, Loveless and Elizabeth were residing in a house on Beechtree Street. That house was destroyed by fire in late March 1893. [Tribune, February 10, 1893 and March 28, 1893.]

Norma Venese Green [1920-2005] and William L. Green [1915-1977]

Norma Green was a well-known artist in the Grand Haven area. She helped start Lakeland Painters [now known as Lakeland Artists] and was a member of the Gallery Upstairs and its successor Gallery Uptown for 20 years, serving as its president twice and as its treasurer several times. Norma was born in Quincy, Illinois on December 16, 1920 to Henry and Gladys Grimes Willing. She entered her works in many juried exhibits and won a number of awards. On January 29, 1944 she married William Green in Chicago. Born on September 26, 1915, he entered the U.S. Army in 1945. In Grand Haven, he worked as personnel manager. William died on July 29, 1977. Norma passed away in Muskegon on July 23, 2005. They had a daughter, Linda, who was born on December 2, 1951 and married Mark Watts of Spring Lake.

Hial Hazen Grey [Gray] [1824-1905]

Hial Grey was born in Barton, Vermont in 1824 and was enumerated in the 1860 Ottawa County census as a resident of Crockery Township. In 1874 he purchased the machinery of the Weston, Dudley, and Soule brickworks on the south side of Cornelius Bayou, along the northwest shore of Spring Lake. Hial moved the machinery to the east shore of nearby Stahl's Bayou, just over the Muskegon County line, and opened his works in 1874. He married Charlotte Sheffield, who lived from 1826 to 1901. One of their children, Clara, died on January 27, 1865, not quite six, and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. They had two other daughters and a son. The Muskegon County Directory for 1887, 1888, 1889, and 1890 listed Grey as a resident of Fruitport Township. In 1880 he was residing in Spring Lake. Hial died in Snohomish County, Washington in 1905. He was buried at the American Legion Cemetery in Snohomish County, as was Charlotte.

Curtis W. Grey [Gray] [1802-1893]

See Curtis W. Gray.

Morris Griep [1912-1976]

Morris Griep, born on August 19, 1912, was responsible for the tennis courts in Highland Park, promoting their care and scheduling tournaments during the 1950s. It was during this period that 16-year-old Bobby Riggs played a warm-up tournament on the already historic courts prior to participating in the Junior Davis Cup in Kalamazoo. On October 1, 1938, Morris married Beryl Ann Albers in East Overisel, Allegan County. She was born on November 14, 1913 in Chicago. They owned the cottage at 100 Poplar Ridge. The 1960s saw the courts fall into disrepair after Morris's death and were neglected for many years. He died on April 27, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Beryl died on November 10, 1997, more than twenty years after Morris.

Elizabeth Olivia Griffin [1833-1930]

Born in Grimsby, Ontario, Canada on December 14, 1833 [1834], the daughter of Henry and Rachel Griffin, Elizabeth moved with her parents to Eastmanville in 1838 [1840] and in 1844 to Grand Haven. She lived the remainder of her life in the Griffin home at 301 Franklin, except for the years spent at Misses Hill's School in Buffalo. As a child she helped Mary A. White in the first Grand Haven school. She was closely affiliated with the Presbyterian Church and was among the Grand Haven women who worked with the Women's Aid Society during the Civil War, and she was a member of the Order of the Daughter of the King, whose mission was to "spread the Kingdom of Christ among women. She and her sister Eleanor McNett, executive secretary of the local Red Cross, shared the family homestead during their later years. Elizabeth died at the family home March 26, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 26, 1930 and Tribune articles, "Miss Griffin Ninety-Four Wednesday," December 16, 1927, "Pioneer Paid Last Tribute, Dr. De Kraker," March 31, 1930, and "In Memory of Elizabeth Griffin, a Tribute," April 4, 1930.]

Henry Griffin [1807-1891]

Born in Smithville, Canada on December 30, 1807, 30-year-old Henry Griffin left Ontario and arrived in Ottawa County on the steamboat Governor Mason on her first trip down the Grand River. In 1838 he settled in Scranton [Eastmanville]. He moved to Grand Haven as the county's second sheriff from 1844 to 1850. His jurisdiction covered the area along Lake Michigan all the way to Mackinaw. He was credited with planting the first fruit trees in Ottawa County, many of them along Franklin Street in Grand Haven. In 1849 he went into merchandising, building the first store building in the Grand Haven, located on the northwest corner of Washington and First Streets, where the Grand River Times was printed upstairs. In 1847, at the request of Dr. Van Raalte, Henry walked the 22 miles to Holland to hear the minister's sermon and to swear in the new Dutch citizens. He was chosen Grand Haven's first superintendent of Schools in 1851. In 1862 Henry became school inspector for the new Grand Haven Union High School, in 1852 he was named treasurer of Ottawa County, and in 1871 he was elected mayor of Grand Haven and representative to the State Legislature. Griffin Street and Griffin Elementary Schools are named in his honor. In 1852 Griffin owned the schooner Pioneer, built in Spring Lake and commanded by Captain Chaloner. Henry attended the Presbyterian Church.

On May 30, 1830, Henry married Rachel Eastman, born December 10, 1810. She was the daughter of Rev. Daniel Ward Eastman, a Presbyterian minister of Canada, and Elizabeth Hopkins Eastman. The Griffin residence was located at 301 Franklin Street. Among the Griffins' children was a son Hannibal, who died young around October 10, 1838 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rachel died on July 30, 1868 and was buried near her son. The Griffins had at least two surviving children, including Eleanor, who was born in Grand Haven in 1850 and married De Forrest McNett. Another child, Elizabeth Olivia, was born in Ontario, Canada on December 14, 1833 and died on March 26, 1930. She was listed in the 1908 City Directory as Henry's widow. Elizabeth Olivia was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituary and article, July 16 and 18, 1891, and Memorial Report of Ottawa County, pp. 221-223.]

Richard Frederick Griffin [1848- ?]

R. Frederick Griffin was born about 1848 in Canada, moved to New York State, and came to Michigan in 1869. In 1876 he became a saw filer at the Sisson & Lilley Mill. The 1893 Compendium listed him as Frederick Griffin, still a saw filer, living in Spring Lake Village. His wife Almira, also a native of Canada, was born around 1848. Richard continued to work in the mill reside in Spring Lake until at least 1880. Almira was with him that year, as was her 25-year-old sister, Eugenie Fell

Ferdinand Griffith [1851–1887]

Ferdinand Griffith was born in Ontario County, New York in 1851. He moved to Canada when he was seven, came to Michigan about 1867, and went into business for himself five years later. He was a manufacturer of harnesses at a shop located on Washington Street. On November 15, 1877 he married Dell [Adell] Page in Ionia. Dell was born in Michigan around 1858. They had one daughter, Mertie A., born in Michigan around 1879. Ferdinand died in Eaton County on August 10, 1887.

T. Griffith [? - ?]

Griffith was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886.

Dick Gerrit Gringhuis [1907-1963] and Alice Vink Gringhuis [1911-1999]

Alice, one of nine children, was born on October 10, 1911 in Spring Lake, the daughter of Jennie [Jantje] Werkman and Claus [Klaas] Vink. As a teenager Alice walked from her home on Buchanan Street in Spring Lake to attend high school in Grand Haven. She graduated from Davenport College in Grand Rapids. On June 30, 1934, she married Dick G. Gringhuis at the First Reformed Church [Christ Community] in Spring Lake. They resided at 416 Buena Vista in Spring Lake. She was active in the Grand Haven Woman's Club, the Spring Lake Country Club, the Free Bed Guild of North Ottawa Community Hospital, the Girl Scouts, and the Red Cross blood program. The Gringhuises had two daughters, Marcia and Wanda, both of Spring Lake. Wanda married Len Anderson, and Marcia became the wife of Arnie Dreher. Dick Gringhuis, who was born on December 24, 1907, died on September 28, 1963. Alice passed away on November 27, 1999 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Geert [Gerrit] Gringhuis [1850-1915]

Born in Buffalo, New York [The Netherlands] on April 17, 1850, Geert Gringhuis moved to Grand Haven when he was still an infant. He and his mother, Trientje [Catherine], were listed in the Federal Census of 1860 under the name Greenhouse as residents of Grand Haven. Catherine was born in The Netherlands about 1824. Also in the house was Harmon Benhart [Bejmholt], the same age as Catherine, and presumably her husband, and Henry Benhart, apparently Catherine's brother. [There is evidence that Harm and Catherine were married in Groningen, The Netherlands, on June 19, 1847. The 1860 census taker may have confused names.] Harm and Catherine moved to Lancaster County, Nebraska under the name Gringhuis, but Geert remained in Michigan. He married Cornelia "Kate" Visser [Fisher] on April 27, 1876 in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of Leonard and Wilhelmina De Vlicker Visser. Geert and Cornelia had a daughter, Teresa, who was born in Grand Haven on October 23, 1876. Geert attended Grand Rapids Commercial College and was a clerk in Grand Haven at the Mieras & Brothers Grocery Store. The family of three was residing on Franklin Street in Grand Haven in 1880. Living with them was Cornelia's brother, Martin Visser, born about 1859. In 1881 Geert and his family moved to Lamont, where he opened a store. The 1882 History of Ottawa County gives Geert as much credit for being an artist as a reputable merchant: "Mr. Gringhuis is a natural artist, having had but three lessons in portrait painting from Orchison, the artist of Chicago, and one week's instruction in landscape painting from [Frank] Selzer [1849-1916] of Grand Rapids." [p. 110] "Orchison" refers to Charles Orchardson, a portrait painter, who lived in Spring Lake and Chicago. The Gringhuises' son, Leonard John Gringhuis, was born on January 28, 1890 in Grand Rapids and died there on March 8, 1956. In 1893, still in Grand Rapids, Geert was working in a bakery. Ten years later he was listed as being in the "cooking business" in Grand Rapids. He died on May 26, 1915 in Grand Rapids. Cornelia, who lived from September 13, 1855 to March 2, 1920, was buried near her husband at Greenwood Cemetery in Grand Rapids. She was born in The Netherlands.

Gerrit "Dick" Gringhuis II [Geert Gringhus] [1831-1902]

Born in The Netherlands on November 17, 1831, Gerrit Gringhuis in 1853 sailed for the United States on board the South Carolina, went to Chicago, and set sail on the schooner Pioneer, bound for Grand Haven. Anthony Bottje sailed with him. Gerrit was the son of Gerrit and Annie Juistema Gringhuis. Annie lived from January 1, 1792 to January 31, 1874 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Dick's sister, Henrietta, married Anthony Bottje of Grand Haven.

Gerrit II was in the clothing business in Grand Haven for many years. He owned the G. Gerrit Gringhuis Clothing Store at [approximately] 15 South First Street and another one in Holland. He married Janna "Jennie"/"Jane," the daughter of Albert and Annie Northouse [Northuis/Nordhuis]. Jennie was born in The Netherlands on July 11, 1838 and died in Grand Haven on August 30, 1907. The Gringhuises' children included Martje "Martha," who was born in 1858 in Grand Haven, married Jan Raak in 1877, and died in 1914; Gerrit III, who was born in 1867, married Eliza Little [born about 1884], and moved to Muskegon; Alderit "Albert," who was born in November 1870, married Dena Lamer [Dina Lamar, born about 1871, died before 1920], worked at Story & Clark, and died in 1955; Arend, born about 1872; Hendrika "Reka," who was born in April 1875 and married Dick Cleveringa of Grand Haven; Peter, who lived from May 1876 to March 30, 1880; Derk "Dick," who was born November 20, 1878; Nellie, who was born in Grand Haven on June 20, 1880, died in Seattle, Washington on December 13, 1912, and who was married twice, first to Harry Koopman of Grand Haven and then to Martin Vyn, also of Grand Haven; and Ann, who was born about 1882 and married Klaas Borgman of Holland. The Gringhuis family resided on Fulton Street, but eventually retired to a 56-acre fruit farm near Holcomb Hills. The land later was sold to Nellie Terry and became known as Terry Trails. Gerrit II died on December 18, 1902 from injuries suffered while cutting down dead peach trees in the orchard. The axe he was wielding slipped and the handle struck him on his side, causing severe internal injuries. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, December 18 and 19, 1902.]

Gerrit "Dick" Gringhuis III [1878-1907]

The son of Gerrit and Janna Northuis Gringhuis, Gerrit III was born in Grand Haven on March 20, 1878. On March 6, 1907 in Grand Haven, he married Marge "Marge" Van Doorne, who was born on February 8, 1882 in The Netherlands. Among their children was Gerritt "Dick" Gringhuis IV, who was born in Grand Haven on December 24, 1907 and died on September 28, 1963. Dick III died accidentally on October 27, 1907 from wounds received while chopping down a tree. Marge married Johannes "John" Tans in Grand Haven on December 24, 1913. He died at Pine Rest Sanatorium in Grand Rapids on June 8, 1952. Marge passed away on September 18, 1945. She, John, and Dick were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Amos Griswold [1788-1843]

Born on March 12, 1788 in Hartford, Connecticut, Amos Griswold married Eleanor Staat [Stott] in Elizabethtown, Ontario on August 12, 1811. Among their 14 children was Apollos, who was born on September 4, 1818 in Elizabethtown and settled in Ottawa County in 1842. Amos died on October 18, 1843 [1845] in Kent County. Eleanor lived from December 22, 1792 to December 17, 1848.

Apollos [Apollus] Griswold [1818-1872]

Apollos Griswold, a lumberman, was settled in Spring Lake Township by 1850 and in Robinson Township ten years later. He was born in Elizabethtown, Canada on September 4, 1818 and died on December 3, 1872. He married Sarah Cole, who was born in England on March 5, 1825 and passed away on February 15, 1899 [1898]. Both Apollos and Sarah were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. Their children, all born in Ottawa County, included Mary, who was born on November 23, 1844 and died, apparently in what is now Ravenna, Muskegon County, on December 11, 1853; Francis, who was born on August 29, 1847; Asher W., born on April 5, 1853; Edgar W., born on May 1, 1855; Nathan William, born on April 23, 1857; Peter, born about 1859; Sarah, born on June 11, 1867; Fred Raney, born on February 1, 1871; and Mortimer, born about 1872. [The 1882 History of Muskegon and Ottawa Counties noted that the first birth in Ravenna, then in Ottawa County, was the child of Apollus Griswold; the baby died in infancy.] Nathan and his wife, Isabel [Isabella], had a son Appolos, who died on January 7, 1883, three months before his 27th birthday. Isabel was born in Crockery Township on April 9, 1865. By 1870 the Griswold family was farming approximately 160 acres in Section 36 of Crockery Township.

Apolis Griswold [1874-1936]

Apolis Griswold owned and operated a trucking business in Crockery Township. He was the son of Francis and Margaret Griswold. On June 7, 1917 in Muskegon, Apolis married Florence E. Withey. She was born in Michigan on January 8, 1894 and passed away in Grand Haven on March 19, 1977. Florence was the daughter of William H. and Rebecca Rainsboro Withey, who owned a 40-acre farm in Section 1 of Crockery Township. Both William and Rebecca were born in Michigan, William in November 1866, and Rebecca in March 1867. The Griswold children, all born locally, included William A, born in 1920; Francis L., who was born on June 4, 1922 and died in Spring Lake on January 26, 1986; Percival James, born on April 27, 1924; Margaret F., born about June 1926; and Lisa A., born about March 1929. Apolis, born in Michigan in 1874, passed away in 1936.

Francis Griswold I [1847-1920]

The son of Apollos and Sarah Griswold, Frank was born in Michigan on August 29, 1847. After briefly living in Robinson Township with his parents, he moved with them to Section 36 of Crockery Township. By 1900, as residents of Grand Rapids, he and his wife Margaret had a son, Apolis, who was born in February 1874. Another son, Francis II, was born in Crockery Township on December 18, 1877. Still residents of Grand Rapids at the time of the 1910 Federal Census, Francis and Margaret had a third son, Arthur, living with them. Arthur was born about 1876. He and his wife, Ida, and their two children, Harold and Frances, were living with his parents. Francis I was a laborer. Margaret was born in Canada in June 1852. Francis I died on June 3, 1920 and was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

Frank Lee Groat [1900-1988]

Born in Croswell, Sanilac County on April 19, 1900, Frank Groat in 1930 was a teacher at a junior high school in Detroit. On June 26, 1926, he married Florence Johanna Klockow, who lived from May 11, 1903 to March 7, 1987. They had a son, Gerald Lee Groat, who was born in Detroit on August 12, 1933 and died on February 2, 2008 in Lake Havasu, Arizona. The Groats were residents of Detroit in 1940, when Frank was listed as “Head of Department” at a public school. He worked one year at Providence Hospital in Detroit, and then served with the Army for two years during WWII. Frank, who was raised in East Lansing, graduated from Michigan State College [MSU] and in 1945 from Wayne State University of Medicine.

Frank came in 1948 to Grand Haven as a general practitioner in an office with Dr. John Kitchel. Frank became chief of staff at North Ottawa Community College. In 1950, while studying at Wayne State, he met and married Virginia “Ginny” Barber. Frank and Virginia had five daughters: Nancy Groat, who resided in Grand Rapids; Barbara Groat, also of Grand Rapids; Elizabeth “Beth,” who married Bill Maschewske and lived in West Olive; Kathy, who married Ken Herman of Suttons Bay; and Virginia “Ginger,” who married Rick Toomey and moved to Pecatonica, Illinois. The family resided at 631 Franklin and later at 1624 Gladys. The Groats remodeled the house on Franklin Street, hiring Kris Grants as the architect. Frank’s medical office was on the west side of the structure. The family attended the First Presbyterian Church, and Frank was a member of the Grand Haven Rotary Club. He closed his office in Grand Haven on March 15, 1981 and moved to Toccoa, Georgia. Frank died in Lake Havasu, Arizona on July 31, 1988. Virginia was born on September 12, 1922 and passed away on May 24, 2015 in Grand Rapids. She was notable for being a teacher, pilot, radio broadcaster, reporter, and giving lectures overseas and at home. [Tribune articles, “Dr. F. L. Groat to Practice Here,” July 19, 1948, “Dr. Groat moving practice to Georgia,” February 9, 1981, “Focus on People,” September 2, 2009, and Grand Rapids Press obituary, March 29, 2015.

Tys Groenendal [1833-1911]

In 1892 Tys Groenendal went into partnership with Folgert Van Zanten and started a coal and wood yard at 520 Elliott Street in Grand Haven, which they named Groenendal & Van Zanten. A little later Tys sold out to Van Zanten. Tys and his wife Clara, who was a milliner, lived at 521 Elliott. Their daughter Etta, a dressmaker, resided at the same address in the early 1900s. She married Gerrit Balgooyen in Grand Haven on June 22, 1912. Another daughter Della [Dora] was born on September 21, 1870 and married Louis Ver Duin of Grand Haven. Tys was one of the founders of the Second Christian Reformed Church in Grand Haven. Clara lived from April 1840 [1839] to 1913, and Tys, who was born in January 1833, died in 1911. Both were natives of The Netherlands, and both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Derk [Derek] Groenevelt I [Groeneveld, Groenvelt] [1828-1911]

Derk Groenevelt was born in The Netherlands on May 5, 1828. He married Swantje [Zwaantje] Hoffman, who also was a native of The Netherlands, where she was born on January 24, 1827. Derk was a carpenter. Among their children, all born locally, were Lucy, who was born on April 27, 1853 and married Klass [Claus] Leninga; Gerritt, who was born on December 21, 1856 and died on July 23, 1878; Jane, born about 1856; Frederick, born in June 1860; Jantje, born about 1860; Dirk, born about 1862; and Ida, born about 1866. Swantje passed away on January 29, 1885 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Derk died in Grand Haven on May 9, 1911 and was buried at Grand Haven Township Historic Cemetery.

Derk [Derek] Groenevelt II [Groenvelt] [1860-1930]

Born in The Netherlands in August 1860 [1854], Derk Groenevelt came to the United States in 1880 and lived in both Grand Haven and Ferrysburg. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as “drayman” in Grand Haven, but by 1908 he owned an eight-acre farm in Spring Lake Township. Derk’s wife, Sarina, also a native of The Netherlands, was born in May 1852 and died on April 7, 1903. Their children, all born locally, were Enno, born in March 1883; Derk II, born in 1888; and John, born in June 1896. The elder Groenevelt was an active member and leader of the First Christian Reformed Church of Grand Haven. He died in 1930.

Derk “Dick” Groenevelt III [1888-1986]

Dick was born on March 15, 1888, the son of Derk and Sarina Groenevelt. On October 27, 1908 Dick married Jennie Ruiter in Ferrysburg. Where they made their home and where one of their children, Richard, was born. Jennie, the daughter of Ralph [Roelof] and Jane [Jennie] Borgman Ruiter of Ferrysburg, lived from March 1890 to 1918 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. The Groenevelts had a daughter, Janet, who was born in Ferrysburg on July 15, 1913, married Maurice Rosema on June 12, 1935, and passed away on December 6, 2003. As a young man, Dick owned a two and a half-acre-farm in Spring Lake Township. He lived at 226 South Street in Spring Lake when he died on October 15, 1986 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Fred Groenevelt I [Gronevelt] [1860-1945]

Fred Groenevelt was a Grand Haven building contractor. Born in Michigan in June 1860, he appeared in the 1893 Compendium as a carpenter. In 1896 the firm of Van Dongen & Groenevelt was awarded a contract to build Grand Haven's first electric power building. In the early 1900s Fred married Sena Jonker in Grand Haven on August 28, 1886. The couple lived at 1402 Columbus. He and his son, Fred II, worked together. Fred II was born in July 1891. The Groenevelts also had a daughter Elizabeth, who was a stenographer. Sena was born in The Netherlands on September 1867 [1868], died in 1922, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Groenevelts' other children were Lizzie, born in October 1887; Clarence, born in September 1894; Hermanna, born in September 1896; and Romane, a son, born in May 1900. Fred I died in Wayne County on August 11, 1945.

John Groenevelt [Gronevelt] [1896-1988]

John was the son of Derk and Sarina Groenevelt, originally of The Netherlands, but who settled in Ferrysburg. Derk lived from 1860 to 1930, and Sarina from 1854 to 1903. John was born June 27, 1896. On June 19, 1919, he married Anna, daughter of Roelof and Jane Ruiter, also of Ferrysburg. The Groenevelts lived at 1041 Franklin in Grand Haven. Anna was born June 28, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on November 2, 1981. John died in Grand Haven on January 10, 1988. Their children were John R., born about 1923; Kathleen O., born about 1925; and Donald, born about 1927.

Richard Groenevelt [Groeneveltdt, Gronevelt] [1863–1930]

Dick Groenevelt resided in Grand Haven for over 64 years and was one of the best-known contractors and builders in the city. As a youth he worked in the shipyards. Later he began building houses and worked on many of the larger buildings and private homes in Grand Haven, including 642 Pennoyer. His wife, Dena W., was born in March 1863 and died in 1926. Their children included Jennie, born in November 1886; Harry, born in April 1889; Santa [Santie], who was born in July 1892 and married Stewart Johnson, a Grand Haven contractor; and Amelia, who married Ernest Scheel of Muskegon. Dick died at his home at 523 Jackson Street on August 19, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He was born in Michigan in 1863. The family had resided at 523 Jackson since at least 1900. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 1930.]

Richard Groenevelt [Gronevelt] [1915-1996]

Richard, the son of Derk and Jennie Ruiter Groenevelt, was born in Ferrysburg on December 20, 1915. He married Mary Ruth [Marian] Stegenga on June 24, 1940. The daughter of Frank and Marie Van Doorne Stegenga, she was born in Grand Haven on March 1, 1917 and died on November 24, 1996. Richard died on February 17, 1996 in Holland, Michigan.

Egbert [Engbert] Grooters [Groters] [1848-1921]

A farmer and stockman, Egbert Grooters owned a 120-acre farm in Section 36 of Olive Township, where he had settled in 1876. On September 21, 1889 in Holland, he married Leentjen "Nellie" Arensma [Arensman, Arinsma]. They continued to live on the farm until at least 1912, but by 1920 they had moved to the City of Holland. Egbert was born on June 5, 1848 in The Netherlands. He died in Holland on February 3, 1921. Nellie, also a native of The Netherlands, lived from August 7, 1864 to March 10, 1947. At the time of her death, she was living in Port Sheldon Township.

Francis H. Grooters [1818-1893]

Born in Utrecht, The Netherlands on July 29, 1818, Francis Grooters in 1847 immigrated to this country, arrived in Holland in 1851, and came to Grand Haven the next year. Francis worked for Rev. William M. Ferry, founder of Grand Haven, and he made boots and shoes for the early pioneers. Francis built a home at the corner of Third and Columbus Streets in Grand Haven about 1858. The front of the house became a shoe shop, where he made shoes by hand and repaired others. He was a Presbyterian.

On October 10, 1852 Francis married Amelia Leenhouts of Milwaukee. She was born in 1829 and died on May 27, 1894 in Milwaukee. They had two daughters. One was Nelly, born on January 30, 1855 and became a seamstress. She died on September 5, 1938. The second daughter was Mary, who was born on May 3, 1861 and died on October 28, 1945 and who for many years clerked at Beaudry's Dry Goods Store. Neither daughter married, and they both lived in the family house until their deaths. The two sisters were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Francis died on March 4, 1893. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 6, 1893 and September 6, 1938.]

Charles Grossman I [1856-1930]

Born in Muskegon on December 16, 1856, Charles was the son of Peter and Barbara Grossman. Charles married Meentje "Minnie" Kieft in Grand Haven Township on December 16, 1890. The daughter of Adam and Cornelia Van Veuren Kieft, Minnie was born on June 12, 1871 in Zeeland and died in Grand Haven on November 11, 1939. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Charles worked at Grand Haven Basket Factory in the early 1900s. He and Minnie lived at 616 Elliot. The Grossmans had a daughter Kate, born I 1891, and at least two sons: Charles Grossman II, who was born March 19, 1896, lived at 418 North Sixth Street in Grand Haven, and died in February 1970, and Gerrit L. Grossman, who was born on March 23, 1903, lived at 15869 Railroad Street in Spring Lake, and died on November 4, 1973. The Grossmans had a second daughter, Bernice Lucille Grossman, who was born on November 3, 1910 and married Arie Nadort [1897-1972] in Grand Haven on September 14, 1926 and on June 24, 1938 married Jacob "Jay" Enenga [Ennenga] [1906-1996] in Grand Haven. The Grossman children were born in Michigan. Charles I passed away on June 13, 1930 and was buried with his wife at Lake Forest. Bernice died on December 4, 1976. She and Jay were interred at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Grubinger [1888-1954]

On July 12, 1913 in Grand Rapids, John Grubinger married Esther Applequist. By 1920 they owned the Style Shop in downtown Grand Haven. John was born in Michigan on March 14, 1888, and Esther, also from Grand Rapids, was born on July 1, 1893. The Style Shop was located first at 17 Washington, and then by 1921 it was at 204 Washington. The couple resided at 308 South Fifth. John Reichardt bought the business in the 1930s. John died in 1954 in Tampa, Florida, and Esther passed away three years later. Both were buried at Greenwood Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Janis [1893-1972] and Marta [1895-1991] Grundulis

Marta Pikurs Grundulis and her husband Janis were from Latvia, where she was born on June 24, 1895. Janis was born on February 27, 1893. They were married in Latvia on December 12, 1925. The couple arrived in the Port of New York on May 4, 1950 and continued on to Grand Haven, where they retrieved a wooden crate that had been shipped from Latvia and delivered to the Bernath P. Sherwood home at 512 Sheldon Road. Marta and Janis remained in Grand Haven the rest of their lives. In the 1950s, Janis was working at Michigan Plastics, and he and Marta had an apartment at 220½ South Seventh Street. Janis died on March 19, 1972 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marta passed away on April 14, 1991 and also was buried at Lake Forest.

William Carl Grunst [1887-1956]

William was born in Grand Haven on December 14, 1887. His father, Frederick Wilhelm Grunst, was born in Germany and lived from September 16, 1848 to December 22, 1915, while his mother, Ernestine [Tena/Albertina], also German born, lived from May 1861 [1859] to November 17, 1933. Both parents were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On September 27, 1939, William married Alice Elizabeth Kooiman in Detroit. The daughter of Peter and Cora Van Bemmelen of Grand Haven, she was born on January 17, 1907. William and his family resided at 613 North Fifth Street from the early 1900s into the 1950s. He owned a tobacco shop at 112 Washington, where he also manufactured cigars. He partnered with Paul Hostetter, who opened the Muskegon News Agency at 112 Washington about 1926 and two years later bought the business, which he renamed Hostetter News Agency. William died on March 18, 1956 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Alice passed away on March 9, 1959 and also was buried at Lake Forest. Olga Grunst, who married Ora Hendricks of Grand Haven, was William's sister.

Bernard "Bud" Grysen [1931-1995]

When Bernard Grysen was sworn in on January 1, 1958, he was the youngest person ever elected to the position of Ottawa County sheriff. Born in Grand Rapids on December 30, 1931, Bud married Angeline Jane Barents in Grand Rapids on November 19, 1950. He retired as sheriff in 1992 and died of a brain tumor on May 20, 1995. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He also had served 13 years as executive director of the Michigan sheriff's Association. Angeline was born on June 15, 1932, died in 2021, and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had four children. [Tribune obituary, May 22, 1995.]

Bruno A. "Whitey" Grzyb [1915-2004]

Born in Chicago on July 28, 1915, Whitey was the son of Frank and Bernice Depczynski Grzyb. Whitey and his brother Michael co-founded Supreme Machined Products in 1948 in Spring Lake, along with William P. Ferm. Whitey retired as president of the company. He married Pauline Dusnik on October 26, 1940. She was born on May 27, 1918 in Grand Haven. They had four daughters: Sandra, who married William Badger and moved to Scarsdale, New York; Paula, who married Skip Nissen of Kalamazoo; Donna White, also of Scarsdale; and Colleen, who married Casey Ford and lived in Spring Lake. The Grzybs resided at 120 Emmet. Whitey died in Grand Haven on September 1, 2004, and Pauline passed away on September 14 three years later. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 2, 2004.]

Michael Grzyb [1909-1972]

Michael Grzyb was one of the founders and officers of Supreme Machined Products, started in 1948 in Spring Lake. Michael lived at 15865 Vinecrest. The son of Frank and Bernice Depczynski Grzyb, Michael was born in Chicago on September 1, 1909. On November 11, 1950 he married Martha Ann Allen in Spring Lake. She lived from July 18, 1910 to November 25, 1906. Michael died on December 5, 1972. Bruno "Whitey" Grzyb was his brother. They were raised in Robinson Township, where the family had moved in 1920. Michael and Martha were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their daughter Mary Grzyb married Denver Todd II. A son, Michael Grzyb, remained in Spring Lake.

Frances D. Guillard [1893-1982] and Frederick Joseph Guillard [1880-1943]

In the 1920s Frances Veak Guillard owned Guillard's Hat Shop at 218 Washington Street in Grand Haven. It was expanded to include women's apparel and a beauty parlor. In 1928 Frances and her husband, Fred Guillard, were operating and residing at the Cupola Hotel in Spring Lake. Two years later, still residing in Spring Lake, they classified themselves as actors, and around 1940 they owned Fred Guillard's restaurant at 207 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Fred, who was born in Canada on October 16, 1880, married Blanche G. Erickson on September 18, 1904 in Wilmette, Illinois. They were divorced on July 23, 1908 in Montana. He and Frances were married in Lake County, Indiana on April 12, 1917. Frederick died in Kalamazoo on December 27, 1943 and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in that city. Frances was born in Colorado about 1893 and passed away in Washington State on October 3, 1982.

Jay W. Gunneman [1913-1972]

Jay W. Gunneman had a barber shop at 610 East Savidge in Spring Lake in the early 1940s. He was born on February 19, 1913 in Polkton Township and served in the U.S. Army during WWII. He died in Lansing on November 30, 1972.

G. Adolph Gustafson [1853-1906]

Adolph Gustafson, whose 175-acre farm was located in Section 17 of Crockery Township, raised fruit. He was born in Sweden in 1853 and came to the area in 1904. His wife, Emma, was born around 1861. Adolph was still actively farming in 1918. He passed away in Fruitland Township, Muskegon County, on December 18, 1906.

Arthur Gustorf [1843-1904]

Arthur Gustorf was postmaster at Nortonville when it reopened on April 22, 1872 and served until July 3, 1876. He was born in Peoria, Illinois, on December 17, 1843 and died in Oak Park, Illinois on October 26, 1904. His wife, Ruth Ann Bishop, was born on July 28, 1846 in Plainsville, Ohio.

Olaf Trueson Gylleck [1886-1967]

Olaf and Dora Gylleck moved to Grand Haven from Dixon, Illinois in 1918. Olaf worked for the Challenge Machinery Company. He was an accomplished pressman and was hired as part of a team to develop the Lee Press, which then was manufactured by Challenge. After the special project was completed, Olaf remained with the company and became its service and advertising manager. He retired in the late 1950s. He had been a professional magician appearing in vaudeville acts in his early years. He learned the printing trade at that time to supplement his income. After joining Challenge, he continued performing by traveling to Printing House Craftsman Clubs around the country, giving a 20-minute technical talk about Challenge products followed by a 40-minute magic show. He continued to perform for clubs in West Michigan after his retirement from Challenge. An undated brochure announced, "Gylleck's presentation is a strictly refined and educational amusement, by a personable, polished performer. You will like it!" Olaf started an "Advertising Specialties" business in Grand Haven at 623 Washington, which later merged with the Ver Duin printing business. The combination became known as Gylleck-Ver Duin and then Ver Duin's, Inc. Dora worked at the Grand Haven Tribune, was in charge of the office at Ottawa Steel Products for six years and joined her husband and son-in-law in the family business, as well.

The Gyllecks resided at 1302 Washington and later at 509 Colfax. Their children, both born in Dixon, were Ruth Dora, who was born about 1908 and married Gerald Pellegrom of Grand Haven, and M. Fern, born on July 12, 1909. Fern married Claude Ver Duin of Grand Haven. Olaf was born in Copenhagen, Denmark on June 6, 1886 and died on April 21, 1967. On September 19, 1906 he married Dora Mae Scheer. She was born in Pana, Illinois on January 22, 1888 and passed away on May 15, 1976. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [private correspondence from Robert Ver Duin.]

William Irwin [E.] Haddix [1854-1926]

In late 1913 William Haddix, a farmer from Hudsonville, purchased from Dell Ward the Ashley Heights Resort in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township [17800 West Spring Lake Road]. The frame structure burned down on July 20, 1918. The hotel was not rebuilt, and the Haddix family was living in Georgetown Township in the 1920s. They later moved into a cottage on the Ashley Heights property. They lived there until 1934, when Spring Lake Bank foreclosed on the mortgage of $2,491.35, held by the estate of William Haddix. William, who was born in Ohio on June 5, 1854, became a barber in Spring Lake. He married Henrietta "Etta" Switzer [Schweitzer], also a native of Ohio, where she was born in September 1863. She was born about 1864. William died in Spring Lake on December 6, 1926 and was buried at Lakeside Cemetery in Lake Odessa, Ionia County. Etta in 1940 was institutionalized in Kalamazoo State Hospital. She passed away in Spring Lake on December 19, 1941. They were buried at Lakeside Cemetery in Ionia County.

William "Tex" Haeck [1911-2002]

William Haeck, a medical doctor from Grand Rapids, owned a cottage in Stickney Ridge that succumbed to high water in Lake Michigan on April 23, 1974. The cottage was built in 1922 or 1923. His wife, Winifred, was born on February 25, 1911 and died in Grand Rapids on February 5, 2000. Tex lived from April 16, 1911 to January 11, 2002.

Richard Evans Hagadone [1904-1967]

Richard Hagadone, accountant for the Dake Engineer Company, married Florence Merrill Dillingham in Chicago on February 17, 1926. He was born in Chicago on July 2, 1904 and died on May 13, 1967. Florence was born on March 5, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on April 19, 2006. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Emil B. Hahn [1867- ?]

For two years, 1905 to 1907, the Wiltshire Glove Company was based in the Grand Haven area. Emil was manager of the factory. He and his wife Wilhelmina “Minnie” lived at 217 Washington. Peerless Glove Company purchased Wiltshire in 1907. Emil was born in Illinois [Missouri] in January 1867, and Minnie was born in Wisconsin in August 1875. They were married about 1895. In 1900 the couple was residing in Chicago, where Emil was listed as a “glover.” By 1910 they had moved to Manitowoc, Wisconsin, where Emil continued in the glove business.

Harry Haines [1880-1900]

Born in Grand Haven on January 14, 1880, Harry was the son of Henry Haines. Harry died on June 24, 1900 from burns suffered a week earlier in a fire at his mother’s store, Haines Ice Cream Parlor at 14 South Second Street. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 25, 1900.]

Henry H. Haines I [1844-1899]

Born in Philadelphia on June 4, 1844 and a resident of Grand Haven since about 1873, Henry Haines and his wife, Elizabeth, ran the Haines Ice Cream Parlor at 14 South Second Street, which they sold to William and Bess Rose around October 1905. Prior to that, Haines was a house painter. Henry was the first in Grand Haven to use a machine for the production of ice cream. Elizabeth was born in Pennsylvania in September 1855. She and Henry had several children, including Henry II, who was born on January 14, 1880 and died June 25, 1900, and Jessie D., who was born in January 1885 and died young. Elizabeth passed away in 1938. The Haines’s residence in the 1880 and 1900 censuses was on Third Street. Henry died July 18, 1899 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, July 19, and July 21, 1899.]

John E. Haire [Hair, Hare, Haer] [1819-1901]

As early as 1854 John Haire purchased acreage in Section 3 of Georgetown Township and by 1864 he owned additional land in Sections 2, 9, and 10 of the same township as well as 160 acres in Section 33 of Allendale Township. Known as a farmer and lumberman in that area, he started Haire’s Landing on the south bank of Grand River in Section 3 of Georgetown Township in 1851. Five years later he constructed a steam sawmill. By 1864 the Landing in addition to the sawmill had a store, blacksmith shop, school, nine other buildings, and a cemetery. John, the son of William and Mary Jane Hanna Haire and the brother of Robert Haire, was born in Ireland on August 22, 1819. On December 9, 1843 in Caledonia, he married Anna Marie Naylor. She lived from 1822 to December 24, 1875. The couple and their family were residing in Georgetown at the time of the 1860 and Federal Censuses, where John was listed as farmer, merchant, and lumberman. Two years after Anna’s death, John married Angelina, [last name unknown] who was born in March 1852. By the time of the 1900 Federal Census, the couple was residing in Eden, Mason County. John passed away in Traverse City on September 10, 1901.

Robert Alexander Haire [1836-1915]

Robert Haire was born in Bombay [Malone], Franklin County, New York on July 20, 1836. In 1841 he moved with his parents, William and Mary Jane Hanna Haire, to western New York and five years later to Michigan, where the family settled in or near Georgetown Township. Robert entered the lumbering business in Georgetown in 1852. On August 27, 1862 he enlisted in Company B of the 5th Michigan Cavalry as second lieutenant and was promoted to captain in September 1864. Robert was wounded at the Battle of Trevilian Station, Virginia on June 12, 1864 and was discharged on July 3, 1865. After the war, he often was referred to as Captain Haire.

The next year, on January 12, Robert married Hannah M. Rogers in Kent County. Hannah was born on October 12, 1843 in Kent County. In 1867 Robert and Edward Cole of Blendon bought the Thomas White Mill on the Grand River, near the foot of Division Street in Spring Lake. They purchased Norton's Mill in Nortonville the same year. Robert was an original director of the Spring Lake Salt Company, founded in 1870. In 1871 Robert started another lumber mill, this one in partnership with William D. Tolford of Grand Rapids and named the mill Haire & Tolford. Robert and his partner sold that mill to Cutler & Savidge in 1874.

Robert served in the Michigan House of Representatives for the 1872-73 term. In the Federal Censuses of 1860 and 1880 he was residing in Georgetown Township, but he apparently moved to Spring Lake in the late 1860s and remained there into the 1870s. He was a member of the first board of directors of the Spring Lake Presbyterian Church, founded in 1867, and in 1877 he was elected president of Spring Lake Village. He was named director of the Herald Publishing Company in 1882. Hannah died on December 13, 1889 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Four years later, Robert married Janet Bates Boyd on October 16, 1893 in Traverse City. By 1900 the couple was residing in Grand Rapids. Robert was listed as a lumberman in the Federal Census of that year. Janet was born in September 1844 in Troy, New York, passed away in Belzoni, Missouri on December 10, 1905, and was buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Traverse City. Robert died in Carson City, Nevada, on November 29, 1915 and was buried at Lone Mountain Cemetery in that city. John Haire was his brother.

Andrew Jackson Hale [1832-1913]

Born in New York on February 27, 1832, Andrew Hale moved with his family to Wisconsin and then to Nortonville, east of Spring Lake, in 1865. He was engaged in the lumber business for several years and then took up farming in Crockery Township. He built barns and houses, as well as a chapel in Nortonville and a float bridge that extended 144th Avenue across Deremo Bayou. He was a carpenter and also a self-taught veterinarian. Andrew attended the Baptist Church. He married Emily De Mary at Racine, Wisconsin, on July 18, 1856. Emily was born in New York in 1841. Their children included George De Mary Hale, born in Kenosha, Wisconsin on March 16, 1864; Edith Hale [1867-1953] who married Arthur Stocking; Arthur Leonard Hale [1868-1939]; Julia Katulah Hale [1856-1930], who married William Chittenden; Mrs. L. Emerald; and Isabella Sarah Hale [1858-1931], who married John Q. Deremo. By the early 1890s, Andrew and his wife were on 20 acres in Section 24 of Spring Lake Township. Andrew died on September 19, 1913 and was buried with his wife at Spring Lake Cemetery. Emily lived from September 1840 to December 18, 1893. [Tribune obituary, October 2, 1913.]

Arthur Leonard Hale [1868-1939]

The son of Andrew Jackson and Emily De Mary Hale, Arthur was born in Nortonville on August 3, 1868. A farmer with 40 acres in Section 5 of Crockery Township, he died on January 31, 1939 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. On May 6, 1891, he married Rosa [Rose] A. Moninger in Spring Lake. A native of Wisconsin, Rosa lived from May 18, 1872 to December 4, 1956. Their children, all born locally, were Edna Lucy, born in March 1892; Lloyd [Loyde] Andrew, born in September 1893; and George Albert, born in August 1895.

George DeMary Hale [1864-1908]

Born in Kenosha, Wisconsin on March 16, 1864, George came to Spring Lake in 1865 with his parents, Andrew Jackson and Emily De Mary Hale. By 1870 George's family had settled in Crockery Township, but by the early 1890s George owned a farm in Section 13 of Spring Lake Township. He was a member of the Grand Haven Lodge of North American Union and of the Maccabees. He died of consumption on April 15, 1908 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1897, he married Alice Baxter, who was born in Bellefontaine, Ohio, lived from 1850 to 1935, and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Alice had three daughters from an earlier marriage to a Mr Somerset: Josie Hale, Myrtle Hale, and Elizabeth Hale. [Tribune obituary, April 15, 1908.]

Ray “Dad” Hale [1879-1946]

A native of Allegan, where he was born on February 18, 1879, Ray Hale was player-manager of the Grand Haven Athletics baseball team beginning in 1913. He remained active in baseball all his life and pitched one season [1902] for the Boston Braves of the National League and the Baltimore Orioles of the American League. Ray died on February 1, 1946.

Amanda Harwood Ferry Hall [1828-1917]

See Amanda Harwood Ferry.

Archie Nelson Hall I [1940-1996]

Born in Muskegon on March 26, 1940, the son of Archibald F. and Eurice Nelson Hall, Archie graduated from Muskegon Community College and in 1964 from the University of Michigan. He operated Archie Hall and Associates, was an instructor at Muskegon Community College and Aquinas College, and set up the computer center at Oral Roberts University. He moved to Grand Haven in 1965. He was a member of Spring Lake Wesleyan Church, Right to Life Group, Promise keepers, Christian Businessmen’s Association, and the Republican Task Force. He married Petra Carranza on March 12, 1976 in Grand Haven. Their children included Pat, who married Ken Ver Duin of Grand Haven; Pamela of Norton Shores; Kris, who married Edon Mestrom of Grand Haven, Kara, who married Pat Mahoney of Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Archie Nelson II, who was a minister in Lansing; Josh; and Ben. Archie died of cancer at his home on January 1, 1996 and was buried at Pine Ridge Memorial Gardens in Grand Haven Township. [Tribune obituary, January 2, 1996.]

Francis Hall [1822-1913]

Francis Hall was born in England in November 1822 [1819] and came to Spring Lake about 1863 from Detroit. He took up fruit culture on a 92-acre fruit farm bordering on Hammond’s [Petty’s] Bayou in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township. He was a member of the Odd Fellows. His wife, Mary E., who was born in Canada in April 1810 [1811/1812], died in 1911. They had no children. Francis sold his property to John Linn about 1900. Francis died at the age of 94 on March 30, 1913 at the home of Charles Hyde of Spring Lake, where he was boarding. Francis and Mary were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 31, 1913.]

James Hall [1850-1886]

James Hall was born in England in 1850. He married Sabra Lyon in Jackson County on August 16, 1873. She was born in Lakeville, New York in 1855. They had at least one son, Jay Gould Hall, who was born in Grand Haven on July 9, 1884. James died in Grand Haven in 1886 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On May 5, 1888, Sabra married Edwin H. Poole in Grand Haven.

James Hall [1851–1932]

James Hall, born in England in 1851, was manager of the local Western Union Telegraph office in 1877. He died on March 24, 1932 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, Nettie, who lived from 1878 to 1928.

Jay Gould Hall [1884- ?]

Jay Gould Hall was born in Grand Haven on July 9, 1884 [1883]. He was the son of James and Sabra Lyon Hall. On February 27, 1905, Jay married Helen Luella Humphrey of Muskegon. Helen was born on December 3, 1884 in Beaver, South Dakota and died on September 4, 1956 in Houston, Texas. The couple was divorced in Houston in 1915. In 1920, Jay was single and working Paradise, Oregon as a farmer. A daughter, Helen Sherrill Hall Ellis, died on September 23, 1980 in Midland, Texas.

John Rumbold Hall [1819-1891]

John Hall settled in Blendon Township in 1851 and was elected the first township clerk, a post he held between 1855 and 1856. He was born in Dorset, England on November 12, 1819 and immigrated to Chenango County, New York when he was 17, where he remained until his move to Ottawa County. On September 22, 1844 he married Maria [Mariah] Fairchild, who was born in Kinderhook, Columbia County, New York on October 9, 1817. They owned an 80-acre farm in Section 24 of Blendon Township. While living in Blendon, John joined Company B of the 6th Michigan Cavalry on October 11, 1862. He was mustered out on July 28, 1863 with the rank of private. The Halls had two children: Jesse Philip Rexford [Reynolds] Hall, who was born February 16, 1847 and served as township supervisor from 1876 to 1881, and Julia, who was born March 2, 1852 and married Levant Sears. Jesse married Charlotte Abbott on November 18, 1866 in Grandville. She was born in Grandville on March 6, 1848. John died in San Diego, California on March 28, 1891 and was buried at El Cajon Cemetery. Maria passed away on January 20, 1889 in San Diego and was buried near him.

Lyman Hall [1809-1877]

Lyman Hall, who was born in Shelburne, Vermont in 1809, later in life moved to Muir in Ionia County, where he passed away on November 27, 1877. His wife, Lucinda Saxton, who lived from April 7, 1811 to May 11, 1863, was born and died at Shelburne. Lyman and Lucinda were the parents of Lucinda Saxton Hall, who was born on July 17, 1843 and married Charles Edward Soule of Grand Haven on September 16, 1867.

Timothy Hall [1813-1883]

On April 8, 1872, Timothy Hall became the third president of Spring Lake Village and served a one-year term. Prior to that he was a trustee of the Spring Lake School District. Timothy was born in New Hampshire [Wisconsin] in 1813 in Sullivan, Tennessee. On August 28, 1836, he married Polly Dake. She was born on November 4, 1809 in Windsor, Vermont. Timothy raised fruit in Spring Lake Township. Polly died on April 1, 1882, and Timothy passed away on March 23, 1883. They were living in Hartford, Wisconsin at the time of their deaths. They moved there shortly after the Federal Census of 1880.

Winfield Scott Hall [1861-1942]

Winfield, the son of Albert Nelson and Sarah Adelia Foote Hall, was born in Batavia, Illinois, on January 5, 1861. He received his Doctor of Medicine degree a year after graduating from Northwestern University in 1887. He then attended Leipzig University, where he earned a Doctor of Philosophy degree. He taught at Haverford College in Pennsylvania from 1889 to 1893, returned to Leipzig, and then became Professor of Physiology at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, where he remained for the rest of his professional life. Winfield authored numerous books on such subjects as physiology, anatomy, sex education, and marriage. On October 11, 1888, in Juniata, Nebraska he married Jeanette [Janette] Winter. Their children were Ethel, born in 1893; Albert Winter, born in Switzerland in 1895; Raymond Ludwig, born in 1897; and Muriel, born in 1903. The Halls resided in Berwyn, Illinois, but in 1900 purchased acreage on the south side of Stearns Bayou in Section 6 of Robinson Township as a vacation spot. By 1912 they owned over 132 acres in the area in three separate parcels. On this bayou property they built Wynnewood [13715 Johnson] as a place to spend their summers. After Winfield's death in 1942, son Albert and his wife, Reba, took over the property. When Dr. Albert Hall died in 1991 his son Winfield and his wife, Carol, assumed ownership of the property and constructed a new home at 13711 Johnson. A daughter Jeanette, who married Herbert Garber, occupied the original cottage.

Winfield Scott Hall [1934-2005]

Born Berwyn, Illinois on October 17, 1934, Winfield was the son of Albert and Reba Hall. Winfield and his wife, Carol Vokral, came to Grand Haven in 1997 and built a home on property that had been in the Hall family since 1901. They were married in Berwyn, Illinois on July 8, 1972. Winfield died on February 18, 2005. Carol, who was born in Chicago on January 1, 1933, worked as a dietician for 38 years in VA medical centers in Los Angeles, New York, and Chicago. For 22 years she was associated with the VA Hospital in Maywood, Illinois, where she was director of Nutrition and Food Services. She died in Grand Haven on September 8, 2014. [Tribune obituary, September 11, 1932.]

Howard Lee Halverson [1926-2003]

Howard was born in Chicago, Illinois, on January 14, 1926, the son of Etta and Harry Halverson. After receiving a Bachelor of Science degree from Roosevelt College in Chicago, Howard joined the Naval Air Corps in 1943 and was trained as a pilot. After the war he married Norma Veenstra on October 1, 1948. Their children were Kathy, Mark, and Krag. Howard worked for the Morton Salt Company in Chicago and the Marathon Paper Company of Menasha, Wisconsin, before moving to Grand Haven, where he was Purchasing Agent for Bastian Blessing. From about 1971 to 1988 he ran his own excavating and septic system company in Grand Haven. His company, called Spinners Septic Tank Service, later became Kendall Septic Service and was located at 12841 Lincoln in Grand Haven Township. He also was manager of Christian Haven Home. The Halverson family resided at 1909 Pine Court and attended the Second Reformed Church in Grand Haven. Howard was active with the local boy scouts and organized Troop 28. The Halversons retired to the Upper Peninsula in 1989. Howard died on November 24, 2003. [Tribune obituary, November 26, 2003.]

Jens Jergen Halvorsen [1852-1907]

Jens Halvorsen became a member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Norway. His wife, Amalia [Amelia] Bjorgufsen [Borgenson], was raised as a Lutheran, but she, too, joined the Adventist Church. They immigrated to Chicago in July 1887 and moved to Robinson Township. There they helped form a Seventh-day Adventist Church in May 1907, and Jens was named an Elder. The Halvorsens owned a 100-acre farm in Section 6 of Robinson Township. Jens, who was born in Norway on December 3, 1852, died on June 29, 1907, several days after falling from a scaffold and breaking his back while on a job in Saugatuck. He was buried at Robinson Cemetery. Amalia was born in Kroger, Norway on September 8 or 9, 1859. They were married in Norway on November 8, 1881. Their children were Martin, born in Norway on June 9, 1886; Thallie K., a daughter, born in Chicago, Illinois on November 7, 1888; Harturg [Hartwig] Johannes, who was born in Chicago on November 24, 1890 and died in 1982; George, born in Chicago on September 19, 1893; and Daniel, born locally on February 26, 1897. After Jens's death, Amalia moved her family to Berrien Springs, Berrien County.

Caslin [Carlin] Hamilton [1838-1881]

Born in Quebec, Canada in 1838, Caslin Hamilton arrived in Crockery Township in 1862. On November 3, 1868 he married Mary Dickinson in Wright Township. Mary was born in January 1843 in New York. Their son, George, was born in Michigan around December 1869, and a daughter, Carrie M., was born in June 1872. Carrie became a nurse and in the early 1900s resided at 319 South Fifth Street in Grand Haven. Two other Hamilton children were Helen "Nellie," born in June 1873, and Charles N., born about 1876. In 1870 and 1880 Caslin was listed as a carpenter living in Nunica with his wife and son George. He later became an agent for the Detroit and Muskegon Railroad Company. Prior to that, on February 27, 1865 he went to Grand Rapids to enlist in Company G of the Michigan 10th Cavalry as private. He was mustered out on November 11 the same year. He and Mary moved to Potawatomie, Iowa, where Caslin died about 1881. Mary applied for a widow's Civil War pension on September 8, 1890.

George Hamilton [@1838- ?]

George Hamilton, an African American, enlisted in the 102nd United States Colored Infantry in Grand Haven on December 28, 1863. He was born in New Orleans, Louisiana about 1838. George's military records noted that he deserted from Camp Ward [probably Fort Ward in Virginia] on March 26, 1864. A George Hamilton of the right age was living in Louisiana at the time of the 1880 census, but there is no proof the two are the same person.

Frank T. Hammond [1883–1936]

The son of Thomas and Cora Hammond, Frank was born in Spring Lake on March 25, 1883. He was a mail carrier in rural Spring Lake for 30 years. He married Grace Bunker Anderson, in 1934. She was the widow of Reuben [Ruben] Anderson [1895-1930]. Frank played alto horn for the Grand Haven band on the riverboat that went to Lamont on weekends. He died in 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

George H. Hammond [1844-1920]

George Hammond rented boats and fishing tackle in Spring Lake. Born on July 1, 1844 in Spring Lake, George was the son of William and Lucy Houghton Hammond of Spring Lake. George's wife, Caroline Hammond, the daughter of William Shirley Hammond, was born in Michigan on October 26, 1846. They were married in Spring Lake on November 1, 1868. Their children, all born locally, were: William S., who was born on May 13, 1870, married Lulu Swartz on May 20, 1891, died on May 10, 1946, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; George E., who was born on April 29, 1874 and served with Company F in the Spanish-American War; Charles E., born about 1876; Luella M., born about 1878; John, born in June 1885; and a daughter, Carrie, born in June 1887. George the son married Dora Christopher in Grand Haven on October 30, 1895. Dora was born in Denmark in 1877. John married Elsie, the daughter of Henry and Henrietta Stap Abbinga of Grand Haven. George died on March 6, 1920, and Caroline passed away in Spring Lake on February 23, 1924.

Shirley Hammond [1822- 1872]

See William Shirley Hammond.

Thomas Hammond [1851-1928]

Born in Canada in March 1851, Thomas Hammond came to Spring Lake in 1878 and worked in the mills. Although he lived in the Village, he had a fruit farm on 144th Street in Spring Lake Township. Thomas was highway commissioner in the early 1900s and village president in 1916 and 1917. He led the group of men who tore up the Interurban tracks one night in order to hurry the paving of Savidge. Thomas served as a substitute rural mail carrier; was on the Board of Education and the Village Council and he was truant officer.

On July 5, 1880 in Grand Rapids, Thomas married Cora Chittenden. Born in 1861 in Spoonville, she was, the daughter of Benjamin and Abigail Chittenden. They had two sons, Frank T., born on March 25, 1883, and William Albert, born on November 28, 1889, and a daughter, May A., born in November 1884. Cora died in Spring Lake on July 3, 1895. Thomas married Frances Bangle in Muskegon on October 7, 1899. A resident of Grand Rapids, Frances was born in Michigan and lived from September 1873 [1869] to 1954. She had two children from her first marriage to a Mr. Erhart: Iva, born in June 1887, and Ethel, born in September 1889. Iva and Ethel resided with their mother and stepfather in Spring Lake in 1900. Frances and Thomas had one daughter, Maude, who was born April 12, 1904. Maude married a Mr. Hessmer and later resided in the family home at 210 East Exchange in Spring Lake, a structure that was built prior to 1900. Maude died in Spring Lake on July 5, 1980 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. At one time Thomas owned part of the Spring Lake Country Club property, and he donated the land for Spring Lake Cemetery. Thomas died in 1928. [Tribune article, "Wm. Hammond Is postmaster," August 4, 1939.]

William Albert Hammond [1889-1953]

Born in Spring Lake on November 28, 1889, William was the son of Thomas and Cora Hammond. William was a bricklayer and a veteran of World War I. He served as councilman for five years prior to becoming village president from 1933 to 1938. During his terms a new Village Hall was erected, a sewage disposal plant was built, many unpaved streets were blacktopped, Savidge Street was repaved, and lights were installed along Savidge Street in the downtown area. Like his father, who was a substitute rural mail carrier for 14 years, William worked for the post office and became Spring Lake postmaster in March 1940, a post he held for 13 years. William, who died in 1953, resided in the family home at 210 East Exchange. [Tribune article, "Wm. Hammond Is postmaster," August 4, 1939.]

William Shirley Hammond [1822-1872]

Shirley Hammond and his wife Lucy Houghton settled on a farm in Section 14 of Spring Lake Township as early as 1840. Lucy lived for a while in Grand Rapids and then with the Kanouse family at Battle Point prior to her marriage to Shirley on July 26, 1840. They were married at the residence of Captain Harry Miller in Section 10 of Polkton Township [7851 Leonard Road]. By 1870 Shirley, a hotel keeper, had moved to the Village of Spring Lake. Born in England on August 15, 1822, Shirley was killed by a locomotive on August 18, 1872 and buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Lucy ran the business after her husband's death. Lucy was born in Pennsylvania in 1822 and died in Spring Lake on October 21, 1896. Among their children, all natives of Michigan, were George, born in November 1842; Charles, born about 1844; William, born about 1846; Caroline, who was born on October 26, 1846 and married George Hammond of Spring Lake; and Harriet, who was born in August 1863 and married William Welch of Spring Lake. Charles advertised himself as a paper hanger and decorator. Hammond Street was named for this family, and Petty's Bayou was at one time called Hammond's Bayou.

George W. Hance [1874-1944]

Around 1900 George Hance owned a photography studio in Grand Haven. He was born in Michigan in May 1874. On November 1, 1899 in Olivet, Eaton County, he married Lillian [Lila/Leila] May Ives [Iver]. Also a native of Michigan, she was born in April 1871. They had a son, Kenneth G., who was born in California around 1904, and a daughter, Mary E., who was born in the same state about 1907. In 1910 the family lived in Detroit, where they remained until at least 1930. George died in Olivet, Eaton County in 1944 and was buried at Olivet City Cemetery. Lila had passed away in 1930 and was buried at the same cemetery.

Betsy [Betsey] Jenison Hanchett [1825-1901]

The sister of Lucius and Luman Jenison, Betsy was the last member of the well-known Jenison family, pioneers of Ottawa County, where she settled in 1835. Her husband, Benjamin Samuel Hanchett, lived from 1822 to 1903, and was listed in the 1870 census for Kent County and in the 1863 Business Directory as a tailor and merchant in Grandville. Their son, Benjamin Sawtell Hanchett, was noted as the young "electric road man" of Grand Rapids. Young Benjamin was born in Grand Rapids on October 1, 1869 and died on February 2, 1933 in his hometown. He was the first president of the Grand Rapids, Holland, and Lake Michigan Interurban, formed in 1901. Benjamin the father was buried with Betsy at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County. Betsy, who was born in Connecticut in 1825, died in Grand Rapids on March 11, 1901. [Tribune obituary, March 12, 1901.]

John Palmer Hanchett [1820-1907]

On November 8, 1870 John Hanchett was named the first postmaster of West Olive, the same year the town was platted. Born in Oswego, New York on June 18, 1820, he married Lucy Cole on December 24, 1868 in Allegan. She was born in New York in June 1838. By 1880 they had moved to Sacramento, California, where John passed away on January 17, 1907, and Lucy died on January 2, 1916. They were buried at Union Cemetery in Roseville, California. Their daughter Edith was born in California on May 3, 1878.

James Garner Hancock [1859-1941]

James, the son of George and Joan Howard Hancock, was born in New York State in October 1856 and moved to Spring Lake with his parents around 1865. He worked at George Hancock & Son Wholesale Florists, owned by his father. For three years he was vice president of the Society of American Florists and a charter member of the American Carnation Society. James married Minnie L. [Belle] Franks, sister of James Franks. Minnie was born in Michigan in January 1859. The Hancocks' children included Frances B., born in August 1888; Fannie B. H., born in July 1890; and Miriam, born in February 1893. James Hancock was listed in the 1893 Compendium as "gardener, florist." He died in Dade County, Florida in 1941. Minnie died ten years later. Both were buried at Miami City Cemetery.

John B. Hancock [1849-1881]

Born in England on April 5, 1849, John moved with his parents, George and Joan Howard Hancock, to Corning, New York. In about 1865 his parents came to Spring Lake, where his father had an interest in the Hopkins Sawmill. John worked in the mill, attended high school in Grand Rapids, and spent one year at the Michigan Agricultural College [MSU]. He took classes at Grand Rapids Business College, returned to Spring Lake, and was employed by Aloys Bilz as a bookkeeper and manager of the hardware store. He worked for the sawmill at Nortonville, which became White & Friant's, and then worked for Haire, Savidge, & Cutler as bookkeeper and foreman of the shipping department. When Robert Haire sold his interest to Savidge and Cutler, John became a partner in the business. In 1876 he was named secretary of the company. He was a Republican and a member of the Royal Arcanum. He attended the Baptist Church.

On October 20, 1875 John married Ruth M., daughter of Rev. Hiram and Hannah Beckwith of Spring Lake. Ruth was born about 1850 in New Hampshire. The Hancocks' son Theodore died at Gladstone, Delta County on January 9, 1900. A daughter, Elizabeth B., was born about 1879 in Grand Haven. John died on March 19, 1881 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1890 Ruth married Thomas A. Parish of Ferrysburg. [Tribune article, January 9, 1900.]

Frederick Melza Hannum [Hannen] [1843-1919]

At his funeral on June 4, 1919, Fred M. Hannum was remembered by many friends as a "good old citizen, whose obliging ways endeared him to all." Fred was born in Southampton, Massachusetts on March 16, 1843. On September 3, 1862 he enlisted as private in Company D of the Massachusetts 37th Infantry. He was mustered out on June 21, 1865. After the war he moved west where he met and married Sarah Elizabeth Mason in Chicago on August 8, 1872. In 1902 the couple established themselves at Clarks Corners in Robinson Township, where 144th Avenue intersects Green Street. Fred carried the Rural Route 3 mail, and Sarah Eizabeth ran the small family-owned Hannum General Store and owned 43 acres in Section 7. When his wife died in 1912 at the age of 58, Fred assumed duties at the shop. They were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. [From an article by Marjorie Viveen.]

Isaac N. Hannum [Hannon, Hannan, Harmon] [1832-1897]

Born in Ashland County, Ohio, on May 24, 1832, Isaac Hannum moved to Ditney Hill, Indiana, where he enlisted in Company K of the 143rd Indiana Infantry as private on February 7, 1865. He was mustered out on June 12 the same year. He then located on a 40-acre farm in Section 2 of Robinson Township. He died in the township on August 14, 1897. Isaac never married.

David Hanrahan [1846-1911]

In the 1893 Compendium David Hanrahan was listed as an engineer, working with a railroad company. Earlier he been a fireman with the same company. He was born in May 1846 [1848] in Ireland and died in 1911. His wife, Catherine [Katherine] Shay, also a native of Ireland, was born on April 16, 1844 [1846/1850] and died in Grand Haven on February 7, 1935. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Michael, born in 1871; William A., who was born on July 15, 1873; Annie, born in May 1875 [1876]; John; and David, who lived from 1878 to 1907. Michael, David, and John moved to Grand Rapids. In 1880 the Hanrahans resided on Howard Street, but by the early 1900s they had moved to 309 North Second.

William Albert Hanrahan [1873-1933]

Born in Grand Haven on July 15, 1873, William was the son of David and Catherine Shay Hanrahan. William Hanrahan was a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention when the state repudiated the 18th amendment [Prohibition]. He was a member of the Harbor Commission and the Duncan Park Board, and he was one of the organizers and secretary and treasurer of the Lorraine Manufacturing & Importing Company in Grand Haven, founded in 1915. He sailed for 17 years as Purser with the Crosby transportation line and was on the Naomi when it was destroyed by fire in mid-lake on May 21, 1907. William represented Grand Rapids Brewing Company, and he bought Edward Smith's Saloon, located at 7 Washington, which he ran for seven years as the Silver Foam Beer Warehouse. He was a Democrat, a member of the Elks, and active with the Masons.

William married Marjorie Lisco on June 26, 1907 in Muskegon. They lived at 403 Howard Street in Grand Haven. Marjorie, who was born in 1886, was the daughter of Charles Henry and Mary Lisco. William and Marjorie were divorced in 1910. At the divorce proceedings, William announced the cause was “too much mother-in-law.” [Tribune article, November 8, 1910.] About 1915 William married Eleanor “Nellie” Fons, who died on April 10, 1977 at age 83. He and Nellie had no children. William died at his home at 119 Sherman Street on May 14, 1933 from angina pectoris and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 9, 1911, May 15, 1933, and February 8, 1935.]

Detleff Hendiech Hansen [1838-1910]

Born in Germany on April 30, 1838, Detleff Hansen came to Grand Haven about 1870 and was associated with James Barnes in the furniture and undertaking business for about 19 years. Later he went into business for himself, and for a number of years he operated a furniture and undertaking establishment in his building at the corner of Third and Columbus Streets. He and his wife Johanna had several children, including Julius, Emil H., Adele, and Albert C., all of Grand Haven. Johanna lived from 1843 to 1918. Detleff died at his home, 103 Third Street, on April 9, 1910. They both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 9, 1910.]

Emil H. Hansen [1869-1944]

Emil Hansen owned a barbershop at 28-32 Washington, although in the 1893 Compendium he was listed as a tinsmith. He called his place “Gossip Hall.” He continued as a barber into the 1930s. In the early 1900s he lived at 312 Clinton with his wife Catherine, who was born in Michigan in June 1875. Their children were Marian A., born in Grand Haven in March 1899; Frances, born about 1906; Catherine, who was born in 1908; Dorothy, born about 1910; and Detleff, born about 1912. By 1930 the family resided at 408 Lafayette. Emil was born in Prussia on June 4, 1869 and came to the United States when he was two. He died on February 7, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Catherine passed away about December 17, 1957 and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest.

Harold T. “Gus” Hansen [1904-1985]

Harold Hansen was born in Manistee on February 12, 1904. His parents were Anders and Ann Larson Hansen. On June 29, 1926, Harold married Florence Katherine Demmon in Grand Rapids. Born on April 2, 1905, she was the daughter of Elwood and Blanche Voorhees Demmon. After retirement, Harold and Florence resided at 122 Prospect Street in Grand Haven and owned a cottage nearby at 9 Grandview Avenue that they named Guty-Sark. Florence’s parents owned a cottage at 6 Grandview named Bonheur, later owned by her aunt, Olivia Demmon Bryant. Harold died on December 14, 1985 in Grand Haven, and Florence passed away on January 26 the following year. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had a son, David, who resided in Ohio, but retained ownership of Guty-Sark. David more recently lived at 15502 Coleman in Grand Haven Township.

Burton Sorenburg Hanson I [1883-1983]

Born in Chicago on August 17, 1883, Burton was the son of Hans Olaf and Marie Asserson Hanson. Hans was born in Trondheim, Norway in 1847 and came to Chicago as a cabinetmaker. He died on March 27, 1924. Marie was born in Stavanger, Norway in 1847 and immigrated to New York to assist her uncle, Admiral Arthur Asserson. She died on December 23, 1940. Burton was the third of four children. He joined Challenge Machinery Company in 1898 as an office and errand boy and moved with the company when it relocated to Grand Haven in 1903. Burton retired in 1951 after 50 years of service with the company, ending as director and secretary of the firm. He began subscribing to the Grand Haven Tribune in 1904 and continued it the rest of his life, including having the paper mailed to him in St. Petersburg, Florida in 1953 and to Garden Grove, California in 1963. He was the longest continuous Tribune subscriber at the time.

Burton was noted for hitting a hole-in-one on the eighth hole at Spring Lake Country Club on August 18, 1935. He was a life member of the Shriners, Elks, Modern Woodman, Masons, Order of Eastern Star, Rotary International, Spring Lake Yacht Club, Exchange Club, Community Club, National Association of Printing Machinery Manufacturers, and War Production Board's Industry Advisory Committee.

On October 14, 1903, in Spring Lake, Burton married Ruth Mae, daughter of Phillip Emanuel and Fannie Ott Watkins, formerly of Chicago. Phillip Emanuel also was employed at Challenge Machinery and had relocated from Chicago to Grand Haven. The Hansons lived at 1214 Franklin in the early 1900s. They had five children, all born in Michigan: Fanny Marie, who was born on June 1, 1904 and married Louis Ellingson of Grand Haven; Ruby Eleanor, who was born about 1906, became assistant superintendent at the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis and married Russell Chadwick of Spokane, Washington; Burton II, who was born about 1908, graduated from the Naval Academy in Annapolis in 1930, married Mary Margaret Gillen, had a daughter, Fair Elizabeth, and held the rank of Rear Admiral when he died in 1959; Dorothy Mae, who was born May 2, 1910 and married John C. Zuidema of Spring Lake; and Lester Olaf, who was born about 1914 and moved to Pasadena, California with his wife Bettina and their three children. Ruth Hanson died in 1963, and her husband died at Pacific Haven Convalescent Home in Garden Grove, California on September 19, 1983. [Tribune obituary, September 19, 1983 and biographical sketch, Citizens Historical Association, September 13, 1941.]

Benjamin Franklin "Frank" Harbeck [1870-1941]

Frank was born in Grand Haven on November 28, 1870, the son of Casper and Maria Harbeck. Frank graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1888 and after completing a course at a business college in Chicago, he went to work for the Challenge Refrigerator Company on Seventh Street [Beacon Boulevard]. During WWI he served with the YMCA in France. He was secretary and treasurer at Challenge until his retirement in 1928. At the time of his death, he was director of the Grand Haven State Bank and a member and patron of the Tuesday Musicale, Spring Lake Country Club, and St. John's Episcopal Church. Frank was organist at St. John's for many years. He was considered artistic and with his keen sense of interior decorating was asked to oversee the decorating of the Masonic Temple and to assist with decorating City Hall, Elks Club, and Spring Lake Country Club. He never married, and lived many years with his sister Minnie at the family homestead, 520 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven. Frank died from a heart attack on June 9, 1941 at his home and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, December 21, 1906, February 4, 1935, and June 9, 1941.]

Casper Harbeck [1822-1877]

Casper Harbeck was born in Germany on June 1 [July 3], 1822 and died in Grand Haven on July 4, 1877. His parents were Hans and Catherina Harbeck. Casper was an early settler in Northwest Ottawa County. He married Maria "Mary" Mueller, who was born in Prussia in June 1827 and died on December 21, 1906. They left their native Bramstedt, Germany and came to the United States in 1851, settling first in Milwaukee and then becoming residents of Muir, the railroad town across the channel at the foot of Dewey Hill. It was there that their oldest son, Herman, was born on November 28, 1857. Their other children were Minnie, born in Detroit on July 19, 1853; William Ferdinand, who was born February 3, 1867 and on June 1, 1897 married Mary Isabelle Orr in Grand Haven; and Benjamin Franklin, born on May 28, 1870. Casper was enumerated in the 1860 census as a resident of Spring Lake Township. The Harbecks were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Note: A passport application cited Denmark as Casper's country of birth.]

Eugene Orr Harbeck I [1899-1986]

Born January 12, 1899 in Grand Haven, the son of William and Mary Harbeck, Eugene attended Lehigh University in Pennsylvania and received his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan. He worked at Challenge Stamping and Porcelain Company and later was Purchasing Agent for Eagle Ottawa Leather from 1929 until his retirement in 1962. He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, Grand Haven Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Country Club, Masons, and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

On September 10, 1924 Eugene married Olive Hatton in Grand Haven. Olive, the daughter of William and Elizabeth Seaman Hatton, was born in Bayshore, Long Island, New York on June 22, 1900. Olive received her bachelor degree from Wellesley College in Massachusetts. She was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Grand Haven, served on the Grand Haven Public Library Board, was active in the Grand Haven Woman's Club and had served as its president, and was a major contributor to the refurbishing of Hatton Park.

The Harbecks resided at 547 Slayton. Their children included Mary Elizabeth, who was born about June 1929 and married Richard Swain of St. Charles, Illinois; Eugene II, who was born on February 14, 1927; and Richard Hatton Harbeck, who was born on November 29, 1932 and moved to Birmingham, Oakland County. Eugene I died at a local nursing home on August 2, 1986 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Olive passed away in Grand Haven on April 21, 1997. [Tribune obituaries, August 4, 1986 and April 25, 1997, and personal profile submitted to the Tribune by Eugene Orr Harbeck I.]

Eugene Orr Harbeck II [1927-1992]

Born in Grand Haven on February 14, 1927, Eugene was the son of Eugene and Olive Hatton Harbeck. The young Harbeck graduated with a Master of Business Administration from Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania. Prior to that he received a high school diploma from Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills and a bachelor degree from Princeton University, magna cum laude. He served in the U.S. Navy as Hospital Apprentice, Second Class. On September 1, 1958 he became president of Michigan Brass Company. He first entered the company as a cost accountant in July 1951. Later he became Trust Officer for Security First Bank and Trust [Old Kent Bank/Fifth Third]. Harbeck was appointed a trustee of the Loutit Foundation and was named president of the Plumbing Brass Institute in 1966. He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, Spring Lake Country Club, and Chamber of Commerce, and he was a director of the Rotary Club and the Committee for Economic Development.

On December 20, 1950 Eugene married Sarah "Sally" Louise Page in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where she then lived. They had five children: Elizabeth Page Harbeck Voshel, Peter Allen Harbeck, William Hatton Harbeck, Thomas Page Harbeck, and John Drury Harbeck. Sally was born in Indianapolis, Indiana, on February 19, 1929, the daughter of Clifton O. and Dorcas I. Allen Page. She graduated with honors from Vassar College in 1950, with a bachelor degree in English. Sally was president of the Grand Haven Woman's Club and Tri-Cities Area League of Voters. She was a charter member of Central Park Players, and a member of Ottawa Shores Humane Society Board of Directors, Grand Haven Planning Commission, Grand Haven Housing Advisory Appeals Board, Tri-Cities Historical Museum, and Holland Kennel Club. She was co-chair of a committee that raised funds for Grand Haven's first emergency rescue truck. Sally was an active member of the Episcopal Church. Their daughter Elizabeth "Betsy" Harbeck, born in October 1951, married Geoffrey Allan Voshel, who was born in Grand Haven on September 3, 1948. The Harbeck family resided at 1706 Gladys Avenue in Grand Haven. Eugene died on May 5, 1992 and Sally on December 14, 2004. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune articles, "Harbeck Heads Michigan Brass," August 30, 1958, and "Michigan Brass Pres. Will Join Bank Here," May 1967, and obituary, December 16, 2004.]

Herman F. Harbeck [1857-1930]

Born on November 28, 1857 in the town of Muir, across the river from the foot of Washington Street, Herman was the son of Casper and Maria Mueller Harbeck. At the age of 18 Herman began teaching at Rosy Mound School and shortly thereafter started to work for the Cutler & Savidge Lumber Company, becoming secretary in 1881 after James Hancock's premature death. In 1898, when the lumber business ceased to thrive, Herman went to work for Challenge Corn Planter Company in Grand Haven, which later became Challenge Refrigerator Company. In the early 1900s Herman was named president of that company. Herman served as president of Spring Lake Village in 1886 and he was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1904 and 1905. He was a member of the Board of Trade and later director of the Chamber of Commerce; director of the Grand Haven State Bank and Spring Lake State Bank; and director and secretary of the Grand Rapids Varnish Company. Herman was a Republican and a delegate to the Republican National Committee that nominated Theodore Roosevelt for the presidency. He became captain of the Yates Light Infantry [Company F], when Captain Mower resigned. He was a member of the Masons, the Peninsular Club of Grand Rapids, the Voyagers of Detroit, and the Spring Lake Country Club.

On February 8, 1882 in Grand Haven, Herman married Mabel, the daughter of William Ruel and Mary Pratt Boynton of Grand Haven. Mary was born in December 1858. The Harbecks lived at 603 [608] Lafayette. They had a daughter Bernice, who was born in August 1887 and later moved to Spring Lake, and two adopted daughters: Abigail Weldon, who was born in Chicago on October 6, 1883 and married Martin [Mortimer] Bos of Grand Haven, and Ruth Weldon, who was born in Chicago in July 1887 and married Maurice C. Shannon of Gadsden, Alabama. Abigail's and Ruth's father, William Weldon, a medical doctor died about 1891. Herman passed away on October 17, 1930 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mabel died two years later on July 2 and was buried in the Boynton plot at the same cemetery. Bernice passed away about February 16, 1943 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, October 17, 1930.]

Jervis [Jarvis] Ralph Harbeck [1878-1939]

Jervis, the son of Eugene and Emma Gray Wattles Harbeck, was born in Battle Creek, Calhoun County on March 26, 1878. His parents both were born in New York about 1850. Emma died in 1954 at the age of 105. Jervis attended the University of Chicago, where he studied architecture. He married Marjorie Ewing in Chicago on June 29, 1903. Marjorie was born in Illinois about 1882. She was the daughter of Adlai and Kate Ewing, also of Illinois, who maintained a summer home on Spring Lake called Glenewing. It was located in the Belle Point area at the northwest corner of Spring Lake, just north of Cornelius Bayou, not far from Jervis's property. Jervis started his career in the mining business in Colorado. By 1903 he was Mechanical superintendent and treasurer of the Kemiweld Can Company in Detroit. Two years later he was general manager of Kemiweld. He also was director and treasurer of the Cresson Consolidated Mining and Milling Company in Cripple Creek, Colorado, a member of the Chicago Architectural Club, and the Detroit Boat Club. Jervis patented the "American Adding Machine" on August 27, 1912 in Chicago. In 1917 he was president of the Loew-Victor Engine Company in Chicago, and a year after that he was residing in New York City as president of American Can Company.

In the early 1900s Jervis hired Louis Sullivan [1856-1924] to design a summer home, which he built on the western shore of Spring Lake [3123 Judson Road]. Frank Lloyd Wright was one of Sullivan's more famous students. An avid speedboat racer, Jervis around 1916 suffered a boating accident on Spring Lake in which a passenger was killed. Jervis and Marjorie had at least three children, all born in New York. The eldest was Catherine E., who was born in Michigan on November 18, 1905 and married Marion Moore. Marion was born in Nebraska in 1903. Catherine and Marion resided at 538 Lafayette in Grand Haven, where she died on December 28, 1973. A son, Adlai Ewing Harbeck, was born in New York on May 1, 1908, became a book illustrator, and died in Far Rockaway, New York in June 1981. A second daughter, Janeth [Janet/Annette], was born about 1916. Marjorie died on April 16, 1911. By 1918 Jervis was living in New York City with his second wife, Dorothy D. Living with them were his children from his first marriage. Dorothy was born in New York around 1892 and had been married previously. In 1930 Jervis was in the banking business. He died in 1939 in New York City.

Minnie Harbeck [1853-1935]

Minnie was born in Detroit, July 19, 1853 and came to Grand Haven in 1856 with her parents, Casper and Maria Harbeck. In her adult life, Minnie resided with her brother, Frank Harbeck, at 520 Lafayette in Grand Haven. She died on February 2, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William Ferdinand Harbeck [1867-1940]

William, the son of Casper and Maria Harbeck, was one of three brothers who helped make Challenge Refrigerator a major industry in Northwest Ottawa County. The other two were Herman F. and B. Franklin. William generally was referred to by his middle name, Ferdinand. Before joining Challenge, Ferdinand was a traveling salesman. He married Mary Isabelle [Elizabeth] Orr in West Bloomfield, Oakland County on June 2, 1897. She was the daughter of James W. and Isabelle Spence Orr who lived, among other places, in Grand Haven, and her brother, James Wilson Orr, also was a Grand Haven resident. The Harbecks resided at 538 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven. Ferdinand and Mary had a daughter, Mary Eleanor, who was born in Grand Haven on December 15, 1902, married Herbert Lee Gaylord [1905-1999], and died on July 26, 2004 in Canandaigua, New York. Ferdinand lived from February 3, 1867 to January 3, 1940 and his wife from August 8, 1870 to August 29, 1934. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

A. Harder [? - ?]

Harder was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1871 to 1875. He moved to Milwaukee after leaving his post in Grand Haven.

William Harder [? - ?]

William Harder was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886.

Henry Harmeling [1864-1946]

A native of Oostburg, Wisconsin, where he was born on November 8, 1864 [1865], Henry Harmeling was pastor of First Reformed Church in Grand Haven from 1909 to 1918. On June 18, 1891 in Holland, he married Jennie Verbuk. After her death in 1901, he married Marie Moendyk Ketelde in Zeeland on November 27, 1906. Following his ministry in Grand Haven, Henry and Marie moved to Chicago. He died there on September 5, 1946.

Victor J. Harmon [1921-1971]

Victor Harmon opened Vic's Snack Bar at 18 Washington Street in the early 1950s and remained there into the 1960s. Victor was born on April 10, 1921 and died in Spring Lake on March 15, 1971. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William Harper [1842-1934]

Born in Great Oakley, Essex, England on November 21, 1842, William Harper served an apprenticeship in cabinet making, and then as a youth he joined the British navy and sailed the high seas for years. He came to Grand Haven in 1865 and was a carpenter at the Clark B. Albee Tannery, after which he started in business for himself as a builder. However, most of his life was spent as a book agent, traveling over 40 years from Maine to California. He reportedly called at the White House in Washington, D.C. wearing his customary flower in his lapel. The press mistook him for a preacher. William was one of the organizers of St. John's Church in Grand Haven and was a great lover of nature. He was in charge of the gardens at the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company and was an annual exhibitor at the Grand Haven Garden Show. He was a member of the Masons [F. & A. M.], and Elks.

On June 8, 1869 in Grand Haven, William married Frances [Fannie] Lannigan, a dressmaker from Rochester, New York. They lived at 303 South Second Street in a home they called "Auld Lang Syne." The decoration of the house and the yard in red, white, and blue attracted much attention. They had no children. Fanny was born in 1842 and died in 1919. William suffered a stroke and died on July 8, 1934 in Grand Haven. At the time, he was writing the last lines of a poem entitled "With Banners," which told of his philosophy in meeting death. It read, "Though I am beaten nobody shall know, I'll wear defeat so proudly I shall go about my business as I did before. Only when I have safely closed the door against you and the rest shall I be free to bow my head—When there is none to see. Tonight I'll shed my tears, tomorrow when I talk with you I will be gay again. Though I am beaten nobody shall guess for I will walk as though I know success." He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, July 9, 1934 and Chronicle article, "William Harper, of GH, Man of Sunshine," May 2, 1931.]

William Carson Harper I [1851-1906]

William Harper was born in Washtenaw County on November 3, 1851 [1850]. He attended Michigan Agricultural College [MSU], where he graduated in 1873 and started teaching in Eastmanville and Berlin

[Marne] schools. He taught for a while in Robinson Township, and then opened a general store in the Village on January 1, 1876. He was superintendent of Schools in Robinson, as well as township clerk and supervisor at various times. On September 1, 1875 William married Nellie Eastman. The daughter of George and Aphia Parry Eastman, Nellie was born in Niagara County, New York on January 3, 1855 [1856]. The Harpers had seven children: Allie Eastman, born September 4, 1876; William C. II, born November 3, 1877; G. Ralph, born January 25, 1882; Florence S., born November 2, 1883; Julia Aphia, born October 18, 1885; Robert Mason, born November 4, 1887; and George, born May 26, 1892. By 1900 the family was residing in Wyoming, Kent County. William died in Grand Rapids on October 4, 1906 of pernicious anemia. Nellie passed away on March 3, 1943.

Gerard “Sam” Frederick Harring [1925-2018]

Sam, the son of Fred and Hazel Mead Harring Harring, was born on April 20, 1925, in Grand Rapids. He graduated from Grand Rapids Catholic Central High School and attended Davenport Business College. During WWII, he served with the U.S. Navy in the Pacific Theater. Sam had varied interests, including music. He played several instruments and collected sheet music. He was interested in local history, astronomy, science, and engineering. A born athlete, Sam swam a mile a day and exercised regularly at the Grand Haven YMCA until his last days. He was a Catholic and served for nearly 60 years as a volunteer at St. Mary’s parish in Spring Lake. Sam also was an active member of the Spring Lake Lions Club for decades. Personally frugal, but generous with family, friends and strangers alike with his money and time. In 1990 he started a friendship with Doris Ducey that endured until his death on July 3, 2018. His children were Dan, Laura, Linda, Fred, Alice Rose, Lisa, and John. Sam was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Cyrus Harris [1818-1901]

Cyrus, the son of Amos and Mary Casto Harris, was born in Clark County, Ohio, on November 26, 1818. He arrived in Grand Haven Township in 1866 to raise fruit on an 80-acre farm in Sections 20 and 21. He constructed a pier on his Lake Michigan shoreline to facilitate crop shipments. Cyrus married Susannah Walker [Haller] in Clark County, Ohio on January 24, 1841. She was born in Maryland in April 1814. Susannah died on July 19, 1900, and Cyrus passed away in Grand Haven on February 17, 1901. Cyrus had a brother Gideon, who also lived in the area. [Tribune obituary, February 18, 1901.]

Frank C. Harris [1880-1955]

Born in St. Louis, Missouri on December 24, 1880, Frank Harris was a comedian and an actor, as was his wife, Florence M. Randall, whom he married in Toledo, Ohio on January 7, 1905. Frank was on the stage for over 25 years, playing with Stair and Havelin Melodramas and for two years in “Mrs. Wiggs in the Cabbage Patch.” Later the couple formed their own vaudeville team of Harris & Randall [Florence retained her professional name], playing the Keith, Pantages, and Sun Time Theater circuits. They also wrote plays and performed them. Frank owned a cottage on Spring Lake before moving to Grand Haven in 1917. As late as 1918 they performed their skit “A Temperate Woman” in Spokane, Washington. Frank was employed in the office of the Grand Haven Power Company, and later worked as shipping clerk for Eagle Ottawa for 18 years, retiring in 1954. He was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist. Frank and Florence resided at 318 South Fifth Street. Florence was born in Ohio about 1885 and died on November 7, 1953. After her death Frank lived with a sister, Marie Springer, at 108 South Second Street [Carriage House Apartments]. Frank died on March 20, 1955 at home and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, March 20, 1955 and unpublished correspondence with Kevin Collier.]

Frederick William Harris [1845-1910]

Frederick Harris, born on October 23, 1845 in Michigan, was a saw filer at Boyden & Akeley’s Mill in Grand Haven, where he started in 1873. He enlisted as private in Company C of the 21st Michigan Infantry on February 12, 1864. He was mustered out on July 3 the next year and arrived in Grand Haven shortly afterward. On December 12, 1872 Frederick married Sarah Jane Parrott in Ottawa County. The couple moved to Wisconsin prior to 1899 and by the next year they were living in St. Louis County. He died in Wiscosin on July 11, 1910. Sarah Jane, who was born in Michigan in 1848, applied for a widow's Civil War pension on August 6, 1910.

George William Harris [1849-1913]

George Harris, who was born in Michigan on October 6, 1839, owned a farm in Grand Haven Township. On November 12, 1860 he married Mary Moulton in St. Joseph. She was born on January 27, 1843 in Illinois. Their daughter Ada, who was born in 1872, married Fred Churchill of Agnew. The Harrises also had a son, Benjamin Franklin Harris, who was born on March 29, 1873 and died in St. Joseph on March 29, 1973. By 1900 the family was residing in Holland. George passed away in Holland on June 28, 1913. Mary died on February 11, 1917 and was buried at Pilgrim Home Cemetery in Holland with her husband.

Gillman R. Harris [1839-1925]

Born in Erie County, Pennsylvania on June 9, 1839 [1838], Gillman Harris left home when he was 14, going first to Wisconsin and then to Allegan County in 1866, where he started fruit farming. On February 5, 1868 in Allegan County, he married Emma A. Morse, born in 1844 in Chittenden, Vermont. Gillman reportedly served in the Civil War with a Wisconsin regiment, but his service records were not located. In 1871 he and his wife settled on 120 acres in Section 34 of Grand Haven Township, where they raised fruit. Gillman died in Allegan County on February 25, 1925 and was buried at McDowell Cemetery.

Glenn Harris II [1898-1964]

Glenn Harris and his wife, Isabel, resided in a home at 403 Barber Street in Spring Lake. Glenn was born on August 10, 1898 and died in Spring Lake in August 1964. Isabel, who lived from July 22, 1901 to January 1981, passed away in Manistee. In 1930 Glenn managed a movie theater in Ypsilanti.

Israel Victor Harris [1815-1886]

Israel, the son of Israel and Phoebe Barker Harris, was born in Pine Plains, Dutchess County, New York, on April 2, 1815. Silas Harris was his brother. Israel came to Michigan in 1836, lived in Detroit for a short time, and then continued on to Tallmadge Township, which he helped organize the same year. He owned large parcels of timbered land in Tallmadge and other townships and was successful in the lumber and real estate businesses. He also owned stands of timber in other parts of the state. On August 1, 1841 Israel bought 160 acres in Section 15 of Robinson Township and three months later purchased another 160 acres in Section 27. Thirty years later he platted the Village of Robinson, located in the center of the township. Israel formed a company, which on November 1, 1853 acquired 107.7 acres in Section 17 of Spring Lake Township, 41 acres in Section 19, and additional acreage in Section 20. The lake frontage in Section 19 became known as North Shore. In 1853-54 Israel served in the Michigan State Senate. In the 1880 census he was listed as a real estate agent. Israel died in 1886 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

James Castro Harris [1818-1881]

James was born on July 25, 1818 in Madison, Ohio, the son of Amos and Mary Castro Harris. James was married twice, first to Rachel Francis, who was born about 1820 in Ohio, and then, on July 6, 1845 in Van Buren County, he married Harriet Ball. Born in January 1825 in Ohio [Indiana], Harriet lived to be 79. By 1864 the Harrises owned a farm of about 160 acres in Section 28 of Grand Haven Township. A son named Norman W., born in 1849, married Ellen J. Myers [Meyers]. Another son, Judson, was born in July 1858 in Van Buren County. James died on May 20, 1881. He and Harriet were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Judson "Jud" H. Harris [1858- ?]

By 1864 Judson Harris resided with his parents, James and Harriet Harris, on a 160-acre farm in Section 28 of Grand Haven Township. By the late 1800s the farm had been reduced to 60 acres and was owned by Judson. Jud was one of the organizers of the Ottawa County Fruit and Vegetable Association, formed in 1896. He married Lora Churchill in Grand Haven Township on February 8, 1885. He was born in Van Buren

County in July 1858, and Lora was born in May 1867, also in Michigan. By 1900 Jud was working as a carpenter, and he and Lora were residing on Fulton Street in Grand Haven. Their children were Bernace, born in March 1891; Lyn, a son, born in April 1892; and Adela, born in April 1898. Lora passed away in Sparks, Nevada, on June 10, 1909. In the Federal Census of 1910, Jud was living in Sparks and working as a carpenter.

Kenneth A. Harris [1929-1998]

Kenneth was born in Grand Haven on May 4, 1929 to William Raymond and Lillian Paull Harris. After serving in the Korean War, Ken became an accountant for Kloote Contractors, where he retired in 1989. Before that he was an employee of Johnson Tool in Muskegon. He was a member of the Methodist Church of the Dunes in Grand Haven, the Jubilation Choir, and the Bells of Glory. He married Cora De Young on September 11, 1951, and they lived at 1326 Colfax. Their children were Gwen, who married John Bartels of Holland; Marcia, who married Don Bronson of Spring Lake, and Beverly, who married Larry Brown of Holland. Their one son, Craig, married Lisa Harris of Grand Rapids. Kenneth died November 22, 1998.

Norman W. Harris [1849-1890]

Norman, born in La Grange County, Indiana in 1849, was the son of James and Harriet Ball Harris. On February 22, 1880 in Grand Haven, he married Ella [Ellen] J Alyers, who was born in 1862. In 1870 Norman was a store clerk, but he is listed as a farmer on his 1880 marriage registration. Norman died in 1890, while Ella lived to 1935. They were buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

Shurburn “Sherm” Harris [1860-1935]

Sherm Harris, who was born on June 10, 1859, owned and operated a five and ten cent store at 107 Washington in Grand Haven in the early 1900s. It also was called Harris Bazaar Store. Sherm and his wife Martha lived at the same address as the business. By 1920 they were residents of Detroit, where Sherm died on April 22, 1935.

Silas Gamble Harris [1817-1851]

Silas Harris was representative from Grand Haven to the Michigan Legislature in 1847 and 1848. He arrived in Ottawa County in 1837 and on November 1, 1841 he purchased 320 acres in Sections 21 and 22 of Tallmadge Township, where he was again elected representative in 1850, the same year he became Speaker of the House. Silas, the son of Israel and Phoebe Barker Harris, was born in Pine Plains, Dutchess County, New York, on January 6, 1817 and died in Michigan on August 4, 1851. Israel Harris was his brother.

William Raymond Harris [1904-1985]

Born in Hancock, Houghton County on August 15, 1904 to William and Elizabeth Harris, William was a piano technician at the Story & Clark Piano factory, where he retired in 1971. He was a member of the Methodist Church of the Dunes and was church organist for 40 years. In 1928 he married Lillian Paull in Grand Haven. Their children were Kenneth and Cora of Grand Haven. William died at his home, 1144 Oakes, on July 10, 1985 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 10, 1985.]

August “Augie” [Augustus] Hartel I [1853-1914]

A tinsmith, Augie Hartel came to Grand Haven from Chicago in 1883. He worked ten years at George Hubbard’s hardware store in downtown Grand Haven and then was employed for the next eight years in the tin shop of Challenge Refrigerator. In the early 1900s he opened his own tin shop at 30 [26] Washington. About 1883 he married Agnes Fralich, and the couple resided above the tin shop. Augie lived from February 1853 to about January 27, 1914 and his wife from September 1859 [1858] to about April 18, 1927. He came to the United States in 1882 and Agnes in 1885. Both were natives of Germany. A son, Frederick Henry, was born on August 14, 1883. Carl Albert William, another son, was born on July 11, 1885 [1884] and died on April 23, 1925. Other children were Alfred, who was born in August 1882 and passed away about February 10, 1942, and Agnes Clara, born on June 4, 1890 [1888]. Frederick, Alfred and William became tinners. Frederick's shop was first located at the site of his father's business [30 Washington]. By 1920 he had moved to 119 North Third. His brothers Alfred and William worked with him. In 1918 William, Frederick, and Alf resided at 308 South Fourth with their mother. By 1930 the Fourth Street residence was occupied by August II, who was born in Germany about 1884. He also was a metal worker. Augie, Agnes, Alfred, and William were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Augie's and Agnes's daughter Clara married James R. McCauley in Muskegon on September 9, 1909.

Ronald Dale Hartsema [1932-2021]

Ron Hartsema, born on July 29, 1932 in Muskegon, was well known throughout the Grand Haven area as the "voice of the Musical Fountain." For years, his opening line at the start of each performance was, "Good evening and welcome. I am the Grand Haven Musical Fountain." Between 1962 and 2006 he created, produced, and recorded more than 200 fountain programs. He also was an announcer for Grand Haven radio station WGHN. He married Mary Lynne Wilkinson, who was born in Muskegon on October 27, 1936 and passed away on August 27, 2020 in Raleigh, North Carolina, where the couple had moved in 1980. They had two sons, Scott Ronald Harstsema and Douglas Glen Hartsema of Mooresville, North Carolina, and a daughter Nancy Harstsema, who married Larry Gittleman and moved to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. Ron died on June 8, 2021 in Mooresville. Scott, who was born on April 29, 1957 in Muskegon, died on January 27, 2004. Doug was born on August 6, 1961. [Tribune obituary, June 11, 2021.]

Albert A. Harvey [1841-1926]

Albert Harvey was born in Buffalo, New York, on June 29, 1841. He married Martha M. Thurber at Tonawanda, New York, on August 7, 1862. Two days before the wedding he enlisted in the army and served as private with Company B of the 116th New York Infantry until March 14 of the next year, when he was discharged for disability. In October 1872, they moved to a farm in Polkton Township. On September 1, 1906, Albert and his wife arrived in Nunica, where he continued to live until his death on August 19, 1926. Martha applied for a widow's Civil War pension on August 30 that year. She was born in West Falls, New York, on August 16, 1841 and died at her home in Nunica on August 2, 1928.

John Pierre Harvey [1919-2015]

Inventor of the "Harvey Harvester," John Harvey was born in La Tuque, Quebec, Canada on September 18, 1919. He graduated from college at age 17 with a degree in mechanical engineering. He started the Harvey Machine Company in Spring Lake. It was there that he invented the blueberry harvesting machine that bore his name, and he held patents on many other pieces of equipment and tools. John died in Spring Lake on January 15, 2015. [Tribune obituary, January 17, 2015.]

Silas A. Harvey [1870-1952]

By 1920 Silas Harvey owned and operated a floral shop at 920 Washington. He and his family resided at the same address. Silas was born in Michigan on May 19, 1870. On April 14, 1892 in Grand Haven, he married Annie [Anna] Hinzinger. A native of The Netherlands, Annie was born on October 12, 1874 and arrived in America in 1881. They had four children, all born in Michigan: Silas Donamore, born on December 12, 1893; Herman W., born on January 19, 1896; George A., born on June 2, 1897; James A., born in 1901; and twins Margaret B. and Margery E., born about 1908. Silas sold the business and real estate to William W. Nichols in the mid-1920s. Anna died on June 24, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 23, 1925, in Grand Haven, Silas married Henrietta Regelin Neitring, widow of Henry Gerrit Neitring of Grand Haven. She was born "on the sea" on April 4, 1865. Henry had died on April 14, 1900. Henrietta passed away on January 25, 1949. Silas passed away on March 15, 1952 and was buried with Anna and Henrietta.

Raymond Harz II [1915-1996]

In 1938 Ray and Lorraine Harz of Chicago visited Grand Haven in search of a business. On August 1, 1938 they purchased the Hitching Post at 500 North Beechtree for $400 and opened it as the Highway [Hiway]

Inn. After selling the restaurant to Merle Lass, the Harzes in 1960 opened Ray's Drive In at 20 North Beacon. In January 2002, the family sold the drive-in to Steve and Rodney Vink. The new owners maintained the familiar look of the city's oldest continuing drive-in. On October 16, 1937 Ray married Lorraine Kunstler in Chicago. She was born in Chicago on June 17, 1913 and passed away in Grand Haven on January 17, 2012. Ray was born on May 6, 1915, died in Grand Haven on August 19, 1996, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The couple resided at 15008 Lakeshore Drive and attended St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Their children were Raymond Harz III of Grand Haven, Patricia Bodell of Portland, Oregon, James Harz of Pelkie, Baraga County, Joanne Stack of Grand Haven, David Harz of Grand Haven, Daniel Harz of Grand Rapids, Thomas Harz of Grand Haven, and Michael Harz, also of Grand Haven.

Joseph Hass [1893-1977]

Born in Poland on March 19, 1893, Joseph Hass married Mary Szlenk. Also a native of Poland, she lived from March 15, 1897 to December 23, 1997. They immigrated to the United States in 1913 and were married in Muskegon on February 6, 1917. Joseph and Mary had at least three children: Andrew, born about 1918; Josephine, who was born on March 19, 1922, married William Seibel, and died in Grand Rapids on June 30, 1977; Mary, who married Charles Grubham and moved to Grand Rapids; and Stella, who married Steven Humy and remained in Grand Haven. Among Andrew's children were Al, born about 1951, and Steve, born about 1953. Joseph was a machinist, but he also worked at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. The family resided at 2 North Beechtree Street. Joseph and Mary were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Burton Phillip Hatch [1868-1935]

Burton Hatch, who was born in South Boston, Massachusetts on January 8, 1868, moved with his parents to Lamont in Ottawa County at the age of five. By the early 1890s he was farming in Section 6 of Tallmadge Township. Burton was elected supervisor of Tallmadge Township, beginning in 1903, and was county commissioner from 1913 to 1914. In 1914 he took a position with the State Tax Commission, which he held until moving to Muskegon. On December 24, 1891, he married Sarah Adeline "Addie" Walkley, daughter of Dr. Wyllys Walkley, a Grand Haven physician, and sister of Carlotta Bailey Walkley Ewing of Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. In 1924 the Hatches moved to Muskegon, where Burton was named City Assessor. He died at his home in Muskegon on November 13, 1935. Among their children were Bernice, wife of Maurice Buck, County Surveyor, and Olive, wife of Gregg Maxfield, who was employed by the Brunswick Corporation in Muskegon. Adeline was born in Muskegon County on May 9, 1869 and died there on January 18, 1955.

Milo O. Hatch II [1836-1915]

Born in Plattsburgh New York in 1836, Milo was the son of Milo and Malinda Field Hatch. The older Milo was included in the 1850 census for Polkton Township. On August 11, 1862 Milo II went to Grand Haven to enlist as private in Company G of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He was discharged on November 14, 1865. He married Matilda Martin in Detroit on August 3, 1863. They purchased a farm in Section 22 of Robinson Township. Matilda died in December 1898. Milo passed away on January 8, 1915 and was buried at the Soldiers' Home Cemetery in Kent County.

Dorothy Hatfield [1930-2001]

Dorothy Hatfield was proprietor of Papaw's Patch, a restaurant located at 930 Robbins Road. The business closed and the building was razed to make room for the new Meijer Store, which opened in May 1999. Dorothy resided at 1430 Fulton Street. She lived from February 24, 1930 to November 22, 2001. Her husband, Herbert Hatfield., lived from June 30, 1930 to October 21, 2006. He died in South Lyon, Ionia County.

Bert Andrew Hathaway I [1878-1925]

As early as 1910 Bert Hathaway owned a 32-acre parcel in Section 1 of Spring Lake Township [approximately 18891 Fruitport Road]. The land included frontage on Spring Lake. Bert was born in Michigan on September 16, 1878 and lived in Grand Rapids as a youth. He married Mary Jane Wiseman, who was born on June 17, 1878 in Indiana. Bert, who became general manager of the John Widdicomb Furniture Company in Grand Rapids, died in Grand Rapids on December 14, 1925. They had two children: Bert A. II, born in 1912, and Mary F., born about 1915. Mary Jane died in Beverly Hills, California on March 14, 1954. Both were buried at Graceland Memorial Park and Mausoleum, and was their son, Bert II, who died in 1973.

Charles Seymore Hathaway [1847-1926]

Charles S. Hathaway, the son of Charles W. and Mary Tracy Hathway, was born in Grand Rapids on August 20, 1847. On April 21, 1906, he married Lucy Duncan Albee, the widow of James Albee of Grand Haven, who had died on August 31, 1897. Lucy, the sister of Benjamin D. Safford's second wife, Mary Belle Duncan, was born in Detroit on March 11, 1849. In 1920 the couple was living in Grand Rapids, where Charles was editor of a newspaper, but ten years later they were living in Redford, Wayne County. By then, Charles was retired. Charles was a principal in the Grand-Saginaw Valleys Deep Waterway Association, which in 1908 planned to dig a canal between Grand Haven and Bay City. Charles died on May 11, 1926. Lucy passed away on March 14, 1930 and was buried at Elmwood Cemetery in Detroit.

Charles W. Hathaway [1825-1891]

Charles was the son of Nehemiah and Lucretia Ranney Hathaway. He was born in Ashfield, Massachusetts on April 15, 1825, and came west with his parents in the early 1830s. He lived for about four years in Spring Lake, where he was employed at the Hopkins Mill, and he also offered blacksmithing services: "All kinds of work in my line done with neatness and dispatch at my shop. Mill Point, Michigan." [Grand River Times, December 14, 1853.] He left Ottawa County and moved to Grand Rapids, where he became known for production of cutting tools used in the lumbering industry. In 1856 he and a partner, Daniel Alcumbrack, purchased from William Gunn an edge-tool-making factory in Grand Rapids. Two years later he sold his interest in the Hathaway & Alcumbrack ax factory to Frederick T. Ranney, but by 1864 Charles was again a principal shareholder at the same plant and Ranney was gone. Six years later the company was turning out 240 axes per week, and about 1873 Charles again sold his interest in the company, this time to James B. Granger.

In November 1846 Charles married Mary T., daughter of Addison Tracy of Grand Rapids. She was born about 1826 in Ohio. They had at least one child, Charles S., who was born in Grand Rapids on August 20, 1847. Charles died at Detroit February 22, 1891, where he had moved around 1873. Son Charles was a principal in the Grand-Saginaw Valleys Deep Waterway Association, which in 1908 planned to dig a canal between Grand Haven and Bay City.

Flavius [Josephus] Hathaway [1815- ?]

Born December 5, 1815 in Charlemont, Franklin County, Massachusetts, Flavius [Josephus] was the son of William and Sela Briggs Hathaway [Harthowey], the brother of William II, and cousin of Nehemiah Hathaway, early arrivals in Ottawa County. Josephus settled in Crockery Township in 1839 and was included in the Ottawa County censuses for 1850 and 1860. His wife, Electa, was born in 1829 in Massachusetts. They were married in Montague, Massachusetts on November 3, 1845. Her family name also was Hathaway. Flavius and Electa had at least four children: Caroline, born in December 1849; Emma, born about 1853; William, born about 1856, and Frank, born in January 1860. At some point the family moved to Norton Township in Muskegon County, where Electa died on June 11, 1913. Flavius died before 1900.

Hiram R. Hathaway [Hatherway] [? - ?]

On October 24, 1835 Hiram Hathaway bought 160 acres in Section 5 of Robinson Township and 160 acres in Section 6. Three years later, on September 1, 1838, he purchased approximately 234 acres in Sections 6 and 17 of Robinson Township. William Butts and William Hathaway II also were involved in the purchase. On May 1, 1839 Hiram bought an additional 86 acres in Section 6 of Robinson and 160 acres in Section 33 of Crockery Township, and on February 12, 1856 he purchased another 85.8 acres in Section 6. No other reference was found in Michigan to Hiram Hathaway. Despite his substantial land purchases in Michigan, he may never have lived in the state.

Nehemiah Hathaway [1794-1844]

Born April 10, 1794 in Ashfield, Franklin County, Massachusetts, Nehemiah was the son of Josiah and Tryphena Newhall Hathaway [Harthowey] and cousin of William II and Josephus Hathaway. In 1832 Rev. Ferry visited his hometown of Ashfield and convinced Nehemiah, among other citizens, to make the five-month trip from Ashfield, through Canada and on to the Grand River Valley and Grand Haven. Nehemiah heeded the advice, and he and his family arrived at the mouth of Grand River on October 15, 1836. Nehemiah built his residence on Lot 133, the northeast corner of Second and Fulton Streets, and went to work as agent for the Grand Haven Company, founded by Rev. Ferry. Later he built a sawmill and bought acreage in Crockery and Spring Lake Townships. His business failed in 1840 and he moved his family to Wyoming Township in Kent County. [Everett cited his arrival in Wyoming as 1837-38.] Hathaway often was addressed as “colonel.”

On April 29, 1821 in Franklin County, Nehemiah married Lucretia Ranney at her parents’ home. She was born on June 17, 1796, the daughter of Samuel and Polly Stewart Ranney [Rauney] and brother of Frederick Ranney, an early Ottawa County settler. Stewart, who was born January 9, 1747, settled in Ashfield, Massachusetts with his wife, Polly Stewart. Polly was the daughter of Captain Robert and Mary Adams Stewart of Branford, Connecticut. In Grand Haven the Hathaways were charter members of the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church. Their daughter Caroline Lucretia Hathaway, who was born in Ashfield on March 10, 1822, married Clark Albee of Grand Haven. Their other children were Mary Stewart Hathaway [1823-1894], Charles William Hathaway [1825-1891], and Emily Agnes Hathaway [1827-1906].

Nehemiah died on September 11, 1844 in Grand Rapids, and Lucretia passed away in 1881 at the home of her daughter Mary Freeman in Schoolcraft, Kalamazoo County. Lucretia was buried beside her husband at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Charles was their son. [Handwritten biographical sketch in the files of Loutit District Library.]

William Hathaway II [1806-1874]

William, who was born in Charlemont, Franklin County, Massachusetts, on November 18, 1806, was the son of William and Sela Briggs Hathaway [Harthowey]. William II and his wife Sarah arrived in Grand Haven in 1836 from Canada, accompanied by his cousin, Nehemiah. A brother, Josephus, arrived a few years later. William and Sarah moved from Grand Haven to the mouth of Crockery Creek in November 1839, where he farmed and did some lumbering. He went into partnership with William Butts to build the first sawmill in Grand Haven at the foot of Columbus Street. On September 1, 1838 Butts and Hathaway purchased approximately 234 acres in Sections 6 and 17 of Robinson Township. Hiram A. Hathaway also was part of the transaction. In addition, William owned about 360 acres in Sections 14, 15, 16, 22, and 27 of Crockery. William was elected to the first County Board of supervisors in 1838. The inaugural meeting of the county commissioners, as it came to be called, was held at William’s house on December 6, 1838, when he filled the role of secretary. The next year he moved to the town of Norton [Nortonville], in southeast Spring Lake Township [Section 23]. Between 1839 and 1845 he farmed, cut timber, and made shingles. William also was known for planting fruit trees in Crockery Township as early as 1849. In 1848 he was named postmaster of the Crockery Creek Post Office. A year later he became the township’s first supervisor, and in 1852 he was elected a county supervisor and judge of probate, a post he held for 12 years. He often was addressed by the title “Judge.” In 1860 he was a “Hotel Keeper” in Crockery.

William married Sarah S. Scott in Franklin County, Massachusetts, on November 1, 1828. In Ottawa County they lived at 11352 Leonard Road in a home occupied by the Roger Holmes family in more recent years. Roger Holmes was a descendant of William and Sarah. Sarah was born on June 22, 1804 and died on May 21, 1893, nearly 20 years after her husband’s death on September 21, 1874 [1871]. They both were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery in Crockery Township. William III of Crockery Township was their son. By 1854 William II was judge of probate for the county.

Julian Burroughs Hatton I [1898-1952]

Born on December 16, 1898 in East Orange, New Jersey, the son of William and Elizabeth Hatton, Julian graduated from Harvard in 1920 and began work at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company on January 10, 1910. He became the company's president, taking over when his father retired in January 1936. In 1939 he resigned his presidency to go into the finishing of leather with his brother-in-law, Edmund Ellis. They started the Hatton Leather Company in Grand Haven and erected a new building at 743 Park Avenue. Three years later Julian bought out Eagle Ottawa and combined operations. He also had interests in the American Hair & Felt Company, Clinton Carpet, and Dry Zero, all of Chicago. He was director of the Tanner's Council; director of the Michigan Manufacturing Association as Grand Haven's industrial representative; member of NRA code committee of the National Association of Manufacturers; and president of the Hatton Hospital board, spending much of his time in promoting the municipal hospital. Julian was a promoter of recreation for employees and created Hatton Recreation Hall, a $25,000 building for the Eagle Ottawa Athletic Association in Grand Haven and one in Whitehall, where the company had another tannery. Hatton was a supporter of St. John's Episcopal Church.

On January 2, 1924 Julian married Grand Rapids resident Charline [Charlene] Stansbury Leonard, who lived from April 12, 1903 to October 22, 1987 and died in Grand Haven. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Charline was the daughter of Harry Carr Leonard of the Leonard Refrigerator Company family in Grand Rapids. Julian and Charline had three sons: William L. of Wellesley, Massachusetts, who was born locally on December 16, 1924 and died in Newton, Massachusetts on February 5, 1999; Julian B. II, who was born in 1927 and became president of Eagle Ottawa Leather; and Harry Leonard, who was born on August 2, 1931 and passed away on July 15, 2011 in Mequon, Wisconsin. In 1927 the Hattons built and resided in the home at 910 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Julian I died in an automobile accident on August 3, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest. Young Julian, at the age of 25, then took over leadership of Eagle Ottawa. [Tribune article, "J B. Hatton Heads New Leather Co. Here," November 7, 1939, "Taxi and Truck Collide," August 4, 1952, and Tribune obituaries, October 22, 1987 and July 20, 2011.]

Julian Burroughs Hatton II [1927-2013]

The son of Julian B. and Charline Leonard Hatton, Julian II was born in Grand Rapids on June 6, 1927 but raised in Grand Haven. Julian did not anticipate a career in music, but apparently he had some latent talent. During the years of World War II qualified musicians were often difficult to locate, and at one point the West Shore Symphony Orchestra [West Michigan Symphony] lacked an oboist. Mrs. Hatton recruited Julian when he was in his mid-teens to fill the gap. That summer he attended Interlochen Arts Camp and spent six weeks learning the instrument so he could play during the ensuing season. Many years later Julian commented that he simultaneously had to learn French, because his oboe teacher was a native speaker of that language and knew little English. That experience engendered a life-long love of French food and culture. Julian played oboe during the 1941 to 1942 season, and he was still playing with the symphony as late as 1955 to 1956. During his years at Harvard, he played for Boston Pops and the Boston Symphony.

Julian graduated from Cranbrook Academy and served with the Navy in the post-WWII years. He attended Harvard University, where actor Jack Lemmon was his classmate. He graduated with a bachelor degree in history and later earned an MBA at the same institution. His father, Julian I, died in an automobile accident on August 3, 1952. Young Julian, at the age of 25, then took over leadership of Eagle Ottawa. Although the company was sold in 1961, Julian continued as president for another six years. At that point he co-founded a manufactured housing company named Stiles-Hatton. Later he purchased and operated Systel, a telephone equipment company based in Grand Rapids. Julian's interests and commitments were varied, ranging from support of the Republican Party, to the Western Michigan Opera Association, St. John's Episcopal Church, Elks, and Spring Lake Country Club.

On December 27, 1952, Julian married Beverly Joyce Verplank of Spring Lake. Joyce, the daughter of Vernon and Lydia Secory Verplank, was born in 1932. They lived at 1821 Doris Avenue in Grand Haven. Their marriage ended in divorce. On February 11, 1978 Julian married 48-year-old Nancy Ellyn Grigware in Hennepin, Minnesota. At the time of his death on September 5, 2013, he left Nancy, who was born on February 3, 1930, a daughter Lydia, sons Mike, Fritz, Julian III, and Brett, and two stepdaughters, Tracey and Jamie Grigware. [Tribune obituary, September 7, 2013.]

William Hatton II [1864-1944]

One of eight children, William Hatton was born on a 60-acre farm near Dublin, Ireland, on October 4, 1864. His parents were William and Mary Jane Burroughs Hatton. In 1886 young William immigrated to New York City to be with his uncle, L. Z. Hatton. The one-way passage cost $24. His first job was as sales agent for the Brewster Carriage Company, and William then became a sales agent for the P. T. Howell Company. About 1910 [1911, 1912] William moved from Long Island, New York, to Grand Haven, to become general manager of the Eagle Leather Company. In 1916, under his leadership, the Grand Haven and Whitehall tanneries were combined under the name of Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. In 1913 William sold 87,000 hides to Ford Motor Company, but when the auto industry switched to cloth interiors in 1920, William turned to the manufacture of shoe leather, which brought a better price. William remained president of the company until he retired in January 1936. Upon his retirement, William filled the role of chairman of the Board of Directors and turned over the company's leadership to his son Julian. In 1924 William was an alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention.

William was one of the organizers of the Community Chest, forerunner of United Way. He was named honorary president of the Ottawa Boy Scout Council. He was active in the Republican Party locally and statewide, and he chaired the Ottawa County Republicans for more than 16 years. He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, where he was a vestryman for many years.

William and his first wife, Elizabeth Seaman, were married on June 5, 1895. They had several children, including Julian B., born in New Jersey on December 16, 1898; Olive, who was born in New York on June 22, 1900 and married Eugene Harbeck of Grand Haven; Kathleen, who was born in Bay Shore, New York on July 17, 1901 and married Edmund Ellis of Grand Haven; and Kathleen's twin sister, Genevieve, who died about 1903. The Hattons' residence was located for a short time at 614 Lafayette and later at 482 Sheldon Terrace, which they purchased from Nelson Howlett. After Elizabeth's death, William underwrote the cost of converting the former Loutit residence at 114 South Fifth Street to the Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital. In 1923 he married Frances Whiting, who was born in Michigan around 1889 and graduated from Vassar in 1910. She taught in Grand Haven schools from 1910 to 1919, when she joined the faculty of Northwestern High School in Detroit. She returned to Grand Haven to marry William. Frances was chairman of the Ottawa County American Red Cross for 28 years and a member of the hospital board from 1939 to 1946 and again from 1951 to 1958. William died on December 11, 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William Hatton Park, near the former Pere Marquette Railway Station on Jackson Street, was named in his honor. [Tribune articles, "William Hatton Arrived in This Community 25 Years Ago Today," January 10, 1935, "Mrs. Hatton Resigns from Local Board," December 2, 1958, and "Resigns After 28 Years," June 27, 1968.]

Georgia Gail "GG" Havens [Reid] [1951-2022]

Born on June 23, 1951 in Carrolton, Illinois, GG Havens graduated from Illinois State University with a degree in Elementary Education in 1973. While teaching elementary school she married Robert Reid in 1974. They moved to Indianapolis, Indiana, and then, in 1994, to Grand Haven. GG fabricated stained-glass windows and kitchen cabinet doors. Later she focused on making glass beads for necklaces and bracelets. She joined the Gallery Uptown in Grand Haven and exhibited her art work there. She died on September 15, 2022. GG was a hot-air balloon pilot and participated in several stage plays in Brighton. She died on September 13, 2022. She and Bob made their home in Robinson Township.

Alvin G. Hayward [Haywood] [1846-1908]

On February 8, 1864 Alvin Hayward enlisted in Company F of the 2nd U.S. Sharpshooters as private. He was wounded at the Battle of Boynton Plank Road on October 27, 1864, during the Siege of Petersburg. On January 30, 1865 he transferred into Company H of the 5th New Hampshire Infantry. Alvin was discharged for disability on June 16, 1865. After the war he started farming 80 acres in Section 9 of Crockery Township. He was born in Concord, New Hampshire on July 4, 1846, died on March 3, 1908, and was buried at Nunica Cemetery. On April 24, 1908 his wife Julia A. Hayward applied for a widow's Civil War pension. Julia was born in April 1846 in Massachusetts [New Hampshire]. Their surviving children were Ella, born in New Hampshire around 1868; Alta A., born around 1875; Delbert [Adelbert], born in 1877; Bertha R., born in July 1879; and Charles J., born in November 1883. The last four children were born locally.

Baldwin Headley [1818-1898]

Born in Morris, Pennsylvania in 1818, Baldwin Headley on February 13, 1841 married Julia Maretta Phelps in Steuben County, Indiana. By 1867 they had moved to Olive Township, where they owned a 129-acre farm in Section 3, adjacent to the Village of Ottawa Station. Baldwin's and Julia's children were Mary Headley [1842-1899]; Martha Headley [1844-1897]; Frasure Wesley Headley [1846-1930]; Frances Headley [1846-1897]; Baldwin Fletcher Headley [1848-1867]; Julia Headley [1853-1912]; and Aletha "Alice" Almire Headley [1861-1925]. The children were all born in Steuben County. Baldwin the father died on November 28, 1898 and was buried at Olive Township Cemetery. Julia was born in Franklin County, Indiana about 1817 and died in Olive Township on January 16, 1893. In 1876 Olive Township purchased a parcel of land from the Headleys and moved Ottawa Station School in 1876 from Joel Fellow's farm in Section 2 to its new site, where it still stands today.

Cecil Robison Heap [1882-1933]

The son of William and Sarah Jane Hanley Heap, Cecil was born in England on October 7, 1882. In the early 1900s he worked at his father's business, William Heap & Sons, first located in Muskegon and later in Grand Haven. During WWI Cecil served with the medical corps in France. He married Mary Louise Bugat. By 1930 they and their three daughters resided on Liberty Street in Spring Lake. At that time, Cecil was a salesman for Heap & Sons, which went out of business two years later. He died in Daytona, Florida on March 4, 1933 and was buried at Oak Lawn Cemetery in Lake City, Florida.

William Heap [1851-1929]

Heap & Sons Company, which manufactured plumbing supplies, opened in Grand Haven at the corner of Fulton and Hopkins Streets in 1907. William Heap was owner and general manager of the company, which produced plumbing supplies. About the same time, William was president of the Heap-O'Brien Mining Company with "Lead and Zinc Properties Located at Quapaw Reservation, Indian Territory." The reservation was located in Oklahoma.

William was born in England on April 12, 1852 and married Sarah Jane Hanley in Dublin, Ireland on February 12, 1875. She was born in Dublin in 1850 [1853]. The Heaps first made their home in England, before moving to Canada, and then to Muskegon around 1885. Their son, W. Lionel, served as mayor of Grand Haven in the mid-1930s. Sarah Jane died on August 7, 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Buried near her were a son, Robert Reginald I, who was born in Ontario, Canada on September 15, 1884 and died in 1925; a grandson, Robert Reginald II, who lived from 1915 to 1937; and her mother, Emma Hall Hanley, who lived from 1819 to 1912. The Heaps other children were Kathleen, who was born in England on February 15, 1876; John Hall, who was born in England in 1877 and died two years later; Cecil Robison, born in England on October 7, 1882; and Muriel Vera, who was born in Ontario, Canada on March 26, 1886. William and Sarah resided in Spring Lake. He died about July 27, 1929, while in France and was buried there. [Chronicle obituary, August 9, 1918.]

William Lionel Heap [1880-1953]

In the early 1900s, Lionel Heap worked for his father as business manager at the William Heap & Sons Company, manufacturer of plumbers' woodwork, which first was located in Muskegon and later in Grand Haven. On June 28, 1904 in Detroit, Lionel married Mary Altha Robinson [Robison], who was born in that city on January 31, 1875. In Grand Haven, Lionel and Mary lived at 1407 Washington and by 1920 they were located at 536 Slayton. They had a son, George Francis Robinson [Robison], born in Muskegon on April 7, 1908, and a daughter, Jane Eleanor, born in Muskegon on July 29 the next year. Lionel was mayor of Grand Haven from 1933 to 1934 and gave his approval to Chuck Bugielski's enthusiastic request for $150 to fund a birthday party for the Coast Guard in 1934, the first of the annual Festivals. Lionel, who was born in Liverpool, England on July 23, 1880, died in Detroit on November 24, 1953 while visiting family. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary passed away on June 20, 1970 and was buried near her husband.

Leroy Dewitt Clinton Heath [1829-1923]

Born in Oswego County, New York in July 1829, Leroy Heath came to Michigan in 1849, settling first in Battle Creek and Kalamazoo, and then in Rockford, where he lived with his aunt. The aunt's husband, a Mr. Wetmore, was in the lumber business, and Leroy worked with him, learning the trade. Leroy came to Grand Haven in 1850 and worked for Gilbert & Company for six years. He was foreman at the Bell Sawmill in Spring Lake, then business manager of the Grand Haven Lumber Company, which was dissolved in 1886. He spent the rest of his working life tending to his real estate holdings in central Michigan. Leroy was Spring Lake postmaster from 1897 to 1901, when the office was situated in John B. Perham's store. Leroy assisted in the formation of the Spring Lake State Bank and was one of its directors at the time of his death in 1923.

Leroy married Susanna Gross of Rockford in 1856. They lived in Illinois and Middleville [Lamont], Ottawa County, and moved back to Spring Lake in 1865. Their daughter, [May] Agnes, was born in Spring Lake on May 8, 1877. On January 14, 1896 she married William Trotter, also of Spring Lake. After Agnes and William died when quite young, the Heaths raised their grandson, Clinton Trotter. The Heaths resided at 312 East Savidge. Susanna became treasurer of Spring Lake Baptist Church. During the extensive fire of 1893 Susanna put all the church records in a covered pail and buried it in her vegetable garden to protect the historic papers from the flames. Susanna, who was born in Pennsylvania in March 1837 [1836], passed away in 1925 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Leroy, who died in 1923.

Thomas Hefferan [Hefferman] [1831-1915]

Born in Washington County, New York on July 28, 1831, Thomas Hefferan came to Michigan in 1842 [1840] and continued on to Eastmanville in 1848. His parents were Patrick and Mary Grogan Hefferan. Thomas was employed by Dr. Timothy Eastman for three years, then by Galen Eastman as clerk and manager of his timber business in Chicago. Later Thomas returned to Eastmanville and remained an employee of the Eastmans until he went into business for himself as a manufacturer and dealer in various kinds of lumber and farm wagons. In 1868 he sold land to be used as a site for a new Eastmanville school and purchased for $75 the land and building where the old school had stood. On January 1, 1865 in Lamont, he married Emily Amelia Kent Eastman, the widow of Mason Eastman. They had three children, including George, who was born in Eastmanville on April 19, 1866 and died on February 9, 1916; Mary, born on June 24, 1873, also in Eastmanville; and Thomas W., born in Polkton Township on July 22, 1876. Emily was born in Vermont on March 19, 1831 and passed away on October 28, 1910. In October 1889, Thomas moved to Grand Rapids, where he became president of Peoples Savings Bank. He died on January 31, 1915. Thomas, Emily, and George were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Ernest Hein [1842-1902]

Ernest Hein was born in Germany on April 24, 1842 and immigrated to the United States when he was 16. At the time of the Civil War, he was living in Massachusetts. On August 24, 1861, he enlisted as private in Company H of the 18th Massachusetts Infantry. He was discharged honorably with a disability on September 7, 1863. On February 22, 1898 he married a widow, Maria [Mary] Drescher [Drischer/Treasher], who was born in Austria on February 28, 1858 and arrived in the United States in 1890. She brought two children to the marriage: Annie Drescher, born in August 1891, and Franklin Drescher, born in March 1892. In 1900 Ernest and his family were living in Grand Haven Township, where they had a farm. Annie died in 1901 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of his marriage to Maria, Ernest was earning his living as a tailor. Ernest died on May 21, 1902 and was buried at Lake Forest. Maria married Andrew Rank, died on November 19, 1937, and was buried at Lake Forest under the name Mary Rank. Andrew, who lived from 1853 to 1930, was buried at the same cemetery.

Irene Marie Ruster Heinritz [1935-2016]

On December 30, 1983 in Grand Haven, Irene married John Heinritz. John founded H & H Enterprises in Grand Haven in 1983 and served as president. Robert Lee House, vice president, was co-founder of the company, located at 16828 Hayes Street in Grand Haven Township. The company specialized in gymnasium bleachers and fluorescent lighting. Irene and John resided at 15937 O'Brien Court in the township before moving to 17183 Burkshire, also in the township. Irene, who was born on October 4, 1935, worked for Gardner Denver in Grand Haven until it closed permanently in 1982. Her mother, Irene Johnson Ruster, died from childbirth complications on October 4 at Mercy Hospital in Muskegon. Irene's father, Maurice Ruster, married Pearl Nielsen. Irene died on March 23, 2016 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Irene had three children: Gayle and Bradley of Grand Haven and Christopher of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Edsko Hekman [1914-2000]

Edsko Hekman purchased the Judson property on Spring Lake [3123 Judson Road, Spring Lake Township]. By the 1970s he was president of Hoby Bell, Inc., located at 220 North Beacon. On June 17, 1938 he married Claire Kuiper in Grand Rapids. She was born in Grand Rapids on July 29, 1914 and passed away in Grand Rapids on September 26, 2007. They had three children: Elizabeth, who married Philip Gordon and resided in Spring Lake; Rosemary, who married David Good and moved to St. Louis Park, Minnesota; and Edsko Henry, who died in 2003. The elder Edsko was born on May 25, 1914 and died in Spring Lake on September 15, 2000. Claire and Edsko were graduates of Calvin College. He founded Import Motors in Grand Rapids, was part owner of WOOD radio, and served as president of Meridian Corporation.

Willem [William] Helder [1828-1910]

Born in Zuurdijk, The Netherlands on March 28, 1828, William Helder came to Grand Haven about 1870, where he started raising celery. His wife, Anje Freerks Cleveringa, was born in Maarslag, The Netherlands, on January 7, 1832 [1834] and died in Grand Haven on March 17, 1873. Their children were Rieka, who was born about 1862 and married John Dronkers of Holland; Maggie, who was born about 1871 and married Thomas Ruiter of Grand Haven after the death of her first husband, Jacob Bouwman; and Henrietta, who married John H. Vandyk of Grand Haven. The Helder family lived at 606 Elliott, but William died at Henrietta's home at 322 North Seventh Street on December 15, 1910 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, December 15, 1910.]

Brouwer Helmers [1856-1922]

Brouwer Helmers, a native of Groningen in The Netherlands, lived from March 12, 1856 to November 3, 1922 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On March 11, 1885 he married Jantje "Jennie" Wiebenga in Grand Haven. She was born in The Netherlands on February 27, 1864 and passed away on August 20, 1907. Among their children, both born in Grand Haven, were Charles, who was born on November 29, 1885, and Peter, born on October 10, 1887. Brouwer was a laborer. In 1900 the family was residing on Jackson Street.

Charles Helmers [1885-1967]

The son of Brouwer and Jennie Helmers of Grand Haven, Charles was born in Grand Haven on November 29, 1885. He married Pearl De Graff who was born in The Netherlands in 1883. They resided at 1041 Franklin Street. They had at least five children, all born locally: Jennie, born on October 19, 1909; John, born in 1911; Bernard, born in 1913; Arend, born in 1915; and Lewis, born in 1917. Charles passed away on February 4, 1967 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Pearl, who had died on July 15, 1954.

John C. Helmers [1911-1983]

Born on March 26, 1911 in Grand Haven, John Helmers owned and operated Helmers Electric, which he founded in 1938. The business was located at 914 Grant. John was the son of Brouwer and Jennie Helmers of Grand Haven. John attended the Reformed Church. In 1934 he married Margaret Bosma, who died on May 27, 1969. Their children included Frances, who married Donald Kodhl of Grand Haven, and John K. of Jenison. The family lived at 17743 Jordan Lane in Spring Lake. John died on January 7, 1983 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Peter Helmers [1887-1973]

Peter Helmers was born on October 10, 1887. As a youth, he worked at Story & Clark Piano Factory, but later became a barber. His shop was located at 531 Fulton, and he lived at 721 Fulton. On July 28, 1917 in Grand Haven, he married Wilhelmina "Minnie," the daughter of Boudewijn and Antje Veenstra Boomgaard. Minnie was born on July 25, 1887 and died in Grand Haven on January 31, 1977. Peter passed away on March 19, 1973. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. A daughter Wilvera died the day she was born, January 12, 1919, and was buried at Lake Forest.

Clyde E. Hendrick [1893-1981]

A native of Muskegon, where he started a real estate business in 1920, Clyde Hendrick opened a Grand Haven office in 1966, managed by his son Robert. Clyde, who was born on July 19, 1893, died on September 30, 1981. The Grand Haven office was located at 415 South Beacon.

Marjorie M. Hendricks [1922-2003]

Marj, born on March 1, 1922 in Muskegon Heights, was the daughter of Henry C. and Mabel Naomi Chard Meyers. After graduating from Grand Haven High School in 1939, Marj received a degree in nursing from the Hurley School of Nursing in 1943. She continued her studies at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids, where she was awarded a Bachelor of Science in Geography in 1979. Marj worked as an operating room nurse at North Ottawa Community Hospital, and also was on the staff of the Visiting Nurse Association. She was active with several local non-profit groups, including the American Cancer Society, the Environmental Action Council, and Girl Scouts. She worked as a reporter for the Muskegon Chronicle, as well. She was active politically, especially in regard to environmental issues. Marj was a long-time member of the Grand Haven Parks and Recreation Board and helped develop East End Grand River Park. The Marjorie Hendricks Trail in Kitchel-Lundquist Dunes Preserve was dedicated in her honor in October 2000, in recognition that her "tireless efforts and expertise made it possible to save these dunes from development." ["Trail Guide."] Marj also was the first recipient of the Amy Neuman Environmental Award in 1977.

Marj on October 12, 1943 married Raymond Handt in Flint, who was born about 1922. In May 1952, she married Matthew Leighton Hendricks. He died in 1963 at the age of 40 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. She and her husband had a daughter, Martha Boomgaard, who resided in Grand Haven. The family resided at 1120 Columbus and later at 1250 Washington. Marj passed away in Grand Haven on March 24, 2003 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune obituary, March 26, 2003.]

Omri Lawrence Hendricks [1859-1927]

Omri Hendricks married India Etna Craig in Richmond, Indiana on April 12, 1882. They resided at 21 North Sixth Street. Omri was associated with the Square Drug Store at 635 Fulton. He was born in Attica, Indiana on October 27, 1859 and died in Grand Haven on February 1, 1927. A machinist, India lived from 1859 to about January 30, 1917. After India's death, Omri married Olivia C. Berry in Detroit on June 18, 1918. She was born about 1882. Omri and India were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Ora and his wife. Another son, Charles E., who was born in Indiana in 1885, married Blanche Stanley in Grand Haven on January 31, 1905, and a third son, Arthur Elbert Hendricks, lived from 1883 to 1969.

Ora W. Hendricks [1888-1934]

Ora was the son of Omri and India Hendricks, who resided at 21 North Sixth Street in Grand Haven. In 1908 Ora was a store clerk. By 1912 Ora and his partner, Raymond Presley, owned the Square Drug Store at 635 Fulton. Ora was sole proprietor by the time he sold the business to John Mulder in 1916. Ora married Olga J. Grunst in Detroit on September 12, 1908. She lived from 1886 to 1933. William Carl Grunst of Grand Haven was her brother. Ora was born in Indiana in 1888, died in 1934, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife and parents.

Frank Hendrych [1877–1962]

Frank Hendrych was born in Czechoslovakia on December 23, 1877 and came to the United States when he was three. Frank married Anna “Annie” Roder in Chicago on September 25, 1901. Annie, a native of Czechoslovakia, was born on July 9, 1879, came to the United States when she was five, and died on September 4, 1948. They owned a 40-acre fruit farm near the intersection of Warner Street and 168th Avenue in Grand Haven Township. He purchased the German Lutheran School, located on the southeast corner of that intersection. Frank also was a carpenter. Their son George was born on December 6, 1907 and passed away in Grand Haven on April 22, 1985. Their other children were Bessie, born in Illinois about 1903; Annie, born in Illinois about 1906; and Helen, born in Michigan around 1909. Frank died on February 4, 1962 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Annie.

Esther Cross Henning [1900-1996]

A teacher at Rosy Mound School, Esther Cross Henning composed several historical pageants, including “Voice of the River,” written about Eastmanville in 1951, and “The Soil Speaks,” written for the West Ottawa Soil Conservation program at the Marne Fair Grounds about 1955. She was one of four people who compiled the 1963 booklet Rosy Mound Memoirs. The daughter of Edward and Ida Mae Cross, Esther was born March 15, 1900 in Cash, Sanilac County. She taught at schools in Eastmanville, Rosy Mound, Delany, and Ravenna. On December 30, 1918 she married Burr Oak Schellenbarger in Allendale; he was a year older than Esther. They had at least one child, Henry, who was born about October 1919. Henry at the time of the 1930 and 1940 Federal Censuses was living with Esther’s parents in Ingham County. Burr married for the second time in California in 1925. On April 4, 1930 in Fennville, Esther married Edward Charles Henning. Esther and Edward had two children: Robert, born in 1932, and James, born in 1938. Between 1935 and 1940 Edward, Esther, and their two sons moved to Hillsdale County, where they operated a farm. Edward was born on April 19, 1899 and passed away in Zephyrhills, Florida on October 21, 1990. Esther died in Allendale on June 7, 1996.

Charles Hensley [Hinsley] [1825-1899]

See Charles Hinsley.

William Henry Albert Herbst [1915-2001]

William, the son of William E. and Frances Herbst, was born on April 10, 1915 and, except for his tours of duty, spent most of his life in Grand Haven. Bill joined the Coast Guard in 1934, after spending three years with the National Guard. His first duty was at the South Haven life saving station, where he served as a Surfman. During World War II he saw duty on the Coast Guard cutters Escanaba and Gentian, and also on the Joseph T. Dickman, and Longbeach. He participated in major operations, such as the battles of Leyte Gulf and Admiralty Islands. After the war Bill was assigned to South Haven, where he assumed command of the local Coast Guard Station. In the late 1950s he was commanding officer of the cutter Ojibwa in Buffalo, New York. Bill retired from the service in 1965, while serving as commander of Group Ludington. Returning to Grand Haven with his wife Bealah Hope “hoppy” Scott, he devoted many years to the Coast Guard Festival and to the Tri-Cities Area United Way. Hoppy owned and operated Time and Tide Antiques at 18 Washington. Their residence was at 1300 Sheldon Road and they owned a cottage in Highland Park at 119 Poplar Trail for many years. Bill died in Florida on January 7, 2001. Hoppy lived from November 7, 1917 to April 3, 1995. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William Emil Herbst [1890-1947]

William Herbst was born in Illinois on July 18, 1890. His wife, Frances, a Michigan native, lived from September 4, 1894 to January 23, 1975. They had two children, William, born on April 10, 1915, and Frances, who was born on September 3, 1918 and married Henry Van Agtmael of Grand Haven. The Herbsts resided at 8 Columbus around 1930 and later at 130 Columbus. William the father was a machinist. He died on December 21, 1947. William and Frances were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Baldwin Hery [1865-1942]

Born in Switzerland on July 10, 1865, Baldwin Hery married Laura Saul in Grand Haven on September 16, 1896. The daughter of Heinrich and Mary Bredehoft, she was born on April 22, 1875. They owned a 165-acre farm in Section 3 of Grand Haven Township. They had two children: Esther, who was born on May 3, 1913 and first married Mink Dykhouse, was divorced, and then married Jacob "Jack" Witteveen; and George, who was born on June 22, 1897 and died on August 3, 1920. Laura passed away on March 30, 1939, and Baldwin died on August 9, 1942. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Carl A. Hetzel [1890-1960]

The son of a minister, Carl Hetzel was born in Emmet County on July 3, 1890. He studied for the ministry but dropped out after two years and in 1910 went to work for Grand Haven druggist Van I. Witt. Carl graduated from Ferris Institute [Ferris State University] and spent some time in Michigan City, Indiana, and Grand Rapids before opening his own store at approximately 13 North Seventh in Grand Haven. In the 1920s Carl bought one of Witt's drugstores, this one located at 1125 Washington. He sold the business in 1952 to Clifford Pfaff, who changed the name to Pfaff's Pharmacy. On May 5, 1911 in Grand Haven, Carl married Anna Clara Ott, who was born on August 16, 1891, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1909, and died in Grand Haven on October 21, 1974. In 1930 the Hetzels resided at 509 South Seventh, but later moved to 15127 Lakeshore Drive. Their children were Flora, born about 1912, and Vivian, born about 1918. Carl died on July 7, 1960. He and Anna were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Anne Mathilde Kingston Heyl [1918-2015] and Henry Bradshaw "Brad" Heyl I [1918-2009]

In 1953, Grand Rapids residents Brad and Anne Heyl for the first time visited the Wilderness, a second home development along the lakeshore about four miles south of Grand Haven. When they learned a lot was for sale, they contacted Walkley Ewing, and on May 10, 1954 they bought from Walkley's mother, Carlotta Ewing, a large parcel of wooded land atop a dune in the Wilderness for $3,500. The house plan the Heyls purchased from the Bellaire Log Cabin Company consisted of a living room, kitchen, three bedrooms, and a bathroom with shower. They named their cottage Pinetree Lodge, which had the address 12571 Wilderness Trail. Over the years, the Heyls added to the original structure, made a few cosmetic alterations, and planted dozens of pine seedlings to stabilize the sand dune in front of them. The Heyls' daughter Nancy married Steve Minard in the Wilderness on June 14, 1975.

Anne Kingston was born on October 14, 1918. She married Henry Bradshaw "Brad" Heyl in Grand Rapids on April 26, 1941. He was born in Tyrone, Pennsylvania on February 18, 1918 and died in Grand Rapids on October 27, 2009.

Inspired by Walter McBride, director of the Grand Rapids Art Museum from 1954 to 1970, Anne began to paint when she was well into her 80s. McBride also taught a watercolor class at Porter Hills, where teacher and student were living. Anne passed away on September 30, 2015. She and Brad were buried at Westminster Presbyterian Church Columbarium in Grand Rapids. Daughters Virginia "Ginny" Heyl Beauregard, born in Atlanta, Georgi about 1945, and Janet Heyl Vail, born in Grand Rapids about 1948, continued to spend summers at the Wilderness cottage after their parents' deaths. Anne and Brad also had a son, Henry Bradshaw Heyl II, born in Atlanta on August 17, 1942. He died in Grand Rapids on February 11, 1984.

Hugh Heward [? -1803]

In the late 18th century, Hugh Heward paddled a canoe across most of the State of Michigan, primarily on the Grand River and into Lake Michigan. His well-documented journey started in Detroit and headed west across the lower peninsula in his canoe and portaging where necessary. Eventually he found the Grand River and paddled downstream. At the time of his trip, he was clerk and bookkeeper for William and David Robertson in Detroit. Toward “Sun Set” on April 27, 1790, he beached his canoe near the mouth of the Grand River. As Hugh recorded in his journal:

“Tuesday Apl 27th 1790 Embarked after getting some Sturgeon & passed a plain to the East in about an Hour where it appears to be a wintering place the River still larger & a good smooth Current but a North Wind strong against us the Course West & the River larger & larger to the Mouth & surrounded with Pine on all Sides with Meadows & small Lakes & very wide at the Entrance of the Lake where we arrived at Sun Set & found Mr. Langlade who appear’d to be very friendly & promised to get me some Gum. Encamped on the other [north] Side there being many Indians with him. Wednesday Apl 28th 1790. Got from Mr. Langlade Gum for 20/ [shillings] & gave him an Order on G. Meldrum Exchanged with him two Bushels of unhull’d for hull’d Corn & setoff the Wind North & by West under Sail but before Mid Day the Wind forced so as to oblige us to put into the River a [at] Barbu [Pigeon Creek or Black River] & with Difficulty got in & got some Sprays of the Swells & we there camped & unloaded to [the] Gum the Cannots [canoes]. Mr. Langlade says he has 15 Men & we saw several Cannots as he was preparing to set off for Michl [Michilimackinac]. . .”

Fur trader Charles Langlade had a post near the foot of present-day Washington Street. Hugh needed the “gum” to patch his canoe, and he bartered with the fur trader for other supplies. He left his campsite at the mouth of the Grand River the next day to complete his journey to the south tip of Lake Michigan.

Hugh died in June 1803. [“Hugh Heward’s Journal from Detroit to the Illinois: 1790,” part of the John Askin papers on file at the Detroit Public Library.]

Bruce A. Hewitt [Hewett] [1871-1918]

In 1900 Bruce Hewitt ran a saloon that bore his name at 1 Washington Street. The establishment was owned by the Muskegon Brewing Company. Bruce was born on October 4, 1871. He married Nellie May Ross in Holland on December 9, 1914 [1913]. She was born on January 20, 1885 in Trowbridge, Allegan County. He died of cirrhosis of the liver on April 2, 1918 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1920 Nellie was living with her brother and their parents in her birthtown of Trowbridge. She was still in Trowbridge in 1930.

George William Hewitt [Hewett] [1847-1903]

Born in New York on May 17, 1847, George Hewitt was working in a Benzie County sawmill as early as 1870. He joined Boyden & Akeley’s Shingle Mill in Grand Haven in 1879 and became a saw filer in 1881. His first wife, Charity, was born in New York about 1846. They had a daughter Hattie, also a native of New York, where she was born around 1868. George’s second wife, Mary Jane “Jennie” Gould, was born on April 30, 1855 in Fond du Lac, Wisconsin and was listed with George in the 1880 Federal Census as a resident of Grand Haven. They lived in a boarding house on Third Street, operated by Herbert and Ellen Ballgoyen. A son Charles was born in Benzie County on April 28, 1873 and died on November 21 the same year. The Hewitts’ daughter Grace Hewitt was born in Grand Haven on September 1, 1880. She married George F. Seek in Kalispel, Montana on December 15, 1898. George Hewitt died in Montana on October 8, 1903. Jennie passed away on May 17, 1924. Grace died in 1971.

Maynard Heyboer I [1910-1990]

The Grand Transformers Company in Grand Haven was established in 1948 by Maynard Heyboer I, Kenneth C. Retzlaff, and Orry Charles Retzlaff., Kenneth’s father [1882-1971] The first plant was located at 232-234 Washington, but later was moved to 1500 Marion. Maynard was born April 14, 1910 and died September 15, 1990. He married Anna Lydia Weigl in Grand Haven on July 20, 1933. Anna lived from February 3, 1910 to July 1995. She and Maynard were buried at Lake Forest Cenetery. Their home was at 14230 Lakeshore Drive. They had a son, Maynard II "Bud" Heyboer.

Frank Heyer [1864-1935]

Frank Heyer was born in Buffalo, New York [Ohio] on July 1, 1864. On October 18, 1892, he married Cora Webb [Peck] in Lucas, Ohio. She was born in Pennsylvania in May 1872. Frank and Cora had a daughter Alice, who was born in Ohio in July 1896 and married a Mr. E. Pepper. While living in Toledo, Ohio around 1900, Frank worked as a printer. Ten years later he was listed as a widower and osteopath with an office in Muskegon. On March 4, 1909 in Clearfield, Pennsylvania he married Dora Barlow Steele. He and Dora moved to Spring Lake sometime after 1920. Dora had been married previously and had a son, Robert Steele, who was born in Pennsylvania about 1894. Frank died on November 11, 1935. Dora was born in Pennsylvania in 1868 and passed away on March 27, 1918 in Muskegon. [Tribune obituary, November 12, 1935.]

Betty Kathryn Olsen Hickey [1918-2005]

The daughter of George L. and Kathryn Dickinson Olsen, Betty was born in Grand Haven on March 7, 1918. Her first husband, Donald James Misner, was born on November 5, 1917, died on December 1, 1940, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Donald and Betty had a son, Charles D. Misner, who resided in Grand Haven. Betty married Fredric Ernest Hickey in Grand Haven on December 3, 1948. He was born on October 23, 1915 and died on May 31, 2001. Betty graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1935 and attended Michigan State University. She was librarian at Central Elementary School and Children's Librarian at Loutit District Library. She was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, where she taught Sunday School and was active with the Altar Guild. She was a member and president of the American Legion Charles Conklin Post Auxiliary. The Hickeys had four children: Ann E Hickey of Muskegon, born about 1950; Mary E., who married Charles Gren and moved to Fruitport; Fredric E. Hickey II, born about 1951; and Nora F. Hickey, who was born about 1952 and remained in the Grand Haven area. The Hickeys resided at 14451 160th Street in Grand Haven Township. Betty passed away in Grand Haven on January 15, 2005. The Hickeys were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 19, 2005.]

John V. Hickmott [Hicknott] [1820-1900]

John Hickmott was the first pastor of the new Congregational Church in Grand Haven, built at the northwest corner of Sixth and Washington Streets, later the site of the Grand Haven Fire Department [525 Washington]. It was dedicated on May 12, 1874. The first church, located at 134 Washington, burned down in 1868. Rev. Hickmott was born July 8, 1820 and died May 14, 1900. A son, William J., graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1877.

Albert "Finny" Hicks [1851-1882]

On May 11, 1871 in Grand Haven, Albert "Finny" Hicks married Helen J., daughter of Virgil and Celeste Bennett. Albert was born in Rawford, South Carolina in 1851. The 1870 census listed a Finny Hexin, who was born in Kentucky about 1852 and worked as a domestic in the John Leggat home. It is likely that Finny Hexin and Finny Hicks are the same person. Also listed in 1870 was John Hexin, born in Kentucky about 1854, another domestic in the Leggat homestead. Although their relationship was not stated, Finny and John probably were brothers. John does not appear in later records for Ottawa County, but Finny does. By 1880 Finny was an engineer and worked for such local lumbering companies as Squier & White and White & Friant. Finny and his family were residing on Franklin Street at the time of the 1880 census. On October 26, 1882 he fell off the passenger boat on which he was engineer and drowned near Pentwater. [Another report said he drowned in White Lake.] His wife, Helen, was born in Delhi, New York [Delaware] on July 1845 [1847]. She was the daughter of Alfred and Louisa Bennett, who moved to Grand Haven sometime in 1845. Finny and Helen had at least three surviving children, all born in Grand Haven: James Edward, born on April 18, 1872; Bertha, James's twin, died on April 27, 1890, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Emerson, born on March 6, 1876; and Blanche Nellie, who was born on January 30, 1879, married Isaac H. Coats [Coates] of St. Louis, an African American, in Grand Haven on April 28, 1915. She later married a Mr. McNeal of Muskegon Heights. Isaac, who worked as a teamster, was born about 1881 in Missouri. On September 10, 1884 Helen married Hezekiah Smith in Grand Haven. Apparently they were divorced, because on September 8, 1894, Hezekiah married another woman and Helen resumed use of the Hicks name. She died on December 1, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Albert.

Edward O. Hicks [1872-1905]

See James Edward Hicks.

Emerson [Emmerson] Hicks [1876-1936]

In the early 1900s Emerson, the son of Albert and Helen Bennett Hicks, was a teamster at Henry Sprick's livery stable in Grand Haven. Later he was employed at Eagle Ottawa, where he suffered a permanent arm injury on one of the machines. He became a truck driver at Eagle Ottawa and worked there for a total of 25 years. He lived at 1208 Franklin with his mother and sister, Blanche Coats, and remained in the house until at least 1930, although by 1918 Helen had moved to Muskegon. By 1930 he was living in the house alone. Emerson died in Muskegon Heights on March 13, 1936 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He had recently moved to the Heights with his sister, Blanche. Emerson never married. [Tribune obituary, March 14, 1936.]

James Edward [Edward O.] Hicks [1872-1905]

The son of Albert and Helen Bennett Hicks, James Edward married Olie [Wyatie] A. Watts [Wats] in Grand Haven on July 3, 1901. Olie, born about 1878, was from Byron Center. Her father's name was John Watts. After James's father died when he was about 10, he lived with Dr. John N. Reynolds of Grand Haven for many years. James was a local representative to an Equal Rights convention that met in Grand Rapids on April 10 and 11, 1894. He started work for Grand Haven Leather Company [Eagle Ottawa] about 1895 and was promoted to Engineer, a position he held at the time of his death. The Hicks family home was on Fulton Street at the time of James's death. He was elected Constable of his Ward several times, according to the Tribune. James died of pneumonia on June 5, 1905. James was survived by his wife and a son, Kenneth [Kenneth] Albert Hicks, who was born on June 27, 1902. No definite information was uncovered of James's widow and son, although a Kenneth Hicks, born in Michigan about 1903, was living in an orphan's home in Chicago in 1910. Ten years later he was still residing in Chicago, this time in a household with Viola McGhee listed as his mother and John A. Watts listed as Viola's father. Viola was born in Michigan about 1879 and would seem to be the woman James Edward Hicks married in 1901. The three were noted as being Mulatto. [Tribune obituaries, June 5 and June 7, 1905.]

Andrew Uitermarkt Hieftje [1895-1969]

Born in Grand Haven on August 11, 1895 [1896], Andrew was the son of Louis [Lewis] and Jennie Hieftje. Louis died about February 28, 1921 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Andrew opened a meat shop at 7 North Seventh Street and then moved to 15 North Seventh, where he operated the Central Food Market. Andrew married Lillian V. Saunders in Grand Haven on January 16, 1909. She was born about 1892. By 1928 Andrews resided at 725 Columbus, where his mother also lived after her husband's death. She died around April 21, 1947 and also was buried at Lake Forest, as was Andrew, who died on March 23, 1969.

Jacob Hieftje [1863-1941]

Jacob Hieftje, a Grand Haven builder and contractor, lived at and ran his business from 15 North Sixth Street and in the early 1900s from 434 North Seventh. In the 1893 Compendium he was listed as "Carpenter." Jacob married Elizabeth [Elisabeth] Verberkmoes in Grand Haven on April 23, 1884. She was born in Goes, The Netherlands on October 10, 1863 and passed away in Grand Rapids on January 31, 1932. Her parents were Adriaan and Dirkje Schippers Ver Berkmoes. Jacob was born in Zeeland Township, Ottawa County, on September 10, 1863 and died in Grand Haven on March 30, 1941. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Gertrude, born in October 1885; Andrew, who was born in November 1889 and eventually moved to Detroit; Daisy E., born in July 1892; and John Frederick [Frederick John], born on June 29, 1896.

John Frederick [Frederick John] Hieftje [1896-1964]

Fred Hieftje opened the 12-unit Grand Motel in 1951 at the corner of Hayes Street and Lakeshore Drive. He advertised it as "Western Michigan's Finest Ultra Modern Motel." Fred, the son of Jacob and Elizabeth Verberkmoes Hieftje, was born in Grand Haven on June 29, 1896. On October 10, 1915 in Lansing, he married Nellie Richardson. Born on January 4, 1894 in Robinson Township, she was the daughter of William and Elva McMillan Richardson. In 1940 John was a life insurance salesman. He, Nellie, and their four children resided at 633 Franklin Street. The children were Frederic Garth Hieftje, 17 years old; Marion R., 15; Carol E., 12; and Nellie J., 8. Also in the household in 1940 was James Richardson, 24 years old, Nellie's son. Nellie died on May 31, 1951 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. John died on October 9, 1964 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Martin Hiemstra [1900-1949]

Martin Hiemstra was born in The Netherlands on September 2, 1900 and came to the United States in 1912. A woodworker, he settled in Grandville and opened a business called Hiemstra Wood Products. He married Hattie Ratterink in Georgetown on November 9, 1916. She also was born in 1900. On June 5, 1949 Martin was killed in an accident in Spring Lake but was buried at Grandville Cemetery.

Arthur "Roy" Hierholzer [1911-1995]

Arthur Roy, the son of John Joseph and Susanna Shuey Hierholzer, was born in Grand Haven on February 8, 1911. On October 6, 1934 he married Pearl Landon, who was born in Manistee on September 23, 1912 and died in Grand Haven on October 26, 1997. Roy was Grand Haven postmaster and a supporter of the Democratic Party. Roy passed away on May 16, 1995. He and Pearl were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of their deaths, they were residing at 628 Fulton Street. The family attended St. Patrick's Catholic Church, and Roy was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

John Joseph Hierholzer I [1876-1955]

John Hierholzer was born in Chicago on February 25, 1876 and died in Grand Haven in 1955. On July 27, 1904 he married Susanna Shuey in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of William and Katherine Bartel Shuey. Susanna was born on April 13, 1874 in Lemont, Illinois and passed away in Grand Haven on August 5, 1958. John was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery and Susanna was interred at Lake Forest Cemetery. John was a farmer, but in 1930 was classified as a laborer. In the mid-1920s he was working for Grand Haven Brass Foundry as a machinist. Later he became supervisor at Story & Clark Piano Company. Their children were Kolman William, who was born on May 12, 1905 in Grand Haven; Arthur Roy, who was born in Grand Haven on February 8, 1911; and John Joseph Herbert, who was born in Grand Haven on July 31, 1913. Roy became postmaster at the Grand Haven office. By 1908 John's mother, Adeline Hiltman Hierholzer, owned a 66-acre fruit farm in Grand Haven Township, near Peach Plains School [Section 35, north Grand Haven Township]. Adeline was born in Switzerland on March 24, 1848 and came to the United States four years later. Some years later John owned a 40-acre farm in the township. By 1928 the family, including Adeline, lived at 716 Sheldon. They attended St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

John Joseph Herbert "Herb" Hierholzer II [1913-2004]

The son of John and Susanna Shuey Hierholzer, John Joseph Herbert "Herb" was born in Grand Haven on July 31, 1913. After her husband's death, Fran, resided on 160th Street but later returned to the family home at 514 Monroe Street. Herb was a supervisor at Story & Clark Piano Company. In St. Joseph, Indiana on September 28, 1935, John married Frances Irene, the daughter of Cornelius and Della Westhoff Boomgaard of Grand Haven. Frances was born in Grand Haven on September 21, 1917. In 1937, the couple moved to 514 Monroe Street, where they remained most of their married lives. Their children were Patsy Mae, born on July 11, 1936 and married Ronald Fojtik [1937-1994], and John Norman, born on April 16, 1949 in Grand Haven. Herb died on February 13, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fran died in St. Joseph, Indiana, on August 18, 2015. She and Herb were community-centered and contributed time and money to the preservation of Hatton Park.

Kolman “Bill” William Hierholzer [1905-1981]

In 1949 Kolman Hierholzer opened the Hierholzer Machine Company, located at 120 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Bill was born in Grand Haven on May 12, 1905, died in the same city on April 1, 1981, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He resided at 1615 South De Spelder at the time of his death, but around 1930 he and his wife lived at 724 Fulton and by 1932 they were located at 120 Elliott. His parents were John and Susanna Shuey Hierholzer. In 1935 Bill married Frances King, who was born in Michigan on April 20, 1907. Before 1930 he was employed as a lathe operator at an engine factory [probably Dake Machinery]. In 1949 Bill formed the Hierholzer Machine Company, located at 120 Elliott. The family attended St. Patrick’s Catholic Church. Frances died on September 23, 1965 and also was buried at Lake Forest. John Joseph Hierholzer and Arthur Hierholzer were Bill’s brothers.

Edward McCrea Hiler [1895-1918]

Edward was the son of Giles and Caroline Lucy Hammond Hiler. On August 10, 1915 he enlisted as private in Company F of Grand Haven, which merged with Company L of the 126th Infantry during WWI. On July 31, 1918, during an Allied offensive in France, Edward was severely wounded by an enemy shell and died on the way to a first aid station. He was born in November 1895.

George Washington Hiler [1822-1902]

George Hiler was born in Phelps, New York on April 21, 1822. On July 2, 1846 in Geneva, New York, he married Amanda Maria Parker. She was born in Geneva, New York on January 21, 1829. About 1853 George, Amanda, and their family moved to Coldwater, St. Joseph County. They returned to New York State the next year because of an epidemic of fever but came back to Michigan in 1871 and settled in Spring Lake. Five years later the Hilers moved to Grand Haven, where George was in the lumber business. Among George’s and Amanda’s children were Edgar Francis, who was born in Penfield, New York on November 12, 1847 and died near Muskegon on August 8, 1926; George Augustus, who was born on December 6, 1848, became a house painter, married Ella Biggs Parker in Grand Haven in 1880, was divorced from Ella sometime before 1900, died on October 18, 1916, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Giles Parker, born in Michigan on March 5, 1854; Charles Herbert, who was born on March 10, 1859 in Monroe County, New York, died in Grand Haven on October 3, 1880, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Caroline Amanda, who was born on May 18, 1861 in Monroe County, New York, first married Frank H. Clements [who died in 1888 in Grand Haven Township], next married Edward Bowen in Olive Township on May 23, 1889, and died on July 25, 1926 in Fowlerville, Livingston County; Florence Lillian, who was born on November 3, 1866 in Monroe County, New York, married Charles T. Connell [who died on July 13, 1894] on April 6, 1881 in Grand Haven, died on March 29, 1892, and was buried at Lake Forest; John Tyler, who was born on October 3, 1868 in Penfield, New York, and died on March 28, 1963 in Grand Rapids;; and Helena Balmanno, who was born in Penfield, New York on November 1, 1870, became a teacher, married Washington L. Smith on November 10, 1910, died in Spring Lake on July 7, 1939, and was buried at Lake Forest. John T. was indicted for bigamy, tried in Illinois, and the indictment reversed. He was also known as a singer. George died at his home at 827 Elliott Street on March 15, 1906. Amanda passed away in Grand Haven around September 5, 1913. George, Amanda, and other Hilers were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 16, 1908 and September 6, 1913.]

Giles Parker Hiler [1854-1912]

Giles was born on Michigan on March 5, 1854. He was the son of George Washington and Amanda Marie Parker Hiler. Giles married Caroline “Carrie” Lucy [Lucy Caroline] Hammond on May 5, 1877. She was born in Michigan in August 1856. They lived at 609 Jackson Street in Grand Haven. Giles was a member of Company F during the Spanish-American War in 1898, and he was a plasterer and varnisher by trade. The Hilers' children, all born in Grand Haven, included Giles L., born on February 15, 1878; Cyril [Sidney], born on February 9, 1880; Shirley George [George Shirley], born on January 19, 1883 in Spring Lake; Robert, born in July 1886; Sylvia, who was born on February 26, 1891, married Daniel Brady on June 28, 1911, and died in Spring Lake on January 4, 1917; and Edward McCrea, born in November 1895. Giles, the father, died on April 30, 1912. Caroline died on October 30, 1925. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband and other family members.

Cyril [Ciril, Sidney] Brown Hiler [1880-1959]

Cyril Hiler worked at the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company. The son of Giles and Caroline Hammond Hiler, Sidney was born in Grand Haven on February 9, 1880. In 1920 he was residing at the family home at 609 Jackson. By 1928 he had moved to 415 North Sixth, and in 1945 he was living at 211 North Seventh Street. Cyril passed away about November 24, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members.

Earle E. Hill [1899-1971]

In April 1936 Earle Hill and his wife, Nondus Margaret "Sammy" M. Clark, moved from Marion, Indiana to Grand Haven to open Hill's Hardware Store at 119 Washington. They sold the business in 1955. Earle was born in Rapid River, Delta County on March 14, 1899 and married Sammy on March 14, 1935. She was born in Lafontaine, Indiana on May 29, 1912, the daughter of Robert and Lillie Schellenberger Clark. After selling the hardware store, Sammy was employed by the Ottawa County treasurer's office from February 1957 until retirement in March 1975. Earle and Sammy lived at 413 South Street in Spring Lake. Their daughter, Roberta Hucklabee, lived in Sacramento, California. After Earle died on March 30, 1971, Sammy married Wesley E. Abel. The Abels resided at 424 Orchard. Sammy passed away in Spring Lake on January 7, 2003. Earle and Sammy were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 8, 2003.]

Charles L. Hilliard [1836-1905?]

Around 1880 Charles Hilliard owned a company in Nunica, Crockery Township that produced broom handles. He was born in Prescott, Ontario, Canada on March 10, 1836. His wife Marian was born in Illinois in 1843 and died in 1894. They had three children: William L., born locally in 1867; Jessie M., born about 1869; and Ida Sarah, born in Illinois about 1876. Charles died on August 24, 1905 in Toulon, Illinois.

Russell M. Hilliard [1923-1976]

President of Ottawa Electric in the 1970s, Russell Hilliard was born in Michigan on March 11, 1923. In 1930 he resided with his parents in Muskegon. Ottawa Electric was first located at 112 Washington, followed by 110 Washington, then 217 South Beechtree, and finally 1051 Jackson Street. Russell died in Norton Shores on October 18, 1976.

Herbert Henry Hillman [1879-1936]

From 1925 through 1928 Herbert Hillman served as mayor of Grand Haven. He married Edna Frances Blish in Grand Rapids on June 1, 1905. They had three daughters: Beatrice W., born about 1912; Arlene E., born about 1917; and Jean E., born about 1925. A son, Robert, lived from 1914 to 1927. In 1930 the Hillman family resided at 427 Columbus. In the 1910s Herbert was superintendent at Challenge Refrigerator. After WWI he ran a service station at the southeast corner of Franklin and Water [Harbor] Streets, later known as Wessel's TBA. Herbert offered Gulf Gasoline. Herbert and his son were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Herbert was born in Wayne County on November 11, 1879 and died in 1936. Edna was born in Wisconsin about 1884.

Corydon Cromwell Hinckley [1823-1892]

Corydon was born in Schuyler County, New York, on October 9, 1823, the son of Lewis Davis and Ann Chase Hinckley. While still in Schuyler County, Hinckley married Eliza L. Allen on February 10, 1850. Eliza was born in 1830, also in New York State, and died on June 12, 1893. A daughter, Frances, was born in Huron County, Ohio, on March 31, 1851 and married Norman S. Finch of Spring Lake. Seven years after her birth the family moved to Robinson Township, where they settled on eight acres in the Village of Robinson. In the 1880 census, Corydon was listed as a landlord. He died on February 16, 1892.

Andrew Lawrence Hindal [1879-1951]

Andrew Hindal was born in Norway on May 7, 1879. He married Olene [Olina] Regina Oldsdatter, also a native of Norway, who was born in 1882. Andrew was employed as a tool maker at the Keller Company. The Hindals' children were: Dorrin, born in Minnesota about 1904; Alice, born in Illinois in 1911; Ellen, who was born in Illinois on March 28, 1913, married Cass J. Potter on February 9, 1938, and died in Grand Haven on October 4, 2001; Dorothy, born in Illinois about 1917; and David B., who was born in Michigan on November 17, 1919 and died in Muskegon on April 7, 1986. Cass Potter was born in Durand, Shiawassee County on June 10, 1905. The Hindal family lived on Prospect Street in Spring Lake. Olene passed away in 1935. Andrew died on January 11, 1951 and was buried with his wife at Spring Lake Cemetery.

David B. Hindal [1919-1986]

David Hindal was one of three local businessmen who took over Follen Tool Company in 1959, started by James Follen in 1941. He served in the Army during WWII. Prior to joining Follen, David was a draftsman at Anderson Bolling. David and his wife, Dorothy M., resided at 1002½ Madison. They later moved to 226 South Prospect in Spring Lake and then to 14440 Bayou Drive. David was born on November 17, 1919 and died in Grand Haven on April 7, 1986. He was the son of Andrew and Olene Hindal of Spring Lake. Dorothy lived from August 9, 1922 to March 9, 1994. She and David were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles Hinsley [Hensley] [1825-1899]

Charles Hensley, born in England in 1825, was included in the 1860 census for Polkton Township, but he was in Crockery Township when he enlisted as private on December 5, 1861 in Company F of the 14th Michigan Infantry. On July 25, 1864 he transferred into the U.S. Army Engineers, and on January 1, 1865 transferred again, this time to Company G of the Veteran Reserve Corps 1st Engineers. After Charles was mustered out on September 26, 1865, he resumed farming in Crockery, where he also used his blacksmithing skills. Charles died on February 12, 1899, and later that year his wife, Clarissa Jane Skinner, applied for a widow's Civil War pension. A monument was erected in Nunica Cemetery with his name. Clarissa, the daughter of Benjamin and Emily Perrin Skinner, was born in Battle Creek in 1829 and died on September 14, 1901. A daughter, Libby, was born in Canada about 1849 and married Joseph Farmer in Durand, Shiawassee County on March 29, 1893.

Thomas E. Hitchcock [? - ?]

In July 1876, the News Journal was started at Grand Haven by a union of the Grand Haven News, under the control of Thomas Hitchcock, and the Spring Lake Independent, owned by John G. Lee. Both these men published the News Journal until January 1877, when Hitchcock retired and sold his interest to Lee.

Albertus [Albertina, Albert] "Bert" L. Hite [1870-1929]

Albertus Hite was part owner of the Mallery & Hite Boat Livery, located on Spring Lake at the corner of Lake and Beach Road in the early 1900s. His partner was Davis M. Mallery of Grand Haven. Later Bert became a brick layer in Spring Lake. The son of John and Mary Hite, he was born in Charlotte, Eaton County on September 11, 1870 and was living with his grandparents, Samuel and Rebecca Leshner, in Benton, Eaton County by 1880. Bert married Lena "Mary" Richmond on November 12, 1894 in Portland, Ionia County. By 1900 he they were residing in Grand Ledge, Eaton County, where Bert was a mason. Mary was born in Michigan in January 1870. Her parents, Henry and Melissa Martin, lived in Spring Lake. In Grand Ledge, she was a dressmaker. By 1920 Bert was laying brick for a living. He died on November 28, 1929. The next year Mary was living alone in Spring Lake.

George Arthur Hitsman [1873-1955]

The foster son of William and Emma Brady of Robinson Township, George Hitsman was born on October 1, 1873. On July 15, 1894 in Robinson Township, he married Beatrice “Birdie” Beckett. She was born on July 3, 1877 and died on November 11, 1977. The Hitsmans owned a 40-acre farm in Section 9 of Robinson Township. They had 15 children, including Guy, born in December 1896, and David, born in January 1899. Guy and David were born locally. George died in 1955.

Antonie Hoebeke [Hobeke] [1822-1891]

Born in the Netherlands about October 5, 1822, Antonie Hoebeke settled in Grand Haven in 1866. He was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Antonie, a laborer, died on December 8, 1891. His wife, Antonia, also a native of The Netherlands, was born about 1831. Their children were James, born about 1861; Henry John, born about 1866; Nellie, born about 1869; and Cornelius, born about 1873. James and Henry were born in The Netherlands, and the other children were born locally. The family home was on Washington Street.

Anthony Hoebeke [1885-1959]

Tony Hoebeke was partner with Melle Poel when they started Poel & Hoebeke Clothing Store at 702 Washington in the 1920s. The shop remained there into the late 1930s, when Tony was elected treasurer of the City of Grand Haven, a post he held from 1939 to 1944. Tony married Kate Van Zanten in Grand Rapids on June 24, 1925. Kate, the daughter of Martin and Elizabeth Balgooyen Van Doorne of Grand Haven, was born in November 1886 and became a milliner. She had been previously married to Martin Van Doorne II, who died in 1922. The Hoebeke family resided at 905 Washington. Kate passed away about December 15, 1950 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Tony, the son of Henry and Cornelia Hoebeke, was born in Grand Haven in 1885, died in 1959, and was buried with his wife at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Henry John Hoebeke I [1865-1929]

Henry, born in June 1865 in The Netherlands, was the son of Antonie and Antonia H. Hoebeke. In the early 1900s he was a house painter and wallpaper contractor in Grand Haven. On July 23, 1884 in Grand Haven, Henry married Cornelia Vander Boomgaard. She lived from December 18, 1867 to December 5, 1905. They lived at 516 Fulton with their children: Anthony, who was born on January 15, 1885; Johanna, who was born in December 1885 and married Hio Dornbos of Grand Haven; Jeanette, who was born on January 15, 1895 and married Joseph Zeimet of Grand Haven; Henry II, who was born on September 20, 1898; Antonnette, born in 1888; and James. Henry passed away about June 15, 1929 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

Henry Hoebeke [Hobeke] II [1898-1977]

Henry Hoebeke served with the Grand Haven Fire Department and was chief from 1937 to 1963. He was born in Grand Haven on September 20, 1898 and died on July 11, 1977. His parents were Henry and Cornelia Hoebeke. Young Henry resided at 306 North Fifth, not far from the fire station. On May 27, 1919 in Spring Lake, he married Roelvina, the daughter of John and Grietje “Ella” Homes Hoffman. Roelvina was born on July 14, 1900 and died in Grand Haven on December 15, 1995. Henry and Roelvina were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Harriet C., who was born on July 14, 1912, on May 27, 1939 married Edward Kieft of Grand Haven [September 28, 1918-June 13, 1998], and died in Grand Haven on August 13, 1988; Evelyn, who married Howard Bailey [April 8, 1919-February 22, 1999]; and Jack. [Tribune obituary, June 15, 1998.]

Andrew N. Hoegh [1900-1995]

Andrew Hoegh in the 1940s owned Andy’s Auto Shop at 319 North Third Street in Grand Haven. His shop offered “Complete Motor Repairing.” Prior to that he was an auto mechanic in another garage. Andy was born on February 5, 1900 and died in Grand Haven on December 17, 1995. In 1948 he resided at 1220 Washington. His wife, Enger, was born on July 9, 1899 and died in Grand Haven on March 10, 1988. Both Enger and Andy were natives of Iowa.

Elmore Jacob Hoek [1895–1946]

On October 13, 1920 in Detroit, Elmore Hoek married Cathryn Ruth, the daughter of John J. and Jennie Bolt Boer of Grand Haven. The newly-weds lived in Detroit until Dr. Hoek moved his dental practice to Grand Haven in 1923. They resided at 634 Lake Avenue. Elmore was born in Holland, Michigan on November 21, 1895 and died on October 15, 1946, just after moving his dental office from the second floor of Presley's Drug Store [700 Washington] to space at the corner of Franklin and Third Streets. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their daughter Jane was born about 1925 and married architect Derk Vyn of Grand Haven in 1946. The Vyns moved to California. The Hoeks also had a son, Robert B. Hoek, who was born on November 7, 1921. The family resided at 1028 Washington. Ruth, who was born in Grand Haven on February 27, 1897, died in Napa, California on February 10, 2002 and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 2002.]

Robert B. Hoek [1921-1974]

Robert, born on November 7, 1921, was the son of Grand Haven residents Dr. Elmore and Ruth Boer Hoek. Robert graduated from the University Michigan in 1945, served in the Navy until December 1946, when he joined the Navy Reserve, and in the early 1950s reenlisted for active duty after operating a dental office in Grand Haven since January 1947. He was a member of the Rotary Club, the Spring Lake Country Club, and the Spring Lake Yacht Club, where he served as treasurer in 1950 and 1951 and became Rear Commodore in 1952. He was an avid sailor, and entered and won many yacht club races aboard the Jane Ann. He also maintained an office for oral surgery in Grand Rapids. In 1963 he was elected president of the West Michigan Dental Society. Robert married Mary Carolyn Ulrich. Hoek died in 1974.

John Clarence Hoekje [1885-1959]

John Hoekje served as superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1913 to 1916. It was during his term that Grand Haven's first Parent Teacher Club was organized in 1915. By 1918 he was on the faculty at Western State Normal School [WMU] in Kalamazoo, where he met Helen Irene Poel. They were married in Grafton, Ohio on September 11, 1920. Helen lived from 1894 to 1969. John was born on February 1, 1885 in Cauker City, Kansas, and died on January 21, 1959 in Detroit. Helen and John had seven children.

John Hoeksema [1828-1919]

John Hoeksema was born in The Netherlands in July 1828 [1833] and died in Grand Haven in 1919. His wife, Trientje "Kate," also came from The Netherlands, where she was born in February 1850. John and Kate immigrated to the United States in 1881. Their son, Johannes, was born in The Netherlands in June 1876. A daughter, Elsie, was born in The Netherlands on June 30, 1878 and married Reijer Beekman of Grand Haven. Another daughter, Della, was born in September 1882 and married Henry Arkema II of Grand Haven. A third daughter, Fredricka, was born in September 1885. Della and Fredricka were born locally. John worked at the Eagle Ottawa tannery and the family resided at 909 Fulton Street.

August Fredrick Hoerich [Hoerick] [1884-1970]

August Hoerich's 120-acre farm was located in Section 23 of Grand Haven Township. He was the son of August and Henrietta Hoerich. The older August was born on March 21, 1853 and died on January 7, 1931. Henrietta lived from March 16, 1862 to March 30, 1944. August was born in Wisconsin on Christmas Day, 1884 and died in Grand Haven on January 11, 1970. A sister, Dorothea Maria, was born on July 15, 1881 and passed away on July 15, 1903. The family was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery.

George Vincent Hoffer [1906-1953]

George Hoffer [originally Schultenhofer] was born on December 11, 1906 in Petoskey. He moved to Grand Haven in 1927 and married Eleanor, the daughter of Cornelius and Nellie Vander Noot, on March 1, 1935. Eleanor was born in Grand Haven on December 16, 1908. The Hoffers lived at 720 Washington, where George also operated his insurance office. George died in Grand Haven on February 7, 1953. Eleanor died, also in Grand Haven, on September 21, 1962. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Hoffers had at least two children: Janice Ruth Hoffer, who lived from 1936 to 1999, and Ralph Hoffer, who was born in 1947 and died in 1988.

Derk “Dick” Hoffman [Hofman] [1867-1941]

A general farmer who also raised livestock, Richard Hofman lived in Section 32 of Olive Township. He was born in Olive Township on August 4, 1867. On March 30, 1898 in Crisp, Ottawa County, he married Trytje “Kate” Berghorst. She was born about 1878 in The Netherlands. They were still living in Olive Township as late as 1930 but ten years later were located in Holland. They had at least one child, Jennie Hoffman, born about 1899. Dick died on April 3, 1941, and Kate passed away in Holland on July 17, 1945. Both were buried at North Holland Cemetery.

Jan “John” Hoffman [Hofman] [1829-1910]

Jan “John” A. Hoffman was born on January 1, 1829 [1828], died on January 21, 1910, and buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His wife, Grietje [Gretsie], was born on January 11, 1838 and passed away on April 20, 1908 at their home at 532 Monroe Street.

Jan “John” Hoffman I [Hofman] [1842-1887]

A native of Groningen, The Netherlands, John Hoffman was born on November 8, 1842. On August 2, 1866, he married Roelfa [Rolfien] “Maggie” Ennenga, who also was a native of Groningen, where she was born on January 23, 1843. John Hoffman II, their son, was born in 1867. They also had daughter, Alice Hoffman, who was born in The Netherlands in May 1867 and married Corneil N. Addison of Grand Haven. A second daughter, Jennie Hoffman, was born in The Netherlands on November 5, 1869 and married John A. Fisher of Grand Haven. Another daughter, Rena Hoffman, was born in February 1872 and married Henry J. Bolt II, also of Grand Haven. In 1880 the Hoffman family resided on Franklin Street. John died on July 9, 1887. On January 7, 1889, Roelfa married John Glerum in Grand Haven.

John Hoffman [Hofman] II [1867-1918]

John, the son of Jan and Grietje Hoffman, lived from December 1867 to 1918. He and his wife, Ella, lived at 503 Elliot. John learned the meat business working for Cornelius Bos when he was 14 and continuing for 10 years. He operated a grocery store at 427 North Sixth Street in Grand Haven and delivered groceries in a horse-drawn wagon. John Hoffman III was born in September 1891. John and Ella also had at least three daughters, Angie, who was born in December 1892, Roelvina, who was born on July 14, 1900 and married Henry J. Hoebeke [Hobeke]; and Jennie, who was born on April 10, 1910, married Henry Lutz [May 29, 1905-August 4, 1990] of Grand Haven, and died on March 17, 2005. Ella was born in The Netherlands in July 1869 [1868] and died in 1933. She and her husband were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 20, 1908.]

Peter Hoffman [Hofman] [1833- 1925]

Peter Hoffman was a 19-year-old orphan when he immigrated from The Netherlands to Grand Haven in 1852 to work in the sawmills. Antje “Anna” Dobbenga, also born in The Netherlands in 1834, became his wife on August 1, 1855. They continued to live in Grand Haven for a while, and then moved to Coopersville and later Muskegon where Hoffman became a dairyman in the 1870s. Peter and Anna had six children. She passed away on March 29, 1879 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery. Peter on December 24, 1887 married Wiebedina “Dina” Werkmen, who lived from 1845 to July 1, 1926. They had three children. Peter next married Peter lived from May 1, 1833 to August 21, 1925. He and Dina were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon.

August P. Hoffmeister [Hofmeister, Hoffmaster] [1855- ?]

Born in Germany in 1855, August Hoffmeister immigrated to the United States in 1859. In the early 1880s he was employed at Grand Haven Wagon Works, owned by August Hubert. August Hoffmeister was put in charge of the woodwork. Dora Regelin [Regalin], August’s wife, also was from Germany. The Hoffmeister family moved to Muskegon around 1889. The daughter of Louis and Mary Schultz Regelin, Dora was born in Germany in 1856 and died in Muskegon on March 30, 1899, following the death of a newborn boy, who had died unnamed on March 10, 1899. Their surviving children included Louisa “Lizzie” Hoffmeister, born on September 22, 1878, and Ernest Arnhardt “Arnold” Hoffmeister, who lived from July 2, 1879 to February 12, 1949. Both children were born in Grand Haven. On July 12, 1899, Louisa married Louis Beerman [Bierman] in Muskegon.

Edward Hofma [1859-1936] and Elizabeth Pruim Hofma [1859-1938]

Edward was born in Vriesland, near Zeeland on April 12, 1859. He was the son of Simon R. and Maria Ullberg Hofma and brother of Martin, Betje, Lawrence, Sybella, Agnes, Effie, and Clara. Simon and his family lived on a 60-acre farm in Zeeland on the southeast corner of Perry and 64th avenue. Edward attended Holland Academy [Hope College] from 1878 to 1881 and graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1884. He practiced in Spring Lake and Grand Haven. He took a special course of study with Dr. Robert Koch [1843-1910] at Berlin in 1892 and visited hospitals in Vienna, Heidelberg, and Leyden. He was granted his request to join Walter Wellman’s expedition to the North Pole in 1898-99 as the group’s physician. The expedition fell 565 miles short of its goal. In 1899 Edward again studied in Paris and London. He was one of the original members of the Duncan Park Board of Trustees and worked at conservation, being one of the first to plant trees on Dewey Hill. In 1907, he was on the Board of Education and served as its president from 1913 to 1914. From 1914 to 1916 he was a state senator. Edward was one of the founders of Peoples Savings Bank, and he was president of the bank from its start in 1910 until his death. Edward was one of the founders of the Ottawa County Medical Society, and he was elected by his fellow physicians as the first doctor to serve on the Board of Trustees of the new Elizabeth Hatton Memorial Hospital, organized in 1919.

On June 30, 1886, Edward Hofma married Elizabeth Pruim of Spring Lake. Edward and Elizabeth had no children but raised Katie Feringa as a daughter and for many years cared for Isaac Dowlyn, Elizabeth’s stepbrother, and Mary Dowlyn, her stepsister. Elizabeth was born in Spring Lake [then Mill Point] on November 17, 1859, the daughter of Peter and Maria Regina Louis Pruim. Peter was an early immigrant who worked as a day laborer. He died when she was two years old, and her mother married a widower, Abraham Dowlyn, who had two sons. Maria and Abraham had seven more children, including Isaac and Mary. The Dowlyns lived in a rented house near Summit and River Streets in Spring Lake. Elizabeth graduated from Spring Lake High School, was certified to be an elementary teacher in 1882, and joined the Spring Lake School system. In 1891, five years after marrying her physician husband, she graduated from Northwestern University Medical School. After working as assistant to the Chair of Gynecology at Northwestern, she returned to Grand Haven in 1893 and became the area’s first female doctor.

The Hofmas, especially Elizabeth, were active in civic affairs and contributed to community improvement, urging development of parks, tree lined streets, pure water, and sewerage systems. She was instrumental in establishing a local library, served on the library board from 1913 to 1933, and supported the construction of the Carnegie Library building on Third Street, which opened in 1914. In 1917 she served as the first director of the newly chartered Ottawa County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

On May 26, 1934, the Hofmas deeded 40 acres on Ferris Street to Grand Haven Township, which was named Hofma Park. Dr. Hofma died on December 15, 1936, and his wife died at her home on Washington Street, two years later, on July 2, 1938. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The Hofmas provided sufficient funds to establish an endowed chair of Biology at Hope College. The Hofma Trust was set up in 1936 to care for the remaining family members and after the death of Katie in 1960, the trust was to be dispersed over a 20- to 25-year period to “causes that would likely have interested the Hofmas.” Over the years the grants ranged from a few hundred dollars to many thousands. Many were one-time grants, while others became annual affairs. With the exception of help given to various Michigan colleges, the money largely stayed in the Tri-Cities area. The final money was dispersed in 1985. [Tribune obituaries, July 2, 1938, July 6, 1938 and December 16, 1936, and Tribune article, "Hofma Heritage Told in Book," July 30, 1984, and The Hofmas, Edward and Elizabeth, 1859-1938."]

Calvin Holcomb [Hocum] [1819-1888]

Born in Orleans County, New York, on August 28, 1819, Calvin Holcomb came to Lapeer, Lapeer County, where he worked for three years in a drug store. While in Lapeer, Calvin enlisted as corporal in Company I of the 1st Michigan Engineers. He was discharged for disability on March 2, 1863, in Nashville, Tennessee. On August 31, 1864, again in Lapeer, he enlisted in Company G of the Michigan 14th Reorganized Infantry. He was reported as a deserter in New Orleans on July 5, 1865. After he returned to Michigan he was employed as an engineer.

Calvin married Geneva Sophia Perkins in Detroit in 1854. Sophia was born in New York on March 30, 1831 and died February 29, 1912. Calvin and Sophia had three sons, all born in Michigan: Locksley E., born August 26, 1857; John G., who lived from November 1, 1858 to July 30, 1924; and Frank H., who lived from November 20, 1860 to July 2, 1884. In 1870 the family was living in Polkton Township, and by 1880 it was located in Robinson Township. John married Julia King in Berrien County on March 9, 1880. She was born on October 7, 1860 and died on September 2, 1898. Calvin died on November 25, 1888. The following February 15 Geneva applied for a widow's Civil War pension. All family members were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frank Robert Holcomb I [1873-1951]

Frank, the son of Henry and Anna Cook Holcomb, was born in Grand Haven on November 1, 1873. On December 20, 1915, he married Irma Heath Tillemann in Grand Rapids. She was born in Walker Township, Kent County on November 17, 1873, married Vladimir Tillemann in 1904, and was divorced nine years later. In 1920 Frank and Irma resided in Grand Rapids, and ten years later they were in Spring Lake, where Frank worked in real estate. Frank and Irma had two children: Frank R. Holcomb II, born in 1916, and Stephen H. Holcomb, who lived from 1916 to 1998. Frank's brother William Holcomb owned 56 acres in Section 32, Grand Haven Township. On August 29, 1928, Frank and Irma filed Holcomb Hills Subdivision plat consisting of 249 lots, indicating they were the owners of record at the time. The plat was vacated in 1948. Frank and Irma were divorced in Grand Haven on June 18, 1932. Frank died in Ann Arbor on March 18, 1951 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Irma passed away in Traverse City on January 19, 1945 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Henry "Harry" E. Holcomb [1841-1900]

Born in Joliet, Illinois on April 16, 1841, Harry was the son of Louis M. and Elector Edmunds Holcomb. The Holcomb family resided in Wisconsin before moving to the Grand Haven area. Harry enlisted on June 17, 1861 in Company E of the 7th Wisconsin Infantry as a Wagoner. He was wounded at the Battle of Gainesville, Virginia, on August 28, 1862 and was discharged for disability on July 6, 1865 with the rank of corporal. Harry and his family were in the Grand Haven area by 1880. He died of Bright's Disease at his father's home near Rosy Mound on February 20, 1900. He married Anna [Maria] M. Cook in Hancock, Wisconsin on October 31, 1866. On March 5, 1900 she applied for a widow's Civil War pension. Anna was born in Vermont about 1845. Harry was a farmer in Grand Haven Township. Their other children, born in Wisconsin, were Bertha Holcomb, who lived from 1867 to 1959; William Louis Holcomb, who was born on July 5, 1869 and died in 1951; Frank Robert Holcomb, born in Grand Haven on November 16, 1873; Harry Myron Holcomb, who lived from 1875 to 1958; and Anna Holcomb, who was born in 1878. All the children except Frank were born in Wisconsin. [Tribune obituary, February 21, 1900.]

Locksley E. Holcomb [1857-1905]

The son of Calvin and Geneva Sophia Perkins Holcomb, Locksley was born in Michigan on August 26, 1857. He married Lavina Becket of Canada on May 17, 1879. Locksley, who was a railroad station agent, died April 9, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Lavina, who was born on March 22, 1857, died on September 28, 1919 and was buried near her husband.

Louis M. Holcomb I [1814-1904]

Born in New York on March 4, 1814, the brother of Charles Holcomb of Connecticut, Louis moved to Illinois as a newly married man. He was a stonecutter by profession and followed the trade at quarries near Joliet, Illinois. He became a partner and friend of Eben [Ebenezer] F. Mansfield, who in 1870 was residing in Grand Haven. The pair entered various enterprises, including participation in construction of an Illinois canal. Eben Mansfield was the father of Frederick A. Mansfield of Grand Haven. Louis then went to Wisconsin and became a timber locator employed by Senator Philetus Sawyer [1816-1900]. Louis was a close friend of Alexander Juneau, the French trader whose name was linked with Wisconsin history. Louis ran a hotel and gristmill in Hancock, Wisconsin. In the 1870s he came to Grand Haven Township, where he settled on 45 acres in Section 32, stretched along the Lake Michigan shoreline, and raised fruit.

On February 4, 1838 Louis married Elector [Electra/Electha] Edmunds, who was born in New York on April 9, 1817 and died on October 17, 1912. Their children included Emma E., who was born in New York in December 1838 and died about August 5, 1919; Henry "Harry" E., born in Illinois on April 16, 1841; William L., who was born in Wisconsin about 1845; and Louis II, who died at Gettysburg [not verified by service records]. Louis I died on November 18, 1904 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Holcomb Hills, south of Grand Haven, was named for this family. [Tribune obituary, November 18, 1904.]

William Louis [Lewis] Holcomb [1869-1951]

William, the son Henry and Anna Cook Holcomb, inherited 56 acres in Section 32 of Grand Haven Township in the early 1900s. In 1928, William's brother Frank and Frank's wife Irma filed Holcomb Hills Subdivision plat, consisting of 269 lots, indicating they were the title holders at that time. William was born in Hancock, Wisconsin on July 25, 1869, died on November 26, 1951, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Martha Taft, who was born in Wisconsin on July 26, 1868, died on March 1, 1961, and was buried near her husband. Their children were Carroll Frank. Holcomb, who was born on August 8, 1909 and died in November 1987; Kenneth William Holcomb., who lived from 1912 to 1997; Elwood B. Holcomb, who was born in 1915 and died in 1981; and Marilyn "Molly" E. Holcomb, who lived from 1927 to 1990.

Albert Holleboom [1849-1946]

Albert Holleboom, who had a farm in Section 29 of Allendale Township, arrived in the area in 1880. He was born in The Netherlands on October 11, 1849 and died on January 19, 1946. His wife, Jantes Jansen [Jansenden], also a native of The Netherlands, lived from July 25, 1850 to 1931. Both were buried at Allendale Cemetery. They had seven children, including Jennie, who was born in 1876 and married William Ossewaarde of Zeeland on September 30, 1893 in Allendale.

Egbert [Hubrecht] "Ed" H. Hollestelle [1856 –1927]

Egbert, who was born on March 23, 1856 in Grand Haven, was the son of Peter and Jane Hollestelle, who immigrated to the United States in 1848 and settled in Grand Haven. In the spring of 1880 Egbert started a meat business with Richard Bottje. By 1893 Egbert was in the grocery business with his future father-in-law Gerrit Van Westrienen I at the corner of Fifth and Franklin [434 Franklin]. Egbert later became sole owner of the store. On November 22, 1882 in Grand Haven, Egbert married Alice [Aartje], the daughter of Gerrit and Hester Van Westrienen. Alice was born at the Franklin Street address on December 29, 1858 and lived there until her death, about August 20, 1943. Their son Peter H. was born in March 1884 and worked with Egbert in the grocery store. Egbert died on October 12, 1927 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. From the time of his death until her own passing, Alice ran the grocery store. A daughter, Gertrude, who was born on March 19, 1891, occupied the home at 430 Franklin until her death on October 8, 1969. She taught at Grand Haven High School from 1928 to 1957. Other Hollestelle children were Esther, who was born in August 1885 and married Richard Vyn of Grand Haven, and Edna, who was born on December 8, 1896 and died on February 17, 1970. The Hollestelle family continued to reside in the Van Westrienen house after Gerrit and Hester died.

Peter Hollestelle [1812-1893]

Peter Hollestelle, who was born in 1812 and died in Grand Haven on February 27, 1893, emigrated from The Netherlands in 1848. His wife, Jane [Annie/Jennie], was born in 1822 and died on March 27, 1897. Nellie, a daughter, was born around 1855. Egbert H., their son, was born on March 23, 1856 and opened a grocery store in Grand Haven. In the 1880 Federal Census Peter was listed as a church janitor. Peter and Jane were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Harvey J. Hollister [1830-1909]

Harvey J. Hollister, Teller at First National Bank in Grand Rapids, was born in Macomb County on August 30, 1830. In 1873 he joined Edward P. Ferry and others to form the "Michigan Bunch" in Utah and enter the silver mining business. He died in 1909 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Kent County with his wife, Martha C., who lived from 1833 to December 25, 1901.

Friedrich "Fred" Wilhelm [Willelm] Holman [Hollman, Hoellmann, Hallman] [1859-1897]

Fred Holman was born in 1859 in Germany. He married Amelia Cards, who was ten years younger, and the couple immigrated from Germany in 1883. They settled in Grand Haven, where Fred's cousin, Charles Holman, resided. Fred worked as a farm hand and a sailor. He and Amelia were members of St. Paul's German Lutheran Church. They had a daughter, Minnie, who was born on April 11, 1883 and died on August 31, 1886. Amelia died on November 12, 1887 during childbirth. She and the stillborn baby were buried next to Minnie. Fred left Grand Haven to move in with a brother named Julian Holman in Ripon, Wisconsin. Fred married Augusta "Gusta" Pauline Rohde in Grand Haven on August 9, 1888. Gusta was born in Germany on November 27, 1868. The couple settled in Princeton in Green Lake County. On June 3, 1889 the couple had a daughter, whom they named Minnie Augusta after Fred's first daughter. On July 16, 1891, their second child was born, a son named Herman August Holman. In 1892 Fred left his second wife and two children. In early 1897 he was arrested and convicted of the murder of Wiebke Geddes, the wife of Fred Geddes, and was a suspect in several other murders. Fred was executed on May 14, 1897 at the Ford County jail house in Paxton, Illinois. Following his execution, this hand-written poem was found in his cell:

My name is Frederick Hoellmann,
I come from a far off country,
Which follows the river Rhine,
To America I journeyed
In honest to toil,
And now they gonna hang me,
And raise a great turmoil.
On 14 day of May
When flowers are in bloom,
Between sunrise and sunset,
I must meet my final doom.
They said I did a murder,
but that I will deny . . .

On February 5, 1903 in Princeton, Wisconsin, Gusta married Herman Boetcher. In the marriage papers her name was given as Auguste Hallman Rode. She died in Ripon, Wisconsin on January 3, 1945 and was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Ripon. [Thanks to Kevin Collier for much of Fred's biography.]

Jay E. Holmes [1898-1983]

Born May 21, 1898 in Bloomingdale, Van Buren County, Jay Holmes came to Spring Lake from St. Louis, Gratiot County in 1923, following his service as an Army Medical Corps master sergeant during WWI. Jay was superintendent of Spring Lake schools from 1923 to 1958. He was a charter member of the Spring Lake Ex-servicemen's Club; American Legion; Ottawa County Michigan Education Association; Spring Lake Business and Professional Association; Kiwanis; Rotary; and the Spring Lake Reformed Church. He and his wife volunteered for VISTA [Volunteers in Service to America, a federal anti-poverty program], and in 1965 Jay appeared on the NBC "Today" show for the organization. He retired from education in 1958.

On June 12, 1922 in Bloomingdale, Jay married Dorothy Meeker, who was born in Chicago, Illinois on January 26, 1902. They were teachers at the time. Their children were Sue, who was born about 1924 and married Paul De Witt of Spring Lake, and Ruth, who was born on January 5, 1926, married Howard Shinn of Clearwater, Florida, and died in Bradenton, Florida on July 18, 1999. The Holmes family lived at 402 East Exchange in Spring Lake. Dorothy served on the Board of Directors of the Ottawa County Red Cross in the mid-1930s. She passed away in Miami, Florida on May 9, 1983. Jay died at Eustis Hospital in Tavares, Florida of a "heart ailment" on July 28, 1983 and was buried in that state. Holmes Elementary School in Spring Lake was named for him. [Tribune obituary, July 29, 1983.]

Henry "Terry" Holmes [1862-1930]

Born in Sweden on February 13, 1862, Terry Holmes immigrated to the United States in 1883. He married Ida Peterson, also a native of Sweden, who was born on July 27, 1862 and arrived in America the same year at Terry. They owned or leased two parcels, one of 40 acres in Section 1 of Grand Haven Township, and an abutting 60 acres in Section 12. They had at least two children, Algert, who was born about 1891, and Hazel, who was born about 1895. Both children were born in Illinois. Algert married Ruth Richardson in Crockery Township on November 18, 1914 and moved to Grand Rapids. Hazel became the wife of Clarence N. McMillen in Grand Haven on February 14, 1922. By the time of his death in 1930 Terry was widowed, working at Challenge Refrigerator Company, and living at 9½ Second Street in Grand Haven. He passed away on October 31, that year, and Ida died on May 2, 1925. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

James Holt [1856-1912]

A farmer, James Holt owned 40 acres in Section 11 of Grand Haven Township. He immigrated to the United States in 1882 and arrived in the Grand Haven area in 1902. James was born in 1856 in England and died on December 28, 1912. His wife, Mary, was the same age.

Abel Holtrop [1892-1978]

Born on November 2, 1892 in Ferrysburg [Muskegon], the son of John and Effie Bishop Holtrop, Abel at 16 began working with his father as a carpenter. By 1918 he was employed at Eagle Ottawa, and when he was 30 years old, he became a rural mail carrier for two and a half years. In 1923 Abel purchased a grocery store in Ferrysburg. In 1925 he erected a new one at 313 Pine Street that he called Holtrop Economy Market. Abel was director of the Muskegon Wholesale Company. He was a member of the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce; National Association of Retail Grocers; Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association of Michigan; Tri-Cities Grocery Association; Spring Lake Country Club; Citizens Historical Association; and the Christian Reformed Church.

On June 26, 1913 in Ferrysburg, Abel married Katherine Rosema, who was born in Ferrysburg in 1892. One of their five children Margaret, born on May 8, 1915, married Harold Bolthouse. Margaret and Harold had twin daughters, Sharon and Karen, who were born on September 19, 1939. A second Holtrop daughter was Ella Mae, born February 13, 1918. She became the wife of John G. Albertie of Spring Lake, who lived from May 2, 1917 to February 24, 2000. The Alberties had one child, Roger. Unice, the third Holtrop daughter, was born November 4, 1923. A son, Claus, was born August 9, 1926, followed by Hugh Robert, born February 26, 1931. Katherine died on May 13, 1936 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Abel Holtrop later married Jean, daughter of Jacob and Dora Tieman Westmaas. [After Dora's death Jacob Westmaas married Effie Doorn Rapp.] Abel died in Muskegon on June 14, 1978 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Jean lived from February 21, 1901 to July 12, 1986 and passed away in Muskegon. She, too, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Citizens Historical Association.]

Corneal Holtrop [1894-1968]

Corneal, the son of John and Effie Bishop Holtrop of Ferrysburg, was born on August 20, 1894. Corneal, a minister, married Jennie Kruizenga in Spring Lake on August 11, 1921. Jennie lived from August 1, 1894 to July 19, 1983. Jennie and Corneal had four children. Corneal died in Grand Rapids on June 19, 1968. Jennie, who lived from August 1, 1895 to July 19, 1983, also died in Grand Rapids. The couple was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Gert John [John Gert] Holtrop [1887-1957]

Gert, born on November 1, 1887, the son of Klaas and Ruth J. Kraak Holtrop, immigrated to the United States with his parents in 1893. Gert became Trackman for the Interurban line. He married Nellie Moore in Grand Haven on August 29, 1917. They owned a house and lot in Nunica. Gert passed away in Nunica on August 29, 1957. A native of Crockery Township where she was born on June 14, 1888, Nellie died on November 6, 1977 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband.

Jan “John” Klaas Holtrop [1884-1967]

On April 8, 1911, in Ottawa County John Holtrop married Josephine Elizabeth, the daughter of Henry Stark of Nunica. John was born on June 8, 1884 in The Netherlands. Josephine was born on March 6, 1886 and died in September 1965. By 1918 John and Josephine owned a house and four lots in Nunica. John was track foreman for one of the railroads. Among their children, all born in Nunica, were Margaret Pearl, who was born March 6, 1912 and married Anthony Wolf of Robinson Township; Dorothy Della, born January 15, 1915; Hazel Helen, born on March 17, 1917; Clare born about 1923; and Marilyn Joyce, born on September 15, 1927. John died in Spring Lake in 1967 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John Holtrop [Haldrop] [1871-1948]

Born March 28, 1871, in Ferrysburg, John was the son of Cornelius and Grietje De Vries Holtrop, who had a farm in Section 4 of Spring Lake Township. John was a cement block manufacturer and a contractor, specializing in the building of houses. On December 15, 1890 he married Effie [Ethel] Bishop in Spring Lake. She was born in Muskegon on December 15, 1872 and passed away on January 20, 1949. She was the daughter of Abel and Altje Bishop. Abel died in 1934 and Altje in 1874. John and Effie had six children, all born in Ferrysburg, including Grace, who was born on August 3, 1891, married Henry Van Oordt Visser, and died on December 30, 1983; Abel born in November 1892; Cornelius [Corneal], born in August 1894; Otto, born in June 1896; Aren, born in April 1898; Henry, born in March 1900; and Elize, who was born on July 28, 1905, married Albert Wezeman on January 2, 1928 in Ferrysburg, and died in Grand Haven on May 30, 2001, thirty-one years after Albert. John died on December 26, 1948. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, July 29, 1983 and December 30, 1983, and Citizens Historical Association.]

John J. Holtrop [1914-1985]

John Holtrop was born on October 14, 1914, died in Spring Lake Township on October 22, 1985, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He became president of Holtrop Concrete Products at 540 North Maple in Ferrysburg. On August 3, 1938 he married Ruth H. Cooper in Spring Lake. Ruth, the daughter of John W. and Kathryn Eckelcamp Cooper, was born in Spring Lake on August 3, 1919. She served as Librarian for the Spring Lake Township Library from 1966 to 1976. She was a member of Spring Lake Christian Reformed Church. Their children were Janis R., who married Ron Bross of Spring Lake; Larry J., also of Spring Lake; and Thomas C. of Muskegon. The Holtrops resided at 721 Fall Street. Ruth died in Spring Lake on July 16, 2002. [Tribune obituary, July 17, 2002.]

Klaas Holtrop [1854-1934]

Listed as a “Farmer and Stockraiser” in the 1912 Atlas, Klaas Holtrop came to the area in 1894. His 60-acre farm was located in Section 11 of Crockery Township. Around 1883 he married Rieuwkje “Ruth” J. Kraak. A native of The Netherlands, Ruth was born in August 1863. They immigrated to the United States in 1893.

Among their children were John, born in June 1884; Gertrude, born on February 17, 1886; John Gert, born on November 1, 1887; Nellie, born in April 1892; Sylvia, born in December 1893; Bennie, born in March 1898; and Margaret, born June 14, 1900. The first four children were born in The Netherlands, the others in Michigan. Klaas was born in Friesland, The Netherlands, on October 12, 1854 [1855] and died in Grand Rapids on November 22, 1934.

Anthony K. Holzinger [1894-1958]

In the 1920s Anthony Holzinger and a Mr. Potter operated the Yellow Cab Company from 8 North Harbor. By 1930 Anthony was driving for Greyhound Bus Lines. He married Margaret E. Draeger in Grand Haven on September 14, 1921. She was born in Grand Haven in 1896. They resided at 320 Madison [Jackson] Street. Their children, all born locally, were Berma, born about 1924; Joyce, born about 1926; and Doris, born about 1928. Margaret was born on February 17, 1896 and passed away in Grand Haven on January 28, 1984. Anthony was born in Michigan around 1894 and passed away about December 30, 1958. Anthony and Margaret were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Emery Holzinger II [1900-1958]

In 1935, Emery Holzinger II purchased Ottawa Electric from Max Krueger. The business then was located at 110 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Emery was born in Germany [Austria] in 1900. In 1928 he owned the Electric Shop at 703 Washington, and two years later, on April 16 in Grand Haven, Emery married Margie Scheffers. She was born on March 30, 1910. Emery and Marjie had at least one child, Emery III, who was born about 1933. When the elder Emery died on July 3, 1958, Margie married Charles Bournique [1897-1990] and moved to Marion, Indiana. She died there on June 25, 1992. Emery and Margie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Emery [Emerick] Holzinger I was born in Austria on October 15, 1862. He and his wife, Elizabeth, immigrated to the United States in 1902 and purchased a farm in Robinson Township. Emery I died on January 16, 1923, and Elizabeth lived from 1866 to 1942. Both were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Emery II was their son.

Alexander William Hompe [1865-1938]

When a new building at the Spring Lake Country Club was dedicated on May 31, 1926, Alexander Hompe was one of the directors. He was born in Auburn New York on May 24, 1865. By 1924 he held the title of vice president at Kent State Bank in Grand Rapids. On August 1, 1889, he married Florence Emma Lees in Chicago. She was born in New York City on February 16, 1867 and died in Detroit on November 24, 1919. Alexander passed away on April 15, 1938 in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. He and Florence were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

David Honeywell [1815-1895]

On June 22, 1848, April 5, 1849, and April 15, 1849, David Honeywell bought from the United States government acreage in an unspecified section of Spring Lake Township. The next year, on April 5, he purchased 80 acres in Section 9. David was born in 1815 in New York State [Canada]. Living with him in Spring Lake Township at the time of the 1850 Federal Census was his 30-year-old wife Polly [Mary], also a native of New York, and their six children, all born in Michigan and ranging in age from one to fifteen. By 1860, the family had relocated to Olmstead County, Minnesota. David died in Osceola, South Dakota on August 29, 1895.

Herman Honholt I [1839-1915]

Herman Honholt, a native of Germany, lived from August 1839 to 1915, and his wife, Mary "Minnie" Bolhuis, a native of The Netherlands, lived from June 1845 [1846] to 1907. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Herman, who immigrated to the United States in 1860, had a 36-acre farm in Section 9 of Spring Lake Township. Their children were John, born in September 1876; Clara, who was born in Ferrysburg in May 1880 and married Minno Klouw of Spring Lake; May [Mattie], who was born on April 17, 1882 and married John Kruizenga of Spring Lake; Derk, born in March 1886; and Herman II, born in December 1888.

George William Honner [1866-1936]

George was the son of Edward William and Mercy Bailey Honner. Edward, born on June 3, 1833 in Kingston, Ontario, Canada, was the brother of Thomas Honner, who settled in Grand Haven. Mercy was born on November 17, 1834 in Sussex, England. George was born on April 16, 1866 in Essex, Ontario, Canada. On January 28, 1896 in Grand Haven, he married Mary Agnes, the daughter of Michael and Ellen Collins Maher of Grand Haven. Mary Agnes was born in Grand Haven on July 3, 1873 and died on January 24, 1962 in Detroit. The Honners had three children: George Edward, who was born on December 8, 1896 in Essex, Ontario and died in California on July 28, 1972; Winifred, who was born in Milwaukee on July 6, 1899; and William McKinley, who was born in Grand Haven on September 6, 1901 and died on February 9, 1974 in Detroit. The Honners returned to Grand Haven about 1911. George was a Great Lakes ship's captain.

Thomas Honner I [Honor, Honnor] [1845-1905]

Thomas, born in Coburg, Ontario, Canada on March 2, 1845, was the son of Edward and Maria Howard Honner. Edward was born in Ireland on August 28, 1798 and Maria was born in the same country in 1811. After settling for a while in Utica, New York, the Honner family moved to Canada. In 1862 Thomas started his career as a sailor aboard the schooner Narragansett and followed that profession for the rest of his life on the Atlantic and the Great Lakes. He became captain of the Wisconsin, owned by the Detroit & Milwaukee Railroad until it was sold in 1896 to the Crosby Transportation Company. In April 1898, Thomas was named a United States inspector of hulls, with an office in Grand Haven. He married Elizabeth Duffy of Milwaukee. She was born there in November 1868 and died in Grand Haven after her husband's death. They resided on Columbus Street and had at least five children: Isabelle [Belle], born in Milwaukee in October 1887; Thomas II, born in Michigan in June 1896; Doris, born in Grand Haven in March 1898; William M. "Bennie," born in Grand Haven in 1900; and Elizabeth. Thomas lost his life when the Owen sunk in Lake Superior on November 28, 1905. His nephew, George William Honner, married Mary Agnes Maher of Grand Haven.

Peter Hook [1873-1944]

Peter Hook's farm was located in Section 18 of Allendale Township, where he settled in 1886. He was born in The Netherlands [Grand Rapids] on November 10, 1874 [1873]. On February 18, 1913 in Grand Haven, he married Marie Cornelia Schult. Marie [Mary], was from Canada, where she was born about 1884. She died in 1968 and was buried at Allendale Township Cemetery with Peter, who passed away on August 25, 1944 in Kent County.

Eric R. Hoover [1893-1963]

Born in Hamilton, Canada on February 28, 1893, Eric was the third of four children of Byron and Florence Roop Hoover. His father, Byron, was associated with a street railway company in Canada and died in 1922. His mother, Florence, who was born in Ontario, Canada moved to Cleveland, Ohio. Eric attended business college and was variously employed until 1912 when he became associated with Otis Steel Company of Cleveland. In 1914 he became purchasing agent for the Oldsmobile Motor Works of Lansing. From February 15, 1921 to August 1, 1927, he served as Associated Purchasing Agent for the Pontiac Motor Company, and then Purchasing Agent for the Franklin Motor Company until 1931. Eric next became a sales agent in the Detroit office of the Otis Steel. In November 1936 he was assistant general manager at the Oldberg Manufacturing Company in Detroit. In June 1937 the company was moved to Grand Haven, and in February 1938 Eric was named vice president and general manager of Oldberg. He was an independent in politics and a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Country Club, and Citizens Historical Association. Eric retired from Oldberg in 1958.

On January 24, 1916 in Lansing, Eric married Eva, born on September 14, 1892 at Smith's Falls, Canada. She was the daughter of Edward and Annie Drouchen. The Hoovers' children included Eric Joseph, who served as assistant chief inspector of Oldberg Manufacturing. Eric Joseph was born October 18, 1916 and died November 29, 1980 in Muskegon. Another son, Edward, was born April 29, 1918 and graduated from the University of Notre Dame. The Hoovers also had a daughter, Helena Catherine, who was born April 30, 1922, and a third son, Richard Charles, born January 18, 1927. Eric died in July 1963 of a heart attack while resting in his garden and was pronounced dead upon arrival at a Pontiac hospital. Eva died in Brevard, North Carolina, in February 1986. [Biographical sketch by the Citizens Historical Association, September 20, 1941.]

Jan "John" Hop II [1863-1944]

John Hop II owned a 140-acre farm in Section 29 of Olive Township. He was born in The Netherlands on November 8, 1863. Her married Geertje "Gertie" Vander Zwang in Holland on May 7, 1885. Gertie was born in Michigan in August 1867. John's father, John [Jan] I, had an 80-acre farm across the road in Section 29 of Olive Township, where he also raised livestock. John's and Gertie's children, all born locally, were John III, born in March 1886; Renie, born in May 1888; Rekie, born in June 1891; Gracie, born in November 1893; Bertie, born in August 1898, Margaret, born about 1906, and Wilma, born about 1912. John died in Olive Township on November 11, 1944 and was buried at North Holland Cemetery. The Hop family came to the area in 1877.

Hope [? -1913]

The Grand Haven Daily Tribune carried this sad story on Monday, July 14, 1913: "Hope, one of the handsome Third Ward fire horses, died this morning at about eleven o'clock of inflammation of the bowels. The horse was taken sick Friday night, and little hope had been held for his recovery since. Dr. Nye, the Coopersville veterinary, was called, but he held out no hope for the handsome animal. The death of the horse breaks up the handsome team of grays which had been used for some time at the Third Ward [fire] house."

Benjamin Hopkins [1782-1847]

Born in Tompkins County New York on February 20, 1782 and a veteran of the War of 1812, in which he served as captain, Benjamin Hopkins moved from Tompkins County to Canada in 1831. Following the unsuccessful Canadian Rebellion of 1837, he arrived in Eastmanville, then called Scranton. By 1846 he was one of four farmers who had erected barns, and he also planted one of the first fruit orchards in the county. Benjamin was elected to the first Board of county commissioners in 1842, which in the same year elected him chairman. Benjamin was elected supervisor and school inspector. Between 1846 and 1849 he moved to Mill Point [Spring Lake]. There he built and ran a general store and mill that became known as Hopkins Mill, which later was sold to the Spring Lake Salt Company as the site for the Spring Lake Hotel.

In 1807 Benjamin married Catherine, daughter of Cornelius and Catherine McKinney Lowe. Catherine the daughter was born in New York on March 11, 1784. Her sister, Agnes Bodine Lowe, married Captain Hannibal M. Allen at Smithville, Canada, and later lived in Eastmanville. Catherine's and Benjamin's children, all born in New York, included five sons, and three daughters: Mary [Marcia], who was born about 1812 and became the first teacher at Eastmanville; Cornelia, who was born about 1816 and married Rev. William C. Comfort of Eastmanville; Silas, born in 1817; Bridget Ann, who was born in 1818 and married Le Moyne Smith of Grand Haven and Spring Lake; John Vincent, born in 1819; Hannibal A., born in 1821 and named for his uncle Hannibal Allen; Franklin, born about 1825; and Mordecai, born in 1827 and named for his uncle, Mordecai Lowe. Benjamin died on February 11, 1847, and Catherine passed away five years later. Hopkins Street in Grand Haven was named for the Hopkins family. [Letters in Loutit District Library files from Blanche B. Lane Lowe, and excerpts from Catherine Lowe Hopkins (1817) and Esther E. Henning, dated November 15, 1965, from Coopersville, History of Ottawa County, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

Claude C. Hopkins [1867-1932]

Born at Hillsdale, Hillsdale County on April 24, 1867, Claude Hopkins graduated from Ludington High School. After trying teaching and picking fruit on his uncle's farm in Spring Lake, he entered Swensburg's Business College in Grand Rapids. He became a bookkeeper for Grand Rapids Felt Boot Company and later head bookkeeper for the Bissell Company, where eventually he was put in charge of sales and advertising. Mr. Bissell encouraged him to leave Grand Rapids and take advantage of his talents elsewhere. In Chicago he worked for Swift & Company. When he was 41, Albert Lasker of Lord & Thomas, an advertising agency, asked him to write copy for Van Camp Packing. Claude created advertisements for such automobiles as Reo, Cadillac, Overland, Hudson, and Studebaker, and he wrote for Miller and Goodyear Tire Companies. He became president of Lord & Thomas and later chairman of the Board. Claude was closely connected to Pepsodent and Edna Wallace Hopper Cosmetics, later becoming president. He coined such slogans as "So Pure It Floats" [Ivory Soap], "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion" [Palmolive Soap], and "It Chases Dirt" [Old Dutch Cleanser]. After retirement he ran an advertisement agency from his home. He wrote an autobiography, My Life in Advertising and another one titled The Sport of Kings. Another book, Scientific Advertising, was largely autobiographical. In 1927 he published another autobiographical book titled My Life in Advertising. He was a director of the Volunteers of America and Hope House in Chicago, a home for prisoners released on parole. His annual salary at Lord & Thomas exceeded $185,000 prior to 1920.

Claude's first wife, Clara, was born in Michigan about 1868. Claude and Clara had a daughter, Addie, who was born in Kentucky about 1885. While married to Clara, Claude built Pinecrest [7437 South Walker Road, Fruitport] in 1909 [1912] at a cost of $50,000, the most expensive home on the lake at that time. After divorcing Clara, Claude married the widow Harriet Bentley Moon on July 14, 1914. She was born November 29, 1870 in Prairie City, Illinois. She attended the Jacksonville Female Academy of Music and studied music in Illinois. Harriet was an avid gardener, and also wrote such stories as "My Symphonic Garden" and several articles for House and Garden magazine related to her garden. She attended a luncheon at the White House in 1934 given by Eleanor Roosevelt, where she was honored for helping to organize many garden clubs in Michigan. Each spring she hosted a spring festival on her estate for Tuesday Musicale, to which she would bring outstanding artists for concerts. About the time of his marriage to Harriet, Claude adopted her 15-year-old daughter, Helen B. Moon. Claude died of apoplexy at his home, Pinecrest, on Spring Lake on September 21, 1932 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Helen, who lived from December 26, 1898 to June 29 1986, married Conrad Thornquist after Claude's death. Helen and Conrad lived at Pinecrest. Harriet Moon Hopkins died at Sylvan Nursing Home in Grand Haven on April 2, 1975 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 22, 1932, and Spring Lake Clipper obituary, September 22, 1932.]

David Sprague Hopkins [1834-1918]

Born in Fort Edward, New York on September 5, 1834, David Hopkins moved to Grand Rapids in 1864, where he became an architect of note. In the late 1890s he designed and built Highland Castle at 27 Crescent Hill Drive in Highland Park, where he and his wife spent several summers. David drew the plans for the Hackley and Hume homes in Muskegon, now historical sites, but he was best known for originating a mail order system for selling house plans to homeowners throughout the United States and Canada. David married Mary Patterson in Kalamazoo on December 9, 1858. He died on April 21, 1918. Mary was born in 1836 and died in Grand Rapids on December 1, 1922. She and David were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. They had three sons: George, who lived from 1859 to 1933; Irving, who lived from 1861 to 1919; and Charles, who lived from 1865 to 1928.

[Benjamin] Franklin Hopkins [1824-1855]

Franklin, the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born on October 10, 1824 in New York and came to Eastmanville in 1837 with the family. By 1850 he and his brothers, all sharing living quarters, were listed as lumbermen in Spring Lake Township. Living with Franklin in Spring Lake Township in 1850, were Mary, born about 1812; Silas C., born about 1817; Hannibal, born on September 5, 1821; John Vincent, born in June 1819; and their mother, Catherine, born in 1784. Their father had died three years previously. All household members were born in New York State. Franklin died in Eastmanville on May 13, 1855 and was buried in the family plot at Eastmanville Cemetery. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

Hannibal Allen Hopkins [1821-1871]

Born in Ulysses, New York on September 5, 1821, Hannibal was the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins. He was involved in lumbering and also agricultural pursuits, probably fruit growing, which by 1874, took up half of the improved land of the village. In 1848 Hannibal was elected Ottawa County sheriff. When the Village of Spring Lake was incorporated in 1869, Hannibal was elected its first village president and held that position until his death. In 1870 he was present at the first borings of the Spring Lake Salt Company at the Hopkins Mill site, and when the drillers struck water at 200 feet, he identified it as magnetic waters, and the Magnetic Mineral Springs tourist boom was inaugurated. An 1882 history of Ottawa County noted he served as representative to the State Legislature. Aside from lumbering operations, Hopkins engaged in fruit growing.

In 1851 Hannibal married Emma C., the sister of Reverend William Comfort of Eastmanville. Emma was born in New York 1825. Benjamin and Emma had five children. One of their children, Frances H., became a teacher and in 1882 she was teaching 63 students in the primary department of Spring Lake School. Fannie, who married Fred Brown of Spring Lake, lived from 1860 to 1899. The other children, all born in Michigan, were Frank, who was born about 1857; Louisa, born about 1859; Emma H., who lived from 1862 to 1889 and was the wife of Wilber Smith; and William C., who lived from 1866 to 1871. Hannibal died on July 1, 1871. His widow was living in Spring Lake in 1882 and died of pneumonia in Lansing on May 16, 1891. Hannibal and Emma were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with their three youngest children. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265, and Tribune obituary, May 21, 1891.]

John Vincent Hopkins [1819-1868]

Born in Ulysses, New York, in June 1819, the son of Benjamin Catherine Lowe Hopkins, John immigrated with his family to Canada in 1831 and left in 1837 after the disastrous rebellion. In 1848, with two of his brothers, he built a sawmill at Spring Lake, where he moved after his father's death. John was elected clerk for the organizational meeting of electors of Mill Point [Spring Lake] in 1849, John was put in office as supervisor in 1851 and then from 1858 to 1866. In 1857 John married Sarah Gillette of Ionia County. They had four children. Just prior to his death on September 1, 1868, he and his wife moved to Detroit. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

John William Hopkins I [1814-1883]

Born near Providence, Rhode Island in 1814 John W. Hopkins came to Grand Haven in 1836. He was elected alderman of the Second Ward of Grand Haven's first City Council in 1867 and again in 1868. With George Friant, John operated a lumber and shingle company in Grand Haven during the 1850s and into the 1870s. John was reputed to be "an extensive dealer in lumber and shingles." In October 1860 he married Harriet Morinda Eldred, who was born in Hector, New York, on December 14, 1834, and educated at the Wesleyan Seminary at Lima, New York. She died on February 18, 1904. John and Harriet had four children: Charles, who died in infancy; Hattie, who was born in March 1862 and married George Jenner of Grand Haven; John W. II, who was born about 1864 and moved to Chicago; and Laura, who was born in April 1872, married John Harvey of Grand Haven, and died in May 1902. John Harvey was born in Canada in February 1867. Prior to 1864, John the father built a home on Third Street, just south of Washington Street [15 South Third]. After John's death, the house was sold to Stephen L. Munroe. John I died on February 11, 1883 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Harriet. Fannie Eldred of Grand Haven was Harriet's sister. [Tribune obituary, February 19, 1904.]

Mordecai [Mordica, Mordicai] Lowe Hopkins [1827-1894]

Mordecai, the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born in New York in 1827 and arrived in Eastmanville in 1837 with the family. He worked as a clerk in a Grand Haven store, and then joined his brothers at their sawmill in Spring Lake. On April 2, 1849 he was elected clerk when Mill Point electors met to organize the village. Mordecai was reelected and later became County Judge. He represented the district in both the House and the Senate of the Michigan legislature in 1855 and 1856. He enlisted in the 3rd Michigan Cavalry as Quartermaster on September 7, 1861 and was discharged the following year on June 1. [Hopkins was listed as "Mortimer L. Hopkins" in his service record.] During the remainder of the war, he was senior editor of the Chicago Times, under editor Storey. He returned to Michigan in 1871 and engaged in law business.

Mordecai married Sarah Frances Rathbone [Rathbun], then 18, on September 21, 1857, in Grand Rapids. Sarah was the daughter of Alfred Day Rathbone, an early attorney of that city. Mordecai and Sarah had at least two daughters: Emma, born in Michigan about 1859, and Anna, also a Michigan native, born around 1861. Mordecai died in Grand Rapids on May 19, 1894, the last member of Benjamin's family. At the time of his death, he owned some acreage along the shore of Spring Lake, part of which became the site for the Spring Lake Yacht Club. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265, "The Voice of the River," by Mrs. John Ball, and Tribune obituary, May 21, 1894.]

Moses Barreth Hopkins I [1820–1869]

Born in Huron County, Ohio on June 16, 1820, Moses Hopkins studied law in Geneva, Illinois, where he became a member of the bar in 1849 and came to Grand Haven in September 1851. He was justice of the peace, circuit court commissioner, prosecuting attorney for Ottawa County, and circuit court judge. A staunch Republican, Moses was elected to the Michigan State Legislature for the 1867-68 term. On February 13, 1840, in Milan, Ohio, he married Lamira Cockran, born March 2, 1823 in Cambridge, Vermont, one of 16 children. In 1834 Lamira had moved with her parents to Milan. Moses and Lamira had four children: Amanda, Augusta, Harry, and Moses Barreth II. Amanda, who was born in 1843 in Ohio, married Henry Bigelow of Grand Haven. Moses and Lamira resided on Third Street. After Moses died in Grand Haven on October 24, 1869, Lamira married William Irons. She died on December 3, 1891. [Tribune obituary, December 4, 1891.]

Silas C. Hopkins [1817-1855]

Silas, the son of Benjamin and Catherine Lowe Hopkins, was born in New York on May 8, 1817 and came to Eastmanville in 1837 with the family. With Thomas W. White, Silas platted the Village of Mill Point [Spring Lake] on December 10, 1849. On April 2, 1849 Silas was elected supervisor when Mill Point electors met to organize the Village. He died on November 17, 1855 and was buried at Eastmanville Cemetery. [History of Ottawa County, 1882, p. 115, and Michigan Pioneer Collections, Vol. 9, pp. 264-265.]

Duane K. Hoppe [1929-1975]

Hoppe Pharmacal Corporation produced vitamins, antacids, and fluoride tablets. The business was located at 1634 Marion in Grand Haven. The company's founder, Duane Hoppe, formerly of Grand Rapids, died of accidental causes in Indian Rocks Beach, Florida in July 1975. He was born on December 2, 1929. His wife, Norma A., was vice president-secretary and ran the business with George Tilton, president, after Duane died. The Hoppes resided in Muskegon.

Gordon G. Hornby I [1914-1999]

The son of Frederick and Pearl M. Hall Hornby, Gordon was born in Detroit on January 11, 1914. He married Anna Marie "Irene" Kirk on April 6, 1936 in Chicago. The Hornbys moved from Chicago to Spring Lake in 1949, when Gordon became the owner and operator of West Michigan Rubber & Supply Company in Muskegon. The Hornbys lived at 308 North Park. He was a Rotarian, a member of the Spring Lake Country Club, and secretary/treasurer of the Spring Lake Yacht Club. Their children included Judy Ennenga of Spring

Lake; Gordon II, who married Mary, the daughter of Kenneth and Lois King; and moved to Muskegon; and Michael of Traverse City. Gordon died on September 5, 1999.

Paul Haverstick Hostetter [1899-1968]

Paul Hostetter was founder of the Hostetter News Agency, located first at 112 Washington before moving in 1938 to 135 Washington. Paul moved from his home state of Pennsylvania to Muskegon in the early 1920s. He arrived in Grand Haven in 1926 as an employee of the Muskegon News Agency, which he bought two years later. In the early years of the business, Paul partnered with William Grunst of Grand Haven. William owned a tobacco shop at 112 Washington. On October 2, 1923 Paul married Grace Agnes Hume in Muskegon. Grace, the daughter of George Hume, was born about 1901 in Muskegon. Around 1930 he married Mildred A. Taylor. That year they resided at 222 Lafayette Street. Their children were Carol Ann, who was born on May 24, 1933 and remained in the Grand Haven area, and Judy, who married Paul Fuller and moved to Illinois. Judy and a son, Paul II, were residing in Illinois in 2011. Paul was born April 9, 1899 in Manheim, Pennsylvania and died towards the end of October 1968. Mildred remained in their home at 1000 Sheldon after his death, but eventually moved to Sandpiper Adult Foster Care Home at 16908 130th Avenue in Crockery Township. Mildred lived from August 13, 1903 to July 7, 1996, and their home on Sheldon was sold the next year. Paul and Mildred were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Carol died on July 8, 2012 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 16, 2012.]

Frank Leonardo Hough [1858-1938]

Frank Hough owned a 29-acre fruit farm in Section 10 of Spring Lake Township. In the 1880 census he was listed as a "Horticulturist." By 1912 he had sold 18 of his westernmost acreage to Olaf Dahlman, who owned an adjacent farm. Frank retained 11 acres with frontage on Spring Lake. Frank was born in Lenawee County on July 6, 1858. In 1880 he married Zoe McLain. On January 11, 1893 in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, he married Eugenia Anna Heinlen. Frank died in Ypsilanti on December 21, 1938.

Moses Henry Houghton [1846-1910]

The Unitarian Church in Grand Haven was organized in April 1875, when Moses Houghton arrived as pastor. Prior to his arrival the church had a series of temporary clergymen. When Rev. Houghton left Grand Haven about eight months later, he was replaced by Rev. George W. Cook. Moses answered several calls in the east and Midwest after serving in Grand Haven. He was born in Locke's Mill Maine on March 17, 1846, graduated from Harvard School of Divinity in 1873, and had his first pastorate in Bath, Maine. After the death of his first wife, Agnes Abbott, he married Ida Langdon. Moses died in Springville, New York on May 16, 1910. He and Agnes had one child, Clifton Elwell Houghton, who was born in 1868.

Henry [Howard, Horace] H. Howe [1840- ?]

Henry Howe, born in New York about 1840, enlisted in Company K of the 13th New York Infantry on August 22, 1862. He transferred to Company I of the 140th New York Infantry on June 23 the next year. On the following July 13 Henry was listed as a deserter. After the war he became a saw filer in this area but began operating heavy equipment in 1875. In 1876 he became engineer at the Bell Sawmill in Spring Lake. Henry was born about 1840. He was listed in the 1893 Compendium as a resident of Spring Lake Township.

John Howlett [1834-1903]

John, the son of Robert and Elizabeth Thompson Howlett and the brother Nelson Howlett, was born in Plymouth, Wayne County, on March 10, 1834. He was one year old when his parents moved to a farm in Grandville. John died at the home of his sister Ann on January 26, 1903. Ann was married to William R. Loutit of Grand Haven. John was interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Nelson Robert Howlett [1840-1920]

Born in Grandville on March 29, 1840, Nelson was the son of Robert and Elizabeth Thompson Howlett. Nelson had an active interest in the Munroe, Boyce & Company Sawmill, in which Stephen L. Munroe and Sherman H. Boyce were partners. In 1876 he was elected secretary of the Ottawa County Booming Company. Nelson was president of the National Bank of Grand Haven in the early 1900s. It was Nelson who owned the toll bridge between Spring Lake and Grand Haven, the subject of substantial controversy in 1902. He was a Mason.

On May 1, 1867 in Grand Haven, Nelson married Sarah Cordelia, daughter of Leonard and Amarilla Wheeler Munroe. Sarah was born on March 16, 1841. Dr. Stephen Munroe of Grand Haven and later Albion was her uncle. The Howletts had two daughters, both born in Grand Haven: Orpha Howlett who was born on August 16, 1868, and Marian Cordelia Howlett, who was born on September 27, 1870. Following their divorce in 1872, Sarah and the two children moved to Albion, where she lived for a year with her uncle Stephen Munroe, who later provided her and his grandnieces with a home in that city.

Orpha married Dr. Herman Frederick Ratte [1864-1938] of Los Angeles, California, where she died on April 17, 1947. Marian on April 25, 1895 married David Albertson Garfield I [1866-1949] in Chicago. She passed away on January 10, 1940 in Jackson, Michigan. Sarah, who made Albion her home for the rest of her life, died on January 9, 1913 while visiting Orpha in Los Angeles and was buried at Riverside Cemetery in Albion.

On November 14, 1893, in Spring Lake, Nelson married Frederika Mathilde [Mathilda] Schneider Baker, the widow of William Chapman Baker III. Frederika and William had a son Looe, who was born in Detroit on January 18, 1884. Looe spent his youth in Spring Lake, and opened a medical practice in Minneapolis, where he resided with his wife and children. Mathilde was born in St. Paul, Minnesota on January 11, 1861 [1855]. She died on June 19, 1913 at Yonkers, New York, following a stroke that left her paralyzed while on a trip to New York City. Nelson and Mathilde spent summers at a 45-acre estate in Sections 15 and 10 of Spring Lake Township [17600 West Spring Lake Road, just east of today's Spring Lake Yacht Club], owned by William Chapman Baker II. The Howletts' primary residence was 482 Sheldon Terrace in Grand Haven. Nelson sold the Sheldon Terrace home to William Hatton and moved to 17 North Fourth Street, where he died on March 28, 1920 and was interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery. Interred with him were his wife Mathilde and her son Looe, who died on July 16, 1954. [Tribune obituaries, June 19, 1913 and March 29, 1920.]

Robert Howlett I [1805-1896]

Born in River Trent, England on June 10, 1805, Robert Howlett in 1830 immigrated to Geneva, New York, then to Plymouth, Wayne County, and finally to Grand Rapids, where he arrived in 1832 with 30 head of cattle. That year he purchased 293 acres in Wyoming, Kent County. The next year he married Elizabeth Thompson of Plymouth, Wayne County. She was born in Carlton, England on May 24, 1810 and died in Grand Haven on April 17, 1887. George Thompson of Grand Haven was her brother.

In 1854 Robert sold his Kent County farm and settled in Grand Haven. On March 1, 1856 he bought 27 acres in Section 22 of Spring Lake Township. In Grand Haven he purchased the schooner Heligoland. William R. Loutit, became the ship's captain. In 1862 William married the Howletts' daughter, Ann Elizabeth, who was born in Grandville on March 12, 1838. Robert Howlett bought the tug Mary Bell in Buffalo, New York, and for eight years operated it out of Grand Haven, acting as captain. It was the first tug brought to Grand Haven harbor. He also owned at various times the schooners Japan, Little Bell, and Minerva. Later he purchased the Pentland, which carried ore to the blast furnaces in Fruitport, again with himself as master. Robert also was secretary of the Ottawa County Booming Company when it was organized in 1865, a post his son would later hold. Robert constructed the building at 201-203 Washington in 1872, which was known for decades as the Howlett Block.

Robert and Elizabeth lived at 704 Pennoyer. He died on October 24, 1896, honored with a Mason's funeral, and interred in the Howlett-Loutit Mausoleum at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. They had several children in addition to Ann Elizabeth. Their first born, Robert Howlett, lived from 1832 to 1903; John Howlett, another son, was born in Plymouth on March 10, 1834; and Nelson Howlett, a third son, was born in Grandville on March 29, 1840.

Birney G. Hoyt [1885-1916]

Birney, the son of Charles and Esther Hoyt of Grand Haven, was born on June 26, 1885 and graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1905. He entered the insurance field in the early 1900s, sharing an office with his father on the second floor of 208 Washington and later at 100 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. On November 26, 1911, he married Bessie Gunther Aepens in Grand Haven. She was born in Mississippi about 1889. In Grand Haven, he and his parents lived at 528 Lake Avenue. Birney died of pneumonia in Detroit on May 14, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of his death, he was working as a railroad clerk in Detroit.

Charles Keeler Hoyt [1859-1918]

Born in Jackson on June 18, 1859, Charles was next to the youngest child in a family of six. His father was Nelson Hoyt, born on January 16, 1820 in Manlius, New York. His mother Elizabeth “Betsy” was the daughter of Peter Barber. Elizabeth died on August 4, 1863 at the age of 31. Charles taught school in Jackson, Hanley, and Hudsonville, and then left teaching to start a general store in Hudsonville, which he operated until 1893. He served as postmaster for four years. He also was a member of the bar and had a law office in Grand Rapids in the late 1880s. In 1893 he represented Ottawa County in the State Legislature. From 1895 to 1901 he was Ottawa County clerk, in 1902 and 1903 he was mayor of Grand Haven, and in 1904 he became justice of the peace and chief deputy game warden of Michigan. In 1904 he opened a general insurance office in Grand Haven, which included real estate and collections. He was a Republican and member of the Congregational Church.

On November 18, 1880 in Jamestown, Charles married Esther M., born on March 19, 1863, the daughter of William H. and Anna Barber McEachron of New York. The Hoyts had eight children, all born locally: Birney J., who was born in January 1885; Ralph, born in July 1888; Harold, born in May 1891; Marjorie [Madge/Maggie], born in August 1893; Victor H., born in May 1896; Esther, born in December 1899; Mary, who lived from 1900 to April 26, 1989; and Nelson Charles, who was born in 1902 and relocated to Detroit. Esther, the mother, who had taught at the Belle Schoolhouse, died of congestive heart failure on June 15, 1906 at the family home at 528 Lake Avenue. Charles married Selina Fannie Shaw [Snow] on December 24, 1907 in Grand Haven. She was born on September 30, 1877 in Ontario, Canada. Charles died on July 29, 1918 in Lansing and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Selina married Clifford Dale Coffey [1892-1973] in Detroit on January 24, 1920. It was her third marriage, his second. [Tribune obituary, June 15, 1906 and Tribune article, April 1907.]

Alonzo Hubbard [1810-1860] and Elvira Poole Hubbard [1812-1894]

Alonzo Hubbard married Elvira Poole on March 13, 1832. She was born in Goshen, Massachusetts in 1812. She and Alonzo were living in Cleveland in 1850. Elvira moved to Grand Haven not long after Alonzo died in 1860. A native of New York, Alonzo was born in 1810. He and Elvira had a son, George E. Hubbard, who was born in Hamilton, New York on May 13, 1833, and two daughters, Henrietta “Nettie” Hubbard, who was born in 1839 in Cleveland, Ohio, married Walter Talbot [1844-1919] in Grand Haven on January 23, 1872, moved to Phoenix, Arizona, and died there on December 18, 1922, and Ellen “Nellie” Hubbard, who was born in December 1850, also in Ohio, and married Heber Squier II of Grand Haven. In 1860 Elvira and her two daughters were living in Grand Haven. Ten years later the three still resided in Grand Haven, although Nettie also was listed simultaneously in the 1870 Federal Census as a teacher in Chicago. In Grand Haven, Elvira worked as a dressmaker. Ten years later, in the Federal Census of 1880, Elvira and Nettie were living in Chicago. Elvira, who was born in Goshen, Massachusetts on April 27, 1812, died on February 17, 1894 in Grand Haven and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In March 1863, Nettie had a part in the “Tableaux,” organized and directed by Mary Ann Hubbard. It was a tribute to the soldiers in blue who fought for the north in the early years of the Civil War. While living in Phoenix, Nettie served as second regent for the State of Arizona from 1902 to 1911.

George Edward Hubbard [1833-1891]

Born on May 13, 1833 in Hamilton, New York, George was the son of Alonzo and Elvira Poole Hubbard and brother of Henrietta “Nett” Hubbard, wife of Walter Talbot of Phoenix, Arizona, and Nellie [Ellen] Hubbard, who married Heber Squier of Grand Haven. After George’s birth, the family moved to Detroit. From there George was sent to Cleveland to live with his grandparents and attend school. By 1847 George’s parents were in Cleveland, and he finished high school there. After a successful start in the hardware business in Cleveland, George went to Chicago in 1854, where he pursued the same line of work for two years before coming to Grand Haven in 1856. A tinsmith himself, he opened the first tin and hardware store in Grand Haven at the northeast corner of Washington and First Streets, specializing in stoves, hand-wrought tin, copper, and iron products. In 1859 the American Express Company opened an office in Grand Haven and appointed George its first agent, the first to serve west of Grand Rapids. An 1863 business directory listed George as an express and insurance agent, as well as a hardware and cutlery dealer. In the 1870 census George was listed as a hardware merchant, and in 1871 he completed construction of the first three-story brick building in Grand Haven to house his tin and hardware business. George was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1872, in 1873, and again in 1880. He served as city alderman of the First Ward in 1883. In 1882 he was vice president of the Herald Publishing Company. Two years later he was in the wholesale and retail tobacco trade and a producer of cigars with James C. Avery. He was a charter member of the Masons, and he was part of the Grand Haven Concert Band when it was formed in 1868.

On March 16, 1856, in Cuyahoga County, Ohio, George married Christiana, daughter of John Landreth. She was born at Clayton, New York on August 16, 1836 and died in Grand Haven on August 2, 1920. Her family came to Dexter, Washtenaw County, then moved to Cleveland. The Hubbards had three children: George, who was born in 1858 and moved to Chicago; Mamie [Marion] F. “May” who was born in 1861 and married Edward P. Dake of Grand Haven; and Henrietta “Nettie,” who was born on December 25, 1867 and married Will [William] Weston of Grand Haven. The Hubbards resided at 220 Columbus Street and 114 South Fourth. George died in Phoenix, Arizona on July 25, 1891. Both Hubbards were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with other family members. [Tribune obituaries, July 27, 1891, March 12, 1894 and August 25, 1920.]

Gurdon Saltonstall Hubbard [1802-1886]

In spring 1819, a team of fur traders traveled from Chicago along the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, arriving at the mouth of the Grand River in early May that year. Gurdon Hubbaard was a member of the party, which was led by Antoine Deschamps. Gurdon, the son of Elizur and Abigail Sage Hubbard, was born in Windsor, Vermont on August 22, 1802. At the time of his voyage out of Chicago, he was in the second year of his five-year indenture with the American Fur Company. He and the others wanted to witness the Indian “Feast of the Dead,” which would start on the day of the full moon in early May [May 10] and last eight to ten days. Toward the close of the annual event, the fur traders witnessed the execution of an Indian. The Indian had slain another Indian and was unable to atone for his misdeed. Gurdon quoted the doomed Indian as saying, “I fled to the marshes at the head of the Muskegon hoping that the Great Spirit would favor me in the hunt, so I could repay you for your lost son. I was not successful. Here is the knife with which I killed your son, by it I wish to die. Save my wife and children. I am done.” The chief took the knife, handed it to his oldest son, and said, “Kill him.” The knife went into the victim’s heart. Gurdon concluded his story, “. . . and the tragedy was ended.”

Gurdon settled permanently in Chicago in 1834 and was credited with building that city’s first stockyard. In Chicago he bought a cabin near Lake Michigan from Billy Caldwell [Sauganash], who may have had ties to the Grand Haven area. [Edmunds located Gurdon in Danville in south central Illinois in 1834.] Gurdon married Elaner Berry. Gurdon died in Chicago on September 14, 1886. [For a detailed account of the execution, see Lillie, pages 94-97.]

William Henry Hubbard [1831-1861]

On February 17, 1858 in Grand Rapids, Mary Ann Mixter Cutler married William Hubbard. The couple in 1860 was living in Grand Haven, where William worked as a forwarding agent. He was born in Leverett, Massachusetts in 1831 and died in San Francisco of consumption on November 6, 1861. He had gone to California for his health. His body was returned to Grand Rapids for burial the next summer. He and Mary Ann had one child, a daughter Kate, who died on June 6, 1861, three weeks before her first birthday. In 1870 Mary Ann was living in Grand Haven with Isaac Hunting and his family. Isaac had married Mary Ann's older sister, Nancy Hastings Cutler, but after they divorced Nan relocated to Grand Rapids for the remainder of her life.

At the start of the Civil War, Mary Ann Hubbard had an idea. Despite her grief over losing a child and a husband within a span of months, in March 1863, she organized and directed a series of "Tableaux" as a tribute to the soldiers in blue who fought for the north. Her original plan called for 19 acts, but four of those were eliminated. The remaining 15 starred many Grand Haven residents with family names such as Ferry, White, Leggat, Howlett, Munroe, Jones, Slayton, and Sanford

Mary Ann, the daughter of Robert [1807-1890] and Julia Leonard [1809-1975] Cutler, was born in Amherst, Massachusetts on October 8, 1833 but relocated to Grand Rapids with her parents in 1856. She died after a fall from the front porch of her home at 114 Madison Street on February 8, 1912 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids with William and their daughter. Dwight Cutler, Grand Haven mayor and businessman, was Mary Ann's uncle.

Herald L. Hubbell [1894-1984]

The family of Herald L. and Mabelle N. Hubbell owned the cottage at 90 Poplar Ridge in Highland Park for 50 years before selling it to William and Julie Beaton. Herald was born on September 28, 1894 and died in Zeeland on June 19, 1984. Mabelle lived from June 7, 1896 to October 24, 1982. Norwood Hubbel, born on September 4, 1918, was their son.

Norwood E. Hubbell [1918-1973]

In 1946 Norwood Hubbell and Henry T. Parker formed Harbor Industries for the manufacture of "point of purchase" advertising equipment. In June five years later Norwood, Henry, William Wendell Vivian, and John Wierenga started Fleetwood Furniture Company. Located at 8 North Seventh Street, the company specialized in the manufacture of juvenile "Swing-Line" furniture. The son of Herald and Mabelle Hubbell, Norwood was born on September 4, 1918 and passed away in Holland on August 27, 1973. Norwood resided in Zeeland with his wife, Helen.

Carl August Gustave "Gus" Hubert [1846-1911]

Born in Germany on November 14, 1846, Gus was the son of August Hubert, who was born in Breslan, Germany on January 18, 1822 and died in Grand Haven on March 5, 1900. Gus's mother, August Amelia [Emelia], was born about 1825 and died in Grand Haven on March 21, 1921. Gus's siblings included Carl of Blendon; Herman; Anna Barhe of Lisbon; and Matilda "Tillie," who married Lachman Kolberg of Grand Haven. Gustave immigrated from Germany to the United States in 1869 and settled in Grand Haven.

Hubert was known for his skill in mechanics and his many inventions. In 1872 he established the Grand Haven Wagon Works at the corner of Third and Elliott Streets [255 Third Street]. His father, August sometimes helped him, and he also hired Mr. Hoffmeistert to do the woodwork and Mr. Teunis for the ironwork. By 1892 the name of the business had been changed to Grand Haven Manufacturing Company. That year he patented the celery plow, used successfully in Michigan. In addition to the celery plow, the company produced wagon jacks, shears, and punches, and did general blacksmithing and wagon repair.

On April 9, 1874, in Grand Haven, Gus married Augusta Hubert. The daughter of August Hubert, she was born in Johnsburg, New York on July 1, 1856. August was treasurer of the Grand Haven Manufacturing Company. Gus's and Augusta's children, all born in Michigan, included Matilda, who was born about 1875 and married Lawrence Breitels; Bertha M., who was born in October 1877 and married Richard Huizenga; Henry G., who was born in April 1880; Anna "Annie," who was born in November 1882 and married Henry Van Dongen of Grand Haven; and Frederick William, who was born on December 14, 1889. Henry became superintendent of the John F. Corl Piano Company in Grand Haven. Henry and his wife, Jennie, lived at 1103 Washington. The Hubert children all lived in Grand Haven. Gustave died of "kidney trouble" at his home at 212 North Third Street on March 19, 1911 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Augusta passed away on June 16, 1935 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, March 6, 1900, March 20, 1911, and March 24, 1912.]

Homer Edson Hudson [1827-1914]

In 1872 South Georgetown was renamed Hudsonville in honor of its first postmaster, Homer Hudson. He held the post until 1881. Homer was born in Cleveland, Ohio on June 6, 1827. He moved to Ottawa County in 1848, purchased land in Georgetown Township from the Jenison brothers [Hiram, Lucius, and Luman Jenison], and settled there. He was among the first in Ottawa County to plant fruit orchards. In 1848 he married Clarinda "Clara" Burt, who was born in Ohio on October 2, 1829. They had at least five children, including Horace Hudson, the eldest, who lived from October 18, 1849 to December 10, 1912. Clara died on October 19, 1888 and was buried at Georgetown Township Cemetery. Homer married Marietta Manning on March 7, 1890 in Plainfield, Kent County. She lived from 1828 to January 17, 1904 and also was buried at Georgetown Township Cemetery. Homer passed away on November 26, 1914 in Belding, Ionia County, and was buried near his two wives.

J. P. Hughes [? - ?]

J. P. Hughes opened a photography studio in Grand Haven in January 1865. William Cass may have been co-owner or an employee, but the two men shared the photography business in some manner. [In an advertisement that appeared in the Grand Haven News in March 1865, Hughes was listed as the sole owner.] See also William Cass.

Wilbur Oren Hughes [1919-2000]

In the 1950s Cope's Hardware Store, owned by Earl A. Cope, did business at 820 East Savidge Street in Spring Lake. It was followed in the late 1970s by Village Hardware, owned by Wilbur O. Hughes. On November 16, 1940, Wilbur married Mary Zurkewich in Grand Haven. He served with the United States Army during WWII. Wilbur was born in Muskegon on September 1, 1919. He died on August 20, 2000. By 1989 John Klingensmith owned the business. Mary, who was born in Robinson Township, lived from July 11, 1917 to May 3, 2001. She and Wilbur were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Henry Huisman [1905-1962]

Born in Grand Rapids on August 9, 1905, Henry was the son of Klaas and Gertrude Brandt Huisman. Klaas died on March 25, 1963. Henry became a registered civil engineer in 1939 and was city surveyor for over 20 years, as well as surveyor for Ottawa County. His employment included work on the Memorial Bridge, the harbor survey for the Corps of Engineers, the Sewage Disposal Plant, and the Colfax-Sheldon sewer line. He was a partner in T & H Associates [Terrill & Huisman], a private engineering firm. He was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church and Grand Haven Christian School Board. Henry was scoutmaster for the Boy Scout troop and was interested in youth activities. On October 2, 1934 he married Jennie Hoebeke. They had three sons, James of Saginaw, Gary, and Donald. Henry died at his home, 1875 Doris, on July 21, 1962. Jennie passed away on July 5, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 21, 1962.]

John Huisman [1911-1977]

The son of Klaas and Gertrude Brandt Huisman, John, in 1953 started Haven Harness at 234 Washington. His company produced wiring for home appliances and other items. He sold to Electrical Assemblies in 1956. John resided at 830 Slayton. He was born on September 24, 1911 and died in Grand Haven on October 22, 1977. He married Dorothy Schoonbeck in Muskegon on October 1, 1936. Born on April 1, 1915, she continued to reside at the home on Slayton after John's death. She was a lunchroom worker with the Grand Haven Public Schools. Dorothy passed away on November 22, 2004 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Klaas Huisman [1878-1963]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born on June 13, 1878, Klaas Huisman and his wife, Gertrude, immigrated to the United States in 1901 and eventually settled in Grand Haven. In 1930 the Huismans resided at 529 Madison Street. Klaas worked as grounds keeper at Spring Lake County Club. He died on March 25, 1963 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife, who was born in The Netherlands in 1880 and died in 1937. Among their children were: Henry, who was born in Grand Rapids on August 9, 1905; Margaret, who was born in Holland on February 21, 1910, married Clarence J. Ruiter [1905-1977], and died on August 13, 1991, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and John, who was born on September 24, 1911.

Harm Huizenga [1849-1921]

Harm Huizenga and his wife Bertha had a small farm at 1245 Washington. Harm, a native of The Netherlands, lived from April 1849 [1848] to 1921 and his wife from March 1846 to 1925. She also was born in The Netherlands. They had two sons: Richard, born in The Netherlands on May 14, 1877 and passed away on April 2, 1937, and Cobert, who was born locally on April 12, 1883 and died on January 31, 1905. Bertha lived from 1846 to 1925. She and Harm and their two sons were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John Huls I [1893-1955], Edward Huls [1917-1980], and John Huls II [1926-1994]

Brothers Edward and John Huls owned Huls Garage at 122 North Ferry at least as early as 1940. By the late 1940s the garage was located at 321 North Seventh and later at 1441 Slayton. Their father, John Huls I, also participated in the business. He was born in Illinois on February 28, 1893. His wife, Jessie, was born in The Netherlands on October 1, 1895 and passed away on March 27, 1977. In 1920 the family resided in Crockery Township, but by 1930 it was located in Spring Lake. In the mid-1920s, John was a mechanic with the Vyn Transportation Company. He and his family were then living at 133 Elliott Street and later moved to 529 Madison. John passed away on April 22, 1955.

Edward lived from June 21, 1917 to April 21, 1980 and. Edward married Alice J. Bastianes on May 21, 1941 in Grand Rapids. They resided at 15213 160th Avenue in Grand Haven Township. Alice lived from July 20, 1917 to July 8, 2009.

John Huls II lived from July 11, 1926 to April 20, 1994. On June 17, 1949 he married Helen Warber in Grand Haven. The daughter of William and Augusta Gross Warber, she was born on December 9, 1928 and died on March 22, 2019. John and Helen lived at 1210 South Griffin. The Hulses and their spouses were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Alexander H. Hume [1871-1962]

A native of Canada, where he was born on January 19, 1871, Alexander Hume moved to Grand Haven, worked for the Grand Trunk Railroad, and later was employed as traffic manager at Challenge Machinery. He was a lifetime member of the Masons and a charter member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. Alexander married Minnie Waters in Grand Haven on July 21, 1898. They resided at 1304 Pennoyer. Minnie was born in England on October 25, 1874, immigrated to the United States when she was 7, and died on March 5, 1955. Alexander died on May 9, 1962 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

Seymour [Seymor] B. Humphrey [1848-1911]

Seymour was born in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin on May 31, 1848. His parents were Samuel B. and Annie M. White Humphrey. Seymour worked at his father's flour mill after completing his formal education in Milwaukee when he was 17. In 1871 he left the flour mill business to work as bookkeeper for the Engelman Transportation Company in Milwaukee. Two years later the company transferred him to Grand Haven. In 1875 Engelman Transportation was purchased by Northwestern Transportation Company of Milwaukee. Seymour was secretary and treasurer of the Grand Haven and Spring Lake Rowing Company. On July 13, 1881 in Milwaukee, Seymour married Alice A. Yates in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. He died on October 8, 1911 and was buried at Wauwatosa Cemetery in Wisconsin. Alice, a year younger than Seymour, was born in Grand Rapids. She died on July 8, 1925 in Stowe, Vermont and was buried at Riverbank Cemetery.

Henry Harrison Hungerford II [1857-1945]

In 1877 Henry Hungerford and Charles Alton Pearson started the Pearson & Hungerford Hardware and Cutlery business in Spring Lake. They advertised that they were "Dealers in Heavy & Shelf Hardware, Paints and Oils. Plumbing and Steam Fitting a Specialty. Jobbers in Tin, Copper, and Sheet Iron." It apparently closed not long after 1880. On October 11, 1882 in Spring Lake Henry married Eveline [Evaline/Evelyn] Gee. She was born in Palmyra, Ohio on February 5, 1861, passed away in Saugatuck on August 15, 1936, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Henry, who lived from September 22, 1857 to October 1945, worked as a tinsmith. He died in Saugatuck and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Horace Harrison and Rosina Miller Hungerford I were his parents.

Horace Harrison Hungerford I [1804-1857]

Horace was born on October 23, 1804 in Frankfort, Herkimer County, New York, the son of Amos and China Harrison Hungerford. He moved to Nortonville in 1845 and then to Spring Lake, where he became a tinsmith. On November 8, 1843 he married his second wife, Rosina [Rosanna] Miller, who was born in France [Germany], lived from December 25, 1826 to March 7, 1895 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In 1880 Rosina was a servant in the Hunter Savidge home. Horace was one of the charter members and officers of the Grand Haven Lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows in 1850. Horace evidently had a son from his first marriage, Horace II, who died in Spring Lake on January 18, 1855 at the age of 19 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Horace and Rosina had a daughter Mary, who was born locally about 1844, and a son John T., who was born locally about 1846. Another son, Henry Harrison Hungerford, was born on September 22, 1857. Rosina and Horace's other children were Mary Elizabeth, born about 1844; Jenny, born about 1846; and Frederick John, whose birth date was unknown, but was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Grant Hunter [1834-1906]

Grant Hunter was born in New York on August 19, 1834. He married Sarah Gesaw, who was born in Canada in September 1833 and immigrated to the United States in 1856. By 1880 Grant and Sarah were settled in Ferrysburg, where Grant was first a laborer and later a farmer. Their son, Robert, was born in Ontario, Canada on June 3, 1856, and a daughter Catherine was born in Ottawa County in November 1871 [1868] and married James B. Johnston of Ferrysburg. Catherine was widowed in 1896 and by 1900 was living with her parents. Grant and Sarah had another daughter, Kate, who was born in 1869. Grant passed away on June 27, 1906 in Spring Lake.

Robert Grant Hunter [1856-1935]

Robert was born in Callander, Ontario, Canada on June 3, 1856, the son of Grant and Sarah Gesaw Hunter. Robert first married Alice L. Larraway in Grand Haven on January 18, 1879. Alice, the daughter of Wallace and Julia Larraway, was born in 1860. Robert and Alice had one child, Jessie, who was born in Grand Haven in 1879. Then, on February 15, 1883, in Grand Haven, Robert married Mary Christina Lang, who was born in Canada in April 1859. Robert and Mary lived in Ferrysburg and had a son, William L., who was born in May 1884, married Mary E. Penn [1894-1967], and died on July 19, 1955 in Silver Lake, Indiana; a daughter, Mary Loutit, who was born on June 12, 1889 in Ferrysburg, married Howard W. Kaar [1887-1977], and died in Louisiana in 1981; and a second son, Arthur Leroy, born in Ferrysburg on May 10, 1899, married Maudie May Sickafus [August 3, 1907-March 18, 1995], and died in 1952 in Indiana. Robert G. died on October 21, 1935 in Winona Lake, Indiana, and his wife, Mary, died on September 30, 1940 in Gary, Indiana. The Hunters were buried at Warsaw. Robert had a sister, Kate, who married James B. Johnston of Ferrysburg. Alice's second marriage was to Rudolph C. Schriber [Schriver/ Schneider].

Theron F. Hunter [1815-1892]

A native of Brownsville, New York, where he was born on July 25, 1815, Theron Hunter moved to Marshall, Calhoun County in 1856 and came to Crockery Township the next year, where he established a 160-acre farm in Section 25. On January 13, 1842, he married Priscilla Becker, who was born in Onondaga County, New York. Theron died on November 13, 1892 and was buried with his wife at Ottawa Center Cemetery in Crockery Township. Priscilla [Percilla] lived from August 13, 1823 to August 7, 1882.

David Dyer Hunting I [1892-1992]

The son of Edgar and Emma Grace "Daisy" Dyer Hunting, David was born in Grand Rapids on August 26, 1892. In 1870 Edgar, who was born in Grand Haven, his parents [Isaac and Nancy Hunting], and his brother, Robert [1867-1868], were living in Grand Haven, where they had been since 1856. By 1880 the family had moved to Grand Rapids. David served overseas as first lieutenant with the 85th Division during WWI. He returned to Grand Rapids after the war and found employment with the Metal Office Furniture Company, later known as Steelcase. David was with the company for 77 years, retiring as vice chairman in 1991. On May 25, 1925 David married Mary Virginia Ives in Ann Arbor. In 1936, David and other investors bought Stow & Davis Furniture Company in Grand Rapids. The company's business had declined during the Great Depression. David and Mary had at least one child, David II, who was born on July 8, 1926 and died in Grand Rapids July 10, 2007.

David and his parents were regular summer visitors to Highland Park. David died in East Grand Rapids on April 19, 1992. Mary lived from 1900 to 2002. She was buried at Woodlawn Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Edgar White Hunting I [1862-1944]

The son of Isaac and Nancy Hastings Cutler Hunting, Edgar was born in Grand Haven on August 7, 1862. In 1885, Edgar, his mother, and his brother Robert were living at 301 North Ionia Street in Grand Rapids. Edgar was working as a clerk for the Grand Rapids & Ionia Railroad Company. On June 4, 1891 in St. Louis, Missouri Edgar married Emma Grace "Daisy" Dyer Hunting. Dwight Cutler was best man. The Dyers, a prominent St. Louis family, were frequent summer visitors in Grand Haven. Edgar and Daisy met on one such occasion. Among their children was David Dyer Hunting, who was born in Grand Rapids on August 26, 1892, but, with his parents, regularly visited Grand Haven, where they were joined by members of the Dyer family from St. Louis. The combined families rented a cottage at Highland Park each summer. Edgar and Daisy had two children in addition to David: Robert, born in 1893, and Edgar II, born in 1894. Daisy lived from May 23, 1868 to June 7, 1939. Edgar died in Grand Rapids on June 14, 1944 and was buried at Oakhill Cemetery with Daisy.

Isaac Gurnsey [Guernsey, Garnsey] Hunting [Huntting] [1825-1910]

A native of Chatham, New York, where he was born November 17, 1825, Isaac Hunting on June 28, 1856 married Nancy Cutler, in Amherst, Massachusetts. Nan, the daughter of Robert and Julia Narcissa White Cutler, was born in Amherst on January 31, 1832 [1831]. Robert Cutler was Dwight Cutler's oldest brother. The federal census of 1860 placed Isaac, Nan, and their one-year-old son William in Grand Haven. Living with them was Nan's sister Helen Cutler, who was 17 years old. Isaac was listed as "Lumberman." On June 15, 1854, Isaac bought 80 acres in Section 32 of Polkton Township and the next year, on December 15, bought an additional 40 acres. Within ten years, Galen Eastman owned most of the land in that section and in others that surrounded Eastmanville. By 1864 Isaac owned 160 acres in Section 34 [North] of Grand Haven Township and an additional 80 acres in adjacent Section 27 [North].

During the Civil War, Isaac held the rank of major with Company F of the 21st Michigan Infantry. He enlisted on August 21, 1862 and was discharged on January 23, 1863 for disability. For the rest of his life, Isaac suffered from chronic liver disease as a result of his military service. He and Nan were divorced around 1883. Isaac returned to his birth town of Pine Plains, New York in 1876 and on January 15, 1889 married Anna Maria Lockwood in Monroe County. She was born about 1825 in New York State. They were residents of Pine Plains, Dutchess County, in 1900, where they apparently settled shortly after marriage. Isaac was known as a local historian and genealogist, and he had studied the language of Michigan's Indians while living in that state. Anna died in 1902. Isaac passed away in Abbott, Florida on October 23, 1910. A few months before he died, Isaac purchased 10 acres in Abbott and moved there. Isaac was buried at Evergreen Cemetery in Dutchess County, New York, as was Anna.

The Huntings' children were Neddy Hunting, who was born in January 1857 and died in Grand Haven on July 25 the same year; William E. Hunting, who lived from about 1859 to January 11, 1887; Edgar White Hunting, who was born in Grand Haven on August 7, 1862 and died in Grand Rapids on June 14, 1944; Helen Hunting who was born in 1865 and died the next year on October 5; and Robert Hunting, who was born about 1867 and died in 1888. Neddy, William, Edgar, and Robert were buried at Oakhill Cemetery in Grand Rapids. In 1885, Nan, Robert, and Edgar were living at 301 North Ionia Street in Grand Rapids. Nan died in Grand Rapids of chronic myocarditis on May 31, 1923 and also was buried at Oakhill.

Nan's other sister, Mary Ann Mixer Cutler, born on October 8, 1833, married William Hubbard, who died young. In 1870 Mary Ann, a widow, was living with Isaac and Nan in Grand Haven. After that date Mary Ann spent most of her remaining years as a resident of Grand Rapids.

Pope Catlin Huntington [1835-1920]

The half-brother of Martha McKee Huntington Duncan, Pope Huntington was born in Rome, New York on July 30, 1835. He married Jane [Jennie] Benedict, a native of Hoosick Falls, New York. Pope worked as an advertising agent and in an insurance office in Chicago. In 1886 he wrote a book titled The True History Regarding Alleged Connection of the Order of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons with the Abduction of William Morgan in Western New York in 1826. Pope and Jane lived in Grand Haven with Martha and Robert Duncan for a short time before settling in Chicago permanently. Pope died in Chicago on September 30, 1920 and was buried at Oak Woods Cemetery in that city. Jane lived from June 6, 1837 to December 6, 1922 and also was buried at Oak Woods.

David Fletcher Hunton [Hunten, Huntoon] [1829-1915] and Frances White Hunton [1851-1883]

Born in West Wadsworth, Vermont in 1851, Frances White came to the Grand Haven area about 1867 with her parents, William S. [1806-1884] and Hannah Ames White [1815-1886]. She was a member of the Methodist Church. On December 6, 1869 she and David Fletcher Hunton were married in Grand Haven. David's first wife was Eliza [Elizabeth] Kelley, whom he married on May 28, 1854. She was a native of Vermont, where she was born about 1833. They had at least two sons. Charles Hugh Hunton was born in Vermont in 1855 and died in 1928. A second son, Fletcher David Hunton II, was born in January 1862, also in Vermont. On June 21, 1858, David was appointed postmaster of Barnard, Vermont. Eliza died in Barnard on August 31, 1868.

David was born on February 2, 1829 in Sullivan County, New Hampshire, had a law practice in Lowell, Massachusetts in the early 1860s and arrived in Grand Haven in 1866, apparently without Charles or Fletcher. David remained an active lawyer until shortly before his death. David and Frances resided in a large home at 231 Howard Street, part of an eight-and-a-half-acre estate. Their children, all born in Michigan, included Bertha Angela, who was born in 1870, married Reuben C. Graves, and died December 24, 1894; Frances C., who was born in 1873, died on March 9, 1893, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Clara F., who was born about 1874; Meilita [Miletta] E., born in 1875; and Rothie [Rothsus] F., born in 1886. After Frances's death on March 5, 1893, David married Ida J. Flagle on January 1, 1895 in Grand Haven. Ida was the daughter of James Richardson of Robinson Township. David and Ida were divorced in Grand Haven on February 5, 1901. On December 21, 1902 in Grand Haven, he married Helen Mary Bradey [Braddy], his fourth wife. Helen, a widow, was born in Indiana in April 1832 and moved to Grand Haven from Pontiac, Illinois shortly after 1900. She died in 1918. David still was practicing law in Grand Haven in 1908. He also was known locally as a poet and wrote in excess of 500 poems, some of which were published. He passed away on December 5, 1915 at the Ottawa County Poor Farm [Infirmary] in Eastmanville. [Tribune obituaries, March 9, 1893 and December 6, 1915.]

Martin O. Hurless [Hurliss] [1843 -1929]

In 1864 Martin Hurless served for 100 days as private with Company A of the 140th Illinois Infantry during the Civil War. While living in Spring Lake, he held various offices with Weatherwax Post #75 of the Grand Army of the Republic between 1921 and 1927. On October 25, 1866 in Whiteside County, Illinois, Martin married Minerva Jane Nance. Martin was born in Ohio in September 1843, and Minerva was born in Indiana around 1841. They were living in Fenton, Illinois in 1880. Martin was then a merchant. At that time Martin and Minerva had five children. Twenty years later they were in Chicago with eight children, three born after 1880. On July 24, 1909 in Chicago, he married Maria [Marie/Mariah] Stephens Piper. They were still in Chicago in 1910 and 1920. She was born in Louisville, Kentucky about 1854 and was married to a Mr. Piper before she married Martin. He died on October 22, 1919 in Chicago. Maria died in Spring Lake on June 15, 1924. A son, Elmer C. Hurless, also lived in Spring Lake from at least 1920 into the 1930s. Born in Illinois about 1875, he married Myrl Bache in Muskegon on March 19, 1916. Myrl was born in Coopersville on March 16, 1893 and died in Spring Lake on April 6, 1956. Elmer and Myrl had remained in the family home at 215 East Savidge until her death. [Tribune obituaries, June 16, 1924 and April 7, 1956.]

Wilbur “Ted” Husted [1914-2013]

Born in Benton Harbor on December 6, 1914, Ted was the son of Truman [1883-1958] and Jenny Harrell [d. 1955] Husted. Ted’s brother, Everett, was born about 1912. By 1920 the family was residing in Muskegon and ten years later they were in Grand Haven, living at 406 Howard Street. Ted graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1933, and went on to earn a bachelor degree at Western Michigan College [WMU] and later a master degree from Colorado State University. He married Elizabeth Jane Adams in Grand Haven on August 18, 1940. Born on August 2, 1918, Jane became a teacher at Rosy Mound School.

After teaching Industrial Arts in Camden, Hillsdale County, Onekema, and Three Rivers between 1939 and 1945, Ted joined Grand Haven Schools, where he remained until his retirement in 1977. He also coached junior high school football and basketball, assistant principal and principal at the junior high from 1960 to 1977. He was a member of the United Methodist Church of the Dunes, Grand Haven Jaycees, Kiwanis Club, which awarded him the Distinguished Service Award. In addition Ted was scoutmaster and district commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America. He was given the Silver Beaver Medal, the Scout’s highest honor for adult volunteers.

Ted and Jane had three children: Carol, who married Fred Finke and remained in Grand Haven; David, of Plant City, Florida; and a son who died when an infant. Ted passed away on October 6, 2013. Jane died in Grand Haven on December 30, 2013. [Tribune obituaries, October 11, 2013 and January 2, 2014.]

George Hutchinson [@1842-1902]

George Hutchinson was head sales agent for the Grand Haven Leather Company [Eagle Ottawa], prior to 1900. He was 60 years old when he died on March 12, 1902.

Berdean Huttenga [1913-1998]

See Howard Folgert Rose.

Alfred Heber Huty [1877-1954]

Born in Grand Haven on September 15, 1877 [1878], Alfred was the son of Joseph and Susan Squier Huty. The family resided at 215 Franklin Street. Alfred’s artistic talent was apparent at an early age, and when only 15 he was awarded an art school scholarship in Missouri at the Kansas City School of Fine Arts. He did go to Kansas City, but because family finances were limited, he found employment in a stained glass factory instead. In Missouri, he met and married Bessie Burris Crafton on April 15, 1902 in Jackson County Missouri. They moved to St. Louis, where Alfred attended the St. Louis School of Fine Arts. When Alfred learned about the Art Students' League in Woodstock, New York, he moved there in 1907 with Bessie and their son Warren. At that time, he was known as an oil and watercolor artist. While in Woodstock, he met and studied with the American landscape painter, author, and teacher Lovell Birge Harrison, and he was a glass designer for Tiffany Studios in New York City. During World War I, he served as a painter for the Camouflage Corps making ships less visible to German U-boats. Following the war, he visited and was entranced by Charleston, South Carolina. He sent a telegram to Bessie, saying "Come quickly. Have Found heaven." They remained in Charleston for a number of years. Between 1920 and 1924 he taught at the Carolina Art Association [renamed the Gibbes Museum], and he was the first professional director of the Carolina Art Association School. In 1923 he was one of nine local artists who started the Charleston Etchers' Club. He helped the group to find and purchase an etching press. Two years earlier, in 1921, seven of his works were featured at an exhibition sponsored by the Scarab Club at the Detroit Institute of Art: Two paintings: "Indian Summer" and "Early Snow;" four etchings: "St. Michael's Portico, Charleston;" "At Low Tide," "An Old Gateway, Charleston," "Manni Anni;" and one pencil drawing: "Monday Morning in Charleston." The Scarab Club of Detroit exhibited works of Michigan artists.

The Huttys divided their time seasonally between Charleston and Woodstock, where they purchased an old farm and maintained a summer home.

Alfred belonged to the Society of American Etchers, Allied Artists of America, National Arts Club, and the American Watercolor Society, among others. He is considered a central figure in the Charleston Renaissance, the city's cultural renewal that occurred between 1920 and 1940. He held numerous exhibits nationwide: Corcoran Gallery in Washington, D.C.; the Art Institute of Chicago, the National Academy of Design, and the American Watercolor Society. The Gibbes Museum of Art in Charleston holds the largest collection of his works, but they also can be found at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Greenville, South Carolina County Museum of Art, the and the Cleveland Museum of Art. Additional works are in many museums in the United States and abroad. Alfred's awards are similarly plentiful, including the Scarab Club Medal of the Detroit Institute of Art and the Logan Prize awarded by the Chicago Institute of Art. He has a long citation in Artists of Early Michigan under the name Alfred Heber Hutty and a shorter one as Alfred Heber Nutty.

Alfred died on June 27, 1954. Bessie, who was born in Liberty, Missouri, lived from 1880 to May 25, 1963. A son, Warren C. Hutty, was born in Kansas City, Missouri, on November 14, 1904 and died in 1979. The three were buried at Artists Cemetery in Woodstock, New York, as was Warren's wife, Winifred Day Hutty [1901-1973].

Frederick Acheson Hutty I [1860–1917]

Born in Ontario, Canada in 1860, Fred was the son of Peter and Margaret Gray Hutty. Fred was postmaster of the Grand Haven office from 1898 to 1915. He married Birdie Miranda Squier about 1886. The daughter of Heber I and Miranda Rose Squier, she was born in August 1867 in Grand Haven and died on January 15, 1920 in Lansing. Birdie's sister, Susan, married Fred's brother, Joseph W. Hutty. Fred and Birdie lived at 215 Franklin. The Huttys' children included Clarence Bernard, who was born on July 17, 1888 in Michigan, served with the U.S. Coast Guard in Whitehall during WWI, and died on March 1, 1954 in Santa Clara County, California; Margaret Gray, who was born in Grand Haven on October 17, 1889, did not marry, and died on September 14, 1973 in East Lansing; and Helen and Fred A. Hutty II, who were born January 20, 1901. Helen married William J. Trickey of East Lansing, where she died in April 1985. Fred married Orpha Exner on April 25, 1925 in New York City and lived in Lansing before moving to Wayne County, where he died on June 19, 1978. The elder Hutty died in Grand Haven on June 17, 1917, and he and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 16, 1920.]

Joseph Warren Hutty [1840-1893]

Born in Toronto, Canada on September 3, 1840, Joseph was the son of Peter and Margaret Gray Hutty and brother of Fred A. Hutty of Grand Haven. Joseph went to Yonkers, New York when he was 26 to learn the telegraph and railway business. He was employed by the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad and the Chicago & West Michigan Railway for about nine years. Around 1876 he opened a drug and stationery store at 135 Washington in Grand Haven. Otis Dickinson was his partner for a few years, at least. Frederick was a member of the I.O.O.F. [International Order of Odd Fellows] and was Past Grand of Ottawa Lodge, No. 45, the Royal Arcanum, A.O.U.W., Knights of Honor, Chosen Friends, and Fraternal Protectors. He and his family moved to Leavenworth, Kansas about 1885. His wife Susan was born in New York around 1848. She was the daughter of Heber and Miranda Rose Squier and sister of Fred Hutty's wife, Birdie. Joseph and Susan had a daughter, Alice M., who was born about 1870; another daughter, Jesse, born about 1873; a son, Alfred Heber, who was born September 16, 1878 in Grand Haven and died in 1954; and a second son, Roland, who was born in May 1880. Joseph died of Bright's Disease in Leavenworth on June 9, 1893 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 10, 1893.]

Charles Hyde [1842-1921]

Born in Ontario, Canada on March 16, 1842, Charles Hyde came to the Spring Lake area in the 1880s. He first married Margary Wills in Canada. They had five children, all born in Canada: George, who was born in August 1866 and resided in Spring Lake;; Mary, who was born on May 6, 1869, married D. W. Jones, and died in Los Angeles on April 29, 1940; Adelaide [Addie], who was born in Canada on April 5, 1873 and married James D. Proudlove of Spring Lake and later of Los Angeles; Anna [Annie], who was born about 1876, married Frank Rylander, and moved to Chicago; and Caroline [Carrie], who was born about 1879 and married Earl K. Gardner in Chicago on July 14, 1903. On May 18, 1889 in Chicago, George, who worked as an engineer at Story & Clark Piano Company, married Sabina E. Flower. She was born in London, England on January 28, 1870 and died in Bradenton, Florida on December 23, 1958. George had died on February 1, 1952, also in Bradenton. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Addie's husband, James Proudlove, was born in Trenton, New Jersey on February 28, 1874 [1875], died in Spring Lake on September 4, 1930, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Addie died in Los Angeles, California on January 4, 1948.

The family moved to Spring Lake in 1879, where Charles worked in a sawmill. Margary ran the Nortonville Boarding House for the sawmill employees. She died on January 7, 1882 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles built several cottages along North Lake Avenue in Spring Lake, which he rented out. In the 1893 Directory, he was listed as a carpenter with property in Section 15 of Spring Lake Township, which would be west of Lake Street and north of State [Savidge] Street. According to his descendants, Charles grew apples, peaches, and pears, which he sold to Andy Fall's grocery store in Spring Lake.

On April 7, 1882, Charles married Eliza "Liza" Ann Wills in Grand Rapids. Eliza and Margery may have been cousins. Charles died at his home in Spring Lake on December 18, 1921. Eliza, born in Canada in November 1850 [1851], died in 1926. The couple was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 19, 1921.]

John "Jack" Fredrick Hyde [1921-1990]

John Hyde and Edward Schewe started Ottawa Laboratories on Taylor Street in Grand Haven to produce DDT-based insecticides. The business closed two years later. During WWII, Jack served as private with the U.S. Army. In 1950 he was foreman at the Canfield Company in Grand Haven. He was born on May 4, 1921 in Allendale. On January 21, 1942 he married Edith Lavina Schoemaker in Saugatuck. She was born in Port Sheldon on May 24, 1921. They resided at 310½ Franklin. John died in Grand Haven on February 18, 1990, and Edith passed away on February 9, 1993. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had at least two sons, John Hyde, born about 1943, and Garry Hyde, born about 1949.

Daniel James Hyland [1880-1948]

Father Daniel Hyland served as pastor at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Grand Haven from September 15, 1911 until his death on September 25, 1948. He was born in Wyoming, Kent County on April 27, 1880 and ordained on June 26, 1907. His father Michael was born in Ireland about 1845 and his mother Sophia was born in Pennsylvania around 1849. Rev. Hyland resided at the Catholic manse at 812 Fulton.

Burton Imig [1917-1983]

In the 1960s Burton Imig and Arnold Redeker took over the Ford dealership at 12-16 North Third in Grand Haven and named it Imig & Redeker. When Burton sold his interest, his name was dropped. Burton was born on May 6, 1917 and died in Grand Haven on July 3, 1983. He and his wife Gladys A. resided at 15765 Ronny Road in Grand Haven Township. Gladys lived from September 9, 1920 to January 24, 1986.

Charles W. Ingraham [1834-1897]

Born in Dutchess, New York in October 1834 [1835], Charles Ingraham came to Michigan in 1838 and to Ottawa County in 1863. He owned a 28-acre farm in Section 6 of Allendale Township, on the banks of the Grand River. Charles was supervisor of Allendale Township, town clerk, school inspector, and justice of the peace, and in 1891 he was elected county register of deeds. For 15 years he was country schoolmaster. He was a Republican and later a member of the People's Party, and he also was a Spiritualist for 30 years. On March 23, 1864, in Jackson, Charles married Adele [Adelia/Delia] Harper, who was born on March 12, 1844 in Michigan and died on March 13, 1918. They had three daughters: Edith [Ednah], who was born in 1865 and on June 18, 1890 in Jamestown Township married William H. Ralya of Allendale; Lulu [Lou], who was born in August 1868 [1869] and became a teacher in Grand Haven; and Rose W., who was born in November 1881 [1882]. The Ingrahams owned a farm on Bass River but moved to 406 Howard Street in 1891. In 1893 the Tribune reported that he was "running a restaurant at the Highland Park Hotel for the benefit of guests at the beach" [July 9, 1893]. Charles died January 24, 1897. He and Adele were buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, January 25, 1897.]

Lulu "Lou" Ingraham [1868-1959]

Born in Ottawa County in August 1868 [1869], Lou was the daughter of Charles W. and Adele Harper Ingraham. Lou started teaching in 1886 in a one-room schoolhouse in Allendale Township. She became a teacher at the Columbus Street School in 1896. She was principal until the school closed upon the opening of a new building in 1913, later known as Ferry School. Lou then began teaching at Central School. She was active in the Red Cross and the Free Bed Guild. She lived with her widowed mother at 406 Howard and 540 Lake Avenue. Lou died on October 14, 1959 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her parents. [Tribune obituary, October 15, 1959.]

Robert S. Innes [Innis] [1836-1924]

Robert Innes was born on April 17, 1836 in Perth, Scotland. He was located in Grand Rapids by 1860, living with his brother, William Power Innes. On September 12, 1861 he enlisted as quartermaster [first lieutenant] in the 1st Michigan Engineers and Mechanics but resigned on December 6 the next year. Like his brother William, Robert was a Civil Engineer and returned to Grand Rapids after the Civil War. His only known connection with Northwest Ottawa County was through his brother. He died in Muskegon on November 19, 1924. He was buried at Oakwood Cemetery. His wife Margaret lived from 1841 to January 30, 1917. She also was buried at Oakwood. Their only surviving child, Nettie, lived from 1877 to 1947. She married John Zeldenrust [1873-1953] of Muskegon in 1903.

William Power Innes [Innis] [1826-1893]

William Innes, born in Albany, New York in 1826, arrived in Grand Haven in the spring of 1853 to supervise a railroad survey between Ada and Grand Haven for the Oakland & Ottawa Railway, as it was called then. In 1860 he was residing in Grand Rapids, but he purchased acreage in Sections 16 and 21 of Crockery Township prior to 1864. He was credited with building the first store in Nunica in 1859 and running a general merchandise outlet with his brother, Robert S. Innes. On September 12, 1861 William enlisted in Company

S of the 1st Michigan Engineers as colonel. He was promoted to brevet brigadier general and was mustered out on October 26, 1864. After the war William returned to Grand Rapids, where he was listed in 1870 and 1880 as an insurance and real estate agent. William died on August 2, 1893 and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. He married Adrianna [Arianna, Ariana] Tinkham, who was born in New York about 1831 and died in Grand Rapids on July 3, 1881. She also was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery. William and Adrianna had at least four children, including Eliza, born about 1857 in Michigan, and William, born about 1859, also in Michigan.

James Edward Ireland [1920-1998]

James was born on December 22, 1920 in Spring Lake to Madison and Lucy Ames Ireland. He married Phyllis Henry in Fruitport on December 30, 1966, his second marriage. James was Caretaker at the Spring Lake Cemetery, where he retired in 1982. He served with the Army Air Corps during WWII. Children by his first wife included Roger of Muskegon and Michael of Nunica. His two stepdaughters were Helen Haring of Grant, Oceana County, and Bonnie Hudson of Spring Lake. James died on December 4, 1998 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Frank Henry Irish [1862-1919]

The son of Henry D. and Abba J. Nash Irish, Frank was titled the “junior” proprietor of the new Cutler House in 1897. Starting in about 1861 he and his father worked together managing various hotels throughout West Michigan, including the “New Livingston” Hotel and Sweet’s in Grand Rapids, the Spring Lake House in the early 1890s, and the Wright House in Alma. Frank was born on March 3, 1862 and died on September 6, 1919. He and his father returned to run the rebuilt Cutler House in the middle 1890s.

Frank married Lillie May Cook on September 27, 1892 in Grand Rapids. Lillie lived from May 9, 1863 to May 9, 1921. She and Frank were buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Henry D. Irish [1834-1914]

Henry Irish was manager of the Cutler House as early as 1884 until it burned down in 1889. He next managed the Spring Lake House and then the Wright House in Alma for short periods. In the early 1890s he managed the “New Livingston Hotel” in Grand Rapids for three years. Before returning to the rebuilt Cutler House, Henry spent a year at Sweet’s, also in Grand Rapids. He was still at the Cutler House as late as 1897. Evidently he and his son Frank worked together in the hotel business from about 1881 on. Henry was born in Vermont on January 17, 1834 and moved to Michigan with his parents when he was a boy. His father, David, was born in 1810 and his mother, Leonora Lion, was born in Shelburne, Vermont in 1812 and died on January 24, 1899. Henry married Abba J. Nash on February 14, 1854. Abba was born on May 26, 1829 and died on October 6, 1912. Henry died on April 21, 1914.

Maude A. Isherwood [1872-1923]

Born in Michigan in June 1872, Maude Isherwood was a member of the Grand Haven High School faculty. In May 1905 she was appointed principal of the high school. She taught German and Latin. Maude also taught at the Ottawa County Normal School in Grand Haven. She lived at 312 South Fifth Street with Margaret Lewis. Maude died August 31, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 1, 1923.]

Andrew Jackson Itsell [1837-1920]

Andrew Itsell was born in Detroit in 1837. On July 27, 1863 he went to Howell, Livingston County to enlist in Company K of the 10th Michigan Cavalry and was given the rank of captain. He was mustered out on October 24, 1865. Andrew was superintendent of Grand Haven Schools from 1867 to 1869. Prior to 1880 he and his wife Agnes “Aggie” moved to San Francisco, California, where he was a teacher. She was born in 1848 in Pennsylvania and died on October 13, 1922 in San Francisco. In 1892 Andrew applied for an invalid’s pension. He died in San Francisco on March 2, 1920. On April 13 that year, while still living in California, Aggie applied for a widow's pension. The Itsells had two daughters and a son: Ida May William F., and Aggie Maud.

Chauncy [Chancy] Ives [1837-1918]

Born in July 1837 in New York, Chauncy Ives owned a wholesale and retail butcher business in Coopersville. He came to the Ottawa County area in 1863. In 1870 he provided a "testimonial" to the "curative properties" of the magnetic waters at the Spring Lake Hotel. His wife, Mary, also a native of New York, was born in 1841. Chauncy and Mary had two sons and one daughter, including Cleora Olive, who was born about 1869 and first married Amos Walling and then Ferdinand "Fred" Behm. In 1900 they still resided in Coopersville. Chauncey died on June 21, 1918.

Humphrey Jackman [1879-1900]

Bert Tibbetts was accused and convicted of slaying Humphrey Jackman of Grand Haven on December 31 [21], 1900. Bert was sentenced to life imprisonment. Humphrey was born in Michigan on October 12, 1879.

George Alan Jackoboice I [1941-1999]

George Jackoboice graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1963 and later served in the U.S. Army Reserve Medical Unit. In 1963 he joined the family hydraulics manufacturing business in Grand Rapids and was put in charge of finance and general administration. In 1985 he was named president of the company, which had been founded in 1856. Under Jackoboice's leadership, Monarch Hydraulics became a world leader in the mobile hydraulics business. He was joined by brothers John Stephen and Thomas Joseph and a cousin, Edward James.

George and his wife, Sherry Ann Flanagan, lived at 18051 Fruitport Road in Spring Lake Township. Their children included a son, George Alan II, who remained in Spring Lake, and daughters Julia Anne Miller of Zurich, Switzerland, and Janna Kathleen of Spring Lake. The Jackoboices were members of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Spring Lake, and George belonged to the Peninsular Club in Grand Rapids, the Spring Lake Country Club, the Rotary Club, and the Charles A. Conklin American Legion Post in Grand Haven. In 1998 he received the Notre Dame Club of Grand Rapids Award of the Year and was a Paul Harris Fellow of the Rotary Club. George, who was born on December 20, 1941, died on November 26, 1999, while vacationing in Salzburg, Austria. [Tribune obituary, December 1, 1999.]

Joseph L. Jackson [1844-1912]

Born in Wayne County, New York in 1844, Joseph Jackson on May 22, 1861 enlisted in Company B of the 33rd New York Infantry. He was mustered out on June 2, 1863, and then on March 2, 1865 he entered Company F of the 2nd Ohio Cavalry. He was mustered out of that unit on September 11, 1865. Joseph, a carpenter, came to Grand Haven about 1876, but moved to Nortonville in 1880. He worked for the White, Friant, & Company sawmill in Nortonville in 1882, but was listed in the 1893 Compendium as "ship carpenter."

On June 3, 1867 in Grand Haven, Joseph married Caroline Andres. Caroline was a year younger than her husband. They had three sons and three daughters, including Henry, who attended theological college, spent his life as a missionary and preacher, and died of consumption at the age of 27 in Fresno, California on September 21, 1897. Another child, Julia, also died in California. Their other children were Charles Laman, Mathilda, Alvin, Walter, who died in Grand Haven on July 17, 1883, only four days old, and Viola. Joseph applied for an invalid's Civil War pension on March 8, 1883. At the time of the 1910 Federal Census, Joseph was living as a widower in Seattle, Washington with two of his children, Charles and Viola. Joseph died in Seattle on June 25, 1912. [Tribune obituary, September 22, 1897.]

Alvin Emmanuel Jacobson I [1892-1976]

In 1919 Alvin Jacobson I and Paul A. Johnson I founded Grand Haven Brass. In the mid-1920s Bernath Sherwood I joined the group, and they purchased Grand Haven Stamped Products. On April 24, 1940 the three men bought Dake Engine Company. Al was president of the firm from 1940 to 1971. In 1970 the principals, Johnson, Sherwood, and Jacobson, formed the JSJ Corporation, which included Grand Haven Brass Foundry, Grand Haven Stamped Products, Dake, Michigan Plastics, and Carlon Meter Company.

On February 22, 1917, Al married Edna Victoria Nelson Johnson, who was born in Michigan on March 14, 1892. They had six children, all born locally: Charles, who was born on April 1, 1918 and died in 1977; Alvin E. II, born on May 30, 1922; Edna Mary Jacobson, born in 1924; David J. Jacobson, who was born January 21, 1926 and died in Grand Haven on December 11, 1974; Marilyn Hilma Jacobson, who was born on June 12, 1927, married Richard Brooks in Detroit on August 29, 1953, died in Rochester Hills, Oakland County, on May 13, 2009, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Muriel R. Jacobson, who was born on April 25, 1929 and married Robert B. Mersereau of Grand Haven. The family lived at 618 Lafayette. Al, who was born in Grand Haven on February 7, 1892, died on August 1, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Edna died in June 1984 and was buried near her husband. [Tribune obituary, July 2, 1984.]

Alvin Emmanuel Jacobson II [1922-2008]

The son of Alvin E. and Edna Johnson Jacobson, Al II was born in Grand Haven on May 30, 1922. He was an Eagle Scout and graduated from Grand Haven High School, where he was captain of the football and basketball teams. While attending the University of Michigan he joined the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps and in 1943 was commissioned as Ensign. The next year he graduated from Submarine School in New London, Connecticut and served aboard the submarine Flier. Al was one of eight crewmen that survived when their submarine hit a mine in the Philippine Islands on August 13, 1944. Three months later he boarded the USS Ling and was en route to the Pacific when the war ended. He returned to the University of Michigan and received his bachelor degree in 1947. After a year working in Chicago, he returned to his hometown and started work at the Grand Haven Brass Foundry with his father, where he remained until his retirement. He served 13 years as its president. He was a founding director of the JSJ Corp. and served as chair from 1989 to 1992. He was director of several financial organizations, including Old Kent Bank [Fifth Third], and he served the community by being a founder, member, or president of many enterprises, such as the Committee for Economic Development for Grand Haven, the United Way, the YMCA, and the Great Lakes Naval Memorial Museum. He also was active in a wide array of civic organizations, such as Rotary and Spring Lake Yacht Club.

On July 9, 1955, Al married Mary Eileen Chace. They had three children: Christine Marie, Nelson Chace, and Steven Grant. The family attended the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven. Al passed away on October 16, 2008 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles N. Jacobson [1918-1977]

Born April 1, 1918, Charles was the son of Alvin E. and Edna Johnson Jacobson. He graduated from the University of Michigan School of Engineering and was employed by Ingersoll-Rand. Charles served in the Navy during WWII. After the war, Charles took over management of Dake Engine Company with Paul Johnson II in 1946 and was its president from 1972 to the time of his death in 1977. In 1970 the JSJ Corporation was organized. It combined the enterprises of the Jacobson, Sherwood, and Johnson families in such a way that the individual companies could maintain their own identities. Charles's wife died of a "CVA" on June 29, 1984. The couple resided in the Jacobson family home at 618 Lafayette before moving to 18769 Fruitport Road. Charles died in Spring Lake on July 4, 1977 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Dake, The First One Hundred Years, 1887-1987.]

Richard Albert Jager I [1905-1987]

Rev. Richard Jager started Sylvan Dell Nursing Home at 1615 South De Spelder in Grand Haven. His son, Richard II, was president-treasurer, and Richard II's wife, Marilyn R., was vice president-secretary. The home eventually was taken over by North Ottawa Community Hospital and renamed North Ottawa Care Center. Rev. Jager was born in Chicago on June 5, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on March 31, 1987. He attended North Iowa Community College in Mason City, and he served as pastor at the First Reformed Church in Byron Center from 1944 to 1950. On October 23, 1931, Richard married Marie Estelle Clark in Holland. She was born in Holland on February 12, 1909. In Grand Haven, Richard and Marie resided at 1005 Ohio Street. Marie died in Grand Haven on July 18, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Jake [? -1900]

Jake was a white bulldog known for boarding the Dummy line from downtown Grand Haven to the lakeshore at one o'clock most afternoons of the summer. He rode to Captain Walker's pavilion, today the location of Noto's Restaurant. There he waited for somebody, anybody, to throw a stick into the lake. He retrieved it and waited for someone else to throw the stick, a trick he could perform all afternoon. When the last car for Grand Haven left the pavilion in the evening, Jake jumped on and returned to the home of his owner, Marinus Kamhout. The first article in the Tribune about Jake appeared on August 26, 1895. Jake died on November 5, 1900. The notice of Jake's death appeared in the November 5, 1900 edition of the Tribune.

Dale Edward Janke [1942-2012]

Born in Benton Harbor on May 16, 1942, Dale was the son of Edward and Lillian Stelter Janke. A graduate of Western Michigan University, Dale went on to earn a master degree from Wayne State University. He married Mary Beth Robinson on August 24, 1968. Dale taught in Grand Haven Junior High School for nearly 30 years. After retirement in 1994, he raised grapes, vegetables, flowers, and was a regular vendor at Holland Farmer's Market. Mary Beth also was a teacher in the Grand Haven Schools. Dale and Mary Beth had two children: Sarah Janke of Holland and Eric Janke of New York. The family resided at 710 Fulton Street and 1836 Waverly Avenue in Grand Haven. Dale died at home on August 13, 2012 and was buried at Grand Haven Township Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 17, 2012.]

Clare Frank Jarecki [1909-2004]

In 1952 Clare Jarecki of Grand Rapids purchased 85 acres from the estates of the Fisher, O'Beck and Van Zanten families and developed North Shore Marina, which continued in business into the 21st century. The marina was located at 18275 Berwyck Drive. He was born on June 8, 1909 and passed away in Grand Rapids on October 21, 2004.

Alexander Henry Jaudon [Jandon] [1812-1886]

Alexander Jaudon helped organize the Port Sheldon Land Company in 1835. The group intended to establish a resort at Port Sheldon, and had invested in building homes, businesses, a hotel, and other necessary features of the proposed settlement, but the serious financial "panic" of 1837 to 1838 caused its failure. Lawrence subsequently purchased 720 acres in Olive Township on August 10, 1841 at the same time he took title to more than 117 acres in Grand Haven Township. Born on August 3, 1812, Alexander died in New York on January 16, 1886, and was buried at Mount Vernon Cemetery in Philadelphia.

Pierre du Jaunay [? -1781]

Leo Lillie [p. 87] claimed that Father Pierre du Jaunay was the first missionary to operate on the Grand River, arriving there as early as 1741. He came to Michilimackinac in 1735 and remained there for thirty years. A Jesuit priest, du Jaunay died in Quebec in 1781. He was of French origin.

Alexander L. Jeffers [1838-1908]

Alexander Jeffers was born in Watertown, New York, in 1838. On October 9, 1861 Alexander enlisted in Company E of the 7th New York Cavalry. He was mustered out of that unit on March 31, 1862. On August 26, 1864 he enlisted as private in Battery L of the 5th New York Heavy Artillery. He was discharged on June 25, 1865. Alexander moved from New York to Nortonville in 1880, where he was employed as a blacksmith at White, Friant, & Company. In 1863 he married Mary Ann O'Hara, who was born in Canada about 1844. She died in 1871 in Lewis County, New York, leaving three children, all born in New York: George, born about 1864; Charles, born about 1867; and Edward, born about 1870. The next year Alexander married Mary

A. Holley, who was born in New York about 1843. Alexander died on December 12, 1908 in Lowville, New York. Mary filed for a widow's Civil War pension on January 7, 1909.

Harrison Jeffers [1842-1923]

Harrison Jeffers was a member of the Maccabees and Spring Lake Baptist Church. Born in New York on May 7, 1842, he died at his home in Spring Lake on April 23, 1923 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Harrison maintained a dairy farm on almost 30 acres in Section 24 of Spring Lake Township. His wife, Nellie [Ella], also from New York, lived from December 11, 1839 to May 28, 1900. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their two children, both born in Michigan, were a son, Harry, born in August 1869, and a daughter, Hally, born about 1877. [Tribune obituary, April 24, 1923.]

Charles Jefferson [c1876- ?]

Charles Jefferson, born in Louisiana about 1876, was classified as Negro in the 1930 Federal Census for Spring Lake. At that time he was a butler in the home of Clarkson and Mabelle Rollins, a White family. Charles Jefferson's wife, Betty, was born in Arkansas about 1888. Also Negro, she worked as a cook in the same household. Charles and Betty were married about 1914.

Cornelius Jelier [1879-1910]

Cornelius Jelier was part-owner of the Vaudette Theater, located at 16 Washington Street. His partner was Charles Davis. On December 5, 1901 in Racine, Wisconsin, Cornelius married Bertha Weill. The couple resided at 109 Clinton Street. Cornelius, the son of Richard and Maria Toolenar Jelier, was born in Ferrysburg on June 10, 1879 and died in Racine on January 2, 1910. Bertha lived from 1874 to 1941 and was buried at Mound Cemetery with her husband.

William Charles Jenerou [1938-1995]

Born on June 22, 1938 [1937] in Manistique, William Jenerou by 1979 was managing Barnett's Motel and Housekeeping Cottages. Located at 17838 North Shore Drive, the motel was owned by Delmar and Gladys Barnett, who opened it in the mid-1950s. William served with the United States Army from September 10, 1958 to August 17, 1961. He married Linda Ann Wickwire on December 28, 1963 in Manistique. She was born on September 29, 1944 and died in Spring Lake on May 1, 2009. William and Linda had two children: Bill, who lived in Manistique, and Jack, who resided in Spring Lake. William was a resident of Ferrysburg when he died in Ann Arbor on October 28, 1995.

Betsy Jenison [1825-1901]

See Betsy Jenison Hanchett.

Hiram Jenison [Jennison] [1813-1889]

Born in Canton, New York, on May 11, 1813, the son of Lemuel and Sarah Sanderson Jenison, Hiram came with his family to Michigan in 1835. He helped his father stock the Brown & Britton Sawmill on Buck Creek with logs and in 1837 took over, with the help of his 14-year-old twin brother and continued the work. In 1838 he purchased, in behalf of himself and his brothers, Lucius and Lyman, 1,600 acres for $1.50 per acre of white pine timberland located on Rush Creek, where two mills had been built in 1835. Hiram was considered the founder of Jenison. He married Mary Birdsley on October 4, 1838. She was born about 1817 and died on May 25, 1892. Hiram died in 1889. [Tribune article, "Story of Ottawa Twins in Early Years," April 18, 1923.]

Lemuel Jenison [1783-1837]

Lemuel Jenison was born in Montpelier, Vermont, on June 3, 1783. He married Sarah [Sally] Sanderson in Shrewsbury, Vermont on February 19, 1807. Sarah was born on March 17, 1784 and died on June 26, 1841. In 1835 Lemuel, Sarah, and their three sons and four daughters came to Michigan from Canton, New York. They made the trip to Detroit by water from Buffalo and by ox team and on foot from Detroit to Grand Rapids. When a sawmill was built on Buck Creek [Jenison] by Brown & Britton, Lemuel and his oldest son, Hiram, agreed to stock it with logs. The children included Hiram, who lived from May 11, 1813 to November 11, 1889; Altha, born in 1827; Harriet, born April 18, 1821; Annie, born in 1829; twins Lucius and Luman, born on April 25, 1823; and Betsey, who married Benjamin S. Hanchett of Grand Rapids. On September 24, 1837, in Byron Township, Lemuel was killed while felling a tree. He was buried at Jenison Cemetery with his wife and other family members. [Tribune article, "Story of Ottawa Twins in Early Years," April 18, 1923.]

Lucius Jenison [1823-1899] and Luman Jenison [1823-1899]

Born in Canton, New York on April 25, 1823, the sons of Lemuel and Sarah Sanderson Jenison, twin brothers Lucius and Luman came with the family to Michigan in 1835. Lucius managed the farms and Luman directed the affairs of the mills and store. When 16 years old Luman took the first raft of lumber from the Rush creek area down the river. Thomas D. Gilbert purchased the load of lumber at $6.50 per thousand feet. Luman and Lucius became prosperous. Instead of abandoning the land from which they had stripped the timber the Jenisons lived on the old homestead and converted the wilderness into substantial farms, either for themselves or for sale to other settlers. Some of the land was found to have a rich deposit of gypsum and the quarries were energetically developed. In 1864 a large flourmill was built, and cozy homes gradually were assembled around a foundry, machine shop, hotel, and a general store. The Jenisons were Democrats. The twins never married. They remained inseparable and "parted only when past the allotted three score and ten." They always divided the profits of business in equal shares. Lucius died on March 21, 1899 and Luman died on October 6, 1899 at his home in Jenison. Both were buried in a mausoleum at Jenison Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 9, 1899, and Tribune article, "Story of Ottawa Twins in Early Years," April 18, 1923.]

Robert Morris Jenkins [1882-1944]

In 1918 Robert Morris Jenkins registered for the World War I draft. He was born in Missouri on January 2, 1882. A Black man, he worked at Eagle Ottawa Leather Company and resided in Grand Haven Township, where he operated a farm. Living with him was his wife Zola, also Black. Robert died in San Bernardino, California on March 12, 1944. Neither Robert nor Zola appeared in any censuses for Ottawa County.

George William Jenner [1857-1931]

George Jenner was one of the original organizers of the Grand Haven Street Railway Company in 1895. By 1908 he was retired. He and his wife, Hattie M., the daughter of John W. and Harriet Eldred Hopkins, lived on Franklin Street in 1900 and later at 106½ Washington. Hattie was born in Michigan in March 1862. They were married in Ottawa County in 1886 and had a daughter, Abega E., who was born in October 1891. George, who was born in September 1857 in Michigan, died on January 4, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert Byron [H.B.] Jennings [1835-1921]

Robert Jennings settled in Crockery Township in 1855. He was born in New York on August 21, 1835 [1834] and died in Cadillac on February 17, 1921. He put his many memories of pioneer life in Crockery Township in a 1906 article "Pioneer Life in Ottawa County." He married Mary Morris, who was born in Michigan about 1838. They had at least three children, all born in Michigan: Marion, who was born on April 24, 1861 and died in Detroit on December 21, 1921; Edward, born about 1866; and Caroline "Carrie," who was born on March 31, 1872 and died in Ann Arbor on July 8, 1936. The Jennings family owned a 120-acre farm in Section 26 of Crockery Township. By 1895 they were located in Big Rapids and later in Cadillac.

John J. Jerovsek I [1914-2002]

Born on February 27, 1914, John was the son of Frank and Mary Jerovsek, who lived in Trimountain, in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. After working four years at the Trimountain Copper Mines, John moved to Grand Haven with his wife, Kay, and two children. He was first employed by Keller Tool Company, and then opened a cleaning/painting business called Jerovsek & Son., located at 120 Eastern in Grand Haven.

The business expanded to include property management, moved to 826 Washington, and was renamed John L. Jerovsek Property Management. John served on the Zoning Board of Appeals for six years and on the Housing Board of Appeals for the same number of years. He was a member of the Grand Haven Rotary Club for 26 years and was elected sergeant-at-arms. In the mid-1970s he became owner-operator of the East Side Tavern at 207 South Beechtree. The tavern previously had been owned by Archie Green

On February 26, 2000 John married Jane Watson and moved to Marinette, Wisconsin, where he died on April 20, 2002. John was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His children were John L. II and Sharon, who married David Seaver of Grand Haven. Ann Klintworth [March 14, 1918-August 5, 2003] of Spring Lake was his sister. [Tribune obituary, April 24, 2002.]

Albert W. Jeske [1862-1944]

Albert Jeske, who was born in Germany in 1862, came to the area in 1908. He owned a 160-acre farm in Section 10 of Olive Township. He also raised livestock. His wife, Bertha, also was born in Germany, about three years after her husband. A son, William A., was born in Illinois around 1897. The family was still residing in Olive Township in 1920. Albert died in 1944 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

August Jeske I [1872-1937]

August Jeske who lived from August 10, 1872 to February 17, 1937, was a farmer with 90 acres in Section 10 of Olive Township. He settled in the area in 1906. August also raised livestock. He married Emilie Knuth, who was born on February 19, 1874 and died on August 3, 1955. Both August and Emilie were born in Germany and both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Among their children were Augusta and Robert, twins, born around 1911, and a daughter, Mabel, born about 1915. These three were born in Michigan. Another son, August II, was born in Illinois about 1900. He married Frances B. Peters in Grand Haven on June 12, 1920. The young couple lived next to August and Emilie in Olive Township.

Jim “Little Jim” [? -1915]

In its edition of May 10, 1915, the Grand Haven Tribune told its readers, “There is general sorrow around the courthouse square these days because little Jim is gone.” Jim was a squirrel that lived in a large maple tree on the grounds. He was run over by a car the previous day “when he tarried too long in the street.”

George Washington Jocelyn [1820-1898]

See George W. Joscelyn.

Albert J. Johnson [1883–1938]

In the early 1900s, Albert Johnson was agent for the Crosby Transportation Company. He moved to Holland when he became agent for the Graham & Morton Line. He and his wife Iva had two children, Helen L., who died about May 15, 1934, and Harold Lawrence, who died on August 4, 1923 at the age of 17 when he was crushed by an elevator at the Heinz Pickle Plant at Holland. The Johnsons resided at 128 Fulton in Grand Haven. Albert, who was born in 1883, died about February 28, 1938 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 6, 1923.]

F. Martin Johnson [1935-2017]

Martin, the son of Paul A. and Matilda Nelson Johnson I, was born in Grand Haven on March 8, 1935. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in chemical engineering at Stanford University. After serving with the U.S. Navy as lieutenant, he attended Harvard University’s Business School and worked for American International Oil Company in New York City. He left that position to return to his hometown as an employee of Grand Haven Stamped Products, one of JSJ Corporation’s companies. His career with JSJ covered 40 years as director, president, and CEO. In addition to his membership with the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church, Mart served on the Board of Pacesetter Financial Corporation and a variety of non-profit boards, including North Ottawa Community Hospital, Grand Rapids Symphony, Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, Princeton Seminary, and Alma College. He was a member of Grand Haven Rotary for 50 years.

He and his wife, Dottie, had two daughters: Dee, who married David Stokes of St. Louis, Missouri, and Melinda, who married Ben Bechner of Ada. Martin died at home on February 27, 2017. [Tribune obituary, March 1, 2017.]

George M. Johnson [1900-1971]

Born on September 24, 1900 in Chicago, Illinois, George Johnson owned the local Locomobile agency in 1916, started in the oil business in 1924, and built several gasoline stations while with Old Cardinal Petroleum Company. One of his stations was at Waverly and Beechtree. George took over the Studebaker agency in 1939, and with his sons as partners, he established Northwestern Auto Sales at 334 Madison [Jackson], with additional space at 317 North Fourth. In August 1956 he joined the sales staff at Thieleman Auto. He was a member of the Elks, Kiwanis, the Chamber of Commerce and the Presbyterian Church.

George's wife, Mabelle King, came from Manton, Wexford County. She lived from April 25, 1902 to October 23, 1997. The couple was married in Madison, Indiana on June 7, 1919. They had four children: George Stewart, born about 1921; Clarence Leroy, born about 1925; and twin girls, Lila May and Lola Kay. The Johnsons resided at 1300 Pennoyer, 1213 Beechtree, 15941 Lake Road, and 1111 South De Spelder. George died about February 2, 1971 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Mabelle. [Tribune articles, December 29, 1948 and "Joins Sales Staff at Thieleman Auto," August 11, 1956.]

Henry Webb Johnson [1848-1912]

Rev. Henry Johnson was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Grand Haven from 1880 to 1886. He left Grand Haven to take a similar post in Big Rapids, and then on to Auburn, Indiana, where he served at the Presbyterian Church for 28 years. He married Sidney Hare, who was born in Auburn, Indiana on August 20, 1857 and died in Auburn, Indiana on May 28, 1935. They had at least four children: Virginia, who married Philip Hamilton, lived in Grand Haven, and died in St. Petersburg, Florida on February 6, 1964; Emily, who was born in Auburn, Indiana, on September 20, 1877; Edgar, who was born in Auburn, on April 3, 1880; and Webb, who was born in Grand Haven on March 30, 1882. Henry was born in Naples, New York on June 13, 1848 and died in South Bend, Indiana, on April 10, 1912.

Herman K. Johnson [1897-1972]

Born in Vastervik, Sweden, on May 29, 1897, Herman Johnson came to this country when he was 16. He lived in Chicago, where he attended night school and Roosevelt College. Herman married Elsa [Elsie] Lundquist on July 5, 1917 in Chicago. He worked for the Knight Soda Fountain Company and moved to Grand Haven in 1935 to work for Bastian Blessing, from which he retired on September 1, 1963 as assistant Work manager. Herman served 21 years on the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power. He was director of the Chamber of Commerce, and he was a member of the Rotary Club, Elks, and Grand Haven Stag Club. Herman died in Grand Haven on March 11, 1972 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elsie passed away on July 28, 1985 and was buried near her husband.

Hilding L. Johnson [1902-1973]

Hilding Johnson owned a grocery store at 328 Madison that bore his name. He ran the store from at least 1941 to 1957, when he sold it to John and Paula Montgomery of Grand Haven. Hilding lived next door at 324 Madison, a structure he also owned. He was born in Chicago, Illinois on August 15, 1902 and died in Grand Haven on July 27, 1973. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of his death, he resided at 14543 Lakeshore Drive.

John Johnson [1846-1921]

John Johnson arrived in Crockery Township in 1884, where he had a 40-acre farm in Section 9. He was born in Sweden in March 1846. His wife, Ada [Edith], also from Sweden, was born in March 1850. Their children were Mona, born in October 1878; Sadie, born in April 1885; Paulina, born in June 1889; Maud, born in November 1890; and Ada, born in December 1893. Mona was born in Sweden, the rest of the children were born in Michigan. John passed away in 1921, and Ada died in 1936. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John W. Johnson [1865-1949]

A native of Karlskage, Sweden, John Johnson was born in 1865 and immigrated to the United States in 1896. His wife, Anna Christine, also was a native of Sweden, where she was born in 1860. She came to the United States in 1879. John was a carpenter. In 1930 they owned 39 acres in Section 11 of Spring Lake Township, directly south of Carl Bowen's property. Earlier, the Johnsons held title to a 44-acre parcel on the west side of Fruitport Road, just north of Prospect Point Manor. Anna died in 1942 and John on July 19, 1949. Both Anna and John were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Lee Robert Johnson [1920-2006]

Lee Johnson was born in Muskegon on July 23, 1920. He married Jean Louise Emens in Muskegon on December 24, 1943. By the mid-1960s, Lee owned Great Lakes Welding Company at 100 North Jackson Street in Spring Lake. He died in Dallas, Texas on June 2, 2006.

Mony [Mena, Minne] Johnson [1878-1956]

A farmer and fruit grower, Mena Johnson's 80-acre farm was in Section 5 of Crockery Township. He was born in Oslo, Norway on October 8, 1878 [1879], the son of John [1846-1921] and Ada [1850-1936] Johnson. The family settled in Crockery Township in 1883. On August 9, 1911 Mony married Pauline Anderson in Grand Haven. Sheho was born in Sweden in 1879, passed away in 1965, and was buried near her husband at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children, both natives of Michigan, were Elna Violet Johnson, born in 1914, and Agnes Gloria., born in 1922. By 1940, the Johnsons lived in Crockery Township. Mony passed away in 1956.

Nels Johnson [1838-1915]

The clock on the First Reformed Church on the corner of Washington and Third Streets has been a familiar landmark in downtown Grand Haven for more than a century. After the church burned down for the second time, the remains of the old timepiece were sold and clockmaker Nels Johnson was approached to rebuild the structure and install a new clock, which he completed in 1908. Johnson was also hired at $50 a year to maintain the clock. After a third fire in 1913, Johnson returned to again rebuild the tower clock. He also installed the chimes.

Nels Johnson was born on the island of Zeeland, Denmark, on November 26, 1838. He was the oldest child of a poor family and had five siblings. When Nels was seven years old, he left home since his parents could no longer support a large family. He supported himself by working for farmers and caring for sheep, geese, and cattle. Nels came to America with a group of 100 immigrants who were on their way to America in the 1850s. It is likely that Johnson's first clock work began around 1865 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, but his most serious timepiece construction began after he moved to Manistee in 1871. His first order for a large tower clock was for a business block in downtown Manistee about 1888. His reputation for quality tower clocks spread and he soon was receiving new orders, including one from the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven in 1907. Nels returned to Grand Haven one more time to adjust the clock for the church dedication on September 18, 1914. It was his final visit to the city. He died on January 13, 1915, four months after the dedication. Two days after his death the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven tolled at 2:30 p.m. to mark the time of the last rites for Johnson. He was buried at Oak Grove Cemetery in Manistee. [Adapted from an article by Kevin Collier.]

Paul Aaron Johnson I [1892-1956]

Born in Ferrysburg, February 3, 1892, Paul Johnson took special studies at the University of Wisconsin. He started working at the age of 12 as a machine tender at Stewart Hartshorn Company and served a four-year apprenticeship with Shaw Electric Crane Company before becoming a toolmaker, tool room foreman, and superintendent. Paul and Alvin E. Jacobson I shared an industrial partnership in the Grand Haven Brass Foundry since 1919. On April 24, 1940 Paul, Al Jacobson, and Bernath P. Sherwood I bought and operated the Dake Engine Company. Paul was also president of Grand Haven Stamped Products for 31 years, treasurer of Dake Corp., director of Rapidscaft Corp. of Grand Rapids, director of the Grand Haven State Bank for 28 years, director of the Ravenna State Bank, director of the Public Welfare Board, and president of the Library Board. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and was active in boy scouting. He was a member of Rotary, the Chamber of Commerce, Spring Lake Yacht Club, Spring Lake Country Club, Elks, Masons, and Knights of Pythias. His son, Paul II, was trustee of the Loutit Foundation when it was first established in 1957 and served almost 30 years as chair of the Foundation after Kate Loutit died in 1962.

In March 29, 1919 Paul married Matilda “Tillie” G. Nelson of North Muskegon, where she was born about 1902. Her father, Albert, was born about 1859. The Johnsons had six children: Paul II, born on December 23, 1919; Margaret J., who was born about 1923 and married Charles Baribeau of Grand Ledge; Doris, who lived from October 8, 1924 to July 15, 1984 and who taught physical education at the University of Texas, University of Wyoming and the University of Utah, where she retired after 25 years; Esther J., who was born about 1927 and married Philip Frandsen of San Francisco; Donald A. of Spring Lake; and F. Martin of Grand Haven, who was born on March 8, 1935. Paul suffered a heart attack and died at his home, 526 Clinton Street, on November 27, 1956. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, November 28 and November 29, 1956, and Loutit Legacy.”]

Paul Albert Johnson II [1919-2003]

Born in Muskegon on December 23, 1919, Paul was the son of Paul A. and Matilda Nelson Johnson I. Young Paul graduated with a degree in engineering from the University of Michigan in 1941. He subsequently became lieutenant commander in the Navy during WWII. In Las Vegas, Nevada on September 5, 1942 he married Charlotte Mary Albertine of Hartford, Connecticut. They had two daughters, both born in Grand Haven, Bari S. Johnson and Jo Ann R. Johnson. The Johnsons resided at 375 Woodlawn and were members of the First Presbyterian Church.

Paul worked for the Dake Corporation in Grand Haven following WWII. He was one of the founders of the JSJ Corporation, which was organized in 1970, and was its first secretary/treasurer. He eventually served as its chairman. Paul retired from the Corporation in 1979. He was on the Board of Directors of many local businesses, including Carlon Meter, Grand Haven Stamped Products, Pacesetter Bank [Fifth Third], Barrett Boat Works, Dunmore Company of Racine, Wisconsin, and American Supply and Machinery Manufacturers Association of Cleveland. Paul also served on the boards of several non-profit organizations, such as Grand Haven School Board, Grand Haven Light and Power, Chamber of Commerce, and he was the third president of the Loutit Foundation. He was a member of the Board of Grand Valley State University from 1968 to 1994 and served two terms as chairman. He was awarded an honorary degree from the university in 1994 while chairing the organization’s foundation. The conference room at Eberhard Center was named in his honor, also. Paul was a member and president of the Spring Lake Country Club, and he belonged to the Spring Lake and Chicago Yacht Clubs. Paul was active in community affairs and helped in the development of the Boardwalk and Musical Fountain. He also was a member of Elks and American Legion. Paul died in Grand Haven on December 18, 2003. [Tribune obituary, December 19, 2003, Tribune article, “JSJ Corp. founder Paul Johnson dies,” December 19, 2003, and Chronicle article, “Leader of industry, community, GVSU, Paul A. Johnson dies,” December 19, 2003.]

Ray Ernest Johnson [1900-1969]

On April 21, 1923 Ray E. Johnson married Emily Rycenga. The daughter of Peter and Henrietta Rycenga, Emily was born on September 6, 1904 in Grand Haven, and died August 4, 1998. Ray, who was born in Michigan on November 2, 1900, died in 1969. The Johnsons lived at 1032 Columbus. Ray owned a Texaco Service Station at 403 North Seventh Street.

Raymond M. Johnson [1905-1993]

Raymond Johnson was born on November 16, 1905 in Chicago to George W. and Idabell McNeal Johnson. His sister Andrea married Frank Glafcke of Spring Lake. Raymond lived in Grand Haven for over 40 years and owned and operated Abrasive Engineering in Spring Lake. On February 3, 1946 he married Marie E. Sonnega in Muskegon. Their children included Helen of Spring Lake, Roy and Wendy Johnson of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, and Lewis and Gilda Johnson of Ann Arbor. Raymond died on June 18, 1993 in Grand Haven. [Tribune obituary, June 19, 1993.]

Robert A. Johnson [1920-1995]

The son of Walter and Katherine Van Loo Johnson, Robert was born in Grand Haven on February 25, 1920. Katherine was the daughter of Josiah and Minnie Fisher Van Loo of Grand Haven. Robert's parents were divorced before 1930. Robert married Mamie Jewel Lovelady, who was born on December 28, 1917 and died in Grand Haven on June 30, 1985. After Mamie's death, he married Margaret Curry. Robert was self-employed as a painter and attended the Christian Fellowship Church. He died in Grand Haven on September 1, 1995 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 2, 1995.]

Stewart L. Johnson [1892-1976]

Born on October 9, 1892, Stewart was the son of Gustave Johnson, who worked eight years helping build the Grand Haven piers. Later he was also employed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers as a bucket dredge operator. Stewart built rowboats and oars and constructed burial vaults for most of the funeral homes in the area. He built over 100 houses in the Grand Haven area from 1921 to 1959, the first of which was for George B. Johnson at 1035 Pennoyer, across from Ferry School. Stewart enjoyed building brick homes and the block of fine homes on the west side of Sheldon Street, south of Woodlawn, represented some of his craftsmanship.

Stewart married Santa Groenevelt, daughter of Dick and Dena Groenevelt of Grand Haven. Santie was born in July 1892 and died in June 1962. Stewart and Santa had three sons: Howard, who died on June 24, 1985; George, who worked for Continental Motors in Muskegon for 35 years; and Jack, who was maintenance man for Russ Baltz at the Bil-Mar Hotel in Treasure Island, Florida. Stewart died on May 17, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, October 9, 1975.]

David Kirkland Johnston [1919-1996]

David Johnston was one of the last family members to maintain ownership and management control of the Johnston Boiler Works in Ferrysburg. The son of James H. and Elizabeth Johnston, David was born on August 23, 1919 and served as captain with the U.S. Army during WWII. He and his wife Marian resided at 18809 Fruitport Road in Spring Lake Township. He died in Spring Lake on February 9, 1996. Marian lived from January 1, 1920 to May 6, 1994. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune article, "Area's oldest industry," November 2, 1984.]

Hamilton Watt Johnston I [1821-1898]

Hamilton Johnston was born in Scotland on July 8, 1821 and immigrated to the United States, arriving in New York City from Glasgow on August 19, 1850. He died on March 9, 1898 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His death certificate listed him as a plumber. His wife, Janet Speir, was born in 1822 and died in Chicago on April 14, 1900. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. John Watt Johnston was Hamilton's brother. Their son, Hamilton Watt Johnston II, was born in Ontario, Canada on October 19, 1859, married Mary C. Branch [1850-1937] in Grand Haven on November 26, 1889 and died in Los Angeles on March 17, 1942.

James B. Johnston [1864-1896]

The son of John Watt and Ann Baud Johnston, James was born in Detroit around 1864 and died in Ottawa County on May 9, 1896. His wife, Catherine "Kate," the daughter of Grant and Sarah Gesaw Hunter of Ferrysburg, was born in Michigan in November 1871. She lived with her parents after James's death. The Johnstons had a son, Robert G. Johnston, who was born in November 1889. James joined the family business with his brother, Thomas, in 1880, the same year his father retired, and the name of the family business was changed to Johnston Brothers Boiler Works. In 1897 James went to Chicago to manage the Johnston Brothers Boiler Works of Chicago. [Tribune article, "Area's Oldest Industry," November 2, 1984.]

James Howard Johnston [1890-1967]

James Johnston joined the Ferrysburg boiler works firm in 1911 to serve as executive vice president and treasurer of Johnston Brothers. He represented the third generation of Johnstons to manage the business. He was president of Dake from 1936 to 1940. James was born in Ferrysburg on April 30, 1890, died on April 26, 1967, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On October 6, 1915 in Grand Haven, married Josephine, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Kirkland of Grand Haven. The Johnstons resided at 403 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven around 1930 and later at 423 Buena Vista in Spring Lake. Elizabeth was born in Grand Haven around 1893. Their children included Marshall E., born on December 28, 1917, and David K., born on August 23, 1919. James was a member of the Masons, Elks, Spring Lake Country Club, Spring Lake Yacht Club, and the Grand Haven Stag Club. He also served as president of the Board of Light and Power. [Industrial Hi-Lites, January 1955 and Dake, The First One Hundred Years, 1887-1987.]

John "Jay" Franklin Johnston I [1878-1964]

The son of Thomas B. and Sonora Eames Johnston, Jay joined the family firm in 1897 as president of Johnston Brothers and he also was treasurer of the Dake Engine Company. He belonged to the Masons, Grand Haven Rotary, Spring Lake Yacht Club, Spring Lake Country Club, and was a charter member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. He married Marie E. Howe on June 22, 1904. She was born in Illinois in 1879 and died on January 20, 1960. They resided at 504 Sheldon Road and 900 Sheldon. Jay, who was born in Ferrysburg, lived from May 12, 1878 to July 1964. Their children were John II, who was born on June 6, 1905, and Edith "Boots," who was born on December 30, 1917 and married Arend Vyn II of Grand Haven. Jay and Marie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Industrial Hi-Lites, January 1955 and Tribune article, "Area's Oldest Industry," November 2, 1984.]

John Franklin Johnston II [1905-1991]

Like his father, John F. Johnston I, John II became president of Johnston Brothers in Ferrysburg. He was born on June 6, 1905. On September 24, 1935 he married Margaret A. Hume in Grand Haven. Born on September 10, 1908, she was the daughter of George and Anne Hume of Muskegon. The Johnstons resided in Spring Lake Township. John died in Grand Haven on December 31, 1991, and Margaret passed away on March 1, 2005 in Fruitport.

John Watt Johnston I [1814-1895]

Born about 1814 in Scotland, John Johnston was a direct descendant of James Watt [1736-1819], inventor of the rotary steam engine. John was brother of Hamilton W. Johnston, James B. Johnston, and Robert Johnston. In the 1840s John was engaged on the first steamship put in service by the Cunard line, the steamer Brittania. His job was to repair the boilers that were in danger of causing injury due to the use of saltwater to feed them. He came to America about 1844. In 1864 John bought out the Thomas Turnbull Boiler Works, which had operated between 1859 and 1862. Located in Ferrysburg, the business became known as Johnston Boiler Works. John left the business in 1880, and his two sons, Thomas and James, took over.

John's wife, Ann Baud [Bauld], was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland. She lived from about 1817 to May 24, 1897. Their children included Thomas B. Johnston, born in Detroit in November 1851; James B. Johnston, born around 1856 in Michigan and later a resident of Chicago; Jennie [Jane] Johnston, born in Michigan about 1858; Isabelle Johnston, who was born in Canada on August 27, 1862 and married Henry Baar of Grand Haven; and John Watt Johnston II, born about 1873 in Canada. Jennie married Dr. Cyril Brown on June 11, 1901, after the physician's first wife died in 1898. John died on February 4, 1895 at his home in Ferrysburg. The family residence was located on the northwest corner of Third and Pine Streets. [Tribune obituaries, February 5 and 27, 1895, May 25, 1897, April 15, 1900, and Tribune article, "Area's Oldest Industry," November 2, 1984.]

Opal Johnston [1918-1978]

Opal Correll was born on August 5, 1918 and lived in Lamotte, Illinois as a child. She married Marshall E., son of James and Elizabeth Johnston of Ferrysburg. Marshall was born on December 28, 1917. He graduated from Principia Junior College in Elsah, Illinois, and Babson Institute [College] in Boston. After serving four years with the Air Force during WWII, Marshall returned to Grand Haven and became secretary/treasurer of Johnston Bros. in Ferrysburg. Marshall became president of the corporation in 1972. He was active with the Boy Scouts and belonged to the First Church of Christ Scientist. Opal and Marshall had two children and resided at 426 Buena Vista in Spring Lake. Opal died in Spring Lake on August 30, 1978 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert G. Johnston [1889-1955]

Robert, the son of James B. and Catherine Hunter Johnston of Ferrysburg, was born in November, 1889. On September 2, 1912 he married Grace May Baxter, who was born in Montague on October 12, 1886. Robert was a marine engineer on a Lake Michigan steamboat. He died on June 25, 1955, and Grace passed away on February 20, 1964. She was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They had at least two children, Maryellen, who was born about 1919, and James Baxter, who was born on April 22, 1926, died on May 12, 1997, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Robert W. Johnston [1834–1880]

Robert, born in Scotland on January 14, 1834, was John Watt Johnston's brother. In the 1880s, Robert was an engineer and master builder. His wife, Belle [Isabelle], was born in England about 1841 and died on September 21, 1891. Their home was in Ferrysburg. They had a daughter and three sons: John H., born in Michigan about 1862, James G., born in Michigan about 1864; Thomas W., born about 1865 in Illinois; and Anne A., born about 1871 in Michigan. Robert died on October 16, 1880 when the ship Alpena, on which he was engineer, went down. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. His wife for a time was postmaster of Ferrysburg. [Tribune obituary, September 21, 1891.]

Thomas B. Johnston [1851–1924]

The son of John Watt and Ann Baud Johnston, by 1870 Thomas was working at the Ferrysburg firm of Johnston Brothers as a boiler maker. He was made full partner by 1875, when the company name was changed to John W. Johnston & Sons. In 1876 Thomas bought out his brother James's interest and became sole owner of the boiler company. The all-steel C. J. Bos fishing tug, built by Johnstons, was launched in 1898 and they added dredges, floating cranes, scows, towing tugs, and gold mining dredges to the Johnston line. Between 1884 and 1891 the company operated a branch business in Muskegon, under the name Muskegon Boiler Works, and in 1892 the Johnston Boiler Works of Chicago started production. The Ferrysburg plant suffered a serious fire on June 6, 1917 but was quickly rebuilt. Thomas also was president of Dake Engine Company from 1905 to 1924, and he was vice president of the Spring Lake State Bank when it was organized in 1914. He also owned stock in Grand Haven Leather Company [Eagle Ottawa].

Thomas married Sonora "Nora" B. Eames in 1876. Nora, the daughter of Benjamin F. Eames of Ferrysburg, was born in Michigan, lived from June 1856 to 1927, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. The family lived at 209 Franklin in Grand Haven. Thomas was born in Detroit in November 1851 and died in 1924. Their children, all born locally, included John "Jay" Franklin, born in May 1878; Nellie V., who was born in November 1885 and married Ford Barnett; James "Jay" H., born in April 1889 [1890]; and Robert E., who died on January 30, 1945. Thomas was a Republican, and a member of the several social organizations, including the International Order of Odd Fellows.

Thomas James Johnston I [1873-1948]

Tom Johnston was born in Michigan on August 7, 1873. In 1921 Tom and Captain Duncan Angus McDonald formed a partnership and founded the Tom Johnston Gravel Company on Pine Street in Ferrysburg. Other names associated with the business were Henning, Henning, and Donahue. The "Hennings" referred to were Tom's in-laws, and the third party possibly was Grand Haven resident Edward Donahue, born about 1906 and listed as a sailor in the 1930 census; eventually he earned the title Captain. Duncan McDonald died on April 5, 1937 and in 1947 Tom took in his son, Tom II, as his partner. A year later the father died, and his son became sole owner. Tom II died on August 5, 1957 of a heart attack.

Around 1908 Tom married Grace Rose Henning. Their children, both born in Michigan, were Grace, born about 1916, and Thomas J. II, born about 1921. Another daughter, Jean Aileen, who was born in 1911, married Howard Fant of Grand Haven. The Johnston family resided at 114 Lafayette. Grace the mother was born on August 1, 1880, died on October 1, 1936, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Lambert Joldersma [1848-1921]

Lambert Joldersma, a farmer, was born in 1848 [May 1850]. He married Geertje [Gertrude] "Gertie" Mulder, who lived from 1848 [December 1845] to 1925. Both were natives of The Netherlands. Among their children were Ralph, born in 1872; Nellie, born in August 1873; Anna, born in March 1876; Hattie, born in January 1880; Jennie, born in February 1883; Leonard, born in May 1884; and Gertrude, born on September 15, 1885. Only Leonard and Gertrude were born locally, the others in The Netherlands. The family immigrated to the United States in 1883 and resided at 415 Monroe Street. They were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Lambert and Gertie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Lloyd Bascum Jolly [1900-1994]

Lloyd Jolly was born in Bloomfield, Missouri on April 29, 1900 and died in Bradenton, Florida on April 28, 1994. He married Ethel Earl on May 30, 1930 in Detroit. She was born July 22, 1897 in Watertown, New York, and died in Palmetto, Florida on December 16, 1977. The Jollys were members of St. John's Episcopal Church. Lloyd was employed by Story & Clark as a woodworker. He also belonged to the Grand Haven Masonic Lodge 139, and she was a member of the Eastern Star Chapter No. 245. They resided at 945 Washington Street in Grand Haven. Lloyd and Ethel were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Benjamin Jones [@1821-1913]

Benjamin Jones was born a slave in Elkhorn, Tennessee [Kentucky/Virginia] on August 15, 1822 [1821]. He enlisted in the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry in Detroit on December 1, 1863 as private. [Other records noted that he enlisted in Grand Haven on that date.] His hometown was given as Grand Haven, where he had come in the early years of the war to work for Reverend William Ferry. He apparently was not assigned initially to a specific company but wound up in Company B. Benjamin was discharged in Charleston, South Carolina on September 30, 1865 and returned to Grand Haven. By 1870 Benjamin, listed as single, was working as a domestic servant at Amanda Ferry's home in Grand Haven. Amanda's husband, Rev. William Ferry, Grand Haven's founder, had died three years earlier. Also living in Mary's house were other members of the Ferry family. In the 1880 census, Benjamin was classified as a farmer residing on Pennoyer Street.

Benjamin Jones was enumerated in a 1902 census for the U.S. National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers located in the City of Milwaukee. This Benjamin Jones was only 49 years old at the time of the census, but nevertheless was listed as a veteran of the 102nd U.S. Colored Infantry. His health problems included a hernia and incontinence. He was receiving a Civil War pension of $20 a month. He was admitted to the Home on July 1, 1902 and was released on October 25, 1907. In a 1905 census taken by the State of Wisconsin, he was living as an inmate in a Soldier's Home in Wauwatosa, Milwaukee County. The Home's records gave his age as 81. He was listed as a widower, but no other records indicate he ever was married. Despite the age discrepancy, the two Benjamin Joneses undoubtedly are the same person. On March 9, 1912 Benjamin Jones was admitted to the Ottawa County Poor Farm, located a few miles east of Grand Haven, as a private charge, not charity. He had the distinction of being the first Black ever admitted to the Farm. Benjamin died there on April 30, 1913 and was buried in the G.A.R. plot at Lake Forest Cemetery "with the honors accorded to the Grand Army dead." His obituary in the Tribune put his age at the time of death as 92. [Tribune obituary, May 1, 1913 and article, "Ottawa Colored Soldiers," May 2, 1913.]

Frank Jones [1840-1928]

Frank Jones of Coopersville on August 2, 1861 enlisted in Company F of the 1st Michigan Infantry. A battle wound in his right shoulder led to his discharge on December 30, 1862. On August 9, 1863 he married Mary Gibbs, the daughter of Charles and Hannah Gibbs of Crockery Township. Mary was born on May 26, 1846. She and Frank had one daughter, Macy, who was born on June 12, 1864, married Edward Wilbur Ives, [1863-1948] and died on February 12, 1934. In 1883 Frank was given a Civil War pension of $6.00 a month. He worked as a carpenter. Mary died on March 20, 1913. Two years later, on June 12, Charles married Sarah Allan Low in Kent County. Sarah was born in Ann Arbor on July 22, 1853 and died in Grand Rapids on May 13, 1943. The couple continued to reside in Polkton Township. Frank was born on June 8, 1840 in Oakland County, died in Stanton, Montcalm County on January 28, 1928 and was buried at Coopersville Cemetery with Mary and Macy.

Hamilton Jones [1807-1888]

Hamilton Jones, who lived from 1807 to November 1, 1888, built a steam mill at Grand Haven, featuring a large circular saw and siding mill. The mill was located on the Grand River, near the west end of Fulton Street. Hamilton was appointed to serve as Grand Haven's third postmaster, a position he held from April 9, 1861 to September 14, 1866. His wife, Jerusha Roberts, lived from 1814 to 1883. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their daughter Melissa was born in New York on April 17, 1841 and married Benjamin Safford of Grand Haven.

J. A. Jones [? - ?]

A native of New York State, Jones came to Spring Lake in 1868 as a millwright. In 1872 he built the Sisson & Lilley sawmill and was employed by the owners as a millwright.

Jonker

See also Yonker.

Alvin Jonker [1894-1918]

The son of Fred and Anna Verhoeks Jonker, Alvin was born in Grand Haven on May 17, 1894. On September 3, 1917, he enlisted in Company F in Grand Haven, which merged with Company L of the 126th Infantry during WWI. Alvin held the rank of supply sergeant. He was killed during the Battle of the Argonne on October 9, 1918.

Fred H. Jonker [1866-1948]

Born June 1, 1866 in The Netherlands, Fred was the son of Hartger and Elizabeth Henrietta Jonker. At the age of 11, Fred began working in the Boyden Shingle Mill and at 13 joined his father as contractors, primarily masonry and concrete, under the name Jonker & Son. They helped construct the Story & Clark building, the Congregational Church on the northwest corner of Washington and Sixth Streets, Cutler House, Akeley Institute, part of Challenge Refrigerator, Dake Engine, and Eagle Ottawa. Fred was a Democrat and member of Second Reformed Church. He retired from the contracting business in 1927.

On December 30, 1891, Fred married Grand Haven resident Anna V., the daughter of Solomon and Mary Verhoeks of Grand Haven. Anna lived from November 19, 1866 to March 17, 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had five children: Alvin, who was born on May 17, 1894 and lost his life in France during WWI; Marie, who was born about 1897 and married Ello Emery II of Grand Haven; Hartger S. [named for his grandfather], born in 1899; a daughter who married William A. Patterson; and a son who died young. The Jonker family lived at 1112 Columbus and later at 514 Columbus in Grand Haven. Fred died October 10, 1948 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, March 1, 1923, October 12, 1948, and March 17, 1955.]

Hartger Jonker I [1837-1923]

Hartger Jonker was born in The Netherlands on January 17, 1837 and came to America about 1872. He married Elizabeth Henrietta Albers, who was born in the same country on June 14, 1836 and died on June 15, 1919. Their children were: Minnie, who was born about 1869 in The Netherlands, and married Abraham Borgman, who died in 1914; Marie A., who was born in August 1876, married Egbert Winter, and moved to Holland; and a daughter who married John Tietz of Goshen, Indiana. Hartger started a concrete and masonry business in Grand Haven with Ello Emery, which they named Jonker & Emery Construction Company. When his son Hartger II joined him about 1880, they changed the business name to Jonker & Son. Hartger I died on February 27, 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Elizabeth.

Hartger Sylvester Jonker [1899-1947]

The son of Fred and Anna Ver Hoeks Jonker, Hartger was born in Grand Haven in 1899 and named for his grandfather. In 1920 Hartger worked at Eagle Ottawa. In the mid-1920s Hartger and Ello Emery formed the firm of Jonker and Emery, Building Contractors, operating from the Jonker family home at 513 Columbus. Later, with Peter Robinson as his partner, Jonker purchased the Boomgaard Hardware Store. The new owners moved the business from 335 Fulton to 212 Washington and then in the early 1960s to 208 Washington. Hartger's son, Al, started working in the store in the early 1940s and took over in 1947, operating it with his wife, Phyllis until they sold it in the 1990s to Godwin Hardware. Hartger died on April 13, 1947. He married Irene Webster on October 16, 1920. Their children were Alvin Leroy, who was born about 1925, Nancy Lou, born about 1930, and Kenneth Webster, born about 1938. The family attended the First Presbyterian Church of Grand Haven, and Hartger belonged to the American Legion, V.F.W., Masons, Elks, Spring Lake Country Club, and Grand Haven Stag Club. He also served on the Grand Haven Board of Light and Power, the Hospital Board, and the Memorial Airport Commission. They resided at 534 Clinton. Irene lived from June 19, 1899 to October 17, 1990. She died in Grand Haven and was buried near her husband at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Hendrikus "Henry" F. Jonker [1854-1928]

Henry Jonker was born in The Netherlands in June 1854 and came to the United States in 1869. He married Berdena [Berendina] Langland [Langeland], who was born January 20, 1854 in Spring Lake. His sister Lena married Fred Krause of Grand Haven. Henry owned 10 acres in Spring Lake Township and worked as a carpenter. The Jonkers' ten children, all born locally, were Katie, born in April 1881; Jeanette [Jantje], who was born in December 1882 and married Jay Vander Wall of Grand Rapids; H. Phillip, who was born in December 1884 and served as pastor at a church in Paterson, New Jersey; Minnie, who was born in December 1886 and remained in Spring Lake; L. John, born in August 1888; William, who was born on October 13, 1890, lived for a time in Chicago, and passed away in Spring Lake in April 1973; G. Elizabeth, who was born on December 12, 1892, married Charles [James] Frontjes, and passed away in Grand Rapids on May 9, 1981; Ella Martha, who was born in December 1895 [1894] and relocated to Grand Rapids; Bernice, born in June 1898; and John S. of Grand Haven. The Jonkers were members of the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Henry died on November 17, 1928. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 1930.]

John [Jack] A. Jordan [1925-1979]

Jack Jordan was a dentist in Grand Haven, with an office at 223 Washington. Joining him at the office were dentists William and Ken Creason. Jordan bought Barrett's Boat Works in Spring Lake and was its president/treasurer. He also was instrumental in helping organize the Ski Bowl in Mulligan's Hollow in 1960. The Jordans resided at 1818 Doris. After Jack passed away on January 11, 1979 in Orange County, Florida, he was replaced by Walt Weber at the dental office. Jack was born on April 15, 1925. After his death, his children, Jeff and Mitch, donated the former Barber School building to the Village. The structure had been part of Barrett's Boat Works.

Noreen Brown Jordan [1922-2006]

Noreen Brown Jordan was a charter member of the Gallery Upstairs, now known as the Gallery Uptown. In September 1989, a dozen or so pieces of her art were exhibited at the Gallery Upstairs. Primarily a watercolorist, her favorite subjects were landscapes, wildlife, florals, beaches, and seashells. She told a reporter, "If you're an artist, you paint anything. That's a challenge."

Born in Royal Oak on March 17, 1922, Noreen attended art classes at Cass Technical High School in Detroit. After moving to Grand Haven, she joined Lakeland Painters [now Lakeland Artists], Muskegon Fine Arts Guild, Holland Friends of Art, and the Michigan Watercolor Society. Her painting titled "Trillium Grandiflora" was chosen by the Detroit Institute of Art to be the official poster image for an exhibit there. Her watercolors were accepted into numerous national and regional juried exhibitions. [Tribune article, "Work of SL artists will be exhibited," September 3, 1989.]

Noreen married James Jordan. He was born on October 30, 1910, served as sergeant with the U.S. Army during WWII, died in Grand Haven on September 3, 1988, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. In Grand Haven, he worked as a carpenter. The couple resided at 511 Ohio Street in Grand Haven and later at 18061 West Spring Lake Road. Noreen passed away on May 10, 2006.

Jorgen "John" C. Jorgenson [Jorgensen] [1870-1952]

Born in Denmark in June 1870, John Jorgenson came to the United States in 1880, settling first in Chicago. By 1903 he was in Grand Haven. That year he opened Grand Haven Realty Company, located in the Cutler [Witherell] Building at 232-234 Washington. John offered building lots for $1.00 down and 50 cents a week payment. He owned Grand Haven Realty, and as early as 1908 he operated Jorgensen's Auto and Cycle Service Station at 105 Washington. After World War I John installed the area's firsthand-operated gasoline pump. On March 1, 1894 in Chicago, he married Katherine Jacobsen. She was born in May 1874 in Denmark and immigrated to the United States in 1881. Their children were Benjamin A., born in Chicago on December 4, 1896; Robert Carter, born in Illinois on December 13, 1897; Henry, born in Illinois in October 1899; Edwin, who was born on March 11, 1902 and died in Muskegon in January 1978; Irene, born about 1906; and George H., born about 1915. The three youngest children were born locally. The family resided at 532 Lake Avenue around 1920. Prior to that they resided at 500 Wallace. By 1930 the family had relocated to Middleville, Barry County and were still there in 1940. Jorgen died in Middleville on July 18, 1952.

George Washington Joscelyn [Jocelyn] [1820-1898]

On April 1, 1861, George Joscelyn purchased 160 acres in Section 34 of Olive Township. Six years later, on June 25, he bought another 166 acres in Section 3 of Holland Township [now Park Township], just to the south. George owned a general store in Ventura, a small community near the boundary between Holland and Olive Townships. George was born in New York in 1820 and died on January 21, 1898. He was buried at Lakeshore Cemetery in Park Township. His wife, Maria, was born about 1825 in New York, died on December 16, 1911, and was buried near her husband. Marquis Joscelyn, born in New York in 1845, was their son. They also had a daughter, Anne M., born in Michigan about 1872.

Marquis [Marzius] Lafayette "Feyt" Joscelyn [1845-1917]

In the 1912 Atlas Marquis Joscelyn was listed as a farmer and owner of 160 acres and a cider mill in Section 34 on the west side of Olive Township. His parents, George W. and Maria Joscelyn, bought the land in 1861 and later farmed 166 acres in Park Township, just to the south. Marquis was born in January 1845 in New York. On November 24, 1889 in Holland, he married Nellie R. Eaton Conduis. She was born in Maryland on September 17, 1845, died in Holland Township on September 19, 1901, and was buried at Ventura Cemetery. Marquis passed away on December 17, 1917 and was buried at Lakeshore Cemetery in Holland.

Asa Wood Joy [1859-1915]

Asa Joy owned an 85-acre fruit farm in Section 3 of Spring Lake Township. He was born in Plymouth, Wayne County on October 6, 1839. In June 8, 1862 in Plymouth, he enlisted as sergeant in Company C of the 20th Michigan Infantry. He lost a leg at the Battle of Gettysburg in July 1863 and received a $30 per month pension for his injury. He was mustered out on October 16, 1863. From 1881 to 1886 he lived in Kansas, before moving to Spring Lake. About 1863 he married Helen E. Safford. They had three surviving children: Eva, who married G. B. Atkinson, Mary, who married Walter Brown in Spring Lake on May 4, 1892, and Maggie. Asa was a member of the Presbyterian Church. He and his wife returned to Wayne County, where Asa died on October 13, 1915. His wife at that time, named Elizabeth, applied for a widow's pension.

John Joyce [1832 -1897]

A sea captain born in Ireland in 1832 [1844], John Joyce and his wife, Catherine Brewster, also a native of Ireland, moved to Grand Haven from Milwaukee about 1870. Captain Joyce died on May 26, 1897, not long after the couple's move to Chicago around 1894. Catherine died at their home in Chicago on January 6, 1913. Of their six sons, two were born in Wisconsin and four in Michigan.

Charles E. Jubb [1866-1956]

The son of Orange and Lucinda Bartholomew Jubb, Charles lived from May 14, 1866 to February 17, 1956. He served in the Spanish-American War and was Motorman on the Interurban from 1908 to 1931. He also was a rural mail carrier in Crockery. He married Grace Nash in Nunica on September 2, 1900. Grace was born on January 17, 1879 and died in Nunica on July 15, 1969. They had two sons, Oren and Edward, and a daughter, Hattie, who was born in 1901. Hattie taught in several area schools, including Nunica from 1947 to 1962. She married Otha Plews in 1921. Otha died during WWII.

Edward C. Jubb [1909-1998]

The son of Charles and Grace Jubb, Edward was born on July 21, 1909 and raised in Crockery Township. He married Lillian Borchers on July 25, 1931 in Grand Haven. Lillian was born on May 16, 1910 in Hammond, Indiana, the daughter of John D. and Emma J. Borchers. The Jubbs resided at 113 South Division in Spring Lake. Lillian graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1928 and from Grand Rapids Beauty College the next year. She became a buyer of children's wear at Steketee's Department Store. She was a member of the Nunica Methodist Church and Ladies Aide Society. The Jubbs had two daughters: Bonnie Jubb and Shirley Wamby. Edward was a grinder at a local steel company. He passed away on November 2, 1998 and Lillian on April 25, 2003.

Orange Allen Jubb [1839-1905]

Orange Jubb, a resident of Crockery Township since 1850, enlisted as private in Company M of the 7th Michigan Cavalry on April 1, 1863. He lost a leg in the Battle of Sheppardstown, Maryland and was discharged at Harper Hospital in Detroit on August 9, 1865. Years later he wrote, "My leg is in such a condition that I cannot wear an artificial leg, so have to use a peg leg, and will have to peg it all the days of my life." On April 7, 1865 he married Lucinda Thessa Bartholomew, who was born in Michigan in January 1844 and died on July 13, 1907. She was the daughter of Arza and Isabel Mumy Bartholomew of Crockery. The Jubbs owned a farm of more than 100 acres in Sections 25 and 35. Around 2010, 97 acres of the farm was dedicated as Jubb Bayou County Park. It included a half-mile along the bayou and a mile of Grand River frontage.

A native of Ingham County, Orange was born on August 27, 1839 and in 1850 came to Crockery Township with his parents, Edward and Moline Jubb. Orange was postmaster at the Nunica Post Office from March 11, 1889 to March 18, 1890. He passed away on April 18, 1905. Lucinda applied for a widow's Civil War pension on May 24, 1905, not long after her husband's death. The couple was buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery. A son, Charles E., lived from May 14, 1866 to February 17, 1956; a daughter, Emma, was born about 1872 and married Fremont Brown of Nunica; another daughter, Celia M., was born April 3, 1870; a third daughter Carrie, was born about 1878 and married Floyd Witham in Nunica on January 28, 1897; and another son, Orange Ray, was born on May 18, 1880 in Nunica and died in Kent County in October 1968. The children were all born locally. ["When I Lost My Leg," Orange A. Jubb, from Personal and Historical Sketches and Facial History of and by Members of the Seventh Regiment, Michigan Volunteer Cavalry.]

Ross Whitcombe Judson I [1881-1946]

Ross Judson, who was born in Minnesota on September 1, 1881, founded Continental Motors with plants in Muskegon and Detroit. His father, Whitcombe L. Judson, invented the zipper. On April 26, 1904 Ross married Belle Kendall in Chicago. Belle was born in Missouri on March 24, 1882 and died in Carmel, California on February 6, 1973. Ross and Belle were divorced on August 25, 1939, and the next day in Fredericksburg, Virginia, he married Sarah Alice Baker Evans, a widow. Sarah was born in Kentucky on October 8, 1899. Over the years the Judsons resided in several places, including Muskegon and Grosse Pointe Park, near Detroit. For a while they owned a summer home on the north end of Spring Lake [3123 Judson Road]. Ross and Belle had at least two children, both born in Michigan: Ross II, who was born on March 15, 1914 and died in North Carolina on July 30, 2004, and Arthur W., who was born on July 13, 1917 and died in Monterey, California in June 1976. Ross's parents were buried at Oakwood Cemetery in Muskegon. Ross passed away in Miami Beach, Florida on March 11, 1946.

Carl Juhl [1937-2002]

Carl Juhl was born on May 8, 1937 in Johnson City, New York. His parents were Hans and Thelma McDowell Juhl. Carl graduated from Ferris State University and served in the U.S. Navy. On July 7, 1962 he married Marjorie "Marji" A. MacGinnis in Binghamton, New York. They moved to the Tri-Cities area about 1968. Carl was a member of Christ Community Church, and he volunteered with Hospice and The Little Red House. The Juhls resided at 15771 Margaret in Spring Lake. Carl died on April 22, 2002 after a two-year battle with a benign brain tumor. Marjorie passed away on November 17, 2009 in Spring Lake. She was born November 13, 1937. [Tribune obituary, April 24, 2002.]

Albert Juistema [Justema] [1862-1931]

The son of Simon and Anna Gringhuis Juistema, Albert was born in August 1862 [1861]. He married Gertrude Donker on August 31, 1886 and resided at 116 North Third Street, above his retail business, the Excelsior Shoe Store. Later, he and John W. Verhoeks owned and operated the Juistema & Verhoeks Shoe Store at 222 Washington. Albert's brothers, John and Gerrit, owned the Juistema Brothers Shoe Store at 207 Washington. Gertrude was from The Netherlands, where she was born in September 1865. A daughter, Kate, was born in Grand Haven on April 24, 1887 and a son, Seymour, was born, also in Grand Haven, on September 21, 1889. Albert died in 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Gerrit Juistema [1859-1931]

With his brother John, Gerrit Juistema owned and operated Juistema Bros. Shoe Store at 207 Washington in downtown Grand Haven for many years. Their brother Albert owned Excelsior Shoe Store at 116 North Third. Gerrit's and Albert's father Simon had been a pioneer shoe retailer in the Grand Haven area. On January 30, 1879 in Grand Haven, Gerrit married Jantje "Jennie" Schimpen. Gerrit and Jennie resided at 521 Lafayette. Among their children, all born in Grand Haven, were Simon "Sam," who was born in May 1877 [1879], learned the printing trade from Horace Nichols, worked in the printing department of the Tribune, moved to Grand Rapids, died of typhoid fever on March 27, 1899, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; Alberta, who was born on April 28, 1881 and became a teacher; and Herman, who was born on April 12, 1883 and died in San Diego, California on May 9, 1973. Jennie was born in The Netherlands on August 4, 1860 and died on April 26, 1905 at the age of 44. Gerrit, who was born in Grand Haven in September 1859 [1858], died about December 9, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Simon and other family members. Jannie was from The Netherlands, where she was born in January 1859.

John J. Juistema [Justema] [1866–1947]

John, born in Michigan in September 1866, was the son of Simon and Anna Gringhuis Juistema. With his brother Gerrit, John owned and operated Juistema Bros. Shoe Store at 207 Washington in downtown Grand Haven for many years. In March 1892 the owners made changes to the store in preparation for sharing space with Klaus Valom's Tailor Shop. Its location at that time was not specified. Their brother Albert ran the Excelsior Shoe Store at 116 North Third. John was credited with building 205 Washington with Gerrit Bottje in 1889 [1887].

On December 25, 1889, in Grand Haven, John married Joost Kooiman's daughter, Antje "Anna," who was born on January 7, 1867 and died on December 10, 1953. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1893 the Juistemas built their residence at 120 South Fourth Street. Their son Sidney was born on October 13, 1890; Antoinette was born in December 1893; and Elmer was born on August 5, 1900. The children were born in Grand Haven. John died on January 27, 1947 and also was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, January 19 and 20, 1904.]

Seymour Juistema [Justema] [1889-1982]

Seymour was born in Grand Haven on September 21, 1889, the son of Albert and Gertrude Donker Juistema. On December 22, 1915 he married Daisy La Prairie, who lived from 1889 to 1928 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Glenn, born about 1918; Kenneth, born about 1920; Wayne, born about 1922; and Eugene, born about 1925. On December 28, 1937 he married Ruth Joy. In 1918 Seymour was a mining engineer for the Brule Mining Company in Iron County. By 1935 he was Grand Haven's City manager. He died on November 6, 1982 in Grand Haven and also was buried at Lake Forest. He lived at 1119 South De Spelder.

Sidney Juistema [Justema] [1890-1951]

Sidney, the son of John and Anna Kooiman Juistema, [Justema] was born on October 13, 1890. His wife, Adriana, was born in The Netherlands about a year late and passed away about June 28, 1954. They were married in Grand Haven on July 11, 1912. Sidney started work at the family shoe store, but before 1930 opened a real estate and insurance office at 119 South Fifth, which also was the family's residence. They earlier had lived at 409 Clinton. A son, John R., was born about 1914. Sidney died on January 7, 1951. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Simon Juistema [1825–1899]

Simon Juistema, born on June 25, 1825 in The Netherlands, was a pioneer shoe dealer in Grand Haven. In 1856, in Ottawa County, he married Antje "Anna" Gringhuis, who was born in The Netherlands on April 4, 1834. She died at the home of her son, John, in Grand Haven on May 18, 1914. Simon and Anna had at least ten children beside John, all born in Michigan: Gerrit, who was born in 1859; William, born about 1860; Jane, who was born around 1861 and died about May 13, 1947; Albert, who was born in 1862; Anna, who was born on September 25, 1864 and died January 19, 1904; Rev. Harm [Herman] S. of Merrill, Wisconsin and later San Diego, California, who was born on November 26, 1868 and died November 27, 1957; Hannah, Herman's twin; Hendrika, who was born September 17, 1873; Mrs. E. V. Blair of Chicago; and Sena, a clerk, who was born about 1878. The family lived at 209 South Fourth. Simon died May 2, 1899 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 18, 1914.] [Note: Some of the later family members dropped the "i" from Juistema, making it Justema; for the sake of consistency, they are listed in this Directory with the original spelling.]

Karel Justian [1906-1988]

Karel Justian boxed under the professional name of Jackie Reynolds. On September 8, 1935 he married Martha Emma Briske in Manistee. About the same time, the newly weds moved to Grand Haven, where Karel worked for Eagle Ottawa Leather Company and later Challenge Machinery. He and Martha had a son Ronald Justian who died at the age of 42 and a daughter Gloria, who was born about 1936, married, and lived in Grand Haven. Karel and Martha bought a home at 745 Park Street, where they lived for 49 years. Karel was born in Vienna, Austria on May 12, 1906 [1907] and died from cancer on February 4, 1988. Martha was born on September 8, 1905 and passed away in Arlington Heights, Illinois on March 31, 2008. [Tribune obituary, September 2, 1988.]

Franz "Frank" Kaatz [Katz] I [1833-1920]

Frank Kaatz, a native of Germany, lived from June 1, 1833 to February 8, 1920. He married Pauline Wilmer, who, was born in Germany on June 20, 1839 and died on July 28, 1917. They were buried at Lake Forest

Cemetery. Their children were Emil George, who was born locally on April 11, 1865, became a saw filer, married Johanna Tripp in Grand Haven on May 20, 1920, and died on February 13, 1936; Alexander, who was born on December 2, 1868, married Cornelia O'Beck Fetz in Grand Haven on April 3, 1920, worked as a teamster for a beer company, and passed away on September 28, 1936; and Frank II, who was born on January 8, 1872 and passed away on September 3, 1935. The family resided at 221 Elliott. Cornelia lived from April 3, 1868 to October 12, 1938. Her first husband was Christopher Fetz, who lived from 1874 to 1913. Frank and Cornelia were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Franz "Frank" Kaatz II [1872-1935]

In the early 1900s Frank and Henrietta "Hattie" Kaatz II lived at 218 Elliott Street in Grand Haven. Hattie, the daughter of Henry and Mary Bredehoft Saul, was born in August 1873. Frank was born on January 8, 1872. He and Hattie were married in Grand Haven Township on December 13, 1897. Their children, both born in Grand Haven, were Myrtle M., who was born in 1898 and married Willard Kieft in Grand Haven on June 9, 1923, and Arthur F., who was born in December 1899. Frank was listed as a carpenter the 1900 census and in the 1908 Directory, but two years later he was employed at Eagle Ottawa. By 1928 he was working as a repairman for the Grand Haven Board of Power and Light. The family resided at 322 Columbus. Frank and Pauline Kaatz were his parents. Frank II passed away on September 3, 1935 and Hattie died on November 30, 1959. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jack [Jacob, James] Maurice Kaden [Kadan, Kodansky] [1877-1950]

Born in Berlin, Germany in June 1877, Jack Kaden immigrated to the United States in 1890 and became a Grand Haven jeweler and optician. His first store was located at 113 Washington. Around 1911 Jack purchased the building at 220 Washington and moved his business there. On August 5, 1901 in Grand Rapids, he married Mae Cohen. They lived in Grand Haven lived at 216 Howard. Mae was born in Missouri around 1883. By 1920 the Kadens were living in Oxford, Ohio, where Jack owned a dry goods store. In 1930 they were residing in Chicago and operated a department store in Morgan Park, a southside suburb of Chicago. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Marceil, born about 1903; Howard Joseph, who was born on March 20, 1905 and died in Florida on January 22, 1976; and Lester, who was born on June 11, 1910 and passed away in Florida on June 1, 2005. Jack passed away in Dade County, Florida in 1950 and was buried at Zion Gardens Cemetery in Chicago.

Christian Kamhout [Kamout] [1870-1947]

Born in Grand Haven on August 3, 1870, Christian Kamhout married Bouwina Zeldenrust in Grand Haven on June 18, 1887. She was the daughter of Albert and Frentje Zeldenrust of Grand Haven. Bouwina died on April 19, 1888 after giving birth to Bouwinas, who was born on April 2 and died the following August 4. Mother and child were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery in the Zeldenrust plot. After Bouwina's death Christian married Myrtle Musselman. Their son, Carl H., was born in Grand Haven on September 5, 1905. In the early 1900s the family lived at 822 Washington. Christian was a polisher at Story & Clark. He died about April 23, 1947 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Myrtle passed away on January 28, 1961 and was buried with Christian at Lake Forest, where Bouwina also was buried.

Marinus Kamhout [Kamout] [1862-1906]

Marinus Kamhout ran the Bank Saloon at 133 Washington Street in Grand Haven in the 1890s and into the early 1900s. He advertised that he was a dealer in "Choice Wines, Liquors and Cigars, also Agent for the Celebrated Guckenheimer Rye Whiskey." Prior to that he was a laborer at the Boyden & Akeley Shingle Mill. On April 22, 1884 in Grand Haven, Marinus married Mary Jane Tourville, who was born in New York on December 6, 1865. Their children included Louis De Boe, who was born on August 30, 1884, married Grace Marian Hamilton in Grand Haven on October 17, 1910, and died in Grand Haven on March 27, 1937, Matilda [Mamie], who was born on February 11, 1886 and married Thomas McCambridge of Grand Haven; Marinus Clarence, who was born on June 6, 1892; married Gertrude Grunst, and died in Detroit in August 1973; William Bryan, who was born in July 1896; married Margaret Houston in 1914, and died in April 1967 in Detroit; and Ruth I., who was born on March 8, 1899, married John Rue in Grand Haven in April 1914, and died in Bradenton, Florida on July 3, 1995. Marinus the father was born in Grand Haven on October 31, 1862 and died in 1906. He also was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Marinus and Rhine Kamhout were brothers. Marinus owned a white bulldog named Jake, famous for riding the Dummy line, to the delight of the passengers.

Rhine [Ryn, Wright] J. Kamhout [1860-1948]

Rhine Kamhout was one of the first in Grand Haven to retire under the Social Security system. He had been an employee of Keller Tool Company since 1918. Prior to that, he was employed at Grand Haven Brass Foundry, which started production in 1907, and before that he was a laborer at the Boyden & Akeley Shingle Mill. He was born in Grand Haven on March 9, 1860 and didn't retire from Keller until 1940. Rhine married his second wife, Anna "Annie" Siebelink in Holland, Michigan on January 23, 1886. They lived at 327 Columbus in the early 1900s into the 1930s. Anna was born in December 1866 [1867] and died in 1939. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Rhine died on July 1, 1948 and was buried with Anna. The Kamhouts children were Morris C., born in May 1889, and John G., born in January 1891. Rhine's first wife, Cornelia Ver Murlen, was born about 1857. She was the daughter of Cornelius and Catherine Ver Murlen [Ver Muelen] of Grand Haven. Rhine and Marinus Kamhout were brothers.

Albert A. Kaminske [Kaminski] [1854-1930]

In the early 1900s Albert Kaminske owned and operated Robinson Farm Resort on 80 acres in Section 2 of Robinson Township. The northeast corner of the property provided access to the Grand River. The two-story, frame home with a wrap-around porch burned to the ground in May 1920. Alfred Robinson, an early settler, built the home around 1870. Albert immigrated to the United States in 1884, about five years before his wife. They were married in Chicago and settled in Robinson Township around 1897. Albert was born in Germany in 1854, died in 1930, and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. His wife, Ottilie [Aurilia] H. Wirsing, also a native of Germany, lived from 1863 to 1928 and was buried near her husband. The family attended the German Lutheran Church in Robinson. The Kaminskes had nine children.

Aart "Arthur" Kammeraad [1884-1973]

Art Kammeraad was born in Grand Haven on November 18, 1884. He married Alice Vander Meiden, the daughter of Joe and Janie Scholten Vander Meiden of Grand Haven. Art and Alice lived in a home, later razed, one block south of the main entrance to Lake Forest Cemetery. Later they moved to 1006 Colfax. Alice was born on May 30, 1886 and died on November 29, 1969. Art was Sexton at the cemetery for more than 30 years. The Kammeraads had four sons and one daughter, each of whom helped with grounds maintenance: Bernard, born on March 17, 1906; Joseph E., born on January 25, 1908; Lester, born on April 3, 1909; Ruth, born on March 3, 1916; and Robert, born on January 7, 1918. Ruth married John Smoes of Coopersville. Art passed away about December 3, 1973. He and Alice were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Bernard A. Kammeraad [1906-1962]

The son of Art and Alice Vander Meiden Kammeraad, Bernard was born in Grand Haven. He was one of five children who helped their father maintain the grounds at Lake Forest Cemetery, where he was Sexton. Bernard also served as Sexton at the Spring Lake Cemetery for a few years. He later sold real estate from his home at 229 Lafayette in Grand Haven, where he lived with his wife, Sena. Sena was born October 15, 1905 and died in Grand Haven on May 23, 1999. The Kammeraads had three children: Ellis Ronald, who was born September 6, 1926; Keith, who was born on October 2, 1931 and passed away on June 30, 2002; and Craig, born February 28, 1934. Bernard died on January 10, 1962 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Elizabeth "Betty" Davison Kammeraad [1932-2012]

See Elizabeth "Betty" Dobbie.

Ellis Ronald Kammeraad [1926-2006]

Ellis, the son of Bernard and Sena Kammeraad, was born in Grand Haven on September 6, 1926. He married Ann, daughter of Henry V. Koppel. Ellis and Ann, continued to reside in the family home at 129 Lafayette. Ellis passed away on May 18, 2006 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ann was born on October 17, 1932, died on January 22, 2020, and was buried at Lake Forest.

James Neil Kammeraad [1931-1997]

James Kammeraad was a real estate agent with Prudential-Clyde Hendrick Realtors at 415 South Beacon for 27 years. He was born in Muskegon on September 7, 1928, the son of Lester and Sylvia Dykema Kammeraad. From 1951-54 he served with the Coast Guard aboard the Escanaba II during the Korean Conflict. Jim married Phyllis R. Van Doorn in Coopersville on August 7, 1956. Jim and Phyllis lived at 1000 Park Street in Grand Haven. They attended the First Reformed Church of Grand Haven. Jim was a member of the American Legion and the North Ottawa Board of Realtors. The Kammeraads had a daughter, Connie Gordon, and two sons, Thomas and Steven. Jim died in Grand Haven on June 16, 1997. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 7, 1997.]

Joseph E. Kammeraad [1908-1980] and Hannah Van Doorne Kammeraad [1908-2012]

The son of Art and Alice Vander Meiden Kammeraad, Joseph was born in Grand Haven on January 25, 1908 and died in Manatee, Florida on March 24, 1980. He was one of five children who helped their father maintain the grounds at Lake Forest Cemetery, where he was Sexton. Later Joseph owned and operated funeral homes in Grand Haven, Spring Lake, and Coopersville during a career that spanned 40 years. The Grand Haven funeral home was located at 208 Franklin, which also served as the Kammeraads' residence. On December 1, 1966 Joseph purchased from Don Barbier the Barbier Funeral Home in Spring Lake. Two years later he sold both the Kammeraad and Barbier Homes to the Van Zantwick Funeral Home. Joseph was County Coroner for 14 years. He married Hannah Van Doorne in Grand Haven on September 23, 1930. The daughter of Martinus and Reka Laman Van Doorne, she was born in Grand Haven on April 19, 1908 and passed away in Grand Haven on October 15, 2012. Hannah worked with Joseph at the funeral home. The Kammeraads had one son, Kenneth Jay, born in Grand Haven on April 18, 1931. Joseph and Hannah were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Kenneth J. Kammeraad [1931-2013]

Ken Kammeraad was born in Grand Haven on April 18, 1931, the only son of Joseph and Hannah Van Doorne Kammeraad. He married Elizabeth "Betty" Davison on April 11, 1952, not long after their graduation from Grand Haven High School. Ken attended Hope College from 1949 to 1951, finished his Mortuary Science degree at Wayne State University in 1952, and served in the United State Coast Guard from 1952 to 1956. Back in Grand Haven, he worked with his father at Kammeraad Funeral Home before starting a long career with Security First Bank & Trust [today's Fifth Third Bank]. He retired from Old Kent Bank in 1996. Ken was one of the founders of the local AMBUCS organization, participated in the activities of the Kiwanis Club, and was associated with the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. He was a member of the Michigan Funeral Directors Association and was president and director of the Chamber of Commerce from 1971 to 1975. From 1967 to 1977 he served as treasurer and trustee of the North Ottawa Hospital Authority, and he was an elder at the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church from 1967 to 1970. He and Betty founded the Guild of Shakers Crafts in Spring Lake, which was in operation for 18 years. They adopted a daughter, Lisa Marie, in February 1959. Three years later, in March 1962, they brought Joel Davison into the family. Ken passed away in Grand Haven on May 20, 2013 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, May 24, 2013.]

Leonard [Leendeert] Kammeraad I [1858-1914]

Born in The Netherlands on September 22, 1858, Leonard was the brother of John, Ben, Annetje, and Lena Kammeraad. Lena married Jacob Essenberg, and Annetje married John Bolthuis of Holland. Leonard arrived in the United States in 1870 and lived in Holland until he was about 25 years old, when he moved to Grand Haven. He worked at Ottawa Leather for several years before going into business for himself. By 1891

Leonard operated a saloon at 9 North Seventh Street in Grand Haven. In 1892 he married Tenntje “Tillie” Donker of Grand Haven. Their children included Arthur, Franz, Cornelius, Peter, Henry, and Leonard II, all of Grand Haven. The family lived at 635 Washington. Leonard died at his home on July 9, 1914. Tillie, who was born in November 1859, passed away on August 17, 1917 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband. [Tribune obituary, July 10, 1914.]

Lester Kammeraad [1909-1962]

Born in Grand Haven on April 3, 1909, Lester, the son of Art and Alice Vander Meiden Kammeraad, joined Homer Benedict and started Grand Haven Screw Products in 1947. Like his three brothers and one sister, young Lester helped his father maintain the grounds at Lake Forest Cemetery, where he was Sexton. Lester and his wife, Sylvia, lived at 1003 Colfax. James Neil Kammeraad, born on March 28, 1931, was their son. Lester died on September 9, 1962 in Ohio, and Sylvia, who was born on November 4, 1909, passed away in Grand Haven on November 5, 1982. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter Adrian Kammeraad [1900-1949]

Peter Kammeraad was City manager of Grand Haven from 1932 to 1934. He was born on February 11, 1900, passed away about February 15, 1949, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He was the son of Arthur Henry Kammeraad, who resided at 635 Washington.

Robert Kammeraad [1918-1992]

The son of Art and Alice Vander Meiden Kammeraad, Robert was Ottawa County Register of Deeds for more than 34 years. Like his three brothers and one sister, as a youth Robert helped his father maintain the grounds at Lake Forest Cemetery, where he was Sexton. Robert also became Cemetery superintendent. He lived from January 7, 1918 to June 28, 1992 and was buried at Le Forest Cemetery. He married Marian J. Hoagerland. The couple resided at 1031 Waverly in Grand Haven and later at 17034 Robbins Road. Marian was born on May 30, 1912 and passed away in Spring Lake on March 16, 2003.

Raymond Kamp [1910-2001]

The son of Cornelius and Jennie De Redder Kamp, Raymond was born in Grand Rapids on March 12, 1910. On June 29, 1935 he married Margaret “Jennie” A. Kossuth in Grand Haven. Raymond worked for Bastian Blessing for 40 years. He and his wife were members of St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Spring Lake. Raymond attended the Civilian Conservation Corps camp at Wolverine, Cheboygan County. The Kamps had four children: Marlene Braun of Muskegon; Paulette, who married Dan Goheen of Huntington, West Virginia; Barbara, who married David Redmon and lived in Nunica; and Tom, who also lived in Nunica with his wife, Sheril. The Kamps lived at 12414 State Road in Nunica. Raymond died in Nunica on June 11, 2001 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 13, 2001.]

Russell J. Kamper [1907-1975]

A dentist and resident of Spring Lake, Russell Kamper served as village president for seven consecutive terms between 1963 and 1969. He lived from October 5, 1907 to September 6, 1975. Russell married Margaret Smith in Holland, Michigan on June 18, 1935. Russell’s dental office was located at 119 West Savidge and his home was at 111 Mason, where Margaret continued to live after his death. She was born on August 14, 1909 and passed away in Spring Lake in June 1995. She and her husband were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Gerrit Kamphuis I [Kamphouse] [1844-1913]

Gerrit Kamphuis was born in The Netherlands in November 1844 and came to Grand Haven in 1867. He worked for Eagle Ottawa Leather Company most of his life. He was a brother of Jacob Kamphuis of Grant, Newaygo County, Mrs. Orrie Dykhuis of Ventura [probably Mrs. Arend Dykhuis of Section 28, Olive Township], and Mrs. H. Meyers of Grand Haven. On August 9, 1873 in Grand Haven Gerrit married Grietje “Katie” Ammaal, another native of The Netherlands, where she was born in August 1853. Katie came to the United States in 1872. Their children included Elizabeth “Lizzie,” who was born in June 1879 and married William Byl of Grand Haven; Jannie [Jennie], who was born in August 1881 and married Gustave Fett of Grand Haven; Gerrit Kamphuis II, who was born on June 30, 1883 and died in Grand Haven on March 1, 1972; and Ida, born in April 1890. Gerrit I died at his home at 406 North Fifth Street on April 23, 1913. Katie died in 1922, two years after marrying Klaus Lenenga, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Gerrit. [Tribune obituary, April 23, 1913.]

Henry Kamphuis [1921-2011]

Henry Kamphuis lived at 21 North Fourth Street from 1950 to 1960, where he also offered watch repair. In December 1960 he opened Standale Jewelry. Ten years later he returned to Grand Haven and opened a store at 112 Washington Street, which he vacated toward the end of the 1970s. At that time, he and his wife resided at 334 Columbus Street. He married Angeline Hassevoort on February 29, 1944 in West Olive. Born on April 5, 1926 in Olive Township, she passed away on July 7, 2013, two years after Henry. They had eight children, including Roger, Donald, John, Robert, Phyllis, and Beverly. Henry served in the U.S. Army until his early discharge because of a heart ailment. He was born on September 7, 1921. He died in Walker, Kent County on February 13, 2011, not quite 90 years old. He and Angeline were buried at River Bend Cemetery in Walker.

William Wallace Kanouse [1809-1895]

Although he was accustomed to traveling on water, Captain William Kanouse came from Toledo to Grand Rapids by foot, after the steamer Don Quixote he was on, bound for West Michigan, was wrecked in Thunder Bay, Ontario. Upon his arrival in Grand Rapids in 1837, he was made second in command of the steamboat Governor Mason, under Captain William Stoddard, the year that service was inaugurated. Built by James Short for Richard Godfrey, the steamer ran the river between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids. William became the second captain to pilot the boat, and he was followed by Captain Willard Sibley.

William was born about 1810 in Newfoundland, New Jersey. He and his family were in the 1840 census for Norton Township, which was then part of Ottawa County. According to Franklin Everett, William moved to Grand Haven around 1841. On June 2, 1834 in Wayne County, he married Delia Cullinan, who was born in Ireland around 1814. Among their children were Helen, who was born in Ohio about September 1836; George Montague, who was born in Grand Haven on November 27, 1842 and died in Salt Lake City, Utah, on January 13, 1881; Edward, born about 1844; and John B., born in February 1849. Delia was a widow by 1860 and twenty years later she was residing in Saginaw with her son John and his family and listed as widowed.

It was a fist fight with James Collins that gave William his local fame, and it is one of several local legends that explain the name Battle Point. [Everett cited Henry Dusenbury as Kanouse’s opponent.] The fight arose over a dispute regarding the boundaries of their preemptions in Section 31 of Crockery Township and had nothing to do with Indians. Only a few log houses had been erected in the dense forest along the banks of the Grand River near Grand Haven. One particular spot on the river looked more attractive to Captain Kanouse than any other on which to build his cabin. Since the government had not completed surveying the land north of the river, a person wishing to own part of it could do so by obtaining a preemption title. Later in 1839 the government put the land up for sale and the person holding the preemption had the first chance at buying that particular piece of land. Therefore William availed himself of the opportunity. Some other people also had their eye on the same spot, including James Collins. A desperate fight with words and fists ensued, after which the place was called Battle Point. Since Captain Kanouse’s name was the first entry in the abstract of the property, it appears that he wasn’t the loser. The abstract read: “United States to William W. Kanouse, August 5, 1837. Patent issued on August 1, 1841.” The land in dispute consisted of 59 acres. William did, however, sell the land to Pierre C. Andre on October 29, 1839, before he had absolute title to it. Andre then transferred the land to four Indians, including Magobie.

William died on December 24, 1895. He and Delia may have been divorced around 1860.

Joseph Karafa [1871-1935]

Like his brother Steven, Joseph Karafa was a farmer in Section 12 of Crockery Township. He was the son of Alexander Karafa and was born in Szarfold, Hungary November 28, 1871. Presumably he settled in Crockery Township the same time as his brother, 1907, but by 1930 he was located in Detroit with his wife, Brigitta Nemeth, and their children. She also was from Szarfold, where she was born September 12, 1874. Her parents were John and Elizabeth Komlasi [Komlosi] Nemeth. Joseph and Brigitta had at least one daughter, Anna. Joseph died in Detroit on May 23, 1935.

Steven Karafa [1877-1950]

Listed as a "Farmer and Stockraiser" in the 1912 Atlas, Steven Karafa owned 120 acres in Section 12 of Crockery Township. The son of Alexander Karafa, Steven was born in Szarfold, Hungary on September 14, 1877 [1875] and settled in the Crockery area in 1907. His brother Joseph lived nearby. In 1905 Steven married Mary Margaret Szerence [Szerenche], who was born April 18, 1881 [1882] and died in late December 1969. They had six children, all born in Michigan: Alex, born in 1909; Andrew, born in 1911; Chris, born in 1913; Eva, born in 1917; and James, born in 1921. Steven and Mary were still in Crockery Township in 1930. Steven passed away about August 4, 1950. He and Mary were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Winfred J. "Bud" Karsten [1921-1984]

Born in Moline, Allegan County, on November 1, 1921, Bud was the son of Jacob and Hattie Schans Karsten. Other members of the family were his brother Martin Karsten of Kentwood and his sisters: Grace Nuyenhuis; Pauline, who married Sydney Bos of Grand Rapids; Anita, who married Ernest Pettinga, also of Grand Rapids; and Harriet, who married Edward Venema of Florida. Bud lived in Holland for many years and moved to Grand Haven in 1966. He was a teacher and principal at Ellsworth Christian School for four years; at Holland Christian School for 12 years; and at Grand Haven Christian School for 13 years. Bud also was a self-employed carpenter. He was a member of the First Christian Reformed Church, the principals Club of Christian Schools, Magnachards of Holland, and the Holland YMCA

Bud married Elizabeth Oosse on June 28, 1945 in Grand Rapids. Their children included Joann, who married Edward Tysman of Grand Haven; Judith, who married Gary Buttery of New London, Connecticut; Esther, who married Andrew Waid of Ada; and Jack of Kalamazoo. Bud died on December 25, 1984 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Elizabeth was born on March 12, 1924 and died in Grand Haven on August 29, 1998. [Tribune obituary, December 26, 1984.]

Martin Kartheus [Karthaus, Karstens] [1870-1913]

Martin Kartheus, who was born in 1870, owned an 80-acre farm in Section 23 of Grand Haven Township. He and his wife, Anna Berg, had eight children: Cynthia, born September 11, 1896; Anna, April 4, 1898; Alfred, February 14, 1900; Clara E, February 15, 1902; Carl; Martha, March 6, 1907; Isabel, December 18, 1910; and one other child. After Martin's death in 1913, Anna married Gustav Goldberg. Anna lived from 1875 to 1958.

Frederick Kasperson [1897-1929]

Fred Kasperson drowned when the Andaste went down in Lake Michigan on September 9, 1929. He was born in Milwaukee in 1897 and lived in Grand Haven with his brother Ernest Kasperson and family at 205 Clinton. Fred was a member of Andaste's crew.

Irma M. Kasischke [1909-1989]

Irma Kasischke and Elaine Jansen owned BeLane's Clothes Horse at 4 Washington in downtown Grand Haven. Irma lived from October 15, 1909 to November 18, 1989. She resided at 1621 Sanford Street in Grand Haven. She passed away in Free Soil, Mason County.

Claus [Klaus] Katt [1872-1936]

The son of Ferrysburg pioneers John and Stientje Wieringa Katt, Claus started building ships at the Giles Shipyard in Ludington and later became superintendent at the Ferrysburg Ship Yard. It was at Giles that Claus designed the Johanna, a 42' steel tug built at the shipyard in 1912 for Roy and Martin O'Beck of Grand Haven. Claus started his own shipbuilding business in Ferrysburg in 1913, producing riveted, steel pleasure boats, such as Easy Life, Black Cat, and Mary. Claus's shipyard was located north of Johnston Brothers, at the site of the former Pearson Ship Yard. Claus was born on June 10, 1872 and died on April 29, 1936. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He married Mary Klaus in Ferrysburg on June 14, 1893. She was born in Spring Lake on August 4, 1871 and passed away March 9, 1943. She also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

John [Jan] Harley Katt [Cat] [1843-1907]

Born in December 1843 in The Netherlands, John Katt came to the United States in 1869 and first worked in the sawmills in Northwest Ottawa County. In 1872 he lost an arm in an accident at the Glover & White Mill in Ferrysburg. He opened a feed business in 1880 and owned 56 acres of farmland. In 1894 he opened a grocery, flour, and feed store, where he was assisted by his daughter, Aldie [Allie], who was born in 1880. The building was located on the northeast corner of Third and Beech Streets in Ferrysburg. It burned down in 1931. On September 28, 1869 in Grand Haven, he married Stientje "Kate" Wierenga. Kate was born in The Netherlands in May 1849, died in 1919, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Their children, all born in Michigan, were: Claus, born about 1872; Jennie, who was born in December 1873 and married John Bonema; Peter, born in 1875; Harry, who was born in December 1882 and married Jenny Bosch; Henry J., who lived from November 1884 to 1923 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery; John J. I, born in December 1886; Hannah, who was born in November 1889 and married Dick Bosch; Hilda, who was born on September 2, 1891 and married Henry Bolthouse of Spring Lake; Tina, who was born in November 1893 and married Dick Westerhof; and Aldie, who also married a Bonema. John died in 1907 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 11, 1923.]

John H. Katt [1913-1996]

John was born June 21, 1913 in Ferrysburg to Harry and Jenny Bosch Katt. His brothers and sisters included Stena [Chris] Postema; Ann Hommes; Nellie Herlein of Grand Haven; Ralph, whose wife, Josephine, was from Muskegon; Clarence, whose wife's name was Betty; and Jeanette Van Dep, who died in 1922. John was a toolmaker for Standard Automotive in Muskegon until he retired in 1977. He was a member of the Second Christian Reformed Church, and he was on the Board of West Michigan Christian High School. On January 28, 1938 he married Henrietta Meeusen in Muskegon. Their children included Janet Smallegan of Zeeland and Gordon of Spring Lake, whose wife's name was Merle. John died October 10, 1996 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, October 11, 1996.]

John J. Katt I [1886-1931]

John was born in Michigan on December 13, 1886, the son of John and Stientje Wierenga Katt. He and his wife, Reka [Mike], were residents of Ferrysburg. Mike was born in Michigan on February 3, 1892, died in Grand Haven on September 25, 1973, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with John, who passed away in 1931. John took over his father's general and feed stores in Ferrysburg. Their children, all born in Michigan, were John II, born on January 12, 1913; Gerrit [Garreth], who was born on January 28, 1915 and died in Norton Shores on July 11, 1974; Claude, who was born about 1917 and predeceased his father; Swannie, who was born about 1918 and married Orrie Vanden Bosch of Grand Haven; Stella, born about 1920; Marguerite, born about 1922; Harold [Herald], born about 1924; Donald, born about 1926; and Edwin E., who was born on April 7, 1929, moved to Muskegon, and passed away in Summerfield, Florida on February 8, 1998.

John J. Katt II [1913-1985]

Born in Ferrysburg on January 12, 1913, John was the son of John J. and Mike Katt of Ferrysburg. Young John retired from Holtrop Concrete Products and was a charter member of the Ferrysburg Christian Reformed Church. He married Bernice Anderson on November 30, 1938. Bernice was born on January 26, 1917 and died in Grand Haven on July 27, 2002. The Katts' children included Nancy, who married Bill Tysman of Grand Haven, and Steven J. of Cloverville. John died June 11, 1985 in Grand Haven and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 11, 1985.]

John Paul Katt [1894-1987]

John was born in Ferrysburg on January 22, 1894, the son of Peter and Clara Start Katt. On October 27, 1915 John married Clara Westhoff in Cutlerville. The daughter of Petrus and Fenna De Groot Westhof of Ferrysburg, Clara was born on August 29, 1895. In 1930 John was an electrician. He died at his home, 508 174th Avenue in Ferrysburg on August 30, 1987. Clara died in Grand Haven on December 26, 1991 and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with her husband. Their children, all born in Ferrysburg, were Clarissa Ruth, born on August 24, 1916; Frances Jean, born on October 14, 1919; Jack Herbert, who was born on September 29, 1921 and died in Ferrysburg on March 17, 2010; and Howard Peter, born on April 16, 1933. [Tribune obituaries, September 1, 1987 and March 19, 2010.]

Marjorie J. Katt [1914-1993]

Marjorie Katt, who was born on August 28, 1914, died in Grand Haven on February 25, 1993. She resided at 127 Clinton in Grand Haven.

Merzo "Michael" Katt [Cat] [1852-1931]

Merzo Katt, a farmer with 10 acres in Section 17 in Spring Lake Township, was born in October 1852 [1854] and died in 1931. He married Anna Ostermeke, who lived from May 1863 to 1907. Both were natives of The Netherlands. Their children were Lizzie, born in January 1882; Anna, born in March 1884; Okkie, a son, born in January 1887; Kate, who was born in June 1890 and died in 1913; Allie, born in May 1894; Stena, who lived from 1896 to 1898; and Johnnie, who was born and died in 1900. Merzo and his wife were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Kate, Stena, and Johnnie.

Peter Katt [1875-1963]

Peter was born on February 21, 1875, the son of John and Stientje Wierenga Katt. Peter was employed at Johnston Brothers Boiler Company. On September 28, 1893 in Spring Lake, Peter married Clara, the daughter of Hilbrant Start of Spring Lake. Clara lived from May 4, 1874 to about November 20, 1954, and Peter died on November 13, 1963. Clara and Peter died in Ferrysburg and were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Charles M. Kay [1831-1913]

Born in Kentucky on March 20, 1831, Charles Kay studied law and was admitted to the bar in Quincy, Illinois. In 1868 [1869] he came to Spring Lake, where he opened a law office. He held Village and township offices in Spring Lake for forty years. He was first elected to the office of village clerk in 1873 and held the post until his death. In addition, at the time of his death, he was township clerk, justice of the peace, and a member of the Spring Lake Board of Education. He was Spring Lake supervisor from 1880 to 1881. Charles also was a farmer.

In 1860 Charles married Elizabeth "Lizzie" F. Scott of Aledo, Illinois. She was born in Virginia in March 1843, died on October 11, 1920, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Lizzie's mother, Mary Scott, born in Pennsylvania in 1821, was residing with the Kay family in 1880, and koppel March 22, 1895. The Kays' children included Mary I., who married George A. Seagrove of Chicago and Spring Lake; Minnie, who was born in Illinois about 1864; Bessie, who was born in Illinois about 1864; Nettie, who was born in Illinois about 1866 and married W. B. Mayhew of Chicago; Frances C., "Frankie," who was born in January 1871 in Illinois and married William D. Spencer of Spring Lake; Robert H., who was born about 1872 in Michigan and moved to Bay City; and Louisa [Louise] R., who was in born in Michigan on May 2, 1876 and married Edward P. Cummings of Grand Haven and Lansing. Charles died at his home at 403 East Savidge in Spring Lake on August 23, 1913. [Tribune obituaries, August 23, 1913 and October 12, 1920.]

John Kedgnal [Kedgnol, Kedgnot] [1842-1926]

See John Duvernay.

Andrew Stewart Kedzie [1814-1899]

Born on August 23, 1814 in Stamford, New York, Andrew came with his father, William Kedzie, to Monroe County in May 1826. His brother, Robert C. Kedzie, joined the faculty at Michigan Agricultural College in East Lansing [MSU] as Professor of Chemistry. In 1839 Andrew obtained his first degree from Western Reserve College at Hudson, Ohio, which later moved to Cleveland under the name Adelbert College. In 1842 he received a master degree in the ministry. He pastored Congregational churches in Kalamazoo, Union City, Clinton, Somerset, Dexter, and Dowagiac. He was on the Board of Directors of Chicago Theological Seminary. Andrew served on the Christian Commission during the Civil War. [His brother Robert served in the military during the same conflict.] In May 1880, while living in Berrien County, Andrew and his son Donald formed the firm Kedzie & Kedzie. Andrew came to Grand Haven in March 1881, where he was appointed pastor of the Congregational Church. At the same time he purchased the Grand Haven Herald from Marvin H. Creager. Donald worked with him. Marvin had operated the newspaper in behalf of the Benham estate from October 1880 to the time of Adam's purchase. [Lillie wrote that Kedzie & Kedzie bought the Herald from Guy Weber and Horace Nichols, who had purchased it from the Benham estate in early 1881.] and bought the Spring Lake Republican, which they merged with the Herald. The older Kedzie was author of several books and articles, district oil inspector for several years, and a Republican.

Adam's wife, Henrietta G., was born in Michigan on December 11, 1833. She was the daughter of Daniel Hixson. Their children were Donald, who was born in Michigan about 1857, later moved to Lordsburg, New Mexico for health reasons and published a newspaper there; Katherina [Katherine] J., who was born in 1864 in Somerset, Hillsdale County, married a Forrest E. Buswell in Grand Haven on November 14, 1882; Mary A., who was born in Bridgeport, Saginaw County on February 16, 1866 [1860], married Joseph F. Hixon [Hixson] in Grand Haven on September 20, 1882, died on November 26, 1890, and was buried at Lake Forest; Robert Mark Kedzie, who was born on February 19, 1871, married in Chicago in 1898, and later moved to Los Angeles, where he passed away on October 25, 1941. Forrest was born about 1860 in Macedonia, Ohio, and Joseph was born in Ithaca, New York in 1858. All the Kedzie children were born in Michigan. Henrietta died on September 28, 1910 at a hospital at Evanston, Illinois. Andrew passed away on February 4, 1899. He and his wife were buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituaries, February 6, 1899 and September 29, 1910.]

Peter [Patrick] Albert Keefer [Kiefer, Kieffer] [1884-1966]

Peter Keefer on June 17, 1908 married Edith Nesbitt Hall. The couple moved to Grand Haven from Raymond, Washington to open Keefer's Restaurant at 15 Washington in the 1920s. Peter was born in Indiana [Michigan] on June 27, 1884, and Edith was born in Michigan about 1880 and passed away around September 22, 1954. They lived above the restaurant. Georgia Keefer, a daughter who was born about 1901 in the State of Washington, filled the role of assistant manager and resided with her parents. Sometime after 1938 the Keefers sold the business to Earl and Esther Gier, who continued to operate the restaurant under the Keefer name. Peter died in Grand Haven on October 7, 1966 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery with Edith.

Alexander Keeler [1833-1899]

Born on December 8, 1833 in New York, Alexander Keeler enlisted with the 10th Michigan Calvary during the Civil War. Alexander died on September 17, 1899. On October 11 that year his widow, Polly, filed for a widow's pension. Polly, also a native of New York, lived from September 15, 1829 to March 6, 1901. Alexander and Polly were buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. They had six children: Charles, born in 1855; George, born in 1857; John, born in 1860; Richard, born in 1862; Phebe, born in 1865 and Lada, born in 1868. In 1870 the family lived in Polkton Township. By the early 1890s they were residing on a 40-acre farm in Section 15 of Robinson Township.

George Joseph Kehoe [1893-1976]

George Kehoe was born in Ohio on September 29, 1893 and came to the Grand Haven area in 1915. On his birthday in 1921 he married Caroline "Carrie," the daughter of Fred and Helen Goodman Palmer. She was born on September 29, 1893. In 1925 the couple built a summer home on Grand River at 15085 Mercury Drive. The house eventually was winterized for year-round living. Carrie died on July 31, 1964. George, who remarried, was an employee of Gardner-Denver. He died on May 14, 1976 in Grand Haven. He and Carrie were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

William T. Kelley [1847–1895]

William Kelley was born in Ireland on August 20, 1847. His wife Mary was born in the same country on December 13, 1849 and died on February 26, 1909. Their children, all born locally, included John L. who was born in December 1873, married Natalie F. Fritz of Grand Haven, and died about May 1, 1953; Josie B., born in December; 1877; Mary, born about 1877; Johanna, born about 1878; Margaret H., who was born in September 1879 and married John A. Mulholland; Katheryn, born in June 1881; William, born in August 1883; and Esther, born in March 1886. Katheryn, William, and Esther all relocated to Bay City. In Grand Haven, the family resided on Howard Street. William the father, who worked on the railroad, died on November 25, 1895 and was buried with Mary at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, February 25, 1909.]

Kellid [Kallid] Abdul Kellizy [1897- ?]

Kellid Kellizy ran a grocery store at 326 Fulton around 1940. He was born in Damascus, Syria on June 3, 1897 [June 2, 1898]. He was sworn in as a naturalized citizen in Grand Haven on April 15, 1924. Sometime after that date he visited his home country and returned to the United States on October 20, 1929. In 1918 Kellid resided at 12 Washington and worked at Eagle Ottawa. His wife Aysheit was born about 1912. By 1936 he owned a grocery store at 326 Fulton Street that he was still operating in 1945. He and Aysheit resided at 1107 Pennoyer.

John Kelly [1879-1933]

As commander of the Tenth Coast Guard District from 1930 to 1933, John Kelly coordinated the development of the mooring area for Coast Guard ships, which was later named Kelly Memorial Park in his honor and then Escanaba Park. Born in 1879, Lt. Commander Kelly died on November 11, 1933, just before the landing and park area was completed. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

John S. Kelly [1830-1910]

Born in Ireland in 1830, John Kelly arrived in America at age 11 with his parents, eventually becoming a mechanical engineer for the New York & Erie Railroad. In 1853 he moved to Grand Rapids and three years later settled in Ferrysburg. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he reportedly organized a company of sharpshooters and was commissioned captain. [His official service records were not located.] In 1865 he made his home at Port Sheldon and had charge of three sawmills, one at Ferrysburg, another at Johnsville [Agnew], and the third at Dennison, near Coopersville. By 1880 he and his family had returned to Ferrysburg, and a year later they were in Muskegon. A blacksmith by trade, he invented appliances for use in sawmills. He was designated by the federal government to go to Panama when the plan for the canal was first conceived as an American enterprise [unverified].

He married Mary McNamara, who was born in Ireland around 1830. Their children, all born in Michigan, included John T., who was born about 1857 and moved to Lowell; Mary, born about 1855; Frances "Fannie," born in December 1860; Alice G., born around 1863; Edward and Willie, born about 1866; Margaret A., born about 1868; and Joseph, born about 1870. Frances married J. D. Sheridan and moved to Muskegon, as did her sisters, Alice and Margaret. Mary passed away in Muskegon on January 23, 1899. John died in Muskegon on December 13, 1910. [Tribune obituary, December 13, 1910.]

John Louis Kelly [1873-1953]

A blacksmith by trade, in 1908 John Kelly's business was located at 416 Fulton. His residence was on North Second Street and later at 212 Lafayette Street. He became a machinist and in 1918 was foreman at Dake Engine Company. John was born in Detroit on December 15, 1873. On October 7, 1902 he married Natalia [Natalie] Fritz in Grand Haven. Natalia lived from December 2, 1878 to August 31, 1950. John passed away on April 28 three years later. They had three children: John W. Kelly [1904-1979]; Mary Kelly [1911-1918]; and Francis Patrick Kelly [1906-1961]. John the father and Natalia were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Saidee Hadden Kelly [1889-1984]

Born on January 24, 1889 in Grand Rapids, Saidee was the daughter of Frank W. and Mary S. Bentley Hadden and the granddaughter of William T. and Sarah Ann Stonehouse Bentley. William, who built one of the earliest cooperage plants in Grand Rapids, lived from 1826 to 1905, and Sarah Ann lived from 1833 to 1906. Saidee married Jerry J. Kelly, who died in 1959. They had a son, Colonel Wilkes D. Kelly of the United States Air Force, who lived in Arlington, Virginia. He was born on February 15, 1907 and died in Fargo, North Dakota, on December 20, 1994. Saidee died in Grand Haven on March 17, 1984 and was buried in the Hadden family plot at Garfield Park Cemetery, Grand Rapids. [Tribune obituary, March 19, 1984.]

Park Benjamin Kelsey [1849-1920]

Born on May 17, 1849 in Maine, Park Benjamin Kelsey attended Oberlin College in Ohio. He married Julia Lydia Munroe in Grand Haven on November 20, 1872. He had married Helen Gage on January 4, 1871 in Romeo, Macomb County, although his residence was listed Grand Haven at the time. Helen, who was born in 1848, died in Port Huron on October 24, 1871. Julia was born on November 27, 1853 in Parma, New York. The daughter of Leonard [1804-1901] and Amarilla [1818-1904] Munroe, she was living with her uncle Dr. Stephen Munroe in Grand Haven in 1870 but attending school in Albion. In 1873 Park was a lumber dealer in Grand Haven. In 1880 Julia was living in Albion with her parents. She was noted as being married, but Park was not a member of the household. However, she also was listed as living in Detroit with Park the same year. They were divorced in Detroit on February 10, 1905. In 1910 and 1920 Park was living in Sault Ste. Marie. In the 1910 Federal Census, he claimed to be a widower. The census taker on January 16, 1920, noted he was "sick." He passed away of prostate cancer in Sault Ste. Marie nine days later and was buried at Lakeside Cemetery in Port Huron, where his first wife, Helen, was interred. At the time of his death, Park was working as a hotel clerk. Julia died in Los Angeles, California on August 1, 1927. She was buried at Riverside Cemetery in Albion.

William Keltie [1842-1915]

William Keltie married Elizabeth Slagle Walker, whose husband John died when quite young. Elizabeth was born in Ohio on April 19, 1842. William was born in Scotland on March 15, 1842 and immigrated to the United States in 1865. He was a cook on a Lake Michigan steamer. Their children included James A. Keltie, who served with the Life Saving Service and Coast Guard, primarily at the Chicago Station. James lived from September 13, 1887 to July 1963. Other children were Caroline, born in October 1880, and Bessie, born in February 1884. Also residing with the Keltie family was William "Captain Billy" Walker, Elizabeth's son by her first marriage. William died on December 23, 1915 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Elizabeth, who died on September 15, 1911.

Frederick Kendrick [1845-1918]

Born in England in December 1848 [1845], Frederick Kendrick came to the United States in 1851 and entered government service in 1873. He was in charge of the harbor tug Colonel Graham at Ludington and was instrumental in a dramatic rescue. "A [Congressional] gold medal was awarded to Captain Frederick Kendrick, master of the government harbor tug at Ludington, MI, in recognition of an act of magnificent gallantry, resulting in the saving of forty-four persons from the large grain barge, J. H. Rutter, on the first of November 1878." He was later transferred to Grand Haven, where he was put in charge of government ships that wintered in Government Pond. He resided at 106 Franklin with his wife Emma, who was born in Michigan in May 1860. Frederick died on September 1, 1918. ["Magnificent Gallantry of Local Sailor." Tri-Cities Historical Society, September 5, 1981.]

James A. Kennedy [1842-1923]

James Kennedy was pastor at the Grand Haven Presbyterian Church from 1892 to 1902. He also was vice president of American Brass Company in Grand Haven. His wife Mattie A., who was born in 1849 [1846], died on August 13, 1895. In the 1890s Mattie Kennedy owned and operated the "Millinery and Fancy Goods" store in Grand Haven. James left his pastorate in Grand Haven to move to Sault Ste. Marie. Born in 1842, James passed away in 1923 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Mattie.

Francis Julian Kennett I [1847-1911]

In the early 1900s F. J. Kennett owned a cottage named Glen Ella on the west shore of Spring Lake, near Belle Point and Stahl's Bayou. F. J. probably is Francis Julian Kennett who was born in Missouri on December 10, 1847. On June 23, 1874 he married Ella Frances Durand in Chicago. She was born in Milwaukee on November 29, 1851 and died in Inglewood, California on November 10, 1952. Francis died in Cornado, California on December 1, 1911. Both were buried at the Kennett Family Mausoleum at Inglewood Cemetery, as were their children: Francis Kennett II, Isabel Kennett, Luther Martin Kennett, John Durand Kennett, and Mabel Kennett.

Harold Kenyon [1896-1967]

Harold Kenyon owned Kenyon Autoelectric at 418 Franklin. He was born in Michigan on July 31, 1896 and died in Muskegon in March 1967. His wife, Rhuie, was born April 17, 1901, also in Michigan, and died in Muskegon on February 12, 1981. They had two daughters, Geraldine, born about 1922, and Marylianna, born about 1925. The family resided at 321 Barber in Spring Lake.

Johannes [John] Kerkhof [Kerkhoff, Kirkhof] [1839-1880]

In 1867 Johannes Kerkhof immigrated from The Netherlands to Grand Haven. With him were his brother, Berend Reenders Kerkhof, and Berend's son, Hendrikus [Henry] Kerkhof, who settled in Muskegon. He married Elke [Eilke] Reenders. By the time of the 1870 Federal Census, Johannes, Elke, and their two children, Antje and Alida [Ida], were residing in Grand Haven. Antje was born in The Netherlands about 1865, and Alida was born in Michigan on May 4, 1871. At least three other children died in infancy, but another child, Anna [Hannah], was born about 1875 and survived. She married Fred Boschma in Grand Haven on May 19, 1910.

Johannes, who was born in 1839, died in Grand Haven on January 11, 1880. He worked as a laborer. After his death, Elke, Alida, and Anna lived in a house on Fulton Street. Elke, a native of The Netherlands, was born on December 11, 1835, died on December 19, 1912, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

According to the 1880 Federal Census, Antje, known as Anna, was working as a domestic for the Thomas Vandenbosch family in Grand Haven. On August 16, 1892, Alida married John Bottje in Grand Haven.

Janet Ann Lehman Keur [1937-2018]

On June 24, 1955, Janet Lehman married Lawrence Peter Keur. She was born in Muskegon on June 5, 1937, and he was born in January the previous year. Lawrence started Keur Associates in Grand Haven in 1974 but later moved to Spring Lake. The name of the business was changed to Keur Industries. The Keurs resided at 2999 West Fruitport Road in Fruitport and later moved to 17736 Cobblestone Lane in Spring Lake. After Janet's death on July 2, 2018, Lawrence continued to live in the house on Cobblestone.

Louise Paige Keur [1913-2011]

On March 7, 1935 Louise Paige married Peter Keur in Muskegon. She was born in Wisconsin on March 7, 1913. Louise was an employee of Ottawa County for more than 25 years, working for the county treasurer and registrar of deeds. Peter lived from September 18, 1901 to April 1, 1991 and was buried at Fruitport Cemetery. Louise passed away on November 22, 2011 and also was interred at the Fruitport Cemetery. They had at least one child, Lawrence Peter Keur, who was born in January 1936 and married Janet Ann Lehman.

Joseph W. Kibbler [Kibler] [1838–1916]

Born in 1838 in Ohio, Joseph Kibbler enlisted as private with Company B of the 4th Ohio Infantry on June 5, 1861. He was discharged to enter Battery A of the 4th U.S. Artillery on October 18, 1862. Joseph was wounded at Gettysburg and in 1865 returned to Ohio. He moved to Niles in 1870, and then to Grand Haven in 1874. Joseph was one of the original incorporators of the Highland Park Association in 1886. On December 25, 1879 in Grand Haven, he married Margaret McCambridge, who was born in Chicago in 1858 and died about July 3, 1911. She was the sister of Thomas McCambridge of Grand Haven. The Kibblers had two sons: William, who was born on October 8, 1881 and died on April 2, 1950, and James, who was born on February 14, 1880 in Michigan and died on February 3 two years later. In 1880 the Kibblers were residing with Margaret's mother, Catherine McCambridge, in Grand Haven. At that time Joseph was a hotel clerk. He died on July 28, 1916 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

Abram [Abraham] T. Kieft [1870-1952]

The son of Frederick J. and Kryntje Nederveld Kieft, Abram was born in Grand Haven on August 16, 1870. With Paul A. Johnson I, Bernath P. Sherwood I, Emil Gaul, and Alvin E. Jacobson I as partners, Abram took over Bolling Manufacturing Company at 201 South Harbor in 1927 and renamed it Grand Haven Stamped Products. Ten years later, with his brother Fred II and Franklin Kieft as partners, he founded Screw Machine Specialties. It was started in a garage on Waverly Road, later moved to 1251 Fulton, and then to 14080 172nd in Grand Haven Township. His wife, Mary S., was born in Sweden in September 1875. They had a daughter, Katie, born in September 1897. The family lived in Robinson Township around 1900, but late in life Abram and Mary lived at 417 Buena Vista in Spring Lake, where Mary continued to reside into the late 1970s. Abram died on June 19, 1952 in Grand Haven.

Adam Kieft [1841-1879]

Adam Kieft was born August 21 [24], 1841 in Groningen, The Netherlands. On August 5, 1869, in Allegan County he married Cornelia Van Veuren, who lived from 1849 to 1916. In 1870 they had a farm in Allegan County. Among their children were William A., Fred, and Marguerite, who was born in Grand Haven about 1877. Another daughter, Martje, married William Beekman of Grand Haven and a third daughter, Minnie, married Charles Grossman. Minnie was born in 1871, probably in Grand Haven, and died there in 1939. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Adam died on July 18, 1879, also in Grand Haven.

Alford [Alfred] “Alf” Kieft [1920-2000?]

From the late 1940s into the early 1950s, Alford Kieft owned the Keniston Brothers Ice Cream store at 623 Washington Street. He married Vivian Childers Henry in Grand Haven on September 13, 1941. She was born in Kentucky on August 27, 1922. They lived at 1153 Fulton Street. Vivian moved to Oregon, and on February 27, 1947, married Henning Garmo [1908-1995] in Portland. She died 2009 in Spokane, Washington. On October 16, 1948, Alf married Betty Jane Simantz in Steuben, Indiana. They were divorced in Alameda, California on June 23, 1983. Betty lived from May 17, 1924 to March 1, 1998. The son of Fred and Della Beekman Kieft, Alford, who served with the United States Army during WWII, was born on July 8, 1920, died on July 26, 2000, and was buried at Chapel of the Chimes Cemetery in California.

Alvin “Al” Frederick Kieft [1920-2005]

Alvin, the son of Peter and Katherine Cook Kieft, was born in Grand Haven on April 14, 1919. He married Josephine Poel on December 5, 1941 in Grand Haven. Josephine was the daughter of Edward and Sena Casemiére Poel. Al served nearly five years in the Army during WWII and was awarded the Bronze Star. He became foreman at Challenge Machinery and later worked at Puffer Hubbard. Among Al's and Josephine's children were Jillaine Gallagher of Muskegon and Yvonne Smith of Louisville, Kentucky. The family resided at 1140 Washington Street and later at 1225 Grand Avenue. Josephine lived from June 10, 1921 to December 31, 2001. She died of cancer, and during the last 13 years of her life, Al was her personal nurse. He passed away on April 2, 2005 in Muskegon. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Anna Frances Kieft [1906-1935]

Born in Grand Haven on February 18, 1906, Anna was the daughter of Peter Kieft, who lived at 513 Madison Street. Peter Kieft, an employee of Van Zylens Lumber Company, died after World War II. Anna's mother, Katherine Cook, later married Thomas Vanden Bosch. Anna taught in West Olive and was a teacher in Ferrysburg for four years. She was a graduate of Western State Teachers College in Kalamazoo [WMU]. She was a member of the Second Christian Reformed Church, the Good Hope Mission Circle, and the Grand Haven Teachers Club. She died June 23, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, June 24, 1935.]

Clyde Kieft [1915-1993]

Clyde Kieft was president of the Kieft Insurance Agency, which started business in 1937. It was located at 226 West Savidge in Spring Lake. Garry Kieft was vice president and Lloyd Kieft, secretary-treasurer of the business. Clyde was born on March 17, 1915 and died on September 8, 1993. He and his wife, Helen, resided at 17804 Channel View Drive in Spring Lake Township. Helen lived from February 23, 1917 to December 1990.

Edward Kieft [1885-1960]

Edward, the son of Frederick J. and Kryntje Nederveld Kieft, was born in Grand Haven on September 14, 1885. On November 26, 1908 in Grand Haven, he married Henrietta Fase, the daughter of Jacob Fase and the sister of Dena, who married Peter Van Zylens of Grand Haven. The Kiefts had a celery farm at 923 Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard]. Their son, Thomas F. Kieft, owned the adjacent celery farm at 901. Edward died December 15, 1960 in Bradenton, Florida and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Henrietta, who died on June 29, 1953. She was born on December 5, 1885 in Michigan.

Franklin E. Kieft [1906-2001]

The son of Frederick and Della Beekman Kieft, Franklin was born in Grand Haven on October 25, 1906. On June 4, 1927 he married Gladys Conant, who died on September 4, 1984 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Franklin and Gladys had a son, David, who died on May 7, 1991 and was buried at Lake Forest. Franklin married Wilma Corbett on February 1, 1991. Wilma, the daughter of George and Nellie Speelman Corbett, was born in Grand Haven on May 2, 1922. On September 8, 1939 she married Everett Corbett, who died on October 18, 1989. Franklin was one of the founders and owners of Screw Machine Specialties, established in 1937. He was a member of the Hope Reformed Church in Grand Haven, president of the Michigan Blueberry Association, and served on the board of Audio Scriptures International. Gladys died on September 4, 1984. Franklin died in Bradenton, Florida on December 28, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest. His second wife, Wilma, passed away on April 8, 2012. She, also, was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, April 10, 2012.]

Frederick J. Kieft I [1846-1913]

Born in Zuid, The Netherlands on March 8, 1846, Frederick Kieft came to Grand Haven with his parents in 1853 as a child of seven. He was the son of Jan and Trintje Meyer Kieft. Jan died May 18, 1874, and Trintje lived from December 21, 1815 to June 28, 1900. In the 1880 census Frederick was listed as a dock worker in Grand Haven. Frederick subsequently moved to Peach Plains until about 1908, when he returned to Grand Haven.

On September 18, 1868 in Grand Haven Frederick married Kryntje [Grietje] "Katie" Nederveld. The daughter of Abraham and Nelltje Rychel Nederveld, Kryntje was born in The Netherlands on July 11, 1848 and came to the United States in 1863. Frederick was employed at the Challenge Company. He and Kryntje lived at 520 Jackson Street and had 14 children, all born in or near Grand Haven: Tena, who was born on March 31, 1869 and died on May 1, 1934 in Grand Rapids; Abram T. [Abraham]; Thomas Frederick, born

March 10, 1872, married Christine Petersen [January 3, 1875-February 22, 1931] in 1893 in Manistee, where he died on April 25, 1936; Nellie, who was born on January 25, 1874 and died in Muskegon on February 26, 1944; Katie, born on October 8, 1875 and died April 8, 1948 in Grand Haven; John F.; Martin, born November 16, 1878 and died April 9, 1929; Phoebe, who was born on July 13, 1880, married Edward Nederveld, and died on August 9, 1939; Susan, born September 9, 1882; Frederick II, who was born on April 6, 1884; Edward, born on September 14, 1885 and died December 15, 1960 in Bradenton, Florida; Jacob, who was born on October 18, 1887, married Minnie Maria Johanna Albrecht, and died in Grand Haven on May 22, 1931; Paul, who was born on September 6, 1890 and died March 27, 1963 in Big Star Lake, Lake County; and Gertrude, born March 22, 1892. Frederick I passed away on July 11, 1913 and his wife died on October 25, 1928. [Tribune obituary, June 28, 1900.]

Frederick J. Kieft II [1884-1964]

The son of Frederick and Katie Nederveld Kieft, Frederick II was born in Grand Haven on April 6, 1884. He married Dirkje "Della" Beekman on February 10, 1906. Born on September 5, 1884, Della was the daughter of Elbert and Alice Van Den Hoek Beekman of Grand Haven Township. The Kiefts, who lived at 505 South Ferry, had 10 children, including: Franklin; Arthur Cornelius, who lived from February 25, 1908 to June 5, 1979 and was the husband of Beatrice Fox; Raymond Edward who was born on July 15, 1913; and Catherine, who lived March 21, 1918 to July 21, 1975 and was married first to Sidney Keniston and then Darward Finkbeiner. Della died on July 17, 1959 and Frederick passed away died in Bradenton, Florida on February 28, 1964.

Frederick J. Kieft [1904-1958]

The son of John F. and Mabel Deremo Kieft and grandson of Frederick J. Kieft, young Frederick was born in Grand Haven in 1904. Fred was in the contracting business until 1948, when he assumed ownership of the Kieft Concrete Products Company in Spring Lake. He was a member of the Second Reformed Church, Optimist Club, Masons, Eastern Star, Eagles, and Shriners. On April 16, 1923 he married Helen Marks, who was born on April 1, 1902 and died in La Mesa, California, on February 16, 1971. They had a daughter, Lois, who married Dwight Naas of Fullerton, California. Frederick died at his home, 505 South Ferry Street, on August 29, 1958 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 29, 1958.]

Frederick M. Kieft [1842-1904]

Born in Groningen, The Netherlands in August 1842, Frederick was the brother of Wilford and Robert Kieft and Martha Blink, all of Muskegon. Fred came to Grand Haven about 1869. For over 30 years he had a grocery business at the corner of Fulton and Fifth Streets. He was also in the ice business. After retirement he worked his farm on Ferry Street. He married Anna Van Zanten, also from The Netherlands, where she was born in July 1856. Their children included Minke, who was born on July 1, 1875; Katherine, who was born about 1874, married John T. Vanden Bosch of Grand Haven, and died about December 20, 1955; Hattie, born in July 1879; Claudia, born in July 1881; Margaret, who was born on May 3, 1883 and married Harris L. Darbee; Frances, born in June 1885; Phester, who was born on February 28, 1888 and died on August 11, 1961; Wilford [Wilfred] Folgert, who was born on January 3, 1895, married Myrtle in Grand Haven on June 9, 1923, and died on November 10, 1975; Cora; Martha, born in April 1891; and Folgert W., born in January 1895. Wilford and Phester opened Kieft Brothers Men's Store in the mid-1920s. Frederick died on July 13, 1904, probably from a heart seizure while cultivating his farmland, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, July 14, 1904.]

Henry Kieft [1881-1958]

Henry was born on October 30, 1881 in The Netherlands, the son of Reintje and Rena Dykstra Kieft. In 1905 he married Elsie Kraai, who was born October 6, 1884 in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of John and Marta Anne Rienks Kraai of Grand Haven. Sometime before 1917 Elsie married Charles Washington Smith. Henry and Elsie resided at 1150 Fulton Avenue. One of their children was Raymond Henry Kieft, who was born on November 10, 1907 and died in Los Angeles County, California, on June 23, 1978. Henry worked at the Grand Haven Basket Factory. He died on October 15, 1958 and Elsie passed away on November 6, 1960. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Jan “John” Kieft [1811-1874]

Jan Kieft was born in The Netherlands about January 8, 1811 and came to Grand Haven in 1853. His wife, Trintje [Tryntje/Katherine] Meyer, was born in Groningen, The Netherlands, on December 21, 1815 and died June 28, 1900. In the 1870 census John was classified as a laborer. He died May 18, 1874. Among their children, were Frederick J., born about 1846, Martin, born in April 1856, and Kate, who was born about 1860 and married Hiram Pruim of Spring Lake. [Tribune obituary, June 28, 1900.]

John Frederick Kieft [1877-1971]

The son of Frederick J. and Krytnje Nederveld Kieft, John was born in Grand Haven on April 4, 1877. He owned 30 acres in Section 34 of Grand Haven Township [16344 Comstock] and was a mason by trade. On May 3, 1897, in Ottawa County, John married Mabel Gertrude, the daughter of John Quincy and Isabella Sarah Hale Deremo. Frederick J. Kieft, who was born in 1904 and named for his grandfather, was their son. Other children were [Florence] Isabella, who was born about 1898 and married Edward Mastenbrook in Grand Haven on August 26, 1922; Maurice E., born about 1911; Chester A. Kieft, born about 1913; Ronald K. Kieft, born about 1914; Alvin Jay Kieft, who was born on March 9, 1916, graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1934, on November 10, 1940 married Thela Amanda Hill [August 26, 1920-December 22, 2011] in Alma, Gratiot County, her hometown, and moved to Ashland, Ohio, where he died on May 4, 2013; Gertrude Kieft, born about 1917; and Howard Kieft, born about 1919. John Frederick Kieft died in Grand Haven on July 19, 1971.

Martin Kieft [1856-1944]

Martin was born in Michigan in April 1856, the son of John and Trintje Meyer Kieft. He started a celery business in Grand Haven in the late 1880s. Martin was living with his mother in Grand Haven in the 1880 census. He married Den Roossien, who was born in Michigan on July 25, 1873 and died on October 23, 1958. Their children were Marian K., born in February 1895; James Peter, born in January 1897; John, born in August 1898; Gerald, born about 1904; Frank, born about 1907; and Lester, born about 1913. The family resided at 327 Fulton. Martin passed away around February 8, 1944. He and Dena were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Martin Kieft I [1878-1929]

Martin, the son of Frederick and Kryntje Nederveld Kieft, was born in Grand Haven on November 16, 1878. He and his wife, Dena, lived in the early 1900s at 327 Fulton, and a few years later were owners of a large parcel on the northeast corner of Fulton and Ferry Streets, at one time the location of the Maurer Glove Company. Martin was a gardener and celery farmer. Among the Kiefts' children were Garret, John, Katie, Martin II, and Peter. The young Martin was born on September 8, 1900 and died in December 1978. Martin I died on April 9, 1929.

Minke Kieft [1875-1955]

Born on July 1, 1875 in Grand Haven, Minke was the son of Frederick and Anna Van Zanten Kieft. On January 28, 1903 in Grand Haven, Minke married Allie Roossien, daughter of Harm and Dena Roossien. Minke worked as a truck driver. He and Allie resided in a house they built in 1906 at 1008 Fulton Street not long after they were married; they remained in the house until Minke's death. He died on December 15, 1955 in Orange County, California. Allie passed away on June 5, 1979. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their daughter Annafred on October 27, 1927 married Muskegon resident George J. Kroeze, who died in August 1931 at the age of 25, apparently in an accident. Annafred next married Sherman Palmer on July 1, 1936 in Grand Haven. Annafred was born in Grand Haven on May 13, 1903 and died on November 29, 1993. Sherman lived from March 21, 1900 to January 13, 1951. They were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Peter Kieft I [1880-1952]

In 1903, when Peter Kieft was an employee of the Van Zylén Lumber Company, he married Katherine, the daughter of Peter and Martje Sluiter Cook, who was born on July 4, 1883 and died on April 15, 1981. She attended the first Christian School located at 513 Jackson Street, where one of her teachers was Elizabeth McMillan. Katherine worked at the Basket Factory, located at Sixth and Madison in Grand Haven, and later she was employed by the Hancock Cannery on Washington Street. She was 20 when she married Peter on June 9, 1903. The Kiefts, who lived at 513 Madison, had one daughter, Anna, a teacher at Ferry School, who was born about 1906 and died at age 29, and a son, Peter, who was born about 1897. Peter I had another son, Alford [Alfred/Alvin], who was born in Grand Haven on April 14, 1919 and in the late 1940s into the early 1950s owned Keniston Brothers Ice Cream Store at 623 Washington. Peter I left the lumber company and worked for either Grand Haven Brass Foundry or American Brass Novelty. The family resided at 513 Madison. Peter, the son of Fred D. and Kate Kieft, was born in Grand Haven on November 14, 1880. He died on November 19, 1952 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. They were members of the Second Christian Reformed Church. [Tribune obituary, April 4, 2005.]

Phester “Phes” C. Kieft [1888-1961]

Starting in the 1930s until approximately 1950 Phes Kieft and his brother Wilford owned Kieft Brothers Clothing, first located at 230 Washington, later at 220 Washington, and finally at 125 Washington, when Wilford was the sole owner. Phes married Jeannie Fisher on August 17, 1911 in Grand Haven. Born about 1888 she was the daughter of Thomas and Florence Venema Fisher. They resided at 614 Washington. Jeannie was born about 1887. They had at least two children, Ruth Frances, born about 1913, and Helen Louise, born about 1922. On March 31, 1949 in Grand Rapids, Phes married Lucy Brower Oom. Around 1950 Jack Reichardt bought the clothing business. Phes, born in 1888, passed away around August 14, 1961 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His parents were Frederick and Anna Kieft of Grand Haven.

Reintje Kieft [1846-1916]

Reintje Kieft married Rena Dykstra in The Netherlands, where he was born in 1846 and she in 1849. They immigrated to Grand Haven, where Reintje was employed at Ottawa Eagle. The Kiefts lived at 1150 Fulton, which they shared with their son, Henry, and his wife, Elsie. Reintje died in 1916 and Rena two years later.

Thomas F. Kieft [1909-1991]

Thomas, the son of Edward Kieft and the grandson of Frederick J. Kieft, owned a celery farm at 901 Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard] that in 1983 became the site for Grand Haven Garden House. He also acquired 923 Wallace, his father's property. Thomas was born October 24, 1909 and died in Harlingen, Texas on January 31, 1991. He married Harriet C Bol, who., lived from July 14, 1912 to August 13, 1988. The couple was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. They had at least one son, Lloyd Richard, who was born in Grand Haven on October 1, 1930. Lloyd married Lois Ann Huizenga on March 29, 1957 in Grand Rapids. Lloyd died in Grand Haven on April 18, 2010 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, April 19, 2010.]

Wilford Folgert Kieft [1895-1975]

Born on January 3, 1895 in Grand Haven, Wilford Kieft died in Grand Rapids on November 10, 1975. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. At the time of his death, he resided at 109 Prospect Street in Spring Lake. On June 9, 1923 in Grand Haven, he married Myrtle, the daughter of Frank and Hattie Saul Kaatz. Born in 1898, Myrtle passed away on December 1, 1992 and was buried near her husband. With his brother Phester Kieft, Wilford owned Kieft Brothers Clothing, first located at 230 Washington and later at 220 Washington. Around 1948 Wilford was sole owner of a men's clothing store that bore his name, located at 125 Washington. After Jack Reichardt bought the shop in the early 1950s, it became now as Reichardt's. In the early 1950s His parents were Frederick and Anna Kieft of Grand Haven.

William Adam Kieft I [1877-1954]

William, the son of Adam and Cornelia Van Veuran [Verney] Kieft, was a building contractor who worked from his home at 1003 Fulton in the early 1900s. He served with Army during the Spanish-American War. By 1920 William was located at 1201 Sheldon Road, where he also resided with his family. William's first wife, Catherine, was born in Illinois in 1873, died in 1916, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William and Catherine had at least two children, a daughter, also named Catherine, who was born on August 13, 1906 and died on April 7, 1920, and a son, Louis O., born about 1915. His second wife, Gertrude Klamar, whom William married on October 11, 1920, was born in The Netherlands on April 29, 1885. William and Gertrude had two children, William A. II, born on November 10, 1923, and Katherine G., who was born on May 13, 1926 and married Clyde Arkema of Grand Haven on May 1, 1946. William I was born in Grand Haven on March 10, 1877 and died there on April 13, 1954. He was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Gertrude passed away on November 20, 1941.

William Adam Kieft II [1923-1993]

Born in Grand Haven on November 10, 1923 to William and Gertrude Kieft, young William was active in governmental affairs, having served on the Grand Haven Township Board and several terms on the Ottawa County Board of Commissioners. He was Building and Zoning Administrator for Grand Haven Township when he retired in 1988. On March 26, 1942 he married Ruth Briegel in Grand Haven. Their children included Dennis Lee and Jane of Nunica, William A. III, who was born on March 10, 1877 and died on April 13, 1954, and Charlene, who married Wayne Merz. Both William III and Charlene lived in Grand Haven. William died on November 30, 1993 at his home and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 1, 1993.]

William James Kieft [1909-1982]

The son of Frederick and Della Beekman Kieft, William was born on August 25, 1909. In 1930 he was employed as a grinder in a local print shop. He married Anna Bramer on June 22, 1933. Anna, the daughter of Frederick and Elsie Bosch [Bush] Bramer, was born on April 1, 1911 in Spring Lake and died there on November 24, 2000. The Kiefts resided at 17599 North Shore Drive in Spring Lake Township. William died on March 8, 1982.

Albert Kiel [1841-1930]

Born in The Netherlands on November 8, 1841, Albert Kiel came to Grand Haven about 1861. Within a short time, he established a furniture and undertaking business that he conducted until his death in 1930. The business was located at 123-125 Washington. For many years he was one of the best-known businessmen in the state.

On September 16, 1872 in Grand Haven, he married the widow Lucy De Keep [De Kiep]. The daughter of Louis and Sarah vanden Berg, Lucy was born in The Netherlands about 1844 and came to Grand Haven with her parents in 1847. Lucy died April 26, 1908 at her home. She and Albert had at least five children: Jennie, who was born in May 1869; Thomas John, who was born in Grand Haven on September 13, 1875; Sarah Henrietta, who was born in January 1879 and at age 55 became J. Edgar Lee's second wife and lived in Grand Haven; and Eleanor, who married Louis Bissonette of Durand, Shiawassee County, and died in 198

Following his father's death, Thomas took over management of the furniture store and retired shortly afterward. Albert was a member of the City Council from 1895 to 1898. He was one of the earliest advocates of the city electric lighting plant, and it was largely through his efforts that the municipal power plant was established and kept in operation in Grand Haven.

The Kiels resided at 315 Columbus Street. Living with Albert and Lucy at that address in 1880 were Lucy's brother, Henry, and her mother, Sarah, the widow of Louis vanden Berg of Grand Haven. Also residing with Albert and Lucy in 1880 were Lucy's children by her earlier marriage: Margaret De Keep, born in Michigan about 1865; Louis De Keep, who was born in Michigan in 1867, died in 1881, and was buried at Lake Forest

Cemetery; and Jane De Keep, born in Michigan about 1869. Albert died June 6, 1930 at his home and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituaries, April 27, 1908 and June 7, 1930.]

Thomas John Kiel [1875-1946]

Born in Grand Haven September 13, 1875, Thomas was the son of Albert and Lucy Kiel. Thomas worked at his father's store, the Kiel Furniture and Undertaking Store at 123-125 Washington Street in Grand Haven and took over management when his father died in 1930. Thomas retired that year and closed the business. He attended St. John's Episcopal Church and was a member of the Grand Haven Stag Club, Masons, Elks, Foresters, and Eastern Star.

On June 6, 1901 in Grand Haven Thomas married Eleanor "Nellie" J. Kermode, who was born in 1874. Nellie came alone from her home on the Isle of Man [England] at the age of 12 to live in Grand Haven with her uncle, John W. Callister, at his home at 626 Clinton Street. About the time they were married, Eleanor and Thomas built the house at 535 Clinton. They had two children: a daughter, Bertha, who was born on May 19, 1903, graduated from the University of Michigan, taught at South Bend, Indiana, retired in 1968 after 43 years, and died at South Bend on January 27, 1996, and Eleanor, who was born around 1905, became a teacher in Dearborn and married Elgin Wright. Thomas was a charter member of the Grand Haven Stag Club. Nellie died in August 1928. Thomas died on April 29, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, April 30, 1946.]

Silas Kilbourn [Kilbourne] [1848–1919]

Silas Kilbourn, born in Massachusetts in September 1848, bought out the A. and A. D. Fessenden Company in 1882 and expanded operations along the South Channel of the Grand River, north of Adams Street, between the today's U.S. 31 and the Chesapeake & Ohio train depot. His son, Benjamin, worked with him. The firm employed 125 men. The company manufactured fish pails, kits, pickle and cider barrels, and kegs. In addition, the firm operated a large sawmill with a capacity of several million feet. Silas owned three freight cars that he used to ship his wares to market. Sometimes the spring floods would partially flood the Kilbourn yards. Silas recalled one year when men were forced to use a rowboat to take feed to the barn where the plant's three teams of horses were kept.

On April 21, 1878 Silas married Amanda M. Jones in Bay City. In Grand Haven, they lived at the corner of Franklin and Sixth Streets. Amanda was born in October 1854 in Dorchester, Canada and died on May 30, 1907. Their children included a son, Clare W., born in March 1883; Arthur Cornelius, the youngest son, who was born August 30, 1884, joined Company G. of the National Guard, and died from appendicitis on June 10, 1903; and Grace L., who was born on March 2, 1879 and died on January 27, 1967. Silas died on August 13, 1919 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife and daughter. [Tribune obituaries, May 31, 1907 and June 10, 1903.]

Joseph Kilgore [1868-1920]

Joseph Kilgore replaced Frank Fraga as lighthouse keeper. Joseph served from 1911 to 1920, the year he died. He was born in Wisconsin in 1868. His wife, Alice M., was born in Michigan about 1874. They had three children, all born in Wisconsin: Gladys, born about 1901; Lester, born about 1902; and Charles, born about 1906. Like all keepers, Joseph and his family resided in the residence provided for them at 900 South Harbor. Joseph died on February 11, 1920 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. By 1930 Alice and her children were residing in Milwaukee.

Cornelius "Con" Killean [1850-1915]

Cornelius Killean married Catharine [Katherine] Kelley in Grand Haven on July 22, 1885. They resided at 14 North Sixth Street in Grand Haven. Catharine's sister Mary married Charles A. Lyman of Spring Lake. Con's and Catharine's children were Arthur J., born in August 1887; May C., born in June 1886; and William, born in April 1890. Cornelius was born in May 1850 [1853] and died in 1915. He worked as section foreman for a railroad company. Catharine lived from July 1852 [1854] to 1917. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Edward Killean [Killen] [1838-1896]

Born in Hamburg, New York on December 19, 1838, Ed was the son of John and Mary Killean, who settled in Grand Rapids. Ed came to Grand Haven as a young man, and in 1860 he was hired by Ernest Andres to manage the Milwaukee House, also called Western Hotel, in Muir, a fledgling, short-lived village at the foot of Dewey Hill. After the Milwaukee House was destroyed by fire in 1861, Killean continued to work for Andres, who built another hotel with the same name, this one in Grand Haven. After Ferry's original residence on the southeast corner of Washington and Harbor Streets [2 Washington] burned down in 1866, the lot remained vacant until 1873 when Ed and Captain Kirby began construction of the Kirby House at a cost of $50,000. In the 1870s Ed was proprietor of City Hotel at 114 Washington. In 1880 he took over the Rasch House at the corner of Bridge and Canal Streets in Grand Rapids and renamed it the Clarendon Hotel. Ed managed the Clarendon until he went to Manistee in 1892 to take charge of the Dunham House.

Ed married Margaret Sullivan, who was born in 1839. Margaret's sister Mary married Myron Scott of Grand Haven. In the 1890s, Margaret Killean was proprietor of the Central House in Spring Lake. Charging $1.00 per day for a room, the hotel was located on the northeast corner of Savidge and Division Streets. Ed died of cancer of the tongue at the Dunham House in Manistee on May 6, 1896 and was buried at Grand Rapids. Following his death, Margaret and a son, John E. Killean, took over the Hotel Bucklen at Elkhart, Indiana. John was born in 1860, died on November 1, 1906, and was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery in Grand Rapids. Margaret passed away on January 17, 1910 at the home of her daughter, Nettie Seymour, who lived at 51 Lake Avenue in Grand Rapids. She was buried at Fulton Street Cemetery. Nettie, who was born in Grand Haven in 1865, married Edward B. Seymour in Grand Rapids on March 9, 1886, and died on January 10, 1922. [Tribune obituaries, May 6 and 7, 1896 and January 11, 1922.]

Everett Earl Kimball I [1881-1929]

Everett Kimball I was born in Montague on August 12, 1881 and on April 24, 1909 in Grand Haven married Uarda [Euarda/Widia] Melissa Conant. In 1918 they resided at 1321 Franklin with Everett II and their five other children. Everett II was born in Grand Haven on September 12, 1912. Everett I worked at Dake Engine Company as a fireman. He passed away in Robinson Township on November 11, 1929 and was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery. Uarda was born in Robinson Township on November 23, 1891 and died in Grand Haven on January 4, 1971. She was buried at Robinson Township Cemetery.

Everett Earl Kimball II [1912-1965]

Born in Grand Haven on September 5, 1912, Everett was the son of Everett and Uarda Mosher Kimball. Everett II left Grand Haven in 1941 when he entered the ministry, first serving the Church of the Nazarene in Pottersville, Eaton County. On May 6, 1930, he married Irene Lyons of Grand Haven, who was born in Michigan around 1913. He died in Charlotte, Eaton County, on April 12, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Robert Putnam Kimball [1919-2016]

Robert, the son of Daniel W. and F. Winifred Kimball, was born in Grand Rapids on July 27, 1919. Daniel lived from 1881 to July 16, 1955, and Winifred was born in 1885 and died on August 22, 1980. They were residents of Grand Rapids. In 1907 Dan was hired as civil engineer by the Hauser-Hayden-Owen company of Grand Rapids. He became president of the company in 1927, the same year the name was changed to Owen-Ames-Kimball Construction Company. Today it is the oldest commercial contracting business in Michigan.

In 1927 John and Hester Belknap bought a waterfront lot on Lake Michigan from Alvin and Carlotta Ewing for $1,950 and built a cottage on it three years later. Located in a second home development called the Wilderness, about three miles south of Grand Haven, the cottage later was given the address 12749

Wilderness Trail. An addition to the north side of the cottage was completed in 1942. On October 26, 1946 in Grand Rapids, Bob married their daughter, Katherine Hester Belknap. After her parents' deaths, she and Bob took ownership of the cottage. The Kimballs were residents of East Grand Rapids. On June 12, 1971, their son Dan and his wife Kit were married on the beach at the Wilderness. Five years later John Kimball, another son, married Dyan in the living room of the cottage. Now, 94 years after Jack and Hester bought the Wilderness lot, it remains in the hands of their descendants.

Four years prior to their purchase in the Wilderness, Winifred and her husband bought a cottage named Breezy Rest in Highland Park and later added two more Highland Park cottages to their inventory, Three Twins and Glendale. In 1955, they conveyed title of one cottage to each of their three children. Breezy Rest went to Bob and Kate. It remained in the family until 2017.

Bob earned his bachelor degree in civil engineering from the University of Michigan. He served as first lieutenant during World War II in the European and African theaters interpreting aerial photographs. She was born in Grand Rapids on March 28, 1921. Bob and Kate had three sons: Thomas Kimball, George Kimball, and Daniel Kimball.

During World War II, Bob Kimball decided to attend weather school, scheduled to be held at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids. From then on, he was a weather aficionado. The family television was consistently tuned to the Weather Channel, and in 1962 Bob posted a weather board on the beach in front of the cottage, primarily to record water temperatures. Soon other weather details were added. Bob passed away on May 12, 2016, exactly four years after Kate. The family has continued the tradition since Bob's death on July 12, 2016. By 2020 Robert and James Kimball held title to the property.

Samuel M. Kimball [1869-1943]

Samuel Kimball was born in Grand Haven on September 20, 1869. In the summers of 1897 and 1899 Sam worked as a marine engineer [Fireman] aboard the steamer Hancock. According to the 1900 Federal Census, Sam was a marine engineer and living with his wife Mary on Elliott Street. Living with them was an "adopted son" Harry Baggott. Harry, the son of Samuel and Elida Baggott, lived from, 1891 to 1955. Both his parents died in December 1896. On December 1, 1903 in Muskegon, Sam married Margaret F. Allison. Born about 1875, Margaret died on April 29, 1909. On February 11, 1911 Sam married Mary L. Seacott in Muskegon. They were divorced in Grand Haven on December 26, 1918. On February 18, 1919, Sam married Katherine "Kit" C. B. Leindecker in Muskegon. Previously married, she was the daughter of Alexander McKenzie and born about 1875. The Kimball family lived at 534 Fulton Street, which had been Kit's parents' home. Jane and Katherine were living in the Fulton Street house at the time of the 1920 Federal Census. Sam was not included, and Katherine's family name was listed as McKenzie. Sam died at the Infirmary in Eastmanville on December 7, 1943 of cardiac disease. At the time of the 1880 Federal Census, Sam was working in a shingle mill in Grand Haven and claimed he was 19 years old, which would push his birth to 1861.

Frederick Joseph King I [1878-1945]

Fred, the son of Joseph and Ellen [Helen] Bailey King, was born on November 14, 1878 in Olive Township. He took over the family farm in Section 3 of Olive Township [later Port Sheldon Township]. His brother, John, was co-owner. The farm grew to 200 acres by 1918. Fred married Fannie [Fanny] Correll in Grand Haven on October 4, 1905. They had eight children, all born in Michigan, including Clarence, who was born about 1906; Frances, who was born in 1907 and married William K. Hierholzer of Grand Haven; and Frederick II, who was born about 1909, passed away on April 14, 1975, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fannie was born in Indiana about 1886. She and Fred were married about 1903. Fred continued farming after his brother moved to Grand Haven. Fred died on August 16, 1945.

John Edward King [1881-1919]

John, the son of Joseph and Ellen [Helen] Bailey King, was born on September 13, 1881 in Olive Township. He and his brother Fred took over the family farm in Section 3 of Olive Township. In 1913 John was living at 1200 Pennoyer, and five years later he was a truck driver, residing with his wife, Henrietta Neitring, at 531 Madison. They were married in Grand Haven on December 12, 1908 and had at least five children, all born locally, including Maxine, born about 1909; Henry; who was born on February 25, 1910 and died in Grand Haven in March 1967; and Vernon, who was born on June 5, 1914 in West Olive and died in Grand Haven on January 20, 1998. John died at home on January 22, 1918 of complications from influenza. Henrietta was born in Michigan about 1888.

Joseph King [1830-1907]

Born in Rochester, New York in March 1828, Joseph King resided in Grand Haven before settling on an 80-farm in Section 3 of Olive Township, where he lived for the next 30 years. He was one of the veteran ship carpenters in Grand Haven and he worked for a number of years in both the Kirby and the Robertson Ship Yards. About 1865 he married Ellen Bailey in Chicago. Ellen was born in April 1847 in Ireland. Their children included: Ida, born about 1865 in Illinois; Anna, born about 1870 in Illinois; Charlotte M., who was born 1871 in Olive Township; Loretta, born about 1875 in Illinois; Ellen born about 1877 in Olive Township; Frederick J., born on November 14, 1878 in Olive Township; John E., who was born September 13, 1881; and Lulu, born in February 1882. In the early 1900s Fred and John owned the 120-acre family farm in Olive Township. John later moved into Grand Haven. Ellen died at her home, 1200 Pennoyer Avenue, on April 21, 1913. Joseph died June 1, 1907 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Charlotte married George C. Caughey of Chicago. He was born in Illinois about 1856 and died before 1920. Charlotte continued to reside in Chicago after her husband's death. [Tribune obituaries, June 3, 1907 and August 1913.]

Kenneth A. King [1906-1993]

Born in Croswell, Sanilac County on January 5, 1906 to Archid and Anna Armstrong King, Kenneth taught drafting and mechanical drawing for 42 years at Grand Haven High School, retiring in 1969. He started the Rifle Club and Golf Team at the high school and was a counselor and coach for many years. In 1971 he chaired the committee charged with developing remodeling plans for the conversion of the Grand Trunk Depot to an historical museum. Kenneth was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and a charter member of North Ottawa Rod & Gun Club. On June 26, 1932 he married Lois B. Brashear in Detroit. Lois also taught at the high school. Their children included Mary, who married Gordon Hornby of Grand Haven, and Jean R. King, who was born about 1938 and moved to Anchorage, Alaska. When she was 41 years old, Jean started studying law and became a noted attorney for women's rights. The Kings resided at 512 Leggat and later at 11133 Lakeshore Drive in Grand Haven Township. Ken died on May 21, 1993. Lois lived from June 24, 1905 to May 6, 2004. [Tribune obituary, May 22, 1993.]

Louis M. King [1914-1993]

Born on July 29, 1914 in Ferrysburg to Earl and Johanna Kamhout King, Louis was a U.S. Navy veteran. He retired from Construction Aggregates and was a life member of the United Methodist Church of the Dunes. Louis belonged to the Sgt. Alvin Jonker V.F.W. Post, Muskegon Moose Lodge, and Grand Haven Eagles. On June 21, 1941 he married Nadie Domanchuk in Grand Haven. She was born April 22, 1913. They resided at 625 Summer Street in Spring Lake. Louis died on November 29, 1993 in Grand Haven and passed away in Spring Lake on August 4, 2001. [Tribune obituary, November 30, 1993.]

Vernon Frederick King [1914-1998]

Born on June 5, 1914 in West Olive, Vernon was the son of John and Henrietta Neitring King. Vernon started work as a commercial fisherman at the age of 11. In 1933 he began a 44-year career as a crane operator with his uncle, Henry Neitring, in the earth moving business [Neitring-Sluka Excavating]. He and his wife Veronica had seven children. They lived on Lake Avenue near Potawatomie Bayou [15108 Lake]. Vernon died on June 20, 1998 and was buried at Grand Haven Charter Township Historic Cemetery. Veronica was born in Illinois on October 27, 1915 and died on May 13, 2003 in Grand Haven. [Tribune article, "44 years of Swinging Bucket," September 26, 1977, and "The King Family of Ottawa County."]

Edward Dean Kinkema [1904-1965]

Born in Grand Haven on August 10, 1904, Edward was the son of Edward P. and Jan Van Zanten Kinkema II. For five years he worked for John J. Boer & Son at 121 Washington. He then became a partner with the Addison, Pellegrom & Colson Furniture and Undertaking Company at 304-306 Washington. The store later became known as Pellegrom & Kinkema. On October 28, 1931, he married Marie Catherine Krueger, the daughter of Max and Molly Krueger. Their children were Edward Max, born about 1935, and Molly Marie, born about 1937. The family resided at 127 South Seventh Street. Edward passed away on February 8, 1965. Marie lived from 1905 to 1989. Both were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Edward P. Kinkema II [1870–1946]

Edward Kinkema, born in The Netherlands on January 22, 1871, came to the United States when he was eleven. Edward worked as a cooper for a while, and then became interested in the fishing industry in Grand Haven. For over 36 years he operated a cold storage and fresh and smoked fish market at 1034 Fulton in Grand Haven. For a short time, he was in partnership with his brother-in-law, John J. Bolt. Edward was one of the original stockholders of the People's Savings Bank, Grand Haven State Bank, and Keller Took Company. He attended the Christian Reformed Church and served on the Christian School Board. His father, Edward P. Kinkema I, lived from 1825 to November 3, 1891.

On November 28, 1894 Edward II married Jan [Jane] Van Zanten, who was born in Grand Haven on November 15, 1865. She was the daughter of Cornelius and Frieka Wierenga Van Zanten. The Kinkemas had seven sons and one daughter, all born in Grand Haven: Peter E., who was born in September 1896 and died on June 5, 1921; Cornelius, who was born on June 15, 1897, opened a medical practice in Milwaukee, and died in April 1975; Alfred C., who was born on January 14, 1899, lived in Chicago, but died in Grand Rapids on January 15, 1992; Ferdinand J., who was born February 8, 1901 and died in Grand Haven on February 18, 1973; Gerald J., who was born on July 26, 1902, joined the Michigan State Police at Newberry, and died in Oakland County on November 9, 1976; Edward Dean, who was born August 10, 1904 and died in Grand Haven in February 1965; James N., who was born on June 13, 1908 and died in Lordsburg, New Mexico on November 1, 1978; and Frances O., who was born about 1910, married Reginald Ricketts, and relocated to West Englewood, New Jersey. Edward and his wife lived at 920 Fulton and later at 923 Washington. Jane died on September 9, 1930 after surgery at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids. Edward then married Lena, the daughter of Gomer and Jane Vette of Grand Haven. Lena lived from 1871 to 1935. Edward died at his home on Washington on January 5, 1946 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as were Jane and Lena. [Tribune obituaries, September 9, 1930 and January 7, 1946.]

James Kinney I [1855-1909]

Born in Ireland in 1855, James Kinney came to Grand Haven about 1864 and later was employed by the Grand Trunk Railroad and Crosby Steamship Lines. In 1881 he married Hattie, who lived from 1857 to 1927. Their children, all of Grand Haven, included James II, who was born on April 24, 1886 and died on July 9, 1959; May; Edward; and Margaret. James died at his home on Elliot and First Streets on February 24, 1909 and was buried at Lake Forest, where his wife also was interred. [Tribune obituary, February 24, 1909.]

Edward Percival Kirby I [1875-1935]

Born in Grand Haven on March 28, 1875, Edward was the son of Captain Thomas W. and Mary Ellen O'Brien Kirby. Captain Kirby was founder of Kirby Shipyards and among the best-known pioneer residents in Grand Haven, Edward graduated from the University of Michigan Law College with honors. He had a law office in Grand Haven with Paul Cunningham. He was residing in Minneapolis in December 1901, when he was appointed probate judge to succeed John Goodrich of Coopersville, who had resigned. He held the office until 1917 and then went to Detroit and engaged in the real estate business. Kirby was a Republican.

Edward's first wife, Loyola A., was born in Illinois about 1889. His second wife, Katherine C., died about February 5, 1965. Edward and Loyola had four children, all born in Michigan: William G., born about 1917; Edward P. II, born about 1922; Elizabeth J., born about 1925; and Alice L., born about 1927. The family lived in the Kirby family home at 514 Washington. After moving to Detroit, the Kirbys returned to Grand Haven to summer in Highland Park where the family established Indian Village, a group of cottages that marked the enlarging of the resort south of Highland Park. Edward died in Detroit on May 8, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, "Judge E. Percival Kirby," October 10, 1902 and Tribune obituary, May 9, 1935.]

John O'Brien Kirby [1872-1920]

The son of Captain Thomas W. and Mary Ellen O'Brien Kirby, John was born in Grand Haven on November 15, 1872. Like his brothers, John went entered the business field and was the local agent for the Hamburg-Bremen Insurance Company. His office was at 220 Washington. Early in his career he lived with other family members at 514 Washington. Later he and his wife, Katherine, resided at 522 Washington. They owned a cottage at Indian Village, on Lake Michigan slightly south of Highland Park. John was killed in an auto accident near Lansing on June 28, 1926. [Tribune obituary, June 28, 1920.]

Joseph H. Kirby [1880-1934]

Joseph, another son of Captain Thomas and Mary Ellen O'Brien Kirby, was born in Grand Haven in June 1880. The family business office was located at 220 Washington and he lived in the family home at 514 Washington. Joseph died in 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Maurice S. Kirby [1871-1925]

Maurice, the son of Captain Thomas and Mary Ellen O'Brien Kirby, was born in Grand Haven in August 1871. In February 12, 1896 in Grand Haven, he married Miriam, the daughter of Edward and Clara White Ferry. She was born in Grand Haven on August 17, 1874. In 1900 Maurice was living alone in Chicago, where he worked as a chemist. By 1910 he was still living alone, listed as single, and working as an accountant. He died in 1925. By 1910 Miriam had married Charles C. Reynolds and moved to Los Angeles, California. By 1930 they were divorced. Miriam died in Los Angeles on December 18, 1955. Apparently she was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery three years later. Her children were Katherine, born in Illinois in November 1896, Virginia, who born in Illinois on September 25, 1898, married Karl B. Schurz, and died in Los Angeles on August 25, 1985; and Charles "Ferry," who was born in California on June 8, 1906, and passed away in Los Angeles on February 7, 1955. The children are listed with the name Reynolds, although only Ferry was Charles Reynold's natural child and Maurice was the father of the two girls.

Thomas Edward Kirby [1868-1940]

Born in Grand Haven on August 1, 1868, Thomas was the son of Captain Thomas and Mary Ellen O'Brien Kirby. Thomas attended business college in Grand Rapids, and in 1890 he graduated from the University of Michigan Pharmacy Department. He practiced law in Detroit for four years, and then returned to Grand Haven to take charge of "The Fisheries," which included a fleet of fishing boats operated by his father. When Captain Kirby died, Thomas and his three brothers, John, Edward, and Joseph organized the Kirby Coal and Insurance Company in the building later occupied by the Kieft Brothers Clothing Store at 220 Washington. Thomas was city clerk from 1898 to 1899. He resided at 520 Washington. He died on April 5, 1940 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Thomas Waters Kirby [1832-1896]

Born on his father's sailing ship in the China Sea in 1832, Thomas Kirby had an Irish heritage. After his father drowned, Kirby went to sea at the age of nine and served in all the positions on shipboard until he finally became a shipmaster. In 1857 he came to America, where he sailed the Great Lakes. In the early years of lumbering in Grand Haven he met with an accident that cost him the use of his left arm. It happened at Spoonville, when a tree being felled struck him and rendered his arm useless. He had charge of the Kirby-

Furlong Barge Company, later the Michigan Barge Company. In 1867 Captain Kirby, John W. Callister, and John Neil organized Mechanics Dry Dock and Shipyard and built the tugs J. G. Campbell, H. W. Warner, Centennial, Blanche, Deer, Elk, Callister, and Sprite. They were built near Government Basin on Harbor Avenue. He also was partner with Healy C. Akeley and owned the Kirby & Akeley shipyard. Thomas manufactured such vessels as major Pickands, Samuel Marshall, and the 230' H. C. Akeley, which was built in 1881 at a cost of $110,000. In 1872 Captain Kirby donated funds to build the first Roman Catholic Church [St. Patrick's] in Grand Haven on the south side of Fulton Street, about one block east of Seventh. Thomas joined with Ed Killean in building the Kirby House in 1873 at the southeast corner of Washington and Harbor Streets. Thomas was mayor of Grand Haven in 1887 and 1889 and 1892. He was chairman of the board of Public Works.

On September 25, 1867 Thomas married Mary Ellen O'Brien in Chicago. Mary was born in New York on November 25, 1841 [1845] and died on October 13, 1927. They resided at 514 Washington and later at 520 Washington. Their children included Thomas Edward, who was born on August 1, 1868 [1869]; Maurice S., who was born about 1871; John O'Brien, who was born on November 15 1872 [1873]; Edward Percival, who was born on March 28, 1875 [1876]; Mary Winifred, who was born in April 1879 and studied dentistry; and Joseph H., who was born in June 1880. Thomas died on September 29, 1896 at the Hotel Cadillac in Detroit. Husband and wife were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, September 30, 1896.]

Harry Pilkington Kirk [1885-1948]

Born on November 25, 1885 in Leeds, England, Harry Kirk was called the "father of dushzneing" in Ottawa County because he organized the first troop at St. John's Episcopal Church in 1914, the year he arrived in Grand Haven from Canada. Harry started the first Boy Scout camp in the county, a 30-acre site known in the 1920s as Camp Shawondossee and later as Camp McCarthy. The 30 acres was carved out of a 399-acre farm owned by Patrick McCarthy in Section 33 of Grand Haven Township. In 1944 the name of the camp was changed to Camp Kirk in Harry's honor. Harry held the highest adult rank, silver beaver, and was an Eagle Scout. He held continuous membership in scouting from 1914 to his death. He also was a high-ranking Mason. In 1930 he was shaver at Eagle Ottawa. Later he became foreman of the Splitting Department at the leather company. On August 23, 1919 he married Mabel Cunstead, who was born on February 28, 1896 and died about June 1, 1970 in Miamisburg, Ohio. They resided at 1223 Washington Street and at 501 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Harry died on August 21, 1948 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Mabel. Their daughter, Stella P., was born in Grand Haven on November 8, 1921 and died on July 5, 1996. [Tribune obituary, August 21, 1948.]

George Kirkby I [1856-1925]

George Kirkby, who was born in England, lived from January 1856 to February 16, 1925. He resided on a farm bought by his parents, Joseph and Ann Dawson Kirkby, in 1882. Joseph was born in England in 1824 and brought his family to the United States in 1873. The Kirkby farm originally consisted of 40 acres in Section 27 of Crockery Township [11123 Wren Drive], and eventually grew to 160 acres. George's wife, Augusta, was born in Michigan on June 16, 1870. They had a daughter, Elizabeth, born in Ottawa County in August 1893, and two sons, George II, who was born in Crockery on April 11, 1902 and died on June 17, 1984, and Lloyd W., who was born about 1906. Augusta died on November 12, 1951. George II took over the farm and with his wife, Frankie, and raised wheat, oats, corn, and cattle. Frankie Alice Nash and George were married in Fremont on August 17, 1940. She was born on September 15, 1911. In 2001 she sold the Centennial Farm to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the property soon was designated an Ottawa County Park. Frankie passed away on September 16, 2005. George I and II, Augusta, Frankie and other Kirkbys were buried at Ottawa Center Cemetery.

George F. Kirkland [1819-1869]

George Kirkland was born in England in 1819. On December 26, 1862, as a resident of Saline, Washtenaw County, he enlisted as private in Company M of the 9th Michigan Cavalry. He was discharged on June 6, 1865. George died on August 17, 1869 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. On June 29, 1880, his wife, Elizabeth, applied for a widow's Civil War pension. In 1870 she managed a restaurant in Grand Haven. Elizabeth, also a native of England, was born in December 1819 and died in Grand Haven on September 4, 1901. A daughter, Martha "Patty," was born in England in October 1850 and married Daniel F. Miller of Grand Haven. Patty's twin, Jeanette "Jennie" Maria, married William John Saunders of Grand Haven. William H. Kirkland of Grand Haven was George's brother.

Joseph Kirkland [Kirkland, Kirtland] [1852-1926]

Joseph, who was born in September 1852 in New York, accompanied his parents, William and Elizabeth Kirkland, to Grand Haven, where he became a machinist. Joseph died on October 30, 1926 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. He married Elizabeth Bidgood in Grand Haven on December 3, 1879. She was born in Michigan in August 1856. They resided at 608 Clinton as early as 1880. They had at least six children, all born locally: Mildred De Etta, who was born on December 1, 1880 and married William Bilz of Spring Lake; Miriam [Marian], who was born on October 20, 1882 and married Walter Bloeser; George D., who was born in July 1885 and married Anna C. Borkenhagen in Grand Haven on July 3, 1916; Walter F., born in August 1887; Stuart [Stewart], who was born in September 1889 [1890] and died in 1916; and Josephine, who was born in March 1893 and married James H. Johnston of Grand Haven. Stuart was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his father. Elizabeth and her sister Emily Bidgood were still residing at 608 Clinton as late as 1932.

Walter Fred Kirkland I [1887-1961]

On June 21, 1921, in Grand Haven, Walter Kirkland married Vera L., the daughter of Frederick and Clara Gale Little Pfaff of Grand Haven. His parents were Joseph and Elizabeth Bidgood Kirkland of Grand Haven. Vera was born in September 1889. She died around February 21, 1957 and Walter, who was born on August 2, 1887, died on May 30, 1961. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. In 1910 Walter and his brother George were living as lodgers in Milwaukee, where they were working as shoemakers. By 1920 Walter was still in Milwaukee, continuing his career as a cobbler. Ten years later he and Vera were residing in Milwaukee, and Walter now was foreman at a shoe factory. They had at least two children, Clarissa A., born in Wisconsin about 1923, and Walter F. II, born in Wisconsin about 1924.

William H. Kirkland [1823-1904]

William Kirkland was born in England in November 1823 and arrived in the United States in 1845. In 1867 he operated the Railroad House Hotel, located at the railroad terminal at the base of Dewey Hill, across the river from the west end of Washington Street. He also owned an icehouse. His wife, Elizabeth, was born in England about 1820, died on September 4, 1901, and was buried at Lake Forest. William moved to Detroit, where he worked as a chef on the railroad. He passed away on March 31, 1904. They had a son Joseph, who was born about 1852 and lived in Grand Haven; another son, George W., who was born in Canada in March 1859, became a railroad clerk and after 1880 moved to Detroit; and a daughter, Mary, who was born in December 1861, married a Mr. Thompson, and also moved to Detroit. George F. Kirkland of Grand Haven was William's brother. [Tribune obituary, June 23, 1893.]

Everett Dean Kisinger [1912-1990]

Everett Kisinger was born in Battle Creek on May 6, 1912 and died in Colorado Springs, Colorado in January 1990. He graduated from Muskegon High School and earned bachelor and master degrees from the University of Michigan. Everett attended the National Music Camp at Interlochen, where he played under the baton of John Philip Sousa. He was high school band director at Grand Haven in the mid-1940s. In 1948 he joined the University of Illinois, where he was Professor of Music until retirement in 1976. During his time at Illinois, Everett was director of the University of Illinois Football Band and three concert bands and taught several academic courses. Under his direction, the Marching Illini performed in two Rose Bowl games in 1952 and 1964, the Tournament of Roses Parades those same years, and the inaugural parade in Washington D. C. in 1957. Everett married Eleanor Warneke in Muskegon on August 20, 1938. She lived from November 16, 1916 to April 13, 1991. His second wife, June moved to Clearwater, Florida after Everett's death. A son, William Dean, played horn with the Marching Illini band for four years. Everett also had two daughters: Kay Blouke, who moved to Oregon, and Ann Schuldt, who remained in Illinois.

Jacob Julius Kisosondi [1886-1955]

A native of Austria [Hungary], where he was born on July 25, 1886, Jacob Kisosondi arrived in America on January 27, 1910 aboard the SS New York, out of Southampton, England, first settling in Chicago. On November 6, 1905, he married Eva Jandrosic. In 1917 Jacob was employed by International Harvester in Chicago. The family still resided in Chicago in 1920, when Jacob was listed as a grocery salesman. Ten years later and he and his children were living at 528 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven. Jacob owned Grand Haven Motors, a business he sold to Jim Ledinski of Grand Haven in 1937. The prior to the sale, Jacob managed Harbor View Chicken Inn at 10 Franklin. Eva, who was born in Austria on May 15, 1889, passed away on October 30, 1924, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jacob and Eva had five children: Theresa, born about 1912; Matthew G, who was born on February 3, 1914 and died in Grand Haven on September 25, 2004; Edward J., who was born on January 3, 1916, enlisted in the Army on April 10, 1942 while a resident of Michigan, and died in August 1967; Katie, born around April 1, 1919; and Francis Anthony., who was born on October 12, 1920 and died in Rochester, Oakland County on August 5, 2006. The two oldest children were born in Austria, the other three in Illinois. Matthew's wife, Irene, who was born on January 1, 1916, passed away in Grand Haven on February 12, 1993. On October 27, 1934, Jacob married Elva Christina Martin, who had a daughter, Betty, born about 1927. Jacob died in Hillsborough County, Florida in 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest with his first wife.

Grace Olsen Kistler [1899-1967] and John J. Kistler I [1894-1963]

Born in Marion, Kansas on February 24, 1899, Grace Olsen graduated from the University of Kansas and earned a Master Degree in Journalism from Columbia University. She served on the North Ottawa Community Hospital Authority; Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs; Grand Haven War Memorial Committee; Ottawa County Red Cross; Support Council of Grand Valley State College; and First Presbyterian Church Women's Association. A dormitory on the campus was named the Grace Olsen Kistler Living Center in her honor. She had been on the Board of Control of the group that sought to establish a four-year college in the area. The college opened in 1960.

On August 11, 1923 Grace and John J. Kistler I were married. They moved to Grand Haven in 1940, where John was office manager and later president of Challenge Machinery Company. They lived at 815 South De Spelder. John, who was born in Kansas on November 1, 1894, died on December 14, 1963. They had three children, all born in Kansas: Joan, who was born about 1925 and married Allen M. Bosworth III of Farmington, Oakland County; John J. II, born about 1927; and James O., who was born about 1929 and relocated to Bakersfield, California. Grace died at Hackley Hospital in Muskegon on November 18, 1967 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Her sons and daughter established the Grace Olsen Kistler Memorial Scholarship Fund for Grand Valley State College [GVSU]. [Tribune obituary, November 18, 1967 and Tribune articles, "Mrs. J. J. Kistler, Devoted Leader" and "GK Scholarship Fund Announced," November 20, 1967.]

John H. Kitchel [1910-1975]

Born June 14, 1910 in Deer Creek, Indiana, John Kitchel graduated from Ball State University and Indiana University School of Medicine in 1940. He came to Grand Haven in 1941 and, with his physician wife Dr. Mary Kitchel, opened an office at 320 Washington in Grand Haven and later moved to 414 Franklin Street. He was a member of the Ottawa County Medical Society, North Ottawa Rod and Gun Club, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the Water Resources Commission, the American Academy of General Practice, and Grand Haven School Board from 1956 to 1962.

In 1935 John married Mary Spurgeon in Terre Haute, Indiana. They had six children: Carolyn, who married Richard Titus of Las Vegas, Nevada; Jane, who married D. Mac West of Berkeley, California; Charles S. of Grand Rapids; Elaine, who married William De Vries III of Walker, Kent County; Daniel S. of Lansing; and Kim of Ferrysburg. John's wife, known as Dr. Mary, after WWII concentrated primarily on anesthesiology. John died of an apparent heart attack on December 20, 1975 in Lansing. The John H. Kitchel Dune Preserve, named in his honor, consisted of 52 acres of North Shore duneland and was set aside by his wife to be a land preserve and nature study area. The Preserve later was combined with an adjacent parcel to form the Kitchel-Lundquist Dunes Preserve. [Tribune obituary, December 22, 1975, and Tribune article, "Duneland Name Honors Kitchel," May 26, 1976.]

Mary Spurgeon Kitchel [1912-2002]

Mary Spurgeon was born in Noblesville, Indiana on January 18, 1912. She and her parents moved to Springfield, Missouri, and then to Terre Haute, Indiana. Mary graduated from Indiana State Teachers College [Indiana State University] and, in 1939, from Indiana University School of Medicine. She and John Kitchel met at Indiana University and were married in 1935 in Terre Haute. After having two of her six children, Mary attended Medical School at Indiana University, where she graduated in 1939. She and her husband, also a physician, opened their medical practice in Grand Haven in 1941 at 320 Washington before moving to a building they erected at 414 Franklin Street. Following WWII Mary specialized in anesthesiology. She was deeply interested in local history and supported the work of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum. In 1969 she authored the book Spring Lake Community Centennial—1869-1969. Dr. Mary retired from her practice in 1980 but took on the responsibility of medical director at North Ottawa Care Center in 1983, a position she held for 13 years. She served in a similar capacity for Glenwood Christian Nursing Home until 1991, and she also was State Nursing Home Inspector for Ottawa and Muskegon Counties. In 1969 Dr. Mary was named "Tri-Cities Career Woman of the Year" and in 1987 the Rotary Club honored her as a "Paul Harris Fellow." In 1990 she was the first recipient of the Tri-Cities Historical Museum "Historian of the Year" award. Dr. Mary died in Grand Haven on March 10, 2002. The Kitchels had six children: Carolyn, who married Richard Titus of Las Vegas, Nevada; Jane, who married D. Mac West of Berkeley, California; Charles S. of Grand Rapids; Elaine, who married William De Vries III of Walker, Kent County; Daniel S. of Lansing; and Kim of Ferrysburg. [Personal correspondence with Elaine Kitchel De Vries and Carolyn Kitchel Titus and Tribune obituary, March 12, 2002.]

Ross Brehm Kittleman [1940-2019]

After graduating from Michigan Technological University in Houghton with a degree in civil engineering, Ross Kittleman was employed by the United States Corps of Engineer. He retired from the Corps after 34 years, serving as the engineer for the west half of the Lower Peninsula, including Grand Haven. Ross was part of the team that planned and completed the Boardwalk. He was born in Cadillac on October 6, 1940. He and his wife Mary Linda had two sons, Even and Josh. Ross passed away in Grand Haven on July 22, 2019. [Tribune obituary, July 29, 2019.]

Jacobus Klanderman [1814-1905]

Jacobus Klanderman and his family immigrated to the United States in 1867 and located their farm on 40 acres in Section 19 of Blendon Township. He founded a Dutch settlement in Blendon Township in 1868. At first called Klandermanstadt, in a short time the village's name was changed to Borculo, the name of Jacobus's hometown in the Netherlands. Herman Wiegink was appointed the town's first postmaster in 1882. The post office closed permanently 31 years later on the last day of December. Although the town's population in 1902 was only 45, it had two dry goods stores, a creamery, harness and shoemaker shop, and a sawmill. General farming remained the dominant occupation for most residents. It was predominately a Dutch community with a scattering of German immigrants. In the early years, the settlers gathered for Sunday service at the Klanderman home. Other worshippers met at the Borculo School, which was built in 1876. In 1883 the two congregations merged to form the Holland Christian Reformed Church of Borculo.

Jacobus was born in Borkulo [Dutch spelling], Gelderland Province, the Netherlands on October 29, 1815. He was 23 years old when he married Gesina Kistemaker, who was two years older than he. She passed away in 1855. They had one child, Gerrit, who lived from 1839 to 1876. Gerrit and his family had a farm a short distance just north of his father. In 1865 Jacobus married Aaltjen Rietman, also from the Netherlands. They had at least three children, all born in the Netherlands: Johanna, who lived from 1857 to 1926; Derk, who was born in 1859 and died in 1935; and Mary, who died in 1933 at the age of 74. Jacobus died in Borculo on February 2, 1905. He and Aaltjen were buried at Borculo Cemetery.

Joseph J. Klaassen [Klaasen, Klaussen, Klasen, Klassen, Claussen] [1857-1935]

Born in The Netherlands on February 3, 1857, Joseph J. Klaassen immigrated to Grand Haven and, after working as a cooper [barrel maker] opened a grocery store at 601 Fulton Street. Called Klaassen & Company, the store advertised that it carried a “fine line of staple and fancy groceries.” At some point after 1914, Joseph sold the store to Vincent Bomberski. By 1920 Joseph was working as a watchman for one of the railroad companies. The 1930 census listed him as retired. from served as alderman for the City of Grand Haven from 1899 to 1904.

About 1883 Joseph married Mary Newhouse, also a native of The Netherlands, where she was born in 1863. They had three children: Kathryn [Catherine], who lived from January 11, 1884 to September 1965; Cornelius [Carl/Nace], who was born on August 13, 1886; and Marian, who was born on March 27, 1898 [1899] and passed away on October 15, 1973. The family resided at 606 Columbus Street as early as 1900. Mary was president of the Ladies Aid Society. Joseph died on February 21, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After Mary’s death around September 13, 1946, Marian continued to live in the family homestead until her death on October 11, 1973. She worked as a bookkeeper at Pruim Music House, originally located at 135 Washington and later at 201 Washington. Kathryn married Isaac Vanden Beldt [Vanden Belt], who lived from 1873 to 1961. On December 16, 1931 in Battle Creek, Cornelius married Doris Dexter Davis, who was born in 1897. They resided in Battle Creek, where he passed away on December 1, 1967. Kathryn, Isaac, Mary, and Marian were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Joseph.

Peter Klaassen [1918-2006]

Peter, the son of Arie and Alida Boone Klaassen, was born in Grand Rapids on September 5, 1918. Peter married Jane Lois Casemier in Grand Haven on August 4, 1940. She was the daughter of Henry and Nan Boomgaard Casemier. David Jay Klaassen, their son, was born in Grand Haven on July 22, 1941. Peter died on April 22, 2006. Jane lived from September 19, 1919 to December 10, 2010. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Cecil Arnold Klages [1919-2003]

Rev. Cecil Klages was installed as pastor of St. John’s Lutheran Church in Grand Haven on May 12, 1957 and served there until his retirement in 1987. Rev. Klages was born in Marmion, Ontario, Canada on March 9, 1919. His parents were Theodore and Clara Schwatz Klages. The Reverend married Clara Esslinger on March 10, 1945 in St. Louis, Missouri. On September 29, 1964 he became a U.S. citizen. He earned a master degree in counseling from Western Michigan University in 1981, and he served on the Michigan District Mission Board and Missouri Synod Adjudication Board. He also was Chaplain to the Armed Services Commission. In the Grand Haven area, the pastor served on the boards of North Ottawa County Council on Aging and the Tri-Cities YMCA After retirement, he served as Chaplain at Hackley Hospital. He and Clara had five children: Kenneth James Klages, who was born on January 5, 1946 in Saskatchewan, Canada, married Ruth Koenig in Chicago on December 26, 1971, and passed away on December 31, 2020; Ronald Klages, born about 1947; Lois Klages Eich; Carol Klages Spoelma, born about 1950; and Ross Klages, born about 1953. Cecil was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, August 20, 2003.]

Kenneth James Klages [1946-2020]

Kenneth James Klages was born on January 5, 1946 in Saskatchewan, Canada. His parents were Rev. Cecil and Clara Esslinger Klages. Kenneth graduated from Grand Haven High School and married Ruth Koenig in Chicago on December 26, 1971. In 1979 they bought the house at 307 South Fourth Street from James and Vicki Lantz. Ken at that time worked as a tuner for Story & Clark Piano Company. They lived in the house until 1983, when they moved to Saginaw, where Ken became Director of Music at Peace Lutheran Church. He passed away on December 31, 2020. Ruth was born on July 1, 1947. They had one child, Kristen Ruth Klages, who was born in November 1975.

Jacobus [Jakobus] Klanderman [1815-1905]

Jacobus Klanderman founded Borculo in 1867 and named it for his home village in The Netherlands. Jacobus was born in Gelderland, The Netherlands, on October 29, 1815. On May 23, 1839 he married Gesina Kistemaker, who lived from 1813 to 1855. They had one surviving child: Gerrit Klanderman [1839-1876]. In 1855 Jacobus married Alltjen Rietman, also from The Netherlands. She lived from December 16, 1825 to November 9, 1907. They had at least three children: Johanna Klanderman [1857-1926], who married Berend Zevalkink [1843-1918]; Derk Klanderman [1859-1935]; and Mary Klanderman [1859-1933], the wife of Evert Zevalkink [1848-1903]. Jacobus and his family immigrated to the United States around 1867. He died in Borculo on February 2, 1905.

Arend Jan “John” Klaver [1856-1943]

A native of Grand Haven, John was born on October 14, 1856 when his parents, Gerrit Jan and Jennike Bolt Klaver, lived at 326 Franklin Street. John and Peter Klaver were brothers. John, a painter by trade, was elected city marshall in 1892 and 1893, and he was court officer as well. In 1892 he became the first Grand Haven policeman to wear a uniform., and he was an Ottawa County deputy sheriff. At one time he owned a half interest in “Turk,” a trotter with a good record. The other half interest belonged to Edward Vaupell, sheriff of Ottawa County. On November 1, 1897 John married Augusta Grambante in Grand Haven. A native of Germany, she lived from August 1859 [1860] to 1928. John died in Grand Haven on December 14, 1943. Both were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their daughter, Jennie R., was born on January 4, 1885.

Gerrit [Geert] Jan Klaver [1824-1862]

Gerrit Jan Klaver, born in The Netherlands in 1824, first settled in Holland, Michigan, and then, sometime before 1850, moved to Grand Haven with his brother Pieter. In the 1850 census Gerrit was classified as a turner [someone who works on a wood lathe], and six years later he was listed in the Michigan Gazetteer as a carriage maker. Gerrit became a U.S. citizen in 1854. He married Jennike [Jenneken] Bolt, in Ottawa County on October 11, 1852. They lived for a while at 326 Franklin before purchasing a one-acre site on Beechtree near Washington Street, where they built a home and raised their family. Their children were John, born in October 14, 1856; Margaret, born about 1858; and Peter, born on December 21, 1861. Both Peter and John were house painters in 1880. Gerrit died in 1862. Jennike lived from 1831 to 1911.

Peter Klaver [1861-1918]

Born in Grand Haven on December 21, 1861, the son of Gerrit and Jennike Bolt Klaver, Peter was a painter by trade and was in business for seventeen years, making a specialty of everything in the decorating line. Shortly after his father’s death in 1872, Peter dropped out of the sixth grade and began work in a local shingle mill. Peter later became Constable for one term and served as City alderman in 1896 and 1897, and also was on the Board of Education. Peter owned a grocery and meat market, originally at 101 North Third and then across the street at 106. His son, John, later ran the grocery.

On October 20, 1891 Peter married Egberdena “Dena” Boer, a Grand Haven teacher, who was born in Grand Haven in December 1866. Dena was the daughter of Jan and Lammigye Van Dam Boer and the sister of John J. Boer. The Klavers had two sons, John B., born in April 1893, and Eugene G., born in November 1896. About 1905, the Klavers built their residence of many years at 618 Lafayette Street in Grand Haven.

Peter died on July 29, 1918. Dena was born on September 10, 1865 and died on December 6, 1935. Both were buried in the family plot at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Charles L. Klein II [1904-1996]

Born in Wright Township on May 14, 1904 to Charles and Catherine Meier Klein, young Charles became superintendent of Grand Haven Brass Company. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church and the Supervisors Club. On January 5, 1926 he married Margaret M. Dudick, who died August 25, 1996. They had three daughters: Sharon, who married Sherman Vink; Maxine, who married Eugene Rooker of Grand Ledge; and Arlene, who married Bill Gavin. Charles died on January 8, 1996 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 9, 1996.]

Carl Fred Kleist [1891-1961]

Carl Kleist was named head of the welding department at Challenge Stamping and Porcelain Company in Grand Haven when it was organized in 1929. He later worked for Paragon Pattern in Muskegon, and then in 1958 started his own business, Quality Pattern, located at 1555 Marion in Grand Haven. Carl was born in Grand Rapids on January 24, 1891. On June 30, 1917 in Grand Rapids, Carl married Gertrude Taugenberg, who was born in Michigan on November 28, 1897 and died on May 28, 1950. They had three children, all born locally: Jean Mildred, born about February 1918; Louise C., born about 1921; and Frederick Carl, born about 1926. Frederick Carl joined his father's business. The Kleist family resided at 911 Pennoyer. Carl passed away around September 15, 1961 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife.

August G. Klempel [Klumpel, Kluempel, Klemke] [1855-1930]

See August Klumpel.

Emil Herman Klempel [1889-1965]

See Emil Herman Klumpel.

Richard Klempel [1924-2013]

Richard Klempel served 37 years with the Grand Haven Department of Public Safety [Police Department] and was its chief from 1954 to his retirement in 1984. Richard the son of Otto and Mary Alman Klempel was born in Grand Haven on August 16, 1924. He married Lois Schulz in 1948. They had six children: Lynda, who married Steve Spears and moved to Oregon; Gayle, who married Walker Parmalee; Janna, who married Barry Houghton; Deb, who married Russell Rymal; Jim Klempel; and Scott Klempel. Richard and Lois were members of the Second Reformed Church of Grand Haven.

Richard graduated from Grand Haven High School and served with the Army during WWII. He was awarded two Purple Hearts, the Bronze Star, and a Badge for Heroic Achievement. He joined the Police Department as a patrolman in 1947 after a short stint with Camfield Manufacturing. Richard died in Grand Haven on September 15, 2013 and was buried at Lake

Joseph Klepac [1878–1959]

Born in Bohemia on December 3, 1878, Joseph Klepac at an early age served four years as an apprentice in a piano factory. He became a student in the Berlin Technical School for Piano Builders, and later was associated with Bechstein, who along, with Steinway, was known as one of the world's finest piano builders. He received training as a journeyman in every factory of importance on the continent and in England. After working for Bechstein in Berlin for seven years, he was superintendent and acoustical engineer for the British Piano Factory of Sir Herbert Marshall and Sons. When World War I broke out in 1914 he came to the United States and on August 7, 1921 became a naturalized citizen. By 1918 he was associated with Kohler Brambach Piano Company, New York City, and for 15 years was acoustical engineer and factory manager for that firm. He became acoustical adviser to the American Steel Wire Company in Chicago, manufacturers of steel strings for most of the American and Canadian piano factories. Soon after 1930, piano builders became conscious of the need for the smaller piano. Joseph was credited with conceiving the idea of the small piano of today, called spinets, consoles, or other names, for use in residences. In 1935 he came to Grand Haven and for eight years was superintendent and acoustical engineer for Story & Clark Piano Company. He then joined the Laughead Piano Company in Grand Haven. Joseph was hailed by many as the “father of the small piano in America.” In 1939 Fortune magazine credited him with being responsible for the positive evolution of the industry. His work as a paid consultant required him to go to cities in the East, and his latest design was a small, five-octave spinet piano with an aluminum plate. Joseph also maintained an acoustic laboratory in Grand Haven.

In 1918 Joseph’s wife’s name was Kristiana. She was born on April 7, 1879 and died on September 25, 1937 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Joseph then married Cora Voshel [Voshol], who was born on January 24, 1891 and died in Grand Haven on July 6, 1971. Cora’s parents, who resided in Grand Haven at 101 South Ferry, were Cornelius, born in The Netherlands about 1863, and Nellie, born in Michigan around 1865. Many factories tried to induce Joseph to move East, but he and his wife loved West Michigan with its lakes and sand dunes, and they remained in Grand Haven. Joseph carried out experimental work for his own pleasure and for several large piano firms in the basement of his home at 111 Franklin Street. The couple attended the Second Christian Reformed Church. He died on May 25, 1959. He and Cora were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Chronicle, March 3, 1949.]

Leslie E. Kline [1897-1987]

In the mid-1930s Leslie Kline, a graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, had an office at 700 Washington in Grand Haven. He continued working from that address until the late 1960s. Leslie was born on December 10, 1897 and died in Fruitport on June 30, 1987. He resided at 180 North Third in Fruitport.

Philip J. Klingman [1864-1914]

Philip Klingman founded Klingman Furniture in Grand Rapids in 1886. He was born in Portsmouth, Ohio in May 1864 [1863]. He married Josephine Dunsing in Hamilton, Ohio on April 21, 1887. By 1910 Philip and his wife Josephine owned and resided in a waterfront residence located on 66 acres in Section 2 of Spring Lake Township, possibly part of the property later designated as 15735 Littlefield Lane. The house cost a reported $100,000 to build. Philip passed away at the age of 50. Josephine was born in Ohio in March 1867. In 1930 she was living in the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids. She died in Grand Rapids on January 4, 1953 and was buried at Greenlawn Cemetery in Portsmouth, Ohio.

Ann Jerovsek Klintworth [1918-2003]

Ann was born in Trimountain, Houghton County to Mary and Frank Jerovsek I on March 14, 1918. John Jerovsek of Grand Haven was her brother. She married Raymond F. Klintworth. They resided at 15919 Leonard Road. Ray, who was born in Crockery Township on April 23, 1917, died in June 1980. The Klintworths had one daughter, Denise Mentalewicz. Ann died in Grand Rapids on August 5, 2003. Ray’s sister, Myrtle Rose, married John Von Albade of Flint. Myrtle lived from June 20, 1925 and died in Florida on December 17, 2003.

Adrian Klop I [1875-1954]

Adrian, the son of Eimert and Hendrika Geertje Van Ameijden Klop, was born in Zaltbommel, The Netherlands, on January 19, 1875. On May 27, 1902, while still in his native country, Adrian married Agenieta Breidels, who was born March 28, 1875. Their children were Elmer P., who was born in The Netherlands on July 6, 1903, married Margaret Krystal, and died May 5, 1977; Lena, who was born November 17, 1904, in The Netherlands, married Gerrit Van Eck, and died in 1976; Arie P., who was born in The Netherlands on January 9, 1906 and died on April 30, 1981; Adriana, who was born November 5, 1907, while the family still was in The Netherlands, and married Glen Gleason; Margaret, who was born about 1909 and married Paul Van Tol of Grand Haven; and Adrian II, who was born in Grand Haven on May 29, 1911, and died September 17, 1979. The Klops lived at 829 Elliott, where Adrian also maintained a celery farm. The younger Adrian continued to live in the family home up to his death. Adrian I died on May 15, 1954, and Agenieta passed away around December 12, 1955. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Berend “Barney” Klouw [Klow] [1861-1928]

In 1880 Barney Klouw was employed at a sawmill. Later he owned a grocery and feed store at 211 West Savidge in Spring Lake, which he sold about 1923 to William Spencer. Barney was born in Eenrum, The Netherlands in August 1861, died in 1928, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Barney married Katie De Bruine in Spring Lake on March 17, 1886. A native of The Netherlands, she was born in August 1865, died in 1935, and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. They both immigrated to the United States in 1867. They had a son, Leroy, born in Spring Lake in February 1888.

Cornelius [Kornelis] Klouw [Klow] 1864-1943]

A native of The Netherlands, where he was born on June 2, 1864, Cornelius Klouw immigrated to the United States and married Dena Johnson. Among their children were Menno K., who married Ruth Voshel on July 7, 1939 in Grand Haven; Louis, who was born on June 13, 1899; Richard, who was born on January 30, 1903; and William, who was born on March 25, 1910, died on August 14, 1932 of cerebral meningitis, and was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. Dena, who lived from 1877 to 1937, was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery, as was Cornelius, who died in 1943. Cornelius served as private with Company C of the 1st Michigan Infantry from September 3, 1862 to October 30, 1864.

Gerrit Jeltas Klouw [Klaauw] [1835-1913]

Gerrit Jeltas Klouw was born on November 10, 1835 and died in Spring Lake in 1913. His wife, Frouwke “Florence/Flora” Cleveringa, lived from September 3, 1834 to April 18, 1931. They both emigrated from The Netherlands in 1867. They owned a 30-acre farm in Spring Lake Township. Among their children, all born locally, were Berend “Barney,” born in 1861; Richard, born in July 1870; Ella, who was born in September 1874 and married Otto Fokke Woltman, originally of Chicago; and Menno [Minnow], born in August 1877. Gerrit and Frouwke were buried at Spring Lake Cemetery with Ella, who passed away in 1914. Otto lived from 1877 to 1917 and also was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery.

Minno [Menno, Minnow] Klouw [Klaw, Klaauw] I [1877-1960]

On May 15, 1902 in Spring Lake, Minno Klouw married Clara Honholt. Clara, the daughter of Herman and Mary Bolthuis Honholt, was born in Ferrysburg in May 1880. Minno, the son of Gerrit and Frouwke Klouw, was born in Spring Lake on August 16, 1877 and worked as a carpenter. Clara taught in the Spring Lake elementary school. A daughter, Florence M., was born locally about 1904, another daughter, Mildred, about 1912, and a son, Minno II, who was born on February 3, 1914, died in Spring Lake on April 29, 1994. Minno and Clara were residents of Spring Lake as late as 1930. Minno passed away on March 5, 1960.

Richard “Dick” Klouw [1903-1978]

On November 10, 1927, Dick Klouw married Margaret Van Loo. She was the daughter of Josiah [Joseph] and Minnie Fisher Van Loo of Grand Haven. Margaret, at the time of her marriage, was librarian at Grand Haven Carnegie Library. Dick lived from January 30, 1903 to April 30, 1978 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Margaret, who was born on December 27, 1905, died on January 27, 1992 and was buried at Lake Forest. Also buried there was a daughter, Betty, who lived from 1936 to 1956.

Henry F. Klugas II [1893-1934]

Henry, the son of Henry and Henrietta Klugas, was born in Grand Haven in February 1893. Henry I, a stevedore, was born in Germany in February 1860 and Henrietta was born in the same country in April 1864. They came to the United States in 1883. Henry II’s wife, Ann [Anna], was the daughter of Cornelius and Nellie Vander Noot of Grand Haven, where she was born on November 30, 1900. The family resided at 117 Elliott. In 1918 Henry was employed as an auto mechanic at Thielman Ford in Grand Haven, and by 1930 he was working as a truck driver. Henry drowned in Lake Superior on November 10, 1934 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Ann, who died on April 11, 1980, was an early supporter of the Tri-Cities Historical Society and helped raise funds to remodel the Grand Trunk Depot. She passed away in Muskegon, but her home was at 15037 Lake Avenue in Grand Haven Township at the time of her death. Henry Leon Klugas was their son.

Henry Leon Klugas [1925-1995]

The son of Henry and Ann Klugas, Henry was born in Grand Haven on November 1, 1925. In the 1950s he and his wife, Margaret A., resided at 710 South Ferry Street in Grand Haven and later at 1015 Orchard. Henry died on August 17, 1995 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Their children were Sandra and Nancy.

August G. Klempel [Klumpel, Kluempel, Klempel, Klemke] [1855-1930]

Born in Posen, Germany on December 5, 1855, August Klempel married Amelia Fenner. Amelia was born in Germany in June 1855. They immigrated to the United States in 1884 and settled in on a 120-acre farm in Section 24 of Grand Haven Township. Their children, all born locally, were Paul, who was born in June 1881 and drowned off a fishing tug near Grand Haven; Augusta, who was born in August 1885 and married Henry Kolberg; Leonard August who was born on May 1, 1886 and operated a dairy farm in Section 34 of Grand Haven Township; William Richard who was born on October 20, 1887; Herman Emil, born on March 18, 1889; Amelia, born in March 1890; Helena, who was born on March 20, 1891 and married Frank Riemer of Grand Haven; Frederick, who was born on September 18, 1892 and moved to California; Otto, born on August 18, 1896; Vanda, who was born in August 1898 and married Arthur Brosseit of Grand Haven; and Emma, who was born in April 1899 and married Dexter De Weese. Paul was born in Germany, and the other Klempel children were born locally. Amelia passed away around November 1, 1917, and August died on June 3, 1930. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Emil Herman Klumpel [1889-1965]

The son of August and Amelia Fenner Klumpel, Emil was born on March 18, 1889 in Grand Haven. On May 21, 1913 in Olive Township, he married Mary Schreiber. Their daughter Pauline lived February 16, 1915 to August 12, 1921, and a son Herman was born on February 27, 1917 and died on July 21, 1983. The family resided at 413 Jackson Street. Emil served with the Grand Haven Police Department from March 12, 1917 to October 1, 1953. He died on August 15, 1965 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary lived from June 3, 1888 to December 10, 1954. She also was buried at Lake Forest, as were their two children. Emil's nephew, Richard Klempel [1924-2013] was chief of the department from 1955 to 1984. [The name Klumpel often appears as Klempel.]

Helena Klumpel [Klempel, Kluempel] [1891-1971]

See Helena Kluempel [Klempel] Riemer.

Leonard August Klumpel I [Klempel, Klimpel] [1886-1942]

Leonard Klempel I was born in Michigan on May 1, 1886 and died on May 24, 1942. Jennie, also a native of Michigan, lived from November 4, 1886 to January 5, 1956. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. His parents were August and Amelia Kluempel of Grand Haven Township. Leonard and Jennie owned a 40-acre farm in Section 34 of Grand Haven Township, on the southeast corner of Robbins Road and 168th Avenue near the City's southern boundary. Leonard II, born on January 15, 1918, was their son.

Leonard August Klumpel II [Klempel], Klimpel] [1918-2001]

Leonard was born in Grand Haven to Leonard A. and Jennie Beekman Klempel on January 15, 1918. His grandparents were August and Amelia Kluempel of Grand Haven Township. Leonard and Jennie owned a 40-acre farm in Section 34 of Grand Haven Township, on the southeast corner of Robbins Road and 168th Avenue near the City's southern boundary. The younger Leonard graduated from Grand Haven High School in 1936, and on June 8, 1940, he married Beverly E. Pippel. Leonard owned and operated Klempel's Dairy in Grand Haven until 1965. It was located on the site of his parents' farm. The Klumpels' children were Ellen, who married Larry Reis of Grand Haven, and David J. of St. Joseph. Leonard died in St. Joseph on January 3, 2001 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, January 4, 2001.]

William Richard Klumpel [Kluempel, Klempel, Klemke] [1887-1962]

William and Edith Klumpel owned a farm at 1606 Waverly Road. William, the son of August and Amelia Fenner Kluempel, was born on October 20, 1887. About 1916 he married Edith Ann Wacker, who was born on March 25, 1897. She was the daughter of John and Anna Zacker Wacker of Grand Haven. Among their children, all born locally, were Claire [Clara], who was born in 1917, married Leonard Graham [1912-1969], and died in 1984; Elizabeth [Bettye] Helena, who was born in 1918, married William Regelin [1915-1990], and died in 2001; Ruth Elaine, who was born in 1920 and married Richard H. Hansen [born 1917]; and William John, who was born in 1922 and married Margaret Reeths [1924-2001]. William passed away on July 7, 1962. Edith died on June 7, 1984 in Crockery Township. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Adrian J. Knight [1861-1931]

Adrian, the son of James and Caroline Knight, was born in Wisconsin on July 13, 1861 and moved with his parents to Robinson Township. There Adrian became a farmer and stockman with 260 acres in Section 18 of Robinson Township, where he also was supervisor from 1907 to 1917. In addition, Adrian was director and secretary of the Ottawa County Farm Bureau for ten years. He also helped organize and was vice president of the Grand Haven Farm Bureau. In 1930 his sisters Lillian [Lillie] Knight and Ella Norcross, a widow, resided with him in Robinson Township. Adrian died on December 16, 1931 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

James W. Knight [1826-1897]

James Knight operated a 92-acre farm in Section 18 of Robinson Township. He served as township supervisor from 1879 to 1881. James was born in New York on April 10, 1826 and died on October 24, 1897. On August 24, 1851 in La Grange, Wisconsin, he married, Carolina [Caroline] Harford. Carolina, also a native of New York, was born in 1831. For 24 years they lived in Wisconsin, where their children were born: Ella in 1856; Emma in 1858; Lillian, on June 29, 1858; and Adrian, on July 13, 1861. Ella married Warner A. Norcross of Grand Haven. The Knight family moved to the Peach Plains area in 1867. Carolina passed away in 1909 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with her husband.

Lillian Knight [1858-1935]

Lillian, the daughter of James and Carolina Harford Knight, was born in Wisconsin on June 29, 1858. In 1880 Lillian was boarding with the Hiram Kelly family in Olive Township. She became a teacher, and among her assignments was Peach Plains School, where she taught in a one-room schoolhouse from 1886 to 1887. She also taught at Knight School, located on her parents' land in Robinson Township. Knight School, later named West Robinson School, was in operation between 1886 and 1958. In 1910, 1920, and 1930 Lillie was unemployed and living with her brother Adrian in Robinson Township. Lillie died on December 7, 1935 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Gerrit Knoll [1889-1977]

Born on September 18, 1889, Gerrit Knoll had a painting business and worked from his residence at 314 Wallace Street [Beacon Boulevard]. On September 14, 1917 in Grand Haven, he married Tiena Wierenga, who was born about 1895. They also resided at 826 Grant and later at 704 Pennoyer. She died on November 6, 1964 and he passed away on May 14, 1977. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery.

Klaas Knoll [1858-1915]

Born on November 14, 1858 in The Netherlands, Klaas Knoll immigrated to the United States in 1881. He owned a farm in Section 16 of Olive Township, where he also raised livestock. His wife's name was Janna "Jennie." She was born May 28, 1863 and died on April 13, 1943. Their children, all born in Michigan, were Gerrit, born on September 18, 1889; Jan, born in August 1890; Katie, born in March 1892; Peter, born in June 1895; Derk, born in September 1897; and Andrew, born in October 1898. Klaas and Jennie were buried at West Olive Cemetery.

Hiram Butler Knowlton [1844-1934]

Born in Chesterfield, Maine on August 14, 1844, Hiram Knowlton in 1860 was living with the George and Eliza Rice family near Bass River, Allendale Township [Section 18]. His parents apparently were deceased. On August 14, 1862, Hiram Knowlton was mustered into Company F of the 5th Michigan Cavalry as a private. He cited Lamont as his home. Mustered out on June 3 three years later, Hiram reportedly participated in General Sheridan's raids, the Battle of Winchester, and the Kilpatrick raid. Records show he was taken prisoner at Frying Pan, Virginia in June 1863, released, and captured again near Richmond, Virginia in March the next year. He spent part of his imprisonment in Libby Prison in Richmond, when his daily fare consisted of "small portions of johnny cake and pea soup." and was taken prisoner "several times." After the war he became a member of Thurkettle Post No. 388 of the Grand Army of the Republic in Allendale and Amasa B. Watson Post No. 395 of Grand Rapids. On November 11, 1866 he married Emma, the daughter of Joel and Maria Fellows of Olive Township. She was born in New York State on October 10, 1848. Hiram and Emma lived in Robinson Township until 1877, when he was hired to manage George Rice's farm at Bass River. Six years later he purchased the farm and 105 acres, later increased to 147 acres/ In 1911 they built a house at 11080 68th Street in Allendale Township. In 1926 they donated the home and approximately a half-acre of land to the City of Allendale; the property is on the list of Michigan Historic Sites. Hiram and Emma adopted five children: Eldrich of Jenison, Fannie Thayer of Allendale, and Maude Zwiers, Elsie Scott, and Leah Geldof of Grand Rapids. Hiram died on February 6, 1934 in Allendale, and Emma passed away on February 10, 1937. Both were buried at Allendale Township Cemetery. [Coopersville Observer, February 9, 1934.]

Frederick Albert Koats [1893-1959]

On March 8, 1924 in Spring Lake, Fred Koats married Adeline, the daughter of Nicholas and Mary Klintworth Mergener of Crockery Township. Adeline was born in Illinois on January 30, 1901, and Fred was born in Grand Haven on August 12, 1893. Adeline passed away in Grand Haven on May 10, 1978. In 1930 Fred worked at Story & Clark as a crater. He and Adeline resided at 416 Jackson. Fred's parents were William, who lived from 1850 to 1927, and Christina [Regelin], who was born in Hamburg, Germany and lived from June 24, 1857 to December 19, 1936. Both were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Fred was born in Grand Haven on August 12, 1893 and died on August 12, 1959. He was buried at Spring Lake Cemetery. He had served in the Army during WWI.

Johann Henrich Adolph Koch I [1837-1905]

Born in Groningen, The Netherlands on January 10, 1837, Adolph Koch came to America in 1882 [1879]. He was a jeweler by profession and was the leader of the Baptist congregation of Grand Haven. In 1898 he built a Baptist chapel on Fulton Street, maintained it, and conducted some of the services. He married Gesina [Geesje] Bakker on May 9, 1863. She was born on April 15, 1825 and died in Muskegon on November 13, 1913. Their children, all born in The Netherlands, included Johann Henrich Adolph Koch II, who was born on March 2, 1864; Fennechien "Fannie" Koch [1866-1933], who married Albert Scholten of Muskegon; and Derk Koch [1869-1956]. Adolph died on December 6, 1905 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituary, December 6, 1905.]

Johann Henrich Adolph Koch II [1864-1941]

Adolph Koch II was born in Groningen, The Netherlands, on March 22, 1864. He came to the United States in 1882 [1879] with his parents, Adolph and Gesina Bakker Koch, and siblings, where he also went by the family name Cook. On April 10, 1889 in Spring Lake, he married Jenna "Jane" ["Jennie"] Wierenga, who was born in Groningen on August 20, 1869. They had seven surviving children, all born locally: Alfred L.

Cook [1890-1971]; Jacob Cook, who was born on April 24, 1893; Grace Cook [1895-1980]; Marinus Cook [1897-1969]; Maria Fanny Cook [1901-1989]; Richard Cook [1904-1970]; and James E. Koch [1912-1987]

Otto Karl [Carl] Koch [1905-1992]

The son of Wilhelm and Sophia Koch, Otto was born in Grand Haven on May 8, 1905. In 1930 Otto was “assistant advertising person” in a local factory and resided with his wife at 320½ Elliott. He started the firm of Koch and Moran in 1933 with his partner, Charles Moran of Grand Haven. Otto’s wife, Ethel, was born in Canada in June 1905, and died in San Francisco in March 1995. Otto passed away in Bannock, Idaho on May 17, 1992.

Wilhelm C. Koch [1854-1939]

Born in Wurttemberg, Germany, on August 17, 1854, Wilhelm Koch came to this country in 1871 and plied his trade as a machinist. He became a naturalized citizen in 1877. He studied for the ministry in Switzerland and on January 6, 1882 was ordained in the Evangelical Church at Hall. Wilhelm intended to enter the missionary field in Africa, but his frail health prevented him from doing so, and he returned to this country. He held pastorates in Stevens Point, Wisconsin, Three Oaks, Berrien County, and Casco, St. Clair County, and Urbana, Indiana before coming to Grand Haven in November 1913. He was pastor of St. Paul’s Evangelical Church for 22 years.

Wilhelm and his wife, Sophia, were married on November 1, 1883. Sophia was born in June 1866 in New York. Wilhelm and Sophia had ten children, all born in Wisconsin: Dora, who was born on January 27, 1884 [1885], married Rev. Charles F. Kayser of Ann Arbor, and died in Detroit in August 1977; Paul, who was born in June 1887, became an organist at St. Matthew’s Evangelical Church in Detroit, and also was proprietor of a job printing shop; William, who was born in August 1888 and became a farmer near Urbana, Indiana; John, who was born in September 1890 and became a high school teacher in Valparaiso, Indiana; Frederick, who was born in March 1893 and became a naval officer; Theophile H., who was born in August 1894 and became an electrician in Detroit; Margaret, who was born in September 1896 and became a musician; Walter C., who was born in September 1898 and became a telephone employee in Jackson; Arnold, a teacher in Charlotte; and Otto Karl, born on January 4, 1904 in Grand Haven. In 1936 Wilhelm and his wife and daughter, Margaret, moved to Dexter, Washtenaw County to live with another daughter, Dora. Wilhelm died in 1939. [Tribune article, May 13, 1936.]

Joseph Koeltz [1840–1926]

In the early 1900s Joseph Koeltz manufactured cigars at 130 Washington, including the “Little Bessie, Havana Filler.” He also made cigars in Grand Rapids. He and his wife, Mary, lived at 134 Franklin. Joseph served on the City Council from 1886 to 1889 and again from 1892 to 1894. He was elected mayor of Grand Haven in 1895 and served one term. Joseph was born in Bavaria on June 16, 1840, died on March 13, 1926, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Mary was born on May 8, 1857 and died on January 26, 1909. One daughter, Elizabeth, was born in May 1878, and another daughter, Flossie, was born in May 1884. Both were born in Michigan.

Harm Koenes [1875–1957]

Born in Kenosha, Wisconsin, in December 1875 [1876] Harm was the son of Joseph Koenes. The elder Koenes was born on February 6, 1853, in Warffen, The Netherlands, and he died on June 9, 1930, in Kenosha. Harm’s brother, Thomas, also lived in Grand Haven. In 1893 Harm was employed as a clerk at the Corner Grocery at 701 Washington, which he bought in 1901 and closed in 1916, when he moved to 9 North Seventh. Harm was a member of the Eagles Lodge in Grand Haven.

In 1899 in Ottawa County, Harm married Hattie M., daughter of Joseph and Gertrude Godhardt. Joseph Godhardt was a Grand Haven junk dealer. Hattie was born on May 11, 1879 and died on March 12, 1937. Harm and Hattie lived at 106 South Seventh Street in Grand Haven. Their children were Gertrude, who was born in 1902, married Ivan Head, and moved to Detroit, and Joseph E., who was born about 1907 and moved to Milwaukee. Harm died on December 26, 1957 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. [Tribune obituary, June 17, 1930.]

Thomas Koenes [1878-1932]

Thomas, the son of Joseph Koenes, was born in Michigan in 1878. He married Edna Blakley in Grand Haven on June 24, 1903. Born in Ohio, she lived from February 2, 1881 to January 1, 1926. They lived at 727 Franklin Street in Grand Haven. Their children, both natives of Michigan, were Helen, born about 1906, and Marie, born about 1908. In 1920 Thomas was a fire extinguisher salesman. He and Harm Koenes were brothers. He died in Kenosha, Wisconsin in August 1932 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery, as was Edna.

Henry Kohloff [1869-1855]

The son of Friederich and Carolina Kohloff, Henry was born in Germany on August 26, 1869. Henry arrived in the United States with his parents in 1882. On January 1, 1891 in Grand Haven, Henry married Ella Kamp, who often went by the name Alice and Allie. They lived at 220 Madison Street and had at least three children, all born in Grand Haven: Katie, born August 14, 1891; William, who was born on May 2, 1896, died on August 24, 1920, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery; and Clarissa, born on December 24, 1899. Henry, who worked as a custodian, died on March 12, 1955 and was buried at Lake Forest. His wife passed away about August 6, 1953.

Herman Charles Kohloff [1877-1913]

Born on April 24, 1877 in Germany, Herman was the son of Friederich and Carolina Kohloff. Friedrich was born March 26, 1836 and died July 23, 1912, while his wife lived from February 9, 1841 to April 9, 1908. Both mother and father were buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Herman and his parents arrived in the United States in 1882. Herman was a veteran of the Spanish-American War, having served as a member of Company F of the 32nd Michigan Infantry in 1898. About 1898 he married Ada Colson. Herman died on August 29, 1913 in the hospital of Michigan Soldiers' Home in Grand Rapids from malaria contracted while in the military and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. After his death, Ada married Oscar Seastrand [1889-1930]. Ada was born in Sweden on June 16, 1881 and died on August 3, 1952. She, too, was buried at Lake Forest. [Tribune obituary, August 30, 1913.]

Howard Charles Kohloff [1902-1962]

Howard, the son of Herman and Ada Colson Kohloff, was born in Grand Haven on April 24, 1902. On May 8, 1920 he married Jeanette Wills in Grand Haven. She was the daughter of Henry and Jeanette Wills of Spring Lake. Howard was barber with a shop at 129 Washington Street in Grand Haven. He and Jeanette resided at 15658 Chestnut Lane in Spring Lake. Howard died on April 29, 1962 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. Jeanette lived from November 12, 1902 to June 28, 1976 and was buried at Lake Forest.

Ernst Kolberg [Kollberg] [1845-1925]

As early as 1876 Ernst Kolberg owned 40 acres in Section 10 of Grand Haven Township, and by 1898 he added another 40 acres in Section 11. On December 1, 1868 he married Wilhelmina "Minnie" Bargert [Parker, Parkhurst] in Grand Haven. She lived from June 2, 1848 to August 17, 1909. Ernst was born in Germany in December 1845. They immigrated to the United States in 1867. Henry, one of their children, was born on October 29, 1874. Another son, Ernest Elias Kolberg, was born on May 26, 1879 and passed away in October 1965. Cordelia, wife of the younger Ernest, was born on September 13, 1884, died in Grand Haven on October 5, 1973, and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Township Cemetery. Another son, Harmon [Herman], was born on October 4, 1881, and a fourth son, William, was born in February 1886. After his first wife's death, Ernst married Wilhelmina Scheddell in Grand Haven on September 24, 1912. He died in 1925 and was buried at Historic Grand Haven Cemetery.

Henry Ernest Kolberg [1874-1968]

Henry, the son of Ernst and Wilhelmina Bargert Kolberg, was born October 29 [25/27], 1874 in Grand Haven Township. Henry worked for Story & Clark, the Heap Company for eight and a half years, Keller Tool, and Challenge. He then went out on his own as a contractor and worked on many houses and major buildings in the area, including Grand Haven City Hall, an early St. Patrick's Church, and the power plant. He attended St. John's Lutheran Church. About 1905 he married Augusta, the daughter of August and Amelia Fenner Klempel of Grand Haven Township. Augusta was born in August 1885. The Kolbergs had eight children, all born locally: Harold [Henry], who was born on June 29, 1906 and died on November 16, 1913; Ernest, who was born about 1908 and owned a dairy farm near Nunica; Frances, born about 1910; Mary C., born about 1911; Florence, born about 1912; Emily, who was born about 1915, married Henry Neitring II of Grand Haven, and predeceased her father; Arnold, born about 1917; and Kenneth, born about 1918. The Kolbergs resided at 1342 [1360] Pennoyer for over 54 years. Henry died in Grand Haven about December 13, 1968 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, "Veteran Carpenter Foils 'Father Time,'" October 11, 1962.]

Joseph Kooiker [1884-1964]

Joseph Kooiker was a jeweler and optician with a store and office at 116 Washington. His wife, Dora, lived from March 9, 1889 to March 27, 1973. She was living in Holland, Michigan at the time of her death. Joseph, who also was from Holland, lived from December 15, 1884 [1883] to May 1964.

Aart "Arie" [Ora, Orrie] Kooiman [1876-1945]

Arie, the son of Joost and Antonia Donker Kooiman, was born on December 20, 1876. With his brother Peter, he operated the Kooiman Brothers Flour and Grain Store at 421 Fulton. In the 1920s Arie owned and managed the Fulton Street Variety Store at 408 Fulton. Arie married Jennie Dykhous in Grand Haven on July 29, 1902. The couple lived at 426 Fulton in the early 1900s, later at 206 North Fifth Street, and by 1918 they were located at 209 South Fourth. Jennie, the daughter of Menke and Henrietta Van Zanten Dykhous, was born July 28, 1877 and died on May 4, 1964. She was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with Arie, who died on February 8, 1945. [Tribune obituary, August 19, 1975.]

Adrian "Ade" W. Kooiman [1894-1973]

Adrian Kooiman was born on June 30, 1894. He began his business in Grand Haven at 216 North Seventh in 1915, starting with a battery and tire vulcanizing shop, and he also sold some guns and other hunting equipment. Later he was awarded an auto dealership, and in 1928 he took down two houses across the street at 217 North Seventh and erected a large building on that site. Ade was in the auto business for 31 years. In 1958 he moved to 300 North Seventh, and he devoted all of his time and floor space to sporting goods. In 1929 Ade earned the distinction of being the first local resident to own an airplane.

On October 18, 1916 in Grand Haven, Ade married Geziene [Gezina/Jezine] the daughter of Captain William and Cornelia Ver Duin. Geziene was born on December 27, 1898, died on April 16, 1956, and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. William A. Kooiman, born about 1922, was one of their children, and Robert L., born in Grand Haven on December 1, 1928, was another. The family resided at 727 Fulton Street. Ade died in Grand Haven on December 3, 1973. Kooiman Street in Grand Haven was named for him. [Tribune article, November 5, 1963.]

Henry A. Kooiman [1903-1994]

Born on July 2, 1903, Henry was the son of Arie and Jennie Kooiman. His father and his uncle Peter were partners in Kooiman Bros. Feed Store at 421 Fulton. Henry got his first retail experience driving a Panhard Truck, built in Grand Haven, to deliver feed for the family store. In 1922 he graduated from Grand Haven High School and then took a business administration course at McLaughlin Institute in Grand Rapids. In 1925 Henry became a partner with George Swart in the shoe business at 207 Washington. In 1942 Henry bought George's interest and called his business Kooiman's Footwear. His shop had an X-Ray machine that allowed buyers to see how their feet fit in new shoes. He retired in 1987.

Henry married Elizabeth Fisher, who was born on October 6, 1904 and died in Grand Haven on February 22, 1977. They had one daughter, Mary, who married Jack Ligtenberg of Kalamazoo. Henry died on November 20, 1994 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune article, August 19, 1975, and Tribune obituary, November 21, 1994.]

John Kooiman [1863-1901]

Born in Grand Haven in July 1863, John was the oldest son of Joost and Antonia Donker Kooiman. After his father's death he managed the Kooiman Brothers Flour and Grain Store at 421 Fulton. He was a member of the Maccabees. On February 9, 1886 in Grand Haven, he married Elizabeth Leenhouts. She, was born in Michigan in August 1867. They had four children: Joe, born in September 1886; Jeanette, born in July 1892; Elizabeth, who was born on June 24, 1895 and married Clarence Markoff of Spring Lake; and Arthur, born in July 1899. John died at Kalamazoo Infirmary on March 15, 1901 at the age of 37. [Tribune obituary, March 15, 1901.]

Joost "Joe" Kooiman [1834-1894]

Born in Gelderland, The Netherlands, on January 17, 1834 Joost Kooiman came to Grand Haven in 1855. In 1860 in Ottawa County, he married Antonia Donker, who died "of neuralgia of the heart" on September 17, 1901. She was born in The Netherlands on April 20, 1844. Their children, all born in Michigan, included John, born in 1863; Antje "Anna," who was born January 7, 1867 and married John Juistema of Grand Haven; Aart, who lived from 1861 to 1934; Peter, who was born in July 1870; and Arie [Orrie], who was born on December 20, 1876. Anna married John Juistema of Grand Haven. Joost was a laborer. He died on December 1, 1894 and was buried with his wife and other family members at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, December 3 and 4, 1894 and September 19, 1901.]

Joseph Kooiman [1862-1905]

Born in Vriesland, Ottawa County on November 22, 1862, Joseph Kooiman moved to Grand Haven as a boy. He left Grand Haven about 1886 and was a pastry cook in a mining camp in Cripple Creek, Colorado. He died on December 27, 1905 and was buried at Mt. Pisgah Cemetery in Cripple Creek. [Tribune obituary, January 16, 1906.]

Marinus Kooiman [1831-1908]

Born in The Netherlands in April 1831, Marinus Kooiman came to Grand Haven in the 1860s and was in business in Grand Haven for many years. In 1880 he was a commercial fisherman, in the 1893 Compendium he was listed as "peddler," and by 1900 he was employed as a cooper. He married Mary Jacoba. Their children included a daughter Cornelia, who was born in The Netherlands about 1866 and married John Schouwenaar of Grand Rapids. The family lived at 333 Elliott. Mary Jacoba, also a native of The Netherlands, died on January 27, 1908. She was born in January 1836. Marinus died August 27, 1908 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery. [Tribune obituaries, January 27, 1908 and August 27, 1908.]

Peter Kooiman [1870-1943]

The son of Joost and Antonia Donker Kooiman, Peter was born in Grand Haven on July 1, 1870. With his brother Arie he owned and operated the Kooiman Brothers Flour and Grain Store at 421 Fulton, where he and his family also resided. On January 30, 1903 Peter married Cora Jacoba Van Bemmelen in Grand Haven. The daughter of Walter and Jacoba Vander Meiden Van Bemmelen, Cora was born on January 30, 1879 and died on November 29, 1928. Peter and Cora lived at 415 Fulton and had five daughters: Antoinette Cora, who was born on October 31, 1904 and died on July 21, 1941; Jemima, who was born about 1906 and died in 1953; Alice, who was born on January 17, 1907 and married William Carl Grunst of Grand Haven; Genevieve, who died at the age of one month on January 21, 1909; and Angie May, who was born on December 29, 1909 and died on October 9, 1957. Antoinette and Angie were single and living with their parents above the feed store in 1930. Peter died on December 7, 1943 and was buried at Lake Forest Cemetery with his wife. His daughters also were buried there. [Tribune obituary, January 21, 1909.]

Robert Lloyd Kooiman [1923-2002]

